1On that night could not the king sleep; and he commanded to bring the book of records of the chronicles, and they were read before the king. 2And it was found written, that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king's chamberlains, of those that kept the door, who had sought to lay hands on the king Ahasuerus. 3And the king said: 'What honour and dignity hath been done to Mordecai for this?' Then said the king's servants that ministered unto him: 'There is nothing done for him.' 4And the king said: 'Who is in the court?'—Now Haman was come into the outer court of the king's house, to speak unto the king to hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him.— 5And the king's servants said unto him: 'Behold, Haman standeth in the court.' And the king said: 'Let him come in.' 6So Haman came in. And the king said unto him: 'What shall be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour?'—Now Haman said in his heart: 'Whom would the king delight to honour besides myself?'— 7And Haman said unto the king: 'For the man whom the king delighteth to honour, 8let royal apparel be brought which the king useth to wear, and the horse that the king rideth upon, and on whose head a crown royal is set; 9and let the apparel and the horse be delivered to the hand of one of the king's most noble princes, that they may array the man therewith whom the king delighteth to honour, and cause him to ride on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaim before him: Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delighteth to honour.'

10Then the king said to Haman: 'Make haste, and take the apparel and the horse, as thou hast said, and do even so to Mordecai the Jew, that sitteth at the king's gate; let nothing fail of all that thou hast spoken.' 11Then took Haman the apparel and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and caused him to ride through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him: 'Thus shall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.'

12And Mordecai returned to the king's gate. But Haman hastened to his house, mourning and having his head covered. 13And Haman recounted unto Zeresh his wife and all his friends every thing that had befallen him. Then said his wise men and Zeresh his wife unto him: 'If Mordecai, before whom thou hast begun to fall, be of the seed of the Jews, thou shalt not prevail against him, but shalt surely fall before him.'

14While they were yet talking with him, came the king's chamberlains, and hastened to bring Haman unto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

Esther Pleads for Her People

1So the king and Haman came to banquet with Esther the queen. 2And the king said again unto Esther on the second day at the banquet of wine: 'Whatever thy petition, queen Esther, it shall be granted thee; and whatever thy request, even to the half of the kingdom, it shall be performed.' 3Then Esther the queen answered and said: 'If I have found favour in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request; 4for we are sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish. But if we had been sold for bondmen and bondwomen, I had held my peace, for the adversary is not worthy that the king be endamaged.' 5Then spoke the king Ahasuerus and said unto Esther the queen: 'Who is he, and where is he, that durst presume in his heart to do so?' 6And Esther said: 'An adversary and an enemy, even this wicked Haman.' Then Haman was terrified before the king and the queen.

The Hanging of Haman

7And the king arose in his wrath from the banquet of wine and went into the palace garden; but Haman remained to make request for his life to Esther the queen; for he saw that there was evil determined against him by the king. 8Then the king returned out of the palace garden into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman was fallen upon the couch whereon Esther was. Then said the king: 'Will he even force the queen before me in the house?' As the word went out of the king's mouth, they covered Haman's face. 9Then said Harbonah, one of the chamberlains that were before the king: 'Behold also, the gallows fifty cubits high, which Haman hath made for Mordecai, who spoke good for the king, standeth in the house of Haman.' And the king said: 'Hang him thereon.' 10So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath assuaged.

Esther Appeals for the Jews

1On that day did the king Ahasuerus give the house of Haman the Jews' enemy unto Esther the queen. And Mordecai came before the king; for Esther had told what he was unto her. 2And the king took off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai. And Esther set Mordecai over the house of Haman.

3And Esther spoke yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet, and besought him with tears to put away the mischief of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had devised against the Jews.

4Then the king held out to Esther the golden sceptre. So Esther arose, and stood before the king. 5And she said: 'If it please the king, and if I have found favour in his sight, and the thing seem right before the king, and I be pleasing in his eyes, let it be written to reverse the letters devised by Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to destroy the Jews that are in all the king's provinces; 6for how can I endure to see the evil that shall come unto my people? or how can I endure to see the destruction of my kindred?'

The Decree of Xerxes

7Then the king Ahasuerus said unto Esther the queen and to Mordecai the Jew: 'Behold, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and him they have hanged upon the gallows, because he laid his hand upon the Jews.

9Then were the king's scribes called at that time, in the third month, which is the month Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof; and it was written according to all that Mordecai commanded concerning the Jews, even to the satraps, and the governors and princes of the provinces which are from India unto Ethiopia, a hundred twenty and seven provinces, unto every province according to the writing thereof, and unto every people after their language, and to the Jews according to their writing, and according to their language. 10And they wrote in the name of king Ahasuerus, and sealed it with the king's ring, and sent letters by posts on horseback, riding on swift steeds that were used in the king's service, bred of the stud; 11that the king had granted the Jews that were in every city to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, to destroy, and to slay, and to cause to perish, all the forces of the people and province that would assault them, their little ones and women, and to take the spoil of them for a prey, 12upon one day in all the provinces of king Ahasuerus, namely, upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar. 13The copy of the writing, to be given out for a decree in every province, was to be published unto all the peoples, and that the Jews should be ready against that day to avenge themselves on their enemies. 14So the posts that rode upon swift steeds that were used in the king's service went out, being hastened and pressed on by the king's commandment; and the decree was given out in Shushan the castle.

Esther 9

The Jews Destroy Their Enemies

1Now in the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, on the thirteenth day of the same, when the king's commandment and his decree drew near to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have rule over them; whereas it was turned to the contrary, that the Jews had rule over them that hated them; 2the Jews gathered themselves together in their cities throughout all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt; and no man could withstand them; for the fear of them was fallen upon all the peoples. 3And all the princes of the provinces, and the satraps, and the governors, and they that did the king's business, helped the Jews; because the fear of Mordecai was fallen upon them. 4For Mordecai was great in the king's house, and his fame went forth throughout all the provinces; for the man Mordecai waxed greater and greater. 5And the Jews smote all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, and with slaughter and destruction, and did what they would unto them that hated them. 6And in Shushan the castle the Jews slew and destroyed five hundred men. 7And Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha, 8and Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha, 9and Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vaizatha, 10the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Jews' enemy, slew they; but on the spoil they laid not their hand.

Haman's Sons Hanged

11On that day the number of those that were slain in Shushan the castle was brought before the king.

12And the king said unto Esther the queen: 'The Jews have slain and destroyed five hundred men in Shushan the castle, and the ten sons of Haman; what then have they done in the rest of the king's provinces! Now whatever thy petition, it shall be granted thee; and whatever thy request further, it shall be done.' 13Then said Esther: 'If it please the king, let it be granted to the Jews that are in Shushan to do to-morrow also according unto this day's decree, and let Haman's ten sons be hanged upon the gallows.' 14And the king commanded it so to be done; and a decree was given out in Shushan; and they hanged Haman's ten sons. 15And the Jews that were in Shushan gathered themselves together on the fourteenth day also of the month Adar, and slew three hundred men in Shushan; but on the spoil they laid not their hand.

16And the other Jews that were in the king's provinces gathered themselves together, and stood for their lives, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that hated them seventy and five thousand—but on the spoil they laid not their hand— 17on the thirteenth day of the month Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the same they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness.

The Feast of Purim Instituted

18But the Jews that were in Shushan assembled together on the thirteenth day thereof, and on the fourteenth thereof; and on the fifteenth day of the same they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness. 19Therefore do the Jews of the villages, that dwell in the unwalled towns, make the fourteenth day of the month Adar a day of gladness and feasting, and a good day, and of sending portions one to another.

20And Mordecai wrote these things, and sent letters unto all the Jews that were in all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus, both nigh and far, 21to enjoin them that they should keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, yearly, 22the days wherein the Jews had rest from their enemies, and the month which was turned unto them from sorrow to gladness, and from mourning into a good day; that they should make them days of feasting and gladness, and of sending portions one to another, and gifts to the poor.

23And the Jews took upon them to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written unto them; 24because Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had devised against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast pur, that is, the lot, to discomfit them, and to destroy them; 25but when she came before the king, he commanded by letters that his wicked device, which he had devised against the Jews, should return upon his own head; and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows. 26Wherefore they called these days Purim, after the name of pur. Therefore because of all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seen concerning this matter, and that which had come unto them, 27the Jews ordained, and took upon them, and upon their seed, and upon all such as joined themselves unto them, so as it should not fail, that they would keep these two days according to the writing thereof, and according to the appointed time thereof, every year; 28and that these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city; and that these days of Purim should not fail from among the Jews, nor the memorial of them perish from their seed.

29Then Esther the queen, the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Jew, wrote down all the acts of power, to confirm this second letter of Purim. 30And he sent letters unto all the Jews, to the hundred twenty and seven provinces of the kingdom of Ahasuerus, with words of peace and truth, 31to confirm these days of Purim in their appointed times, according as Mordecai the Jew and Esther the queen had enjoined them, and as they had ordained for themselves and for their seed, the matters of the fastings and their cry. 32And the commandment of Esther confirmed these matters of Purim; and it was written in the book.

Tribute to Xerxes and Mordecai

1And the king Ahasuerus laid a tribute upon the land, and upon the isles of the sea. 2And all the acts of his power and of his might, and the full account of the greatness of Mordecai, how the king advanced him, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Media and Persia? 3For Mordecai the Jew was next unto king Ahasuerus, and great among the Jews, and accepted of the multitude of his brethren; seeking the good of his people and speaking peace to all his seed.

Job's Character and Wealth

(James 5:7–12)

1THERE was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was whole-hearted and upright, and one that feared God, and shunned evil. 2And there were born unto him seven sons and three daughters. 3His possessions also were seven thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred she-asses, and a very great household; so that this man was the greatest of all the children of the east. 4And his sons used to go and hold a feast in the house of each one upon his day; and they would send and invite their three sisters to eat and to drink with them. 5And it was so, when the days of their feasting were gone about, that Job sent and sanctified them, and rose up early in the morning, and offered burnt-offerings according to the number of them all; for Job said: 'It may be that my sons have sinned, and blasphemed God in their hearts.' Thus did Job continually.

Satan's First Attack

6Now it fell upon a day, that the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan came also among them. 7And the LORD said unto Satan: 'Whence comest thou?' Then Satan answered the LORD, and said: 'From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.' 8And the LORD said unto Satan: 'Hast thou considered My servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a whole-hearted and an upright man, one that feareth God, and shunneth evil?' 9Then Satan answered the LORD, and said: 'Doth Job fear God for nought? 10Hast not Thou made a hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath, on every side? Thou hast blessed the work of his hands, and his possessions are increased in the land. 11But put forth Thy hand now, and touch all that he hath, surely he will blaspheme Thee to Thy face.' 12And the LORD said unto Satan: 'Behold, all that he hath is in thy power; only upon himself put not forth thy hand.' So Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD.

Job Loses His Children and Possessions

13And it fell on a day when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house, 14that there came a messenger unto Job, and said: 'The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding beside them; 15and the Sabeans made a raid, and took them away; yea, they have slain the servants with the edge of the sword; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.' 16While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said: 'A fire of God is fallen from heaven, and hath burned up the sheep, and the servants, and consumed them; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.' 17While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said: 'The Chaldeans set themselves in three bands, and fell upon the camels, and have taken them away, yea, and slain the servants with the edge of the sword; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.' 18While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said: 'Thy sons and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house; 19And, behold, there came a great wind from across the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, and it fell upon the young people, and they are dead; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.'

20Then Job arose, and rent his mantle, and shaved his head, and fell down upon the ground, and worshipped;

21And he said; Naked came I out of my mother's womb, And naked shall I return thither; The LORD gave, and the LORD hath taken away; Blessed be the name of the LORD.

22For all this Job sinned not, nor ascribed aught unseemly to God.

Job Loses His Health

1Again it fell upon a day, that the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan came also among them to present himself before the LORD. 2And the LORD said unto Satan: 'From whence comest thou?' And Satan answered the LORD, and said: 'From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.' 3And the LORD said unto Satan: 'Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a whole-hearted and an upright man, one that feareth God, and shunneth evil? and he still holdeth fast his integrity, although thou didst move Me against him, to destroy him without cause.' 4And Satan answered the LORD, and said: 'Skin for skin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life. 5But put forth Thy hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, surely he will blaspheme Thee to Thy face.' 6And the LORD said unto Satan: 'Behold, he is in thy hand; only spare his life.'

7So Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD, and smote Job with sore boils from the sole of his foot even unto his crown. 8And he took him a potsherd to scrape himself therewith; and he sat among the ashes.

9Then said his wife unto him: 'Dost thou still hold fast thine integrity? blaspheme God, and die.' 10But he said unto her: 'Thou speakest as one of the impious women speaketh. What? shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil?' For all this did not Job sin with his lips.

Job's Three Friends

11Now when Job's three friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place, Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite; and they made an appointment together to come to bemoan him and to comfort him. 12And when they lifted up their eyes afar off, and knew him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept; and they rent every one his mantle, and threw dust upon their heads toward heaven. 13So they sat down with him upon the ground seven days and seven nights, and none spoke a word unto him; for they saw that his grief was very great.

Job Laments His Birth

1After this opened Job his mouth, and cursed his day. 2And Job spoke, and said:

3Let the day perish wherein I was born, And the night wherein it was said: 'A man-child is brought forth.'

4Let that day be darkness; Let not God inquire after it from above, Neither let the light shine upon it.

5Let darkness and the shadow of death claim it for their own; Let a cloud dwell upon it; Let all that maketh black the day terrify it.

6As for that night, let thick darkness seize upon it; Let it not rejoice among the days of the year; Let it not come into the number of the months.

7Lo, let that night be desolate; Let no joyful voice come therein.

8Let them curse it that curse the day, Who are ready to rouse up leviathan.

9Let the stars of the twilight thereof be dark; Let it look for light, but have none; Neither let it behold the eyelids of the morning;

10Because it shut not up the doors of my [mother's] womb, Nor hid trouble from mine eyes.

11Why died I not from the womb? Why did I not perish at birth?

12Why did the knees receive me? And wherefore the breasts, that I should suck?

13For now should I have lain still and been quiet; I should have slept; then had I been at rest—

14With kings and counsellors of the earth, Who built up waste places for themselves;

15Or with princes that had gold, Who filled their houses with silver;

16Or as a hidden untimely birth I had not been; As infants that never saw light.

17There the wicked cease from troubling; And there the weary are at rest.

18There the prisoners are at ease together; They hear not the voice of the taskmaster.

19The small and great are there alike; And the servant is free from his master.

20Wherewith is light given to him that is in misery, And life unto the bitter in soul—

21Who long for death, but it cometh not; And dig for it more than for hid treasures;

22Who rejoice unto exultation, And are glad, when they can find the grave?—

23To a man whose way is hid, And whom God hath hedged in?

24For my sighing cometh instead of my food, And my roarings are poured out like water.

25For the thing which I did fear is come upon me, And that which I was afraid of hath overtaken me.

26I was not at ease, neither was I quiet, Neither had I rest; but trouble came.

Job 4

Eliphaz: The Innocent Prosper

1Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said:

2If one venture a word unto thee, wilt thou be weary? But who can withhold himself from speaking?

3Behold, thou hast instructed many, And thou hast strengthened the weak hands.

4Thy words have upholden him that was falling, And thou hast strengthened the feeble knees.

5But now it is come upon thee, and thou art weary; It toucheth thee, and thou art affrighted.

6Is not thy fear of God thy confidence, And thy hope the integrity of thy ways?

7Remember, I pray thee, who ever perished, being innocent? Or where were the upright cut off?

8According as I have seen, they that plow iniquity, And sow mischief, reap the same.

9By the breath of God they perish, And by the blast of His anger are they consumed.

10The lion roareth, and the fierce lion howleth—Yet the teeth of the young lions are broken.

11The old lion perisheth for lack of prey, And the whelps of the lioness are scattered abroad.

12Now a word was secretly brought to me, And mine ear received a whisper thereof.

13In thoughts from the visions of the night, When deep sleep falleth on men, 14Fear came upon me, and trembling, And all my bones were made to shake.

15Then a spirit passed before my face, That made the hair of my flesh to stand up.

16It stood still, but I could not discern the appearance thereof; A form was before mine eyes; I heard a still voice:

17Shall mortal man be just before God? Shall a man be pure before his Maker?

18Behold, He putteth no trust in His servants, And His angels He chargeth with folly;

19How much more them that dwell in houses of clay, Whose foundation is in the dust, who are crushed before the moth!

20Betwixt morning and evening they are shattered; They perish for ever without any regarding it.

21Is not their tent-cord plucked up within them? They die, and that without wisdom.'

Eliphaz Continues: God Blesses those Who Seek Him

1Call now; is there any that will answer thee? And to which of the holy ones wilt thou turn?

2For anger killeth the foolish man, And envy slayeth the silly one.

3I have seen the foolish taking root; But suddenly I beheld his habitation cursed.

4His children are far from safety, And are crushed in the gate, with none to deliver them.

5Whose harvest the hungry eateth up, And taketh it even out of the thorns, and the snare gapeth for their substance.

6For affliction cometh not forth from the dust, Neither doth trouble spring out of the ground;

7But man is born unto trouble, As the sparks fly upward.

8But as for me, I would seek unto God, And unto God would I commit my cause;

9Who doeth great things and unsearchable, Marvellous things without number;

10Who giveth rain upon the earth, And sendeth waters upon the fields;

11So that He setteth up on high those that are low, And those that mourn are exalted to safety.

12He frustrateth the devices of the crafty, So that their hands can perform nothing substantial.

13He taketh the wise in their own craftiness; And the counsel of the wily is carried headlong.

14They meet with darkness in the day-time, And grope at noonday as in the night.

15But He saveth from the sword of their mouth, Even the needy from the hand of the mighty.

16So the poor hath hope, And iniquity stoppeth her mouth.

17Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth; Therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty.

18For He maketh sore, and bindeth up; He woundeth, and His hands make whole.

19He will deliver thee in six troubles; Yea, in seven there shall no evil touch thee.

20In famine He will redeem thee from death; And in war from the power of the sword.

21Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue; Neither shalt thou be afraid of destruction when it cometh.

- 22At destruction and famine thou shalt laugh; Neither shalt thou be afraid of the beasts of the earth.
- 23For thou shalt be in league with the stones of the field; And the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.
- 24And thou shalt know that thy tent is in peace; And thou shalt visit thy habitation, and shalt miss nothing.
- 25Thou shalt know also that thy seed shall be great, And thine offspring as the grass of the earth.
- 26Thou shalt come to thy grave in a ripe age, Like as a shock of corn cometh in in its season.
- 27Lo this, we have searched it, So it is; hear it, and know thou it for thy good.

Job Replies: My Complaint Is Just

- 1Then Job answered and said:
- 2Oh that my vexation were but weighed, And my calamity laid in the balances altogether!
- 3For now it would be heavier than the sand of the seas; Therefore are my words broken.
- 4For the arrows of the Almighty are within me, The poison whereof my spirit drinketh up; The terrors of God do set themselves in array against me.
- 5Doth the wild ass bray when he hath grass? Or loweth the ox over his fodder?
- 6Can that which hath no savour be eaten without salt? Or is there any taste in the juice of mallows?
- 7My soul refuseth to touch them; They are as the sickness of my flesh.
- 8Oh that I might have my request, And that God would grant me the thing that I long for!
- 9Even that it would please God to crush me; That He would let loose His hand, and cut me off!
- 10Then should I yet have comfort; Yea, I would exult in pain, though He spare not; For I have not denied the words of the Holy One.
- 11What is my strength, that I should wait? And what is mine end, that I should be patient?
- 12Is my strength the strength of stones? Or is my flesh of brass?
- 13Is it that I have no help in me, And that sound wisdom is driven quite from me?

14 To him that is ready to faint kindness is due from his friend, Even to him that forsaketh the fear of the Almighty.

15 My brethren have dealt deceitfully as a brook, As the channel of brooks that overflow,

16 Which are black by reason of the ice, And wherein the snow hideth itself;

17 What time they wax warm, they vanish, When it is hot, they are consumed out of their place.

18 The paths of their way do wind, They go up into the waste, and are lost.

19 The caravans of Tema looked, The companies of Sheba waited for them—

20 They were ashamed because they had hoped; They came thither, and were confounded.

21 For now ye are become His; Ye see a terror, and are afraid.

22 Did I say: 'Give unto me'? Or: 'Offer a present for me of your substance' ?

23 Or: 'Deliver me from the adversary's hand'? Or: 'Redeem me from the hand of the oppressors' ?

24 Teach me, and I will hold my peace; And cause me to understand wherein I have erred.

25 How forcible are words of uprightness! But what doth your arguing argue?

26 Do ye hold words to be an argument, But the speeches of one that is desperate to be wind?

27 Yea, ye would cast lots upon the fatherless, And dig a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore be pleased to look upon me; For surely I shall not lie to your face.

29 Return, I pray you, let there be no injustice; Yea, return again, my cause is righteous.

30 Is there injustice on my tongue? Cannot my taste discern crafty devices?

Job Continues: Life Seems Futile

1 Is there not a time of service to man upon earth? And are not his days like the days of a hireling?

2 As a servant that eagerly longeth for the shadow, And as a hireling that looketh for his wages;

3 So am I made to possess—months of vanity, And wearisome nights are appointed to me.

4 When I lie down, I say: 'When shall I arise?' But the night is long, and I am full of tossings to and fro unto the dawning of the day.

5 My flesh is clothed with worms and clods of dust; My skin closeth up and breaketh out afresh.

6 My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, And are spent without hope.

7 O remember that my life is a breath; Mine eye shall no more see good.

8 The eye of him that seeth me shall behold me no more; While Thine eyes are upon me, I am gone.

9 As the cloud is consumed and vanisheth away, So he that goeth down to the grave shall come up no more.

10 He shall return no more to his house, Neither shall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not refrain my mouth; I will speak in the anguish of my spirit; I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.

12 Am I a sea, or a sea-monster, That Thou settest a watch over me?

13 When I say: 'My bed shall comfort me, My couch shall ease my complaint';

14 Then Thou scarest me with dreams, And terrifiest me through visions;

15 So that my soul chooseth strangling, And death rather than these my bones.

16 I loathe it; I shall not live alway; Let me alone; for my days are vanity.

17 What is man, that Thou shouldest magnify him, And that Thou shouldest set Thy heart upon him,

18 And that Thou shouldest remember him every morning, And try him every moment?

19 How long wilt Thou not look away from me, Nor let me alone till I swallow down my spittle?

20 If I have sinned, what do I unto Thee, O Thou watcher of men? Why hast Thou set me as a mark for Thee, So that I am a burden to myself?

21 And why dost Thou not pardon my transgression, And take away mine iniquity? For now shall I lie down in the dust; And Thou wilt seek me, but I shall not be.

Bildad: Job Should Repent

1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said:

2 How long wilt thou speak these things, Seeing that the words of thy mouth are as a mighty wind?

3 Doth God pervert judgment? Or doth the Almighty pervert justice?

- 4If thy children sinned against Him, He delivered them into the hand of their transgression.
- 5If thou wouldest seek earnestly unto God, And make thy supplication to the Almighty;
- 6If thou wert pure and upright; Surely now He would awake for thee, And make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.
- 7And though thy beginning was small, Yet thy end should greatly increase.
- 8For inquire, I pray thee, of the former generation, And apply thyself to that which their fathers have searched out—
- 9For we are but of yesterday, and know nothing, Because our days upon earth are a shadow—
- 10Shall not they teach thee, and tell thee, And utter words out of their heart?
- 11Can the rush shoot up without mire? Can the reed-grass grow without water?
- 12Whilst it is yet in its greenness, and not cut down, It withereth before any other herb.
- 13So are the paths of all that forget God; And the hope of the godless man shall perish;
- 14Whose confidence is gossamer, And whose trust is a spider's web.
- 15He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand; He shall hold fast thereby, but it shall not endure.
- 16He is green before the sun, And his shoots go forth over his garden.
- 17His roots are wrapped about the heap, He beholdeth the place of stones.
- 18If he be destroyed from his place, Then it shall deny him: 'I have not seen thee.'
- 19Behold, this is the joy of his way, And out of the earth shall others spring.
- 20Behold, God will not cast away an innocent man, Neither will He uphold the evil-doers;
- 21Till He fill thy mouth with laughter, And thy lips with shouting.
- 22They that hate thee shall be clothed with shame; And the tent of the wicked shall be no more.

Job: How Can I Contend with God?

- 1Then Job answered and said:
- 2Of a truth I know that it is so; And how can man be just with God?

- 3If one should desire to contend with Him, He could not answer Him one of a thousand.
- 4He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength; Who hath hardened himself against Him, and prospered?
- 5Who removeth the mountains, and they know it not, When He overturneth them in His anger.
- 6Who shaketh the earth out of her place, And the pillars thereof tremble.
- 7Who commandeth the sun, and it riseth not; And seaeth up the stars.
- 8Who alone stretcheth out the heavens, And treadeth upon the waves of the sea.
- 9Who maketh the Bear, Orion, and the Pleiades, And the chambers of the south.
- 10Who doeth great things past finding out; Yea, marvellous things without number.
- 11Lo, He goeth by me, and I see Him not. He passeth on also, but I perceive Him not.
- 12Behold, He snatcheth away, who can hinder Him? Who will say unto Him: 'What doest Thou?'
- 13God will not withdraw His anger; The helpers of Rahab did stoop under Him.
- 14How much less shall I answer Him, And choose out my arguments with Him?
- 15Whom, though I were righteous, yet would I not answer; I would make supplication to Him that contendeth with me.
- 16If I had called, and He had answered me; Yet would I not believe that He would hearken unto my voice—
- 17He that would break me with a tempest, And multiply my wounds without cause;
- 18That would not suffer me to take my breath, But fill me with bitterness.
- 19If it be a matter of strength, lo, He is mighty! And if of justice, who will appoint me a time?
- 20Though I be righteous, mine own mouth shall condemn me; Though I be innocent, He shall prove me perverse.
- 21I am innocent—I regard not myself, I despise my life.
- 22It is all one—therefore I say: He destroyeth the innocent and the wicked.
- 23If the scourge slay suddenly, He will mock at the calamity of the guiltless.
- 24The earth is given into the hand of the wicked; He covereth the faces of the judges thereof; If it be not He, who then is it?
- 25Now my days are swifter than a runner; They flee away, they see no good.

- 26 They are passed away as the swift ships; As the vulture that swoopeth on the prey.
- 27 If I say: 'I will forget my complaint, I will put off my sad countenance, and be of good cheer',
- 28 I am afraid of all my pains, I know that Thou wilt not hold me guiltless.
- 29 I shall be condemned; Why then do I labour in vain?
- 30 If I wash myself with snow water, And make my hands never so clean;
- 31 Yet wilt Thou plunge me in the ditch, And mine own clothes shall abhor me.
- 32 For He is not a man, as I am, that I should answer Him, That we should come together in judgment.
- 33 There is no arbiter betwixt us, That might lay his hand upon us both.
- 34 Let Him take His rod away from me, And let not His terror make me afraid;
- 35 Then would I speak, and not fear Him; For I am not so with myself.

Job's Plea to God

- 1 My soul is weary of my life; I will give free course to my complaint; I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.
- 2 I will say unto God: Do not condemn me; Make me know wherefore Thou contendest with me.
- 3 Is it good unto Thee that Thou shouldest oppress, That Thou shouldest despise the work of Thy hands, And shine upon the counsel of the wicked?
- 4 Hast Thou eyes of flesh? Or seest Thou as man seeth?
- 5 Are Thy days as the days of man, Or Thy years as a man's days,
- 6 That Thou inquirest after mine iniquity, And searchest after my sin,
- 7 Although Thou knowest that I shall not be condemned; And there is none that can deliver out of Thy hand?
- 8 Thy hands have framed me and fashioned me Together round about; yet Thou dost destroy me!
- 9 Remember, I beseech Thee, that Thou hast fashioned me as clay; And wilt Thou bring me into dust again?
- 10 Hast Thou not poured me out as milk, And curdled me like cheese?

- 11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, And knit me together with bones and sinews.
- 12 Thou hast granted me life and favour, And Thy providence hath preserved my spirit.
- 13 Yet these things Thou didst hide in Thy heart; I know that this is with Thee;
- 14 If I sin, then Thou markest me, And Thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquity.
- 15 If I be wicked, woe unto me; And if I be righteous, yet shall I not lift up my head—Being filled with ignominy And looking upon mine affliction.
- 16 And if it exalt itself, Thou huntest me as a lion; And again Thou showest Thyself marvellous upon me.
- 17 Thou renewest Thy witnesses against me, And increasest Thine indignation upon me; Host succeeding host against me.
- 18 Wherefore then hast Thou brought me forth out of the womb? Would that I had perished, and no eye had seen me!
- 19 I should have been as though I had not been; I should have been carried from the womb to the grave.
- 20 Are not my days few? Cease then, And let me alone, that I may take comfort a little,
- 21 Before I go whence I shall not return, Even to the land of darkness and of the shadow of death;
- 22 A land of thick darkness, as darkness itself; A land of the shadow of death, without any order, And where the light is as darkness.

Zophar Rebukes Job

- 1 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said:
- 2 Should not the multitude of words be answered? And should a man full of talk be accounted right?
- 3 Thy boastings have made men hold their peace, And thou hast mocked, with none to make thee ashamed;
- 4 And thou hast said: 'My doctrine is pure, And I am clean in Thine eyes.'
- 5 But oh that God would speak, And open His lips against thee;
- 6 And that He would tell thee the secrets of wisdom, That sound wisdom is manifold! Know therefore that God exacteth of thee less than thine iniquity deserveth.

7 Canst thou find out the deep things of God? Canst thou attain unto the purpose of the Almighty?
8 It is high as heaven; what canst thou do? Deeper than the nether-world; what canst thou know?
9 The measure thereof is longer than the earth, And broader than the sea.
10 If He pass by, and shut up, Or gather in, then who can hinder Him?
11 For He knoweth base men; And when He seeth iniquity, will He not then consider it?
12 But an empty man will get understanding, When a wild ass's colt is born a man.
13 If thou set thy heart aright, And stretch out thy hands toward Him—
14 If iniquity be in thy hand, put it far away, And let not unrighteousness dwell in thy tents—
15 Surely then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot; Yea, thou shalt be stedfast, and shalt not fear;
16 For thou shalt forget thy misery; Thou shalt remember it as waters that are passed away;
17 And thy life shall be clearer than the noonday; Though there be darkness, it shall be as the morning.
18 And thou shalt be secure, because there is hope; Yea, thou shalt look about thee, and shalt take thy rest in safety.
19 Also thou shalt lie down, and none shall make thee afraid; Yea, many shall make suit unto thee.
20 But the eyes of the wicked shall fail, And they shall have no way to flee, And their hope shall be the drooping of the soul.

Job Presents His Case

1 Then Job answered and said:
2 No doubt but ye are the people, And wisdom shall die with you.
3 But I have understanding as well as you; I am not inferior to you; Yea, who knoweth not such things as these?
4 I am as one that is a laughing-stock to his neighbour, A man that called upon God, And He answered him; The just, the innocent man is a laughing-stock,
5 A contemptible brand in the thought of him that is at ease, A thing ready for them whose foot slippeth.

- 6The tents of robbers prosper, And they that provoke God are secure, In whatsoever God bringeth into their hand.
- 7But ask now the beasts, and they shall teach thee; And the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee;
- 8Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee; And the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee;
- 9Who knoweth not among all these, That the hand of the LORD hath wrought this?
- 10In whose hand is the soul of every living thing, And the breath of all mankind.—
- 11Doth not the ear try words, Even as the palate tasteth its food?
- 12Is wisdom with aged men, And understanding in length of days?—
- 13With Him is wisdom and might; He hath counsel and understanding.
- 14Behold, He breaketh down, and it cannot be built again; He shutteth up a man, and there can be no opening.
- 15Behold, He withholdeth the waters, and they dry up; Also He sendeth them out, and they overturn the earth.
- 16With Him is strength and sound wisdom; The deceived and the deceiver are His.
- 17He leadeth counsellors away stripped, And judges maketh He fools.
- 18He looseth the bond of kings, And bindeth their loins with a girdle.
- 19He leadeth priests away stripped, And overthroweth the mighty.
- 20He removeth the speech of men of trust, And taketh away the sense of the elders.
- 21He poureth contempt upon princes, And looseth the belt of the strong.
- 22He uncovereth deep things out of darkness, And bringeth out to light the shadow of death.
- 23He increaseth the nations, and destroyeth them; He enlargeth the nations, and leadeth them away.
- 24He taketh away the heart of the chiefs of the people of the land, And causeth them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.
- 25They grope in the dark without light, And He maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

Job Prepares His Case

- 1Lo, mine eye hath seen all this, Mine ear hath heard and understood it.
- 2What ye know, do I know also; I am not inferior unto you.
- 3Notwithstanding I would speak to the Almighty, And I desire to reason with God.
- 4But ye are plasterers of lies, Ye are all physicians of no value.
- 5Oh that ye would altogether hold your peace! And it would be your wisdom.
- 6Hear now my reasoning, And hearken to the pleadings of my lips.
- 7Will ye speak unrighteously for God, And talk deceitfully for Him?
- 8Will ye show Him favour? Will ye contend for God?
- 9Would it be good that He should search you out? Or as one mocketh a man, will ye mock Him?
- 10He will surely reprove you, If ye do secretly show favour.
- 11Shall not His majesty terrify you, And His dread fall upon you?
- 12Your memorials shall be like unto ashes, Your eminences to eminences of clay.
- 13Hold your peace, let me alone, that I may speak, And let come on me what will.
- 14Wherefore? I will take my flesh in my teeth, And put my life in my hand.
- 15Though He slay me, yet will I trust in Him; But I will argue my ways before Him.
- 16This also shall be my salvation, That a hypocrite cannot come before Him.
- 17Hear diligently my speech, And let my declaration be in your ears.
- 18Behold now, I have ordered my cause; I know that I shall be justified.
- 19Who is he that will contend with me? For then would I hold my peace and die.
- 20Only do not two things unto me, Then will I not hide myself from Thee:
- 21Withdraw Thy hand far from me; And let not Thy terror make me afraid.
- 22Then call Thou, and I will answer; Or let me speak, and answer Thou me.
- 23How many are mine iniquities and sins? Make me to know my transgression and my sin.
- 24Wherefore hidest Thou Thy face, And holdest me for Thine enemy?
- 25Wilt Thou harass a driven leaf? And wilt Thou pursue the dry stubble?

26That Thou shouldest write bitter things against me, And make me to inherit the iniquities of my youth.

27Thou puttest my feet also in the stocks, And lookest narrowly unto all my paths; Thou drawest Thee a line about the soles of my feet;

28Though I am like a wine-skin that consumeth, Like a garment that is moth-eaten.

Job Laments the Finality of Death

1Man that is born of a woman Is of few days, and full of trouble.

2He cometh forth like a flower, and withereth; He fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not.

3And dost Thou open Thine eyes upon such a one, And bringest me into judgment with Thee?

4Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one.

5Seeing his days are determined, The number of his months is with Thee, And Thou hast appointed his bounds that he cannot pass;

6Look away from him, that he may rest, Till he shall accomplish, as a hireling, his day.

7For there is hope of a tree, If it be cut down, that it will sprout again, And that the tender branch thereof will not cease.

8Though the root thereof wax old in the earth, And the stock thereof die in the ground;

9Yet through the scent of water it will bud, And put forth boughs like a plant.

10But man dieth, and lieth low; Yea, man perisheth, and where is he?

11As the waters fail from the sea, And the river is drained dry;

12So man lieth down and riseth not; Till the heavens be no more, they shall not awake, Nor be roused out of their sleep.

13Oh that Thou wouldest hide me in the nether-world, That Thou wouldest keep me secret, until Thy wrath be past, That Thou wouldest appoint me a set time, and remember me!—

14If a man die, may he live again? All the days of my service would I wait, till my relief should come—

15Thou wouldest call, and I would answer Thee; Thou wouldest have a desire to the work of Thy hands.

- 16 But now Thou numberest my steps, Thou dost not even wait for my sin;
- 17 My transgression is sealed up in a bag, And Thou heapest up mine iniquity.
- 18 And surely the mountain falling crumbleth away, And the rock is removed out of its place;
- 19 The waters wear the stones; The overflowings thereof wash away the dust of the earth; So Thou destroyest the hope of man.
- 20 Thou prevailest for ever against him, and he passeth; Thou changest his countenance, and sendest him away.
- 21 His sons come to honour, and he knoweth it not; And they are brought low, but he regardeth them not.
- 22 But his flesh grieveth for him, And his soul mourneth over him.

Eliphaz: Job Does Not Fear God

- 1 Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said:
- 2 Should a wise man make answer with windy knowledge, And fill his belly with the east wind?
- 3 Should he reason with unprofitable talk, Or with speeches wherewith he can do no good?
- 4 Yea, thou doest away with fear, And impairest devotion before God.
- 5 For thine iniquity teacheth thy mouth, And thou choosest the tongue of the crafty.
- 6 Thine own mouth condemneth thee, and not I; Yea, thine own lips testify against thee.
- 7 Art thou the first man that was born? Or wast thou brought forth before the hills?
- 8 Dost thou hearken in the council of God? And dost thou restrain wisdom to thyself?
- 9 What knowest thou, that we know not? What understandest thou, which is not in us?
- 10 With us are both the gray-headed and the very aged men, Much older than thy father.
- 11 Are the consolations of God too small for thee, And the word that dealeth gently with thee?
- 12 Why doth thy heart carry thee away? And why do thine eyes wink?
- 13 That thou turnest thy spirit against God, And lettest such words go out of thy mouth.

- 14 What is man, that he should be clean? And he that is born of a woman, that he should be righteous?
- 15 Behold, He putteth no trust in His holy ones; Yea, the heavens are not clean in His sight.
- 16 How much less one that is abominable and impure, Man who drinketh iniquity like water!
- 17 I will tell thee, hear thou me; And that which I have seen I will declare—
- 18 Which wise men have told From their fathers, and have not hid it;
- 19 Unto whom alone the land was given, And no stranger passed among them.
- 20 The wicked man travaileth with pain all his days, Even the number of years that are laid up for the oppressor.
- 21 A sound of terrors is in his ears: In prosperity the destroyer shall come upon him.
- 22 He believeth not that he shall return out of darkness, And he is waited for of the sword.
- 23 He wandereth abroad for bread: 'Where is it?' He knoweth that the day of darkness is ready at his hand.
- 24 Distress and anguish overwhelm him; They prevail against him, as a king ready to the battle.
- 25 Because he hath stretched out his hand against God, And behaveth himself proudly against the Almighty;
- 26 He runneth upon him with a stiff neck, With the thick bosses of his bucklers.
- 27 Because he hath covered his face with his fatness, And made collops of fat on his loins;
- 28 And he hath dwelt in desolate cities, In houses which no man would inhabit, Which were ready to become heaps.
- 29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, Neither shall their produce bend to the earth.
- 30 He shall not depart out of darkness; The flame shall dry up his branches, And by the breath of His mouth shall he go away.
- 31 Let him not trust in vanity, deceiving himself; For vanity shall be his recompense.
- 32 It shall be accomplished before his time, And his branch shall not be leafy.
- 33 He shall shake off his unripe grape as the vine, And shall cast off his flower as the olive.
- 34 For the company of the godless shall be desolate, And fire shall consume the tents of bribery.
- 35 They conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity, And their belly prepareth deceit.

Job Decries His Comforters

1Then Job answered and said:

2I have heard many such things; Sorry comforters are ye all.

3Shall windy words have an end? Or what provoketh thee that thou answerest?

4I also could speak as ye do; If your soul were in my soul's stead, I could join words together against you, And shake my head at you.

5I would strengthen you with my mouth, And the moving of my lips would assuage your grief.

6Though I speak, my pain is not assuaged; And though I forbear, what am I eased?

7But now He hath made me weary; Thou hast made desolate all my company.

8And Thou hast shrivelled me up, which is a witness against me; And my leanness riseth up against me, it testifieth to my face.

9He hath torn me in His wrath, and hated me; He hath gnashed upon me with His teeth; Mine adversary sharpeneth his eyes upon me.

10They have gaped upon me with their mouth; They have smitten me upon the cheek scornfully; They gather themselves together against me.

11God delivereth me to the ungodly, And casteth me into the hands of the wicked.

12I was at ease, and He broke me asunder; Yea, He hath taken me by the neck, and dashed me to pieces; He hath also set me up for His mark.

13His archers compass me round about, He cleaveth my reins asunder, and doth not spare; He poureth out my gall upon the ground.

14He breaketh me with breach upon breach; He runneth upon me like a giant.

15I have sewed sackcloth upon my skin, And have laid my horn in the dust.

16My face is reddened with weeping, And on my eyelids is the shadow of death;

17Although there is no violence in my hands, And my prayer is pure.

18O earth, cover not thou my blood, And let my cry have no resting-place.

19Even now, behold, my Witness is in heaven, And He that testifieth of me is on high.

20 Mine inward thoughts are my intercessors, Mine eye poureth out tears unto God;

21 That He would set aright a man contending with God, As a son of man setteth aright his neighbour!

22 For the years that are few are coming on, And I shall go the way whence I shall not return.

Job Prepares for Death

1 My spirit is consumed, my days are extinct, The grave is ready for me.

2 Surely there are mockers with me, And mine eye abideth in their provocation.

3 Give now a pledge, be surety for me with Thyself; Who else is there that will strike hands with me?

4 For Thou hast hid their heart from understanding; Therefore shalt Thou not exalt them.

5 He that denounceth his friends for the sake of flattery, Even the eyes of his children shall fail.

6 He hath made me also a byword of the people; And I am become one in whose face they spit.

7 Mine eye also is dimmed by reason of vexation, And all my members are as a shadow.

8 Upright men are astonished at this, And the innocent stirreth up himself against the godless.

9 Yet the righteous holdeth on his way, And he that hath clean hands waxeth stronger and stronger.

10 But as for you all, do ye return, and come now; And I shall not find a wise man among you.

11 My days are past, my purposes are broken off, Even the thoughts of my heart.

12 They change the night into day; The light is short because of darkness.

13 If I look for the nether-world as my house; If I have spread my couch in the darkness;

14 If I have said to corruption: 'Thou art my father', To the worm: 'Thou art my mother, and my sister';

15 Where then is my hope? And as for my hope, who shall see it?

16 They shall go down to the bars of the nether-world, When we are at rest together in the dust.

Bildad: God Punishes the Wicked

1Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said:

2How long will ye lay snares for words? Consider, and afterwards we will speak.

3Wherefore are we counted as beasts, And reputed dull in your sight?

4Thou that tearest thyself in thine anger, Shall the earth be forsaken for thee? Or shall the rock be removed out of its place?

5Yea, the light of the wicked shall be put out, And the spark of his fire shall not shine.

6The light shall be dark in his tent, And his lamp over him shall be put out.

7The steps of his strength shall be straitened, And his own counsel shall cast him down.

8For he is cast into a net by his own feet, And he walketh upon the toils.

9A gin shall take him by the heel, And a snare shall lay hold on him.

10A noose is hid for him in the ground, And a trap for him in the way.

11Terrors shall overwhelm him on every side, And shall entrap him at his feet.

12His trouble shall be ravenous, And calamity shall be ready for his fall.

13It shall devour the members of his body, Yea, the first-born of death shall devour his members.

14That wherein he trusteth shall be plucked out of his tent; And he shall be brought to the king of terrors.

15There shall dwell in his tent that which is none of his; Brimstone shall be scattered upon his habitation.

16His roots shall dry up beneath, And above shall his branch wither.

17His remembrance shall perish from the earth, And he shall have no name abroad.

18He shall be driven from light into darkness, And chased out of the world.

19He shall have neither son nor son's son among his people, Nor any remaining in his dwellings.

20They that come after shall be astonished at his day, As they that went before are affrighted.

21Surely such are the dwellings of the wicked, And this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

Job: My Redeemer Lives

1Then Job answered and said:

2How long will ye vex my soul, And crush me with words?

3These ten times have ye reproached me; Ye are not ashamed that ye deal harshly with me.

4And be it indeed that I have erred, Mine error remaineth with myself.

5If indeed ye will magnify yourselves against me, And plead against me my reproach;

6Know now that God hath subverted my cause, And hath compassed me with His net.

7Behold, I cry out: 'Violence!' but I am not heard; I cry aloud, but there is no justice.

8He hath fenced up my way that I cannot pass, And hath set darkness in my paths.

9He hath stripped me of my glory, And taken the crown from my head.

10He hath broken me down on every side, and I am gone; And my hope hath He plucked up like a tree.

11He hath also kindled His wrath against me, And He counteth me unto Him as one of His adversaries.

12His troops come on together, And cast up their way against me, And encamp round about my tent.

13He hath put my brethren far from me, And mine acquaintance are wholly estranged from me.

14My kinsfolk have failed, And my familiar friends have forgotten me.

15They that dwell in my house, and my maids, count me for a stranger; I am become an alien in their sight.

16I call unto my servant, and he giveth me no answer, Though I entreat him with my mouth.

17My breath is abhorred of my wife, And I am loathsome to the children of my tribe.

18Even urchins despised me; If I arise, they speak against me.

19All my intimate friends abhor me; And they whom I loved are turned against me.

20My bone cleaveth to my skin and to my flesh, And I am escaped with the skin of my teeth.

21Have pity upon me, have pity upon me, O ye my friends; For the hand of God hath touched me.

22Why do ye persecute me as God, And are not satisfied with my flesh?

23 Oh that my words were now written! Oh that they were inscribed in a book!

24 That with an iron pen and lead They were graven in the rock for ever!

25 But as for me, I know that my Redeemer liveth, And that He will witness at the last upon the dust;

26 And when after my skin this is destroyed, Then without my flesh shall I see God;

27 Whom I, even I, shall see for myself, And mine eyes shall behold, and not another's. My reins are consumed within me.

28 If ye say: 'How we will persecute him!' Seeing that the root of the matter is found in me;

29 Be ye afraid of the sword; For wrath bringeth the punishments of the sword, That ye may know there is a judgment.

Zophar: Destruction Awaits the Wicked

1 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said:

2 Therefore do my thoughts give answer to me, Even by reason of mine agitation that is in me.

3 I have heard the reproof which putteth me to shame, But out of my understanding my spirit answereth me.

4 Knowest thou not this of old time, Since man was placed upon earth,

5 That the triumphing of the wicked is short, And the joy of the godless but for a moment?

6 Though his excellency mount up to the heavens, And his head reach unto the clouds;

7 Yet he shall perish for ever like his own dung; They that have seen him shall say: 'Where is he?'

8 He shall fly away as a dream, and shall not be found; Yea, he shall be chased away as a vision of the night.

9 The eye which saw him shall see him no more; Neither shall his place any more behold him.

10 His children shall appease the poor, And his hands shall restore his wealth.

11 His bones are full of his youth, But it shall lie down with him in the dust.

12 Though wickedness be sweet in his mouth, Though he hide it under his tongue;

13 Though he spare it, and will not let it go, But keep it still within his mouth;

- 14 Yet his food in his bowels is turned, It is the gall of asps within him.
- 15 He hath swallowed down riches, and he shall vomit them up again; God shall cast them out of his belly.
- 16 He shall suck the poison of asps; The viper's tongue shall slay him.
- 17 He shall not look upon the rivers, The flowing streams of honey and curd.
- 18 That which he laboured for shall he give back, and shall not swallow it down; According to the substance that he hath gotten, he shall not rejoice.
- 19 For he hath oppressed and forsaken the poor; He hath violently taken away a house, and he shall not build it up.
- 20 Because he knew no quietness within him, In his greed he suffered nought to escape,
- 21 There was nothing left that he devoured not—Therefore his prosperity shall not endure.
- 22 In the fulness of his sufficiency he shall be in straits; The hand of every one that is in misery shall come upon him.
- 23 It shall be for the filling of his belly; He shall cast the fierceness of His wrath upon him, And shall cause it to rain upon him into his flesh.
- 24 If he flee from the iron weapon, The bow of brass shall strike him through.
- 25 He draweth it forth, and it cometh out of his body; Yea, the glittering point cometh out of his gall; Terrors are upon him.
- 26 All darkness is laid up for his treasures; A fire not blown by man shall consume him; It shall go ill with him that is left in his tent.
- 27 The heavens shall reveal his iniquity, And the earth shall rise up against him.
- 28 The increase of his house shall depart, His goods shall flow away in the day of his wrath.
- 29 This is the portion of a wicked man from God, And the heritage appointed unto him by God.

Job: God Will Punish the Wicked

- 1 Then Job answered and said:
- 2 Hear diligently my speech; And let this be your consolations.

- 3Suffer me, that I may speak; And after that I have spoken, mock on.
- 4As for me, is my complaint to man? Or why should I not be impatient?
- 5Turn unto me, and be astonished, And lay your hand upon your mouth.
- 6Even when I remember I am affrighted, And horror hath taketh hold on my flesh.
- 7Wherefore do the wicked live, Become old, yea, wax mighty in power?
- 8Their seed is established in their sight with them, And their offspring before their eyes.
- 9Their houses are safe, without fear, Neither is the rod of God upon them.
- 10Their bull gendereth, and faileth not; Their cow calveth, and casteth not her calf.
- 11They send forth their little ones like a flock, And their children dance.
- 12They sing to the timbrel and harp, And rejoice at the sound of the pipe.
- 13They spend their days in prosperity, And peacefully they go down to the grave.
- 14Yet they said unto God: 'Depart from us; For we desire not the knowledge of Thy ways.
- 15What is the Almighty, that we should serve Him? And what profit should we have, if we pray unto Him?'—
- 16Lo, their prosperity is not in their hand; The counsel of the wicked is far from me.
- 17How oft is it that the lamp of the wicked is put out? That their calamity cometh upon them? That He distributeth pains in His anger?
- 18That they are as stubble before the wind, And as chaff that the storm stealeth away?
- 19God layeth up his iniquity for his children!—Let Him recompense it unto himself, that he may know it.
- 20Let his own eyes see his destruction, And let him drink of the wrath of the Almighty.
- 21For what pleasure hath he in his house after him? Seeing the number of his months is determined.
- 22Shall any teach God knowledge? Seeing it is He that judgeth those that are high.
- 23One dieth in his full strength, Being wholly at ease and quiet;
- 24His pails are full of milk, And the marrow of his bones is moistened.
- 25And another dieth in bitterness of soul, And hath never tasted of good.
- 26They lie down alike in the dust, And the worm covereth them.

- 27 Behold, I know your thoughts, And the devices which ye wrongfully imagine against me.
- 28 For ye say: 'Where is the house of the prince? And where is the tent wherein the wicked dwelt?'
- 29 Have ye not asked them that go by the way; And will ye misdeem their tokens,
- 30 That the evil man is reserved to the day of calamity, That they are led forth to the day of wrath?
- 31 But who shall declare his way to his face? And who shall repay him what he hath done?
- 32 For he is borne to the grave, And watch is kept over his tomb.
- 33 The clods of the valley are sweet unto him, And all men draw after him, As there were innumerable before him.
- 34 How then comfort ye me in vain? And as for your answers, there remaineth only faithlessness?

Eliphaz: Can a Man Be of Use to God?

- 1 Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said:
- 2 Can a man be profitable unto God? Or can he that is wise be profitable unto Him?
- 3 Is it any advantage to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? Or is it gain to Him, that thou makest thy ways blameless?
- 4 Is it for thy fear of Him that He reproveth thee, That He entereth with thee into judgment?
- 5 Is not thy wickedness great? And are not thine iniquities without end?
- 6 For thou hast taken pledges of thy brother for nought, And stripped the naked of their clothing.
- 7 Thou hast not given water to the weary to drink, And thou hast withholden bread from the hungry.
- 8 And as a mighty man, who hath the earth, And as a man of rank, who dwelleth in it,
- 9 Thou hast sent widows away empty, And the arms of the fatherless have been broken.
- 10 Therefore snares are round about thee, And sudden dread affrighted thee,
- 11 Or darkness, that thou canst not see, And abundance of waters cover thee.
- 12 Is not God in the height of heaven? And behold the topmost of the stars, how high they are!
- 13 And thou sayest: 'What doth God know? Can He judge through the dark cloud?

- 14Thick clouds are a covering to Him, that He seeth not; And He walketh in the circuit of heaven.'
- 15Wilt thou keep the old way Which wicked men have trodden?
- 16Who were snatched away before their time, Whose foundation was poured out as a stream;
- 17Who said unto God: 'Depart from us'; And what could the Almighty do unto them?
- 18Yet He filled their houses with good things—But the counsel of the wicked is far from me.
- 19The righteous saw it, and were glad, And the innocent laugh them to scorn:
- 20Surely their substance is cut off, And their abundance the fire hath consumed.'
- 21Acquaint now thyself with Him, and be at peace; Thereby shall thine increase be good.
- 22Receive, I pray thee, instruction from His mouth, And lay up His words in thy heart.
- 23If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up—If thou put away unrighteousness far from thy tents,
- 24And lay thy treasure in the dust, And the gold of Ophir among the stones of the brooks;
- 25And the Almighty be thy treasure, And precious silver unto thee;
- 26Then surely shalt thou have thy delight in the Almighty, And shalt lift up thy face unto God.
- 27Thou shalt make thy prayer unto Him, and He will hear thee, And thou shalt pay thy vows;
- 28Thou shalt also decree a thing, and it shall be established unto thee, And light shall shine upon thy ways.
- 29When they cast thee down, thou shalt say: 'There is lifting up'; For the humble person He saveth.
- 30He delivereth him that is innocent, Yea, thou shalt be delivered through the cleanness of thy hands.

Job Longs for God

- 1Then Job answered and said:
- 2Even to-day is my complaint bitter; My hand is become heavy because of my groaning.
- 3Oh that I knew where I might find Him, That I might come even to His seat!
- 4I would order my cause before Him, And fill my mouth with arguments.

- 5I would know the words which He would answer me, And understand what He would say unto me.
- 6Would He contend with me in His great power? Nay; but He would give heed unto me.
- 7There the upright might reason with Him; So should I be delivered for ever from my Judge.
- 8Behold, I go forward, but He is not there, And backward, but I cannot perceive Him;
- 9On the left hand, when He doth work, but I cannot behold Him, He turneth Himself to the right hand, but I cannot see Him.
- 10For He knoweth the way that I take; When He hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold.
- 11My foot hath held fast to His steps, His way have I kept, and turned not aside.
- 12I have not gone back from the commandment of His lips; I have treasured up the words of His mouth more than my necessary food.
- 13But He is at one with Himself, and who can turn Him? And what His soul desireth, even that He doeth.
- 14For He will perform that which is appointed for me; And many such things are with Him.
- 15Therefore am I affrighted at His presence; When I consider, I am afraid of Him.
- 16Yea, God hath made my heart faint, And the Almighty hath affrighted me;
- 17Because I was not cut off before the darkness, Neither did He cover the thick darkness from my face.

Job: Judgment for the Wicked

- 1Why are times not laid up by the Almighty? And why do not they that know Him see His days?
- 2There are that remove the landmarks; They violently take away flocks, and feed them.
- 3They drive away the ass of the fatherless, They take the widow's ox for a pledge.
- 4They turn the needy out of the way; The poor of the earth hide themselves together.
- 5Behold, as wild asses in the wilderness They go forth to their work, seeking diligently for food; The desert yieldeth them bread for their children.
- 6They cut his provender in the field; And they despoil the vineyard of the wicked.
- 7They lie all night naked without clothing, And have no covering in the cold.

- 8 They are wet with the showers of the mountains, And embrace the rock for want of a shelter.
- 9 There are that pluck the fatherless from the breast, And take a pledge of the poor;
- 10 So that they go about naked without clothing, And being hungry they carry the sheaves;
- 11 They make oil within the rows of these men; They tread their winepresses, and suffer thirst.
- 12 From out of the populous city men groan, And the soul of the wounded crieth out; Yet God imputeth it not for unseemliness.
- 13 These are of them that rebel against the light; They know not the ways thereof, nor abide in the paths thereof.
- 14 The murderer riseth with the light, to kill the poor and needy; And in the night he is as a thief.
- 15 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, Saying: 'No eye shall see me'; And he putteth a covering on his face.
- 16 In the dark they dig through houses; They shut themselves up in the day-time; They know not the light.
- 17 For the shadow of death is to all of them as the morning; For they know the terrors of the shadow of death.
- 18 He is swift upon the face of the waters; Their portion is cursed in the earth; He turneth not by the way of the vineyards.
- 19 Drought and heat consume the snow waters; So doth the nether-world those that have sinned.
- 20 The womb forgetteth him; the worm feedeth sweetly on him; He shall be no more remembered; And unrighteousness is broken as a tree.
- 21 He devoureth the barren that beareth not; And doeth not good to the widow.
- 22 He draweth away the mighty also by his power; He riseth up, and he trusteth not his own life.
- 23 Though it be given him to be in safety, whereon he resteth, Yet His eyes are upon their ways.
- 24 They are exalted for a little while, and they are gone; Yea, they are brought low, they are gathered in as all others, And wither as the tops of the ears of corn.
- 25 And if it be not so now, who will prove me a liar, And make my speech nothing worth?

- 1Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said:
- 2Dominion and fear are with Him; He maketh peace in His high places.
- 3Is there any number of His armies? And upon whom doth not His light arise?
- 4How then can man be just with God? Or how can he be clean that is born of a woman?

Job: Who Can Understand God's Majesty?

- 1Then Job answered and said:
- 2How hast thou helped him that is without power! How hast thou saved the arm that hath no strength!
- 3How hast thou counselled him that hath no wisdom, And plentifully declared sound knowledge!
- 4With whose help hast thou uttered words? And whose spirit came forth from thee?
- 5The shades tremble Beneath the waters and the inhabitants thereof.
- 6The nether-world is naked before Him, And Destruction hath no covering.
- 7He stretcheth out the north over the empty space, And hangeth the earth over nothing.
- 8He bindeth up the waters in His thick clouds; And the cloud is not rent under them.
- 9He closeth in the face of His throne, And spreadeth His cloud upon it.
- 10He hath described a boundary upon the face of the waters, Unto the confines of light and darkness.
- 11The pillars of heaven tremble And are astonished at His rebuke.
- 12He stirreth up the sea with His power, And by His understanding He smiteth through Rahab.
- 13By His breath the heavens are serene; His hand hath pierced the slant serpent.

Job Affirms His Integrity

1And Job again took up his parable, and said:

2As God liveth, who hath taken away my right; And the Almighty, who hath dealt bitterly with me;

3All the while my breath is in me And the spirit of God is in my nostrils,

4Surely my lips shall not speak unrighteousness, Neither shall my tongue utter deceit;

5Far be it from me that I should justify you; Till I die I will not put away mine integrity from me.

6My righteousness I hold fast, and will not let it go; My heart shall not reproach me so long as I live.

The Wicked Man's Portion

7Let mine enemy be as the wicked, And let him that riseth up against me be as the unrighteous.

8For what is the hope of the godless, though he get him gain, When God taketh away his soul?

9Will God hear his cry, When trouble cometh upon him?

10Will he have his delight in the Almighty, And call upon God at all times?

11I will teach you concerning the hand of God; That which is with the Almighty will I not conceal.

12Behold, all ye yourselves have seen it; Why then are ye become altogether vain?

13This is the portion of a wicked man with God, And the heritage of oppressors, which they receive from the Almighty.

14If his children be multiplied, it is for the sword; And his offspring shall not have bread enough.

15Those that remain of him shall be buried by pestilence, And his widows shall make no lamentation.

16Though he heap up silver as the dust, And prepare raiment as the clay;

17He may prepare it, but the just shall put it on, And the innocent shall divide the silver.

18He buildeth his house as a moth, And as a booth which the keeper maketh.

19He lieth down rich, but there shall be nought to gather; He openeth his eyes, and his wealth is not.

20Terrors overtake him like waters; A tempest stealeth him away in the night.

21The east wind carrieth him away, and he departeth; And it sweepeth him out of his place.

22Yea, it hurleth at him, and spareth not; He would fain flee from its power.

23Men shall clap their hands at him, And shall hiss him out of his place.

Where Can Wisdom Be Found?

1For there is a mine for silver, And a place for gold which they refine.

2Iron is taken out of the dust, And brass is molten out of the stone.

3Man setteth an end to darkness, And searcheth out to the furthest bound
The stones of thick darkness and of the shadow of death.

4He breaketh open a shaft away from where men sojourn; They are forgotten of the foot that passeth by;
They hang afar from men, they swing to and fro.

5As for the earth, out of it cometh bread, And underneath it is turned up as it were by fire.

6The stones thereof are the place of sapphires, And it hath dust of gold.

7That path no bird of prey knoweth, Neither hath the falcon's eye seen it;

8The proud beasts have not trodden it, Nor hath the lion passed thereby.

9He putteth forth his hand upon the flinty rock; He overturneth the mountains by the roots.

10He cutteth out channels among the rocks; And his eye seeth every precious thing.

11He bindeth the streams that they trickle not; And the thing that is hid bringeth he forth to light.

12But wisdom, where shall it be found? And where is the place of understanding?

13Man knoweth not the price thereof; Neither is it found in the land of the living.

14The deep saith: 'It is not in me'; And the sea saith: 'It is not with me.'

15It cannot be gotten for gold, Neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof.

16It cannot be valued with the gold of Ophir, With the precious onyx, or the sapphire.

17Gold and glass cannot equal it; Neither shall the exchange thereof be vessels of fine gold.

18No mention shall be made of coral or of crystal; Yea, the price of wisdom is above rubies.

19The topaz of Ethiopia shall not equal it, Neither shall it be valued with pure gold.

20Whence then cometh wisdom? And where is the place of understanding?
21Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all living, And kept close from the fowls of the air.
22Destruction and Death say: 'We have heard a rumor thereof with our ears.'
23God understandeth the way thereof, And He knoweth the place thereof.
24For He looketh to the ends of the earth, And seeth under the whole heaven;
25When He maketh a weight for the wind, And meteth out the waters by measure.
26When He made a decree for the rain, And a way for the storm of thunders;
27Then did He see it, and declare it; He established it, yea, and searched it out.
28And unto man He said: 'Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; And to depart from evil is understanding.'

Job's Former Blessings

1And Job again took up his parable, and said:
2Oh that I were as in the months of old, As in the days when God watched over me;
3When His lamp shined above my head, And by His light I walked through darkness;
4As I was in the days of my youth, When the converse of God was upon my tent;
5When the Almighty was yet with me, And my children were about me;
6When my steps were washed with butter, And the rock poured me out rivers of oil!
7When I went forth to the gate unto the city, When I prepared my seat in the broad place,
8The young men saw me and hid themselves, And the aged rose up and stood;
9The princes refrained talking, And laid their hand on their mouth;
10The voice of the nobles was hushed, And their tongue cleaved to the roof of their mouth.
11For when the ear heard me, then it blessed me, And when the eye saw me, it gave witness unto me;
12Because I delivered the poor that cried, The fatherless also, that had none to help him.

13The blessing of him that was ready to perish came upon me; and I caused the widow's heart to sing for joy.

14I put on righteousness, and it clothed itself with me; My justice was as a robe and a diadem.

15I was eyes to the blind, And feet was I to the lame.

16I was a father to the needy; And the cause of him that I knew not I searched out.

17And I broke the jaws of the unrighteous, And plucked the prey out of his teeth.

18Then I said: 'I shall die with my nest, And I shall multiply my days as the phoenix;

19My root shall be spread out to the waters, And the dew shall lie all night upon my branch;

20My glory shall be fresh in me, And my bow shall be renewed in my hand.'

21Unto me men gave ear, and waited, And kept silence for my counsel.

22After my words they spoke not again; And my speech dropped upon them.

23And they waited for me as for the rain; And they opened their mouth wide as for the latter rain.

24If I laughed on them, they believed it not; And the light of my countenance they cast not down.

25I chose out their way, and sat as chief, And dwelt as a king in the army, As one that comforteth the mourners.

Job's Honor Turned to Contempt

1But now they that are younger than I have me in derision, Whose fathers I disdained to set with the dogs of my flock.

2Yea, the strength of their hands, whereto should it profit me? Men in whom ripe age is perished.

3They are gaunt with want and famine; They gnaw the dry ground, in the gloom of wasteness and desolation.

4They pluck salt-wort with wormwood; And the roots of the broom are their food.

5They are driven forth from the midst of men; They cry after them as after a thief.

6In the clefts of the valleys must they dwell, In holes of the earth and of the rocks.

7Among the bushes they bray; Under the nettles they are gathered together.

8They are children of churls, yea, children of ignoble men; They were scourged out of the land.

9And now I am become their song, Yea, I am a byword unto them.

10They abhor me, they flee far from me, And spare not to spit in my face.

11For He hath loosed my cord, and afflicted me, And they have cast off the bridle before me.

12Upon my right hand rise the brood; They entangle my feet, And they cast up against me their ways of destruction.

13They break up my path, They further my calamity, Even men that have no helper.

14As through a wide breach they come; In the midst of the ruin they roll themselves upon me.

Job's Prosperity Becomes Calamity

15Terrors are turned upon me, They chase mine honour as the wind; And my welfare is passed away as a cloud.

16And now my soul is poured out within me; Days of affliction have taken hold upon me.

17In the night my bones are pierced, and fall from me, And my sinews take no rest.

18By the great force [of my disease] is my garment disfigured; It bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.

19He hath cast me into the mire, And I am become like dust and ashes.

20I cry unto Thee, and Thou dost not answer me; I stand up, and Thou lookest at me.

21Thou art turned to be cruel to me; With the might of Thy hand Thou hatest me.

22Thou liftest me up to the wind, Thou causest me to ride upon it; And Thou dissolvest my substance.

23For I know that Thou wilt bring me to death, And to the house appointed for all living.

24Surely none shall put forth his hand to a ruinous heap, Neither because of these things shall help come in one's calamity, 25If I have not wept for him that was in trouble, And if my soul grieved not for the needy.

26Yet, when I looked for good, there came evil; And when I waited for light, there came darkness.

27Mine inwards boil, and rest not; Days of affliction are come upon me.

28I go mourning without the sun; I stand up in the assembly, and cry for help.

29I am become a brother to jackals, And a companion to ostriches.

30 My skin is black, and falleth from me, And my bones are burned with heat.

31 Therefore is my harp turned to mourning, And my pipe into the voice of them that weep.

Job's Final Appeal

1 I made a covenant with mine eyes; How then should I look upon a maid?

2 For what would be the portion of God from above, And the heritage of the Almighty from on high?

3 Is it not calamity to the unrighteous, And disaster to the workers of iniquity?

4 Doth not He see my ways, And count all my steps?

5 If I have walked with vanity, And my foot hath hastened to deceit—

6 Let me be weighed in a just balance, That God may know mine integrity—

7 If my step hath turned out of the way, And my heart walked after mine eyes, And if any spot hath cleaved to my hands;

8 Then let me sow, and let another eat; Yea, let the produce of my field be rooted out.

9 If my heart have been enticed unto a woman, And I have lain in wait at my neighbour's door;

10 Then let my wife grind unto another, And let others bow down upon her.

11 For that were a heinous crime; Yea, it were an iniquity to be punished by the judges.

12 For it is a fire that consumeth unto destruction, And would root out all mine increase.

13 If I did despise the cause of my man-servant, Or of my maid-servant, when they contended with me—

14 What then shall I do when God riseth up? And when He remembereth, what shall I answer Him?

15 Did not He that made me in the womb make him? And did not One fashion us in the womb?

16 If I have withheld aught that the poor desired, Or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail;

17 Or have eaten my morsel myself alone, And the fatherless hath not eaten thereof—

18 Nay, from my youth he grew up with me as with a father, And I have been her guide from my mother's womb.

19 If I have seen any wanderer in want of clothing, Or that the needy had no covering;
20 If his loins have not blessed me, And if he were not warmed with the fleece of my sheep;
21 If I have lifted up my hand against the fatherless, Because I saw my help in the gate;
22 Then let my shoulder fall from the shoulder-blade, And mine arm be broken from the bone.
23 For calamity from God was a terror to me, And by reason of His majesty I could do nothing.
24 If I have made gold my hope, And have said to the fine gold: 'Thou art my confidence';
25 If I rejoiced because my wealth was great, And because my hand had gotten much;
26 If I beheld the sun when it shined, Or the moon walking in brightness;
27 And my heart hath been secretly enticed, And my mouth hath kissed my hand;
28 This also were an iniquity to be punished by the judges; For I should have lied to God that is above.
29 If I rejoiced at the destruction of him that hated me, Or exulted when evil found him—
30 Yea, I suffered not my mouth to sin By asking his life with a curse.
31 If the men of my tent said not: 'Who can find one that hath not been satisfied with his meat?'
32 The stranger did not lodge in the street; My doors I opened to the roadside.
33 If after the manner of men I covered my transgressions, By hiding mine iniquity in my bosom—
34 Because I feared the great multitude, And the most contemptible among families terrified me, So that I kept silence, and went not out of the door.
35 Oh that I had one to hear me!—Lo, here is my signature, let the Almighty answer me—And that I had the indictment which mine adversary hath written!
36 Surely I would carry it upon my shoulder; I would bind it unto me as a crown.
37 I would declare unto him the number of my steps; As a prince would I go near unto him.
38 If my land cry out against me, And the furrows thereof weep together;
39 If I have eaten the fruits thereof without money, Or have caused the tillers thereof to be disappointed—
40 Let thistles grow instead of wheat, And noisome weeds instead of barley. The words of Job are ended.

Elihu Rebukes Job's Friends

1So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes. 2Then was kindled the wrath of Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram; against Job was his wrath kindled, because he justified himself rather than God. 3Also against his three friends was his wrath kindled, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job. 4Now Elihu had waited to speak unto Job, because they were older than he. 5And when Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, his wrath was kindled.

6And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered and said: I am young, and ye are very old; Wherefore I held back, and durst not declare you mine opinion.

7I said: 'Days should speak, And multitude of years should teach wisdom.'

8But it is a spirit in man, And the breath of the Almighty, that giveth them understanding.

9It is not the great that are wise, Nor the aged that discern judgment.

10Therefore I say: 'Hearken to me; I also will declare mine opinion.'

11Behold, I waited for your words, I listened for your reasons, Whilst ye searched out what to say.

12Yea, I attended unto you, And, behold, there was none that convinced Job, Or that answered his words, among you.

13Beware lest ye say: 'We have found wisdom; God may vanquish him, not man!'

14For he hath not directed his words against me; Neither will I answer him with your speeches.

15They are amazed, they answer no more; Words are departed from them.

16And shall I wait, because they speak not, Because they stand still, and answer no more?

17I also will answer my part, I also will declare mine opinion.

18For I am full of words; The spirit within me constraineth me.

19Behold, mine inwards are as wine which hath no vent; Like new wine-skins which are ready to burst.

20I will speak, that I may find relief; I will open my lips and answer.

21Let me not, I pray you, respect any man's person; Neither will I give flattering titles unto any man.

22For I know not to give flattering titles; Else would my Maker soon take me away

Elihu Rebukes Job

- 1Howbeit, Job, I pray thee, hear my speech, And hearken to all my words.
- 2Behold now, I have opened my mouth, My tongue hath spoken in my mouth.
- 3My words shall utter the uprightness of my heart; And that which my lips know they shall speak sincerely.
- 4The spirit of God hath made me, And the breath of the Almighty given me life.
- 5If thou canst, answer thou me, Set thy words in order before me, stand forth.
- 6Behold, I am toward God even as thou art; I also am formed out of the clay.
- 7Behold, my terror shall not make thee afraid, Neither shall my pressure be heavy upon thee.
- 8Surely thou hast spoken in my hearing, And I have heard the voice of thy words;
- 9I am clean, without transgression, I am innocent, neither is there iniquity in me;
- 10Behold, He findeth occasions against me, He counteth me for His enemy;
- 11He putteth my feet in the stocks, He marketh all my paths.'
- 12Behold, I answer thee: In this thou art not right, That God is too great for man;
- 13Why hast thou striven against Him? Seeing that He will not answer any of his words.
- 14For God speaketh in one way, Yea in two, though man perceiveth it not.
- 15In a dream, in a vision of the night, When deep sleep falleth upon men, In slumberings upon the bed;
- 16Then He openeth the ears of men, And by their chastisement sealeth the decree,
- 17That men may put away their purpose, And that He may hide pride from man;
- 18That He may keep back his soul from the pit, And his life from perishing by the sword.
- 19He is chastened also with pain upon his bed, And all his bones grow stiff;
- 20So that his life maketh him to abhor bread, And his soul dainty food.
- 21His flesh is consumed away, that it cannot be seen; And his bones corrode to unsightliness.
- 22Yea, his soul draweth near unto the pit, And his life to the destroyers.

23 If there be for him an angel, An intercessor, one among a thousand, To vouch for a man's uprightness;

24 Then He is gracious unto him, and saith: 'Deliver him from going down to the pit, I have found a ransom.'

25 His flesh is tenderer than a child's; He returneth to the days of his youth;

26 He prayeth unto God, and He is favourable unto him; So that he seeth His face with joy; And He restoreth unto man his righteousness.

27 He cometh before men, and saith: 'I have sinned, and perverted that which was right, And it profited me not.'

28 So He redeemeth his soul from going into the pit, And his life beholdeth the light.

29 Lo, all these things doth God work, Twice, yea thrice, with a man,

30 To bring back his soul from the pit, That he may be enlightened with the light of the living.

31 Mark well, O Job, hearken unto me; Hold thy peace, and I will speak.

32 If thou hast any thing to say, answer me; Speak, for I desire to justify thee.

33 If not, hearken thou unto me; Hold thy peace, and I will teach thee wisdom.

Elihu Confirms God's Justice

1 Moreover Elihu answered and said:

2 Hear my words, ye wise men; And give ear unto me, ye that have knowledge.

3 For the ear trieth words, As the palate tasteth food.

4 Let us choose for us that which is right; Let us know among ourselves what is good.

5 For Job hath said: 'I am righteous, And God hath taken away my right;

6 Notwithstanding my right I am accounted a liar; My wound is incurable, though I am without transgression.'

7 What man is like Job, Who drinketh up scorning like water?

8 Who goeth in company with the workers of iniquity, And walketh with wicked men.

- 9For he hath said: 'It profiteth a man nothing That he should be in accord with God.'
- 10Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding: Far be it from God, that He should do wickedness; And from the Almighty, that He should commit iniquity.
- 11For the work of a man will He requite unto him, And cause every man to find according to his ways.
- 12Yea, of a surety, God will not do wickedly, Neither will the Almighty pervert justice.
- 13Who gave Him a charge over the earth? Or who hath disposed the whole world?
- 14If He set His heart upon man, If He gather unto Himself his spirit and his breath;
- 15All flesh shall perish together, And man shall return unto dust.
- 16If now thou hast understanding, hear this; Hearken to the voice of my words.
- 17Shall even one that hateth right govern? And wilt thou condemn Him that is just and mighty—
- 18Is it fit to say to a king: 'Thou art base'? Or to nobles: 'Ye are wicked'?—
- 19That respecteth not the persons of princes, Nor regardeth the rich more than the poor? For they all are the work of His hands.
- 20In a moment they die, even at midnight; The people are shaken and pass away, And the mighty are taken away without hand.
- 21For His eyes are upon the ways of a man, And He seeth all his goings.
- 22There is no darkness, nor shadow of death, Where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves.
- 23For He doth not appoint a time unto any man, When he should go before God in judgment.
- 24He breaketh in pieces mighty men without inquisition, And setteth others in their stead.
- 25Therefore He taketh knowledge of their works; And He overturneth them in the night, so that they are crushed.
- 26He striketh them as wicked men In the open sight of others;
- 27Because they turned aside from following Him, And would not have regard to any of His ways;
- 28So that they cause the cry of the poor to come unto Him, And He heareth the cry of the afflicted.
- 29When He giveth quietness, who then can condemn? And when He hideth His face, who then can behold Him? Whether it be done unto a nation, or unto a man, alike;
- 30That the godless man reign not, That there be none to ensnare the people.
- 31For hath any said unto God: 'I have borne chastisement, though I offend not;

32That which I see not teach Thou me; If I have done iniquity, I will do it no more’?

33Shall His recompense be as thou wilt? For thou loathest it, So that thou must choose, and not I; Therefore speak what thou knowest.

34Men of understanding will say unto me, Yea, every wise man that heareth me:

35Job speaketh without knowledge, And his words are without discernment.’

36Would that Job were tried unto the end, Because of his answering like wicked men.

37For he addeth rebellion unto his sin, He clappeth his hands among us, And multiplieth his words against God.

Elihu Recalls God’s Justice

1Moreover Elihu answered and said:

2Thinkest thou this to be thy right, Or sayest thou: ‘I am righteousness before God’,

3That thou inquirest: ‘What advantage will it be unto Thee?’ And: ‘What profit shall I have, more than if I had sinned?’

4I will give thee answer, And thy companions with thee.

5Look unto the heavens, and see; And behold the skies, which are higher than thou.

6If thou hast sinned, what doest thou against Him? And if thy transgressions be multiplied, what doest thou unto Him?

7If thou be righteous, what givest thou Him? Or what receiveth He of thy hand?

8Thy wickedness concerneth a man as thou art; And thy righteousness a son of man.

9By reason of the multitude of oppressions they cry out; They cry for help by reason of the arm of the mighty.

10But none saith: ‘Where is God my Maker, Who giveth songs in the night;

11Who teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth, And maketh us wiser than the fowls of heaven?’

12There they cry, but none giveth answer, Because of the pride of evil men.

13Surely God will not hear vanity, Neither will the Almighty regard it.

14Yea, when thou sayest thou canst not see Him—The cause is before Him; therefore wait thou for Him.

15And now, is it for nought that He punished in His anger? And hath He not full knowledge of arrogance?

16But Job doth open his mouth in vanity; He multiplieth words without knowledge.

Job 36

Elihu Describes God's Power

1Elihu also proceeded, and said:

2Suffer me a little, and I will tell thee; For there are yet words on God's behalf.

3I will fetch my knowledge from afar, And will ascribe righteousness to my Maker.

4For truly my words are not false; One that is upright in mind is with thee.

5Behold, God is mighty, yet He despiseth not any; He is mighty in strength of understanding.

6He preserveth not the life of the wicked; But giveth to the poor their right.

7He withdraweth not His eyes from the righteous; But with kings upon the throne He setteth them for ever, and they are exalted.

8And if they be bound in fetters, And be holden in cords of affliction;

9Then He declareth unto them their work, And their transgressions, that they have behaved themselves proudly.

10He openeth also their ear to discipline, And commandeth that they return from iniquity.

11If they hearken and serve Him, They shall spend their days in prosperity, And their years in pleasures.

12But if they hearken not, they shall perish by the sword, And they shall die without knowledge.

13But they that are godless in heart lay up anger; They cry not for help when He bindeth them.

14Their soul perisheth in youth, And their life as that of the depraved.

15He delivereth the afflicted by His affliction, And openeth their ear by tribulation.

16Yea, He hath allured thee out of distress Into a broad place, where there is no straitness; And that which is set on thy table is full of fatness;

- 17 And thou art full of the judgment of the wicked; Judgment and justice take hold on them.
- 18 For beware of wrath, lest thou be led away by thy sufficiency; Neither let the greatness of the ransom turn thee aside.
- 19 Will thy riches avail, that are without stint, Or all the forces of thy strength?
- 20 Desire not the night, When peoples are cut off in their place.
- 21 Take heed, regard not iniquity; For this hast thou chosen rather than affliction.
- 22 Behold, God doeth loftily in His power; Who is a teacher like Him?
- 23 Who hath enjoined Him His way? Or who hath said: 'Thou hast wrought unrighteousness'?
- 24 Remember that thou magnify His work, Whereof men have sung.
- 25 All men have looked thereon; Man beholdeth it afar off.
- 26 Behold, God is great, beyond our knowledge; The number of His years is unsearchable.
- 27 For He draweth away the drops of water, Which distil rain from His vapour;
- 28 Which the skies pour down And drop upon the multitudes of men.
- 29 Yea, can any understand the spreadings of the clouds, The crashings of His pavilion?
- 30 Behold, He spreadeth His light upon it; And He covereth the depths of the sea.
- 31 For by these He judgeth the peoples; He giveth food in abundance.
- 32 He covereth His hands with the lightning, And giveth it a charge that it strike the mark.
- 33 The noise thereof telleth concerning it, The cattle also concerning the storm that cometh up.

Elihu Proclaims God's Majesty

- 1 At this also my heart trembleth, And is moved out of its place.
- 2 Hear attentively the noise of His voice, And the sound that goeth out of His mouth.
- 3 He sendeth it forth under the whole heaven, And His lightning unto the ends of the earth.
- 4 After it a voice roareth; He thundereth with the voice of His majesty; And He stayeth them not when His voice is heard.

- 5God thundereth marvellously with His voice; Great things doeth He, which we cannot comprehend.
- 6For He saith to the snow: 'Fall thou on the earth'; Likewise to the shower of rain, and to the showers of His mighty rain.
- 7He sealet up the hand of every man, That all men whom He hath made may know it.
- 8Then the beasts go into coverts, And remain in their dens.
- 9Out of the Chamber cometh the storm; And cold out of the north.
- 10By the breath of God ice is given, And the breadth of the waters is straitened.
- 11Yea, He ladeth the thick cloud with moister, He spreadeth abroad the cloud of His lightning;
- 12And they are turned round about by His guidance, That they may do whatsoever He commandeth them Upon the face of the habitable world:
- 13Whether it be for correction, or for His earth, Or for mercy, that He cause it to come.
- 14Hearken unto this, O Job; Stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God.
- 15Dost thou know how God enjoineth them, And causeth the lightning of His cloud to shine?
- 16Dost thou know the balancings of the clouds, The wondrous works of Him who is perfect in knowledge?
- 17Thou whose garments are warm, When the earth is still by reason of the south wind;
- 18Canst thou with Him spread out the sky, Which is strong as a molten mirror?
- 19Teach us what we shall say unto Him; For we cannot order our speech by reason of darkness.
- 20Shall it be told Him that I would speak? Or should a man wish that he were swallowed up?
- 21And now men see not the light which is bright in the skies; But the wind passeth, and cleanseth them.
- 22Out of the north cometh golden splendour, About God is terrible majesty.
- 23The Almighty, whom we cannot find out, is excellent in power, Yet to judgment and plenteous justice He doeth no violence.
- 24Men do therefore fear Him; He regardeth not any that are wise of heart.

Job 38

The LORD Challenges Job

- 1 Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said:
- 2 Who is this that darkeneth counsel By words without knowledge?
- 3 Gird up now thy loins like a man; For I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto Me.
- 4 Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? Declare, if thou hast the understanding.
- 5 Who determined the measures thereof, if thou knowest? Or who stretched the line upon it?
- 6 Whereupon were the foundations thereof fastened? Or who laid the corner-stone thereof,
- 7 When the morning stars sang together, And all the sons of God shouted for joy?
- 8 Or who shut up the sea with doors, When it broke forth, and issued out of the womb;
- 9 When I made the cloud the garment thereof, And thick darkness a swaddlingband for it,
- 10 And prescribed for it My decree, And set bars and doors,
- 11 And said: 'Thus far shalt thou come, but no further; And here shall thy proud waves be stayed?'
- 12 Hast thou commanded the morning since thy days began, And caused the dayspring to know its place;
- 13 That it might take hold of the ends of the earth, And the wicked be shaken out of it?
- 14 It is changed as clay under the seal; And they stand as a garment.
- 15 But from the wicked their light is withholden, And the high arm is broken.
- 16 Hast thou entered into the springs of the sea? Or hast thou walked in the recesses of the deep?
- 17 Have the gates of death been revealed unto thee? Or hast thou seen the gates of the shadow of death?
- 18 Hast thou surveyed unto the breadths of the earth? Declare, if thou knowest it all.
- 19 Where is the way to the dwelling of light, And as for darkness, where is the place thereof;
- 20 That thou shouldest take it to the bound thereof, And that thou shouldest know the paths to the house thereof?
- 21 Thou knowest it, for thou wast then born, And the number of thy days is great!
- 22 Hast thou entered the treasuries of the snow, Or hast thou seen the treasuries of the hail,
- 23 Which I have reserved against the time of trouble, Against the day of battle and war?

24 By what way is the light parted, Or the east wind scattered upon the earth?
25 Who hath cleft a channel for the waterflood, Or a way for the lightning of the thunder;
26 To cause it to rain on a land where no man is, On the wilderness, wherein there is no man;
27 To satisfy the desolate and waste ground, And to cause the bud of the tender herb to spring forth?
28 Hath the rain a father? Or who hath begotten the drops of dew?
29 Out of whose womb came the ice? And the hoar-frost of heaven, who hath gendered it?
30 The waters are congealed like stone, And the face of the deep is frozen.
31 Canst thou bind the chains of the Pleiades, Or loose the bands of Orion?
32 Canst thou lead forth the Mazzaroth in their season? Or canst thou guide the Bear with her sons?
33 Knowest thou the ordinances of the heavens? Canst thou establish the dominion thereof in the earth?
34 Canst thou lift up thy voice to the clouds, That abundance of waters may cover thee?
35 Canst thou send forth lightnings, that they may go, And say unto thee: 'Here we are'?
36 Who hath put wisdom in the inward parts? Or who hath given understanding to the mind?
37 Who can number the clouds by wisdom? Or who can pour out the bottles of heaven,
38 When the dust runneth into a mass, And the clods cleave fast together?
39 Wilt thou hunt the prey for the lioness? Or satisfy the appetite of the young lions,
40 When they couch in their dens, And abide in the covert to lie in wait?
41 Who provideth for the raven his prey, When his young ones cry unto God, and wander for lack of food?

The LORD Speaks of His Creation

1 Knowest thou the time when the wild goats of the rock bring forth? Or canst thou mark when the hinds do calve?
2 Canst thou number the months that they fulfil? Or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?
3 They bow themselves, they bring forth their young, They cast out their fruit.

- 4 Their young ones wax strong, they grow up in the open field; They go forth, and return not again.
- 5 Who hath sent out the wild ass free? Or who hath loosed the bands of the wild ass?
- 6 Whose house I have made the wilderness, And the salt land his dwelling-place.
- 7 He scorneth the tumult of the city, Neither heareth he the shoutings of the driver.
- 8 The range of the mountains is his pasture, And he searcheth after every green thing.
- 9 Will the wild-ox be willing to serve thee? Or will he abide by thy crib?
- 10 Canst thou bind the wild-ox with his band in the furrow? Or will he harrow the valleys after thee?
- 11 Wilt thou trust him, because his strength is great? Or wilt thou leave thy labour to him?
- 12 Wilt thou rely on him, that he will bring home thy seed, And gather the corn of thy threshing-floor?
- 13 The wing of the ostrich beateth joyously; But are her pinions and feathers the kindly stork's?
- 14 For she leaveth her eggs on the earth, And warmeth them in dust,
- 15 And forgetteth that the foot may crush them, Or that the wild beast may trample them.
- 16 She is hardened against her young ones, as if they were not hers; Though her labour be in vain, she is without fear;
- 17 Because God hath deprived her of wisdom, Neither hath He imparted to her understanding.
- 18 When the time cometh, she raiseth her wings on high, And scorneth the horse and his rider.
- 19 Hast thou given the horse his strength? Hast thou clothed his neck with fierceness?
- 20 Hast thou made him to leap as a locust? The glory of his snorting is terrible.
- 21 He paweth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his strength; He goeth out to meet the clash of arms.
- 22 He mocketh at fear, and is not affrighted; Neither turneth he back from the sword.
- 23 The quiver rattleth upon him, The glittering spear and the javelin.
- 24 He swalloweth the ground with storm and rage; Neither believeth he that it is the voice of the horn.
- 25 As oft as he heareth the horn he saith: 'Ha, ha!' And he smelleth the battle afar off, The thunder of the captains, and the shouting.
- 26 Doth the hawk soar by thy wisdom, And stretch her wings toward the south?
- 27 Doth the vulture mount up at thy command, And make her nest on high?

28She dwelleth and abideth on the rock, Upon the crag of the rock, and the stronghold.

29From thence she spieth out the prey; Her eyes behold it afar off.

30Her young ones also suck up blood; And where the slain are, there is she.

Job humbles himself before the LORD

1Moreover the LORD answered Job, and said:

2Shall he that reproveth contend with the Almighty? He that argueth with God, let him answer it.

3Then Job answered the LORD, and said:

4Behold, I am of small account; what shall I answer Thee? I lay my hand upon my mouth.

5Once have I spoken, but I will not answer again; Yea, twice, but I will proceed no further.

The LORD challenges Job again

6Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said:

7Gird up thy loins now like a man; I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto Me.

8Wilt thou even make void My judgment? Wilt thou condemn Me, that thou mayest be justified?

9Or hast thou an arm like God? And canst thou thunder with a voice like Him?

10Deck thyself now with majesty and excellency, And array thyself with glory and beauty.

11Cast abroad the rage of thy wrath; And look upon every one that is proud, and abase him.

12Look on every one that is proud, and bring him low; And tread down the wicked in their place.

13Hide them in the dust together; Bind their faces in the hidden place.

14Then will I also confess unto thee That thine own right hand can save thee.

15Behold now behemoth, which I made with thee; He eateth grass as an ox.

16Lo now, his strength is in his loins, And his force is in the stays of his body.

17He straineth his tail like a cedar; The sinews of his thighs are knit together.

18His bones are as pipes of brass; His gristles are like bars of iron.

19He is the beginning of the ways of God; He only that made him can make His sword to approach unto him.

20Surely the mountains bring him forth food, And all the beasts of the field play there.

21He lieth under the lotus-trees, In the covert of the reed, and fens.

22The lotus-trees cover him with their shadow; The willows of the brook compass him about.

23Behold, if a river overflow, he trembleth not; He is confident, though the Jordan rush forth to his mouth.

24Shall any take him by his eyes, Or pierce through his nose with a snare?

The LORD's Power Shown in Leviathan

1Canst thou draw out leviathan with a fish-hook? Or press down his tongue with a cord?

2Canst thou put a ring into his nose? Or bore his jaw through with a hook?

3Will he make many supplications unto thee? Or will he speak soft words unto thee?

4Will he make a covenant with thee, That thou shouldest take him for a servant for ever?

5Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? Or wilt thou bind him for thy maidens?

6Will the bands of fishermen make a banquet of him? Will they part him among the merchants?

7Canst thou fill his skin with barbed irons? Or his head with fish-spears?

8Lay thy hand upon him; Think upon the battle, thou wilt do so no more.

9Behold, the hope of him is in vain; Shall not one be cast down even at the sight of him?

10None is so fierce that dare stir him up; Who then is able to stand before Me?

11Who hath given Me anything beforehand, that I should repay him? Whatsoever is under the whole heaven is Mine.

12Would I keep silence concerning his boastings, Or his proud talk, or his fair array of words?

13Who can uncover the face of his garment? Who shall come within his double bridle?

14Who can open the doors of his face? Round about his teeth is terror.

- 15 His scales are his pride, Shut up together as with a close seal.
- 16 One is so near to another, That no air can come between them.
- 17 They are joined one to another; They stick together, that they cannot be sundered.
- 18 His sneezings flash forth light, And his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.
- 19 Out of his mouth go burning torches, And sparks of fire leap forth.
- 20 Out of his nostrils goeth smoke, As out of a seething pot and burning rushes.
- 21 His breath kindleth coals, And a flame goeth out of his mouth.
- 22 In his neck abideth strength, And dismay danceth before him.
- 23 The flakes of his flesh are joined together; They are firm upon him; they cannot be moved.
- 24 His heart is as firm as a stone; Yea, firm as the nether millstone.
- 25 When he raiseth himself up, the mighty are afraid; By reason of despair they are beside themselves.
- 26 If one lay at him with the sword, it will not hold; Nor the spear, the dart, nor the pointed shaft.
- 27 He esteemeth iron as straw, And brass as rotten wood.
- 28 The arrow cannot make him flee; Slingstones are turned with him into stubble.
- 29 Clubs are accounted as stubble; He laugheth at the rattling of the javelin.
- 30 Sharpest potsherds are under him; He spreadeth a threshing-sledge upon the mire.
- 31 He maketh the deep to boil like a pot; He maketh the sea like a seething mixture.
- 32 He maketh a path to shine after him; One would think the deep to be hoary.
- 33 Upon earth there is not his like Who is made to be fearless.
- 34 He looketh at all high things; He is king over all the proud beasts.

Job Submits Himself to the LORD

- 1 Then Job answered the LORD, and said:
- 2 I know that Thou canst do every thing, And that no purpose can be withholden from Thee.

3Who is this that hideth counsel without knowledge? Therefore have I uttered that which I understood not, Things too wonderful for me, which I knew not.

4Hear, I beseech Thee, and I will speak; I will demand of Thee, and declare Thou unto me.

5I had heard of Thee by the hearing of the ear; But now mine eye seeth Thee;

6Wherefore I abhor my words, and repent, Seeing I am dust and ashes.

The LORD Rebukes Job's Friends

7And it was so, that after the LORD had spoken these words unto Job, the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite: 'My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends; for ye have not spoken of Me the thing that is right, as My servant Job hath. 8Now therefore, take unto you seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to My servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt-offering; and My servant Job shall pray for you; for him will I accept, that I do not unto you aught unseemly; for ye have not spoken of Me the thing that is right, as my servant Job hath.' 9So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the LORD commanded them; and the LORD accepted Job.

The LORD Blesses Job

10And the LORD changed the fortune of Job, when he prayed for his friends; and the LORD gave Job twice as much as he had before. 11Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house; and they bemoaned him, and comforted him concerning all the evil that the LORD had brought upon him; every man also gave him a piece of money, and every one a ring of gold. 12So the LORD blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning; and he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she-asses. 13He had also seven sons and three daughters. 14And he called the name of the first, Jemimah; and the name of the second, Keziah; and the name of the third, Keren-happuch. 15And in all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Job; and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren. 16And after this Job lived a hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, even four generations. 17So Job died, being old and full of days.

BOOK I Psalms 1–41

The Two Paths

(Matthew 5:3–12; Luke 6:20–23)

1HAPPY IS the man that hath not walked in the counsel of the wicked, Nor stood in the way of sinners, Nor sat in the seat of the scornful.

2But his delight is in the law of the LORD; And in His law doth he meditate day and night.

3And he shall be like a tree planted by streams of water, That bringeth forth its fruit in its season, And whose leaf doth not wither; And in whatsoever he doeth he shall prosper.

4Not so the wicked; But they are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.

5Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgment, Nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

6For the LORD regardeth the way of the righteous; But the way of the wicked shall perish.

The Triumphant Messiah

(Acts 4:23–31)

1Why are the nations in an uproar? And why do the peoples mutter in vain?

2The kings of the earth stand up, And the rulers take counsel together, Against the LORD, and against His anointed:

3Let us break their bands asunder, And cast away their cords from us.'

4He that sitteth in heaven laugheth, The Lord hath them in derision.

5Then will He speak unto them in His wrath, And affright them in His sore displeasure:

6Truly it is I that have established My king Upon Zion, My holy mountain.'

7I will tell of the decree: The LORD said unto me: 'Thou art My son, This day have I begotten thee.

8Ask of Me, and I will give the nations for thine inheritance, And the ends of the earth for thy possession.

9Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; Thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.'

10Now therefore, O ye kings, be wise; Be admonished, ye judges of the earth.

11Serve the LORD with fear, And rejoice with trembling.

12Do homage in purity, lest He be angry, and ye perish in the way, When suddenly His wrath is kindled. Happy are all they that take refuge in Him.

Psalm 3

Deliver Me, O LORD!

(2 Samuel 15:13–29)

- 1A Psalm of David, when he fled from Absalom his son. LORD, how many are mine adversaries become! Many are they that rise up against me.
- 2Many there are that say of my soul: 'There is no salvation for him in God.' Selah
- 3But thou, O LORD, art a shield about me; My glory, and the lifter up of my head.
- 4With my voice I call unto the LORD, And He answereth me out of His holy mountain. Selah
- 5I lay me down, and I sleep; I awake, for the LORD sustaineth me.
- 6I am not afraid of ten thousands of people, That have set themselves against me round about.
- 7Arise, O LORD; save me, O my God; For Thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheek, Thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.
- 8Salvation belongeth unto the LORD; Thy blessing be upon Thy people. Selah

Psalm 4

Answer Me When I Call!

- 1For the Leader; with string-music. A Psalm of David. Answer me when I call, O God of my righteousness, Thou who didst set me free when I was in distress; Be gracious unto me, and hear my prayer.
- 2O ye sons of men, how long shall my glory be put to shame, In that ye love vanity, and seek after falsehood? Selah
- 3But know that the LORD hath set apart the godly man as His own; The LORD will hear when I call unto Him.
- 4Tremble, and sin not; Commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still. Selah
- 5Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, And put your trust in the LORD.
- 6Many there are that say: 'Oh that we could see some good!' LORD, lift Thou up the light of Thy countenance upon us.
- 7Thou hast put gladness in my heart, More than when their corn and their wine increase.
- 8In peace will I both lay me down and sleep; For Thou, LORD, makest me dwell alone in safety.

Give Ear to My Words

1For the Leader; upon the Nehiloth. A Psalm of David. Give ear to my words, O LORD, consider my meditation.

2Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God; For unto Thee do I pray.

3O LORD, in the morning shalt Thou hear my voice; In the morning will I order my prayer unto Thee, and will look forward.

4For Thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness; Evil shall not sojourn with Thee.

5The boasters shall not stand in Thy sight; Thou hatest all workers of iniquity.

6Thou destroyest them that speak falsehood; The LORD abhorreth the man of blood and of deceit.

7But as for me, in the abundance of Thy lovingkindness will I come into Thy house; I will bow down toward Thy holy temple in the fear of Thee.

8O LORD, lead me in Thy righteousness because of them that lie in wait for me; Make Thy way straight before my face.

9For there is no sincerity in their mouth; Their inward part is a yawning gulf, Their throat is an open sepulchre; They make smooth their tongue.

10Hold them guilty, O God, Let them fall by their own counsels; Cast them down in the multitude of their transgressions; For they have rebelled against Thee.

11So shall all those that take refuge in Thee rejoice, They shall ever shout for joy, And Thou shalt shelter them; Let them also that love Thy name exult in Thee.

12For Thou dost bless the righteous; O LORD, Thou dost encompass him with favour as with a shield.

Do Not Rebuke Me in Your Anger

(Psalm 38:1-22)

1For the Leader; with string-music; on the Sheminith. A Psalm of David. O LORD, rebuke me not in Thine anger, Neither chasten me in Thy wrath.

- 2 Be gracious unto me, O LORD, for I languish away; Heal me, O LORD, for my bones are affrighted.
- 3 My soul also is sore affrighted; And Thou, O LORD, how long?
- 4 Return, O LORD, deliver my soul; Save me for Thy mercy's sake.
- 5 For in death there is no remembrance of Thee; In the nether-world who will give Thee thanks?
- 6 I am weary with my groaning; Every night make I my bed to swim; I melt away my couch with my tears.
- 7 Mine eye is dimmed because of vexation; It waxeth old because of all mine adversaries.
- 8 Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity; For the LORD hath heard the voice of my weeping.
- 9 The LORD hath heard my supplication; The LORD receiveth my prayer.
- 10 All mine enemies shall be ashamed and sore affrighted; They shall turn back, they shall be ashamed suddenly.

Psalm 7

I Take Refuge in You

- 1 Shiggaion of David, which he sang unto the LORD, concerning Cush a Benjamite. O LORD my God, in Thee have I taken refuge; Save me from all them that pursue me, and deliver me;
- 2 Lest he tear my soul like a lion, Rending it in pieces, while there is none to deliver.
- 3 O LORD my God, if I have done this; If there be iniquity in my hands;
- 4 If I have requited him that did evil unto me, Or spoiled mine adversary unto emptiness;
- 5 Let the enemy pursue my soul, and overtake it, And tread my life down to the earth; Yea, let him lay my glory in the dust. Selah
- 6 Arise, O LORD, in Thine anger, Lift up Thyself in indignation against mine adversaries; Yea, awake for me at the judgment which Thou hast commanded.
- 7 And let the congregation of the peoples compass Thee about, And over them return Thou on high.
- 8 O LORD, who ministerest judgment to the peoples, Judge me, O LORD, According to my righteousness, and according to mine integrity that is in me.
- 9 Oh that a full measure of evil might come upon the wicked, And that Thou wouldest establish the righteous; For the righteous God trieth the heart and reins.

10 My shield is with God, Who saveth the upright in heart.

11 God is a righteous judge, Yea, a God that hath indignation every day:

12 If a man turn not, He will whet His sword, He hath bent His bow, and made it ready;

13 He hath also prepared for him the weapons of death, Yea, His arrows which He made sharp.

14 Behold, he travaileth with iniquity; Yea, he conceiveth mischief, and bringeth forth falsehood.

15 He hath digged a pit, and hollowed it, And is fallen into the ditch which he made.

16 His mischief shall return upon his own head, And his violence shall come down upon his own pate.

17 I will give thanks unto the LORD according to His righteousness; And will sing praise to the name of the LORD Most High.

How Majestic Is Your Name!

1 For the Leader; upon the Gittith. A Psalm of David. O LORD, our Lord, How glorious is Thy name in all the earth! Whose majesty is rehearsed above the heavens.

2 Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast Thou founded strength, Because of Thine adversaries; That Thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.

3 When I behold Thy heavens, the work of Thy fingers, The moon and the stars, which Thou hast established;

4 What is man, that Thou art mindful of him? And the son of man, that Thou thinkest of him?

5 Yet Thou hast made him but little lower than the angels, And hast crowned him with glory and honour.

6 Thou hast made him to have dominion over the works of Thy hands; Thou hast put all things under His feet:

7 Sheep and oxen, all of them, Yea, and the beasts of the field;

8 The fowl of the air, and the fish of the sea; Whatsoever passeth through the paths of the seas.

9 O LORD, our Lord, How glorious is Thy name in all the earth!

Psalm 9

I Will Give Thanks to the LORD

1For the Leader; upon Muthlabben. A Psalm of David. I will give thanks unto the LORD with my whole heart; I will tell of all Thy marvellous works.

2I will be glad and exult in Thee; I will sing praise to Thy name, O Most High:

3When mine enemies are turned back, They stumble and perish at Thy presence;

4For Thou hast maintained my right and my cause; Thou sittest upon the throne as the righteous Judge.

5Thou hast rebuked the nations, Thou hast destroyed the wicked, Thou hast blotted out their name for ever and ever.

6O thou enemy, the waste places are come to an end for ever; And the cities which thou didst uproot, Their very memorial is perished.

7But the LORD is enthroned for ever; He hath established His throne for judgment.

8And He will judge the world in righteousness, He will minister judgment to the peoples with equity.

9The LORD also will be a high tower for the oppressed, A high tower in times of trouble;

10And they that know Thy name will put their trust in Thee; For thou, LORD, hast not forsaken them that seek Thee.

11Sing praises to the LORD, who dwelleth in Zion; Declare among the peoples His doings.

12For He that avengeth blood hath remembered them; He hath not forgotten the cry of the humble.

13Be gracious unto me, O LORD, Behold mine affliction at the hands of them that hate me; Thou that liftest me up from the gates of death;

14That I may tell of all Thy praise in the gates of the daughter of Zion, That I may rejoice in Thy salvation.

15The nations are sunk down in the pit that they made; In the net which they hid is their own foot taken.

16The LORD hath made Himself known, He hath executed judgment, The wicked is snared in the work of his own hands. Higgaion. Selah 17The wicked shall return to the nether-world, Even all the nations that forget God.

18For the needy shall not always be forgotten, Nor the expectation of the poor perish for ever.

19Arise, O LORD, let not man prevail; Let the nations be judged in Thy sight.

20Set terror over them, O LORD; Let the nations know they are but men. Selah

The Perils of the Pilgrim

1Why standest Thou afar off, O LORD? Why hidest Thou Thyself in times of trouble?

2Through the pride of the wicked the poor is hotly pursued, They are taken in the devices that they have imagined.

3For the wicked boasteth of his heart's desire, And the covetous vaunteth himself, though he contemn the LORD.

4The wicked, in the pride of his countenance [, saith]: 'He will not require'; All his thoughts are: 'There is no God.'

5His ways prosper at all times; Thy judgments are far above out of his sight; As for all his adversaries, he puffeth at them.

6He saith in his heart: 'I shall not be moved, I who to all generations shall not be in adversity.'

7His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and oppression; Under his tongue is mischief and iniquity.

8He sitteth in the lurking-places of the villages; In secret places doth he slay the innocent; His eyes are on the watch for the helpless.

9He lieth in wait in a secret place as a lion in his lair, He lieth in wait to catch the poor; He doth catch the poor, when he draweth him up in his net.

10He croucheth, he boweth down, And the helpless fall into his mighty claws.

11He hath said in his heart: 'God hath forgotten; He hideth His face; He will never see.'

12Arise, O LORD; O God, lift up Thy hand; Forget not the humble.

13Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God, And say in his heart: 'Thou wilt not require'?

14Thou hast seen; for Thou beholdest trouble and vexation, to requite them with Thy hand; Unto Thee the helpless committeth himself; Thou hast been the helper of the fatherless.

15Break Thou the arm of the wicked; And as for the evil man, search out his wickedness, till none be found.

16The LORD is King for ever and ever; The nations are perished out of His land.

17LORD, Thou hast heard the desire of the humble: Thou wilt direct their heart, Thou wilt cause Thine ear to attend;

18To right the fatherless and the oppressed, That man who is of the earth may be terrible no more.

In the LORD I Take Refuge

(Habakkuk 1:12–17)

1For the Leader. [A Psalm] of David. In the LORD have I taken refuge; How say ye to my soul: 'Flee thou! to your mountain, ye birds?'

2For, lo, the wicked bend the bow, They have made ready their arrow upon the string, That they may shoot in darkness at the upright in heart.

3When the foundations are destroyed, What hath the righteous wrought?

4The LORD is in His holy temple, The LORD, His throne is in heaven; His eyes behold, His eyelids try, the children of men.

5The LORD trieth the righteous; But the wicked and him that loveth violence His soul hateth.

6Upon the wicked He will cause to rain coals; Fire and brimstone and burning wind shall be the portion of their cup.

7For the LORD is righteous, He loveth righteousness; The upright shall behold His face.

The Godly Are No More

1For the Leader; on the Sheminith. A Psalm of David. Help, LORD; for the godly man ceaseth; For the faithful fail from among the children of men.

2They speak falsehood every one with his neighbour; With flattering lip, and with a double heart, do they speak.

3May the LORD cut off all flattering lips, The tongue that speaketh proud things!

4Who have said: 'Our tongue will we make mighty; Our lips are with us: who is lord over us?'

⁵For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, Now will I arise', saith the LORD; 'I will set him in safety at whom they puff.'

⁶The words of the LORD are pure words, As silver tried in a crucible on the earth, refined seven times.

⁷Thou wilt keep them, O LORD; Thou wilt preserve us from this generation for ever.

¹For the Leader. [A Psalm] of David. The fool hath said in his heart: 'There is no God'; They have dealt corruptly, they have done abominably; There is none that doeth good.

²The LORD looked forth from heaven upon the children of men, To see if there were any man of understanding, that did seek after God.

³They are all corrupt, they are together become impure; There is none that doeth good, no, not one.

⁴Shall not all the workers of iniquity know it, Who eat up My people as they eat bread, And call not upon the LORD?'

⁵There are they in great fear; For God is with the righteous generation.

²I have said unto the LORD: 'Thou art my Lord; I have no good but in Thee';

³As for the holy that are in the earth, They are the excellent in whom is all my delight.

⁴Let the idols of them be multiplied that make suit unto another; Their drink-offerings of blood will I not offer, Nor take their names upon my lips.

⁵O LORD, the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup, Thou maintainest my lot.

⁶The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; Yea, I have a goodly heritage.

- 7I will bless the LORD, who hath given me counsel; Yea, in the night seasons my reins instruct me.
- 8I have set the LORD always before me; Surely He is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.
- 9Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoiceth; my flesh also dwelleth in safety;
- 10For Thou wilt not abandon my soul to the nether-world; Neither wilt Thou suffer Thy godly one to see the pit.

The LORD Is My Rock

(2 Samuel 22:1–51)

1For the Leader. [A Psalm] of David the servant of the LORD, who spoke unto the LORD the words of this song in the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul; And he said: I love thee, O LORD, my strength.

2The LORD is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; My God, my rock, in Him I take refuge; My shield, and my horn of salvation, my high tower.

3Praised, I cry, is the LORD, And I am saved from mine enemies.

4The cords of Death compassed me, And the floods of Belial assailed me.

5The cords of Sheol surrounded me; The snares of Death confronted me.

6In my distress I called upon the LORD, And cried unto my God; Out of His temple He heard my voice, And my cry came before Him unto His ears.

7Then the earth did shake and quake, The foundations also of the mountains did tremble; They were shaken, because He was wrath.

8Smoke arose up in His nostrils, And fire out of His mouth did devour; Coals flamed forth from Him.

9He bowed the heavens also, and came down; And thick darkness was under His feet.

10And He rode upon a cherub, and did fly; Yea, He did swoop down upon the wings of the wind.

11He made darkness His hiding-place, His pavilion round about Him; Darkness of waters, thick clouds of the skies.

12At the brightness before Him, there passed through His thick clouds Hailstones and coals of fire.

13The LORD also thundered in the heavens, And the Most High gave forth His voice; Hailstones and coals of fire.

14And He sent out His arrows, and scattered them; And He shot forth lightnings, and discomfited them.

15And the channels of waters appeared, And the foundations of the world were laid bare, At Thy rebuke, O LORD, At the blast of the breath of Thy nostrils.

16He sent from on high, He took me; He drew me out of many waters.

17He delivered me from mine enemy most strong, And from them that hated me, for they were too mighty for me.

18They confronted me in the day of my calamity; But the LORD was a stay unto me.

19He brought me forth also into a large place; He delivered me, because He delighted in me.

20The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness; According to the cleanness of my hands hath He recompensed me.

21For I have kept the ways of the LORD, And have not wickedly departed from my God.

22For all His ordinances were before me, And I put not away His statutes from me.

23And I was single-hearted with Him, And I kept myself from mine iniquity.

24Therefore hath the LORD recompensed me according to my righteousness, According to the cleanness of my hands in His eyes.

25With the merciful Thou dost show Thyself merciful, With the upright man Thou dost show Thyself upright;

26With the pure Thou dost show Thyself pure; And with the crooked Thou dost show Thyself subtle.

27For Thou dost save the afflicted people; But the haughty eyes Thou dost humble.

28For Thou dost light my lamp; The LORD my God doth lighten my darkness.

29For by Thee I run upon a troop; And by my God do I scale a wall.

30As for God, His way is perfect; The word of the LORD is tried; He is a shield unto all them that take refuge in Him.

31For who is God, save the LORD? And who is a Rock, except our God?

32The God that girdeth me with strength, And maketh my way straight;

33Who maketh my feet like hinds', And setteth me upon my high places;

34Who traineth my hands for war, So that mine arms do bend a bow of brass.

35Thou hast also given me Thy shield of salvation, And Thy right hand hath holden me up; And Thy condescension hath made me great.

36Thou hast enlarged my steps under me, And my feet have not slipped.

37I have pursued mine enemies, and overtaken them; Neither did I turn back till they were consumed.

38I have smitten them through, so that they are not able to rise; They are fallen under my feet.

39For Thou hast girded me with strength unto the battle; Thou hast subdued under me those that rose up against me.

40Thou hast also made mine enemies turn their backs unto me, And I did cut off them that hate me.

41They cried, but there was none to save; Even unto the LORD, but He answered them not.

42Then did I beat them small as the dust before the wind; I did cast them out as the mire of the streets.

43Thou hast delivered me from the contentions of the people; Thou hast made me the head of the nations; A people whom I have not known serve me.

44As soon as they hear of me, they obey me; The sons of the stranger dwindle away before me.

45The sons of the stranger fade away, And come trembling out of their close places.

46The LORD liveth, and blessed be my Rock; And exalted be the God of my salvation;

47Even the God that executeth vengeance for me, And subdueth peoples under me.

48He delivereth me from mine enemies; Yea, Thou liftest me up above them that rise up against me; Thou deliverest me from the violent man.

49Therefore I will give thanks unto Thee, O LORD, among the nations, And will sing praises unto Thy name.

50Great salvation giveth He to His king; And showeth mercy to His anointed, To David and to his seed, for evermore.

The Heavens Declare the Glory of God

1For the Leader. A Psalm of David. The heavens declare the glory of God, And the firmament showeth His handiwork;

2Day unto day uttereth speech, And night unto night revealeth knowledge;

3There is no speech, there are no words, Neither is their voice heard.

4Their line is gone out through all the earth, And their words to the end of the world. In them hath He set a tent for the sun, 5Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, And rejoiceth as a strong man to run his course.

6His going forth is from the end of the heaven, And his circuit unto the ends of it; And there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

7The law of the LORD is perfect, restoring the soul; The testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple.

8The precepts of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart; The commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes.

9The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring for ever; The ordinances of the LORD are true, they are righteous altogether;

10More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold; Sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.

11Moreover by them is Thy servant warned; In keeping of them there is great reward.

12Who can discern his errors? Clear Thou me from hidden faults.

13Keep back Thy servant also from presumptuous sins, That they may not have dominion over me; then shall I be faultless, And I shall be clear from great transgression.

14Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable before Thee, O LORD, my Rock, and my Redeemer.

3Receive the memorial of all thy meal-offerings, And accept the fat of thy burnt-sacrifice; Selah 4Grant thee according to thine own heart, And fulfil all thy counsel.

5We will shout for joy in thy victory, And in the name of our God we will set up our standards; The LORD fulfil all thy petitions.

6Now know I that the LORD saveth His anointed; He will answer him from His holy heaven With the mighty acts of His saving right hand.

7Some trust in chariots, and some in horses; But we will make mention of the name of the LORD our God.

8They are bowed down and fallen; But we are risen, and stand upright.

9Save, LORD; Let the King answer us in the day that we call.

After the Battle

(Proverbs 21:1–31)

1For the Leader. A Psalm of David. O LORD, in Thy strength the king rejoiceth; And in Thy salvation how greatly doth he exult!

2Thou hast given him his heart's desire, And the request of his lips Thou hast not withholden. Selah 3For Thou meetest him with choicest blessings; Thou settest a crown of fine gold on his head.

4He asked life of Thee, Thou gavest it him; Even length of days for ever and ever.

5His glory is great through Thy salvation; Honour and majesty dost Thou lay upon him.

6For Thou makest him most blessed for ever; Thou makest him glad with joy in Thy presence.

7For the king trusteth in the LORD, Yea, in the mercy of the Most High; he shall not be moved.

8Thy hand shall be equal to all thine enemies; Thy right hand shall overtake those that hate thee.

9Thou shalt make them as a fiery furnace in the time of thine anger; The LORD shall swallow them up in His wrath, And the fire shall devour them.

10Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, And their seed from among the children of men.

11For they intended evil against thee, They imagined a device, wherewith they shall not prevail.

12For thou shalt make them turn their back, Thou shalt make ready with thy bowstrings against the face of them.

13Be Thou exalted, O LORD, in Thy strength; So will we sing and praise Thy power.

The Psalm of the Cross

(Matthew 27:32–56; Mark 15:21–41; Luke 23:26–43; John 19:16–30)

1For the Leader; upon Aijeleth ha-Shahar. A Psalm of David. My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me, And art far from my help at the words of my cry?

2O my God, I call by day, but Thou answerest not; And at night, and there is no surcease for me.

3Yet Thou art holy, O Thou that art enthroned upon the praises of Israel.

4In Thee did our fathers trust; They trusted, and Thou didst deliver them.

5Unto Thee they cried, and escaped; In Thee did they trust, and were not ashamed.

6But I am a worm, and no man; A reproach of men, and despised of the people.

7All they that see me laugh me to scorn; They shoot out the lip, they shake the head:

8Let him commit himself unto the LORD! let Him rescue him; Let Him deliver him, seeing He delighteth in him.'

9For Thou art He that took me out of the womb; Thou madest me trust when I was upon my mother's breasts.

10Upon Thee I have been cast from my birth; Thou art my God from my mother's womb.

11Be not far from me; for trouble is near; For there is none to help.

12Many bulls have encompassed me; Strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round.

13They open wide their mouth against me, As a ravening and a roaring lion.

14I am poured out like water, And all my bones are out of joint; My heart is become like wax; It is melted in mine inmost parts.

15My strength is dried up like a potsherd; And my tongue cleaveth to my throat; And Thou layest me in the dust of death.

16For dogs have encompassed me; A company of evil-doers have inclosed me; Like a lion, they are at my hands and my feet.

17I may count all my bones; They look and gloat over me.

18They part my garments among them, And for my vesture do they cast lots.

19But Thou, O LORD, be not far off; O Thou my strength, hasten to help me.

20Deliver my soul from the sword; Mine only one from the power of the dog.

21Save me from the lion's mouth; Yea, from the horns of the wild-oxen do Thou answer me.

- 22I will declare Thy name unto my brethren; In the midst of the congregation will I praise Thee.
- 23Ye that fear the LORD, praise Him; All ye the seed of Jacob, glorify Him; And stand in awe of Him, all ye the seed of Israel.
- 24For He hath not despised nor abhorred the lowliness of the poor; Neither hath He hid His face from him; But when he cried unto Him, He heard.'
- 25From Thee cometh my praise in the great congregation; I will pay my vows before them that fear Him.
- 26Let the humble eat and be satisfied; Let them praise the LORD that seek after Him; May your heart be quickened for ever!
- 27All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn unto the LORD; And all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before Thee.
- 28For the kingdom is the LORD'S; And He is the ruler over the nations.
- 29All the fat ones of the earth shall eat and worship; All they that go down to the dust shall kneel before Him, Even he that cannot keep his soul alive.
- 30A seed shall serve him; It shall be told of the Lord unto the next generation.
- 31They shall come and shall declare His righteousness Unto a people that shall be born, that He hath done it.

- 2He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; He leadeth me beside the still waters.
- 3He restoreth my soul; He guideth me in straight paths for His name's sake.
- 4Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me.
- 5Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; Thou hast anointed my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

The Earth Is the LORD's

1A Psalm of David. The earth is the LORD'S, and the fulness thereof; The world, and they that dwell therein.

2For He hath founded it upon the seas, And established it upon the floods.

3Who shall ascend into the mountain of the LORD? And who shall stand in His holy place?

4He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; Who hath not taken My name in vain, And hath not sworn deceitfully.

5He shall receive a blessing from the LORD, And righteousness from the God of his salvation.

6Such is the generation of them that seek after Him, That seek Thy face, even Jacob. Selah

To You I Lift Up My Soul

1[A Psalm] of David. Unto Thee, O LORD, do I lift up my soul.

ב

2O my God, in Thee have I trusted, let me not be ashamed; Let not mine enemies triumph over me.

א

3Yea, none that wait for Thee shall be ashamed; They shall be ashamed that deal treacherously without cause.

ד

4Show me Thy ways, O LORD; teach me Thy paths.

הו

5Guide me in Thy truth, and teach me; For Thou art the God of my salvation; For Thee do I wait all the day.

ז

6Remember, O LORD, Thy compassions and Thy mercies; For they have been from of old.

ח

7Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions; According to Thy mercy remember Thou me, For Thy goodness' sake, O LORD.

ט

8Good and upright is the LORD; Therefore doth He instruct sinners in the way.

י

9He guideth The humble in justice; And He teacheth the humble His way.

כ

10All the paths of the LORD are mercy and truth Unto such as keep His covenant and His testimonies.

ל

11For Thy name's sake, O LORD, Pardon mine iniquity, for it is great.

מ

12What man is he that feareth the LORD? Him will He instruct in the way that He should choose.

נ

13His soul shall abide in prosperity; And his seed shall inherit the land.

ס

14The counsel of the LORD is with them that fear Him; And His covenant, to make them know it.

ע

15 Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD; For He will bring forth my feet out of the net.

פ

16 Turn Thee unto me, and be gracious unto me; For I am solitary and afflicted.

צ

17 The troubles of my heart are enlarged; O bring Thou me out of my distresses.

ך

18 See mine affliction and my travail; And forgive all my sins.

19 Consider how many are mine enemies, And the cruel hatred wherewith they hate me.

ש

20 O keep my soul, and deliver me; Let me not be ashamed, for I have taken refuge in Thee.

Vindicate Me, O LORD

1 [A Psalm] of David. Judge me, O LORD, for I have walked in mine integrity, And I have trusted in the LORD without wavering.

2 Examine me, O LORD, and try me; Test my reins and my heart.

3 For Thy mercy is before mine eyes; And I have walked in Thy truth.

4 I have not sat with men of falsehood; Neither will I go in with dissemblers.

5 I hate the gathering of evil doers, And will not sit with the wicked.

6 I will wash my hands in innocency; So will I compass Thine altar, O LORD,

7 That I may make the voice of thanksgiving to be heard, And tell of all Thy wondrous works.

8LORD, I love the habitation of Thy house, And the place where Thy glory dwelleth.

9Gather not my soul with sinners, Nor my life with men of blood;

10In whose hands is craftiness, And their right hand is full of bribes.

11But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity; Redeem me, and be gracious unto me.

12My foot standeth in an even place; In the congregations will I bless the LORD.

The LORD Is My Salvation

1[A Psalm] of David. The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The LORD is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

2When evil-doers came upon me to eat up my flesh, Even mine adversaries and my foes, they stumbled and fell.

3Though a host should encamp against me, My heart shall not fear; Though war should rise up against me, Even then will I be confident.

4One thing have I asked of the LORD, that will I seek after: That I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, To behold the graciousness of the LORD, and to visit early in His temple.

5For He concealeth me in His pavilion in the day of evil; He hideth me in the covert of His tent; He lifteth me up upon a rock.

6And now shall my head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me; And I will offer in His tabernacle sacrifices with trumpet-sound; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the LORD.

7Hear, O LORD, when I call with my voice, And be gracious unto me, and answer me.

8In Thy behalf my heart hath said: 'Seek ye My face'; Thy face, LORD, will I seek.

9Hide not Thy face far from me; Put not Thy servant away in anger; Thou hast been my help; Cast me not off, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.

10For though my father and my mother have forsaken me, The LORD will take me up.

11Teach me Thy way, O LORD; And lead me in an even path, Because of them that lie in wait for me.

12Deliver me not over unto the will of mine adversaries; For false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breathe out violence.

13If I had not believed to look upon the goodness of the LORD In the land of the living!—

14 Wait on the LORD; Be strong, and let thy heart take courage; Yea, wait thou for the LORD.

The LORD Is My Strength

1 [A Psalm] of David. Unto thee, O LORD, do I call; My Rock, be not Thou deaf unto me; Lest, if Thou be silent unto me, I become like them that go down into the pit.

2 Hear the voice of my supplications, when I cry unto Thee, When I lift up my hands toward Thy holy Sanctuary.

3 Draw me not away with the wicked, And with the workers of iniquity; Who speak peace with their neighbours, But evil is in their hearts.

4 Give them according to their deeds, and according to the evil of their endeavours; Give them after the work of their hands; Render to them their desert.

5 Because they give no heed to the works of the LORD, Nor to the operation of His hands; He will break them down and not build them up.

6 Blessed be the LORD, Because He hath heard the voice of my supplications.

7 The LORD is my strength and my shield, In Him hath my heart trusted, And I am helped; Therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth, And with my song will I praise Him.

3 The voice of the LORD is upon the waters; The God of glory thundereth, Even the LORD upon many waters.

4 The voice of the LORD is powerful; The voice of the LORD is full of majesty.

5The voice of the LORD breaketh the cedars; yea, the LORD breaketh in pieces the cedars of Lebanon.

6He maketh them also to skip like a calf; Lebanon and Sirion like a young wild-ox.

7The voice of the LORD heweth out flames of fire.

8The voice of the LORD shaketh the wilderness; The LORD shaketh the wilderness of Kadesh.

9The voice of the LORD maketh the hinds to calve, And strippeth the forests bare; And in His temple all say: 'Glory.'

You Turned My Mourning into Dancing

1A Psalm; a Song at the Dedication of the House; of David. I will extol thee, O LORD, for Thou hast raised me up, And hast not suffered mine enemies to rejoice over me.

2O LORD my God, I cried unto Thee, and Thou didst heal me;

3O LORD, Thou broughtest up my soul from the nether-world; Thou didst kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit.

4Sing praise unto the LORD, O ye His godly ones, And give thanks to His holy name.

5For His anger is but for a moment, His favour is for a life-time; Weeping may tarry for the night, But joy cometh in the morning.

6Now I had said in my security: 'I shall never be moved.'

7Thou hadst established, O LORD, in Thy favour my mountain as a stronghold—Thou didst hide Thy face; I was affrighted.

8Unto Thee, O LORD, did I call, And unto the LORD I made supplication:

9What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit? Shall the dust praise Thee? Shall it declare Thy truth?

10Hear, O LORD, and be gracious unto me; LORD, be Thou my helper.'

11Thou didst turn for me my mourning into dancing; Thou didst loose my sackcloth, and gird me with gladness;

12 So that my glory may sing praise to Thee, and not be silent; O LORD my God, I will give thanks unto Thee for ever.

Into Your Hands I Commit My Spirit

(Luke 23:44–49)

1 For the Leader. A Psalm of David. In thee, O LORD, have I taken refuge; let me never be ashamed; Deliver me in Thy righteousness.

2 Incline Thine ear unto me, deliver me speedily; Be Thou to me a rock of refuge, even a fortress of defence, to save me.

3 For Thou art my rock and my fortress; Therefore for Thy name's sake lead me and guide me.

4 Bring me forth out of the net that they have hidden for me; For Thou art my stronghold.

5 Into Thy hand I commit my spirit; Thou hast redeemed me, O LORD, Thou God of truth.

6 I hate them that regard lying vanities; But I trust in the LORD.

7 I will be glad and rejoice in Thy lovingkindness; For Thou hast seen mine affliction, Thou hast taken cognizance of the troubles of my soul,

8 And Thou hast not given me over into the hand of the enemy; Thou hast set my feet in a broad place.

9 Be gracious unto me, O LORD, for I am in distress; Mine eye wasteth away with vexation, yea, my soul and my body.

10 For my life is spent in sorrow, and my years in sighing; My strength faileth because of mine iniquity, and my bones are wasted away.

11 Because of all mine adversaries I am become a reproach, Yea, unto my neighbours exceedingly, and a dread to mine acquaintance; They that see me without flee from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind; I am like a useless vessel.

13 For I have heard the whispering of many, Terror on every side; While they took counsel together against me, They devised to take away my life.

14 But as for me, I have trusted in Thee, O LORD; I have said: 'Thou art my God.'

15 My times are in Thy hand; Deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

16 Make Thy face to shine upon Thy servant; Save me in Thy lovingkindness.

17O LORD, let me not be ashamed, for I have called upon Thee; Let the wicked be ashamed, let them be put to silence in the nether-world.

18Let the lying lips be dumb, Which speak arrogantly against the righteous, With pride and contempt.

19Oh how abundant is Thy goodness, which Thou hast laid up for them that fear Thee; Which Thou hast wrought for them that take their refuge in Thee, in the sight of the sons of men!

20Thou hidest them in the covert of Thy presence from the plottings of man; Thou concealest them in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.

21Blessed be the LORD; For He hath shown me His wondrous lovingkindness in an entrenched city.

22As for me, I said in my haste: 'I am cut off from before Thine eyes'; Nevertheless Thou heardest the voice of my supplications when I cried unto Thee.

23O love the LORD, all ye His godly ones; The LORD preserveth the faithful, And plentifully repayeth him that acteth haughtily.

24Be strong, and let your heart take courage, All ye that wait for the LORD.

The Joy of Forgiveness

(Romans 4:1–12)

1[A Psalm] of David. Maschil. Happy is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is pardoned.

2Happy is the man unto whom the LORD counteth not iniquity, And in whose spirit there is no guile.

3When I kept silence, my bones wore away Through my groaning all the day long.

4For day and night Thy hand was heavy upon me; My sap was turned as in the drougths of summer. Selah

5I acknowledged my sin unto Thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid; I said: 'I will make confession concerning my transgressions unto the LORD'—And Thou, Thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah 2Give thanks unto the LORD with harp, Sing praises unto Him with the psaltery of ten strings.

3Sing unto Him a new song; Play skilfully amid shouts of joy.

4For the word of the LORD is upright; And all His work is done in faithfulness.

5He loveth righteousness and justice; The earth is full of the lovingkindness of the LORD.

6By the word of the LORD were the heavens made; And all the host of them by the breath of His mouth.

7He gathereth the waters of the sea together as a heap; He layeth up the deeps in storehouses.

8Let all the earth fear the LORD; Let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of Him.

9For He spoke, and it was; He commanded, and it stood.

10The LORD bringeth the counsel of the nations to nought; He maketh the thoughts of the peoples to be of no effect.

11The counsel of the LORD standeth for ever, The thoughts of His heart to all generations.

12Happy is the nation whose God is the LORD; The people whom He hath chosen for His own inheritance.

13The LORD looketh from heaven; He beholdeth all the sons of men;

14From the place of His habitation He looketh intently Upon all the inhabitants of the earth;

15He that fashioneth the hearts of them all, That considereth all their doings.

16A king is not saved by the multitude of a host; A mighty man is not delivered by great strength.

- 17 A horse is a vain thing for safety; Neither doth it afford escape by its great strength.

Contend with My Opponents, O LORD

1[A Psalm] of David. Strive, O LORD, with them that strive with me; Fight against them that fight against me.

2Take hold of shield and buckler, And rise up to my help.

3Draw out also the spear, and the battle-axe, against them that pursue me; Say unto my soul: 'I am Thy salvation.'

4Let them be ashamed and brought to confusion that seek after my soul; Let them be turned back and be abashed that devise my hurt.

5Let them be as chaff before the wind, The angel of the LORD thrusting them.

6Let their way be dark and slippery, The angel of the LORD pursuing them.

7For without cause have they hid for me the pit, even their net, Without cause have they digged for my soul.

8Let destruction come upon him unawares; And let his net that he hath hid catch himself; With destruction let him fall therein.

9And my soul shall be joyful in the LORD; It shall rejoice in His salvation.

10All my bones shall say: 'LORD, who is like unto Thee, Who deliverest the poor from him that is too strong for him, Yea, the poor and the needy from him that spoileth him?'

11Unrighteous witnesses rise up; They ask me of things that I know not.

12They repay me evil for good; Bereavement is come to my soul.

13But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth, I afflicted my soul with fasting; And my prayer, may it return into mine own bosom.

14I went about as though it had been my friend or my brother; I bowed down mournful, as one that mourneth for his mother.

15But when I halt they rejoice, and gather themselves together; The abjects gather themselves together against me, and those whom I know not; They tear me, and cease not;

16With the profanest mockeries of backbiting They gnash at me with their teeth.

17Lord, how long wilt Thou look on? Rescue my soul from their destructions, Mine only one from the lions.

18I will give Thee thanks in the great congregation; I will praise Thee among a numerous people.

19Let not them that are wrongfully mine enemies rejoice over me; Neither let them wink with the eye that hate me without a cause.

20For they speak not peace; But they devise deceitful matters against them that are quiet in the land.

21Yea, they open their mouth wide against me; They say: 'Aha, aha, our eye hath seen it.'

22Thou hast seen, O LORD; keep not silence; O Lord, be not far from me.

23Rouse Thee, and awake to my judgment, Even unto my cause, my God and my Lord.

24Judge me, O LORD my God, according to Thy righteousness; And let them not rejoice over me.

25Let them not say in their heart: 'Aha, we have our desire'; Let them not say: 'We have swallowed him up.'

26Let them be ashamed and abashed together that rejoice at my hurt; Let them be clothed with shame and confusion that magnify themselves against me.

27Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that delight in my righteousness; Yea, let them say continually: 'Magnified be the LORD, Who delighteth in the peace of His servant.'

28And my tongue shall speak of Thy righteousness, And of Thy praise all the day.

The Transgression of the Wicked

1For the Leader. [A Psalm] of David the servant of the LORD. Transgression speaketh to the wicked, methinks—There is no fear of God before his eyes.

- 2For it flattereth him in his eyes, Until his iniquity be found, and he be hated.
- 3The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit; He hath left off to be wise, to do good.
- 4He deviseth iniquity upon his bed; He setteth himself in a way that is not good; He abhorreth not evil.
- 5Thy lovingkindness, O LORD, is in the heavens; Thy faithfulness reacheth unto the skies.
- 6Thy righteousness is like the mighty mountains; Thy judgments are like the great deep; Man and beast Thou preservest, O LORD.
- 7How precious is Thy lovingkindness, O God! And the children of men take refuge in the shadow of Thy wings.
- 8They are abundantly satisfied with the fatness of Thy house; And Thou makest them drink of the river of Thy pleasures.
- 9For with Thee is the fountain of life; In Thy light do we see light.
- 10O continue Thy lovingkindness unto them that know Thee; And Thy righteousness to the upright in heart.

- 4So shalt thou delight thyself in the LORD; And He shall give thee the petitions of thy heart.
- א
- 5Commit thy way unto the LORD; Trust also in Him, and He will bring it to pass.

6And He will make thy righteousness to go forth as the light, And thy right as the noonday.

T

7Resign thyself unto the LORD, and wait patiently for Him; Fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, Because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.

n

8Cease from anger, and forsake wrath; Fret not thyself, it tendeth only to evil-doing.

9For evil-doers shall be cut off; But those that wait for the LORD, they shall inherit the land.

ı

10And yet a little while, and the wicked is no more; Yea, thou shalt look well at his place, and he is not.

11But the humble shall inherit the land, And delight themselves in the abundance of peace.

ı

12The wicked plotteth against the righteous, And gnasheth at him with his teeth.

13The Lord doth laugh at him; For He seeth that his day is coming.

n

14The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow; To cast down the poor and needy, To slay such as are upright in the way;

15Their sword shall enter into their own heart, And their bows shall be broken.

u

16Better is a little that the righteous hath Than the abundance of many wicked.

17For the arms of the wicked shall be broken; But the LORD upholdeth the righteous.

ı

18The LORD knoweth the days of them that are wholehearted; And their inheritance shall be for ever.

19They shall not be ashamed in the time of evil; And in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.

u

20For the wicked shall perish, And the enemies of the LORD shall be as the fat of lambs—They shall pass away in smoke, they shall pass away.

21The wicked borroweth, and payeth not; But the righteous dealeth graciously, and giveth.

22For such as are blessed of Him shall inherit the land; And they that are cursed of Him shall be cut off.

23It is of the LORD that a man's goings are established; And He delighted in his way.

24Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down; For the LORD upholdeth his hand.

25I have been young, and now am old; Yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, Nor his seed begging bread.

26All the day long he dealeth graciously, and lendeth; And his seed is blessed.

27Depart from evil, and do good; And dwell for evermore.

28For the LORD loveth justice, And forsaketh not His saints; They are preserved for ever; But the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.

29The righteous shall inherit the land, And dwell therein for ever.

30The mouth of the righteous uttereth wisdom, And his tongue speaketh justice.

31The law of his God is in his heart; None of his steps slide.

32The wicked watcheth the righteous, And seeketh to slay him.

33The LORD will not leave him in his hand, Nor suffer him to be condemned when he is judged.

34Wait for the LORD, and keep His way, And He will exalt thee to inherit the land; When the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.

ר

35I have seen the wicked in great power, And spreading himself like a leafy tree in its native soil.

36But one passed by, and, lo, he was not; Yea, I sought him, but he could not be found.

ש

37Mark the man of integrity, and behold the upright; For there is a future for the man of peace.

38But transgressors shall be destroyed together; The future of the wicked shall be cut off.

ת

39But the salvation of the righteous is of the LORD; He is their stronghold in the time of trouble.

40And the LORD helpeth them, and delivereth them; He delivereth them from the wicked, and saveth them, Because they have taken refuge in Him.

Do Not Rebuke Me in Your Anger

(Psalm 6:1–10)

1A Psalm of David, to make memorial. O LORD, rebuke me not in Thine anger; Neither chasten me in Thy wrath.

2For Thine arrows are gone deep into me, And Thy hand is come down upon me.

3There is no soundness in my flesh because of Thine indignation; Neither is there any health in my bones because of my sin.

4For mine iniquities are gone over my head; As a heavy burden they are too heavy for me.

5My wounds are noisome, they fester, Because of my foolishness.

6I am bent and bowed down greatly; I go mourning all the day.

7For my loins are filled with burning; And there is no soundness in my flesh.

8I am benumbed and sore crushed; I groan by reason of the moaning of my heart.

9Lord, all my desire is before Thee; And my sighing is not hid from Thee.

10My heart fluttereth, my strength faileth me; As for the light of mine eyes, it also is gone from me.

- 11 My friends and my companions stand aloof from my plague; And my kinsmen stand afar off.
- 12 They also that seek after my life lay snares for me; And they that seek my hurt speak crafty devices, And utter deceits all the day.
- 13 But I am as a deaf man, I hear not; And I am as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth.
- 14 Yea, I am become as a man that heareth not, And in whose mouth are no arguments.
- 15 For in Thee, O LORD, do I hope; Thou wilt answer, O Lord my God.
- 16 For I said: 'Lest they rejoice over me; When my foot slippeth, they magnify themselves against me.'
- 17 For I am ready to halt, And my pain is continually before me.
- 18 For I do declare mine iniquity; I am full of care because of my sin.
- 19 But mine enemies are strong in health; And they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.
- 20 They also that repay evil for good Are adversaries unto me, because I follow the thing that is good.
- 21 Forsake me not, O LORD; O my God, be not far from me.
- 22 Make haste to help me, O Lord, my salvation.

I Will Watch My Ways

- 1 For the Leader, for Jeduthun. A Psalm of David. I said: 'I will take heed to my ways, That I sin not with my tongue; I will keep a curb upon my mouth, While the wicked is before me.'
- 2 I was dumb with silence; I held my peace, had no comfort; And my pain was held in check.
- 3 My heart waxed hot within me; While I was musing, the fire kindled; Then spoke I with my tongue:
- 4 LORD, make me to know mine end, And the measure of my days, what it is; Let me know how short-lived I am.
- 5 Behold, Thou hast made my days as hand-breadths; And mine age is as nothing before Thee; Surely every man at his best estate is altogether vanity. Selah
- 6 Surely man walketh as a mere semblance; Surely for vanity they are in turmoil; He heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them.
- 7 And now, Lord, what wait I for? My hope, it is in Thee.

8 Deliver me from all my transgressions; Make me not the reproach of the base.

9 I am dumb, I open not my mouth; Because Thou hast done it.

10 Remove Thy stroke from off me; I am consumed by the blow of Thy hand.

11 With rebukes dost Thou chasten man for iniquity, And like a moth Thou makest his beauty to consume away; Surely every man is vanity. Selah

12 Hear my prayer, O LORD, and give ear unto my cry; Keep not silence at my tears; For I am a stranger with Thee, A sojourner, as all my fathers were.

13 Look away from me, that I may take comfort, Before I go hence, and be no more.'

I Waited Patiently for the LORD

(Psalm 70:1–5; Hebrews 10:1–18)

1 For the Leader. A Psalm of David. I waited patiently for the LORD; And He inclined unto me, and heard my cry.

2 He brought me up also out of the tumultuous pit, out of the miry clay; And He set my feet upon a rock, He established my goings.

3 And He hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God; Many shall see, and fear, And shall trust in the LORD.

4 Happy is the man that hath made the LORD his trust, And hath not turned unto the arrogant, nor unto such as fall away treacherously.

5 Many things hast Thou done, O LORD my God, Even Thy wonderful works, and Thy thoughts toward us; There is none to be compared unto Thee! If I would declare and speak of them, They are more than can be told.

6 Sacrifice and meal-offering Thou hast no delight in; Mine ears hast Thou opened; Burnt-offering and sin-offering hast Thou not required.

7 Then said I: 'Lo, I am come With the roll of a book which is prescribed for me;

8 I delight to do Thy will, O my God; Yea, Thy law is in my inmost parts.'

9 I have preached righteousness in the great congregation, Lo, I did not refrain my lips; O LORD, Thou knowest.

10 I have not hid Thy righteousness within my heart; I have declared Thy faithfulness and Thy salvation; I have not concealed Thy mercy and Thy truth from the great congregation.

11Thou, O LORD, wilt not withhold Thy compassions from me; Let Thy mercy and Thy truth continually preserve me.

12For innumerable evils have compassed me about, Mine iniquities have overtaken me, so that I am not able to look up; They are more than the hairs of my head, and my heart hath failed me.

13Be pleased, O LORD, to deliver me; O LORD, make haste to help me.

14Let them be ashamed and abashed together That seek after my soul to sweep it away; Let them be turned backward and brought to confusion That delight in my hurt.

15Let them be appalled by reason of their shame That say unto me: 'Aha, aha.'

16Let all those that seek Thee rejoice and be glad in Thee; Let such as love Thy salvation say continually: 'The LORD be magnified.'

17But, as for me, that am poor and needy, The Lord will account it unto me; Thou art my help and my deliverer; O my God, tarry not.

Victory over Betrayal

(John 13:18–30)

1For the Leader. A Psalm of David. Happy is he that considereth the poor; The LORD will deliver him in the day of evil.

2The LORD preserve him, and keep him alive, let him be called happy in the land; And deliver not Thou him unto the greed of his enemies.

3The LORD support him upon the bed of illness; Mayest Thou turn all his lying down in his sickness.

4As for me, I said: 'O LORD, be gracious unto me; Heal my soul; for I have sinned against Thee.'

5Mine enemies speak evil of me: 'When shall he die, and his name perish?'

6And if one come to see me, he speaketh falsehood; His heart gathereth iniquity to itself; When he goeth abroad, he speaketh of it.

7All that hate me whisper together against me, Against me do they devise my hurt:

8An evil thing cleaveth fast unto him; And now that he lieth, he shall rise up no more.'

9Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, who did eat of my bread, Hath lifted up his heel against me.

10But Thou, O LORD, be gracious unto me, and raise me up, That I may requite them.

11By this I know that Thou delightest in me, That mine enemy doth not triumph over me.

12And as for me, Thou upholdest me because of mine integrity, And settest me before Thy face for ever.

13Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, From everlasting and to everlasting. Amen, and Amen.

As the Deer Pants for the Water

1For the Leader; Maschil of the sons of Korah. As the hart panteth after the water brooks, So panteth my soul after Thee, O God.

2My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God: 'When shall I come and appear before God?'

3My tears have been my food day and night, While they say unto me all the day: 'Where is Thy God?'

4These things I remember, and pour out my soul within me, How I passed on with the throng, and led them to the house of God, With the voice of joy and praise, a multitude keeping holyday.

5Why art thou cast down, O my soul? And why moanest thou within me? Hope thou in God; for I shall yet praise Him For the salvation of His countenance.

6O my God, my soul is cast down within me; Therefore do I remember Thee from the land of Jordan, And the Hermons, from the hill Mizar.

7Deep calleth unto deep at the voice of Thy cataracts; All Thy waves and Thy billows are gone over me.

8By day the LORD will command His lovingkindness, And in the night His song shall be with me, Even a prayer unto the God of my life.

9I will say unto God my Rock: 'Why hast Thou forgotten me? Why go I mourning under the oppression of the enemy?'

10As with a crushing in my bones, mine adversaries taunt me; While they say unto me all the day: 'Where is Thy God?'

11Why art thou cast down, O my soul? And why moanest thou within me? Hope thou in God; for I shall yet praise Him, The salvation of my countenance, and my God.

2For Thou art the God of my strength; why hast Thou cast me off? Why go I mourning under the oppression of the enemy?

3O send out Thy light and Thy truth; let them lead me; Let them bring me unto Thy holy mountain, and to Thy dwelling-places.

4Then will I go unto the altar of God, unto God, my exceeding joy; And praise Thee upon the harp, O God, my God.

5Why art thou cast down, O my soul? And why moanest thou within me? Hope thou in God; for I shall yet praise Him, The salvation of my countenance, and my God.

Redeem Us, O God

(Romans 8:35–39)

1For the Leader; [a Psalm] of the sons of Korah. Maschil. O God, we have heard with our ears, our fathers have told us; A work Thou didst in their days, in the days of old.

2Thou with Thy hand didst drive out the nations, and didst plant them in; Thou didst break the peoples, and didst spread them abroad.

3For not by their own sword did they get the land in possession, Neither did their own arm save them; But Thy right hand, and Thine arm, and the light of Thy countenance, Because Thou wast favourable unto them.

4Thou art my King, O God; Command the salvation of Jacob.

5Through Thee do we push down our adversaries; Through Thy name do we tread them under that rise up against us.

6For I trust not in my bow, Neither can my sword save me.

7But Thou hast saved us from our adversaries, And hast put them to shame that hate us.

8In God have we gloried all the day, And we will give thanks unto Thy name for ever. Selah

- 9 Yet Thou hast cast off, and brought us to confusion; And goest not forth with our hosts.
- 10 Thou makest us to turn back from the adversary; And they that hate us spoil at their will.
- 11 Thou hast given us like sheep to be eaten; And hast scattered us among the nations.
- 12 Thou sellest Thy people for small gain, And hast not set their prices high.
- 13 Thou makest us a taunt to our neighbours, A scorn and a derision to them that are round about us.
- 14 Thou makest us a byword among the nations, A shaking of the head among the peoples.
- 15 All the day is my confusion before me, And the shame of my face hath covered me,
- 16 For the voice of him that taunteth and blasphemeth; By reason of the enemy and the revengeful.
- 17 All this is come upon us; yet have we not forgotten Thee, Neither have we been false to Thy covenant.
- 18 Our heart is not turned back, Neither have our steps declined from Thy path;
- 19 Though Thou hast crushed us into a place of jackals, And covered us with the shadow of death.
- 20 If we had forgotten the name of our God, Or spread forth our hands to a strange god;
- 21 Would not God search this out? For He knoweth the secrets of the heart.
- 22 Nay, but for Thy sake are we killed all the day; We are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.
- 23 Awake, why sleepest Thou, O Lord? Arouse Thyself, cast not off for ever.
- 24 Wherefore hidest Thou Thy face, And forgettest our affliction and our oppression?
- 25 For our soul is bowed down to the dust; Our belly cleaveth unto the earth.
- 26 Arise for our help, And redeem us for Thy mercy's sake.

My Heart Is Stirred by a Noble Theme

(1 Kings 3:1–15; 2 Chronicles 1:1–13; Psalm 72:1–20)

1 For the Leader; upon Shoshannim; [a Psalm] of the sons of Korah. Maschil. A Song of loves. My heart overfloweth with a goodly matter; I say: 'My work is concerning a king'; My tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

2 Thou art fairer than the children of men; Grace is poured upon thy lips; Therefore God hath blessed thee for ever.

- 3Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O mighty one, Thy glory and thy majesty.
- 4And in thy majesty prosper, ride on, In behalf of truth and meekness and righteousness; And let thy right hand teach thee tremendous things.
- 5Thine arrows are sharp—The peoples fall under thee—[They sink] into the heart of the king’s enemies.
- 6Thy throne given of God is for ever and ever; A sceptre of equity is the sceptre of thy kingdom.
- 7Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated wickedness; Therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee With the oil of gladness above thy fellows.
- 8Myrrh, and aloes, and cassia are all thy garments; Out of ivory palaces stringed instruments have made thee glad.
- 9Kings’ daughters are among thy favourites; At thy right hand doth stand the queen in gold of Ophir.
- 10Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear; Forget also thine own people, and thy father’s house;
- 11So shall the king desire thy beauty; For he is thy lord; and do homage unto him.
- 12And, O daughter of Tyre, the richest of the people Shall entreat thy favour with a gift.’
- 13All glorious is the king’s daughter within the palace; Her raiment is of chequer work inwrought with gold.
- 14She shall be led unto the king on richly woven stuff; The virgins her companions in her train being brought unto thee.
- 15They shall be led with gladness and rejoicing; They shall enter into the king’s palace.
- 16Instead of thy fathers shall be thy sons, Whom thou shalt make princes in all the land.
- 17I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations; Therefore shall the peoples praise thee for ever and ever.

God Is Our Refuge and Strength

(2 Kings 18:13–16; 2 Chronicles 32:1–8)

- 1For the Leader; [a Psalm] of the sons of Korah; upon Alamoth. A Song. God is our refuge and strength, A very present help in trouble.
- 2Therefore will we not fear, though the earth do change, And though the mountains be moved into the heart of the seas;

3Though the waters thereof roar and foam, Though the mountains shake at the swelling thereof. Selah 4There is a river, the streams whereof make glad the city of God, The holiest dwelling-place of the Most High.

5God is in the midst of her, she shall not be moved; God shall help her, at the approach of morning.

6Nations were in tumult, kingdoms were moved; He uttered His voice, the earth melted.

7The LORD of hosts is with us; The God of Jacob is our high tower. Selah 8Come, behold the works of the LORD, Who hath made desolations in the earth.

9He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth; He breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder; He burneth the chariots in the fire.

10Let be, and know that I am God; I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth.'

Clap Your Hands, All You Peoples

1For the Leader; a Psalm of the sons of Korah. O clap your hands, all ye peoples; Shout unto God with the voice of triumph.

2For the LORD is most high, awful; A great King over all the earth.

3He subdueth peoples under us, And nations under our feet.

4He chooseth our inheritance for us, The pride of Jacob whom He loveth. Selah 5God is gone up amidst shouting, The LORD amidst the sound of the horn.

6Sing praises to God, sing praises; Sing praises unto our King, sing praises.

7For God is the King of all the earth; Sing ye praises in a skilful song.

- 2Fair in situation, the joy of the whole earth; Even mount Zion, the uttermost parts of the north, The city of the great King.
- 3God in her palaces Hath made Himself known for a stronghold.
- 4For, lo, the kings assembled themselves, They came onward together.
- 5They saw, straightway they were amazed; They were affrighted, they hasted away.
- 6Trembling took hold of them there, Pangs, as of a woman in travail.
- 7With the east wind Thou breakest the ships of Tarshish.
- 8As we have heard, so have we seen In the city of the LORD of hosts, in the city of our God—God establish it for ever. Selah
- 9We have thought on Thy lovingkindness, O God, In the midst of Thy temple.
- 10As is Thy name, O God, So is Thy praise unto the ends of the earth; Thy right hand is full of righteousness.
- 11Let mount Zion be glad, Let the daughters of Judah rejoice, Because of Thy judgments.
- 12Walk about Zion, and go round about her; Count the towers thereof.

The Evanescence of Wealth

(Ecclesiastes 5:8–20)

- 1For the Leader; a Psalm of the sons of Korah. Hear this, all ye peoples; Give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world,
- 2Both low and high, Rich and poor together.

- 3 My mouth shall speak wisdom, And the meditation of my heart shall be understanding.
- 4 I will incline mine ear to a parable; I will open my dark saying upon the harp.
- 5 Wherefore should I fear in the days of evil, When the iniquity of my supplanters compasseth me about,
- 6 Of them that trust in their wealth, And boast themselves in the multitude of their riches?
- 7 No man can by any means redeem his brother, Nor give to God a ransom for him—
- 8 For too costly is the redemption of their soul, And must be let alone for ever—
- 9 That he should still live alway, That he should not see the pit.
- 10 For he seeth that wise men die, The fool and the brutish together perish, And leave their wealth to others.
- 11 Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue for ever, And their dwelling-places to all generations; They call their lands after their own names.
- 12 But man abideth not in honour; He is like the beasts that perish.
- 13 This is the way of them that are foolish, And of those who after them approve their sayings. Selah
- 14 Like sheep they are appointed for the nether-world; Death shall be their shepherd; And the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning; And their form shall be for the nether-world to wear away, That there be no habitation for it.
- 15 But God will redeem my soul from the power of the nether-world; For He shall receive me. Selah
- 16 Be not thou afraid when one waxeth rich, When the wealth of his house is increased;
- 17 For when he dieth he shall carry nothing away; His wealth shall not descend after him.
- 18 Though while he lived he blessed his soul: 'Men will praise thee, when thou shalt do well to thyself';
- 19 It shall go to the generation of his fathers; They shall never see the light.
- 20 Man that is in honour understandeth not; He is like the beasts that perish.

The Mighty One Calls

1 A Psalm of Asaph. God, God, the LORD, hath spoken, and called the earth From the rising of the sun unto the going down thereof.

- 2Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God hath shined forth.
- 3Our God cometh, and doth not keep silence; A fire devoureth before Him, And round about Him it stormeth mightily.
- 4He calleth to the heavens above, And to the earth, that He may judge His people:
- 5Gather My saints together unto Me; Those that have made a covenant with Me by sacrifice.'
- 6And the heavens declare His righteousness; For God, He is judge. Selah
- 7Hear, O My people, and I will speak; O Israel, and I will testify against thee: God, thy God, am I.
- 8I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices; And thy burnt-offerings are continually before Me.
- 9I will take no bullock out of thy house, Nor he-goats out of thy folds.
- 10For every beast of the forest is Mine, And the cattle upon a thousand hills.
- 11I know all the fowls of the mountains; And the wild beasts of the field are Mine.
- 12If I were hungry, I would not tell thee; For the world is Mine, and the fulness thereof.
- 13Do I eat the flesh of bulls, Or drink the blood of goats?
- 14Offer unto God the sacrifice of thanksgiving; And pay thy vows unto the Most High;
- 15And call upon Me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee, and thou shalt honour Me.'
- 16But unto the wicked God saith: 'What hast thou to do to declare My statutes, And that thou hast taken My covenant in thy mouth?
- 17Seeing thou hatest instruction, And castest My words behind thee.
- 18When thou sawest a thief, thou hadst company with him, And with adulterers was thy portion.
- 19Thou hast let loose thy mouth for evil, And thy tongue frameth deceit.
- 20Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother; Thou slanderest thine own mother's son.
- 21These things hast thou done, and should I have kept silence? Thou hadst thought that I was altogether such a one as thyself; But I will reprove thee, and set the cause before thine eyes.
- 22Now consider this, ye that forget God, Lest I tear in pieces, and there be none to deliver.

Create in Me a Clean Heart, O God

(2 Samuel 12:1–12)

1For the Leader. A Psalm of David; when Nathan the prophet came unto him, after he had gone in to Bath-sheba. Be gracious unto me, O God, according to Thy mercy; According to the multitude of Thy compassions blot out my transgressions.

2Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, And cleanse me from my sin.

3For I know my transgressions; And my sin is ever before me.

4Against Thee, Thee only, have I sinned, And done that which is evil in Thy sight; That Thou mayest be justified when Thou speakest, And be in the right when Thou judgest.

5Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity, And in sin did my mother conceive me.

6Behold, Thou desirest truth in the inward parts; Make me, therefore, to know wisdom in mine inmost heart.

7Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

8Make me to hear joy and gladness; That the bones which Thou hast crushed may rejoice.

9Hide Thy face from my sins, And blot out all mine iniquities.

10Create me a clean heart, O God; And renew a stedfast spirit within me.

11Cast me not away from Thy presence; And take not Thy holy spirit from me.

12Restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation; And let a willing spirit uphold me.

13Then will I teach transgressors Thy ways; And sinners shall return unto Thee.

14Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God, Thou God of my salvation; So shall my tongue sing aloud of Thy righteousness.

15O Lord, open Thou my lips; And my mouth shall declare Thy praise.

16For Thou delightest not in sacrifice, else would I give it; Thou hast no pleasure in burnt-offering.

17The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; A broken and a contrite heart, O God, Thou wilt not despise.

18Do good in Thy favour unto Zion; Build Thou the walls of Jerusalem.

19Then wilt Thou delight in the sacrifices of righteousness, in burnt-offering and whole offering; Then will they offer bullocks upon Thine altar.

Why Do You Boast of Evil?

(1 Samuel 22:6–23)

1For the Leader. Maschil of David; when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, and said unto him: 'David is come to the house of Ahimelech.' Why boastest thou thyself of evil, O mighty man? The mercy of God endureth continually.

2Thy tongue deviseth destruction; Like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.

4Thou lovest all devouring words, The deceitful tongue.

5God will likewise break thee for ever, He will take thee up, and pluck thee out of thy tent, And root thee out of the land of the living. Selah

6The righteous also shall see, and fear, And shall laugh at him:

7Lo, this is the man that made not God his stronghold; But trusted in the abundance of his riches, And strengthened himself in his wickedness.'

8But as for me, I am like a leafy olive-tree in the house of God; I trust in the mercy of God for ever and ever.

9I will give Thee thanks for ever, because Thou hast done it; And I will wait for Thy name, for it is good, in the presence of Thy saints.

The Fool Says There Is No God

(Psalm 14:1–7; Isaiah 59:1–17; Romans 3:9–20)

1For the Leader; upon Mahalath. Maschil of David. The fool hath said in his heart: 'There is no God'; They have dealt corruptly, and have done abominable iniquity; There is none that doeth good.

2God looked forth from heaven upon the children of men, To see if there were any man of understanding, that did seek after God.

3Every one of them is unclean, they are together become impure; There is none that doeth good, no, not one.

⁴Shall not the workers of iniquity know it, Who eat up My people as they eat bread, And call not upon God?’

⁵There are they in great fear, where no fear was; For God hath scattered the bones of him that encampeth against thee; Thou hast put them to shame, because God hath rejected them.

⁶Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! When God turneth the captivity of His people, Let Jacob rejoice, let Israel be glad.

Save Me by Your Name

(1 Samuel 23:7–29)

¹For the Leader; with string-music. Maschil of David: when the Ziphites came and said to Saul: ‘Doth not David hide himself with us?’ O God, save me by Thy name, And right me by Thy might.

²O God, hear my prayer; give ear to the words of my mouth.

³For strangers are risen up against me, And violent men have sought after my soul; They have not set God before them. Selah ⁴Behold, God is my helper; The Lord is for me as the upholder of my soul.

⁵He will requite the evil unto them that lie in wait for me; Destroy Thou them in Thy truth.

⁶With a freewill-offering will I sacrifice unto Thee; I will give thanks unto Thy name, O LORD, for it is good.

⁷For He hath delivered me out of all trouble; And mine eye hath gazed upon mine enemies.

Cast Your Burden upon the LORD

(2 Samuel 17:15–29)

¹For the Leader; with string-music. Maschil of David. Give ear, O God, to my prayer; And hide not Thyself from my supplication.

²Attend unto me, and answer me; I am distraught in my complaint, and will moan;

³Because of the voice of the enemy, Because of the oppression of the wicked; For they cast mischief upon me, And in anger they persecute me.

4My heart doth writhe within me; And the terrors of death are fallen upon me.

5Fear and trembling come upon me, And horror hath overwhelmed me.

6And I said: 'Oh that I had wings like a dove! Then would I fly away, and be at rest.

7Lo, then would I wander far off, I would lodge in the wilderness. Selah

8I would haste me to a shelter From the stormy wind and tempest.'

9Destroy, O Lord, and divide their tongue; For I have seen violence and strife in the city.

10Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof; Iniquity also and mischief are in the midst of it.

11Wickedness is in the midst thereof; Oppression and guile depart not from her broad place.

12For it was not an enemy that taunted me, Then I could have borne it; Neither was it mine adversary that did magnify himself against me, Then I would have hid myself from him.

13But it was thou, a man mine equal, My companion, and my familiar friend;

14We took sweet counsel together, In the house of God we walked with the throng.

15May He incite death against them, Let them go down alive into the nether-world; For evil is in their dwelling, and within them.

16As for me, I will call upon God; And the LORD shall save me.

17Evening, and morning, and at noon, will I complain, and moan; And He hath heard my voice.

18He hath redeemed my soul in peace so that none came nigh me; For they were many that strove with me.

19God shall hear, and humble them, Even He that is enthroned of old, Selah Such as have no changes, And fear not God.

20He hath put forth his hands against them that were at peace with him; He hath profaned his covenant.

21Smoother than cream were the speeches of his mouth, But his heart was war; His words were softer than oil, Yet were they keen-edged swords.

22Cast thy burden upon the LORD, and He will sustain thee; He will never suffer the righteous to be moved.

23But Thou, O God, wilt bring them down into the nethermost pit; Men of blood and deceit shall not live out half their days; But as for me, I will trust in Thee.

Be Merciful to Me, O God

(1 Samuel 21:8–15)

1For the Leader; upon Jonath-elem-rehokim. [A Psalm] of David; Michtam; when the Philistines took him in Gath. Be gracious unto me, O God, for man would swallow me up; All the day he fighting oppresseth me.

2They that lie in wait for me would swallow me up all the day; For they are many that fight against me, O Most High, 3In the day that I am afraid, I will put my trust in Thee.

4In God—I will praise His word—In God do I trust, I will not be afraid; What can flesh do unto me?

5All the day they trouble mine affairs; All their thoughts are against me for evil.

6They gather themselves together, they hide themselves, They mark my steps; According as they have waited for my soul.

7Because of iniquity cast them out; In anger bring down the peoples, O God.

8Thou has counted my wanderings; Put Thou my tears into Thy bottle; Are they not in Thy book?

9Then shall mine enemies turn back in the day that I call; This I know, that God is for me.

10In God—I will praise His word—In the LORD—I will praise His word—

11In God do I trust, I will not be afraid; What can man do unto me?

12Thy vows are upon me, O God; I will render thank-offerings unto Thee.

13For thou hast delivered my soul from death; Hast Thou not delivered my feet from stumbling? That I may walk before God in the light of the living?

In You My Soul Takes Refuge

(1 Samuel 22:1–5; Psalm 108:1–13; Psalm 142:1–7)

1For the Leader; Al-tashheth. [A Psalm] of David; Michtam; when he fled from Saul, in the cave. Be gracious unto me, O God, be gracious unto me, For in Thee hath my soul taken refuge; Yea, in the shadow of Thy wings will I take refuge, Until calamities be overpast.

2I will cry unto God Most high; Unto God that accomplisheth it for me.

3He will send from heaven, and save me, When he that would swallow me up taunteth, Selah God shall send forth His mercy and His truth.

4My soul is among lions, I do lie down among them that are aflame; Even the sons of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows, And their tongue a sharp sword.

5Be Thou exalted, O God, above the heavens; Thy glory be above all the earth.

6They have prepared a net for my steps, My soul is bowed down; They have digged a pit before me, They are fallen into the midst thereof themselves. Selah 7My heart is stedfast, O God, my heart is stedfast; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises.

8Awake, my glory; awake, psaltery and harp; I will awake the dawn.

9I will give thanks unto Thee, O Lord, among the peoples; I will sing praises unto Thee among the nations.

10For Thy mercy is great unto the heavens, And Thy truth unto the skies.

God Judges the Earth

1For the Leader; Al-tashheth. [A Psalm] of David; Michtam. Do ye indeed speak as a righteous company? Do ye judge with equity the sons of men?

2Yea, in heart ye work wickedness; Ye weigh out in the earth the violence of your hands.

3The wicked are estranged from the womb; The speakers of lies go astray as soon as they are born.

4Their venom is like the venom of a serpent; They are like the deaf asp that stoppeth her ear;

5Which hearkeneth not to the voice of charmers, Or of the most cunning binder of spells.

6Break their teeth, O God, in their mouth; Break out the cheek-teeth of the young lions, O LORD.

7Let them melt away as water that runneth apace; When he aimeth his arrows, let them be as though they were cut off.

8Let them be as a snail which melteth and passeth away; Like the untimely births of a woman, that have not seen the sun.

9Before your pots can feel the thorns, He will sweep it away with a whirlwind, the raw and the burning alike.

10The righteous shall rejoice when he seeth the vengeance; He shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked.

11And men shall say: 'Verily there is a reward for the righteous; Verily there is a God that judgeth in the earth.'

Deliver Me from My Enemies

(1 Samuel 19:1–24)

1For the Leader; Al-tashheth. [A Psalm] of David; Michtam; when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him. Deliver me from mine enemies, O my God; Set me on high from them that rise up against me.

2Deliver me from the workers of iniquity, And save me from the men of blood.

3For, lo, they lie in wait for my soul; The impudent gather themselves together against me; Not for my transgression, nor for my sin, O LORD.

4Without my fault, they run and prepare themselves; Awake Thou to help me, and behold.

5Thou therefore, O LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, Arouse Thyself to punish all the nations; Show no mercy to any iniquitous traitors. Selah 6They return at evening, they howl like a dog, And go round about the city.

7Behold, they belch out with their mouth; Swords are in their lips: 'For who doth hear?'

8But Thou, O LORD, shalt laugh at them; Thou shalt have all the nations in derision.

9Because of his strength, I will wait for Thee; For God is my high tower.

10The God of my mercy will come to meet me; God will let me gaze upon mine adversaries.

11Slay them not, lest my people forget, Make them wander to and fro by Thy power, and bring them down, O Lord our shield.

12For the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips, Let them even be taken in their pride, And for cursing and lying which they speak.

13Consume them in wrath, consume them, that they be no more; And let them know that God ruleth in Jacob, Unto the ends of the earth. Selah

14And they return at evening, they howl like a dog, And go round about the city;

15They wander up and down to devour, And tarry all night if they have not their fill.

16But as for me, I will sing of Thy strength; Yea, I will sing aloud of Thy mercy in the morning; For Thou hast been my high tower, And a refuge in the day of my distress.

17O my strength, unto Thee will I sing praises; For God is my high tower, the God of my mercy.

Victory with God

(2 Samuel 8:1–14; 1 Chronicles 18:1–13; Psalm 108:1–13)

1For the Leader; upon Shushan Eduth; Michtam of David, to teach; when he strove with Aram-naharaim and with Aram-zobah, and Joab returned, and smote of Edom in the Valley of Salt twelve thousand. O God, Thou hast cast us off, Thou hast broken us down; Thou hast been angry; O restore us.

2Thou hast made the land to shake, Thou hast cleft it; Heal the breaches thereof; for it tottereth.

3Thou hast made Thy people to see hard things; Thou hast made us to drink the wine of staggering.

4Thou hast given a banner to them that fear Thee, That it may be displayed because of the truth. Selah

5That Thy beloved may be delivered, Save with Thy right hand, and answer me.

6God spoke in His holiness, that I would exult; That I would divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

7Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine; Ephraim also is the defence of my head; Judah is my sceptre.

8Moab is my washpot; Upon Edom do I cast my shoe; Philistia, cry aloud because of me!

9Who will bring me into the fortified city? Who will lead me unto Edom?

10Hast not Thou, O God, cast us off? And Thou goest not forth, O God, with our hosts.

11Give us help against the adversary; For vain is the help of man.

12Through God we shall do valiantly; For He it is that will tread down our adversaries.

You Have Heard My Vows

- 1For the Leader; with string-music. [A Psalm] of David. Hear my cry, O God; Attend unto my prayer.
- 2From the end of the earth will I call unto Thee, when my heart fainteth; Lead me to a rock that is too high for me.
- 3For Thou hast been a refuge for me, A tower of strength in the face of the enemy.
- 4I will dwell in Thy Tent for ever; I will take refuge in the covert of Thy wings. Selah
- 5For Thou, O God, hast heard my vows; Thou hast granted the heritage of those that fear Thy name.
- 6Mayest Thou add days unto the king's days! May his years be as many generations!

- 1For the Leader; for Jeduthun. A Psalm of David. Only for God doth my soul wait in stillness; From Him cometh my salvation.
- 2He only is my rock and my salvation, My high tower, I shall not be greatly moved.
- 3How long will ye set upon a man, That ye may slay him, all of you, As a leaning wall, a tottering fence?
- 4They only devise to thrust him down from his height, delighting in lies; They bless with their mouth, but they curse inwardly. Selah
- 5Only for God wait thou in stillness, my soul; For from Him cometh my hope.
- 6He only is my rock and my salvation, My high tower, I shall not be moved.
- 7Upon God resteth my salvation and my glory; The rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.
- 8Trust in Him at all times, ye people; Pour out your heart before Him; God is a refuge for us. Selah
- 9Men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie; If they be laid in the balances, they are together lighter than vanity.
- 10Trust not in oppression, And put not vain hope in robbery; If riches increase, set not your heart thereon.

Thirsting for God

(2 Samuel 15:30–37)

1 A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah. O God, Thou art my God, earnestly will I seek Thee; My soul thirsteth for Thee, my flesh longeth for Thee, In a dry and weary land, where no water is.

2 So have I looked for Thee in the sanctuary, To see Thy power and Thy glory.

3 For Thy lovingkindness is better than life; My lips shall praise Thee.

4 So will I bless Thee as long as I live; In Thy name will I lift up my hands.

5 My soul is satisfied as with marrow and fatness; And my mouth doth praise Thee with joyful lips;

6 When I remember Thee upon my couch, And meditate on Thee in the night-watches.

7 For Thou hast been my help, And in the shadow of Thy wings do I rejoice.

8 My soul cleaveth unto Thee; Thy right hand holdeth me fast.

9 But those that seek my soul, to destroy it, Shall go into the nethermost parts of the earth.

10 They shall be hurled to the power of the sword; They shall be a portion for foxes.

11 But the king shall rejoice in God; Every one that sweareth by Him shall glory; For the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped.

2 Hide me from the council of evil-doers; From the tumult of the workers of iniquity;

- 3Who have whet their tongue like a sword, And have aimed their arrow, a poisoned word;
- 4That they may shoot in secret places at the blameless; Suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not.
- 5They encourage one another in an evil matter; They converse of laying snares secretly; They ask, who would see them.
- 6They search out iniquities, they have accomplished a diligent search; Even in the inward thought of every one, and the deep heart.
- 7But God doth shoot at them with an arrow suddenly; Thence are their wounds.
- 8So they make their own tongue a stumbling unto themselves; All that see them shake the head.

Make a Joyful Noise

(Psalm 100:1–5)

1For the Leader. A Song, a Psalm. Shout unto God, all the earth;

2Sing praises unto the glory of His name; Make His praise glorious.

3Say unto God: 'How tremendous is Thy work! Through the greatness of Thy power shall Thine enemies dwindle away before Thee.

4All the earth shall worship Thee, And shall sing praises unto Thee; They shall sing praises to Thy name.' Selah 5Come, and see the works of God; He is terrible in His doing toward the children of men.

6He turned the sea into dry land; They went through the river on foot; There let us rejoice in Him!

7Who ruleth by His might for ever; His eyes keep watch upon the nations; Let not the rebellious exalt themselves. Selah

8Bless our God, ye peoples, And make the voice of His praise to be heard;

9Who hath set our soul in life, And suffered not our foot to be moved,

10For Thou, O God, hast tried us; Thou hast refined us, as silver is refined.

11Thou didst bring us into the hold; Thou didst lay constraint upon our loins.

12Thou hast caused men to ride over our heads; We went through fire and through water; But Thou didst bring us out unto abundance.

13I will come into Thy house with burnt-offerings, I will perform unto Thee my vows, 14Which my lips have uttered, And my mouth hath spoken, when I was in distress.

15I will offer unto Thee burnt-offerings of fatlings, With the sweet smoke of rams; I will offer bullocks with goats. Selah 16Come, and hearken, all ye that fear God, And I will declare what He hath done for my soul.

17I cried unto Him with my mouth, And He was extolled with my tongue.

18If I had regarded iniquity in my heart, The Lord would not hear;

19But verily God hath heard; He hath attended to the voice of my prayer.

God's Enemies Are Scattered

1For the Leader. A Psalm of David, a Song. Let God arise, let His enemies be scattered; And let them that hate Him flee before Him.

2As smoke is driven away, so drive them away; As wax melteth before the fire, So let the wicked perish at the presence of God.

3But let the righteous be glad, let them exult before God; Yea, let them rejoice with gladness.

4Sing unto God, sing praises to His name; Extol Him that rideth upon the skies, whose name is the LORD; And exult ye before Him.

5A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows, Is God in His holy habitation.

6God maketh the solitary to dwell in a house; He bringeth out the prisoners into prosperity; The rebellious dwell but in a parched land.

7O God, when Thou wentest forth before Thy people, When Thou didst march through the wilderness; Selah

8The earth trembled, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God; Even yon Sinai trembled at the presence of God, the God of Israel.

9A bounteous rain didst Thou pour down, O God; When Thine inheritance was weary, Thou didst confirm it.

10Thy flock settled therein; Thou didst prepare in Thy goodness for the poor, O God.

11The Lord giveth the word; The women that proclaim the tidings are a great host.

12Kings of armies flee, they flee; And she that tarrieth at home divideth the spoil.

13When ye lie among the sheepfolds, The wings of the dove are covered with silver, And her pinions with the shimmer of gold.

14When the Almighty scattereth kings therein, It snoweth in Zalmon.

16Why look ye askance, ye mountains of peaks, At the mountain which God hath desired for His abode? Yea, the LORD will dwell therein for ever.

17The chariots of God are myriads, even thousands upon thousands; The Lord is among them, as in Sinai, in holiness.

18Thou hast ascended on high, Thou hast led captivity captive; Thou hast received gifts among men, Yea, among the rebellious also, that the LORD God might dwell there.

22The Lord said: `I will bring back from Bashan, I will bring them back from the depths of the sea;

23 That thy foot may wade through blood, That the tongue of thy dogs may have its portion from thine enemies.'

24 They see Thy goings, O God, Even the goings of my God, my King, in holiness.

25 The singers go before, the minstrels follow after, In the midst of damsels playing upon timbrels.

26 Bless ye God in full assemblies, Even the Lord, ye that are from the fountain of Israel.'

27 There is Benjamin, the youngest, ruling them, The princes of Judah their council, The princes of Zebulun, the princes of Naphtali.

28 Thy God hath commanded thy strength; Be strong, O God, Thou that hast wrought for us

29 Out of Thy temple at Jerusalem, Whither kings shall bring presents unto Thee.

30 Rebuke the wild beast of the reeds, The multitude of the bulls, with the calves of the peoples, Every one submitting himself with pieces of silver; He hath scattered the peoples that delight in war!

31 Nobles shall come out of Egypt; Ethiopia shall hasten to stretch out her hands unto God.

32 Sing unto God, ye kingdoms of the earth; O sing praises unto the Lord; Selah

33 To Him that rideth upon the heavens of heavens, which are of old; Lo, He uttereth His voice, a mighty voice.

34 Ascribe ye strength unto God; His majesty is over Israel, And His strength is in the skies.

The Waters Are up to My Neck

1 For the Leader; upon Shoshannim. [A Psalm] of David. Save me, O God; For the waters are come in even unto the soul.

2 I am sunk in deep mire, where there is no standing; I am come into deep waters, and the flood overwhelmeth me.

3 I am weary of my crying; my throat is dried; Mine eyes fail while I wait for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of my head; They that would cut me off, being mine enemies wrongfully, are many; Should I restore that which I took not away?

5 O God, Thou knowest my folly; And my trespasses are not hid from Thee.

6Let not them that wait for Thee be ashamed through me, O Lord GOD of hosts; Let not those that seek Thee be brought to confusion through me, O God of Israel.

7Because for Thy sake I have borne reproach; Confusion hath covered my face.

8I am become a stranger unto my brethren, And an alien unto my mother's children.

9Because zeal for Thy house hath eaten me up, And the reproaches of them that reproach Thee are fallen upon me.

10And I wept with my soul with fasting, And that became unto me a reproach.

11I made sackcloth also my garment, And I became a byword unto them.

12They that sit in the gate talk of me; And I am the song of the drunkards.

13But as for me, let my prayer be unto Thee, O LORD, in an acceptable time; O God, in the abundance of Thy mercy, Answer me with the truth of Thy salvation.

14Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink; Let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

15Let not the waterflood overwhelm me, Neither let the deep swallow me up; And let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.

16Answer me, O LORD, for Thy mercy is good; According to the multitude of Thy compassions turn Thou unto me.

17And hide not Thy face from Thy servant; For I am in distress; answer me speedily.

18Draw nigh unto my soul, and redeem it; Ransom me because of mine enemies.

19Thou knowest my reproach, and my shame, and my confusion; Mine adversaries are all before Thee.

20Reproach hath broken my heart; and I am sore sick; And I looked for some to show compassion, but there was none; And for comforters, but I found none.

21Yea, they put poison into my food; And in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

22Let their table before them become a snare; And when they are in peace, let it become a trap.

23Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not; And make their loins continually to totter.

24Pour out Thine indignation upon them, And let the fierceness of Thine anger overtake them.

25Let their encampment be desolate; Let none dwell in their tents.

26For they persecute him whom Thou hast smitten; And they tell of the pain of those whom Thou hast wounded.

- 27 Add iniquity unto their iniquity; And let them not come into Thy righteousness.
- 28 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, And not be written with the righteous.
- 29 But I am afflicted and in pain; Let Thy salvation, O God, set me up on high.
- 30 I will praise the name of God with a song, And will magnify Him with thanksgiving.
- 31 And it shall please the LORD better than a bullock That hath horns and hoofs.
- 32 The humble shall see it, and be glad; Ye that seek after God, let your heart revive.
- 33 For the LORD hearkeneth unto the needy, And despiseth not His prisoners.
- 34 Let heaven and earth praise Him, The seas, and every thing that moveth therein.
- 35 For God will save Zion, and build the cities of Judah; And they shall abide there, and have it in possession.
- 36 The seed also of His servants shall inherit it; And they that love His name shall dwell therein.

(Psalm 40:1-17; Psalm 141:1-10)

- 1 For the Leader. [A Psalm] of David; to make memorial. O God, to deliver me, O LORD, to help me, make haste.
- 2 Let them be ashamed and abashed That seek after my soul; Let them be turned backward and brought to confusion That delight in my hurt.
- 3 Let them be turned back by reason of their shame That say: 'Aha, aha.'
- 4 Let all those that seek Thee rejoice and be glad in Thee; And let such as love Thy salvation say continually: 'Let God be magnified.'
- 5 But I am poor and needy; O God, make haste unto me; Thou art my help and my deliverer; O LORD, tarry not.

Be My Rock of Refuge

- 1 In Thee, O LORD, have I taken refuge; Let me never be ashamed.
- 2 Deliver me in Thy righteousness, and rescue me; Incline Thine ear unto me, and save me.
- 3 Be Thou to me a sheltering rock, whereunto I may continually resort, Which Thou hast appointed to save me; For Thou art my rock and my fortress.
- 4 O my God, rescue me out of the hand of the wicked, Out of the grasp of the unrighteous and ruthless man.
- 5 For Thou art my hope; O Lord GOD, my trust from my youth.
- 6 Upon Thee have I stayed myself from birth; Thou art he that took me out of my mother's womb; My praise is continually of Thee.
- 7 I am as a wonder unto many; But Thou art my strong refuge.
- 8 My mouth shall be filled with Thy praise, And with Thy glory all the day.
- 9 Cast me not off in the time of old age; When my strength faileth, forsake me not.
- 10 For mine enemies speak concerning me, And they that watch for my soul take counsel together,
- 11 Saying: 'God hath forsaken him; Pursue and take him; for there is none to deliver.'
- 12 O God, be not far from me; O my God, make haste to help me.
- 13 Let them be ashamed and consumed that are adversaries to my soul; Let them be covered with reproach and confusion that seek my hurt.
- 14 But as for me, I will hope continually, And will praise Thee yet more and more.
- 15 My mouth shall tell of Thy righteousness, And of Thy salvation all the day; For I know not the numbers thereof.
- 16 I will come with Thy mighty acts, O Lord GOD; I will make mention of Thy righteousness, even of Thine only.
- 17 O God, Thou hast taught me from my youth; And until now do I declare Thy wondrous works.
- 18 And even unto old age and hoary hairs, O God, forsake me not; Until I have declared Thy strength unto the next generation, Thy might to every one that is to come.
- 19 Thy righteousness also, O God, which reacheth unto high heaven; Thou who hast done great things, O God, who is like unto Thee?
- 20 Thou, who hast made me to see many and sore troubles, Wilt quicken me again, and bring me up again from the depths of the earth.
- 21 Thou wilt increase my greatness, And turn and comfort me.

22I also will give thanks unto Thee with the psaltery, Even unto Thy truth, O my God; I will sing praises unto Thee with the harp, O Thou Holy One of Israel.

23My lips shall greatly rejoice when I sing praises unto Thee; And my soul, which Thou hast redeemed.

24My tongue also shall tell of Thy righteousness all the day; For they are ashamed, for they are abashed, that seek my hurt.

Endow the King with Your Justice

(1 Kings 3:1–15; 2 Chronicles 1:1–13; Psalm 45:1–17)

1[A Psalm] of Solomon. Give the king Thy judgments, O God, And Thy righteousness unto the king's son;

2That he may judge Thy people with righteousness, And Thy poor with justice.

3Let the mountains bear peace to the people, And the hills, through righteousness.

4May he judge the poor of the people, And save the children of the needy, And crush the oppressor.

5They shall fear Thee while the sun endureth, And so long as the moon, throughout all generations.

6May he come down like rain upon the mown grass, As showers that water the earth.

7In his days let the righteous flourish, And abundance of peace, till the moon be no more.

8May he have dominion also from sea to sea, And from the River unto the ends of the earth.

9Let them that dwell in the wilderness bow before him; And his enemies lick the dust.

10The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall render tribute; The kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

11Yea, all kings shall prostrate themselves before him; All nations shall serve him.

12For he will deliver the needy when he crieth; the poor also, and him that hath no helper.

13He will have pity on the poor and needy, And the souls of the needy he will save.

14He will redeem their soul from oppression and violence, And precious will their blood be in his sight.

15That they may live, and that he may give them of the gold of Sheba, That they may pray for him continually, Yea, bless him all the day.

16 May he be as a rich cornfield in the land upon the top of the mountains; May his fruit rustle like Lebanon; And may they blossom out of the city like grass of the earth.

17 May his name endure for ever; May his name be continued as long as the sun; May men also bless themselves by him; May all nations call him happy.

18 Blessed be the LORD God, the God of Israel, Who only doeth wondrous things;

19 And blessed be His glorious name for ever; And let the whole earth be filled with His glory. Amen, and Amen.

20 The prayers of David the son of Jesse are ended.

BOOK III Psalms 73–89

Surely God Is Good to Israel

1 A Psalm of Asaph. Surely God is good to Israel, Even to such as are pure in heart.

2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone; My steps had well nigh slipped.

3 For I was envious at the arrogant, When I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

4 For there are no pangs at their death, And their body is sound.

5 In the trouble of man they are not; Neither are they plagued like men.

6 Therefore pride is as a chain about their neck; Violence covereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand forth from fatness; They are gone beyond the imaginations of their heart.

8 They scoff, and in wickedness utter oppression; They speak as if there were none on high.

9 They have set their mouth against the heavens, And their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore His people return hither; And waters of fullness are drained out by them.

11 And they say: 'How doth God know? And is there knowledge in the Most High?'

12 Behold, such are the wicked; And they that are always at ease increase riches.

13 Surely in vain have I cleansed my heart, And washed my hands in innocency;

14 For all the day have I been plagued, And my chastisement came every morning.

- 15 If I had said: 'I will speak thus', Behold, I had been faithless to the generation of Thy children.
- 16 And when I pondered how I might know this, It was wearisome in mine eyes;
- 17 Until I entered into the sanctuary of God, And considered their end.
- 18 Surely Thou settest them in slippery places; Thou hurlest them down to utter ruin.
- 19 How are they become a desolation in a moment! They are wholly consumed by terrors.
- 20 As a dream when one awaketh, So, O Lord, when Thou arousest Thyself, Thou wilt despise their semblance.
- 21 For my heart was in a ferment, And I was pricked in my reins.
- 22 But I was brutish, and ignorant; I was as a beast before Thee.
- 23 Nevertheless I am continually with Thee; Thou holdest my right hand.
- 24 Thou wilt guide me with Thy counsel, And afterward receive me with glory.
- 25 Whom have I in heaven but Thee? And beside Thee I desire none upon earth.
- 26 My flesh and my heart faileth; But God is the rock of my heart and my portion for ever.
- 27 For, lo, they that go far from Thee shall perish; Thou dost destroy all them that go astray from Thee.
- 28 But as for me, the nearness of God is my good; I have made the Lord GOD my refuge, That I may tell of all Thy works.

Why Have You Rejected Us Forever?

(Psalm 79:1–13; Jeremiah 52:1–11)

- 1 Maschil of Asaph. Why, O God, hast Thou cast us off for ever? Why doth Thine anger smoke against the flock of Thy pasture?
- 2 Remember Thy congregation, which Thou hast gotten of old, Which Thou hast redeemed to be the tribe of Thine inheritance; And mount Zion, wherein Thou hast dwelt.
- 3 Lift up Thy steps because of the perpetual ruins, Even all the evil that the enemy hath done in the sanctuary.
- 4 Thine adversaries have roared in the midst of Thy meeting-place; They have set up their own signs for signs.

- 5It seemed as when men wield upwards Axes in a thicket of trees.
- 6And now all the carved work thereof together They strike down with hatchet and hammers.
- 7They have set Thy sanctuary on fire; They have profaned the dwelling-place of Thy name even to the ground.
- 8They said in their heart: 'Let us make havoc of them altogether'; They have burned up all the meeting-places of God in the land.
- 9We see not our signs; There is no more any prophet; Neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.
- 10How long, O God, shall the adversary reproach? Shall the enemy blaspheme Thy name for ever?
- 11Why withdrawest Thou Thy hand, even Thy right hand? Draw it out of Thy bosom and consume them.
- 12Yet God is my King of old, Working salvation in the midst of the earth.
- 13Thou didst break the sea in pieces by Thy strength; Thou didst shatter the heads of the sea-monsters in the waters.
- 14Thou didst crush the heads of leviathan, Thou gavest him to be food to the folk inhabiting the wilderness.
- 15Thou didst cleave fountain and brook; Thou driedst up ever-flowing rivers.
- 16Thine is the day, Thine also the night; Thou hast established luminary and sun.
- 17Thou hast set all the borders of the earth; Thou hast made summer and winter.
- 18Remember this, how the enemy hath reproached the LORD, And how a base people have blasphemed Thy name.
- 19O deliver not the soul of Thy turtle-dove unto the wild beast; Forget not the life of Thy poor for ever.
- 20Look upon the covenant; For the dark places of the land are full of the habitations of violence.
- 21O let not the oppressed turn back in confusion; Let the poor and needy praise Thy name.
- 22Arise, O God, plead Thine own cause; Remember Thy reproach all the day at the hand of the base man.
- 23Forget not the voice of Thine adversaries, The tumult of those that rise up against Thee which ascendeth continually.

Psalm 75

God's Righteous Judgment

(Romans 2:1-16)

- 1For the Leader; Al-tashheth. A Psalm of Asaph, a Song. We give thanks unto Thee, O God, We give thanks, and Thy name is near; Men tell of Thy wondrous works.
- 2When I take the appointed time, I Myself will judge with equity.
- 3When the earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved, I Myself establish the pillars of it.' Selah
- 4I say unto the arrogant 'Deal not arrogantly'; And to the wicked 'Lift not up the horn.'
- 5Lift not up your horn on high; Speak not insolence with a haughty neck.
- 6For neither from the east, nor from the west, Nor yet from the wilderness, cometh lifting up.
- 7For God is judge; He putteth down one, and lifteth up another.
- 8For in the hand of the LORD there is a cup, with foaming wine, full of mixture, And He poureth out of the same; Surely the dregs thereof, all the wicked of the earth shall drain them, and drink them.
- 9But as for me, I will declare for ever, I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.
- 10All the horns of the wicked also will I cut off; But the horns of the righteous shall be lifted up.

Psalm 76

God's Name Is Great in Israel

- 1For the Leader; with string-music. A Psalm of Asaph, a Song. In Judah is God known; His name is great in Israel.
- 2In Salem also is set His tabernacle, And His dwelling-place in Zion.
- 3There He broke the fiery shafts of the bow; The shield, and the sword, and the battle. Selah
- 4Glorious art Thou and excellent, coming down from the mountains of prey.
- 5The stout-hearted are bereft of sense, they sleep their sleep; And none of the men of might have found their hands.
- 6At Thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, They are cast into a dead sleep, the riders also and the horses.
- 7Thou, even Thou, art terrible; And who may stand in Thy sight when once Thou art angry?

- 8Thou didst cause sentence to be heard from heaven; The earth feared, and was still,
9When God arose to judgment, To save all the humble of the earth. Selah
10Surely the wrath of man shall praise Thee; The residue of wrath shalt Thou gird upon Thee.
11Vow, and pay unto the LORD your God; Let all that are round about Him bring presents unto Him that is to be feared;
12He minisheth the spirit of princes; He is terrible to the kings of the earth.

In the Day of Trouble I Sought the LORD

- 1For the Leader; for Jeduthun. A Psalm of Asaph. I will lift up my voice unto God, an cry; I will lift up my voice unto God, that He may give ear unto me.
2In the day of my trouble I seek the Lord; With my hand uplifted, [mine eye] streameth in the night without ceasing; My soul refuseth to be comforted.
3When I think thereon, O God, I must moan; When I muse thereon, my spirit fainteth. Selah 4Thou holdest fast the lids of mine eyes; I am troubled, and cannot speak.
5I have pondered the days of old, the years of ancient times.
6In the night I will call to remembrance my song; I will commune with mine own heart; And my spirit maketh diligent search 7Will the Lord cast off for ever? And will He be favourable no more?
8Is His mercy clean gone for ever? Is His promise come to an end for evermore?
9Hath God forgotten to be gracious? Hath He in anger shut up his compassions?' Selah 10And I say `This is my weakness, That the right hand of the Most High could change.
11I will make mention of the deeds of the LORD; Yea, I will remember Thy wonders of old.
12I will meditate also upon all Thy work, And muse on Thy doings.'
13O God, Thy way is in holiness; Who is a great god like unto God?
14Thou art the God that doest wonders; Thou hast made known Thy strength among the peoples.
15Thou hast with Thine arm redeemed Thy people, The sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah

- 16The waters saw Thee, O God; The waters saw Thee, they were in pain; The depths also trembled.
- 17The clouds flooded forth waters; The skies sent out a sound; Thine arrows also went abroad.
- 18The voice of Thy thunder was in the whirlwind; The lightnings lighted up the world; The earth trembled and shook.
- 19Thy way was in the sea, And Thy path in the great waters, And Thy footsteps were not known.
- 20Thou didst lead Thy people like a flock, By the hand of Moses and Aaron.

I Will Open My Mouth in Parables

(Matthew 13:34–35)

- 1Maschil of Asaph. Give ear, O my people, to my teaching; Incline your ears to the words of my mouth.
- 2I will open my mouth with a parable; I will utter dark sayings concerning days of old;
- 3That which we have heard and known, And our fathers have told us,
- 4We will not hide from their children, Telling to the generation to come the praises of the LORD, And His strength, and His wondrous works that He hath done.
- 5For He established a testimony in Jacob, And appointed a law in Israel, Which He commanded our fathers, That they should make them known to their children;
- 6That the generation to come might know them, even the children that should be born; Who should arise and tell them to their children,
- 7That they might put their confidence in God, And not forget the works of God, But keep His commandments;
- 8And might not be as their fathers, A stubborn and rebellious generation; A generation that set not their heart aright, And whose spirit was not stedfast with God.
- 9The children of Ephraim were as archers handling the bow, That turned back in the day of battle.
- 10They kept not the covenant of God, And refused to walk in His law;
- 11And they forgot His doings, And His wondrous works that He had shown them.
- 12Marvellous things did He in the sight of their fathers, In the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.
- 13He cleaved the sea, and caused them to pass through; And He made the waters to stand as a heap.

14 By day also He led them with a cloud, And all the night with a light of fire.

15 He cleaved rocks in the wilderness, And gave them drink abundantly as out of the great deep.

16 He brought streams also out of the rock, And caused waters to run down like rivers.

17 Yet went they on still to sin against Him, To rebel against the Most High in the desert.

18 And they tried God in their heart By asking food for their craving.

19 Yea, they spoke against God; They said 'Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?

20 Behold, He smote the rock, that waters gushed out, And streams overflowed; Can He give bread also? Or will He provide flesh for His people?'

21 Therefore the LORD heard, and was wroth; And a fire was kindled against Jacob, And anger also went up against Israel;

22 Because they believed not in God, And trusted not in His salvation.

23 And He commanded the skies above, And opened the doors of heaven;

24 And He caused manna to rain upon them for food, And gave them of the corn of heaven.

25 Man did eat the bread of the mighty; He sent them provisions to the full.

26 He caused the east wind to set forth in heaven; And by His power He brought on the south wind.

27 He caused flesh also to rain upon them as the dust, And winged fowl as the sand of the seas;

28 And He let it fall in the midst of their camp, Round about their dwellings.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled; And He gave them that which they craved.

30 They were not estranged from their craving, Their food was yet in their mouths,

31 When the anger of God went up against them, And slew of the lustieth among them, And smote down the young men of Israel.

32 For all this they sinned still, And believed not in His wondrous works.

33 Therefore He ended their days as a breath, And their years in terror.

34 When He slew them, then they would inquire after Him, And turn back and seek God earnestly.

35 And they remembered that God was their Rock, And the Most High God their redeemer.

36 But they beguiled Him with their mouth, And lied unto Him with their tongue.

37 For their heart was not stedfast with Him, Neither were they faithful in His covenant.

38 But He, being full of compassion, forgiveth iniquity, and destroyeth not; Yea, many a time doth He turn His anger away, And doth not stir up all His wrath.

39 So He remembered that they were but flesh, A wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.

40 How oft did they rebel against Him in the wilderness, And grieve Him in the desert!

41 And still again they tried God, And set bounds to the Holy One of Israel.

42 They remembered not His hand, Nor the day when He redeemed them from the adversary.

43 How He set His signs in Egypt, And His wonders in the field of Zoan;

44 And turned their rivers into blood, So that they could not drink their streams.

45 He sent among them swarms of flies, which devoured them; And frogs, which destroyed them.

46 He gave also their increase unto the caterpillar, And their labour unto the locust.

47 He destroyed their vines with hail, And their sycamore-trees with frost.

48 He gave over their cattle also to the hail, And their flocks to fiery bolts.

49 He sent forth upon them the fierceness of His anger, Wrath, and indignation, and trouble, A sending of messengers of evil.

50 He levelled a path for His anger; He spared not their soul from death, But gave their life over to the pestilence;

51 And smote all the first-born in Egypt, The first-fruits of their strength in the tents of Ham;

52 But He made His own people to go forth like sheep, And guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

53 And He led them safely, and they feared not; But the sea overwhelmed their enemies.

54 And He brought them to His holy border, To the mountain, which His right hand had gotten.

55 He drove out the nations also before them, And allotted them for an inheritance by line, And made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.

56 Yet they tried and provoked God, the Most High, And kept not His testimonies;

57 But turned back, and dealt treacherously like their fathers; They were turned aside like a deceitful bow.

58 For they provoked Him with their high places, And moved Him to jealousy with their graven images.

59 God heard, and was wroth, And He greatly abhorred Israel;

60 And He forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh, The tent which He had made to dwell among men;

61And delivered His strength into captivity, And His glory into the adversary's hand.
62He gave His people over also unto the sword; And was wroth with His inheritance.
63Fire devoured their young men; And their virgins had no marriage-song.
64Their priests fell by the sword; And their widows made no lamentation.
65Then the Lord awaked as one asleep, Like a mighty man recovering from wine.
66And He smote His adversaries backward; He put upon them a perpetual reproach.
67Moreover He abhorred the tent of Joseph, And chose not the tribe of Ephraim;
68But chose the tribe of Judah, The mount Zion which He loved.
69And He built His sanctuary like the heights, Like the earth which He hath founded for ever.
70He chose David also His servant, And took him from the sheepfolds;
71From following the ewes that give suck He brought him, To be shepherd over Jacob His people, and Israel His inheritance.
72So he shepherded them according to the integrity of his heart; And lead them by the skilfulness of his hands.

A Prayer for Deliverance

(Psalm 74:1–23; Jeremiah 52:1–11)

1A Psalm of Asaph. O God, the heathen are come into Thine inheritance; They have defiled Thy holy temple; They have made Jerusalem into heaps.
2They have given the dead bodies of Thy servants to be food unto the fowls of the heaven, The flesh of Thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.
3They have shed their blood like water Round about Jerusalem, with none to bury them.
4We are become a taunt to our neighbours, A scorn and derision to them that are round about us.
5How long, O LORD, wilt Thou be angry for ever? How long will Thy jealousy burn like fire?
6Pour out Thy wrath upon the nations that know Thee not, And upon the kingdoms that call not upon Thy name.
7For they have devoured Jacob, And laid waste his habitation.

8Remember not against us the iniquities of our forefathers; Let Thy compassions speedily come to meet us; For we are brought very low.

9Help us, O God of our salvation, for the sake of the glory of Thy name; And deliver us, and forgive our sins, for Thy name's sake.

10Wherefore should the nations say: 'Where is their God?' Let the avenging of Thy servants' blood that is shed Be made known among the nations in our sight.

11Let the groaning of the prisoner come before Thee; According to the greatness of Thy power set free those that are appointed to death;

12And render unto our neighbours sevenfold into their bosom Their reproach, wherewith they have reproached Thee, O Lord.

13So we that are Thy people and the flock of Thy pasture Will give Thee thanks for ever; We will tell of Thy praise to all generations.

Hear Us, O Shepherd of Israel

1For the Leader; upon Shoshannim. A testimony. A Psalm of Asaph. Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel, Thou that leadest Joseph like a flock; Thou that art enthroned upon the cherubim, shine forth.

2Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh, stir up Thy might, And come to save us.

3O God, restore us; And cause Thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

4O LORD God of hosts, How long wilt Thou be angry against the prayer of Thy people?

5Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears, And given them tears to drink in large measure.

6Thou makest us a strife unto our neighbours; And our enemies mock as they please.

7O God of hosts, restore us; And cause Thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

8Thou didst pluck up a vine out of Egypt; Thou didst drive out the nations, and didst plant it.

9Thou didst clear a place before it, And it took deep root, and filled the land.

10The mountains were covered with the shadow of it, And the mighty cedars with the boughs thereof.

11She sent out her branches unto the sea, And her shoots unto the River.

12Why hast Thou broken down her fences, So that all they that pass by the way do pluck her?

13The boar out of the wood doth ravage it, That which moveth in the field feedeth on it.

14O God of hosts, return, we beseech Thee; Look from heaven, and behold, and be mindful of this vine, 15And of the stock which Thy right hand hath planted, And the branch that Thou madest strong for Thyself.

16It is burned with fire, it is cut down; They perish at the rebuke of Thy countenance.

17Let Thy hand be upon the man of Thy right hand, Upon the son of man whom Thou madest strong for Thyself.

18So shall we not turn back from Thee; Quicken Thou us, and we will call upon Thy name.

19O LORD God of hosts, restore us; Cause Thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

Sing for Joy to God Our Strength

1For the Leader; upon the Gittith. [A Psalm] of Asaph. Sing aloud unto God our strength; Shout unto the God of Jacob.

2Take up the melody, and sound the timbrel, The sweet harp with the psaltery.

3Blow the horn at the new moon, At the full moon for our feast-day.

4For it is a statute for Israel, An ordinance of the God of Jacob.

5He appointed it in Joseph for a testimony, When He went forth against the land of Egypt. The speech of one that I knew not did I hear:

6I removed his shoulder from the burden; His hands were freed from the basket.

7Thou didst call in trouble, and I rescued thee; I answered thee in the secret place of thunder; I proved thee at the waters of Meribah. Selah 8Hear, O My people, and I will admonish thee: O Israel, if thou wouldest hearken unto Me!

9There shall no strange god be in thee; neither shalt thou worship any foreign god.

10I am the LORD thy God, who brought thee up out of the land of Egypt; open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

11But My people hearkened not to My voice; And Israel would none of Me.

- 12 So I let them go after the stubbornness of their heart, That they might walk in their own counsels.
- 13 Oh that My people would hearken unto Me, That Israel would walk in My ways!
- 14 I would soon subdue their enemies, And turn My hand against their adversaries.
- 15 The haters of the LORD should dwindle away before Him; And their punishment should endure for ever.
- 16 They should also be fed with the fat of wheat; And with honey out of the rock would I satisfy thee.'

God Presides in the Divine Assembly

- 1 A Psalm of Asaph. God standeth in the congregation of God; In the midst of the judges He judgeth:
- 2 How long will ye judge unjustly, And respect the persons of the wicked? Selah
- 3 Judge the poor and fatherless; Do justice to the afflicted and destitute.
- 4 Rescue the poor and needy; Deliver them out of the hand of the wicked.
- 5 They know not, neither do they understand; They go about in darkness; All the foundations of the earth are moved.
- 6 I said: Ye are godlike beings, And all of you sons of the Most High.
- 7 Nevertheless ye shall die like men, And fall like one of the princes.'

O God, Be Not Silent

- 1 A Song, a Psalm of Asaph. O God, keep not Thou silence; Hold not Thy peace, and be not still, O God.
- 2 For, lo, Thine enemies are in an uproar; And they that hate Thee have lifted up the head.
- 3 They hold crafty converse against Thy people, And take counsel against Thy treasured ones.

4They have said: 'Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation; That the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance.'

5For they have consulted together with one consent; Against Thee do they make a covenant;

6The tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites; Moab, and the Hagrites;

7Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek; Philistia with the inhabitants of Tyre;

8Assyria also is joined with them; They have been an arm to the children of Lot. Selah

9Do Thou unto them as unto Midian; As to Sisera, as to Jabin, at the brook Kishon;

10Who were destroyed at En-dor; They became as dung for the earth.

11Make their nobles like Oreb and Zeeb, And like Zebah and Zalmunna all their princes;

12Who said: 'Let us take to ourselves in possession The habitations of God.'

13O my God, make them like the whirling dust; As stubble before the wind.

14As the fire that burneth the forest, And as the flame that setteth the mountains ablaze;

15So pursue them with Thy tempest, And affright them with Thy storm.

16Fill their faces with shame; That they may seek Thy name, O LORD.

17Let them be ashamed and affrighted for ever; Yea, let them be abashed and perish;

18That they may know that it is Thou alone whose name is the LORD, The Most High over all the earth.

Better Is One Day in Your Courts

(John 1:14–18)

1For the Leader; upon the Gittith. A Psalm of the sons of Korah. How lovely are Thy tabernacles, O LORD of hosts!

2My soul yearneth, yea, even pineth for the courts of the LORD; My heart and my flesh sing for joy unto the living God.

3Yea, the sparrow hath found a house, and the swallow a nest for herself, Where she may lay her young; Thine altars, O LORD of hosts, My King, and my God—

4Happy are they that dwell in Thy house, They are ever praising Thee. Selah

- 5Happy is the man whose strength is in Thee; In whose heart are the highways.
- 6Passing through the valley of Baca they make it a place of springs; Yea, the early rain clotheth it with blessings.
- 7They go from strength to strength, Every one of them appeareth before God in Zion.
- 8O LORD God of hosts, hear my prayer; Give ear, O God of Jacob. Selah
- 9Behold, O God our shield, And look upon the face of Thine anointed.
- 10For a day in Thy courts is better than a thousand; I had rather stand at the threshold of the house of my God, Than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.
- 11For the LORD God is a sun and a shield; The LORD giveth grace and glory; No good thing will He withhold from them that walk uprightly.
- 12O LORD of hosts, Happy is the man that trusteth in Thee.

You Showed Favor to Your Land

- 1For the Leader. A Psalm of the sons of Korah. LORD, Thou hast been favourable unto Thy land, Thou hast turned the captivity of Jacob.
- 2Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of Thy people, Thou hast pardoned all their sin. Selah
- 3Thou hast withdrawn all Thy wrath; Thou hast turned from the fierceness of Thine anger.
- 4Restore us, O God of our salvation, And cause Thine indignation toward us to cease.
- 5Wilt Thou be angry with us for ever? Wilt Thou draw out Thine anger to all generations?
- 6Wilt Thou not quicken us again, That Thy people may rejoice in Thee?
- 7Show us Thy mercy, O LORD, And grant us Thy salvation.
- 8I will hear what God the LORD will speak; For He will speak peace unto His people, and to His saints; But let them not turn back to folly.
- 9Surely His salvation is nigh them that fear Him; That glory may dwell in our land.
- 10Mercy and truth are met together; Righteousness and peace have kissed each other.
- 11Truth springeth out of the earth; And righteousness hath looked down from heaven.

12Yea, the LORD will give that which is good; And our land shall yield her produce.

13Righteousness shall go before Him, And shall make His footsteps a way.

Tried but Trusting

1A Prayer of David. Incline Thine ear, O LORD, and answer me; For I am poor and needy.

2Keep my soul, for I am godly; O Thou my God, save Thy servant that trusteth in Thee.

3Be gracious unto me, O Lord; For unto Thee do I cry all the day.

4Rejoice the soul of Thy servant; For unto Thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.

5For Thou, Lord, art good, and ready to pardon, And plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon Thee.

6Give ear, O LORD, unto my prayer; And attend unto the voice of my supplications.

7In the day of my trouble I call upon Thee; For Thou wilt answer me.

8There is none like unto Thee among the gods, O Lord, And there are no works like Thine.

9All nations whom Thou hast made shall come and prostrate themselves before Thee, O Lord; And they shall glorify Thy name.

10For Thou art great, and doest wondrous things; Thou art God alone.

11Teach me, O LORD, Thy way, that I may walk in Thy truth; Make one my heart to fear Thy name.

12I will thank Thee, O Lord my God, with my whole heart; And I will glorify Thy name for evermore.

13For great is Thy mercy toward me; And Thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest nether-world.

14O God, the proud are risen up against me, And the company of violent men have sought after my soul, And have not set Thee before them.

15But Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion and gracious, Slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy and truth.

16O turn unto me, and be gracious unto me; Give Thy strength unto Thy servant, And save the son of Thy handmaid.

17Work in my behalf a sign for good; That they that hate me may see it, and be put to shame, Because Thou, LORD, hast helped me, and comforted me.

The LORD Loves the Gates of Zion

1A Psalm of the sons of Korah; a Song. His foundation is in the holy mountains.

2The LORD loveth the gates of Zion More than all the dwellings of Jacob.

3Glorious things are spoken of Thee, O city of God. Selah

4I will make mention of Rahab and Babylon as among them that know Me; Behold Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia; This one was born there.'

5But of Zion it shall be said: 'This man and that was born in her; And the Most High Himself doth establish her.'

6The LORD shall count in the register of the peoples: 'This one was born there.' Selah 7And whether they sing or dance, All my thoughts are in Thee.

I Cry Out before You

1A Song, a Psalm of the sons of Korah; for the Leader; upon Mahalath Leannoth. Maschil of Heman the Ezrahite. O LORD, God of my salvation, What time I cry in the night before Thee, 2Let my prayer come before Thee, Incline Thine ear unto my cry.

3For my soul is sated with troubles, And my life draweth nigh unto the grave.

4I am counted with them that go down into the pit; I am become as a man that hath no help;

5Set apart among the dead, Like the slain that lie in the grave, Whom Thou rememberest no more; And they are cut off from Thy hand.

6Thou hast laid me in the nether-most pit, In dark places, in the deeps.

7Thy wrath lieth hard upon me, And all Thy waves Thou pressest down. Selah

8Thou hast put mine acquaintance far from me; Thou hast made me an abomination unto them; I am shut up, and I cannot come forth.

9 Mine eye languisheth by reason of affliction; I have called upon Thee, O LORD, every day, I have spread forth my hands unto Thee.

10 Wilt Thou work wonders for the dead? Or shall the shades arise and give Thee thanks? Selah

11 Shall Thy mercy be declared in the grave? Or Thy faithfulness in destruction?

12 Shall Thy wonders be known in the dark? And Thy righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?

13 But as for me, unto Thee, O LORD, do I cry, And in the morning doth my prayer come to meet Thee.

14 LORD, why castest Thou off my soul? Why hidest Thou Thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and at the point of death from my youth up; I have borne Thy terrors, I am distracted.

16 Thy fierce wrath is gone over me; Thy terrors have cut me off.

17 They came round about me like water all the day; They compassed me about together.

18 Friend and companion hast Thou put far from me, And mine acquaintance into darkness.

I Will Sing of His Love Forever

1 Maschil of Ethan the Ezrahite. I will sing of the mercies of the LORD for ever; To all generations will I make known Thy faithfulness with my mouth.

2 For I have said: 'For ever is mercy built; In the very heavens Thou dost establish Thy faithfulness.

3 I have made a covenant with My chosen, I have sworn unto David My servant:

4 For ever will I establish thy seed, And build up thy throne to all generations.' Selah

5 So shall the heavens praise Thy wonders, O LORD, Thy faithfulness also in the assembly of the holy ones.

6 For who in the skies can be compared unto the LORD, Who among the sons of might can be likened unto the LORD,

7 A God dreaded in the great council of the holy ones, And feared of all them that are about Him?

8 O LORD God of hosts, Who is a mighty one, like unto Thee, O LORD? And Thy faithfulness is round about Thee.

9 Thou rulest the proud swelling of the sea; When the waves thereof arise, Thou stillest them.

10Thou didst crush Rahab, as one that is slain; Thou didst scattered Thine enemies with the arm of Thy strength.

11Thine are the heavens, Thine also the earth; The world and the fulness thereof, Thou hast founded them.

12The north and the south, Thou hast created them; Tabor and Hermon rejoice in Thy name.

13Thine is an arm with might; Strong is Thy hand, and exalted is Thy right hand.

14Righteousness and justice are the foundation of Thy throne; Mercy and truth go before Thee.

15Happy is the people that know the joyful shout; They walk, O LORD, in the light of Thy countenance.

16In Thy name do they rejoice all the day; And through Thy righteousness are they exalted.

17For Thou art the glory of their strength; And in Thy favour our horn is exalted.

18For of the LORD is our shield; And the Holy One of Israel is our king.

19Then Thou spokest in vision to Thy godly ones, And saidst: 'I have laid help upon one that is mighty; I have exalted one chosen out of the people.

20I have found David My servant; With My holy oil have I anointed him;

21With whom My hand shall be established; Mine arm also shall strengthen him.

22The enemy shall not exact from him; Nor the son of wickedness afflict him.

23And I will beat to pieces his adversaries before him, And smite them that hate him.

24But My faithfulness and My mercy shall be with him; And through My name shall his horn be exalted.

25I will set his hand also on the sea, And his right hand on the rivers.

26He shall call unto Me: Thou art my Father, My God, and the rock of my salvation.

27I also will appoint him first-born, The highest of the kings of the earth.

28For ever will I keep for him My mercy, And My covenant shall stand fast with him.

29His seed also will I make to endure for ever, And his throne as the days of heaven.

30If his children forsake My law, And walk not in Mine ordinances;

31If they profane My statutes, And keep not My commandments;

32Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, And their iniquity with strokes.

33But My mercy will I not break off from him, Nor will I be false to My faithfulness.

34 My covenant will I not profane, Nor alter that which is gone out of My lips.

35 Once have I sworn by My holiness: Surely I will not be false unto David;

36 His seed shall endure for ever, And his throne as the sun before Me.

37 It shall be established for ever as the moon; And be steadfast as the witness in sky.' Selah

38 But Thou hast cast off and rejected, Thou hast been wroth with Thine anointed.

39 Thou hast abhorred the covenant of Thy servant; Thou hast profaned his crown even to the ground.

40 Thou hast broken down all his fences; Thou hast brought his strongholds to ruin.

41 All that pass by the way spoil him; He is become a taunt to his neighbours.

42 Thou hast exalted the right hand of his adversaries; Thou hast made all his enemies to rejoice.

43 Yea, Thou turnest back the edge of his sword, And hast not made him to stand in the battle.

44 Thou hast made his brightness to cease, And cast his throne down to the ground.

45 The days of his youth hast Thou shortened; Thou hast covered him with shame. Selah

46 How long, O LORD, wilt Thou hide Thyself for ever? How long shall Thy wrath burn like fire?

47 O remember how short my time is; For what vanity hast Thou created all the children of men!

48 What man is he that liveth and shall not see death, That shall deliver his soul from the power of the grave? Selah

49 Where are Thy former mercies, O Lord, Which Thou didst swear unto David in Thy faithfulness?

50 Remember, Lord, the taunt of Thy servants; How I do bear in my bosom [the taunt of] so many peoples;

51 Wherewith Thine enemies have taunted, O LORD, Wherewith they have taunted the footsteps of Thine anointed.

52 Blessed be the LORD for evermore. Amen, and Amen.

BOOK IV Psalms 90–106

From Everlasting to Everlasting

- 1A Prayer of Moses the man of God. Lord, Thou hast been our dwelling-place in all generations.
- 2Before the mountains were brought forth, Or ever Thou hadst formed the earth and the world, Even from everlasting to everlasting, Thou art God.
- 3Thou turnest man to contrition; And sayest: 'Return, ye children of men.'
- 4For a thousand years in Thy sight Are but as yesterday when it is past, And as a watch in the night.
- 5Thou carriest them away as with a flood; they are as a sleep; In the morning they are like grass which groweth up.
- 6In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up; In the evening it is cut down, and withereth.
- 7For we are consumed in Thine anger, And by Thy wrath are we hurried away.
- 8Thou hast set our iniquities before Thee, Our secret sins in the light of Thy countenance.
- 9For all our days are passed away in Thy wrath; We bring our years to an end as a tale that is told.
- 10The days of our years are threescore years and ten, Or even by reason of strength fourscore years; Yet is their pride but travail and vanity; For it is speedily gone, and we fly away.
- 11Who knoweth the power of Thine anger, And Thy wrath according to the fear that is due unto Thee?
- 12So teach us to number our days, That we may get us a heart of wisdom.
- 13Return, O LORD; how long? And let it repent Thee concerning Thy servants.
- 14O satisfy us in the morning with Thy mercy; That we may rejoice and be glad all our days.
- 15Make us glad according to the days wherein Thou hast afflicted us, According to the years wherein we have seen evil.
- 16Let Thy work appear unto Thy servants, And Thy glory upon their children.
- 17And let the graciousness of the Lord our God be upon us; Establish Thou also upon us the work of our hands; Yea, the work of our hands establish Thou it.

You Are My Refuge and My Fortress

- 1O thou that dwellest in the covert of the Most High, And abidest in the shadow of the Almighty;
- 2I will say of the LORD, who is my refuge and my fortress, My God, in whom I trust,

- 3That He will deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, And from the noisome pestilence.
- 4He will cover thee with His pinions, And under His wings shalt thou take refuge; His truth is a shield and a buckler.
- 5Thou shalt not be afraid of the terror by night, Nor of the arrow that flieth by day;
- 6Of the pestilence that walketh in darkness, Nor of the destruction that wasteth at noonday.
- 7A thousand may fall at Thy side, And ten thousand at Thy right hand; It shall not come nigh thee.
- 8Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold, And see the recompense of the wicked.
- 9For thou hast made the LORD who is my refuge, Even the Most High, thy habitation.
- 10There shall no evil befall thee, Neither shall any plague come nigh thy tent.
- 11For He will give His angels charge over thee, To keep thee in all thy ways.
- 12They shall bear thee upon their hands, Lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.
- 13Thou shalt tread upon the lion and asp; The young lion and the serpent shalt thou trample under feet.
- 14Because he hath set his love upon Me, therefore will I deliver him; I will set him on high, because he hath known My name.
- 15He shall call upon Me, and I will answer him; I will be with him in trouble; I will rescue him, and bring him to honour.
- 16With long life will I satisfy him, And make Him to behold My salvation.'

How Great Are Your Works!

- 1A Psalm, a Song. For the sabbath day. It is a good thing to give thanks unto the LORD, And to sing praises unto Thy name, O Most High;
- 2To declare Thy lovingkindness in the morning, And Thy faithfulness in the night seasons,
- 3With an instrument of ten strings, and with the psaltery; With a solemn sound upon the harp.
- 4For Thou, LORD, hast made me glad through Thy work; I will exult in the works of Thy hands.
- 5How great are Thy works, O LORD! Thy thoughts are very deep.

6A brutish man knoweth not, Neither doth a fool understand this.

7When the wicked spring up as the grass, And when all the workers of iniquity do flourish; It is that they may be destroyed for ever.

8But Thou, O LORD, art on high for evermore.

9For, lo, Thine enemies, O LORD, For, lo, Thine enemies shall perish: All the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.

10But my horn hast Thou exalted like the horn of the wild-ox; I am anointed with rich oil.

11Mine eye also hath gazed on them that lie in wait for me, Mine ears have heard my desire of the evil-doers that rise up against me.

12The righteous shall flourish like the palm-tree; He shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13Planted in the house of the LORD, They shall flourish in the courts of our God.

14They shall still bring forth fruit in old age; They shall be full of sap and richness;

15To declare that the LORD is upright, My Rock, in whom there is no unrighteousness.

The LORD Reigns!

(Psalm 99:1–9)

1The LORD reigneth; He is clothed in majesty; The LORD is clothed, He hath girded Himself with strength; Yea, the world is established, that it cannot be moved.

2Thy throne is established of old; Thou art from everlasting.

3The floods have lifted up, O LORD, The floods have lifted up their voice; The floods lift up their roaring.

4Above the voices of many waters, The mighty breakers of the sea, The LORD on high is mighty.

5Thy testimonies are very sure, Holiness becometh Thy house, O LORD, for evermore.

The LORD Will Not Forget His People

1O LORD, Thou God to whom vengeance belongeth, Thou God to whom vengeance belongeth, shine forth.

2Lift up Thyself, Thou Judge of the earth; Render to the proud their recompense.

3LORD, how long shall the wicked, How long shall the wicked exult?

4They gush out, they speak arrogancy; All the workers of iniquity bear themselves loftily.

5They crush Thy people, O LORD, And afflict Thy heritage.

6They slay the widow and the stranger, And murder the fatherless.

7And they say: 'The LORD will not see, Neither will the God of Jacob give heed.'

8Consider, ye brutish among the people; And ye fools, when will ye understand?

9He that planted the ear, shall He not hear? He that formed the eye, shall He not see?

10He that instructeth nations, shall not He correct? Even He that teacheth man knowledge?

11The LORD knoweth the thoughts of man, That they are vanity.

12Happy is the man whom Thou instructest, O LORD, And teachest out of Thy law;

13That Thou mayest give him rest from the days of evil, Until the pit be digged for the wicked.

14For the LORD will not cast off His people, Neither will He forsake His inheritance.

15For right shall return unto justice, And all the upright in heart shall follow it.

16Who will rise up for me against the evil-doers? Who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?

17Unless the LORD had been my help, My soul had soon dwelt in silence.

18If I say: 'My foot slippeth', Thy mercy, O LORD, holdeth me up.

19When my cares are many within me, Thy comforts delight my soul.

20Shall the seat of wickedness have fellowship with Thee, Which frameth mischief by statute?

21They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous, And condemn innocent blood.

22But the LORD hath been my high tower, And my God the rock of my refuge.

23And He hath brought upon them their own iniquity, And will cut them off in their own evil; The LORD our God will cut them off.

Do Not Harden Your Hearts

(Hebrews 3:7–11)

- 1 O come, let us sing unto the LORD; Let us shout for joy to the Rock of our salvation.
- 2 Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving, Let us shout for joy unto Him with psalms.
- 3 For the LORD is a great God, And a great King above all gods;
- 4 In whose hand are the depths of the earth; The heights of the mountains are His also.
- 5 The sea is His, and He made it; And His hands formed the dry land.
- 6 O come, let us bow down and bend the knee; Let us kneel before the LORD our Maker;
- 7 For He is our God, And we are the people of His pasture, and the flock of His hand. To-day, if ye would but hearken to His voice!
- 8 Harden not your heart, as at Meribah, As in the day of Massah in the wilderness;
- 9 When your fathers tried Me, Proved Me, even though they saw My work.
- 10 For forty years was I wearied with that generation, And said: It is a people that do err in their heart, And they have not known My ways;
- 11 Wherefore I swore in My wrath, That they should not enter into My rest.'

Sing to the LORD, All the Earth

(1 Chronicles 16:23–36)

- 1 O sing unto the LORD a new song; Sing unto the LORD, all the earth.
- 2 Sing unto the LORD, bless His name; Proclaim His salvation from day to day.
- 3 Declare His glory among the nations, His marvellous works among all the peoples.
- 4 For great is the LORD, and highly to be praised; He is to be feared above all gods.
- 5 For all the gods of the peoples are things of nought; But the LORD made the heavens.
- 6 Honour and majesty are before Him; Strength and beauty are in His sanctuary.

- 7Ascribe unto the LORD, ye kindreds of the peoples, Ascribe unto the LORD glory and strength.
- 8Ascribe unto the LORD the glory due unto His name; Bring an offering, and come into His courts.
- 9O worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness; Tremble before Him, all the earth.
- 10Say among the nations: 'The LORD reigneth.' The world also is established that it cannot be moved; He will judge the peoples with equity.
- 11Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice; Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof;
- 12Let the field exult; and all that is therein; Then shall all the trees of the wood sing for joy;

Let the Earth Rejoice

- 1The LORD reigneth; let the earth rejoice; Let the multitude of isles be glad.
- 2Clouds and darkness are round about Him; Righteousness and justice are the foundation of His throne.
- 3A fire goeth before Him, And burneth up His adversaries round about.
- 4His lightnings lighted up the world; The earth saw, and trembled.
- 5The mountains melted like wax at the presence of the LORD, At the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.
- 6The heavens declared His righteousness, And all the peoples saw His glory.
- 7Ashamed be all they that serve graven images, That boast themselves of things of nought; Bow down to Him, all ye gods.
- 8Zion heard and was glad, And the daughters of Judah rejoiced; Because of Thy judgments, O LORD.
- 9For Thou, LORD, art most high above all the earth; Thou art exalted far above all gods.
- 10O ye that love the LORD, hate evil; He preserveth the souls of His saints; He delivered them out of the hand of the wicked.
- 11Light is sown for the righteous, And gladness for the upright in heart.

I Will Set No Worthless Thing before My Eyes

¹A Psalm of David. I will sing of mercy and justice; Unto Thee, O LORD, will I sing praises.

²I will give heed unto the way of integrity; Oh when wilt Thou come unto me? I will walk within my house in the integrity of my heart.

³I will set no base thing before mine eyes; I hate the doing of things crooked; it shall not cleave unto me.

⁴A perverse heart shall depart from me; I will know no evil thing.

5Whoso slandereth his neighbour in secret, him will I destroy; Whoso is haughty of eye and proud of heart, him will I not suffer.

6Mine eyes are upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me; He that walketh in a way of integrity, he shall minister unto me.

7He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house; He that speaketh falsehood shall not be established before mine eyes.

8Morning by morning will I destroy all the wicked of the land; To cut off all the workers of iniquity from the city of the LORD.

The Prayer of the Afflicted

1A Prayer of the afflicted, when he fainteth, and poureth out his complaint before the LORD. O LORD, hear my prayer, And let my cry come unto Thee.

2Hide not Thy face from me in the day of my distress; Incline Thine ear unto me; In the day when I call answer me speedily.

3For my days are consumed like smoke, And my bones are burned as a hearth.

4My heart is smitten like grass, and withered; For I forget to eat my bread.

5By reason of the voice of my sighing My bones cleave to my flesh.

6I am like a pelican of the wilderness; I am become as an owl of the waste places.

7I watch, and am become Like a sparrow that is alone upon the housetop.

8Mine enemies taunt me all the day; They that are mad against me do curse by me.

9For I have eaten ashes like bread, And mingled my drink with weeping, 10Because of Thine indignation and Thy wrath; For Thou hast taken me up, and cast me away.

11My days are like a lengthening shadow; And I am withered like grass.

12But Thou, O LORD, sittest enthroned for ever; And Thy name is unto all generations.

13Thou wilt arise, and have compassion upon Zion; For it is time to be gracious unto her, for the appointed time is come.

14For Thy servants take pleasure in her stones, And love her dust.

- 15 So the nations will fear the name of the LORD, And all the kings of the earth Thy glory;
- 16 When the LORD hath built up Zion, When He hath appeared in His glory;
- 17 When He hath regarded the prayer of the destitute, And hath not despised their prayer.
- 18 This shall be written for the generation to come; And a people which shall be created shall praise the LORD.
- 19 For He hath looked down from the height of His sanctuary; From heaven did the LORD behold the earth;
- 20 To hear the groaning of the prisoner; To loose those that are appointed to death;
- 21 That men may tell of the name of the LORD in Zion, And His praise in Jerusalem;
- 22 When the peoples are gathered together, And the kingdoms, to serve the LORD.
- 23 He weakened my strength in the way; He shortened my days.
- 24 I say: 'O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days, Thou whose years endure throughout all generations.
- 25 Of old Thou didst lay the foundation of the earth; And the heavens are the work of Thy hands.
- 26 They shall perish, but Thou shalt endure; Yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment; As a vesture shalt Thou change them, and they shall pass away;
- 27 But Thou art the selfsame, And Thy years shall have no end.
- 28 The children of Thy servants shall dwell securely, And their seed shall be established before Thee.'

Bless the LORD, O My Soul

- 1 [A Psalm] of David. Bless the LORD, O my soul; And all that is within me, bless His holy name.
- 2 Bless the LORD, O my soul, And forget not all His benefits;
- 3 Who forgiveth all thine iniquity; Who healeth all Thy diseases;
- 4 Who redeemeth Thy life from the pit; Who encompasseth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies;
- 5 Who satisfieth thine old age with good things; So that Thy youth is renewed like the eagle.

- 6The LORD executeth righteousness, And acts of justice for all that are oppressed.
- 7He made known His ways unto Moses, His doings unto the children of Israel.
- 8The LORD is full of compassion and gracious, Slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.
- 9He will not always contend; Neither will He keep His anger for ever.
- 10He hath not dealt with us after our sins, Nor requited us according to our iniquities.
- 11For as the heaven is high above the earth, So great is His mercy toward them that fear Him.
- 12As far as the east is from the west, So far hath He removed our transgressions from us.
- 13Like as a father hath compassion upon his children, So hath the LORD compassion upon them that fear Him.
- 14For He knoweth our frame; He remembereth that we are dust.
- 15As for man, his days are as grass; As a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.
- 16For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone; And the place thereof knoweth it no more.
- 17But the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear Him, And His righteousness unto children's children;
- 18To such as keep His covenant, And to those that remember His precepts to do them.
- 19The LORD hath established His throne in the heavens; And His kingdom ruleth over all.
- 20Bless the LORD, ye angels of His, Ye mighty in strength, that fulfil His word, Harkening unto the voice of His word.
- 21Bless the LORD, all ye His hosts; Ye ministers of His, that do His pleasure.
- 22Bless the LORD, all ye His works, In all places of His dominion; Bless the LORD, O my soul.

How Many Are Your Works, O LORD!

- 1Bless the LORD, O my soul. O LORD my God, Thou art very great; Thou art clothed with glory and majesty.
- 2Who coverest Thyself with light as with a garment, Who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain;

3Who layest the beams of Thine upper chambers in the waters, Who makest the clouds Thy chariot,
Who walkest upon the wings of the wind;

4Who makest winds Thy messengers, The flaming fire Thy ministers.

5Who didst establish the earth upon its foundations, That it should not be moved for ever and ever;

6Thou didst cover it with the deep as with a vesture; The waters stood above the mountains.

7At Thy rebuke they fled, At the voice of Thy thunder they hasted away—

8The mountains rose, the valleys sank down—Unto the place which Thou hadst founded for them;

9Thou didst set a bound which they should not pass over, That they might not return to cover the earth.

10Who sendest forth springs into the valleys; They run between the mountains;

11They give drink to every beast of the field, The wild asses quench their thirst.

12Beside them dwell the fowl of the heaven, From among the branches they sing.

13Who waterest the mountains from Thine upper chambers; The earth is full of the fruit of Thy works.

14Who causeth the grass to spring up for the cattle, And herb for the service of man; To bring forth bread out of the earth, 15And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, Making the face brighter than oil, And bread that stayeth man's heart.

16The trees of the LORD have their fill, The cedars of Lebanon, which He hath planted;

17Wherein the birds make their nests; As for the stork, the fir-trees are her house.

18The high mountains are for the wild goats; The rocks are a refuge for the conies.

19Who appointedst the moon for seasons; The sun knoweth his going down.

20Thou makest darkness, and it is night, Wherein all the beasts of the forest do creep forth.

21The young lions roar after their prey, And seek their food from God.

22The sun ariseth, they slink away, And couch in their dens.

23Man goeth forth unto his work And to his labour until the evening.

24How manifold are Thy works, O LORD! In wisdom hast Thou made them all; The earth is full of Thy creatures.

25Yonder sea, great and wide, Therein are creeping things innumerable, Living creatures, both small and great.

26There go the ships; There is leviathan, whom Thou hast formed to sport therein.

27All of them wait for Thee, That Thou mayest give them their food in due season.

28Thou givest it unto them, they gather it; Thou openest Thy hand, they are satisfied with good.

29Thou hidest Thy face, they vanish; Thou withdrawest their breath, they perish, And return to their dust.

30Thou sendest forth Thy spirit, they are created; And Thou renewest the face of the earth.

31May the glory of the LORD endure for ever; Let the LORD rejoice in His works!

32Who looketh on the earth, and it trembleth; He toucheth the mountains, and they smoke.

33I will sing unto the LORD as long as I live; I will sing praise to my God while I have any being.

34Let my musing be sweet unto Him; As for me, I will rejoice in the LORD.

35Let sinners cease out of the earth, And let the wicked be no more. Bless the LORD, O my soul. Hallelujah.

Tell of His Wonders

(1 Chronicles 16:7–22)

1O give thanks unto the LORD, call upon His name; Make known His doings among the peoples.

2Sing unto Him, sing praises unto Him; Speak ye of all His marvellous works.

3Glory ye in His holy name; Let the heart of them rejoice that seek the LORD.

4Seek ye the LORD and His strength; Seek His face continually.

5Remember His marvellous works that He hath done, His wonders, and the judgments of His mouth;

6O ye seed of Abraham His servant, Ye children of Jacob, His chosen ones.

7He is the LORD our God; His judgments are in all the earth.

8He hath remembered His covenant for ever, The word which He commanded to a thousand generations;

9[The covenant] which He made with Abraham, And His oath unto Isaac;

10And He established it unto Jacob for a statute, To Israel for an everlasting covenant;

11Saying: 'Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, The lot of your inheritance.'

12When they were but a few men in number. Yea, very few, and sojourners in it,

13And when they went about from nation to nation, From one kingdom to another people,

14He suffered no man to do them wrong, Yea, for their sake He reprov'd kings:

15Touch not Mine anointed ones, And do My prophets no harm.'

16And He called a famine upon the land; He broke the whole staff of bread.

17He sent a man before them; Joseph was sold for a servant;

18His feet they hurt with fetters, His person was laid in iron;

19Until the time that his word came to pass, The word of the LORD tested him.

20The king sent and loosed him; Even the ruler of the peoples, and set him free.

21He made him lord of his house, And ruler of all his possessions;

22To bind his princes at his pleasure, And teach his elders wisdom.

23Israel also came into Egypt; And Jacob sojourn'd in the land of Ham.

24And He increased His people greatly, And made them too mighty for their adversaries.

25He turned their heart to hate His people, To deal craftily with His servants.

26He sent Moses His servant, And Aaron whom He had chosen.

27They wrought among them His manifold signs, And wonders in the land of Ham.

28He sent darkness, and it was dark; And they rebelled not against His word.

29He turned their waters into blood, And slew their fish.

30Their land swarmed with frogs, In the chambers of their kings.

31He spoke, and there came swarms of flies, And gnats in all their borders.

32He gave them hail for rain, And flaming fire in their land.

33He smote their vines also and their fig-trees; And broke the trees of their borders.

34He spoke, and the locust came, And the canker-worm without number,
35And did eat up every herb in their land, And did eat up the fruit of their ground.
36He smote also all the first-born in their land, The first-fruits of all their strength.
37And He brought them forth with silver and gold; And there was none that stumbled among His tribes.
38Egypt was glad when they departed; For the fear of them had fallen upon them.
39He spread a cloud for a screen; And fire to give light in the night.
40They asked, and He brought quails, And gave them in plenty the bread of heaven.
41He opened the rock, and waters gushed out; They ran, a river in the dry places.
42For He remembered His holy word Unto Abraham His servant;
43And He brought forth His people with joy, His chosen ones with singing.
44And He gave them the lands of the nations, And they took the labour of the peoples in possession;
45That they might keep His statutes, And observe His laws. Hallelujah.

Give Thanks to the LORD, for He Is Good

1Hallelujah. O give thanks unto the LORD; for He is good; For His mercy endureth for ever.
2Who can express the mighty acts of the LORD, Or make all His praise to be heard?
3Happy are they that keep justice, That do righteousness at all times.
4Remember me, O LORD, when Thou favourest Thy people; O think of me at Thy salvation;
5That I may behold the prosperity of Thy chosen, That I may rejoice in the gladness of Thy nation,
That I may glory with Thine inheritance.
6We have sinned with our fathers, We have done iniquitously, we have dealt wickedly.
7Our fathers in Egypt gave no heed unto Thy wonders; They remembered not the multitude of Thy mercies;
But were rebellious at the sea, even at the Red Sea.
8Nevertheless He saved them for His name's sake, That He might make His mighty power to be known.

9And He rebuked the Red Sea, and it was dried up; And He led them through the depths, as through a wilderness.

10And He saved them from the hand of him that hated them, And redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.

12Then believed they His words; They sang His praise.

13They soon forgot His works; They waited not for His counsel;

14But lusted exceedingly in the wilderness, And tried God in the desert.

15And He gave them their request; But sent leanness into their soul.

16They were jealous also of Moses in the camp, And of Aaron the holy one of the LORD.

17The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, And covered the company of Abiram.

18And a fire was kindled in their company; The flame burned up the wicked.

19They made a calf in Horeb, And worshipped a molten image.

20Thus they exchanged their glory For the likeness of an ox that eateth grass.

21They forgot God their saviour, Who had done great things in Egypt;

22Wondrous works in the land of Ham, Terrible things by the Red Sea.

23Therefore He said that He would destroy them, Had not Moses His chosen stood before Him in the breach, To turn back His wrath, lest He should destroy them.

24Moreover, they scorned the desirable land, They believed not His word;

25And they murmured in their tents, They hearkened not unto the voice of the LORD.

26Therefore He swore concerning them, That He would overthrow them in the wilderness;

27And that He would cast out their seed among the nations, And scatter them in the lands.

28They joined themselves also unto Baal of Peor, And ate the sacrifices of the dead.

29Thus they provoked Him with their doings, And the plague broke in upon them.

30Then stood up Phinehas, and wrought judgment, And so the plague was stayed.

31And that was counted unto him for righteousness, Unto all generations for ever.

32They angered Him also at the waters of Meribah, And it went ill with Moses because of them;

33 For they embittered his spirit, And he spoke rashly with his lips.
34 They did not destroy the peoples, As the LORD commanded them;
35 But mingled themselves with the nations, And learned their works;
36 And they served their idols, Which became a snare unto them;
37 Yea, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto demons,
38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, Whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan; And the land was polluted with blood.
39 Thus were they defiled with their works, And went astray in their doings.
40 Therefore was the wrath of the LORD kindled against His people, And He abhorred His inheritance.
41 And He gave them into the hand of the nations; And they that hated them ruled over them.
42 Their enemies also oppressed them, And they were subdued under their hand.
43 Many times did He deliver them; But they were rebellious in their counsel, And sank low through their iniquity.
44 Nevertheless He looked upon their distress, When He heard their cry;
45 And He remembered for them His covenant, And repented according to the multitude of His mercies.
46 He made them also to be pitied Of all those that carried them captive.
47 Save us, O LORD our God, And gather us from among the nations, That we may give thanks unto Thy holy name, That we may triumph in Thy praise.
48 Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, From everlasting even to everlasting, And let all the people say: 'Amen.' Hallelujah.

BOOK V Psalms 107–150

Thanksgiving for Deliverance

(Matthew 8:23–27; Mark 4:35–41; Luke 8:22–25)

1 O give thanks unto the LORD, for He is good, For His mercy endureth for ever.
2 So let the redeemed of the LORD say, Whom He hath redeemed from the hand of the adversary;

3And gathered them out of the lands, From the east and from the west, From the north and from the sea.

4They wandered in the wilderness in a desert way; They found no city of habitation.

5Hungry and thirsty, Their soul fainted in them.

6Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, And He delivered them out of their distresses.

7And He led them by a straight way, That they might go to a city of habitation.

8Let them give thanks unto the LORD for His mercy, And for His wonderful works to the children of men!

9For He hath satisfied the longing soul, And the hungry soul He hath filled with good.

10Such as sat in darkness and in the shadow of death, Being bound in affliction and iron—

11Because they rebelled against the words of God, And contemned the counsel of the Most High.

12Therefore He humbled their heart with travail, They stumbled, and there was none to help—

13They cried unto the LORD in their trouble, And He saved them out of their distresses.

14He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, And broke their bands in sunder.

15Let them give thanks unto the LORD for His mercy, And for His wonderful works to the children of men!

16For He hath broken the gates of brass, And cut the bars of iron in sunder.

17Crazed because of the way of their transgression, And afflicted because of their iniquities—

18Their soul abhorred all manner of food, And they drew near unto the gates of death—

19They cried unto the LORD in their trouble, And He saved them out of their distresses;

20He sent His word, and healed them, And delivered them from their graves.

21Let them give thanks unto the LORD for His mercy, And for His wonderful works to the children of men!

22And let them offer the sacrifices of thanksgiving, And declare His works with singing.

23They that go down to the sea in ships, That do business in great waters—

24These saw the works of the LORD, And His wonders in the deep;

25For He commanded, and raised the stormy wind, Which lifted up the waves thereof;

26 They mounted up to the heaven, they went down to the deeps; Their soul melted away because of trouble;

27 They reeled to and fro, and staggered like a drunken man, And all their wisdom was swallowed up—

28 They cried unto the LORD in their trouble, And He brought them out of their distresses.

29 He made the storm a calm, So that the waves thereof were still.

30 Then were they glad because they were quiet, And He led them unto their desired haven.

31 Let them give thanks unto the LORD for His mercy, And for His wonderful works to the children of men!

32 Let them exalt Him also in the assembly of the people, And praise Him in the seat of the elders.

33 He turneth rivers into a wilderness, And watersprings into a thirsty ground;

34 A fruitful land into a salt waste, For the wickedness of them that dwell therein.

35 He turneth a wilderness into a pool of water, And a dry land into watersprings.

36 And there He maketh the hungry to dwell, And they establish a city of habitation;

37 And sow fields, and plant vineyards, Which yield fruits of increase.

38 He blesseth them also, so that they are multiplied greatly, And suffereth not their cattle to decrease.

39 Again, they are minished and dwindle away Through oppression of evil and sorrow.

40 He poureth contempt upon princes, And causeth them to wander in the waste, where there is no way.

41 Yet setteth He the needy on high from affliction, And maketh his families like a flock.

42 The upright see it, and are glad; And all iniquity stoppeth her mouth.

43 Whoso is wise, let him observe these things, And let them consider the mercies of the LORD.

Israel's Kingdom Blessing

(Psalm 57:1–11; Psalm 60:1–12)

1 A Song, a Psalm of David. My heart is steadfast, O God; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises, even with my glory.

- 2Awake, psaltery and harp; I will awake the dawn.
- 3I will give thanks unto Thee, O LORD, among the peoples; And I will sing praises unto Thee among the nations.
- 4For Thy mercy is great above the heavens, And Thy truth reacheth unto the skies.
- 5Be Thou exalted, O God, above the heavens; And Thy glory be above all the earth.
- 6That Thy beloved may be delivered, Save with Thy right hand, and answer me.
- 7God spoke in His holiness, that I would exult; That I would divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.
- 8Gilead is mine, Manasseh is mine; Ephraim also is the defence of my head; Judah is my sceptre.
- 9Moab is my washpot; Upon Edom do I cast my shoe; Over Philistia do I cry aloud.
- 10Who will bring me into the fortified city? Who will lead me unto Edom?
- 11Hast not Thou cast us off, O God? And Thou goest not forth, O God, with our hosts?
- 12Give us help against the adversary; For vain is the help of man.
- 13Through God we shall do valiantly; For He it is that will tread down our adversaries.

The Song of the Slandered

- 1For the Leader. A Psalm of David. O God of my praise, keep not silence;
- 2For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of deceit have they opened against me; They have spoken unto me with a lying tongue.
- 3They compassed me about also with words of hatred, And fought against me without a cause.
- 4In return for my love they are my adversaries; But I am all prayer.
- 5And they have laid upon me evil for good, And hatred for my love:
- 6Set Thou a wicked man over him; And let an adversary stand at his right hand.
- 7When he is judged, let him go forth condemned; And let his prayer be turned into sin.
- 8Let his days be few; Let another take his charge.

9Let his children be fatherless, And his wife a widow.

10Let his children be vagabonds, and beg; And let them seek their bread out of their desolate places.

11Let the creditor distraint all that he hath; And let strangers make spoil of his labour.

12Let there be none to extend kindness unto him; Neither let there be any to be gracious unto his fatherless children.

13Let his posterity be cut off; In the generation following let their name be blotted out.

14Let the iniquity of his fathers be brought to remembrance unto the LORD; And let not the sin of his mother be blotted out.

15Let them be before the LORD continually, That He may cut off the memory of them from the earth.

16Because that he remembered not to do kindness, But persecuted the poor and needy man, And the broken in heart he was ready to slay.

17Yea, he loved cursing, and it came unto him; And he delighted not in blessing, and it is far from him.

18He clothed himself also with cursing as with his raiment, And it is come into his inward parts like water, And like oil into his bones.

19Let it be unto him as the garment which he putteth on, And for the girdle wherewith he is girded continually.'

20This would mine adversaries effect from the LORD, And they that speak evil against my soul.

21But Thou, O GOD the Lord, deal with me for Thy name's sake; Because Thy mercy is good, deliver Thou me.

22For I am poor and needy, And my heart is wounded within me.

23I am gone like the shadow when it lengtheneth; I am shaken off as the locust.

24My knees totter through fasting; And my flesh is lean, and hath no fatness.

25I am become also a taunt unto them; When they see me, they shake their head.

26Help me, O LORD my God; O save me according to Thy mercy;

27That they may know that this is Thy hand; That Thou, LORD, hast done it.

28Let them curse, but bless Thou; When they arise, they shall be put to shame, but Thy servant shall rejoice.

29Mine adversaries shall be clothed with confusion, And shall put on their own shame as a robe.

30I will give great thanks unto the LORD with my mouth; Yea, I will praise Him among the multitude;

31 Because He standeth at the right hand of the needy, To save him from them that judge his soul.

God's Faithful Messiah

(Genesis 14:17–24; Hebrews 5:1–10)

1 A Psalm of David. The LORD saith unto my lord: 'Sit thou at My right hand, Until I make thine enemies thy footstool.'

2 The rod of Thy strength the LORD will send out of Zion: 'Rule thou in the midst of thine enemies.'

3 Thy people offer themselves willingly in the day of thy warfare; In adornments of holiness, from the womb of the dawn, Thine is the dew of thy youth.

4 The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent: 'Thou art a priest for ever After the manner of Melchizedek.'

5 The Lord at thy right hand Doth crush kings in the day of His wrath.

6 He will judge among the nations; He filleth it with the dead bodies, He crusheth the head over a wide land.

7 He will drink of the brook in the way; Therefore will he lift up the head.

Majestic Is His Work

1 Hallelujah. I will give thanks unto the LORD with my whole heart, In the council of the upright, and in the congregation.

λ

2 The works of the LORD are great, Sought out of all them that have delight therein.

η

3 His work is glory and majesty; And His righteousness endureth for ever.

ι

4 He hath made a memorial for His wonderful works; The LORD is gracious and full of compassion.

ו

⁵He hath given food unto them that fear Him; He will ever be mindful of His covenant.

ז

⁶He hath declared to His people the power of His works, In giving them the heritage of the nations.

ח

⁷The works of His hands are truth and justice; All His precepts are sure.

ט

⁸They are established for ever and ever, They are done in truth and uprightness.

י

⁹He hath sent redemption unto His people; He hath commanded His covenant for ever; Holy and awful is His name.

To Your Name Be the Glory

(Psalm 135:1–21)

¹Not unto us, O LORD, not unto us, But unto Thy name give glory, For Thy mercy, and for Thy truth's sake.

²Wherefore should the nations say: 'Where is now their God?'

³But our God is in the heavens; Whatsoever pleased Him He hath done.

⁴Their idols are silver and gold, The work of men's hands.

⁵They have mouths, but they speak not; Eyes have they, but they see not;

⁶They have ears, but they hear not; Noses have they, but they smell not;

7They have hands, but they handle not; Feet have they, but they walk not; Neither speak they with their throat.

8They that make them shall be like unto them; Yea, every one that trusteth in them.

9O Israel, trust thou in the LORD! He is their help and their shield!

10O house of Aaron, trust ye in the LORD! He is their help and their shield!

11Ye that fear the LORD, trust in the LORD! He is their help and their shield.

12The LORD hath been mindful of us, He will bless—He will bless the house of Israel; He will bless the house of Aaron.

13He will bless them that fear the LORD, Both small and great.

14The LORD increase you more and more, You and your children.

15Blessed be ye of the LORD Who made heaven and earth.

16The heavens are the heavens of the LORD; But the earth hath He given to the children of men.

17The dead praise not the LORD, Neither any that go down into silence;

18But we will bless the LORD From this time forth and for ever. Hallelujah.

The LORD Has Heard My Voice

1I love that the LORD should hear My voice and my supplications.

2Because He hath inclined His ear unto me, Therefore will I call upon Him all my days.

3The cords of death compassed me, And the straits of the nether-world got hold upon me; I found trouble and sorrow.

4But I called upon the name of the LORD: 'I beseech thee, O LORD, deliver my soul.'

5Gracious is the LORD, and righteous; Yea, our God is compassionate.

6The LORD preserveth the simple; I was brought low, and He saved me.

7Return, O my soul, unto Thy rest; For the LORD hath dealt bountifully with thee.

8For thou hast delivered my soul from death, Mine eyes from tears, And my feet from stumbling.

9I shall walk before the LORD In the lands of the living.

10I trusted even when I spoke: 'I am greatly afflicted.'

11I said in my haste: 'All men are liars.'

12How can I repay unto the LORD All His bountiful dealings toward me?

13I will lift up the cup of salvation, And call upon the name of the LORD.

14My vows will I pay unto the LORD, Yea, in the presence of all His people.

15Precious in the sight of the LORD Is the death of His saints.

16I beseech Thee, O LORD, for I am Thy servant; I am Thy servant, the son of Thy handmaid; Thou hast loosed my bands.

17I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, And will call upon the name of the LORD.

18I will pay my vows unto the LORD, Yea, in the presence of all His people;

19In the courts of the LORD'S house, In the midst of thee, O Jerusalem. Hallelujah.

Psalm 117

Extol Him, All You Peoples

1O praise the LORD, all ye nations; Laud Him, all ye peoples.

2For His mercy is great toward us; And the truth of the LORD endureth for ever. Hallelujah.

Psalm 118

JPS [Online]

The LORD Is on My Side

1O give thanks unto the LORD, for He is good, For His mercy endureth for ever.

2So let Israel now say, For His mercy endureth for ever,

3So let the house of Aaron now say, For His mercy endureth for ever.

4So let them now that fear the LORD say, For His mercy endureth for ever.

- 5Out of my straits I called upon the LORD; He answered me with great enlargement.
- 6The LORD is for me; I will not fear; What can man do unto me?
- 7The LORD is for me as my helper; And I shall gaze upon them that hate me.
- 8It is better to take refuge in the LORD Than to trust in man.
- 9It is better to take refuge in the LORD Than to trust in princes.
- 10All nations compass me about; Verily, in the name of the LORD I will cut them off.
- 11They compass me about, yea, they compass me about; Verily, in the name of the LORD I will cut them off.
- 12They compass me about like bees; They are quenched as the fire of thorns; Verily, in the name of the LORD I will cut them off.
- 13Thou didst thrust sore at me that I might fall; But the LORD helped me.
- 14The LORD is my strength and song; And He is become my salvation.
- 15The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tents of the righteous; The right hand of the LORD doeth valiantly.
- 16The right hand of the LORD is exalted; The right hand of the LORD doeth valiantly.
- 17I shall not die, but live, And declare the works of the LORD.
- 18The LORD hath chastened me sore; But He hath not given me over unto death.
- 19Open to me the gates of righteousness; I will enter into them, I will give thanks unto the LORD.
- 20This is the gate of the LORD; The righteous shall enter into it.
- 21I will give thanks unto Thee, for Thou hast answered me, And art become my salvation.
- 22The stone which the builders rejected Is become the chief corner-stone.
- 23This is the LORD'S doing; It is marvellous in our eyes.
- 24This is the day which the LORD hath made; We will rejoice and be glad in it.
- 25We beseech Thee, O LORD, save now! We beseech Thee, O LORD, make us now to prosper!
- 26Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the LORD; We bless you out of the house of the LORD.
- 27The LORD is God, and hath given us light; Order the festival procession with boughs, even unto the horns of the altar.

28Thou art my God, and I will give thanks unto Thee; Thou art my God, I will exalt Thee.

29O give thanks unto the LORD, for He is good, For His mercy endureth for ever.

Your Word Is a Lamp to My Feet

א ALEPH.

1Happy are they that are upright in the way, Who walk in the law of the LORD.

2Happy are they that keep His testimonies, That seek Him with the whole heart.

3Yea, they do no unrighteousness; They walk in His ways.

4Thou hast ordained Thy precepts, That we should observe them diligently.

5Oh that my ways were directed To observe Thy statutes!

6Then should I not be ashamed, When I have regard unto all Thy commandments.

7I will give thanks unto Thee with uprightness of heart, When I learn Thy righteous ordinances.

8I will observe Thy statutes; O forsake me not utterly.

ב BETH.

9Wherewithal shall a young man keep his way pure? By taking heed thereto according to Thy word.

10With my whole heart have I sought Thee; O let me not err from Thy commandments.

11Thy word have I laid up in my heart, That I might not sin against Thee.

12Blessed art Thou, O LORD; Teach me Thy statutes.

13With my lips have I told All the ordinances of Thy mouth.

14I have rejoiced in the way of Thy testimonies, As much as in all riches.

15I will meditate in Thy precepts, And have respect unto Thy ways.

16I will delight myself in Thy statutes; I will not forget Thy word.

ג
GIMEL.

- 17 Deal bountifully with Thy servant that I may live, And I will observe Thy word.
- 18 Open Thou mine eyes, that I may behold Wondrous things out of Thy law.
- 19 I am a sojourner in the earth; Hide not Thy commandments from me.
- 20 My soul breaketh for the longing That it hath unto Thine ordinances at all times.
- 21 Thou hast rebuked the proud that are cursed, That do err from Thy commandments.
- 22 Take away from me reproach and contempt; For I have kept Thy testimonies.
- 23 Even though princes sit and talk against me, Thy servant doth meditate in Thy statutes.
- 24 Yea, Thy testimonies are my delight, They are my counsellors.

ד
DALETH.

- 25 My soul cleaveth unto the dust; Quicken Thou me according to Thy word.
- 26 I told of my ways, and Thou didst answer me; Teach me Thy statutes.
- 27 Make me to understand the way of Thy precepts, That I may talk of Thy wondrous works.
- 28 My soul melteth away for heaviness; Sustain me according unto Thy word.
- 29 Remove from me the way of falsehood; And grant me Thy law graciously.
- 30 I have chosen the way of faithfulness; Thine ordinances have I set [before me].
- 31 I cleave unto Thy testimonies; O LORD, put me not to shame.
- 32 I will run the way of Thy commandments, For Thou dost enlarge my heart.

ה
HE.

- 33 Teach me, O LORD, the way of Thy statutes; And I will keep it at every step.
- 34 Give me understanding, that I keep Thy law And observe it with my whole heart.
- 35 Make me to tread in the path of Thy commandments; For therein do I delight.
- 36 Incline my heart unto Thy testimonies, And not to covetousness.

37 Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity, And quicken me in Thy ways.

38 Confirm Thy word unto Thy servant, Which pertaineth unto the fear of Thee.

39 Turn away my reproach which I dread; For Thine ordinances are good.

40 Behold, I have longed after Thy precepts; Quicken me in Thy righteousness.

VAU.

41 Let Thy mercies also come unto me, O LORD, Even Thy salvation, according to Thy word;

42 That I may have an answer for him that taunteth me; For I trust in Thy word.

43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; For I hope in Thine ordinances;

44 So shall I observe Thy law continually For ever and ever;

45 And I will walk at ease, For I have sought Thy precepts;

46 I will also speak of Thy testimonies before kings, And will not be ashamed.

47 And I will delight myself in Thy commandments, Which I have loved.

48 I will lift up my hands also unto Thy commandments, which I have loved; And I will meditate in Thy statutes.

ZAIN.

49 Remember the word unto Thy servant, Because Thou hast made me to hope.

50 This is my comfort in my affliction, That Thy word hath quickened me.

51 The proud have had me greatly in derision; Yet have I not turned aside from Thy law.

52 I have remembered Thine ordinances which are of old, O LORD, And have comforted myself.

53 Burning indignation hath taken hold upon me, because of the wicked That forsake Thy law.

54 Thy statutes have been my songs In the house of my pilgrimage.

55 I have remembered Thy name, O LORD, in the night, And have observed Thy law.

56 This I have had, That I have kept Thy precepts.

n HETH.

57 My portion is the LORD, I have said that I would observe Thy words.

58 I have entreated Thy favour with my whole heart; Be gracious unto me according to Thy word.

59 I considered my ways, And turned my feet unto Thy testimonies.

60 I made haste, and delayed not, To observe Thy commandments.

61 The bands of the wicked have enclosed me; But I have not forgotten Thy law.

62 At midnight I will rise to give thanks unto Thee Because of Thy righteous ordinances.

63 I am a companion of all them that fear Thee, And of them that observe Thy precepts.

64 The earth, O LORD, is full of Thy mercy; Teach me Thy statutes.

o TETH.

65 Thou hast dealt well with Thy servant, O LORD, according unto Thy word.

66 Teach me good discernment and knowledge; For I have believed in Thy commandments.

67 Before I was afflicted, I did err; But now I observe Thy word.

68 Thou art good, and doest good; Teach me Thy statutes.

69 The proud have forged a lie against me; But I with my whole heart will keep Thy precepts.

70 Their heart is gross like fat; But I delight in Thy law.

71 It is good for me that I have been afflicted, In order that I might learn Thy statutes.

72 The law of Thy mouth is better unto me Than thousands of gold and silver.

i IOD.

73 Thy hands have made me and fashioned me; Give me understanding, that I may learn Thy commandments.

74 They that fear Thee shall see me and be glad, Because I have hope in Thy word.

75 I know, O LORD, that Thy judgments are righteous, And that in faithfulness Thou hast afflicted me.

76Let, I pray Thee, Thy lovingkindness be ready to comfort me, According to Thy promise unto Thy servant.

77Let Thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live; For Thy law is my delight.

78Let the proud be put to shame, for they have distorted my cause with falsehood; But I will meditate in Thy precepts.

79Let those that fear Thee return unto me, And they that know Thy testimonies.

80Let my heart be undivided in Thy statutes, In order that I may not be put to shame.

כ CAPH.

81My soul pineth for Thy salvation; In Thy word do I hope.

82Mine eyes fail for Thy word, Saying: 'When wilt Thou comfort me?'

83For I am become like a wine-skin in the smoke; Yet do I not forget Thy statutes.

84How many are the days of Thy servant? When wilt Thou execute judgment on them that persecute me?

85The proud have digged pits for me, Which is not according to Thy law.

86All Thy commandments are faithful; They persecute me for nought; help Thou me.

87They had almost consumed me upon earth; But as for me, I forsook not Thy precepts.

88Quicken me after Thy lovingkindness, And I will observe the testimony of Thy mouth.

ל LAMED.

89For ever, O LORD, Thy word standeth fast in heaven.

90Thy faithfulness is unto all generations; Thou hast established the earth, and it standeth.

91They stand this day according to Thine ordinances; For all things are Thy servants.

92Unless Thy law had been my delight, I should then have perished in mine affliction.

93I will never forget Thy precepts; For with them Thou hast quickened me.

94I am Thine, save me; For I have sought Thy precepts.

95The wicked have waited for me to destroy me; But I will consider Thy testimonies.

96I have seen an end to every purpose; But Thy commandment is exceeding broad.

מ
MEM.

97O how love I Thy law! It is my meditation all the day.

98Thy commandments make me wiser than mine enemies: For they are ever with me.

99I have more understanding than all my teachers; For Thy testimonies are my meditation.

100I understand more than mine elders, Because I have keep Thy precepts.

101I have refrained my feet from every evil way, In order that I might observe Thy word.

102I have not turned aside from Thine ordinances; For Thou hast instructed me.

103How sweet are Thy words unto my palate! Yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth!

104From Thy precepts I get understanding; Therefore I hate every false way.

נ
NUN.

105Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, And a light unto my path.

106I have sworn, and have confirmed it, To observe Thy righteous ordinances.

107I am afflicted very much; Quicken me, O LORD, according unto Thy word.

108Accept, I beseech Thee, the freewill-offerings of my mouth, O LORD, And teach me Thine ordinances.

109My soul is continually in my hand; Yet have I not forgotten Thy law.

110The wicked have laid a snare for me; Yet went I not astray from Thy precepts.

111Thy testimonies have I taken as a heritage for ever; For they are the rejoicing of my heart.

112I have inclined my heart to perform Thy statutes, For ever, at every step.

ס SAMECH.

113I hate them that are of a double mind; But Thy law do I love.

114Thou art my covert and my shield; In Thy word do I hope.

- 115 Depart from me, ye evildoers; That I may keep the commandments of my God.
- 116 Uphold me according unto Thy word, that I may live; And put me not to shame in my hope.
- 117 Support Thou me, and I shall be saved; And I will occupy myself with Thy statutes continually.
- 118 Thou hast made light of all them that err from Thy statutes; For their deceit is vain.
- 119 Thou puttest away all the wicked of the earth like dross; Therefore I love Thy testimonies.
- 120 My flesh shuddereth for fear of Thee; And I am afraid of Thy judgments.

Y AIN.

- 121 I have done justice and righteousness; Leave me not to mine oppressors.
- 122 Be surety for Thy servant for good; Let not the proud oppress me.
- 123 Mine eyes fail for Thy salvation, And for Thy righteous word.
- 124 Deal with Thy servant according unto Thy mercy, And teach me Thy statutes.
- 125 I am Thy servant, give me understanding, That I may know Thy testimonies.
- 126 It is time for the LORD to work; They have made void Thy law.
- 127 Therefore I love Thy commandments Above gold, yea, above fine gold.
- 128 Therefore I esteem all [Thy] precepts concerning all things to be right; Every false way I hate.

Y PE.

- 129 Thy testimonies are wonderful; Therefore doth my soul keep them.
- 130 The opening of Thy words giveth light; It giveth understanding unto the simple.
- 131 I opened wide my mouth, and panted; For I longed for Thy commandments.
- 132 Turn Thee towards me, and be gracious unto me, As is Thy wont to do unto those that love Thy name.
- 133 Order my footsteps by Thy word; And let not any iniquity have dominion over me.
- 134 Redeem me from the oppression of man, And I will observe Thy precepts.
- 135 Make Thy face to shine upon Thy servant; And teach me Thy statutes.

136 Mine eyes run down with rivers of water, Because they observe not Thy law.

ז
TZADE.

137 Righteous art Thou, O LORD, And upright are Thy judgments.

138 Thou hast commanded Thy testimonies in righteousness And exceeding faithfulness.

139 My zeal hath undone me, Because mine adversaries have forgotten Thy words.

140 Thy word is tried to the uttermost, And Thy servant loveth it.

141 I am small and despised; Yet have I not forgotten Thy precepts.

142 Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, And Thy law is truth.

143 Trouble and anguish have overtaken me; Yet Thy commandments are my delight.

144 Thy testimonies are righteous for ever; Give me understanding, and I shall live.

פ KOPH.

145 I have called with my whole heart; answer me, O LORD; I will keep Thy statutes.

146 I have called Thee, save me, And I will observe Thy testimonies.

147 I rose early at dawn, and cried; I hoped in Thy word.

148 Mine eyes forestalled the night-watches, That I might meditate in Thy word.

149 Hear my voice according unto Thy lovingkindness; Quicken me, O LORD, as Thou art wont.

150 They draw nigh that follow after wickedness; They are far from Thy law.

151 Thou art nigh, O LORD; And all Thy commandments are truth.

152 Of old have I known from Thy testimonies That Thou hast founded them for ever.

ר
RESH.

153 O see mine affliction, and rescue me; For I do not forget Thy law.

154 Plead Thou my cause, and redeem me; Quicken me according to Thy word.

155 Salvation is far from the wicked; For they seek not Thy statutes.

156Great are Thy compassions, O LORD; Quicken me as Thou art wont.

157Many are my persecutors and mine adversaries; Yet have I not turned aside from Thy testimonies.

158I beheld them that were faithless, and strove with them; Because they observed not Thy word.

159O see how I love Thy precepts; Quicken me, O LORD, according to Thy lovingkindness.

160The beginning of Thy word is truth; And all Thy righteous ordinance endureth for ever.

ו
SHIN.

161Princes have persecuted me without a cause; But my heart standeth in awe of Thy words.

162I rejoice at Thy word, As one that findeth great spoil.

163I hate and abhor falsehood; Thy law do I love.

164Seven times a day do I praise Thee, Because of Thy righteous ordinances.

165Great peace have they that love Thy law; And there is no stumbling for them.

166I have hoped for Thy salvation, O LORD, And have done Thy commandments.

167My soul hath observed Thy testimonies; And I love them exceedingly.

168I have observed Thy precepts and Thy testimonies; For all my ways are before Thee.

ת
TAU.

169Let my cry come near before Thee, O LORD; Give me understanding according to Thy word.

170Let my supplication come before Thee; Deliver me according to Thy word.

171Let my lips utter praise: Because Thou teachest me Thy statutes.

172Let my tongue sing of Thy word; For all Thy commandments are righteousness.

173Let Thy hand be ready to help me; For I have chosen Thy precepts.

174I have longed for Thy salvation, O LORD; And Thy law is my delight.

175Let my soul live, and it shall praise Thee; And let Thine ordinances help me.

176I have gone astray like a lost sheep; seek Thy servant; For I have not forgotten Thy commandments.

In My Distress I Cried to the LORD

1A Song of Ascents. In my distress I called unto the LORD, And He answered me.

2O LORD, deliver my soul from lying lips, From a deceitful tongue.

3What shall be given unto thee, and what shall be done more unto thee, Thou deceitful tongue?

4Sharp arrows of the mighty, With coals of broom.

5Woe is me, that I sojourn with Meshech, That I dwell beside the tents of Kedar!

6My soul hath full long had her dwelling With him that hateth peace.

7I am all peace; But when I speak, they are for war.

I Lift Up My Eyes to the Hills

1A Song of Ascents. I will lift up mine eyes unto the mountains: From whence shall my help come?

2My help cometh from the LORD, Who made heaven and earth.

3He will not suffer thy foot to be moved; He that keepeth thee will not slumber.

4Behold, He that keepeth Israel Doth neither slumber nor sleep.

5The LORD is thy keeper; The LORD is thy shade upon thy right hand.

6The sun shall not smite thee by day, Nor the moon by night.

7The LORD shall keep thee from all evil; He shall keep thy soul.

8The LORD shall guard thy going out and thy coming in, From this time forth and for ever.

Pray for the Peace of Jerusalem

1A Song of Ascents; of David. I rejoiced when they said unto me: 'Let us go unto the house of the LORD.'

2Our feet are standing Within thy gates, O Jerusalem;

3Jerusalem, that art builded As a city that is compact together;

4Whither the tribes went up, even the tribes of the LORD, As a testimony unto Israel, To give thanks unto the name of the LORD.

5For there were set thrones for judgment, The thrones of the house of David.

6Pray for the peace of Jerusalem; May they prosper that love thee.

7Peace be within thy walls, And prosperity within thy palaces.

8For my brethren and companions' sakes, I will now say: 'Peace be within thee.'

9For the sake of the house of the LORD our God I will seek thy good.

I Lift Up My Eyes to You

1A Song of Ascents. Unto Thee I lift up mine eyes, O Thou that art enthroned in the heavens.

2Behold, as the eyes of servants unto the hand of their master, As the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress; So our eyes look unto the LORD our God, Until He be gracious unto us.

3Be gracious unto us, O LORD, be gracious unto us; For we are full sated with contempt.

4Our soul is full sated With the scorning of those that are at ease, And with the contempt of the proud oppressors.

Our Help Is in the Name of the LORD

1A Song of Ascents; of David. 'If it had not been the LORD who was for us', Let Israel now say;

2If it had not been the LORD who was for us, When men rose up against us,

3Then they had swallowed us up alive, When their wrath was kindled against us;

4Then the waters had overwhelmed us, The stream had gone over our soul;

5Then the proud waters Had gone over our soul.'

6Blessed be the LORD, Who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.

7Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers; The snare is broken, and we are escaped.

8Our help is in the name of the LORD, Who made heaven and earth.

The LORD Surrounds His People

1A Song of Ascents. They that trust in the LORD Are as mount Zion, which cannot be moved, but abideth for ever.

2As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, So the LORD is round about His people, From this time forth and for ever.

3For the rod of wickedness shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous; That the righteous put not forth their hands unto iniquity.

4Do good, O LORD, unto the good, And to them that are upright in their hearts.

5But as for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways, The LORD will lead them away with the workers of iniquity. Peace be upon Israel.

Zion's Captives Restored

1A Song of Ascents. When the LORD brought back those that returned to Zion, We were like unto them that dream.

2Then was our mouth filled with laughter, And our tongue with singing; Then said they among the nations: 'The LORD hath done great things with these.'

3The LORD hath done great things with us; We are rejoiced.

4Turn our captivity, O LORD, As the streams in the dry land.

5They that sow in tears Shall reap in joy.

⁶Though he goeth on his way weeping that beareth the measure of seed, He shall come home with joy, bearing his sheaves.

Children Are a Heritage from the LORD

¹A Song of Ascents; of Solomon. Except the LORD build the house, They labour in vain that build it; Except the LORD keep the city, The watchman waketh but in vain.

²It is vain for you that ye rise early, and sit up late, Ye that eat the bread of toil; So He giveth unto His beloved in sleep.

³Lo, children are a heritage of the LORD; The fruit of the womb is a reward.

⁴As arrows in the hand of a mighty man, So are the children of one's youth.

The Cords of the Wicked

- 1A Song of Ascents. 'Much have they afflicted me from my youth up', Let Israel now say;
- 2Much have they afflicted me from my youth up; But they have not prevailed against me.
- 3The plowers plowed upon my back; They made long their furrows.
- 4The LORD is righteous; He hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked.'
- 5Let them be ashamed and turned backward, All they that hate Zion.
- 6Let them be as the grass upon the housetops, Which withereth afore it springeth up;
- 7Wherewith the reaper filleth not his hand, Nor he that bindeth sheaves his bosom.

The LORD Has Chosen Zion

1A Song of Ascents. LORD, remember unto David All his affliction;

2How he swore unto the LORD, And vowed unto the Mighty One of Jacob:

3Surely I will not come into the tent of my house, Nor go up into the bed that is spread for me;

4I will not give sleep to mine eyes, Nor slumber to mine eyelids;

5Until I find out a place for the LORD, A dwelling-place for the Mighty One of Jacob.'

6Lo, we heard of it as being in Ephrath; We found it in the field of the wood.

7Let us go into His dwelling-place; Let us worship at His footstool.

8Arise, O LORD, unto Thy resting-place; Thou, and the ark of Thy strength.

9Let Thy priests be clothed with righteousness; And let Thy saints shout for joy.

10For Thy servant David's sake Turn not away the face of Thine anointed.

11The LORD swore unto David in truth; He will not turn back from it: 'Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne.

12If thy children keep My covenant And My testimony that I shall teach them, Their children also for ever shall sit upon thy throne.'

13For the LORD hath chosen Zion; He hath desired it for His habitation:

14This is My resting-place for ever; Here will I dwell; for I have desired it.

15I will abundantly bless her provision; I will give her needy bread in plenty.

16Her priests also will I clothe with salvation; And her saints shall shout aloud for joy.

Give Praise, O Servants of the LORD

(Psalm 115:1–18)

¹Hallelujah. Praise ye the name of the LORD; Give praise, O ye servants of the LORD, ²Ye that stand in the house of the LORD, In the courts of the house of our God.

³Praise ye the LORD, for the LORD is good; Sing praises unto His name, for it is pleasant.

⁴For the LORD hath chosen Jacob unto Himself, And Israel for His own treasure.

5For I know that the LORD is great, And that our Lord is above all gods.

6Whatsoever the LORD pleased, that hath He done, In heaven and in earth, in the seas and in all deeps;

7Who causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; He maketh lightnings for the rain; He bringeth forth the wind out of His treasuries.

8Who smote the first-born of Egypt, Both of man and beast.

9He sent signs and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt, Upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.

10Who smote many nations, And slew mighty kings:

11Sihon king of the Amorites, And Og king of Bashan, And all the kingdoms of Canaan;

12And gave their land for a heritage, A heritage unto Israel His people.

13O LORD, Thy name endureth for ever; Thy memorial, O LORD, throughout all generations.

14For the LORD will judge His people, And repent Himself for His servants.

15The idols of the nations are silver and gold, The work of men's hands.

16They have mouths, but they speak not; Eyes have they, but they see not;

17They have ears, but they hear not; Neither is there any breath in their mouths.

18They that make them shall be like unto them; Yea, every one that trusteth in them.

19O house of Israel, bless ye the LORD; O house of Aaron, bless ye the LORD;

20O house of Levi, bless ye the LORD; Ye that fear the LORD, bless ye the LORD.

21Blessed be the LORD out of Zion, Who dwelleth at Jerusalem. Hallelujah.

His Loving Devotion Endures Forever

(2 Chronicles 7:1–3)

1O give thanks unto the LORD, for He is good, For His mercy endureth for ever.

2O give thanks unto the God of gods, For His mercy endureth for ever.

3O give thanks unto the Lord of lords, For His mercy endureth for ever.

- 4To Him who alone doeth great wonders, For His mercy endureth for ever.
- 5To Him that by understanding made the heavens, for His mercy endureth for ever.
- 6To Him that spread forth the earth above the waters, For His mercy endureth for ever.
- 7To Him that made great lights, For His mercy endureth for ever;
- 8The sun to rule by day, For His mercy endureth for ever;
- 9The moon and stars to rule by night, For His mercy endureth for ever.
- 10To Him that smote Egypt in their first-born, For His mercy endureth for ever;
- 11And brought out Israel from among them, For His mercy endureth for ever;
- 12With a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm, For His mercy endureth for ever.
- 13To Him who divided the Red Sea in sunder, For His mercy endureth for ever;
- 14And made Israel to pass through the midst of it, For His mercy endureth for ever;
- 15But overthrew Pharaoh and his host in the Red Sea, For His mercy endureth for ever.
- 16To Him that led His people through the wilderness, For His mercy endureth for ever.
- 17To Him that smote great kings; For His mercy endureth for ever;
- 18And slew mighty kings, For His mercy endureth for ever.
- 19Sihon king of the Amorites, For His mercy endureth for ever;
- 20And Og king of Bashan, For His mercy endureth for ever;
- 21And gave their land for a heritage, For His mercy endureth for ever;
- 22Even a heritage unto Israel His servant, For His mercy endureth for ever.
- 23Who remembered us in our low estate, For His mercy endureth for ever;
- 24And hath delivered us from our adversaries, For His mercy endureth for ever.
- 25Who giveth food to all flesh, For His mercy endureth for ever.
- 26O give thanks unto the God of heaven, For His mercy endureth for ever.

Psalm 137

By the Rivers of Babylon

(Ezekiel 1:1–3)

1By the rivers of Babylon, There we sat down, yea, we wept, When we remembered Zion.

2Upon the willows in the midst thereof We hanged up our harps.

3For there they that led us captive asked of us words of song, And our tormentors asked of us mirth: 'Sing us one of the songs of Zion.'

4How shall we sing the LORD'S song In a foreign land?

5If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, Let my right hand forget her cunning.

6Let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, If I remember thee not; If I set not Jerusalem Above my chiefest joy.

7Remember, O LORD, against the children of Edom The day of Jerusalem; Who said: 'Rase it, rase it, Even to the foundation thereof.'

8O daughter of Babylon, that art to be destroyed; Happy shall he be, that repayeth thee As thou hast served us.

9Happy shall he be, that taketh and dasheth thy little ones Against the rock.

A Thankful Heart

1[A Psalm] of David. I will give Thee thanks with my whole heart, In the presence of the mighty will I sing praises unto Thee.

2I will bow down toward Thy holy temple, And give thanks unto Thy name for Thy mercy and for Thy truth; For Thou hast magnified Thy word above all Thy name.

3In the day that I called, Thou didst answer me; Thou didst encourage me in my soul with strength.

4All the kings of the earth shall give Thee thanks, O LORD, For they have heard the words of Thy mouth.

5Yea, they shall sing of the ways of the LORD; For great is the glory of the LORD.

6For though the LORD be high, yet regardeth He the lowly, And the haughty He knoweth from afar.

7Though I walk in the midst of trouble, Thou quickenest me; Thou stretchest forth Thy hand against the wrath of mine enemies, And Thy right hand doth save me.

8The LORD will accomplish that which concerneth me; Thy mercy, O LORD, endureth for ever; Forsake not the work of Thine own hands.

You Have Searched Me and Known Me

1For the Leader. A Psalm of David. O LORD, Thou hast searched me, and known me.

2Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, Thou understandest my thought afar off.

3Thou measurest my going about and my lying down, And art acquainted with all my ways.

4For there is not a word in my tongue, But, lo, O LORD, Thou knowest it altogether.

5Thou hast hemmed me in behind and before, And laid Thy hand upon me.

6Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; Too high, I cannot attain unto it.

7Whither shall I go from Thy spirit? Or whither shall I flee from Thy presence?

8If I ascend up into heaven, Thou art there; If I make my bed in the nether-world, behold, Thou art there.

9If I take the wings of the morning, And dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea;

10Even there would Thy hand lead me, And Thy right hand would hold me.

11And if I say: 'Surely the darkness shall envelop me, And the light about me shall be night';

12Even the darkness is not too dark for Thee, But the night shineth as the day; The darkness is even as the light.

13For Thou hast made my reins; Thou hast knit me together in my mother's womb.

14I will give thanks unto Thee, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made; Wonderful are Thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well.

15My frame was not hidden from Thee, When I was made in secret, And curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.

16Thine eyes did see mine unformed substance, And in Thy book they were all written—Even the days that were fashioned, When as yet there was none of them.

17How weighty also are Thy thoughts unto me, O God! How great is the sum of them!

18If I would count them, they are more in number than the sand; Were I to come to the end of them, I would still be with Thee.

19If Thou but wouldest slay the wicked, O God—Depart from me therefore, ye men of blood;

20Who utter Thy name with wicked thought, They take it for falsehood, even Thine enemies—

21Do not I hate them, O LORD, that hate Thee? And do not I strive with those that rise up against Thee?

22I hate them with utmost hatred; I count them mine enemies.

23Search me, O God, and know my heart, Try me, and know my thoughts;

24And see if there be any way in me that is grievous, And lead me in the way everlasting.

Rescue Me from Evil Men

1For the Leader. A Psalm of David. Deliver me, O LORD, from the evil man; Preserve me from the violent man;

2Who devise evil things in their heart; Every day do they stir up wars.

3They have sharpened their tongue like a serpent; Vipers' venom is under their lips. Selah

4Keep me, O LORD, from the hands of the wicked; Preserve me from the violent man; Who have purposed to make my steps slip.

5The proud have hid a snare for me, and cords; They have spread a net by the wayside; They have set gins for me. Selah

6I have said unto the LORD: 'Thou art my God'; Give ear, O LORD, unto the voice of my supplications.

7O GOD the Lord, the strength of my salvation, Who hast screened my head in the day of battle,

8Grant not, O LORD, the desires of the wicked; Further not his evil device, so that they exalt themselves. Selah

9As for the head of those that compass me about, Let the mischief of their own lips cover them.

10Let burning coals fall upon them; Let them be cast into the fire, Into deep pits, that they rise not up again.

11A slanderer shall not be established in the earth; The violent and evil man shall be hunted with thrust upon thrust.

12I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the poor, And the right of the needy.

13Surely the righteous shall give thanks unto Thy name; The upright shall dwell in Thy presence.

Come Quickly to Me

(Psalm 70:1–5)

1A Psalm of David. LORD, I have called Thee; make haste unto me; Give ear unto my voice, when I call unto Thee.

2Let my prayer be set forth as incense before Thee, The lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice.

3Set a guard, O LORD, to my mouth; Keep watch at the door of my lips.

4Incline not my heart to any evil thing, To be occupied in deeds of wickedness With men that work iniquity; And let me not eat of their dainties.

5Let the righteous smite me in kindness, and correct me; Oil so choice let not my head refuse; For still is my prayer because of their wickedness.

6Their judges are thrown down by the sides of the rock; And they shall hear my words, that they are sweet.

7As when one cleaveth and breaketh up the earth, Our bones are scattered at the grave's mouth.

8For mine eyes are unto Thee, O GOD the Lord; In Thee have I taken refuge, O pour not out my soul.

9Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me, And from the gins of the workers of iniquity.

10Let the wicked fall into their own nets, Whilst I withal escape.

I Lift My Voice to the LORD

(1 Samuel 22:1–5; Psalm 57:1–11)

1Maschil of David, when he was in the cave; a Prayer. With my voice I cry unto the LORD; With my voice I make supplication unto the LORD.

2I pour out my complaint before Him, I declare before Him my trouble;

3When my spirit fainteth within me—Thou knowest my path—In the way wherein I walk Have they hidden a snare for me.

4Look on my right hand, and see, For there is no man that knoweth me; I have no way to flee; No man careth for my soul.

5I have cried unto Thee, O LORD; I have said: 'Thou art my refuge, My portion in the land of the living.'

6Attend unto my cry; For I am brought very low; Deliver me from my persecutors; For they are too strong for me.

I Stretch Out My Hands to You

1A Psalm of David. O LORD, hear my prayer, give ear to my supplications; In Thy faithfulness answer me, and in Thy righteousness.

2And enter not into judgment with Thy servant; For in Thy sight shall no man living be justified.

3For the enemy hath persecuted my soul; He hath crushed my life down to the ground; He hath made me to dwell in darkness, as those that have been long dead.

4And my spirit fainteth within me; My heart within me is appalled.

5I remember the days of old; I meditate on all Thy doing; I muse on the work of Thy hands.

6I spread forth my hands unto Thee; My soul [thirsteth] after Thee, as a weary land. Selah 7Answer me speedily, O LORD, My spirit faileth; Hide not Thy face from me; Lest I become like them that go down into the pit.

8Cause me to hear Thy lovingkindness in the morning, For in Thee do I trust; Cause me to know the way wherein I should walk, For unto Thee have I lifted up my soul.

9Deliver me from mine enemies, O LORD; With Thee have I hidden myself.

10Teach me to do Thy will, For Thou art my God; Let Thy good spirit Lead me in an even land.

11For Thy name's sake, O LORD, quicken me; In Thy righteousness bring my soul out of trouble.

Blessed Be the LORD, My Rock

1[A Psalm] of David. Blessed be the LORD my Rock, Who traineth my hands for war, And my fingers for battle;

2My lovingkindness, and my fortress, My high tower, and my deliverer; My shield, and He in whom I take refuge; Who subdueth my people under me.

3LORD, what is man, that Thou takest knowledge of him? Or the son of man, that Thou makest account of him?

4Man is like unto a breath; His days are as a shadow that passeth away.

5O LORD, bow Thy heavens, and come down; Touch the mountains, that they may smoke.

6Cast forth lightning, and scatter them; Send out Thine arrows, and discomfit them.

7Stretch forth Thy hands from on high; Rescue me, and deliver me out of many waters, Out of the hand of strangers;

8Whose mouth speaketh falsehood, And their right hand is a right hand of lying.

9O God, I will sing a new song unto Thee, Upon a psaltery of ten strings will I sing praises unto Thee;

10Who givest salvation unto kings, Who rescuest David Thy servant from the hurtful sword.

11Rescue me, and deliver me out of the hand of strangers, Whose mouth speaketh falsehood, And their right hand is a right hand of lying.

The Beginning of Knowledge

(Proverbs 9:1–12)

¹The proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel;

²To know wisdom and instruction; To comprehend the words of understanding;

³To receive the discipline of wisdom, Justice, and right, and equity;

⁴To give prudence to the simple, To the young man knowledge and discretion;

⁵That the wise man may hear, and increase in learning, And the man of understanding may attain unto wise counsels;

⁶To understand a proverb, and a figure; The words of the wise, and their dark sayings.

⁷The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge; But the foolish despise wisdom and discipline.

The Enticement of Sin

⁸Hear, my son, the instruction of thy father, And forsake not the teaching of thy mother;

⁹For they shall be a chaplet of grace unto thy head, And chains about thy neck.

¹⁰My son, if sinners entice thee, Consent thou not.

¹¹If they say: 'Come with us, Let us lie in wait for blood, Let us lurk for the innocent without cause;

¹²Let us swallow them up alive as the grave, And whole, as those that go down into the pit;

¹³We shall find all precious substance, We shall fill our houses with spoil;

¹⁴Cast in thy lot among us; Let us all have one purse'—

¹⁵My son, walk not thou in the way with them, Restrain thy foot from their path;

¹⁶For their feet run to evil, And they make haste to shed blood.

¹⁷For in vain the net is spread In the eyes of any bird;

18 And these lie in wait for their own blood, They lurk for their own lives.

19 So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain; It taketh away the life of the owners thereof.

Wisdom Calls Aloud

20 Wisdom crieth aloud in the streets, She uttereth her voice in the broad places;

21 She calleth at the head of the noisy streets, At the entrances of the gates, in the city, she uttereth her words:

22 How long, ye thoughtless, will ye love thoughtlessness? And how long will scorers delight them in scorning, And fools hate knowledge?

23 Turn you at my reproof; Behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.

24 Because I have called, and ye refused, I have stretched out my hand, and no man attended,

25 But ye have set at nought all my counsel, And would none of my reproof;

26 I also, in your calamity, will laugh, I will mock when your dread cometh;

27 When your dread cometh as a storm, And your calamity cometh on as a whirlwind; When trouble and distress come upon you.

28 Then will they call me, but I will not answer, They will seek me earnestly, but they shall not find me.

29 For that they hated knowledge, And did not choose the fear of the LORD;

30 They would none of my counsel, They despised all my reproof.

31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, And be filled with their own devices.

32 For the waywardness of the thoughtless shall slay them, And the confidence of fools shall destroy them.

33 But whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell securely, And shall be quiet without fear of evil.'

The Benefits of Wisdom

1 My son, if thou wilt receive my words, And lay up my commandments with thee;

2 So that thou make thine ear attend unto wisdom, And thy heart incline to discernment;

3Yea, if thou call for understanding, And lift up thy voice for discernment;
4If thou seek her as silver, And search for her as for hid treasures;
5Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD, And find the knowledge of God.
6For the LORD giveth wisdom, Out of His mouth cometh knowledge and discernment;
7He layeth up sound wisdom for the upright, He is a shield to them that walk in integrity;
8That He may guard the paths of justice, And preserve the way of His godly ones.
9Then shalt thou understand righteousness and justice, And equity, yea, every good path.
10For wisdom shall enter into thy heart, And knowledge shall be pleasant unto thy soul;
11Discretion shall watch over thee, Discernment shall guard thee;
12To deliver thee from the way of evil, From the men that speak froward things;
13Who leave the paths of uprightness, To walk in the ways of darkness;
14Who rejoice to do evil, And delight in the frowardness of evil;
15Who are crooked in their ways, And perverse in their paths;
16To deliver thee from the strange woman, Even from the alien woman that maketh smooth her words;
17That forsaketh the lord of her youth, And forgetteth the covenant of her God.
18For her house sinketh down unto death, And her paths unto the shades;
19None that go unto her return, Neither do they attain unto the paths of life;
20That thou mayest walk in the way of good men, And keep the paths of the righteous.
21For the upright shall dwell in the land, And the whole-hearted shall remain in it.
22But the wicked shall be cut off from the land, And the faithless shall be plucked up out of it.

Trust in the LORD with All Your Heart

1My son, forget not my teaching; But let thy heart keep my commandments;
2For length of days, and years of life, And peace, will they add to thee.

3Let not kindness and truth forsake thee; Bind them about thy neck, write them upon the table of thy heart;

4So shalt thou find grace and good favour In the sight of God and man.

5Trust in the LORD with all thy heart, And lean not upon thine own understanding.

6In all thy ways acknowledge Him, And He will direct thy paths.

7Be not wise in thine own eyes; Fear the LORD, and depart from evil;

8It shall be health to thy navel, And marrow to thy bones.

9Honour the LORD with thy substance, And with the first-fruits of all thine increase;

10So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, And thy vats shall overflow with new wine.

11My son, despise not the chastening of the LORD, Neither spurn thou His correction;

12For whom the LORD loveth He correcteth, Even as a father the son in whom he delighteth.

The Blessings of Wisdom

13Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, And the man that obtaineth understanding.

14For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, And the gain thereof than fine gold.

15She is more precious than rubies; And all the things thou canst desire are not to be compared unto her.

16Length of days is in her right hand; In her left hand are riches and honour.

17Her ways are ways of pleasantness, And all her paths are peace.

18She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her, And happy is every one that holdest her fast.

19The LORD by wisdom founded the earth; By understanding He established the heavens.

20By His knowledge the depths were broken up, And the skies drop down the dew.

21My son, let not them depart from thine eyes; Keep sound wisdom and discretion;

22So shall they be life unto thy soul, And grace to thy neck.

23Then shalt thou walk in thy way securely, And thou shalt not dash thy foot.

24When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid; Yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet.

- 25 Be not afraid of sudden terror, Neither of the destruction of the wicked, when it cometh;
- 26 For the LORD will be thy confidence, And will keep thy foot from being caught.
- 27 Withhold not good from him to whom it is due, When it is in the power of thy hand to do it.
- 28 Say not unto thy neighbour: 'Go, and come again, And to-morrow I will give'; when thou hast it by thee.
- 29 Devise not evil against thy neighbour, Seeing he dwelleth securely by thee.
- 30 Strive not with a man without cause, If he have done thee no harm.
- 31 Envy thou not the man of violence, And choose none of his ways.
- 32 For the perverse is an abomination to the LORD; But His counsel is with the upright.
- 33 The curse of the LORD is in the house of the wicked; But He blesseth the habitation of the righteous.
- 34 If it concerneth the scorers, He scorneth them, But unto the humble He giveth grace.
- 35 The wise shall inherit honour; But as for the fools, they carry away shame.

A Father's Instruction

- 1 Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, And attend to know understanding.
- 2 For I give you good doctrine; Forsake ye not my teaching.
- 3 For I was a son unto my father, Tender and an only one in the sight of my mother.
- 4 And he taught me, and said unto me: 'Let thy heart hold fast my words, Keep my commandments, and live;
- 5 Get wisdom, get understanding; Forget not, neither decline from the words of my mouth;
- 6 Forsake her not, and she will preserve thee; Love her, and she will keep thee.
- 7 The beginning of wisdom is: Get wisdom; Yea, with all thy getting get understanding.
- 8 Extol her, and she will exalt thee; She will bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her.
- 9 She will give to thy head a chaplet of grace; A crown of glory will she bestow on thee.'
- 10 Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; And the years of thy life shall be many.

- 11 I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in paths of uprightness.
- 12 When thou goest, thy step shall not be straitened; And if thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.
- 13 Take fast hold of instruction, let her not go; Keep her, for she is thy life.
- 14 Enter not into the path of the wicked, And walk not in the way of evil men.
- 15 Avoid it, pass not by it; Turn from it, and pass on.
- 16 For they sleep not, except they have done evil; And their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall.
- 17 For they eat the bread of wickedness, And drink the wine of violence.
- 18 But the path of the righteous is as the light of dawn, That shineth more and more unto the perfect day.
- 19 The way of the wicked is as darkness; They know not at what they stumble.
- 20 My son, attend to my words; Incline thine ear unto my sayings.
- 21 Let them not depart from thine eyes; Keep them in the midst of thy heart.
- 22 For they are life unto those that find them, And health to all their flesh.
- 23 Above all that thou guardest keep thy heart; For out of it are the issues of life.
- 24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, And perverse lips put far from thee.
- 25 Let thine eyes look right on, And let thine eyelids look straight before thee.
- 26 Make plain the path of thy feet, And let all thy ways be established.
- 27 Turn not to the right hand nor to the left; Remove thy foot from evil.

Avoiding Immorality

(Leviticus 20:10–21; 1 Corinthians 5:1–8)

- 1 My son, attend unto my wisdom; Incline thine ear to my understanding;
- 2 That thou mayest preserve discretion, And that thy lips may keep knowledge.
- 3 For the lips of a strange woman drop honey, And her mouth is smoother than oil;

- 4But her end is bitter as wormwood, Sharp as a two-edged sword.
- 5Her feet go down to death; Her steps take hold on the nether-world;
- 6Lest she should walk the even path of life, Her ways wander, but she knoweth it not.
- 7Now therefore, O ye children, hearken unto me, And depart not from the words of my mouth.
- 8Remove thy way far from her, And come not nigh the door of her house;
- 9Lest thou give thy vigour unto others, And thy years unto the cruel;
- 10Lest strangers be filled with thy strength, And thy labours be in the house of an alien;
- 11And thou moan, when thine end cometh, When thy flesh and thy body are consumed,
- 12And say: 'How have I hated instruction, And my heart despised reproof;
- 13Neither have I hearkened to the voice of my teachers, Nor inclined mine ear to them that instructed me!
- 14I was well nigh in all evil In the midst of the congregation and assembly.'
- 15Drink waters out of thine own cistern, And running waters out of thine own well.
- 16Let thy springs be dispersed abroad, And courses of water in the streets.
- 17Let them be only thine own, And not strangers' with thee.
- 18Let thy fountain be blessed; And have joy of the wife of thy youth.
- 19A lovely hind and a graceful doe, Let her breasts satisfy thee at all times; With her love be thou ravished always.
- 20Why then wilt thou, my son, be ravished with a strange woman, And embrace the bosom of an alien?
- 21For the ways of man are before the eyes of the LORD, And He maketh even all his paths.
- 22His own iniquities shall ensnare the wicked, And he shall be holden with the cords of his sin.
- 23He shall die for lack of instruction; And in the greatness of his folly he shall reel.

Warnings against Foolishness

- 1My son, if thou art become surety for thy neighbour, If thou hast struck thy hands for a stranger—

2Thou art snared by the words of thy mouth, Thou art caught by the words of thy mouth—

3Do this now, my son, and deliver thyself, Seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour; Go, humble thyself, and urge thy neighbour.

4Give not sleep to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyelids.

5Deliver thyself as a gazelle from the hand [of the hunter], And as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6Go to the ant, thou sluggard; Consider her ways, and be wise;

7Which having no chief, Overseer, or ruler,

8Provideth her bread in the summer, And gatherest her food in the harvest.

9How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? When wilt thou arise out of thy sleep?

10Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, A little folding of the hands to sleep'—

11So shall thy poverty come as a runner, And thy want as an armed man.

12A base person, a man of iniquity, Is he that walketh with a froward mouth;

13That winketh with his eyes, that scrapeth with his feet, That pointeth with his fingers;

14Frowardness is in his heart, he deviseth evil continually; He soweth discord.

15Therefore shall his calamity come suddenly; On a sudden shall he be broken, and that without remedy.

16There are six things which the LORD hateth, Yea, seven which are an abomination unto Him:

17Haughty eyes, a lying tongue, And hands that shed innocent blood;

18A heart that deviseth wicked thoughts, Feet that are swift in running to evil;

19A false witness that breatheth out lies, And he that soweth discord among brethren.

Warnings against Adultery

20My son, keep the commandment of thy father, And forsake not the teaching of thy mother;

21Bind them continually upon thy heart, Tie them about thy neck.

22When thou walkest, it shall lead thee, When thou liest down, it shall watch over thee; And when thou awakest, it shall talk with thee.

23For the commandment is a lamp, and the teaching is light, And reproofs of instruction are the way of life;

- 24 To keep thee from the evil woman, From the smoothness of the alien tongue.
- 25 Lust not after her beauty in thy heart; Neither let her captivate thee with her eyelids.
- 26 For on account of a harlot a man is brought to a loaf of bread, But the adulteress hunteth for the precious life.
- 27 Can a man take fire in his bosom, And his clothes not be burned?
- 28 Or can one walk upon hot coals, And his feet not be scorched?
- 29 So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife; Whosoever toucheth her shall not go unpunished.
- 30 Men do not despise a thief, if he steal To satisfy his soul when he is hungry;
- 31 But if he be found, he must restore sevenfold, He must give all the substance of his house.
- 32 He that committeth adultery with a woman lacketh understanding; He doeth it that would destroy his own soul.
- 33 Wounds and dishonour shall he get, And his reproach shall not be wiped away.
- 34 For jealousy is the rage of a man, And he will not spare in the day of vengeance.
- 35 He will not regard any ransom; Neither will he rest content, though thou givest many gifts.

Warnings about the Adulteress

- 1 My son, keep my words, And lay up my commandments with thee.
- 2 Keep my commandments and live, And my teaching as the apple of thine eye.
- 3 Bind them upon thy fingers, Write them upon the table of thy heart.
- 4 Say unto wisdom: 'Thou art my sister', And call understanding thy kinswoman;
- 5 That they may keep thee from the strange woman, From the alien woman that maketh smooth her words.
- 6 For at the window of my house I looked forth through my lattice;
- 7 And I beheld among the thoughtless ones, I discerned among the youths, A young man void of understanding,
- 8 Passing through the street near her corner, And he went the way to her house;

9In the twilight, in the evening of the day, In the blackness of night and the darkness.

10And, behold, there met him a woman With the attire of a harlot, and wily of heart.

11She is riotous and rebellious, Her feet abide not in her house;

12Now she is in the streets, now in the broad places, And lieth in wait at every corner.

13So she caught him, and kissed him, And with an impudent face she said unto him:

14Sacrifices of peace-offerings were due from me; This day have I paid my vows.

15Therefore came I forth to meet thee, To seek thy face, and I have found thee.

16I have decked my couch with coverlets, With striped cloths of the yarn of Egypt.

17I have perfumed my bed With myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

18Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning; Let us solace ourselves with loves.

19For my husband is not at home, He is gone a long journey;

20He hath taken the bag of money with him; He will come home at the full moon.'

21With her much fair speech she causeth him to yield, With the blandishment of her lips she enticeth him away.

22He goeth after her straightway, As an ox that goeth to the slaughter, Or as one in fetters to the correction of the fool;

23Till an arrow strike through his liver; As a bird hasteneth to the snare—And knoweth not that it is at the cost of his life.

24Now therefore, O ye children, hearken unto me, And attend to the words of my mouth.

25Let not thy heart decline to her ways, Go not astray in her paths.

26For she hath cast down many wounded; Yea, a mighty host are all her slain.

27Her house is the way to the nether-world, Going down to the chambers of death.

The Excellence of Wisdom

1Doth not wisdom call, And understanding put forth her voice?

2In the top of high places by the way, Where the paths meet, she standeth;

3Beside the gates, at the entry of the city, At the coming in at the doors, she crieth aloud:

4Unto you, O men, I call, And my voice is to the sons of men.

5O ye thoughtless, understand prudence, And, ye fools, be ye of an understanding heart.

6Hear, for I will speak excellent things, And the opening of my lips shall be right things.

7For my mouth shall utter truth, And wickedness is an abomination to my lips.

8All the words of my mouth are in righteousness, There is nothing perverse or crooked in them.

9They are all plain to him that understandeth, And right to them that find knowledge.

10Receive my instruction, and not silver, And knowledge rather than choice gold.

11For wisdom is better than rubies, And all things desirable are not to be compared unto her.

12I wisdom dwell with prudence, And find out knowledge of devices.

13The fear of the LORD is to hate evil; Pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, And the froward mouth, do I hate.

14Counsel is mine, and sound wisdom; I am understanding, power is mine.

15By me kings reign, And princes decree justice.

16By me princes rule, And nobles, even all the judges of the earth.

17I love them that love me, And those that seek me earnestly shall find me.

18Riches and honour are with me; Yea, enduring riches and righteousness.

19My fruit is better than gold, yea, than fine gold; And my produce than choice silver.

20I walk in the way of righteousness, In the midst of the paths of justice;

21That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance, And that I may fill their treasuries.

22The LORD made me as the beginning of His way, The first of His works of old.

23I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, Or ever the earth was.

24When there were no depths, I was brought forth; When there were no fountains abounding with water.

25Before the mountains were settled, Before the hills was I brought forth;

- 26 While as yet He had not made the earth, nor the fields, Nor the beginning of the dust of the world.
- 27 When He established the heavens, I was there; When He set a circle upon the face of the deep,
- 28 When He made firm the skies above, When the fountains of the deep showed their might,
- 29 When He gave to the sea His decree, That the waters should not transgress His commandment, When He appointed the foundations of the earth;
- 30 Then I was by Him, as a nursling; And I was daily all delight, Playing always before Him,
- 31 Playing in His habitable earth, And my delights are with the sons of men.
- 32 Now therefore, ye children, hearken unto me; For happy are they that keep my ways.
- 33 Hear instruction, and be wise, And refuse it not.
- 34 Happy is the man that hearkeneth to me, Watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors.
- 35 For whoso findeth me findeth life, And obtaineth favour of the LORD.
- 36 But he that misseth me wrongeth his own soul; All they that hate me love death.'

The Way of Wisdom

(Proverbs 1:1–7)

- 1 Wisdom hath builded her house, She hath hewn out her seven pillars;
- 2 She hath prepared her meat, she hath mingled her wine; She hath also furnished her table.
- 3 She hath sent forth her maidens, she calleth, Upon the highest places of the city:
- 4 Whoso is thoughtless, let him turn in hither'; As for him that lacketh understanding, she saith to him:
- 5 Come, eat of my bread, And drink of the wine which I have mingled.
- 6 Forsake all thoughtlessness, and live; And walk in the way of understanding.
- 7 He that correcteth a scorner getteth to himself shame, And he that reproveth a wicked man, it becometh unto him a blot.
- 8 Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate thee; Reprove a wise man, and he will love thee.
- 9 Give to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser; Teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.

10The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom, And the knowledge of the All-holy is understanding.

11For by me thy days shall be multiplied, And the years of thy life shall be increased.

12If thou art wise, thou art wise for thyself; And if thou scornest, thou alone shalt bear it.'

The Way of Folly

13The woman Folly is riotous; She is thoughtless, and knoweth nothing.

14And she sitteth at the door of her house, On a seat in the high places of the city,

15To call to them that pass by, Who go right on their ways:

16Whoso is thoughtless, let him turn in hither'; And as for him that lacketh understanding, she saith to him:

17Stolen waters are sweet, And bread eaten in secret is pleasant.'

18But he knoweth not that the shades are there; That her guests are in the depths of the nether-world.

Solomon's Proverbs: The Wise Son

1The proverbs of Solomon. A wise son maketh a glad father; But a foolish son is the grief of his mother.

2Treasures of wickedness profit nothing; But righteousness delivereth from death.

3The LORD will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish; But He thrusteth away the desire of the wicked.

4He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand; But the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5A wise son gathereth in summer; But a son that doeth shamefully sleepeth in harvest.

6Blessings are upon the head of the righteous; But the mouth of the wicked concealeth violence.

7The memory of the righteous shall be for a blessing; But the name of the wicked shall rot.

8The wise in heart will receive commandments; But a prating fool shall fall.

9He that walketh uprightly walketh securely; But he that perverteth his ways shall be found out.

10He that winketh with the eye causeth sorrow; And a prating fool shall fall.

11The mouth of the righteous is a fountain of life; But the mouth of the wicked concealeth violence.

- 12Hatred stirreth up strifes; But love covereth all transgressions.
- 13In the lips of him that hath discernment wisdom is found; But a rod is for the back of him that is void of understanding.
- 14Wise men lay up knowledge; But the mouth of the foolish is an imminent ruin.
- 15The rich man's wealth is his strong city; The ruin of the poor is their poverty.
- 16The wages of the righteous is life; The increase of the wicked is sin.
- 17He is in the way of life that heedeth instruction; But he that forsaketh reproof erreth.
- 18He that hideth hatred is of lying lips; And he that uttereth a slander is a fool.
- 19In the multitude of words there wanteth not transgression; But he that refraineth his lips is wise.
- 20The tongue of the righteous is as choice silver; The heart of the wicked is little worth.
- 21The lips of the righteous feed many; But the foolish die for want of understanding.
- 22The blessing of the LORD, it maketh rich, And toil addeth nothing thereto.
- 23It is as sport to a fool to do wickedness, And so is wisdom to a man of discernment.
- 24The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him; And the desire of the righteous shall be granted.
- 25When the whirlwind passeth, the wicked is no more; But the righteous is an everlasting foundation.
- 26As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, So is the sluggard to them that send him.
- 27The fear of the LORD prolongeth days; But the years of the wicked shall be shortened.
- 28The hope of the righteous is gladness; But the expectation of the wicked shall perish.
- 29The way of the LORD is a stronghold to the upright, But ruin to the workers of iniquity.
- 30The righteous shall never be moved; But the wicked shall not inhabit the land.
- 31The mouth of the righteous buddeth with wisdom; But the froward tongue shall be cut off.
- 32The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable; But the mouth of the wicked is all frowardness.

Dishonest Scales

(Deuteronomy 25:13–16; Ezekiel 45:10–12)

- 1 A false balance is an abomination to the LORD; But a perfect weight is His delight.
- 2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame; But with the lowly is wisdom.
- 3 The integrity of the upright shall guide them; But the perverseness of the faithless shall destroy them.
- 4 Riches profit not in the day of wrath; But righteousness delivereth from death.
- 5 The righteousness of the sincere shall make straight his way; But the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness.
- 6 The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them; But the faithless shall be trapped in their own crafty device.
- 7 When a wicked man dieth, his expectation shall perish, And the hope of strength perisheth.
- 8 The righteous is delivered out of trouble, And the wicked cometh in his stead.
- 9 With his mouth the impious man destroyeth his neighbour; But through knowledge shall the righteous be delivered.
- 10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth; And when the wicked perish, there is joy.
- 11 By the blessing of the upright a city is exalted; But it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.
- 12 He that despiseth his neighbour lacketh understanding; But a man of discernment holdeth his peace.
- 13 He that goeth about as a talebearer revealeth secrets; But he that is of a faithful spirit concealeth a matter.
- 14 Where no wise direction is, a people falleth; But in the multitude of counsellors there is safety.
- 15 He that is surety for a stranger shall smart for it; But he that hateth them that strike hands is secure.
- 16 A gracious woman obtaineth honour; And strong men obtain riches.
- 17 The merciful man doeth good to his own soul; But he that is cruel troubleth his own flesh.
- 18 The wicked earneth deceitful wages; But he that soweth righteousness hath a sure reward.
- 19 Stedfast righteousness tendeth to life; But he that pursueth evil pursueth it to his own death.
- 20 They that are perverse in heart are an abomination to the LORD; But such as are upright in their way are His delight.
- 21 My hand upon it! the evil man shall not be unpunished; But the seed of the righteous shall escape.
- 22 As a ring of gold in a swine's snout, so is a fair woman that turneth aside from discretion.
- 23 The desire of the righteous is only good; But the expectation of the wicked is wrath.

24There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; And there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth only to want.

25The beneficent soul shall be made rich, and he that satisfieth abundantly shall be satisfied also himself.

26He that withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him; But blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.

27He that diligently seeketh good seeketh favour; But he that searcheth for evil, it shall come unto him.

28He that trusteth in his riches shall fall; But the righteous shall flourish as foliage.

29He that troubleth his own house shall inherit the wind; And the foolish shall be servant to the wise of heart.

30The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; And he that is wise winneth souls.

31Behold, the righteous shall be requited in the earth; How much more the wicked and the sinner!

Loving Discipline and Knowledge

1Whoso loveth knowledge loveth correction; But he that is brutish hateth reproof.

2A good man shall obtain favour of the LORD; But a man of wicked devices will He condemn.

3A man shall not be established by wickedness; But the root of the righteous shall never be moved.

4A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband; But she that doeth shamefully is as rottenness in his bones.

5The thoughts of the righteous are right; But the counsels of the wicked are deceit.

6The words of the wicked are to lie in wait for blood; But the mouth of the upright shall deliver them.

7The wicked are overthrown, and are not; But the house of the righteous shall stand.

8A man shall be commended according to his intelligence; But he that is of a distorted understanding shall be despised.

9Better is he that is lightly esteemed, and hath a servant, Than he that playeth the man of rank, and lacketh bread.

10A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast; But the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.

- 11 He that tilleth his ground shall have plenty of bread; But he that followeth after vain things is void of understanding.
- 12 The wicked desireth the prey of evil men; But the root of the righteous yieldeth fruit.
- 13 In the transgression of the lips is a snare to the evil man; But the righteous cometh out of trouble.
- 14 A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth, And the doings of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him.
- 15 The way of a fool is straight in his own eyes; But he that is wise hearkeneth unto counsel.
- 16 A fool's vexation is presently known; But a prudent man concealeth shame.
- 17 He that breatheth forth truth uttereth righteousness; But a false witness deceit.
- 18 There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword; But the tongue of the wise is health.
- 19 The lip of truth shall be established for ever; But a lying tongue is but for a moment.
- 20 Deceit is in the heart of them that devise evil; But to the counsellors of peace is joy.
- 21 There shall no mischief befall the righteous; But the wicked are filled with evil.
- 22 Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD; But they that deal truly are His delight.
- 23 A prudent man concealeth knowledge; But the heart of fools proclaimeth foolishness.
- 24 The hand of the diligent shall bear rule; But the slothful shall be under tribute.
- 25 Care in the heart of a man boweth it down; But a good word maketh it glad.
- 26 The righteous is guided by his friend; But the way of the wicked leadeth them astray.
- 27 The slothful man shall not hunt his prey; But the precious substance of men is to be diligent.
- 28 In the way of righteousness is life, And in the pathway thereof there is no death.

A Father's Discipline

- 1 A wise son is instructed of his father; But a scorner heareth not rebuke.
- 2 A man shall eat good from the fruit of his mouth; But the desire of the faithless is violence.
- 3 He that guardeth his mouth keepeth his life; But for him that openeth wide his lips there shall be ruin.

- 4The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing; But the soul of the diligent shall be abundantly gratified.
- 5A righteous man hateth lying; But a wicked man behaveth vilely and shamefully.
- 6Righteousness guardeth him that is upright in the way; But wickedness overthroweth the sinner.
- 7There is that pretendeth himself rich, yet hath nothing; There is that pretendeth himself poor, yet hath great wealth.
- 8The ransom of a man's life are his riches; But the poor heareth no threatening.
- 9The light of the righteous rejoiceth; But the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.
- 10By pride cometh only contention; But with the well-advised is wisdom.
- 11Wealth gotten by vanity shall be diminished; But he that gathereth little by little shall increase.
- 12Hope deferred maketh the heart sick; But desire fulfilled is a tree of life.
- 13Whoso despiseth the word shall suffer thereby; But he that feareth the commandment shall be rewarded.
- 14The teaching of the wise is a fountain of life, To depart from the snares of death.
- 15Good understanding giveth grace; But the way of the faithless is harsh.
- 16Every prudent man dealeth with forethought; But a fool unfoldeth folly.
- 17A wicked messenger falleth into evil; But a faithful ambassador is health.
- 18Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuseth instruction; But he that regardeth reproof shall be honoured.
- 19The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul; And it is an abomination to fools to depart from evil.
- 20He that walketh with wise men shall be wise; But the companion of fools shall smart for it.
- 21Evil pursueth sinners; But to the righteous good shall be repaid.
- 22A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children; And the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the righteous.
- 23Much food is in the tillage of the poor; But there is that is swept away by want of righteousness.
- 24He that spareth his rod hateth his son; But he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes.
- 25The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his desire; But the belly of the wicked shall want.

The Wise Woman

- 1Every wise woman buildeth her house; But the foolish plucketh it down with her hands.
- 2He that walketh in his uprightness feareth the LORD; But he that is perverse in his ways despiseth Him.
- 3In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride; But the lips of the wise shall preserve them.
- 4Where no oxen are, the crib is clean; But much increase is by the strength of the ox.
- 5A faithful witness will not lie; But a false witness breatheth forth lies.
- 6A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not; But knowledge is easy unto him that hath discernment.
- 7Go from the presence of a foolish man, for thou wilt not perceive the lips of knowledge.
- 8The wisdom of the prudent is to look well to his way; But the folly of fools is deceit.
- 9Amends pleadeth for fools; But among the upright there is good will.
- 10The heart knoweth its own bitterness; And with its joy no stranger can intermeddle.
- 11The house of the wicked shall be overthrown; But the tent of the upright shall flourish.
- 12There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, But the end thereof are the ways of death.
- 13Even in laughter the heart acheth; And the end of mirth is heaviness.
- 14The dissembler in heart shall have his fill from his own ways; And a good man shall be satisfied from himself.
- 15The thoughtless believeth every word; But the prudent man looketh well to his going.
- 16A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil; But the fool behaveth overbearingly, and is confident.
- 17He that is soon angry dealeth foolishly; And a man of wicked devices is hated.
- 18The thoughtless come into possession of folly; But the prudent are crowned with knowledge.
- 19The evil bow before the good, And the wicked at the gates of the righteous.
- 20The poor is hated even of his own neighbour; But the rich hath many friends.
- 21He that despiseth his neighbour sinneth; But he that is gracious unto the humble, happy is he.
- 22Shall they not go astray that devise evil? But mercy and truth shall be for them that devise good.

- 23In all labour there is profit; But the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury.
- 24The crown of the wise is their riches; But the folly of fools remaineth folly.
- 25A true witness delivereth souls; But he that breatheth forth lies is all deceit.
- 26In the fear of the LORD a man hath strong confidence; And his children shall have a place of refuge.
- 27The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death.
- 28In the multitude of people is the king's glory; But in the want of people is the ruin of the prince.
- 29He that is slow to anger is of great understanding; But he that is hasty of spirit exalteth folly.
- 30A tranquil heart is the life of the flesh; But envy is the rottenness of the bones.
- 31He that oppresseth the poor blasphemeth his Maker; But he that is gracious unto the needy honoureth Him.
- 32The wicked is thrust down in his misfortune; But the righteous, even when he is brought to death, hath hope.
- 33In the heart of him that hath discernment wisdom resteth; But in the inward part of fools it maketh itself known.
- 34Righteousness exalteth a nation; But sin is a reproach to any people.
- 35The king's favour is toward a servant that dealeth wisely; But his wrath striketh him that dealeth shamefully.

A Gentle Answer Turns Away Wrath

- 1A soft answer turneth away wrath; But a grievous word stirreth up anger.
- 2The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright; But the mouth of fools poureth out foolishness.
- 3The eyes of the LORD are in every place, Keeping watch upon the evil and the good.
- 4A soothing tongue is a tree of life; But perverseness therein is a wound to the spirit.
- 5A fool despiseth his father's correction; But he that regardeth reproof is prudent.
- 6In the house of the righteous is much treasure; But in the revenues of the wicked is trouble.
- 7The lips of the wise disperse knowledge; But the heart of the foolish is not stedfast.

- 8The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD; But the prayer of the upright is His delight.
- 9The way of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD; But He loveth him that followeth after righteousness.
- 10There is grievous correction for him that forsaketh the way; And he that hateth reproof shall die.
- 11The nether-world and Destruction are before the LORD; How much more then the hearts of the children of men!
- 12A scorner loveth not to be reprov'd; He will not go unto the wise.
- 13A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance; But by sorrow of heart the spirit is broken.
- 14The heart of him that hath discernment seeketh knowledge; But the mouth of fools feedeth on folly.
- 15All the days of the poor are evil; But he that is of a merry heart hath a continual feast.
- 16Better is little with the fear of the LORD, Than great treasure and turmoil therewith.
- 17Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, Than a stalled ox and hatred therewith.
- 18A wrathful man stirreth up discord; But he that is slow to anger appeaseth strife.
- 19The way of the sluggard is as though hedged by thorns; But the path of the upright is even.
- 20A wise son maketh a glad father; But a foolish man despiseth his mother.
- 21Folly is joy to him that lacketh understanding; But a man of discernment walketh straightforwards.
- 22For want of counsel purposes are frustrated; But in the multitude of counsellors they are established.
- 23A man hath joy in the answer of his mouth; And a word in due season, how good is it!
- 24The path of life goeth upward for the wise, that he may depart from the nether-world beneath.
- 25The LORD will pluck up the house of the proud; But He will establish the border of the widow.
- 26The thoughts of wickedness are an abomination to the LORD; But words of pleasantness are pure.
- 27He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house; But he that hateth gifts shall live.
- 28The heart of the righteous studieth to answer; But the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.
- 29The LORD is far from the wicked; But He heareth the prayer of the righteous.
- 30The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart; And a good report maketh the bones fat.
- 31The ear that hearkeneth to the reproof of life abideth among the wise.

32He that refuseth correction despiseth his own soul; But he that hearkeneth to reproof getteth understanding.

33The fear of the LORD is the instruction of wisdom; And before honour goeth humility.

The Reply of the Tongue Is from the LORD

1The preparations of the heart are man's, But the answer of the tongue is from the LORD.

2All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes; But the LORD weigheth the spirits.

3Commit thy works unto the LORD, And thy thoughts shall be established.

4The LORD hath made every things for His own purpose, Yea, even the wicked for the day of evil.

5Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the LORD; My hand upon it! he shall not be unpunished.

6By mercy and truth iniquity is expiated; And by the fear of the LORD men depart from evil.

7When a man's ways please the LORD, He maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.

8Better is a little with righteousness Than great revenues with injustice.

9A man's heart deviseth his way; But the LORD directeth his steps.

10A divine sentence is in the lips of the king; His mouth trespasseth not in judgment.

11A just balance and scales are the LORD'S; All the weights of the bag are His work.

12It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness; For the throne is established by righteousness.

13Righteous lips are the delight of kings; And they love him that speaketh right.

14The wrath of a king is as messengers of death; But a wise man will pacify it.

15In the light of the king's countenance is life; And his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain.

16How much better is it to get wisdom than gold! Yea, to get understanding is rather to be chosen than silver.

17The highway of the upright is to depart from evil; He that keepeth his way preserveth his soul.

18Pride goeth before destruction, And a haughty spirit before a fall.

- 19 Better it is to be of a lowly spirit with the humble, Than to divide the spoil with the proud.
- 20 He that giveth heed unto the word shall find good; And whoso trusteth in the LORD, happy is he.
- 21 The wise in heart is called a man of discernment; And the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning.
- 22 Understanding is a fountain of life unto him that hath it; But folly is the chastisement of fools.
- 23 The heart of the wise teacheth his mouth, And addeth learning to his lips.
- 24 Pleasant words are as a honeycomb, Sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.
- 25 There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, But the end thereof are the ways of death.
- 26 The hunger of the labouring man laboreth for him; For his mouth compelleth him.
- 27 An ungodly man diggeth up evil, And in his lips there is as a burning fire.
- 28 A froward man soweth strife; And a whisperer separateth familiar friends.
- 29 A man of violence enticeth his neighbour, And leadeth him into a way that is not good.
- 30 He shutteth his eyes, it is to devise froward things; He that biteth his lips bringeth evil to pass.
- 31 The hoary head is a crown of glory, It is found in the way of righteousness.
- 32 He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; And he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city.
- 33 The lot is cast into the lap; But the whole disposing thereof is of the LORD.

Better a Dry Morsel in Quietness

- 1 Better is a dry morsel and quietness therewith, Than a house full of feasting with strife.
- 2 A servant that dealeth wisely shall have rule over a son that dealeth shamefully, And shall have part of the inheritance among the brethren.
- 3 The refining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold; But the LORD trieth the hearts.
- 4 A evil-doer giveth heed to wicked lips; And a liar giveth ear to a mischievous tongue.
- 5 Whoso mocketh the poor blasphemeth his Maker; And he that is glad at calamity shall not be unpunished.

- 6Children's children are the crown of old men; And the glory of children are their fathers.
- 7Overbearing speech becometh not a churl; Much less do lying lips a prince.
- 8A gift is as a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it; Whithersoever he turneth, he prospereth.
- 9He that covereth a transgression seeketh love; But he that harpeth on a matter estrangeth a familiar friend.
- 10A rebuke entereth deeper into a man of understanding Than a hundred stripes into a fool.
- 11A rebellious man seeketh only evil; Therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.
- 12Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man, Rather than a fool in his folly.
- 13Whoso rewardeth evil for good, Evil shall not depart from his house.
- 14The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water; Therefore leave off contention, before the quarrel break out.
- 15He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the righteous, Even they both are an abomination to the LORD.
- 16Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool To buy wisdom, seeing he hath no understanding?
- 17A friend loveth at all times, And a brother is born for adversity.
- 18A man void of understanding is he that striketh hands, And becometh surety in the presence of his neighbour.
- 19He loveth transgression that loveth strife; He that exalteth his gate seeketh destruction.
- 20He that hath a froward heart findeth no good; And he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into evil.
- 21He that begetteth a fool doeth it to his sorrow; And the father of a churl hath no joy.
- 22A merry heart is a good medicine; But a broken spirit drieth the bones.
- 23A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom, To pervert the ways of justice.
- 24Wisdom is before him that hath understanding; But the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth.
- 25A foolish son is vexation to his father, And bitterness to her that bore him.
- 26To punish also the righteous is not good, Nor to strike the noble for their uprightness.
- 27He that spareth his words hath knowledge; And he that husbandeth his spirit is a man of discernment.
- 28Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise; And he that shutteth his lips is esteemed as a man of understanding.

The Selfishness of the Unfriendly

- 1He that separateth himself seeketh his own desire, And snarlest against all sound wisdom.
- 2A fool hath no delight in understanding, But only that his heart may lay itself bare.
- 3When the wicked cometh, there cometh also contempt, And with ignominy reproach.
- 4The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters; A flowing brook, a fountain of wisdom.
- 5It is not good to respect the person of the wicked, So as to turn aside the righteous in judgment.
- 6A fool's lips enter into contention, And his mouth calleth for strokes.
- 7A fool's mouth is his ruin, And his lips are the snare of his soul.
- 8The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels, And they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.
- 9Even one that is slack in his work Is brother to him that is a destroyer.
- 10The name of the LORD is a strong tower: The righteous runneth into it, and is set up on high.
- 11The rich man's wealth is his strong city, And as a high wall in his own conceit.
- 12Before destruction the heart of a man is haughty, And before honour goeth humility.
- 13He that giveth answer before he heareth, It is folly and confusion unto him.
- 14The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity; But a broken spirit who can bear?
- 15The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge; And the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge.
- 16A man's gift maketh room for him, And bringeth him before great men.
- 17He that pleadeth his cause first seemeth just; But his neighbour cometh and searcheth him out.
- 18The lot causeth strife to cease, And parteth asunder the contentious.
- 19A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city; And their contentions are like the bars of a castle.
- 20A man's belly shall be filled with the fruit of his mouth; With the increase of his lips shall he be satisfied.

21Death and life are in the power of the tongue; And they that indulge it shall eat the fruit thereof.

22Whoso findeth a wife findeth a great good, And obtaineth favour of the LORD.

23The poor useth entreaties; But the rich answereth impudently.

24There are friends that one hath to his own hurt; But there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

The Man of Integrity

1Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity Than he that is perverse in his lips and a fool at the same time.

2Also, that the soul be without knowledge is not good; And he that hasteth with his feet sinneth.

3The foolishness of man perverteth his way; And his heart fretteth against the LORD.

4Wealth addeth many friends; But as for the poor, his friend separateth himself from him.

5A false witness shall not be unpunished; And he that breatheth forth lies shall not escape.

6Many will entreat the favour of the liberal man; And every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.

7All the brethren of the poor do hate him; How much more do his friends go far from him! He that pursueth words, they turn against him.

8He that getteth wisdom loveth his own soul; He that keepeth understanding shall find good.

9A false witness shall not be unpunished; And he that breatheth forth lies shall perish.

10Luxury is not seemly for a fool; Much less for a servant to have rule over princes.

11It is the discretion of a man to be slow to anger, And it is his glory to pass over a transgression.

12The king's wrath is as the roaring of a lion; But his favour is as dew upon the grass.

13A foolish son is the calamity of his father; And the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.

14House and riches are the inheritance of fathers; But a prudent wife is from the LORD.

15Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep; And the idle soul shall suffer hunger.

16He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his soul; But he that despiseth His ways shall die.

- 17 He that is gracious unto the poor lendeth unto the LORD; And his good deed will He repay unto him.
- 18 Chasten thy son, for there is hope; But set not thy heart on his destruction.
- 19 A man of great wrath shall suffer punishment; For if thou interpose, thou wilt add thereto.
- 20 Hear counsel, and receive instruction, That thou mayest be wise in thy latter end.
- 21 There are many devices in a man's heart; But the counsel of the LORD, that shall stand.
- 22 The lust of a man is his shame; And a poor man is better than a liar.
- 23 The fear of the LORD tendeth to life; And he that hath it shall abide satisfied, He shall not be visited with evil.
- 24 The sluggard burieth his hand in the dish, And will not so much as bring it back to his mouth.
- 25 When thou smitest a scorner, the simple will become prudent; And when one that hath understanding is reproved, he will understand knowledge.
- 26 A son that dealeth shamefully and reproachfully Will despoil his father, and chase away his mother.
- 27 Cease, my son, to hear the instruction That causeth to err from the words of knowledge.
- 28 An ungodly witness mocketh at right; And the mouth of the wicked devoureth iniquity.
- 29 Judgments are prepared for scorners, And stripes for the back of fools.

Wine Is a Mocker

- 1 Wine is a mocker, strong drink is riotous; And whosoever reeleth thereby is not wise.
- 2 The terror of a king is as the roaring of a lion: He that provoketh him to anger forfeiteth his life.
- 3 It is an honour for a man to keep aloof from strife; But every fool will be snarling.
- 4 The sluggard will not plow when winter setteth in; Therefore he shall beg in harvest, and have nothing.
- 5 Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water; But a man of understanding will draw it out.
- 6 Most men will proclaim every one his own goodness; But a faithful man who can find?
- 7 He that walketh in his integrity as a just man, Happy are his children after him.
- 8 A king that sitteth on the throne of judgment Scattereth away all evil with his eyes.

- 9Who can say: 'I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin'?
- 10Divers weights, and divers measures, Both of them alike are abomination to the LORD.
- 11Even a child is known by his doings, Whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.
- 12The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, The LORD hath made even both of them.
- 13Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty; Open thine eyes, and thou shalt have bread in plenty.
- 14It is bad, it is bad', saith the buyer; But when he is gone his way, then he boasteth.
- 15There is gold, and a multitude of rubies; But the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.
- 16Take his garment that is surety for a stranger; And hold him in pledge that is surety for an alien woman.
- 17Bread of falsehood is sweet to a man; But afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel.
- 18Every purpose is established by counsel; And with good advice carry on war.
- 19He that goeth about as a talebearer revealeth secrets; Therefore meddle not with him that openeth wide his lips.
- 20Whoso curseth his father or his mother, His lamp shall be put out in the blackest darkness.
- 21An estate may be gotten hastily at the beginning; But the end thereof shall not be blessed.
- 22Say not thou: 'I will requite evil'; Wait for the LORD, and He will save thee.
- 23Divers weights are an abomination to the LORD; And a false balance is not good.
- 24A man's goings are of the LORD; How then can man look to his way?
- 25It is a snare to a man rashly to say: 'Holy', And after vows to make inquiry.
- 26A wise king sifteth the wicked, And turneth the wheel over them.
- 27The spirit of man is the lamp of the LORD, Searching all the inward parts.
- 28Mercy and truth preserve the king; And his throne is upheld by mercy.
- 29The glory of young men is their strength; And the beauty of old men is the hoary head.
- 30Sharp wounds cleanse away evil; So do stripes that reach the inward parts.

Proverbs 21

The King's Heart

(Psalm 21:1–13)

1The king's heart is in the hand of the LORD, as the watercourses: He turneth it whithersoever He will.

2Every way of a man is right in his own eyes; But the LORD weigheth the hearts.

3To do righteousness and justice Is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.

4A haughty look, and a proud heart—The tillage of the wicked is sin.

5The thoughts of the diligent tend only to plenteousness; But every one that is hasty hasteth only to want.

6The getting of treasures by a lying tongue Is a vapour driven to and fro; they [that seek them] seek death.

7The violence of the wicked shall drag them away; Because they refuse to do justly.

8The way of man is froward and strange; But as for the pure, his work is right.

9It is better to dwell in a corner of the housetop, Than in a house in common with a contentious woman.

10The soul of the wicked desireth evil; His neighbour findeth no favour in his eyes.

11When the scorner is punished, the thoughtless is made wise; And when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge.

12The Righteous One considereth the house of the wicked; Overthrowing the wicked to their ruin.

13Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, He also shall cry himself, but shall not be answered.

14A gift in secret pacifieth anger, And a present in the bosom strong wrath.

15To do justly is joy to the righteous, But ruin to the workers of iniquity.

16The man that strayeth out of the way of understanding Shall rest in the congregation of the shades.

17He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man; He that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich.

18The wicked is a ransom for the righteous; And the faithless cometh in the stead of the upright.

19It is better to dwell in a desert land, Than with a contentious and fretful woman.

20There is desirable treasure and oil in the dwelling of the wise; But a foolish man swalloweth it up.

21He that followeth after righteousness and mercy Findeth life, prosperity, and honour.

22A wise man scaleth the city of the mighty, And bringeth down the stronghold wherein it trusteth.

- 23 Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue Keepeth his soul from troubles.
- 24 A proud and haughty man, scorner is his name, Even he that dealeth in overbearing pride.
- 25 The desire of the slothful killeth him; For his hands refuse to labour.
- 26 There is that coveteth greedily all the day long; But the righteous giveth and spareth not.
- 27 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination; How much more, when he bringeth it with the proceeds of wickedness?
- 28 A false witness shall perish; But the man that obeyeth shall speak unchallenged.
- 29 A wicked man hardeneth his face; But as for the upright, he looketh well to his way.
- 30 There is no wisdom nor understanding Nor counsel against the LORD.
- 31 The horse is prepared against the day of battle; But victory is of the LORD.

A Good Name

- 1 A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, And loving favour rather than silver and gold.
- 2 The rich and the poor meet together—The LORD is the maker of them all.
- 3 A prudent man seeth the evil, and hideth himself; But the thoughtless pass on, and are punished.
- 4 The reward of humility is the fear of the LORD, Even riches, and honour, and life.
- 5 Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward; He that keepeth his soul holdeth himself far from them.
- 6 Train up a child in the way he should go, And even when he is old, he will not depart from it.
- 7 The rich ruleth over the poor, And the borrower is servant to the lender.
- 8 He that soweth iniquity shall reap vanity; And the rod of his wrath shall fail.
- 9 He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed; For he giveth of his bread to the poor.
- 10 Cast out the scorner, and contention will go out; Yea, strife and shame will cease.
- 11 He that loveth pureness of heart, That hath grace in his lips, the king shall be his friend.

12The eyes of the LORD preserve him that hath knowledge, But He overthroweth the words of the faithless man.

13The sluggard saith: 'There is a lion without; I shall be slain in the streets.'

14The mouth of strange women is a deep pit: He that is abhorred of the LORD shall fall therein.

15Foolishness is bound up in the heart of a child; But the rod of correction shall drive it far from him.

16One may oppress the poor, yet will their gain increase; One may give to the rich, yet will want come.

Thirty Sayings of the Wise

Saying 1

17Incline thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, And apply thy heart unto my knowledge.

18For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them within thee; Let them be established altogether upon thy lips.

19That thy trust may be in the LORD, I have made them known to thee this day, even to thee.

20Have not I written unto thee excellent things Of counsels and knowledge;

21That I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth, That thou mightest bring back words of truth to them that send thee?

Saying 2

22Rob not the weak, because he is weak, Neither crush the poor in the gate;

23For the LORD will plead their cause, And despoil of life those that despoil them.

Saying 3

24Make no friendship with a man that is given to anger; And with a wrathful man thou shalt not go;

25Lest thou learn his ways, And get a snare to thy soul.

Saying 4

26Be thou not of them that strike hands, Or of them that are sureties for debts;

27If thou hast not wherewith to pay, Why should he take away thy bed from under thee?

Saying 5

28Remove not the ancient landmark, Which thy fathers have set.

Saying 6

29Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings; He shall not stand before mean men.

True Riches

(1 Timothy 6:17–19; James 5:1–6)

Saying 7

1When thou sittest to eat with a ruler, Consider well him that is before thee;

2And put a knife to thy throat, If thou be a man given to appetite.

3Be not desirous of his dainties; Seeing they are deceitful food.

Saying 8

4Weary not thyself to be rich; Cease from thine own wisdom.

5Wilt thou set thine eyes upon it? it is gone; For riches certainly make themselves wings, Like an eagle that flieth toward heaven.

Saying 9

6Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye, Neither desire thou his dainties;

7For as one that hath reckoned within himself, so is he: 'Eat and drink', saith he to thee; But his heart is not with thee.

8The morsel which thou hast eaten shalt thou vomit up, And lose thy sweet words.

Saying 10

9Speak not in the ears of a fool; For he will despise the wisdom of thy words.

Saying 11

10Remove not the ancient landmark; And enter not into the fields of the fatherless;

11For their Redeemer is strong; He will plead their cause with thee.

Saying 12

12Apply thy heart unto instruction, And thine ears to the words of knowledge.

Saying 13

13Withhold not correction from the child; For though thou beat him with the rod, he will not die.

14Thou beatest him with the rod, And wilt deliver his soul from the nether-world.

Saying 14

15My son, if thy heart be wise, My heart will be glad, even mine;

16Yea, my reins will rejoice, When thy lips speak right things.

Saying 15

17Let not thy heart envy sinners, But be in the fear of the LORD all the day;

18For surely there is a future; And thy hope shall not be cut off.

Saying 16

19Hear thou, my son, and be wise, And guide thy heart in the way.

20Be not among winebibbers; Among gluttonous eaters of flesh;

21For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty; And drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags.

Saying 17

22Hearken unto thy father that begot thee, And despise not thy mother when she is old.

23Buy the truth, and sell it not; Also wisdom, and instruction, and understanding.

24The father of the righteous will greatly rejoice; And he that begetteth a wise child will have joy of him.

25Let thy father and thy mother be glad, And let her that bore thee rejoice.

Saying 18

26My son, give me thy heart, And let thine eyes observe my ways.

27For a harlot is a deep ditch; And an alien woman is a narrow pit.

28She also lieth in wait as a robber, And increaseth the faithless among men.

Saying 19

29Who crieth: 'Woe'? who: 'Alas'? Who hath contentions? who hath raving? Who hath wounds without cause? Who hath redness of eyes?

30They that tarry long at the wine; They that go to try mixed wine.

31 Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, When it giveth its colour in the cup, When it glideth down smoothly;

32 At the last it biteth like a serpent, And stingeth like a basilisk.

33 Thine eyes shall behold strange things, And thy heart shall utter confused things.

34 Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, Or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast.

35 They have struck me, and I felt it not, They have beaten me, and I knew it not; When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.'

Do Not Envy

1 Be not thou envious of evil men, Neither desire to be with them.

2 For their heart studieth destruction, And their lips talk of mischief.

Saying 21

3 Through wisdom is a house builded; And by understanding it is established;

4 And by knowledge are the chambers filled With all precious and pleasant riches.

Saying 22

5 A wise man is strong; Yea, a man of knowledge increaseth strength.

6 For with wise advice thou shalt make thy war; And in the multitude of counsellors there is safety.

Saying 23

7 Wisdom is as unattainable to a fool as corals; He openeth not his mouth in the gate.

Saying 24

8 He that deviseth to do evil, Men shall call him a mischievous person.

9 The thought of foolishness is sin; And the scorner is an abomination to men.

Saying 25

10 If thou faint in the day of adversity, Thy strength is small indeed.

11 Deliver them that are drawn unto death; And those that are ready to be slain wilt thou forbear to rescue?

12 If thou sayest: 'Behold, we knew not this', Doth not He that weigheth the hearts consider it? And He that keepeth thy soul, doth not He know it? And shall not He render to every man according to his works?

Saying 26

13 My son, eat thou honey, for it is good, And the honeycomb is sweet to thy taste;

14 So know thou wisdom to be unto thy soul; If thou hast found it, then shall there be a future, And thy hope shall not be cut off.

Saying 27

15 Lie not in wait, O wicked man, against the dwelling of the righteous, Spoil not his resting-place;

16 For a righteous man falleth seven times, and riseth up again, But the wicked stumble under adversity.

Saying 28

17 Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth, And let not thy heart be glad when he stumbleth;

18 Lest the LORD see it, and it displease Him, And He turn away His wrath from him.

Saying 29

19 Fret not thyself because of evildoers, Neither be thou envious at the wicked;

20 For there will be no future to the evil man, The lamp of the wicked shall be put out.

Saying 30

21 My son, fear thou the LORD and the king, And meddle not with them that are given to change;

22 For their calamity shall rise suddenly; And who knoweth the ruin from them both?

Further Sayings of the Wise

23 These also are sayings of the wise. To have respect of persons in judgment is not good.

24 He that saith unto the wicked: 'Thou art righteous', Peoples shall curse him, nations shall execrate him;

25 But to them that decide justly shall be delight, And a good blessing shall come upon them.

26 He kisseth the lips That giveth a right answer.

27 Prepare thy work without, And make it fit for thyself in the field; And afterwards build thy house.

- 28 Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause; And deceive not with thy lips.
- 29 Say not: 'I will do so to him as he hath done to me; I will render to the man according to his work.'
- 30 I went by the field of the slothful, And by the vineyard of the man void of understanding;
- 31 And, lo, it was all grown over with thistles, The face thereof was covered with nettles, And the stone wall thereof was broken down.
- 32 Then I beheld, and considered well; I saw, and received instruction.
- 33 Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, A little folding of the hands to sleep'—
- 34 So shall thy poverty come as a runner, And thy want as an armed man.

More Proverbs of Solomon

- 1 These also are proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out.
- 2 It is the glory of God to conceal a thing; but the glory of kings is to search out a matter.
- 3 The heaven for height, and the earth for depth, and the heart of kings is unsearchable.
- 4 Take away the dross from the silver, and there cometh forth a vessel for the refiner;
- 5 Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne shall be established in righteousness.
- 6 Glorify not thyself in the presence of the king, and stand not in the place of great men;
- 7 For better is it that it be said unto thee: 'Come up hither', than that thou shouldest be put lower in the presence of the prince, whom thine eyes have seen.
- 8 Go not forth hastily to strive, lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.
- 9 Debate thy cause with thy neighbour, but reveal not the secret of another;
- 10 Lest he that heareth it revile thee, and thine infamy turn not away.
- 11 A word fitly spoken Is like apples of gold in settings of silver.
- 12 As an ear-ring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, So is a wise reprover upon an obedient ear.
- 13 As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, So is a faithful messenger to him that sendeth him; For he refresheth the soul of his master.

- 14As vapours and wind without rain, So is he that boasteth himself of a false gift.
- 15By long forbearing is a ruler persuaded, And a soft tongue breaketh the bone.
- 16Hast thou found honey? eat so much as is sufficient for thee, Lest thou be filled therewith, and vomit it.
- 17Let thy foot be seldom in thy neighbour's house; Lest he be sated with thee, and hate thee.
- 18As a maul, and a sword, and a sharp arrow, So is a man that beareth false witness against his neighbour.
- 19Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble Is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of joint.
- 20As one that taketh off a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon nitre, So is he that singeth songs to a heavy heart.
- 21If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat, And if he be thirsty, give him water to drink;
- 22For thou wilt heap coals of fire upon his head, And the LORD will reward thee.
- 23The north wind bringeth forth rain, And a backbiting tongue an angry countenance.
- 24It is better to dwell in a corner of the housetop, Than in a house in common with a contentious woman.
- 25As cold waters to a faint soul, So is good news from a far country.
- 26As a troubled fountain, and a corrupted spring, So is a righteous man that giveth way before the wicked.
- 27It is not good to eat much honey; So for men to search out their own glory is not glory.
- 28Like a city broken down and without a wall, So is he whose spirit is without restraint.

Similitudes and Instructions

- 1As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest, So honour is not seemly for a fool.
- 2As the wandering sparrow, as the flying swallow, So the curse that is causeless shall come home.
- 3A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, And a rod for the back of fools.
- 4Answer not a fool according to his folly, Lest thou also be like unto him.

- 5 Answer a fool according to his folly, Lest he be wise in his own eyes.
- 6 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool Cutteth off his own feet, and drinketh damage.
- 7 The legs hang limp from the lame; So is a parable in the mouth of fools.
- 8 As a small stone in a heap of stones, So is he that giveth honour to a fool.
- 9 As a thorn that cometh into the hand of a drunkard, So is a parable in the mouth of fools.
- 10 A master performeth all things; But he that stoppeth a fool is as one that stoppeth a flood.
- 11 As a dog that returneth to his vomit, So is a fool that repeateth his folly.
- 12 Seest thou a man wise in his own eyes? There is more hope of a fool than of him.
- 13 The sluggard saith: 'There is a lion in the way; Yea, a lion is in the streets.'
- 14 The door is turning upon its hinges, And the sluggard is still upon his bed.
- 15 The sluggard burieth his hand in the dish; It wearieth him to bring it back to his mouth.
- 16 The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes Than seven men that give wise answer.
- 17 He that passeth by, and meddleth with strife not his own, Is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.
- 18 As a madman who casteth firebrands, Arrows, and death;
- 19 So is the man that deceiveth his neighbour, And saith: 'Am not I in sport?'
- 20 Where no wood is, the fire goeth out; And where there is no whisperer, contention ceaseth.
- 21 As coals are to burning coals, and wood to fire; So is a contentious man to kindle strife.
- 22 The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels, And they go down into the innermost parts of the body.
- 23 Burning lips and a wicked heart Are like an earthen vessel overlaid with silver dross.
- 24 He that hateth dissembleth with his lips, But he layeth up deceit within him.
- 25 When he speaketh fair, Believe him not; For there are seven abominations in his heart.
- 26 Though his hatred be concealed with deceit, His wickedness shall be revealed before the congregation.
- 27 Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall therein; And he that rolleth a stone, it shall return upon him.
- 28 A lying tongue hateth those that are crushed by it; And a flattering mouth worketh ruin.

Do Not Boast about Tomorrow

(James 4:13–17)

- 1Boast not thyself of to-morrow; For thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.
- 2Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; A stranger, and not thine own lips.
- 3A stone is heavy, and the sand weighty; But a fool's vexation is heavier than they both.
- 4Wrath is cruel, and anger is overwhelming; But who is able to stand before jealousy?
- 5Better is open rebuke Than love that is hidden.
- 6Faithful are the wounds of a friend; But the kisses of an enemy are importunate.
- 7The full soul loatheth a honeycomb; But to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.
- 8As a bird that wandereth from her nest, So is a man that wandereth from his place.
- 9Ointment and perfume rejoice the heart; So doth the sweetness of a man's friend by hearty counsel.
- 10Thine own friend, and thy father's friend, forsake not; Neither go into thy brother's house in the day of thy calamity; Better is a neighbour that is near than a brother far off.
- 11My son, be wise, and make my heart glad, That I may answer him that taunteth me.
- 12A prudent man seeth the evil, and hideth himself; But the thoughtless pass on, and are punished.
- 13Take his garment that is surety for a stranger; And hold him in pledge that is surety for an alien woman.
- 14He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, It shall be counted a curse to him.
- 15A continual dropping in a very rainy day And a contentious woman are alike;
- 16He that would hide her hideth the wind, And the ointment of his right hand betrayeth itself.
- 17Iron sharpeneth iron; So a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend.
- 18Whoso keepeth the fig-tree shall eat the fruit thereof; And he that waiteth on his master shall be honoured.
- 19As in water face answereth to face, So the heart of man to man.

- 20The nether-world and Destruction are never satiated; So the eyes of man are never satiated.
- 21The refining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold, And a man is tried by his praise.
- 22Though thou shouldest bray a fool in a mortar with a pestle among groats, Yet will not his foolishness depart from him.
- 23Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks, And look well to thy herds;
- 24For riches are not for ever; And doth the crown endure unto all generations?
- 25When the hay is mown, and the tender grass showeth itself, And the herbs of the mountains are gathered in;
- 26The lambs will be for thy clothing, And the goats the price for a field.
- 27And there will be goats' milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy household; And maintenance for thy maidens.

The Boldness of the Righteous

- 1The wicked flee when no man pursueth; But the righteous are secure as a young lion.
- 2For the transgression of a land many are the princes thereof; But by a man of understanding and knowledge established order shall long continue.
- 3A poor man that oppresseth the weak Is like a sweeping rain which leaveth no food.
- 4They that forsake the law praise the wicked; But such as keep the law contend with them.
- 5Evil men understand not justice; But they that seek the LORD understand all things.
- 6Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity, Than he that is perverse in his ways, though he be rich.
- 7A wise son observeth the teaching; but he that is a companion of gluttonous men shameth his father.
- 8He that augmenteth his substance by interest and increase, Gathereth it for him that is gracious to the poor.
- 9He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, Even his prayer is an abomination.
- 10Whoso causeth the upright to go astray in an evil way, He shall fall himself into his own pit; But the whole-hearted shall inherit good.

- 11The rich man is wise in his own eyes; But the poor that hath understanding searcheth him through.
- 12When the righteous exult, there is great glory; But when the wicked rise, men must be sought for.
- 13He that covereth his transgressions shall not prosper; But whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall obtain mercy.
- 14Happy is the man that feareth alway; But he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into evil.
- 15As a roaring lion, and a ravenous bear; So is a wicked ruler over a poor people.
- 16The prince that lacketh understanding is also a great oppressor; But he that hateth covetousness shall prolong his days.
- 17A man that is laden with the blood of any person Shall hasten his steps unto the pit; none will support him.
- 18Whoso walketh uprightly shall be saved; But he that is perverse in his ways shall fall at once.
- 19He that tilleth his ground shall have plenty of bread; But he that followeth after vain things shall have poverty enough.
- 20A faithful man shall abound with blessings; But he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be unpunished.
- 21To have respect of persons is not good; For a man will transgress for a piece of bread.
- 22He that hath an evil eye hasteneth after riches, And knoweth not that want shall come upon him.
- 23He that rebuketh a man shall in the end find more favour Than he that flattereth with the tongue.
- 24Whoso robbeth his father or his mother, and saith: 'It is no transgression', The same is the companion of a destroyer.
- 25He that is of a greedy spirit stirreth up strife; But he that putteth his trust in the LORD shall be abundantly gratified.
- 26He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool; But whoso walketh wisely, he shall escape.
- 27He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack; But he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse.
- 28When the wicked rise, men hide themselves; But when they perish, the righteous increase.

The Flourishing of the Righteous

- 1 He that being often reprov'd hardeneth his neck Shall suddenly be broken, and that without remedy.
- 2 When the righteous are increased, the people rejoice; But when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.
- 3 Whoso loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father; But he that keepeth company with harlots wasteth his substance.
- 4 The king by justice establisheth the land; But he that exacteth gifts overthroweth it.
- 5 A man that flattereth his neighbour Spreadeth a net for his steps.
- 6 In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare; But the righteous doth sing and rejoice.
- 7 The righteous taketh knowledge of the cause of the poor; The wicked understandeth not knowledge.
- 8 Scornful men set a city in a blaze; But wise men turn away wrath.
- 9 If a wise man contendeth with a foolish man, Whether he be angry or laugh, there will be no rest.
- 10 The men of blood hate him that is sincere; And as for the upright, they seek his life.
- 11 A fool spendeth all his spirit; But a wise man stilleth it within him.
- 12 If a ruler hearkeneth to falsehood, All his servants are wicked.
- 13 The poor man and the oppressor meet together; The LORD giveth light to the eyes of them both.
- 14 The king that faithfully judgeth the poor, His throne shall be established for ever.
- 15 The rod and reproof give wisdom; But a child left to himself causeth shame to his mother.
- 16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth; But the righteous shall gaze upon their fall.
- 17 Correct thy son, and he will give thee rest; Yea, he will give delight unto thy soul.
- 18 Where there is no vision, the people cast off restraint; But he that keepeth the law, happy is he.
- 19 A servant will not be corrected by words; For though he understand, there will be no response.
- 20 Seest thou a man that is hasty in his words? There is more hope for a fool than for him.
- 21 He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a child Shall have him become master at the last.
- 22 An angry man stirreth up strife, And a wrathful man aboundeth in transgression.
- 23 A man's pride shall bring him low; But he that is of a lowly spirit shall attain to honour.
- 24 Whoso is partner with a thief hateth his own soul: He heareth the adjuration and uttereth nothing.

25The fear of man bringeth a snare; But whoso putteth his trust in the LORD shall be set up on high.

26Many seek the ruler's favour; But a man's judgment cometh from the LORD.

27An unjust man is an abomination to the righteous; And he that is upright in the way is an abomination to the wicked.

The Words of Agur

1The words of Agur the son of Jakeh; the burden. The man saith unto Ithiel, unto Ithiel and Ucal:

2Surely I am brutish, unlike a man, And have not the understanding of a man;

3And I have not learned wisdom, That I should have the knowledge of the Holy One.

4Who hath ascended up into heaven, and descended? Who hath gathered the wind in his fists? Who hath bound the waters in his garment? Who hath established all the ends of the earth? What is his name, and what is his son's name, if thou knowest?

5Every word of God is tried; He is a shield unto them that take refuge in Him.

6Add thou not unto His words, Lest He reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7Two things have I asked of Thee; Deny me them not before I die:

8Remove far from me falsehood and lies; Give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with mine allotted bread;

9Lest I be full, and deny, and say: 'Who is the LORD?' Or lest I be poor, and steal, And profane the name of my God.

10Slander not a servant unto his master, Lest he curse thee, and thou be found guilty.

11There is a generation that curse their father, And do not bless their mother.

12There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, And yet are not washed from their filthiness.

13There is a generation, Oh how lofty are their eyes! And their eyelids are lifted up.

14There is a generation whose teeth are as swords, and their great teeth as knives, To devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men.

15The horseleech hath two daughters: 'Give, give.' There are three things that are never satisfied, Yea, four that say not: 'Enough' :

16The grave; and the barren womb; The earth that is not satisfied with water; And the fire that saith not: 'Enough.'

17The eye that mocketh at his father, And despiseth to obey his mother, The ravens of the valley shall pick it out, And the young vultures shall eat it.

18There are three things which are too wonderful for me, Yea, four which I know not:

19The way of an eagle in the air; The way of a serpent upon a rock; The way of a ship in the midst of the sea; And the way of a man with a young woman.

20So is the way of an adulterous woman; She eateth, and wipeth her mouth, And saith: 'I have done no wickedness.'

21For three things the earth doth quake, And for four it cannot endure:

22For a servant when he reigneth; And a churl when he is filled with food;

23For an odious woman when she is married; And a handmaid that is heir to her mistress.

24There are four things which are little upon the earth, But they are exceeding wise:

25The ants are a people not strong, Yet they provide their food in the summer;

26The rock-badgers are but a feeble folk, Yet make they their houses in the crags;

27The locusts have no king, Yet go they forth all of them by bands;

28The spider thou canst take with the hands, Yet is she in kings' palaces.

29There are three things which are stately in their march, Yea, four which are stately in going:

30The lion, which is mightiest among beasts, And turneth not away for any;

31The greyhound; the he-goat also; And the king, against whom there is no rising up.

32If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thyself, Or if thou hast planned devices, lay thy hand upon thy mouth.

33For the churning of milk bringeth forth curd, And the wringing of the nose bringeth forth blood; So the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife.

The Sayings for King Lemuel

1The words of king Lemuel; the burden wherewith his mother corrected him.

2What, my son? and what, O son of my womb? And what, O son of my vows?

3Give not thy strength unto women, Nor thy ways to that which destroyeth kings.

4It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine: Nor for princes to say: 'Where is strong drink?'

5Lest they drink, and forget that which is decreed, And pervert the justice due to any that is afflicted.

6Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, And wine unto the bitter in soul;

7Let him drink, and forget his poverty, And remember his misery no more.

8Open thy mouth for the dumb, In the cause of all such as are appointed to destruction.

9Open thy mouth, judge righteously, And plead the cause of the poor and needy.

The Virtues of a Noble Woman

א

10A woman of valour who can find? For her price is far above rubies.

ב

11The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, And he hath no lack of gain.

ג

12She doeth him good and not evil All the days of her life.

ד

13She seeketh wool and flax, And worketh willingly with her hands.

ה

14She is like the merchant-ships; She bringeth her food from afar.

ו

15She riseth also while it is yet night, And giveth food to her household, And a portion to her maidens.

ז

16She considereth a field, and buyeth it; With the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard.

ח

17 She girdeth her loins with strength, And maketh strong her arms.

ו

18 She perceiveth that her merchandise is good; Her lamp goeth not out by night.

ז

19 She layeth her hands to the distaff, And her hands hold the spindle.

ח

20 She stretcheth out her hand to the poor; Yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy.

ט

21 She is not afraid of the snow for her household; For all her household are clothed with scarlet.

י

22 She maketh for herself coverlets; Her clothing is fine linen and purple.

יא

23 Her husband is known in the gates, When he sitteth among the elders of the land.

יב

24 She maketh linen garments and selleth them; And delivereth girdles unto the merchant.

יג

25 Strength and dignity are her clothing; And she laugheth at the time to come.

יד

26 She openeth her mouth with wisdom; And the law of kindness is on her tongue.

טו

27 She looketh well to the ways of her household, And eateth not the bread of idleness.

טז

28 Her children rise up, and call her blessed; Her husband also, and he praiseth her:

יז

29 Many daughters have done valiantly, But thou excellest them all.'

30 Grace is deceitful, and beauty is vain; But a woman that feareth the LORD, she shall be praised.

31 Give her of the fruit of her hands; And let her works praise her in the gates.

Everything Is Futile

1 THE WORDS OF the Koheleth, the son of David, king in Jerusalem.

2 Vanity of vanities, saith Koheleth; Vanity of vanities, all is vanity.

3 What profit hath man of all his labour Wherein he laboureth under the sun?

4 One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh; And the earth abideth for ever.

5 The sun also ariseth, And the sun goeth down, And hasteth to his place where he ariseth.

6 The wind goeth toward the south, And turneth about unto the north; It turneth about continually in its circuit, And the wind returneth again to its circuits.

7 All the rivers run into the sea, Yet the sea is not full; Unto the place whither the rivers go, Thither they go again.

8 All things toil to weariness; Man cannot utter it, The eye is not satisfied with seeing, Nor the ear filled with hearing.

9 That which hath been is that which shall be, And that which hath been done is that which shall be done; And there is nothing new under the sun.

10 Is there a thing whereof it is said: 'See, this is new'?—it hath been already, in the ages which were before us.

11 There is no remembrance of them of former times; neither shall there be any remembrance of them of latter times that are to come, among those that shall come after.

With Wisdom Comes Sorrow

12I Koheleth have been king over Israel in Jerusalem. 13And I applied my heart to seek and to search out by wisdom concerning all things that are done under heaven; it is a sore task that God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised therewith. 14I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and, behold, all is vanity and a striving after wind. 15That which is crooked cannot be made straight; And that which is wanting cannot be numbered.

16I spoke with my own heart, saying: 'Lo, I have gotten great wisdom, more also than all that were before me over Jerusalem'; yea, my heart hath had great experience of wisdom and knowledge. 17And I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly—I perceived that this also was a striving after wind. 18For in much wisdom is much vexation; And he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.

Ecclesiastes 2

JPS [\[Online\]](#)

The Futility of Pleasure

1I said in my heart: 'Come now, I will try thee with mirth, and enjoy pleasure'; and, behold, this also was vanity. 2I said of laughter: 'It is mad'; and of mirth: 'What doth it accomplish?' 3I searched in my heart how to pamper my flesh with wine, and, my heart conducting itself with wisdom, how yet to lay hold on folly, till I might see which it was best for the sons of men that they should do under the heaven the few days of their life. 4I made me great works; I builded me houses; I planted me vineyards; 5I made me gardens and parks, and I planted trees in them of all kinds of fruit; 6I made me pools of water, to water therefrom the wood springing up with trees; 7I acquired men-servants and maid-servants, and had servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of herds and flocks, above all that were before me in Jerusalem; 8I gathered me also silver and gold, and treasure such as kings and the provinces have as their own; I got me men-singers and women-singers, and the delights of the sons of men, women very many.

9So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem; also my wisdom stood me in stead. 10And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them; I withheld not my heart from any joy, for my heart had joy of all my labour; and this was my portion from all my labour. 11Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do; and, behold, all was vanity and a striving after wind, and there was no profit under the sun.

The Wise and the Foolish

12And I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness and folly; for what can the man do that cometh after the king? even that which hath been already done. 13Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness. 14The wise man, his eyes are in his head; But the fool walketh in darkness. And I also perceived that one event happeneth to them all. 15Then said I in my heart: 'As it happeneth to the fool, so will it happen even to me; and why was I then more wise?' Then I said in my heart, that this also is vanity. 16For of the wise man, even as of the fool, there is no remembrance for ever; seeing that in the days to come all will long ago have been forgotten. And how must the wise man die even as the fool! 17So I hated life; because the work that is wrought under the sun was grievous unto me; for all is vanity and a striving after wind.

The Futility of Work

18And I hated all my labour wherein I laboured under the sun, seeing that I must leave it unto the man that shall be after me. 19And who knoweth whether he will be a wise man or a fool? yet will he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shown myself wise under the sun. This also is vanity. 20Therefore I turned about to cause my heart to despair concerning all the labour wherein I had laboured under the sun. 21For there is a man whose labour is with wisdom, and with knowledge, and with skill; yet to a man that hath not laboured therein shall he leave it for his portion. This also is vanity and a great evil. 22For what hath a man of all his labour, and of the striving of his heart, wherein he laboreth under the sun? 23For all his days are pains, and his occupation vexation; yea, even in the night his heart taketh not rest. This also is vanity.

24There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink, and make his soul enjoy pleasure for his labour. This also I saw, that it is from the hand of God. 25For who will eat, or who will enjoy, if not I? 26For to the man that is good in His sight He giveth wisdom, and knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner He giveth the task, to gather and to heap up, that he may leave to him that is good in the sight of God. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

Ecclesiastes 3

To Everything There Is a Season

1To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

2A time to be born, and a time to die; A time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;

3A time to kill, and a time to heal; A time to break down, and a time to build up;

4A time to weep, and a time to laugh; A time to mourn, and a time to dance;

5A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; A time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

6A time to seek, and a time to lose; A time to keep, and a time to cast away;

7A time to rend, and a time to sew; A time to keep silence, and a time to speak;

8A time to love, and a time to hate; A time for war, and a time for peace.

God's Works Remain Forever

9What profit hath he that worketh in that he laboreth? 10I have seen the task which God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised therewith.

11He hath made every thing beautiful in its time; also He hath set the world in their heart, yet so that man cannot find out the work that God hath done from the beginning even to the end.

12I know that there is nothing better for them, than to rejoice, and to get pleasure so long as they live. 13But also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy pleasure for all his labour, is the gift of God. 14I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever; nothing can be added to it, nor any thing taken from it; and God hath so made it, that men should fear before Him. 15That which is hath been long ago, and that which is to be hath already been; and God seeketh that which is pursued.

From Dust to Dust

16And moreover I saw under the sun, in the place of justice, that wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was there. 17I said in my heart: 'The righteous and the wicked God will judge; for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work.' 18I said in my heart: 'It is because of the sons of men, that God may sift them, and that they may see that they themselves are but as beasts.' 19For that which befalleth the sons of men befalleth beasts; even one thing befalleth them; as the one dieth, so dieth the other; yea, they have all one breath; so that man hath no pre-eminence above a beast; for all is vanity. 20All go unto one place; all are of the dust, and all return to dust. 21Who knoweth the spirit of man whether it goeth upward, and the spirit of the beast whether it goeth downward to the earth? 22Wherefore I perceived that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his works; for that is his portion; for who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

Ecclesiastes 4

JPS [Online]

The Evil of Oppression

1But I returned and considered all the oppressions that are done under the sun; and behold the tears of such as were oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors there was power, but they had no comforter. 2Wherefore I praised the dead that are already dead more than the living that are yet alive; 3but better than they both is he that hath not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work that is done under the sun.

7Then I returned and saw vanity under the sun. 8There is one that is alone, and he hath not a second; yea, he hath neither son nor brother; yet is there no end of all his labour, neither is his eye satisfied with riches: 'for whom then do I labour, and bereave my soul of pleasure?' This also is vanity, yea, it is a grievous business.

9Two are better than one; because they have a good reward for their labour. 10For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow; but woe to him that is alone when he falleth, and hath not another to lift him up. 11Again, if two lie together, then they have warmth; but how can one be warm alone? 12And if a man prevail against him that is alone, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

The Futility of Power

13Better is a poor and wise child than an old and foolish king, who knoweth not how to receive admonition any more. 14For out of prison he came forth to be king; although in his kingdom he was born poor. 15I saw all the living that walk under the sun, that they were with the child, the second, that was to stand up in his stead. 16There was no end of all the people, even of all them whom he did lead; yet they that come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a striving after wind.

Ecclesiastes 5

JPS [\[Online\]](#)

Approaching God with Awe

1Guard thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and be ready to hearken: it is better than when fools give sacrifices; for they know not that they do evil. 2Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thy heart be hasty to utter a word before God; for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth; therefore let thy words be few. 3For a dream cometh through a multitude of business; And a fool's voice through a multitude of words.

4When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for He hath no pleasure in fools; pay that which thou vowest. 5Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay. 6Suffer not thy mouth to bring thy flesh into guilt, neither say thou before the messenger, that it was an error; wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thy hands? 7For through the multitude of dreams and vanities there are also many words; but fear thou God.

The Futility of Wealth

(Psalm 49:1–20)

8If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and the violent perverting of justice and righteousness in the state, marvel not at the matter; for one higher than the high watcheth, and there are higher than they. 9But the profit of a land every way is a king that maketh himself servant to the field.

10He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance, with increase; this also is vanity. 11When goods increase, they are increased that eat them; and what advantage is there to the owner thereof, saving the beholding of them with his eyes? 12Sweet is the sleep of a labouring man, whether he eat little or much; but the satiety of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

18Behold that which I have seen: it is good, yea, it is comely for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy pleasure for all his labour, wherein he laboreth under the sun, all the days of his life which God hath given him; for this is his portion. 19Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour—this is the gift of God. ²⁰For let him remember the days of his life that they are not many; for God answereth him in the joy of his heart.

Ecclesiastes 6

JPS [\[Online\]](#)

The Futility of Life

¹There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is heavy upon men: ²a man to whom God giveth riches, wealth, and honour, so that he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it; this is vanity, and it is an evil disease.

³If a man beget a hundred children, and live many years, so that the days of his years are many, but his soul have not enough of good, and moreover he have no burial; I say, that an untimely birth is better than he; ⁴for it cometh in vanity, and departeth in darkness, and the name thereof is covered with darkness; ⁵moreover it hath not seen the sun nor known it; this hath gratification rather than the other; ⁶yea, though he live a thousand years twice told, and enjoy no good; do not all go to one place?

¹⁰Whatsoever cometh into being, the name thereof was given long ago, and it is foreknown what man is; neither can he contend with Him that is mightier than he. ¹¹Seeing there are many words that increase vanity, what is man the better? ¹²For who knoweth what is good for man in his life, all the days of his vain life which he spendeth as a shadow? for who can tell a man what shall be after him under the sun?

Ecclesiastes 7

JPS [\[Online\]](#)

The Value of Wisdom

¹A good name is better than precious oil; And the day of death than the day of one's birth.

²It is better to go to the house of mourning, Than to go to the house of feasting; For that is the end of all men, And the living will lay it to his heart.

³Vexation is better than laughter; For by the sadness of the countenance the heart may be gladdened.

⁴The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; But the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

⁵It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, Than for a man to hear the song of fools.

⁶For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool; this also is vanity.

7 Surely oppression turneth a wise man into a fool; And a gift destroyeth the understanding.

8 Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof; And the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.

9 Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry; For anger resteth in the bosom of fools.

10 Say not thou: 'How was it that the former days were better than these?' for it is not out of wisdom that thou inquirest concerning this.

11 Wisdom is good with an inheritance, Yea, a profit to them that see the sun.

12 For wisdom is a defence, even as money is a defence; but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom preserveth the life of him that hath it.

13 Consider the work of God; for who can make that straight, which He hath made crooked?

14 In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider; God hath made even the one as well as the other, to the end that man should find nothing after him.

The Limits of Human Wisdom

15 All things have I seen in the days of my vanity; there is a righteous man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his evil-doing. 16 Be not righteous overmuch; neither make thyself overwise; why shouldest thou destroy thyself? 17 Be not overmuch wicked, neither be thou foolish; why shouldest thou die before thy time? 18 It is good that thou shouldest take hold of the one; yea, also from the other withdraw not thy hand; for he that feareth God shall discharge himself of them all.

19 Wisdom is a stronghold to the wise man more than ten rulers that are in a city. 20 For there is not a righteous man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not. 21 Also take not heed unto all words that are spoken, lest thou hear thy servant curse thee; 22 for oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth that thou thyself likewise hast cursed others.

23 All this have I tried by wisdom; I said: 'I will get wisdom'; but it was far from me. 24 That which is is far off, and exceeding deep; who can find it out? 25 I turned about, and applied my heart to know and to search out, and to seek wisdom and the reason of things, and to know wickedness to be folly, and foolishness to be madness; 26 and I find more bitter than death the woman, whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands; whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her; but the sinner shall be taken by her.

27 Behold, this have I found, saith Koheleth, adding one thing to another, to find out the account; 28 which yet my soul sought, but I found not; one man among a thousand have I found; but a woman among all those have I not found. 29 Behold, this only have I found, that God made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions.

Ecclesiastes 8

Obey the King

1Who is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? A man's wisdom maketh his face to shine, And the boldness of his face is changed.

2I [counsel thee]: keep the king's command, and that in regard of the oath of God. 3Be not hasty to go out of his presence; stand not in an evil thing; for he doeth whatsoever pleaseth him. 4Forasmuch as the king's word hath power; and who may say unto him: 'What doest thou?'

5Whoso keepeth the commandment shall know no evil thing; And a wise man's heart discerneth time and judgment. 6For to every matter there is a time and judgment; for the evil of man is great upon him. 7For he knoweth not that which shall be; for even when it cometh to pass, who shall declare it unto him? 8There is no man that hath power over the wind to retain the wind; neither hath he power over the day of death; and there is no discharge in war; neither shall wickedness deliver him that is given to it. 9All this have I seen, even applied my heart thereto, whatever the work that is done under the sun; what time one man had power over another to his hurt.

Fear God

(Isaiah 8:11–15)

10And so I saw the wicked buried, and they entered into their rest; but they that had done right went away from the holy place, and were forgotten in the city; this also is vanity. 11Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil; 12because a sinner doeth evil a hundred times, and prolongeth his days—though yet I know that it shall be well with them that fear God, that fear before Him; 13but it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days, which are as a shadow, because he feareth not before God.

God's Ways Are Mysterious

14There is a vanity which is done upon the earth: that there are righteous men, unto whom it happeneth according to the work of the wicked; again, there are wicked men, to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous—I said that this also is vanity. 15So I commended mirth, that a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry, and that this should accompany him in his labour all the days of his life which God hath given him under the sun.

16When I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth—for neither day nor night do men see sleep with their eyes—17then I beheld all the work of God, that man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun; because though a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it; yea further, though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it.

Ecclesiastes 9

Death Comes to Good and Bad

1For all this I laid to my heart, even to make clear all this: that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God; whether it be love or hatred, man knoweth it not; all is before them.

2All things come alike to all; there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good and to the clean and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth and to him that sacrificeth not; as is the good, so is the sinner, and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath. 3This is an evil in all that is done under the sun, that there is one event unto all; yea also, the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead. 4For to him that is joined to all the living there is hope; for a living dog is better than a dead lion. 5For the living know that they shall die; but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten. 6As well their love, as their hatred and their envy, is long ago perished; neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun.

Enjoy Your Portion in This Life

7Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, And drink thy wine with a merry heart; For God hath already accepted thy works. 8Let thy garments be always white; And let thy head lack no oil. 9Enjoy life with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of the life of thy vanity, which He hath given thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity; for that is thy portion in life, and in thy labour wherein thou labourest under the sun.

10Whatsoever thy hand attaineth to do by thy strength, that do; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest.

11I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill; but time and chance happeneth to them all. 12For man also knoweth not his time; as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare, even so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.

Wisdom Is Better than Strength

13This also have I seen as wisdom under the sun, and it seemed great unto me: 14there was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it; 15now there was found in it a man poor and wise, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that same poor man. 16Then said I: 'Wisdom is better than strength; nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.' 17The words of the wise spoken in quiet Are more acceptable than the cry of a ruler among fools. 18Wisdom is better than weapons of war; But one sinner destroyeth much good.

Ecclesiastes 10

JPS [Online]

Wisdom and Folly

1Dead flies make the ointment of the perfumer fetid and putrid; So doth a little folly outweigh wisdom and honour. 2A wise man's understanding is at his right hand; But a fool's understanding at his left.

3Yea also, when a fool walketh by the way, his understanding faileth him, and he saith to every one that he is a fool. 4If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, Leave not thy place; For gentleness allayeth great offences.

8He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; And whoso breaketh through a fence, a serpent shall bite him. 9Whoso quarrieth stones shall be hurt therewith; And he that cleaveth wood is endangered thereby. 10If the iron be blunt, And one do not whet the edge, Then must he put to more strength; But wisdom is profitable to direct. 11If the serpent bite before it is charmed, Then the charmer hath no advantage. 12The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious; But the lips of a fool will swallow up himself. 13The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness; And the end of his talk is grievous madness. 14A fool also multiplieth words; Yet man knoweth not what shall be; And that which shall be after him, Who can tell him? 15The labour of fools wearieth every one of them, For he knoweth not how to go to the city. 16Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a boy, And thy princes feast in the morning! 17Happy art thou, O land, when thy king is a free man, And thy princes eat in due season, In strength, and not in drunkenness! 18By slothfulness the rafters sink in; And through idleness of the hands the house leaketh. 19A feast is made for laughter, And wine maketh glad the life; And money answereth all things. 20Curse not the king, no, not in thy thought, And curse not the rich in thy bedchamber; For a bird of the air shall carry the voice, And that which hath wings shall tell the matter.

Ecclesiastes 11

JPS [\[Online\]](#)

Cast Your Bread upon the Waters

1Cast thy bread upon the waters, For thou shalt find it after many days. 2Divide a portion into seven, yea, even into eight; For thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth. 3If the clouds be full of rain, They empty themselves upon the earth; And if a tree fall in the south, or in the north, In the place where the tree falleth, there shall it be. 4He that observeth the wind shall not sow; And he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap. 5As thou knowest not what is the way of the wind, Nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child; Even so thou knowest not the work of God Who doeth all things.

6In the morning sow thy seed, And in the evening withhold not thy hand; For thou knowest not which shall prosper, whether this or that, Or whether they both shall be alike good.

Enjoy Your Years

7And the light is sweet, And a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun. 8For if a man live many years, Let him rejoice in them all, And remember the days of darkness, For they shall be many. All that cometh is vanity.

9Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth; And let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, And walk in the ways of thy heart, And in the sight of thine eyes; But know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment. 10Therefore remove vexation from thy heart, And put away evil from thy flesh; For childhood and youth are vanity.

Ecclesiastes 12

JPS [\[Online\]](#)

Remember Your Creator

1Remember then thy Creator in the days of thy youth, Before the evil days come, And the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say: 'I have no pleasure in them'; 2Before the sun, and the light, and the moon, And the stars, are darkened, And the clouds return after the rain; 3In the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, And the strong men shall bow themselves, And the grinders cease because they are few, And those that look out shall be darkened in the windows, 4And the doors shall be shut in the street, When the sound of the grinding is low; And one shall start up at the voice of a bird, And all the daughters of music shall be brought low; 5Also when they shall be afraid of that which is high, And terrors shall be in the way; And the almond-tree shall blossom, And the grasshopper shall drag itself along, And the caperberry shall fail; Because man goeth to his long home, And the mourners go about the streets; 6Before the silver cord is snapped asunder, And the golden bowl is shattered, And the pitcher is broken at the fountain, And the wheel falleth shattered, into the pit; 7And the dust returneth to the earth as it was, And the spirit returneth unto God who gave it. 8Vanity of vanities, saith Koheleth; all is vanity.

The Whole Duty of Man

9And besides that Koheleth was wise, he also taught the people knowledge; yea, he pondered, and sought out, and set in order many proverbs. 10Koheleth sought to find out words of delight, and that which was written uprightly, even words of truth.

11The words of the wise are as goads, and as nails well fastened are those that are composed in collections; they are given from one shepherd. 12And furthermore, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

13The end of the matter, all having been heard: fear God, and keep His commandments; for this is the whole man. 14For God shall bring every work into the judgment concerning every hidden thing, whether it be good or whether it be evil.

The Bride Confesses Her Love

(Ephesians 5:22–33; 1 Peter 3:1–7)

1THE song of songs, which is Solomon's.

2Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth—For thy love is better than wine.

3Thine ointments have a goodly fragrance; Thy name is as ointment poured forth; Therefore do the maidens love thee.

4Draw me, we will run after thee; The king hath brought me into his chambers; We will be glad and rejoice in thee, We will find thy love more fragrant than wine! Sincerely do they love thee.

5I am black, but comely, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, As the tents of Kedar, As the curtains of Solomon.

6Look not upon me, that I am swarthy, That the sun hath tanned me; My mother's sons were incensed against me, They made me keeper of the vineyards; But mine own vineyard have I not kept.'

7Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, Where thou feedest, where thou makest thy flock to rest at noon; For why should I be as one that veileth herself Beside the flocks of thy companions?

8If thou know not, O thou fairest among women, Go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock And feed thy kids, beside the shepherds' tents.

9I have compared thee, O my love, To a steed in Pharaoh's chariots.

10Thy cheeks are comely with circlets, Thy neck with beads.

11We will make thee circlets of gold With studs of silver.

12While the king sat at his table, My spikenard sent forth its fragrance.

13My beloved is unto me as a bag of myrrh, That lieth betwixt my breasts.

14My beloved is unto me as a cluster of henna In the vineyards of En-gedi.

15Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; Thine eyes are as doves.

16Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleasant; Also our couch is leafy.

17The beams of our houses are cedars, And our panels are cypresses.

The Bride's Admiration

1I am a rose of Sharon, A lily of the valleys.

2As a lily among thorns, So is my love among the daughters.

3As an apple-tree among the trees of the wood, So is my beloved among the sons. Under its shadow I delighted to sit, And its fruit was sweet to my taste.

4He hath brought me to the banqueting-house, And his banner over me is love.

5Stay ye me with dainties, refresh me with apples; For I am love-sick.'

6Let his left hand be under my head, And his right hand embrace me.

7I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, By the gazelles, and by the hinds of the field, That ye awaken not, nor stir up love, until it please.'

8Hark! my beloved! behold, he cometh, Leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills.

9My beloved is like a gazelle or a young hart; Behold, he standeth behind our wall, He looketh in through the windows, He peereth through the lattice.

10My beloved spoke, and said unto me: 'Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away.

11For, lo, the winter is past, The rain is over and gone;

12The flowers appear on the earth; The time of singing is come, And the voice of the turtle is heard in our land;

13The fig-tree putteth forth her green figs, And the vines in blossom give forth their fragrance. Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away.

14O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the covert of the cliff, Let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice; For sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely.'

15Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vineyards; For our vineyards are in blossom.'

16My beloved is mine, and I am his, That feedeth among the lilies.

17Until the day breathe, and the shadows flee away, Turn, my beloved, and be thou like a gazelle or a young hart Upon the mountains of spices.

The Bride's Dream

1By night on my bed I sought him whom my soul loveth; I sought him, but I found him not.

2I will rise now, and go about the city, In the streets and in the broad ways, I will seek him whom my soul loveth.' I sought him, but I found him not.

3The watchmen that go about the city found me: 'Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?'

4 Scarce had I passed from them, When I found him whom my soul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go, Until I had brought him into my mother's house, And into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5 I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, By the gazelles, and by the hinds of the field, That ye awaken not, nor stir up love, Until it please.'

Solomon Arrives on His Wedding Day

6 Who is this that cometh up out of the wilderness Like pillars of smoke, Perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, With all powders of the merchant?

7 Behold, it is the litter of Solomon; Threescore mighty men are about it, Of the mighty men of Israel.

8 They all handle the sword, And are expert in war; Every man hath his sword upon his thigh, Because of dread in the night.

9 King Solomon made himself a palanquin Of the wood of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of silver, The top thereof of gold, The seat of it of purple, The inside thereof being inlaid with love, From the daughters of Jerusalem.

11 Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, And gaze upon king Solomon, Even upon the crown wherewith his mother hath crowned him in the day of his espousals, And in the day of the gladness of his heart.

Solomon Admires His Bride

1 Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; Thine eyes are as doves behind thy veil; Thy hair is as a flock of goats, that trail down from mount Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of ewes all shaped alike, Which are come up from the washing; Whereof all are paired, and none faileth among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, And thy mouth is comely; Thy temples are like a pomegranate split open Behind thy veil.

4 Thy neck is like the tower of David Buildd with turrets, Whereon there hang a thousand shields, All the armour of the mighty men.

5 Thy two breasts are like two fawns That are twins of a gazelle, Which feed among the lilies.

6 Until the day breathe, And the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrh, And to the hill of frankincense.

7 Thou art all fair, my love; And there is no spot in thee.

8Come with me from Lebanon, my bride, With me from Lebanon; Look from the top of Amana, From the top of Senir and Hermon, From the lions' dens, From the mountains of the leopards.

9Thou hast ravished my heart, my sister, my bride; Thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes, With one bead of thy necklace.

10How fair is thy love, my sister, my bride! How much better is thy love than wine! And the smell of thine ointments than all manner of spices!

11Thy lips, O my bride, drop honey—Honey and milk are under thy tongue; And the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon.

12A garden shut up is my sister, my bride; A spring shut up, a fountain sealed.

13Thy shoots are a park of pomegranates, With precious fruits; Henna with spikenard plants, 14Spikenard and saffron, calamus and cinnamon, With all trees of frankincense; Myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices.

15Thou art a fountain of gardens, A well of living waters, And flowing streams from Lebanon.

16Awake, O north wind; And come, thou south; Blow upon my garden, That the spices thereof may flow out. Let my beloved come into his garden, And eat his precious fruits.

The Bride and Her Beloved

1I am come into my garden, my sister, my bride; I have gathered my myrrh with my spice; I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey; I have drunk my wine with my milk. Eat, O friends; Drink, yea, drink abundantly, O beloved.

2I sleep, but my heart waketh; Hark! my beloved knocketh: 'Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled; For my head is filled with dew, My locks with the drops of the night.'

3I have put off my coat; How shall I put it on? I have washed my feet; How shall I defile them?

4My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, And my heart was moved for him.

5I rose up to open to my beloved; And my hands dropped with myrrh, And my fingers with flowing myrrh, Upon the handles of the bar.

6I opened to my beloved; But my beloved had turned away, and was gone. My soul failed me when he spoke. I sought him, but I could not find him; I called him, but he gave me no answer.

7The watchmen that go about the city found me, They smote me, they wounded me; The keepers of the walls took away my mantle from me.

8I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, If ye find my beloved, what will ye tell him? That I am love-sick.'

9What is thy beloved more than another beloved, O thou fairest among women? What is thy beloved more than another beloved, That thou dost so adjure us?'

10My beloved is white and ruddy, Pre-eminent above ten thousand.

11His head is as the most fine gold, His locks are curled, And black as a raven.

12His eyes are like doves Beside the water-brooks; Washed with milk, And fitly set.

13His cheeks are as a bed of spices, As banks of sweet herbs; His lips are as lilies, Dropping with flowing myrrh.

14His hands are as rods of gold Set with beryl; His body is as polished ivory Overlaid with sapphires.

15His legs are as pillars of marble, Set upon sockets of fine gold; His aspect is like Lebanon, Excellent as the cedars.

16His mouth is most sweet; Yea, he is altogether lovely. This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.'

Together in the Garden

1Whither is thy beloved gone, O thou fairest among women? Whither hath thy beloved turned him, That we may seek him with thee?'

2My beloved is gone down into his garden, To the beds of spices, To feed in the gardens, And to gather lilies.

3I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine, That feedeth among the lilies.'

4Thou art beautiful, O my love, as Tirzah, Comely as Jerusalem, Terrible as an army with banners.

5Turn away thine eyes from me, For they have overcome me. Thy hair is as a flock of goats, That trail down from Gilead.

6Thy teeth are like a flock of ewes, Which are come up from the washing; Whereof all are paired, And none faileth among them.

7Thy temples are like a pomegranate split open Behind thy veil.

8There are threescore queens, And fourscore concubines, And maidens without number.

9My dove, my undefiled, is but one; She is the only one of her mother; She is the choice one of her that bore her. The daughters saw her, and called her happy; Yea, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her.

10Who is she that looketh forth as the dawn, Fair as the moon, Clear as the sun, Terrible as an army with banners?

11I went down into the garden of nuts, To look at the green plants of the valley, To see whether the vine budded, And the pomegranates were in flower.

12Before I was aware, my soul set me Upon the chariots of my princely people.

13Return, return, O Shulammitte; Return, return, that we may look upon thee. What will ye see in the Shulammitte? As it were a dance of two companies.

Admiration by the Bridegroom

1How beautiful are thy steps in sandals, O prince's daughter! The roundings of thy thighs are like the links of a chain, The work of the hands of a skilled workman.

2Thy navel is like a round goblet, Wherein no mingled wine is wanting; Thy belly is like a heap of wheat Set about with lilies.

3Thy two breasts are like two fawns That are twins of a gazelle.

4Thy neck is as a tower of ivory; Thine eyes as the pools in Heshbon, By the gate of Bath-rabbim; Thy nose is like the tower of Lebanon Which looketh toward Damascus.

5Thy head upon thee is like Carmel, And the hair of thy head like purple; The king is held captive in the tresses thereof.

6How fair and how pleasant art thou, O love, for delights!

7This thy stature is like to a palm-tree, And thy breasts to clusters of grapes.

8I said: 'I will climb up into the palm-tree, I will take hold of the branches thereof; And let thy breasts be as clusters of the vine, And the smell of thy countenance like apples;

9And the roof of thy mouth like the best wine, That glideth down smoothly for my beloved, Moving gently the lips of those that are asleep.'

10I am my beloved's, And his desire is toward me.

11Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field; Let us lodge in the villages.

12Let us get up early to the vineyards; Let us see whether the vine hath budded, Whether the vine-blossom be opened, And the pomegranates be in flower; There will I give thee my love.

13The mandrakes give forth fragrance, And at our doors are all manner of precious fruits, New and old, Which I have laid up for thee, O my beloved.

Longing for Her Beloved

1Oh that thou wert as my brother, That sucked the breasts of my mother! When I should find thee without, I would kiss thee; Yea, and none would despise me.

2I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house, That thou mightest instruct me; I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine, Of the juice of my pomegranate.

3His left hand should be under my head, And his right hand should embrace me.

4I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem: Why should ye awaken, or stir up love, Until it please?'

5Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, Leaning upon her beloved? Under the apple-tree I awakened thee; There thy mother was in travail with thee; There was she in travail and brought thee forth.

6Set me as a seal upon thy heart, As a seal upon thine arm; For love is strong as death, Jealousy is cruel as the grave; The flashes thereof are flashes of fire, A very flame of the LORD.

7Many waters cannot quench love, Neither can the floods drown it; If a man would give all the substance of his house for love, He would utterly be contemned.

8We have a little sister, And she hath no breasts; What shall we do for our sister In the day when she shall be spoken for?

9If she be a wall, We will build upon her a turret of silver; And if she be a door, We will enclose her with boards of cedar.

10I am a wall, And my breasts like the towers thereof; Then was I in his eyes As one that found peace.

11Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon; He gave over the vineyard unto keepers; Every one for the fruit thereof Brought in a thousand pieces of silver.

12My vineyard, which is mine, is before me; Thou, O Solomon, shalt have the thousand, And those that keep the fruit thereof two hundred.

13Thou that dwellest in the gardens, The companions hearken for thy voice: 'Cause me to hear it.'

14 Make haste, my beloved, And be thou like to a gazelle or to a young hart Upon the mountains of spices.

Judah's Rebellion

(2 Chronicles 28:5–15)

1 The Vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

2 Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth, For the LORD hath spoken: Children I have reared, and brought up, And they have rebelled against Me.

3 The ox knoweth his owner, And the ass his master's crib; But Israel doth not know, My people doth not consider.

4 Ah sinful nation, A people laden with iniquity, A seed of evil-doers, Children that deal corruptly; They have forsaken the LORD, They have contemned the Holy One of Israel, They are turned away backward.

5 On what part will ye yet be stricken, Seeing ye stray away more and more? The whole head is sick, And the whole heart faint;

6 From the sole of the foot even unto the head There is no soundness in it; But wounds, and bruises, and festering sores: They have not been pressed, neither bound up, Neither mollified with oil.

7 Your country is desolate; Your cities are burned with fire; Your land, strangers devour it in your presence, And it is desolate, as overthrown by floods.

8 And the daughter of Zion is left As a booth in a vineyard, As a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, As a besieged city.

9 Except the LORD of hosts Had left unto us a very small remnant, We should have been as Sodom, We should have been like unto Gomorrah.

Meaningless Offerings

10 Hear the word of the LORD, Ye rulers of Sodom; Give ear unto the law of our God, Ye people of Gomorrah.

11 To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto Me? Saith the LORD; I am full of the burnt-offerings of rams, And the fat of fed beasts; And I delight not in the blood Of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he-goats.

12When ye come to appear before Me, Who hath required this at your hand, To trample My courts?

13Bring no more vain oblations; It is an offering of abomination unto Me; New moon and sabbath, the holding of convocations—I cannot endure iniquity along with the solemn assembly.

14Your new moons and your appointed seasons My soul hateth; They are a burden unto Me; I am weary to bear them.

15And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide Mine eyes from you; Yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear; Your hands are full of blood.

16Wash you, make you clean, Put away the evil of your doings From before Mine eyes, Cease to do evil;

17Learn to do well; Seek justice, relieve the oppressed, Judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18Come now, and let us reason together, Saith the LORD; Though your sins be as scarlet, They shall be as white as snow; Though they be red like crimson, They shall be as wool.

19If ye be willing and obedient, Ye shall eat the good of the land;

20But if ye refuse and rebel, Ye shall be devoured with the sword; For the mouth of the LORD hath spoken.

The Corruption of Zion

21How is the faithful city Become a harlot! She that was full of justice, Righteousness lodged in her, But now murderers.

22Thy silver is become dross, Thy wine mixed with water.

23Thy princes are rebellious, And companions of thieves; Every one loveth bribes, And followeth after rewards; They judge not the fatherless, Neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them.

24Therefore saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, The Mighty One of Israel: Ah, I will ease Me of Mine adversaries, And avenge Me of Mine enemies;

25And I will turn My hand upon thee, And purge away thy dross as with lye, And will take away all thine alloy;

26And I will restore thy judges as at the first, And thy counsellors as at the beginning; Afterward thou shalt be called The city of righteousness, The faithful city.

27Zion shall be redeemed with justice, And they that return of her with righteousness.

28But the destruction of the transgressors and the sinners shall be together, And they that forsake the LORD shall be consumed.

29For they shall be ashamed of the terebinths which ye have desired, And ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen.

30 For ye shall be as a terebinth whose leaf fadeth, And as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shall be as tow, And his work as a spark; And they shall both burn together, And none shall quench them.

The Mountain of the House of the LORD

(Micah 4:1–5)

1 The word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

2 And it shall come to pass in the end of days, That the mountain of the LORD'S house Shall be established as the top of the mountains, And shall be exalted above the hills; And all nations shall flow unto it.

3 And many peoples shall go and say: 'Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, To the house of the God of Jacob; And He will teach us of His ways, And we will walk in His paths.' For out of Zion shall go forth the law, And the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

4 And He shall judge between the nations, And shall decide for many peoples; And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, And their spears into pruninghooks; Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, Neither shall they learn war any more.

The Day of Reckoning

5 O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk In the light of the LORD.

6 For Thou hast forsaken Thy people the house of Jacob; For they are replenished from the east, And with soothsayers like the Philistines, And they please themselves in the brood of aliens.

7 Their land also is full of silver and gold, Neither is there any end of their treasures; Their land also is full of horses, Neither is there any end of their chariots.

8 Their land also is full of idols; Every one worshippeth the work of his own hands, That which his own fingers have made.

9 And man boweth down, And man lowereth himself; And Thou canst not bear with them.

10 Enter into the rock, And hide thee in the dust, From before the terror of the LORD, And from the glory of His majesty.

11 The lofty looks of man shall be brought low, And the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, And the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.

12For the LORD of hosts hath a day Upon all that is proud and lofty, And upon all that is lifted up, and it shall be brought low;

13And upon all the cedars of Lebanon That are high and lifted up, And upon all the oaks of Bashan;

14And upon all the high mountains, And upon all the hills that are lifted up;

15And upon every lofty tower, And upon every fortified wall;

16And upon all the ships of Tarshish, And upon all delightful imagery.

17And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, And the haughtiness of men shall be brought low; And the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.

18And the idols shall utterly pass away.

19And men shall go into the caves of the rocks, And into the holes of the earth, From before the terror of the LORD, And from the glory of His majesty, When He ariseth to shake mightily the earth.

20In that day a man shall cast away His idols of silver, and his idols of gold, Which they made for themselves to worship, To the moles and to the bats;

21To go into the clefts of the rocks, And into the crevices of the crags, From before the terror of the LORD, And from the glory of His majesty, When he ariseth to shake mightily the earth.

22Cease ye from man, in whose nostrils is a breath; For how little is he to be accounted!

Judgment on Jerusalem and Judah

1For, behold, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, Doth take away from Jerusalem and from Judah Stay and staff, Every stay of bread, and every stay of water;

2The mighty man, and the man of war; The judge, and the prophet, And the diviner, and the elder;

3The captain of fifty, and the man of rank, And the counsellor, and the cunning charmer, and the skilful enchanter.

4And I will give children to be their princes, And babes shall rule over them.

5And the people shall oppress one another, Every man his fellow, and every man his neighbour; The child shall behave insolently against the aged, And the base against the honourable,

6For a man shall take hold of his brother of the house of his father: 'Thou hast a mantle, Be thou our ruler, And let this ruin be under thy hand.'

7In that day shall he swear, saying: 'I will not be a healer; For in my house is neither bread nor a mantle; Ye shall not make me ruler of a people.'

8For Jerusalem is ruined, And Judah is fallen; Because their tongue and their doings are against the LORD, To provoke the eyes of His glory.

9The show of their countenance doth witness against them; And they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! For they have wrought evil unto themselves.

10Say ye of the righteous, that it shall be well with him; For they shall eat the fruit of their doings.

11Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him; For the work of his hands shall be done to him.

12As for My people, a babe is their master, And women rule over them. O My people, they that lead thee cause thee to err, And destroy the way of thy paths.

13The LORD standeth up to plead, And standeth to judge the peoples.

14The LORD will enter into judgment With the elders of His people, and the princes thereof: 'It is ye that have eaten up the vineyard; The spoil of the poor is in your houses;

15What mean ye that ye crush My people, And grind the face of the poor?' Saith the Lord, the GOD of hosts.

A Warning to the Daughters of Zion

16Moreover the LORD said: Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, And walk with stretched-forth necks And wanton eyes, Walking and mincing as they go, And making a tinkling with their feet;

17Therefore the Lord will smite with a scab The crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, And the LORD will lay bare their secret parts.

18In that day the Lord will take away the bravery of their anklets, and the fillets, and the crescents; 19the pendants, and the bracelets, and the veils; 20the headdresses, and the armlets, and the sashes, and the corselets, and the amulets; 21the rings, and the nose-jewels; 22the aprons, and the mantelets, and the cloaks, and the girdles; 23and the gauze robes, and the fine linen, and the turbans, and the mantles.

24And it shall come to pass, that Instead of sweet spices there shall be rottenness; And instead of a girdle rags; And instead of curled hair baldness; And instead of a stomacher a girding of sackcloth; Branding instead of beauty.

25Thy men shall fall by the sword, And thy mighty in the war.

26And her gates shall lament and mourn; And utterly bereft she shall sit upon the ground.

Isaiah 4

A Remnant in Zion

¹And seven women shall take hold of one man in that day, saying: 'We will eat our own bread, and wear our own apparel; only let us be called by thy name; take thou away our reproach.'

²In that day shall the growth of the LORD be beautiful and glorious, And the fruit of the land excellent and comely For them that are escaped of Israel. ³And it shall come to pass, that he that is left in Zion, and he that remaineth in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even every one that is written unto life in Jerusalem; ⁴when the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from the midst thereof, by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of destruction. ⁵And the LORD will create over the whole habitation of mount Zion, and over her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night; for over all the glory shall be a canopy. ⁶And there shall be a pavilion for a shadow in the day-time from the heat, and for a refuge and for a covert from storm and from rain.

The Song of the Vineyard

(Luke 13:6–9)

¹Let me sing of my well-beloved, A song of my beloved touching his vineyard. My well-beloved had a vineyard In a very fruitful hill;

²And he digged it, and cleared it of stones, And planted it with the choicest vine, And built a tower in the midst of it, And also hewed out a vat therein; And he looked that it should bring forth grapes, And it brought forth wild grapes.

³And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, Judge, I pray you, betwixt me and my vineyard.

⁴What could have been done more to my vineyard, That I have not done in it? Wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, Brought it forth wild grapes?

⁵And now come, I will tell you What I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, And it shall be eaten up; I will break down the fence thereof, And it shall be trodden down;

⁶And I will lay it waste: It shall not be pruned nor hoed, But there shall come up briars and thorns; I will also command the clouds That they rain no rain upon it.

⁷For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, And the men of Judah the plant of His delight; And He looked for justice, but behold violence; For righteousness, but behold a cry.

Woes to the Wicked

⁸Woe unto them that join house to house, That lay field to field, Till there be no room, and ye be made to dwell Alone in the midst of the land!

9In mine ears said the LORD of hosts: Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, Even great and fair, without inhabitant.

10For ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, And the seed of a homer shall yield an ephah.

11Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, That they may follow strong drink; That tarry late into the night, Till wine inflame them!

12And the harp and the psaltery, the tabret and the pipe, And wine, are in their feasts; But they regard not the work of the LORD, Neither have they considered the operation of His hands.

13Therefore My people are gone into captivity, For want of knowledge; And their honourable men are famished, And their multitude are parched with thirst.

14Therefore the nether-world hath enlarged her desire, And opened her mouth without measure; And down goeth their glory, and their tumult, and their uproar, And he that rejoiceth among them.

15And man is bowed down, And man is humbled, And the eyes of the lofty are humbled;

16But the LORD of hosts is exalted through justice, And God the Holy One is sanctified through righteousness.

17Then shall the lambs feed as in their pasture, And the waste places of the fat ones shall wanderers eat.

18Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, And sin as it were with a cart rope,

19That say: 'Let Him make speed, let Him hasten His work, That we may see it; And let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, That we may know it!'

20Woe unto them that call evil good, And good evil; That change darkness into light, And light into darkness; That change bitter into sweet, And sweet into bitter!

21Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, And prudent in their own sight!

22Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, And men of strength to mingle strong drink;

23That justify the wicked for a reward, And take away the righteousness of the righteous from him!

24Therefore as the tongue of fire devoureth the stubble, And as the chaff is consumed in the flame, So their root shall be as rottenness, And their blossom shall go up as dust; Because they have rejected the law of the LORD of hosts, And contemned the word of the Holy One of Israel.

25Therefore is the anger of the LORD kindled against His people, And He hath stretched forth His hand against them, and hath smitten them, And the hills did tremble, And their carcasses were as refuse in the midst of the streets. For all this His anger is not turned away, But His hand is stretched out still.

26And He will lift up an ensign to the nations from far, And will hiss unto them from the end of the earth; And, behold, they shall come with speed swiftly;

27None shall be weary nor stumble among them; None shall slumber nor sleep; Neither shall the girdle of their loins be loosed, Nor the latchet of their shoes be broken;

28Whose arrows are sharp, And all their bows bent; Their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint, And their wheels like a whirlwind;

29Their roaring shall be like a lion, They shall roar like young lions, yea, they shall roar, And lay hold of the prey, and carry it away safe, And there shall be none to deliver.

30And they shall roar against them in that day Like the roaring of the sea; And if one look unto the land, Behold darkness and distress, And the light is darkened in the skies thereof.

Isaiah's Commission

(Matthew 13:10–17; Mark 4:10–12; Acts 28:16–31)

1In the year that king Uzziah died I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne high and lifted up, and His train filled the temple. 2Above Him stood the seraphim; each one had six wings: with twain he covered his face and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly.

3And one called unto another, and said: Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of hosts; The whole earth is full of His glory.

4And the posts of the door were moved at the voice of them that called, and the house was filled with smoke.

5Then said I: Woe is me! for I am undone; Because I am a man of unclean lips, And I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips; For mine eyes have seen the King, The LORD of hosts.

6Then flew unto me one of the seraphim, with a glowing stone in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar; 7and he touched my mouth with it, and said: Lo, this hath touched thy lips; And thine iniquity is taken away, And thy sin expiated.

8And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying: Whom shall I send, And who will go for us? Then I said: 'Here am I; send me.'

9And He said: 'Go, and tell this people: Hear ye indeed, but understand not; And see ye indeed, but perceive not.

10Make the heart of this people fat, And make their ears heavy, And shut their eyes; Lest they, seeing with their eyes, And hearing with their ears, And understanding with their heart, Return, and be healed.'

11Then said I: 'Lord, how long?' And He answered: 'Until cities be waste without inhabitant, And houses without man, And the land become utterly waste, 12And the LORD have removed men far away, And the forsaken places be many in the midst of the land.

13And if there be yet a tenth in it, it shall again be eaten up; as a terebinth, and as an oak, whose stock remaineth, when they cast their leaves, so the holy seed shall be the stock thereof.'

A Message to Ahaz

1And it came to pass in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, that Rezin the king of Aram, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to war against it; but could not prevail against it. 2And it was told the house of David, saying: 'Aram is confederate with Ephraim.' And his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moved with the wind.

3Then said the LORD unto Isaiah: 'Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and Shear-jashub thy son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, in the highway of the fullers' field; 4and say unto him: Keep calm, and be quiet; fear not, neither let thy heart be faint, because of these two tails of smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin and Aram, and of the son of Remaliah. 5Because Aram hath counselled evil against thee, Ephraim also, and the son of Remaliah, saying: 6Let us go up against Judah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set up a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tabeel; 7thus saith the Lord GOD: It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass. 8For the head of Aram is Damascus, And the head of Damascus is Rezin; And within threescore and five years Shall Ephraim be broken, that it be not a people; 9And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, And the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. If ye will not have faith, surely ye shall not be established.'

The Sign of Immanuel

(Matthew 1:18–25)

10And the LORD spoke again unto Ahaz, saying: 11Ask thee a sign of the LORD thy God: ask it either in the depth, or in the height above.' 12But Ahaz said: 'I will not ask, neither will I try the LORD.' 13And he said: 'Hear ye now, O house of David: Is it a small thing for you to weary men, that ye will weary my God also? 14Therefore the Lord Himself shall give you a sign: behold, the young woman shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. 15Curd and honey shall he eat, when he knoweth to refuse the evil, and choose the good. 16Yea, before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land whose two kings thou hast a horror of shall be forsaken.'

Judgment to Come

(Micah 1:1–7)

17The LORD shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah; even the king of Assyria.'

18And it shall come to pass in that day, That the LORD shall hiss for the fly That is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, And for the bee that is in the land of Assyria. 19And they shall come, and shall rest all of them In the rugged valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, And upon all thorns, and upon all brambles.

20In that day shall the Lord shave with a razor that is hired in the parts beyond the River, even with the king of Assyria, the head and the hair of the feet; and it shall also sweep away the beard.

21And it shall come to pass in that day, that a man shall rear a young cow, and two sheep; 22and it shall come to pass, for the abundance of milk that they shall give, he shall eat curd; for curd and honey shall every one eat that is left in the midst of the land.

23And it shall come to pass in that day, that every place, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, shall even be for briers and thorns. 24With arrows and with bow shall one come thither; because all the land shall become briers and thorns. 25And all the hills that were digged with the mattock, thou shalt not come thither for fear of briers and thorns, but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of sheep.

Assyrian Invasion Prophesied

1And the LORD said unto me: 'Take thee a great tablet, and write upon it in common script: The spoil speedeth, the prey hasteth; 2and I will take unto Me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.' 3And I went unto the prophetess; and she conceived, and bore a son. Then said the LORD unto me: 'Call his name Maher-shalal-hashbaz. 4For before the child shall have knowledge to cry: My father, and: My mother, the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be carried away before the king of Assyria.'

5And the LORD spoke unto me yet again, saying:

6Forasmuch as this people hath refused The waters of Shiloah that go softly, And rejoiceth with Rezin and Remaliah's son;

7Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them The waters of the River, mighty and many, Even the king of Assyria and all his glory; And he shall come up over all his channels, And go over all his banks;

8And he shall sweep through Judah Overflowing as he passeth through He shall reach even to the neck; And the stretching out of his wings Shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel.

9Make an uproar, O ye peoples, and ye shall be broken in pieces; And give ear, all ye of far countries; Gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; Gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces.

10Take counsel together, and it shall be brought to nought; Speak the word, and it shall not stand; For God is with us.

A Call to Fear God

(Ecclesiastes 8:10–13)

11For the LORD spoke thus to me with a strong hand, admonishing me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying:

12Say ye not: A conspiracy, concerning all whereof this people do say: A conspiracy; neither fear ye their fear, nor account it dreadful.

13The LORD of hosts, Him shall ye sanctify; and let Him be your fear, and let Him be your dread.

14And He shall be for a sanctuary; but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

15And many among them shall stumble, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.'

16Bind up the testimony, seal the instruction among My disciples.' 17And I will wait for the LORD, that hideth His face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for Him. 18Behold, I and the children whom the LORD hath given me shall be for signs and for wonders in Israel from the LORD of hosts, who dwelleth in mount Zion.

Darkness and Light

19And when they shall say unto you: 'Seek unto the ghosts and the familiar spirits, that chirp and that mutter; should not a people seek unto their God? on behalf of the living unto the dead 20for instruction and for testimony?'—Surely they will speak according to this word, wherein there is no light.— 21And they shall pass this way that are sore bestead and hungry; and it shall come to pass that, when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and curse by their king and by their God, and, whether they turn their faces upward, 22or look unto the earth, behold distress and darkness, the gloom of anguish, and outspread thick darkness.

Unto Us a Child Is Born

(Matthew 4:12–17; Mark 1:14–15; Luke 4:14–15)

1For is there no gloom to her that was stedfast? Now the former hath lightly afflicted the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but the latter hath dealt a more grievous blow by the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, in the district of the nations.

2The people that walked in darkness Have seen a great light; They that dwelt in the land of the shadow of death, Upon them hath the light shined.

3Thou hast multiplied the nation, Thou hast increased their joy; They joy before Thee according to the joy in harvest, As men rejoice when they divide the spoil.

4For the yoke of his burden, And the staff of his shoulder, The rod of his oppressor, Thou hast broken as in the day of Midian.

5For every boot stamped with fierceness, And every cloak rolled in blood, Shall even be for burning, for fuel of fire.

6For a child is born unto us, A son is given unto us; And the government is upon his shoulder; And his name is called Pele-joez-el-gibbor-Abi-ad-sar-shalom;

7That the government may be increased, And of peace there be no end, Upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, To establish it, and to uphold it Through justice and through righteousness From henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts doth perform this.

Judgment against Israel's Pride

8The Lord sent a word into Jacob, And it hath lighted upon Israel.

9And all the people shall know, Even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, That say in pride and in arrogancy of heart:

10The bricks are fallen, but we will build with hewn stones; The sycamores are cut down, but cedars will we put in their place.'

11Therefore the LORD doth set upon high the adversaries of Rezin against him, And spur his enemies;

12The Arameans on the east, and the Philistines on the west; And they devour Israel with open mouth. For all this His anger is not turned away, But His hand is stretched out still.

Judgment against Israel's Hypocrisy

13Yet the people turneth not unto Him that smiteth them, Neither do they seek the LORD of hosts.

14Therefore the LORD doth cut off from Israel head and tail, Palm-branch and rush, in one day.

15The elder and the man of rank, he is the head; And the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail.

16For they that lead this people cause them to err; And they that are led of them are destroyed.

17Therefore the Lord shall have no joy in their young men, Neither shall He have compassion on their fatherless and widows; For every one is ungodly and an evil-doer, And every mouth speaketh wantonness. For all this His anger is not turned away, But His hand is stretched out still.

Judgment against Israel's Unrepentance

18For wickedness burneth as the fire; It devoureth the briers and thorns; Yea, it kindleth in the thickets of the forest, And they roll upward in thick clouds of smoke.

19Through the wrath of the LORD of hosts is the land burnt up; The people also are as the fuel of fire; No man spareth his brother.

20And one snatcheth on the right hand, and is hungry; And he eateth on the left hand, and is not satisfied; They eat every man the flesh of his own arm:

21Manasseh, Ephraim; and Ephraim, Manasseh; And they together are against Judah. For all this His anger is not turned away, But His hand is stretched out still.

Woe to Tyrants

1Woe unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, And to the writers that write iniquity;

2To turn aside the needy from judgment, And to take away the right of the poor of My people, That widows may be their spoil, And that they may make the fatherless their prey!

3And what will ye do in the day of visitation, And in the ruin which shall come from far? To whom will ye flee for help? And where will ye leave your glory?

4They can do nought except crouch under the captives, And fall under the slain. For all this His anger is not turned away, But His hand is stretched out still.

Judgment on Assyria

5O Asshur, the rod of Mine anger, In whose hand as a staff is Mine indignation!

6I do send him against an ungodly nation, And against the people of My wrath do I give him a charge, To take the spoil, and to take the prey, And to tread them down like the mire of the streets.

7Howbeit he meaneth not so, Neither doth his heart think so; But it is in his heart to destroy, And to cut off nations not a few.

8For he saith: 'Are not my princes all of them kings?

9Is not Calno as Carchemish? Is not Hamath as Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?

10As my hand hath reached the kingdoms of the idols, Whose graven images did exceed them of Jerusalem and of Samaria;

11Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, So do to Jerusalem and her idols?'

12Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the Lord hath performed His whole work upon mount Zion and on Jerusalem, I will punish the fruit of the arrogant heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his haughty looks.

13For he hath said: By the strength of my hand I have done it, And by my wisdom, for I am prudent; In that I have removed the bounds of the peoples, And have robbed their treasures, And have brought down as one mighty the inhabitants;

14And my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the peoples; And as one gathereth eggs that are forsaken, Have I gathered all the earth; And there was none that moved the wing, Or that opened mouth, or chirped.

15Should the axe boast itself against him that heweth therewith? Should the saw magnify itself against him that moveth it? As if a rod should move them that lift it up, Or as if a staff should lift up him that is not wood.

16Therefore will the Lord, the LORD of hosts, Send among his fat ones leanness; And under his glory there shall be kindled A burning like the burning of fire.

17And the light of Israel shall be for a fire, And his Holy One for a flame; And it shall burn and devour his thorns And his briers in one day.

18And the glory of his forest and of his fruitful field, He will consume both soul and body; And it shall be as when a sick man wasteth away.

19And the remnant of the trees of his forest shall be few, That a child may write them down.

A Remnant Shall Return

20And it shall come to pass in that day, That the remnant of Israel, And they that are escaped of the house of Jacob, Shall no more again stay upon him that smote them; But shall stay upon the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, in truth.

21 A remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, Unto God the Mighty.

22For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea, Only a remnant of them shall return; An extermination is determined, overflowing with righteousness.

23For an extermination wholly determined Shall the Lord, the GOD of hosts, make in the midst of all the earth.

24Therefore thus saith the Lord, the GOD of hosts: O My people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of Asshur, though he smite thee with the rod, and lift up his staff against thee, after the manner of Egypt.

25For yet a very little while, and the indignation shall be accomplished, and Mine anger shall be to their destruction. 26And the LORD of hosts shall stir up against him a scourge, as in the slaughter of Midian at the Rock of Oreb; and as His rod was over the sea, so shall He lift it up after the manner of Egypt.

27And it shall come to pass in that day, that His burden shall depart from off thy shoulder, And his yoke from off thy neck, And the yoke shall be destroyed by reason of fatness.

28He is come to Aiath, He is passed through Migron; At Michmas he layeth up his baggage;

29They are gone over the pass; They have taken up their lodging at Geba; Ramah trembleth; Gibeath-shaul is fled.

30Cry thou with a shrill voice, O daughter of Gallim! Harken, O Laish! O thou poor Anathoth!

31Madmenah is in mad flight; The inhabitants of Gebim flee to cover.

32This very day shall he halt at Nob, Shaking his hand at the mount of the daughter of Zion, The hill of Jerusalem.

33Behold, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, Shall lop the boughs with terror; And the high ones of stature shall be hewn down, And the lofty shall be laid low.

34And He shall cut down the thickets of the forest with iron, And Lebanon shall fall by a mighty one.

The Root of Jesse

1And there shall come forth a shoot out of the stock of Jesse, And a twig shall grow forth out of his roots.

2And the spirit of the LORD shall rest upon him, The spirit of wisdom and understanding, The spirit of counsel and might, The spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the LORD.

3And his delight shall be in the fear of the LORD; And he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, Neither decide after the hearing of his ears;

4But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, And decide with equity for the meek of the land; And he shall smite the land with the rod of his mouth, And with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, And faithfulness the girdle of his reins.

6And the wolf shall dwell with the lamb, And the leopard shall lie down with the kid; And the calf and the young lion and the fatling together; And a little child shall lead them.

7And the cow and the bear feed; Their young ones shall lie down together; And the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

8And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, And the weaned child shall put his hand on the basilisk's den.

9They shall not hurt nor destroy In all My holy mountain; For the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD, As the waters cover the sea.

10And it shall come to pass in that day, That the root of Jesse, that standeth for an ensign of the peoples, Unto him shall the nations seek; And his resting-place shall be glorious.

11And it shall come to pass in that day, That the Lord will set His hand again the second time To recover the remnant of His people, That shall remain from Assyria, and from Egypt, And from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, And from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea.

12And He will set up an ensign for the nations, And will assemble the dispersed of Israel, And gather together the scattered of Judah From the four corners of the earth.

13The envy also of Ephraim shall depart, And they that harass Judah shall be cut off; Ephraim shall not envy Judah, And Judah shall not vex Ephraim.

14And they shall fly down upon the shoulder of the Philistines on the west; Together shall they spoil the children of the east; They shall put forth their hand upon Edom and Moab; And the children of Ammon shall obey them.

15And the LORD will utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; And with His scorching wind will He shake His hand over the River, And will smite it into seven streams, And cause men to march over dry-shod.

16And there shall be a highway for the remnant of His people, That shall remain from Assyria, Like as there was for Israel In the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

Joyful Thanksgiving

1And in that day thou shalt say: 'I will give thanks unto Thee, O LORD; For though Thou was angry with me, Thine anger is turned away, and Thou comfortest me.

2Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and will not be afraid; For GOD the LORD is my strength and song; And He is become my salvation.'

3Therefore with joy shall ye draw water Out of the wells of salvation.

4And in that day shall ye say: 'Give thanks unto the LORD, proclaim His name, Declare His doings among the peoples, Make mention that His name is exalted.

5Sing unto the LORD; for He hath done gloriously; This is made known in all the earth.

6Cry aloud and shout, thou inhabitant of Zion, For great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.'

The Burden against Babylon

1The burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz did see.

2Set ye up an ensign upon the high mountain, Lift up the voice unto them, Wave the hand, that they may go Into the gates of the nobles.

3I have commanded My consecrated ones, Yea, I have called My mighty ones for mine anger, Even My proudly exulting ones.

4Hark, a tumult in the mountains, Like as of a great people! Hark, the uproar of the kingdoms Of the nations gathered together! The LORD of hosts mustereth The host of the battle.

5They come from a far country, From the end of heaven, Even the LORD, and the weapons of His indignation, To destroy the whole earth.

6Howl ye; for the day of the LORD is at hand; As destruction from the Almighty shall it come.

7Therefore shall all hands be slack, And every heart of man shall melt.

8And they shall be affrighted; Pangs and throes shall take hold of them; They shall be in pain as a woman in travail; They shall look aghast one at another; Their faces shall be faces of flame.

9Behold, the day of the LORD cometh, Cruel, and full of wrath and fierce anger; To make the earth a desolation, And to destroy the sinners thereof out of it, 10For the stars of heaven and the constellations thereof Shall not give their light; The sun shall be darkened in his going forth, And the moon shall not cause her light to shine.

11And I will visit upon the world their evil, And upon the wicked their iniquity; And I will cause the arrogancy of the proud to cease, And will lay low the haughtiness of the tyrants.

12I will make man more rare than fine gold, Even man than the pure gold of Ophir.

13Therefore I will make the heavens to tremble, And the earth shall be shaken out of her place, For the wrath of the LORD of hosts, And for the day of His fierce anger.

14And it shall come to pass, that as the chased gazelle, And as sheep that no man gathereth, They shall turn every man to his own people, And shall flee every man to his own land.

15Every one that is found shall be thrust through; And every one that is caught shall fall by the sword.

16Their babes also shall be dashed in pieces before their eyes; Their houses shall be spoiled, And their wives ravished.

17Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, Who shall not regard silver, And as for gold, they shall not delight in it.

18And their bows shall dash the young men in pieces; And they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; Their eye shall not spare children.

19And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, The beauty of the Chaldeans' pride, Shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah.

20It shall never be inhabited, Neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation; Neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there; Neither shall the shepherds make their fold there.

21But wild-cats shall lie there; And their houses shall be full of ferrets; And ostriches shall dwell there, And satyrs shall dance there.

22And jackals shall howl in their castles, And wild-dogs in the pleasant palaces; And her time is near to come, And her days shall not be prolonged.

Restoration for Israel

1For the LORD will have compassion on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land; and the stranger shall join himself with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob. 2And the peoples shall take them, and bring them to their place; and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the LORD for servants and for handmaids; and they shall take them captive, whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors.

The Fall of the King of Babylon

3And it shall come to pass in the day that the LORD shall give thee rest from thy travail, and from thy trouble, and from the hard service wherein thou wast made to serve,

4that thou shalt take up this parable against the king of Babylon, and say: How hath the oppressor ceased! The exactress of gold ceased!

5The LORD hath broken the staff of the wicked, The sceptre of the rulers, 6That smote the peoples in wrath With an incessant stroke, That ruled the nations in anger, With a persecution that none restrained.

7The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet; They break forth into singing.

8Yea, the cypresses rejoice at thee, And the cedars of Lebanon: 'Since thou art laid down, No feller is come up against us.'

9The nether-world from beneath is moved for thee To meet thee at thy coming; The shades are stirred up for thee, Even all the chief ones of the earth; All the kings of the nations Are raised up from their thrones.

10All they do answer And say unto thee: 'Art thou also become weak as we? Art thou become like unto us?'

11Thy pomp is brought down to the nether-world, And the noise of thy psalteries; The maggot is spread under thee, And the worms cover thee.'

12How art thou fallen from heaven, O day-star, son of the morning! How art thou cut down to the ground, That didst cast lots over the nations!

13And thou saidst in thy heart: 'I will ascend into heaven, Above the stars of God Will I exalt my throne, And I will sit upon the mount of meeting, In the uttermost parts of the north;

14I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the Most High.'

15Yet thou shalt be brought down to the nether-world, To the uttermost parts of the pit.

16They that saw thee do narrowly look upon thee, They gaze earnestly at thee: 'Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, That did shake kingdoms;

17That made the world as a wilderness, And destroyed the cities thereof; That opened not the house of his prisoners?'

18All the kings of the nations, All of them, sleep in glory, Every one in his own house.

19But thou art cast forth away from thy grave Like an abhorred offshoot, In the raiment of the slain, that are thrust through with the sword, That go down to the pavement of the pit, As a carcass trodden under foot.

20Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, Because thou hast destroyed thy land, Thou hast slain thy people; The seed of evil-doers shall not Be named for ever.

21Prepare ye slaughter for his children For the iniquity of their fathers; That they rise not up, and possess the earth, And fill the face of the world with cities.

22And I will rise up against them, saith the LORD of hosts, and cut off from Babylon name and remnant, and offshoot and offspring, saith the LORD. 23I will also make it a possession for the bittern, and pools of water; and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith the LORD of hosts.

God's Purpose against Assyria

24The LORD of hosts hath sworn, saying: Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; And as I have purposed, so shall it stand, 25That I will break Asshur in My land, And upon My mountains tread him under foot; Then shall his yoke depart from off them, And his burden depart from off their shoulder.

26This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth; And this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations. 27For the LORD of hosts hath purposed, And who shall disannul it? And His hand is stretched out, And who shall turn it back?

Philistia Will Be Destroyed

28In the year that king Ahaz died was this burden.

29Rejoice not, O Philistia, all of thee, Because the rod that smote thee is broken: For out of the serpent's root shall come forth a basilisk, And his fruit shall be a flying serpent.

30And the first-born of the poor shall feed, And the needy shall lie down in safety; And I will kill thy root with famine, And thy remnant shall be slain.

31Howl, O gate; cry, O city; Melt away, O Philistia, all of thee; For there cometh a smoke out of the north, And there is no straggler in his ranks.

32What then shall one answer the messengers of the nation? That the LORD hath founded Zion, And in her shall the afflicted of His people take refuge.

The Burden against Moab

(Jeremiah 48:1–47)

1The burden of Moab. For in the night that Ar of Moab is laid waste, He is brought to ruin; For in the night that Kir of Moab is laid waste, He is brought to ruin.

2He is gone up to Baith, and to Dibon, To the high places, to weep; Upon Nebo, and upon Medeba, Moab howleth; On all their heads is baldness, Every beard is shaven.

3In their streets they gird themselves with sackcloth; On their housetops, and in their broad places, Every one howleth, weeping profusely.

4And Heshbon crieth out, and Elealeh; Their voice is heard even unto Jahaz; Therefore the armed men of Moab cry aloud; His soul is faint within him.

5My heart crieth out for Moab; Her fugitives reach unto Zoar, A heifer of three years old; For by the ascent of Luhith With weeping they go up; For in the way of Horonaim They raise up a cry of destruction.

6For the Waters of Nimrim shall be desolate; For the grass is withered away, the herbage faileth, There is no green thing.

7Therefore the abundance they have gotten, And that which they have laid up, Shall they carry away to the brook of the willows.

8For the cry is gone round about The borders of Moab; The howling thereof unto Eglaim, And the howling thereof unto Beer-elim.

9For the waters of Dimon are full of blood; For I will bring yet more upon Dimon, A lion upon him that escapeth of Moab, And upon the remnant of the land.

Moab's Destruction

(Zephaniah 2:8–11)

- 1Send ye the lambs for the ruler of the land From the crags that are toward the wilderness, Unto the mount of the daughter of Zion.
- 2For it shall be that, as wandering birds, As a scattered nest, So shall the daughters of Moab be At the fords of Arnon.
- 3Give counsel, execute justice; Make thy shadow as the night in the midst of the noonday; Hide the outcasts; betray not the fugitive.
- 4Let mine outcasts dwell with thee; As for Moab, be thou a covert to him from the face of the spoiler.' For the extortion is at an end, spoiling ceaseth, They that trampled down are consumed out of the land;
- 5And a throne is established through mercy, And there sitteth thereon in truth, in the tent of David, One that judgeth, and seeketh justice, and is ready in righteousness.
- 6We have heard of the pride of Moab; He is very proud; Even of his haughtiness, and his pride, and his arrogancy, His ill-founded boastings.
- 7Therefore shall Moab wail for Moab, Every one shall wail; for the sweet cakes of Kir-hareseth shall ye mourn, Sorely stricken.
- 8For the fields of Heshbon languish, And the vine of Sibmah, Whose choice plants did overcome The lords of nations; They reached even unto Jazer, They wandered into the wilderness; Her branches were spread abroad, They passed over the sea.
- 9Therefore I will weep with the weeping of Jazer For the vine of Sibmah; I will water thee with my tears, O Heshbon, and Elealeh; For upon thy summer fruits and upon thy harvest The battle shout is fallen.
- 10And gladness and joy are taken away Out of the fruitful field; And in the vineyards there shall be no singing, Neither shall there be shouting; No treader shall tread out wine in the presses; I have made the vintage shout to cease.
- 11Wherefore my heart moaneth like a harp for Moab, And mine inward parts for Kir-heres.
- 12And it shall come to pass, when it is seen that Moab hath wearied himself upon the high place, that he shall come to his sanctuary to pray; but he shall not prevail
- 13This is the word that the LORD spoke concerning Moab in time past. 14But now the LORD hath spoken, saying: 'Within three years, as the years of a hireling, and the glory of Moab shall wax contemptible for all his great multitude; and the remnant shall be very small and without strength.'

Isaiah 17

The Burden against Damascus

(Jeremiah 49:23–27)

1The burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, And it shall be a ruinous heap.

2The cities of Aroer are forsaken; They shall be for flocks, Which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid.

3The fortress also shall cease from Ephraim, And the kingdom from Damascus; And the remnant of Aram shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, Saith the LORD of hosts.

4And it shall come to pass in that day, That the glory of Jacob shall be made thin, And the fatness of his flesh shall wax lean.

5And it shall be as when the harvestman gathereth the standing corn, And reapeth the ears with his arm; Yea, it shall be as when one gleaneth ears In the valley of Rephaim.

6Yet there shall be left therein gleanings, As at the beating of an olive-tree, Two or three berries In the top of the uppermost bough, Four or five in the branches of the fruitful tree, Saith the LORD, the God of Israel.

7In that day shall a man regard his Maker, And his eyes shall look to the Holy One of Israel.

8And he shall not regard the altars, The work of his hands, Neither shall he look to that which his fingers have made, Either the Asherim, or the sun-images.

9In that day shall his strong cities be as the forsaken places, which were forsaken from before the children of Israel, after the manner of woods and lofty forests; and it shall be a desolation.

10For thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, And thou hast not been mindful of the Rock of thy stronghold; Therefore thou didst plant plants of pleasantness, And didst set it with slips of a stranger;

11In the day of thy planting thou didst make it to grow, And in the morning thou didst make thy seed to blossom—A heap of boughs in the day of grief And of desperate pain.

12Ah, the uproar of many peoples, That roar like the roaring of the seas; And the rushing of nations, that rush like the rushing of mighty waters!

13The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters; But He shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, And shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, And like the whirling dust before the storm.

14At eventide behold terror; And before the morning they are not. This is the portion of them that spoil us, And the lot of them that rob us.

A Message to Cush

1Ah, land of the buzzing of wings, Which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia;

2That sendeth ambassadors by the sea, Even in vessels of papyrus upon the waters! Go, ye swift messengers, To a nation tall and of glossy skin, To a people terrible from their beginning onward; A nation that is sturdy and treadeth down, Whose land the rivers divide!

3All ye inhabitants of the world, and ye dwellers on the earth, When an ensign is lifted up on the mountains, see ye; And when the horn is blown, hear ye.

4For thus hath the LORD said unto me: I will hold Me still, and I will look on in My dwelling-place, Like clear heat in sunshine, Like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.

5For before the harvest, when the blossom is over, And the bud becometh a ripening grape, He will cut off the sprigs with pruning-hooks, And the shoots will He take away and lop off.

6They shall be left together unto the ravenous birds of the mountains, And to the beasts of the earth; And the ravenous birds shall summer upon them, And all the beasts of the earth shall winter upon them.

7In that time shall a present be brought unto the LORD of hosts of a people tall and of glossy skin, and from a people terrible from their beginning onward; a nation that is sturdy and treadeth down, whose land the rivers divide, to the place of the name of the LORD of hosts, the mount Zion.

Isaiah 19

The Burden against Egypt

1The burden of Egypt. Behold, the LORD rideth upon a swift cloud, And cometh unto Egypt; And the idols of Egypt shall be moved at His presence, And the heart of Egypt shall melt within it.

2And I will spur Egypt against Egypt; And they shall fight every one against his brother, And everyone against his neighbour; City against city, and kingdom against kingdom.

3And the spirit of Egypt shall be made empty within it; And I will make void the counsel thereof; And they shall seek unto the idols, and to the whisperers, And to the ghosts, and to the familiar spirits.

4And I will give over the Egyptians into the hand of a cruel lord; And a fierce king shall rule over them, Saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts.

5And the waters shall fail from the sea, And the river shall be drained dry, 6And the rivers shall become foul; The streams of Egypt shall be minished and dried up; The reeds and flags shall wither.

7The mosses by the Nile, by the brink of the Nile, And all that is sown by the Nile, Shall become dry, be driven away, and be no more.

8The fishers also shall lament, And all they that cast angle into the Nile shall mourn, And they that spread nets upon the waters shall languish.

9Moreover they that work in combed flax, And they that weave cotton, shall be ashamed.

10And her foundations shall be crushed, All they that make dams shall be grieved in soul.

11The princes of Zoan are utter fools; The wisest counsellors of Pharaoh are a senseless counsel; How can ye say unto Pharaoh: 'I am the son of the wise, The son of ancient kings'?

12Where are they, then, thy wise men? And let them tell thee now; And let them know what the LORD of hosts Hath purposed concerning Egypt.

13The princes of Zoan are become fools, The princes of Noph are deceived; They have caused Egypt to go astray, That are the corner-stone of her tribes.

14The LORD hath mingled within her A spirit of dizziness; And they have caused Egypt to stagger in every work thereof, As a drunken man staggereth in his vomit.

15Neither shall there be for Egypt any work, Which head or tail, palm-branch or rush, may do.

A Blessing upon the Earth

16In that day shall Egypt be like unto women; and it shall tremble and fear because of the shaking of the hand of the LORD of hosts, which He shaketh over it. 17And the land of Judah shall become a terror unto Egypt, whensoever one maketh mention thereof to it; it shall be afraid, because of the purpose of the LORD of hosts, which He purposeth against it.

18In that day there shall be five cities in the land of Egypt that speak the language of Canaan, and swear to the LORD of hosts; one shall be called The city of destruction.

19In that day shall there be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border thereof to the LORD. 20And it shall be for a sign and for a witness unto the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt; for they shall cry unto the LORD because of the oppressors, and He will send them a saviour, and a defender, who will deliver them. 21And the LORD shall make Himself known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the LORD in that day; yea, they shall worship with sacrifice and offering, and shall vow a vow unto the LORD, and shall perform it. 22And the LORD will smite Egypt, smiting and healing; and they shall return unto the LORD, and He will be entreated of them, and will heal them.

23In that day shall there be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria; and the Egyptians shall worship with the Assyrians.

24In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, a blessing in the midst of the earth;
25for that the LORD of hosts hath blessed him, saying: 'Blessed be Egypt My people and Assyria the work of My hands, and Israel Mine inheritance.'

A Sign against Egypt and Cush

1In the year that Tartan came into Ashdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him, and he fought against Ashdod and took it; 2at that time the LORD spoke by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying: 'Go, and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins, and put thy shoe from off thy foot.' And he did so, walking naked and barefoot. 3And the LORD said: 'Like as My servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot to be for three years a sign and a wonder upon Egypt and upon Ethiopia, 4so shall the king of Assyria lead away the captives of Egypt, and the exiles of Ethiopia, young and old, naked and barefoot, and with buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt. 5And they shall be dismayed and ashamed, because of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory. 6And the inhabitant of this coast-land shall say in that day: Behold, such is our expectation, whither we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria; and how shall we escape?'

Babylon Is Fallen

(Revelation 18:1–8)

1The burden of the wilderness of the sea. As whirlwinds in the South sweeping on, It cometh from the wilderness, from a dreadful land.

2A grievous vision is declared unto me: 'The treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, O Elam! besiege, O Media! All the sighing thereof have I made to cease.'

3Therefore are my loins filled with convulsion; Pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman in travail; I am bent so that I cannot hear; I am affrighted so that I cannot see.

4My heart is bewildered, terror hath overwhelmed me; The twilight that I longed for hath been turned for me into trembling.

5They prepare the table, they light the lamps, they eat, they drink—'Rise up, ye princes, anoint the shield.'

6For thus hath the Lord said unto me: Go, set a watchman; let him declare what he seeth!

7And when he seeth a troop, horsemen by pairs, A troop of asses, a troop of camels, He shall hearken diligently with much heed.

8And he cried as a lion: 'Upon the watch-tower, O Lord, I stand continually in the daytime, And I am set in my ward all the nights.'

9And, behold, there came a troop of men, horsemen by pairs. And he spoke and said: 'Fallen, fallen is Babylon; And all the graven images of her gods are broken unto the ground.'

10O thou my threshing, and the winnowing of my floor, That which I have heard from the LORD of hosts, The God of Israel, have I declared unto you.

The Burden against Edom

(Isaiah 34:5–17)

11The burden of Dumah. One calleth unto me out of Seir: 'Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night?'

12The watchman said: 'The morning cometh, and also the night—If ye will inquire, inquire ye; return, come.'

The Burden against Arabia

13The burden upon Arabia. In the thickets in Arabia shall ye lodge, O ye caravans of Dedanites.

14Unto him that is thirsty bring ye water! The inhabitants of the land of Tema did meet the fugitive with his bread.

15For they fled away from the swords, from the drawn sword, And from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of war.

16For thus hath the Lord said unto me: 'Within a year, according to the years of a hireling, and all the glory of Kedar shall fail; 17and the residue of the number of the archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar, shall be diminished; for the LORD, the God of Israel, hath spoken it.'

The Valley of Vision

1The burden concerning the Valley of Vision. What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the housetops, 2Thou that art full of uproar, a tumultuous city, a joyous town? Thy slain are not slain with the sword, nor dead in battle.

3All thy rulers are fled together, Without the bow they are bound; All that are found of thee are bound together, they are fled afar off.

4Therefore said I: 'Look away from me, I will weep bitterly; Strain not to comfort me, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.'

5For it is a day of trouble, and of trampling, and of perplexity, From the Lord, the GOD of hosts, in the Valley of Vision; Kir shouting, and Shoa at the mount.

6And Elam bore the quiver, with troops of men, even horsemen; And Kir uncovered the shield.

7And it came to pass, when thy choicest valleys were full of chariots, And the horsemen set themselves in array at the gate,

8And the covering of Judah was laid bare, that thou didst look in that day to the armour in the house of the forest.

9And ye saw the breaches of the city of David, that they were many; and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool.

10And ye numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and ye broke down the houses to fortify the wall;

11ye made also a basin between the two walls for the water of the old pool—But ye looked not unto Him that had done this, Neither had ye respect unto Him that fashioned it long ago.

12And in that day did the Lord, the GOD of hosts, call To weeping, and to lamentation, and to baldness, and to girding with sackcloth;

13And behold joy and gladness, Slaying oxen and killing sheep, Eating flesh and drinking wine—'Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we shall die!'

14And the LORD of hosts revealed Himself in mine ears: Surely this iniquity shall not be expiated by you till ye die, Saith the Lord, the GOD of hosts.

A Message for Shebna

15Thus saith the Lord, the GOD of hosts: Go, get thee unto this steward, Even unto Shebna, who is over the house:

16What hast thou here, and whom hast thou here, That thou hast hewed thee out here a sepulchre, Thou that hewest thee out a sepulchre on high, And gravest a habitation for thyself in the rock?

17Behold, the LORD will hurl thee up and down with a man's throw; Yea, He will wind thee round and round;

18He will violently roll and toss thee like a ball into a large country; There shalt thou die, and there shall be the chariots of thy glory, Thou shame of the lord's house.

19And I will thrust thee from thy post, And from thy station shalt thou be pulled down.

20And it shall come to pass in that day, That I will call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah;

21And I will clothe him with thy robe, And bind him with thy girdle, And I will commit thy government into his hand; And he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah.

22And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder; And he shall open, and none shall shut; And he shall shut, and none shall open.

23And I will fasten him as a peg in a sure place; And he shall be for a throne of honour to his father's house.

24And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring and the issue, all vessels of small quantity, from the vessels of cups even to all the vessels of flagons. 25In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall the peg that was fastened in a sure place give way; and it shall be hewn down, and fall, and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off; for the LORD hath spoken it.

The Burden against Tyre

(Ezekiel 26:1-21)

1The burden of Tyre. Howl, ye ships of Tarshish, For it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in; From the land of Kittim it is revealed to them.

2Be still, ye inhabitants of the coast-land; Thou whom the merchants of Zidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished.

3And on great waters the seed of Shihor, The harvest of the Nile, was her revenue; And she was the mart of nations.

4Be thou ashamed, O Zidon; for the sea hath spoken, The stronghold of the sea, saying: 'I have not travailed, nor brought forth, Neither have I reared young men, nor brought up virgins.'

5When the report cometh to Egypt, They shall be sorely pained at the report of Tyre.

6Pass ye over to Tarshish; howl, ye inhabitants of the coast-land.

7Is this your joyous city, Whose feet in antiquity, In ancient days, Carried her afar off to sojourn?

8Who hath devised this against Tyre, the crowning city, Whose merchants are princes, Whose traffickers are the honourable of the earth?

9The LORD of hosts hath devised it, To pollute the pride of all glory, To bring into contempt all the honourable of the earth.

10Overflow thy land as the Nile, O daughter of Tarshish! there is no girdle any more.

11He hath stretched out His hand over the sea, He hath shaken the kingdoms; The LORD hath given commandment concerning Canaan, To destroy the strongholds thereof;

12And He said: 'Thou shalt no more rejoice.' O thou oppressed virgin daughter of Zidon, Arise, pass over to Kittim; Even there shalt thou have no rest.

13Behold, the land of the Chaldeans—this is the people that was not, when Asshur founded it for shipmen—they set up their towers, they overthrew the palaces thereof; it is made a ruin.

14Howl, ye ships of Tarshish, For your stronghold is laid waste.

15And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tyre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king; after the end of seventy years it shall fare with Tyre as in the song of the harlot:

16Take a harp, Go about the city, Thou harlot long forgotten; Make sweet melody, Sing many songs, That thou mayest be remembered.

17And it shall come to pass after the end of seventy years, that the LORD will remember Tyre, and she shall return to her hire, and shall have commerce with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth. 18And her gain and her hire shall be holiness to the LORD; it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her gain shall be for them that dwell before the LORD, to eat their fill, and for stately clothing.

God's Judgment on the Earth

1Behold, the LORD maketh the earth empty and maketh it waste, And turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof. 2And it shall be, as with the people, so with the priest; As with the servant, so with his master; As with the maid, so with her mistress; As with the buyer, so with the seller; As with the lender, so with the borrower; As with the creditor, so with the debtor. 3The earth shall be utterly emptied, and clean despoiled; For the LORD hath spoken this word. 4The earth fainteth and fadeth away, The world faileth and fadeth away, The lofty people of the earth do fail. 5The earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof; Because they have transgressed the laws, violated the statute, Broken the everlasting covenant. 6Therefore hath a curse devoured the earth, And they that dwell therein are found guilty; Therefore the inhabitants of the earth waste away, And men are left few.

7The new wine faileth, the vine fadeth; All the merry-hearted do sigh.

8The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, The noise of them that rejoice endeth, The joy of the harp ceaseth.

9They drink not wine with a song; Strong drink is bitter to them that drink it.

10Broken down is the city of wasteness; Every house is shut up, that none may come in.

11There is a crying in the streets amidst the wine; All joy is darkened, The mirth of the land is gone.

12In the city is left desolation, And the gate is smitten unto ruin.

13For thus shall it be in the midst of the earth, among the peoples, As at the beating of an olive-tree, As at the gleanings when the vintage is done.

14Those yonder lift up their voice, they sing for joy; For the majesty of the LORD they shout from the sea:

15Therefore glorify ye the LORD in the regions of light, Even the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, in the isles of the sea.'

16From the uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs: 'Glory to the righteous.' But I say: I waste away, I waste away, woe is me! The treacherous deal treacherously; Yea, the treacherous deal very treacherously.

17Terror, and the pit, and the trap, are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18And it shall come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the terror shall fall into the pit; And he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken in the trap; For the windows on high are opened, And the foundations of the earth do shake;

19The earth is broken, broken down, The earth is crumbled in pieces, The earth trembleth and tottereth;

20The earth reeleth to and fro like a drunken man, And swayeth to and fro as a lodge; And the transgression thereof is heavy upon it, And it shall fall, and not rise again.

21And it shall come to pass in that day, That the LORD will punish the host of the high heaven on high, And the kings of the earth upon the earth.

22And they shall be gathered together, as prisoners are gathered in the dungeon, And shall be shut up in the prison, And after many days shall they be punished.

23Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed; For the LORD of hosts will reign in mount Zion, And in Jerusalem, and before His elders shall be Glory.

Praise to the Victorious God

(Jeremiah 51:15–19)

1O LORD, Thou art my God, I will exalt Thee, I will praise Thy name, For Thou hast done wonderful things; Even counsels of old, in faithfulness and truth.

2For Thou hast made of a city a heap, Of a fortified city a ruin; A castle of strangers to be no city, It shall never be built.

- 3Therefore shall the strong people glorify Thee, The city of the terrible nations shall fear Thee.
- 4For Thou hast been a stronghold to the poor, A stronghold to the needy in his distress, A refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat; For the blast of the terrible ones was as a storm against the wall.
- 5As the heat in a dry place, Thou didst subdue the noise of strangers; As the heat by the shadow of a cloud, the song of the terrible ones was brought low.
- 6And in this mountain will the LORD of hosts make unto all peoples A feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees, Of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined.
- 7And He will destroy in this mountain The face of the covering that is cast over all peoples, And the veil that is spread over all nations.
- 8He will swallow up death for ever; And the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from off all faces; And the reproach of His people will He take away from off all the earth; For the LORD hath spoken it.
- 9And it shall be said in that day: 'Lo, this is our God, For whom we waited, that He might save us; This is the LORD, for whom we waited, We will be glad and rejoice in His salvation.'
- 10For in this mountain will the hand of the LORD rest, And Moab shall be trodden down in his place, Even as straw is trodden down in the dunghill.
- 11And when he shall spread forth his hands in the midst thereof, As he that swimmeth spreadeth forth his hands to swim, His pride shall be brought down together with the cunning of his hands.
- 12And the high fortress of thy walls will He bring down, lay low, And bring to the ground, even to the dust.

A Song of Salvation

- 1In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah: We have a strong city; Walls and bulwarks doth He appoint for salvation.
- 2Open ye the gates, That the righteous nation that keepeth faithfulness may enter in.
- 3The mind stayed on Thee Thou keepest in perfect peace; Because it trusteth in Thee.
- 4Trust ye in the LORD for ever, For the LORD is GOD, an everlasting Rock.
- 5For He hath brought down them that dwell on high, The lofty city, laying it low, laying it low even to the ground, Bringing it even to the dust.
- 6The foot shall tread it down, Even the feet of the poor, and the steps of the needy.

- 7The way of the just is straight; Thou, Most Upright, makest plain the path of the just.
- 8Yea, in the way of Thy judgments, O LORD, have we waited for Thee; To Thy name and to Thy memorial is the desire of our soul.
- 9With my soul have I desired Thee in the night; Yea, with my spirit within me have I sought Thee earnestly; For when Thy judgments are in the earth, The inhabitants of the world learn righteousness.
- 10Let favour be shown to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteousness; In the land of uprightness will he deal wrongfully, And will not behold the majesty of the LORD.
- 11LORD, Thy hand was lifted up, yet they see not; They shall see with shame Thy zeal for the people; Yea, fire shall devour Thine adversaries.
- 12LORD, Thou wilt establish peace for us; For Thou hast indeed wrought all our works for us.
- 13O LORD our God, other lords beside Thee have had dominion over us; But by Thee only do we make mention of Thy name.
- 14The dead live not, the shades rise not; To that end hast Thou punished and destroyed them, And made all their memory to perish.
- 15Thou hast gotten Thee honour with the nations, O LORD, Yea, exceeding great honour with the nations; Thou art honoured unto the farthest ends of the earth.
- 16LORD, in trouble have they sought Thee, Silently they poured out a prayer when Thy chastening was upon them.
- 17Like as a woman with child, that draweth near the time of her delivery, Is in pain and crieth out in her pangs; So have we been at Thy presence, O LORD.
- 18We have been with child, we have been in pain, We have as it were brought forth wind; We have not wrought any deliverance in the land; Neither are the inhabitants of the world come to life.
- 19Thy dead shall live, my dead bodies shall arise—Awake and sing, ye that dwell in the dust—For Thy dew is as the dew of light, And the earth shall bring to life the shades.
- 20Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, And shut thy doors about thee; Hide thyself for a little moment, Until the indignation be overpast.
- 21For, behold, the LORD cometh forth out of His place To visit upon the inhabitants of the earth their iniquity; The earth also shall disclose her blood, And shall no more cover her slain.

Isaiah 27

The LORD's Vineyard

(John 15:1-8)

1In that day the LORD with His sore and great and strong sword will punish leviathan the slant serpent, and leviathan the tortuous serpent; and He will slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2In that day sing ye of her: 'A vineyard of foaming wine!'

3I the LORD do guard it, I water it every moment; Lest Mine anger visit it, I guard it night and day.

4Fury is not in Me; Would that I were as the briers and thorns in flame! I would with one step burn it altogether.

5Or else let him take hold of My strength, That he may make peace with Me; yea, let him make peace with Me.

6In days to come shall Jacob take root, Israel shall blossom and bud; And the face of the world shall be filled with fruitage.

7Hath He smitten him as He smote those that smote him? Or is he slain according to the slaughter of them that were slain by Him?

8In full measure, when Thou sendest her away, Thou dost contend with her; He hath removed her with His rough blast in the day of the east wind.

9Therefore by this shall the iniquity of Jacob be expiated, And this is all the fruit of taking away his sin: When he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are beaten in pieces, So that the Asherim and the sun-images shall rise no more.

10For the fortified city is solitary, A habitation abandoned and forsaken, like the wilderness; There shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, And consume the branches thereof

11When the boughs thereof are withered, They shall be broken off; The women shall come, and set them on fire; For it is a people of no understanding; Therefore He that made them will not have compassion upon them, And He that formed them will not be gracious unto them.

12And it shall come to pass in that day, That the LORD will beat off [His fruit] From the flood of the River unto the Brook of Egypt, And ye shall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Israel. 13And it shall come to pass in that day, That a great horn shall be blown; And they shall come that were lost in the land of Assyria, And they that were dispersed in the land of Egypt; And they shall worship the LORD in the holy mountain at Jerusalem.

The Captivity of Ephraim

1Woe to the crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim, And to the fading flower of his glorious beauty, Which is on the head of the fat valley of them that are smitten down with wine!

2Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong one, As a storm of hail, a tempest of destruction, As a storm of mighty waters overflowing, That casteth down to the earth with violence.

3The crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim Shall be trodden under foot;

4And the fading flower of his glorious beauty, Which is on the head of the fat valley, Shall be as the first-ripe fig before the summer, Which when one looketh upon it, While it is yet in his hand he eateth it up.

5In that day shall the LORD of hosts be For a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, Unto the residue of His people;

6And for a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, And for strength to them that turn back the battle at the gate.

7But these also reel through wine, And stagger through strong drink; The priest and the prophet reel through strong drink, They are confused because of wine, They stagger because of strong drink; They reel in vision, they totter in judgment.

8For all tables are full of filthy vomit, and no place is clean.

9Whom shall one teach knowledge? And whom shall one make to understand the message? Them that are weaned from the milk, Them that are drawn from the breasts?

10For it is precept by precept, precept by precept, Line by line, line by line; Here a little, there a little.

11For with stammering lips and with a strange tongue Shall it be spoken to this people;

12To whom it was said: 'This is the rest, Give ye rest to the weary; And this is the refreshing'; Yet they would not hear.

13And so the word of the LORD is unto them Precept by precept, precept by precept, Line by line, line by line; Here a little, there a little; That they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, And snared, and taken.

A Cornerstone in Zion

(1 Corinthians 3:10–15; Ephesians 2:19–22; 1 Peter 2:1–8)

14Wherefore hear the word of the LORD, ye scoffers, The ballad-mongers of this people which is in Jerusalem:

15Because ye have said: 'We have made a covenant with death, And with the nether-world are we at agreement; When the scouring scourge shall pass through, It shall not come unto us; For we have made lies our refuge, And in falsehood have we hid ourselves';

16Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, A tried stone, a costly corner-stone of sure foundation; He that believeth shall not make haste.

17And I will make justice the line, And righteousness the plummet; And the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, And the waters shall overflow the hiding-place.

18And your covenant with death shall be disannulled And your agreement with the nether-world shall not stand; When the scouring scourge shall pass through, Then ye shall be trodden down by it, 19As often as it passeth through, it shall take you; For morning by morning shall it pass through, By day and by night; And it shall be sheer terror to understand the message.

20For the bed is too short for a man to stretch himself; And the covering too narrow when he gathereth himself up.

21For the LORD will rise up as in mount Perazim, He will be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon; That He may do His work, strange is His work, And bring to pass His act, strange is His act.

22Now therefore be ye not scoffers, Lest your bands be made strong; For an extermination wholly determined have I heard from the Lord, the GOD of hosts, Upon the whole land.

Listen and Hear

23Give ye ear, and hear my voice; attend, and hear my speech.

24Is the plowman never done with plowing to sow, With the opening and harrowing of his ground?

25When he hath made plain the face thereof, Doth he not cast abroad the black cummin, and scatter the cummin, And put in the wheat in rows and the barley in the appointed place And the spelt in the border thereof?

26For He doth instruct him aright; His God doth teach him.

27For the black cummin is not threshed with a threshing-sledge, Neither is a cart-wheel turned about upon the cummin; But the black cummin is beaten out with a staff, And the cummin with a rod.

28Is bread corn crushed? Nay, he will not ever be threshing it; And though the roller of his wagon and its sharp edges move noisily, He doth not crush it.

29This also cometh forth from the LORD of hosts: Wonderful is His counsel, and great His wisdom.

Woe to David's City

(Luke 19:41–44)

1Ah, Ariel, Ariel, the city where David encamped! Add ye year to year, Let the feasts come round!

2Then will I distress Ariel, And there shall be mourning and moaning; and she shall be unto Me as a hearth of God.

3And I will encamp against thee round about, And will lay siege against thee with a mound, And I will raise siege works against thee.

4And brought down thou shalt speak out of the ground, And thy speech shall be low out of the dust; And thy voice shall be as of a ghost out of the ground, And thy speech shall chirp out of the dust.

5But the multitude of thy foes shall be like small dust, And the multitude of the terrible ones as chaff that passeth away; Yea, it shall be at an instant suddenly—

6There shall be a visitation from the LORD of hosts With thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise, With whirlwind and tempest, and the flame of a devouring fire.

7And the multitude of all the nations that war against Ariel, Even all that war against her, and the bulwarks about her, and they that distress her, Shall be as a dream, a vision of the night.

8And it shall be as when a hungry man dreameth, and, behold, he eateth, But he awaketh, and his soul is empty; Or as when a thirsty man dreameth, and, behold, he drinketh, But he awaketh, and, behold, he is faint, and his soul hath appetite—So shall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight against mount Zion.

9Stupefy yourselves, and be stupid! Blind yourselves, and be blind! Ye that are drunken, but not with wine, That stagger, but not with strong drink.

10For the LORD hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, And hath closed your eyes; The prophets, and your heads, the seers, hath He covered.

11And the vision of all this is become unto you as the words of a writing that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying: 'Read this, I pray thee'; and he saith: 'I cannot, for it is sealed';

12and the writing is delivered to him that is not learned, saying: 'Read this, I pray thee'; and he saith: 'I am not learned.'

13And the Lord said: Forasmuch as this people draw near, And with their mouth and with their lips do honour Me, But have removed their heart far from Me, And their fear of Me is a command-ment of men learned by rote;

14Therefore, behold, I will again do a marvellous work among this people, Even a marvellous work and a wonder; And the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, And the prudence of their prudent men shall be hid.

15Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the LORD, And their works are in the dark, And they say: 'Who seeth us? and who knoweth us?'

16O your perversity! Shall the potter be esteemed as clay; That the thing made should say of him that made it: 'He made me not'; Or the thing framed say of him that framed it: 'He hath no understanding?'

Sanctification for the Godly

17Is it not yet a very little while, And Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, And the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest?

18And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of a book, And the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity and out of darkness.

19The humble also shall increase their joy in the LORD, And the neediest among men shall exult in the Holy One of Israel.

20For the terrible one is brought to nought, And the scorner ceaseth, And all they that watch for iniquity are cut off;

21That make a man an offender by words, And lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, And turn aside the just with a thing of nought.

22Therefore thus saith the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob: Jacob shall not now be ashamed, Neither shall his face now wax pale;

23When he seeth his children, the work of My hands, in the midst of him, That they sanctify My name; Yea, they shall sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, And shall stand in awe of the God of Israel.

24They also that err in spirit shall come to understanding, And they that murmur shall learn instruction.

The Worthless Treaty with Egypt

1Woe to the rebellious children, saith the LORD, That take counsel, but not of Me; And that form projects, but not of My spirit, That they may add sin to sin;

2That walk to go down into Egypt, And have not asked at My mouth; To take refuge in the stronghold of Pharaoh, And to take shelter in the shadow of Egypt!

3Therefore shall the stronghold of Pharaoh turn to your shame, And the shelter in the shadow of Egypt to your confusion.

4For his princes are at Zoan, And his ambassadors are come to Hanes.

5They shall all be ashamed of a people that cannot profit them, That are not a help nor profit, But a shame, and also a reproach.

6The burden of the beasts of the South. Through the land of trouble and anguish, From whence come the lioness and the lion, The viper and flying serpent, They carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, And their treasures upon the humps of camels, To a people that shall not profit them.

7For Egypt helpeth in vain, and to no purpose; Therefore have I called her arrogancy that sitteth still.

8Now go, write it before them on a tablet, And inscribe it in a book, That it may be for the time to come For ever and ever.

- 9For it is a rebellious people, Lying children, Children that refuse to hear the teaching of the LORD;
- 10That say to the seers: 'See not', And to the prophets: 'Prophecy not unto us right things, Speak unto us smooth things, prophecy delusions;
- 11Get you out of the way, Turn aside out of the path, Cause the Holy One of Israel To cease from before us.'
- 12Wherefore thus saith the Holy One of Israel: Because ye despise this word, And trust in oppression and perverseness, And stay thereon;
- 13Therefore this iniquity shall be to you As a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, Whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant.
- 14And He shall break it as a potter's vessel is broken, Breaking it in pieces without sparing; So that there shall not be found among the pieces thereof a sherd To take fire from the hearth, Or to take water out of the cistern.
- 15For thus said the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel: In sitting still and rest shall ye be saved, In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength; And ye would not.
- 16But ye said: 'No, for we will flee upon horses'; Therefore shall ye flee; And: 'We will ride upon the swift'; Therefore shall they that pursue you be swift.
- 17One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one, At the rebuke of five shall ye flee; Till ye be left as a beacon upon the top of a mountain, And as an ensign on a hill.

God Will Be Gracious

- 18And therefore will the LORD wait, that He may be gracious unto you, And therefore will He be exalted, that He may have compassion upon you; For the LORD is a God of justice, Happy are all they that wait for Him.
- 19For, O people that dwellest in Zion at Jerusalem, Thou shalt weep no more; He will surely be gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry, When He shall hear, He will answer thee. 20And though the Lord give you sparing bread and scant water, Yet shall not thy Teacher hide Himself any more, But thine eyes shall see thy Teacher; 21And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying: 'This is the way, walk ye in it, When ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.' 22And ye shall defile thy graven images overlaid with silver, And thy molten images covered with gold; Thou shalt put them far away as one unclean; Thou shalt say unto it: 'Get thee hence.'
- 23And He will give the rain for thy seed, wherewith thou sowest the ground, And bread of the increase of the ground, and it shall be fat and plenteous; In that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures. 24The oxen likewise and the young asses that till the ground Shall eat savoury provender, Which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fan. 25And there shall be upon every lofty mountain, and upon every high hill Streams and watercourses, In the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall. 26Moreover the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, And the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of the seven days, In the day that the LORD bindeth up the bruise of His people, And healeth the stroke of their wound.

27 Behold, the name of the LORD cometh from far, With His anger burning, and in thick uplifting of smoke; His lips are full of indignation, And His tongue is as a devouring fire;

28 And His breath is as an overflowing stream, That divideth even unto the neck, To sift the nations with the sieve of destruction; And a bridle that causeth to err shall be in the jaws of the peoples.

29 Ye shall have a song As in the night when a feast is hallowed; And gladness of heart, as when one goeth with the pipe To come into the mountain of the LORD, to the Rock of Israel.

30 And the LORD will cause His glorious voice to be heard, And will show the lighting down of His arm, With furious anger, and the flame of a devouring fire, With a bursting of clouds, and a storm of rain, and hailstones.

31 For through the voice of the LORD shall Asshur be dismayed, The rod with which He smote.

32 And in every place where the appointed staff shall pass, Which the LORD shall lay upon him, It shall be with tabrets and harps; And in battles of wielding will He fight with them.

33 For a hearth is ordered of old; Yea, for the king it is prepared, Deep and large; The pile thereof is fire and much wood; The breath of the LORD, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it.

Woe to Those Who Rely on Egypt

1 Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help, And rely on horses, And trust in chariots, because they are many, And in horsemen, because they are exceeding mighty; But they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, Neither seek the LORD!

2 Yet He also is wise, And bringeth evil, And doth not call back His words; But will arise against the house of the evil-doers, And against the help of them that work iniquity.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God, And their horses flesh, and not spirit; So when the LORD shall stretch out His hand, Both he that helpeth shall stumble, and he that is helped shall fall, And they all shall perish together.

4 For thus saith the LORD unto me: Like as the lion, or the young lion, growling over his prey, Though a multitude of shepherds be called forth against him, Will not be dismayed at their voice, Nor abase himself for the noise of them; So will the LORD of hosts come down To fight upon mount Zion, and upon the hill thereof.

5 As birds hovering, So will the LORD of hosts protect Jerusalem; He will deliver it as He protecteth it, He will rescue it as He passeth over.

6Turn ye unto Him Against whom ye have deeply rebelled, O children of Israel. 7For in that day they shall cast away every man his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, Which your own hands have made unto you for a sin.

8Then shall Asshur fall with the sword, not of man, And the sword, not of men, shall devour him; And he shall flee from the sword, And his young men shall become tributary.

9And his rock shall pass away by reason of terror, And his princes shall be dismayed at the ensign, Saith the LORD, whose fire is in Zion, And His furnace in Jerusalem.

A Righteous King

1Behold, a king shall reign in righteousness, And as for princes, they shall rule in justice.

2And a man shall be as in a hiding-place from the wind, And a covert from the tempest; As by the watercourses in a dry place, As in the shadow of a great rock in a weary land.

3And the eyes of them that see shall not be closed, And the ears of them that hear shall attend.

4The heart also of the rash shall understand knowledge, And the tongue of the stammerers shall be ready to speak plainly.

5The vile person shall be no more called liberal, Nor the churl said to be noble.

6For the vile person will speak villainy, And his heart will work iniquity, To practise ungodliness, and to utter wickedness against the LORD, To make empty the soul of the hungry, And to cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.

7The instruments also of the churl are evil; He deviseth wicked devices To destroy the poor with lying words, And the needy when he speaketh right.

8But the liberal deviseth liberal things; And by liberal things shall he stand.

The Women of Jerusalem

9Rise up, ye women that are at ease, and hear my voice; Ye confident daughters, give ear unto my speech.

10After a year and days shall ye be troubled, ye confident women; For the vintage shall fail, the ingathering shall not come.

11Tremble, ye women that are at ease; Be troubled, ye confident ones; Strip you, and make you bare, And gird sackcloth upon your loins,

12Smiting upon the breasts For the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine;

13For the land of my people Whereon thorns and briers come up; Yea, for all the houses of joy And the joyous city.

14For the palace shall be forsaken; The city with its stir shall be deserted; The mound and the tower shall be for dens for ever, A joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks;

15Until the spirit be poured upon us from on high, And the wilderness become a fruitful field, And the fruitful field be counted for a forest.

16Then justice shall dwell in the wilderness, And righteousness shall abide in the fruitful field.

17And the work of righteousness shall be peace; And the effect of righteousness quietness and confidence for ever.

18And my people shall abide in a peaceable habitation, And in secure dwellings, and in quiet resting-places.

19And it shall hail, in the downfall of the forest; But the city shall descend into the valley.

20Happy are ye that sow beside all waters, That send forth freely the feet of the ox and the ass.

The LORD Is Exalted

1Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; And dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! When thou hast ceased to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; And when thou art weary with dealing treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee.

2O LORD, be gracious unto us; We have waited for Thee; Be Thou their arm every morning, Our salvation also in the time of trouble.

3At the noise of the tumult the peoples are fled; At the lifting up of Thyself the nations are scattered.

4And your spoil is gathered as the caterpillar gathereth; As locusts leap do they leap upon it.

5The LORD is exalted, for He dwelleth on high; He hath filled Zion with justice and righteousness.

6And the stability of thy times shall be A hoard of salvation—wisdom and knowledge, And the fear of the LORD which is His treasure.

7Behold, their valiant ones cry without; The ambassadors of peace weep bitterly.

8The highways lie waste, The wayfaring man ceaseth; He hath broken the covenant, He hath despised the cities, He regardeth not man.

- 9The land mourneth and languisheth; Lebanon is ashamed, it withereth; Sharon is like a wilderness; And Bashan and Carmel are clean bare.
- 10Now will I arise, saith the LORD; Now will I be exalted; Now will I lift Myself up.
- 11Ye conceive chaff, ye shall bring forth stubble; Your breath is a fire that shall devour you.
- 12And the peoples shall be as the burnings of lime; As thorns cut down, that are burned in the fire.
- 13Hear, ye that are far off, what I have done; And, ye that are near, acknowledge My might.
- 14The sinners in Zion are afraid; Trembling hath seized the ungodly: 'Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? Who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?'
- 15He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly; He that despiseth the gain of oppressions, That shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, That stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, And shutteth his eyes from looking upon evil;
- 16He shall dwell on high; His place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks; His bread shall be given, his waters shall be sure.
- 17Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty; They shall behold a land stretching afar.
- 18Thy heart shall muse on the terror: 'Where is he that counted, where is he that weighed? Where is he that counted the towers?'
- 19Thou shalt not see the fierce people; A people of a deep speech that thou canst not perceive, Of a stammering tongue that thou canst not understand.
- 20Look upon Zion, the city of our solemn gatherings; Thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a peaceful habitation, A tent that shall not be removed, The stakes whereof shall never be plucked up, Neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken.
- 21But there the LORD will be with us in majesty, In a place of broad rivers and streams; Wherein shall go no galley with oars, Neither shall gallant ship pass thereby.
- 22For the LORD is our Judge, The LORD is our Lawgiver, The LORD is our King; He will save us.
- 23Thy tacklings are loosed; They do not hold the stand of their mast, They do not spread the sail; Then is the prey of a great spoil divided; The lame take the prey.
- 24And the inhabitant shall not say: 'I am sick'; The people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

Judgment on the Nations

1Come near, ye nations, to hear, And attend, ye peoples; Let the earth hear, and the fulness thereof, The world, and all things that come forth of it.

2For the LORD hath indignation against all the nations, And fury against all their host; He hath utterly destroyed them, He hath delivered them to the slaughter.

3Their slain also shall be cast out, And the stench of their carcasses shall come up, And the mountains shall be melted with their blood.

4And all the host of heaven shall moulder away, And the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll; And all their host shall fall down, As the leaf falleth off from the vine, And as a falling fig from the fig-tree.

Judgment on Edom

(Isaiah 21:11–12)

5For My sword hath drunk its fill in heaven; Behold, it shall come down upon Edom, And upon the people of My ban, to judgment.

6The sword of the LORD is filled with blood, It is made fat with fatness, With the blood of lambs and goats, With the fat of the kidneys of rams; For the LORD hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, And a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7And the wild-oxen shall come down with them, And the bullocks with the bulls; And their land shall be drunken with blood, And their dust made fat with fatness.

8For the LORD hath a day of vengeance, A year of recompense for the controversy of Zion.

9And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, And the dust thereof into brimstone, And the land thereof shall become burning pitch.

10It shall not be quenched night nor day, The smoke thereof shall go up for ever; From generation to generation it shall lie waste: None shall pass through it for ever and ever.

11But the pelican and the bittern shall possess it, And the owl and the raven shall dwell therein; And He shall stretch over it The line of confusion, and the plummet of emptiness.

12As for her nobles, none shall be there to be called to the kingdom; And all her princes shall be nothing.

13And thorns shall come up in her palaces, Nettles and thistles in the fortresses thereof; And it shall be a habitation of wild-dogs, An enclosure for ostriches.

14And the wild-cats shall meet with the jackals, And the satyr shall cry to his fellow; Yea, the night-monster shall repose there, And shall find her a place of rest.

15There shall the arrowsnake make her nest, and lay, And hatch, and brood under her shadow; Yea, there shall the kites be gathered, Every one with her mate.

16 Seek ye out of the book of the LORD, and read; No one of these shall be missing, None shall want her mate; For My mouth it hath commanded, And the breath thereof it hath gathered them.

17 And He hath cast the lot for them, And His hand hath divided it unto them by line; They shall possess it for ever, From generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

The Glory of Zion

1 The wilderness and the parched land shall be glad; And the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose.

2 It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice, Even with joy and singing; The glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, The excellency of Carmel and Sharon; They shall see the glory of the LORD, The excellency of our God.

3 Strengthen ye the weak hands, And make firm the tottering knees.

4 Say to them that are of a fearful heart: 'Be strong, fear not'; Behold, your God will come with vengeance, With the recompense of God He will come and save you.

5 Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, And the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped.

6 Then shall the lame man leap as a hart, And the tongue of the dumb shall sing; For in the wilderness shall waters break out, And streams in the desert.

7 And the parched land shall become a pool, And the thirsty ground springs of water; In the habitation of jackals herds shall lie down, It shall be an enclosure for reeds and rushes.

8 And a highway shall be there, and a way, And it shall be called The way of holiness; The unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those; The wayfaring men, yea fools, shall not err therein.

9 No lion shall be there, Nor shall any ravenous beast go up thereon, They shall not be found there; But the redeemed shall walk there;

10 And the ransomed of the LORD shall return, And come with singing unto Zion, And everlasting joy shall be upon their heads; They shall obtain gladness and joy, And sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

Sennacherib Threatens Jerusalem

(2 Kings 18:13–37; 2 Chronicles 32:1–8)

1Now it came to pass in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fortified cities of Judah, and took them. 2And the king of Assyria sent Rab-shakeh from Lachish to Jerusalem unto king Hezekiah with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fullers' field. 3Then came forth unto him Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder.

4And Rab-shakeh said unto them: 'Say ye now to Hezekiah: Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria: What confidence is this wherein thou trustest? 5I said: It is but vain words; for counsel and strength are for the war. Now on whom dost thou trust, that thou hast rebelled against me? 6Behold, thou trustest upon the staff of this bruised reed, even upon Egypt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it; so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that trust on him. 7But if thou say unto me: We trust in the LORD our God; is not that He, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath said to Judah and to Jerusalem: Ye shall worship before this altar? 8Now therefore, I pray thee, make a wager with my master, the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them. 9How then canst thou turn away the face of one captain, even of the least of my master's servants? yet thou puttest thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen! 10And am I now come up without the LORD against this land to destroy it? The LORD said unto me: Go up against this land, and destroy it.'

11Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rab-shakeh: 'Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Aramean language, for we understand it; and speak not to us in the Jews' language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.' 12But Rab-shakeh said: 'Hath my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, to eat their own dung, and to drink their own water with you?'

13Then Rab-shakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said: 'Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria. 14Thus saith the king: Let not Hezekiah beguile you, for he will not be able to deliver you; 15neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying: The LORD will surely deliver us; this city shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria. 16Hearken not to Hezekiah; for thus saith the king of Assyria: Make your peace with me, and come out to me; and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his fig-tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cistern; 17until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards. 18Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying: The LORD will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria? 19Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand? 20Who are they among all the gods of these countries, that have delivered their country out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?'

21But they held their peace, and answered him not a word; for the king's commandment was, saying: 'Answer him not.' 22Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rab-shakeh.

Isaiah 37

Isaiah's Message of Deliverance

(2 Kings 19:1–7)

1And it came to pass, when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD. 2And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, unto Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz. 3And they said unto him: 'Thus saith Hezekiah: This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of contumely; for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth. 4It may be the LORD thy God will hear the words of Rab-shakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to taunt the living God, and will rebuke the words which the LORD thy God hath heard; wherefore make prayer for the remnant that is left.'

5So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah. 6And Isaiah said unto them: 'Thus shall ye say to your master: Thus saith the LORD: Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed Me. 7Behold, I will put a spirit in him, and he shall hear a rumour, and shall return unto his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.'

Sennacherib's Blasphemous Letter

(2 Kings 19:8–13)

8So Rab-shakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah; for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish. 9And he heard say concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia: 'He is come out to fight against thee.' And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying: 10Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying: Let not thy God in whom thou trustest beguile thee, saying: Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria. 11Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by destroying them utterly; and shalt thou be delivered? 12Have the gods of the nations delivered them, which my fathers have destroyed, Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden that were in Telassar? 13Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and Ivvah?'

Hezekiah's Prayer

(2 Kings 19:14–19)

14And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it; and Hezekiah went up unto the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD. 15And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD, saying: 16O LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, that sittest upon the cherubim, Thou art the God, even Thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; Thou hast made heaven and earth. 17Incline Thine ear, O LORD, and hear; open Thine eyes, O LORD, and see; and hear all the words of Sennacherib, who hath sent to taunt the living God. 18Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the countries, and their land, 19and have cast their gods into the fire; for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone; therefore they have destroyed them. 20Now therefore, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that Thou art the LORD, even Thou only.'

Sennacherib's Fall Prophesied

(2 Kings 19:20–34)

21Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying: 'Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Whereas thou hast prayed to Me against Sennacherib king of Assyria, 22this is the word which the LORD hath spoken concerning him: The virgin daughter of Zion Hath despised thee and laughed thee to scorn; The daughter of Jerusalem Hath shaken her head at thee.

23Whom hast thou taunted and blasphemed? And against whom hast thou exalted thy voice? Yea, thou hast lifted up thine eyes on high, Even against the Holy One of Israel!

24By thy servants hast thou taunted the Lord, And hast said: With the multitude of my chariots Am I come up to the height of the mountains, To the innermost parts of Lebanon; And I have cut down the tall cedars thereof, And the choice cypress-trees thereof; And I have entered into his farthest height, The forest of his fruitful field.

25I have digged and drunk water, And with the sole of my feet have I dried up All the rivers of Egypt.

26Hast thou not heard? Long ago I made it, In ancient times I fashioned it; Now have I brought it to pass, Yea, it is done; that fortified cities Should be laid waste into ruinous heaps.

27Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, They were dismayed and confounded; They were as the grass of the field, And as the green herb, As the grass on the housetops, And as a field of corn before it is grown up.

28But I know thy sitting down, and thy going out, and thy coming in, And thy raging against Me.

29Because of thy raging against Me, And for that thine uproar is come up into Mine ears, Therefore will I put My hook in thy nose, And My bridle in thy lips, And I will turn thee back by the way By which thou camest.

30And this shall be the sign unto thee: ye shall eat this year that which groweth of itself, and in the second year that which springeth of the same; and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof. 31And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward. 32For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and out of mount Zion they that shall escape; the zeal of the LORD of hosts shall perform this.

33Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the king of Assyria: He shall not come unto this city, nor shoot an arrow there, neither shall he come before it with shield, nor cast a mound against it. 34By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and he shall not come unto this city, saith the LORD.

35For I will defend this city to save it, for Mine own sake, and for My servant David's sake.'

Jerusalem Delivered from the Assyrians

(2 Kings 19:35–37; 2 Chronicles 32:20–23)

36And the angel of the LORD went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand; and when men arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses. 37So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went, and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

38And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sarezer his sons smote him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Ararat. And Esarhaddon his son reigned in his stead.

Hezekiah's Illness and Recovery

(2 Kings 20:1–11; 2 Chronicles 32:24–31)

¹In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him: 'Thus saith the LORD: Set thy house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live.' ²Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the LORD, ³and said: 'Remember now, O LORD, I beseech Thee, how I have walked before Thee in truth and with a whole heart, and have done that which is good in Thy sight.' And Hezekiah wept sore.

⁴Then came the word of the LORD to Isaiah, saying: ⁵Go, and say to Hezekiah: Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father: I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears; behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years. ⁶And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria; and I will defend this city.

⁷And this shall be the sign unto thee from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that He hath spoken: ⁸behold, I will cause the shadow of the dial, which is gone down on the sun-dial of Ahaz, to return backward ten degrees.' So the sun returned ten degrees, by which degrees it was gone down.

Hezekiah's Song of Thanksgiving

⁹The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness.

¹⁰I said: In the noontide of my days I shall go, Even to the gates of the nether-world; I am deprived of the residue of my years.

¹¹I said: I shall not see the LORD, Even the LORD in the land of the living; I shall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

¹²My habitation is plucked up and carried away from me As a shepherd's tent; I have rolled up like a weaver my life; He will cut me off from the thrum; From day even to night wilt Thou make an end of me.

¹³The more I make myself like unto a lion until morning, The more it breaketh all my bones; From day even to night wilt Thou make an end of me.

¹⁴Like a swallow or a crane, so do I chatter, I do moan as a dove; Mine eyes fail with looking upward. O LORD, I am oppressed, be Thou my surety.

¹⁵What shall I say? He hath both spoken unto me, And Himself hath done it; I shall go softly all my years for the bitterness of my soul.

¹⁶O Lord, by these things men live, And altogether therein is the life of my spirit; Wherefore recover Thou me, and make me to live.

17Behold, for my peace I had great bitterness; But Thou hast in love to my soul delivered it From the pit of corruption; For Thou hast cast all my sins behind Thy back.

18For the nether-world cannot praise Thee, Death cannot celebrate Thee; They that go down into the pit cannot hope for Thy truth.

19The living, the living, he shall praise Thee, As I do this day; The father to the children shall make known Thy truth.

20The LORD is ready to save me; Therefore we will sing songs to the stringed instruments All the days of our life in the house of the LORD.

21And Isaiah said: 'Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a plaster upon the boil, and he shall recover.' 22And Hezekiah said. 'What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the LORD?'

Hezekiah Shows His Treasures

(2 Kings 20:12–19)

1At that time Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent a letter and a present to Hezekiah; for he heard that he had been sick, and was recovered. 2And Hezekiah was glad of them, and showed them his treasure-house, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious oil, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures; there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah showed them not.

3Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him: 'What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee?' And Hezekiah said: 'They are come from a far country unto me, even from Babylon.' 4Then said he: 'What have they seen in thy house?' And Hezekiah answered: 'All that is in my house have they seen; there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shown them.'

5Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah: 'Hear the word of the LORD of hosts: 6Behold, the days come, that all that is in thy house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon; nothing shall be left, saith the LORD. 7And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, whom thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be officers in the palace of the king of Babylon.' 8Then said Hezekiah unto Isaiah: 'Good is the word of the LORD which thou hast spoken.' He said moreover: 'If but there shall be peace and truth in my days.'

Prepare the Way for the LORD

(Matthew 3:1–12; Mark 1:1–8; Luke 3:1–20; John 1:19–28)

1 Comfort ye, comfort ye My people, Saith your God.

2 Bid Jerusalem take heart, And proclaim unto her, That her time of service is accomplished, That her guilt is paid off; That she hath received of the LORD'S hand Double for all her sins.

3 Hark! one calleth: 'Clear ye in the wilderness the way of the LORD, Make plain in the desert A highway for our God.

4 Every valley shall be lifted up, And every mountain and hill shall be made low; And the rugged shall be made level, And the rough places a plain;

5 And the glory of the LORD shall be revealed, And all flesh shall see it together; For the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.'

The Enduring Word

(1 Peter 1:22–25)

6 Hark! one saith: 'Proclaim!' And he saith: 'What shall I proclaim?' 'All flesh is grass, And all the goodness thereof is as the flower of the field;

7 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; Because the breath of the LORD bloweth upon it—Surely the people is grass.

8 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; But the word of our God shall stand for ever.'

Here Is Your God!

(Romans 11:33–36)

9 O thou that tellest good tidings to Zion, Get thee up into the high mountain; O thou that tellest good tidings to Jerusalem, Lift up thy voice with strength; Lift it up, be not afraid; Say unto the cities of Judah: 'Behold your God!'

10 Behold, the Lord GOD will come as a Mighty One, And His arm will rule for Him; Behold, His reward is with Him, And His recompense before Him.

11 Even as a shepherd that feedeth his flock, That gathereth the lambs in his arm, And carrieth them in his bosom, And gently leadeth those that give suck.

12 Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, And meted out heaven with the span, And comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, And weighed the mountains in scales, And the hills in a balance?

13 Who hath meted out the spirit of the LORD? Or who was His counsellor that he might instruct Him?

14 With whom took He counsel, and who instructed Him, And taught Him in the path of right, And taught Him knowledge, And made Him to know the way of discernment?

15 Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, And are counted as the small dust of the balance; Behold the isles are as a mote in weight.

- 16And Lebanon is not sufficient fuel, Nor the beasts thereof sufficient for burnt-offerings.
- 17All the nations are as nothing before Him; They are accounted by Him as things of nought, and vanity.
- 18To whom then will ye liken God? Or what likeness will ye compare unto Him?
- 19The image perchance, which the craftsman hath melted, And the goldsmith spread over with gold, The silversmith casting silver chains?
- 20A holm-oak is set apart, He chooseth a tree that will not rot; He seeketh unto him a cunning craftsman To set up an image, that shall not be moved.
- 21Know ye not? hear ye not? Hath it not been told you from the beginning? Have ye not understood the foundations of the earth?
- 22It is He that sitteth above the circle of the earth, And the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers; That stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, And spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in;
- 23That bringeth princes to nothing; He maketh the judges of the earth as a thing of nought.
- 24Scarce are they planted, Scarce are they sown, Scarce hath their stock taken root in the earth; When He bloweth upon them, they wither, And the whirlwind taketh them away as stubble.
- 25To whom then will ye liken Me, that I should be equal? Saith the Holy One.
- 26Lift up your eyes on high, And see: who hath created these? He that bringeth out their host by number, He calleth them all by name; By the greatness of His might, and for that He is strong in power, Not one faileth.
- 27Why sayest thou, O Jacob, And speakest, O Israel: 'My way is hid from the LORD, And my right is passed over from my God'?
- 28Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard That the everlasting God, the LORD, The Creator of the ends of the earth, Fainteth not, neither is weary? His discernment is past searching out.
- 29He giveth power to the faint; And to him that hath no might He increaseth strength.
- 30Even the youths shall faint and be weary, And the young men shall utterly fall;
- 31But they that wait for the LORD shall renew their strength; They shall mount up with wings as eagles; They shall run, and not be weary; They shall walk, and not faint.

God's Help to Israel

1Keep silence before Me, O islands, And let the peoples renew their strength; Let them draw near, then let them speak; Let us come near together to judgment.

2Who hath raised up one from the east, At whose steps victory attendeth? He giveth nations before him, And maketh him rule over kings; His sword maketh them as the dust, His bow as the driven stubble.

3He pursueth them, and passeth on safely; The way with his feet he treadeth not.

4Who hath wrought and done it? He that called the generations from the beginning. I, the LORD, who am the first, And with the last am the same.

5The isles saw, and feared; The ends of the earth trembled; They drew near, and came.

6They helped every one his neighbour; And every one said to his brother: 'Be of good courage.'

7So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, And he that smootheth with the hammer him that smiteth the anvil, Saying of the soldering: 'It is good'; And he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved.

8But thou, Israel, My servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, The seed of Abraham My friend;

9Thou whom I have taken hold of from the ends of the earth, And called thee from the uttermost parts thereof, And said unto thee: 'Thou art My servant, I have chosen thee and not cast thee away';

10Fear thou not, for I am with thee, Be not dismayed, for I am thy God; I strengthen thee, yea, I help thee; Yea, I uphold thee with My victorious right hand.

11Behold, all they that were incensed against thee Shall be ashamed and confounded; They that strove with thee Shall be as nothing, and shall perish.

12Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, Even them that contended with thee; They that warred against thee Shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.

13For I the LORD thy God Hold thy right hand, Who say unto thee: 'Fear not, I help thee.'

14Fear not, thou worm Jacob, And ye men of Israel; I help thee, saith the LORD, And thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel.

15Behold, I make thee a new threshing-sledge Having sharp teeth; Thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, And shalt make the hills as chaff.

16Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, And the whirlwind shall scatter them; And thou shalt rejoice in the LORD, Thou shalt glory in the Holy One of Israel.

17The poor and needy seek water and there is none, And their tongue faileth for thirst; I the LORD will answer them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them.

18I will open rivers on the high hills, And fountains in the midst of the valleys; I will make the wilderness a pool of water, And the dry land springs of water.

19I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the acacia-tree, And the myrtle, and the oil-tree; I will set in the desert the cypress, the plane-tree, and the larch together;

20That they may see, and know, And consider, and understand together, That the hand of the LORD hath done this, And the Holy One of Israel hath created it.

Meaningless Idols

21Produce your cause, saith the LORD; Bring forth your reasons, saith the King of Jacob.

22Let them bring them forth, and declare unto us The things that shall happen; The former things, what are they? Declare ye, that we may consider, And know the end of them; Or announce to us things to come.

23Declare the things that are to come hereafter, That we may know that ye are gods; Yea, do good, or do evil, That we may be dismayed, and behold it together.

24Behold, ye are nothing, And your work a thing of nought; An abomination is he that chooseth you.

25I have roused up one from the north, and he is come, From the rising of the sun one that calleth upon My name; And he shall come upon rulers as upon mortar, And as the potter treadeth clay.

26Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? And beforetime, that we may say that he is right? Yea, there is none that declareth, Yea, there is none that announceth, Yea, there is none that heareth your utterances.

27A harbinger unto Zion will I give: 'Behold, behold them', And to Jerusalem a messenger of good tidings.

28And I look, but there is no man; Even among them, but there is no counsellor, That, when I ask of them, can give an answer.

29Behold, all of them, Their works are vanity and nought; Their molten images are wind and confusion.

Here Is My Servant

(Matthew 12:15–21)

1Behold My servant, whom I uphold; Mine elect, in whom My soul delighteth; I have put My spirit upon him, He shall make the right to go forth to the nations.

2He shall not cry, nor lift up, Nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.

3A bruised reed shall he not break, And the dimly burning wick shall he not quench; He shall make the right to go forth according to the truth.

4He shall not fail nor be crushed, Till he have set the right in the earth; And the isles shall wait for his teaching.

5Thus saith God the LORD, He that created the heavens, and stretched them forth, He that spread forth the earth and that which cometh out of it, He that giveth breath unto the people upon it, And spirit to them that walk therein:

6I the LORD have called thee in righteousness, And have taken hold of thy hand, And kept thee, and set thee for a covenant of the people, For a light of the nations;

7To open the blind eyes, To bring out the prisoners from the dungeon, And them that sit in darkness out of the prison-house.

8I am the LORD, that is My name; And My glory will I not give to another, Neither My praise to graven images.

9Behold, the former things are come to pass, And new things do I declare; Before they spring forth I tell you of them.

A New Song of Praise

(Psalm 98:1–9; Psalm 149:1–9)

10Sing unto the LORD a new song, And His praise from the end of the earth; Ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein, The isles, and the inhabitants thereof.

11Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, The villages that Kedar doth inhabit; Let the inhabitants of Sela exult, Let them shout from the top of the mountains.

12Let them give glory unto the LORD, And declare His praise in the islands.

13The LORD will go forth as a mighty man, He will stir up jealousy like a man of war; He will cry, yea, He will shout aloud, He will prove Himself mighty against His enemies.

14I have long time held My peace, I have been still, and refrained Myself; Now will I cry like a travailing woman, Gasping and panting at once.

15I will make waste mountains and hills, And dry up all their herbs; And I will make the rivers islands, And will dry up the pools.

16And I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not, In paths that they knew not will I lead them; I will make darkness light before them, and rugged places plain. These things will I do, And I will not leave them undone.

17They shall be turned back, greatly ashamed, That trust in graven images, That say unto molten images: 'Ye are our gods.'

Israel Is Deaf and Blind

18Hear, ye deaf, And look, ye blind, that ye may see.

19Who is blind, but My servant? Or deaf, as My messenger that I send? Who is blind as he that is wholehearted, And blind as the LORD'S servant?

20Seeing many things, thou observest not; Opening the ears, he heareth not.

21The LORD was pleased, for His righteousness' sake, To make the teaching great and glorious.

22But this is a people robbed and spoiled, They are all of them snared in holes, And they are hid in prison-houses; They are for a prey, and none delivereth, For a spoil, and none saith: 'Restore.'

23Who among you will give ear to this? Who will hearken and hear for the time to come?

24Who gave Jacob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? Did not the LORD? He against whom we have sinned, And in whose ways they would not walk, Neither were they obedient unto His law.

25Therefore He poured upon him the fury of His anger, And the strength of battle; And it set him on fire round about, yet he knew not, And it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.

Israel's Only Savior

1But now thus saith the LORD that created thee, O Jacob, And He that formed thee, O Israel: Fear not, for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name, thou art Mine.

2When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee, And through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee; When thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned, Neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.

3For I am the LORD thy God, The Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour; I have given Egypt as thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee.

4Since thou art precious in My sight, and honourable, And I have loved thee; Therefore will I give men for thee, And peoples for thy life.

5Fear not, for I am with thee; I will bring thy seed from the east, And gather thee from the west;

6I will say to the north: 'Give up', And to the south: 'Keep not back, Bring My sons from far, And My daughters from the end of the earth;

7Every one that is called by My name, And whom I have created for My glory, I have formed him, yea, I have made him.'

8The blind people that have eyes shall be brought forth, And the deaf that have ears.

9All the nations are gathered together, And the peoples are assembled; Who among them can declare this, And announce to us former things? Let them bring their witnesses, that they may be justified; And let them hear, and say: 'It is truth.'

10Ye are My witnesses, saith the LORD, And My servant whom I have chosen; That ye may know and believe Me, and understand That I am He; Before Me there was no God formed, Neither shall any be after Me.

11I, even I, am the LORD; And beside Me there is no saviour.

12I have declared, and I have saved, And I have announced, And there was no strange god among you; Therefore ye are My witnesses, saith the LORD, and I am God.

13Yea, since the day was I am He, And there is none that can deliver out of My hand; I will work, and who can reverse it?

A Way in the Wilderness

14Thus saith the LORD, your Redeemer, The Holy One of Israel: For your sake I have sent to Babylon, And I will bring down all of them as fugitives, Even the Chaldeans, in the ships of their shouting.

15I am the LORD, your Holy One, The Creator of Israel, your King.

16Thus saith the LORD, who maketh a way in the sea, And a path in the mighty waters;

17Who bringeth forth the chariot and horse, The army and the power—They lie down together, they shall not rise, They are extinct, they are quenched as a wick:

18Remember ye not the former things, Neither consider the things of old.

19Behold, I will do a new thing; Now shall it spring forth; shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, And rivers in the desert.

20The beasts of the field shall honour Me, The jackals and the ostriches; Because I give waters in the wilderness, And rivers in the desert, To give drink to My people, Mine elect;

21The people which I formed for Myself, That they might tell of My praise.

Israel's Unfaithfulness

(Judges 2:10–15; Jeremiah 2:23–37)

22Yet thou hast not called upon Me, O Jacob, Neither hast thou wearied thyself about Me, O Israel.

23Thou hast not brought Me the small cattle of thy burnt-offerings; Neither hast thou honoured Me with thy sacrifices. I have not burdened thee with a meal-offering, Nor wearied thee with frankincense.

24Thou hast bought Me no sweet cane with money, Neither hast thou satisfied Me with the fat of thy sacrifices; But thou hast burdened Me with thy sins, Thou hast wearied Me with thine iniquities.

25I, even I, am He that blotteth out thy transgressions for Mine own sake; And thy sins I will not remember.

26Put Me in remembrance, let us plead together; Declare thou, that thou mayest be justified.

27Thy first father sinned, And thine intercessors have transgressed against Me.

28Therefore I have profaned the princes of the sanctuary, And I have given Jacob to condemnation, And Israel to reviling.

The LORD Has Chosen Israel

1Yet now hear, O Jacob My servant, And Israel, whom I have chosen;

2Thus saith the LORD that made thee, And formed thee from the womb, who will help thee: Fear not, O Jacob My servant, And thou, Jeshurun, whom I have chosen.

3For I will pour water upon the thirsty land, And streams upon the dry ground; I will pour My spirit upon thy seed, And My blessing upon thine offspring;

4And they shall spring up among the grass, As willows by the watercourses.

5One shall say: 'I am the LORD'S'; And another shall call himself by the name of Jacob; And another shall subscribe with his hand unto the LORD, And surname himself by the name of Israel.

6Thus saith the LORD, the King of Israel, And his Redeemer the LORD of hosts: I am the first, and I am the last, And beside Me there is no God.

7And who, as I, can proclaim—Let him declare it, and set it in order for Me—Since I appointed the ancient people? And the things that are coming, and that shall come to pass, let them declare.

8Fear ye not, neither be afraid; Have I not announced unto thee of old, and declared it? And ye are My witnesses. Is there a God beside Me? Yea, there is no Rock; I know not any.

12The smith maketh an axe, And worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, And worketh it with his strong arm; Yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth; He drinketh no water, and is faint.

13The carpenter stretcheth out a line; He marketh it out with a pencil; He fitteth it with planes, And he marketh it out with the compasses, And maketh it after the figure of a man, According to the beauty of a man, to dwell in the house. 14He heweth him down cedars, And taketh the ilex and the oak, And strengtheneth for himself one among the trees of the forest; He planteth a bay-tree, and the rain doth nourish it. 15Then a man useth it for fuel; And he taketh thereof, and warmeth himself; Yea, he kindleth it, and baketh bread; Yea, he maketh a god, and worshippeth it; He maketh it a graven image, and falleth down thereto. 16He burneth the half thereof in the fire; With the half thereof he eateth flesh; He roasteth roast, and is satisfied; Yea, he warmeth himself, and saith: 'Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire'; 17And the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his graven image; He falleth down unto it and worshippeth, and prayeth unto it, And saith: 'Deliver me, for thou art my god.'

18They know not, neither do they understand; For their eyes are bedaubed, that they cannot see, And their hearts, that they cannot understand. 19And none considereth in his heart, Neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say: 'I have burned the half of it in the fire; Yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof; I have roasted flesh and eaten it; And shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? Shall I fall down to the stock of a tree?' 20He striveth after ashes, A deceived heart hath turned him aside, That he cannot deliver his soul, nor say: 'Is there not a lie in my right hand?'

Jerusalem to Be Restored

21Remember these things, O Jacob, And Israel, for thou art My servant; I have formed thee, thou art Mine own servant; O Israel, thou shouldest not forget Me.

22I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, And, as a cloud, thy sins; Return unto Me, for I have redeemed thee.

23Sing, O ye heavens, for the LORD hath done it; Shout, ye lowest parts of the earth; Break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein; For the LORD hath redeemed Jacob, And doth glorify Himself in Israel.

24Thus saith the LORD, thy Redeemer, And He that formed thee from the womb: I am the LORD, that maketh all things; That stretched forth the heavens alone; That spread abroad the earth by Myself;

25That frustrateth the tokens of the imposters, And maketh diviners mad; That turneth wise men backward, And maketh their knowledge foolish;

26That confirmeth the word of His servant, And performeth the counsel of His messengers; That saith of Jerusalem: 'She shall be inhabited'; And of the cities of Judah: 'They shall be built, And I will raise up the waste places thereof';

27That saith to the deep: 'Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers';

28That saith of Cyrus: 'He is My shepherd, And shall perform all My pleasure'; Even saying of Jerusalem: 'She shall be built'; And to the temple: 'My foundation shall be laid.'

Isaiah 45

God Calls Cyrus

(2 Chronicles 36:22–23; Ezra 1:1–4)

1 Thus saith the LORD to His anointed, To Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, To subdue nations before him, And to loose the loins of kings; To open the doors before him, And that the gates may not be shut:

2 I will go before thee, And make the crooked places straight; I will break in pieces the doors of brass, And cut in sunder the bars of iron;

3 And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, And hidden riches of secret places, That thou mayest know that I am the LORD, Who call thee by thy name, even the God of Israel.

4 For the sake of Jacob My servant, And Israel Mine elect, I have called thee by thy name, I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known Me.

5 I am the LORD, and there is none else, Beside Me there is no God; I have girded thee, though thou hast not known Me;

6 That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, That there is none beside Me; I am the LORD; and there is none else;

7 I form the light, and create darkness; I make peace, and create evil; I am the LORD, that doeth all these things.

8 Drop down, ye heavens, from above, And let the skies pour down righteousness; Let the earth open, that they may bring forth salvation, And let her cause righteousness to spring up together; I the LORD have created it.

9 Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker, As a potsherd with the potsherds of the earth! Shall the clay say to him that fashioned it: 'What makest thou?' Or: 'Thy work, it hath no hands?'

10 Woe unto him that saith unto his father: 'Wherefore begettest thou?' Or to a woman: 'Wherefore travailest thou?'

11 Thus saith the LORD, The Holy One of Israel, and his Maker: Ask Me of the things that are to come; Concerning My sons, and concerning the work of My hands, command ye Me.

12 I, even I, have made the earth, And created man upon it; I, even My hands, have stretched out the heavens, And all their host have I commanded.

13 I have roused him up in victory, And I make level all his ways; He shall build My city, And he shall let Mine exiles go free, Not for price nor reward, Saith the LORD of hosts.

14 Thus saith the LORD: The labour of Egypt, and the merchandise of Ethiopia, And of the Sabeans, men of stature, Shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine; They shall go after thee, in chains they shall come over; And they shall fall down unto thee, They shall make supplication unto thee: Surely God is in thee, and there is none else, There is no other God.

15 Verily Thou art a God that hidest Thyself, O God of Israel, the Saviour.

16They shall be ashamed, yea, confounded, all of them; They shall go in confusion together that are makers of idols.

17O Israel, that art saved by the LORD with an everlasting salvation; Ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.

18For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens, He is God; That formed the earth and made it, He established it, He created it not a waste, He formed it to be inhabited: I am the LORD, and there is none else.

19I have not spoken in secret, In a place of the land of darkness; I said not unto the seed of Jacob: 'Seek ye Me in vain'; I the LORD speak righteousness, I declare things that are right.

20Assemble yourselves and come, draw near together, Ye that are escaped of the nations; They have no knowledge that carry the wood of their graven image, And pray unto a god that cannot save.

21Declare ye, and bring them near, Yea, let them take counsel together: Who hath announced this from ancient time, And declared it of old? Have not I the LORD? And there is no God else beside Me, A just God and a Saviour; There is none beside Me.

22Look unto Me, and be ye saved, All the ends of the earth; For I am God, and there is none else.

23By Myself have I sworn, The word is gone forth from My mouth in righteousness, And shall not come back, That unto Me every knee shall bow, Every tongue shall swear.

24Only in the LORD, shall one say of Me, is victory and strength; Even to Him shall men come in confusion, All they that were incensed against Him.

25In the LORD shall all the seed of Israel Be justified, and shall glory.

Babylon's Idols

1Bel boweth down, Nebo stoopeth; Their idols are upon the beasts, and upon the cattle; The things that ye carried about are made a load, A burden to the weary beast.

2They stoop, they bow down together, They could not deliver the burden; And themselves are gone into captivity.

3Hearken unto Me, O house of Jacob, And all the remnant of the house of Israel, That are borne [by Me] from the birth, That are carried from the womb:

4Even to old age I am the same, And even to hoar hairs will I carry you; I have made, and I will bear; Yea, I will carry, and will deliver.

- 5To whom will ye liken Me, and make Me equal, And compare Me, that we may be like?
- 6Ye that lavish gold out of the bag, And weigh silver in the balance; Ye that hire a goldsmith, that he make it a god, To fall down thereto, yea, to worship.
- 7He is borne upon the shoulder, he is carried, And set in his place, and he standeth, From his place he doth not remove; Yea, though one cry unto him, he cannot answer, Nor save him out of his trouble.
- 8Remember this, and stand fast; Bring it to mind, O ye transgressors.
- 9Remember the former things of old: That I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like Me;
- 10Declaring the end from the beginning, And from ancient times things that are not yet done; Saying: 'My counsel shall stand, And all My pleasure will I do';
- 11Calling a bird of prey from the east, The man of My counsel from a far country; Yea, I have spoken, I will also bring it to pass, I have purposed, I will also do it.
- 12Hearken unto Me, ye stout-hearted, That are far from righteousness:
- 13I bring near My righteousness, it shall not be far off, And My salvation shall not tarry; And I will place salvation in Zion For Israel My glory.

The Humiliation of Babylon

- 1Come down, and sit in the dust, O virgin daughter of Babylon, Sit on the ground without a throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans; For thou shalt no more be called Tender and delicate.
- 2Take the millstones, and grind meal; Remove thy veil, Strip off the train, uncover the leg, Pass through the rivers.
- 3Thy nakedness shall be uncovered, Yea, thy shame shall be seen; I will take vengeance, And will let no man intercede.
- 4Our Redeemer, the LORD of hosts is His name, The Holy One of Israel.
- 5Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans; For thou shalt no more be called The mistress of kingdoms.
- 6I was wroth with My people, I profaned Mine inheritance, And gave them into thy hand; Thou didst show them no mercy; Upon the aged hast thou very heavily Laid thy yoke.
- 7And thou saidst: 'For ever shall I be mistress'; So that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, Neither didst remember the end thereof.

8Now therefore hear this, thou that art given to pleasures, That sittest securely, That sayest in thy heart: 'I am, and there is none else beside me; I shall not sit as a widow, Neither shall I know the loss of children';

9But these two things shall come to thee in a moment In one day, the loss of children, and widowhood; In their full measure shall they come upon thee, For the multitude of thy sorceries, And the great abundance of thine enchantments.

10And thou hast been secure in thy wickedness, Thou hast said: 'None seeth me'; Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, It hath perverted thee; And thou hast said in thy heart. 'I am, and there is none else beside me.'

11Yet shall evil come upon thee; Thou shalt not know how to charm it away; And calamity shall fall upon thee; Thou shalt not be able to put it away; And ruin shall come upon thee suddenly, Before thou knowest.

12Stand now with thine enchantments, And with the multitude of thy sorceries, Wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; If so be thou shalt be able to profit, If so be thou mayest prevail.

13Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels; Let now the astrologers, the stargazers, The monthly prognosticators, Stand up, and save thee From the things that shall come upon thee.

14Behold, they shall be as stubble; The fire shall burn them; They shall not deliver themselves From the power of the flame; It shall not be a coal to warm at, Nor a fire to sit before.

15Thus shall they be unto thee With whom thou hast laboured; They that have trafficked with thee from thy youth Shall wander every one to his quarter; There shall be none to save thee.

Israel's Stubbornness

1Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, Who are called by the name of Israel, And are come forth out of the fountain of Judah; Who swear by the name of the LORD, And make mention of the God of Israel, But not in truth, nor in righteousness.

2For they call themselves of the holy city, And stay themselves upon the God of Israel, The LORD of hosts is His name.

3I have declared the former things from of old; Yea, they went forth out of My mouth, and I announced them; Suddenly I did them, and they came to pass.

4Because I knew that thou art obstinate, And thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass;

5Therefore I have declared it to thee from of old; Before it came to pass I announced it to thee; Lest thou shouldst say: 'Mine idol hath done them, And my graven image, and my molten image, hath commanded them.'

6Thou hast heard, see, all this; And ye, will ye not declare it? I have announced unto thee new things from this time, Even hidden things, which thou hast not known.

7They are created now, and not from of old, And before this day thou heardest them not; Lest thou shouldst say: 'Behold, I knew them.'

8Yea, thou heardest not; Yea, thou knewest not; Yea, from of old thine ear was not opened; For I knew that thou wouldest deal very treacherously, And wast called a transgressor from the womb.

9For My name's sake will I defer Mine anger, And for My praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off.

10Behold, I have refined thee, but not as silver; I have tried thee in the furnace of affliction.

11For Mine own sake, for Mine own sake, will I do it; For how should it be profaned? And My glory will I not give to another.

Deliverance Promised to Israel

12Hearken unto Me, O Jacob, And Israel My called: I am He; I am the first, I also am the last.

13Yea, My hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, And My right hand hath spread out the heavens; When I call unto them, They stand up together.

14Assemble yourselves, all ye, and hear; Which among them hath declared these things? He whom the LORD loveth shall perform His pleasure on Babylon, And show His arm on the Chaldeans.

15I, even I, have spoken, yea, I have called him; I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous.

16Come ye near unto Me, hear ye this: From the beginning I have not spoken in secret; From the time that it was, there am I; And now the Lord GOD hath sent me, and His spirit.

17Thus saith the LORD, thy Redeemer, The Holy One of Israel: I am the LORD thy God, Who teacheth thee for thy profit, Who leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldst go.

18Oh that thou wouldest hearken to My commandments! Then would thy peace be as a river, And thy righteousness as the waves of the sea;

19Thy seed also would be as the sand, And the offspring of thy body like the grains thereof; His name would not be cut off Nor destroyed from before Me.

20Go ye forth from Babylon, Flee ye from the Chaldeans; With a voice of singing Declare ye, tell this, Utter it even to the end of the earth; Say ye: 'The LORD hath redeemed His servant Jacob.'

21And they thirsted not When He led them through the deserts; He caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them; He cleaved the rock also, and the waters gushed out.'

22There is no peace, Saith the LORD concerning the wicked.

The Servant and Light to the Gentiles

(Acts 13:42–52)

1Listen, O isles, unto me, And hearken, ye peoples, from far: The LORD hath called me from the womb, From the bowels of my mother hath He made mention of my name;

2And He hath made my mouth like a sharp sword, In the shadow of His hand hath He hid me; And He hath made me a polished shaft, In His quiver hath He concealed me;

3And He said unto me: 'Thou art My servant, Israel, in whom I will be glorified.'

4But I said: 'I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought and vanity; Yet surely my right is with the LORD, And my recompense with my God.'

5And now saith the LORD That formed me from the womb to be His servant, To bring Jacob back to Him, And that Israel be gathered unto Him—For I am honourable in the eyes of the LORD, And my God is become my strength—

6Yea, He saith: 'It is too light a thing that thou shouldest be My servant To raise up the tribes of Jacob, And to restore the offspring of Israel; I will also give thee for a light of the nations, That My salvation may be unto the end of the earth.'

7Thus saith the LORD, The Redeemer of Israel, his Holy One, To him who is despised of men, To him who is abhorred of nations, To a servant of rulers: Kings shall see and arise, Princes, and they shall prostrate themselves; Because of the LORD that is faithful, Even the Holy One of Israel, who hath chosen thee.

8Thus saith the LORD: In an acceptable time have I answered thee, And in a day of salvation have I helped thee; And I will preserve thee, and give thee For a covenant of the people, To raise up the land, To cause to inherit the desolate heritages;

9Saying to the prisoners: 'Go forth'; To them that are in darkness: 'Show yourselves'; They shall feed in the ways, And in all high hills shall be their pasture;

10They shall not hunger nor thirst, Neither shall the heat nor sun smite them; For He that hath compassion on them will lead them, Even by the springs of water will He guide them.

11And I will make all My mountains a way, And My highways shall be raised on high.

- 12Behold, these shall come from far; And, lo, these from the north and from the west, And these from the land of Sinim.
- 13Sing, O heavens, and be joyful, O earth, And break forth into singing, O mountains; For the LORD hath comforted His people, And hath compassion upon His afflicted.
- 14But Zion said: 'The LORD hath forsaken me, And the Lord hath forgotten me.'
- 15Can a woman forget her sucking child, That she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? Yea, these may forget, Yet will not I forget thee.
- 16Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of My hands; Thy walls are continually before Me.
- 17Thy children make haste; Thy destroyers and they that made thee waste shall go forth from thee.
- 18Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: All these gather themselves together, and come to thee. As I live, saith the LORD, Thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all as with an ornament, And gird thyself with them, like a bride.
- 19For thy waste and thy desolate places And thy land that hath been destroyed—Surely now shalt thou be too strait for the inhabitants, And they that swallowed thee up shall be far away.
- 20The children of thy bereavement Shall yet say in thine ears: 'The place is too strait for me; Give place to me that I may dwell.'
- 21Then shalt thou say in thy heart: 'Who hath begotten me these, Seeing I have been bereaved of my children, and am solitary, An exile, and wandering to and fro? And who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone; These, where were they?'
- 22Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will lift up My hand to the nations, And set up Mine ensign to the peoples, And they shall bring thy sons in their bosom, And thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.
- 23And kings shall be thy foster-fathers, And their queens thy nursing mothers; They shall bow down to thee with their face to the earth, And lick the dust of thy feet; And thou shalt know that I am the LORD, For they shall not be ashamed that wait for Me.
- 24Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, Or the captives of the victorious be delivered?
- 25But thus saith the LORD: Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, And the prey of the terrible shall be delivered; And I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, And I will save thy children.
- 26And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh; And they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine; And all flesh shall know that I the LORD am thy Saviour, And thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

Israel's Sin

1 Thus saith the LORD: Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement, Wherewith I have put her away? Or which of My creditors is it To whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities were ye sold, And for your transgressions was your mother put away.

2 Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? When I called, was there none to answer? Is My hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? Or have I no power to deliver? Behold, at My rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness; Their fish become foul, because there is no water, And die for thirst.

3 I clothe the heavens with blackness, And I make sackcloth their covering.

The Servant's Obedience

(Matthew 27:27–31; Mark 15:16–20; Luke 22:63–65; John 19:1–15)

4 The Lord GOD hath given me The tongue of them that are taught, That I should know how to sustain with words him that is weary; He wakeneth morning by morning, He wakeneth mine ear To hear as they that are taught.

5 The Lord GOD hath opened mine ear, And I was not rebellious, Neither turned away backward.

6 I gave my back to the smiters, And my checks to them that plucked off the hair; I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

7 For the Lord GOD will help me; Therefore have I not been confounded; Therefore have I set my face like a flint, And I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 He is near that justifieth me; Who will contend with me? let us stand up together; Who is mine adversary? let him come near to me.

9 Behold, the Lord GOD will help me; Who is he that shall condemn me? Behold, they all shall wax old as a garment, The moth shall eat them up.

10 Who is among you that feareth the LORD, That obeyeth the voice of His servant? Though he walketh in darkness, And hath no light, Let him trust in the name of the LORD, And stay upon his God.

11 Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, That gird yourselves with firebrands, Begone in the flame of your fire, And among the brands that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of My hand; Ye shall lie down in sorrow.

Salvation for Zion

1Hearken to Me, ye that follow after righteousness, Ye that seek the LORD; Look unto the rock whence ye were hewn, And to the hole of the pit whence ye were digged.

2Look unto Abraham your father, And unto Sarah that bore you; For when he was but one I called him, And I blessed him, and made him many.

3For the LORD hath comforted Zion; He hath comforted all her waste places, And hath made her wilderness like Eden, And her desert like the garden of the LORD; Joy and gladness shall be found therein, Thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.

4Attend unto Me, O My people, And give ear unto Me, O My nation; For instruction shall go forth from Me, And My right on a sudden for a light of the peoples.

5My favour is near, My salvation is gone forth, And Mine arms shall judge the peoples; The isles shall wait for Me, And on Mine arm shall they trust.

6Lift up your eyes to the heavens, And look upon the earth beneath; For the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, And the earth shall wax old like a garment, And they that dwell therein shall die in like manner; But My salvation shall be for ever, And My favour shall not be abolished.

7Hearken unto Me, ye that know righteousness, The people in whose heart is My law; Fear ye not the taunt of men, Neither be ye dismayed at their revilings.

8For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, And the worm shall eat them like wool; But My favour shall be for ever, And My salvation unto all generations.

9Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the LORD; Awake, as in the days of old, The generations of ancient times. Art thou not it that hewed Rahab in pieces, That pierced the dragon?

10Art thou not it that dried up the sea, The waters of the great deep; That made the depths of the sea a way For the redeemed to pass over?

11And the ransomed of the LORD shall return, And come with singing unto Zion, And everlasting joy shall be upon their heads; They shall obtain gladness and joy, And sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

12I, even I, am He that comforteth you: Who art thou, that thou art afraid of man that shall die, And of the son of man that shall be made as grass;

13And hast forgotten the LORD thy Maker, That stretched forth the heavens, And laid the foundations of the earth; And fearest continually all the day Because of the fury of the oppressor, As he maketh ready to destroy? And where is the fury of the oppressor?

14He that is bent down shall speedily be loosed; And he shall not go down dying into the pit, Neither shall his bread fail. 15For I am the LORD thy God, Who stirreth up the sea, that the waves thereof roar; The LORD of hosts is His name. 16And I have put My words in thy mouth, And have covered thee in the shadow of My hand, That I may plant the heavens, And lay the foundations of the earth, And say unto Zion: 'Thou art My people.'

God's Fury Removed

17Awake, awake, Stand up, O Jerusalem, That hast drunk at the hand of the LORD The cup of His fury; Thou hast drunken the beaker, even the cup of staggering, And drained it.

18There is none to guide her Among all the sons whom she hath brought forth; Neither is there any that taketh her by the hand Of all the sons that she hath brought up.

19These two things are befallen thee; Who shall bemoan thee? Desolation and destruction, And the famine and the sword; How shall I comfort thee?

20Thy sons have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets, As an antelope in a net; They are full of the fury of the LORD, The rebuke of thy God.

21Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, And drunken, but not with wine;

22Thus saith thy Lord the LORD, And thy God that pleadeth the cause of His people: Behold, I have taken out of thy hand The cup of staggering; The beaker, even the cup of My fury, Thou shalt no more drink it again;

23And I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee; That have said to thy soul: 'Bow down, that we may go over'; And thou hast laid thy back as the ground, And as the street, to them that go over.

Deliverance for Jerusalem

1Awake, awake, Put on thy strength, O Zion; Put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city; For henceforth there shall no more come into thee The uncircumcised and the unclean.

2Shake thyself from the dust; Arise, and sit down, O Jerusalem; Loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

3For thus saith the LORD: Ye were sold for nought; And ye shall be redeemed without money. 4For thus saith the Lord GOD: My people went down aforetime into Egypt to sojourn there; And the Assyrian oppressed them without cause. 5Now therefore, what do I here, saith the LORD, Seeing that My people is taken away for nought? They that rule over them do howl, saith the LORD, And My name continually all the day is blasphemed. 6Therefore My people shall know My name; Therefore they shall know in that day That I, even He that spoke, behold, here I am.

7How beautiful upon the mountains Are the feet of the messenger of good tidings, That announceth peace, the harbinger of good tidings, That announceth salvation; That saith unto Zion: 'Thy God reigneth!'

8Hark, thy watchmen! they lift up the voice, Together do they sing; For they shall see, eye to eye, The LORD returning to Zion.

9 Break forth into joy, sing together, Ye waste places of Jerusalem; For the LORD hath comforted His people, He hath redeemed Jerusalem.

10 The LORD hath made bare His holy arm In the eyes of all the nations; And all the ends of the earth shall see The salvation of our God.

11 Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, Touch no unclean thing; Go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, Ye that bear the vessels of the LORD.

12 For ye shall not go out in haste, Neither shall ye go by flight; For the LORD will go before you, And the God of Israel will be your rearward.

The Servant Exalted

(Philippians 2:5–11)

13 Behold, My servant shall prosper, He shall be exalted and lifted up, and shall be very high.

14 According as many were appalled at thee—So marred was his visage unlike that of a man, And his form unlike that of the sons of men—

15 So shall he startle many nations, Kings shall shut their mouths because of him; For that which had not been told them shall they see, And that which they had not heard shall they perceive.

The Suffering Servant

(Acts 8:26–40; 1 Peter 2:21–25)

1 Who would have believed our report? And to whom hath the arm of the LORD been revealed?

2 For he shot up right forth as a sapling, And as a root out of a dry ground; He had no form nor comeliness, that we should look upon him, Nor beauty that we should delight in him.

3 He was despised, and forsaken of men, A man of pains, and acquainted with disease, And as one from whom men hide their face: He was despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely our diseases he did bear, and our pains he carried; Whereas we did esteem him stricken, Smitten of God, and afflicted.

5 But he was wounded because of our transgressions, He was crushed because of our iniquities: The chastisement of our welfare was upon him, And with his stripes we were healed.

6 All we like sheep did go astray, We turned every one to his own way; And the LORD hath made to light on him The iniquity of us all.

7He was oppressed, though he humbled himself And opened not his mouth; As a lamb that is led to the slaughter, And as a sheep that before her shearers is dumb; Yea, he opened not his mouth.

8By oppression and judgment he was taken away, And with his generation who did reason? For he was cut off out of the land of the living, For the transgression of my people to whom the stroke was due.

A Grave Assigned

(Matthew 27:57–61; Mark 15:42–47; Luke 23:50–56; John 19:38–42)

9And they made his grave with the wicked, And with the rich his tomb; Although he had done no violence, Neither was any deceit in his mouth.'

10Yet it pleased the LORD to crush him by disease; To see if his soul would offer itself in restitution, That he might see his seed, prolong his days, And that the purpose of the LORD might prosper by his hand:

11Of the travail of his soul he shall see to the full, even My servant, Who by his knowledge did justify the Righteous One to the many, And their iniquities he did bear.

12Therefore will I divide him a portion among the great, And he shall divide the spoil with the mighty; Because he bared his soul unto death, And was numbered with the transgressors; Yet he bore the sin of many, And made intercession for the transgressors.

Future Blessings for Zion

1Sing, O barren, thou that didst not bear, Break forth into singing, and cry aloud, thou that didst not travail; For more are the children of the desolate Than the children of the married wife, saith the LORD.

2Enlarge the place of thy tent, And let them stretch forth the curtains of thy habitations, spare not; Lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes.

3For thou shalt spread abroad on the right hand and on the left; And thy seed shall possess the nations, And make the desolate cities to be inhabited.

4Fear not, for thou shalt not be ashamed. Neither be thou confounded, for thou shalt not be put to shame; For thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, And the reproach of thy widowhood shalt thou remember no more.

5For thy Maker is thy husband, The LORD of hosts is His name; And the Holy One of Israel is thy Redeemer, The God of the whole earth shall He be called.

6For the LORD hath called thee As a wife forsaken and grieved in spirit; And a wife of youth, can she be rejected? Saith thy God.

- 7For a small moment have I forsaken thee; But with great compassion will I gather thee.
- 8In a little wrath I hid My face from thee for a moment; But with everlasting kindness will I have compassion on thee, Saith the LORD thy Redeemer.
- 9For this is as the waters of Noah unto Me; For as I have sworn that the waters of Noah Should no more go over the earth, So have I sworn that I would not be wroth with thee, Nor rebuke thee.
- 10For the mountains may depart, And the hills be removed; But My kindness shall not depart from thee, Neither shall My covenant of peace be removed, Saith the LORD that hath compassion on thee.
- 11O thou afflicted, tossed with tempest, And not comforted, Behold, I will set thy stones in fair colours, And lay thy foundations with sapphires.
- 12And I will make thy pinnacles of rubies, And thy gates of carbuncles, And all thy border of precious stones.
- 13And all thy children shall be taught of the LORD; And great shall be the peace of thy children.
- 14In righteousness shalt thou be established; Be thou far from oppression, for thou shalt not fear, And from ruin, for it shall not come near thee.
- 15Behold, they may gather together, but not by Me; Whosoever shall gather together against thee shall fall because of thee.
- 16Behold, I have created the smith That bloweth the fire of coals, And bringeth forth a weapon for his work; And I have created the waster to destroy.
- 17No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; And every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD, And their due reward from Me, saith the LORD.

Invitation to the Needy

- 1Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye for water, And he that hath no money; Come ye, buy, and eat; Yea, come, buy wine and milk Without money and without price.
- 2Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? And your gain for that which satisfieth not? Harken diligently unto Me, and eat ye that which is good, And let your soul delight itself in fatness.
- 3Incline your ear, and come unto Me; Hear, and your soul shall live; And I will make an everlasting covenant with you, Even the sure mercies of David.

- 4Behold, I have given him for a witness to the peoples, A prince and commander to the peoples.
- 5Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, And a nation that knew not thee shall run unto thee; Because of the LORD thy God, And for the Holy One of Israel, for He hath glorified thee.
- 6Seek ye the LORD while He may be found, Call ye upon Him while He is near;
- 7Let the wicked forsake his way, And the man of iniquity his thoughts; And let him return unto the LORD, and He will have compassion upon him, And to our God, for He will abundantly pardon
- 8For My thoughts are not your thoughts, Neither are your ways My ways, saith the LORD.
- 9For as the heavens are higher than the earth, So are My ways higher than your ways, And My thoughts than your thoughts.
- 10For as the rain cometh down and the snow from heaven, And returneth not thither, Except it water the earth, And make it bring forth and bud, And give seed to the sower and bread to the eater;
- 11So shall My word be that goeth forth out of My mouth: It shall not return unto Me void, Except it accomplish that which I please, And make the thing whereto I sent it prosper.
- 12For ye shall go out with joy, And be led forth with peace; The mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, And all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.
- 13Instead of the thorn shall come up the cypress, And instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle; And it shall be to the LORD for a memorial, For an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off.

Salvation for Foreigners

- 1Thus saith the LORD: Keep ye justice, and do righteousness; For My salvation is near to come, And My favour to be revealed.
- 2Happy is the man that doeth this, And the son of man that holdeth fast by it: That keepeth the sabbath from profaning it, And keepeth his hand from doing any evil.
- 3Neither let the alien, That hath joined himself to the LORD, speak, saying: 'The LORD will surely separate me from His people'; Neither let the eunuch say: 'Behold, I am a dry tree.'
- 4For thus saith the LORD Concerning the eunuchs that keep My sabbaths, And choose the things that please Me, And hold fast by My covenant:
- 5Even unto them will I give in My house And within My walls a monument and a memorial Better than sons and daughters; I will give them an everlasting memorial, That shall not be cut off.

6Also the aliens, that join themselves to the LORD, to minister unto Him, And to love the name of the LORD, To be His servants, Every one that keepeth the sabbath from profaning it, And holdeth fast by My covenant:

7Even them will I bring to My holy mountain, And make them joyful in My house of prayer; Their burnt-offerings and their sacrifices Shall be acceptable upon Mine altar; For My house shall be called A house of prayer for all peoples.

8Saith the Lord GOD who gathereth the dispersed of Israel: Yet I will gather others to him, beside those of him that are gathered.

9All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, Yea, all ye beasts in the forest.

10His watchmen are all blind, Without knowledge; They are all dumb dogs, They cannot bark; Raving, lying down, loving to slumber.

11Yea, the dogs are greedy, They know not when they have enough; And these are shepherds That cannot understand; They all turn to their own way, Each one to his gain, one and all.

12Come ye, I will fetch wine, And we will fill ourselves with strong drink; And to-morrow shall be as this day, And much more abundant.'

The Blessed Death of the Righteous

1The righteous perisheth, And no man layeth it to heart, And godly men are taken away, None considering That the righteous is taken away from the evil to come.

2He entereth into peace, They rest in their beds, Each one that walketh in his uprightness.

God Condemns Idolatry

3But draw near hither, Ye sons of the sorceress, The seed of the adulterer and the harlot.

4Against whom do ye sport yourselves? Against whom make ye a wide mouth, And draw out the tongue? Are ye not children of transgression, A seed of falsehood, 5Ye that inflame yourselves among the terebinths, Under every leafy tree; That slay the children in the valleys, Under the clefts of the rocks?

6Among the smooth stones of the valley is thy portion; They, they are thy lot; Even to them hast thou poured a drink-offering, Thou hast offered a meal-offering. Should I pacify Myself for these things?

7Upon a high and lofty mountain Hast thou set thy bed; Thither also wentest thou up To offer sacrifice.

8And behind the doors and the posts Hast thou set up thy symbol; For thou hast uncovered, and art gone up from Me, Thou hast enlarged thy bed, And chosen thee of them Whose bed thou lovedst, Whose hand thou sawest.

9And thou wentest to the king with ointment, And didst increase thy perfumes, And didst send thine ambassadors far off, Even down to the nether-world.

10Thou wast wearied with the length of thy way; yet saidst thou not: 'There is no hope'; thou didst find a renewal of thy strength, therefore thou wast not affected.

11And of whom hast thou been afraid and in fear, that thou wouldest fail? And as for Me, thou hast not remembered Me, nor laid it to thy heart. Have not I held My peace even of long time? Therefore thou fearest Me not.

12I will declare thy righteousness; thy works also—they shall not profit thee.

13When thou criest, let them that thou hast gathered deliver thee; but the wind shall carry them all away, a breath shall bear them off; but he that taketh refuge in Me shall possess the land, and shall inherit My holy mountain.

Healing for the Repentant

14And He will say: Cast ye up, cast ye up, clear the way, Take up the stumblingblock out of the way of My people.

15For thus saith the High and Lofty One That inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy: I dwell in the high and holy place, With him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, To revive the spirit of the humble, And to revive the heart of the contrite ones.

16For I will not contend for ever, Neither will I be always wroth; For the spirit that enwrappeth itself is from Me, And the souls which I have made.

17For the iniquity of his covetousness was I wroth and smote him, I hid Me and was wroth; And he went on frowardly in the way of his heart.

18I have seen his ways, and will heal him; I will lead him also, and requite with comforts him and his mourners.

19Peace, peace, to him that is far off and to him that is near, Saith the LORD that createth the fruit of the lips; And I will heal him.

20But the wicked are like the troubled sea; For it cannot rest, and its waters cast up mire and dirt.

21There is no peace, Saith my God concerning the wicked.

Isaiah 58

True Fasts and Sabbaths

1Cry aloud, spare not, Lift up thy voice like a horn, And declare unto My people their transgression, And to the house of Jacob their sins.

2Yet they seek Me daily, And delight to know My ways; As a nation that did righteousness, And forsook not the ordinance of their God, They ask of Me righteous ordinances, They delight to draw near unto God.

3Wherefore have we fasted, and Thou seest not? Wherefore have we afflicted our soul, and Thou takest no knowledge?—Behold, in the day of your fast ye pursue your business, And exact all your labours.

4Behold, ye fast for strife and contention, And to smite with the fist of wickedness; Ye fast not this day So as to make your voice to be heard on high.

5Is such the fast that I have chosen? The day for a man to afflict his soul? Is it to bow down his head as a bulrush, And to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? Wilt thou call this a fast, And an acceptable day to the LORD?

6Is not this the fast that I have chosen? To loose the fetters of wickedness, To undo the bands of the yoke, And to let the oppressed go free, And that ye break every yoke?

7Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, And that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? When thou seest the naked, that thou cover him, And that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh?

8Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, And thy healing shall spring forth speedily; And thy righteousness shall go before thee, The glory of the LORD shall be thy rearward.

9Then shalt thou call, and the LORD will answer; Thou shalt cry, and He will say: 'Here I am.' If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, The putting forth of the finger, and speaking wickedness;

10And if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, And satisfy the afflicted soul; Then shall thy light rise in darkness, And thy gloom be as the noon-day;

11And the LORD will guide thee continually, And satisfy thy soul in drought, And make strong thy bones; And thou shalt be like a watered garden, And like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.

12And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places, Thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; And thou shalt be called The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in.

13If thou turn away thy foot because of the sabbath, From pursuing thy business on My holy day; And call the sabbath a delight, And the holy of the LORD honourable; And shalt honour it, not doing thy wonted ways, Nor pursuing thy business, nor speaking thereof;

14Then shalt thou delight thyself in the LORD, And I will make thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, And I will feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father; For the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

Sin Separates Us from God

(Psalm 14:1–7; Psalm 53:1–6; Romans 3:9–20)

1Behold, the LORD'S hand is not shortened, that it cannot save, Neither His ear heavy, that it cannot hear;

2But your iniquities have separated Between you and your God, And your sins have hid His face from you, That He will not hear.

3For your hands are defiled with blood, And your fingers with iniquity; Your lips have spoken lies, Your tongue muttereth wickedness.

4None sueth in righteousness, And none pleadeth in truth; They trust in vanity, and speak lies, They conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

5They hatch basilisks' eggs, And weave the spider's web; He that eateth of their eggs dieth, And that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper.

6Their webs shall not become garments, Neither shall men cover themselves with their works; Their works are works of iniquity, And the act of violence is in their hands.

7Their feet run to evil, And they make haste to shed innocent blood; Their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity, Desolation and destruction are in their paths.

8The way of peace they know not, And there is no right in their goings; They have made them crooked paths, Whosoever goeth therein doth not know peace.

9Therefore is justice far from us, Neither doth righteousness overtake us; We look for light, but behold darkness, For brightness, but we walk in gloom.

10We grope for the wall like the blind, Yea, as they that have no eyes do we grope; We stumble at noonday as in the twilight; We are in dark places like the dead.

11We all growl like bears, And mourn sore like doves; We look for right, but there is none; For salvation, but it is far off from us.

12For our transgressions are multiplied before Thee, And our sins testify against us; For our transgressions are present to us, And as for our iniquities, we know them:

13Transgressing and denying the LORD, And turning away from following our God, Speaking oppression and perverseness, Conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.

14And justice is turned away backward, And righteousness standeth afar off; For truth hath stumbled in the broad place, And uprightness cannot enter.

15And truth is lacking, And he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey. And the LORD saw it, and it displeased Him That there was no justice;

16And He saw that there was no man, And was astonished that there was no intercessor; Therefore His own arm brought salvation unto Him; And His righteousness, it sustained Him;

17And He put on righteousness as a coat of mail, And a helmet of salvation upon His head, And He put on garments of vengeance for clothing, And was clad with zeal as a cloak.

The Covenant of the Redeemer

18According to their deeds, accordingly He will repay, Fury to His adversaries, recompense to His enemies; To the islands He will repay recompense.

19So shall they fear the name of the LORD from the west, And His glory from the rising of the sun; For distress will come in like a flood, Which the breath of the LORD driveth.

20And a redeemer will come to Zion, And unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, Saith the LORD.

21And as for Me, this is My covenant with them, saith the LORD; My spirit that is upon thee, and My words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the LORD, from henceforth and for ever.

Future Glory for Zion

1Arise, shine, for thy light is come, And the glory of the LORD is risen upon thee.

2For, behold, darkness shall cover the earth, And gross darkness the peoples; But upon thee the LORD will arise, And His glory shall be seen upon thee.

3And nations shall walk at thy light, And kings at the brightness of thy rising.

4Lift Up thine eyes round about, and see: They all are gathered together, and come to thee; Thy sons come from far, And thy daughters are borne on the side.

5Then thou shalt see and be radiant, And thy heart shall throb and be enlarged; Because the abundance of the sea shall be turned unto thee, The wealth of the nations shall come unto thee.

6The caravan of camels shall cover thee, And of the young camels of Midian and Ephah, All coming from Sheba; They shall bring gold and incense, And shall proclaim the praises of the LORD.

7All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together unto thee, The rams of Nebaioth shall minister unto thee; They shall come up with acceptance on Mine altar, And I will glorify My glorious house.

8Who are these that fly as a cloud, And as the doves to their cotes?

9Surely the isles shall wait for Me, And the ships of Tarshish first, To bring thy sons from far, Their silver and their gold with them, For the name of the LORD thy God, And for the Holy One of Israel, because He hath glorified thee.

10And aliens shall build up thy walls, And their kings shall minister unto thee; For in My wrath I smote thee, But in My favour have I had compassion on thee.

11Thy gates also shall be open continually, Day and night, they shall not be shut; That men may bring unto thee the wealth of the nations, And their kings in procession.

12For that nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; Yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted.

13The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, The cypress, the plane-tree and the larch together; To beautify the place of My sanctuary, And I will make the place of My feet glorious.

14And the sons of them that afflicted thee Shall come bending unto thee, And all they that despised thee shall bow down At the soles of thy feet; And they shall call thee The city of the LORD, The Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

15Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, So that no man passed through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, A joy of many generations.

16Thou shalt also suck the milk of the nations, And shalt suck the breast of kings; And thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy Saviour, And I, the Mighty One of Jacob, thy Redeemer.

17For brass I will bring gold, And for iron I will bring silver, And for wood brass, And for stones iron; I will also make thy officers peace, And righteousness thy magistrates.

18Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, Desolation nor destruction within thy borders; But thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, And thy gates Praise.

19The sun shall be no more thy light by day, Neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee; But the LORD shall be unto thee an everlasting light, And thy God thy glory.

20Thy sun shall no more go down, Neither shall thy moon withdraw itself; For the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, And the days of thy mourning shall be ended.

21Thy people also shall be all righteous, They shall inherit the land for ever; The branch of My planting, the work of My hands, Wherein I glory.

22The smallest shall become a thousand, And the least a mighty nation; I the LORD will hasten it in its time.

Isaiah 61

The Year of the LORD's Favor

(Luke 4:16–30)

1The spirit of the Lord God is upon me; Because the LORD hath anointed me To bring good tidings unto the humble; He hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, To proclaim liberty to the captives, And the opening of the eyes to them that are bound;

2To proclaim the year of the LORD'S good pleasure, And the day of vengeance of our God; To comfort all that mourn;

3To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, To give unto them a garland for ashes, The oil of joy for mourning, The mantle of praise for the spirit of heaviness; That they might be called terebinths of righteousness, The planting of the LORD, wherein He might glory.

4And they shall build the old wastes, They shall raise up the former desolations, And they shall renew the waste cities, The desolations of many generations.

5And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, And aliens shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers.

6But ye shall be named the priests of the LORD, Men shall call you the ministers of our God; Ye shall eat the wealth of the nations, And in their splendour shall ye revel.

7For your shame which was double, And for that they rejoiced: 'Confusion is their portion'; Therefore in their land they shall possess double, Everlasting joy shall be unto them.

8For I the LORD love justice, I hate robbery with iniquity; And I will give them their recompense in truth, And I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9And their seed shall be known among the nations, And their offspring among the peoples; All that see them shall acknowledge them, That they are the seed which the LORD hath blessed.

10I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, My soul shall be joyful in my God; For He hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, He hath covered me with the robe of victory, As a bridegroom putteth on a priestly diadem, And as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels.

11For as the earth bringeth forth her growth, And as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; So the Lord GOD will cause victory and glory To spring forth before all the nations.

Isaiah 62

Zion's Salvation and New Name

1For Zion's sake will I not hold My peace, And for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, Until her triumph go forth as brightness, And her salvation as a torch that burneth.

2And the nations shall see thy triumph, And all kings thy glory; And thou shalt be called by a new name, Which the mouth of the LORD shall mark out.

3Thou shalt also be a crown of beauty in the hand of the LORD, And a royal diadem in the open hand of thy God.

4Thou shalt no more be termed Forsaken, Neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate; But thou shalt be called, My delight is in her, And thy land, Espoused; For the LORD delighteth in thee, And thy land shall be espoused.

5For as a young man espouseth a virgin, So shall thy sons espouse thee; And as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, So shall thy God rejoice over thee.

6I have set watchmen Upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, They shall never hold their peace Day nor night: 'Ye that are the LORD'S remembrancers, Take ye no rest,

7And give Him no rest, Till He establish, And till He make Jerusalem A praise in the earth.'

8The LORD hath sworn by His right hand, And by the arm of His strength: Surely I will no more give thy corn To be food for thine enemies; And strangers shall not drink thy wine, For which thou hast laboured;

9But they that have garnered it shall eat it, And praise the LORD, And they that have gathered it shall drink it In the courts of My sanctuary.

10Go through, go through the gates, Clear ye the way of the people; Cast up, cast up the highway, Gather out the stones; Lift up an ensign over the peoples.

11Behold, the LORD hath proclaimed Unto the end of the earth: Say ye to the daughter of Zion: 'Behold, thy salvation cometh; Behold, His reward is with Him, And His recompense before Him.'

12And they shall call them The holy people, The redeemed of the LORD; And thou shalt be called Sought out, A city not forsaken.

God's Vengeance on the Nations

1Who is this that cometh from Edom, With crimsoned garments from Bozrah? This that is glorious in his apparel, Stately in the greatness of his strength?'—'I that speak in victory, mighty to save.'—

2Wherefore is Thine apparel red, And Thy garments like his that treadeth in the winevat?'—

3I have trodden the winepress alone, And of the peoples there was no man with Me; Yea, I trod them in Mine anger, And trampled them in My fury; And their lifeblood is dashed against My garments, And I have stained all My raiment.

4For the day of vengeance that was in My heart, And My year of redemption are come.

5And I looked, and there was none to help, And I beheld in astonishment, and there was none to uphold; Therefore Mine own arm brought salvation unto Me, And My fury, it upheld Me.

6And I trod down the peoples in Mine anger, And made them drunk with My fury, And I poured out their lifeblood on the earth.'

God's Mercies Recalled

7I will make mention of the mercies of the LORD, And the praises of the LORD, According to all that the LORD hath bestowed on us; And the great goodness toward the house of Israel, Which He hath bestowed on them according to His compassions, And according to the multitude of His mercies.

8For He said: 'Surely, they are My people, Children that will not deal falsely'; So He was their Saviour.

9In all their affliction He was afflicted, And the angel of His presence saved them; In His love and in His pity He redeemed them; And He bore them, and carried them all the days of old.

10But they rebelled, and grieved His holy spirit; Therefore He was turned to be their enemy, Himself fought against them.

11Then His people remembered the days of old, the days of Moses: 'Where is He that brought them up out of the sea With the shepherds of His flock? Where is He that put His holy spirit In the midst of them?

12That caused His glorious arm to go at the right hand of Moses? That divided the water before them, To make Himself an everlasting name?

13That led them through the deep, As a horse in the wilderness, without stumbling?

14As the cattle that go down into the valley, The spirit of the LORD caused them to rest; So didst Thou lead Thy people, To make Thyself a glorious name.'

A Prayer for Mercy

(Jeremiah 14:19–22)

15Look down from heaven, and see, Even from Thy holy and glorious habitation; Where is Thy zeal and Thy mighty acts, The yearning of Thy heart and Thy compassions, Now restrained toward me?

16For Thou art our Father; For Abraham knoweth us not, And Israel doth not acknowledge us; Thou, O LORD, art our Father, Our Redeemer from everlasting is Thy name.

17O LORD, why dost Thou make us to err from Thy ways, And hardenest our heart from Thy fear? Return for Thy servants' sake, The tribes of Thine inheritance.

18Thy holy people they have well nigh driven out, Our adversaries have trodden down Thy sanctuary.

19We are become as they over whom Thou never borest rule, As they that were not called by Thy name.

A Prayer for God's Power

1Oh, that Thou wouldest rend the heavens, that Thou wouldest come down, That the mountains might quake at Thy presence, As when fire kindleth the brush-wood, And the fire causeth the waters to boil; To make Thy name known to Thine adversaries, That the nations might tremble at Thy presence,

3When Thou didst tremendous things Which we looked not for—Oh that Thou wouldest come down, that the mountains might quake at Thy presence!—

4And whereof from of old men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, Neither hath the eye seen a God beside Thee, Who worketh for him that waiteth for Him.

5Thou didst take away him that joyfully worked righteousness, Those that remembered Thee in Thy ways—Behold, Thou wast wroth, and we sinned—Upon them have we stayed of old, that we might be saved.

6And we are all become as one that is unclean, And all our righteousnesses are as a polluted garment; And we all do fade as a leaf, And our iniquities, like the wind, take us away.

7And there is none that calleth upon Thy name, That stirreth up himself to take hold of Thee; For Thou hast hid Thy face from us, And hast consumed us by means of our iniquities.

8But now, O LORD, Thou art our Father; We are the clay, and Thou our potter, And we all are the work of Thy hand.

9Be not wroth very sore, O LORD, Neither remember iniquity for ever; Behold, look, we beseech Thee, we are all Thy people.

10Thy holy cities are become a wilderness, Zion is become a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation.

11Our holy and our beautiful house, Where our fathers praised Thee, Is burned with fire; And all our pleasant things are laid waste.

12Wilt Thou refrain Thyself for these things, O LORD? Wilt Thou hold Thy peace, and afflict us very sore?

Judgments and Promises

(Romans 10:1–21)

1I gave access to them that asked not for Me, I was at hand to them that sought Me not; I said: 'Behold Me, behold Me', Unto a nation that was not called by My name.

2I have spread out My hands all the day Unto a rebellious people, That walk in a way that is not good, After their own thoughts;

3A people that provoke Me To My face continually, That sacrifice in gardens, And burn incense upon bricks;

4That sit among the graves, And lodge in the vaults; That eat swine's flesh, And broth of abominable things is in their vessels;

5That say: 'Stand by thyself, Come not near to me, for I am holier than thou'; These are a smoke in My nose, A fire that burneth all the day.

6Behold, it is written before Me; I will not keep silence, except I have required, Yea, I will requite into their bosom, 7Your own iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, Saith the LORD, that have offered upon the mountains, And blasphemed Me upon the hills; Therefore will I first measure their wage into their bosom.

8Thus saith the LORD: As, when wine is found in the cluster, One saith: 'Destroy it not, For a blessing is in it'; So will I do for My servants' sakes, That I may not destroy all.

9And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, And out of Judah an inheritor of My mountains; And Mine elect shall inherit it, And My servants shall dwell there.

10And Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, And the valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down in, For My people that have sought Me;

11But ye that forsake the LORD, That forget My holy mountain, That prepare a table for Fortune, And that offer mingled wine in full measure unto Destiny, 12I will destine you to the sword, And ye shall all bow down to the slaughter; Because when I called, ye did not answer, When I spoke, ye did not hear; But ye did that which was evil in Mine eyes, And chose that wherein I delighted not.

13Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, My servants shall eat, But ye shall be hungry; Behold, My servants shall drink, But ye shall be thirsty; Behold, My servants shall rejoice, But ye shall be ashamed;

14Behold, My servants shall sing For joy of heart, But ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, And shall wail for vexation of spirit.

15And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto Mine elect: 'So may the Lord GOD slay thee'; But He shall call His servants by another name;

16So that he who blesseth himself in the earth Shall bless himself by the God of truth; And he that sweareth in the earth Shall swear by the God of truth; Because the former troubles are forgotten, And because they are hid from Mine eyes.

A New Heaven and a New Earth

(Revelation 21:1–8)

17For, behold, I create new heavens And a new earth; And the former things shall not be remembered, Nor come into mind.

18But be ye glad and rejoice for ever In that which I create; For, behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, And her people a joy.

19And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, And joy in My people; And the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, Nor the voice of crying.

20There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man, That hath not filled his days; For the youngest shall die a hundred years old, And the sinner being a hundred years old shall be accursed.

21And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; And they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22They shall not build, and another inhabit, They shall not plant, and another eat; For as the days of a tree shall be the days of My people, And Mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

23They shall not labour in vain, Nor bring forth for terror; For they are the seed blessed of the LORD, And their offspring with them.

24And it shall come to pass that, before they call, I will answer, And while they are yet speaking, I will hear. 25The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, And the lion shall eat straw like the ox; And dust shall be the serpent's food. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all My holy mountain, Saith the LORD.

Heaven Is My Throne

1Thus saith the LORD: The heaven is My throne, And the earth is My footstool; Where is the house that ye may build unto Me? And where is the place that may be My resting-place?

2For all these things hath My hand made, And so all these things came to be, Saith the LORD; But on this man will I look, Even on him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, And trembleth at My word.

3He that killeth an ox is as if he slew a man; He that sacrificeth a lamb, as if he broke a dog's neck; He that offereth a meal-offering, as if he offered swine's blood; He that maketh a memorial-offering of frankincense, as if he blessed an idol; According as they have chosen their own ways, And their soul delighteth in their abominations;

4Even so I will choose their mockings, And will bring their fears upon them; Because when I called, none did answer; When I spoke, they did not hear, But they did that which was evil in Mine eyes, And chose that in which I delighted not.

5Hear the word of the LORD, Ye that tremble at His word: Your brethren that hate you, that cast you out for My name's sake, have said: 'Let the LORD be glorified, That we may gaze upon your joy', But they shall be ashamed.

6Hark! an uproar from the city, Hark! it cometh from the temple, Hark! the LORD rendereth recompense to His enemies.

Rejoice with Jerusalem

7Before she travailed, she brought forth; Before her pain came, She was delivered of a man-child.

8Who hath heard such a thing? Who hath seen such things? Is a land born in one day? Is a nation brought forth at once? For as soon as Zion travailed, She brought forth her children.

9Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? Saith the LORD; Shall I that cause to bring forth shut the womb? Saith thy God.

10Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, And be glad with her, all ye that love her; Rejoice for joy with her, All ye that mourn for her;

11That ye may suck, and be satisfied With the breast of her consolations; That ye may drink deeply with delight Of the abundance of her glory.

12For thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river. And the wealth of the nations like an overflowing stream, And ye shall suck thereof: Ye shall be borne upon the side, And shall be dandled upon the knees.

13As one whom his mother comforteth, So will I comfort you; And ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

14And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice, And your bones shall flourish like young grass; And the hand of the LORD shall be known toward His servants, And He will have indignation against His enemies.

Final Judgments against the Wicked

15For, behold, the LORD will come in fire, And His chariots shall be like the whirlwind; To render His anger with fury, And His rebuke with flames of fire.

16For by fire will the LORD contend, And by His sword with all flesh; And the slain of the LORD shall be many.

17They that sanctify themselves and purify themselves To go unto the gardens, Behind one in the midst, Eating swine's flesh, and the detestable thing, and the mouse, Shall be consumed together, saith the LORD.

18For I [know] their works and their thoughts; [the time] cometh, that I will gather all nations and tongues; and they shall come, and shall see My glory. 19And I will work a sign among them, and I will send such as escape of them unto the nations, to Tarshish, Pul and Lud, that draw the bow, to Tubal and Javan, to the isles afar off, that have not heard My fame, neither have seen My glory; and they shall declare My glory among the nations. 20And they shall bring all your brethren out of all the nations for an offering unto the LORD, upon horses, and in chariots, and in fitters, and upon mules, and upon swift beasts, to My holy mountain Jerusalem, saith the LORD, as the children of Israel bring their offering in a clean vessel into the house of the LORD. 21And of them also will I take for the priests and for the Levites, saith the LORD.

22For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before Me, saith the LORD, so shall your seed and your name remain.

23And it shall come to pass, That from one new moon to another, And from one sabbath to another, Shall all flesh come to worship before Me, Saith the LORD.

24And they shall go forth, and look Upon the carcasses of the men that have rebelled against Me; For their worm shall not die, Neither shall their fire be quenched; And they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh.

The Call of Jeremiah

1THE WORDS of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests that were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin, 2to whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign. 3It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah, king of Judah, unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month.

4And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

5Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee, And before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee; I have appointed thee a prophet unto the nations.

6Then said I: 'Ah, Lord GOD! behold, I cannot speak; for I am a child.'

7But the LORD said unto me: Say not: I am a child; For to whomsoever I shall send thee thou shalt go, And whatsoever I shall command thee thou shalt speak.

8Be not afraid of them; For I am with thee to deliver thee, Saith the LORD.

9Then the LORD put forth His hand, and touched my mouth; and the LORD said unto me: Behold, I have put My words in thy mouth;

10See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, To root out and to pull down, And to destroy and to overthrow; To build, and to plant.

11Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 'Jeremiah, what seest thou?' And I said: 'I see a rod of an almond-tree.' 12Then said the LORD unto me: 'Thou hast well seen; for I watch over My word to perform it.'

13And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying: 'What seest thou?' And I said: 'I see a seething pot; and the face thereof is from the north.' 14Then the LORD said unto me: 'Out of the north the evil shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land. 15For, lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith the LORD; and they shall come, and they shall set every one his throne at the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Judah. 16And I will utter My judgments against them touching all their wickedness; in that they have forsaken me, and have offered unto other gods, and worshipped the work of their own hands. 17Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee; be not dismayed at them, lest I dismay thee before them. 18For, behold, I have made thee this day a fortified city, and an iron pillar, and brazen walls, against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land. 19And they shall fight against thee; but they shall not prevail against thee; For I am with thee, saith the LORD, to deliver thee.'

Israel Has Forsaken God

1And the word of the LORD came to me, saying:

2Go, and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying: Thus saith the LORD: I remember for thee the affection of thy youth, The love of thine espousals; How thou wentest after Me in the wilderness, In a land that was not sown.

3Israel is the LORD'S hallowed portion, His first-fruits of the increase; All that devour him shall be held guilty, Evil shall come upon them, saith the LORD.

4Hear ye the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob, And all the families of the house of Israel;

5Thus saith the LORD: What unrighteousness have your fathers found in Me, That they are gone far from Me, And have walked after things of nought, and are become nought?

6Neither said they: 'Where is the LORD that brought us up Out of the land of Egypt; That led us through the wilderness, Through a land of deserts and of pits, Through a land of drought and of the shadow of death, Through a land that no man passed through, And where no man dwelt?'

7And I brought you into a land of fruitful fields, to eat the fruit thereof and the good thereof; but when ye entered, ye defiled My land, and made My heritage an abomination.

8The priests said not: 'Where is the LORD?' And they that handle the law knew Me not, And the rulers transgressed against Me; The prophets also prophesied by Baal, And walked after things that do not profit.

9Wherefore I will yet plead with you, saith the LORD, And with your children's children will I plead.

10For pass over to the isles of the Kittites, and see, And send unto Kedar, and consider diligently, And see if there hath been such a thing.

11Hath a nation changed its gods, Which yet are no gods? But My people hath changed its glory For that which doth not profit.

12Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, And be horribly afraid, be ye exceeding amazed, Saith the LORD.

13For My people have committed two evils: They have forsaken Me, the fountain of living waters, And hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, That can hold no water.

The Consequence of Israel's Sin

14Is Israel a servant? Is he a home-born slave? Why is he become a prey?

15The young lions have roared upon him, And let their voice resound; And they have made his land desolate, His cities are laid waste, Without inhabitant.

16The children also of Noph and Tahpanhes Feed upon the crown of thy head.

17Is it not this that doth cause it unto thee, That thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, When He led thee by the way?

18And now what hast thou to do in the way to Egypt, To drink the waters of Shihor? Or what hast thou to do in the way to Assyria, To drink the waters of the River?

19Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, And thy backslidings shall reprove thee: Know therefore and see that it is an evil and a bitter thing, That thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, Neither is My fear in thee, Saith the Lord GOD of hosts.

20For of old time I have broken thy yoke, And burst thy bands, And thou saidst: 'I will not transgress'; Upon every high hill And under every leafy tree Thou didst recline, playing the harlot.

21Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, Wholly a right seed; How then art thou turned into the degenerate plant Of a strange vine unto Me?

22 For though thou wash thee with nitre, And take thee much soap, Yet thine iniquity is marked before Me, Saith the Lord GOD.

Israel's Unfaithfulness

(Judges 2:10–15; Isaiah 43:22–28)

23 How canst thou say: 'I am not defiled, I have not gone after the Baalim'? See thy way in the Valley, Know what thou hast done; Thou art a swift young camel traversing her ways;

24 A wild ass used to the wilderness, That snuffeth up the wind in her desire; Her lust, who can hinder it? All they that seek her will not weary themselves; In her month they shall find her.

25 Withhold thy foot from being unshod, And thy throat from thirst; But thou saidst: 'There is no hope; No, for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go.'

26 As the thief is ashamed when he is found, So is the house of Israel ashamed; They, their kings, their princes, And their priests, and their prophets;

27 Who say to a stock: 'Thou art my father', And to a stone: 'Thou hast brought us forth', For they have turned their back unto Me, and not their face; But in the time of their trouble they will say: 'Arise, and save us.'

28 But where are thy gods that thou hast made thee? Let them arise, if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble; For according to the number of thy cities Are thy gods, O Judah.

29 Wherefore will ye contend with Me? Ye all have transgressed against Me, Saith the LORD.

30 In vain have I smitten your children—They received no correction; Your sword hath devoured your prophets, Like a destroying lion.

31 O generation, see ye the word of the LORD: Have I been a wilderness unto Israel? Or a land of thick darkness? Wherefore say My people: 'We roam at large; We will come no more unto Thee?'

32 Can a maid forget her ornaments, Or a bride her attire? Yet My people have forgotten Me Days without number.

33 How trimmest thou thy way To seek love! Therefore—even the wicked women Hast thou taught thy ways;

34 Also in thy skirts is found the blood Of the souls of the innocent poor; Thou didst not find them breaking in; Yet for all these things

35 Thou saidst: 'I am innocent; Surely His anger is turned away from me'—Behold, I will enter into judgment with thee, Because thou sayest: 'I have not sinned.'

36 How greatly dost thou cheapen thyself To change thy way? Thou shalt be ashamed of Egypt also, As thou wast ashamed of Asshur.

37 From him also shalt thou go forth, With thy hands upon thy head; For the LORD hath rejected them in whom thou didst trust, And thou shalt not prosper in them.

The Wages of the Harlot

¹saying: If a man put away his wife, And she go from him, And become another man's, May he return unto her again? Will not that land be greatly polluted? But thou hast played the harlot with many lovers; And wouldest thou yet return to Me? Saith the LORD.

²Lift up thine eyes unto the high hills, and see: Where hast thou not been lain with? By the ways hast thou sat for them, As an Arabian in the wilderness; And thou hast polluted the land With thy harlotries and with thy wickedness.

³Therefore the showers have been withheld, And there hath been no latter rain; Yet thou hadst a harlot's forehead, Thou refusedst to be ashamed.

⁴Didst thou not just now cry unto Me: 'My father, Thou art the friend of my youth.

⁵Will He bear grudge for ever? Will He keep it to the end?' Behold, thou hast spoken, but hast done evil things, And hast had thy way.

Judah Follows Israel's Example

⁶And the LORD said unto me in the days of Josiah the king: 'Hast thou seen that which backsliding Israel did? she went up upon every high mountain and under every leafy tree, and there played the harlot. ⁷And I said: After she hath done all these things, she will return unto me; but she returned not. And her treacherous sister Judah saw it. ⁸And I saw, when, forasmuch as backsliding Israel had committed adultery, I had put her away and given her a bill of divorcement, that yet treacherous Judah her sister feared not; but she also went and played the harlot; ⁹and it came to pass through the lightness of her harlotry, that the land was polluted, and she committed adultery with stones and with stocks; ¹⁰and yet for all this her treacherous sister Judah hath not returned unto Me with her whole heart, but feignedly, saith the LORD—

A Call to Repentance

(Hosea 14:1-3; Zechariah 1:1-6)

¹¹even the LORD said unto me—backsliding Israel hath proved herself more righteous than treacherous Judah.

¹²Go, and proclaim these words toward the north, and say: Return, thou backsliding Israel, Saith the LORD; I will not frown upon you; For I am merciful, saith the LORD, I will not bear grudge for ever.

¹³Only acknowledge thine iniquity, That thou hast transgressed against the LORD thy God, And hast scattered thy ways to the strangers Under every leafy tree, And ye have not hearkened to My voice, Saith the LORD.

14Return, O backsliding children, saith the LORD; for I am a lord unto you, and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion;

15and I will give you shepherds according to My heart, who shall feed you with knowledge and understanding. 16And it shall come to pass, when ye are multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith the LORD, they shall say no more: The ark of the covenant of the LORD; neither shall it come to mind; neither shall they make mention of it; neither shall they miss it; neither shall it be made any more. 17At that time they shall call Jerusalem The throne of the LORD; and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the LORD, to Jerusalem; neither shall they walk any more after the stubbornness of their evil heart. 18In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I have given for an inheritance unto your fathers.'

19But I said: 'How would I put thee among the sons, And give thee a pleasant land, The goodliest heritage of the nations!' And I said: 'Thou shalt call Me, My father; And shalt not turn away from following Me.'

20Surely as a wife treacherously departeth from her husband, So have ye dealt treacherously with Me, O house of Israel, Saith the LORD.

21Hark! upon the high hills is heard The suppliant weeping of the children of Israel; For that they have perverted their way, They have forgotten the LORD their God.

22Return, ye backsliding children, I will heal your backslidings.—'Here we are, we are come unto Thee; For Thou art the LORD our God.

23Truly vain have proved the hills, The uproar on the mountains; Truly in the LORD our God Is the salvation of Israel.

24But the shameful thing hath devoured The labour of our fathers from our youth; Their flocks and their herds, Their sons and their daughters. 25Let us lie down in our shame, And let our confusion cover us; For we have sinned against the LORD our God, We and our fathers, From our youth even unto this day; And we have not hearkened To the voice of the LORD our God.'

A Plea to Return

1If thou wilt return, O Israel, Saith the LORD, Yea, return unto Me; And if thou wilt put away thy detestable things out of My sight, And wilt not waver;

2And wilt swear: 'As the LORD liveth' In truth, in justice, and in righteousness; Then shall the nations bless themselves by Him, And in Him shall they glory.

3For thus saith the LORD to the men of Judah and to Jerusalem: Break up for you a fallow ground, And sow not among thorns.

4Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, And take away the foreskins of your heart, Ye men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem; Lest My fury go forth like fire, And burn that none can quench it, Because of the evil of your doings.

Disaster from the North

5Declare ye in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem, And say: 'Blow ye the horn in the land'; Cry aloud and say: 'Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the fortified cities.'

6Set up a standard toward Zion; Put yourselves under covert, stay not; For I will bring evil from the north, And a great destruction.

7A lion is gone up from his thicket, And a destroyer of nations Is set out, gone forth from his place; To make thy land desolate, That thy cities be laid waste, without inhabitant.

8For this gird you with sackcloth, Lament and wail; For the fierce anger of the LORD Is not turned back from us.

9And it shall come to pass at that day, Saith the LORD, That the heart of the king shall fail, And the heart of the princes; And the priests shall be astonished, And the prophets shall wonder.

10Then said I: 'Ah, Lord GOD! surely Thou hast greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying: Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul.'

11At that time shall it be said of this people and of Jerusalem; A hot wind of the high hills in the wilderness Toward the daughter of My people, Not to fan, nor to cleanse; 12A wind too strong for this shall come for Me; Now will I also utter judgments against them.

13Behold, he cometh up as clouds, And his chariots are as the whirlwind; His horses are swifter than eagles.—'Woe unto us! for we are undone.'—

14O Jerusalem, wash thy heart from wickedness, That thou mayest be saved. How long shall thy baleful thoughts Lodge within thee?

15For hark! one declareth from Dan, And announceth calamity from the hills of Ephraim:

16Make ye mention to the nations: Behold—publish concerning Jerusalem—Watchers come from a far country, And give out their voice against the cities of Judah.'

17As keepers of a field Are they against her round about; Because she hath been rebellious against Me, Saith the LORD.

18Thy way and thy doings have procured These things unto thee; This is thy wickedness; yea, it is bitter, Yea, it reacheth unto thy heart.

Lamentation for Judah

19My bowels, my bowels! I writhe in pain! The chambers of my heart! My heart moaneth within me! I cannot hold my peace! Because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the horn, The alarm of war.

20 Destruction followeth upon destruction, For the whole land is spoiled; Suddenly are my tents spoiled, My curtains in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, Shall I hear the sound of the horn?

22 For My people is foolish, They know Me not; They are sottish children, And they have no understanding; They are wise to do evil, But to do good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, And, lo, it was waste and void; And the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains, and, lo, they trembled, And all the hills moved to and fro.

25 I beheld, and, lo, there was no man, And all the birds of the heavens were fled.

26 I beheld, and, lo, the fruitful field was a wilderness, And all the cities thereof were broken down At the presence of the LORD, And before His fierce anger.

27 For thus saith the LORD: The whole land shall be desolate; Yet will I not make a full end.

28 For this shall the earth mourn, And the heavens above be black; Because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, And I have not repented, neither will I turn back from it.

29 For the noise of the horsemen and bowmen The whole city fleeth; They go into the thickets, And climb up upon the rocks; Every city is forsaken, And not a man dwelleth therein.

30 And thou, that art spoiled, what doest thou, That thou clothest thyself with scarlet, That thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, That thou enlargest thine eyes with paint? In vain dost thou make thyself fair; Thy lovers despise thee, they seek thy life.

31 For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, The anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, The voice of the daughter of Zion, that gaspeth for breath, That spreadeth her hands: 'Woe is me, now! for my soul fainteth Before the murderers.'

No One Is Just

1 Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, And see now, and know, And seek in the broad places thereof, If ye can find a man, If there be any that doeth justly, that seeketh truth; And I will pardon her.

2 And though they say: 'As the LORD liveth', Surely they swear falsely.

3 O LORD, are not Thine eyes upon truth? Thou hast stricken them, but they were not affected; Thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction; They have made their faces harder than a rock; They have refused to return.

4And I said: 'Surely these are poor, They are foolish, for they know not the way of the LORD, Nor the ordinance of their God;

5I will get me unto the great men, And will speak unto them; For they know the way of the LORD, And the ordinance of their God.' But these had altogether broken the yoke, And burst the bands.

6Wherefore a lion out of the forest doth slay them, A wolf of the deserts doth spoil them, A leopard watcheth over their cities, Every one that goeth out thence is torn in pieces; Because their transgressions are many, Their backslidings are increased.

7Wherefore should I pardon thee? The children have forsaken Me, And sworn by no-gods; And when I had fed them to the full, they committed adultery, And assembled themselves in troops at the harlots' houses.

8They are become as well-fed horses, lusty stallions; Every one neigheth after his neighbour's wife.

9Shall I not punish for these things? Saith the LORD; And shall not My soul be avenged On such a nation as this?

10Go ye up into her rows, and destroy, But make not a full end; Take away her shoots; For they are not the LORD'S.

11For the house of Israel and the house of Judah Have dealt very treacherously against Me, Saith the LORD.

12They have belied the LORD, And said: 'It is not He, Neither shall evil come upon us; Neither shall we see sword nor famine;

13And the prophets shall become wind, And the word is not in them; Thus be it done unto them.'

Judgment Proclaimed

14Wherefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts: Because ye speak this word, Behold, I will make My words in thy mouth fire, And this people wood, and it shall devour them.

15Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the LORD; It is an enduring nation, It is an ancient nation, A nation whose language thou knowest not, Neither understandest what they say.

16Their quiver is an open sepulchre, They are all mighty men.

17And they shall eat up thy harvest, and thy bread, They shall eat up thy sons and thy daughters, They shall eat up thy flocks and thy herds, They shall eat up thy vines and thy fig-trees; They shall batter thy fortified cities, Wherein thou trusteth, with the sword.

18But even in those days, saith the LORD, I will not make a full end with you. 19And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say: 'Wherefore hath the LORD our God done all these things unto us?' then shalt Thou say unto them: 'Like as ye have forsaken Me, and served strange gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.'

20Declare ye this in the house of Jacob, And announce it in Judah, saying:

21Hear now this, O foolish people, and without understanding, That have eyes, and see not, That have ears, and hear not:

22Fear ye not Me? saith the LORD; Will ye not tremble at My presence? Who have placed the sand for the bound of the sea, An everlasting ordinance, which it cannot pass; And though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; Though they roar, yet can they not pass over it.

23But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart; They are revolted, and gone.

24Neither say they in their heart: 'Let us now fear the LORD our God, That giveth the former rain, and the latter in due season; That keepeth for us The appointed weeks of the harvest.'

25Your iniquities have turned away these things, And your sins have withholden good from you.

26For among My people are found wicked men; They pry, as fowlers lie in wait; They set a trap, they catch men.

27As a cage is full of birds, So are their houses full of deceit; Therefore they are become great, and waxen rich;

28They are waxen fat, they are become sleek; Yea, they overpass in deeds of wickedness; They plead not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, That they might make it to prosper; And the right of the needy do they not judge.

29Shall I not punish for these things? Saith the LORD; Shall not My soul be avenged On such a nation as this?

30An appalling and horrible thing Is come to pass in the land:

31The prophets prophesy in the service of falsehood, And the priests bear rule at their beck; And My people love to have it so; What then will ye do in the end thereof?

Jerusalem's Final Warning

1Put yourselves under covert, ye children of Benjamin, Away from the midst of Jerusalem, And blow the horn in Tekoa, And set up a signal on Beth-cherem; For evil looketh forth from the north, And a great destruction.

2The comely and delicate one, The daughter of Zion, will I cut off.

3Shepherds with their flocks come unto her; They pitch their tents against her round about; They feed bare every one what is nigh at hand.

4Prepare ye war against her; Arise, and let us go up at noon! 'Woe unto us! for the day declineth, For the shadows of the evening are stretched out!'

5Arise, and let us go up by night, And let us destroy her palaces.'

6For thus hath the LORD of hosts said: Hew ye down her trees, And cast up a mound against Jerusalem; This is the city to be punished; Everywhere there is oppression in the midst of her.

7As a cistern wellet with her waters, So she wellet with her wickedness; Violence and spoil is heard in her; Before Me continually is sickness and wounds.

8Be thou corrected, O Jerusalem, Lest My soul be alienated from thee, Lest I make thee desolate, A land not inhabited.

9Thus saith the LORD of hosts: They shall thoroughly glean as a vine The remnant of Israel; Turn again thy hand As a grape-gatherer upon the shoots.

10To whom shall I speak and give warning, That they may hear? Behold, their ear is dull, And they cannot attend; Behold, the word of the LORD is become unto them a reproach, They have no delight in it.

11Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD, I am weary with holding in: Pour it out upon the babes in the street, And upon the assembly of young men together; For even the husband with the wife shall be taken, The aged with him that is full of days.

12And their houses shall be turned unto others, Their fields and their wives together; For I will stretch out My hand upon the inhabitants of the land, Saith the LORD.

13For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them Every one is greedy for gain; And from the prophet even unto the priest Every one dealeth falsely.

14They have healed also the hurt of My people lightly, Saying: 'Peace, peace', when there is no peace.

15They shall be put to shame because they have committed abomination; Yea, they are not at all ashamed, Neither know they how to blush; Therefore they shall fall among them that fall, At the time that I punish them they shall stumble, Saith the LORD.

16Thus saith the LORD: Stand ye in the ways and see, And ask for the old paths, Where is the good way, and walk therein, And ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said: 'We will not walk therein.'

17And I set watchmen over you: 'Attend to the sound of the horn', But they said: 'We will not attend.'

18Therefore hear, ye nations, And know, O congregation, what is against them.

19Hear, O earth: Behold, I will bring evil upon this people, Even the fruit of their thoughts, Because they have not attended unto My words, And as for My teaching, they have rejected it.

20To what purpose is to Me the frankincense that cometh from Sheba, And the sweet cane, from a far country? Your burnt-offerings are not acceptable, Nor your sacrifices pleasing unto Me.

21Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will lay stumblingblocks before this people, And the fathers and the sons together shall stumble against them, The neighbour and his friend, and they shall perish.

An Invasion from the North

22Thus saith the LORD: Behold, a people cometh from the north country, And a great nation shall be roused from the uttermost parts of the earth.

23They lay hold on bow and spear, They are cruel, and have no compassion; Their voice is like the roaring sea, And they ride upon horses; Set in array, as a man for war, Against thee, O daughter of Zion.

24We have heard the fame thereof, our hands wax feeble, Anguish hath taken hold of us, And pain, as of a woman in travail.'

25Go not forth into the field, Nor walk by the way; For there is the sword of the enemy, And terror on every side.

26O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, And wallow thyself in ashes; Make thee mourning, as for an only son, Most bitter lamentation; For the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us.

27I have made thee a tower and a fortress among My people; That thou mayest know and try their way.

28They are all grievous revolters, Going about with slanders; They are brass and iron; They all of them deal corruptly.

29The bellows blow fiercely, The lead is consumed of the fire; In vain doth the founder refine, For the wicked are not separated.

30Refuse silver shall men call them, Because the LORD hath rejected them.

Jeremiah's Message at the Temple Gate

1The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying: 2Stand in the gate of the LORD'S house, and proclaim there this word, and say: Hear the word of the LORD, all ye of Judah, that enter in at these gates to worship the LORD. 3Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place. 4Trust ye not in lying words, saying: 'The temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, are these.' 5Nay, but if ye thoroughly amend your ways and your doings; if ye thoroughly execute justice between a man and his neighbour; 6if ye oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your hurt; 7then will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, for ever and ever.

8Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. 9Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and offer unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye have not known, 10and come and stand before Me in this house, whereupon My name is called, and say: 'We are delivered', that ye may do all these abominations? 11Is this house, whereupon My name is called, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, I, even I, have seen it, saith the LORD.

12For go ye now unto My place which was in Shiloh, where I caused My name to dwell at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of My people Israel. 13And now, because ye have done all these works, saith the LORD, and I spoke unto you, speaking betimes and often, but ye heard not, and I called you, but ye answered not; 14therefore will I do unto the house, whereupon My name is called, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I have done to Shiloh. 15And I will cast you out of My sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ephraim.

Judah's Idolatry Persists

16Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to Me; for I will not hear thee. 17Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? 18The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke Me. 19Do they provoke Me? saith the LORD; do they not provoke themselves, to the confusion of their own faces? 20Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, Mine anger and My fury shall be poured out upon this place, upon man, and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the land; and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.

21Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Add your burnt-offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat ye flesh. 22For I spoke not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt-offerings or sacrifices; 23but this thing I commanded them, saying: 'Hearken unto My voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be My people; and walk ye in all the way that I command you, that it may be well with you.' 24But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in their own counsels, even in the stubbornness of their evil heart, and went backward and not forward, 25even since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt unto this day; and though I have sent unto you all My servants the prophets, sending them daily betimes and often, 26yet they hearkened not unto Me, nor inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff; they did worse than their fathers.

27And thou shalt speak all these words unto them, but they will not hearken to thee; thou shalt also call unto them, but they will not answer thee. 28Therefore thou shalt say unto them: This is the nation that hath not hearkened To the voice of the LORD their God, Nor received correction; Faithfulness is perished, And is cut off from their mouth.

29Cut off thy hair, and cast it away, And take up a lamentation on the high hills; For the LORD hath rejected and forsaken the generation of His wrath.

The Valley of Slaughter

30For the children of Judah have done that which is evil in My sight, saith the LORD; they have set their detestable things in the house whereon My name is called, to defile it. 31And they have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I commanded not, neither came it into My mind.

32Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of slaughter; for they shall bury in Topheth, for lack of room. 33And the carcasses of this people shall be food for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall frighten them away. 34Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride; for the land shall be desolate.

Judah's Sin and Punishment

1At that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves; 2and they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped; they shall not be gathered, nor be buried, they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth. 3And death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue that remain of this evil family, that remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the LORD of hosts.

4Moreover thou shalt say unto them: Thus saith the LORD: Do men fall, and not rise up again? Doth one turn away, and not return?

5Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back By a perpetual backsliding? They hold fast deceit, They refuse to return.

6I attended and listened, But they spoke not aright; No man repenteth him of his wickedness, Saying: 'What have I done?' Every one turneth away in his course, As a horse that rusheth headlong in the battle.

7Yea, the stork in the heaven Knoweth her appointed times; And the turtle and the swallow and the crane Observe the time of their coming; But My people know not The ordinance of the LORD.

8How do ye say: 'We are wise, And the Law of the LORD is with us'? Lo, certainly in vain hath wrought The vain pen of the scribes.

9The wise men are ashamed, They are dismayed and taken; Lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD; And what wisdom is in them?

10Therefore will I give their wives unto others, And their fields to them that shall possess them; For from the least even unto the greatest Every one is greedy for gain, From the prophet even unto the priest Every one dealeth falsely.

11And they have healed the hurt of the daughter of My people lightly, Saying: 'Peace, peace', when there is no peace.

12They shall be put to shame because they have committed abomination; Yea, they are not at all ashamed, Neither know they how to blush; therefore shall they fall among them that fall, In the time of their visitation they shall stumble, Saith the LORD.

13I will utterly consume them, saith the LORD; There are no grapes on the vine, Nor figs on the fig-tree, And the leaf is faded; And I gave them that which they transgress.

The People Respond

14Why do we sit still? Assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the fortified cities, And let us be cut off there; For the LORD our God hath cut us off, And given us water of gall to drink, Because we have sinned against the LORD.

15We looked for peace, but no good came; And for a time of healing, and behold terror!

16The snorting of his horses is heard from Dan; At the sound of the neighing of his strong ones The whole land trembleth; For they are come, and have devoured the land and all that is in it, The city and those that dwell therein.

17For, behold, I will send serpents, basilisks, among you, Which will not be charmed; And they shall bite you, saith the LORD.

Jeremiah Weeps for His People

18Though I would take comfort against sorrow, My heart is faint within me.

19Behold the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people From a land far off: 'Is not the LORD in Zion? Is not her King in her?'—'Why have they provoked Me with their graven images, And with strange vanities?'—

20The harvest is past, the summer is ended, And we are not saved.'

21For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I seized with anguish; I am black, appalment hath taken hold on me.

22Is there no balm in Gilead? Is there no physician there? Why then is not the health Of the daughter of my people recovered?

A Lament over Zion

1Oh that my head were waters, And mine eyes a fountain of tears, That I might weep day and night For the slain of the daughter of my people!

2Oh that I were in the wilderness, In a lodging-place of wayfaring men, That I might leave my people, And go from them! For they are all adulterers, An assembly of treacherous men.

3And they bend their tongue, their bow of falsehood; And they are grown mighty in the land, but not for truth; For they proceed from evil to evil, And Me they know not, Saith the LORD.

4Take ye heed every one of his neighbour, And trust ye not in any brother; For every brother acteth subtly, And every neighbour goeth about with slanders.

5And they deceive every one his neighbour, And truth they speak not; They have taught their tongue to speak lies, They weary themselves to commit iniquity.

6Thy habitation is in the midst of deceit; Through deceit they refuse to know Me, Saith the LORD.

7Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will smelt them, and try them; For how else should I do, Because of the daughter of My people?

8Their tongue is a sharpened arrow, It speaketh deceit; One speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, But in his heart he layeth wait for him.

9Shall I not punish them for these things? Saith the LORD; Shall not My soul be avenged On such a nation as this?

10For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, And for the pastures of the wilderness a lamentation, Because they are burned up, so that none passeth through. And they hear not the voice of the cattle; Both the fowl of the heavens and the beast Are fled, and gone.

11And I will make Jerusalem heaps, A lair of jackals; And I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, Without an inhabitant.

12Who is the wise man, that he may understand this? And who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD hath spoken, that he may declare it? Wherefore is the land perished And laid waste like a wilderness, so that none passeth through? 13And the LORD saith: Because they have forsaken My law which I set before them, And have not hearkened to My voice, neither walked therein; 14But have walked after the stubbornness of their own heart, And after the Baalim, which their fathers taught them. 15Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, And give them water of gall to drink. 16I will scatter them also among the nations, Whom neither they nor their fathers have known; And I will send the sword after them, Till I have consumed them.

17Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Consider ye, and call for the mourning women, that they may come; And send for the wise women, that they may come;

18Let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, That our eyes may run down with tears, And our eyelids gush out with waters.

19For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion: 'How are we undone! We are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, Because our dwellings have cast us out.'

20Yea, hear the word of the LORD, O ye women, And let your ear receive the word of His mouth, And teach your daughters wailing, And every one her neighbour lamentation:

21For death is come up into our windows, It is entered into our palaces, To cut off the children from the street, And the young men from the broad places.—

22Speak: Thus saith the LORD—And the carcasses of men fall As dung upon the open field, And as the handful after the harvestman, Which none gathereth.'

23Thus saith the LORD: Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, Neither let the mighty man glory in his might, Let not the rich man glory in his riches; 24But let him that glorieth glory in this, That he understandeth, and knoweth Me, That I am the LORD who exercise mercy, Justice, and righteousness, in the earth; For in these things I delight, Saith the LORD.

25Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will punish all them that are circumcised in their uncircumcision: 26Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that have the corners of their hair polled, that dwell in the wilderness; For all the nations are uncircumcised, But all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in the heart.

The Sovereignty of God

1Hear ye the word which the LORD speaketh unto you, O house of Israel;

2thus saith the LORD: Learn not the way of the nations, And be not dismayed at the signs of heaven; For the nations are dismayed at them.

3For the customs of the peoples are vanity; For it is but a tree which one cutteth out of the forest, The work of the hands of the workman with the axe.

4They deck it with silver and with gold, They fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not.

5They are like a pillar in a garden of cucumbers, and speak not; They must needs be borne, because they cannot go. Be not afraid of them, for they cannot do evil, Neither is it in them to do good.

6There is none like unto Thee, O LORD; Thou art great, and Thy name is great in might.

7Who would not fear Thee, O king of the nations? For it befitteth Thee; Forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their royalty, There is none like unto Thee.

8But they are altogether brutish and foolish: The vanities by which they are instructed are but a stock;

9Silver beaten into plates which is brought from Tarshish, And gold from Uphaz, The work of the craftsman and of the hands of the goldsmith; Blue and purple is their clothing; They are all the work of skilful men.

10But the LORD God is the true God, He is the living God, and the everlasting King; At His wrath the earth trembleth, And the nations are not able to abide His indignation.

11Thus shall ye say unto them: 'The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, these shall perish from the earth, and from under the heavens.'

12He that hath made the earth by His power, That hath established the world by His wisdom, And hath stretched out the heavens by His understanding;

13At the sound of His giving a multitude of waters in the heavens, When He causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; When He maketh lightnings with the rain, And bringeth forth the wind out of His treasures;

14Every man is proved to be brutish, without knowledge, Every goldsmith is put to shame by the graven image, His molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

15They are vanity, a work of delusion; In the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16Not like these is the portion of Jacob; For He is the former of all things, And Israel is the tribe of His inheritance; The LORD of hosts is His name.

The Coming Captivity of Judah

17Gather up thy wares from the ground, O thou that abidest in the siege.

18For thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this time, and will distress them, that they may feel it.

19Woe is me for my hurt! My wound is grievous; But I said: 'This is but a sickness, And I must bear it.'

20My tent is spoiled, And all my cords are broken; My children are gone forth of me, and they are not; There is none to stretch forth my tent any more, And to set up my curtains.

21For the shepherds are become brutish, And have not inquired of the LORD; Therefore they have not prospered, And all their flocks are scattered.

22Hark! a report, behold, it cometh, And a great commotion out of the north country, To make the cities of Judah desolate, A dwelling-place of jackals.

23O LORD, I know that man's way is not his own; It is not in man to direct his steps as he walketh.

24O LORD, correct me, but in measure; Not in Thine anger, lest Thou diminish me.

25Pour out Thy wrath upon the nations that know Thee not, And upon the families that call not on Thy name; For they have devoured Jacob, Yea, they have devoured him and consumed him, And have laid waste his habitation.

The Broken Covenant

1The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying: 2Hear ye the words of this covenant, and speak unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem; 3and say thou unto them: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Cursed be the man that heareth not the words of this covenant, 4which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the iron furnace, saying: Hearken to My voice, and do them, according to all which I command you; so shall ye be My people, and I will be your God; 5that I may establish the oath which I swore unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as at this day.' Then answered I, and said: 'Amen, O LORD.'

6And the LORD said unto me: 'Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying: Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do them. 7For I earnestly forewarned your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even unto this day, forewarning betimes and often, saying: Hearken to My voice. 8Yet they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the stubbornness of their evil heart; therefore I brought upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did them not.'

9And the LORD said unto me: 'A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem. 10They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, who refused to hear My words; and they are gone after other gods to serve them; the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken My covenant which I made with their fathers. 11Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape; and though they shall cry unto Me, I will not hearken unto them. 12Then shall the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem go and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer; but they shall not save them at all in the time of their trouble. 13For according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem have ye set up altars to the shameful thing, even altars to offer unto Baal.

14Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them; for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto Me for their trouble.'

15What hath My beloved to do in My house, Seeing she hath wrought lewdness with many, And the hallowed flesh is passed from thee? When thou doest evil, then thou rejoicest.

16The LORD called thy name A leafy olive-tree, fair with goodly fruit; With the noise of a great tumult He hath kindled fire upon it, And the branches of it are broken.

17For the LORD of hosts, that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, because of the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have wrought for themselves in provoking Me by offering unto Baal.

A Plot against Jeremiah

(Jeremiah 18:18–23)

18And the LORD gave me knowledge of it, and I knew it; Then Thou showedst me their doings.

19But I was like a docile lamb that is led to the slaughter; And I knew not that they had devised devices against me: 'Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, And let us cut him off from the land of the living, That his name may be no more remembered.'

20But, O LORD of hosts, that judgest righteously, That triest the reins and the heart, Let me see Thy vengeance on them; For unto Thee have I revealed my cause.

21Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying: 'Thou shalt not prophesy in the name of the LORD, that thou die not by our hand'; 22therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will punish them; The young men shall die by the sword, Their sons and their daughters shall die by famine; 23And there shall be no remnant unto them; For I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, Even the year of their visitation.

The Prosperity of the Wicked

1Right wouldest Thou be, O LORD, Were I to contend with Thee, Yet will I reason with Thee: Wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? Wherefore are all they secure that deal very treacherously?

2Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root; They grow, yea, they bring forth fruit; Thou art near in their mouth, And far from their reins.

3But Thou, O LORD, knowest me, Thou seest me, and triest my heart toward Thee; Pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, And prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4How long shall the land mourn, And the herbs of the whole field wither? For the wickedness of them that dwell therein, the beasts are consumed, and the birds; Because they said: 'He seeth not our end.'

God's Answer to Jeremiah

5If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, Then how canst thou contend with horses? And though in a land of peace thou art secure, Yet how wilt thou do in the thickets of the Jordan?

6For even thy brethren, and the house of thy father, Even they have dealt treacherously with thee, Even they have cried aloud after thee; Believe them not, though they speak fair words unto thee.'

7I have forsaken My house, I have cast off My heritage; I have given the dearly beloved of My soul Into the hand of her enemies.

8My heritage is become unto Me As a lion in the forest; She hath uttered her voice against Me; Therefore have I hated her.

9Is My heritage unto Me as a speckled bird of prey? Are the birds of prey against her round about? Come ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, Bring them to devour.

10Many shepherds have destroyed My vineyard, They have trodden My portion under foot, They have made My pleasant portion A desolate wilderness.

11They have made it a desolation, It mourneth unto Me, being desolate; The whole land is made desolate, Because no man layeth it to heart.

12Upon all the high hills in the wilderness spoilers are come; For the sword of the LORD devoureth From the one end of the land even to the other end of the land, No flesh hath peace.

13They have sown wheat, and have reaped thorns; They have put themselves to pain, they profit not; Be ye then ashamed of your increase, Because of the fierce anger of the LORD.

A Message for Israel's Neighbors

(Amos 1:1–15)

14Thus saith the LORD: As for all Mine evil neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have caused My people Israel to inherit, behold, I will pluck them up from off their land, and will pluck up the house of Judah from among them. 15And it shall come to pass, after that I have plucked them up, I will again have compassion on them; and I will bring them back, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land. 16And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of My people to swear by My name: 'As the LORD liveth,' even as they taught My people to swear by Baal; then shall they be built up in the midst of My people. 17But if they will not hearken, then will I pluck up that nation, plucking up and destroying it, saith the LORD.

The Linen Loincloth

1Thus said the LORD unto me: 'Go, and get thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water.' 2So I got a girdle according to the word of the LORD, and put it upon my loins. 3And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying: 4Take the girdle that thou hast gotten, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to Perath, and hide it there in a cleft of the rock.' 5So I went, and hid it in Perath, as the LORD commanded me. 6And it came to pass after many days, that the LORD said unto me: 'Arise, go to Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.' 7Then I went to Perath, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it; and, behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.

8Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 9Thus saith the LORD: After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem, 10even this evil people, that refuse to hear My words, that walk in the stubbornness of their heart, and are gone after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, that it be as this girdle, which is profitable for nothing. 11For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto Me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah, saith the LORD, that they might be unto Me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory; but they would not hearken.

The Wineskins

12Moreover thou shalt speak unto them this word: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: 'Every bottle is filled with wine'; and when they shall say unto thee: 'Do we not know that every bottle is filled with wine?' 13Then shalt thou say unto them: Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon David's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, with drunkenness. 14And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the LORD; I will not pity, nor spare, nor have compassion, that I should not destroy them.

Captivity Threatened

15Hear ye, and give ear, be not proud; For the LORD hath spoken.

16Give glory to the LORD your God, Before it grow dark, And before your feet stumble Upon the mountains of twilight, And, while ye look for light, He turn it into the shadow of death, And make it gross darkness.

17But if ye will not hear it, My soul shall weep in secret for your pride; And mine eyes shall weep sore, and run down with tears, Because the LORD'S flock is carried away captive.

18Say thou unto the king and to the queen-mother: 'Sit ye down low; For your headtires are come down, Even your beautiful crown.'

19The cities of the South are shut up, And there is none to open them; Judah is carried away captive all of it; It is wholly carried away captive.

20Lift up your eyes, and behold Them that come from the north; Where is the flock that was given thee, Thy beautiful flock?

21What wilt thou say, when He shall set the friends over thee as head, Whom thou thyself hast trained against thee? Shall not pangs take hold of thee, As of a woman in travail?

22And if thou say in thy heart: 'Wherefore are these things befallen me?'—For the greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts uncovered, And thy heels suffer violence.

23Can the Ethiopian change his skin, Or the leopard his spots? Then may ye also do good, That are accustomed to do evil.

24Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that passeth away By the wind of the wilderness.

25This is thy lot, the portion measured unto thee from Me, Saith the LORD; Because thou hast forgotten Me, And trusted in falsehood.

26Therefore will I also uncover thy skirts upon thy face, And thy shame shall appear.

27Thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdness of thy harlotry, On the hills in the field have I seen thy detestable acts. Woe unto thee, O Jerusalem! thou wilt not be made clean! When shall it ever be?

Drought, Famine, Sword, and Plague

1The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah concerning the droughts.

2Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish, They bow down in black unto the ground; And the cry of Jerusalem is gone up.

3And their nobles send their lads for water: They come to the pits, and find no water; Their vessels return empty; They are ashamed and confounded, and cover their heads.

4Because of the ground which is cracked, For there hath been no rain in the land, The plowmen are ashamed, they cover their heads.

5Yea, the hind also in the field calveth, and forsaketh her young, Because there is no grass,

6And the wild asses stand on the high hills, They gasp for air like jackals; Their eyes fail, because there is no herbage.

7Though our iniquities testify against us, O LORD, work Thou for Thy name's sake; For our backslidings are many, We have sinned against Thee.

8O Thou hope of Israel, The Saviour thereof in time of trouble, Why shouldest Thou be as a stranger in the land, And as a wayfaring man that turneth aside to tarry for a night?

9Why shouldest thou be as a man overcome, As a mighty man that cannot save? Yet Thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us, And Thy name is called upon us; Leave us not.

10Thus saith the LORD unto this people: Even so have they loved to wander, They have not refrained their feet; Therefore the LORD doth not accept them, Now will He remember their iniquity, And punish their sins. 11And the LORD said unto me: 'Pray not for this people for their good. 12When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt-offering and meal-offering, I will not accept them; but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.'

13Then said I: 'Ah, Lord GOD! behold, the prophets say unto them: Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine; but I will give you assured peace in this place.' 14Then the LORD said unto me: 'The prophets prophesy lies in My name; I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spoke I unto them; they prophesy unto you a lying vision, and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their own heart. 15Therefore thus saith the LORD: As for the prophets that prophesy in My name, and I sent them not, yet they say: Sword and famine shall not be in this land, by sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed; 16and the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword; and they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters; for I will pour their evil upon them.'

17And thou shalt say this word unto them: Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, And let them not cease; For the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, With a very grievous blow.

18If I go forth into the field, Then behold the slain with the sword! And if I enter into the city, Then behold them that are sick with famine! For both the prophet and the priest are gone about to a land, and knew it not.

A Prayer for Mercy

(Isaiah 63:15–19)

19Hast Thou utterly rejected Judah? Hath Thy soul loathed Zion? Why hast Thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? We looked for peace, but no good came; And for a time of healing, and behold terror!

20We acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, Even the iniquity of our fathers; For we have sinned against Thee.

21Do not contemn us, for Thy name's sake, Do not dishonour the throne of Thy glory; Remember, break not Thy covenant with us.

22Are there any among the vanities of the nations that can cause rain? Or can the heavens give showers? Art not Thou He, O LORD our God, and do we not wait for Thee? For Thou hast made all these things.

Judgment to Continue

1Then said the LORD unto me: 'Though Moses and Samuel stood before Me, yet My mind could not be toward this people; cast them out of My sight, and let them go forth.

2And it shall come to pass, when they say unto thee: Whither shall we go forth? then thou shall tell them: Thus saith the LORD: Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for captivity, to captivity.

3And I will appoint over them four kinds, saith the LORD: the sword to slay, and the dogs to drag, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and to destroy. 4And I will cause them to be a horror among all the kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah king of Judah, for that which he did in Jerusalem.

5For who shall have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? Or who shall bemoan thee? Or who shall turn aside to ask of thy welfare?

6Thou hast cast Me off, saith the LORD, Thou art gone backward; Therefore do I stretch out My hand against thee, and destroy thee; I am weary with repenting.

7And I fan them with a fan in the gates of the land; I bereave them of children, I destroy My people, Since they return not from their ways.

8Their widows are increased to Me above the sand of the seas; I bring upon them, against the mother, a chosen one, Even a spoiler at noonday; I cause anguish and terrors to fall upon her suddenly.

9She that hath borne seven languisheth; Her spirit droopeth; Her sun is gone down while it was yet day, She is ashamed and confounded; And the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, Saith the LORD.'

Jeremiah's Woe

10Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me A man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have not lent, neither have men lent to me; Yet every one of them doth curse me.

11The LORD said: 'Verily I will release thee for good; verily I will cause the enemy to make supplication unto thee in the time of evil and in the time of affliction.

12Can iron break iron from the north and brass?

13Thy substance and thy treasures will I give for a spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders.

14And I will make thee to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not; for a fire is kindled in My nostril, which shall burn upon you.'

15Thou, O LORD, knowest; Remember me, and think of me, and avenge me of my persecutors; Take me not away because of Thy long-suffering; Know that for Thy sake I have suffered taunts.

16Thy words were found, and I did eat them; And Thy words were unto me a joy and the rejoicing of my heart; Because Thy name was called on me, O LORD God of hosts.

17I sat not in the assembly of them that make merry, nor rejoiced; I sat alone because of Thy hand; For Thou hast filled me with indignation.

18Why is my pain perpetual, And my wound incurable, so that it refuseth to be healed? Wilt Thou indeed be unto me as a deceitful brook, As waters that fail?

The LORD's Promise

19Therefore thus saith the LORD: If thou return, and I bring thee back, Thou shalt stand before Me; And if thou bring forth the precious out of the vile, Thou shalt be as My mouth; Let them return unto thee, But thou shalt not return unto them.

20And I will make thee unto this people a fortified brazen wall; And they shall fight against thee, But they shall not prevail against thee; For I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, Saith the LORD.

21And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, And I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

Disaster Predicted

1The word of the LORD came also unto me, saying: 2Thou shalt not take thee a wife, Neither shalt thou have sons or daughters in this place. 3For thus saith the LORD concerning the sons and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bore them, and concerning their fathers that begot them in this land: 4They shall die of grievous deaths; They shall not be lamented, Neither shall they be buried, They shall be as dung upon the face of the ground; And they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine; And their carcasses shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, And for the beasts of the earth.

5For thus saith the LORD: Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament, neither bemoan them; for I have taken away My peace from this people, saith the LORD, even mercy and compassion.

10And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt tell this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee: 'Wherefore hath the LORD pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the LORD our God?' 11then shalt thou say unto them: 'Because your fathers have forsaken Me, saith the LORD, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken Me, and have not kept My law; 12and ye have done worse than your fathers; for, behold, ye walk every one after the stubbornness of his evil heart, so that ye hearken not unto Me; 13therefore will I cast you out of this land into a land that ye have not known, neither ye nor your fathers; and there shall ye serve other gods day and night; forasmuch as I will show you no favour.'

God Will Restore Israel

14Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be said: 'As the LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,' 15but: 'As the LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the countries whither He had driven them'; and I will bring them back into their land that I gave unto their fathers.

16Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the LORD, and they shall fish them; and afterward I will send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the clefts of the rocks. 17For Mine eyes are upon all their ways, They are not hid from My face; Neither is their iniquity concealed from Mine eyes. 18And first I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double; Because they have profaned My land; They have filled Mine inheritance With the carcasses of their detestable things and their abominations.

19O LORD, my strength, and my stronghold, And my refuge, in the day of affliction, Unto Thee shall the nations come From the ends of the earth, and shall say: 'Our fathers have inherited nought but lies, Vanity and things wherein there is no profit.'

20Shall a man make unto himself gods, And they are no gods?

21Therefore, behold, I will cause them to know, This once will I cause them to know My hand and My might; And they shall know that My name is the LORD.

The Sin and Punishment of Judah

1The sin of Judah is written With a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond; It is graven upon the tablet of their heart, And upon the horns of your altars.

2Like the symbols of their sons are their altars, And their Asherim are by the leafy trees, Upon the high hills.

3O thou that sittest upon the mountain in the field, I will give thy substance and all thy treasures for a spoil, And thy high places, because of sin, throughout all thy borders.

4And thou, even of thyself, shalt discontinue from thy heritage That I gave thee; And I will cause thee to serve thine enemies In the land which thou knowest not; For ye have kindled a fire in My nostril, Which shall burn for ever.

5Thus saith the LORD: Cursed is the man that trusteth in man, And maketh flesh his arm, And whose heart departeth from the LORD.

6For he shall be like a tamarisk in the desert, And shall not see when good cometh; But shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, A salt land and not inhabited.

7Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, And whose trust the LORD is.

8For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, And that spreadeth out its roots by the river, And shall not see when heat cometh, But its foliage shall be luxuriant; And shall not be anxious in the year of drought, Neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

9The heart is deceitful above all things, And it is exceeding weak—who can know it?

10I the LORD search the heart, I try the reins, Even to give every man according to his ways, According to the fruit of his doings.

11As the partridge that broodeth over young which she hath not brought forth, So is he that getteth riches, and not by right; In the midst of his days he shall leave them, And at his end he shall be a fool.

Jeremiah's Prayer for Deliverance

12Thou throne of glory, on high from the beginning, Thou place of our sanctuary,

13Thou hope of Israel, the LORD! All that forsake Thee shall be ashamed; They that depart from Thee shall be written in the earth, Because they have forsaken the LORD, The fountain of living waters.

14Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; Save me, and I shall be saved; For Thou art my praise.

15Behold, they say unto me: 'Where is the word of the LORD? let it come now.'

16As for me, I have not hastened from being a shepherd after Thee; Neither have I desired the woeful day; thou knowest it; That which came out of my lips was manifest before Thee.

17Be not a ruin unto me; Thou art my refuge in the day of evil.

18Let them be ashamed that persecute me, but let not me be ashamed; Let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed; Bring upon them the day of evil, And destroy them with double destruction.

Restoring the Sabbath

(Nehemiah 13:15–22)

19Thus said the LORD unto me: Go, and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Judah come in, and by which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem; 20and say unto them: Hear ye the word of the LORD, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates; 21thus saith the LORD: Take heed for the sake of your souls, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem; 22neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do ye any work; but hallow ye the sabbath day, as I commanded your fathers; 23but they hearkened not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, nor receive instruction.

24And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto Me, saith the LORD, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but to hallow the sabbath day, to do no work therein; 25then shall there enter in by the gates of this city kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and this city shall be inhabited for ever. 26And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places round about Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the Lowland, and from the mountains, and from the South, bringing burnt-offerings, and sacrifices, and meal-offerings, and frankincense, and bringing sacrifices of thanksgiving, unto the house of the LORD. 27But if ye will not hearken unto Me to hallow the sabbath day, and not to bear a burden and enter in at the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day; then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

Jeremiah 18

The Potter and the Clay

1The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying: 2Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there I will cause thee to hear My words.' 3Then I went down to the potter's house, and, behold, he was at his work on the wheels. 4And whensoever the vessel that he made of the clay was marred in the hand of the potter, he made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying: 6O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter? saith the LORD. Behold, as the clay in the potter's hand, so are ye in My hand, O house of Israel. 7At one instant I may speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up and to break down and to destroy it; 8but if that nation turn from their evil, because of which I have spoken against it, I repent of the evil that I thought to do unto it. 9And at one instant I may speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it; 10but if it do evil in My sight, that it hearken not to My voice, then I repent of the good, wherewith I said I would benefit it. 11Now therefore do thou speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying: Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I frame evil against you, and devise a device against you; return ye now every one from his evil way, and amend your ways and your doings. 12But they say: There is no hope; but we will walk after our own devices, and we will do every one after the stubbornness of his evil heart.'

13Therefore thus saith the LORD: Ask ye now among the nations, Who hath heard such things; The virgin of Israel hath done A very horrible thing.

14Doth the snow of Lebanon fail From the rock of the field? Or are the strange cold flowing waters Plucked up?

15For My people hath forgotten Me, They offer unto vanity; And they have been made to stumble in their ways, In the ancient paths, To walk in bypaths, In a way not cast up;

16To make their land an astonishment, And a perpetual hissing; Every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished, And shake his head.

17I will scatter them as with an east wind Before the enemy; I will look upon their back, and not their face, In the day of their calamity.

Another Plot against Jeremiah

(Jeremiah 11:18-23)

18Then said they: 'Come, and let us devise devices against Jeremiah; For instruction shall not perish from the priest, Nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, And let us not give heed to any of his words.'

19Give heed to me, O LORD, And hearken to the voice of them that contend with me.

20Shall evil be recompensed for good? For they have digged a pit for my soul. Remember how I stood before Thee To speak good for them, To turn away Thy wrath from them.

21Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, And hurl them to the power of the sword; And let their wives be bereaved of their children, and widows; And let their men be slain of death, And their young men smitten of the sword in battle.

22Let a cry be heard from their houses, When thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them; For they have digged a pit to take me, And hid snares for my feet.

23Yet, LORD, Thou knowest All their counsel against me to slay me; Forgive not their iniquity, Neither blot out their sin from Thy sight; But let them be made to stumble before Thee; Deal Thou with them in the time of Thine anger.

The Broken Jar

1Thus said the LORD: Go, and get a potter's earthen bottle, and take of the elders of the people, and of the elders of the priests; 2and go forth unto the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of the gate Harsith, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee; 3and say: Hear ye the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem; thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle; 4because they have forsaken Me, and have estranged this place, and have offered in it unto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Judah; and have filled this place with the blood of innocents; 5and have built the high places of Baal, to burn their sons in the fire for burnt-offerings unto Baal; which I commanded not, nor spoke it, neither came it into My mind. 6Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of slaughter; 7and I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place; and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seek their life; and their carcasses will I give to be food for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth; 8and I will make this city an astonishment, and a hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof; 9and I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend, in the siege and in the straitness, wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their life, shall straiten them.

14Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, whither the LORD had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in the court of the LORD'S house, and said to all the people: 15Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it; because they have made their neck stiff, that they might not hear My words.'

Pashhur Persecutes Jeremiah

1Now Pashhur the son of Immer the priest, who was chief officer in the house of the LORD, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things. 2Then Pashhur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the upper gate of Benjamin, which was in the house of the LORD. 3And it came to pass on the morrow, that Pashhur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him: 'The LORD hath not called thy name Pashhur, but Magormissabib. 4For thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends; and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it; and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive to Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword. 5Moreover I will give all the store of this city, and all the gains thereof, and all the wealth thereof, yea, all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, who shall spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Babylon. 6And thou, Pashhur, and all that dwell in thy house shall go into captivity; and thou shalt come to Babylon, and there thou shalt die, and there shalt thou be buried, thou, and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied falsely.'

Jeremiah's Complaint

7O LORD, Thou hast enticed me, and I was enticed, Thou hast overcome me, and hast prevailed; I am become a laughing-stock all the day, Every one mocketh me.

8For as often as I speak, I cry out, I cry: 'Violence and spoil'; Because the word of the LORD is made A reproach unto me, and a derision, all the day.

9And if I say: 'I will not make mention of Him, Nor speak any more in His name', Then there is in my heart as it were a burning fire Shut up in my bones, And I weary myself to hold it in, But cannot.

10For I have heard the whispering of many, Terror on every side: 'Denounce, and we will denounce him'; Even of all my familiar friends, Them that watch for my halting: 'Peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, And we shall take our revenge on him.'

11But the LORD is with me as a mighty warrior; Therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not prevail; They shall be greatly ashamed, because they have not prospered, Even with an everlasting confusion which shall never be forgotten.

12But, O LORD of hosts, that triest the righteous, That seest the reins and the heart, Let me see Thy vengeance on them; For unto Thee have I revealed my cause.

13Sing unto the LORD, Praise ye the LORD; For He hath delivered the soul of the needy From the hand of evil-doers.

14Cursed be the day Wherein I was born; The day wherein my mother bore me, Let it not be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man who brought tidings To my father, saying: 'A man-child is born unto thee'; Making him very glad.

16 And let that man be as the cities Which the LORD overthrew, and repented not; And let him hear a cry in the morning, And an alarm at noontide;

17 Because He slew me not from the womb; And so my mother would have been my grave, And her womb always great.

18 Wherefore came I forth out of the womb To see labour and sorrow, That my days should be consumed in shame?

Jerusalem Will Fall to Babylon

1 The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when king Zedekiah sent unto him Pashhur the son of Malchiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, saying: 2 Inquire, I pray thee, of the LORD for us; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon maketh war against us; peradventure the LORD will deal with us according to all His wondrous works, that he may go up from us.'

3 Then said Jeremiah unto them: Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah: 4 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans, that besiege you without the walls, and I will gather them into the midst of this city. 5 And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath. 6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast; they shall die of a great pestilence. 7 And afterward, saith the LORD, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life; and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have compassion.

8 And unto this people thou shalt say: Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I set before you the way of life and the way of death. 9 He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence; but he that goeth out, and falleth away to the Chaldeans that besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey. 10 For I have set My face against this city for evil, and not for good, saith the LORD; it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

A Message to the House of David

11 And unto the house of the king of Judah: Hear ye the word of the LORD;

12 O house of David, thus saith the LORD: Execute justice in the morning, And deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor, Lest My fury go forth like fire, And burn that none can quench it, Because of the evil of your doings.

13Behold, I am against thee, O inhabitant of the valley, And rock of the plain, saith the LORD; Ye that say: 'Who shall come down against us? Or who shall enter into our habitations?'

14And I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings, Saith the LORD; And I will kindle a fire in her forest, And it shall devour all that is round about her.

A Warning to Judah's Kings

1Thus said the LORD: Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word, 2and say: Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, that sittest upon the throne of David, thou, and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates. 3Thus saith the LORD: Execute ye justice and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor; and do no wrong, do no violence, to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place. 4For if ye do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people. 5But if ye will not hear these words, I swear by Myself, saith the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation.

A Warning about the Palace

6For thus saith the LORD concerning the house of the king of Judah: Thou art Gilead unto Me, The head of Lebanon; Yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, Cities which are not inhabited.

7And I will prepare destroyers against thee, Every one with his weapons; And they shall cut down thy choice cedars, And cast them into the fire.

8And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour: 'Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this great city?' 9Then they shall answer: 'Because they forsook the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.'

A Warning about Shallum

10Weep ye not for the dead, Neither bemoan him; But weep sore for him that goeth away, For he shall return no more, Nor see his native country.

11For thus saith the LORD touching Shallum the son of Josiah, king of Judah, who reigned instead of Josiah his father, and who went forth out of this place: He shall not return thither any more; 12but in the place whither they have led him captive, there shall he die, and he shall see this land no more.

A Warning about Jehoiakim

13Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, And his chambers by injustice; That useth his neighbour's service without wages, And giveth him not his hire;

14That saith: 'I will build me a wide house And spacious chambers', And cutteth him out windows, And it is ceiled with cedar, and painted with vermilion.

15Shalt thou reign, because thou strivest to excel in cedar? Did not thy father eat and drink, and do justice and righteousness? Then it was well with him.

16He judged the cause of the poor and needy; Then it was well. Is not this to know Me? saith the LORD.

17But thine eyes and thy heart Are not but for thy covetousness, And for shedding innocent blood, And for oppression, and for violence, to do it.

18Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah: They shall not lament for him: 'Ah my brother!' or: 'Ah sister!' They shall not lament for him: 'Ah lord!' or: 'Ah his glory!'

19He shall be buried with the burial of an ass, Drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.

20Go up to Lebanon, and cry, And lift up thy voice in Bashan; And cry from Abarim, For all thy lovers are destroyed.

21I spoke unto thee in thy prosperity, But thou saidst: 'I will not hear.' This hath been thy manner from thy youth, That thou hearkenedst not to My voice.

22The wind shall feed upon all thy shepherds, And thy lovers shall go into captivity; Surely then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded For all thy wickedness.

23O inhabitant of Lebanon, That art nestled in the cedars, How gracious shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, The pain as of a woman in travail!

A Warning to Coniah

24As I live, saith the LORD, though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet upon My right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence; 25and I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them of whom thou art afraid, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans. 26And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bore thee, into another country, where ye were not born; and there shall ye die. 27But to the land whereunto they long to return, thither shall they not return.

28Is this man Coniah a despised, broken image? Is he a vessel wherein is no pleasure? Wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, And are cast into the land which they know not?

29O land, land, land, Hear the word of the LORD.

30Thus saith the LORD: Write ye this man childless, A man that shall not prosper in his days; For no man of his seed shall prosper, Sitting upon the throne of David, And ruling any more in Judah.

David's Righteous Branch

1Woe unto the shepherds that destroy and scatter The sheep of My pasture! saith the LORD. 2Therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, against the shepherds that feed My people: Ye have scattered My flock, and driven them away, and have not taken care of them; behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the LORD. 3And I will gather the remnant of My flock out of all the countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them back to their folds; and they shall be fruitful and multiply. 4And I will set up shepherds over them, who shall feed them; and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall any be lacking, saith the LORD.

5Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will raise unto David a righteous shoot, and he shall reign as king and prosper, and shall execute justice and righteousness in the land.

6In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely; and this is his name whereby he shall be called, The LORD is our righteousness.

7Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that they shall no more say: 'As the LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt'; 8but: 'As the LORD liveth, that brought up and that led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all the countries whither I had driven them'; and they shall dwell in their own land.

Lying Prophets

9Concerning the prophets. My heart within me is broken, All my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, And like a man whom wine hath overcome; Because of the LORD, And because of His holy words.

10For the land is full of adulterers; For because of swearing the land mourneth, The pastures of the wilderness are dried up; And their course is evil, And their force is not right.

11For both prophet and priest are ungodly; Yea, in My house have I found their wickedness, Saith the LORD.

12Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery places in the darkness, They shall be thrust, and fall therein; For I will bring evil upon them, Even the year of their visitation, Saith the LORD.

13And I have seen unseemliness in the prophets of Samaria: They prophesied by Baal, And caused My people Israel to err.

14But in the prophets of Jerusalem I have seen a horrible thing: They commit adultery, and walk in lies, And they strengthen the hands of evil-doers, That none doth return from his wickedness; They are all of them become unto Me as Sodom, And the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the prophets: Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, And make them drink the water of gall; For from the prophets of Jerusalem Is ungodliness gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you, They lead you unto vanity; They speak a vision of their own heart, And not out of the mouth of the LORD.

17 They say continually unto them that despise Me: 'The LORD hath said: Ye shall have peace'; And unto every one that walketh in the stubbornness of his own heart they say: 'No evil shall come upon you';

18 For who hath stood in the council of the LORD, That he should perceive and hear His word? Who hath attended to His word, and heard it?

19 Behold, a storm of the LORD is gone forth in fury, Yea, a whirling storm; It shall whirl upon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the LORD shall not return, Until He have executed, and till He have performed the purposes of His heart; In the end of days ye shall consider it perfectly.

21 I have not sent these prophets, yet they ran; I have not spoken to them, yet they prophesied.

22 But if they have stood in My council, Then let them cause My people to hear My words, And turn them from their evil way, And from the evil of their doings.

23 Am I a God near at hand, saith the LORD, And not a God afar off?

24 Can any hide himself in secret places That I shall not see him? saith the LORD. Do not I fill heaven and earth? Saith the LORD.

25 I have heard what the prophets have said, That prophesy lies in My name, saying: 'I have dreamed, I have dreamed.' 26 How long shall this be? Is it in the heart of the prophets that prophesy lies, And the prophets of the deceit of their own heart? 27 That think to cause My people to forget My name By their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour, As their fathers forgot My name for Baal. 28 The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; And he that hath My word; let him speak My word faithfully. What hath the straw to do with the wheat? Saith the LORD. 29 Is not My word like as fire? Saith the LORD; And like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces? 30 Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that steal My words every one from his neighbour. 31 Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that use there tongues and say: 'He saith.' 32 Behold, I am against them that prophesy lying dreams, saith the LORD, and do tell them, and cause My people to err by their lies, and by their wantonness; yet I sent them not, nor commanded them; neither can they profit this people at all, saith the LORD.

False Prophecies

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest, shall ask thee, saying: 'What is the burden of the LORD?' then shalt thou say unto them: 'What burden! I will cast you off, saith the LORD.' 34 And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say: 'The burden of the LORD', I will even punish that man and his house. 35 Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother: 'What hath the LORD answered?' and: 'What hath the LORD spoken?' 36 And the burden of the LORD shall ye mention no more; for every man's own word shall be his burden; and would ye pervert the words of the living God, of the LORD of hosts our God? 37 Thus shalt thou say to the prophet: 'What hath the LORD answered thee?' and: 'What hath the LORD spoken?' 38 But if ye say: 'The burden of the LORD'; therefore thus saith the LORD: Because ye say this word: 'The burden of the LORD', and I have sent unto you, saying: 'Ye shall not say: The burden of the LORD'; ³⁹therefore, behold, I will utterly tear you out, and I will cast you off, and the city that I gave unto you and to your fathers, away from My presence; ⁴⁰and I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten

The Good and Bad Figs

¹The LORD showed me, and behold two baskets of figs set before the temple of the LORD; after that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the craftsmen and smiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon. ²One basket had very good figs, like the figs that are first-ripe; and the other basket had very bad figs, which could not be eaten, they were so bad. ³Then said the LORD unto me: 'What seest thou, Jeremiah?' And I said: 'Figs; the good figs, very good; and the bad, very bad, that cannot be eaten, they are so bad.'

⁴And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: ⁵Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Like these good figs, so will I regard the captives of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans, for good. ⁶And I will set Mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them back to this land; and I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up. ⁷And I will give them a heart to know Me, that I am the LORD; and they shall be My people, and I will be their God; for they shall return unto Me with their whole heart.

⁸And as the bad figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so bad; surely thus saith the LORD: So will I make Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt; ⁹I will even make them a horror among all the kingdoms of the earth for evil; a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them. ¹⁰And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, among them, till they be consumed from off the land that I gave unto them and to their fathers.'

Seventy Years of Captivity

¹The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, that was the first year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; ²which Jeremiah the prophet spoke unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying: ³From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, even unto this day, these three and twenty years, the word of the LORD hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, speaking betimes and often; but ye have not hearkened. ⁴And the LORD hath sent unto you all His servants the prophets, sending them betimes and often—but ye have not hearkened, nor inclined your ear to hear— 5saying: 'Return ye now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the LORD hath given unto you and to your fathers, for ever and ever; 6and go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke Me not with the work of your hands, and I will do you no hurt.' 7Yet ye have not hearkened unto Me, saith the LORD; that ye might provoke Me with the work of your hands to your own hurt.

8Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: Because ye have not heard My words, 9behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith the LORD, and I will send unto Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, My servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about; and I will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and a hissing, and perpetual desolations. 10Moreover I will cause to cease from among them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones, and the light of the lamp. 11And this whole land shall be a desolation, and a waste; and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

12And it shall come to pass, when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans; and I will make it perpetual desolations. 13And I will bring upon that land all My words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all the nations. 14For many nations and great kings shall make bondmen of them also; and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the work of their own hands.

The Cup of God's Wrath

15For thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto me: Take this cup of the wine of fury at My hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it. 16And they shall drink, and reel to and fro, and be like madmen, because of the sword that I will send among them.—

17Then took I the cup of the LORD'S hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the LORD had sent me: 18Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them an appalment, an astonishment, a hissing, and a curse; as it is this day; 19Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people; 20and all the mingled people; and all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Gaza, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod; 21Edom, and Moab, and the children of Ammon; 22and all the kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the isle which is beyond the sea; 23Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that have the corners of their hair polled; 24and all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the mingled people that dwell in the wilderness; 25and all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes; 26and all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another; and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth.—And the king of Sheshach shall drink after them.

27And thou shalt say unto them: Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Drink ye, and be drunken, and spew, and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you.

28And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thy hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them: Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Ye shall surely drink. 29For, lo, I begin to bring evil on the city whereupon My name is called, and should ye be utterly unpunished? Ye shall not be unpunished; for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the LORD of hosts.

30Therefore prophesy thou against them all these words, and say unto them: The LORD doth roar from on high, And utter His voice from His holy habitation; He doth mightily roar because of His fold; He giveth a shout, as they that tread the grapes, Against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31A noise is come even to the end of the earth; For the LORD hath a controversy with the nations, He doth plead with all flesh; As for the wicked, He hath given them to the sword, Saith the LORD.

32Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, evil shall go forth From nation to nation, And a great storm shall be raised up From the uttermost parts of the earth.

33And the slain of the LORD shall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth; they shall not be lamented, neither gathered, nor buried; they shall be dung upon the face of the ground.

The Cry of the Shepherds

34Wail, ye shepherds, and cry; And wallow yourselves in the dust, ye leaders of the flock; For the days of your slaughter are fully come, And I will break you in pieces, And ye shall fall like a precious vessel.

35And the shepherds shall have no way to flee, Nor the leaders of the flock to escape.

36Hark! the cry of the shepherds, And the wailing of the leaders of the flock! For the LORD despoileth their pasture.

37And the peaceable folds are brought to silence Because of the fierce anger of the LORD.

38He hath forsaken His covert, as the lion; For their land is become a waste Because of the fierceness of the oppressing sword, And because of His fierce anger.

A Warning to the Cities of Judah

1In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word from the LORD, saying: 2Thus saith the LORD: Stand in the court of the LORD'S house, and speak unto all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the LORD'S house, all the words that I command thee to speak unto them; diminish not a word. 3It may be they will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way; that I may repent Me of the evil, which I purpose to do unto them because of the evil of their doings. 4And thou shalt say unto them: Thus saith the LORD: If ye will not hearken to Me, to walk in My law, which I have set before you, 5to hearken to the words of My servants the prophets, whom I send unto you, even sending them betimes and often, but ye have not hearkened; 6then will I make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.'

Jeremiah Threatened with Death

7So the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD. 8Now it came to pass, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak unto all the people, that the priests and the prophets and all the people laid hold on him, saying: 'Thou shalt surely die. 9Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying: This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, without an inhabitant?' And all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.

10When the princes of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king's house unto the house of the LORD; and they sat in the entry of the new gate of the LORD'S house. 11Then spoke the priests and the prophets unto the princes and to all the people, saying: 'This man is worthy of death; for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.'

12Then spoke Jeremiah unto all the princes and to all the people, saying: 'The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard. 13Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and hearken to the voice of the LORD your God; and the LORD will repent Him of the evil that He hath pronounced against you. 14But as for me, behold, I am in your hand; do with me as is good and right in your eyes. 15Only know ye for certain that, if ye put me to death, ye will bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof; for of a truth the LORD hath sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears.'

Jeremiah Spared from Death

16Then said the princes and all the people unto the priests and to the prophets: 'This man is not worthy of death; for he hath spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.' 17Then rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spoke to all the assembly of the people, saying:

18Micah the Morashtite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah; and he spoke to all the people of Judah, saying: Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Zion shall be plowed as a field, And Jerusalem shall become heaps, And the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.

19Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him at all to death? did he not fear the LORD, and entreat the favour of the LORD, and the LORD repented Him of the evil which He had pronounced against them? Thus might we procure great evil against our own souls.'

The Prophet Uriah

20And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of the LORD, Uriah the son of Shemaiah of Kiriath-jearim; and he prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah; 21and when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Uriah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt; 22and Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, Elnathan the son of Achbor, and certain men with him, into Egypt; 23and they fetched forth Uriah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king; who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the children of the people.

24Nevertheless the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

The Yoke of Nebuchadnezzar

1In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying: 2Thus saith the LORD to me: Make thee bands and bars, and put them upon thy neck; 3and send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the children of Ammon, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers that come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah king of Judah; 4and give them a charge unto their masters, saying: Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Thus shall ye say unto your masters: 5I have made the earth, the man and the beast that are upon the face of the earth, by My great power and by My outstretched arm; and I give it unto whom it seemeth right unto Me. 6And now have I given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, My servant; and the beasts of the field also have I given him to serve him. 7And all the nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son's son, until the time of his own land come; and then many nations and great kings shall make him their bondman.

12And I spoke to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying: 'Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live. 13Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the LORD hath spoken concerning the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon? 14And hearken not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying: Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon, for they prophesy a lie unto you. 15For I have not sent them, saith the LORD, and they prophesy falsely in My name; that I might drive you out, and that ye might perish, ye, and the prophets that prophesy unto you.'

16Also I spoke to the priests and to all this people, saying: 'Thus saith the LORD: Hearken not to the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying: Behold, the vessels of the LORD'S house shall now shortly be brought back from Babylon; for they prophesy a lie unto you. 17Hearken not unto them; serve the king of Babylon, and live; wherefore should this city become desolate? 18But if they be prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them now make intercession to the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, go not to Babylon. 19For thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remain in this city, 20which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem; 21yea, thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remain in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem: 22They shall be carried to Babylon, and there shall they be, until the day that I remember them, saith the LORD, and bring them up, and restore them to this place.'

Hananiah's False Prophecy

1And it came to pass the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, in the fifth month, that Hananiah the son of Azzur the prophet, who was of Gibeon, spoke unto me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying: 2Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying: I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon. 3Within two full years will I bring back into this place all the vessels of the LORD'S house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place, and carried them to Babylon; 4and I will bring back to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah, that went to Babylon, saith the LORD; for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.'

5Then the prophet Jeremiah said unto the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD, 6even the prophet Jeremiah said: 'Amen! the LORD do so! the LORD perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring back the vessels of the LORD'S house, and all them that are carried away captive, from Babylon unto this place! 7Nevertheless hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people: 8The prophets that have been before me and before thee of old prophesied against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence. 9The prophet that prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then shall the prophet be known, that the LORD hath truly sent him.'

10Then Hananiah the prophet took the bar from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and broke it. 11And Hananiah spoke in the presence of all the people, saying: 'Thus saith the LORD: Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from off the neck of all the nations within two full years.' And the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12Then the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the bar from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying: 13Go, and tell Hananiah, saying: Thus saith the LORD: Thou hast broken the bars of wood; but thou shalt make in their stead bars of iron. 14For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they shall serve him; and I have given him the beasts of the field also.' 15Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet: 'Hear now, Hananiah; the LORD hath not sent thee; but thou makest this people to trust in a lie. 16Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will send thee away from off the face of the earth; this year thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken perversion against the LORD.'

17So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.

Jeremiah's Letter to the Exiles

1Now these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the residue of the elders of the captivity, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon, 2after that Jeconiah the king, and the queen-mother, and the officers, and the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the craftsmen, and the smiths, were departed from Jerusalem; 3by the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, saying: 4Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, unto all the captivity, whom I have caused to be carried away captive from Jerusalem unto Babylon: 5Build ye houses, and dwell in them, and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them; 6take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; and multiply ye there, and be not diminished. 7And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captive, and pray unto the LORD for it; for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace. 8For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Let not your prophets that are in the midst of you, and your diviners, beguile you, neither hearken ye to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed. 9For they prophesy falsely unto you in My name; I have not sent them, saith the LORD.

10For thus saith the LORD: After seventy years are accomplished for Babylon, I will remember you, and perform My good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place. 11For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you a future and a hope. 12And ye shall call upon Me, and go, and pray unto Me, and I will hearken unto you. 13And ye shall seek Me, and find Me, when ye shall search for Me with all your heart. 14And I will be found of you, saith the LORD, and I will turn your captivity, and gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith the LORD; and I will bring you back unto the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive.

15For ye have said: 'The LORD hath raised us up prophets in Babylon.' 16For thus saith the LORD concerning the king that sitteth upon the throne of David, and concerning all the people that dwell in this city, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity; 17thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so bad. 18And I will pursue after them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will make them a horror unto all the kingdoms of the earth, a curse, and an astonishment, and a hissing, and a reproach, among all the nations whither I have driven them; 19because they have not hearkened to My words, saith the LORD, wherewith I sent unto them My servants the prophets, sending them betimes and often; but ye would not hear, saith the LORD. 20Hear ye therefore the word of the LORD, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon:

21Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, who prophesy a lie unto you in My name: Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall slay them before your eyes; 22and of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captivity of Judah that are in Babylon, saying: 'The LORD make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire'; 23because they have wrought vile deeds in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbours' wives, and have spoken words in My name falsely, which I commanded them not; but I am He that knoweth, and am witness, saith the LORD.

The Message to Shemaiah

24And concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite thou shalt speak, saying: 25Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying: Because thou hast sent letters in thine own name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying: 26The LORD hath made thee priest in the stead of Jehoiada the priest, that there should be officers in the house of the LORD for every man that is mad, and maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldest put him in the stocks and in the collar. 27Now therefore, why hast thou not rebuked Jeremiah of Anathoth, who maketh himself a prophet to you, 28forasmuch as he hath sent unto us in Babylon, saying: The captivity is long; build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them?’

29And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the prophet. 30Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying: 31Send to all them of the captivity, saying: Thus saith the LORD concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite: Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he hath caused you to trust in a lie; 32therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed; he shall not have a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good that I will do unto My people, saith the LORD; because he hath spoken perversion against the LORD.

The Restoration of Israel and Judah

(Ezekiel 28:25–26)

1The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying: 2Thus speaketh the LORD, the God of Israel, saying: Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book. 3For, lo, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will turn the captivity of My people Israel and Judah, saith the LORD; and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.’

4And these are the words that the LORD spoke concerning Israel and concerning Judah.

5For thus saith the LORD: We have heard a voice of trembling, Of fear, and not of peace.

6Ask ye now, and see whether a man doth travail with child; Wherefore do I see every man With his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, And all faces are turned into paleness?

7Alas! for that day is great, So that none is like it; And it is a time of trouble unto Jacob, But out of it shall he be saved.

8And it shall come to pass in that day, Saith the LORD of hosts, That I will break his yoke from off thy neck, And will burst thy bands; And strangers shall no more make him their bondman; 9But they shall serve the LORD their God, And David their king, Whom I will raise up unto them.

10Therefore fear thou not, O Jacob My servant, saith the LORD; Neither be dismayed, O Israel; For, lo, I will save thee from afar, And thy seed from the land of their captivity; And Jacob shall again be quiet and at ease, And none shall make him afraid.

11For I am with thee, saith the LORD, to save thee; For I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have scattered thee, But I will not make a full end of thee; For I will correct thee in measure, And will not utterly destroy thee.

12For thus saith the LORD: Thy hurt is incurable, And thy wound is grievous.

13None deemeth of thy wound that it may be bound up; Thou hast no healing medicines.

14All thy lovers have forgotten thee, They seek thee not; For I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, With the chastisement of a cruel one; For the greatness of thine iniquity, Because thy sins were increased.

15Why criest thou for thy hurt, That thy pain is incurable? For the greatness of thine iniquity, because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee.

16Therefore all they that devour thee shall be devoured, And all thine adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity; And they that spoil thee shall be a spoil, And all that prey upon thee will I give for a prey.

17For I will restore health unto thee, And I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the LORD; Because they have called thee an outcast: 'She is Zion, there is none that careth for her.'

18Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will turn the captivity of Jacob's tents, And have compassion on his dwelling-places; And the city shall be builded upon her own mound, And the palace shall be inhabited upon its wonted place.

19And out of them shall proceed thanksgiving And the voice of them that make merry; And I will multiply them, and they shall not be diminished, I will also increase them, and they shall not dwindle away.

20Their children also shall be as aforetime, And their congregation shall be established before Me, And I will punish all that oppress them.

21And their prince shall be of themselves, And their ruler shall proceed from the midst of them; And I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach unto Me; For who is he that hath pledged his heart To approach unto Me? saith the LORD.

22And ye shall be My people, and I will be your God.

23Behold, a storm of the LORD is gone forth in fury, A sweeping storm; it shall whirl upon the head of the wicked.

24The fierce anger of the LORD shall not return, Until He have executed, and till He have performed The purposes of His heart; In the end of days ye shall consider it.

Mourning Turned to Joy

(Matthew 2:16–18)

1At that time, saith the LORD, Will I be the God of all the families of Israel, And they shall be My people.

2Thus saith the LORD: The people that were left of the sword Have found grace in the wilderness, Even Israel, when I go to cause him to rest.

3From afar the LORD appeared unto me.' 'Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love; Therefore with affection have I drawn thee.

4Again will I build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Israel; Again shalt thou be adorned with thy tabrets, And shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry.

5Again shalt thou plant vineyards upon the mountains of Samaria; The planters shall plant, and shall have the use thereof.

6For there shall be a day, That the watchmen shall call upon the mount Ephraim: Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion, Unto the LORD our God.'

7For thus saith the LORD: Sing with gladness for Jacob, And shout at the head of the nations; Announce ye, praise ye, and say: 'O LORD, save Thy people, The remnant of Israel.'

8Behold, I will bring them from the north country, And gather them from the uttermost parts of the earth, And with them the blind and the lame, The woman with child and her that travaileth with child together; A great company shall they return hither.

9They shall come with weeping, And with supplications will I lead them; I will cause them to walk by rivers of waters, In a straight way wherein they shall not stumble; For I am become a father to Israel, And Ephraim is My first-born.

10Hear the word of the LORD, O ye nations, And declare it in the isles afar off, and say: 'He that scattered Israel doth gather him, And keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock.'

11For the LORD hath ransomed Jacob, And He redeemeth him from the hand of him that is stronger than he.

12And they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, And shall flow unto the goodness of the LORD, To the corn, and to the wine, and to the oil, And to the young of the flock and of the herd; And their soul shall be as a watered garden, And they shall not pine any more at all.

13Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, And the young men and the old together; For I will turn their mourning into joy, And will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow.

14And I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, And My people shall be satisfied with My goodness, Saith the LORD.

15Thus saith the LORD: A voice is heard in Ramah, Lamentation, and bitter weeping, Rachel weeping for her children; She refuseth to be comforted for her children, Because they are not.

16Thus saith the LORD: Refrain thy voice from weeping, And thine eyes from tears; For thy work shall be rewarded, saith the LORD; And they shall come back from the land of the enemy.

17And there is hope for thy future, saith the LORD; And thy children shall return to their own border.

18I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself: 'Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, As a calf untrained; Turn thou me, and I shall be turned, For Thou art the LORD my God.

19Surely after that I was turned, I repented, And after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh; I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, Because I did bear the reproach of my youth.'

20Is Ephraim a darling son unto Me? Is he a child that is dandled? For as often as I speak of him, I do earnestly remember him still; Therefore My heart yearneth for him, I will surely have compassion upon him, saith the LORD.

21Set thee up waymarks, Make thee guide-posts; Set thy heart toward the high-way, Even the way by which thou wentest; Return, O virgin of Israel, Return to these thy cities.

22How long wilt thou turn away coyly, O thou backsliding daughter? For the LORD hath created a new thing in the earth: A woman shall court a man.

23Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Yet again shall they use this speech In the land of Judah and in the cities thereof, When I shall turn their captivity: 'The LORD bless thee, O habitation of righteousness, O mountain of holiness.'

24And Judah and all the cities thereof Shall dwell therein together: The husbandmen, and they that go forth with flocks. 25For I have satiated the weary soul, And every pining soul have I replenished.

The New Covenant

(Hebrews 8:6–13)

26Upon this I awaked, and beheld; And my sleep was sweet unto me.

27Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast. 28And it shall come to pass, that like as I have watched over them to pluck up and to break down, and to overthrow and to destroy, and to afflict; so will I watch over them to build and to plant, saith the LORD.

29In those days they shall say no more: 'The fathers have eaten sour grapes, And the children's teeth are set on edge.'

30But every one shall die for his own iniquity; every man that eateth the sour grapes, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah; 32not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; forasmuch as they broke My covenant, although I was a lord over them, saith the LORD. 33But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the LORD, I will put My law in their inward parts, and in their heart will I write it; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people; 34and they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying: 'Know the LORD'; for they shall all know Me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the LORD; for I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin will I remember no more.

35Thus saith the LORD, Who giveth the sun for a light by day, And the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, Who stirreth up the sea, that the waves thereof roar, The LORD of hosts is His name:

36If these ordinances depart from before Me, Saith the LORD, Then the seed of Israel also shall cease From being a nation before Me for ever.

37Thus saith the LORD: If heaven above can be measured, And the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, Then will I also cast off all the seed of Israel For all that they have done, saith the LORD.

38Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that the city shall be built to the LORD from the tower of Hananel unto the gate of the corner. 39And the measuring line shall yet go out straight forward unto the hill Gareb, and shall turn about unto Goah. 40And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields unto the brook Kidron, unto the corner of the horse gate toward the east, shall be holy unto the LORD; it shall not be plucked up, nor thrown down any more for ever.

Jeremiah Buys Hanamel's Field

1The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar. 2Now at that time the king of Babylon's army was besieging Jerusalem; and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the guard, which was in the king of Judah's house. 3For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying: 'Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say: Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it; 4and Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes; 5and he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I remember him, saith the LORD; though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper?'

6And Jeremiah said: 'The word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 7Behold, Hanamel, the son of Shallum thine uncle, shall come unto thee, saying: Buy thee my field that is in Anathoth; for the right of redemption is thine to buy it.' 8So Hanamel mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the guard according to the word of the LORD, and said unto me: 'Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin; for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine; buy it for thyself.' Then I knew that this was the word of the LORD.

⁹And I bought the field that was in Anathoth of Hanamel mine uncle's son, and weighed him the money, even seventeen shekels of silver. ¹⁰And I subscribed the deed, and sealed it, and called witnesses, and weighed him the money in the balances. ¹¹So I took the deed of the purchase, both that which was sealed, containing the terms and conditions, and that which was open; ¹²and I delivered the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the presence of Hanamel mine uncle[^s son], and in the presence of the witnesses that subscribed the deed of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the guard. ¹³And I charged Baruch before them, saying: ¹⁴Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Take these deeds, this deed of the purchase, both that which is sealed, and this deed which is open, and put them in an earthen vessel; that they may continue many days. ¹⁵For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Houses and fields and vineyards shall yet again be bought in this land.'

Jeremiah Prays for Understanding

¹⁶Now after I had delivered the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the LORD, saying: ¹⁷Ah Lord GOD! behold, Thou hast made the heaven and the earth by Thy great power and by Thy outstretched arm; there is nothing too hard for Thee; ¹⁸who showest mercy unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them; the great, the mighty God, the LORD of hosts is His name; ¹⁹great in counsel, and mighty in work; whose eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men, to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings; ²⁰who didst set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day, and in Israel and among other men; and madest Thee a name, as at this day; ²¹and didst bring forth Thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with great terror; ²²and gavest them this land, which Thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey; ²³and they came in, and possessed it; but they hearkened not to Thy voice, neither walked in Thy law; they have done nothing of all that Thou commandedst them to do; therefore Thou hast caused all this evil to befall them; ²⁴behold the mounds, they are come unto the city to take it; and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans that fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence; and what Thou hast spoken is come to pass; and, behold, Thou seest it. ²⁵Yet Thou hast said unto me, O Lord GOD: Buy thee the field for money, and call witnesses; whereas the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.'

The LORD Answers Jeremiah

²⁶Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying: ²⁷Behold, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh; is there any thing too hard for Me? ²⁸Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it; ²⁹and the Chaldeans, that fight against this city, shall come and set this city on fire, and burn it, with the houses, upon whose roofs they have offered unto Baal, and poured out drink-offerings unto other gods, to provoke Me. ³⁰For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have only done that which was evil in My sight from their youth; for the children of Israel have only provoked Me with the work of their hands, saith the LORD. ³¹For this city hath been to Me a provocation of Mine anger and of My fury from the day that they built it even unto this day, that I should remove it from before My face; ³²because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke Me, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ³³And they have turned unto Me the back, and not the face; and though I taught them, teaching them betimes and often, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction. ³⁴But they set their abominations in the house whereupon My name is called, to defile it. ³⁵And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to set apart their sons and their daughters unto Molech; which I commanded them not, neither came it into My mind, that they should do this abomination; to cause Judah to sin.

A Promise of Restoration

(Ezekiel 11:13–21)

³⁶And now therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city, whereof ye say: It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: ³⁷Behold, I will gather them out of all the countries, whither I have driven them in Mine anger, and in My fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them back unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely; ³⁸and they shall be My people, and I will be their God; ³⁹and I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear Me for ever; for the good of them, and of their children after them; ⁴⁰and I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; and I will put My fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from Me. ⁴¹Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land in truth with My whole heart and with My whole soul. ⁴²For thus saith the LORD: Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them. ⁴³And fields shall be bought in this land, whereof ye say: It is desolate, without man or beast; it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans. ⁴⁴Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe the deeds, and seal them, and call witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the hill-country, and in the cities of the Lowland, and in the cities of the South; for I will cause their captivity to return, saith the LORD.'

The Excellence of the Restored Nation

¹Moreover the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the second time, while he was yet shut up in the court of the guard, saying: ²Thus saith the LORD the Maker thereof, The LORD that formed it to establish it, The LORD is His name: ³Call unto Me, and I will answer thee, And will tell thee great things, and hidden, which thou knowest not. ⁴For thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are broken down for mounds, and for ramparts; ⁵whereon they come to fight with the Chaldeans, even to fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have slain in Mine anger and in My fury, and for all whose wickedness I have hid My face from this city: ⁶Behold, I will bring it healing and cure, and I will cure them; and I will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth. ⁷And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them, as at the first. ⁸And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against Me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against Me, and whereby they have transgressed against Me. ⁹And this city shall be to Me for a name of joy, for a praise and for a glory, before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them, and shall fear and tremble for all the good and for all the peace that I procure unto it.

10Thus saith the LORD: Yet again there shall be heard in this place, whereof ye say: It is waste, without man and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate, without man and without inhabitant and without beast,

12Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Yet again shall there be in this place, which is waste, without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, a habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down. 13In the cities of the hill-country, in the cities of the Lowland, and in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks again pass under the hands of him that counteth them, saith the LORD.

The Covenant with David

14Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will perform that good word which I have spoken concerning the house of Israel and concerning the house of Judah. 15In those days, and at that time, Will I cause a shoot of righteousness to grow up unto David; And he shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. 16In those days shall Judah be saved, And Jerusalem shall dwell safely; And this is the name whereby she shall be called, The LORD is our righteousness. 17For thus saith the LORD: There shall not be cut off unto David a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel; 18neither shall there be cut off unto the priests the Levites a man before Me to offer burnt-offerings, and to burn meal-offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

19And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying: 20Thus saith the LORD: If ye can break My covenant with the day, And My covenant with the night, So that there should not be day and night in their season; 21Then may also My covenant be broken with David My servant, That he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; And with the Levites the priests, My ministers. 22As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, Neither the sand of the sea measured; So will I multiply the seed of David My servant, And the Levites that minister unto Me.

23And the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying: 24Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying: The two families which the LORD did choose, He hath cast them off? and they contemn My people, that they should be no more a nation before them. 25Thus saith the LORD: If My covenant be not with day and night, if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth; 26then will I also cast away the seed of Jacob, and of David My servant, so that I will not take of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; for I will cause their captivity to return, and will have compassion on them.'

A Prophecy against Zedekiah

1The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the land of his dominion, and all the peoples, fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities thereof, saying: 2Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Go, and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him: Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire; 3and thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand; and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon. 4Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah: Thus saith the LORD concerning thee: Thou shalt not die by the sword; 5thou shalt die in peace; and with the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings that were before thee, so shall they make a burning for thee; and they shall lament thee: 'Ah lord!' for I have spoken the word, saith the LORD.

6Then Jeremiah the prophet spoke all these words unto Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem, 7when the king of Babylon's army fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish and against Azekah; for these alone remained of the cities of Judah as fortified cities.

Freedom for Hebrew Slaves

8The word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people that were at Jerusalem, to proclaim liberty unto them; 9that every man should let his manservant, and every man his maidservant, being a Hebrew man or a Hebrew woman, go free; that none should make bondmen of them, even of a Jew his brother; 10and all the princes and all the people hearkened, that had entered into the covenant to let every one his man-servant, and every one his maid-servant, go free, and not to make bondmen of them any more; they hearkened, and let them go; 11but afterwards they turned, and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids;

12therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying: 13Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying: 14At the end of seven years ye shall let go every man his brother that is a Hebrew, that hath been sold unto thee, and hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee'; but your fathers hearkened not unto Me, neither inclined their ear. 15And ye were now turned, and had done that which is right in Mine eyes, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour; and ye had made a covenant before Me in the house whereon My name is called; 16but ye turned and profaned My name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom ye had let go free at their pleasure, to return; and ye brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for handmaids.

17Therefore thus saith the LORD: Ye have not hearkened unto Me, to proclaim liberty, every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour; behold, I proclaim for you a liberty, saith the LORD, unto the sword, unto the pestilence, and unto the famine; and I will make you a horror unto all the kingdoms of the earth. 18And I will give the men that have transgressed My covenant, that have not performed the words of the covenant which they made before Me, when they cut the calf in twain and passed between the parts thereof; 19the princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the officers, and the priests, and all the people of the land, that passed between the parts of the calf; 20I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life; and their dead bodies shall be for food unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth. 21And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, that are gone up from you. 22Behold,

I will command, saith the LORD, and cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire; and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.

The Obedience of the Rechabites

1The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying: 2Go unto the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink.' 3Then I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites; 4and I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaliah, the man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the door; 5and I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites goblets full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them: 'Drink ye wine.' 6But they said: 'We will drink no wine; for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying: Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons, for ever; 7neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any; but all your days ye shall dwell in tents, that ye may live many days in the land wherein ye sojourn. 8And we have hearkened to the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters; 9nor to build houses for us to dwell in, neither to have vineyard, or field, or seed; 10but we have dwelt in tents, and have hearkened, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us. 11But it came to pass, when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came up against the land, that we said: Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Arameans; so we dwell at Jerusalem.'

Judah Rebuked

12Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying: 13Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Go, and say to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem: Will ye not receive instruction to hearken to My words? saith the LORD. 14The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, that he commanded his sons, not to drink wine, are performed, and unto this day they drink none, for they hearken to their father's commandment; but I have spoken unto you, speaking betimes and often, and ye have not hearkened unto Me. 15I have sent also unto you all My servants the prophets, sending them betimes and often, saying: Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers; but ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto Me. 16Because the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed the commandment of their father which he commanded them, but this people hath not hearkened unto Me; 17therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them; because I have spoken unto them, but they have not heard, and I have called unto them, but they have not answered.'

18And unto the house of the Rechabites Jeremiah said: Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Because ye have hearkened to the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he commanded you; 19therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: There shall not be cut off unto Jonadab the son of Rechab a man to stand before Me for ever.'

Jeremiah's Scroll Read in the Temple

1And it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying: 2Take thee a roll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day I spoke unto thee, from the days of Josiah, even unto this day. 3It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them; that they may return every man from his evil way, and I may forgive their iniquity and their sin.'

4Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah; and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which He had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book. 5And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying: 'I am detained, I cannot go into the house of the LORD; 6therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the ears of the people in the LORD'S house upon a fast-day; and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Judah that come out of their cities. 7It may be they will present their supplication before the LORD, and will return every one from his evil way; for great is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced against this people.'8And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the LORD in the LORD'S house.

9Now it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month, that they proclaimed a fast before the LORD, all the people in Jerusalem, and all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem. 10Then did Baruch read in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court, at the entry of the new gate of the LORD'S house, in the ears of all the people.

Jeremiah's Scroll Read in the Palace

11And when Micaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of the LORD, 12he went down into the king's house, into the scribe's chamber; and, lo, all the princes sat there, even Elishama the scribe, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes. 13Then Micaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people. 14Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying: 'Take in thy hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come.' So Baruch the son of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them. 15And they said unto him: 'Sit down now, and read it in our ears.' So Baruch read it in their ears. 16Now it came to pass, when they had heard all the words, they turned in fear one toward another, and said unto Baruch: 'We will surely tell the king of all these words.'17And they asked Baruch, saying: 'Tell us now: How didst thou write all these words at his mouth?' 18Then Baruch answered them: 'He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.'19Then said the princes unto Baruch: 'Go, hide thee, thou and Jeremiah, and let no man know where ye are.'

Jehoiakim Burns the Scroll

20And they went in to the king into the court; but they had deposited the roll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe; and they told all the words in the ears of the king. 21So the king sent Jehudi to fetch the roll; and he took it out of the chamber of Elishama the scribe. And Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes that stood beside the king. 22Now the king was sitting in the winter-house in the ninth month; and the brazier was burning before him. 23And it came to pass, when Jehudi had read three or four columns, that he cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was in the brazier, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was in the brazier. 24Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words. 25Moreover Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah had entreated the king not to burn the roll; but he would not hear them. 26And the king commanded Jerahmeel the king's son, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet; but the LORD hid them.

Jeremiah Rewrites the Scroll

27Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, after that the king had burned the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, saying: 28Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burned. 29And concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah thou shalt say: Thus saith the LORD: Thou hast burned this roll, saying: Why hast thou written therein, saying: The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast? 30Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David; and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost. 31And I will visit upon him and his seed and his servants their iniquity; and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they hearkened not.'

32Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah; who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire; and there were added besides unto them many like words.

Jeremiah Warns Zedekiah

1And Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned as king, instead of Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah. 2But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of the LORD, which He spoke by the prophet Jeremiah.

3And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, to the prophet Jeremiah, saying: 'Pray now unto the LORD our God for us.' 4Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people; for they had not put him into prison. 5And Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt; and when the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem heard tidings of them, they broke up from Jerusalem.

6Then came the word of the LORD unto the prophet Jeremiah, saying: 7Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that sent you unto Me to inquire of Me: Behold, Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land. 8And the Chaldeans shall return, and fight against this city; and they shall take it, and burn it with fire. 9Thus saith the LORD: Deceive not yourselves, saying: The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us; for they shall not depart. 10For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet would they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.'

Jeremiah Imprisoned

11And it came to pass, that when the army of the Chaldeans was broken up from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh's army, 12then Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to receive his portion there, in the midst of the people. 13And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah; and he laid hold on Jeremiah the prophet, saying: 'Thou fallest away to the Chaldeans.' 14Then said Jeremiah: 'It is false; I fall not away to the Chaldeans'; but he hearkened not to him; so Irijah laid hold on Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes. 15And the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe; for they had made that the prison. 16When Jeremiah was come into the dungeon-house, and into the cells, and Jeremiah had remained there many days;

17then Zedekiah the king sent, and fetched him; and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said: 'Is there any word from the LORD?' And Jeremiah said: 'There is.' He said also: 'Thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon.' 18Moreover Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah: 'Wherein have I sinned against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison? 19Where now are your prophets that prophesied unto you, saying: The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land? 20And now hear, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my supplication, I pray thee, be presented before thee; that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there.' 21Then Zedekiah the king commanded, and they committed Jeremiah into the court of the guard, and they gave him daily a loaf of bread out of the bakers' street, until all the bread in the city was spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

Jeremiah Cast into the Cistern

1And Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah spoke unto all the people, saying: 2Thus saith the LORD: He that remaineth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey, and he shall live. 3Thus saith the LORD: This city shall surely be given into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it.' 4Then the princes said unto the king: 'Let this man, we pray thee, be put to death; forasmuch as he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them; for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt.' 5Then Zedekiah the king said: 'Behold, he is in your hand; for the king is not he that can do any thing against you.' 6Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the pit of Malchiah the king's son, that was in the court of the guard; and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the pit there was no water, but mire; and Jeremiah sank in the mire.

7Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, an officer, who was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the pit; the king then sitting in the gate of Benjamin; 8Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and spoke to the king, saying: 9My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the pit; and he is like to die in the place where he is because of the famine; for there is no more bread in the city.' 10Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying: 'Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the pit, before he die.' 11So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence worn clouts and worn rags, and let them down by cords into the pit to Jeremiah. 12And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah: 'Put now these worn clouts and rags under thine armholes under the cords.' And Jeremiah did so. 13So they drew up Jeremiah with the cords, and took him up out of the pit; and Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

14Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the third entry that was in the house of the LORD; and the king said unto Jeremiah: 'I will ask thee a thing; hide nothing from me.' 15Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah: 'If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, thou wilt not hearken unto me.' 16So Zedekiah the king swore secretly unto Jeremiah, saying: 'As the LORD liveth, that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.'

17Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah: 'Thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: If thou wilt go forth unto the king of Babylon's princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire; and thou shalt live, thou, and thy house; 18but if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand.' 19And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah: 'I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen away to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me.' 20But Jeremiah said: 'They shall not deliver thee. Hearken, I beseech thee, to the voice of the LORD, in that which I speak unto thee; so it shall be well with thee, and thy soul shall live. 21But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the LORD hath shown me:

22Behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house shall be brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes, and those women shall say: Thy familiar friends have set thee on, And have prevailed over thee; Thy feet are sunk in the mire, And they are turned away back.

24Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah: 'Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die. 25But if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee: Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the king; hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death; also what the king said unto thee; 26then thou shalt say unto them: I presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house, to die there.' ²⁷Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah, and asked him; and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they left off speaking with him; for the matter was not reported. ²⁸So Jeremiah abode in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken. And it came to pass, when Jerusalem was taken—

The Fall of Jerusalem

(2 Kings 25:1–12; 2 Chronicles 36:15–21)

¹in the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and all his army against Jerusalem, and besieged it; ²in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, a breach was made in the city— ³that all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sat in the middle gate, even Nergal-sarezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarsechim Rab-saris, Nergal-sarezer Rab-mag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babylon. ⁴And it came to pass, that when Zedekiah the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls; and he went out the way of the Arabah. ⁵But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath, and he gave judgment upon him. ⁶Then the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes; also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah. ⁷Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him in fetters, to carry him to Babylon. ⁸And the Chaldeans burned the king's house, and the house of the people, with fire, and broke down the walls of Jerusalem. ⁹Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the remnant of the people that remained in the city, the deserters also, that fell away to him, with the rest of the people that remained. ¹⁰But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people, that had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields in that day.

Jeremiah Delivered

¹¹Now Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, saying: ¹²Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm; but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee.' ¹³So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard sent, and Nebushazban Rab-saris, and Nergal-sarezer Rab-mag, and all the chief officers of the king of Babylon; ¹⁴they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the guard, and committed him unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, that he should carry him home; so he dwelt among the people.

¹⁵Now the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the guard, saying: ¹⁶Go, and speak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying: Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring My words upon this city for evil, and not for good; and they shall be accomplished before thee in that day. ¹⁷But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the LORD; and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid. ¹⁸For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee; because thou hast put thy trust in Me, saith the LORD.'

Jeremiah Remains in Judah

1The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all the captives of Jerusalem and Judah, that were carried away captive unto Babylon. 2And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him: 'The LORD thy God pronounced this evil upon this place; 3and the LORD hath brought it, and done according as He spoke; because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not hearkened to His voice, therefore this thing is come upon you. 4And now, behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which are upon thy hand. If it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will look well unto thee; but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear; behold, all the land is before thee; whither it seemeth good and right unto thee to go, thither go.—5Yet he would not go back.—Go back then to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people; or go wheresoever it seemeth right unto thee to go.' So the captain of the guard gave him an allowance and a present, and let him go. 6Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

Gedaliah Governs in Judah

(2 Kings 25:22–24)

7Now when all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poorest of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon; 8then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of the Maacathite, they and their men. 9And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan swore unto them and to their men, saying: 'Fear not to serve the Chaldeans; dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you. 10As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah, to stand before the Chaldeans that may come unto us; but ye, gather ye wine and summer fruits and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.' 11Likewise when all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the children of Ammon, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan; 12then all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah, unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits in great abundance.

The Plot against Gedaliah

13Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, 14and said unto him: 'Dost thou know that Baalis the king of the children of Ammon hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to take thy life?' But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed them not. 15Then Johanan the son of Kareah spoke to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying: 'Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it; wherefore should he take thy life, that all the Jews that are gathered unto thee should be scattered, and the remnant of Judah perish?' 16But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah: 'Thou shalt not do this thing; for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.'

The Murder of Gedaliah

(2 Kings 25:25–26)

1Now it came to pass in the seventh month, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the seed royal, and one of the chief officers of the king, and ten men with him, came unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah; and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah. 2Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land. 3Ishmael also slew all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, even the men of war.

9Now the pit wherein Ishmael cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had slain by the side of Gedaliah was that which Asa the king had made for fear of Baasa king of Israel; the same Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled with them that were slain. 10Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, even the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam; Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the children of Ammon.

Johanan Rescues the Captives

11But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done, 12then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon. 13Now it came to pass, that when all the people that were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad. 14So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah cast about and returned, and went unto Johanan the son of Kareah. 15But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the children of Ammon. 16Then took Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after that he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the men, even the men of war, and the women, and the children, and the officers, whom he had brought back from Gibeon; 17and they departed, and dwelt in Geruth Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, to go to enter into Egypt, 18because of the Chaldeans; for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor over the land.

A Warning against Going to Egypt

1Then all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jezaniah the son of Hoshai, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest, came near, 2and said unto Jeremiah the prophet: 'Let, we pray thee, our supplication be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant; for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us; 3that the LORD thy God may tell us the way wherein we should walk, and the thing that we should do.' 4Then Jeremiah the prophet said unto them: 'I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God according to your words; and it shall come to pass, that whatsoever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare it unto you; I will keep nothing back from you.' 5Then they said to Jeremiah: 'The LORD be a true and faithful witness against us, if we do not even according to all the word wherewith the LORD thy God shall send thee to us. 6Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will hearken to the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we send thee; that it may be well with us, when we hearken to the voice of the LORD our God.'

7And it came to pass after ten days, that the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah. 8Then called he Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, 9and said unto them: 'Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to present your supplication before Him: 10If ye will still abide in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up; for I repent Me of the evil that I have done unto you. 11Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid; be not afraid of him, saith the LORD; for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand. 12And I will grant you compassion, that he may have compassion upon you, and cause you to return to your own land. 13But if ye say: We will not abide in this land; so that ye hearken not to the voice of the LORD your God; 14saying: No; but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the horn, nor have hunger of bread; and there will we abide; 15now therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah: Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: If ye wholly set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to sojourn there; 16then it shall come to pass, that the sword, which ye fear, shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, whereof ye are afraid, shall follow hard after you there in Egypt; and there ye shall die. 17So shall it be with all the men that set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there; they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them.

18For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: As Mine anger and My fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall My fury be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt; and ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach; and ye shall see this place no more. 19The LORD hath spoken concerning you, O remnant of Judah: Go ye not into Egypt; know certainly that I have forewarned you this day. ²⁰For ye have dealt deceitfully against your own souls; for ye sent me unto the LORD your God, saying: Pray for us unto the LORD our God; and according unto all that the LORD our God shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it; ²¹and I have this day declared it to you; but ye have not hearkened to the voice of the LORD your God in any thing for which He hath sent me unto you. ²²Now therefore know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go to sojourn there.'

Jeremiah Taken to Egypt

¹And it came to pass, that when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking unto all the people all the words of the LORD their God, wherewith the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these words, ²then spoke Azariah the son of Hoshaiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying unto Jeremiah: 'Thou speakest falsely; the LORD our God hath not sent thee to say: Ye shall not go into Egypt to sojourn there; ³but Baruch the son of Neriah setteth thee on against us, to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death, and carry us away captives to Babylon.' ⁴So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, hearkened not to the voice of the LORD, to dwell in the land of Judah. ⁵But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all the nations whither they had been driven to sojourn in the land of Judah: ⁶the men, and the women, and the children, and the king's daughters, and every person that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah; ⁷and they came into the land of Egypt; for they hearkened not to the voice of the LORD; and they came even to Tahpanhes.

⁸Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying: ⁹Take great stones in thy hand, and hide them in the mortar in the framework, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah; ¹⁰and say unto them: Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, My servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid; and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them. ¹¹And he shall come, and shall smite the land of Egypt; such as are for death to death, and such as are for captivity to captivity, and such as are for the sword to the sword. ¹²And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt; and he shall burn them, and carry them away captives; and he shall fold up the land of Egypt, as a shepherd foldeth up his garment; and he shall go forth from thence in peace. ¹³He shall also break the pillars of Beth-shemesh, that is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the gods of Egypt shall he burn with fire.'

Judgment on the Jews in Egypt

1The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews that dwelt in the land of Egypt, that dwelt at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying: 2Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and, behold, this day they are a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein; 3because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke Me, in that they went to offer, and to serve other gods, whom they knew not, neither they, nor ye, nor your fathers. 4Howbeit I sent unto you all My servants the prophets, sending them betimes and often, saying: Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate. 5But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to forbear offering unto other gods. 6Wherefore My fury and Mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are wasted and desolate, as at this day. 7Therefore now thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Wherefore commit ye this great evil against your own souls, to cut off from you man and woman, infant and suckling, out of the midst of Judah, to leave you none remaining; 8in that ye provoke Me with the works of your hands, offering unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye are gone to sojourn; that ye may be cut off, and that ye may be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth? 9Have ye forgotten the wicked deeds of your fathers, and the wicked deeds of the kings of Judah, and the wicked deeds of their wives, and your own wicked deeds, and the wicked deeds of your wives, which they committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem? 10They are not humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in My law, nor in My statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will set My face against you for evil, even to cut off all Judah. 12And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and they shall all be consumed; in the land of Egypt shall they fall; they shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine; they shall die, from the least even unto the greatest, by the sword and by the famine; and they shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach. 13For I will punish them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; 14so that none of the remnant of Judah, that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall escape or remain, that they should return into the land of Judah, to which they have a desire to return to dwell there; for none shall return save such as shall escape.'

The Stubbornness of the People

15Then all the men who knew that their wives offered unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great assembly, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying: 16As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of the LORD, we will not hearken unto thee. 17But we will certainly perform every word that is gone forth out of our mouth, to offer unto the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem; for then had we plenty of food, and were well, and saw no evil. 18But since we let off to offer to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine. 19And is it we that offer to the queen of heaven, and pour out drink-offerings unto her? did we make her cakes in her image, and pour out drink-offerings unto her, without our husbands?'

Calamity for the Jews

20Then Jeremiah said unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, even to all the people that had given him that answer, saying: 21The offering that ye offered in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them, and came it not into His mind? ²²So that the LORD could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have committed; therefore is your land become a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, without an inhabitant, as at this day. ²³Because ye have offered, and because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not hearkened to the voice of the LORD, nor walked in His law, nor in His statutes, nor in His testimonies; therefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day.'

²⁴Moreover Jeremiah said unto all the people, and to all the women: 'Hear the word of the LORD, all Judah that are in the land of Egypt: ²⁵Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying: Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and with your hands have fulfilled it, saying: We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to offer to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her; ye shall surely establish your vows, and surely perform your vows. ²⁶Therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt: Behold, I have sworn by My great name, saith the LORD, that My name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt saying: As the Lord GOD liveth. ²⁷Behold, I watch over them for evil, and not for good; and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them. ²⁸And they that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah, few in number; and all the remnant of Judah, that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall know whose word shall stand, Mine, or theirs. ²⁹And this shall be the sign unto you, saith the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that My words shall surely stand against you for evil; ³⁰thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life; as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, his enemy, and that sought his life.'

Jeremiah's Message to Baruch

¹The word that Jeremiah the prophet spoke unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he wrote these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying: ²Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning thee, O Baruch: Thou didst say: ³Woe is me now! For the LORD hath added sorrow to my pain; I am weary with my groaning, And I find no rest. ⁴Thus shalt thou say unto him: Thus saith the LORD: Behold, that which I have built will I break down, And that which I have planted I will pluck up; And this in the whole land. ⁵And seekest thou great things for thyself? Seek them not; for, behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the LORD; but thy life will I give unto thee for a prey in all places whither thou goest.'

Judgment on Egypt

- 1The word of the LORD which came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the nations.
- 2Of Egypt: concerning the army of Pharaoh-necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah.
- 3Make ready buckler and shield, And draw near to battle.
- 4Harness the horses, and mount, ye horsemen, And stand forth with your helmets; Furbish the spears, put on the coats of mail.
- 5Wherefore do I see them dismayed and turned backward? And their mighty ones are beaten down, And they are fled apace, and look not back; Terror is on every side, saith the LORD.
- 6The swift cannot flee away, Nor the mighty man escape; In the north by the river Euphrates Have they stumbled and fallen.
- 7Who is this like the Nile that riseth up, Like the rivers whose waters toss themselves?
- 8Egypt is like the Nile that riseth up, And like the rivers whose waters toss themselves; And he saith: 'I will rise up, I will cover the earth, I will destroy the city and the inhabitants thereof.'
- 9Prance, ye horses, and rush madly, ye chariots; And let the mighty men go forth: Cush and Put, that handle the shield, And the Ludim, that handle and bend the bow.
- 10For the Lord GOD of hosts shall have on that day A day of vengeance, that He may avenge Him of His adversaries; And the sword shall devour and be satiate, And shall be made drunk with their blood; For the Lord GOD of hosts hath a sacrifice In the north country by the river Euphrates.
- 11Go up into Gilead, and take balm, O virgin daughter of Egypt; In vain dost thou use many medicines; There is no cure for thee.
- 12The nations have heard of thy shame, And the earth is full of thy cry; For the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, They are fallen both of them together.
- 13The word that the LORD spoke to Jeremiah the prophet, how that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon should come and smite the land of Egypt.
- 14Declare ye in Egypt, and announce in Migdol, And announce in Noph and in Tahpanhes; Say ye: 'Stand forth, and prepare thee, For the sword hath devoured round about thee.'
- 15Why is thy strong one overthrown? He stood not, because the LORD did thrust him down.
- 16He made many to stumble; Yea, they fell one upon another, And said: 'Arise, and let us return to our own people, And to the land of our birth, From the oppressing sword.'
- 17They cried there: 'Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise; He hath let the appointed time pass by.'
- 18As I live, saith the King, Whose name is the LORD of hosts, Surely like Tabor among the mountains, And like Carmel by the sea, so shall he come.

19O thou daughter that dwellest in Egypt, Furnish thyself to go into captivity; For Noph shall become a desolation, And shall be laid waste, without inhabitant.

20Egypt is a very fair heifer; But the gadfly out of the north is come, it is come.

21Also her mercenaries in the midst of her Are like calves of the stall, For they also are turned back, they are fled away together, They did not stand; For the day of their calamity is come upon them, The time of their visitation.

22The sound thereof shall go like the serpent's; For they march with an army, And come against her with axes, As hewers of wood.

23They cut down her forest, saith the LORD, Though it cannot be searched; Because they are more than the locusts, And are innumerable.

24The daughter of Egypt is put to shame; She is delivered into the hand of the people of the north.

25The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saith: Behold, I will punish Amon of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with her gods, and her kings; even Pharaoh, and them that trust in him; 26and I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants; and afterwards it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, saith the LORD.

27But fear not thou, O Jacob My servant, Neither be dismayed, O Israel; For, lo, I will save thee from afar, And thy seed from the land of their captivity; And Jacob shall again be quiet and at ease, And none shall make him afraid.

28Fear not thou, O Jacob My servant, saith the LORD, For I am with thee; For I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee, But I will not make a full end of thee; And I will correct thee in measure, But will not utterly destroy thee.

Judgment on the Philistines

(Zephaniah 2:4-7)

1The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote Gaza.

2Thus saith the LORD: Behold, waters rise up out of the north, And shall become an overflowing stream, And they shall overflow the land and all that is therein, The city and them that dwell therein; And the men shall cry, And all the inhabitants of the land shall wail.

4Because of the day that cometh To spoil all the Philistines, To cut off from Tyre and Zidon Every helper that remaineth; For the LORD will spoil the Philistines, The remnant of the isle of Caphtor.

5Baldness is come upon Gaza, Ashkelon is brought to nought, the remnant of their valley; How long wilt thou cut thyself?

6O thou sword of the LORD, How long will it be ere thou be quiet? Put up thyself into thy scabbard, Rest, and be still.

7How canst thou be quiet? For the LORD hath given it a charge; Against Ashkelon, and against the sea-shore, There hath He appointed it.

Judgment on Moab

(Isaiah 15:1–9)

1Of Moab. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Woe unto Nebo! for it is spoiled; Kiriathaim is put to shame, it is taken; Misgab is put to shame and dismayed.

2The praise of Moab is no more; In Heshbon they have devised evil against her: 'Come, and let us cut her off from being a nation.' Thou also, O Madmen, shalt be brought to silence; The sword shall pursue thee.

3Hark! a cry from Horonaim, Spoiling and great destruction!

4Moab is destroyed; Her little ones have caused a cry to be heard.

5For by the ascent of Luhith With continual weeping shall they go up; For in the going down of Horonaim They have heard the distressing cry of destruction.

6Flee, save your lives, And be like a tamarisk in the wilderness.

7For, because thou hast trusted In thy works and in thy treasures, Thou also shalt be taken; And Chemosh shall go forth into captivity, His priests and his princes together.

8And the spoiler shall come upon every city, And no city shall escape; The valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed; As the LORD hath spoken.

9Give wings unto Moab, For she must fly and get away; And her cities shall become a desolation, Without any to dwell therein.

10Cursed be he that doeth the work of the LORD with a slack hand, And cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood.

11 Moab hath been at ease from his youth, And he hath settled on his lees, And hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, Neither hath he gone into captivity; Therefore his taste remaineth in him, And his scent is not changed.

12 Therefore, behold, the days come, Saith the LORD, That I will send unto him them that tilt up, And they shall tilt him up; And they shall empty his vessels, And break their bottles in pieces. 13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, As the house of Israel was ashamed Of Beth-el their confidence.

14 How say ye: 'We are mighty men, And valiant men for the war'?

15 Moab is spoiled, and they are gone up into her cities, And his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter, Saith the King, Whose name is the LORD of hosts.

16 The calamity of Moab is near to come, And his affliction hasteth fast.

17 Bemoan him, all ye that are round about him, And all ye that know his name; Say: 'How is the strong staff broken, The beautiful rod!'

18 O thou daughter that dwellest in Dibon, Come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst; For the spoiler of Moab is come up against thee, He hath destroyed thy strongholds.

19 O inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way, and watch; Ask him that fleeth, and her that escapeth; Say: 'What hath been done?'

20 Moab is put to shame, for it is dismayed; Wail and cry; Tell ye it in Arnon, That Moab is spoiled.

21 And judgment is come upon the country of the Plain; upon Holon, and upon Jahzah, and upon Mephaath; 22 and upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Beth-diblathaim; 23 and upon Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon; 24 and upon Keriioth, and upon Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near. 25 The horn of Moab is cut off, And his arm is broken, Saith the LORD. 26 Make ye him drunken, For he magnified himself against the LORD; And Moab shall wallow in his vomit, And he also shall be in derision. 27 For was not Israel a derision unto thee? Was he found among thieves? For as often as thou speakest of him, Thou waggest the head.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, Leave the cities, and dwell in the rock; And be like the dove that maketh her nest In the sides of the pit's mouth.

29 We have heard of the pride of Moab; He is very proud; His loftiness, and his pride, and his haughtiness, And the assumption of his heart.

30 I know his arrogancy, saith the LORD, That it is ill-founded; His boastings have wrought nothing well-founded.

31 Therefore will I wail for Moab; Yea, I will cry out for all Moab; For the men of Kir-heres shall my heart moan.

32 With more than the weeping of Jazer will I weep for thee, O vine of Sibmah; Thy branches passed over the sea, They reached even to the sea of Jazer; Upon thy summer fruits and upon thy vintage The spoiler is fallen.

33 And gladness and joy is taken away From the fruitful field, and from the land of Moab; And I have caused wine to cease from the winepresses; None shall tread with shouting; The shouting shall be no shouting.

34 From the cry of Heshbon even unto Elealeh, Even unto Jahaz have they uttered their voice, From Zoar even unto Horonaim, A heifer of three years old; For the Waters of Nimrim also Shall be desolate.

35 Moreover I will cause to cease in Moab, Saith the LORD, Him that offereth in the high place, And him that offereth to his gods.

36 Therefore my heart moaneth for Moab Like pipes, and my heart moaneth like pipes for the men of Kir-heres; Therefore the abundance that he hath gotten is perished. 37 For every head is bald, And every beard clipped; Upon all the hands are cuttings, And upon the loins sackcloth. 38 On all the housetops of Moab and in the broad places thereof There is lamentation every where; For I have broken Moab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, Saith the LORD. 39 How is it broken down!' wail ye! 'How hath Moab turned the back with shame!' So shall Moab become a derision and a dismay To all that are round about him.

40 For thus saith the LORD: Behold, he shall swoop as a vulture, And shall spread out his wings against Moab.

41 The cities are taken, And the strongholds are seized, And the heart of the mighty men of Moab at that day Shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, Because he hath magnified himself against the LORD.

43 Terror, and the pit, and the trap, Are upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, Saith the LORD.

44 He that fleeth from the terror Shall fall into the pit; And he that getteth up out of the pit Shall be taken in the trap; For I will bring upon her, even upon Moab, The year of their visitation, saith the LORD.

45 In the shadow of Heshbon the fugitives Stand without strength; For a fire is gone forth out of Heshbon, And a flame from the midst of Sihon, And it devoureth the corner of Moab, And the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones.

46 Woe unto thee, O Moab! The people of Chemosh is undone; For thy sons are taken away captive, And thy daughters into captivity.

47 Yet will I turn the captivity of Moab In the end of days, saith the LORD. Thus far is the judgment of Moab.

Judgment on the Ammonites

1Of the children of Ammon. Thus saith the LORD: Hath Israel no sons? Hath he no heir? Why then doth Malcam take possession of Gad, And his people dwell in the cities thereof?

2Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, That I will cause an alarm of war to be heard Against Rabbah of the children of Ammon; And it shall become a desolate mound, And her daughters shall be burned with fire; Then shall Israel dispossess them that did dispossess him, Saith the LORD.

3Wail, O Heshbon, for Ai is undone; Cry, ye daughters of Rabbah, gird you with sackcloth; Lament, and run to and fro among the folds; For Malcam shall go into captivity, His priests and his princes together.

4Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys, Thy flowing valley, O backsliding daughter? That didst trust in thy treasures: 'Who shall come unto me?'

5Behold, I will bring a terror upon thee, Saith the Lord GOD of hosts, From all that are round about thee; And ye shall be driven out every man right forth, And there shall be none to gather up him that wandereth.

6But afterward I will bring back the captivity of the children of Ammon, Saith the LORD.

Judgment on Edom

(Obadiah 1:1-14)

7Of Edom. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Is wisdom no more in Teman? Is counsel perished from the prudent? Is their wisdom vanished?

8Flee ye, turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan; For I do bring the calamity of Esau upon him, The time that I shall punish him.

9If grape-gatherers came to thee, Would they not leave some gleaning grapes? If thieves by night, Would they not destroy till they had enough?

10But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, And he shall not be able to hide himself; His seed is spoiled, and his brethren, And his neighbours, and he is not.

11Leave thy fatherless children, I will rear them, And let thy widows trust in Me.

12For thus saith the LORD: Behold, they to whom it pertained not to drink of the cup shall assuredly drink; and art thou he that shall altogether go unpunished? thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink. 13For I have sworn by Myself, saith the LORD, that Bozrah shall become an astonishment, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes.

14I have heard a message from the LORD, And an ambassador is sent among the nations: 'Gather yourselves together, and come against her, And rise up to the battle.'

15For, behold, I make thee small among the nations, And despised among men.

16Thy terribleness hath deceived thee, Even the pride of thy heart, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, That holdest the height of the hill; Though thou shouldest make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD.

17And Edom shall become an astonishment; Every one that passeth by it Shall be astonished and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof. 18As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah And the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD, No man shall abide there, Neither shall any son of man dwell therein. 19Behold, he shall come up like a lion From the thickets of the Jordan Against the strong habitation; For I will suddenly make him run away from it, And whoso is chosen, him will I appoint over it; For who is like Me? and who will appoint Me a time? And who is that shepherd that will stand before Me?

20Therefore hear ye the counsel of the LORD, That He hath taken against Edom; And His purposes, that He hath purposed against the inhabitants of Teman: Surely the least of the flock shall drag them away, Surely their habitation shall be appalled at them. 21The earth quaketh at the noise of their fall; There is a cry, the noise whereof is heard in the Red Sea. 22Behold, he shall come up and swoop down as the vulture, And spread out his wings against Bozrah; And the heart of the mighty men of Edom at that day Shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

Judgment on Damascus

(Isaiah 17:1-14)

23Of Damascus. Hamath is ashamed, and Arpad; For they have heard evil tidings, they are melted away; There is trouble in the sea; It cannot be quiet.

24Damascus is waxed feeble, she turneth herself to flee, And trembling hath seized on her; Anguish and pangs have taken hold of her, as of a woman in travail.

25How is the city of praise left unrepaired, The city of my joy?'

26Therefore her young men shall fall in her broad places, And all the men of war shall be brought to silence in that day, Saith the LORD of hosts.

27And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, And it shall devour the palaces of Ben-hadad.

Judgment on Kedar and Hazor

28Of Kedar, and of the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote. Thus saith the LORD: Arise ye, go up against Kedar, And spoil the children of the east.

29Their tents and their flocks shall they take, They shall carry away for themselves their curtains, And all their vessels, and their camels; And they shall proclaim against them a terror on every side.

30Flee ye, flit far off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the LORD; For Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, And hath conceived a purpose against you.

31Arise, get you up against a nation that is at ease, That dwelleth without care, saith the LORD; That have neither gates nor bars, That dwell alone.

32And their camels shall be a booty, And the multitude of their cattle a spoil; And I will scatter unto all winds them that have the corners polled; And I will bring their calamity from every side of them, saith the LORD.

33And Hazor shall be a dwelling-place of jackals, A desolation for ever; no man shall abide there, Neither shall any son of man dwell therein.

Judgment on Elam

34The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning Elam in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying:

35Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will break the bow of Elam The chief of their might.

36And I will bring against Elam the four winds From the four quarters of heaven, And will scatter them toward all those winds; And there shall be no nation whither the dispersed of Elam shall not come.

37And I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, And before them that seek their life; And I will bring evil upon them, Even My fierce anger, saith the LORD; And I will send the sword after them, Till I have consumed them;

38And I will set My throne in Elam, And will destroy from thence king and princes, saith the LORD.

39But it shall come to pass in the end of days, That I will bring back the captivity of Elam, saith the LORD.

A Prophecy against Babylon

1The word that the LORD spoke concerning Babylon, concerning the land of the Chaldeans, by Jeremiah the prophet.

2Declare ye among the nations and announce, And set up a standard; Announce, and conceal not; Say: 'Babylon is taken, Bel is put to shame, Merodach is dismayed; Her images are put to shame, her idols are dismayed.'

3For out of the north there cometh up a nation against her, Which shall make her land desolate, And none shall dwell therein; They are fled, they are gone, both man and beast.

Hope for Israel and Judah

4In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, The children of Israel shall come, They and the children of Judah together; They shall go on their way weeping, And shall seek the LORD their God.

5They shall inquire concerning Zion With their faces hitherward: 'Come ye, and join yourselves to the LORD In an everlasting covenant that shall not be forgotten.'

6My people hath been lost sheep; Their shepherds have caused them to go astray, They have turned them away on the mountains; They have gone from mountain to hill, They have forgotten their resting-place.

7All that found them have devoured them; And their adversaries said: 'We are not guilty'; Because they have sinned against the LORD, the habitation of justice, Even the LORD, the hope of their fathers.

8Flee out of the midst of Babylon, And go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, And be as the he-goats before the flocks.

9For, lo, I will stir up and cause to come up against Babylon An assembly of great nations from the north country; And they shall set themselves in array against her, From thence she shall be taken; Their arrows shall be as of a mighty man that maketh childless; None shall return in vain.

10And Chaldea shall be a spoil; All that spoil her shall be satisfied, saith the LORD.

Babylon's Fall Is Certain

11Because ye are glad, because ye rejoice, O ye that plunder My heritage, Because ye gambol as a heifer at grass, And neigh as strong horses;

12Your mother shall be sore ashamed, She that bore you shall be confounded; Behold, the hindermost of the nations Shall be a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert.

13Because of the wrath of the LORD it shall not be inhabited, But it shall be wholly desolate; Every one that goeth by Babylon Shall be appalled and hiss at all her plagues.

14Set yourselves in array against Babylon round about, All ye that bend the bow, Shoot at her, spare no arrows; For she hath sinned against the LORD.

15Shout against her round about, she hath submitted herself; Her buttresses are fallen, her walls are thrown down; For it is the vengeance of the LORD, take vengeance upon her; As she hath done, do unto her.

16Cut off the sower from Babylon, And him that handleth the sickle in the time of harvest; For fear of the oppressing sword they shall turn every one to his people, And they shall flee every one to his own land.

Redemption for God's People

17Israel is a scattered sheep, The lions have driven him away; First the king of Assyria hath devoured him, And last this Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath broken his bones. 18Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will punish the king of Babylon and his land, As I have punished the king of Assyria. 19And I will bring Israel back to his pasture, And he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, And his soul shall be satisfied upon the hills of Ephraim and in Gilead. 20In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, The iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none, And the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found; For I will pardon them whom I leave as a remnant.

The Destruction of Babylon

21Go up against the land of Merathaim, even against it, And against the inhabitants of Pekod; Waste and utterly destroy after them, saith the LORD, And do according to all that I have commanded thee.

22Hark! battle is in the land, And great destruction.

23How is the hammer of the whole earth Cut asunder and broken! How is Babylon become A desolation among the nations!

24I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Babylon, And thou wast not aware; Thou art found, and also caught, Because thou hast striven against the LORD.

25The LORD hath opened His armoury, And hath brought forth the weapons of His indignation; For it is a work that the Lord GOD of hosts Hath to do in the land of the Chaldeans.

26Come against her from every quarter, open her granaries, Cast her up as heaps, and destroy her utterly; Let nothing of her be left.

27Slay all her bullocks, let them go down to the slaughter; Woe unto them! for their day is come, The time of their visitation.

28Hark! they flee and escape out of the land of Babylon, To declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God, The vengeance of His temple.

29Call together the archers against Babylon, All them that bend the bow; Encamp against her round about, Let none thereof escape; Recompense her according to her work, According to all that she hath done, do unto her: For she hath been arrogant against the LORD, Against the Holy One of Israel.

30Therefore shall her young men fall in her broad places, And all her men of war shall be brought to silence in that day, Saith the LORD.

31Behold, I am against thee, O thou most arrogant, Saith the Lord GOD of hosts; For thy day is come, The time that I will punish thee.

32And the most arrogant shall stumble and fall, And none shall raise him up; And I will kindle a fire in his cities, And it shall devour all that are round about him.

33Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The children of Israel and the children of Judah are oppressed together; And all that took them captives hold them fast; They refuse to let them go.

34Their Redeemer is strong, The LORD of hosts is His name; He will thoroughly plead their cause, That He may give rest to the earth, And disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon.

35A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the LORD, And upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men.

36A sword is upon the boasters, and they shall become fools; A sword is upon her mighty men, and they shall be dismayed.

37A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, And upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her, And they shall become as women; A sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be robbed.

38A drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up; For it is a land of graven images, And they are mad upon things of horror.

39Therefore the wild-cats with the jackals shall dwell there, And the ostriches shall dwell therein; and it shall be no more inhabited for ever, Neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.

40As when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah And the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD; So shall no man abide there, Neither shall any son of man dwell therein.

41Behold, a people cometh from the north, And a great nation, and many kings Shall be roused from the uttermost parts of the earth.

43The king of Babylon hath heard the fame of them, And his hands wax feeble; Anguish hath taken hold of him, And pain, as of a woman in travail.

44Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the thickets of the Jordan Against the strong habitation; For I will suddenly make them run away from it, And whoso is chosen, him will I appoint over it; For who is like Me? and who will appoint Me a time? And who is that shepherd that will stand before Me?

45Therefore hear ye the counsel of the LORD, That He hath taken against Babylon, And His purposes, that He hath purposed against the land of the Chaldeans: Surely the least of the flock shall drag them away, Surely their habitation shall be appalled at them. 46At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth quaketh, And the cry is heard among the nations.

Judgment on Babylon

1Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, And against them that dwell in Leb-kamai, a destroying wind.

2And I will send unto Babylon strangers, that shall fan her, And they shall empty her land; For in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about.

3Let the archer bend his bow against her, And let him lift himself up against her in his coat of mail; And spare ye not her young men, Destroy ye utterly all her host.

4And they shall fall down slain in the land of the Chaldeans, And thrust through in her streets.

5For Israel is not widowed, nor Judah, Of his God, of the LORD of hosts; For their land is full of guilt Against the Holy One of Israel.

6Flee out of the midst of Babylon, And save every man his life, Be not cut off in her iniquity; For it is the time of the LORD'S vengeance; He will render unto her a recompense.

7Babylon hath been a golden cup in LORD'S hand, That made all the earth drunken; The nations have drunk of her wine, Therefore the nations are mad.

8Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed, Wail for her; Take balm for her pain, If so be she may be healed.

9We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed; Forsake her, and let us go every one into his own country; For her judgment reacheth unto heaven, And is lifted up even to the skies.

10The LORD hath brought forth our victory; Come, and let us declare in Zion The work of the LORD our God.

11Make bright the arrows, Fill the quivers, The LORD hath roused the spirit of the kings of the Medes; Because His device is against Babylon, to destroy it; For it is the vengeance of the LORD, The vengeance of His temple.

12Set up a standard against the walls of Babylon, Make the watch strong, Set the watchmen, prepare the ambushes; For the LORD hath both devised and done That which He spoke concerning the inhabitants of Babylon.

13O thou that dwellest upon many waters, Abundant in treasures, Thine end is come, The measure of thy covetousness.

14The LORD of hosts hath sworn by Himself: Surely I will fill thee with men, as with the canker-worm, And they shall lift up a shout against thee.

Praise to the God of Jacob

(Isaiah 25:1–12)

15He that hath made the earth by His power, That hath established the world by His wisdom, And hath stretched out the heavens by His discernment;

16At the sound of His giving a multitude of waters in the heavens, He causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; He maketh lightnings at the time of the rain, And bringeth forth the wind out of His treasures;

17Every man is proved to be brutish, for the knowledge—Every goldsmith is put to shame by the graven image—That his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

18They are vanity, a work of delusion; In the time of their visitation they shall perish,

19The portion of Jacob is not like these; For He is the former of all things, And [Israel] is the tribe of His inheritance; The LORD of hosts is His name.

Babylon's Punishment

20Thou art My maul and weapons of war, And with thee will I shatter the nations, And with thee will I destroy kingdoms;

21And with thee will I shatter the horse and his rider, And with thee will I shatter the chariot and him that rideth therein;

22And with thee will I shatter man and woman, And with thee will I shatter the old man and the youth,
And with thee will I shatter the young man and the maid;

23And with thee will I shatter the shepherd and his flock, And with thee will I shatter the husbandman and his yoke of oxen, And with thee will I shatter governors and deputies.

24And I will render unto Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea All their evil that they have done in Zion, in your sight; Saith the LORD.

25Behold, I am against thee, O destroying mountain, saith the LORD, Which destroyest all the earth;
And I will stretch out My hand upon thee, And roll thee down from the rocks, And will make thee a burnt mountain.

26And they shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, Nor a stone for foundations; But thou shalt be desolate for ever, saith the LORD.

27Set ye up a standard in the land, Blow the horn among the nations, Prepare the nations against her,
Call together against her the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz; Appoint a marshal against her;
Cause the horses to come up as the rough canker-worm.

28Prepare against her the nations, the kings of the Medes, The governors thereof, and all the deputies thereof, And all the land of his dominion.

29And the land quaketh and is in pain; For the purposes of the LORD are performed against Babylon,
To make the land of Babylon a desolation, without inhabitant.

30The mighty men of Babylon have forborne to fight, They remain in their strongholds; Their might hath failed, they are become as women; Her dwelling-places are set on fire; Her bars are broken.

31One post runneth to meet another, And one messenger to meet an other, To tell the king of Babylon
That his city is taken on every quarter;

32And the fords are seized, And the castles they have burned with fire, And the men of war are affrighted.

33For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing-floor
At the time when it is trodden; Yet a little while, and the time of harvest Shall come for her.

34Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon hath devoured me, He hath crushed me, He hath set me down as an empty vessel, He hath swallowed me up like a dragon, He hath filled his maw with my delicacies;
He hath washed me clean.

35The violence done to me and to my flesh be upon Babylon', Shall the inhabitant of Zion say; And:
'My blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea', Shall Jerusalem say.

36Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will plead thy cause, And take vengeance for thee; And I will dry up her sea, And make her fountain dry.

37And Babylon shall become heaps, A dwelling-place for jackals, An astonishment, and a hissing, Without inhabitant.

38They shall roar together like young lions; They shall growl as lions' whelps.

39With their poison I will prepare their feast, And I will make them drunken, that they may be convulsed, And sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, Saith the LORD.

40I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, Like rams with he-goats.

41How is Sheshach taken! And the praise of the whole earth seized! How is Babylon become an astonishment Among the nations!

42The sea is come up upon Babylon; She is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof.

43Her cities are become a desolation, A dry land, and a desert, A land wherein no man dwelleth, Neither doth any son of man pass thereby.

45My people, go ye out of the midst of her, And save yourselves every man From the fierce anger of the LORD.

46And let not your heart faint, neither fear ye, For the rumour that shall be heard in the land; For a rumour shall come one year, And after that in another year a rumour, And violence in the land, ruler against ruler.

47Therefore behold, the days come, That I will do judgment upon the graven images of Babylon, And her whole land shall be ashamed; And all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.

48Then the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, Shall sing for joy over Babylon; For the spoilers shall come unto her From the north, saith the LORD.

49As Babylon hath caused the slain of Israel to fall, So at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the land.

50Ye that have escaped the sword, Go ye, stand not still; Remember the LORD from afar, And let Jerusalem come into your mind.

51We are ashamed, because we have heard reproach, Confusion hath covered our faces; For strangers are come Into the sanctuaries of the LORD'S house.'

52Wherefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, That I will do judgment upon her graven images; And through all her land the wounded shall groan.

53Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, And though she should fortify the height of her strength, Yet from Me shall spoilers come unto her, saith the LORD.

54Hark! a cry from Babylon, And great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans!

55For the LORD spoileth Babylon, And destroyeth out of her the great voice; And their waves roar like many waters, The noise of their voice is uttered;

56For the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Babylon, And her mighty men are taken, Their bows are shattered; For the LORD is a God of recompenses, He will surely requite.

57And I will make drunk her princes and her wise men, Her governors and her deputies, and her mighty men; And they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, Saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

58Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly overthrown, And her high gates shall be burned with fire; And the peoples shall labour for vanity, And the nations for the fire; And they shall be weary.

Jeremiah's Message to Seraiah

59The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. Now Seraiah was quartermaster. 60And Jeremiah wrote in one book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, even all these words that are written concerning Babylon. 61And Jeremiah said to Seraiah: 'When thou comest to Babylon, then see that thou read all these words, 62and say: O LORD, Thou hast spoken concerning this place, to cut it off, that none shall dwell therein, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate for ever. 63And it shall be, when thou hast made an end of reading this book, that thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of the Euphrates; 64and thou shalt say: Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise again because of the evil that I will bring upon her; and they shall be weary.' Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

The Fall of Jerusalem Recounted

(Psalm 74:1–23; Psalm 79:1–13; 2 Kings 24:18–20; 2 Chronicles 36:11–14)

1Zedekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. 2And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done. 3For through the anger of the LORD did it come to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, until He had cast them out from His presence. And Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon. 4And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem, and encamped against it; and they built forts against it round about. 5So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah. 6In the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land. 7Then a breach was made in the city, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden—now the Chaldeans were against the city round about—and they went by the way of the Arabah. 8But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him. 9Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath; and he gave judgment upon him. 10And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes; he slew also all the princes of Judah in Riblah. 11And he put out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him in fetters, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

The Temple Destroyed

(2 Kings 25:8–17)

12Now in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, came Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, who stood before the king of Babylon, into Jerusalem; 13and he burned the house of the LORD, and the king's house; and all the houses of Jerusalem, even every great man's house, burned he with fire. 14And all the army of the Chaldeans, that were with the captain of the guard, broke down all the walls of Jerusalem round about. 15Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the poorest sort of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and the residue of the multitude. 16But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poorest of the land to be vinedressers and husbandmen.

17And the pillars of brass that were in the house of the LORD, and the bases and the brazen sea that were in the house of the LORD, did the Chaldeans break in pieces, and carried all the brass of them to Babylon. 18The pots also, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the basins, and the pans, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away. 19And the cups, and the fire-pans, and the basins, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the pans, and the bowls—that which was of gold, in gold, and that which was of silver, in silver—the captain of the guard took away. 20The two pillars, the one sea, and the twelve brazen bulls that were under the bases, which king Solomon had made for the house of the LORD—the brass of all these vessels was without weight. 21And as for the pillars, the height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits; and a line of twelve cubits did compass it; and the thickness thereof was four fingers; it was hollow. 22And a capital of brass was upon it; and the height of the one capital was five cubits, with network and pomegranates upon the capital round about, all of brass; and the second pillar also had like unto these, and pomegranates. 23And there were ninety and six pomegranates on the outside; all the pomegranates were a hundred upon the network round about.

Captives Carried to Babylon

24And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the door; 25and out of the city he took an officer that was set over the men of war; and seven men of them that saw the king's face, who were found in the city; and the scribe of the captain of the host, who mustered the people of the land; and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the midst of the city. 26And Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah. 27And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried away captive out of his land.

28This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive: in the seventh year three thousand Jews and three and twenty; 29in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar, from Jerusalem, eight hundred thirty and two persons; 30in the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadrezzar Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons; all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

Jehoiachin Released from Prison

(2 Kings 25:27–30)

31And it came to pass in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the five and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him forth out of prison. 32And he spoke kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon. 33And he changed his prison garments, and did eat bread before him continually all the days of his life. 34And for his allowance, there was a continual allowance given him of the king of Babylon, every day a portion until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

How Lonely Lies the City!

(2 Kings 24:10–17)

א

1HOW DOTHTHE city sit solitary, That was full of people! How is she become as a widow! She that was great among the nations, And princess among the provinces, How is she become tributary!

ב

2She weepeth sore in the night, And her tears are on her cheeks; She hath none to comfort her Among all her lovers; All her friends have dealt treacherously with her, They are become her enemies.

ג

3Judah is gone into exile because of affliction, And because of great servitude; She dwelleth among the nations, She findeth no rest; All her pursuers overtook her Within the straits.

ד

4The ways of Zion do mourn, Because none come to the solemn assembly; All her gates are desolate, Her priests sigh; Her virgins are afflicted, And she herself is in bitterness.

ה

5Her adversaries are become the head, Her enemies are at ease; For the LORD hath afflicted her For the multitude of her transgressions; Her young children are gone into captivity Before the adversary.

ו

6And gone is from the daughter of Zion All her splendour; Her princes are become like harts That find no pasture, And they are gone without strength Before the pursuer.

י

7Jerusalem remembereth In the days of her affliction and of her anguish All her treasures that she had From the days of old; Now that her people fall by the hand of the adversary, And none doth help her, The adversaries have seen her, They have mocked at her desolations.

ח

8Jerusalem hath grievously sinned, Therefore she is become as one unclean; All that honoured her despise her, Because they have seen her nakedness; She herself also sigheth, And turneth backward.

ט

9Her filthiness was in her skirts, She was not mindful of her end; Therefore is she come down wonderfully, She hath no comforter. 'Behold, O LORD, my affliction, For the enemy hath magnified himself.'

י

10The adversary hath spread out his hand Upon all her treasures; For she hath seen that the heathen Are entered into her sanctuary, Concerning whom Thou didst command That they should not enter into Thy congregation.

יא

11All her people sigh, They seek bread; They have given their pleasant things for food To refresh the soul. 'See, O LORD, and behold, How abject I am become.'

יב

12Let it not come unto you, all ye that pass by! Behold, and see If there be any pain like unto my pain, Which is done unto me, Wherewith the LORD hath afflicted me In the day of His fierce anger.

יג

13From on high hath He sent fire Into my bones, and it prevaieth against them; He hath spread a net for my feet, He hath turned me back; He hath made me desolate And faint all the day.

יד

14The yoke of my transgressions is impressed by His hand; They are knit together, They are come up upon my neck; He hath made my strength to fail; The Lord hath delivered me into their hands, Against whom I am not able to stand.

טו

15The Lord hath set at nought All my mighty men in the midst of me; He hath called a solemn assembly against me To crush my young men; The Lord hath trodden as in a winepress The virgin the daughter of Judah.'

י

16For these things I weep; Mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water; Because the comforter is far from me, Even he that should refresh my soul; My children are desolate, Because the enemy hath prevailed.'

פ

17Zion spreadeth forth her hands; There is none to comfort her; The LORD hath commanded concerning Jacob, That they that are round about him should be his adversaries; Jerusalem is among them As one unclean.

צ

18The LORD is righteous; For I have rebelled against His word; Hear, I pray you, all ye peoples, And behold my pain: My virgins and my young men Are gone into captivity.

ק

19I called for my lovers, But they deceived me; My priests and mine elders Perished in the city, While they sought them food To refresh their souls.

ר

20Behold, O LORD, for I am in distress, Mine inwards burn; My heart is turned within me, For I have grievously rebelled. Abroad the sword bereaveth, At home there is the like of death.

ש

21They have heard that I sigh, There is none to comfort me; All mine enemies have heard of my trouble, and are glad, For Thou hast done it; Thou wilt bring the day that Thou hast proclaimed, And they shall be like unto me.

ת

22Let all their wickedness come before Thee; And do unto them, As Thou hast done unto me For all my transgressions; For my sighs are many And my heart is faint.'

God's Anger over Jerusalem

א

1How hath the Lord covered with a cloud The daughter of Zion in His anger! He hath cast down from heaven unto the earth The beauty of Israel, And hath not remembered His footstool In the day of His anger.

ב

2The Lord hath swallowed up unsparingly All the habitations of Jacob; He hath thrown down in His wrath The strongholds of the daughter of Judah; He hath brought them down to the ground; He hath profaned the kingdom and the princes thereof.

ג

3He hath cut off in fierce anger All the horn of Israel; He hath drawn back His right hand From before the enemy; And He hath burned in Jacob like a flaming fire, Which devoureth round about.

ד

4He hath bent His bow like an enemy, Standing with His right hand as an adversary, And hath slain all that were pleasant to the eye; In the tent of the daughter of Zion He hath poured out His fury like fire.

ה

5The Lord is become as an enemy, He hath swallowed up Israel; He hath swallowed up all her palaces, He hath destroyed his strongholds; And He hath multiplied in the daughter of Judah Mourning and moaning.

ו

6And He hath stripped His tabernacle, as if it were a garden, He hath destroyed His place of assembly; The LORD hath caused to be forgotten in Zion Appointed season and sabbath, And hath rejected in the indignation of His anger The king and the priest.

ז

7The Lord hath cast off His altar, He hath abhorred His sanctuary, He hath given up into the hand of the enemy The walls of her palaces; They have made a noise in the house of the LORD, As in the day of a solemn assembly.

ח

8The LORD hath purposed to destroy The wall of the daughter of Zion; He hath stretched out the line, He hath not withdrawn His hand from destroying; But He hath made the rampart and wall to mourn, They languish together.

ט

9Her gates are sunk into the ground; He hath destroyed and broken her bars; Her king and her princes are among the nations, Instruction is no more; Yea, her prophets find No vision from the LORD.

י

10They sit upon the ground, and keep silence, The elders of the daughter of Zion; They have cast up dust upon their heads, They have girded themselves with sackcloth; The virgins of Jerusalem hang down Their heads to the ground.

כ

11Mine eyes do fail with tears, Mine inwards burn, My liver is poured upon the earth, For the breach of the daughter of my people; Because the young children and the sucklings swoon In the broad places of the city.

ל

12They say to their mothers: 'Where is corn and wine?' When they swoon as the wounded In the broad places of the city, When their soul is poured out Into their mothers' bosom.

מ

13What shall I take to witness for thee? What shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? What shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? For thy breach is great like the sea; Who can heal thee?

נ

14Thy prophets have seen visions for thee Of vanity and delusion; And they have not uncovered thine iniquity, To bring back thy captivity; But have prophesied for thee burdens Of vanity and seduction.

ס

15All that pass by clap Their hands at thee; They hiss and wag their head At the daughter of Jerusalem: 'Is this the city that men called The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth?'

פ

16All thine enemies have opened Their mouth wide against thee; They hiss and gnash the teeth; They say: 'We have swallowed her up; Certainly this is the day that we looked for; We have found, we have seen it.'

צ

17The LORD hath done that which He devised; He hath performed His word That He commanded in the days of old; He hath thrown down unsparingly; And He hath caused the enemy to rejoice over thee, He hath exalted the horn of thine adversaries.

ז

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord: 'O wall of the daughter of Zion, Let tears run down like a river Day and night; Give thyself no respite; Let not the apple of thine eye cease.

ז

19 Arise, cry out in the night, At the beginning of the watches; Pour out thy heart like water Before the face of the Lord; Lift up thy hands toward Him For the life of thy young children, That faint for hunger At the head of every street.'

ז

20 See, O LORD, and consider, To whom Thou hast done thus! Shall the women eat their fruit, The children that are dandled in the hands? Shall the priest and the prophet be slain In the sanctuary of the Lord?

ז

21 The youth and the old man lie On the ground in the streets; My virgins and my young men Are fallen by the sword; Thou hast slain them in the day of Thine anger; Thou hast slaughtered unsparingly.

ז

22 Thou hast called, as in the day of a solemn assembly, My terrors on every side, And there was none in the day of the LORD'S anger That escaped or remained; Those that I have dandled and brought up Hath mine enemy consumed.'

The Prophet's Afflictions

א

1 I am the man that hath seen affliction By the rod of His wrath.

2 He hath led me and caused me to walk in darkness and not in light.

3 Surely against me He turneth His hand again and again all the day.

ב

4 My flesh and my skin hath He worn out; He hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against me, and compassed me With gall and travail.

⁶He hath made me to dwell in dark places, As those that have been long dead.

λ

⁷He hath hedged me about, that I cannot go forth; He hath made my chain heavy.

⁸Yea, when I cry and call for help, He shutteth out my prayer.

⁹He hath enclosed my ways with hewn stone, He hath made my paths crooked.

τ

¹⁰He is unto me as a bear lying in wait, As a lion in secret places.

¹¹He hath turned aside my ways, and pulled me in pieces; He hath made me desolate.

¹²He hath bent His bow, and set me As a mark for the arrow.

η

¹³He hath caused the arrows of His quiver To enter into my reins.

¹⁴I am become a derision to all my people, And their song all the day.

¹⁵He hath filled me with bitterness, He hath sated me with wormwood.

ι

¹⁶He hath also broken my teeth with gravel stones, He hath made me to wallow in ashes.

¹⁷And my soul is removed far off from peace, I forgot prosperity.

¹⁸And I said: 'My strength is perished, And mine expectation from the LORD.'

The Prophet's Hope

ι

¹⁹Remember mine affliction and mine anguish, The wormwood and the gall.

²⁰My soul hath them still in remembrance, And is bowed down within me.

²¹This I recall to my mind, Therefore have I hope.

η

²²Surely the LORD'S mercies are not consumed, Surely His compassions fail not.

²³They are new every morning; Great is Thy faithfulness.

24The LORD is my portion', saith my soul; 'Therefore will I hope in Him.'

U

25The LORD is good unto them that wait for Him, To the soul that seeketh Him.

26It is good that a man should quietly wait For the salvation of the LORD.

27It is good for a man that he bear The yoke in his youth.

28Let him sit alone and keep silence, Because He hath laid it upon him.

29Let him put his mouth in the dust, If so be there may be hope.

30Let him give his cheek to him that smiteth him Let him be filled full with reproach.

U

31For the Lord will not cast off For ever.

32For though He cause grief, yet will He have compassion According to the multitude of His mercies.

33For He doth not afflict willingly, Nor grieve the children of men.

U

34To crush under foot All the prisoners of the earth,

35To turn aside the right of a man Before the face of the Most High, 36To subvert a man in his cause, The Lord approveth not.

God's Justice

n

37Who is he that saith, and it cometh to pass, When the Lord commandeth it not?

38Out of the mouth of the Most High proceedeth not Evil and good?

39Wherefore doth a living man complain, A strong man because of his sins?

U

40Let us search and try our ways, And return to the LORD.

41Let us lift up our heart with our hands Unto God in the heavens.

42 We have transgressed and have rebelled; Thou hast not pardoned.

43 Thou hast covered with anger and pursued us; Thou hast slain unsparingly.

44 Thou hast covered Thyself with a cloud, So that no prayer can pass through.

45 Thou hast made us as the offscouring and refuse In the midst of the peoples.

46 All our enemies have opened their mouth Wide against us.

47 Terror and the pit are come upon us, Desolation and destruction.

48 Mine eye runneth down with rivers of water, For the breach of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eye is poured out, and ceaseth not, Without any intermission,

50 Till the LORD look forth, And behold from heaven.

51 Mine eye affected my soul, Because of all the daughters of my city.

52 They have chased me sore like a bird, That are mine enemies without cause.

53 They have cut off my life in the dungeon, And have cast stones upon me.

54 Waters flowed over my head; I said: 'I am cut off.'

55 I called upon Thy name, O LORD, Out of the lowest dungeon.

56 Thou heardest my voice; hide not Thine ear at my sighing, at my cry.

57 Thou drewest near in the day that I called upon Thee; Thou saidst: 'Fear not.'

58 O Lord, Thou hast pleaded the causes of my soul; Thou hast redeemed my life.

59 O LORD, Thou hast seen my wrong; Judge Thou my cause.

60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance And all their devices against me.

ו

61 Thou hast heard their taunt, O LORD, And all their devices against me;

62 The lips of those that rose up against me, And their muttering against me all the day.

63 Behold Thou their sitting down, and their rising up; I am their song.

ז

64 Thou wilt render unto them a recompense, O LORD, According to the work of their hands.

65 Thou wilt give them hardness of heart, Thy curse unto them.

66 Thou wilt pursue them in anger, and destroy them From under the heavens of the LORD.

The Distress of Zion

א

1 How is the gold become dim! How is the most fine gold changed! The hallowed stones are poured out At the head of every street.

ב

2 The precious sons of Zion, Comparable to fine gold, How are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, The work of the hands of the potter!

ג

3 Even the jackals draw out the breast, They give suck to their young ones; The daughter of my people is become cruel, Like the ostriches in the wilderness.

ד

4 The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth To the roof of his mouth for thirst; The young children ask bread, And none breaketh it unto them.

ה

5 They that did feed on dainties Are desolate in the streets; They that were brought up in scarlet Embrace dunghills.

ו

6For the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater Than the sin of Sodom, That was overthrown as in a moment, And no hands fell upon her.

ז

7Her princes were purer than snow, They were whiter than milk, They were more ruddy in body than rubies, Their polishing was as of sapphire;

ח

8Their visage is blacker than a coal; They are not known in the streets; Their skin is shrivelled upon their bones; It is withered, it is become like a stick.

ט

9They that are slain with the sword are better Than they that are slain with hunger; For these pine away, stricken through, For want of the fruits of the field.

י

10The hands of women full of compassion Have sodden their own children; They were their food In the destruction of the daughter of my people.

יא

11The LORD hath accomplished His fury, He hath poured out His fierce anger; And He hath kindled a fire in Zion, Which hath devoured the foundations thereof.

יב

12The kings of the earth believed not, Neither all the inhabitants of the world, That the adversary and the enemy would enter Into the gates of Jerusalem.

יג

13It is because of the sins of her prophets, And the iniquities of her priests, That have shed the blood of the just In the midst of her.

יד

14They wander as blind men in the streets, They are polluted with blood, So that men cannot Touch their garments.

טו

15Depart ye! unclean!' men cried unto them, 'Depart, depart, touch not'; Yea, they fled away and wandered; Men said among the nations: 'They shall no more sojourn here.'

פ

16The anger of the LORD hath divided them; He will no more regard them; They respected not the persons of the priests, They were not gracious unto the elders.

ע

17As for us, our eyes do yet fail For our vain help; In our watching we have watched For a nation that could not save.

ס

18They hunt our steps, That we cannot go in our broad places; Our end is near, our days are fulfilled; For our end is come.

ק

19Our pursuers were swifter Than the eagles of the heaven; They chased us upon the mountains, They lay in wait for us in the wilderness.

ר

20The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the LORD, Was taken in their pits; Of whom we said: 'Under his shadow We shall live among the nations.'

ש

21Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom, That dwellest in the land of Uz: The cup shall pass over unto thee also; Thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thyself naked.

ת

22The punishment of thine iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zion, He will no more carry thee away into captivity; He will punish thine iniquity, O daughter of Edom, He will uncover thy sins.

A Prayer for Restoration

1Remember, O LORD, what is come upon us; Behold, and see our reproach.

2Our inheritance is turned unto strangers, Our houses unto aliens.

- 3We are become orphans and fatherless, Our mothers are as widows.
- 4We have drunk our water for money; Our wood cometh to us for price.
- 5To our very necks we are pursued; We labour, and have no rest.
- 6We have given the hand to Egypt, And to Assyria, to have bread enough;
- 7Our fathers have sinned, and are not; And we have borne their iniquities.
- 8Servants rule over us; There is none to deliver us out of their hand.
- 9We get our bread with the peril of our lives Because of the sword of the wilderness.
- 10Our skin is hot like an oven Because of the burning heat of famine.
- 11They have ravished the women in Zion, The maidens in the cities of Judah.
- 12Princes are hanged up by their hand; The faces of elders are not honoured.
- 13The young men have borne the mill, And the children have stumbled under the wood.
- 14The elders have ceased from the gate, The young men from their music.
- 15The joy of our heart is ceased; Our dance is turned into mourning.
- 16The crown is fallen from our head; Woe unto us! for we have sinned.
- 17For this our heart is faint, For these things our eyes are dim;
- 18For the mountain of Zion, which is desolate, The foxes walk upon it.
- 19Thou, O LORD, art enthroned for ever, Thy throne is from generation to generation.
- 20Wherefore dost Thou forget us for ever, And forsake us so long time?
- 21Turn Thou us unto Thee, O LORD, and we shall be turned; Renew our days as of old.
- 22Thou canst not have utterly rejected us, And be exceeding wroth against us!

Ezekiel's Vision by the River Kebar

(Psalm 137:1–9)

1Now it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was among the captives by the river Chebar that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God. 2In the fifth day of the month, which was the fifth year of king Jehoiachin's captivity, 3the word of the LORD came expressly unto Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar; and the hand of the LORD was there upon him.

The Four Living Creatures

4And I looked, and, behold, a stormy wind came out of the north, a great cloud, with a fire flashing up, so that a brightness was round about it; and out of the midst thereof as the colour of electrum, out of the midst of the fire. 5And out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance: they had the likeness of a man. 6And every one had four faces, and every one of them had four wings. 7And their feet were straight feet; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot; and they sparkled like the colour of burnished brass. 8And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides; and as for the faces and wings of them four, 9their wings were joined one to another; they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward. 10As for the likeness of their faces, they had the face of a man; and they four had the face of a lion on the right side; and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four had also the face of an eagle. 11Thus were their faces; and their wings were stretched upward; two wings of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies. 12And they went every one straight forward; whither the spirit was to go, they went; they turned not when they went. 13As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like coals of fire, burning like the appearance of torches; it flashed up and down among the living creatures; and there was brightness to the fire, and out of the fire went forth lightning. 14And the living creatures ran and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning.

The Four Wheels

15Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold one wheel at the bottom hard by the living creatures, at the four faces thereof. 16The appearance of the wheels and their work was like unto the colour of a beryl; and they four had one likeness; and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel within a wheel. 17When they went, they went toward their four sides; they turned not when they went. 18As for their rings, they were high and they were dreadful; and they four had their rings full of eyes round about. 19And when the living creatures went, the wheels went hard by them; and when the living creatures were lifted up from the bottom, the wheels were lifted up. 20Whithersoever the spirit was to go, as the spirit was to go thither, so they went; and the wheels were lifted up beside them; for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels. 21When those went, these went, and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up beside them; for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

The Divine Glory

22And over the heads of the living creatures there was the likeness of a firmament, like the colour of the terrible ice, stretched forth over their heads above. 23And under the firmament were their wings conformable the one to the other; this one of them had two which covered, and that one of them had two which covered, their bodies. 24And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings like the noise of great waters, like the voice of the Almighty, a noise of tumult like the noise of a host; when they stood, they let down their wings. 25For, when there was a voice above the firmament that was over their heads, as they stood, they let down their wings.

26And above the firmament that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire stone; and upon the likeness of the throne was a likeness as the appearance of a man upon it above. 27And I saw as the colour of electrum, as the appearance of fire round about enclosing it, from the appearance of his loins and upward; and from the appearance of his loins and downward I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and there was brightness round about him. 28As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spoke.

Ezekiel's Call

1And He said unto me: 'Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak with thee.' 2And spirit entered into me when He spoke unto me, and set me upon my feet; and I heard Him that spoke unto me. 3And He said unto me: 'Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to rebellious nations, that have rebelled against Me; they and their fathers have transgressed against Me, even unto this very day; 4and the children are brazen-faced and stiff-hearted, I do send thee unto them; and thou shalt say unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD. 5And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear—for they are a rebellious house—yet shall know that there hath been a prophet among them. 6And thou, son of man, be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though defiers and despisers be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions; be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, for they are a rebellious house. 7And thou shalt speak My words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear; for they are most rebellious.

8And thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee: be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house; open thy mouth, and eat that which I give thee.' 9And when I looked, behold, a hand was put forth unto me; and, lo, a roll of a book was therein; 10and He spread it before me, and it was written within and without; and there was written therein lamentations, and moaning, and woe.

Ezekiel Eats the Scroll

1And He said unto me: 'Son of man, eat that which thou findest; eat this roll, and go, speak unto the house of Israel.' 2So I opened my mouth, and He caused me to eat that roll. 3And He said unto me: 'Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee.' Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.

4And He said unto me: 'Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with My words unto them. 5For thou art not sent to a people of an unintelligible speech and of a slow tongue, but to the house of Israel; 6not to many peoples of an unintelligible speech and of a slow tongue, whose words thou canst not understand. Surely, if I sent thee to them, they would hearken unto thee. ⁷But the house of Israel will not consent to hearken unto thee; for they consent not to hearken unto Me; for all the house of Israel are of a hard forehead and of a stiff heart. ⁸Behold, I have made thy face hard against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads. ⁹As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead; fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, for they are a rebellious house.' ¹⁰Moreover He said unto me: 'Son of man, all My words that I shall speak unto thee receive in thy heart, and hear with thine ears. ¹¹And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them: Thus saith the Lord GOD; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.'

¹²Then a spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me the voice of a great rushing: 'Blessed be the glory of the LORD from His place'; ¹³also the noise of the wings of the living creatures as they touched one another, and the noise of the wheels beside them, even the noise of a great rushing. ¹⁴So a spirit lifted me up, and took me away; and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit, and the hand of the LORD was strong upon me. ¹⁵Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river Chebar, and I sat where they sat; and I remained there appalled among them seven days.

A Watchman for Israel

¹⁶And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: ¹⁷Son of man, I have appointed thee a watchman unto the house of Israel; and when thou shalt hear a word at My mouth, thou shalt give them warning from Me. ¹⁸When I say unto the wicked: Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thy hand. ¹⁹Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul. ²⁰Again, when a righteous man doth turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, I will lay a stumblingblock before him, he shall die; because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteous deeds which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thy hand. ²¹Nevertheless if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he took warning; and thou hast delivered thy soul.'

²²And the hand of the LORD came there upon me; and He said unto me: 'Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will there speak with thee.' ²³Then I arose, and went forth into the plain; and, behold, the glory of the LORD stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river Chebar; and I fell on my face. ²⁴Then spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet; and He spoke with me, and said unto me: 'Go, shut thyself within thy house. ²⁵But thou, son of man, behold, bands shall be put upon thee, and thou shalt be bound with them, and thou shalt not go out among them; ²⁶and I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them a reprover; for they are a rebellious house. ²⁷But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD; he that heareth, let him hear, and he that forbear, let him forbear; for they are a rebellious house.'

A Sign of Jerusalem's Siege

1Thou also, son of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and trace upon it a city, even Jerusalem; 2and lay siege against it, and build forts against it, and cast up a mound against it; set camps also against it, and set battering rams against it round about. 3And take thou unto thee an iron griddle, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city; and set thy face toward it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it. This shall be a sign to the house of Israel.

4Moreover lie thou upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it; according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it, thou shalt bear their iniquity. 5For I have appointed the years of their iniquity to be unto thee a number of days, even three hundred and ninety days; so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel. 6And again, when thou hast accomplished these, thou shalt lie on thy right side, and shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah; forty days, each day for a year, have I appointed it unto thee. 7And thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, with thine arm uncovered; and thou shalt prophesy against it. 8And, behold, I lay bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee from one side to another, till thou hast accomplished the days of thy siege.

The Defiled Bread

9Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and spelt, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof; according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side, even three hundred and ninety days, shalt thou eat thereof. 10And thy food which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day; from time to time shalt thou eat it. 11Thou shalt drink also water by measure, the sixth part of a hin; from time to time shalt thou drink. 12And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it in their sight with dung that cometh out of man.' 13And the LORD said: 'Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their bread unclean, among the nations whither I will drive them.' 14Then said I: 'Ah Lord GOD! behold, my soul hath not been polluted; for from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or is torn of beasts; neither came there abhorred flesh into my mouth.' 15Then He said unto me: 'See, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread thereon.' 16Moreover He said unto me: 'Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem, and they shall eat bread by weight, and with anxiety; and they shall drink water by measure, and in appalment; 17that they may want bread and water, and be appalled one with another, and pine away in their iniquity.'

The Razor of Judgment

1And thou, son of man, take thee a sharp sword, as a barber's razor shalt thou take it unto thee, and cause it to pass upon thy head and upon thy beard; then take thee balances to weigh, and divide the hair. 2A third part shalt thou burn in the fire in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled; and thou shalt take a third part, and smite it with the sword round about her; and a third part thou shalt scatter to the wind, and I will draw out a sword after them. 3Thou shalt also take thereof a few by number, and bind them in thy skirts. 4And of them again shalt thou take, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire; therefrom shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

5Thus saith the Lord GOD: This is Jerusalem! I have set her in the midst of the nations, and countries are round about her. 6And she hath rebelled against Mine ordinances in doing wickedness more than the nations, and against My statutes more than the countries that are round about her; for they have rejected Mine ordinances, and as for My statutes, they have not walked in them. 7Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because ye have outdone the nations that are round about you, in that ye have not walked in My statutes, neither have kept Mine ordinances, neither have done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you; 8therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I, even I, am against thee, and I will execute judgments in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations. 9And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, because of all thine abominations. 10Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter unto all the winds.

Famine, Sword, and Dispersion

11Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely, because thou hast defiled My sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee; neither shall Mine eye spare, and I also will have no pity.

13Thus shall Mine anger spend itself, and I will satisfy My fury upon them, and I will be eased; and they shall know that I the LORD have spoken in My zeal, when I have spent My fury upon them.

14Moreover I will make thee an amazement and a reproach, among the nations that are round about thee, in the sight of all that pass by. 15So it shall be a reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment, unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgments in thee in anger and in fury, and in furious rebukes; I the LORD have spoken it; 16when I shall send upon them the evil arrows of famine, that are for destruction, which I will send to destroy you; and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your staff of bread; 17and I will send upon you famine and evil beasts, and they shall bereave thee; and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee; and I will bring the sword upon thee. I the LORD have spoken it.'

Judgment against Idolatry

(Deuteronomy 4:15–31; Deuteronomy 12:29–32)

1And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, set thy face toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them, 3and say: Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD: Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning the mountains and concerning the hills, concerning the ravines and concerning the valleys: Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you, and I will destroy your high places. 4And your altars shall become desolate, and your sun-images shall be broken; and I will cast down your slain men before your idols. 5And I will lay the carcasses of the children of Israel before their idols; and I will scatter your bones round about your altars. 6In all your dwelling-places the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate; that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your sun-images may be hewn down, and your works may be blotted out. ⁷And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

A Remnant to Be Blessed

⁸Yet will I leave a remnant, in that ye shall have some that escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries. ⁹And they that escape of you shall remember Me among the nations whither they shall be carried captives, how that I have been anguished with their straying heart, which hath departed from Me, and with their eyes, which are gone astray after their idols; and they shall loathe themselves in their own sight for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations. ¹⁰And they shall know that I am the LORD; I have not said in vain that I would do this evil unto them.

¹¹Thus saith the Lord GOD: Smite with thy hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say: Alas! because of all the evil abominations of the house of Israel; for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence. ¹²He that is far off shall die of the pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that remaineth and is besieged shall die by the famine; thus will I spend My fury upon them. ¹³And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill, in all the tops of the mountains, and under every leafy tree, and under every thick terebinth, the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idols. ¹⁴And I will stretch out My hand upon them, and make the land desolate and waste, more than the wilderness of Diblah, throughout all their habitations; and they shall know that I am the LORD.'

The Hour of Doom

¹Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: ²And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD concerning the land of Israel: An end! the end is come upon the four corners of the land. ³Now is the end upon thee, and I will send Mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways; and I will bring upon thee all thine abominations. ⁴And Mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity; but I will bring thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

⁵Thus saith the Lord GOD: An evil, a singular evil, behold, it cometh. ⁶An end is come, the end is come, it awaketh against thee; behold, it cometh. ⁷The turn is come unto thee, O inhabitant of the land; the time is come, the day of tumult is near, and not of joyful shouting upon the mountains. ⁸Now will I shortly pour out My fury upon thee, and spend Mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways; and I will bring upon thee all thine abominations. ⁹And Mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity; I will bring upon thee according to thy ways, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee; and ye shall know that I the LORD do smite.

¹⁰Behold the day; behold, it cometh; the turn is come forth; the rod hath blossomed, arrogancy hath budded. ¹¹Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness; nought cometh from them, nor from their tumult, nor from their turmoil, neither is there eminency among them. ¹²The time is come, the day draweth near; let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn; for wrath is upon all the multitude thereof. 13For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, although they be yet alive; for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof, which shall not return; neither shall any stand possessed of the iniquity of his life.

The Desolation of Israel

14They have blown the horn, and have made all ready, but none goeth to the battle; for My wrath is upon all the multitude thereof. 15The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within; he that is in the field shall die with the sword, and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him. 16But they that shall at all escape of them, shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them moaning, every one in his iniquity. 17All hands shall be slack, and all knees shall drip with water. 18They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and horror shall cover them; and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon all their heads. 19They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be as an unclean thing; their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the LORD; they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels; because it hath been the stumblingblock of their iniquity.

20And as for the beauty of their ornament, which was set for a pride, they made the images of their abominations and their detestable things thereof; therefore have I made it unto them as an unclean thing. 21And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and they shall profane it. 22I will also turn My face from them, and they shall profane My secret place; and robbers shall enter into it, and profane it.

23Make the chain; for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence. 24Wherefore I will bring the worst of the nations, and they shall possess their houses; I will also make the pride of the strong to cease; and their holy places shall be profaned. 25Horror cometh; and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none. 26Calamity shall come upon calamity, and rumour shall be upon rumour; and they shall seek a vision of the prophet, and instruction shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the elders. 27The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with appalment, and the hands of the people of the land shall be enfeebled; I will do unto them after their way, and according to their deserts will I judge them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.'

The Vision of Idolatry in the Temple

1And it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in my house, and the elders of Judah sat before me, that the hand of the Lord GOD fell there upon me. 2Then I beheld, and lo a likeness as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loins and downward, fire; and from his loins and upward, as the appearance of brightness, as the colour of electrum. 3And the form of a hand was put forth, and I was taken by a lock of my head; and a spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the gate of the inner court that looketh toward the north; where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provoketh to jealousy. 4And, behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the vision that I saw in the plain.

5Then said He unto me: 'Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way toward the north.' So I lifted up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold northward of the gate of the altar this image of jealousy in the entry. 6And He said unto me: 'Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel do commit here, that I should go far off from My sanctuary? but thou shalt again see yet greater abominations.'

7And He brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold a hole in the wall. 8Then said He unto me: 'Son of man, dig now in the wall'; and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door. 9And He said unto me: 'Go in, and see the wicked abominations that they do here.' 10So I went in and saw; and behold every detestable form of creeping things and beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, portrayed upon the wall round about. 11And there stood before them seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, every man with his censor in his hand; and a thick cloud of incense went up. 12Then said He unto me: 'Son of man, hast thou seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in his chambers of imagery? for they say: The LORD seeth us not, the LORD hath forsaken the land.' 13He said also unto me: 'Thou shalt again see yet greater abominations which they do.'

14Then He brought me to the door of the gate of the LORD'S house which was toward the north; and, behold, there sat the women weeping for Tammuz. 15Then said He unto me: 'Hast thou seen this, O son of man? thou shalt again see yet greater abominations than these.'

16And He brought me into the inner court of the LORD'S house, and, behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped the sun toward the east. 17Then He said unto me: 'Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah that they commit the abominations which they commit here in that they fill the land with violence, and provoke Me still more, and, lo, they put the branch to their nose? 18Therefore will I also deal in fury; Mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity; and though they cry in Mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.'

Execution of the Idolaters

1Then he called in mine ears with a loud voice, saying: 'Cause ye them that have charge over the city to draw near, every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.' 2And, behold, six men came from the way of the upper gate, which lieth toward the north, every man with his weapon of destruction in his hand; and one man in the midst of them clothed in linen, with a writer's inkhorn on his side. And they went in, and stood beside the brazen altar.

3And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the cherub, whereupon it was, to the threshold of the house; and He called to the man clothed in linen, who had the writer's inkhorn on his side. 4And the LORD said unto him: 'Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that are done in the midst thereof.' 5And to the others He said in my hearing: 'Go ye through the city after him, and smite; let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity; 6slay utterly the old man, the young man and the maiden, and little children and women; but come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and begin at My sanctuary.' Then they began at the elders that were before the house. 7And He said unto them: 'Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain; go ye forth.' And they went forth, and smote in the city. 8And it came to pass, while they were smiting, and I was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said: 'Ah Lord GOD! wilt Thou destroy all the residue of Israel in Thy pouring out of Thy fury upon Jerusalem?'

9Then said He unto me: 'The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of wresting of judgment; for they say: The LORD hath forsaken the land, and the LORD seeth not. 10And as for Me also, Mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will bring their way upon their head.'

11And, behold, the man clothed in linen, who had the inkhorn on his side, reported, saying: 'I have done according to all that Thou hast commanded me.'

God's Glory Exits the Temple

1Then I looked, and, behold, upon the firmament that was over the head of the cherubim, there appeared above them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne. 2And He spoke unto the man clothed in linen, and said: 'Go in between the wheelwork, even under the cherub, and fill both thy hands with coals of fire from between the cherubim, and dash them against the city.' And he went in in my sight.

3Now the cherubim stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in; and the cloud filled the inner court. 4And the glory of the LORD mounted up from the cherub to the threshold of the house; and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD'S glory. 5And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of God Almighty when He speaketh.

9And I looked, and behold four wheels beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub, and another wheel beside another cherub; and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a beryl stone. 10And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been within a wheel. 11When they went, they went toward their four sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed it; they turned not as they went. 12And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had. 13As for the wheels, they were called in my hearing The wheelwork. 14And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of the cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15And the cherubim mounted up—this is the living creature that I saw by the river Chebar. 16And when the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them; and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them. 17When they stood, these stood, and when they mounted up, these mounted up with them; for the spirit of the living creature was in them.

20This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar; and I knew that they were cherubim. 21Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings; and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings. 22And as for the likeness of their faces, they were the faces which I saw by the river Chebar, their appearances and themselves; they went every one straight forward.

Evil in High Places

1Then a spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the east gate of the LORD'S house, which looketh eastward; and behold at the door of the gate five and twenty men; and I saw in the midst of them Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people. 2And He said unto me: 'Son of man, these are the men that devise iniquity, and that give wicked counsel in this city; 3that say: The time is not near to build houses! this city is the caldron, and we are the flesh. 4Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man.'

5And the spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and He said unto me: 'Speak: Thus saith the LORD: Thus have ye said, O house of Israel; for I know the things that come into your mind. 6Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain. 7Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron; but ye shall be brought forth out of the midst of it. 8Ye have feared the sword; and the sword will I bring upon you, saith the Lord GOD. 9And I will bring you forth out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you. 10Ye shall fall by the sword: I will judge you upon the border of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the LORD. 11Though this city shall not be your caldron, ye shall be the flesh in the midst thereof; I will judge you upon the border of Israel; 12and ye shall know that I am the LORD; for ye have not walked in My statutes, neither have ye executed Mine ordinances, but have done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you.'

A Promise of Restoration

13And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said: 'Ah Lord GOD! wilt Thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?'

14And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 15Son of man, as for thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, all of them, concerning whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said: Get you far from the LORD! unto us is this land given for a possession; 16therefore say: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Although I have removed them far off among the nations, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet have I been to them as a little sanctuary in the countries where they are come; 17therefore say: Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will even gather you from the peoples, and assemble you out of the countries where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel. 18And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the detestable things thereof and all the abominations thereof from thence. 19And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will remove the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them a heart of flesh; 20that they may walk in My statutes, and keep Mine ordinances, and do them; and they shall be My people, and I will be their God. 21But as for them whose heart walketh after the heart of their detestable things and their abominations, I will bring their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord GOD.'

God's Glory Leaves Jerusalem

22Then did the cherubim lift up their wings, and the wheels were beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above. 23And the glory of the LORD went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain which is on the east side of the city. 24And a spirit lifted me up, and brought me in the vision by the spirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity. So the vision that I had seen went up from Me. 25Then I spoke unto them of the captivity all the things that the LORD had shown me.

Signs of the Coming Captivity

1The word of the LORD also came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of the rebellious house, that have eyes to see, and see not, that have ears to hear, and hear not; for they are a rebellious house. 3Therefore, thou son of man, prepare thee stuff for exile, and remove as though for exile by day in their sight; and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight; it may be they will perceive, for they are a rebellious house. 4And thou shalt bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for exile; and thou shalt go forth thyself at even in their sight, as when men go forth into exile. 5Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby. 6In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulder, and carry it forth in the darkness; thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the ground; for I have set thee for a sign unto the house of Israel.'

7And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for exile, and in the even I digged through the wall with my hand; I carried out in the darkness, and bore it upon my shoulder in their sight.

8And in the morning came the word of the LORD unto me, saying: 9Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto thee: What doest thou? 10Say thou unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Concerning the prince, even this burden, in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel among whom they are, 11say: I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them—they shall go into exile, into captivity. 12And the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder, and go forth in the darkness; they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby; he shall cover his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes. 13My net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in My snare; and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans; yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there. 14And I will disperse toward every wind all that are round about him to help him, and all his troops; and I will draw out the sword after them. 15And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countries. 16But I will leave a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence; that they may declare all their abominations among the nations whither they come; and they shall know that I am the LORD.'

17Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying: 18Son of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with anxiety; 19and say unto the people of the land: Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem in the land of Israel. They shall eat their bread with anxiety, and drink their water with appalment, that her land may be desolate from all that is therein, because of the violence of all them that dwell therein. 20And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.'

The Presumptuous Proverb

21And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 22Son of man, what is that proverb that ye have in the land of Israel, saying: The days are prolonged, and every vision faileth? 23Tell them therefore: Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel; but say unto them: The days are at hand, and the word of every vision. 24For there shall be no more any vain vision nor smooth divination within the house of Israel. 25For I am the LORD; I will speak, what word soever it be that I shall speak, and it shall be performed; it shall be no more delayed; for in your days, O rebellious house, will I speak the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord GOD.'

26Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying: 27Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say: The vision that he seeth is for many days to come, and he prophesieth of times that are far off. 28Therefore say unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD: There shall none of My words be delayed any more, but the word which I shall speak shall be performed, saith the Lord GOD.'

Reproof of False Prophets

1And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel that prophesy, and say thou unto them that prophesy out of their own heart: Hear ye the word of the LORD: 3Thus saith the Lord GOD: Woe unto the vile prophets, that follow their own spirit, and things which they have not seen! 4O Israel, thy prophets have been like foxes in ruins. 5Ye have not gone up into the breaches, neither made up the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battle in the day of the LORD. ⁶They have seen vanity and lying divination, that say: The LORD saith; and the LORD hath not sent them, yet they hope that the word would be confirmed! ⁷Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas ye say: The LORD saith; albeit I have not spoken?

⁸Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord GOD. ⁹And My hand shall be against the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies; they shall not be in the council of My people, neither shall they be written in the register of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD. ¹⁰Because, even because they have led My people astray, saying: Peace, and there is no peace; and when it buildeth up a slight wall, behold, they daub it with whited plaster; ¹¹say unto them that daub it with whited plaster, that it shall fall; there shall be an overflowing shower, and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall, and a stormy wind shall break forth, ¹²and, lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you: Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it? ¹³Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: I will even cause a stormy wind to break forth in My fury; and there shall be an overflowing shower in Mine anger, and great hailstones in fury to consume it. ¹⁴So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with whited plaster, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be uncovered; and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ¹⁵Thus will I spend My fury upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with whited plaster; and I will say unto you: The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it; ¹⁶to wit, the prophets of Israel that prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and that see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord GOD.

Reproof of False Prophetesses

¹⁷And thou, son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, that prophesy out of their own heart; and prophesy thou against them, ¹⁸and say: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Woe to the women that sew cushions upon all elbows, and make pads for the head of persons of every stature to hunt souls! Will ye hunt the souls of My people, and save souls alive for yourselves? ¹⁹And ye have profaned Me among My people for handfuls of barley and for crumbs of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to My people that hearken unto lies.

²⁰Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against your cushions, wherewith ye hunt the souls as birds, and I will tear them from your arms; and I will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt as birds. ²¹Your pads also will I tear, and deliver My people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ²²Because with lies ye have cowed the heart of the righteous, when I have not grieved him; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, that he be saved alive; ²³therefore ye shall no more see vanity, nor divine divinations; and I will deliver My people out of your hand; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.'

Idolatrous Elders Condemned

(Romans 14:13–23; 1 Corinthians 8:1–13)

1Then came certain of the elders of Israel unto me, and sat before me. 2And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 3Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their mind, and put the stumblingblock of their iniquity before their face; should I be inquired of at all by them? 4Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Every man of the house of Israel that setteth up his idols in his mind, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet—I the LORD will answer him that cometh according to the multitude of his idols; 5that I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all turned away from Me through their idols.

6Therefore say unto the house of Israel: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Return ye, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations. 7For every one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn in Israel, that separateth himself from Me, and taketh his idols into his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet, that he inquire for him of Me—I the LORD will answer him by Myself, 8and I will set My face against that man, and will make him a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of My people; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

9And when the prophet is enticed and speaketh a word, I the LORD have enticed that prophet, and I will stretch out My hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of My people Israel. 10And they shall bear their iniquity; the iniquity of the prophet shall be even as the iniquity of him that inquireth; 11that the house of Israel may go no more astray from Me, neither defile themselves any more with all their transgressions; but that they may be My people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord GOD.'

Four Dire Judgments

12And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 13Son of man, when a land sinneth against Me by trespassing grievously, and I stretch out My hand upon it, and break the staff of the bread thereof, and send famine upon it, and cut off from it man and beast; 14though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they should deliver but their own souls by their righteousness, saith the Lord GOD. 15If I cause evil beasts to pass through the land, and they bereave it, and it be desolate, so that no man may pass through because of the beasts; 16though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters; they only shall be delivered, but the land shall be desolate. 17Or if I bring a sword upon that land, and say: Let the sword go through the land, so that I cut off from it man and beast; 18though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves. 19Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out My fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast; 20though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness.

21For thus saith the Lord GOD: How much more when I send My four sore judgments against Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the evil beasts, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast. 22And, behold, though there be left a remnant therein that shall be brought forth, both sons and daughters; behold, when they come forth unto you, and ye see their way and their doings, then ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it; 23and they shall comfort you, when ye see their way and their doings, and ye shall know that I have not done without cause all that I have done in it, saith the Lord GOD.'

Jerusalem the Useless Vine

1And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, what is the vine-tree more than any tree, the vine branch which grew up among the trees of the forest? 3Shall wood be taken thereof to make any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon? 4Behold, it is cast into the fire for fuel; the fire hath devoured both the ends of it, and the midst of it is singed; is it profitable for any work? 5Behold, when it was whole, it was meet for no work; how much less, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is singed, shall it yet be meet for any work? 6Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: As the vine-tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so do I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem. 7And I will set My face against them; out of the fire are they come forth, and the fire shall devour them; and ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I set My face against them. 8And I will make the land desolate, because they have acted treacherously, saith the Lord GOD.'

Jerusalem's Unfaithfulness

1Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations, 3and say: Thus saith the Lord GOD unto Jerusalem: Thine origin and thy nativity is of the land of the Canaanite; the Amorite was thy father, and thy mother was a Hittite. 4And as for thy nativity, in the day thou wast born thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water for cleansing; thou was not salted at all, nor swaddled at all. 5No eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee; but thou wast cast out in the open field in the loathsomeness of thy person, in the day that thou wast born.

8Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, and, behold, thy time was the time of love, I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness; yea, I swore unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord GOD, and thou becamest Mine. 9Then washed I thee with water; yea, I cleansed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil. 10I clothed thee also with richly woven work, and shod thee with sealskin, and I wound fine linen about thy head, and covered thee with silk. 11I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thy hands, and a chain on thy neck. 12And I put a ring upon thy nose, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thy head. 13Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and richly woven work; thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil; and thou didst wax exceeding beautiful, and thou wast meet for royal estate. 14And thy renown went forth among the nations for thy beauty; for it was perfect, through My splendour which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord GOD.

15But thou didst trust in thy beauty and play the harlot because of thy renown, and didst pour out thy harlotries on every one that passed by; his it was. 16And thou didst take of thy garments, and didst make for thee high places decked with divers colours, and didst play the harlot upon them; the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so. 17Thou didst also take thy fair jewels of My gold and of My silver, which I had given thee, and madest for thee images of men, and didst play the harlot with them; 18and thou didst take thy richly woven garments and cover them, and didst set Mine oil and Mine incense before them. 19My bread also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou didst even set it before them for a sweet savour, and thus it was; saith the Lord GOD. 20Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto Me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them to be devoured. Were thy harlotries a small matter, 21that thou hast slain My children, and delivered them up, in setting them apart unto them? 22And in all thine abominations and thy harlotries thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast wallowing in thy blood.

30How weak is thy heart, saith the Lord GOD, seeing thou doest all these things, the work of a wanton harlot; 31in that thou buildest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thy lofty place in every street; and hast not been as a harlot that enhanceth her hire. 32Thou wife that committest adultery, that takest strangers instead of thy husband— 33to all harlots gifts are given; but thou hast given thy gifts to all thy lovers, and hast bribed them to come unto thee from every side in thy harlotries. 34And the contrary is in thee from other women, in that thou didst solicit to harlotry, and wast not solicited; and in that thou givest hire, and no hire is given unto thee, thus thou art contrary.

Judgment on Jerusalem

35Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD! 36Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thy filthiness was poured out, and thy nakedness uncovered through thy harlotries with thy lovers; and because of all the idols of thy abominations, and for the blood of thy children, that thou didst give unto them; 37therefore behold, I will gather all thy lovers, unto whom thou hast been pleasant, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated; I will even gather them against thee from every side, and will uncover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness. 38And I will judge thee, as women that break wedlock and shed blood are judged; and I will bring upon thee the blood of fury and jealousy. 39I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down thine eminent place, and break down thy lofty places; and they shall strip thee of thy clothes, and take thy fair jewels; and they shall leave thee naked and bare. 40They shall also bring up an assembly against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords. 41And they shall burn thy houses with fire, and execute judgments upon thee in the sight of many women; and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt also give no hire any more. 42So will I satisfy My fury upon thee, and My jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry. ⁴³Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast fretted Me in all these things; lo, therefore I also will bring thy way upon thy head, saith the Lord GOD; or hast thou not committed this lewdness above all thine abominations?

⁴⁴Behold, every one that useth proverbs shall use this proverb against thee, saying: As the mother, so her daughter. ⁴⁵Thou art thy mother's daughter, that loatheth her husband and her children; and thou art the sister of thy sisters, who loathed their husbands and their children; your mother was a Hittite, and your father an Amorite. ⁴⁶And thine elder sister is Samaria, that dwelleth at thy left hand, she and her daughters; and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom and her daughters. ⁴⁷Yet hast thou not walked in their ways, nor done after their abominations; but in a very little while thou didst deal more corruptly than they in all thy ways. ⁴⁸As I live, saith the Lord GOD, Sodom thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters. ⁴⁹Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom: pride, fulness of bread, and careless ease was in her and in her daughters; neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy. ⁵⁰And they were haughty, and committed abomination before Me; therefore I removed them when I saw it. ⁵¹Neither hath Samaria committed even half of thy sins; but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and hast justified thy sisters by all thine abominations which thou hast done. ⁵²Thou also, bear thine own shame, in that thou hast given judgment for thy sisters; through thy sins that thou hast committed more abominable than they, they are more righteous than thou; yea, be thou also confounded, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast justified thy sisters.

⁵³And I will turn their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, and the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them; ⁵⁴that thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be ashamed because of all that thou hast done, in that thou art a comfort unto them. ⁵⁵And thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, and thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate. ⁵⁶For thy sister Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride; ⁵⁷before thy wickedness was uncovered, as at the time of the taunt of the daughters of Aram, and of all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philistines, that have thee in disdain round about. ⁵⁸Thou hast borne thy lewdness and thine abominations, saith the LORD.

The Covenant Remembered

⁵⁹For thus saith the Lord GOD: I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, who hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant.

⁶⁰Nevertheless I will remember My covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant. ⁶¹Then shalt thou remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder sisters and thy younger; and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not because of thy covenant. ⁶²And I will establish My covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD; ⁶³that thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more, because of thy shame; when I have forgiven thee all that thou hast done, saith the Lord GOD.'

The Parable of Two Eagles and a Vine

(Matthew 13:24–30)

1And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel, 3and say: Thus saith the Lord GOD: A great eagle with great wings And long pinions, Full of feathers, which had divers colours, Came unto Lebanon, And took the top of the cedar; 4He cropped off the topmost of the young twigs thereof, And carried it into a land of traffic; He set it in a city of merchants. 5He took also of the seed of the land, And planted it in a fruitful soil; He placed it beside many waters, He set it as a slip. 6And it grew, and became a spreading vine Of low stature, Whose tendrils might turn toward him, And the roots thereof be under him; So it became a vine, and brought forth branches, And shot forth sprigs.

7There was also another great eagle with great wings And many feathers; And, behold, this vine did bend Its roots toward him, And shot forth its branches toward him, from the beds of its plantation, That he might water it. 8It was planted in a good soil By many waters, That it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, That it might be a stately vine. 9Say thou: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Shall it prosper? Shall he not pull up the roots thereof, And cut off the fruit thereof, that it wither, Yea, wither in all its sprouting leaves? Neither shall great power or much people be at hand When it is plucked up by the roots thereof. 10Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper? Shall it not utterly wither, when the east wind toucheth it? In the beds where it grew it shall wither.'

The Parable Explained

11Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 12Say now to the rebellious house: Know ye not what these things mean? tell them: Behold, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and brought them to him to Babylon; 13and he took of the seed royal, and made a covenant with him, and brought him under an oath, and the mighty of the land he took away; 14that his might be a lowly kingdom, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping his covenant it might stand. 15But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? shall he break the covenant, and yet escape? 16As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he broke, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die. 17Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company succour him in the war, when they cast up mounds and build forts, to cut off many souls; 18seeing he hath despised the oath by breaking the covenant, when, lo, he had given his hand, and hath done all these things, he shall not escape. 19Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: As I live, surely Mine oath that he hath despised, and My covenant that he hath broken, I will even bring it upon his own head. 20And I will spread My net upon him, and he shall be taken in My snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with him there for his treachery that he hath committed against Me. 21And all his mighty men in all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward every wind; and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it.

22Thus saith the Lord GOD: Moreover I will take, even I, of the lofty top of the cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the topmost of its young twigs a tender one, and I will plant it upon a high mountain and eminent; 23in the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it; and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a stately cedar; and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing, in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell. 24And all the trees of the field shall know that I the LORD have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish; I the LORD have spoken and have done it.'

The Soul Who Sins Will Die

1And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2What mean ye, that ye use this proverb in the land of Israel, saying: The fathers have eaten sour grapes, And the children's teeth are set on edge?

3As I live, saith the Lord GOD, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.

4Behold, all souls are Mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is Mine; the soul that sinneth, it shall die.

10If he beget a son that is a robber, a shedder of blood, and that doeth to a brother any of these things, 11whereas he himself had not done any of these things, for he hath even eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife, 12hath wronged the poor and needy, hath taken by robbery, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination, 13hath given forth upon interest, and hath taken increase; shall he then live? he shall not live—he hath done all these abominations; he shall surely be put to death, his blood shall be upon him.

14Now, lo, if he beget a son, that seeth all his father's sins, which he hath done, and considereth, and doeth not such like, 15that hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife, 16neither hath wronged any, hath not taken aught to pledge, neither hath taken by robbery, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment, 17that hath withdrawn his hand from the poor, that hath not received interest nor increase, hath executed Mine ordinances, hath walked in My statutes; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live. 18As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, committed robbery on his brother, and did that which is not good among his people, behold, he dieth for his iniquity.

19Yet say ye: Why doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father with him? When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all My statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live.

20The soul that sinneth, it shall die; the son shall not bear the iniquity of the father with him, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son with him; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

21But if the wicked turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all My statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die. 22None of his transgressions that he hath committed shall be remembered against him; for his righteousness that he hath done he shall live. 23Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord GOD; and not rather that he should return from his ways, and live?

24But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? None of his righteous deeds that he hath done shall be remembered; for his trespass that he trespassed, and for his sin that he hath sinned, for them shall he die. 25Yet ye say: The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O house of Israel: Is it My way that is not equal? is it not your ways that are unequal? 26When the righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall die therefor; for his iniquity that he hath done shall he die. 27Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive. 28Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die. 29Yet saith the house of Israel: The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, is it My ways that are not equal? is it not your ways that are unequal?

30Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord GOD. Return ye, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so shall they not be a stumblingblock of iniquity unto you. 31Cast away from you all your transgressions, wherein ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit; for why will ye die, O house of Israel? 32For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord GOD; wherefore turn yourselves, and live.

A Lament for the Princes of Israel

1Moreover, take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Israel,

2and say: How was thy mother a lioness; Among lions she couched, In the midst of the young lions She reared her whelps!

3And she brought up one of her whelps, He became a young lion; And he learned to catch the prey, He devoured men.

4Then the nations assembled against him, He was taken in their pit; And they brought him with hooks Unto the land of Egypt.

5Now when she saw that she was disappointed, And her hope was lost, Then she took another of her whelps, And made him a young lion.

6And he went up and down among the lions, He became a young lion; And he learned to catch the prey, He devoured men.

7And he knew their castles, And laid waste their cities; And the land was desolate, And the fulness thereof, Because of the noise of his roaring.

8Then the nations cried out against him On every side from the provinces; And they spread their net over him, He was taken in their pit.

9And they put him in a cage with hooks, And brought him to the king of Babylon; That they might bring him into strongholds, So that his voice should no more be heard Upon the mountains of Israel.

10Thy mother was like a vine, in thy likeness, Planted by the waters; She was fruitful and full of branches By reason of many waters.

11And she had strong rods To be sceptres for them that bore rule; And her stature was exalted Among the thick branches, And she was seen in her height With the multitude of her tendrils.

12But she was plucked up in fury, She was cast down to the ground, And the east wind dried up her fruit; Her strong rods were broken off and withered, The fire consumed her.

13And now she is planted in the wilderness, In a dry and thirsty ground.

14And fire is gone out of the rod of her branches, It hath devoured her fruit, So that there is in her no strong rod To be a sceptre to rule.' This is a lamentation, and it was for a lamentation.

Israel's Rebellion in Egypt

1And it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the LORD, and sat before me. 2And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 3Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Are ye come to inquire of Me? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will not be inquired of by you. 4Wilt thou judge them, son of man, wilt thou judge them? cause them to know the abominations of their fathers; 5and say unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the day when I chose Israel, and lifted up My hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made Myself known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up My hand unto them, saying: I am the LORD your God; 6in that day I lifted up My hand unto them, to bring them forth out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had sought out for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the beauty of all lands; 7and I said unto them: Cast ye away every man the detestable things of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt; I am the LORD your God. 8But they rebelled against Me, and would not hearken unto Me; they did not every man cast away the detestable things of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt; then I said I would pour out My fury upon them, to spend My anger upon them in the midst of the land of Egypt. 9But I wrought for My name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, among whom they were, in whose sight I made Myself known unto them, so as to bring them forth out of the land of Egypt.

Israel's Rebellion in the Wilderness

10So I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11And I gave them My statutes, and taught them Mine ordinances, which if a man do, he shall live by them. 12Moreover also I gave them My sabbaths, to be a sign between Me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD that sanctify them. 13But the house of Israel rebelled against Me in the wilderness; they walked not in My statutes, and they rejected Mine ordinances, which if a man do, he shall live by them, and My sabbaths they greatly profaned; then I said I would pour out My fury upon them in the wilderness, to consume them. 14But I wrought for My name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I brought them out. 15Yet also I lifted up My hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the beauty of all lands; 16because they rejected Mine ordinances, and walked not in My statutes, and profaned My sabbaths—for their heart went after their idols. 17Nevertheless Mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make a full end of them in the wilderness.

18And I said unto their children in the wilderness: Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their ordinances, nor defile yourselves with their idols;

19I am the LORD your God; walk in My statutes, and keep Mine ordinances, and do them; 20and hallow My sabbaths, and they shall be a sign between Me and you, that ye may know that I am the LORD your God. 21But the children rebelled against Me; they walked not in My statutes, neither kept Mine ordinances to do them, which if a man do, he shall live by them; they profaned My sabbaths; then I said I would pour out My fury upon them, to spend My anger upon them in the wilderness. 22Nevertheless I withdrew My hand, and wrought for My name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I brought them forth. 23I lifted up My hand unto them also in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; 24because they had not executed Mine ordinances, but had rejected My statutes, and had profaned My sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers' idols. 25Wherefore I gave them also statutes that were not good, and ordinances whereby they should not live; 26and I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they set apart all that openeth the womb, that I might destroy them, to the end that they might know that I am the LORD.

Israel's Rebellion in the Land

27Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, and say unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD: In this moreover have your fathers blasphemed Me, in that they dealt treacherously with Me. 28For when I had brought them into the land, which I lifted up My hand to give unto them, then they saw every high hill, and every thick tree, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering, there also they made their sweet savour, and there they poured out their drink-offerings. 29Then I said unto them: What meaneth the high place whereunto ye go? So the name thereof is called Bamah unto this day. 30Wherefore say unto the house of Israel: Thus saith the Lord GOD: When ye pollute yourselves after the manner of your fathers, and go after their abominations, 31and when, in offering your gifts, in making your sons to pass through the fire, ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, unto this day; shall I then be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will not be inquired of by you; 32and that which cometh into your mind shall not be at all; in that ye say: We will be as the nations, as the families of the countries, to serve wood and stone.

Judgment and Restoration

33As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with fury poured out, will I be king over you; 34and I will bring you out from the peoples, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with fury poured out; 35and I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, and there will I plead with you face to face. 36Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord GOD. 37And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant; 38and I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against Me; I will bring them forth out of the land where they sojourn, but they shall not enter into the land of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

39As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord GOD: Go ye, serve every one his idols, even because ye will not hearken unto Me; but My holy name shall ye no more profane with your gifts, and with your idols. 40For in My holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord GOD, there shall all the house of Israel, all of them, serve Me in the land; there will I accept them, and there will I require your heave-offerings, and the first of your gifts, with all your holy things. 41With your sweet savour will I accept you, when I bring you out from the peoples, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered; and I will be sanctified in you in the sight of the nations. 42And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the country which I lifted up My hand to give unto your fathers. 43And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have polluted yourselves; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that ye have committed. 44And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have wrought with you for My name's sake, not according to your evil ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord GOD.'

A Prophecy against the South

45And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 46Son of man, set thy face toward the South, and preach toward the South, and prophesy against the forest of the field in the South; 47and say to the forest of the South: Hear the word of the LORD: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree, it shall not be quenched, even a flaming flame; and all faces from the south to the north shall be seared thereby. 48All flesh shall see that I the LORD have kindled it; it shall not be quenched.' 49Then said I: 'Ah Lord GOD! they say of me: Is he not a maker of parables?'

God's Sword of Judgment

1Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, and preach toward the sanctuaries, and prophesy against the land of Israel; 3say to the land of Israel: Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth My sword out of its sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked. 4Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall My sword go forth out of its sheath against all flesh from the south to the north; 5and all flesh shall know that I the LORD have drawn forth My sword out of its sheath; it shall not return any more. 6Sigh therefore, thou son of man; with the breaking of thy loins and with bitterness shalt thou sigh before their eyes. 7And it shall be, when they say unto thee: Wherefore sighest thou? that thou shalt say: Because of the tidings, for it cometh; and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be slack, and every spirit shall be faint, and all knees shall drip with water; behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord GOD.'

8And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

9Son of man, prophesy, and say: Thus saith the LORD: Say: A sword, a sword, it is sharpened, And also furbished:

10It is sharpened that it may make a sore slaughter, It is furbished that it may glitter—Or shall we make mirth?—Against the rod of My son, contemning every tree.

11And it is given to be furbished, That it may be handled; The sword, it is sharpened, Yea, it is furbished, To give it into the hand of the slayer. 12Cry and wail, son of man; for it is upon My people, it is upon all the princes of Israel; they are thrust down to the sword with My people; smite therefore upon thy thigh. 13For there is a trial; and what if it contemn even the rod? It shall be no more, saith the Lord GOD.

14Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy, and smite thy hands together; and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of those to be slain; it is the sword of the great one that is to be slain, which compasseth them about. 15I have set the point of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may melt, and their stumblings be multiplied; ah! it is made glittering, it is sharpened for slaughter. 16Go thee one way to the right, or direct thyself to the left; whither is thy face set? 17I will also smite My hands together, and I will satisfy My fury; I the LORD have spoken it.'

24Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are uncovered, so that your sins do appear in all your doings; because that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand. 25And thou, O wicked one, that art to be slain, the prince of Israel, whose day is come, in the time of the iniquity of the end; 26thus saith the Lord GOD: The mitre shall be removed, and the crown taken off; this shall be no more the same: that which is low shall be exalted, and that which is high abased. 27A ruin, a ruin, a ruin, will I make it; this also shall be no more, until he come whose right it is, and I will give it him.

28And thou, son of man, prophesy, and say: Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning the children of Ammon, and concerning their taunt; and say thou: O sword, O sword keen-edged, Furbished for the slaughter, To the uttermost, because of the glitterings; 29While they see falsehood unto thee, While they divine lies unto thee, To lay thee upon the necks of the wicked that are to be slain, Whose day is come, in the time of the iniquity of the end!— 30Cause it to return into its sheath!—In the place where thou wast created, in the land of thine origin, Will I judge thee. ³¹And I will pour out My indignation upon thee, I will blow upon thee with the fire of My wrath; And I will deliver thee into the hand of brutish men, Skilful to destroy. ³²Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire; Thy blood shall be in the midst of the land, Thou shalt be no more remembered; For I the LORD have spoken it.'

The Sins of Jerusalem

¹Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: ²Now, thou, son of man, wilt thou judge, wilt thou judge the bloody city? then cause her to know all her abominations. ³And thou shalt say: Thus saith the Lord GOD: O city that sheddest blood in the midst of thee, that thy time may come, and that makest idols unto thyself to defile thee; ⁴thou art become guilty in thy blood that thou hast shed, and art defiled in thine idols which thou hast made; and thou hast caused thy days to draw near, and art come even unto thy years; therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the nations, and a mocking to all the countries! ⁵Those that are near, and those that are far from thee, shall mock thee, thou defiled of name and full of tumult.

⁶Behold, the princes of Israel, every one according to his might, have been in thee to shed blood. ⁷In thee have they made light of father and mother; in the midst of thee have they dealt by oppression with the stranger; in thee have they wronged the fatherless and the widow. ⁸Thou hast despised My holy things, and hast profaned My sabbaths. ⁹In thee have been talebearers to shed blood; and in thee they have eaten upon the mountains; in the midst of thee they have committed lewdness. ¹⁰In thee have they uncovered their fathers' nakedness; in thee have they humbled her that was unclean in her impurity. ¹¹And each hath committed abomination with his neighbour's wife; and each hath lewdly defiled his daughter-in-law; and each in thee hath humbled his sister, his father's daughter. ¹²In thee have they taken gifts to shed blood; thou hast taken interest and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours by oppression, and hast forgotten Me, saith the Lord GOD.

¹³Behold, therefore, I have smitten My hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee. ¹⁴Can thy heart endure, or can thy hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? I the LORD have spoken it, and will do it. ¹⁵And I will scatter thee among the nations, and disperse thee through the countries; and I will consume thy filthiness out of thee. ¹⁶And thou shalt be profaned in thyself, in the sight of the nations; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.'

The Refining Furnace

¹⁷And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: ¹⁸Son of man, the house of Israel is become dross unto Me; all of them are brass and tin and iron and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they are the dross of silver. ¹⁹Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because ye are all become dross, therefore, behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem. ²⁰As they gather silver and brass and iron and lead and tin into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you in Mine anger and in My fury, and I will cast you in, and melt you. ²¹Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you with the fire of My wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof. ²²As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the LORD have poured out My fury upon you.'

Israel's Wicked Leaders

23And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 24Son of man, say unto her: Thou art a land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation. 25There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey; they have devoured souls, they take treasure and precious things, they have made her widows many in the midst thereof. 26Her priests have done violence to My law, and have profaned My holy things; they have put no difference between the holy and the common, neither have they taught difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from My sabbaths, and I am profaned among them. 27Her princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey: to shed blood, and to destroy souls, so as to get dishonest gain. 28And her prophets have daubed for them with whited plaster, seeing falsehood, and divining lies unto them, saying: Thus saith the Lord GOD, when the LORD hath not spoken. 29The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery, and have wronged the poor and needy, and have oppressed the stranger unlawfully. 30And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the hedge, and stand in the breach before Me for the land, that I should not destroy it; but I found none. 31Therefore have I poured out Mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of My wrath; their own way have I brought upon their heads, saith the Lord GOD.'

The Two Adulterous Sisters

1And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother; 3and they committed harlotries in Egypt; they committed harlotries in their youth; there were their bosoms pressed, and there their virgin breasts were bruised. 4And the names of them were Oholah the elder, and Oholibah her sister; and they became Mine, and they bore sons and daughters. And as for their names, Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem Oholibah.

11And her sister Oholibah saw this, yet was she more corrupt in her doting than she, and in her harlotries more than her sister in her harlotries. 12She doted upon the Assyrians, governors and rulers, warriors, clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them handsome young men. 13And I saw that she was defiled; they both took one way. 14And she increased her harlotries; for she saw men portrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans portrayed with vermilion, 15girded with girdles upon their loins, with pendant turbans upon their heads, all of them captains to look upon, the likeness of the sons of Babylon, even of Chaldea, the land of their nativity. 16And as soon as she saw them she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Chaldea. 17And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their lust; and she was polluted with them, and her soul was alienated from them. 18So she uncovered her harlotries, and uncovered her nakedness; then My soul was alienated from her, like as My soul was alienated from her sister. 19Yet she multiplied her harlotries, remembering the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt. 20And she doted upon concubinage with them, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses. 21Thus thou didst call to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, when they from Egypt bruised thy breasts for the bosom of thy youth.

Oholibah to Be Plagued

22Therefore, O Oholibah, thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy soul is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side: 23the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shoa and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them, handsome young men, governors and rulers all of them, captains and councillors, all of them riding upon horses. 24And they shall come against thee with hosts, chariots, and wheels, and with an assembly of peoples; they shall set themselves in array against thee with buckler and shield and helmet round about; and I will commit the judgment unto them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgments. 25And I will set My jealousy against thee, and they shall deal with thee in fury; they shall take away thy nose and thine ears, and thy residue shall fall by the sword; they shall take thy sons and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire. 26They shall also strip thee of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels. 27Thus will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy harlotry brought from the land of Egypt, so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more. 28For thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy soul is alienated; 29and they shall deal with thee in hatred, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare; and the nakedness of thy harlotries shall be uncovered, both thy lewdness and thy harlotries. 30These things shall be done unto thee, for that thou hast gone astray after the nations, and because thou art polluted with their idols. 31In the way of thy sister hast thou walked; therefore will I give her cup into thy hand.

32Thus saith the Lord GOD: Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup, Which is deep and large; Thou shalt be for a scorn and a derision; It is full to the uttermost.

33Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, With the cup of astonishment and appalment, With the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34Thou shalt even drink it and drain it, And thou shalt crunch the sherds thereof, And shalt tear thy breasts; For I have spoken it, Saith the Lord GOD.

35Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thou hast forgotten Me, and cast Me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy harlotries.'

Judgment on Both Sisters

36The LORD said moreover unto me: 'Son of man, wilt thou judge Oholah and Oholibah? then declare unto them their abominations. 37For they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery; and their sons, whom they bore unto Me, they have also set apart unto them to be devoured. 38Moreover this they have done unto Me: they have defiled My sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned My sabbaths. 39For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into My sanctuary to profane it; and, lo, thus have they done in the midst of My house.

40And furthermore ye have sent for men that come from far; unto whom a messenger was sent, and, lo, they came; for whom thou didst wash thyself, paint thine eyes, and deck thyself with ornaments; 41and satest upon a stately bed, with a table prepared before it, whereupon thou didst set Mine incense and Mine oil. 42And the voice of a multitude being at ease was therein; and for the sake of men, they were so many, brought drunken from the wilderness, they put bracelets upon their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43Then said I of her that was worn out by adulteries: Still they commit harlotries with her, even her. 44For every one went in unto her, as men go in unto a harlot; so went they in unto Oholah and unto Oholibah, the lewd women. 45But righteous men, they shall judge them as adulteresses are judged, and as women that shed blood are judged; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands.

46For thus saith the Lord GOD: An assembly shall be brought up against them, and they shall be made a horror and a spoil. 47And the assembly shall stone them with stones, and despatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire. 48Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness. 49And your lewdness shall be recompensed upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols; and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.'

The Parable of the Cooking Pot

1And the word of the LORD came unto me in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, saying: 2Son of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this selfsame day; this selfsame day the king of Babylon hath invested Jerusalem.

3And utter a parable concerning the rebellious house, and say unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Set on the pot, set it on, And also pour water into it;

4Gather into it the pieces belonging to it, Even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder; Fill it with the choice bones.

5Take the choice of the flock, And pile also the bones under it; Make it boil well, That the bones thereof may also be seethed in the midst of it.

6Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Woe to the bloody city, to the pot whose filth is therein, and whose filth is not gone out of it! bring it out piece by piece; no lot is fallen upon it.

7For her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon the bare rock; she poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust;

8that it might cause fury to come up, that vengeance might be taken, I have set her blood upon the bare rock, that it should not be covered.

9Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Woe to the bloody city! I also will make the pile great,

10heaping on the wood, kindling the fire, that the flesh may be consumed; and preparing the mixture, that the bones also may be burned;

11then will I set it empty upon the coals thereof, that it may be hot, and the bottom thereof may burn, and that the impurity of it may be molten in it, that the filth of it may be consumed

12It hath wearied itself with toil; yet its great filth goeth not forth out of it, yea, its noisome filth.

13Because of thy filthy lewdness, because I have purged thee and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, till I have satisfied My fury upon thee.

14I the LORD have spoken it; it shall come to pass, and I will do it; I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord GOD.'

Ezekiel's Wife Dies

15Also the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 16Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke; yet neither shalt thou make lamentation nor weep, neither shall thy tears run down. 17Sigh in silence; make no mourning for the dead, bind thy headtire upon thee, and put thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thine upper lip, and eat not the bread of men.' 18So I spoke unto the people in the morning, and at even my wife died; and I did in the morning as I was commanded. 19And the people said unto me: 'Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou doest so?' 20Then I said unto them: 'The word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 21Speak unto the house of Israel: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will profane My sanctuary, the pride of your power, the desire of your eyes, and the longing of your soul; and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left behind shall fall by the sword. 22And ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover your upper lips, nor eat the bread of men; 23and your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet; ye shall not make lamentation nor weep; but ye shall pine away in your iniquities, and moan one toward another. 24Thus shall Ezekiel be unto you a sign; according to all that he hath done shall ye do; when this cometh, then shall ye know that I am the Lord GOD.

25And thou, son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their stronghold, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and the yearning of their soul, their sons and their daughters, 26that in that day he that escapeth shall come unto thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears? 27In that day shall thy mouth be opened together with him that is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb; so shalt thou be a sign unto them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.'

A Prophecy against Ammon

1And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, set thy face toward the children of Ammon, and prophesy against them; 3and say unto the children of Ammon: Hear the word of the Lord GOD: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thou saidst: Aha! against My sanctuary, when it was profaned, and against the land of Israel, when it was made desolate, and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity; 4therefore, behold, I will deliver thee to the children of the east for a possession, and they shall set their encampments in thee, and make their dwellings in thee; they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk. 5And I will make Rabbah a pasture for camels, and the children of Ammon a couching-place for flocks; and ye shall know that I am the LORD. 6For thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thou hast clapped thy hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced with all the disdain of thy soul against the land of Israel; 7therefore, behold, I stretch out My hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for a spoil to the nations; and I will cut thee off from the peoples, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries; I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

A Prophecy against Moab

8Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because that Moab and Seir do say: Behold, the house of Judah is like unto all the nations, 9therefore, behold, I will open the flank of Moab on the side of the cities, on the side of his cities which are on his frontiers, the beautiful country of Beth-jeshimoth, Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim, 10together with the children of Ammon, unto the children of the east, and I will give them for a possession, that the children of Ammon may not be remembered among the nations; 11and I will execute judgments upon Moab; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

A Prophecy against Edom

12Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because that Edom hath dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and hath greatly offended, and revenged himself upon them; 13therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: I will stretch out My hand upon Edom, and will cut off man and beast from it; and I will make it desolate from Teman, even unto Dedan shall they fall by the sword. 14And I will lay My vengeance upon Edom by the hand of My people Israel; and they shall do in Edom according to Mine anger and according to My fury; and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord GOD.

A Prophecy against the Philistines

15Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because the Philistines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with disdain of soul to destroy, for the old hatred; 16therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will stretch out My hand upon the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethites, and destroy the remnant of the sea-coast. 17And I will execute great vengeance upon them with furious rebukes; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall lay My vengeance upon them.'

A Prophecy against Tyre

1And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, because that Tyre hath said against Jerusalem: Aha, she is broken that was the gate of the peoples; She is turned unto me; I shall be filled with her that is laid waste; 3Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against thee, O Tyre, And will cause many nations to come up against thee, As the sea causeth its waves to come up. 4And they shall destroy the walls of Tyre, And break down her towers; I will also scrape her dust from her, And make her a bare rock. 5She shall be a place for the spreading of nets In the midst of the sea; For I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD; And she shall become a spoil to the nations. 6And her daughters that are in the field Shall be slain with the sword; And they shall know that I am the LORD.

7For thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will bring upon Tyre Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and a company, and much people. 8He shall slay with the sword Thy daughters in the field; And he shall make forts against thee, And cast up a mound against thee, And set up bucklers against thee. 9And he shall set his battering engines Against thy walls, And with his axes He shall break down thy towers. 10By reason of the abundance of his horses Their dust shall cover thee; At the noise of the horsemen, And of the wheels, and of the chariots, Thy walls shall shake, When he shall enter into thy gates, As men enter into a city Wherein is made a breach. 11With the hoofs of his horses Shall he tread down all thy streets; He shall slay thy people with the sword, And the pillars of thy strength Shall go down to the ground. 12And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, And make a prey of thy merchandise; And they shall break down thy walls, And destroy the houses of thy delight; And thy stones and thy timber and thy dust Shall they lay in the midst of the waters. 13And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease, And the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard. 14And I will make thee a bare rock; Thou shalt be a place for the spreading of nets, Thou shalt be built no more; For I the LORD have spoken, Saith the Lord GOD.

15Thus saith the Lord GOD to Tyre: Shall not the isles shake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded groan, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee? 16Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and strip off their richly woven garments; they shall clothe themselves with trembling; they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble every moment, and be appalled at thee.

17And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee: How art thou destroyed, that wast peopled from the seas, The renowned city, That wast strong in the sea, Thou and thy inhabitants, That caused your terror to be On all that inhabit the earth!

18Now shall the isles tremble In the day of thy fall; Yea, the isles that are in the sea Shall be affrighted at thy going out.

19For thus saith the Lord GOD: When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and the great waters shall cover thee; 20then will I bring thee down with them that descend into the pit, to the people of old time, and will make thee to dwell in the nether parts of the earth, like the places that are desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited; and I will set glory in the land of the living; 21I will make thee a terror, and thou shalt be no more; though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord GOD.'

Ezekiel 27

A Lament for Tyre

1Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2And thou, son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyre,

3and say unto Tyre, that dwelleth at the entry of the sea, that is the merchant of the peoples unto many isles: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Thou, O Tyre, hast said: I am of perfect beauty.

4Thy borders are in the heart of the seas, Thy builders have perfected thy beauty.

5Of cypress-trees from Senir have they fashioned All thy planks; They have taken cedars from Lebanon To make masts for thee.

6Of the oaks of Bashan Have they made thine oars; Thy deck have they made of ivory inlaid in larch, From the isles of the Kittites.

7Of fine linen with richly woven work from Egypt Was thy sail, That it might be to thee for an ensign; Blue and purple from the isles of Elishah Was thine awning.

8The inhabitants of Sidon and Arvad Were thy rowers; Thy wise men, O Tyre, were in thee, They were thy pilots.

9The elders of Gebal and the wise men thereof Were in thee thy calkers; All the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee To exchange thy merchandise.

10Persia and Lud and Put were in thine army, Thy men of war; They hanged the shield and helmet in thee, They set forth thy comeliness. 11The men of Arvad and Helech were upon thy walls round about, and the Gammadim were in thy towers; they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about; they have perfected thy beauty.

12Tarshish was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded for thy wares. 13Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy traffickers; they traded the persons of men and vessels of brass for thy merchandise. 14They of the house of Togarmah traded for thy wares with horses and horsemen and mules. 15The men of Dedan were thy traffickers; many isles were the mart of thy hand; they brought thee as tribute horns of ivory and ebony. 16Aram was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of thy wealth; they traded for thy wares with carbuncles, purple, and richly woven work, and fine linen, and coral, and rubies. 17Judah, and the land of Israel, they were thy traffickers; they traded for thy merchandise wheat of Minnith, and balsam, and honey, and oil, and balm. 18Damascus was thy merchant for the multitude of thy wealth, by reason of the multitude of all riches, with the wine of Helbon, and white wool. 19Vedan and Javan traded with yarn for thy wares; massive iron, cassia, and calamus, were among thy merchandise. 20Dedan was thy trafficker in precious cloths for riding. 21Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, they were the merchants of thy hand; in lambs, and rams, and goats, in these were they thy merchants. 22The traffickers of Sheba and Raamah, they were thy traffickers; they traded for thy wares with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold. 23Haran and Canneh and Eden, the traffickers of Sheba, Asshur was as thine apprentice in traffic. 24These were thy traffickers in gorgeous fabrics, in wrappings of blue and richly woven work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords and cedar-lined, among thy merchandise.

25The ships of Tarshish brought thee tribute for thy merchandise; So wast thou replenished, and made very heavy In the heart of the seas.

26Thy rowers have brought thee Into great waters; The east wind hath broken thee In the heart of the seas.

27Thy riches, and thy wares, thy merchandise, Thy mariners, and thy pilots, Thy calkers, and the exchangers of thy merchandise, And all thy men of war, that are in thee, With all thy company which is in the midst of thee, Shall fall into the heart of the seas In the day of thy ruin.

28At the sound of the cry of thy pilots The waves shall shake.

29And all that handle the oar, The mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, Shall come down from their ships, They shall stand upon the land,

30And shall cause their voice to be heard over thee, And shall cry bitterly, And shall cast up dust upon their heads, They shall roll themselves in the ashes;

31And they shall make themselves utterly bald for thee, And gird them with sackcloth, And they shall weep for thee in bitterness of soul With bitter lamentation.

32And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, And lament over thee: Who was there like Tyre, fortified In the midst of the sea?

33When thy wares came forth out of the seas, Thou didst fill many peoples; With the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise Didst thou enrich the kings of the earth.

34Now that thou art broken by the seas In the depths of the waters, And thy merchandise and all thy company Are fallen in the midst of thee,

35All the inhabitants of the isles Are appalled at thee, And their kings are horribly afraid, They are troubled in their countenance;

36The merchants among the peoples hiss at thee; Thou art become a terror, And never shalt be any more.'

A Prophecy against the Ruler of Tyre

1And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyre: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thy heart is lifted up, And thou hast said: I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, In the heart of the seas; Yet thou art man, and not God, Though thou didst set thy heart as the heart of God—

3Behold, thou art wiser than Daniel! There is no secret that they can hide from thee!

4By thy wisdom and by thy discernment Thou hast gotten thee riches, And hast gotten gold and silver Into thy treasures;

5In thy great wisdom by thy traffic Hast thou increased thy riches, And thy heart is lifted up because of thy riches—

6Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thou hast set thy heart As the heart of God;

7Therefore, behold, I will bring strangers upon thee, The terrible of the nations; And they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, And they shall defile thy brightness.

8They shall bring thee down to the pit; And thou shalt die the deaths of them that are slain, In the heart of the seas.

9Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee: I am God? But thou art man, and not God, In the hand of them that defile thee.

10Thou shalt die the deaths of the uncircumcised By the hand of strangers; For I have spoken, saith the Lord GOD.'

A Lament for the King of Tyre

11Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

12Son of man, take up a lamentation for the king of Tyre, and say unto him: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Thou seal most accurate, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty, 13thou wast in Eden the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the carnelian, the topaz, and the emerald, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the carbuncle, and the smaragd, and gold; the workmanship of thy settings and of thy sockets was in thee, in the day that thou wast created they were prepared.

14Thou wast the far-covering cherub; and I set thee, so that thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of stones of fire.

15Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till unrighteousness was found in thee.

16By the multitude of thy traffic they filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned; therefore have I cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God; and I have destroyed thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

17Thy heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness; I have cast thee to the ground, I have laid thee before kings, that they may gaze upon thee.

18By the multitude of thine iniquities, in the unrighteousness of thy traffic, thou hast profaned thy sanctuaries; therefore have I brought forth a fire from the midst of thee, it hath devoured thee, and I have turned thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee.

19All they that know thee among the peoples shall be appalled at thee; thou art become a terror, and thou shalt never be any more.'

A Prophecy against Sidon

20And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 21Son of man, set thy face toward Zidon, and prophesy against it,

22and say: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against thee, O Zidon, And I will be glorified in the midst of thee; And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her.

23For I will send into her pestilence And blood in her streets; And the wounded shall fall in the midst of her By the sword upon her on every side; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

24And there shall be no more a pricking brier unto the house of Israel, nor a piercing thorn of any that are round about them, that did have them in disdain; and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

The Restoration of Israel

(Jeremiah 30:1–17)

25Thus saith the Lord GOD: When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the nations, then shall they dwell in their own land which I gave to My servant Jacob. 26And they shall dwell safely therein, and shall build houses, and plant vineyards; yea, they shall dwell safely; when I have executed judgments upon all those that have them in disdain round about them; and they shall know that I am the LORD their God.'

A Prophecy against Pharaoh

1In the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all Egypt;

3speak, and say: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against thee, Pharaoh King of Egypt, The great dragon that lieth In the midst of his rivers, That hath said: My river is mine own, And I have made it for myself.

4And I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales; and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales.

5And I will cast thee into the wilderness, Thee and all the fish of thy rivers; Thou shalt fall upon the open field; Thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered; To the beasts of the earth and to the fowls of the heaven Have I given thee for food.

6And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know That I am the LORD, Because they have been a staff of reed To the house of Israel.

7When they take hold of thee with the hand, thou dost break, And rend all their shoulders; And when they lean upon thee, thou breakest, And makest all their loins to be at a stand.

The Desolation of Egypt

8Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and will cut off from thee man and beast. 9And the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste, and they shall know that I am the LORD; because he hath said: The river is mine, and I have made it. 10Therefore, behold, I am against thee, and against thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt utterly waste and desolate, from Migdol to Syene even unto the border of Ethiopia. 11No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of beast shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years. 12And I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste shall be desolate forty years; and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

13For thus saith the Lord GOD: At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the peoples whither they were scattered; 14and I will turn the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their origin; and they shall be there a lowly kingdom. 15It shall be the lowliest of the kingdoms, neither shall it any more lift itself up above the nations; and I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations. 16And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, bringing iniquity to remembrance, when they turn after them; and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.'

Egypt the Reward of Nebuchadnezzar

17And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 18Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyre; every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled; yet had he no wages, nor his army, from Tyre, for the service that he had served against it; 19Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall carry off her abundance, and take her spoil, and take her prey; and it shall be the wages for his army. 20I have given him the land of Egypt as his hire for which he served, because they wrought for Me, saith the Lord GOD.

21In that day will I cause a horn to shoot up unto the house of Israel, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.'

A Lament for Egypt

1And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2Son of man, prophesy, and say: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Wail ye: Woe worth the day!

3For the day is near, Even the day of the LORD is near, A day of clouds, it shall be the time of the nations.

4And a sword shall come upon Egypt, And convulsion shall be in Ethiopia, When the slain shall fall in Egypt; And they shall take away her abundance, And her foundation shall be broken down.

5Ethiopia, and Put, and Lud, and all the mingled people, and Cub, and the children of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6Thus saith the LORD: They also that uphold Egypt shall fall, And the pride of her power shall come down; From Migdol to Syene shall they fall in it by the sword, Saith the Lord GOD.

7And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, And her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.

8And they shall know that I am the LORD, When I have set a fire in Egypt, And all her helpers are destroyed.

9In that day shall messengers go forth from before Me in ships To make the confident Ethiopians afraid; And there shall come convulsion upon them in the day of Egypt; For, lo, it cometh.

10Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease, By the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon.

11He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, Shall be brought in to destroy the land; And they shall draw their swords against Egypt, And fill the land with the slain.

12And I will make the rivers dry, And will give the land over into the hand of evil men; And I will make the land desolate, And all that is therein, by the hand of strangers; I the LORD have spoken it.

13Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will also destroy the idols, And I will cause the things of nought to cease from Noph; And there shall be no more a prince out of the land of Egypt; And I will put a fear in the land of Egypt.

14And I will make Pathros desolate, And will set a fire in Zoan, And will execute judgments in No.

15And I will pour My fury upon Sin, the stronghold of Egypt; And I will cut off the multitude of No.

16And I will set a fire in Egypt; Sin shall be in great convulsion, And No shall be rent asunder; And in Noph shall come adversaries in the day-time.

17The young men of Aven and of Pi-beseth shall fall by the sword; And these cities shall go into captivity.

18At Tehaphnehes also the day shall withdraw itself, When I shall break there the yokes of Egypt, And the pride of her power shall cease in her; As for her, a cloud shall cover her, And her daughters shall go into captivity.

19Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt; And they shall know that I am the LORD.'

Pharaoh's Power Broken

20And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 21Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and, lo, it hath not been bound up to be healed, to put a roller, that it be bound up and wax strong, that it hold the sword. 22Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand. 23And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. 24And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put My sword in his hand; but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he shall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly wounded man. 25And I will hold up the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall put My sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt. 26And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; and they shall know that I am the LORD.'

Egypt Will Fall like Assyria

1And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2Son of man, say unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude: Whom art thou like in thy greatness?

3Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon, With fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, And of a high stature; And its top was among the thick boughs.

4The waters nourished it, The deep made it to grow; Her rivers ran round About her plantation, And she sent out her conduits Unto all the trees of the field.

5Therefore its stature was exalted Above all the trees of the field; And its boughs were multiplied, And its branches became long, Because of the multitude of waters, when it shot them forth.

6All the fowls of heaven made Their nests in its boughs, And all the beasts of the field did bring forth their young Under its branches, And under its shadow dwelt All great nations.

7Thus was it fair in its greatness, In the length of its branches; For its root was By many waters.

8The cedars in the garden of God Could not hide it; The cypress-trees were not Like its boughs, And the plane-trees were not As its branches; Nor was any tree in the garden of God Like unto it in its beauty.

9I made it fair By the multitude of its branches; So that all the trees of Eden, That were in the garden of God, envied it.

10Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thou art exalted in stature, and he hath set his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height; 11I do even deliver him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with him; I do drive him out according to his wickedness. 12And strangers, the terrible of the nations, do cut him off, and cast him down; upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs lie broken in all the channels of the land; and all the peoples of the earth do go down from his shadow, and do leave him. 13Upon his carcass all the fowls of the heaven do dwell, and upon his branches are all the beasts of the field; 14to the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves in their stature, neither set their top among the thick boughs, nor that their mighty ones stand up in their height, even all that drink water; for they are all delivered unto death, to the nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the day when he went down to the nether-world I caused the deep to mourn and cover itself for him, and I restrained the rivers thereof, and the great waters were stayed; and I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him. 16I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to the nether-world with them that descend into the pit; and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, were comforted in the nether parts of the earth. 17They also went down into the nether-world with him unto them that are slain by the sword; yea, they that were in his arm, that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the nations.

18To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? yet shall thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth; thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that are slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.'

A Lament for Pharaoh King of Egypt

1And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him: Thou didst liken thyself unto a young lion of the nations; Whereas thou art as a dragon in the seas; And thou didst gush forth with thy rivers, And didst trouble the waters with thy feet, And foul their rivers.

3Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will therefore spread out My net over thee With a company of many peoples; And they shall bring thee up in My net.

4And I will cast thee upon the land, I will hurl thee upon the open field, And will cause all the fowls of the heaven to settle upon thee, And I will fill the beasts of the whole earth with thee.

5And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, And fill the valleys with thy foulness.

6I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimmest, even to the mountains; And the channels shall be full of thee.

7And when I shall extinguish thee, I will cover the heaven, And make the stars thereof black; I will cover the sun with a cloud, And the moon shall not give her light.

8All the bright lights of heaven Will I make black over thee, And set darkness upon thy land, Saith the Lord GOD.

9I will also vex the hearts of many peoples, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known. 10Yea, I will make many peoples appalled at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish My sword before them; and they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.

11For thus saith the Lord GOD: The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee.

12By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall; The terrible of the nations are they all; And they shall spoil the pride of Egypt, And all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed.

13I will destroy also all the beasts thereof From beside many waters; Neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, Nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them.

14Then will I make their waters to settle, And cause their rivers to run like oil, Saith the Lord GOD.

15When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate and waste, A land destitute of that whereof it was full, When I shall smite all them that dwell therein, Then shall they know that I am the LORD.

16This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament; The daughters of the nations shall lament therewith; For Egypt, and for all her multitude, shall they lament therewith, Saith the Lord GOD.'

Egypt Cast into the Pit

17It came to pass also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 18Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her, with the daughters of the mighty nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

19Whom dost thou pass in beauty? Go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised.

20They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword; she is delivered to the sword; draw her down and all her multitudes. 21The strong among the mighty shall speak of him out of the midst of the nether-world with them that helped him; they are gone down, they lie still, even the uncircumcised, slain by the sword.

22Asshur is there and all her company; their graves are round about them; all of them slain, fallen by the sword; 23whose graves are set in the uttermost parts of the pit, and her company is round about her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who caused terror in the land of the living.

24There is Elam and all her multitude round about her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who are gone down uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, who caused their terror in the land of the living; yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit. 25They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude; her graves are round about them; all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; because their terror was caused in the land of the living, yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit; they are put in the midst of them that are slain.

26There is Meshech, Tubal, and all her multitude; her graves are round about them; all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; because they caused their terror in the land of the living. 27And they that are inferior to the uncircumcised shall not lie with the mighty that are gone down to the nether-world with their weapons of war, whose swords are laid under their heads, and whose iniquities are upon their bones; because the terror of the mighty was in the land of the living. 28But thou, in the midst of the uncircumcised shalt thou be broken and lie, even with them that are slain by the sword.

29There is Edom, her kings and all her princes, who for all their might are laid with them that are slain by the sword; they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit.

30There are the princes of the north, all of them, and all the Zidonians, who are gone down with the slain, ashamed for all the terror which they caused by their might, and they lie uncircumcised with them that are slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit.

31These shall Pharaoh see, and shall be comforted over all his multitude; even Pharaoh and all his army, slain by the sword, saith the Lord GOD. 32For I have put My terror in the land of the living; and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.'

Ezekiel the Watchman for Israel

1And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them: When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man from among them, and set him for their watchman; 3if, when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the horn, and warn the people; 4then whosoever heareth the sound of the horn, and taketh not warning, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head; 5he heard the sound of the horn, and took not warning, his blood shall be upon him; whereas if he had taken warning, he would have delivered his soul. 6But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the horn, and the people be not warned, and the sword do come, and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

⁷So thou, son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel; therefore, when thou shalt hear the word at My mouth, warn them from Me. ⁸When I say unto the wicked: O wicked man, thou shalt surely die, and thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way; that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thy hand. ⁹Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, and he turn not from his way; he shall die in his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soul.

The Message of the Watchman

¹⁰Therefore, O thou son of man, say unto the house of Israel: Thus ye speak, saying: Our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and we pine away in them; how then can we live? ¹¹Say unto them: As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live; turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel? ¹²And thou, son of man, say unto the children of thy people: The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not stumble thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness; neither shall he that is righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he sinneth. ¹³When I say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; if he trust to his righteousness, and commit iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but for his iniquity that he hath committed, for it shall he die. ¹⁴Again, when I say unto the wicked: Thou shalt surely die; if he turn from his sin, and do that which is lawful and right; ¹⁵if the wicked restore the pledge, give back that which he had taken by robbery, walk in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die. ¹⁶None of his sins that he hath committed shall be remembered against him; he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live.

¹⁷Yet the children of thy people say: The way of the Lord is not equal; but as for them, their way is not equal. ¹⁸When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby. ¹⁹And when the wicked turneth from his wickedness, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby. ²⁰Yet ye say: The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his ways.'

Word of Jerusalem's Fall

²¹And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying: 'The city is smitten.' ²²Now the hand of the LORD had been upon me in the evening, before he that was escaped came; and He had opened my mouth against his coming to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb.

²³Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: ²⁴Son of man, they that inhabit those waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying: Abraham was one, and he inherited the land; but we are many; the land is given us for inheritance. ²⁵Wherefore say unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD. Ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes unto your idols, and shed blood; and shall ye possess the land? ²⁶Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbour's wife; and shall ye possess the land? ²⁷Thus shalt thou say unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD: As I live, surely they that are in the waste places shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts to be devoured, and they that are in the strongholds and in the caves shall die of the pestilence. ²⁸And I will make the land most desolate, and the pride of her power shall cease; and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, so that none shall pass through. ²⁹Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have made the land most desolate, because of all their abominations which they have committed.

30And as for thee, son of man, the children of thy people that talk of thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying: Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the LORD; 31and come unto thee as the people cometh, and sit before thee as My people, and hear thy words, but do them not—for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness; 32and, lo, thou art unto them as a love song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument; so they hear thy words, but they do them not— 33when this cometh to pass—behold, it cometh—then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.'

A Prophecy against Israel's Shepherds

1And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, even to the shepherds: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Woe unto the shepherds of Israel that have fed themselves! should not the shepherds feed the sheep? 3Ye did eat the fat, and ye clothed you with the wool, ye killed the fatlings; but ye fed not the sheep. 4The weak have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought back that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with force have ye ruled over them and with rigour. 5So were they scattered, because there was no shepherd; and they became food to all the beasts of the field, and were scattered. 6My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill, yea, upon all the face of the earth were My sheep scattered, and there was none that did search or seek.

7Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: 8As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely forasmuch as My sheep became a prey, and My sheep became food to all the beasts of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did My shepherds search for My sheep, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not My sheep; 9therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: 10Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against the shepherds; and I will require My sheep at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheep; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; and I will deliver My sheep from their mouth, that they may not be food for them.

The Good Shepherd

(Psalm 23:1–6; John 10:1–21)

11For thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, here am I, and I will search for My sheep, and seek them out. 12As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are separated, so will I seek out My sheep; and I will deliver them out of all places whither they have been scattered in the day of clouds and thick darkness. 13And I will bring them out from the peoples, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them upon the mountains of Israel, by the streams, and in all the habitable places of the country. 14I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be; there shall they lie down in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel. 15I will feed My sheep, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord GOD. 16I will seek that which was lost, and will bring back that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick; and the fat and the strong I will destroy, I will feed them in justice.

17And as for you, O My flock, thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I judge between cattle and cattle, even the rams and the he-goats. 18Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have fed upon the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pasture? and to have drunk of the settled waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet? 19And as for My sheep, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet, and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD unto them: Behold, I, even I, will judge between the fat cattle and the lean cattle. 21Because ye thrust with side and with shoulder, and push all the weak with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad; 22therefore will I save My flock, and they shall no more be a prey; and I will judge between cattle and cattle.

23And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even My servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. 24And I the LORD will be their God, and My servant David prince among them; I the LORD have spoken.

The Covenant of Peace

25And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause evil beasts to cease out of the land; and they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods. 26And I will make them and the places round about My hill a blessing; and I will cause the shower to come down in its season; there shall be showers of blessing. 27And the tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield her produce, and they shall be safe in their land; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bars of their yoke, and have delivered them out of the hand of those that made bondmen of them. 28And they shall no more be a prey to the nations, neither shall the beast of the earth devour them; but they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid. 29And I will raise up unto them a plantation for renown, and they shall be no more consumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the shame of the nations any more. 30And they shall know that I the LORD their God am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are My people, saith the Lord GOD. 31And ye My sheep, the sheep of My pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord GOD.'

A Prophecy against Mount Seir

1Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, set thy face against mount Seir, and prophesy against it,

3and say unto it: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against thee, O mount Seir, and I will stretch out My hand against thee, and I will make thee most desolate.

4I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

¹⁰Because thou hast said: These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will possess it; whereas the LORD was there; ¹¹therefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will do according to thine anger and according to thine envy, which thou hast used out of thy hatred against them; and I will make Myself known among them, when I shall judge thee. ¹²And thou shalt know that I the LORD have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying: They are laid desolate, they are given us to devour. ¹³And ye have magnified yourselves against Me with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against Me; I have heard it. ¹⁴Thus saith the Lord GOD: When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate. ¹⁵As thou didst rejoice over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee; thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, and all Edom, even all of it; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

A Prophecy to the Mountains of Israel

¹And thou, son of man, prophesy unto the mountains of Israel, and say: Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD. ²Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because the enemy hath said against you: Aha! even the ancient high places are ours in possession; ³therefore prophesy, and say: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because, even because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the rest of the nations, and ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and the evil report of the people; ⁴therefore, ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD: Thus saith the Lord GOD to the mountains and to the hills, to the streams and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes and to the cities that are forsaken, which are become a prey and derision to the residue of the nations that are round about; ⁵therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Surely in the fire of My jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the nations, and against all Edom, that have appointed My land unto themselves for a possession with the joy of all their heart, with disdain of soul, to cast it out for a prey; ⁶therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and say unto the mountains and to the hills, to the streams and to the valleys: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I have spoken in My jealousy and in My fury, because ye have borne the shame of the nations; ⁷therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: I have lifted up My hand: Surely the nations that are round about you, they shall bear their shame. ⁸But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to My people Israel; for they are at hand to come. ⁹For, behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown; ¹⁰and I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it; and the cities shall be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded; ¹¹and I will multiply upon you man and beast, and they shall increase and be fruitful; and I will cause you to be inhabited after your former estate, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings; and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ¹²Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel, and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance; and thou shalt no more henceforth bereave them of children.

13Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because they say unto you: Thou land art a devourer of men, and hast been a bereaver of thy nations; 14therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither bereave thy nations any more, saith the Lord GOD; 15neither will I suffer the shame of the nations any more to be heard against thee, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the peoples any more, neither shalt thou cause thy nations to stumble any more, saith the Lord GOD.'

A New Heart and a New Spirit

(Romans 8:9–11; Galatians 5:16–26)

16Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 17Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their way and by their doings; their way before Me was as the uncleanness of a woman in her impurity. 18Wherefore I poured out My fury upon them for the blood which they had shed upon the land, and because they had defiled it with their idols; 19and I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries; according to their way and according to their doings I judged them. 20And when they came unto the nations, whither they came, they profaned My holy name; in that men said of them: These are the people of the LORD, and are gone forth out of His land. 21But I had pity for My holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations, whither they came.

22Therefore say unto the house of Israel: Thus saith the Lord GOD: I do not this for your sake, O house of Israel, but for My holy name, which ye have profaned among the nations, whither ye came. 23And I will sanctify My great name, which hath been profaned among the nations, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the nations shall know that I am the LORD, saith the Lord GOD, when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes. 24For I will take you from among the nations, and gather you out of all the countries, and will bring you into your own land. 25And I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean; from all your uncleannesses, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. 26A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you; and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh. 27And I will put My spirit within you, and cause you to walk in My statutes, and ye shall keep Mine ordinances, and do them. 28And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and ye shall be My people, and I will be your God. 29And I will save you from all your uncleannesses; and I will call for the corn, and will increase it, and lay no famine upon you. 30And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, that ye may receive no more the reproach of famine among the nations. 31Then shall ye remember your evil ways, and your doings that were not good; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. 32Not for your sake do I this, saith the Lord GOD, be it known unto you; be ashamed and confounded for your ways, O house of Israel.

33Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded. 34And the land that was desolate shall be tilled, whereas it was a desolation in the sight of all that passed by. 35And they shall say: This land that was desolate is become like the garden of Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are fortified and inhabited. 36Then the nations that are left round about you shall know that I the LORD have builded the ruined places, and planted that which was desolate; I the LORD have spoken it, and I will do it.

37Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will yet for this be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them; I will increase them with men like a flock. 38As the flock for sacrifice, as the flock of Jerusalem in her appointed seasons, so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men; and they shall know that I am the LORD.'

The Valley of Dry Bones

1The hand of the LORD was upon me, and the LORD carried me out in a spirit, and set me down in the midst of the valley, and it was full of bones; 2and He caused me to pass by them round about, and, behold, there were very many in the open valley; and, lo, they were very dry. 3And He said unto me: 'Son of man, can these bones live?' And I answered: 'O Lord GOD, Thou knowest.' 4Then He said unto me: 'Prophesy over these bones, and say unto them: O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD: 5Thus saith the Lord GOD unto these bones: Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live. 6And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.'

7So I prophesied as I was commanded; and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold a commotion, and the bones came together, bone to its bone. 8And I beheld, and, lo, there were sinews upon them, and flesh came up, and skin covered them above; but there was no breath in them. 9Then said He unto me: 'Prophesy unto the breath, prophesy, son of man, and say to the breath: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live.' 10So I prophesied as He commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great host.

11Then He said unto me: 'Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel; behold, they say: Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost; we are clean cut off. 12Therefore prophesy, and say unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, O My people; and I will bring you into the land of Israel. 13And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, and caused you to come up out of your graves, O My people. 14And I will put My spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I will place you in your own land; and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken, and performed it, saith the LORD.'

One Nation with One King

15And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 16And thou, son of man, take thee one stick, and write upon it: For Judah, and for the children of Israel his companions; then take another stick, and write upon it: For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and of all the house of Israel his companions; 17and join them for thee one to another into one stick, that they may become one in thy hand. 18And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying: Wilt thou not tell us what thou meanest by these? 19say into them: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his companions; and I will put them unto him together with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in My hand. 20And the sticks whereon thou writest shall be in thy hand before their eyes. 21And say unto them: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the nations, whither they are gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land; 22and I will make them one nation in the land, upon the mountains of Israel, and one king shall be king to them all; and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all; 23neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions; but I will save them out of all their dwelling-places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them; so shall they be My people, and I will be their God.

24And My servant David shall be king over them, and they all shall have one shepherd; they shall also walk in Mine ordinances, and observe My statutes, and do them. 25And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob My servant, wherein your fathers dwelt; and they shall dwell therein, they, and their children, and their children's children, for ever; and David My servant shall be their prince for ever. 26Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them—it shall be an everlasting covenant with them; and I will establish them, and multiply them, and will set My sanctuary in the midst of them for ever. 27My dwelling-place also shall be over them; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people. 28And the nations shall know that I am the LORD that sanctify Israel, when My sanctuary shall be in the midst of them for ever.'

A Prophecy against Gog

1And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2Son of man, set thy face toward Gog, of the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him, 3and say: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, chief prince of Meshech and Tubal; 4and I will turn thee about, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed most gorgeously, a great company with buckler and shield, all of them handling swords: 5Persia, Cush, and Put with them, all of them with shield and helmet; 6Gomer, and all his bands; the house of Togarmah in the uttermost parts of the north, and all his bands; even many peoples with thee.

10Thus saith the Lord GOD: It shall come to pass in that day, that things shall come into thy mind, and thou shalt devise an evil device; 11and thou shalt say: I will go up against the land of unwalled villages; I will come upon them that are at quiet, that dwell safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates; 12to take the spoil and to take the prey; to turn thy hand against the waste places that are now inhabited, and against the people that are gathered out of the nations, that have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the middle of the earth. 13Sheba, and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all the magnates thereof, shall say unto thee: Comest thou to take the spoil? hast thou assembled thy company to take the prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take great spoil?

14Therefore, son of man, prophesy, and say unto Gog: Thus saith the Lord GOD: In that day when My people Israel dwelleth safely, shalt thou not know it? 15And thou shalt come from thy place out of the uttermost parts of the north, thou, and many peoples with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great company and a mighty army; 16and thou shalt come up against My people Israel, as a cloud to cover the land; it shall be in the end of days, and I will bring thee against My land, that the nations may know Me, when I shall be sanctified through thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17Thus saith the Lord GOD: Art thou he of whom I spoke in old time by My servants the prophets of Israel, that prophesied in those days for many years, that I would bring thee against them? 18And it shall come to pass in that day, when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord GOD, that My fury shall arise up in My nostrils. 19For in My jealousy and in the fire of My wrath have I spoken: Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel; 20so that the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field and all creeping things that creep upon the ground, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at My presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground. 21And I will call for a sword against him throughout all my mountains, saith the Lord GOD; every man's sword shall be against his brother. 22And I will plead against him with pestilence and with blood; and I will cause to rain upon him, and upon his bands, and upon the many peoples that are with him, an overflowing shower, and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone. 23Thus will I magnify Myself, and sanctify Myself, and I will make Myself known in the eyes of many nations; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

The Slaughter of Gog's Armies

1And thou, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say: Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, chief prince of Meshech and Tubal; 2and I will turn thee about and lead thee on, and will cause thee to come up from the uttermost parts of the north; and I will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel; 3and I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand. 4Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, thou, and all thy bands, and the peoples that are with thee; I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every sort and to the beasts of the field, to be devoured. 5Thou shalt fall upon the open field; for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD. 6And I will send a fire on Magog, and on them that dwell safely in the isles; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

7And My holy name will I make known in the midst of My people Israel; neither will I suffer My holy name to be profaned any more; and the nations shall know that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Israel. 8Behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord GOD; This is the day whereof I have spoken.

9And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall make fires of the weapons and use them as fuel, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the hand-staves, and the spears, and they shall make fires of them seven years; 10so that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests, for they shall make fires of the weapons; and they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord GOD.

11And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place fit for burial in Israel, the valley of them that pass through on the east of the sea; and it shall stop them that pass through; and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude; and they shall call it the valley of Hamon-gog. ¹²And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying them, that they may cleanse the land. ¹³Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them, and it shall be to them a renown; in the day that I shall be glorified, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁴And they shall set apart men of continual employment, that shall pass through the land to bury with them that pass through those that remain upon the face of the land, to cleanse it; after the end of seven months shall they search. ¹⁵And when they that pass through shall pass through the land, and any seeth a man's bone, then shall he set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon-gog. ¹⁶And Hamonah shall also be the name of a city. Thus shall they cleanse the land.

¹⁷And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD: Speak unto the birds of every sort, and to every beast of the field: Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to My feast that I do prepare for you, even a great feast, upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh and drink blood. ¹⁸The flesh of the mighty shall ye eat, and the blood of the princes of the earth shall ye drink; rams, lambs, and goats, bullocks, fatlings of Bashan are they all of them. ¹⁹And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of My feast which I have prepared for you. ²⁰And ye shall be filled at My table with horses and horsemen, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord GOD.

Israel to Be Restored

²¹And I will set My glory among the nations, and all the nations shall see My judgment that I have executed, and My hand that I have laid upon them. ²²So the house of Israel shall know that I am the LORD their God, from that day and forward. ²³And the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity, because they broke faith with Me, and I hid My face from them; so I gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they fell all of them by the sword. ²⁴According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions did I unto them; and I hid My face from them.

²⁵Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Now will I bring back the captivity of Jacob, and have compassion upon the whole house of Israel; and I will be jealous for My holy name. ²⁶And they shall bear their shame, and all their breach of faith which they have committed against Me, when they shall dwell safely in their land, and none shall make them afraid; ²⁷when I have brought them back from the peoples, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations. ²⁸And they shall know that I am the LORD their God, in that I caused them to go into captivity among the nations, and have gathered them unto their own land; and I will leave none of them any more there; ²⁹neither will I hide My face any more from them; for I have poured out My spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord GOD.'

The Man with a Measuring Rod

(Zechariah 2:1-5)

¹In the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in the selfsame day, the hand of the LORD was upon me, and He brought me thither. ²In the visions of God brought He me into the land of Israel, and set me down upon a very high mountain, whereon was as it were the frame of a city on the south. ³And He brought me thither, and, behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate. ⁴And the man said unto me: 'Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thy heart upon all that I shall show thee, for to the intent that I might show them unto thee art thou brought thither; declare all that thou seest to the house of Israel.'

The East Gate

⁵And behold a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand a measuring reed of six cubits long, of a cubit and a hand-breadth each; so he measured the breadth of the building, one reed, and the height, one reed. ⁶Then came he unto the gate which looketh toward the east, and went up the steps thereof; and he measured the jamb of the gate, one reed broad, and the other jamb, one reed broad. ⁷And every cell was one reed long, and one reed broad; and the space between the cells was five cubits; and the jambs of the gate by the porch of the gate within were one reed. ⁸He measured also the porch of the gate toward the house, one reed. ⁹Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; and the posts thereof, two cubits; and the porch of the gate was inward. ¹⁰And the cells of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; they three were of one measure; and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side. ¹¹And he measured the breadth of the entry of the gate, ten cubits; and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits; ¹²and a border before the cells, one cubit [on this side], and a border, one cubit on that side; and the cells, six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side. ¹³And he measured the gate from the roof of the one cell to the roof of the other, a breadth of five and twenty cubits; door against door. ¹⁴He made also posts of threescore cubits; even unto the posts of the court in the gates round about. ¹⁵And from the forefront of the gate of the entrance unto the forefront of the inner porch of the gate were fifty cubits. ¹⁶And there were narrow windows to the cells and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches; and windows were round about inward; and upon each post were palm-trees.

The Outer Court

¹⁷Then brought he me into the outer court, and, lo, there were chambers and a pavement, made for the court round about; thirty chambers were upon the pavement. ¹⁸And the pavement was by the side of the gates, corresponding unto the length of the gates, even the lower pavement. ¹⁹Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate unto the forefront of the inner court without, a hundred cubits, eastward as also northward.

The North Gate

²⁰And the gate of the outer court that looked toward the north, he measured the length thereof and the breadth thereof. ²¹And the cells thereof were three on this side and three on that side; and the posts thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate; the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. ²²And the windows thereof, and the arches thereof, and the palm-trees thereof, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the east; and it was ascended by seven steps; and the arches thereof were before them. ²³And there was a gate to the inner court over against the other gate, northward as also eastward; and he measured from gate to gate a hundred cubits.

The South Gate

24And he led me toward the south, and behold a gate toward the south; and he measured the posts thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures. 25And there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows; the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. 26And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them; and it had palm-trees, one on this side, and another on that side, upon the posts thereof. 27And there was a gate to the inner court toward the south; and he measured from gate to gate toward the south a hundred cubits.

The Gates of the Inner Court

28Then he brought me to the inner court by the south gate; and he measured the south gate according to these measures; 29and the cells thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures; and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about; it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. 30And there were arches round about, five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad. 31And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof; and the going up to it had eight steps.

32And he brought me into the inner court toward the east; and he measured the gate according to these measures; 33and the cells thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures; and there were windows therein and in the arches thereof round about; it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. 34And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side; and the going up to it had eight steps.

35And he brought me to the north gate; and he measured it according to these measures; 36the cells thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof; and there were windows therein round about; the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. 37And the posts thereof were toward the outer court; and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side; and the going up to it had eight steps.

Eight Tables for Sacrifices

38And a chamber with the entry thereof was by the posts at the gates; there was the burnt-offering to be washed. 39And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the burnt-offering and the sin-offering and the guilt-offering. 40And on the one side without, as one goeth up to the entry of the gate toward the north, were two tables; and on the other side of the porch of the gate were two tables. 41Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon to slay the sacrifices. 42Moreover there were four tables for the burnt-offering, of hewn stone, a cubit and a half long, and a cubit and a half broad, and one cubit high, whereupon to lay the instruments wherewith the burnt-offering and the sacrifice are slain. 43And the slabs, a handbreadth long, were fastened within round about; and upon the tables was to be the flesh of the offering.

Chambers for Ministry

44And without the inner gate were chambers for the guard in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate, and their prospect was toward the south; one at the side of the east gate having the prospect toward the north. 45And he said unto me: 'This chamber, whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the house. 46And the chamber whose prospect is toward the north is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the altar; these are the sons of Zadok, who from among the sons of Levi come near to the LORD to minister unto Him.'

The Inner Court

47And he measured the court, a hundred cubits long, and a hundred cubits broad, foursquare; and the altar was before the house.

48Then he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side; and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side. 49The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; and it was by steps that it was ascended; and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

Inside the Temple

1And he brought me to the temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the tent. 2And the breadth of the entrance was ten cubits; and the sides of the entrance were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side; and he measured the length thereof, forty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits. 3Then went he inward, and measured each post of the entrance, two cubits; and the entrance, six cubits; and the breadth of the entrance, seven cubits. 4And he measured the length thereof, twenty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple; and he said unto me: 'This is the most holy place.'

Outside the Temple

5Then he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every side-chamber, four cubits, round about the house on every side. 6And the side-chambers were one over another, three and thirty times; and there were cornices in the wall which belonged to the house for the side-chambers round about, that they might have hold therein, and not have hold in the wall of the house. 7And the side-chambers were broader as they wound about higher and higher; for the winding about of the house went higher and higher round about the house; therefore the breadth of the house continued upward; and so one went up from the lowest row to the highest by the middle. 8I saw also that the house had a raised basement round about; the foundations of the side-chambers were a full reed of six cubits to the joining. 9The breadth of the outer wall which belonged to the side-chambers was five cubits; and so that which was left by the structure of the side-chambers that belonged to the house. 10And between the chambers was a breadth of twenty cubits round about the house on every side. 11And the doors of the side-chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south; and the breadth of the place that was left was five cubits round about.

12And the building that was before the separate place at the side toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

13And he measured the house, a hundred cubits long; and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, a hundred cubits long; 14also the breadth of the face of the house and of the separate place toward the east, a hundred cubits.

The Interior Structures

15And he measured the length of the building before the separate place which was at the back thereof, and the galleries thereof on the one side and on the other side, a hundred cubits. Now the temple, and the inner place, and the porches of the court, 16the jambs, and the narrow windows, and the galleries, that they three had round about, over against the jambs there was a veneering of wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows; and the windows were covered; 17to the space above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and on all the wall round about within and without, by measure. 18And it was made with cherubim and palm-trees; and a palm-tree was between cherub and cherub, and every cherub had two faces; 19so that there was the face of a man toward the palm-tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm-tree on the other side; thus was it made through all the house round about. 20From the ground unto above the door were cherubim and palm-trees made; and so on the wall of the temple.

21As for the temple, the jambs were squared; and the face of the sanctuary had an appearance such as is the appearance. 22The altar, three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits, was of wood, and so the corners thereof; the length thereof, and the walls thereof, were also of wood; and he said unto me: 'This is the table that is before the LORD.' 23And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors. 24And the doors had two leaves [apiece], two turning leaves; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other. 25And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubim and palm-trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there were thick beams of wood upon the face of the porch without. 26And there were narrow windows and palm-trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch; there were also the brackets of the house, and the thick beams.

Chambers for the Priests

1Then he brought me forth into the outer court, the way toward the north; and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was over against the building, toward the north, 2even to the front of the length of a hundred cubits, with the door on the north, and the breadth of fifty cubits, 3over against the twenty cubits which belonged to the inner court, and over against the pavement which belonged to the outer court; with gallery against gallery in three stories. 4And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit; and their doors were toward the north. 5Now the upper chambers were shorter; for the galleries took away from these, more than from the lower and the middlemost, in the building. 6For they were in three stories, and they had not pillars as the pillars of the courts; therefore room was taken away from the lowest and the middlemost, in comparison with the ground. 7And the wall that was without by the side of the chambers, toward the outer court in front of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits. 8For the length of the chambers that were toward the outer court was fifty cubits; and, lo, before the temple were a hundred cubits. 9And from under these chambers was the entry on the east side, as one goeth into them from the outer court.

10In the breadth of the wall of the court toward the east, before the separate place, and before the building, there were chambers, 11with a way before them; like the appearance of the chambers which were toward the north, as long as they, and as broad as they, with all their goings out, and according to their fashions; and as their doors, 12so were also the doors of the chambers that were toward the south, there was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall, toward the way from the east, as one entereth into them.

13Then said he unto me: 'The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before the separate place, they are the holy chambers, where the priests that are near unto the LORD shall eat the most holy things; there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meal-offering, and the sin-offering, and the guilt-offering; for the place is holy. 14When the priests enter in, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister, for they are holy; and they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to that which pertaineth to the people.'

The Outer Measurements

15Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about. 16He measured the east side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. 17He measured the north side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. 18He measured the south side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed. 19He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. 20He measured it by the four sides; it had a wall round about, the length five hundred, and the breadth five hundred, to make a separation between that which was holy and that which was common.

The Glory of the LORD Returns to the Temple

1Afterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east; 2and, behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east; and His voice was like the sound of many waters; and the earth did shine with His glory. 3And the appearance of the vision which I saw was like the vision that I saw when I came to destroy the city; and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar; and I fell upon my face. 4And the glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east. 5And a spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and, behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house.

6And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house; and a man stood by me. 7And He said unto me: 'Son of man, this is the place of My throne, and the place of the soles of My feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever; and the house of Israel shall no more defile My holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their harlotry, and by the carcasses of their kings in their high places; 8in their setting of their threshold by My threshold, and their door-post beside My door-post, and there was but the wall between Me and them; and they have defiled My holy name by their abominations which they have committed; wherefore I have consumed them in Mine anger. 9Now let them put away their harlotry, and the carcasses of their kings, far from Me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10Thou, son of man, show the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities; and let them measure accurately. 11And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, make known unto them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof, and write it in their sight; that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them. 12This is the law of the house: upon the top of the mountain the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

The Altar of Sacrifice

13And these are the measures of the altar by cubits—the cubit is a cubit and a handbreadth: the bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about a span; and this shall be the base of the altar. 14And from the bottom upon the ground to the lower settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser settle to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth a cubit. 15And the hearth shall be four cubits; and from the hearth and upward there shall be four horns. 16And the hearth shall be twelve cubits long by twelve broad, square in the four sides thereof. 17And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long by fourteen broad in the four sides thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about; and the steps thereof shall look toward the east.'

18And He said unto me: 'Son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, and to dash blood against it. 19Thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that are of the seed of Zadok, who are near unto Me, to minister unto Me, saith the Lord GOD, a young bullock for a sin-offering. 20And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about; thus shalt thou purify it and make atonement for it. 21Thou shalt also take the bullock of the sin-offering, and it shall be burnt in the appointed place of the house, without the sanctuary.

22And on the second day thou shalt offer a he-goat without blemish for a sin-offering; and they shall purify the altar, as they did purify it with the bullock. 23When thou hast made an end of purifying it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish. 24And thou shalt present them before the LORD, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt-offering unto the LORD. 25Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin-offering; they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish. 26Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and cleanse it; so shall they consecrate it. 27And when they have accomplished the days, it shall be that upon the eighth day, and forward, the priests shall make your burnt-offerings upon the altar, and your peace-offerings; and I will accept you, saith the Lord GOD.'

The East Gate Assigned to the Prince

1Then he brought me back the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, which looketh toward the east; and it was shut. 2And the LORD said unto me: 'This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it, for the LORD, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it; therefore it shall be shut. 3As for the prince, being a prince, he shall sit therein to eat bread before the LORD; he shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.'

4Then he brought me the way of the north gate before the house; and I looked, and, behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD; and I fell upon my face. 5And the LORD said unto me: 'Son of man, mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all the laws thereof; and mark well the entering in of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary.'

Reproof of the Levites

6And thou shalt say to the rebellious, even to the house of Israel: Thus saith the Lord GOD: O ye house of Israel, let it suffice you of all your abominations, 7in that ye have brought in aliens, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in My sanctuary, to profane it, even My house, when ye offer My bread, the fat and the blood, and they have broken My covenant, to add unto all your abominations. 8And ye have not kept the charge of My holy things; but ye have set keepers of My charge in My sanctuary to please yourselves.

9Thus saith the Lord GOD: No alien, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into My sanctuary, even any alien that is among the children of Israel. 10But the Levites, that went far from Me, when Israel went astray, that went astray from Me after their idols, they shall bear their iniquity; 11and they shall be ministers in My sanctuary, having charge at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house: they shall slay the burnt-offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister unto them. 12Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and became a stumblingblock of iniquity unto the house of Israel; therefore have I lifted up My hand against them, saith the Lord GOD, and they shall bear their iniquity. 13And they shall not come near unto Me, to minister unto Me in the priest's office, nor to come near to any of My holy things, unto the things that are most holy; but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed. 14And I will make them keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

The Duties of the Priests

15But the priests the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of My sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from Me, they shall come near to Me to minister unto Me; and they shall stand before Me to offer unto Me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord GOD; 16they shall enter into My sanctuary, and they shall come near to My table, to minister unto Me, and they shall keep My charge. 17And it shall be that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, while they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within. 18They shall have linen tires upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves with any thing that causeth sweat. 19And when they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they minister, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments, that they sanctify not the people with their garments. 20Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll their heads. 21Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they enter into the inner court. 22Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her that is put away; but they shall take virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that is the widow of a priest. 23And they shall teach My people the difference between the holy and the common, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean. ²⁴And in a controversy they shall stand to judge; according to Mine ordinances shall they judge it; and they shall keep My laws and My statutes in all My appointed seasons, and they shall hallow My sabbaths. ²⁵And they shall come near no dead person to defile themselves; but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister that hath had no husband, they may defile themselves. ²⁶And after he is cleansed, they shall reckon unto him seven days. ²⁷And in the day that he goeth into the sanctuary, into the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin-offering, saith the Lord GOD.

²⁸And it shall be unto them for an inheritance: I am their inheritance; and ye shall give them no possession in Israel: I am their possession. ²⁹The meal-offering, and the sin-offering, and the guilt-offering, they, even they, shall eat; and every devoted thing in Israel shall be theirs. ³⁰And the first of all the first-fruits of every thing, and every heave-offering of every thing, of all your offerings, shall be for the priests; ye shall also give unto the priest the first of your dough, to cause a blessing to rest on thy house. ³¹The priests shall not eat of any thing that dieth of itself, or is torn, whether it be fowl or beast.

Consecration of the Land

¹Moreover, when ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall set apart an offering unto the LORD, a holy portion of the land; the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be ten thousand; it shall be holy in all the border thereof round about. ²Of this there shall be for the holy place five hundred in length by five hundred in breadth, square round about; and fifty cubits for the open land round about it. ³And of this measure shalt thou measure a length of five and twenty thousand, and a breadth of ten thousand; and in it shall be the sanctuary, which is most holy. ⁴It is a holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, that come near to minister unto the LORD; and it shall be a place for their houses, and a place consecrated for the sanctuary. ⁵And five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth, which shall be unto the Levites, the ministers of the house, for a possession unto themselves, for twenty chambers.

⁶And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, side by side with the offering of the holy portion; it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

The Prince's Portion

⁷And for the prince, on the one side and on the other side of the holy offering and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy offering and in front of the possession of the city, on the west side westward, and on the east side eastward; and in length answerable unto one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border ⁸of the land; it shall be to him for a possession in Israel, and My princes shall no more wrong My people; but they shall give the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

⁹Thus saith the Lord GOD: Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel; remove violence and spoil, and execute justice and righteousness; take away your exactions from My people, saith the Lord GOD.

Honest Scales

(Deuteronomy 25:13–16; Proverbs 11:1–3)

10Ye shall have just balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath. 11The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of a homer, and the ephah the tenth part of a homer; the measure thereof shall be after the homer. 12And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs; twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, ten, and five shekels, shall be your maneh.

Offerings and Feasts

13This is the offering that ye shall set apart: the sixth part of an ephah out of a homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an ephah out of a homer of barley; 14and the set portion of oil, the bath of oil, shall be the tithe of the bath out of the cor, which is ten baths, even a homer; for ten baths are a homer; 15and one lamb of the flock, out of two hundred, from the well-watered pastures of Israel; for a meal-offering, and for a burnt-offering, and for peace-offerings, to make atonement for them, saith the Lord GOD. 16All the people of the land shall give this offering for the prince in Israel. 17And it shall be the prince's part to give the burnt-offerings, and the meal-offerings, and the drink-offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the sabbaths, in all the appointed seasons of the house of Israel; he shall prepare the sin-offering, and the meal-offering, and the burnt-offering, and the peace-offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel.

18Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the first month, in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish; and thou shalt purify the sanctuary. 19And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin-offering, and put it upon the door-posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the settle of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court. 20And so thou shalt do on the seventh day of the month for every one that erreth, and for him that is simple; so shall ye make atonement for the house.

21In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover; a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten. 22And upon that day shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bullock for a sin-offering. 23And the seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt-offering to the LORD, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days; and a he-goat daily for a sin-offering. 24And he shall prepare a meal-offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and a hin of oil to an ephah. 25In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, shall he do the like the seven days; to the sin-offering as well as the burnt-offering, and the meal-offering as well as the oil.

The Prince's Offerings

1Thus saith the Lord GOD: The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the east shall be shut the six working days; but on the sabbath day it shall be opened, and in the day of the new moon it shall be opened. 2And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the priests shall prepare his burnt-offering and his peace-offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate; then he shall go forth; but the gate shall not be shut until the evening. ³Likewise the people of the land shall worship at the door of that gate before the LORD in the sabbaths and in the new moons. ⁴And the burnt-offering that the prince shall offer unto the LORD shall be in the sabbath day six lambs without blemish and a ram without blemish; ⁵and the meal-offering shall be an ephah for the ram, and the meal-offering for the lambs as he is able to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah. ⁶And in the day of the new moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish; and six lambs, and a ram; they shall be without blemish; ⁷and he shall prepare a meal-offering, an ephah for the bullock, and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs according as his means suffice, and a hin of oil to an ephah. ⁸And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of the gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof. ⁹But when the people of the land shall come before the LORD in the appointed seasons, he that entereth by the way of the north gate to worship shall go forth by the way of the south gate; and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate; he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth straight before him. ¹⁰And the prince, when they go in, shall go in in the midst of them; and when they go forth, they shall go forth together.

¹¹And in the feasts and in the appointed seasons the meal-offering shall be an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs as he is able to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah. ¹²And when the prince shall prepare a freewill-offering, a burnt-offering or peace-offerings as a freewill-offering unto the LORD, one shall open for him the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt-offering and his peace-offerings, as he doth on the sabbath day; then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate.

¹⁶Thus saith the Lord GOD: If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, it is his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons; it is their possession by inheritance. ¹⁷But if he give of his inheritance a gift to one of his servants, it shall be his to the year of liberty; then it shall return to the prince; but as for his inheritance, it shall be for his sons. ¹⁸Moreover the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance, to thrust them wrongfully out of their possession; he shall give inheritance to his sons out of his own possession; that My people be not scattered every man from his possession.'

The Courts for Boiling and Baking

¹⁹Then he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers for the priests, which looked toward the north; and, behold, there was a place on the hinder part westward. ²⁰And he said unto me: 'This is the place where the priests shall boil the guilt-offering and the sin-offering, where they shall bake the meal-offering; that they bring them not forth into the outer court, to sanctify the people.'

²¹Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and, behold, in every corner of the court there was a court. ²²In the four corners of the court there were courts inclosed, forty cubits long and thirty broad; these four in the corners were of one measure. ²³And there was a row of masonry round about in them, round about the four, and it was made with boiling-places under the rows round about. ²⁴Then said he unto me: 'These are the boiling-places, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifices of the people.'

Waters from under the Temple

1And he brought me back unto the door of the house; and, behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward, for the forefront of the house looked toward the east; and the waters came down from under, from the right side of the house, on the south of the altar. 2Then brought he me out by the way of the gate northward, and led me round by the way without unto the outer gate, by the way of the gate that looketh toward the east; and, behold, there trickled forth waters on the right side.

3When the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. 4Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through waters that were to the loins. 5Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through; for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through. 6And he said unto me: 'Hast thou seen this, O son of man?' Then he led me, and caused me to return to the bank of the river. 7Now when I had been brought back, behold, upon the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other. 8Then said he unto me: 'These waters issue forth toward the eastern region, and shall go down into the Arabah; and when they shall enter into the sea, into the sea of the putrid waters, the waters shall be healed. 9And it shall come to pass, that every living creature wherewith it swarmeth, whithersoever the rivers shall come, shall live; and there shall be a very great multitude of fish; for these waters are come thither, that all things be healed and may live whithersoever the river cometh. 10And it shall come to pass, that fishers shall stand by it from En-gedi even unto En-eglaim; there shall be a place for the spreading of nets; their fish shall be after their kinds, as the fish of the Great Sea, exceeding many. 11But the miry places thereof, and the marshes thereof, shall not be healed; they shall be given for salt. 12And by the river upon the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, shall grow every tree for food, whose leaf shall not wither, neither shall the fruit thereof fail; it shall bring forth new fruit every month, because the waters thereof issue out of the sanctuary; and the fruit thereof shall be for food, and the leaf thereof for healing.'

The Borders of the Land

13Thus saith the Lord GOD: 'This shall be the border, whereby ye shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel, Joseph receiving two portions. 14And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another, concerning which I lifted up My hand to give it unto your fathers; and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance.

15And this shall be the border of the land: on the north side, from the Great Sea, by the way of Hethlon, unto the entrance of Zedad; 16Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath; Hazer-hatticon, which is by the border of Hauran. 17And the border from the sea shall be Hazar-enon at the border of Damascus, and on the north northward is the border of Hamath. This is the north side.

18And the east side, between Hauran and Damascus and Gilead, and the land of Israel, by the Jordan, from the border unto the east sea shall ye measure. This is the east side.

19And the south side southward shall be from Tamar as far as the waters of Meriboth-kadesh, to the Brook, unto the Great Sea. This is the south side southward.

20And the west side shall be the Great Sea, from the border as far as over against the entrance of Hamath. This is the west side.

21So shall ye divide this land unto you according to the tribes of Israel. 22And it shall come to pass, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you and to the strangers that sojourn among you, who shall beget children among you; and they shall be unto you as the home-born among the children of Israel; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. 23And it shall come to pass, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord GOD.

The Portions for the Tribes

1Now these are the names of the tribes: from the north end, beside the way of Hethlon to the entrance of Hamath, Hazar-enan, at the border of Damascus, northward, beside Hamath; and they shall have their sides east and west: Dan, one portion. 2And by the border of Dan, from the east side unto the west side: Asher, one portion. 3And by the border of Asher, from the east side even unto the west side: Naphtali, one portion. 4And by the border of Naphtali, from the east side unto the west side: Manasseh, one portion. 5And by the border of Manasseh, from the east side unto the west side: Ephraim, one portion. 6And by the border of Ephraim, from the east side even unto the west side: Reuben, one portion. 7And by the border of Reuben, from the east side unto the west side: Judah, one portion.

The Portions for the Priests and Levites

8And by the border of Judah, from the east side unto the west side, shall be the offering which ye shall set aside, five and twenty thousand reeds in breadth, and in length as one of the portions, from the east side unto the west side; and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it. 9The offering that ye shall set apart unto the LORD shall be five and twenty thousand reeds in length, and ten thousand in breadth.

10And for these, even for the priests, shall be the holy offering; toward the north five and twenty thousand [in length], and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south five and twenty thousand in length; and the sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the midst thereof. 11The sanctified portion shall be for the priests of the sons of Zadok, that have kept My charge, that went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray. 12And it shall be unto them a portion set apart from the offering of the land, a thing most holy, by the border of the Levites. 13And answerable unto the border of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth; all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand. 14And they shall not sell of it, nor exchange, nor alienate the first portion of the land; for it is holy unto the LORD.

The Common Portion

15And the five thousand that are left in the breadth, in front of the five and twenty thousand, shall be for common use, for the city, for dwelling and for open land; and the city shall be in the midst thereof.

16And these shall be the measures thereof: the north side four thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred. 17And the city shall have open land: toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty. 18And the residue in the length, answerable unto the holy offering, shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward; and it shall be answerable unto the holy offering; and the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that serve the city. 19And they that serve the city, out of all the tribes of Israel, shall till it. 20All the offering shall be five and twenty thousand by five and twenty thousand; ye shall set apart the holy offering foursquare, with the possession of the city.

The Portion for the Prince

21And the residue shall be for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy offering and of the possession of the city, in front of the five and twenty thousand of the offering toward the east border, and westward in front of the five and twenty thousand toward the west border, answerable unto the portions, it shall be for the prince; and the holy offering and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the midst thereof. 22Thus the possession of the Levites, and the possession of the city, shall be in the midst of that which is the prince's; between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin shall be the prince's.

The Portions for the Remaining Tribes

23And as for the rest of the tribes: from the east side unto the west side: Benjamin, one portion. 24And by the border of Benjamin, from the east side unto the west side: Simeon, one portion. 25And by the border of Simeon, from the east side unto the west side: Issachar, one portion. 26And by the border of Issachar, from the east side unto the west side: Zebulun, one portion. 27And by the border of Zebulun, from the east side unto the west side: Gad, one portion. 28And by the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall be even from Tamar unto the waters of Meribath-kadesh, to the Brook, unto the Great Sea. 29This is the land which ye shall divide by lot unto the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their portions, saith the Lord GOD.

The City Gates and Dimensions

30And these are the goings out of the city: on the north side four thousand and five hundred reeds by measure; 31and the gates of the city shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel; three gates northward: the gate of Reuben, one; the gate of Judah, one; the gate of Levi, one; 32and at the east side four thousand and five hundred reeds; and three gates: even the gate of Joseph, one; the gate of Benjamin, one; the gate of Dan, one; 33and at the south side four thousand and five hundred reeds by measure; and three gates: the gate of Simeon, one; the gate of Issachar, one; the gate of Zebulun, one; 34at the west side four thousand and five hundred reeds, with their three gates: the gate of Gad, one; the gate of Asher, one; the gate of Naphtali, one. 35It shall be eighteen thousand reeds round about. And the name of the city from that day shall be, The LORD is there.'

Daniel Removed to Babylon

1IN THE third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it. 2And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God; and he carried them into the land of Shinar to the house of his god, and the vessels he brought into the treasure-house of his god.

3And the king spoke unto Ashpenaz his chief officer, that he should bring in certain of the children of Israel, and of the seed royal, and of the nobles, 4youths in whom was no blemish, but fair to look on, and skilful in all wisdom, and skilful in knowledge, and discerning in thought, and such as had ability to stand in the king's palace; and that he should teach them the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans. 5And the king appointed for them a daily portion of the king's food, and of the wine which he drank, and that they should be nourished three years; that at the end thereof they might stand before the king. 6Now among these were, of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. 7And the chief of the officers gave names unto them: unto Daniel he gave the name of Belteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Mishael, of Meshach; and to Azariah, of Abednego.

Daniel's Faithfulness

8But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's food, nor with the wine which he drank; therefore he requested of the chief of the officers that he might not defile himself. 9And God granted Daniel mercy and compassion in the sight of the chief of the officers. 10And the chief of the officers said unto Daniel: 'I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your food and your drink; for why should he see your faces sad in comparison with the youths that are of your own age? so would ye endanger my head with the king.' 11Then said Daniel to the steward, whom the chief of the officers had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: 12Try thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days; and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink. 13Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the youths that eat of the king's food; and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.'

14So he hearkened unto them in this matter, and tried them ten days. 15And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer, and they were fatter in flesh, than all the youths that did eat of the king's food. 16So the steward took away their food, and the wine that they should drink, and gave them pulse.

Daniel's Wisdom

17Now as for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams.

18And at the end of the days which the king had appointed for bringing them in, the chief of the officers brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. 19And the king spoke with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah; therefore stood they before the king. 20And in all matters of wisdom and understanding, that the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanterers that were in all his realm. ²¹And Daniel continued even unto the first year of king Cyrus.

Nebuchadnezzar's Troubling Dream

¹And in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams; and his spirit was troubled, and his sleep broke from him. ²Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the enchanterers, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, to tell the king his dreams. So they came and stood before the king. ³And the king said unto them: 'I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream.'

⁴Then spoke the Chaldeans to the king in Aramaic: 'O king, live for ever! tell thy servants the dream, and we will declare the interpretation.' ⁵The king answered and said to the Chaldeans: 'The thing is certain with me; if ye make not known unto me the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill. ⁶But if ye declare the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour; only declare unto me the dream and the interpretation thereof.' ⁷They answered the second time and said: 'Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will declare the interpretation.' ⁸The king answered and said: 'I know of a truth that ye would gain time, inasmuch as ye see the thing is certain with me, ⁹that, if ye make not known unto me the dream, there is but one law for you; and ye have agreed together to speak before me lying and corrupt words, till the time be changed; only tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can declare unto me the interpretation thereof.' ¹⁰The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said: 'There is not a man upon the earth that can declare the king's matter; forasmuch as no great and powerful king hath asked such a thing of any magician, or enchanter, or Chaldean. ¹¹And it is a hard thing that the king asketh, and there is none other that can declare it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.'

¹²For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon. ¹³So the decree went forth, and the wise men were to be slain; and they sought Daniel and his companions to be slain.

The Dream Revealed to Daniel

¹⁴Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and discretion to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, who was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon; ¹⁵he answered and said to Arioch the king's captain: 'Wherefore is the decree so peremptory from the king?' Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. ¹⁶Then Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would give him time, that he might declare unto the king the interpretation.

¹⁷Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions; ¹⁸that they might ask mercy of the God of heaven concerning this secret; that Daniel and his companions should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

19Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven.

20Daniel spoke and said: Blessed be the name of God From everlasting even unto everlasting; For wisdom and might are His;

21And He changeth the times and the seasons; He removeth kings, and setteth up kings; He giveth wisdom unto the wise, And knowledge to them that know understanding;

22He revealeth the deep and secret things; He knoweth what is in the darkness, And the light dwelleth with Him.

23I thank Thee, and praise Thee, O Thou God of my fathers, Who hast given me wisdom and might, And hast now made known unto me what we desired of Thee; For Thou hast made known unto us the king's matter.

Daniel Interprets the Dream

24Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon; he went and said thus unto him: 'Destroy not the wise men of Babylon; bring me in before the king, and I will declare unto the king the interpretation.'

25Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said thus unto him: 'I have found a man of the children of the captivity of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation.' 26The king spoke and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar: 'Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?' 27Daniel answered before the king, and said: 'The secret which the king hath asked can neither wise men, enchanters, magicians, nor astrologers, declare unto the king; 28but there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and He hath made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the end of days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these: 29as for thee, O king, thy thoughts came [into thy mind] upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter; and He that revealeth secrets hath made known to thee what shall come to pass. 30But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that thou mayest know the thoughts of thy heart.

31Thou, O king, sawest, and behold a great image. This image, which was mighty, and whose brightness was surpassing, stood before thee; and the appearance thereof was terrible. 32As for that image, its head was of fine gold, its breast and its arms of silver, its belly and its thighs of brass, 33its legs of iron, its feet part of iron and part of clay. 34Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon its feet that were of iron and clay, and broke them to pieces. 35Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken in pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, so that no place was found for them; and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

39And after thee shall arise another kingdom inferior to thee; and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth.

40And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron; forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and beateth down all things; and as iron that crusheth all these, shall it break in pieces and crush. 41And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom; but there shall be in it of the firmness of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay.

44And in the days of those kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed; nor shall the kingdom be left to another people; it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, but it shall stand for ever. 45Forasmuch as thou sawest that a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter; and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.'

Nebuchadnezzar Promotes Daniel

46Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an offering and sweet odours unto him. 47The king spoke unto Daniel, and said: 'Of a truth it is, that your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou hast been able to reveal this secret.' 48Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him to rule over the whole province of Babylon, and to be chief prefect over all the wise men of Babylon. 49And Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon; but Daniel was in the gate of the king.

Nebuchadnezzar's Golden Statue

1Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits; he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon. 2Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. 3Then the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up. 4And the herald cried aloud: 'To you it is commanded, O peoples, nations, and languages, 5that at what time ye hear the sound of the horn, pipe, harp, trigon, psaltery, bagpipe, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up; 6and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.' 7Therefore at that time, when all the peoples heard the sound of the horn, pipe, harp, trigon, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all the peoples, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego Accused

8Wherefore at that time certain Chaldeans came near, and brought accusation against the Jews. 9They spoke and said to Nebuchadnezzar the king: 'O king, live for ever! 10Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the horn, pipe, harp, trigon, psaltery, and bagpipe, and all kinds of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image; 11and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. 12There are certain Jews whom thou hast appointed over the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego; these men, O king, have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.'

13Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. Then were these men brought before the king. 14Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said unto them: 'Is it true, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, that ye serve not my gods, nor worship the golden image which I have set up? 15Now if ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the horn, pipe, harp, trigon, psaltery, and bagpipe, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well; but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and who is the god that shall deliver you out of my hands?'

16Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, answered and said to the king: 'O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer thee in this matter. 17If our God whom we serve is able to deliver us, He will deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and out of thy hand, O king. 18But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.'

The Fiery Furnace

19Then was Nebuchadnezzar filled with fury, and the form of his visage was changed, against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego; he spoke, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was wont to be heated. 20And he commanded certain mighty men that were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. 21Then these men were bound in their cloaks, their tunics, and their robes, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. 22Therefore because the king's commandment was peremptory, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. 23And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was alarmed, and rose up in haste; he spoke and said unto his ministers: 'Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire?' They answered and said unto the king: 'True, O king.' 25He answered and said: 'Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the appearance of the fourth is like a son of the gods.' 26Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace; he spoke and said: 'Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of God Most High, come forth, and come hither.' Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, came forth out of the midst of the fire. 27And the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, and the king's ministers, being gathered together, saw these men, that the fire had no power upon their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their cloaks changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them.

28Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said: 'Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent His angel, and delivered His servants that trusted in Him, and have changed the king's word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God. 29Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, and language, which speak any thing amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill; because there is no other god that is able to deliver after this sort.' 30Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, in the province of Babylon.

Nebuchadnezzar Confesses God's Kingdom

1Nebuchadnezzar the king, unto all peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth; peace be multiplied unto you. 2It hath seemed good unto me to declare the signs and wonders that God Most High hath wrought toward me.

3How great are His signs! And how mighty are His wonders! His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, And His dominion is from generation to generation.

Nebuchadnezzar's Dream of a Great Tree

4I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace. 5I saw a dream which made me afraid; and imaginings upon my bed and the visions of my head affrighted me. 6Therefore made I a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream. 7Then came in the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers; and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof. 8But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and I told the dream before him: 9O Belteshazzar, master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret causeth thee trouble, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof.

10Thus were the visions of my head upon my bed: I saw, And behold a tree in the midst of the earth, And the height thereof was great.

11The tree grew, and was strong, And the height thereof reached unto heaven, And the sight thereof to the end of all the earth.

12The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, And in it was food for all; The beasts of the field had shadow under it, And the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the branches thereof, And all flesh was fed of it.

13I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and, behold, a watcher and a holy one came down from heaven.

14He cried aloud, and said thus: Hew down the tree, and cut off its branches, Shake off its leaves, and scatter its fruit; Let the beasts get away from under it, And the fowls from its branches.

15Nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, Even in a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; And let it be wet with the dew of heaven, And let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth;

16Let his heart be changed from man's, And let a beast's heart be given unto him; And let seven times pass over him.

17The matter is by the decree of the watchers, And the sentence by the word of the holy ones; To the intent that the living may know That the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, And giveth it to whomsoever He will, And setteth up over it the lowest of men.

18This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have seen; and thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation; but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.'

Daniel Interprets the Second Dream

19Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was appalled for a while, and his thoughts affrighted him. The king spoke and said: 'Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation, affright thee.' Belteshazzar answered and said: 'My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine adversaries. 20The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth; 21whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was food for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation; 22it is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong; for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth. 23And whereas the king saw a watcher and a holy one coming down from heaven, and saying: Hew down the tree, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even in a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him— 24this is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the king, 25that thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and shalt be wet with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee; till thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever He will. 26And whereas it was commanded to leave the stump of the roots of the tree, thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule. 27Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by almsgiving, and thine iniquities by showing mercy to the poor; if there may be a lengthening of thy prosperity.'

The Second Dream Fulfilled

28All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar. 29At the end of twelve months he was walking upon the royal palace of Babylon. 30The king spoke, and said: 'Is not this great Babylon, which I have built for a royal dwelling-place, by the might of my power and for the glory of my majesty?' 31While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven: 'O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken: the kingdom is departed from thee. 32And thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee; until thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever He will.' ³³The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar; and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hair was grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws.

Nebuchadnezzar Restored

³⁴And at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured Him that liveth for ever; For His dominion is an everlasting dominion, And His kingdom from generation to generation;

³⁵And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing; And He doeth according to His will in the host of heaven, And among the inhabitants of the earth; And none can stay His hand, Or say unto Him: What doest Thou?

³⁶At the same time mine understanding returned unto me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and my splendour returned unto me; and my ministers and my lords sought unto me; and I was established in my kingdom, and surpassing greatness was added unto me. ³⁷Now I Nebuchadnezzar praise and extol and honour the King of heaven; for all His works are truth, and His ways justice; and those that walk in pride He is able to abase.'

Belshazzar's Feast

¹Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand.

The Handwriting on the Wall

⁵In the same hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaster of the wall of the king's palace; and the king saw the palm of the hand that wrote. ⁶Then the king's countenance was changed in him, and his thoughts affrighted him; and the joints of his loins were loosed, and his knees smote one against another. ⁷The king cried aloud to bring in the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers. The king spoke and said to the wise men of Babylon: 'Whosoever shall read this writing, and declare unto me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall rule as one of three in the kingdom.' ⁸Then came in all the king's wise men: but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation. ⁹Then was king Belshazzar greatly affrighted, and his countenance was changed in him, and his lords were perplexed.

10Now the queen by reason of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house; the queen spoke and said: 'O king, live for ever! let not thy thoughts affright thee, nor let thy countenance be changed; 11there is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him; and the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, the king, I say, thy father, made him master of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and astrologers; 12forasmuch as a surpassing spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and declaring of riddles, and loosing of knots, were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will declare the interpretation.'

Daniel Interprets the Handwriting

13Then was Daniel brought in before the king. The king spoke and said unto Daniel: 'Art thou Daniel, who is of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah? 14I have heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and surpassing wisdom is found in thee. 15And now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof; but they could not declare the interpretation of the thing. 16But I have heard of thee, that thou canst give interpretations, and loose knots; now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt rule as one of three in the kingdom.'

17Then Daniel answered and said before the king: 'Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation. 18O thou king, God Most High gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty; 19and because of the greatness that He gave him, all the peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down. 20But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened that he dealt proudly, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and his glory was taken from him; 21and he was driven from the sons of men, and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses; he was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven; until he knew that God Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and that He setteth up over it whomsoever He will. 22And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thy heart, though thou knewest all this; 23but hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of His house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy consorts and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know; and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified; 24then was the palm of the hand sent from before Him, and this writing was inscribed.

25And this is the writing that was inscribed: MENE MENE, TEKEL UPHARSIN. 26This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE, God hath numbered thy kingdom, and brought it to an end. 27TEKEL, Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting. 28PERES, thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.'

29Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, that he should rule as one of three in the kingdom.

30In that night Belshazzar the Chaldean king was slain. 31And Darius the Mede received the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

The Plot against Daniel

1It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom a hundred and twenty satraps, who should be throughout the whole kingdom; 2and over them three presidents, of whom Daniel was one; that these satraps might give account unto them, and that the king should have no damage. 3Then this Daniel distinguished himself above the presidents and the satraps, because a surpassing spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm. 4Then the presidents and the satraps sought to find occasion against Daniel as touching the kingdom; but they could find no occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him. 5Then said these men: 'We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him in the matter of the law of his God.'

6Then these presidents and satraps came tumultuously to the king, and said thus unto him: 'King Darius, live for ever! 7All the presidents of the kingdom, the prefects and the satraps, the ministers and the governors, have consulted together that the king should establish a statute, and make a strong interdict, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions. 8Now, O king, establish the interdict, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.' 9Wherefore king Darius signed the writing and the interdict.

Daniel in the Lions' Den

10And when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house—now his windows were open in his upper chamber toward Jerusalem—and he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime. 11Then these men came tumultuously, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. 12Then they came near, and spoke before the king concerning the king's interdict: 'Hast thou not signed an interdict, that every man that shall make petition unto any god or man within thirty days, save of thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions?' The king answered and said: 'The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.' 13Then answered they and said before the king: 'That Daniel, who is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the interdict that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.'

14Then the king, when he heard these words, was sore displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him; and he laboured till the going down of the sun to deliver him. 15Then these men came tumultuously unto the king, and said unto the king: 'Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians, that no interdict nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed.'

16Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spoke and said unto Daniel: 'Thy God whom thou servest continually, He will deliver thee.' 17And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. 18Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting; neither were diversions brought before him; and his sleep fled from him.

19Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions. 20And when he came near unto the den to Daniel, he cried with a pained voice; the king spoke and said to Daniel: 'O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?' 21Then said Daniel unto the king: 'O king, live for ever! 22My God hath sent His angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me; forasmuch as before Him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt.' 23Then was the king exceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he had trusted in his God.

24And the king commanded, and they brought those men that had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and they had not come to the bottom of the den, when the lions had the mastery of them, and broke all their bones in pieces.

Darius Honors God

25Then king Darius wrote unto all the peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth: 'Peace be multiplied unto you.

26I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel; For He is the living God, And stedfast for ever, And His kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, And His dominion shall be even unto the end;

27He delivereth and rescueth, And He worketh signs and wonders In heaven and in earth; Who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.'

28So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

Daniel's Vision of the Four Beasts

(Revelation 13:1-10)

1In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel had a dream and visions of his head upon his bed; then he wrote the dream and told the sum of the matters. 2Daniel spoke and said: I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of the heaven broke forth upon the great sea. 3And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another. 4The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings; I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked off, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon two feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it. 5And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and it raised up itself on one side, and it had three ribs in its mouth between its teeth; and it was said thus unto it: 'Arise, devour much flesh.' 6After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the sides of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it. 7After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth; it devoured and broke in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet; and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns. 8I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots; and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things.

Daniel's Vision of the Ancient of Days

9I beheld Till thrones were placed, And one that was ancient of days did sit: His raiment was as white snow, And the hair of his head like pure wool; His throne was fiery flames, and the wheels thereof burning fire.

10A fiery stream issued And came forth from before him; thousand thousands ministered unto him, And ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him; The judgment was set, And the books were opened.

11I beheld at that time because of the voice of the great words which the horn spoke, I beheld even till the beast was slain, and its body destroyed, and it was given to be burned with fire. 12And as for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away; yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time.

Daniel's Vision of the Son of Man

13I saw in the night visions, And, behold, there came with the clouds of heaven One like unto a son of man, And he came even to the Ancient of days, And he was brought near before Him.

14And there was given him dominion, And glory, and a kingdom, That all the peoples, nations, and languages Should serve him; His dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, And his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

Daniel's Visions Interpreted

19Then I desired to know the truth concerning the fourth beast, which was diverse from all of them, exceeding terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and its nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet; 20and concerning the ten horns that were on its head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three fell; even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spoke great things, whose appearance was greater than that of its fellows. 21I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them; 22until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given for the saints of the Most High; and the time came, and the saints possessed the kingdom.

23Thus he said: 'The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

24And as for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise; and another shall arise after them;

and he shall be diverse from the former, and he shall put down three kings. ²⁵And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High; and he shall think to change the seasons and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time. ²⁶But the judgment shall sit, and his dominions shall be taken away, to be consumed and to be destroy unto the end. ²⁷And the kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High; their kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey them.'

²⁸Here is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my thoughts much affrighted me, and my countenance was changed in me; but I kept the matter in my heart.

Daniel's Vision of the Ram and the Goat

¹In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first. ²And I saw in the vision; now it was so, that when I saw, I was in Shushan the castle, which is in the province of Elam; and I saw in the vision, and I was by the stream Ulai. ³And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there stood before the stream a ram which had two horns; and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last. ⁴I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; and no beasts could stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; but he did according to his will, and magnified himself.

⁵And as I was considering, behold, a he-goat came from the west over the face of the whole earth, and touched not the ground; and the goat had a conspicuous horn between his eyes. ⁶And he came to the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the stream, and ran at him in the fury of his power. ⁷And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and broke his two horns; and there was no power in the ram to stand before him; but he cast him down to the ground, and trampled upon him; and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand. ⁸And the he-goat magnified himself exceedingly; and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and instead of it there came up the appearance of four horns toward the four winds of heaven.

⁹And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the beauteous land. ¹⁰And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven; and some of the host and of the stars it cast down to the ground, and trampled upon them. ¹¹Yea, it magnified itself, even to the prince of the host; and from him the continual burnt-offering was taken away, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down. ¹²And the host was given over to it together with the continual burnt-offering through transgression; and it cast down truth to the ground, and it wrought, and prospered. ¹³Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said unto that certain one who spoke: 'How long shall be the vision concerning the continual burnt-offering, and the transgression that causes appalment, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trampled under foot?' ¹⁴And he said unto me: 'Unto two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings; then shall the sanctuary be victorious.'

Gabriel Interprets Daniel's Vision

15And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, that I sought to understand it; and, behold, there stood before me as the appearance of a man. 16And I heard the voice of a man between the banks of Ulai, who called, and said: 'Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision.' 17So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was terrified, and fell upon my face; but he said unto me: 'Understand, O son of man; for the vision belongeth to the time of the end.'

18Now as he was speaking with me, I fell into a deep sleep with my face toward the ground; but he touched me, and set me upright. 19And he said: 'Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the latter time of the indignation; for it belongeth to the appointed time of the end.'

20The ram which thou sawest having the two horns, they are the kings of Media and Persia.

21And the rough he-goat is the king of Greece; and the great horn that is between his eyes is the first king. 22And as for that which was broken, in the place whereof four stood up, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not with his power.

23And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors have completed their transgression, there shall stand up a king of fierce countenance, and understanding stratagems.

24And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power; and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper and do; and he shall destroy them that are mighty and the people of the saints.

25And through his cunning he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and in time of security shall he destroy many; he shall also stand up against the prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand.

26And the vision of the evenings and mornings which hath been told is true; but thou, shut thou up the vision; for it belongeth to many days to come.'

27And I Daniel fainted, and was sick certain days; then I rose up, and did the king's business; and I was appalled at the vision, but understood it not.

Daniel's Prayer for His People

1In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans; 2in the first year of his reign I Daniel meditated in the books, over the number of the years, whereof the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet, that He would accomplish for the desolations of Jerusalem seventy years. 3And I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes. 4And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and made confession, and said: 'O Lord, the great and awful God, who keepest covenant and mercy with them that love Thee and keep Thy commandments, 5we have sinned, and have dealt iniquitously, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, and have turned aside from Thy commandments and from Thine ordinances; ⁶neither have we hearkened unto Thy servants the prophets, that spoke in Thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

⁷Unto Thee, O Lord, belongeth righteousness, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither Thou hast driven them, because they dealt treacherously with Thee.

⁸O LORD, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against Thee. ⁹To the Lord our God belong compassions and forgivenesses; for we have rebelled against Him; ¹⁰neither have we hearkened to the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in His laws, which He set before us by His servants the prophets. ¹¹Yea, all Israel have transgressed Thy law, and have turned aside, so as not to hearken to Thy voice; and so there hath been poured out upon us the curse and the oath that is written in the Law of Moses the servant of God; for we have sinned against Him. ¹²And He hath confirmed His word, which He spoke against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil; so that under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem. ¹³As it is written in the Law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us; yet have we not entreated the favour of the LORD our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and have discernment in Thy truth. ¹⁴And so the LORD hath watched over the evil, and brought it upon us; for the LORD our God is righteous in all His works which He hath done, and we have not hearkened to His voice.

¹⁵And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought Thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten Thee renown, as at this day; we have sinned, we have done wickedly. ¹⁶O Lord, according to all Thy righteousness, let Thine anger and Thy fury, I pray Thee, be turned away from Thy city Jerusalem, Thy holy mountain; because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and Thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us. ¹⁷Now therefore, O our God, hearken unto the prayer of Thy servant, and to his supplications, and cause Thy face to shine upon Thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. ¹⁸O my God, incline Thine ear, and hear; open Thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city upon which Thy name is called; for we do not present our supplications before Thee because of our righteousness, but because of Thy great compassions. ¹⁹O Lord, hear, O Lord, forgive, O Lord, attend and do, defer not; for Thine own sake, O my God, because Thy name is called upon Thy city and Thy people.'

Gabriel's Prophecy of the Seventy Weeks

²⁰And while I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for the holy mountain of my God; ²¹yea, while I was speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, approached close to me about the time of the evening offering. ²²And he made me to understand, and talked with me, and said: 'O Daniel, I am now come forth to make thee skilful of understanding. ²³At the beginning of thy supplications a word went forth, and I am come to declare it; for thou art greatly beloved; therefore look into the word, and understand the vision.

²⁴Seventy weeks are decreed upon thy people and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sin, and to forgive iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal vision and prophet, and to anoint the most holy place. ²⁵Know therefore and discern, that from the going forth of the word to restore and to build Jerusalem unto one anointed, a prince, shall be seven weeks; and for threescore and two weeks, it shall be built again, with broad place and moat, but in troublous times. ²⁶And after the threescore and two weeks shall an anointed one be cut off, and be no more; and the people of a prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; but his end shall be with a flood; and unto the end of the war desolations are determined. ²⁷And he shall make a firm covenant with many for one week; and for half of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the offering to cease; and upon the wing of detestable things shall be that which causeth appalment; and that until the extermination wholly determined be poured out upon that which causeth appalment.'

Daniel's Vision by the Tigris

¹In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a word was revealed unto Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar; and the word was true, even a great warfare; and he gave heed to the word, and had understanding of the vision.

²In those days I Daniel was mourning three whole weeks. ³I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled. ⁴And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is Tigris, ⁵I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold a man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with fine gold of Uphaz; ⁶his body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as torches of fire, and his arms and his feet like in colour to burnished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude. ⁷And I Daniel alone saw the vision; for the men that were with me saw not the vision; howbeit a great trembling fell upon them, and they fled to hide themselves. ⁸So that I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me; for my comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength. ⁹Yet heard I the voice of his words; and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I fallen into a deep sleep on my face, with my face toward the ground.

¹⁰And, behold, a hand touched me, which set me tottering upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands. ¹¹And he said unto me: 'O Daniel, thou man greatly beloved, give heed unto the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright; for now am I sent unto thee'; and when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling. ¹²Then said he unto me: 'Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst set thy heart to understand, and to humble thyself before thy God, thy words were heard; and I am come because of thy words. ¹³But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days; but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me; and I was left over there beside the kings of Persia. ¹⁴Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the end of days; for there is yet a vision for the days.'

¹⁵And when he had spoken unto me according to these words, I set my face toward the ground, and was dumb. ¹⁶And, behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips; then I opened my mouth, and spoke and said unto him that stood before me: 'O my lord, by reason of the vision my pains are come upon me, and I retain no strength. ¹⁷For how can this servant of my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither was there breath left in me.'

¹⁸Then there touched me again one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me. ¹⁹And he said: 'O man greatly beloved, fear not! peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong.' And when he had spoken unto me, I was strengthened, and said: 'Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me.' ²⁰Then said he: Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia; and when I go forth, lo, the prince of Greece shall come. ²¹Howbeit I will declare unto thee that which is inscribed in the writing of truth; and there is none that holdeth with me against these, except Michael your prince.

Kings of the South and North

¹And as for me, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood up to be a supporter and a stronghold unto him. ²And now will I declare unto thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia; and the fourth shall be far richer than they all; and when he is waxed strong through his riches, he shall stir up all against the realm of Greece. ³And a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will. ⁴And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven; but not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion wherewith he ruled; for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others beside those.

⁵And the king of the south shall be strong, and one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion. ⁶And at the end of years they shall join themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make an agreement; but she shall not retain the strength of her arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begot her, and he that obtained her in those times. ⁷But one of the shoots of her roots shall stand up in his place, and shall come unto the army, and shall enter into the stronghold of the king of the north, and shall deal with them, and shall prevail; ⁸and also their gods, with their molten images, and with their precious vessels of silver and of gold, shall he bring into captivity into Egypt; and he shall desist some years from the king of the north. ⁹And he shall come into the kingdom of the king of the south, but he shall return into his own land.

¹⁰And his sons shall stir themselves up, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces, and he shall come on, and overflow, as he passes through; and he shall return and stir himself up, even to his stronghold. ¹¹And the king of the south shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north; and he shall set forth a great multitude, but the multitude shall be given into his hand. ¹²and the multitude shall be carried away, and his heart shall be lifted up; and he shall cast down tens of thousands; but he shall not prevail. ¹³And the king of the north shall again set forth a multitude, greater than the former; and he shall come on at the end of the times, even of years, with a great army and with much substance.

¹⁴And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south; also the children of the violent among thy people shall lift themselves up to establish the vision; but they shall stumble. ¹⁵And the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mound, and take a well-fortified city; and the arms of the south shall not withstand; and as for his chosen people, there shall be no strength in them to withstand. ¹⁶But he that cometh against him shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him; and he shall stand in the beautiful land, and in his hand shall be extermination. ¹⁷And he shall set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, but shall make an agreement with him; and he shall give him the daughter of women, to destroy it; but it shall not stand, neither be for him. 18After this shall he set his face unto the isles, and shall take many; but a captain shall cause the reproach offered by him to cease; yea, he shall cause his own reproach to return upon him. 19Then he shall turn his face toward the strongholds of his own land; but he shall stumble and fall, and shall not be found.

20Then shall stand up in his place one that shall cause an exactor to pass through the glory of the kingdom; but within few days he shall be destroyed, neither in anger, nor in battle. 21And in his place shall stand up a contemptible person, upon whom had not been conferred the majesty of the kingdom; but he shall come in time of security, and shall obtain the kingdom by blandishments. 22And the arms of the flood shall be swept away from before him, and shall be broken; yea, also the prince of the covenant. 23And after the league made with him he shall work deceitfully; and he shall come up and become strong, with a little nation. 24In time of security shall he come even upon the fattest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers: he shall scatter among them prey, and spoil, and substance; yea, he shall devise his devices against fortresses, but only until the time. 25And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall stir himself up to battle with a very great and mighty army; but he shall not stand, for they shall devise devices against him. 26Yea, they that eat of his food shall destroy him, and his army shall be swept away; and many shall fall down slain. 27And as for both these kings, their hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table; but it shall not prosper, for the end remaineth yet for the time appointed. 28And he shall return to his own land with great substance; and his heart shall be against the holy covenant; and he shall do his pleasure, and return to his own land.

29At the time appointed he shall return, and come into the south; but it shall not be in the latter time as it was in the former.

30For ships of Kittim shall come against him, and he shall be cowed, and he shall return, and have indignation against the holy covenant, and shall do his pleasure; and he shall return, and have regard unto them that forsake the holy covenant. 31And arms shall stand on his part, and they shall profane the sanctuary, even the stronghold, and shall take away the continual burnt-offering, and they shall set up the detestable thing that causeth appalment. 32And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall be corrupt by blandishments; but the people that know their God shall show strength, and prevail. 33And they that are wise among the people shall cause the many to understand; yet they shall stumble by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by spoil, many days. 34Now when they shall stumble, they shall be helped with a little help; but many shall join themselves unto them with blandishments. 35And some of them that are wise shall stumble, to refine among them, and to purify, and to make white, even to the time of the end; for it is yet for the time appointed.

The King Who Exalts Himself

36And the king shall do according to his will; and he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak strange things against the God of gods; and he shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished; for that which is determined shall be done. 37Neither shall he regard the gods of his fathers; and neither the desire of women, nor any god, shall he regard; for he shall magnify himself above all. 38But in his place shall he honour the god of strongholds; and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and costly things. 39And he shall deal with the strongest fortresses with the help of a foreign god; whom he shall acknowledge, shall increase glory; and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for a price.

40And at the time of the end shall the king of the south push at him; and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow, as he passes through. 41He shall enter also into the beautiful land, and many countries shall be overthrown; but these shall be delivered out of his hand, Edom, and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon. 42He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries; and the land of Egypt shall not escape. 43But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt; and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps. 44But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall affright him; and he shall go forth with great fury to destroy and utterly to take away many. 45And he shall plant the tents of his palace between the seas and the beautiful holy mountain; and he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

The End Times

1And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince who standeth for the children of thy people; and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time; and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.

2And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to reproaches and everlasting abhorrence. 3And they that are wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn the many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever. 4But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end; many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.'

5Then I Daniel looked, and, behold, there stood other two, the one on the bank of the river on this side, and the other on the bank of the river on that side. 6And one said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river: 'How long shall it be to the end of the wonders?' 7And I heard the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, when he lifted up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and swore by Him that liveth for ever that it shall be for a time, times, and a half; and when they have made an end of breaking in pieces the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished. 8And I heard, but I understood not; then said I: 'O my Lord, what shall be the latter end of these things?' 9And he said: 'Go thy way, Daniel; for the words are shut up and sealed till the time of the end. 10Many shall purify themselves, and make themselves white, and be refined; but the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand; but they that are wise shall understand. 11And from the time that the continual burnt-offering shall be taken away, and the detestable thing that causes appalment set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days. 12Happy is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days. 13But go thou thy way till the end be; and thou shalt rest, and shalt stand up to thy lot, at the end of the days.'

Hosea's Wife and Children

1The word of the LORD that came unto Hosea the son of Beerī, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

2When the LORD spoke at first with Hosea, the LORD said unto Hosea: 'Go, take unto thee a wife of harlotry and children of harlotry; for the land doth commit great harlotry, departing from the LORD.'

3So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; and she conceived, and bore him a son. 4And the LORD said unto him: 'Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will visit the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel. 5And it shall come to pass at that day, that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.'

6And she conceived again, and bore a daughter. And He said unto him: 'Call her name Lo-ruhamah; for I will no more have compassion upon the house of Israel, that I should in any wise pardon them.

7But I will have compassion upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, nor by horses, nor by horsemen.'

8Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived, and bore a son. 9And He said: 'Call his name Lo-ammi; for ye are not My people, and I will not be yours.'

10Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and it shall come to pass that, instead of that which was said unto them: 'Ye are not My people', it shall be said unto them: 'Ye are the children of the living God.'

11And the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together, and they shall appoint themselves one head, and shall go up out of the land; for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

Israel's Adultery Rebuked

1Say ye unto your brethren: 'Ammi'; and to your sisters, 'Ruhamah.'

2Plead with your mother, plead; For she is not My wife, neither am I her husband; And let her put away her harlotries from her face, And her adulteries from between her breasts;

3Lest I strip her naked, And set her as in the day that she was born, And make her as a wilderness, And set her like a dry land, And slay her with thirst.

4And I will not have compassion upon her children; For they are children of harlotry.

5For their mother hath played the harlot, She that conceived them hath done shamefully; For she said: 'I will go after my lovers, That give me my bread and my water, My wool and my flax, mine oil and my drink.'

6Therefore, behold, I will hedge up thy way with thorns, And I will make a wall against her, That she shall not find her paths.

7And she shall run after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them, And she shall seek them, but shall not find them; Then shall she say: 'I will go and return to my first husband; For then was it better with me than now.'

8For she did not know that it was I that gave her The corn, and the wine, and the oil, And multiplied unto her silver and gold, Which they used for Baal.

9Therefore will I take back My corn in the time thereof, And My wine in the season thereof, And will snatch away My wool and My flax Given to cover her nakedness.

10And now will I uncover her shame in the sight of her lovers, And none shall deliver her out of My hand.

11I will also cause all her mirth to cease, Her feasts, her new moons, and her sabbaths, And all her appointed seasons.

12And I will lay waste her vines and her fig-trees, Whereof she hath said: 'These are my hire That my lovers have given me'; And I will make them a forest, And the beasts of the field shall eat them.

13And I will visit upon her the days of the Baalim, Wherein she offered unto them, And decked herself with her ear-rings and her jewels, And went after her lovers, And forgot Me, saith the LORD.

God's Mercy to Israel

14Therefore, behold, I will allure her, And bring her into the wilderness, And speak tenderly unto her.

15And I will give her her vineyards from thence, And the valley of Achor for a door of hope; And she shall respond there, as in the days of her youth, And as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

16And it shall be at that day, saith the LORD, That thou shalt call Me Ishi, And shalt call Me no more Baali.

17For I will take away the names of the Baalim out of her mouth, And they shall no more be mentioned by their name.

18And in that day will I make a covenant for them With the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, And with the creeping things of the ground; And I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the land, And will make them to lie down safely.

19And I will betroth thee unto Me for ever; Yea, I will betroth thee unto Me in righteousness, and in justice, And in lovingkindness, and in compassion.

20And I will betroth thee unto Me in faithfulness; And thou shalt know the LORD.

21And it shall come to pass in that day, I will respond, saith the LORD, I will respond to the heavens, And they shall respond to the earth;

22And the earth shall respond to the corn, and the wine, and the oil; And they shall respond to Jezreel.

23And I will sow her unto Me in the land; And I will have compassion upon her that had not obtained compassion; And I will say to them that were not My people: 'Thou art My people'; And they shall say: 'Thou art my God.'

Hosea Redeems His Wife

(Zechariah 2:6–13)

1And the LORD said unto me: 'Go yet, love a woman beloved of her friend and an adulteress, even as the LORD loveth the children of Israel, though they turn unto other gods, and love cakes of raisins.

2So I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver and a homer of barley, and a half-homer of barley;

3and I said unto her: 'Thou shalt sit solitary for me many days; thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be any man's wife; nor will I be thine.' 4For the children of Israel shall sit solitary many days without king, and without prince, and without sacrifice, and without pillar, and without ephod or teraphim; 5afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the LORD their God, and David their king; and shall come trembling unto the LORD and to His goodness in the end of days.

God's Case against His People

1Hear the word of the LORD, ye children of Israel! For the LORD hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, Because there is no truth, nor mercy, Nor knowledge of God in the land.

2Swearing and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery! They break all bounds, and blood toucheth blood.

3Therefore doth the land mourn, And every one that dwelleth therein doth languish, With the beasts of the field, and the fowls of heaven; Yea, the fishes of the sea also are taken away.

4Yet let no man strive, neither let any man reprove; For thy people are as they that strive with the priest.

5Therefore shalt thou stumble in the day, And the prophet also shall stumble with thee in the night; And I will destroy thy mother.

6My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge; Because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to Me; Seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I also will forget thy children.

7The more they were increased, the more they sinned against Me; I will change their glory into shame.

8They feed on the sin of My people, And set their heart on their iniquity.

9And it is like people, like priest; And I will punish him for his ways, And will recompense him his doings.

10And they shall eat, and not have enough, They shall commit harlotry, and shall not increase; Because they have left off to take heed to the LORD.

11Harlotry, wine, and new wine take away the heart.

12My people ask counsel at their stock, And their staff declareth unto them; For the spirit of harlotry hath caused them to err, And they have gone astray from under their God.

13They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, And offer upon the hills, Under oaks and poplars and terebinths, Because the shadow thereof is good; Therefore your daughters commit harlotry, And your daughters-in-law commit adultery.

14I will not punish your daughters when they commit harlotry, Nor your daughters-in-law when they commit adultery; For they themselves consort with lewd women, And they sacrifice with harlots; And the people that is without understanding is distraught.

15Though thou, Israel, play the harlot, Yet let not Judah become guilty; And come not ye unto Gilgal, Neither go ye up to Beth-aven, Nor swear: 'As the LORD liveth.'

16For Israel is stubborn like a stubborn heifer; Now shall the LORD feed them as a lamb in a large place?

17Ephraim is joined to idols; Let him alone.

18When their carouse is over, They take to harlotry; Her rulers deeply love dishonour.

19The wind hath bound her up in her skirts; And they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

Judgment on Israel and Judah

1Hear this, O ye priests, And attend, ye house of Israel, And give ear, O house of the king, For unto you pertaineth the judgment; For ye have been a snare on Mizpah, And a net spread upon Tabor.

2And they that fall away are gone deep in making slaughter; And I am rejected of them all.

3I, even I, know Ephraim, And Israel is not hid from Me; For now, O Ephraim, thou hast committed harlotry, Israel is defiled.

4Their doings will not suffer them To return unto their God; For the spirit of harlotry is within them, And they know not the LORD.

5But the pride of Israel shall testify to his face; And Israel and Ephraim shall stumble in their iniquity, Judah also shall stumble with them.

6With their flocks and with their herds they shall go To seek the LORD, but they shall not find Him; He hath withdrawn Himself from them.

7They have dealt treacherously against the LORD, For they have begotten strange children; Now shall the new moon devour them with their portions.

8Blow ye the horn in Gibeah, And the trumpet in Ramah; Sound an alarm at Beth-aven: 'Behind thee, O Benjamin!'

9Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke; Among the tribes of Israel do I make known that which shall surely be.

10The princes of Judah are like them that remove the landmark; I will pour out My wrath upon them like water.

11Oppressed is Ephraim, crushed in his right; Because he willingly walked after filth.

12Therefore am I unto Ephraim as a moth, And to the house of Judah as rottenness.

13And when Ephraim saw his sickness, And Judah his wound, Ephraim went to Assyria, And sent to King Contentious; But he is not able to heal you, Neither shall he cure you of your wound.

14For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, And as a young lion to the house of Judah; I, even I, will tear and go away, I will take away, and there shall be none to deliver.

15I will go and return to My place, Till they acknowledge their guilt, and seek My face; In their trouble they will seek Me earnestly:

The Unrepentance of Israel and Judah

1Come, and let us return unto the LORD; For He hath torn, and He will heal us, He hath smitten, and He will bind us up.

2After two days will He revive us, On the third day He will raise us up, that we may live in His presence.

3And let us know, eagerly strive to know the LORD, His going forth is sure as the morning; And He shall come unto us as the rain, As the latter rain that watereth the earth.'

4O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? For your goodness is as a morning cloud, And as the dew that early passeth away.

5Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets, I have slain them by the words of My mouth; And thy judgment goeth forth as the light.

6For I desire mercy, and not sacrifice, And the knowledge of God rather than burnt-offerings.

7But they like men have transgressed the covenant; There have they dealt treacherously against Me.

8Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity, It is covered with footprints of blood.

9And as troops of robbers wait for a man, So doth the company of priests; They murder in the way toward Shechem; Yea, they commit enormity.

10In the house of Israel I have seen a horrible thing; There harlotry is found in Ephraim, Israel is defiled.

11Also, O Judah, there is a harvest appointed for thee! When I would turn the captivity of My people,

Ephraim's Iniquity

1When I would heal Israel, Then is the iniquity of Ephraim uncovered, And the wickedness of Samaria, For they commit falsehood; And the thief entereth in, And the troop of robbers maketh a raid without.

2And let them not say to their heart—I remember all their wickedness; Now their own doings have beset them about, They are before My face.

3They make the king glad with their wickedness, And the princes with their lies.

4They are all adulterers, As an oven heated by the baker, Who ceaseth to stir From the kneading of the dough until it be leavened.

5On the day of our king The princes make him sick with the heat of wine, He stretcheth out his hand with scorners.

6For they have made ready their heart like an oven, while they lie in wait; Their baker sleepeth all the night, In the morning it burneth as a flaming fire.

7They are all hot as an oven, And devour their judges; All their kings are fallen, There is none among them that calleth unto Me.

- 8 Ephraim, he mixeth himself with the peoples; Ephraim is become a cake not turned.
- 9 Strangers have devoured his strength, And he knoweth it not; Yea, gray hairs are here and there upon him, And he knoweth it not.
- 10 And the pride of Israel testifieth to his face; But they have not returned unto the LORD their God, Nor sought Him, for all this.
- 11 And Ephraim is become like a silly dove, without understanding; They call unto Egypt, they go to Assyria.
- 12 Even as they go, I will spread My net upon them; I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven; I will chastise them, as their congregation hath been made to hear.
- 13 Woe unto them! for they have strayed from Me; Destruction unto them! for they have transgressed against Me; Shall I then redeem them, Seeing they have spoken lies against Me?
- 14 And they have not cried unto Me with their heart, Though they wail upon their beds; They assemble themselves for corn and wine, they rebel against Me.
- 15 Though I have trained and strengthened their arms, Yet do they devise evil against Me.
- 16 They return, but not upwards; They are become like a deceitful bow; Their princes shall fall by the sword for the rage of their tongue; This shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

Israel Will Reap the Whirlwind

- 1 Set the horn to thy mouth. As a vulture he cometh against the house of the LORD; Because they have transgressed My covenant, And trespassed against My law.
- 2 Will they cry unto Me: 'My God, we Israel know Thee'?
- 3 Israel hath cast off that which is good; The enemy shall pursue him.
- 4 They have set up kings, but not from Me, They have made princes, and I knew it not; Of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, That they may be cut off.
- 5 Thy calf, O Samaria, is cast off; Mine anger is kindled against them; How long will it be ere they attain to innocency?
- 6 For from Israel is even this: The craftsman made it, and it is no God; Yea, the calf of Samaria shall be broken in shivers.
- 7 For they sow the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind; It hath no stalk, the bud that shall yield no meal; If so be it yield, strangers shall swallow it up.

- 8 Israel is swallowed up; Now are they become among the nations As a vessel wherein is no value.
- 9 For they are gone up to Assyria, Like a wild ass alone by himself; Ephraim hath hired lovers.
- 10 Yea, though they hire among the nations, Now will I gather them up; And they begin to be minished By reason of the burden of king and princes.
- 11 For Ephraim hath multiplied altars to sin, Yea, altars have been unto him to sin.
- 12 Though I write for him never so many things of My Law, They are accounted as a stranger's.
- 13 As for the sacrifices that are made by fire unto Me, Let them sacrifice flesh and eat it, For the LORD accepteth them not. Now will He remember their iniquity, and punish their sins; They shall return to Egypt.
- 14 For Israel hath forgotten his Maker, And builded palaces, And Judah hath multiplied fortified cities; But I will send a fire upon his cities, And it shall devour the castles thereof.

Israel's Punishment

- 1 Rejoice not, O Israel, unto exultation, like the peoples, For thou hast gone astray from thy God, Thou hast loved a harlot's hire upon every corn-floor.
- 2 The threshing-floor and the wine-press shall not feed them, And the new wine shall fail her.
- 3 They shall not dwell in the LORD'S land; But Ephraim shall return to Egypt, And they shall eat unclean food in Assyria.
- 4 They shall not pour out wine-offerings to the LORD, Neither shall they be pleasing unto Him; Their sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners, All that eat thereof shall be polluted; For their bread shall be for their appetite, It shall not come into the house of the LORD.
- 5 What will ye do in the day of the appointed season, And in the day of the feast of the LORD?
- 6 For, lo, they are gone away from destruction, Yet Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them; Their precious treasures of silver, nettles shall possess them, Thorns shall be in their tents.
- 7 The days of visitation are come, The days of recompense are come, Israel shall know it. The prophet is a fool, the man of the spirit is mad! For the multitude of thine iniquity, the enmity is great.
- 8 Ephraim is a watchman with my God; As for the prophet, a fowler's snare is in all his ways, And enmity in the house of his God.
- 9 They have deeply corrupted themselves, As in the days of Gibeah; He will remember their iniquity, He will punish their sins.

10I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness, I saw your fathers as the first-ripe in the fig-tree at her first season; But so soon as they came to Baal-peor, They separated themselves unto the shameful thing, And became detestable like that which they loved.

11As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird; There shall be no birth, and none with child, and no conception.

12Yea, though they bring up their children, Yet will I bereave them, that there be not a man left; Yea, woe also to them when I depart from them!

13Ephraim, like as I have seen Tyre, is planted in a pleasant place; But Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the slayer.

14Give them, O LORD, whatsoever Thou wilt give; Give them a miscarrying womb and dry breasts.

15All their wickedness is in Gilgal, For there I hated them; Because of the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of My house; I will love them no more, All their princes are rebellious.

16Ephraim is smitten, Their root is dried up, They shall bear no fruit; Yea, though they bring forth, Yet will I slay the beloved fruit of their womb.

17My God will cast them away, Because they did not hearken unto Him; And they shall be wanderers among the nations.

Retribution for Israel's Sin

1Israel was a luxuriant vine, Which put forth fruit freely: As his fruit increased, He increased his altars; The more goodly his land was, The more goodly were his pillars.

2Their heart is divided; Now shall they bear their guilt; He will break down their altars, He will spoil their pillars.

3Surely now shall they say: 'We have no king; For we feared not the LORD; And the king, what can he do for us?'

4They speak words, They swear falsely, they make covenants; Thus judgment springeth up as hemlock In the furrows of the field.

5The inhabitants of Samaria shall be in dread For the calves of Beth-aven; For the people thereof shall mourn over it, And the priests thereof shall tremble for it, For its glory, because it is departed from it.

6It also shall be carried unto Assyria, For a present to King Contentious; Ephraim shall receive shame, And Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.

7As for Samaria, her king is cut off, As foam upon the water.

8The high places also of Aven shall be destroyed, Even the sin of Israel. The thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars; And they shall say to the mountains: 'Cover us', And to the hills: 'Fall on us.'

9From the days of Gibeah thou hast sinned, O Israel; There they stood; No battle was to overtake them in Gibeah, Nor the children of arrogancy.

10When it is My desire, I will chastise them; And the peoples shall be gathered against them, When they are yoked to their two rings.

11And Ephraim is a heifer well broken, That loveth to thresh, And I have passed over upon her fair neck; I will make Ephraim to ride, Judah shall plow, Jacob shall break his clods.

12Sow to yourselves according to righteousness, Reap according to mercy, Break up your fallow ground; For it is time to seek the LORD, Till He come and cause righteousness to rain upon you.

13Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity, Ye have eaten the fruit of lies; For thou didst trust in thy way, In the multitude of thy mighty men.

14Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy hosts, And all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, As Shalman spoiled Beth-arbel in the day of battle; The mother was dashed in pieces with her children.

15So hath Beth-el done unto you Because of your great wickedness; At daybreak is the king of Israel utterly cut off.

Out of Egypt I Called My Son

(Matthew 2:13–15)

1When Israel was a child, then I loved him, And out of Egypt I called My son.

2The more they called them, the more they went from them; They sacrificed unto the Baalim, And offered to graven images.

3And I, I taught Ephraim to walk, Taking them by their arms; But they knew not that I healed them.

4I drew them with cords of a man, With bands of love; And I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, And I fed them gently.

5He shall not return into the land of Egypt, But the Assyrian shall be his king, Because they refused to return.

6And the sword shall fall upon his cities, And shall consume his bars, and devour them, Because of their own counsels.

7And My people are in suspense about returning to Me; And though they call them upwards, None at all will lift himself up.

God's Love for Israel

8How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? How shall I surrender thee, Israel? How shall I make thee as Admah? How shall I set thee as Zeboim? My heart is turned within Me, My compassions are kindled together.

9I will not execute the fierceness of Mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim; For I am God, and not man, The Holy One in the midst of thee; And I will not come in fury.

10They shall walk after the LORD, Who shall roar like a lion; For He shall roar, And the children shall come trembling from the west.

11They shall come trembling as a bird out of Egypt, And as a dove out of the land of Assyria; And I will make them to dwell in their houses, saith the LORD.

12Ephraim compasseth Me about with lies, And the house of Israel with deceit; And Judah is yet wayward towards God, And towards the Holy One who is faithful.

A Reproof of Ephraim, Judah, and Jacob

1Ephraim striveth after wind, and followeth after the east wind; All the day he multiplieth lies and desolation; And they make a covenant with Assyria, And oil is carried into Egypt.

2The LORD hath also a controversy with Judah, And will punish Jacob according to his ways, According to his doings will He recompense him.

3In the womb he took his brother by the heel, And by his strength he strove with a godlike being;

4So he strove with an angel, and prevailed; He wept, and made supplication unto him; At Beth-el he would find him, And there he would speak with us;

5But the LORD, the God of hosts, The LORD is His name.

6Therefore turn thou to thy God; Keep mercy and justice, And wait for thy God continually.

7As for the trafficker, the balances of deceit are in his hand. He loveth to oppress.

8And Ephraim said: 'Surely I am become rich, I have found me wealth; In all my labours they shall find in me No iniquity that were sin.'

9But I am the LORD thy God From the land of Egypt; I will yet again make thee to dwell in tents, As in the days of the appointed season.

10I have also spoken unto the prophets, And I have multiplied visions; And by the ministry of the prophets have I used similitudes.

11If Gilead be given to iniquity Becoming altogether vanity, In Gilgal they sacrifice unto bullocks; Yea, their altars shall be as heaps In the furrows of the field.

12And Jacob fled into the field of Aram, And Israel served for a wife, And for a wife he kept sheep.

13And by a prophet the LORD brought Israel up out of Egypt, And by a prophet was he kept.

14Ephraim hath provoked most bitterly; Therefore shall his blood be cast upon him, And his reproach shall his Lord return unto him.

JPS [\[Online\]](#)

God's Anger against Israel

1When Ephraim spoke, there was trembling, He exalted himself in Israel; But when he became guilty through Baal, he died.

2And now they sin more and more, And have made them molten images of their silver, According to their own understanding, even idols, All of them the work of the craftsmen; Of them they say: 'They that sacrifice men kiss calves.'

3Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, And as the dew that early passeth away, As the chaff that is driven with the wind out of the threshing-floor, And as the smoke out of the window.

4Yet I am the LORD thy God From the land of Egypt; And thou knowest no God but Me, And beside Me there is no saviour.

5I did know thee in the wilderness, In the land of great drought.

6When they were fed, they became full, They were filled, and their heart was exalted; Therefore have they forgotten Me.

7Therefore am I become unto them as a lion; As a leopard will I watch by the way;

8I will meet them as a bear that is bereaved of her whelps, And will rend the enclosure of their heart; And there will I devour them like a lioness; The wild beast shall tear them.

Death and Resurrection

(1 Corinthians 15:50–58)

9It is thy destruction, O Israel, That thou art against Me, against thy help.

10Ho, now, thy king, That he may save thee in all thy cities! And thy judges, of whom thou saidst: 'Give me a king and princes!'

11I give thee a king in Mine anger, And take him away in My wrath.

12The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up; His sin is laid up in store.

13The throes of a travailing woman shall come upon him; He is an unwise son; For it is time he should not tarry In the place of the breaking forth of children.

14Shall I ransom them from the power of the nether-world? Shall I redeem them from death? Ho, thy plagues, O death! Ho, thy destruction, O netherworld! Repentance be hid from Mine eyes!

Judgment on Samaria

15For though he be fruitful among the reed-plants, An east wind shall come, the wind of the LORD coming up from the wilderness, And his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up; He shall spoil the treasure of all precious vessels.

16Samaria shall bear her guilt, For she hath rebelled against her God; They shall fall by the sword; Their infants shall be dashed in pieces, And their women with child shall be ripped up.

A Call to Repentance

(Jeremiah 3:11–25; Zechariah 1:1–6)

1Return, O Israel, unto the LORD thy God; For thou hast stumbled in thine iniquity.

2Take with you words, And return unto the LORD; Say unto Him: 'Forgive all iniquity, And accept that which is good; So will we render for bullocks the offering of our lips.

3Asshur shall not save us; We will not ride upon horses; Neither will we call any more the work of our hands our gods; For in Thee the fatherless findeth mercy.'

A Promise of God's Blessing

4I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely; For Mine anger is turned away from him.

5I will be as the dew unto Israel; He shall blossom as the lily, And cast forth his roots as Lebanon.

6His branches shall spread, And his beauty shall be as the olive-tree, And his fragrance as Lebanon.

7They that dwell under his shadow shall again Make corn to grow, And shall blossom as the vine; The scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon.

8Ephraim [shall say]: 'What have I to do any more with idols?' As for Me, I respond and look on him; I am like a leafy cypress-tree; From Me is thy fruit found.

⁹Whoso is wise, let him understand these things, Whoso is prudent, let him know them. For the ways of the LORD are right, And the just do walk in them; But transgressors do stumble therein.

The Invasion of Locusts

¹The word of the LORD that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

²Hear this, ye old men, And give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land. Hath this been in your days, Or in the days of your fathers?

³Tell ye your children of it, And let your children tell their children, And their children another generation.

⁴That which the palmer-worm hath left hath the locust eaten; And that which the locust hath left hath the canker-worm eaten; And that which the canker-worm hath left hath the caterpillar eaten.

⁵Awake, ye drunkards, and weep, And wail, all ye drinkers of wine, Because of the sweet wine, For it is cut off from your mouth.

⁶For a people is come up upon my land, Mighty, and without number; His teeth are the teeth of a lion, And he hath the jaw-teeth of a lioness.

⁷He hath laid my vine waste, And blasted my fig-tree; He hath made it clean bare, and cast it down, The branches thereof are made white.

A Call to Mourning

⁸Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth For the husband of her youth.

⁹The meal-offering and the drink-offering is cut off From the house of the LORD; The priests mourn, Even the LORD'S ministers.

¹⁰The field is wasted, The land mourneth; For the corn is wasted, The new wine is dried up, The oil languisheth.

¹¹Be ashamed, O ye husbandmen, Wail, O ye vinedressers, For the wheat and for the barley; Because the harvest of the field is perished.

¹²The vine is withered, And the fig-tree languisheth; The pomegranate-tree, the palm-tree also, and the apple-tree, Even all the trees of the field, are withered; For joy is withered away from the sons of men.

A Call to Repentance

(Amos 5:4–15; Zephaniah 2:1–3; Luke 13:1–5)

13Gird yourselves, and lament, ye priests, Wail, ye ministers of the altar; Come, lie all night in sackcloth, Ye ministers of my God; For the meal-offering and the drink-offering is withholden From the house of your God.

14Sanctify ye a fast, Call a solemn assembly, Gather the elders And all the inhabitants of the land Unto the house of the LORD your God, And cry unto the LORD.

15Alas for the day! For the day of the LORD is at hand, And as a destruction from the Almighty shall it come.

16Is not the food cut off Before our eyes, Yea, joy and gladness From the house of our God?

17The grains shrivel under their hoes; The garner are laid desolate, The barns are broken down; For the corn is withered.

18How do the beasts groan! The herds of cattle are perplexed, Because they have no pasture; Yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate.

19Unto Thee, O LORD, do I cry; For the fire hath devoured The pastures of the wilderness, And the flame hath set ablaze All the trees of the field.

20Yea, the beasts of the field pant unto Thee; For the water brooks are dried up, And the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

The Army of Locusts

(Amos 7:1–9)

1Blow ye the horn in Zion, And sound an alarm in My holy mountain; Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble; For the day of the LORD cometh, For it is at hand;

2A day of darkness and gloominess, A day of clouds and thick darkness, As blackness spread upon the mountains; A great people and a mighty, There hath not been ever the like, Neither shall be any more after them, Even to the years of many generations.

3A fire devoureth before them, And behind them a flame blazeth; The land is as the garden of Eden before them, And behind them a desolate wilderness; Yea, and nothing escapeth them.

4The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses; And as horsemen, so do they run.

5Like the noise of chariots, On the tops of the mountains do they leap, Like the noise of a flame of fire That devoureth the stubble, As a mighty people set in battle array.

6At their presence the peoples are in anguish; All faces have gathered blackness.

7They run like mighty men, They climb the wall like men of war; And they move on every one in his ways, And they entangle not their paths.

8Neither doth one thrust another, They march every one in his highway; And they break through the weapons, And suffer no harm.

9They leap upon the city, They run upon the wall, They climb up into the houses; They enter in at the windows like a thief.

10Before them the earth quaketh, The heavens tremble; The sun and the moon are become black, And the stars withdraw their shining.

11And the LORD uttereth His voice before His army; For His camp is very great, For he is mighty that executeth His word; For great is the day of the LORD and very terrible; And who can abide it?

Return with All Your Heart

12Yet even now, saith the LORD, Turn ye unto Me with all your heart, And with fasting, and with weeping, and with lamentation;

13And rend your heart, and not your garments, And turn unto the LORD your God; For He is gracious and compassionate, long-suffering, and abundant in mercy, And repenteth Him of the evil.

14Who knoweth whether He will not turn and repent, And leave a blessing behind Him, Even a meal-offering and a drink-offering Unto the LORD your God?

15Blow the horn in Zion, Sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly;

16Gather the people, Sanctify the congregation, Assemble the elders, Gather the children, And those that suck the breasts; Let the bridegroom go forth from his chamber, And the bride out of her pavilion.

17Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, Weep between the porch and the altar, And let them say: 'Spare thy people, O LORD, And give not Thy heritage to reproach, That the nations should make them a byword: Wherefore should they say among the peoples: Where is their God?'

Restoration Promised

18Then was the LORD jealous for His land, And had pity on His people.

19And the LORD answered and said unto His people: 'Behold, I will send you corn, and wine, and oil, And ye shall be satisfied therewith; And I will no more make you a reproach among the nations;

20But I will remove far off from you the northern one, And will drive him into a land barren and desolate, With his face toward the eastern sea, And his hinder part toward the western sea; That his foulness may come up, and his ill savour may come up, Because he hath done great things.'

21Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoice; For the LORD hath done great things.

22Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field; For the pastures of the wilderness do spring, For the tree beareth its fruit, The fig-tree and the vine do yield their strength.

23Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice In the LORD your God; For He giveth you the former rain in just measure, And He causeth to come down for you the rain, The former rain and the latter rain, at the first.

24And the floors shall be full of corn, And the vats shall overflow with wine and oil.

25And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, The canker-worm, and the caterpillar, and the palmer-worm, My great army which I sent among you.

26And ye shall eat in plenty and be satisfied, And shall praise the name of the LORD your God, That hath dealt wondrously with you; And My people shall never be ashamed.

27And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, And that I am the LORD your God, and there is none else; And My people shall never be ashamed.

I Will Pour Out My Spirit

(Acts 2:14–36)

28And it shall come to pass afterward, That I will pour out My spirit upon all flesh; And your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, Your old men shall dream dreams, Your young men shall see visions;

29And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids In those days will I pour out My spirit.

30And I will shew wonders in the heavens and in the earth, Blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.

31The sun shall be turned into darkness, And the moon into blood, Before the great and terrible day of the LORD come.

32And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered; For in mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those that escape, As the LORD hath said, And among the remnant those whom the LORD shall call.

The LORD Judges the Nations

1For, behold, in those days, and in that time, When I shall bring back the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem,

2I will gather all nations, And will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat; And I will enter into judgment with them there For My people and for My heritage Israel, Whom they have scattered among the nations, And divided My land.

3And they have cast lots for My people; And have given a boy for an harlot, And sold a girl for wine, and have drunk.

4And also what are ye to Me, O Tyre, and Zidon, and all the regions of Philistia? will ye render retribution on My behalf? and if ye render retribution on My behalf, swiftly, speedily will I return your retribution upon your own head. 5Forasmuch as ye have taken My silver and My gold, and have carried into your temples My goodly treasures; 6the children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the sons of Jevanim, that ye might remove them far from their border; 7behold, I will stir them up out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your retribution upon your own head; 8and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the men of Sheba, to a nation far off; for the LORD hath spoken.

9Proclaim ye this among the nations, Prepare war; Stir up the mighty men; Let all the men of war draw near, Let them come up.

10Beat your plowshares into swords, And your pruning-hooks into spears; Let the weak say: 'I am strong.'

11Haste ye, and come, all ye nations round about, And gather yourselves together; Thither cause Thy mighty ones to come down, O LORD!

12Let the nations be stirred up, and come up To the valley of Jehoshaphat; For there will I sit to judge All the nations round about.

13Put ye in the sickle, For the harvest is ripe; Come, tread ye, For the winepress is full, the vats overflow; For their wickedness is great.

14Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! For the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision.

15The sun and the moon are become black, And the stars withdraw their shining.

16And the LORD shall roar from Zion, And utter His voice from Jerusalem, And the heavens and the earth shall shake; But the LORD will be a refuge unto His people, And a stronghold to the children of Israel.

Blessings for God's People

17So shall ye know that I am the LORD your God, Dwelling in Zion My holy mountain; Then shall Jerusalem be holy, And there shall no strangers pass through her any more.

18And it shall come to pass in that day, That the mountains shall drop down sweet wine, And the hills shall flow with milk, And all the brooks of Judah shall flow with waters; And a fountain shall come forth of the house of the LORD, And shall water the valley of Shittim.

19Egypt shall be a desolation, And Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, For the violence against the children of Judah, Because they have shed innocent blood in their land.

20But Judah shall be inhabited for ever, And Jerusalem from generation to generation.

21And I will hold as innocent their blood that I have not held as innocent; And the LORD dwelleth in Zion.

Judgment on Israel's Neighbors

(Jeremiah 12:14–17)

1The words of Amos, who was among the herdmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

2And he said: The LORD roareth from Zion, And uttereth His voice from Jerusalem; and the pastures of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall wither.

3For thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Damascus, yea, for four, I will not reverse it: because they have threshed Gilead with sledges of iron.

4So will I send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall devour the palaces of Ben-hadad;

5And I will break the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from Bikath-Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Beth-eden; and the people of Aram shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith the LORD.

6Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Gaza, yea, for four, I will not reverse it: because they carried away captive a whole captivity, to deliver them up to Edom.

7So will I send a fire on the wall of Gaza, and it shall devour the palaces thereof;

8And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon; and I will turn My hand against Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord GOD.

9Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Tyre, yea, for four, I will not reverse it: because they delivered up a whole captivity to Edom, and remembered not the brotherly covenant.

10So will I send a fire on the wall of Tyre, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

11Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Edom, yea, for four, I will not reverse it: because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and did cast off all pity, and his anger did tear perpetually, and he kept his wrath for ever.

12So will I send a fire upon Teman, and it shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.

13 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, yea, for four, I will not reverse it: because they have ripped up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

14 So will I kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind;

15 And their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the LORD.

Judgment on Moab, Judah, and Israel

1 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Moab, Yea, for four, I will not reverse it: Because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime.

2 So will I send a fire upon Moab, And it shall devour the palaces of Kerioth; And Moab shall die with tumult, With shouting, and with the sound of the horn;

3 And I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, And will slay all the princes thereof with him, Saith the LORD.

4 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Judah, Yea, for four, I will not reverse it: Because they have rejected the law of the LORD, And have not kept His statutes, And their lies have caused them to err, After which their fathers did walk.

5 So will I send a fire upon Judah, And it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

6 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Israel, Yea, for four, I will not reverse it: Because they sell the righteous for silver, And the needy for a pair of shoes;

7 That pant after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, And turn aside the way of the humble; And a man and his father go unto the same maid, To profane My holy name;

8 And they lay themselves down beside every altar Upon clothes taken in pledge, And in the house of their God they drink The wine of them that have been fined.

9 Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, Whose height was like the height of the cedars, And he was strong as the oaks; Yet I destroyed his fruit from above, And his roots from beneath.

10 Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, And led you forty years in the wilderness, To possess the land of the Amorites.

11 And I raised up of your sons for prophets, And of your young men for Nazirites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? Saith the LORD.

12But ye gave the Nazirites wine to drink; And commanded the prophets, saying: 'Prophecy not.'

13Behold, I will make it creak under you, As a cart creaketh that is full of sheaves.

14And flight shall fail the swift, And the strong shall not exert his strength, Neither shall the mighty deliver himself;

15Neither shall he stand that handleth the bow; And he that is swift of foot shall not deliver himself; Neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver himself;

16And he that is courageous among the mighty Shall flee away naked in that day, Saith the LORD.

Witnesses against Israel

1Hear this word that the LORD hath spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up out of the land of Egypt, saying:

2You only have I known of all the families of the earth; Therefore I will visit upon you all your iniquities.

3Will two walk together, Except they have agreed?

4Will a lion roar in the forest, When he hath no prey? Will a young lion give forth his voice out of his den, If he have taken nothing?

5Will a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, Where there is no lure for it? Will a snare spring up from the ground, And have taken nothing at all?

6Shall the horn be blown in a city, And the people not tremble? Shall evil befall a city, And the LORD hath not done it?

7For the Lord GOD will do nothing, But He revealeth His counsel unto His servants the prophets.

8The lion hath roared, Who will not fear? The Lord GOD hath spoken, Who can but prophecy?

9Proclaim it upon the palaces at Ashdod, And upon the palaces in the land of Egypt, And say: 'Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria, And behold the great confusions therein, And the oppressions in the midst thereof.' 10For they know not to do right, saith the LORD, Who store up violence and robbery in their palaces.

11Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: An adversary, even round about the land! And he shall bring down thy strength from thee, And thy palaces shall be spoiled.

12Thus saith the LORD: As the shepherd rescueth out of the mouth of the lion Two legs, or a piece of an ear, So shall the children of Israel that dwell in Samaria Escape with the corner of a couch, and the leg of a bed.

13Hear ye, and testify against the house of Jacob, Saith the Lord GOD, the God of hosts.

14For in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, I will also punish the altars of Beth-el, And the horns of the altar shall be cut off, And fall to the ground.

15And I will smite the winter-house with the summer-house; And the houses of ivory shall perish, And the great houses shall have an end, Saith the LORD.

Punishment Brings No Repentance

1Hear this word, ye kine of Bashan, That are in the mountain of Samaria, That oppress the poor, that crush the needy, That say unto their lords: 'Bring, that we may feast.'

2The Lord GOD hath sworn by His holiness: Lo, surely the days shall come upon you, That ye shall be taken away with hooks, And your residue with fish-hooks.

3And ye shall go out at the breaches, every one straight before her; And ye shall be cast into Harmon, Saith the LORD.

4Come to Beth-el, and transgress, To Gilgal, and multiply transgression; And bring your sacrifices in the morning, And your tithes after three days;

5And offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of that which is leavened, And proclaim freewill-offerings and publish them; For so ye love to do, O ye children of Israel, Saith the Lord GOD.

6And I also have given you Cleanness of teeth in all your cities, And want of bread in all your places; Yet have ye not returned unto Me, Saith the LORD.

7And I also have withholden the rain from you, When there were yet three months to the harvest; And I caused it to rain upon one city, And caused it not to rain upon another city; One piece was rained upon, And the piece whereupon it rained not withered.

8So two or three cities wandered unto one city To drink water, and were not satisfied; Yet have ye not returned unto Me, Saith the LORD.

9I have smitten you with blasting and mildew; The multitude of your gardens and your vineyards And your fig-trees and your olive-trees Hath the palmer-worm devoured; Yet have ye not returned unto Me, Saith the LORD.

10I have sent among you the pestilence in the way of Egypt; Your young men have I slain with the sword, And have carried away your horses; And I have made the stench of your camp to come up even into your nostrils; Yet have ye not returned unto Me, Saith the LORD.

11I have overthrown some of you, As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, And ye were as a brand plucked out of the burning; Yet have ye not returned unto Me, Saith the LORD.

12Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel; Because I will do this unto thee, Prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.

13For, lo, He that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, And declareth unto man what is his thought, That maketh the morning darkness, And treadeth upon the high places of the earth; The LORD, the God of hosts, is His name.

A Lamentation against Israel

1Hear ye this word which I take up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel:

2The virgin of Israel is fallen, She shall no more rise; She is cast down upon her land, There is none to raise her up.

3For thus saith the Lord GOD: The city that went forth a thousand shall have a hundred left, and that which went forth a hundred shall have ten left, of the house of Israel.

A Call to Repentance

(Joel 1:13–20; Zephaniah 2:1–3; Luke 13:1–5)

4For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Israel: Seek ye Me, and live;

5But seek not Beth-el, Nor enter into Gilgal, And pass not to Beer-sheba; For Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, And Beth-el shall come to nought.

6Seek the LORD, and live—Lest He break out like fire in the house of Joseph, And it devour, and there be none to quench it in Bethel—

7Ye who turn judgment to wormwood, And cast righteousness to the ground;

8Him that maketh the Pleiades and Orion, And bringeth on the shadow of death in the morning, And darkeneth the day into night; That calleth for the waters of the sea, And poureth them out upon the face of the earth; The LORD is His name;

9That causeth destruction to flash upon the strong, So that destruction cometh upon the fortress.

10They hate him that reproveth in the gate, And they abhor him that speaketh uprightly.

11Therefore, because ye trample upon the poor, And take from him exactions of wheat; Ye have built houses of hewn stone, But ye shall not dwell in them, Ye have planted pleasant vineyards, But ye shall not drink wine thereof.

12For I know how manifold are your transgressions, And how mighty are your sins; Ye that afflict the just, that take a ransom, And that turn aside the needy in the gate.

13Therefore the prudent doth keep silence in such a time; For it is an evil time.

14Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live; And so the LORD, the God of hosts, will be with you, as ye say.

15Hate the evil, and love the good, And establish justice in the gate; It may be that the LORD, the God of hosts, Will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph.

Woe to Rebellious Israel

(Acts 7:39–43)

16Therefore thus saith the LORD, The God of hosts, the Lord: Lamentation shall be in all the broad places, And they shall say in all the streets: 'Alas! alas!' And they shall call the husbandman to mourning, And proclaim lamentation to such as are skilful of wailing.

17And in all vineyards shall be lamentation; For I will pass through the midst of thee, Saith the LORD.

18Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! Wherefore would ye have the day of the LORD? It is darkness, and not light.

19As if a man did flee from a lion, And a bear met him; And went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, And a serpent bit him.

20Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? Even very dark, and no brightness in it?

21I hate, I despise your feasts, And I will take no delight in your solemn assemblies.

22Yea, though ye offer me burnt-offerings and your meal-offerings, I will not accept them; Neither will I regard the peace-offerings of your fat beasts.

23Take thou away from Me the noise of thy songs; And let Me not hear the melody of thy psalteries.

24But let justice well up as waters, And righteousness as a mighty stream.

25Did ye bring unto Me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel? 26So shall ye take up Siccuth your king and Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves. 27Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith He, whose name is the LORD God of hosts.

Woe to Those at Ease in Zion

(Luke 6:24–26)

1Woe to them that are at ease in Zion, And to them that are secure in the mountain of Samaria, The notable men of the first of the nations, To whom the house of Israel come!

2Pass ye unto Calneh, and see, And from thence go ye to Hamath the great; Then go down to Gath of the Philistines; Are they better than these kingdoms? Or is their border greater than your border?

3Ye that put far away the evil day, And cause the seat of violence to come near;

4That lie upon beds of ivory, And stretch themselves upon their couches, And eat the lambs out of the flock, And the calves out of the midst of the stall;

5That thrum on the psaltery, That devise for themselves instruments of music, like David;

6That drink wine in bowls, And anoint themselves with the chief ointments; But they are not grieved for the hurt of Joseph.

7Therefore now shall they go captive at the head of them that go captive, And the revelry of them that stretched themselves shall pass away.

The Pride of Israel

8The Lord GOD hath sworn by Himself, Saith the LORD, the God of hosts: I abhor the pride of Jacob, And hate his palaces; And I will deliver up the city with all that is therein.

9And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die. 10And when a man's uncle shall take him up, even he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is in the innermost parts of the house: 'Is there yet any with thee?' and he shall say: 'No'; then shall he say: 'Hold thy peace; for we must not make mention of the name of the LORD.'

11For, behold, the LORD commandeth, And the great house shall be smitten into splinters, And the little house into chips.

12Do horses run upon the rocks? Doth one plow there with oxen? That ye have turned justice into gall, And the fruit of righteousness into wormwood;

13Ye that rejoice in a thing of nought, That say: 'Have we not taken to us horns by our own strength?'

14For, behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the LORD, the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the entrance of Hamath unto the Brook of the Arabah.

The Locusts, Fire, and Plumb Line

(Joel 2:1-11)

1Thus the Lord GOD showed me; and, behold, He formed locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and, lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings.

2And if it had come to pass, that when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land—so I said: O Lord GOD, forgive, I beseech Thee; How shall Jacob stand? for he is small.

3The LORD repented concerning this; 'It shall not be', saith the LORD.

4Thus the Lord GOD showed me; and, behold, the Lord GOD called to contend by fire; and it devoured the great deep, and would have eaten up the land.

5Then said I: O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech Thee; How shall Jacob stand? for he is small.

6The LORD repented concerning this; 'This also shall not be', saith the Lord GOD.

7Thus He showed me; and, behold, the Lord stood beside a wall made by a plumbline, with a plumbline in His hand.

8And the LORD said unto me: 'Amos, what seest thou?' And I said: 'A plumbline.' Then said the Lord: Behold, I will set a plumbline in the midst of My people Israel; I will not again pardon them any more;

9And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, And the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; And I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

Amaziah Accuses Amos

10Then Amaziah the priest of Beth-el sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying: 'Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel; the land is not able to bear all his words. 11For thus Amos saith: Jeroboam shall die by the sword, And Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.' 12Also Amaziah said unto Amos: 'O thou seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there; 13but prophesy not again any more at Beth-el, for it is the king's sanctuary, and it is a royal house.'

14Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah: 'I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet's son; but I was a herdman, and a dresser of sycamore-trees; 15and the LORD took me from following the flock, and the LORD said unto me: Go, prophesy unto My people Israel. 16Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD: Thou sayest: Prophesy not against Israel, And preach not against the house of Isaac; 17Therefore thus saith the LORD: Thy wife shall be a harlot in the city, And thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, And thy land shall be divided by line; And thou thyself shalt die in an unclean land, And Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.'

The Basket of Summer Fruit

1Thus the Lord GOD showed me; and behold a basket of summer fruit. 2And He said: 'Amos, what seest thou?' And I said: 'A basket of summer fruit.' Then said the LORD unto me: The end is come upon My people Israel; I will not again pardon them any more. 3And the songs of the palace shall be wailings in that day, Saith the Lord GOD; The dead bodies shall be many; In every place silence shall be cast.

4Hear this, O ye that would swallow the needy, And destroy the poor of the land,

5Saying: 'When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell grain? And the sabbath, that we may set forth corn? Making the ephah small, and the shekel great, And falsifying the balances of deceit;

6That we may buy the poor for silver, And the needy for a pair of shoes, And sell the refuse of the corn?'

7The LORD hath sworn by the pride of Jacob: Surely I will never forget any of their works.

8Shall not the land tremble for this, And every one mourn that dwelleth therein? Yea, it shall rise up wholly like the River; And it shall be troubled and sink again, like the River of Egypt.

9And it shall come to pass in that day, Saith the Lord GOD, That I will cause the sun to go down at noon, And I will darken the earth in the clear day.

10And I will turn your feasts into mourning, And all your songs into lamentation; And I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, And baldness upon every head; And I will make it as the mourning for an only son, And the end thereof as a bitter day.

11Behold, the days come, saith the Lord GOD, That I will send a famine in the land, Not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, But of hearing the words of the LORD.

12And they shall wander from sea to sea, And from the north even to the east; They shall run to and fro to seek the word of the LORD, And shall not find it.

13In that day shall the fair virgins And the young men faint for thirst.

14They that swear by the sin of Samaria, And say: 'As thy God, O Dan, liveth'; And: 'As the way of Beer-sheba liveth'; Even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

The Destruction of Israel

1I saw the Lord standing beside the altar; and He said: Smite the capitals, that the posts may shake; And break them in pieces on the head of all of them; And I will slay the residue of them with the sword; There shall not one of them flee away, And there shall not one of them escape.

2Though they dig into the nether-world, Thence shall My hand take them; And though they climb up to heaven, Thence will I bring them down.

3And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence; And though they be hid from My sight in the bottom of the sea, Thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them.

4And though they go into captivity before their enemies, Thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them; And I will set Mine eyes upon them For evil, and not for good.

5For the Lord, the GOD of hosts, Is He that toucheth the land and it melteth, And all that dwell therein mourn; And it riseth up wholly like the River, And sinketh again, like the River of Egypt;

6It is He that buildeth His upper chambers in the heaven, And hath founded His vault upon the earth; He that calleth for the waters of the sea, And poureth them out upon the face of the earth; The LORD is His name.

7Are ye not as the children of the Ethiopians unto Me, O children of Israel? saith the LORD. Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, And the Philistines from Caphtor, And Aram from Kir?

8Behold, the eyes of the Lord GOD Are upon the sinful kingdom, And I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; Saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, Saith the LORD.

9For, lo, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all the nations, Like as corn is sifted in a sieve, Yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth.

10All the sinners of My people shall die by the sword, That say: 'The evil shall not overtake nor confront us.'

A Promise of Restoration

(Acts 15:5–21)

11In that day will I raise up The tabernacle of David that is fallen, And close up the breaches thereof, And I will raise up his ruins, And I will build it as in the days of old;

12That they may possess the remnant of Edom, And all the nations, upon whom My name is called, Saith the LORD that doeth this.

13Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, That the plowman shall overtake the reaper, And the treader of grapes him that soweth seed; And the mountains shall drop sweet wine, And all the hills shall melt.

14And I will turn the captivity of My people Israel, And they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; And they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; They shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

15And I will plant them upon their land, And they shall no more be plucked up Out of their land which I have given them, Saith the LORD thy God.

The Destruction of Edom

(Jeremiah 49:7–22)

1The vision of Obadiah. Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning Edom: We have heard a message from the LORD, And an ambassador is sent among the nations: 'Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle.'

2Behold, I make thee small among the nations; Thou art greatly despised.

3The pride of thy heart hath beguiled thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, Thy habitation on high; That sayest in thy heart: 'Who shall bring me down to the ground?'

4Though thou make thy nest as high as the eagle, And though thou set it among the stars, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD.

5If thieves came to thee, if robbers by night—How art thou cut off!—Would they not steal till they had enough? If grape-gatherers came to thee, Would they not leave some gleaning grapes?

6How is Esau searched out! How are his hidden places sought out!

7All the men of thy confederacy Have conducted thee to the border; The men that were at peace with thee Have beguiled thee, and prevailed against thee; They that eat thy bread lay a snare under thee, In whom there is no discernment.

8Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, Destroy the wise men out of Edom, And discernment out of the mount of Esau?

9And thy mighty men, O Teman, shall be dismayed, To the end that every one may be cut off from the mount of Esau by slaughter.

10For the violence done to thy brother Jacob shame shall cover thee, And thou shalt be cut off for ever.

11In the day that thou didst stand aloof, In the day that strangers carried away his substance, And foreigners entered into his gates, And cast lots upon Jerusalem, Even thou wast as one of them.

12But thou shouldest not have gazed on the day of thy brother In the day of his disaster, Neither shouldest thou have rejoiced over the children of Judah In the day of their destruction; Neither shouldest thou have spoken proudly In the day of distress.

13Thou shouldest not have entered into the gate of My people In the day of their calamity; Yea, thou shouldest not have gazed on their affliction In the day of their calamity, Nor have laid hands on their substance In the day of their calamity.

14Neither shouldest thou have stood in the crossway, To cut off those of his that escape; Neither shouldest thou have delivered up those of his That did remain in the day of distress.

The Deliverance of Israel

15For the day of the LORD is near upon all the nations; As thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee; Thy dealing shall return upon thine own head.

16For as ye have drunk upon My holy mountain, So shall all the nations drink continually, Yea, they shall drink, and swallow down, And shall be as though they had not been.

17But in mount Zion there shall be those that escape, And it shall be holy; And the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions.

18And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, And the house of Joseph a flame, And the house of Esau for stubble, And they shall kindle in them, and devour them; And there shall not be any remaining of the house of Esau; For the LORD hath spoken.

19And they of the South shall possess the mount of Esau, And they of the Lowland the Philistines; And they shall possess the field of Ephraim, And the field of Samaria; And Benjamin shall possess Gilead.

20And the captivity of this host of the children of Israel, That are among the Canaanites, even unto Zarephath, And the captivity of Jerusalem, that is in Sepharad, Shall possess the cities of the South.

21And saviours shall come up on mount Zion To judge the mount of Esau; And the kingdom shall be the LORD'S.

Jonah Flees from the LORD

(Nahum 1:1–15)

1Now the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the son of Amittai, saying: 2Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and proclaim against it; for their wickedness is come up before Me.' 3But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of the LORD; and he went down to Joppa, and found a ship going to Tarshish; so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tarshish, from the presence of the LORD.

The Great Storm

4But the LORD hurled a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken. 5And the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god; and they cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it unto them. But Jonah was gone down into the innermost parts of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep. 6So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him: 'What meanest thou that thou sleepest? arise, call upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.'

7And they said every one to his fellow: 'Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us.' So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah. 8Then said they unto him: 'Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us: what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?' 9And he said unto them: 'I am an Hebrew; and I fear the LORD, the God of heaven, who hath made the sea and the dry land.'

10Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him: 'What is this that thou hast done?' For the men knew that he fled from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them.

Jonah Cast into the Sea

11Then said they unto him: 'What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us?' for the sea grew more and more tempestuous. 12And he said unto them: 'Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you; for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you.'

13Nevertheless the men rowed hard to bring it to the land; but they could not; for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them. 14Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and said: 'We beseech Thee, O LORD, we beseech Thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood; for Thou, O LORD, hast done as it pleased Thee.'

15So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea; and the sea ceased from its raging. 16Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly; and they offered a sacrifice unto the LORD, and made vows.

17And the LORD prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah; and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

Jonah's Prayer

1Then Jonah prayed unto the LORD his God out of the fish's belly.

2And he said: I called out of mine affliction Unto the LORD, and He answered me; Out of the belly of the nether-world cried I, And Thou heardest my voice.

3For Thou didst cast me into the depth, In the heart of the seas, And the flood was round about me; All Thy waves and Thy billows Passed over me.

4And I said: 'I am cast out From before Thine eyes'; Yet I will look again Toward Thy holy temple.

5The waters compassed me about, even to the soul; The deep was round about me; The weeds were wrapped about my head.

6I went down to the bottoms of the mountains; The earth with her bars closed upon me for ever; Yet hast Thou brought up my life from the pit, O LORD my God.

⁷When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD; And my prayer came in unto Thee, Into Thy holy temple.

⁸They that regard lying vanities Forsake their own mercy.

⁹But I will sacrifice unto Thee With the voice of thanksgiving; That which I have vowed I will pay. Salvation is of the LORD.

¹⁰And the LORD spoke unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

The Ninevites Repent

(Matthew 12:38–42; Luke 11:29–32)

¹And the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the second time, saying: ²Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and make unto it the proclamation that I bid thee.' ³So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city, of three days' journey. ⁴And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he proclaimed, and said: 'Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.'

⁵And the people of Nineveh believed God; and they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them. ⁶And the tidings reached the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. ⁷And he caused it to be proclaimed and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying: 'Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing; let them not feed, nor drink water; ⁸but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and beast, and let them cry mightily unto God; yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands. ⁹Who knoweth whether God will not turn and repent, and turn away from His fierce anger, that we perish not?'

¹⁰And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil, which He said He would do unto them; and He did it not.

Jonah's Anger at the LORD's Compassion

¹But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry. ²And he prayed unto the LORD, and said: 'I pray Thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in mine own country? Therefore I fled beforehand unto Tarshish; for I knew that Thou art a gracious God, and compassionate, long-suffering, and abundant in mercy, and repentest Thee of the evil. ³Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beseech Thee, my life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live.' ⁴And the LORD said: 'Art thou greatly angry?'

⁵Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city. ⁶And the LORD God prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his evil. So Jonah was exceeding glad because of the gourd. ⁷But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered. ⁸And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God prepared a vehement east wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and requested for himself that he might die, and said: 'It is better for me to die than to live.'

⁹And God said to Jonah: 'Art thou greatly angry for the gourd?' And he said: 'I am greatly angry, even unto death.' ¹⁰And the LORD said: 'Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow, which came up in a night, and perished in a night; ¹¹and should not I have pity on Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand, and also much cattle?'

Judgment to Come

(Isaiah 7:17-25)

¹The word of the LORD that came to Micah the Morashtite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

²Hear, ye peoples, all of you; Harken, O earth, and all that therein is; And let the Lord GOD be witness against you, The Lord from His holy temple.

³For, behold, the LORD cometh forth out of His place, And will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth.

⁴And the mountains shall be molten under Him, And the valleys shall be cleft, As wax before the fire, As waters that are poured down a steep place.

⁵For the transgression of Jacob is all this, And for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? Is it not Samaria? And what are the high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem?

⁶Therefore I will make Samaria a heap in the field, A place for the planting of vineyards; And I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, And I will uncover the foundations thereof.

⁷And all her graven images shall be beaten to pieces, And all her hires shall be burned with fire, And all her idols will I lay desolate; For of the hire of a harlot hath she gathered them, And unto the hire of a harlot shall they return.

Weeping and Mourning

8For this will I wail and howl, I will go stripped and naked; I will make a wailing like the jackals, And a mourning like the ostriches.

9For her wound is incurable; For it is come even unto Judah; It reacheth unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem.

10Tell it not in Gath, Weep not at all; At Beth-le-aphrah roll thyself in the dust.

11Pass ye away, O inhabitant of Saphir, in nakedness and shame; The inhabitant of Zaanan is not come forth; The wailing of Beth-ezel shall take from you the standing-place thereof.

12For the inhabitant of Maroth waiteth anxiously for good; Because evil is come down from the LORD unto the gate of Jerusalem.

13Bind the chariots to the swift steeds, O inhabitant of Lachish; She was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion; For the transgressions of Israel are found in thee.

14Therefore shalt thou give a parting gift to Moresheth-gath; The houses of Achzib shall be a deceitful thing unto the kings of Israel.

15I will yet bring unto thee, O inhabitant of Mareshah, him that shall possess thee; The glory of Israel shall come even unto Adullam.

16Make thee bald, and poll thee for the children of thy delight; Enlarge thy baldness as the vulture; For they are gone into captivity from thee.

Woe to Oppressors

1Woe to them that devise iniquity And work evil upon their beds! When the morning is light, they execute it, Because it is in the power of their hand.

2And they covet fields, and seize them; And houses, and take them away; Thus they oppress a man and his house, Even a man and his heritage.

3Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, against this family do I devise an evil, From which ye shall not remove your necks, Neither shall ye walk upright; for it shall be an evil time.

4In that day shall they take up a parable against you, And lament with a doleful lamentation, and say: 'We are utterly ruined; He changeth the portion of my people; How doth he remove it from me! Instead of restoring our fields, he divideth them.'

5Therefore thou shalt have none that shall cast the line by lot In the congregation of the LORD.

Reproof of False Prophets

(Ezekiel 13:1–16)

6Preach ye not', they preach; 'They shall not preach of these things, That they shall not take shame.'

7Do I change, O house of Jacob? Is the spirit of the LORD straitened? Are these His doings? Do not My words do good to him that walketh uprightly?

8But of late My people is risen up as an enemy; With the garment ye strip also the mantle From them that pass by securely, so that they are as men returning from war.

9The women of My people ye cast out from their pleasant houses; From their young children ye take away My glory for ever.

10Arise ye, and depart; for this is not your resting-place; Because of the uncleanness thereof, it shall destroy you, even with a sore destruction.

11If a man walking in wind and falsehood do lie: 'I will preach unto thee of wine and of strong drink'; He shall even be the preacher of this people.

The Remnant of Israel

(Micah 5:7–15)

12I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee; I will surely gather the remnant of Israel; I will render them all as sheep in a fold; As a flock in the midst of their pasture; They shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men.

13The breaker is gone up before them; They have broken forth and passed on, By the gate, and are gone out thereat; And their king is passed on before them, And the LORD at the head of them.

Rulers and Prophets Condemned

1And I said: Hear, I pray you, ye heads of Jacob, And rulers of the house of Israel: Is it not for you to know justice?

2Who hate the good, and love the evil; Who rob their skin from off them, And their flesh from off their bones;

3Who also eat the flesh of my people, And flay their skin from off them, And break their bones; Yea, they chop them in pieces, as that which is in the pot, And as flesh within the caldron.

4Then shall they cry unto the LORD, But He will not answer them; Yea, He will hide His face from them at that time, According as they have wrought evil in their doings.

5 Thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that make my people to err; That cry: 'Peace', when their teeth have any thing to bite; And whoso putteth not into their mouths, They even prepare war against him:

6 Therefore it shall be night unto you, that ye shall have no vision; And it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine; And the sun shall go down upon the prophets, And the day shall be black over them.

7 And the seers shall be put to shame, and the diviners confounded; Yea, they shall all cover their upper lips; For there shall be no answer of God.

8 But I truly am full of power by the spirit of the LORD, And of justice, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, And to Israel his sin.

9 Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, And rulers of the house of Israel, That abhor justice, and pervert all equity;

10 That build up Zion with blood, And Jerusalem with iniquity.

11 The heads thereof judge for reward, And the priests thereof teach for hire, And the prophets thereof divine for money; Yet will they lean upon the LORD, and say: 'Is not the LORD in the midst of us? No evil shall come upon us?'

12 Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, And Jerusalem shall become heaps, And the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.

The Mountain of the House of the LORD

(Isaiah 2:1–4)

1 But in the end of days it shall come to pass, That the mountain of the LORD'S house shall be established as the top of the mountains, And it shall be exalted above the hills; And peoples shall flow unto it.

2 And many nations shall go and say: 'Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, And to the house of the God of Jacob; And He will teach us of His ways, And we will walk in His paths'; For out of Zion shall go forth the law, And the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

3 And He shall judge between many peoples, And shall decide concerning mighty nations afar off; And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, And their spears into pruninghooks; Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, Neither shall they learn war any more.

4 But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig-tree; And none shall make them afraid; For the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken.

5For let all the peoples walk each one in the name of its god, But we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

The Restoration of Zion

(Zechariah 8:1–23)

6In that day, saith the LORD, will I assemble her that halteth, And I will gather her that is driven away, And her that I have afflicted;

7And I will make her that halted a remnant, And her that was cast far off a mighty nation; And the LORD shall reign over them in mount Zion from thenceforth even for ever.

8And thou, Migdal-eder, the hill of the daughter of Zion, Unto thee shall it come; Yea, the former dominion shall come, The kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem.

9Now why dost thou cry out aloud? Is there no King in thee, Is thy Counsellor perished, That pangs have taken hold of thee as of a woman in travail?

10Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, Like a woman in travail; For now shalt thou go forth out of the city, And shalt dwell in the field, And shalt come even unto Babylon; There shalt thou be rescued; There shall the LORD redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11And now many nations are assembled against thee, That say: 'Let her be defiled, and let our eye gaze upon Zion.'

12But they know not the thoughts of the LORD, Neither understand they His counsel; For He hath gathered them as the sheaves to the threshing-floor.

13Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion; For I will make thy horn iron, And I will make thy hoofs brass; And thou shalt beat in pieces many peoples; And thou shalt devote their gain unto the LORD, And their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

A Ruler from Bethlehem

(Matthew 2:1–12)

1Now shalt thou gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops; They have laid siege against us; They smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.

2But thou, Beth-lehem Ephrathah, Which art little to be among the thousands of Judah, Out of thee shall one come forth unto Me that is to be ruler in Israel; Whose goings forth are from of old, from ancient days.

3Therefore will He give them up, Until the time that she who travaileth hath brought forth; Then the residue of his brethren shall return with the children of Israel.

4And he shall stand, and shall feed his flock in the strength of the LORD, In the majesty of the name of the LORD his God; And they shall abide, for then shall he be great unto the ends of the earth.

5And this shall be peace: When the Assyrian shall come into our land, And when he shall tread in our palaces, Then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, And eight princes among men.

6And they shall waste the land of Assyria with the sword, And the land of Nimrod with the keen-edged sword; And he shall deliver us from the Assyrian, when he cometh into our land, And when he treadeth within our border.

The Remnant of Jacob

(Micah 2:12–13)

7And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples, As dew from the LORD, as showers upon the grass, That are not looked for from man, Nor awaited at the hands of the sons of men.

8And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, As a lion among the beasts of the forest, As a young lion among the flocks of sheep, Who, if he go through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, And there is none to deliver.

9Let Thy hand be lifted up above Thine adversaries, And let all Thine enemies be cut off.

10And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, That I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, And will destroy thy chariots;

11And I will cut off the cities of thy land, And will throw down all thy strongholds;

12And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thy hand; And thou shalt have no more soothsayers;

13And I will cut off thy graven images and thy pillars out of the midst of thee; And thou shalt no more worship the work of thy hands.

14And I will pluck up thy Asherim out of the midst of thee; And I will destroy thine enemies.

15And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the nations, Because they hearkened not.

The Case against Israel

1Hear ye now what the LORD saith: Arise, contend thou before the mountains, And let the hills hear thy voice.

2Hear, O ye mountains, the LORD'S controversy, And ye enduring rocks, the foundations of the earth; For the LORD hath a controversy with His people, And He will plead with Israel.

3O My people, what have I done unto thee? And wherein have I wearied thee? Testify against Me.

4For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, And redeemed thee out of the house of bondage, And I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

5O My people, remember now what Balak king of Moab devised, And what Balaam the son of Beor answered him; From Shittim unto Gilgal, That ye may know the righteous acts of the LORD.

6Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, And bow myself before God on high? Shall I come before Him with burnt-offerings, With calves of a year old?

7Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, With ten thousands of rivers of oil? Shall I give my first-born for my transgression, The fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

8It hath been told thee, O man, what is good, And what the LORD doth require of thee: Only to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God.

The Punishment of Israel

9Hark! the LORD crieth unto the city—And it is wisdom to have regard for Thy name—Hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it.

10Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, And the scant measure that is abominable?

11Shall I be pure with wicked balances, And with a bag of deceitful weights?

12For the rich men thereof are full of violence, And the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, And their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

13Therefore I also do smite thee with a grievous wound; I do make thee desolate because of thy sins.

14Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; And thy sickness shall be in thine inward parts; And thou shalt conceive, but shalt not bring forth; And whomsoever thou bringest forth will I give up to the sword.

15Thou shalt sow, but shalt not reap; Thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not anoint thee with oil; And the vintage, but shalt not drink wine.

16For the statutes of Omri are kept, And all the works of the house of Ahab, And ye walk in their counsels; That I may make thee an astonishment, And the inhabitants thereof a hissing; And ye shall bear the reproach of My people.

Israel's Great Misery

(Matthew 10:34–39; Luke 12:49–53)

1Woe is me! for I am as the last of the summer fruits, As the grape gleanings of the vintage; There is no cluster to eat; Nor first-ripe fig which my soul desireth.

2The godly man is perished out of the earth, And the upright among men is no more; They all lie in wait for blood; They hunt every man his brother with a net.

3Their hands are upon that which is evil to do it diligently; The prince asketh, and the judge is ready for a reward; And the great man, he uttereth the evil desire of his soul; Thus they weave it together.

4The best of them is as a brier; The most upright is worse than a thorn hedge; The day of thy watchmen, even thy visitation, is come; Now shall be their perplexity.

5Trust ye not in a friend, Put ye not confidence in a familiar friend; Keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom.

6For the son dishonoureth the father, The daughter riseth up against her mother, The daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; A man's enemies are the men of his own house.

Israel's Confession and Comfort

7But as for me, I will look unto the LORD; I will wait for the God of my salvation; My God will hear me.

8Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy; Though I am fallen, I shall arise; Though I sit in darkness, the LORD is a light unto me.

9I will bear the indignation of the LORD, Because I have sinned against Him; Until He plead my cause, and execute judgment for me; He will bring me forth to the light, And I shall behold His righteousness.

10Then mine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her; Who said unto me: Where is the LORD thy God? Mine eyes shall gaze upon her; Now shall she be trodden down as the mire of the streets.'

11The day for building thy walls, even that day, shall be far removed.'

12There shall be a day when they shall come unto thee, From Assyria even to the cities of Egypt, And from Egypt even to the River, And from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.

13And the land shall be desolate for them that dwell therein, Because of the fruit of their doings.

God's Compassion on Israel

14Tend Thy people with Thy staff, the flock of Thy heritage, That dwell solitarily, as a forest in the midst of the fruitful field; Let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old.

15As in the days of thy coming forth out of the land of Egypt Will I show unto him marvellous things.'

16The nations shall see and be put to shame for all their might; They shall lay their hand upon their mouth, Their ears shall be deaf.

17They shall lick the dust like a serpent; Like crawling things of the earth they shall come trembling out of their close places; They shall come with fear unto the LORD our God, And shall be afraid because of Thee.

18Who is a God like unto Thee, that pardoneth the iniquity, And passeth by the transgression of the remnant of His heritage? He retaineth not His anger for ever, Because He delighteth in mercy.

19He will again have compassion upon us; He will subdue our iniquities; And Thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea.

20Thou wilt show faithfulness to Jacob, mercy to Abraham, As Thou hast sworn unto our fathers from the days of old.

The Burden against Nineveh

(Jonah 1:1-3)

1The burden of Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

2The LORD is a jealous and avenging God, The LORD avengeth and is full of wrath; The LORD taketh vengeance on His adversaries, And He reserveth wrath for His enemies.

3The LORD is long-suffering, and great in power, And will by no means clear the guilty; The LORD, in the whirlwind and in the storm is His way, And the clouds are the dust of His feet.

4He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, And drieth up all the rivers; Bashan languisheth, and Carmel, And the flower of Lebanon languisheth.

5The mountains quake at Him, And the hills melt; And the earth is upheaved at His presence, Yea, the world, and all that dwell therein.

6Who can stand before His indignation? And who can abide in the fierceness of His anger? His fury is poured out like fire, And the rocks are broken asunder before Him.

7The LORD is good, A stronghold in the day of trouble; And He knoweth them that take refuge in Him.

8But with an overrunning flood He will make a full end of the place thereof, And darkness shall pursue His enemies.

9What do ye devise against the LORD? He will make a full end; Trouble shall not rise up the second time.

10For though they be like tangled thorns, And be drunken according to their drink, They shall be devoured as stubble fully dry.

11Out of thee came he forth, That deviseth evil against the LORD, That counselleth wickedness.

12Thus saith the LORD: Though they be in full strength, and likewise many, Even so shall they be cut down, and he shall pass away; And though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.

13And now will I break his yoke from off thee, And will burst thy bonds in sunder.

14And the LORD hath given commandment concerning thee, That no more of thy name be sown; Out of the house of thy god will I cut off The graven image and the molten image; I will make thy grave; for thou art become worthless.

15Behold upon the mountains the feet of him That bringeth good tidings, that announceth peace! Keep thy feasts, O Judah, Perform thy vows; For the wicked one shall no more pass through thee; He is utterly cut off.

The Overthrow of Nineveh

1A maul is come up before thy face; Guard the defences, Watch the way, make thy loins strong, Fortify thy power mightily!—

2For the LORD restoreth the pride of Jacob, As the pride of Israel; For the emptiers have emptied them out, And marred their vine-branches.—

3The shield of his mighty men is made red, The valiant men are in scarlet; The chariots are fire of steel in the day of his preparation, And the cypress spears are made to quiver.

4The chariots rush madly in the streets, They jostle one against another in the broad places; The appearance of them is like torches, They run to and fro like the lightnings.

5He bethinketh himself of his worthies; They stumble in their march; They make haste to the wall thereof, And the mantelet is prepared.

6The gates of the rivers are opened, And the palace is dissolved.

7And the queen is uncovered, she is carried away, And her handmaids moan as with the voice of doves, Tabering upon their breasts.

8But Nineveh hath been from of old like a pool of water; Yet they flee away; 'Stand, stand'; But none looketh back.

9Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold; For there is no end of the store, Rich with all precious vessels.

10She is empty, and void, and waste; And the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, And convulsion is in all loins, And the faces of them all have gathered blackness.

11Where is the den of the lions, Which was the feeding-place of the young lions, Where the lion and the lioness walked, and the lion's whelp, And none made them afraid?

12The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, And strangled for his lionesses, And filled his caves with prey, And his dens with ravin.

13Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, And I will burn her chariots in the smoke, And the sword shall devour thy young lions; And I will cut off thy prey from the earth, And the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

Judgment on Nineveh

1Woe to the bloody city! It is all full of lies and rapine; The prey departeth not.

2Hark! the whip, and hark! the rattling of the wheels; And prancing horses, and bounding chariots;

3The horseman charging, And the flashing sword, and the glittering spear; And a multitude of slain, and a heap of carcases; And there is no end of the corpses, and they stumble upon their corpses;

4Because of the multitude of the harlotries of the well-favoured harlot, The mistress of witchcrafts, That selleth nations through her harlotries, And families through her witchcrafts.

5Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, And I will uncover thy skirts upon thy face, And I will shew the nations thy nakedness, And the kingdoms thy shame.

6And I will cast detestable things upon thee, and make thee vile, And will make thee as dung.

7And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee Shall flee from thee, And say: 'Nineveh is laid waste; Who will bemoan her? Whence shall I seek comforters for thee?'

8Art thou better than No-amon, That was situate among the rivers, That had the waters round about her; Whose rampart was the sea, and of the sea her wall?

9Ethiopia and Egypt were thy strength, and it was infinite; Put and Lubim were thy helpers.

10Yet was she carried away, She went into captivity; Her young children also were dashed in pieces At the head of all the streets; And they cast lots for her honourable men, And all her great men were bound in chains.

11Thou also shalt be drunken, Thou shalt swoon; Thou also shalt seek a refuge Because of the enemy.

12All thy fortresses shall be like fig-trees with the first-ripe figs: If they be shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater.

13Behold, thy people in the midst of thee are women; The gates of thy land are set wide open unto thine enemies; The fire hath devoured thy bars.

14Draw thee water for the siege, Strengthen thy fortresses; Go into the clay, and tread the mortar, Lay hold of the brickmould.

15There shall the fire devour thee; The sword shall cut thee off, It shall devour thee like the canker-worm; Make thyself many as the canker-worm, Make thyself many as the locusts.

16Thou hast multiplied thy merchants Above the stars of heaven; The canker-worm spreadeth itself, and flieth away.

17Thy crowned are as the locusts, And thy marshals as the swarms of grasshoppers, Which camp in the walls in the cold day, But when the sun ariseth they flee away, And their place is not known where they are.

18Thy shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria, Thy worthies are at rest; Thy people are scattered upon the mountains, And there is none to gather them.

19There is no assuaging of thy hurt, Thy wound is grievous; All that hear the report of thee Clap the hands over thee; For upon whom hath not thy wickedness passed continually?

Habakkuk's First Complaint

1THE burden which Habakkuk the prophet did see.

2How long, O LORD, shall I cry, And Thou wilt not hear? I cry out unto Thee of violence, And Thou wilt not save.

3Why dost Thou show me iniquity, And beholdest mischief? And why are spoiling and violence before me? So that there is strife, and contention ariseth.

4Therefore the law is slacked, And right doth never go forth; For the wicked doth beset the righteous; Therefore right goeth forth perverted.

The LORD's Answer

5Look ye among the nations, and behold, And wonder marvellously; For, behold, a work shall be wrought in your days, Which ye will not believe though it be told you.

6For, lo, I raise up the Chaldeans, That bitter and impetuous nation, That march through the breadth of the earth, To possess dwelling-places that are not theirs.

7They are terrible and dreadful; Their law and their majesty proceed from themselves.

8Their horses also are swifter than leopards, And are more fierce than the wolves of the desert; And their horsemen spread themselves; Yea, their horsemen come from far, They fly as a vulture that hasteth to devour.

9They come all of them for violence; Their faces are set eagerly as the east wind; And they gather captives as the sand.

10And they scoff at kings, And princes are a derision unto them; They deride every stronghold, For they heap up earth, and take it.

11Then their spirit doth pass over and transgress, And they become guilty: Even they who impute their might unto their god.

Habakkuk's Second Complaint

(Psalm 11:1-7)

12Art not Thou from everlasting, O LORD my God, my Holy One? We shall not die. O LORD, Thou hast ordained them for judgment, And Thou, O Rock, hast established them for correction.

13Thou that art of eyes too pure to behold evil, And that canst not look on mischief, Wherefore lookest Thou, when they deal treacherously, And holdest Thy peace, when the wicked swalloweth up The man that is more righteous than he;

14And makest men as the fishes of the sea, As the creeping things, that have no ruler over them?

15They take up all of them with the angle, They catch them in their net, And gather them in their drag; Therefore they rejoice and exult.

16Therefore they sacrifice unto their net, And offer unto their drag; Because by them their portion is fat, And their food plenteous.

17Shall they therefore empty their net, And not spare to slay the nations continually?

The LORD Answers Again

1 I will stand upon my watch, And set me upon the tower, And will look out to see what He will speak by me, And what I shall answer when I am reproved.

2 And the LORD answered me, and said: 'Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, That a man may read it swiftly.

3 For the vision is yet for the appointed time, And it declareth of the end, and doth not lie; Though it tarry, wait for it; Because it will surely come, it will not delay.'

4 Behold, his soul is puffed up, it is not upright in him; But the righteous shall live by his faith.

5 Yea, moreover, wine is a treacherous dealer; The haughty man abideth not; He who enlargeth his desire as the nether-world, And is as death, and cannot be satisfied, But gathereth unto him all nations, And heapeth unto him all peoples.

Woe to the Chaldeans

6 Shall not all these take up a parable against him, And a taunting riddle against him, And say: 'Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! How long? and that ladeth himself with many pledges!'

7 Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall exact interest of thee, And awake that shall violently shake thee, And thou shalt be for booties unto them?

8 Because thou hast spoiled many nations, All the remnant of the peoples shall spoil thee; Because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, To the city and to all that dwell therein.

9 Woe to him that gaineth evil gains for his house, That he may set his nest on high, That he may be delivered from the power of evil!

10 Thou hast devised shame to thy house, By cutting off many peoples, And hast forfeited thy life.

11 For the stone shall cry out of the wall, And the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

12 Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood, And establisheth a city by iniquity!

13 Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts That the peoples labour for the fire, And the nations weary themselves for vanity?

14 For the earth shall be filled With the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, As the waters cover the sea.

15 Woe unto him that giveth his neighbour drink, That putteth thy venom thereto, and maketh him drunken also, That thou mayest look on their nakedness!

16 Thou art filled with shame instead of glory, Drink thou also, and be uncovered; The cup of the LORD'S right hand shall be turned unto thee, And filthiness shall be upon thy glory.

17 For the violence done to Lebanon shall cover thee, And the destruction of the beasts, which made them afraid; Because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, To the city and to all that dwell therein.

18What profiteth the graven image, That the maker thereof hath graven it, Even the molten image, and the teacher of lies; That the maker of his work trusteth therein, To make dumb idols?

19Woe unto him that saith to the wood: 'Awake', To the dumb stone: 'Arise!' Can this teach? Behold, it is overlaid with gold and silver, And there is no breath at all in the midst of it.

20But the LORD is in His holy temple; Let all the earth keep silence before Him.

Habakkuk's Prayer

1A prayer of Habakkuk the prophet. Upon Shigionoth.

2O LORD, I have heard the report of Thee, and am afraid; O LORD, revive Thy work in the midst of the years, In the midst of the years make it known; In wrath remember compassion.

3God cometh from Teman, And the Holy One from mount Paran. Selah His glory covereth the heavens, And the earth is full of His praise.

4And a brightness appeareth as the light; Rays hath He at His side; And there is the hiding of His power.

5Before him goeth the pestilence, And fiery bolts go forth at His feet.

6He standeth, and shaketh the earth, He beholdeth, and maketh the nations to tremble; And the everlasting mountains are dashed in pieces, The ancient hills do bow; His goings are as of old.

7I see the tents of Cushan in affliction; The curtains of the land of Midian do tremble.

8Is it, O LORD, that against the rivers, Is it that Thine anger is kindled against the rivers, Or Thy wrath against the sea? That Thou dost ride upon Thy horses, Upon Thy chariots of victory?

9Thy bow is made quite bare; Sworn are the rods of the word. Selah. Thou dost cleave the earth with rivers.

10The mountains have seen Thee, and they tremble; The tempest of waters floweth over; the deep uttereth its voice, And lifteth up its hands on high.

11The sun and moon stand still in their habitation; At the light of Thine arrows as they go, At the shining of Thy glittering spear.

12Thou marchest through the earth in indignation, Thou threshest the nations in anger.

13Thou art come forth for the deliverance of Thy people, For the deliverance of Thine anointed; Thou woundest the head out of the house of the wicked, Uncovering the foundation even unto the neck. Selah 14Thou hast stricken through with his own rods the head of his rulers, That come as a whirlwind to scatter me; Whose rejoicing is as to devour the poor secretly.

15Thou hast trodden the sea with Thy horses, The foaming of mighty waters.

16When I heard, mine inward parts trembled, My lips quivered at the voice; Rottenness entereth into my bones, And I tremble where I stand; That I should wait for the day of trouble, When he cometh up against the people that he invadeth.

Habakkuk Rejoices

17For though the fig-tree shall not blossom, Neither shall fruit be in the vines; The labour of the olive shall fail, And the fields shall yield no food; The flock shall be cut off from the fold, And there shall be no herd in the stalls;

18Yet I will rejoice in the LORD, I will exult in the God of my salvation.

19God, the Lord, is my strength, And He maketh my feet like hinds' feet, And He maketh me to walk upon my high places. For the Leader. With my string-music.

Zephaniah Prophecies Judgment on Judah

(Matthew 13:36–43)

1The word of the LORD which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.

2I will utterly consume all things from off the face of the earth, Saith the LORD.

3I will consume man and beast, I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, And the stumblingblocks with the wicked; And I will cut off man from off the face of the earth, Saith the LORD.

4And I will stretch out My hand upon Judah, And upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; And I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, And the name of the idolatrous priests with the priests;

5And them that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops; And them that worship, that swear to the LORD And swear by Malcam;

6Them also that are turned back from following the LORD; And those that have not sought the LORD, nor inquired after Him.

The Day of the LORD

(Malachi 4:1–6; 1 Thessalonians 5:1–11; 2 Peter 3:8–13)

7 Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord GOD; For the day of the LORD is at hand, For the LORD hath prepared a sacrifice, He hath consecrated His guests.

8 And it shall come to pass in the day of the LORD'S sacrifice, That I will punish the princes, and the king's sons, And all such as are clothed with foreign apparel.

9 In the same day also will I punish all those that leap over the threshold, That fill their master's house with violence and deceit.

10 And in that day, saith the LORD, Hark! a cry from the fish gate, And a wailing from the second quarter, And a great crashing from the hills.

11 Wail, ye inhabitants of Maktesh, For all the merchant people are undone; All they that were laden with silver are cut off.

12 And it shall come to pass at that time, That I will search Jerusalem with lamps; And I will punish the men that are settled on their lees, That say in their heart: 'The LORD will not do good, neither will He do evil.'

13 Therefore their wealth shall become a booty, And their houses a desolation; Yea, they shall build houses, but shall not inhabit them, And they shall plant vineyards, but shall not drink the wine thereof.

14 The great day of the LORD is near, It is near and hasteth greatly, Even the voice of the day of the LORD, Wherein the mighty man crieth bitterly.

15 That day is a day of wrath, A day of trouble and distress, A day of wasteness and desolation, A day of darkness and gloominess, A day of clouds and thick darkness,

16 A day of the horn and alarm, Against the fortified cities, and against the high towers.

17 And I will bring distress upon men, That they shall walk like the blind, Because they have sinned against the LORD; And their blood shall be poured out as dust, And their flesh as dung.

18 Neither their silver nor their gold Shall be able to deliver them In the day of the LORD'S wrath; But the whole earth shall be devoured by the fire of His jealousy; For He will make an end, yea, a terrible end, Of all them that dwell in the earth.

A Call to Repentance

(Joel 1:13–20; Amos 5:4–15; Luke 13:1–5)

1 Gather yourselves together, yea, gather together, O shameless nation;

2Before the decree bring forth The day when one passeth as the chaff, Before the fierce anger of the LORD come upon you, Before the day of the LORD'S anger come upon you.

3Seek ye the LORD, all ye humble of the earth, That have executed His ordinance; Seek righteousness, seek humility. It may be ye shall be hid in the day of the LORD'S anger.

Judgment on the Philistines

(Jeremiah 47:1–7)

4For Gaza shall be forsaken, And Ashkelon a desolation; They shall drive out Ashdod at the noonday, And Ekron shall be rooted up.

5Woe unto the inhabitants of the sea-coast, The nation of the Cherethites! The word of the LORD is against you, O Canaan, the land of the Philistines; I will even destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.

6And the sea-coast shall be pastures, Even meadows for shepherds, and folds for flocks.

7And it shall be a portion for the remnant of the house of Judah, Whereon they shall feed; In the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening; For the LORD their God will remember them, And turn their captivity.

Judgment on Moab and Ammon

(Isaiah 16:1–14; Jeremiah 48:1–47)

8I have heard the taunt of Moab, And the revilings of the children of Ammon, Wherewith they have taunted My people, And spoken boastfully concerning their border.

9Therefore as I live, Saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Surely Moab shall be as Sodom, And the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, Even the breeding-place of nettles, and salt-pits, And a desolation, for ever; The residue of My people shall spoil them, And the remnant of My nation shall inherit them.

10This shall they have for their pride, Because they have taunted and spoken boastfully Against the people of the LORD of hosts. 11The LORD will be terrible unto them; For He will famish all the gods of the earth; Then shall all the isles of the nations worship Him, Every one from its place.

Judgment on Cush and Assyria

12Ye Ethiopians also, Ye shall be slain by My sword.

13And He will stretch out His hand against the north, And destroy Assyria; And will make Nineveh a desolation, And dry like the wilderness.

14And all beasts of every kind Shall lie down in the midst of her in herds; Both the pelican and the bittern Shall lodge in the capitals thereof; Voices shall sing in the windows; Desolation shall be in the posts; For the cedar-work thereof shall be uncovered.

15This is the joyous city That dwelt without care, That said in her heart: 'I am, and there is none else beside me'; How is she become a desolation, A place for beasts to lie down in! Every one that passeth by her Shall hiss, and wag his hand.

Judgment on Jerusalem

- 1Woe to her that is filthy and polluted, To the oppressing city!
- 2She hearkened not the voice, She received not correction; She trusted not in the LORD, She drew not near to her God.
- 3Her princes in the midst of her are roaring lions; Her judges are wolves of the desert, They leave not a bone for the morrow.
- 4Her prophets are wanton And treacherous persons; Her priests have profaned that which is holy, They have done violence to the law.
- 5The LORD who is righteous is in the midst of her, He will not do unrighteousness; Every morning doth He bring His right to light, It faileth not; But the unrighteous knoweth no shame.

Purification of the Nations

- 6I have cut off nations, Their corners are desolate; I have made their streets waste, So that none passeth by; Their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, So that there is no inhabitant.
- 7I said: 'Surely thou wilt fear Me, Thou wilt receive correction; So her dwelling shall not be cut off, Despite all that I have visited upon her'; But they betimes corrupted all their doings.
- 8Therefore wait ye for Me, saith the LORD, Until the day that I rise up to the prey; For My determination is to gather the nations, That I may assemble the kingdoms, To pour upon them Mine indignation, Even all My fierce anger; For all the earth shall be devoured With the fire of My jealousy.

A Faithful Remnant

- 9For then will I turn to the peoples A pure language, That they may all call upon the name of the LORD, To serve Him with one consent.
- 10From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia Shall they bring My suppliants, Even the daughter of My dispersed, As Mine offering.
- 11In that day shalt thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, Wherein thou hast transgressed against Me; For then I will take away out of the midst of thee Thy proudly exulting ones, And thou shalt no more be haughty In My holy mountain.
- 12And I will leave in the midst of thee An afflicted and poor people, And they shall take refuge in the name of the LORD.

13The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, Nor speak lies, Neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth; For they shall feed and lie down, And none shall make them afraid.

Israel's Restoration

14Sing, O daughter of Zion, Shout, O Israel; Be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem.

15The LORD hath taken away thy judgments, He hath cast out thine enemy; The King of Israel, even the LORD, is in the midst of thee; Thou shalt not fear evil any more.

16In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem: 'Fear thou not; O Zion, let not thy hands be slack.

17The LORD thy God is in the midst of thee, A Mighty One who will save; He will rejoice over thee with joy, He will be silent in His love, He will joy over thee with singing.'

18I will gather them that are far from the appointed season, who are of thee, That hast borne the burden of reproach.

19Behold, at that time I will deal with all them that afflict thee; And I will save her that is lame, And gather her that was driven away; And I will make them to be a praise and a name, Whose shame hath been in all the earth.

20At that time will I bring you in, And at that time will I gather you; For I will make you to be a name and a praise Among all the peoples of the earth, When I turn your captivity before your eyes, Saith the LORD.

A Call to Rebuild the Temple

(Ezra 5:1–5)

1In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying: 2Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying: This people say: The time is not come, the time that the LORD'S house should be built.' 3Then came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying: 4Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your cieled houses, while this house lieth waste? 5Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: Consider your ways. 6Ye have sown much, and brought in little, Ye eat, but ye have not enough, Ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink, Ye clothe you, but there is none warm; And he that earneth wages earneth wages For a bag with holes.

7Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Consider your ways. 8Go up to the hill-country, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the LORD. 9Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of My house that lieth waste, while ye run every man for his own house. 10Therefore over you the heaven hath kept back, so that there is no dew, and the earth hath kept back her produce. 11And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labour of the hands.'

The People Obey

12Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, hearkened unto the voice of the LORD their God, and unto the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people did fear before the LORD. 13Then spoke Haggai the LORD'S messenger in the LORD'S message unto the people, saying: 'I am with you, saith the LORD.' 14And the LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and did work in the house of the LORD of hosts, their God, 15in the four and twentieth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

The Coming Glory of God's House

1In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying: 2Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying: 3Who is left among you that saw this house in its former glory? and how do ye see it now? is not such a one as nothing in your eyes? 4Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the LORD; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the LORD, and work; for I am with you, saith the LORD of hosts. 5The word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt have I established, and My spirit abideth among you; fear ye not. 6For thus saith the LORD of hosts: Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land; 7and I will shake all nations, and the choicest things of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory, saith the LORD of hosts. 8Mine is the silver, and Mine the gold, saith the LORD of hosts. 9The glory of this latter house shall be greater than that of the former, saith the LORD of hosts; and in this place will I give peace, saith the LORD of hosts.'

Blessings for a Defiled People

10In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying: 11Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Ask now the priests for instruction, saying: 12If one bear hallowed flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any food, shall it be holy?' And the priests answered and said: 'No.' 13Then said Haggai: 'If one that is unclean by a dead body touch any of these, shall it be unclean?' And the priests answered and said: 'It shall be unclean.' 14Then answered Haggai, and said: 'So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the LORD; and so is every work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean. 15And now, I pray you, consider from this day and forward—before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the LORD, 16through all that time, when one came to a heap of twenty measures, there were but ten; when one came to the winevat to draw out fifty press-measures, there were but twenty; 17I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail in all the work of your hands; yet ye turned not to Me, saith the LORD— 18consider, I pray you, from this day and forward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the LORD'S temple was laid, consider it; 19is the seed yet in the barn? yea, the vine, and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree hath not brought forth—from this day will I bless you.'

Zerubbabel the LORD's Signet Ring

20And the word of the LORD came the second time unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying: 21Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying: I will shake the heavens and the earth; 22and I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother. 23In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, My servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the LORD, and will make thee as a signet; for I have chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.'

A Call to Repentance

(Jeremiah 3:11–25; Hosea 14:1–3)

1In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying: 2The LORD hath been sore displeased with your fathers. 3Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Return unto Me, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. 4Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former prophets proclaimed, saying: Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Return ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings; but they did not hear, nor attend unto Me, saith the LORD. 5Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever? 6But My words and My statutes, which I commanded My servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? so that they turned and said: Like as the LORD of hosts purposed to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, so hath He dealt with us.'

The Vision of the Horses

7Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying— 8I saw in the night, and behold a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle-trees that were in the bottom; and behind him there were horses, red, sorrel, and white. 9Then said I: 'O my lord, what are these?' And the angel that spoke with me said unto me: 'I will show thee what these are.' 10And the man that stood among the myrtle-trees answered and said: 'These are they whom the LORD hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth.' 11And they answered the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle-trees, and said: 'We have walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold, all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest.'

12Then the angel of the LORD spoke and said: 'O LORD of hosts, how long wilt Thou not have compassion on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which Thou hast had indignation these threescore and ten years? 13And the LORD answered the angel that spoke with me with good words, even comforting words— 14so the angel that spoke with me said unto me: 'Proclaim thou, saying: Thus saith the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy; 15and I am very sore displeased with the nations that are at ease; for I was but a little displeased, and they helped for evil. 16Therefore thus saith the LORD: I return to Jerusalem with compassions: My house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and a line shall be stretched forth over Jerusalem. 17Again, proclaim, saying: Thus saith the LORD of hosts: My cities shall again overflow with prosperity; and the LORD shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.'

The Vision of the Horns and the Craftsmen

18And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold four horns. 19And I said unto the angel that spoke with me: 'What are these?' And he said unto me: 'These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.' 20And the LORD showed me four craftsmen. 21Then said I: 'What come these to do?' And he spoke, saying: 'These—the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head—these then are come to frighten them, to cast down the horns of the nations, which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.'

The Vision of the Measuring Line

(Ezekiel 40:1–4)

1And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold a man with a measuring line in his hand. 2Then said I: 'Whither goest thou?' And he said unto me: 'To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.' 3And, behold, the angel that spoke with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him, 4and said unto him: 'Run, speak to this young man, saying: 'Jerusalem shall be inhabited without walls for the multitude of men and cattle therein. 5For I, saith the LORD, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and I will be the glory in the midst of her.

The Redemption of Zion

(Hosea 3:1–5)

6Ho, ho, flee then from the land of the north, saith the LORD; for I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the LORD. 7Ho, Zion, escape, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon.' 8For thus saith the LORD of hosts who sent me after glory unto the nations which spoiled you: 'Surely, he that toucheth you toucheth the apple of his eye. 9For, behold, I will shake My hand over them, and they shall be a spoil to those that served them'; and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me. 10Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion; for, lo, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the LORD. 11And many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and shall be My people, and I will dwell in the midst of thee'; and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto thee. ¹²And the LORD shall inherit Judah as His portion in the holy land, and shall choose Jerusalem again.

The Vision of Joshua the High Priest

¹And he showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and Satan standing at his right hand to accuse him. ²And the LORD said unto Satan: 'The LORD rebuke thee, O Satan, yea, the LORD that hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee; is not this man a brand plucked out of the fire?' ³Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the angel. ⁴And he answered and spoke unto those that stood before him, saying: 'Take the filthy garments from off him.' And unto him he said: 'Behold, I cause thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with robes.' ⁵And I said: 'Let them set a fair mitre upon his head.' So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments; and the angel of the LORD stood by.

⁶And the angel of the LORD forewarned Joshua, saying: ⁷Thus saith the LORD of hosts: If thou wilt walk in My ways, and if thou wilt keep My charge, and wilt also judge My house, and wilt also keep My courts, then I will give thee free access among these that stand by.

⁸Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee; for they are men that are a sign; for, behold, I will bring forth My servant the Shoot. ⁹For behold the stone that I have laid before Joshua; upon one stone are seven facets; behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts: And I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. ¹⁰In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour under the vine and under the fig-tree.

The Vision of the Lampstand and Olive Trees

¹And the angel that spoke with me returned, and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep. ²And he said unto me: 'What seest thou?' And I said: 'I have seen, and behold a candlestick all of gold, with a bowl upon the top of it, and its seven lamps thereon; there are seven pipes, yea, seven, to the lamps, which are upon the top thereof; ³and two olive-trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.' ⁴And I answered and spoke to the angel that spoke with me, saying: 'What are these, my lord?' ⁵Then the angel that spoke with me answered and said unto me: 'Knowest thou not what these are?' And I said: 'No, my lord.' ⁶Then he answered and spoke unto me, saying: 'This is the word of the LORD unto Zerubbabel, saying: Not by might, nor by power, but by My spirit, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁷Who art thou, O great mountain before Zerubbabel? thou shalt become a plain; and he shall bring forth the top stone with shoutings of Grace, grace, unto it.'

8Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 9The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also finish it; and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. 10For who hath despised the day of small things? even they shall see with joy the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel, even these seven, which are the eyes of the LORD, that run to and fro through the whole earth.'

11Then answered I, and said unto him: 'What are these two olive-trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon the left side thereof?' 12And I answered the second time, and said unto him: 'What are these two olive branches, which are beside the two golden spouts, that empty the golden oil out of themselves?' 13And he answered me and said: 'Knowest thou not what these are?' And I said: 'No, my lord.' 14Then said he: 'These are the two anointed ones, that stand by the Lord of the whole earth.'

The Vision of the Flying Scroll

1Then again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold a flying roll. 2And he said unto me: 'What seest thou?' And I answered: 'I see a flying roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.' 3Then said he unto me: 'This is the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole land; for every one that stealeth shall be swept away on the one side like it; and every one that sweareth shall be swept away on the other side like it. 4I cause it to go forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that sweareth falsely by My name; and it shall abide in the midst of his house, and shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.'

The Vision of the Woman in a Basket

5Then the angel that spoke with me went forth, and said unto me: 'Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.' 6And I said: 'What is it?' And he said: 'This is the measure that goeth forth.' He said moreover: 'This is their eye in all the land— 7and, behold, there was lifted up a round piece of lead—and this is a woman sitting in the midst of the measure.' 8And he said: 'This is Wickedness.' And he cast her down into the midst of the measure, and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof. 9Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there came forth two women, and the wind was in their wings; for they had wings like the wings of a stork; and they lifted up the measure between the earth and the heaven. 10Then said I to the angel that spoke with me: 'Whither do these bear the measure?' 11And he said unto me: 'To build her a house in the land of Shinar; and when it is prepared, she shall be set there in her own place.'

The Vision of the Four Chariots

1And again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there came four chariots out from between the two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of brass. 2In the first chariot were red horses; and in the second chariot black horses; 3and in the third chariot white horses; and in the fourth chariot grizzled bay horses. 4Then I answered and said unto the angel that spoke with me: 'What are these, my lord?' 5And the angel answered and said unto me: 'These chariots go forth to the four winds of heaven, after presenting themselves before the Lord of all the earth. 6That wherein are the black horses goeth forth toward the north country; and the white went forth after them; and the grizzled went forth toward the south country; 7and the bay went forth'. And they sought to go that they might walk to and fro through the earth; and he said: 'Get you hence, walk to and fro through the earth.' So they walked to and fro through the earth. 8Then cried he upon me, and spoke unto me, saying: 'Behold, they that go toward the north country have eased My spirit in the north country.'

The Crown and the Temple

9And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 10Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah, that are come from Babylon; and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah;

11yea, take silver and gold, and make crowns, and set the one upon the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest; 12and speak unto him, saying: Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying: Behold, a man whose name is the Shoot, and who shall shoot up out of his place, and build the temple of the LORD; 13even he shall build the temple of the LORD; and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne; and there shall be a priest before his throne; and the counsel of peace shall be between them both. 14And the crowns shall be to Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the son of Zephaniah, as a memorial in the temple of the LORD. 15And they that are far off shall come and build in the temple of the LORD, and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. And it shall come to pass, if ye will diligently hearken to the voice of the LORD your God—.'

A Call to Justice and Mercy

1And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in Chislev; 2When Bethel-sarezer, and Regem-melech and his men, had sent to entreat the favour of the LORD, 3and to speak unto the priests of the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets, saying: 'Should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years?' 4Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto me, saying: 5Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying: When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh month, even these seventy years, did ye at all fast unto Me, even to Me? 6And when ye eat, and when ye did drink, are ye not they that eat, and they that drink? 7Should ye not hearken to the words which the LORD hath proclaimed by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, and the South and the Lowland were inhabited?'

8And the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah, saying: 9Thus hath the LORD of hosts spoken, saying: Execute true judgment, and show mercy and compassion every man to his brother; 10and oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; and let none of you devise evil against his brother in your heart. 11But they refused to attend, and turned a stubborn shoulder, and stopped their ears, that they might not hear. 12Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts had sent by His spirit by the hand of the former prophets; therefore came there great wrath from the LORD of hosts. 13And it came to pass that, as He called, and they would not hear; so they shall call, and I will not hear, said the LORD of hosts; 14but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they have not known. Thus the land was desolate after them, so that no man passed through nor returned; for they laid the pleasant land desolate.'

The Restoration of Jerusalem

1And the word of the LORD of hosts came, saying: 2Thus saith the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great fury. 3Thus saith the LORD: I return unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called The city of truth; and the mountain of the LORD of hosts The holy mountain. 4Thus saith the LORD of hosts: There shall yet old men and old women sit in the broad places of Jerusalem, every man with his staff in his hand for very age. 5And the broad places of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the broad places thereof. 6Thus saith the LORD of hosts: If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be marvellous in Mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts. 7Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will save My people from the east country, and from the west country; 8And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be My people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.

9Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words from the mouth of the prophets that were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, even the temple, that it might be built. 10For before those days there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast; neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the adversary; for I set all men every one against his neighbour. 11But now I will not be unto the remnant of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts. 12For as the seed of peace, the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to inherit all these things. 13And it shall come to pass that, as ye were a curse among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing; fear not, but let your hands be strong.

14For thus saith the LORD of host: As I purposed to do evil unto you, when your fathers provoked Me, saith the LORD of hosts, and I repented not; 15so again do I purpose in these days to do good unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah; fear ye not. 16These are the things that ye shall do: Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates; 17and let none of you devise evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and love no false oath; for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.'

18And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying: 19Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerful seasons; therefore love ye truth and peace.

20Thus saith the LORD of hosts: It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come peoples, and the inhabitants of many cities; 21and the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying: Let us go speedily to entreat the favour of the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts; I will go also. 22Yea, many peoples and mighty nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and to entreat the favour of the LORD. 23Thus saith the LORD of hosts: In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold, out of all the languages of the nations, shall even take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying: We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.'

The Burden against Israel's Enemies

1The burden of the word of the LORD. In the land of Hadrach, And in Damascus shall be His resting-place; For the LORD'S is the eye of man And all the tribes of Israel.

2And Hamath also shall border thereon; Tyre and Zidon, for she is very wise.

3And Tyre did build herself a stronghold, And heaped up silver as the dust, And fine gold as the mire of the streets.

4Behold, the Lord will impoverish her, And He will smite her power into the sea; And she shall be devoured with fire.

5Ashkelon shall see it, and fear, Gaza also, and shall be sore pained, And Ekron, for her expectation shall be ashamed; And the king shall perish from Gaza, And Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6And a bastard shall dwell in Ashdod, And I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

7And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, And his detestable things from between his teeth, And he also shall be a remnant for our God; And he shall be as a chief in Judah, And Ekron as a Jebusite.

8And I will encamp about My house against the army, That none pass through or return; And no oppressor shall pass through them any more; For now have I seen with Mine eyes.

Zion's Coming King

(Matthew 21:1-11; Mark 11:1-11; Luke 19:28-40; John 12:12-19)

9Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion, Shout, O daughter of Jerusalem; Behold, thy king cometh unto thee, He is triumphant, and victorious, Lowly, and riding upon an ass, Even upon a colt the foal of an ass.

10And I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, And the horse from Jerusalem, And the battle bow shall be cut off, And he shall speak peace unto the nations; And his dominion shall be from sea to sea, And from the River to the ends of the earth.

11As for thee also, because of the blood of thy covenant I send forth thy prisoners out of the pit Wherein is no water.

12Return to the stronghold, Ye prisoners of hope; Even to-day do I declare That I will render double unto thee.

13For I bend Judah for Me, I fill the bow with Ephraim; And I will stir up thy sons, O Zion, Against thy sons, O Javan, And will make thee as the sword of a mighty man.

The LORD Will Save His People

14And the LORD shall be seen over them, And His arrow shall go forth as the lightning; And the Lord GOD will blow the horn, And will go with whirlwinds of the south.

15The LORD of hosts will defend them; And they shall devour, and shall tread down the sling-stones; And they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine; And they shall be filled like the basins, like the corners of the altar.

16And the LORD their God shall save them in that day As the flock of His people; For they shall be as the stones of a crown, Glittering over His land.

17For how great is their goodness, and how great is their beauty! Corn shall make the young men flourish, And new wine the maids.

Judah and Israel Will Be Restored

1Ask ye of the LORD rain in the time of the latter rain, Even of the LORD that maketh lightnings; And He will give them showers of rain, To every one grass in the field.

2For the teraphim have spoken vanity, And the diviners have seen a lie, And the dreams speak falsely, They comfort in vain; Therefore they go their way like sheep, They are afflicted, because there is no shepherd.

3Mine anger is kindled against the shepherds, And I will punish the he-goats; For the LORD of hosts hath remembered His flock the house of Judah, And maketh them as His majestic horse in the battle.

4Out of them shall come forth the corner-stone, Out of them the stake, Out of them the battle bow, Out of them every master together.

5And they shall be as mighty men, Treading down in the mire of the streets in the battle, And they shall fight, because the LORD is with them; And the riders on horses shall be confounded.

6And I will strengthen the house of Judah, And I will save the house of Joseph, And I will bring them back, for I have compassion upon them, And they shall be as though I had not cast them off; For I am the LORD their God, and I will hear them.

7And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, And their heart shall rejoice as through wine; Yea, their children shall see it, And rejoice, their heart shall be glad in the LORD.

8I will hiss for them, and gather them, For I have redeemed them; And they shall increase as they have increased.

9And I will sow them among the peoples, And they shall remember Me in far countries; And they shall live with their children, and shall return.

10I will bring them back also out of the land of Egypt, And gather them out of Assyria; And I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; And place shall not suffice them.

11And over the sea affliction shall pass, And the waves shall be smitten in the sea, And all the depths of the Nile shall dry up; And the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, And the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away.

12And I will strengthen them in the LORD; And they shall walk up and down in His name, Saith the LORD.

The Doomed Flock

1Open thy doors, O Lebanon, That the fire may devour thy cedars.

2Wail, O cypress-tree, for the cedar is fallen; Because the glorious ones are spoiled; Wail, O ye oaks of Bashan, For the strong forest is come down.

3Hark! the wailing of the shepherds, For their glory is spoiled; Hark! the roaring of young lions, For the thickets of the Jordan are spoiled.

4Thus said the LORD my God: 'Feed the flock of slaughter; 5whose buyers slay them, and hold themselves not guilty; and they that sell them say: Blessed be the LORD, for I am rich; and their own shepherds pity them not. 6For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD; but, lo, I will deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king; and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them.'

7So I fed the flock of slaughter, verily the poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves; the one I called Graciousness, and the other I called Binders; and I fed the flock. 8And I cut off the three shepherds in one month; 'for My soul became impatient of them, and their soul also loathed Me.' ⁹Then said I: 'I will not feed you; that which dieth, let it die; and that which is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let them that are left eat every one the flesh of another.'

Thirty Pieces of Silver

(Matthew 27:3–10)

¹⁰And I took my staff Graciousness, and cut it asunder, 'that I might break My covenant which I had made with all the peoples.' ¹¹And it was broken in that day; and the poor of the flock that gave heed unto me knew of a truth that it was the word of the LORD. ¹²And I said unto them: 'If ye think good, give me my hire; and if not, forbear.' So they weighed for my hire thirty pieces of silver. ¹³And the LORD said unto me: 'Cast it into the treasury, the goodly price that I was prized at of them.' And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them into the treasury, in the house of the LORD. ¹⁴Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even Binders, that the brotherhood between Judah and Israel might be broken.

¹⁵And the LORD said unto me: 'Take unto thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd. ¹⁶For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, who will not think of those that are cut off, neither will seek those that are young, nor heal that which is broken; neither will he feed that which standeth still, but he will eat the flesh of the fat, and will break their hoofs in pieces.'

¹⁷Woe to the worthless shepherd That leaveth the flock! The sword shall be upon his arm, And upon his right eye; His arm shall be clean dried up, And his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

The Coming Deliverance of Jerusalem

¹The burden of the word of the LORD concerning Israel. The saying of the LORD, who stretched forth the heavens, And laid the foundation of the earth, And formed the spirit of man within him:

²Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of staggering Unto all the peoples round about, And upon Judah also shall it fall to be in the siege against Jerusalem. ³And it shall come to pass in that day, That I will make Jerusalem a stone of burden for all the peoples; All that burden themselves with it shall be sore wounded; And all the nations of the earth shall be gathered together against it. ⁴In that day, saith the LORD, I will smite every horse with bewilderment, And his rider with madness; And I will open Mine eyes upon the house of Judah, And will smite every horse of the peoples with blindness. ⁵And the chiefs of Judah shall say in their heart: 'The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength Through the LORD of hosts their God.'

⁶In that day will I make the chiefs of Judah Like a pan of fire among the wood, And like a torch of fire among sheaves; And they shall devour all the peoples round about, On the right hand and on the left; And Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Jerusalem. ⁷The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, That the glory of the house of David And the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not magnified above Judah. ⁸In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; And he that stumbleth among them at that day shall be as David; And the house of David shall be as a godlike being, As the angel of the LORD before them. ⁹And it shall come to pass in that day, That I will seek to destroy all the nations That come against Jerusalem.

Mourning the One They Pierced

(John 19:31–37)

¹⁰And I will pour upon the house of David, And upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, The spirit of grace and of supplication; And they shall look unto Me because they have thrust him through; And they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, And shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first-born. ¹¹In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, As the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon. ¹²And the land shall mourn, every family apart: The family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; The family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart; ¹³The family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; The family of the Shimeites apart, and their wives apart; ¹⁴All the families that remain, Every family apart, and their wives apart.

An End to Idolatry

¹In that day there shall be a fountain opened To the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, For purification and for sprinkling.

²And it shall come to pass in that day, Saith the LORD of hosts, That I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, And they shall no more be remembered; And also I will cause the prophets And the unclean spirit to pass out of the land. ³And it shall come to pass that, when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother that begot him shall say unto him: 'Thou shalt not live, for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD'; and his father and his mother that begot him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth. ⁴And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be brought to shame every one through his vision, when he prophesieth; neither shall they wear a hairy mantle to deceive; ⁵but he shall say: 'I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a bondman from my youth.' ⁶And one shall say unto him: 'What are these wounds between thy hands?' Then he shall answer: 'Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.'

The Shepherd Struck, the Sheep Scattered

(Matthew 26:31–35; Mark 14:27–31)

⁷Awake, O sword, against My shepherd, And against the man that is near unto Me, Saith the LORD of hosts; Smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered; And I will turn My hand upon the little ones.

⁸And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, Two parts therein shall be cut off and die; But the third shall be left therein.

⁹And I will bring the third part through the fire, And will refine them as silver is refined, And will try them as gold is tried; They shall call on My name, And I will answer them; I will say: 'It is My people', And they shall say: 'The LORD is my God.'

The Destroyers of Jerusalem Destroyed

1Behold, a day of the LORD cometh, When thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee. 2For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; And the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, And the women ravished; And half of the city shall go forth into captivity, But the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city. 3Then shall the LORD go forth, And fight against those nations, As when He fighteth in the day of battle. 4And His feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, Which is before Jerusalem on the east, And the mount of Olives shall cleft in the midst thereof Toward the east and toward the west, So that there shall be a very great valley; And half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, And half of it toward the south. 5And ye shall flee to the valley of the mountains; For the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azel; Yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake In the days of Uzziah king of Judah; And the LORD my God shall come, And all the holy ones with Thee.

6And it shall come to pass in that day, that there shall not be light, But heavy clouds and thick; 7And there shall be one day Which shall be known as the LORD'S, Not day, and not night; But it shall come to pass, that at evening time there shall be light.

8And it shall come to pass in that day, That living waters shall go out from Jerusalem: Half of them toward the eastern sea, And half of them toward the western sea; In summer and in winter shall it be.

9And the LORD shall be King over all the earth; In that day shall the LORD be One, and His name one.

10All the land shall be turned as the Arabah, from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem; and she shall be lifted up, and inhabited in her place, from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananel unto the king's winepresses. 11And men shall dwell therein, And there shall be no more extermination; But Jerusalem shall dwell safely.

12And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite All the peoples that have warred against Jerusalem: Their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, And their eyes shall consume away in their sockets, And their tongue shall consume away in their mouth. 13And it shall come to pass in that day, That a great tumult from the LORD shall be among them; And they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, And his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour. 14And Judah also shall fight against Jerusalem; And the wealth of all the nations round about shall be gathered together, Gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance. 15And so shall be the plague of the horse, Of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, And of all the beasts that shall be in those camps, as this plague.

All Nations Will Worship the King

(Leviticus 23:33–44; Nehemiah 8:13–18)

16And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations that came against Jerusalem shall go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles. 17And it shall be, that whoso of the families of the earth goeth not up unto Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, upon them there shall be no rain. 18And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, they shall have no overflow; there shall be the plague, wherewith the LORD will smite the nations that go not up to keep the feast of tabernacles. 19This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that go not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

20In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses: HOLY UNTO THE LORD; and the pots in the LORD'S house shall be like the basins before the altar. 21Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holy unto the LORD of hosts; and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and seethe therein; and in that day there shall be no more a trafficker in the house of the LORD of hosts.

The LORD's Love for Israel

(Genesis 25:19–28; Romans 9:6–29)

1The burden of the word of the LORD to Israel by Malachi.

2I have loved you, saith the LORD. Yet ye say: 'Wherein hast Thou loved us?' Was not Esau Jacob's brother? Saith the LORD; Yet I loved Jacob; 3But Esau I hated, And made his mountains a desolation, And gave his heritage to the jackals of the wilderness. 4Whereas Edom saith: 'We are beaten down, But we will return and build the waste places'; Thus saith the LORD of hosts: They shall build, but I will throw down; And they shall be called The border of wickedness, And The people whom the LORD execrateth for ever. 5And your eyes shall see, And ye shall say: 'The LORD is great beyond the border of Israel.'

The Polluted Offerings

6A son honoureth his father, And a servant his master; If then I be a father, Where is My honour? And if I be a master, Where is My fear? Saith the LORD of hosts Unto you, O priests, that despise My name. And ye say: 'Wherein have we despised Thy name?' 7Ye offer polluted bread upon Mine altar. And ye say: 'Wherein have we polluted thee?' In that ye say: 'The table of the LORD is contemptible.' 8And when ye offer the blind for sacrifice, is it no evil! And when ye offer the lame and sick, is it no evil! Present it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee? Or will he accept thy person? Saith the LORD of hosts. 9And now, I pray you, entreat the favour of God That He may be gracious unto us!— This hath been of your doing.—Will He accept any of your persons? Saith the LORD of hosts. 10Oh that there were even one among you that would shut the doors, That ye might not kindle fire on Mine altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you, Saith the LORD of hosts, Neither will I accept an offering at your hand. 11For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same My name is great among the nations; And in every place offerings are presented unto My name, Even pure oblations; For My name is great among the nations, Saith the LORD of hosts. 12But ye profane it, In that ye say: 'The table of the LORD is polluted, And the fruit thereof, even the food thereof, is contemptible.' 13Ye say also: 'Behold, what a weariness is it!' And ye have snuffed at it, Saith the LORD of hosts; And ye have brought that which was taken by violence, And the lame, and the sick; Thus ye bring the offering; Should I accept this of your hand? Saith the LORD. 14But cursed be he that dealeth craftily, Whereas he hath in his flock a male, And voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a blemished thing; For I am a great King, Saith the LORD of hosts, And My name is feared among the nations.

A Warning to the Priests

1And now, this commandment Is for you, O ye priests. 2If ye will not hearken, and if ye will not lay it to heart, To give glory unto My name, Saith the LORD of hosts, Then will I send the curse upon you, And I will curse your blessings; Yea, I curse them, Because ye do not lay it to heart. 3Behold, I will rebuke the seed for your hurt, And will spread dung upon your faces, Even the dung of your sacrifices; And ye shall be taken away unto it. 4Know then that I have sent This commandment unto you, That My covenant might be with Levi, Saith the LORD of hosts. 5My covenant was with him Of life and peace, and I gave them to him, And of fear, and he feared Me, And was afraid of My name. 6The law of truth was in his mouth, And unrighteousness was not found in his lips; He walked with Me in peace and uprightness, And did turn many away from iniquity. 7For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, And they should seek the law at his mouth; For he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts. 8But ye are turned aside out of the way; Ye have caused many to stumble in the law; Ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, Saith the LORD of hosts. 9Therefore have I also made you Contemptible and base before all the people, According as ye have not kept My ways, But have had respect of persons in the law.

Judah's Unfaithfulness

10Have we not all one father? Hath not one God created us? Why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, Profaning the covenant of our fathers? 11Judah hath dealt treacherously, And an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; For Judah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which He loveth, And hath married the daughter of a strange god. 12May the LORD cut off to the man that doeth this, Him that calleth and him that answereth out of the tents of Jacob, And him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

13And this further ye do: Ye cover the altar of the LORD with tears, With weeping, and with sighing, Insomuch that He regardeth not the offering any more, Neither receiveth it with good will at your hand. 14Yet ye say: 'Wherefore?' Because the LORD hath been witness Between thee and the wife of thy youth, Against whom thou hast dealt treacherously, Though she is thy companion, And the wife of thy covenant. 15And not one hath done so Who had exuberance of spirit! For what seeketh the one? A seed given of God. Therefore take heed to your spirit, And let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. 16For I hate putting away, Saith the LORD, the God of Israel, And him that covereth his garment with violence, Saith the LORD of hosts; Therefore take heed to your spirit, That ye deal not treacherously.

17Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet ye say: 'Wherein have we wearied Him?' In that ye say: 'Every one that doeth evil Is good in the sight of the LORD, And He delighteth in them; Or where is the God of justice?'

I Will Send My Messenger

(Matthew 11:7–19; Luke 7:24–35)

1Behold, I send My messenger, And he shall clear the way before Me; And the Lord, whom ye seek, Will suddenly come to His temple, And the messenger of the covenant, Whom ye delight in, Behold, he cometh, Saith the LORD of hosts. 2But who may abide the day of his coming? And who shall stand when he appeareth? For he is like a refiner's fire, And like fullers' soap; 3And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver; And he shall purify the sons of Levi, And purge them as gold and silver; And there shall be they that shall offer unto the LORD Offerings in righteousness. 4Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem Be pleasant unto the LORD, As in the days of old, And as in ancient years.

5And I will come near to you to judgment; And I will be a swift witness Against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, And against false swearers; And against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, The widow, and the fatherless, And that turn aside the stranger from his right, And fear not Me, Saith the LORD of hosts.

Robbing God

6For I the LORD change not; And ye, O sons of Jacob, are not consumed.

7From the days of your fathers ye have turned aside From Mine ordinances, and have not kept them. Return unto Me, and I will return unto you, Saith the LORD of hosts. But ye say: 'Wherein shall we return?'

8Will a man rob God? Yet ye rob Me. But ye say: 'Wherein have we robbed Thee?' In tithes and heave-offerings. 9Ye are cursed with the curse, Yet ye rob Me, Even this whole nation. 10Bring ye the whole tithe into the store-house, That there may be food in My house, And try Me now herewith, Saith the LORD of hosts, If I will not open you the windows of heaven, And pour you out a blessing, That there shall be more than sufficiency. 11And I will rebuke the devourer for your good, And he shall not destroy the fruits of your land; Neither shall your vine cast its fruit before the time in the field, Saith the LORD of hosts. 12And all nations shall call you happy; For ye shall be a delightsome land, Saith the LORD of hosts.

The Book of Remembrance

13Your words have been all too strong against Me, Saith the LORD. Yet ye say: 'Wherein have we spoken against thee?' 14Ye have said: 'It is vain to serve God; And what profit is it that we have kept His charge, And that we have walked mournfully Because of the LORD of hosts?' 15And now we call the proud happy; Yea, they that work wickedness are built up; Yea, they try God, and are delivered.'

16Then they that feared the LORD Spoke one with another; And the LORD hearkened, and heard, And a book of remembrance was written before Him, For them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon His name. 17And they shall be Mine, saith the LORD of hosts, In the day that I do make, even Mine own treasure; And I will spare them, as a man spareth His own son that serveth him. 18Then shall ye again discern between the righteous and the wicked, Between him that serveth God And him that serveth Him not.

The Day of the LORD

(Zephaniah 1:7–18; 1 Thessalonians 5:1–11; 2 Peter 3:8–13)

1For, behold, the day cometh, It burneth as a furnace; And all the proud, and all that work wickedness, shall be stubble; And the day that cometh shall set them ablaze, Saith the LORD of hosts, That it shall leave them neither root nor branch. 2But unto you that fear My name Shall the sun of righteousness arise with healing in its wings; And ye shall go forth, and gambol As calves of the stall. 3And ye shall tread down the wicked; For they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet In the day that I do make, Saith the LORD of hosts.

4Remember ye the law of Moses My servant, Which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, Even statutes and ordinances.

5Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet Before the coming Of the great and terrible day of the LORD.

6And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, And the heart of the children to their fathers; Lest I come and smite the land with utter destruction.

The Genealogy of Jesus

(Ruth 4:18–22; Luke 3:23–38)

1The Genealogy of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

2Abraham was the father of Isaac; Isaac of Jacob; Jacob of Judah and his brothers. 3Judah was the father (by Tamar) 4Ram of Amminadab; Amminadab of Nahshon; Nahshon of Salmon; 5Salmon (by Rahab) 6Jesse of David—the King. David (by Uriah's widow) 7Solomon of Rehoboam; Rehoboam of Abijah; Abijah of Asa; 8Asa of Jehoshaphat; Jehoshaphat of Jehoram; Jehoram of Uzziah; 9Uzziah of Jotham; Jotham of Ahaz; Ahaz of Hezekiah; 10Hezekiah of Manasseh; Manasseh of Amon; Amon of Josiah; 11Josiah of Jeconiah and his brothers at the period of the Removal to Babylon.

12After the Removal to Babylon Jeconiah had a son Shealtiel; Shealtiel was the father of Zerubbabel; 13Zerubbabel of Abiud; Abiud of Eliakim; Eliakim of Azor; 14Azor of Zadok; Zadok of Achim; Achim of Eliud; 15Eliud of Eleazar; Eleazar of Matthan; Matthan of Jacob; 16and Jacob of Joseph the husband of Mary, who was the mother of JESUS who is called CHRIST.

17There are therefore, in all, fourteen generations from Abraham to David; fourteen from David to the Removal to Babylon; and fourteen from the Removal to Babylon to the Christ.

The Birth of Jesus

(Isaiah 7:10–16; Luke 2:1–7)

18The circumstances of the birth of Jesus Christ were these. After his mother Mary was betrothed to Joseph, before they were united in marriage, she was found to be with child through the Holy Spirit. 19But Joseph her husband, being a kind-hearted man and unwilling publicly to disgrace her, had determined to release her privately from the betrothal. 20But while he was contemplating this step, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream and said, "Joseph, son of David, do not be afraid to bring home your wife Mary, for she is with child through the Holy Spirit. 21She will give birth to a Son, and you are to call His name JESUS for He it is who will save His People from their sins." 22All this took place in fulfilment of what the Lord had spoken through the Prophet, 23"Mark! The maiden will be with child and will give birth to a son, and they will call His name Immanuel"—a word which signifies 'God with us'. 24When Joseph awoke, he did as the angel of the Lord had commanded, and brought home his wife, 25but did not live with her until she had given birth to a son. The child's name he called JESUS.

The Pilgrimage of the Magi

(Micah 5:1–6)

1Now after the birth of Jesus, which took place at Bethlehem in Judaea in the reign of King Herod, excitement was produced in Jerusalem by the arrival of certain Magi from the east, 2inquiring, "Where is the newly born king of the Jews? For we have seen his Star in the east, and have come here to do him homage." 3Reports of this soon reached the king, and greatly agitated not only him but all the people of Jerusalem. 4So he assembled all the High Priests and Scribes of the people, and anxiously asked them where the Christ was to be born. 5"At Bethlehem in Judaea," they replied; "for so it stands written in the words of the Prophet,

6"And thou, Bethlehem in the land of Judah, by no means the least honorable art thou among princely places in Judah! For from thee shall come a prince—one who shall be the Shepherd of My People Israel."

7Thereupon Herod sent privately for the Magi and ascertained from them the exact time of the star's appearing. 8He then directed them to go to Bethlehem, adding, "Go and make careful inquiry about the child, and when you have found him, bring me word, that I too may come and do him homage." 9After hearing what the king said, they went to Bethlehem, while, strange to say, the star they had seen in the east led them on until it came and stood over the place where the babe was. 10When they saw the star, the sight filled them with intense joy. 11So they entered the house; and when they saw the babe with His mother Mary, they prostrated themselves and did Him homage, and opening their treasure-chests offered gifts to Him—gold, frankincense, and myrrh. 12But being forbidden by God in a dream to return to Herod, they went back to their own country by a different route.

The Flight to Egypt

(Hosea 11:1–7)

13When they were gone, and angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream and said, "Rise: take the babe and His mother and escape to Egypt, and remain there till I bring you word. For Herod is about to make search for the child in order to destroy Him."

14So Joseph roused himself and took the babe and His mother by night and departed into Egypt.

15There he remained till Herod's death, that what the Lord had said through the Prophet might be fulfilled, "Out of Egypt I called My Son."

Weeping and Great Mourning

(Jeremiah 31:1–25)

16Then Herod, finding that the Magi had trifled with him, was furious, and sent and massacred all the boys under two years of age, in Bethlehem and all its neighbourhood, according to the date he had so carefully ascertained from the Magi. 17Then were these words, spoken by the Prophet Jeremiah, fulfilled,

18"A voice was heard in Ramah, wailing and bitter lamentation: It was Rachel bewailing her children, and she refused to be comforted because there were no more."

The Return to Nazareth

(Luke 2:39–40)

19But after Herod's death an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, and said to him, 20"Rise from sleep, and take the child and His mother, and go into the land of Israel, for those who were seeking the child's life are dead." 21So he roused himself and took the child and His mother and came into the land of Israel. 22But hearing that Archelaus had succeeded his father Herod on the throne of Judaea, he was afraid to go there; and being instructed by God in a dream he withdrew into Galilee, 23and went and settled in a town called Nazareth, in order that these words spoken through the Prophets might be fulfilled, "He shall be called a Nazarene."

The Mission of John the Baptist

(Isaiah 40:1–5; Mark 1:1–8; Luke 3:1–20; John 1:19–28)

1About this time John the Baptist made his appearance, preaching in the Desert of Judaea. 2"Repent," he said, "for the Kingdom of the Heavens is now close at hand."

3He it is who was spoken of through the Prophet Isaiah when he said, "The voice of one crying aloud, 'In the desert prepare ye a road for the Lord: make His highway straight.'"

7But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming for baptism, he exclaimed, "O vipers' brood, who has warned you to flee from the coming wrath? 8Therefore let your lives prove your change of heart; 9and do not imagine that you can say to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our forefather,' for I tell you that God can raise up descendants for Abraham from these stones. 10And already the axe is lying at the root of the trees, so that every tree which does not produce good fruit will quickly be hewn down and thrown into the fire.

11I indeed am baptizing you in water on a profession of repentance; but He who is coming after me is mightier than I: His sandals I am not worthy to carry for a moment; He will baptize you in the Holy Spirit and in fire. 12His winnowing-shovel is in His hand, and He will make a thorough clearance of His threshing-floor, gathering His wheat into the storehouse, but burning up the chaff in unquenchable fire."

The Baptism of Jesus

(Mark 1:9–11; Luke 3:21–22; John 1:29–34)

13Just at that time Jesus, coming from Galilee to the Jordan, presents Himself to John to be baptized by him. 14John protested. "It is I," he said, "who have need to be baptized by you, and do you come to me?" 15"Let it be so on this occasion," Jesus replied; "for so we ought to fulfil every religious duty." Then he consented; 16and Jesus was baptized, and immediately went up from the water. At that moment the heavens opened, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and alighting upon Him, 17while a voice came from Heaven, saying, "This is My Son, the dearly loved, in whom is My delight."

Matthew 4

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

The Temptation of Jesus

(Mark 1:12–13; Luke 4:1–13)

1At that time Jesus was led up by the Spirit into the Desert in order to be tempted by the Devil. 2There He fasted for forty days and nights; and after that He suffered from hunger. 3So the Tempter came and said, "If you are the Son of God, command these stones to turn into loaves." 4"It is written," replied Jesus, "It is not on bread alone that a man shall live, but on whatsoever God shall appoint."

5Then the Devil took Him to the Holy City and caused Him to stand on the roof of the Temple,

6and said, "If you are God's Son, throw yourself down; for it is written, "To His angels He will give orders concerning thee, and on their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any moment thou shouldst strike thy foot against a stone."

7"Again it is written," replied Jesus, "Thou shalt not put the Lord thy God to the proof."

8Then the Devil took Him to the top of an exceedingly lofty mountain, from which he caused Him to see all the Kingdoms of the world and their splendour, 9and said to Him, "All this I will give you, if you will kneel down and do me homage." 10"Begone, Satan!" Jesus replied; "for it is written, 'To the Lord thy God thou shalt do homage, and to Him alone shalt thou render worship.” 11 Thereupon the Devil left Him, and angels at once came and ministered to Him.

Jesus Begins His Ministry

(Isaiah 9:1–7; Mark 1:14–15; Luke 4:14–15)

12 Now when Jesus heard that John was thrown into prison, He withdrew into Galilee, 13 and leaving Nazareth He went and settled at Capernaum, a town by the Lake on the frontiers of Zebulun and Naphtali, 14 in order that these words, spoken through the Prophet Isaiah, might be fulfilled, 15 “Zebulun’s land and Naphtali’s land; the road by the Lake; the country beyond the Jordan; Galilee of the Nations!

16 The people who were dwelling in darkness have seen a brilliant light; and on those who were dwelling in the region of the shadow of death, on them light has dawned.”

17 From that time Jesus began to preach. “Repent,” He said, “for the Kingdom of the Heavens is now close at hand.”

The First Disciples

(Mark 1:16–20; Luke 5:1–11; John 1:35–42)

18 And walking along the shore of the Lake of Galilee He saw two brothers—Simon called Peter and his brother Andrew—throwing a drag-net into the Lake; for they were fishers.

19 And He said to them, “Come and follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.” 20 So they immediately left their nets and followed Him. As He went further on, 21 He saw two other brothers, James the son of Zabdi and his brother John, in the boat with their father Zabdi mending their nets; and He called them. 22 And they at once left the boat and their father, and followed Him.

Jesus Heals the Multitudes

(Mark 3:7–12; Luke 6:17–19)

23 Then Jesus travelled through all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the Good News of the Kingdom, and curing every kind of disease and infirmity among the people.

24 Thus His fame spread through all Syria; and they brought all the sick to Him, the people who were suffering from various diseases and pains—demoniacs, epileptics, paralytics; and He cured them. 25 And great crowds followed Him, coming from Galilee, from the Ten Towns, from Jerusalem, and from beyond the district on the other side of the Jordan.

The Sermon on the Mount

¹Seeing the multitude of people, Jesus went up the Hill. There He seated Himself, and when His disciples came to Him, ²He proceeded to teach them, and said:

The Beatitudes

(Psalm 1:1–6; Luke 6:20–23)

³“Blessed are the poor in spirit, for to them belongs the Kingdom of the Heavens.

⁴“Blessed are the mourners, for they shall be comforted.

⁵“Blessed are the meek, for they as heirs shall obtain possession of the earth.

⁶“Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be completely satisfied.

⁷“Blessed are the compassionate, for they shall receive compassion.

⁸“Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.

⁹“Blessed are the peacemakers, for it is they who will be recognized as sons of God.

¹⁰“Blessed are those who have borne persecution in the cause of Righteousness, for to them belongs the Kingdom of the Heavens.

¹¹“Blessed are you when they have insulted and persecuted you, and have said every cruel thing about you falsely for my sake. ¹²Be joyful and triumphant, because your reward is great in the Heavens; for so were the Prophets before you persecuted.

Salt and Light

(Mark 9:49–50; Luke 14:34–35; Philipians 2:12–18)

¹³“You are the salt of the earth; but if salt has become tasteless, in what way can it regain its saltiness? It is no longer good for anything but to be thrown away and trodden on by the passers by.

¹⁴“You are the light of the world; a town cannot be hid if built on a hill-top. ¹⁵Nor is a lamp lighted to be put under a bushel, but on the lampstand; and then it gives light to all in the house. ¹⁶Just so let your light shine before all men, in order that they may see your holy lives and may give glory to your Father who is in Heaven.

The Fulfillment of the Law

¹⁷“Do not for a moment suppose that I have come to abrogate the Law or the Prophets: I have not come to abrogate them but to give them their completion. ¹⁸Solemnly I tell you that until Heaven and earth pass away, not one iota or smallest detail will pass away from the Law until all has taken place. ¹⁹Whoever therefore breaks one of these least commandments and teaches others to break them, will be called the least in the Kingdom of the Heavens; but whoever practises them and teaches them, he will be acknowledged as great in the Kingdom of the Heavens.

²⁰For I assure you that unless your righteousness greatly surpasses that of the Scribes and the Pharisees, you will certainly not find entrance into the Kingdom of the Heavens.

Anger and Reconciliation

(Luke 12:57–59)

21“You have heard that it was said to the ancients, ‘Thou shalt not commit murder’, and whoever commits murder will be answerable to the magistrate. 22But I say to you that every one who becomes angry with his brother shall be answerable to the magistrate; that whoever says to his brother ‘Raca,’ shall be answerable to the Sanhedrin; and that whoever says, ‘You fool!’ shall be liable to the Gehenna of Fire. 23If therefore when you are offering your gift upon the altar, you remember that your brother has a grievance against you, 24leave your gift there before the altar, and go and make friends with your brother first, and then return and proceed to offer your gift. 25Come to terms without delay with your opponent while you are yet with him on the way to the court; for fear he should obtain judgement from the magistrate against you, and the magistrate should give you in custody to the officer and you be thrown into prison. 26I solemnly tell you that you will certainly not be released till you have paid the very last farthing.

Adultery

(Leviticus 18:1–30)

27“You have heard that it was said, ‘Thou shalt not commit adultery.’ 28But I tell you that whoever looks at a woman and cherishes lustful thoughts has already in his heart become guilty with regard to her. 29If therefore your eye, even the right eye, is a snare to you, tear it out and away with it; it is better for you that one member should be destroyed rather than that your whole body should be thrown into Gehenna. 30And if your right hand is a snare to you, cut it off and away with it; it is better for you that one member should be destroyed rather than that your whole body should go into Gehenna.

Divorce

(Deuteronomy 24:1–5; Luke 16:18)

31“It was also said, ‘If any man puts away his wife, let him give her a written notice of divorce.’ 32But I tell you that every man who puts away his wife except on the ground of unfaithfulness causes her to commit adultery, and whoever marries her when so divorced commits adultery.

Oaths and Vows

(Numbers 30:1–16)

33“Again, you have heard that it was said to the ancients, ‘Thou shalt not swear falsely, but shalt perform thy vows to the Lord.’ 34But I tell you not to swear at all; neither by Heaven, for it is God’s throne; 35nor by the earth, for it is the footstool under His feet; nor by Jerusalem, for it is the City of the Great King. 36And do not swear by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black. 37But let your language be, ‘Yes, yes,’ or ‘No, no.’ Anything in excess of this comes from the Evil one.

Love Your Enemies

(Leviticus 24:17–23; Luke 6:27–36)

38“You have heard that it was said, ‘Eye for eye, tooth for tooth.’ 39But I tell you not to resist a wicked man, but if any one strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other to him as well. 40If any one wishes to go to law with you and to deprive you of your under garment, let him take your outer one also. 41And whoever shall compel you to convey his goods one mile, go with him two. 42To him who asks, give: from him who would borrow, turn not away.

43“You have heard that it was said, ‘Thou shalt love thy neighbour and hate thine enemy.’ 44But I command you all, love your enemies, and pray for your persecutors; 45that so you may become true sons of your Father in Heaven; for He causes His sun to rise on the wicked as well as the good, and sends rain upon those who do right and those who do wrong. 46For if you love only those who love you, what reward have you earned? Do not even the tax-gatherers do that? 47And if you salute only your near relatives, what praise is due to you? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? 48You however are to be complete in goodness, as your Heavenly Father is complete.

Giving to the Needy

(Deuteronomy 15:7–11)

1“But beware of doing your good actions in the sight of men, in order to attract their gaze; if you do, there is no reward for you with your Father who is in Heaven.

2When you give in charity, never blow a trumpet before you as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and streets in order that their praises may be sung by men. I solemnly tell you that they already have their reward. 3But when you are giving in charity, let not your left hand perceive what your right hand is doing, 4that your charities may be in secret; and then your Father—He who sees in secret—will recompense you.

The Lord’s Prayer

(Luke 11:1–4)

5“And when praying, you must not be like the hypocrites. They are fond of standing and praying in the synagogues or at the corners of the wider streets, in order that men may see them. I solemnly tell you that they already have their reward. 6But you, whenever you pray, go into your own room and shut the door: then pray to your Father who is in secret, and your Father—He who sees in secret—will recompense you.

7“And when praying, do not use needless repetitions as the Gentiles do, for they expect to be listened to because of their multitude of words. 8Do not, however, imitate them; for your Father knows what things you need before ever you ask Him.

9“In this manner therefore pray: ‘Our Father who art in Heaven, may Thy name be kept holy;

10let Thy kingdom come; let Thy will be done, as in Heaven so on earth;

11give us to-day our bread for the day;

12and forgive us our shortcomings, as we also have forgiven those who have failed in their duty towards us;

13and bring us not into temptation, but rescue us from the Evil one.' 14"For if you forgive others their offences, your Heavenly Father will forgive you also; 15but if you do not forgive others their offences, neither will your Father forgive yours.

Proper Fasting

16"When any of you fast, never assume gloomy looks as the hypocrites do; for they disfigure their faces in order that it may be evident to men that they are fasting. I solemnly tell you that they already have their reward. 17But, whenever you fast, pour perfume on your hair and wash your face, 18that it may not be apparent to men that you are fasting, but to your Father who is in secret; and your Father—He who sees in secret—will recompense you.

Treasures in Heaven

(Luke 12:32–34)

19"Do not lay up stores of wealth for yourselves on earth, where the moth and wear-and-tear destroy, and where thieves break in and steal. 20But amass wealth for yourselves in Heaven, where neither the moth nor wear-and-tear destroys, and where thieves do not break in and steal. 21For where your wealth is, there also will your heart be.

The Lamp of the Body

(Luke 11:33–36)

22"The eye is the lamp of the body. If then your eyesight is good, your whole body will be well lighted; 23but if your eyesight is bad, your whole body will be dark. If however the very light within you is darkness, how dense must the darkness be!

24"No man can be the bondservant of two masters; for either he will dislike one and like the other, or he will attach himself to one and think slightly of the other. You cannot be the bondservants both of God and of gold.

Do Not Worry

(Luke 12:22–31)

25For this reason I charge you not to be over-anxious about your lives, inquiring what you are to eat or what you are to drink, nor yet about your bodies, inquiring what clothes you are to put on. Is not the life more precious than its food, and the body than its clothing? 26Look at the birds which fly in the air: they do not sow or reap or store up in barns, but your Heavenly Father feeds them: are not you of much greater value than they? 27Which of you by being over-anxious can add a single foot to his height? 28And why be anxious about clothing? Learn a lesson from the wild lilies. Watch their growth. They neither toil nor spin, 29and yet I tell you that not even Solomon in all his magnificence could array himself like one of these. 30And if God so clothes the wild herbage which to-day flourishes and to-morrow is thrown into the oven, is it not much more certain that He will clothe you, you men of little faith? 31Do not be over-anxious, therefore, asking 'What shall we eat?' or 'What shall we drink?' or 'What shall we wear?' 32For all these are questions that Gentiles are always asking; but your Heavenly Father knows that you need these things—all of them. 33But make His Kingdom and righteousness your chief aim, and then these things shall all be given you in addition.

34Do not be over-anxious, therefore, about to-morrow, for to-morrow will bring its own cares. Enough for each day are its own troubles.

Judging Others

(Luke 6:37–42; Romans 14:1–12)

¹“Judge not, that you may not be judged; ²for your own judgement will be dealt—and your own measure meted—to yourselves. ³And why do you look at the splinter in your brother’s eye, and not notice the beam which is in your own eye? ⁴Or how say to your brother, ‘Allow me to take the splinter out of your eye,’ while the beam is in your own eye? ⁵Hypocrite, first take the beam out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly how to remove the splinter from your brother’s eye.

⁶“Give not that which is holy to the dogs, nor throw your pearls to the swine; otherwise they will trample them under their feet and then turn and attack you.

Ask, Seek, Knock

(Luke 11:5–13)

⁷“Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and the door will be opened to you. ⁸For it is always he who asks that receives, he who seeks that finds, and he who knocks that has the door opened to him. ⁹What man is there among you, who if his son shall ask him for bread will offer him a stone? ¹⁰Or if the son shall ask him for a fish will offer him a snake? ¹¹If you then, imperfect as you are, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in Heaven give good things to those who ask Him!

¹²Everything, therefore, be it what it may, that you would have men do to you, do you also the same to them; for in this the Law and the Prophets are summed up.

The Narrow Gate

(Luke 13:22–30)

¹³“Enter by the narrow gate; for wide is the gate and broad the road which leads to ruin, and many there are who enter by it; ¹⁴because narrow is the gate and contracted the road which leads to Life, and few are those who find it.

A Tree and Its Fruit

(Luke 6:43–45)

¹⁵“Beware of the false teachers—men who come to you in sheep’s fleeces, but beneath that disguise they are ravenous wolves. ¹⁶By their fruits you will easily recognize them. Are grapes gathered from thorns or figs from brambles? ¹⁷Just so every good tree produces good fruit, but a poisonous tree produces bad fruit. ¹⁸A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor a poisonous tree good fruit. ¹⁹Every tree which does not yield good fruit is cut down and thrown aside for burning. ²⁰So by their fruits at any rate, you will easily recognize them.

²¹“Not every one who says to me, ‘Master, Master,’ will enter the Kingdom of the Heavens, but only those who are obedient to my Father who is in Heaven. ²²Many will say to me on that day, ‘Master,

Master, have we not prophesied in Thy name, and in Thy name expelled demons, and in Thy name performed many mighty works?' ²³"And then I will tell them plainly, "I never knew you: begone from me, you doers of wickedness.'

The House on the Rock

(Luke 6:46–49)

²⁴"Every one who hears these my teachings and acts upon them will be found to resemble a wise man who builds his house upon rock; ²⁵and the heavy rain falls, the swollen torrents come, and the winds blow and beat against the house; yet it does not fall, for its foundation is on rock. ²⁶And every one who hears these my teachings and does not act upon them will be found to resemble a fool who builds his house upon sand. ²⁷The heavy rain descends, the swollen torrents come, and the winds blow and burst upon the house, and it falls; and disastrous is the fall."

The Authority of Jesus

²⁸When Jesus had concluded this discourse, the crowds were filled with amazement at His teaching, ²⁹for He had been teaching them as one who had authority, and not as their Scribes taught.

The Leper's Prayer

(Leviticus 14:1–32; Mark 1:40–45; Luke 5:12–16)

¹Upon descending from the hill country He was followed by immense crowds. ²And a leper came to Him, and throwing himself at His feet, said, "Sir, if only you are willing you are able to cleanse me." ³So Jesus put out His hand and touched him, and said, "I am willing: be cleansed." Instantly he was cleansed from his leprosy; ⁴and Jesus said to him, "Be careful to tell no one, but go and show yourself to the priest, and offer the gift which Moses appointed as evidence for them."

The Faith of the Centurion

(Luke 7:1–10; John 4:43–54)

⁵After His entry into Capernaum a Captain came to Him, and entreated Him. ⁶"Sir," he said, "my servant at home is lying ill with paralysis, and is suffering great pain." ⁷"I will come and cure him," said Jesus. ⁸"Sir," replied the Captain, "I am not a fit person to receive you under my roof: merely say the word, and my servant will be cured. ⁹For I myself am also under authority, and have soldiers under me. To one I say 'Go,' and he goes, to another 'Come,' and he comes, and to my slave 'Do this or that,' and he does it." ¹⁰Jesus listened to this reply, and was astonished, and said to the people following Him, "I solemnly tell you that in no Israelite have I found faith as great as this. ¹¹And I tell you that many will come from the east and from the west and will recline at table with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob in the Kingdom of the Heavens, ¹²while the natural heirs of the Kingdom will be driven out into the darkness outside: there will be the weeping aloud and the gnashing of teeth." ¹³And Jesus said to the Captain, "Go, and just as you have believed, so be it for you." And the servant recovered precisely at that time.

Jesus Heals at Peter's House

(Mark 1:29–34; Luke 4:38–41)

14After this Jesus went to the house of Peter, whose mother-in-law he found ill in bed with fever. 15He touched her hand and the fever left her: and then she rose and waited upon Him. 16In the evening many demoniacs were brought to Him, and with a word He expelled the demons; and He cured all the sick, 17in order that this prediction of the Prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled, "He took on Him our weaknesses, and bore the burden of our diseases."

The Cost of Discipleship

(Luke 9:57–62; Luke 14:25–33; John 6:59–66)

18Seeing great crowds about Him Jesus had given directions to cross to the other side of the Lake, 19when a Scribe came and said to Him, "Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go." 20"Foxes have holes," replied Jesus, "and birds have nests; but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay His head." 21Another of the disciples said to Him, "Sir, allow me first to go and bury my father." 22"Follow me," said Jesus, "and leave the dead to bury their own dead."

Jesus Calms the Storm

(Psalm 107:1–43; Mark 4:35–41; Luke 8:22–25)

23Then He went on board a fishing-boat, and His disciples followed Him. 24But suddenly there arose a great storm on the Lake, so that the waves threatened to engulf the boat; but He was asleep. 25So they came and woke Him, crying, "Master, save us, we are drowning!" 26"Why are you so easily frightened," He replied, "you men of little faith?" Then He rose and reproved the winds and the waves, and there was a perfect calm; 27and the men, filled with amazement, exclaimed, "What kind of man is this? for the very winds and waves obey him!"

The Demons and the Pigs

(Mark 5:1–20; Luke 8:26–39)

28On His arrival at the other side, in the country of the Gadarenes, there met Him two men possessed by demons, coming from among the tombs: they were so dangerously fierce that no one was able to pass that way. 29They cried aloud, "What hast Thou to do with us, Thou Son of God? Hast Thou come here to torment us before the time?" 30Now at some distance from them a vast herd of swine were feeding. 31So the demons entreated Him. "If Thou drivest us out," they said, "send us into the herd of swine." 32"Go," He replied. Then they came out from the men and went into the swine, whereupon the entire herd instantly rushed down the cliff into the Lake and perished in the water. 33The swineherds fled, and went and told the whole story in the town, including what had happened to the demoniacs. 34So at once the whole population came out to meet Jesus; and when they saw Him, they besought Him to leave their country.

Jesus Heals a Paralytic

(Mark 2:1–12; Luke 5:17–26)

1Accordingly He went on board, and crossing over came to His own town.

2Here they brought to Him a paralytic lying on a bed. Seeing their faith Jesus said to the paralytic, "Take courage, my child; your sins are pardoned." 3"Such language is impious," said some of the Scribes among themselves. 4Knowing their thoughts Jesus said, "Why are you cherishing evil thoughts in your hearts? 5Why, which is easier?—to say, 'Your sins are pardoned,' or to say 'Rise up and walk'? 6But, to prove to you that the Son of Man has authority on earth to pardon sins"—He then says to the paralytic, "Rise, and take up your bed and go home." 7And he got up, and went off home. 8And the crowds were awe-struck when they saw it, and ascribed the glory to God who had entrusted such power to a man.

Jesus Calls Matthew

(Mark 2:13–17; Luke 5:27–32)

9Passing on thence Jesus saw a man called Matthew sitting at the Toll Office, and said to him, "Follow me." And he arose, and followed Him.

10And while He was reclining at table, a large number of tax-gathers and notorious sinners were of the party with Jesus and His disciples. 11The Pharisees noticed this, and they inquired of His disciples, "Why does your Teacher eat with the tax-gatherers and notorious sinners?" 12He heard the question and replied, "It is not men in good health who require a doctor, but the sick. 13But go and learn what this means, 'It is mercy that I desire, not sacrifice'; for I did not come to appeal to the righteous, but to sinners."

Questions about Fasting

(Mark 2:18–20; Luke 5:33–35)

14At that time John's disciples came and asked Jesus, "Why do we and the Pharisees fast, but your disciples do not?" 15"Can the bridegroom's party mourn," He replied, "as long as the bridegroom is with them? But other days will come (when the Bridegroom has been taken from them)

The Patches and the Wineskins

(Mark 2:21–22; Luke 5:36–39)

16No one ever mends an old cloak with a patch of newly woven cloth. Otherwise, the patch put on would tear away some of the old, and a worse hole would be made. 17Nor do people pour new wine into old wineskins. Otherwise, the skins would split, the wine would escape, and the skins be destroyed. But they put new wine into fresh skins, and both are saved."

The Healing Touch of Jesus

(Mark 5:21–43; Luke 8:40–56)

18While He was thus speaking, a Ruler came up and profoundly bowing said, "My daughter is just dead; but come and put your hand upon her and she will return to life." 19And Jesus rose and followed him, as did also His disciples.

20But a woman who for twelve years had been afflicted with haemorrhage came behind Him and touched the tassel of His cloak; 21for she said to herself, "If I but touch His cloak, I shall be cured." 22And Jesus turned and saw her, and said, "Take courage, daughter; your faith has cured you." And the woman was restored to health from that moment.

23Entering the Ruler's house, Jesus saw the flute-players and the crowd loudly wailing, 24and He said, "Go out of the room; the little girl is not dead, but asleep." And they laughed at Him.

25When however the place was cleared of the crowd, Jesus went in, and on His taking the little girl by the hand, she rose up. 26And the report of this spread throughout all that district.

Jesus Heals the Blind and Mute

(Mark 7:31–37)

27As Jesus passed on, two blind men followed Him, shouting and saying, "Pity us, Son of David." 28And when He had gone indoors, they came to Him. "Do you believe that I can do this?" He asked them.

"Yes, Sir," they replied. 29So He touched their eyes and said, "According to your faith let it be to you."

30Then their eyes were opened. And assuming a stern tone Jesus said to them, "Be careful to let no one know." 31But they went out and published His fame in all that district.

32And as they were leaving His presence a dumb demoniac was brought to Him. 33When the demon was expelled, the dumb man could speak. And the crowds exclaimed in astonishment, "Never was such a thing seen in Israel." 34But the Pharisees maintained, "It is by the power of the Prince of the demons that he drives out the demons."

The Lord of the Harvest

(Luke 10:1–12)

35And Jesus continued His circuits through all the towns and the villages, teaching in their synagogues and proclaiming the Good News of the Kingdom, and curing every kind of disease and infirmity.

36And when He saw the crowds He was touched with pity for them, because they were distressed and were fainting on the ground like sheep which have no shepherd. 37Then He said to His disciples, "The harvest is abundant, but the reapers are few; 38therefore entreat the Owner of the Harvest to send out reapers into His fields."

The Twelve Apostles

(Mark 3:13–19; Luke 6:12–16)

1Then He called to Him His twelve disciples and gave them authority over foul spirits, to drive them out; and to cure every kind of disease and infirmity.

2Now the names of the twelve Apostles were these: first, Simon called Peter, and his brother Andrew; James the son of Zabdi, and his brother John; 3Philip and Bartholomew, Thomas and Matthew the tax-gatherer, James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus; 4Simon the Cananaean, and Judas the Iscariot, who also betrayed Him.

The Ministry of the Twelve

(Mark 6:7–13; Luke 9:1–6)

⁵These twelve Jesus sent on a mission, after giving them their instructions: "Go not," He said, "among the Gentiles, and enter no Samaritan town; ⁶but, instead of that, go to the lost sheep of Israel's race. ⁷And as you go, preach and say, 'The Kingdom of the Heavens is close at hand.' ⁸Cure the sick, raise the dead to life, cleanse lepers, drive out demons: you have received without payment, give without payment. ⁹"Provide no gold, nor even silver nor copper to carry in your pockets; ¹⁰no bag for your journey, nor change of linen, nor shoes, nor stick; for the labourer deserves his food. ¹¹"Whatever town or village you enter, inquire for some good man; and make his house your home till you leave the place. ¹²When you enter the house, salute it; ¹³and if the house deserves it, the peace you invoke shall come upon it. If not, your peace shall return to you. ¹⁴And whoever refuses to receive you or even to listen to your Message, as you leave that house or town, shake off the very dust from your feet. ¹⁵I solemnly tell you that it will be more endurable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah on the day of Judgement than for that town.

Sheep among Wolves

(2 Timothy 1:3–12)

¹⁶"Remember it is I who am sending you out, as sheep into the midst of wolves; prove yourselves as sagacious as serpents, and as innocent as doves. ¹⁷But beware of men; for they will deliver you up to appear before Sanhedrins, and will flog you in their synagogues; ¹⁸and you will even be put on trial before governors and kings for my sake, to bear witness to them and to the Gentiles. ¹⁹But when they have delivered you up, have no anxiety as to how you shall speak or what you shall say; for at that very time it shall be given you what to say; ²⁰for it is not you who will speak: it will be the Spirit of your Father speaking through you.

²¹Brother will betray brother to death, and father, child; and children will rise against their own parents and will put them to death. ²²And you will be objects of universal hatred because you are called by my name; but he who holds out to the End—he will be saved.

²³Whenever they persecute you in one town, escape to the next; for I solemnly tell you that you will not have gone the round of all the towns of Israel before the Son of Man comes.

²⁴"The learner is never superior to his teacher, and the servant is never superior to his master. ²⁵Enough for the learner to be on a level with his teacher, and for the servant to be on a level with his master. If they have called the master of the house Baal-zebul, how much more will they slander his servants?

Fear God Alone

(Luke 12:4–7)

²⁶Fear them not, however; there is nothing veiled which will not be uncovered, nor secret which will not become known. ²⁷What I tell you in the dark, speak in the light; and what is whispered into your ear, proclaim upon the roofs of the houses. ²⁸"And do not fear those who kill the body, but cannot kill the soul; but rather fear him who is able to destroy both soul and body in Gehenna. ²⁹Do not two sparrows sell for a halfpenny? Yet not one of them will fall to the ground without your Father's leave. ³⁰But as for you, the very hairs on your heads are all numbered. ³¹Away then with fear; you are more precious than a multitude of sparrows.

Confessing Christ

(Luke 12:8–12)

32“Every man who acknowledges me before men I also will acknowledge before my Father who is in Heaven. 33But whoever disowns me before men I also will disown before my Father who is in Heaven.

Not Peace but a Sword

(Micah 7:1–6; Luke 12:49–53)

34“Do not suppose that I came to bring peace to the earth: I did not come to bring peace but a sword.

35For I came to set a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; 36and a man’s own family will be his foes.

37Any one who loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me, and any one who loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me; 38and any one who does not take up his cross and follow where I lead is not worthy of me. 39To save your life is to lose it, and to lose your life for my sake is to save it.

The Reward of Service

(2 Kings 4:8–17)

40“Whoever receives you receives me, and whoever receives me receives Him who sent me. 41Every one who receives a prophet, because he is a prophet, will receive a prophet’s reward, and every one who receives a righteous man, because he is a righteous man, will receive a righteous man’s reward.

42And whoever gives one of these little ones even a cup of cold water to drink because he is a disciple, I solemnly tell you that he will not lose his reward.”

John’s Inquiry

(Luke 7:18–23)

1When Jesus had concluded His instructions to His twelve disciples, He left in order to teach and to proclaim His Message in the neighbouring towns.

2Now John had heard in prison about the Christ’s doings, and he sent some of his disciples to inquire:

3“Are you the Coming One, or is it a different person that we are to expect?” 4“Go and report to John what you see and hear,” replied Jesus; 5“blind eyes receive sight, and cripples walk; lepers are cleansed, and deaf ears hear; the dead are raised to life, and the poor have the Good News proclaimed to them; 6and blessed is every one who does not stumble and fall because of my claims.”

Jesus Testifies about John

(Malachi 3:1–5; Luke 7:24–35)

7When the messengers had taken their leave, Jesus proceeded to say to the multitude concerning John, “What did you go out into the Desert to gaze at? A reed waving in the wind? 8But what did you go out to see? A man luxuriously dressed? Those who wear luxurious clothes are to be found in kings’ palaces. 9But why did you go out? To see a prophet? Yes, I tell you, and far more than a prophet.

10This is he of whom it is written, "See I am sending My messenger before Thy face, and he will make Thy road ready before Thee."

11"I solemnly tell you that among all of woman born no greater has ever been raised up than John the Baptist; yet one who is of lower rank in the Kingdom of the Heavens is greater than he. 12But from the time of John the Baptist till now, the Kingdom of the Heavens has been suffering violent assault, and the violent have been seizing it by force. 13For all the Prophets and the Law taught until John. 14And (if you are willing to receive it) 15Listen, every one who has ears!

16"But to what shall I compare the present generation? It is like children sitting in the open places, who call to their playmates. 17"We have played the flute to you,' they say, 'and you have not danced: we have sung dirges, and you have not beaten your breasts.' 18"For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, 'He has a demon.' 19The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they exclaim, 'See this man!—given to gluttony and tippling, and a friend of tax-gatherers and notorious sinners!' And yet Wisdom is vindicated by her actions."

Woe to the Unrepentant

(Luke 10:13–16)

20Then began He to upbraid the towns where most of His mighty works had been done—because they had not repented.

21"Alas for thee, Chorazin!" He cried. "Alas for thee, Bethsaida! For had the mighty works been done in Tyre and Sidon which have been done in both of you, they would long ere now have repented, covered with sackcloth and ashes. 22Only I tell you that it will be more endurable for Tyre and Sidon on the day of Judgement than for you. 23And thou, Capernaum, shalt thou be exalted even to Heaven? Even to Hades shalt thou descend. For had the mighty works been done in Sodom which have been done in thee, it would have remained until now. 24Only I tell you all, that it will be more endurable for the land of Sodom on the day of Judgement than for thee."

Rest for the Weary

(Luke 10:21–24)

25About that time Jesus exclaimed, "I heartily praise Thee, Father, Lord of Heaven and of earth, that Thou hast hidden these things from sages and men of discernment, and hast unveiled them to babes. 26Yes, Father, for such has been Thy gracious will. 27"All things have been handed over to me by my Father, and no one fully knows the Son except the Father, nor does any one fully know the Father except the Son and all to whom the Son chooses to reveal Him.

28"Come to me, all you toiling and burdened ones, and I will give you rest. 29Take my yoke upon you and learn from me; for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. 30For it is good to bear my yoke, and my burden is light."

Matthew 12

The Lord of the Sabbath

(1 Samuel 21:1–7; Mark 2:23–28; Luke 6:1–5)

¹About that time Jesus passed on the Sabbath through the wheatfields; and His disciples became hungry, and began to gather ears of wheat and eat them. ²But the Pharisees saw it and said to Him, "Look! your disciples are doing what the Law forbids them to do on the Sabbath." ³"Have you never read," He replied, "what David did when he and his men were hungry? ⁴how he entered the House of God and ate the Presented Loaves, which it was not lawful for him or his men to eat, nor for any except the priests? ⁵And have you not read in the Law how on the Sabbath the priests in the Temple break the Sabbath without incurring guilt? ⁶But I tell you that there is here that which is greater than the Temple. ⁷And if you knew what this means, 'It is mercy I desire, not sacrifice', you would not have condemned those who are without guilt.

⁸For the Son of Man is the Lord of the Sabbath."

Jesus Heals on the Sabbath

(Mark 3:1–6; Luke 6:6–11)

⁹Departing thence He went to their synagogue, ¹⁰where there was a man with a shrivelled arm. And they questioned Him, "Is it right to cure people on the Sabbath?" Their intention was to bring a charge against Him. ¹¹"Which of you is there," He replied, "who, if he has but a single sheep and it falls into a hole on the Sabbath, will not lay hold of it and lift it out? ¹²Is not a man, however, far superior to a sheep? Therefore it is right to do good on the Sabbath." ¹³Then He said to the man, "Stretch out your arm." And he stretched it out, and it was restored quite sound like the other. ¹⁴But the Pharisees after leaving the synagogue consulted together against Him, how they might destroy Him.

God's Chosen Servant

(Isaiah 42:1–9)

¹⁵Aware of this, Jesus departed elsewhere; and a great number of people followed Him, all of whom He cured. ¹⁶But He gave them strict injunctions not to blaze abroad His doings, ¹⁷that those words of the Prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled, ¹⁸"This is My servant whom I have chosen, My dearly loved One in whom My soul takes pleasure. I will put My spirit upon Him, and He will announce justice to the nations.

¹⁹He will not wrangle or raise His voice, nor will His voice be heard in the broadways.

²⁰A crushed reed He will not utterly break, nor will He quench the still smouldering wick, until He has led on Justice to victory.

²¹And on His name shall the nations rest their hopes."

A House Divided

(Mark 3:20–27; Luke 11:14–23)

²²At that time a demoniac was brought to Him, blind and dumb; and He cured him, so that the dumb man could speak and see. ²³And the crowds of people were all filled with amazement and said, "Can this be the Son of David?" ²⁴The Pharisees heard it and said, "This man only expels demons by the power of Baal-zebul, the Prince of demons."

25Knowing their thoughts He said to them, "Every kingdom in which civil war has raged suffers desolation; and every city or house in which there is internal strife will be brought low. 26And if Satan is expelling Satan, he has begun to make war on himself: how therefore shall his kingdom last? 27And if it is by Baal-zebul's power that I expel the demons, by whose power do your disciples expel them? They therefore shall be your judges. 28But if it is by the power of the Spirit of God that I expel the demons, it is evident that the Kingdom of God has come upon you. 29Again, how can any one enter the house of a strong man and carry off his goods, unless first of all he masters and secures the strong man: then he will ransack his house.

30"The man who is not with me is against me, and he who is not gathering with me is scattering abroad.

The Unpardonable Sin

(Mark 3:28–30)

31This is why I tell you that men may find forgiveness for every other sin and impious word, but that for impious speaking against the Holy Spirit they shall find no forgiveness. 32And whoever shall speak against the Son of Man may obtain forgiveness; but whoever speaks against the Holy Spirit, neither in this nor in the coming age shall he obtain forgiveness."

Good and Bad Fruit

(Luke 6:43–45)

33"Either grant the tree to be wholesome and its fruit wholesome, or the tree poisonous and its fruit poisonous; for the tree is known by its fruit. 34O vipers' brood, how can you speak what is good when you are evil? For it is from the overflow of the heart that the mouth speaks. 35A good man from his good store produces good things, and a bad man from his bad store produces bad things. 36But I tell you that for every careless word that men shall speak they will be held accountable on the day of Judgement. 37For each of you by his words shall be justified, or by his words shall be condemned."

The Sign of Jonah

(Jonah 3:1–10; Luke 11:29–32)

38Then He was accosted by some of the Scribes and of the Pharisees who said, "Teacher, we wish to see a sign given by you." 39"Wicked and faithless generation!" He replied, "they clamour for a sign, but none shall be given to them except the sign of the Prophet Jonah. 40For just as Jonah was three days in the sea-monster's belly, so will the Son of Man be three days in the heart of the earth. 41There will stand up men of Nineveh at the Judgement together with the present generation, and will condemn it; because they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and mark! there is One greater than Jonah here. 42The Queen of the south will awake at the Judgement together with the present generation, and will condemn it; because she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and mark! there is One greater than Solomon here.

An Unclean Spirit Returns

(Luke 11:24–26)

43"No sooner however has the foul spirit gone out of the man, then he roams about in places where there is no water, seeking rest but finding none. 44Then he says, 'I will return to my house that I left;' and he comes and finds it unoccupied, swept clean, and in good order. 45Then he goes and brings back with him seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they come in and dwell there; and in the end that man's condition becomes worse than it was at first. So will it be also with the present wicked generation."

Jesus' Mother and Brothers

(Mark 3:31–35; Luke 8:19–21)

46While He was still addressing the people His mother and His brothers were standing on the edge of the crowd desiring to speak to Him. 47So some one told Him, "Your mother and your brothers are standing outside, and desire to speak to you." 48"Who is my mother?" He said to the man; "and who are my brothers?" 49And pointing to His disciples He added, "See here are my mother and my brothers. 50To obey my Father who is in Heaven—that is to be my brother and my sister and my mother."

The Parable of the Sower

(Mark 4:1–9; Luke 8:4–8)

1That same day Jesus had left the house and was sitting on the shore of the Lake, 2when a vast multitude of people crowded round Him. He therefore went on board a boat and sat there, while all the people stood on the shore.

3He then spoke many things to them in figurative language. "The sower goes out," He said, "to sow. 4As he sows, some of the seed falls by the way-side, and the birds come and peck it up. 5Some falls on rocky ground, where it has but scanty soil. It quickly shows itself above ground, because it has no depth of earth; 6but when the sun is risen, it is scorched by the heat, and through having no root it withers up. 7Some falls among the thorns; but the thorns spring up and stifle it. 8But a portion falls upon good ground, and gives a return, some a hundred for one, some sixty, some thirty. 9Listen, every one who has ears!"

The Purpose of Jesus' Parables

(Isaiah 6:1–13; Mark 4:10–12; Luke 8:9–10)

10(And His disciples came and asked Him, "Why do you speak to them in figurative language?" 11"Because," He replied, "while to you it is granted to know the secrets of the Kingdom of the Heavens, to them it is not. 12For whoever has, to him more shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but whoever has not, from him even what he has shall be taken away. 13I speak to them in figurative language for this reason, that while looking they do not see, and while hearing they neither hear nor understand.

14And in regard to them the prophecy of Isaiah is receiving signal fulfilment: "You will hear and hear and by no means understand, and you will look and look and by no means see.

15For this people's mind is stupefied, their hearing has become dull, and their eyes they have closed; to prevent their ever seeing with their eyes, or hearing with their ears, or understanding with their minds, and turning back, so that I might heal them.'

16“But as for you, blessed are your eyes, for they see, and your ears, for they hear. 17For I solemnly tell you that many Prophets and holy men have longed to see the sights you see, and have not seen them, and to hear the words you hear, and have not heard them.

The Parable of the Sower Explained

(Mark 4:13–20; Luke 8:11–15)

18“To you then I will explain the parable of the Sower. 19When a man hears the Message concerning the Kingdom and does not understand it, the Evil one comes and catches away what has been sown in his heart. This is he who has received the seed by the road-side. 20He who has received the seed on the rocky ground is the man who hears the Message and immediately receives it with joy. 21It has struck no root, however, within him. He continues for a time, but when suffering comes, or persecution, because of the Message, he at once stumbles and falls. 22He who has received the seed among the thorns is the man who hears the Message, but the cares of the present age and the delusions of riches quite stifle the Message, and it becomes unfruitful. 23But he who has received the seed on good ground is he who hears and understands. Such hearers give a return, and yield one a hundred for one, another sixty, another thirty.”)

The Parable of the Weeds

(Ezekiel 17:1–10)

24Another parable He put before them. “The Kingdom of the Heavens,” He said, “may be compared to a man who has sown good seed in his field, 25but during the night his enemy comes, and over the first seed he sows darnel among the wheat, and goes away. 26But when the blade shoots up and the grain is formed, then appears the darnel also. 27“So the farmer’s men come and ask him, ‘Sir, was it not good seed that you sowed on your land? Where then does the darnel come from?’ 28“Some enemy has done this,’ he said. ‘Shall we go, and collect it?’ the men inquire. 29“No,’ he replied, ‘for fear that while collecting the darnel you should at the same time root up the wheat with it. 30Leave both to grow together until the harvest, and at harvest-time I will direct the reapers, Collect the darnel first, and make it up into bundles to burn it, but bring all the wheat into my barn.”

The Parable of the Mustard Seed

(Mark 4:30–34; Luke 13:18–19)

31Another parable He put before them. “The Kingdom of the Heavens,” He said, “is like a mustard-seed, which a man takes and sows in his ground. 32It is the smallest of all seeds, and yet when full-grown it is larger than any herb and forms a tree, so that the birds come and build in its branches.”

The Parable of the Leaven

(Luke 13:20–21)

33Another parable He spoke to them. “The Kingdom of the Heavens,” He said, “is like yeast which a woman takes and buries in a bushel of flour, for it to work there till the whole mass has risen.”

I Will Open My Mouth in Parables

(Psalm 78:1–72)

34All this Jesus spoke to the people in figurative language, and except in figurative language He spoke nothing to them,

35in fulfilment of the saying of the Prophet, "I will open my mouth in figurative language, I will utter things kept hidden since the creation of all things."

The Parable of the Weeds Explained

(Zephaniah 1:1–6)

36When He had dismissed the people and had returned to the house, His disciples came to Him with the request, "Explain to us the parable of the darnel sown in the field." 37"The sower of the good seed," He replied, "is the Son of Man; 38the field is the world; the good seed—these are the sons of the Kingdom; the darnel, the sons of the Evil one. 39The enemy who sows the darnel is the Devil; the harvest is the Close of the Age; the reapers are the angels. 40As then the darnel is collected together and burnt up with fire, so will it be at the Close of the Age. 41The Son of Man will commission His angels, and they will gather out of His Kingdom all causes of sin and all who violate His laws; 42and these they will throw into the fiery furnace. There will be the weeping aloud and the gnashing of teeth. 43Then will the righteous shine out like the sun in their Father's Kingdom. Listen, every one who has ears!

The Parables of the Treasure and the Pearl

44"The Kingdom of the Heavens is like treasure buried in the open country, which a man finds, but buries again, and, in his joy about it, goes and sells all he has and buys that piece of ground.

45"Again the Kingdom of the Heavens is like a jewel merchant who is in quest of choice pearls. 46He finds one most costly pearl; he goes away; and though it costs all he has, he buys it.

The Parable of the Net

47"Again the Kingdom of the Heavens is like a draw-net let down into the sea, which encloses fish of all sorts. 48When full, they haul it up on the beach, and sit down and collect the good fish in baskets, while the worthless they throw away. 49So will it be at the Close of the Age. The angels will go forth and separate the wicked from among the righteous, 50and will throw them into the fiery furnace. There will be the weeping aloud and the gnashing of teeth."

51"Have you understood all this?" He asked. "Yes," they said. 52"Therefore," He said, "remember that every Scribe well trained for the Kingdom of the Heavens is like a householder who brings out of his storehouse new things and old."

The Rejection at Nazareth

(Mark 6:1–6; Luke 4:16–30)

53Jesus concluded this series of parables and then departed. 54And He came into His own country and proceeded to teach in their synagogue, so that they were filled with astonishment and exclaimed, "Where did he obtain such wisdom, and these wondrous powers? 55Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary? And are not his brothers, James, Joseph, Simon and Judah? 56And his sisters—are they not all living here among us? Where then did he get all this?" 57So they turned angrily away from Him. But Jesus said to them, "There is no prophet left without honour except in his own country and among his own family." 58And He performed but few mighty deeds there because of their want of faith.

The Beheading of John

(Mark 6:14–29; Luke 9:7–9)

1About that time Herod the Tetrarch heard of the fame of Jesus, 2and he said to his courtiers, "This is John the Baptist: he has come back to life—and that is why these miraculous Powers are working in him."

3For Herod had arrested John, and had put him in chains, and imprisoned him, for the sake of Herodias his brother Philip's wife, 4because John had persistently said to him, "It is not lawful for you to have her." 5And he would have liked to put him to death, but was afraid of the people, because they regarded John as a Prophet.

6But when Herod's birthday came, the daughter of Herodias danced before all the company, and so pleased Herod 7that with an oath he promised to give her whatever she asked. 8So she, instigated by her mother, said, "Give me here on a dish the head of John the Baptist." 9The king was deeply vexed, yet because of his repeated oath and of the guests at his table he ordered it to be given her, 10and he sent and beheaded John in the prison. 11The head was brought on a dish and given to the young girl, and she took it to her mother. 12Then John's disciples went and removed the body and buried it, and came and informed Jesus.

The Feeding of the Five Thousand

(Mark 6:30–44; Luke 9:10–17; John 6:1–15)

13Upon receiving these tidings, Jesus went away by boat to an uninhabited and secluded district; but the people heard of it and followed Him in crowds from the towns by land. 14So Jesus went out and saw an immense multitude, and felt compassion for them, and cured those of them who were out of health.

15But when evening was come, the disciples came to Him and said, "This is an uninhabited place, and the best of the day is now gone; send the people away to go into the villages and buy something to eat." 16"They need not go away," replied Jesus; "you yourselves must give them something to eat." 17"We have nothing here," they said, "but five loaves and a couple of fish." 18"Bring them here to me," He said, 19and He told all the people to sit down on the grass. Then He took the five loaves and the two fish, and after looking up to heaven and blessing them, He broke up the loaves and gave them to the disciples, and the disciples distributed them to the people. 20So all ate, and were fully satisfied. The broken portions that remained over they gathered up, filling twelve baskets. 21Those who had eaten were about 5,000 adult men, without reckoning women and children.

Jesus Walks on Water

(Mark 6:45–52; John 6:16–21)

22Immediately afterwards He made the disciples go on board the boat and cross to the opposite shore, leaving Him to dismiss the people. 23When He had done this, He climbed the hill to pray in solitude. Night came on, and he was there alone. 24Meanwhile the boat was far out on the Lake, buffeted and tossed by the waves, the wind being adverse. 25But towards daybreak He went to them, walking over the waves. 26When the disciples saw Him walking on the waves, they were greatly alarmed. "It is a spirit," they exclaimed, and they cried out with terror. ²⁷But instantly Jesus spoke to them, and said, "There is no danger; it is I; do not be afraid."

²⁸"Master," answered Peter, "if it is you, bid me come to you upon the water." ²⁹"Come," said Jesus. Then Peter climbed down from the boat and walked upon the water to go to Him. ³⁰But when he felt the wind he grew frightened, and beginning to sink he cried out, "Master, save me." ³¹Instantly Jesus stretched out His hand and caught hold of him, saying to him, "O little faith, why did you doubt?" ³²So they climbed into the boat, and the wind lulled; ³³and the men on board fell down before him and said, "You are indeed God's Son."

Jesus Heals at Gennesaret

(Mark 6:53–56)

³⁴When they had quite crossed over, they put ashore at Gennesaret; ³⁵and the men of the place, recognizing Him, sent word into all the country round. So they brought all the sick to Him, ³⁶and they entreated Him that they might but touch the tassel of His outer garment; and all who did so were restored to perfect health.

The Tradition of the Elders

(Mark 7:1–13)

¹Then there came to Jesus a party of Pharisees and Scribes from Jerusalem, who inquired, ²"Why do your disciples transgress the tradition of the Elders by not washing their hands before meals?" ³"Why do you, too," He retorted, "transgress God's commands for the sake of your tradition? ⁴For God said, 'Honour thy father and thy mother'; and 'Let him who reviles father or mother be certainly put to death'; ⁵but you—this is what you say: 'If a man says to his father or mother, That is consecrated, whatever it is, which otherwise you should have received from me— ⁶he shall be absolved from honouring his father'; and so you have abrogated God's Word for the sake of your tradition. ⁷Hypocrites! well did Isaiah prophesy of you,

⁸"This is a People who honour Me with their lips, while their heart is far away from Me;

⁹but it is in vain they worship Me, while they lay down precepts which are mere human rules."

What Defiles a Man

(Mark 7:14–23)

¹⁰Then, when He had called the people to Him, Jesus said, "Hear and understand. ¹¹It is not what goes into a man's mouth that defiles him; but it is what comes out of his mouth—that defiles a man."

¹²Then His disciples came and said to Him, "Do you know that the Pharisees were greatly shocked when they heard those words?" ¹³"Every plant," He replied, "which my Heavenly Father has not planted will be rooted up. ¹⁴Leave them alone. They are blind guides of the blind; and if a blind man leads a blind man, both will fall into some pit."

15“Explain to us this figurative language,” said Peter. 16“Are even you,” He answered, “still without intelligence?”

17Do you not understand that whatever enters the mouth passes into the stomach and is afterwards ejected from the body? 18But the things that come out of the mouth proceed from the heart, and it is these that defile the man. 19For out of the heart proceed wicked thoughts, murder, adultery, fornication, theft, perjury, impiety of speech. 20These are the things which defile the man; but eating with unwashed hands does not defile.”

The Faith of the Canaanite Woman

(Mark 7:24–30)

21Leaving that place, Jesus withdrew into the vicinity of Tyre and Sidon. 22Here a Canaanitish woman of the district came out and persistently cried out, “Sir, Son of David, pity me; my daughter is cruelly harassed by a demon.” 23But He answered her not a word. Then the disciples interposed, and begged Him, saying, “Send her away because she keeps crying behind us.” 24“I have only been sent to the lost sheep of the house of Israel,” He replied. 25Then she came and threw herself at His feet and entreated Him. “O Sir, help me,” she said. 26“It is not right,” He said, “to take the children’s bread and throw it to the dogs.” 27“Be it so, Sir,” she said, “for even the dogs eat the scraps which fall from their masters’ tables.” 28“O woman,” replied Jesus, “great is your faith: be it done to you as you desire.” And from that moment her daughter was restored to health.

The Feeding of the Four Thousand

(2 Kings 4:42–44; Mark 8:1–10)

29Again, moving thence, Jesus went along by the Lake of Galilee; and ascending the hill, He sat down there. 30Soon great crowds came to Him, bringing with them those who were crippled in feet or hands, blind or dumb, and many besides, and they hastened to lay them at His feet. And He cured them, 31so that the people were amazed to see the dumb speaking, the maimed with their hands perfect, the lame walking, and the blind seeing; and they gave the glory to the God of Israel.

32But Jesus called His disciples to Him and said, “My heart yearns over this mass of people, for it is now the third day that they have been with me and they have nothing to eat. I am unwilling to send them away hungry, lest they should faint on the road.” 33“Where can we,” asked the disciples, “get bread enough in this remote place to satisfy so vast a multitude?” 34“How many loaves have you?” Jesus asked. “Seven,” they said, “and a few small fish.” 35So He bade all the people sit down on the ground, 36and He took the seven loaves and the fish, and after giving thanks He broke them up and then distributed them to the disciples, and they to the people. 37And they all ate and were satisfied. The broken portions that remained over they took up—seven full hampers. 38Those who ate were 4,000 adult men, without reckoning women and children.

39He then dismissed the people, went on board the boat, and came into the district of Magadan.

Matthew 16

The Demand for a Sign

(Mark 8:11–13; Luke 12:54–56)

1Here the Pharisees and Sadducees came to Him; and, to make trial of Him, they asked Him to show them a sign in the sky. 2He replied, "In the evening you say, 'It will be fine weather, for the sky is red;' 3and in the morning, 'It will be rough weather to-day, for the sky is red and murky.' You learn how to distinguish the aspect of the heavens, but the signs of the times you cannot. 4A wicked and faithless generation are eager for a sign; but none shall be given to them except the sign of Jonah." and He left them and went away.

The Leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees

5When the disciples arrived at the other side of the Lake, they found that they had forgotten to bring any bread;

6and when Jesus said to them, "See to it: beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees," 7they reasoned among themselves, saying, "It is because we have not brought any bread." 8Jesus perceived this and said, "Why are you reasoning among yourselves, you men of little faith, because you have no bread? 9Do you not yet understand? nor even remember the 5,000 and the five loaves, and how many basketfuls you carried away, 10nor the 4,000 and the seven loaves, and how many hampers you carried away? 11How is it you do not understand that it was not about bread that I spoke to you? But beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees." 12Then they perceived that He had not warned them against bread-yeast, but against the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

Peter's Confession of Christ

(Mark 8:27–30; Luke 9:18–20; John 6:67–71)

13When He arrived in the neighbourhood of Caesarea Philippi, Jesus questioned His disciples. "Who do people say that the Son of Man is?" He asked. 14"Some say John the Baptist," they replied; "others Elijah; others Jeremiah or one of the Prophets." 15"But you, who do you say that I am?" He asked again. 16"You," replied Simon Peter, "are the Christ, the Son of the ever-living God." 17"Blessed are you, Simon Bar-jonah," said Jesus; "for mere human nature has not revealed this to you, but my Father in Heaven. 18And I declare to you that you are Peter, and that upon this Rock I will build my Church, and the might of Hades shall not triumph over it. 19I will give you the keys of the Kingdom of the Heavens; and whatever you bind on earth shall remain bound in Heaven, and whatever you loose on earth shall remain loosed in Heaven." 20Then He urged His disciples to tell no one that He was the Christ.

Christ's Passion Foretold

(Mark 8:31–33; Luke 9:21–22)

21From this time Jesus began to explain to His disciples that He must go to Jerusalem, and suffer much cruelty from the Elders and the High Priests and the Scribes, and be put to death, and on the third day be raised to life again. 22Then Peter took Him aside and began taking Him to task. "Master," he said, "God forbid; this will not be your lot." 23But He turned and said to Peter, "Get behind me, Adversary; you are a hindrance to me, because your thoughts are not God's thoughts, but men's."

Take Up Your Cross

(Mark 8:34–38; Luke 9:23–27)

24Then Jesus said to His disciples, "If any one desires to follow me, let him renounce self and take up his cross, and so be my follower. 25For whoever desires to save his life shall lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake shall find it. 26Why, what benefit will it be to a man if he gains the whole world but forfeits his life? Or what shall a man give to buy back his life? 27For the Son of Man is soon to come in the glory of the Father with His angels, and then will He requite every man according to his actions.

28I solemnly tell you that some of those who are standing here will certainly not taste death till they have seen the Son of Man coming in His Kingdom."

The Transfiguration

(Mark 9:1–13; Luke 9:28–36; 2 Peter 1:16–21)

1Six day later, Jesus took with Him Peter and the brothers James and John, and brought them up a high mountain to a solitary place. 2There in their presence His form underwent a change; His face shone like the sun, and His raiment became as white as the light. 3And suddenly Moses and Elijah appeared to them conversing with Him. 4Then Peter said to Jesus, "Master, we are thankful to you that we are here. If you approve, I will put up three tents here, one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah." 5He was still speaking when a luminous cloud spread over them; and a voice was heard from within the cloud, which said, "This is My Son dearly beloved, in whom is My delight. Listen to Him." 6On hearing this voice, the disciples fell on their faces and were filled with terror. 7But Jesus came and touched them, and said, "Rouse yourselves and have no fear." 8So they looked up, and saw no one but Jesus.

9As they were descending the mountain, Jesus laid a command upon them. "Tell no one," He said, "of the sight you have seen till the Son of Man has risen from among the dead." 10"Why then," asked the disciples, "do the Scribes say that Elijah must first come?" 11"Elijah was indeed to come," He replied, "and would reform everything. 12But I tell you that he has already come, and they did not recognize him, but dealt with him as they chose. And before long the Son of Man will be treated by them in a similar way." 13Then it dawned upon the disciples that it was John the Baptist about whom He had spoken to them.

The Boy with a Demon

(Mark 9:14–29; Luke 9:37–42)

14When they had returned to the people, there came to Him a man who fell on his knees before Him and besought Him. 15"Sir," he said, "have pity on my son, for he is an epileptic and is very ill. Often he falls into the fire and often into the water. 16I have brought him to your disciples, and they have not been able to cure him." 17"O unbelieving and perverse generation!" replied Jesus; "how long shall I be with you? how long shall I endure you? Bring him to me." 18Then Jesus reprimanded the demon, and it came out and left him; and the boy was cured from that moment.

The Power of Faith

(Luke 17:5–10)

19Then the disciples came to Jesus privately and asked Him, “Why could not we expel the demon?”
20“Because your faith is so small,” He replied; “for I solemnly declare to you that if you have faith like a mustard-seed, you shall say to this mountain, ‘Remove from this place to that,’ and it will remove; and nothing shall be impossible to you. 21But an evil spirit of this kind is only driven out by prayer and fasting.”

The Second Prediction of the Passion

(Mark 9:30–32; Luke 9:43–45)

22As they were travelling about in Galilee, Jesus said to them, “The Son of Man is about to be betrayed into the hands of men; 23they will put Him to death, but on the third day He will be raised to life again.” And they were exceedingly distressed.

The Temple Tax

24After their arrival at Capernaum the collectors of the half-shekel came and asked Peter, “Does not your Teacher pay the half-shekel?” 25“Yes,” he replied, and then went into the house. But before he spoke a word Jesus said, “What think you, Simon? From whom do this world’s kings receive customs or capitation tax? from their own children, or from others?” 26“From others,” he replied. “Then the children go free,” said Jesus.

27“However, lest we cause them to sin, go and throw a hook into the Lake, and take the first fish that comes up. When you open its mouth, you will find a shekel in it: bring that coin and give it to them for yourself and me.”

The Greatest in the Kingdom

(Mark 9:33–41; Luke 9:46–50)

1Just then the disciples came to Jesus and asked, “Who ranks higher than others in the Kingdom of the Heavens?” 2So He called a young child to Him, and, bidding him stand in the midst of them,

3said, “In solemn truth I tell you that unless you turn and become like little children, you will in no case be admitted into the Kingdom of the Heavens. 4Whoever therefore shall humble himself as this young child, he it is who is superior to others in the Kingdom of the Heavens. 5And whoever for my sake receives one young child such as this, receives me.

Temptations and Trespasses

(Mark 9:42–48; Luke 17:1–4)

6But whoever shall occasion the fall of one of these little ones who believe in me, it would be better for him to have a millstone hung round his neck and to be drowned in the depths of the sea.

7“Alas for the world because of causes of falling! They cannot but come, but alas for each man through whom they come!

8If your hand or your foot is causing you to fall into sin, cut it off and away with it. It is better for you to enter into Life crippled in hand or foot than to remain in possession of two sound hands or feet but be thrown into the fire of the Ages. 9And if your eye is causing you to fall into sin, tear it out and away with it; it is better for you to enter into Life with only one eye, than to remain in possession of two eyes but be thrown into the Gehenna of fire.

The Parable of the Lost Sheep

(Luke 15:1–7)

10“Beware of ever despising one of these little ones, for I tell you that in Heaven their angels have continual access to my Father who is in Heaven. 11

12What do you yourselves think? Suppose a man gets a hundred sheep and one of them strays away, will he not leave the ninety-nine on the hills and go and look for the one that is straying? 13And if he succeeds in finding it, in solemn truth I tell you that he rejoices over it more than he does over the ninety-nine that have not gone astray. 14Just so it is not the will of your Father in Heaven that one of these little ones should be lost.

A Brother Who Sins

(Deuteronomy 19:15–21)

15“If your brother acts wrongly towards you, go and point out his fault to him when only you and he are there. If he listens to you, you have gained your brother. 16But if he will not listen to you, go again, and ask one or two to go with you, that every word spoken may be attested by two or three witnesses. 17If he refuses to hear them, appeal to the Church; and if he refuses to hear even the Church, regard him just as you regard a Gentile or a tax-gatherer. 18I solemnly tell you that whatever you as a Church bind on earth will in Heaven be held as bound, and whatever you loose on earth will in Heaven be held to be loosed.

Ask in My Name

(John 16:23–33)

19I also solemnly tell you that if two of you here on earth agree together concerning anything whatever that they shall ask, the boon will come to them from my Father who is in Heaven. 20For where there are two or three assembled in my name, there am I in the midst of them.”

The Unforgiving Servant

(Romans 12:14–21)

23“For this reason the Kingdom of the Heavens may be compared to a king who determined to have a settlement of accounts with his servants. 24But as soon as he began the settlement, one was brought before him who owed 10,000 talents, 25and was unable to pay. So his master ordered that he and his wife and children and everything that he had should be sold, and payment be made. 26The servant therefore falling down, prostrated himself at his feet and entreated him. "Only give me time," he said, "and I will pay you the whole." ²⁷"Whereupon his master, touched with compassion, set him free and forgave him the debt. ²⁸But no sooner had that servant gone out, than he met with one of his fellow servants who owed him 100 shillings; and seizing him by the throat and nearly strangling him he exclaimed, "Pay me all you owe." ²⁹"His fellow servant therefore fell at his feet and entreated him, "Only give me time," he said, "and I will pay you." ³⁰"He would not, however, but went and threw him into prison until he should pay what was due. ³¹His fellow servants, therefore, seeing what had happened, were exceedingly angry; and they came and told their master without reserve all that had happened. ³²At once his master called him and said, "Wicked servant, I forgave you all that debt, because you entreated me: ³³ought not you also to have had pity on your fellow servant, just as I had pity on you?" ³⁴"So his master, greatly incensed, handed him over to the jailers until he should pay all he owed him. ³⁵"In the same way my Heavenly Father will deal with you, if you do not all of you forgive one another from your hearts."

Teachings about Divorce

(Mark 10:1–12)

¹When Jesus had finished these discourses, He removed from Galilee and came into that part of Judaea which lay beyond the Jordan. ²And a vast multitude followed him, and He cured them there.

³Then came some of the Pharisees to Him to put Him to the proof by the question, "Has a man a right to divorce his wife whenever he chooses?" ⁴"Have you not read," He replied, "that He who made them 'made them' from the beginning 'male and female, ⁵and said, For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and be united to his wife, and the two shall be one?" ⁶Thus they are no longer two, but 'one'! What therefore God has joined together, let not man separate." ⁷"Why then," said they, "did Moses command the husband to give her 'a written notice of divorce,' and so put her away?" ⁸"Moses," He replied, "in consideration of the hardness of your nature permitted you to put away your wives, but it has not been so from the beginning. ⁹And I tell you that whoever divorces his wife for any reason except her unfaithfulness, and marries another woman, commits adultery."

¹⁰"If this is the case with a man in relation to his wife," said the disciples to Him, "it is better not to marry." ¹¹"It is not every man," He replied, "who can receive this teaching, but only those on whom the grace has been bestowed. ¹²There are men who from their birth have been disabled from marriage, others who have been so disabled by men, and others who have disabled themselves for the sake of the Kingdom of the Heavens. He who is able to receive this, let him receive it."

Jesus Blesses the Children

(Mark 10:13–16; Luke 18:15–17)

¹³Then young children were brought to Him for Him to put His hands on them and pray; but the disciples interfered. ¹⁴Jesus however said, "Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them; for it is to those who are childlike that the Kingdom of the Heavens belongs." ¹⁵So He laid His hands upon them and went away.

The Rich Young Man

(Mark 10:17–31; Luke 18:18–30)

16“Teacher,” said one man, coming up to Him, “what that is good shall I do in order to win the Life of the Ages?” 17“Why do you ask me,” He replied, “about what is good? There is only One who is truly good. But if you desire to enter into Life, keep the Commandments.” 18“Which Commandments?” he asked. Jesus answered, “‘Thou shalt not kill;’ ‘Thou shalt not commit adultery;’ ‘Thou shalt not steal;’ ‘Thou shalt not lie in giving evidence;’ 19Honour thy father and thy mother;’ and ‘Thou shalt love thy fellow man as much as thyself.’” 20“All of these,” said the young man, “I have carefully kept. What do I still lack?” 21“If you desire to be perfect,” replied Jesus, “go and sell all that you have, and give to the poor, and you shall have wealth in Heaven; and come, follow me.” 22On hearing those words the young man went away much cast down; for he had much property.

23So Jesus said to His disciples, “I solemnly tell you that it is with difficulty that a rich man will enter the Kingdom of the Heavens. 24Yes, I tell you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God.” 25These words utterly amazed the disciples, and they asked, “Who then can be saved?” 26Jesus looked at them and said, “With men this is impossible, but with God everything is possible.”

27Then Peter said to Jesus, “See, we have forsaken everything and followed you; what then will be our reward?” 28“I solemnly tell you,” replied Jesus, “that in the New Creation, when the Son of Man has taken His seat on His glorious throne, all of you who have followed me shall also sit on twelve thrones and judge the twelve tribes of Israel. 29And whoever has forsaken houses, or brothers or sisters, or father or mother, or children or lands, for my sake, shall receive many times as much and shall have as his inheritance the Life of the Ages. 30“But many who are now first will be last, and many who are now last will be first.

The Parable of the Workers

1“For the Kingdom of the Heavens is like an employer who went out early in the morning to hire men to work in his vineyard, 2and having made an agreement with them for a shilling a day, sent them into his vineyard. 3About nine o’clock he went out and saw others loitering in the market-place. 4To these also he said, “‘You also, go into the vineyard, and whatever is right I will give you.’” 5“So they went. Again about twelve, and about three o’clock, he went out and did the same. 6And going out about five o’clock he found others loitering, and he asked them, “‘Why have you been standing here all day long, doing nothing?’” 7“‘Because no one has hired us,’ they replied. “‘You also, go into the vineyard,’ he said.

8“When evening came, the master said to his steward, “‘Call the men and pay them their wages. Begin with the last set and finish with the first.’” 9“When those came who had begun at five o’clock, they received a shilling apiece; 10and when the first came, they expected to get more, but they also each got the shilling. 11So when they had received it, they grumbled against the employer, saying, 12“‘These who came last have done only one hour’s work, and you have put them on a level with us who have worked the whole day and have borne the scorching heat.’” 13“‘My friend,’ he answered to one of them, ‘I am doing you no injustice. Did you not agree with me for a shilling?’ 14Take your money and go. I choose to give this last comer just as much as I give you. 15Have I not a right to do what I choose with my own property? Or are you envious because I am generous?' 16"So the last shall be first, and the first last."

The Third Prediction of the Passion

(Mark 10:32–34; Luke 18:31–34)

17Jesus was now going up to Jerusalem, and He took the twelve disciples aside by themselves, and on the way He said to them,

18"We are going up to Jerusalem, and there the Son of Man will be betrayed to the High Priests and Scribes. They will condemn Him to death, 19and hand Him over to the Gentiles to be made sport of and scourged and crucified; and on the third day He will be raised to life."

A Mother's Request

(Mark 10:35–45)

20Then the mother of the sons of Zabdi came to Him with her sons, and knelt before Him to make a request of Him. 21"What is it you desire?" He asked. "Command," she replied, "that these my two sons may sit one at your right hand and one at your left in your Kingdom." 22"None of you know what you are asking for," said Jesus; "can you drink out of the cup from which I am about to drink?" "We can," they replied. 23"You shall drink out of my cup," He said, "but a seat at my right hand or at my left it is not for me to allot, but it belongs to those for whom it has been prepared by my Father."

24The other ten heard of this, and their indignation was aroused against the two brothers. 25But Jesus called them to Him, and said, "You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great men exercise authority over them. 26Not so shall it be among you; but whoever desires to be great among you shall be your servant, 27and whoever desires to be first among you shall be your bondservant; 28just as the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give His life as the redemption-price for many."

The Blind Men by the Road

(Mark 10:46–52; Luke 18:35–43)

29As they were leaving Jericho, an immense crowd following Him, 30two blind men sitting by the roadside heard that it was Jesus who was passing by, and cried aloud, "Sir, Son of David, pity us." 31The people angrily tried to silence them, but they cried all the louder. "O Sir, Son of David, pity us," they said. 32So Jesus stood still and called to them. "What shall I do for you?" He asked. 33"Sir, let our eyes be opened," they replied. 34Moved with compassion, Jesus touched their eyes, and immediately they regained their sight and followed Him.

The Triumphal Entry

(Zechariah 9:9–13; Mark 11:1–11; Luke 19:28–40; John 12:12–19)

¹When they were come near Jerusalem and had arrived at Bethphage and the Mount of Olives, Jesus sent two of the disciples on in front, ²saying to them, "Go to the village you see facing you, and as you enter it you will find a she-ass tied up and a foal with her. Untie her and bring them to me. ³And if any one says anything to you, say, 'The Master needs them,' and he will at once send them." ⁴This took place in order that the Prophet's prediction might be fulfilled:

⁵"Tell the Daughter of Zion, 'See, thy King is coming to thee, gentle, and yet mounted on an ass, even on a colt the foal of a beast of burden.'"

⁶So the disciples went and did as Jesus had instructed them: ⁷they brought the she-ass and the foal, and threw their outer garments on them. So He sat on them; ⁸and most of the crowd kept spreading their garments along the road, while others cut branches from the trees and carpeted the road with them,

⁹and the multitudes—some of the people preceding Him and some following—sang aloud, "God save the Son of David! Blessings on Him who comes in the Lord's name! God in the highest Heavens save Him!"

¹⁰When He thus entered Jerusalem, the whole city was thrown into commotion, every one inquiring, "Who is this?" ¹¹"This is Jesus, the Prophet, from Nazareth in Galilee," replied the crowds.

Jesus Cleanses the Temple

(Mark 11:15–19; Luke 19:45–48; John 2:12–25)

¹²Entering the Temple, Jesus drove out all who were buying and selling there, and overturned the money-changers' tables and the seats of the pigeon-dealers. ¹³"It is written," He said, "My House shall be called the House of Prayer', but you are making it a robbers' cave."

¹⁴And the blind and the lame came to Him in the Temple, and He cured them. ¹⁵But when the High Priests and the Scribes saw the wonderful things that He had done and the children who were crying aloud in the Temple, "God save the Son of David," they were filled with indignation. ¹⁶"Do you hear," they asked Him, "what these children are saying?" "Yes," He replied; "have you never read, 'Out of the mouths of infants and of babes at the breast Thou hast brought forth the praise which is due?'" ¹⁷So He left them and went out of the city to Bethany and passed the night there.

The Barren Fig Tree

(Mark 11:12–14; Mark 11:20–25)

¹⁸Early in the morning as He was on His way to return to the city He was hungry, ¹⁹and seeing a fig-tree on the road-side He went up to it, but found nothing on it but leaves. "On you," He said, "no fruit shall ever again grow." And immediately the fig-tree withered away.

²⁰When the disciples saw it they exclaimed in astonishment, "How instantaneously the fig-tree has withered away!" ²¹"I solemnly tell you," said Jesus, "that if you have an unwavering faith, you shall not only perform such a miracle as this of the fig-tree, but that even if you say to this mountain, 'Be thou lifted up and hurled into the sea,' it shall be done; ²²and everything, whatever it be, that you ask for in your prayers, if you have faith, you shall obtain."

Jesus' Authority Challenged

(Mark 11:27–33; Luke 20:1–8)

23 He entered the Temple; and while He was teaching, the High Priests and the Elders of the people came to Him and asked Him, "By what authority are you doing these things? and who gave you this authority?" 24 "And I also have a question to ask you," replied Jesus, "and if you answer me, I in turn will tell you by what authority I do these things. 25 John's Baptism, whence was it?—had it a heavenly or a human origin?" So they debated the matter among themselves. "If we say 'a heavenly origin,'" they argued, "he will say, 'Why then did you not believe him?'" 26 and if we say 'a human origin' we have the people to fear, for they all hold John to have been a Prophet." 27 So they answered Jesus, "We do not know." "Nor do I tell you," He replied, "by what authority I do these things."

The Parable of the Two Sons

28 "But give me your judgement. There was a man who had two sons. He came to the elder of them, and said, "My son, go and work in the vineyard to-day.' 29 "I will not,' he replied. "But afterwards he was sorry, and went. 30 He came to the second and spoke in the same manner. His answer was, "I will go, Sir.' "But he did not go. 31 Which of the two did as his father desired?" "The first," they said. "I solemnly tell you,' replied Jesus, "that the tax-gatherers and the notorious sinners are entering the Kingdom of God in front of you. 32 For John came to you observing all sorts of ritual, and you put no faith in him: the tax-gatherers and the notorious sinners did put faith in him, and you, though you saw this example set you, were not even afterwards sorry so as to believe him."

The Parable of the Wicked Tenants

(Mark 12:1–12; Luke 20:9–18)

33 "Listen to another parable. There was a householder who planted a vineyard, made a fence round it, dug a wine-tank in it, and built a strong lodge; then let the place to vine-dressers, and went abroad. 34 When vintage-time approached, he sent his servants to the vine-dressers to receive his share of the grapes; 35 but the vine-dressers seized the servants, and one they cruelly beat, one they killed, one they pelted with stones. 36 Again he sent another party of servants more numerous than the first; and these they treated in the same manner. 37 Later still he sent to them his son, saying, "They will respect my son.' 38 "But the vine-dressers, when they saw the son, said to one another, "Here is the heir: come, let us kill him and get his inheritance.' 39 "So they seized him, dragged him out of the vineyard, and killed him. 40 When then the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those vine-dressers?" 41 "He will put the wretches to a wretched death," was the reply, "and will entrust the vineyard to other vine-dressers who will render the produce to him at the vintage season."

42 "Have you never read in the Scriptures," said Jesus, "The Stone which the builders rejected has been made the Cornerstone: this Cornerstone came from the Lord, and is wonderful in our eyes?"

43 "That, I tell you, is the reason why the Kingdom of God will be taken away from you, and given to a nation that will exhibit the power of it. 44 He who falls on this stone will be severely hurt; but he on whom it falls will be utterly crushed."

45 After listening to His parables the High Priests and the Pharisees perceived that He was speaking about them; 46 but though they were eager to lay hands upon Him, they were afraid of the people, for by them He was regarded as a Prophet.

The Parable of the Banquet

(Luke 14:15–24)

1 Again Jesus spoke to them in figurative language.

2 "The Kingdom of the Heavens," He said, "may be compared to a king who celebrated the marriage of his son, 3 and sent his servants to call the invited guests to the wedding, but they were unwilling to come. 4 "Again he sent other servants with a message to those who were invited. "My breakfast is now ready," he said, 'my bullocks and fat cattle are killed, and every preparation is made: come to the wedding.' 5 "They however gave no heed, but went, one to his home in the country, another to his business; 6 and the rest seized the king's servants, maltreated them, and murdered them. 7 So the king's anger was stirred, and he sent his troops and destroyed those murderers and burnt their city. 8 Then he said to his servants, "The wedding banquet is ready, but those who were invited were unworthy of it. 9 Go out therefore to the crossroads, and everybody you meet invite to the wedding.' 10 "So they went out into the roads and gathered together all they could find, both bad and good, and the banqueting hall was filled with guests.

11 "Now the king came in to see the guests; and among them he discovered one who was not wearing a wedding-robe. 12 "My friend,' he said, 'how is it that you came in here without a wedding robe?' 13 "The man stood speechless. Then the king said to the servants, "Bind him hand and foot and fling him into the darkness outside: there will be the weeping aloud and the gnashing of teeth.' 14 "For there are many called, but few chosen."

Paying Taxes to Caesar

(Mark 12:13–17; Luke 20:19–26)

15 Then the Pharisees went and consulted together how they might entrap Him in His conversation. 16 So they sent to Him their disciples together with the Herodians; who said, "Teacher, we know that you are truthful and that you faithfully teach God's truth; and that no fear of man misleads you, for you are not biased by men's wealth or rank. 17 Give us your judgement therefore: is it allowable for us to pay a poll-tax to Caesar, or not?" 18 Perceiving their wickedness, Jesus replied, "Why are you hypocrites trying to ensnare me? 19 Show me the tribute coin." And they brought Him a shilling. 20 "Whose likeness and inscription," He asked, "is this?" 21 "Caesar's," they replied. "Pay therefore," He rejoined, "what is Caesar's to Caesar; and what is God's to God." 22 They heard this, and were astonished; then left Him, and went their way.

The Sadducees and the Resurrection

(Mark 12:18–27; Luke 20:27–40)

23 On the same day a party of Sadducees came to Him, contending that there is no resurrection. And they put this case to Him. 24 "Teacher," they said, "Moses enjoined, 'If a man die childless, his brother shall marry his widow, and raise up a family for him.' 25 Now we had among us seven brothers. The eldest of them married, but died childless, leaving his wife to his brother. 26 So also did the second and the third, down to the seventh, 27 till the woman also died, after surviving them all. 28 At the Resurrection, therefore, whose wife of the seven will she be? for they all married her."

29 The reply of Jesus was, "You are in error, through ignorance of the Scriptures and of the power of God. 30 For in the Resurrection, men neither marry nor are women given in marriage, but they are like angels in Heaven. ³¹But as to the Resurrection of the dead, have you never read what God says to you, ³²I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? He is not the God of dead, but of living men." ³³All the crowd heard this, and were filled with amazement at His teaching.

The Greatest Commandment

(Deuteronomy 6:1–19; Mark 12:28–34)

³⁴Now the Pharisees came up when they heard that He had silenced the Sadducees, ³⁵and one of them, an expounder of the Law, asked Him as a test question, ³⁶"Teacher, which is the greatest Commandment in the Law?" ³⁷"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God," He answered, "with thy whole heart, thy whole soul, thy whole mind." ³⁸This is the greatest and foremost Commandment. ³⁹And the second is similar to it: 'Thou shalt love thy fellow man as much as thyself.' ⁴⁰The whole of the Law and the Prophets is summed up in these two Commandments."

Whose Son Is the Christ?

(Mark 12:35–37; Luke 20:41–44)

⁴¹While the Pharisees were still assembled there, Jesus put a question to them. ⁴²"What think you about the Christ," He said, "whose son is He?" "David's," they replied. ⁴³"How then," He asked, "does David, taught by the Spirit, call Him Lord, when he says,

⁴⁴"The Lord said to my Lord, sit at My right hand until I have put thy foes beneath thy feet?"

⁴⁵"If therefore David calls Him Lord, how can He be his son?" ⁴⁶No one could say a word in reply, nor from that day did any one venture again to put a question to Him.

Woes to Scribes and Pharisees

(Luke 11:37–54)

¹Then Jesus addressed the crowds and His disciples. ²"The Scribes," He said, "and the Pharisees sit in the chair of Moses. ³Therefore do and observe everything that they command you; but do not imitate their lives, for though they tell others what to do, they do not do it themselves. ⁴Heavy and cumbrous burdens they bind together and load men's shoulders with them, while as for themselves, not with one finger do they choose to lift them. ⁵And everything they do they do with a view to being observed by men; for they widen their phylacteries and make the tassels large, ⁶and love the best seats at a dinner party or in the synagogues, ⁷and like to be bowed to in places of public resort, and to be addressed by men as 'Rabbi.' ⁸"As for you, do not accept the title of 'Rabbi,' for one alone is your Teacher, and you are all brothers. ⁹And call no one on earth your Father, for One alone is your Father—the Heavenly Father. ¹⁰And do not accept the name of 'leader,' for your Leader is one alone—the Christ. ¹¹He who is the greatest among you shall be your servant; ¹²and one who exalts himself shall be abased, while one who abases himself shall be exalted.

13“But alas for you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for you lock the door of the Kingdom of the Heavens against men; you yourselves do not enter, nor do you allow those to enter who are seeking to do so. 14 15“Alas for you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for you scour sea and land in order to win one convert—and when he is gained, you make him twice as much a son of Gehenna as yourselves.

16“Alas for you, you blind guides, who say, “Whoever swears by the Sanctuary it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gold of the Sanctuary, is bound by the oath.’ 17“Blind fools! Why, which is greater?—the gold, or the Sanctuary which has made the gold holy? 18And you say, “Whoever swears by the altar, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the offering lying on it is bound by the oath.’ 19“You are blind! Why, which is greater?—the offering, or the altar which makes the offering holy? 20He who swears by the altar swears both by it and by everything on it; 21he who swears by the Sanctuary swears both by it and by Him who dwells in it; 22and he who swears by Heaven swears both by the throne of God and by Him who sits upon it.

23“Alas for you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for you pay the tithe on mint, dill, and cumin, while you have neglected the weightier requirements of the Law—just judgement, mercy, and faithful dealing. These things you ought to have done, and yet you ought not to have left the others undone. 24You blind guides, straining out the gnat while you gulp down the camel!

25“Alas for you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for you wash clean the outside of the cup or dish, while within they are full of greed and self-indulgence. 26Blind Pharisee, first wash clean the inside of the cup or dish, and then the outside will be clean also.

27“Alas for you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for you are just like whitewashed sepulchres, the outside of which pleases the eye, though inside they are full of dead men’s bones and of all that is unclean. 28The same is true of you: outwardly you seem to the human eye to be good and honest men, but, within, you are full of insincerity and disregard of God’s Law.

29“Alas for you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for you repair the sepulchres of the Prophets and keep in order the tombs of the righteous, 30and your boast is, “If we had lived in the time of our forefathers, we should not have been implicated with them in the murder of the Prophets.’ 31“So that you bear witness against yourselves that you are descendants of those who murdered the Prophets. 32Fill up the measure of your forefathers’ guilt. 33O serpents, O vipers’ brood, how are you to escape condemnation to Gehenna?

34“For this reason I am sending to you Prophets and wise men and Scribes. Some of them you will put to death—nay, crucify; some of them you will flog in your synagogues and chase from town to town; 35that all the innocent blood shed upon earth may come on you, from the blood of righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah the son of Berechiah whom you murdered between the Sanctuary and the altar. 36I tell you in solemn truth that all these things will come upon the present generation.

Lament over Jerusalem

(Luke 13:31–35)

37“O Jerusalem, Jerusalem! thou who murderest the Prophets and stonest those who have been sent to thee! how often have I desired to gather thy children to me, just as a hen gathers her chickens under her wings, and you would not come! 38See, your house will now be left to you desolate! 39For I tell you that you will never see me again until you say, 'Blessed be He who comes in the name of the Lord.'"

Temple Destruction and Other Signs

(Mark 13:1–8; Luke 21:5–9)

1Jesus had left the Temple and was going on His way, when His disciples came and called His attention to the Temple buildings. 2"You see all these?" He replied; "in solemn truth I tell you that there will not be left here one stone upon another that will not be pulled down."

3Afterwards He was on the Mount of Olives and was seated there when the disciples came to Him, apart from the others, and said, "Tell us when this will be; and what will be the sign of your Coming and of the Close of the Age?"

4"Take care that no one misleads you," answered Jesus;

5"for many will come assuming my name and saying 'I am the Christ;' and they will mislead many. 6And before long you will hear of wars and rumours of wars. Do not be alarmed, for such things must be; but the End is not yet. 7For nation will rise in arms against nation, kingdom against kingdom, and there will be famines and earthquakes in various places; 8but all these miseries are but like the early pains of childbirth.

Witnessing to All Nations

(Mark 13:9–13; Luke 21:10–19)

9"At that time they will deliver you up to punishment and will put you to death; and you will be objects of hatred to all the nations because you are called by my name. 10Then will many stumble and fall, and they will betray one another and hate one another. 11Many false prophets will rise up and lead multitudes astray; 12and because of the prevalent disregard of God's law the love of the great majority will grow cold; 13but those who stand firm to the End shall be saved. 14And this Good News of the Kingdom shall be proclaimed throughout the whole world to set the evidence before all the Gentiles; and then the End will come.

The Abomination of Desolation

(Mark 13:14–23; Luke 21:20–24)

15"When you have seen (to use the language of the Prophet Daniel) 16"then let those who are in Judaea escape to the hills; 17let him who is on the roof not go down to fetch what is in his house; 18nor let him who is outside the city stay to pick up his outer garment. 19And alas for the women who at that time are with child or have infants! 20"But pray that your flight may not be in winter, nor on the Sabbath; 21for it will be a time of great suffering, such as never has been from the beginning of the world till now, and assuredly never will be again. 22And if those days had not been cut short, no one would escape; but for the sake of God's own People those days will be cut short. 23"If at that time any one should say to you, 'See, here is the Christ!' or 'Here!' give no credence to it. 24For there will rise up false Christs and false prophets, displaying wonderful signs and prodigies, so as to deceive, were it possible, even God's own People. ²⁵Remember, I have forewarned you.

The Return of the Son of Man

(Mark 13:24–27; Luke 21:25–28)

²⁶If therefore they should say to you, 'See, He is in the Desert!' do not go out there: or 'See, He is indoors in the room!' do not believe it. ²⁷For just as the lightning flashes in the east and is seen to the very west, so will be the Coming of the Son of Man. ²⁸Wherever the dead body is, there will the vultures flock together.

²⁹"But immediately after those times of distress the sun will be darkened, the moon will not shed her light, the stars will fall from the firmament, and the forces which control the heavens will be disordered and disturbed. ³⁰Then will appear the Sign of the Son of Man in the sky; and then will all the nations of the earth lament, when they see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of the sky with great power and glory. ³¹And He will send out His angels with a loud trumpet-blast, and they will bring together His own People to Him from north, south, east and west—from one extremity of the world to the other.

The Lesson of the Fig Tree

(Mark 13:28–31; Luke 21:29–33)

³²"Now learn from the fig-tree the lesson it teaches. As soon as its branches have now become soft and it is bursting into leaf, you all know that summer is near. ³³So you also, when you see all these signs, may be sure that He is near—at your very door. ³⁴I tell you in solemn truth that the present generation will certainly not pass away without all these things having first taken place. ³⁵Earth and sky will pass away, but it is certain that my words will not pass away.

Readiness at Any Hour

(Genesis 6:1–7; Mark 13:32–37; Luke 12:35–48)

³⁶"But as to that day and the exact time no one knows—not even the angels of heaven, nor the Son, but the Father alone. ³⁷For as it was in the time of Noah, so it will be at the Coming of the Son of Man. ³⁸At that time, before the Deluge, men were busy eating and drinking, taking wives or giving them, up to the very day when Noah entered the Ark, ³⁹nor did they realise any danger till the Deluge came and swept them all away; so will it be at the Coming of the Son of Man. ⁴⁰Then will two men be in the open country: one will be taken away, and one left behind. ⁴¹Two women will be grinding at the mill: one will be taken away, and one left behind.

⁴²Be on the alert therefore, for you do not know the day on which your Lord is coming. ⁴³But of this be assured, that if the master of the house had known the hour at which the robber was coming, he would have kept awake, and not have allowed his house to be broken into. ⁴⁴Therefore you also must be ready; for it is at a time when you do not expect Him that the Son of Man will come.

⁴⁵"Who therefore is the loyal and intelligent servant to whom his master has entrusted the control of his household to give them their rations at the appointed time? ⁴⁶Blessed is that servant whom his master when he comes shall find so doing! ⁴⁷In solemn truth I tell you that he will give him the management of all his wealth. ⁴⁸But if the man, being a bad servant, should say in his heart, 'My master is a long time in coming,' ⁴⁹and should begin to beat his fellow servants, while he eats and drinks with drunkards; ⁵⁰the master of that servant will arrive on a day when he is not expecting him and at an hour of which he has not been informed; 51 he will treat him with the utmost severity and assign him a place among the hypocrites: there will be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

The Parable of the Ten Virgins

1“Then will the Kingdom of the Heavens be found to be like ten bridesmaids who took their torches and went out to meet the bridegroom. 2Five of them were foolish and five were wise. 3For the foolish, when they took their torches, did not provide themselves with oil; 4but the wise, besides their torches, took oil in their flasks. 5The bridegroom was a long time in coming, so that meanwhile they all became drowsy and fell asleep. 6But at midnight there is a loud cry, “The bridegroom! Go out and meet him!” 7Then all those bridesmaids roused themselves and trimmed their torches. 8“Give us some of your oil,” said the foolish ones to the wise, ‘for our torches are going out.’ 9“But perhaps,” replied the wise, ‘there will not be enough for all of us. Go to the shops rather, and buy some for yourselves.’ 10“So they went to buy. But meanwhile the bridegroom came; those bridesmaids who were ready went in with him to the wedding banquet; and the door was shut. 11“Afterwards the other bridesmaids came and cried, “Sir, Sir, open the door to us.’ 12“In solemn truth I tell you,’ he replied, ‘I do not know you.’ 13“Keep awake therefore; for you know neither the day nor the hour.

The Parable of the Talents

(Luke 19:11–27)

14“Why, it is like a man who, when going on his travels, called his bondservants and entrusted his property to their care. 15To one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one—to each according to his individual capacity; and then started from home. 16Without delay the one who had received the five talents went and employed them in business, and gained five more. 17In the same way he who had the two gained two more. 18But the man who had received the one went and dug a hole and buried his master’s money.

19“After a long lapse of time the master of those servants returned, and had a reckoning with them. 20The one who had received the five talents came and brought five more, and said, “Sir, it was five talents that you entrusted to me: see, I have gained five more.’ 21“You have done well, good and trustworthy servant,’ replied his master; ‘you have been trustworthy in the management of a little, I will put you in charge of much: share your master’s joy.’

22“The second, who had received the two talents, came and said, “Sir, it was two talents you entrusted to me: see, I have gained two more.’ 23“Good and trustworthy servant, you have done well,’ his master replied; ‘you have been trustworthy in the management of a little, I will put you in charge of much: share your master’s joy.’

24“But, next, the man who had the one talent in his keeping came and said, “Sir, I knew you to be a severe man, reaping where you had not sown and garnering what you had not winnowed. 25So being afraid I went and buried your talent in the ground: there you have what belongs to you.’

26“‘You wicked and slothful servant,’ replied his master, ‘did you know that I reap where I have not sown, and garner what I have not winnowed? 27Your duty then was to deposit my money in some bank, and so when I came I should have got back my property with interest. 28So take away the talent from him, and give it to the man who has the ten.’

29 30But as for this worthless servant, put him out into the darkness outside: there will be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.’

The Sheep and the Goats

31“‘When the Son of Man comes in His glory, and all the angels with Him, then will He sit upon His glorious throne, 32and all the nations will be gathered into His presence. And He will separate them from one another, just as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats; 33and will make the sheep stand at His right hand, and the goats at His left.

34“‘Then the King will say to those at His right, ‘‘Come, my Father’s blessed ones, receive your inheritance of the Kingdom which has been divinely intended for you ever since the creation of the world. 35For when I was hungry, you gave me food; when I was thirsty, you gave me drink; when I was homeless, you gave me a welcome; 36when I was ill-clad, you clothed me; when I was sick, you visited me; when I was in prison, you came to see me.’ 37“‘When, Lord,’ the righteous will reply, ‘did we see Thee hungry, and feed Thee; or thirsty, and give Thee drink? 38When did we see Thee homeless, and give Thee a welcome? or ill-clad, and clothe Thee? 39When did we see Thee sick or in prison, and come to see Thee?’ 40“‘But the King will answer them, ‘‘In solemn truth I tell you that in so far as you rendered such services to one of the humblest of these my brethren, you rendered them to myself.’

41“‘Then will He say to those at His left, ‘‘Begone from me, with the curse resting upon you, into the Fire of the Ages, which has been prepared for the Devil and his angels. 42For when I was hungry, you gave me nothing to eat; when thirsty, you gave me nothing to drink; 43when homeless, you gave me no welcome; ill-clad, you clothed me not; sick or in prison, you visited me not.’ 44“‘Then will they also answer, ‘‘Lord, when did we see Thee hungry or thirsty or homeless or ill-clad or sick or in prison, and not come to serve Thee?’ 45“‘But he will reply, ‘‘In solemn truth I tell you that in so far as you withheld such services from one of the humblest of these, you withheld them from me.’ 46“‘And these shall go away into the Punishment of the Ages, but the righteous into the Life of the Ages.’’

The Plot to Kill Jesus

(Mark 14:1–2; Luke 22:1–2; John 11:45–57)

1When Jesus had ended all these discourses, He said to His disciples,

2“‘You know that in two days’ time the Passover comes. And the Son of Man will be delivered up to be crucified.’’

3Then the High Priests and Elders of the People assembled in the court of the palace of the High Priest Caiaphas, 4and consulted how to get Jesus into their power by stratagem and put Him to death. 5But they said, "Not during the Festival, lest there be a riot among the people."

Jesus Anointed at Bethany

(Mark 14:3–9; Luke 7:36–50; John 12:1–8)

6Now when Jesus was come to Bethany and was at the house of Simon the Leper, 7a woman came to Him with a jar of very costly, sweet-scented ointment, which she poured over His head as He reclined at table. 8"Why such waste?" indignantly exclaimed the disciples; 9"for this might have been sold for a considerable sum, and the money given to the poor." 10But Jesus heard it, and said to them, "Why are you vexing her? For she has done a most gracious act towards me. 11The poor you always have with you, but me you have not always. 12In pouring this ointment over me, her object was to prepare me for burial. 13In solemn truth I tell you that wherever in the whole world this Good News shall be proclaimed, this deed of hers shall be spoken of in memory of her."

Judas Agrees to Betray Jesus

(Mark 14:10–11; Luke 22:3–6)

14At that time one of the Twelve, the one called Judas Iscariot, went to the High Priests 15and said, "What are you willing to give me if I betray him to you?" So they weighed out to him thirty shekels, 16and from that moment he was on the look out for an opportunity to betray Him.

Preparing the Passover

(Mark 14:12–16; Luke 22:7–13)

17On the first day of the Unleavened Bread the disciples came to Jesus with the question, "Where shall we make preparations for you to eat the Passover?" 18"Go into the city," He replied, "to a certain man, and tell him, 'The Teacher says, My time is close at hand. It is at your house that I shall keep the Passover with my disciples.'" 19The disciples did as Jesus directed them, and got the Passover ready.

The Last Supper

(Mark 14:17–26; Luke 22:14–23; 1 Corinthians 11:17–34)

20When evening came, He was at table with the twelve disciples, 21and the meal was proceeding, when Jesus said, "In solemn truth I tell you that one of you will betray me." 22Intensely grieved they began one after another to ask Him, "Can it be I, Master?" 23"The one who has dipped his fingers in the bowl with me," He answered, "is the man who will betray me. 24The Son of Man is indeed going as is written concerning Him; but alas for that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It had been a happy thing for that man if he had never been born." 25Then Judas, the disciple who was betraying Him, asked, "Can it be I, Rabbi?" "It is you," He replied.

26During the meal Jesus took a Passover biscuit, blessed it and broke it. He then gave it to the disciples, saying, "Take this and eat it: it is my body." 27And He took the cup and gave thanks, and gave it to them saying, "Drink from it, all of you; 28for this is my blood which is to be poured out for many for the remission of sins—the blood which ratifies the Covenant. 29I tell you that I will never again take the produce of the vine till that day when I shall drink the new wine with you in my Father's Kingdom."

30So they sang the hymn and went out to the Mount of Olives.

Jesus Predicts Peter's Denial

(Zechariah 13:7–9; Mark 14:27–31; Luke 22:31–38; John 13:36–38)

31Then said Jesus, "This night all of you will stumble and fail in your fidelity to me; for it is written, 'I will strike the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered in all directions.' 32But after I have risen to life again I will go before you into Galilee." 33"All may stumble and fail," said Peter, "but I never will." 34"In solemn truth I tell you," replied Jesus, "that this very night, before the cock crows, you will three times disown me." 35"Even if I must die with you," declared Peter, "I will never disown you." In like manner protested all the disciples.

Jesus Prays at Gethsemane

36Then Jesus came with them to a place called Gethsemane. And He said to the disciples, "Sit down here, whilst I go yonder and there pray." 37And He took with Him Peter and the two sons of Zabdi. Then He began to be full of anguish and distress, 38and He said to them, "My soul is crushed with anguish to the very point of death; wait here, and keep awake with me."

39Going forward a short distance He fell on His face and prayed. "My Father," He said, "if it is possible, let this cup pass away from me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as Thou willest." 40Then He came to the disciples and found them asleep, and He said to Peter, "Alas, none of you could keep awake with me for even a single hour!

41Keep awake, and pray that you may not enter into temptation: the spirit is right willing, but the body is frail."

42Again a second time He went away and prayed, saying, "My Father, if it is impossible for this cup to pass without my drinking it, Thy will be done." 43He came and again found them asleep, for they were very tired. 44So He left them, and went away once more and prayed a third time, again using the same words. 45Then He came to the disciples and said, "Sleep on and rest. See, the moment is close at hand when the Son of Man is to be betrayed into the hands of sinful men. 46Rouse yourselves. Let us be going. My betrayer is close at hand."

The Betrayal of Jesus

47He had scarcely finished speaking when Judas came—one of the Twelve—accompanied by a great crowd of men armed with swords and bludgeons, sent by the High Priests and Elders of the People. 48Now the betrayer had agreed upon a sign with them, to direct them. He had said, "The one whom I kiss is the man: lay hold of him." 49So he went straight to Jesus and said, "Peace to you, Rabbi!" And he kissed Him eagerly. 50"Friend," said Jesus, "carry out your intention." Then they came and laid their hands on Jesus and seized Him firmly.

51But one of those with Jesus drew his sword and struck the High Priest's servant, cutting off his ear. 52"Put back your sword again," said Jesus, "for all who draw the sword shall perish by the sword. 53Or do you suppose I cannot entreat my Father and He would instantly send to my help more than twelve legions of angels? 54In that case how are the Scriptures to be fulfilled which declare that thus it must be?"

55Then said Jesus to the crowds, "Have you come out as if to fight with a robber, with swords and bludgeons to apprehend me? Day after day I have been sitting teaching in the Temple, and you did not arrest me. 56But all this has taken place in order that the writings of the Prophets may be fulfilled." At this point the disciples all left Him and fled.

Jesus before the Sanhedrin

57But the officers who had laid hold of Jesus led Him away to Caiaphas the High Priest, at whose house the Scribes and the Elders had assembled. 58And Peter kept following Him at a distance, till he came even to the court of the High Priest's palace, where he entered and sat down among the officers to see the issue.

59Meanwhile the High Priests and the whole Sanhedrin were seeking false testimony against Jesus in order to put Him to death; 60but they could find none, although many false witnesses came forward. At length there came two 61who testified, "This man said, 'I am able to pull down the Sanctuary of God and three days afterwards to build a new one.'" 62Then the High Priest stood up and asked Him, "Have you no answer to make? What is it these men are saying in evidence against you?" 63Jesus however remained silent. Again the High Priest addressed Him. "In the name of the ever-living God," he said, "I now put you on your oath. Tell us whether you are the Christ, the Son of God." 64"I am He," replied Jesus. "But I tell you that, later on, you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of Omnipotence, and coming on the clouds of the sky."

65Then the High Priest tore his robes and exclaimed, "Impious language! What further need have we of witnesses! See, you have now heard the impiety. 66What is your verdict?" "He deserves to die," they replied.

67Then they spat in His face, and struck Him—some with the fist, some with the open hand— 68while they taunted Him, saying, "Christ, prove yourself a Prophet by telling us who it was that struck you."

Peter Denies Jesus

(Mark 14:66–72; Luke 22:54–62; John 18:15–18)

69Peter meanwhile was sitting outside in the court of the palace, when one of the maidservants came over to him and said, "You too were with Jesus the Galilaeen." 70He denied it before them all, saying, "I do not know what you mean." 71Soon afterwards he went out and stood in the gateway, when another girl saw him, and said, addressing the people there, "This man was with Jesus the Nazarene." 72Again he denied it with an oath. "I do not know the man," he said. 73A short time afterwards the people standing there came and said to Peter, "Certainly you too are one of them, for your brogue shows it." 74Then with curses and oaths he declared, "I do not know the man." Immediately a cock crowed, 75and Peter recollected the words of Jesus, how He had said, "Before the cock crows you will three times disown me." And he went out and wept aloud, bitterly.

Matthew 27

Jesus Delivered to Pilate

(Mark 15:1–5)

1When morning came all the High Priests and the Elders of the people consulted together against Jesus to put Him to death; 2and binding Him they led Him away and handed Him over to Pilate the Governor.

Judas Hangs Himself

(Zechariah 11:10–17)

3Then when Judas, who had betrayed Him, saw that He was condemned, smitten with remorse he brought back the thirty shekels to the High Priests and Elders 4and said, "I have sinned, in betraying to death one who is innocent." "What does that matter to us?" they replied; it is your business." 5Flinging the shekels into the Sanctuary he left the place, and went and hanged himself. 6When the High Priests had gathered up the money they said, "It is illegal to put it into the Treasury, because it is the price of blood." 7So after consulting together they spent the money in the purchase of the Potter's Field as a burial place for people not belonging to the city; 8for which reason that piece of ground received the name, which it still bears, of 'the Field of Blood.' 9Then were fulfilled the words spoken by the Prophet Jeremiah, "And I took the thirty shekels, the price of the prized one on whom Israelites had set a price, 10and gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord directed me."

Jesus before Pilate

(Luke 23:1–5; John 18:28–40)

11Meanwhile Jesus was brought before the Governor, and the latter put the question, "Are you the King of the Jews?" "I am their King," He answered. 12When however the High Priests and the Elders kept bringing their charges against Him, He said not a word in reply. 13"Do you not hear," asked Pilate, "what a mass of evidence they are bringing against you?" 14But He made no reply to a single accusation, so that the Governor was greatly astonished.

The Crowd Chooses Barabbas

(Mark 15:6–11; Luke 23:13–25)

15"Now it was the Governor's custom at the Festival to release some one prisoner, whomsoever the populace desired; 16and at this time they had a notorious prisoner called Barabbas. 17So when they were now assembled Pilate appealed to them. "Whom shall I release to you," he said, "Barabbas, or Jesus the so-called Christ?" 18For he knew that it was from envious hatred that Jesus had been brought before him.

19While he was sitting on the tribunal a message came to him from his wife. "Have nothing to do with that innocent man," she said, "for during the night I have suffered terribly in a dream through him." 20The High Priests, however, and the Elders urged the crowd to ask for Barabbas and to demand the death of Jesus. 21So when the Governor a second time asked them, "Which of the two shall I release to you?"—they cried, "Barabbas!" 22"What then," said Pilate, "shall I do with Jesus, the so-called Christ?" With one voice they shouted, "Let him be crucified!" 23"Why, what crime has he committed?" asked Pilate. But they kept on furiously shouting, "Let him be crucified!"

Pilate Washes His Hands

(Mark 15:12–15)

²⁴So when he saw that he could gain nothing, but that on the contrary there was a riot threatening, he called for water and washed his hands in sight of them all, saying, "I am not responsible for this murder: you must answer for it." ²⁵"His blood," replied all the people, "be on us and on our children!" ²⁶Then he released Barabbas to them, but Jesus he ordered to be scourged, and gave Him up to be crucified.

The Soldiers Mock Jesus

(Isaiah 50:4–11; Mark 15:16–20; Luke 22:63–65; John 19:1–15)

²⁷Then the Governor's soldiers took Jesus into the Praetorium, and called together the whole battalion to make sport of Him. ²⁸Stripping off His garments, they put on Him a general's short crimson cloak. ²⁹They twisted a wreath of thorny twigs and put it on His head, and they put a sceptre of cane in His right hand, and kneeling to Him they shouted in mockery, "Long live the King of the Jews!" ³⁰Then they spat upon Him, and taking the cane they repeatedly struck Him on the head with it. ³¹At last, having finished their sport, they took off the cloak, clothed Him again in His own garments, and led Him away for crucifixion.

The Crucifixion

(Psalm 22:1–31; Mark 15:21–32; Luke 23:26–43; John 19:16–27)

³²Going out they met a Cyrenaeen named Simon; whom they compelled to carry His cross, ³³and so they came to a place called Golgotha, which means 'Skull-ground.' ³⁴Here they gave Him a mixture of wine and gall to drink, but having tasted it He refused to drink it.

³⁵After crucifying Him, they divided His garments among them by lot, ³⁶and sat down there on guard. ³⁷Over His head they placed a written statement of the charge against Him: THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

³⁸At the same time two robbers were crucified with Him, one at His right hand and the other at His left. ³⁹And the passers-by reviled Him. They shook their heads at Him ⁴⁰and said, "You who would pull down the Sanctuary and build a new one within three days, save yourself. If you are God's Son, come down from the cross." ⁴¹In like manner the High Priests also, together with the Scribes and the Elders, taunted Him. ⁴²"He saved others," they said, "himself he cannot save! He is the King of Israel! Let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe in him. ⁴³His trust is in God: let God deliver him now, if He will have him; for he said, 'I am God's Son.'" ⁴⁴Insults of the same kind were heaped on Him even by the robbers who were being crucified with Him.

The Death of Jesus

⁴⁵Now from noon until three o'clock in the afternoon there was darkness over the whole land; ⁴⁶but about three o'clock Jesus cried out in a loud voice, "Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani?" that is to say, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" ⁴⁷"The man is calling for Elijah," said some of the bystanders. ⁴⁸One of them ran forthwith, and filling a sponge with sour wine put it on the end of a cane and offered it Him to drink; ⁴⁹while the rest said, "Let us see whether Elijah is coming to deliver him." ⁵⁰But Jesus uttered another loud cry and then yielded up His spirit. ⁵¹Immediately the curtain of the Sanctuary was torn in two from top to bottom: the earth quaked; the rocks split; ⁵²the tombs opened; and many of God's people who were asleep in death awoke. ⁵³And coming out of their tombs after Christ's resurrection they entered the holy city and showed themselves to many. ⁵⁴As for the Captain and the soldiers who were with Him keeping guard over Jesus, when they witnessed the earthquake and the other occurrences they were filled with terror, and exclaimed, "Assuredly he was God's Son."

55And there were a number of women there looking on from a distance, who had followed Jesus from Galilee ministering to His necessities; 56among them being Mary of Magdala, Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of the sons of Zabdi.

The Burial of Jesus

(Isaiah 53:9–12; Mark 15:42–47; Luke 23:50–56; John 19:38–42)

57Towards sunset there came a wealthy inhabitant of Arimathaea, named Joseph, who himself also had become a disciple of Jesus. 58He went to Pilate and begged to have the body of Jesus, and Pilate ordered it to be given to him. 59So Joseph took the body and wrapped it in a clean sheet of fine linen. 60He then laid it in his own new tomb which he had hewn in the solid rock, and after rolling a great stone against the door of the tomb he went home. 61Mary of Magdala and the other Mary were both present there, sitting opposite to the sepulchre.

The Guards at the Tomb

62On the next day, the day after the Preparation, the High Priests and the Pharisees came in a body to Pilate. 63"Sir," they said, "we recollect that during his lifetime that impostor pretended that after two days he was to rise to life again. 64So give orders for the sepulchre to be securely guarded till the third day, for fear his disciples should come by night and steal the body, and then tell the people that he has come back to life; and so the last imposture will be more serious than the first." 65"You can have a guard," said Pilate: "go and make all safe, as best you can." 66So they went and made the sepulchre secure, sealing the stone besides setting the guard.

The Resurrection

(Mark 16:1–8; Luke 24:1–12; John 20:1–9)

1After the Sabbath, in the early dawn of the first day of the week, Mary of Magdala and the other Mary came to see the sepulchre. 2But to their amazement there had been a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord had descended from Heaven, and had come and rolled back the stone, and was sitting upon it. 3His appearance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow. 4For fear of him the guards trembled violently, and became like dead men. 5But the angel said to the women, "As for you, dismiss your fears. I know that it is Jesus that you are looking for—the crucified One. 6He is not here: He has come back to life, as He foretold. Come and see the place where He lay. 7And go quickly and tell His disciples that He has risen from the dead and is going before you into Galilee: there you shall see Him. Remember, I have told you."

8They quickly left the tomb and ran, still terrified but full of unspeakable joy, to carry the news to His disciples. 9And then suddenly they saw Jesus coming to meet them. "Peace be to you," He said. And they came and clasped His feet, bowing to the ground before Him.

10Then He said, "Dismiss all fear! Go and take word to my brethren to go into Galilee, and there they shall see me."

The Report of the Guards

11While they went on this errand, some of the guards came into the city and reported to the High Priests every detail of what had happened. 12So the latter held a conference with the Elders, and after consultation with them they heavily bribed the soldiers, 13telling them to say, "His disciples came during the night and stole his body while we were asleep." 14"And if this," they added, "is reported to the Governor, we will satisfy him and screen you from punishment." 15So they took the money and did as they were instructed; and this story was noised about among the Jews, and is current to this day.

The Great Commission

(Mark 16:14–18)

16As for the eleven disciples, they proceeded into Galilee, to the hill where Jesus had arranged to meet them. 17There they saw Him and prostrated themselves before Him. Yet some doubted. 18Jesus however came near and said to them, "All power in Heaven and over the earth has been given to me. 19Go therefore and make disciples of all the nations; baptize them into the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit; 20and teach them to obey every command which I have given you. And remember, I am with you always, day by day, until the Close of the Age."

The Mission of John the Baptist

(Isaiah 40:1–5; Matthew 3:1–17; Luke 3:1–22; John 1:19–34)

1The beginning of the Good News of Jesus Christ the Son of God.

2As it is written in Isaiah the Prophet, "See, I am sending My messenger before Thee, Who will prepare Thy way";

3"The voice of one crying aloud: 'In the Desert prepare a road for the Lord: Make His highways straight.'"

4So John the Baptizer came, and was in the Desert proclaiming a baptism of the penitent for forgiveness of sins. 5There went out to him people of all classes from Judaea, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem of all ranks, and were baptized by him in the river Jordan, making open confession of their sins. 6As for John, his garment was of camel's hair, and he wore a loincloth of leather; and his food was locusts and wild honey. 7His announcement was, "There is One coming after me mightier than I—One whose sandal-strap I am unworthy to stoop down and unfasten. 8I have baptized you with water, but He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit."

⁹At that time Jesus came from Nazareth in Galilee and was baptized by John in the Jordan; ¹⁰and immediately on His coming up out of the water He saw an opening in the sky, and the Spirit like a dove coming down to Him; ¹¹and a voice came from the sky, saying, "Thou art My Son dearly loved: in Thee is My delight."

The Temptation and Preaching of Jesus

(Matthew 4:1–17; Luke 4:1–15)

¹²At once the Spirit impelled Him to go out into the Desert, ¹³where He remained for forty days, tempted by Satan; and He was among the wild beasts, but the angels waited upon Him.

¹⁴Then, after John had been thrown into prison, Jesus came into Galilee proclaiming God's Good News.

¹⁵"The time has fully come," He said, "and the Kingdom of God is close at hand: repent, and believe this Good News.

The First Disciples

(Matthew 4:18–22; Luke 5:1–11; John 1:35–42)

¹⁶One day, passing along the shore of the Lake of Galilee, He saw Simon and Andrew, Simon's brother, throwing their nets in the Lake; for they were fisherman.

¹⁷"Come and follow me," said Jesus, "and I will make you fishers for men." ¹⁸At once they left their nets and followed Him. ¹⁹Going on a little further He saw James the son of Zabdi and his brother John: they also were in the boat mending the nets, and He immediately called them. ²⁰They therefore left their father Zabdi in the boat with the hired men, and went and followed Him.

Jesus Expels an Unclean Spirit

(Luke 4:31–37)

²¹So they came to Capernaum, and on the next Sabbath He went to the synagogue and began to teach. ²²The people listened with amazement to His teaching—for there was authority about it: it was very different from that of the Scribes— ²³when all at once, there in their synagogue, a man under the power of a foul spirit screamed out: ²⁴"What have you to do with us, Jesus the Nazarene? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are—God's Holy One." ²⁵But Jesus reprimanded him, saying, "Silence! come out of him." ²⁶So the foul spirit, after throwing the man into convulsions, came out of him with a loud cry. ²⁷And all were amazed and awe-struck, so they began to ask one another, "What does this mean? Here is a new sort of teaching—and a tone of authority! And even to foul spirits he issues orders and they obey him!" ²⁸And His fame spread at once everywhere in all that part of Galilee.

Jesus Heals at Peter's House

(Matthew 8:14–17; Luke 4:38–41)

²⁹Then on leaving the synagogue they came at once, with James and John, to the house of Simon and Andrew. ³⁰Now Simon's mother-in-law was ill in bed with a fever, and without delay they informed Him about her. ³¹So He went to her, and taking her hand He raised her to her feet: the fever left her, and she began to wait upon them.

³²When it was evening, after sunset people came bringing Him all who were sick and the demoniacs; ³³and the whole town was assembled at the door. ³⁴Then He cured numbers of people who were ill with various diseases, and He drove out many demons; not allowing the demons to speak, because they knew who He was.

Jesus Prays and Preaches

(Luke 4:42–44)

35In the morning He rose early, while it was still quite dark, and leaving the house He went away to a solitary place and there prayed. 36And Simon and the others searched everywhere for Him. 37When they found Him they said, "Every one is looking for you." 38"Let us go elsewhere, to the neighbouring country towns," He replied, "that I may proclaim my Message there also; because for that purpose I came from God." 39And He went through all Galilee, preaching in the synagogues and expelling the demons.

The Leper's Prayer

(Leviticus 14:1–32; Matthew 8:1–4; Luke 5:12–16)

40One day there came a leper to Jesus entreating Him, and pleading on his knees. "If you are willing," he said, "you are able to cleanse me." 41Moved with pity Jesus reached out His hand and touched him. "I am willing," He said; "be cleansed." 42The leprosy at once left him, and he was cleansed. 43Jesus at once sent him away, strictly charging him, 44and saying, "Be careful not to tell any one, but go and show yourself to the Priest, and for your purification present the offerings that Moses appointed as evidence for them." 45But the man, when he went out, began to tell every one and to publish the matter abroad, so that it was no longer possible for Jesus to go openly into any town; but He had to remain outside in unfrequented places, where people came to Him from all parts.

Jesus Heals a Paralytic

(Matthew 9:1–8; Luke 5:17–26)

1After some days He entered Capernaum again, and it soon became known that He was at home; 2and such numbers of people came together that there was no longer room for them even round the door. He was speaking His Message to them, 3when there came a party of people bringing a paralytic—four men carrying him. 4Finding themselves unable, however, to bring him to Jesus because of the crowd, they untiled the roof just over His head, and after clearing an opening they lowered the mat on which the paralytic was lying. 5Seeing their faith, Jesus said to the paralytic, "My son, your sins are pardoned." 6Now there were some of the Scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts. 7"Why does this man use such words?" they said; "he is blaspheming. Who can pardon sins but One—that is, God?" 8At once perceiving by His spirit that they were reasoning within themselves, Jesus asked them, "Why do you thus argue in your minds?"

9Which is easier?—to say to this paralytic, 'Your sins are pardoned,' or to say, 'Rise, take up your mat, and walk?' 10But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to pardon sins"—He turned to the paralytic, and said,

11“To you I say, ‘Rise, take up your mat and go home.’” 12The man rose, and immediately under the eyes of all took up his mat and went out, so that they were all filled with astonishment, gave the glory to God, and said, “We never saw anything like this.”

Jesus Calls Levi

(Matthew 9:9–13; Luke 5:27–32)

13Again He went out to the shore of the Lake, and the whole multitude kept coming to Him, and He taught them.

14And as He passed by, He saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the Toll Office, and said to him, “Follow me.” So he rose and followed Him.

15When He was sitting at table in Levi’s house, a large number of tax-gatherers and notorious sinners were at table with Jesus and His disciples; for there were many such who habitually followed Him.

16But when the Scribes of the Pharisee sect saw Him eating with the sinners and the tax-gatherers, they said to His disciples, “He is eating and drinking with the tax-gatherers and sinners!” 17Jesus heard the words, and He said, “It is not the healthy who require a doctor, but the sick: I did not come to appeal to the righteous, but to sinners.”

Questions about Fasting

(Matthew 9:14–15; Luke 5:33–35)

18(Now John’s disciples and those of the Pharisees were keeping a fast.) 19“Can a wedding party fast while the bridegroom is among them?” replied Jesus. “So long as they have the bridegroom with them, fasting is impossible. 20But a time will come when the Bridegroom will be taken away from them; then they will fast.

The Patches and the Wineskins

(Matthew 9:16–17; Luke 5:36–39)

21No one mends an old garment with a piece of unshrunk cloth. Otherwise, the patch put on would tear away from it—the new from the old—and a worse hole would be made. 22And no one pours new wine into old wineskins. Otherwise the wine would burst the skins, and both wine and skins would be lost. New wine needs fresh skins!”

The Lord of the Sabbath

(1 Samuel 21:1–7; Matthew 12:1–8; Luke 6:1–5)

23One Sabbath He was walking through the wheatfields when His disciples began to pluck the ears of wheat as they went. 24So the Pharisees said to Him, “Look! why are they doing what on the Sabbath is unlawful?” 25“Have you never read,” Jesus replied, “what David did when the necessity arose and he and his men were hungry: 26how he entered the house of God in the High-priesthood of Abiathar, and ate the Presented Loaves—which none but the priests are allowed to eat—and gave some to his men also?” 27And Jesus said to them: “The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath; 28so that the Son of Man is Lord even of the Sabbath.”

Mark 3

Jesus Heals on the Sabbath

(Matthew 12:9–14; Luke 6:6–11)

1At another time, when He went to the synagogue, there was a man there with one arm shrivelled up. 2They closely watched Him to see whether He would cure him on the Sabbath—so as to have a charge to bring against Him. 3“Come forward,” said He to the man with the shrivelled arm. 4Then He asked them, “Are we allowed to do good on the Sabbath, or to do evil? to save a life, or to destroy one?” They remained silent. 5Grieved and indignant at the hardening of their hearts, He looked round on them with anger, and said to the man, “Stretch out your arm.” He stretched it out, and the arm was completely restored. 6But no sooner had the Pharisees left the synagogue than they held a consultation with the Herodians against Jesus, to devise some means of destroying Him.

Jesus Heals the Multitudes

(Matthew 4:23–25; Luke 6:17–19)

7Accordingly Jesus withdrew with His disciples to the Lake, and a vast crowd of people from Galilee followed Him; 8and from Judaea and Jerusalem and Idumaea and from beyond the Jordan and from the district of Tyre and Sidon there came to Him a vast crowd, hearing of all that He was doing. 9So He gave directions to His disciples to keep a small boat in constant attendance on Him because of the throng—to prevent their crushing Him. 10For He had cured many of the people, so that all who had any ailments pressed upon Him, to touch Him. 11And the foul spirits, whenever they saw Him, threw themselves down at His feet, screaming out: “You are the Son of God.” 12But He many a time checked them, forbidding them to say who He was.

The Twelve Apostles

(Matthew 10:1–4; Luke 6:12–16)

13Then He went up the hill; and those whom He Himself chose He called, and they came to Him. 14He appointed twelve of them, that they might be with Him, and that He might also send them to proclaim His Message, 15with authority to expel the demons. 16These twelve were Simon (to whom He gave the surname of Peter) 17James the son of Zabdi and John the brother of James (these two He surnamed Boanerges, that is ‘Sons of Thunder’) 18Andrew, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, Thaddaeus, Simon the Cananaean, 19and Judas Iscariot, the man who also betrayed Him.

A House Divided

(Matthew 12:22–30; Luke 11:14–23)

20And He went into a house. But again the crowd assembled, so that there was no opportunity for them even to snatch a meal. 21Hearing of this, His relatives came to seize Him by force, for they said, “He is out of his mind.” 22The Scribes, too, who had come down from Jerusalem said, “He has Baal-zebul in him; and it is by the power of the Prince of the demons that he expels the demons.” 23So He called them to Him, and using figurative language He appealed to them, saying, “How is it possible for Satan to expel Satan? 24For if civil war breaks out in a kingdom, nothing can make that kingdom last; 25and if a family splits into parties, that family cannot continue. 26So if Satan has risen in arms and has made war upon himself, stand he cannot, but meets his end. 27Nay, no one can go into a strong man's house and carry off his property, unless he first binds the strong man, and then he will plunder his house.

The Unpardonable Sin

(Matthew 12:31–32)

28In solemn truth I tell you that all their sins may be pardoned to the sons of men, and all their blasphemies, however they may have blasphemed; 29but whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit, he remains for ever unabsolved: he is guilty of a sin of the Ages." 30This was because they said, "He is possessed by a foul spirit."

Jesus' Mother and Brothers

(Matthew 12:46–50; Luke 8:19–21)

31By this time His mother and His brothers arrive, and standing outside they send a message to Him to call Him. 32Now a crowd was sitting round Him; so they tell Him, "Your mother and your brothers and sisters are outside, inquiring for you." 33"Who are my mother and my brothers?" He replied. 34And, fixing His eyes on the people who were sitting round Him in a circle, He said, 35"Here are my mother and my brothers. For wherever there is one who has been obedient to God, there is my brother—my sister—and my mother."

The Parable of the Sower

(Matthew 13:1–9; Luke 8:4–8)

1Once more He began to teach by the side of the Lake, and a vast multitude of people came together to listen to Him. He therefore went on board the boat and sat there, a little way from the land; and all the people were on the shore close to the water. 2Then He proceeded to teach them many lessons in figurative language; and in His teaching He said,

3"Listen: the sower goes out to sow. 4As he sows, some of the seed falls by the way-side, and the birds come and peck it up. 5Some falls on the rocky ground where it finds but little earth, and it shoots up quickly because it has no depth of soil; 6but when the sun is risen, it is scorched, and through having no root it withers away. 7Some, again, falls among the thorns; and the thorns spring up and stifle it, so that it yields no crop. 8But some of the seed falls into good ground, and gives a return: it comes up and increases, and yields thirty, sixty, or a hundred-fold." 9"Listen," He added, "every one who has ears to listen with!"

The Purpose of Jesus' Parables

(Isaiah 6:1–13; Matthew 13:10–17; Luke 8:9–10)

10When He was alone, the Twelve and the others who were about Him requested Him to explain His figurative language. 11"To you," He replied, "has been entrusted the secret truth concerning the Kingdom of God; but to those others outside your number all this is spoken in figurative language;

12that “They may look and look but not see, and listen and listen but not understand, lest perchance they should return and be pardoned.”

The Parable of the Sower Explained

(Matthew 13:18–23; Luke 8:11–15)

13“Do you all miss the meaning of this parable?” He added; “how then will you understand the rest of my parables?” 14“What the sower sows is the Message. 15Those who receive the seed by the way-side are those in whom the Message is sown, but, when they have heard it, Satan comes at once and carries away the Message sown in them. 16In the same way those who receive the seed on the rocky places are those who, when they have heard the Message, at once accept it joyfully, 17but they have no root within them. They last for a time; then, when suffering or persecution comes because of the Message, they are immediately overthrown. 18Others there are who receive the seed among the thorns: these are they who have heard the Message, 19but worldly cares and the deceitfulness of wealth and the excessive pursuit of other objects come in and stifle the Message, and it becomes unfruitful. 20Those, on the other hand, who have received the seed on the good ground, are all who hear the Message and welcome it, and yield a return of thirty, sixty, or a hundred fold.”

The Lesson of the Lamp

(Luke 8:16–18)

21He went on to say, “Is the lamp brought in in order to be put under the bushel or under the bed? Is it not rather in order that it may be placed on the lampstand? 22Why, there is nothing hidden except with a view to its being ultimately disclosed, nor has anything been made a secret but that it may at last come to light. 23Listen, every one who has ears to listen with!” 24He also said to them, “Take care what you hear. With what measure you measure, it will be measured to you, and that with interest. 25For those who have will have more given them; and from those who have not, even what they have will be taken away.”

The Seed Growing Secretly

26Another saying of His was this: “The Kingdom of God is as if a man scattered seed over the ground: 27he spends days and nights, now awake, now asleep, while the seed sprouts and grows tall, he knows not how. 28Of itself the land produces the crop—first the blade, then the ear; afterwards the perfect grain is seen in the ear. 29But no sooner is the crop ripe, than he sends the reapers, because the time of harvest has come.”

The Parable of the Mustard Seed

(Matthew 13:31–32; Luke 13:18–19)

30Another saying of His was this: “How are we to picture the Kingdom of God? or by what figure of speech shall we represent it? 31It is like a mustard-seed, which, when sown in the earth, is the smallest of all the seeds in the world; 32yet when sown it springs up and becomes larger than all the herbs, and throws out great branches, so that the birds build under its shadow.”

33With many such parables He used to speak the Message to them according to their capacity for receiving it. 34But except in figurative language He spoke nothing to them; while to His own disciples He expounded everything, in private.

Jesus Calms the Storm

(Psalm 107:1–43; Matthew 8:23–27; Luke 8:22–25)

35The same day, in the evening, He said to them, “Let us cross to the other side.” 36So they got away from the crowd, and took Him—as He was—in the boat; and other boats accompanied Him. 37But a heavy squall came on, and the waves were now dashing into the boat, so that it was fast filling. 38But He Himself was in the stern asleep, with His head on the cushion: so they woke Him. “Rabbi,” they cried, “is it nothing to you that we are drowning?” 39So He roused Himself and rebuked the wind, and said to the waves, “Silence! Be still!” The wind sank, and a perfect calm set in. 40“Why are you so timid?” He asked; “have you still no faith?” 41Then they were filled with terror, and began to say to one another, “Who is this, then? For even wind and sea obey Him.”

The Demons and the Pigs

(Matthew 8:28–34; Luke 8:26–39)

1So they arrived at the opposite shore of the Lake, in the country of the Gerasenes. 2At once, on His landing, there came from the tombs to meet Him a man possessed by a foul spirit. 3This man lived among the tombs, nor could any one now secure him even with a chain; 4for many a time he had been left securely bound in fetters and chains, but afterwards the chains lay torn link from link, and the fetters in fragments, and there was no one strong enough to master him. 5And constantly, day and night, he remained among the tombs or on the hills, shrieking, and mangling himself with sharp stones. 6And when he saw Jesus in the distance, he ran and threw himself at His feet, 7crying out in a loud voice, “What hast Thou to do with me, Jesus, Son of God Most High? In God’s name I implore Thee not to torment me.” 8For He had said to him, “Foul spirit, come out of the man.” 9Jesus also questioned him. “What is your name?” He said. “Legion,” he replied, “for there are a host of us.” 10And he earnestly entreated Him not to send them away out of the country. 11Feeding there, on the mountain slope, was a great herd of swine. 12So they besought Jesus. “Send us to the swine,” they said, “so that we may enter into them.” 13He gave them leave; and the foul spirits came out and entered into the swine, and the herd—about 2,000 in number—rushed headlong down the cliff into the Lake and were drowned in the Lake.

14The swineherds fled, and spread the news in town and country. So the people came to see what it was that had happened; 15and when they came to Jesus, they beheld the demoniac quietly seated, clothed and of sane mind—the man who had had the legion; and they were awe-stricken. 16And those who had seen it told them the particulars of what had happened to the demoniac, and all about the swine. 17Then they began entreating Him to depart from their district. 18As He was embarking, the man who had been possessed asked permission to accompany Him. 19But He would not allow it. “Go home to your family,” He said, “and report to them all that the Lord has done for you, and the mercy He has shown you.” 20So the man departed, and related publicly everywhere in the Ten Towns all that Jesus had done for him; and all were astonished.

The Healing Touch of Jesus

(Matthew 9:18–26; Luke 8:40–56)

21When Jesus had re-crossed in the boat to the other side, a vast multitude came crowding to Him; and He was on the shore of the Lake, 22when there came one of the Wardens of the Synagogue—he was called Jair—who, on beholding Him, threw himself at His feet, 23and besought Him with many entreaties. “My little daughter,” he said, “is at the point of death: I pray you come and lay your hands upon her, that she may recover and live.” 24And Jesus went with him. And a dense crowd followed Him, and thronged Him on all sides.

25Now a woman who for twelve years had suffered from haemorrhage, 26and had undergone many different treatments under a number of doctors and had spent all she had without receiving benefit but on the contrary growing worse, 27heard of Jesus. And she came in the crowd behind Him and touched His cloak; 28for she said, “If I but touch His clothes, I shall be cured.” 29In a moment the flow of her blood ceased, and she felt in herself that her complaint was cured. 30Immediately Jesus, well knowing that healing power had gone from within Him, turned round in the crowd and asked, “Who touched my clothes?” 31“You see the multitude pressing you on all sides,” His disciples exclaimed, “and yet you ask, ‘Who touched me?’” 32But He continued looking about to see the person who had done this, 33until the woman, frightened and trembling, knowing what had happened to her, came and threw herself at His feet, and told Him all the truth. 34“Daughter,” He said, “your faith has cured you: go in peace, and be free from your complaint.”

35While He is yet speaking, men come from the house to the Warden, and say, “Your daughter is dead: why trouble the Rabbi further?” 36But Jesus, overhearing the words, said to the Warden, “Do not be afraid; only have faith.” 37And He allowed no one to accompany Him except Peter and the brothers James and John. 38So they come to the Warden’s house. Here He gazes on a scene of uproar, with people weeping aloud and wailing. 39He goes in. “Why all this outcry and loud weeping?” He asks; “the child is asleep, not dead.” 40To this their reply is a scornful laugh. He, however, puts them all out, takes the child’s father and mother and those He has brought with Him, and enters the room where the child lies. 41Then, taking her by the hand, He says to her, “Talitha, koum;” that is to say, “Little girl, I command you to wake!” 42Instantly the little girl rises to her feet and begins to walk (for she was twelve years old) 43but He gave strict injunctions that the matter should not be made known, and directed them to give her something to eat.

The Rejection at Nazareth

(Matthew 13:53–58; Luke 4:16–30)

1Leaving that place He came into His own country, accompanied by His disciples. 2On the Sabbath He proceeded to teach in the synagogue; and many, as they heard Him, were astonished. “Where did he acquire all this?” they asked. “What is this wisdom that has been given to him? And what are these marvellous miracles which his hands perform? 3Is not this the carpenter, Mary’s son, the brother of James and Joses, Jude and Simon? And do not his sisters live here among us?” So they turned angrily away. 4But Jesus said to them, “There is no Prophet without honour except in his own country, and among his own relatives, and in his own home.” 5And He could not do any miracle there, except that He laid His hands on a few who were out of health and cured them; and 6He wondered at their unbelief. So He went round the adjacent villages, teaching.

The Ministry of the Twelve

(Matthew 10:5–15; Luke 9:1–6)

⁷Then summoning the Twelve to Him, He proceeded to send them out by twos, and gave them authority over the foul spirits. ⁸He charged them to take nothing for the journey except a stick; no bread, no bag, and not a penny in their pockets, ⁹but to go wearing sandals. "And do not," He said, "put on an extra under garment. ¹⁰Wherever you enter a house, make it your home till you leave that place. ¹¹But wherever they will not receive you or listen to you, when you leave shake off the very dust from under your feet to bear witness concerning them." ¹²So they set out, and preached in order that men might repent. ¹³Many demons they expelled, and many invalids they anointed with oil and cured.

The Beheading of John

(Matthew 14:1–12; Luke 9:7–9)

¹⁴King Herod heard of all this (for the name of Jesus had become widely known) ¹⁵Others asserted that He was Elijah. Others again said, "He is a Prophet, like one of the great Prophets." ¹⁶But when Herod heard of Him, he said, "The John, whom I beheaded, has come back to life."

¹⁷For Herod himself had sent and had had John arrested and had kept him in prison in chains, for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife; because he had married her. ¹⁸For John had repeatedly told Herod, "You have no right to be living with your brother's wife." ¹⁹Therefore Herodias hated him and wished to take his life, but could not; ²⁰for Herod stood in awe of John, knowing him to be an upright and holy man, and he protected him. After listening to him he was in great perplexity, and yet he found a pleasure in listening. ²¹At length Herodias found her opportunity. Herod on his birthday gave a banquet to the nobles of his court and to the tribunes and the principal people in Galilee, ²²at which Herodias's own daughter came in and danced, and so charmed Herod and his guests that he said to her, "Ask me for anything you please, and I will give it to you." ²³He even swore to her, "Whatever you ask me for I will give you, up to half my kingdom." ²⁴She at once went out and said to her mother: "What shall I ask for?" "The head of John the Baptizer," she replied. ²⁵The girl immediately came in, in haste, to the King and made her request. "My desire is," she said, "that you will give me, here and now, on a dish, the head of John the Baptist." ²⁶Then the King, though intensely sorry, yet for the sake of his oaths, and of his guests, would not break faith with her. ²⁷He at once sent a soldier of his guard with orders to bring John's head. So he went and beheaded him in the prison, ²⁸and brought his head on a dish and gave it to the young girl, who gave it to her mother. ²⁹When John's disciples heard of it, they came and took away his body and laid it in a tomb.

The Feeding of the Five Thousand

(Matthew 14:13–21; Luke 9:10–17; John 6:1–15)

³⁰When the Apostles had re-assembled round Jesus, they reported to Him all they had done and all they had taught. ³¹Then He said to them, "Come away, all of you, to a quiet place, and rest awhile." For there were many coming and going, so that they had no time even for meals. ³²Accordingly they sailed away in the boat to a solitary place apart.

³³But the people saw them going, and many knew them; and coming by land they ran together there from all the neighbouring towns, and arrived before them. ³⁴So when Jesus landed, He saw a vast multitude; and His heart was moved with pity for them, because they were like sheep which have no shepherd, and He proceeded to teach them many things. ³⁵By this time it was late; so His disciples came to Him, and said, "This is a lonely place, and the hour is now late: ³⁶send them away that they may go to the farms and villages near here and buy themselves something to eat." ³⁷"Give them food yourselves," He replied. "Are we," they asked, "to go and buy two hundred shillings' worth of bread and give them food?" ³⁸"How many loaves have you?" He inquired; "go and see." So they found out, and said, "Five; and a couple of fish." ³⁹So He directed them to make all sit down in companies on the green grass. ⁴⁰And they sat down in rows of hundreds and of fifties. ⁴¹Then He took the five loaves and the two fish, and lifting His eyes to Heaven He blessed the food. Then He broke the loaves into portions which He went on handing to the disciples to distribute; giving pieces also of the two fish to them all. ⁴²All ate and were fully satisfied. ⁴³And they carried away broken portions enough to fill twelve baskets, besides pieces of the fish. ⁴⁴Those who ate the bread were 5,000 adult men.

Jesus Walks on Water

(Matthew 14:22–33; John 6:16–21)

⁴⁵Immediately afterwards He made His disciples go on board the boat and cross over to Bethsaida, leaving Him behind to dismiss the crowd. ⁴⁶He then bade the people farewell, and went away up the hill to pray.

⁴⁷When evening was come, the boat was half way across the Lake, while he Himself was on shore alone. ⁴⁸But when He saw them distressed with rowing (for the wind was against them) ⁴⁹They saw Him walking on the water, and thinking that it was a spirit they cried out; ⁵⁰for they all saw Him and were terrified. He, however, immediately spoke to them. "There is no danger," He said; "it is I; be not alarmed." ⁵¹Then He went up to them on board the boat, and the wind lulled; and they were beside themselves with silent amazement. ⁵²For they had not learned the lesson taught by the loaves, but their minds were dull.

Jesus Heals at Gennesaret

(Matthew 14:34–36)

⁵³Having crossed over they drew to land in Gennesaret and came to anchor. ⁵⁴But no sooner had they gone ashore than the people immediately recognized Him. ⁵⁵Then they scoured the whole district, and began to bring Him the sick on their mats wherever they heard He was. ⁵⁶And enter wherever He might—village or town or hamlet—they laid their sick in the open places, and entreated Him to let them touch were it but the tassel of His robe; and all, whoever touched Him, were restored to health.

The Tradition of the Elders

(Matthew 15:1–9)

¹Then the Pharisees, with certain Scribes who had come from Jerusalem, came to Him in a body. ²They had noticed that some of His disciples were eating their food with 'unclean' (that is to say, unwashed) ³ ⁴and when they come from market they will not eat without bathing first; and they have a good many other customs which they have received traditionally and cling to, such as the rinsing of cups and pots and of bronze utensils, and the washing of beds.) ⁵So the Pharisees and Scribes put the question to Him: "Why do your disciples transgress the traditions of the Elders, and eat their food with unclean hands?"

6"Rightly did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites," He replied; "as it is written, "This People honour Me with their lips, while their hearts are far away from Me:

7But idle is their devotion while they lay down precepts which are mere human rules.'

8"You neglect God's Commandment: you hold fast to men's traditions."

9"Praiseworthy indeed!" He added, "to set at nought God's Commandment in order to observe your own traditions! 10For Moses said, 'Honour thy father and thy mother' and again, 'He who curses father or mother, let him die the death.' 11But you say, 'If a man says to his father or mother, It is a Korban (that is, a thing devoted to God) 12And so you no longer allow him to do anything for his father or mother, 13thus nullifying God's precept by your tradition which you have handed down. And many things of that kind you do."

What Defiles a Man

(Matthew 15:10–20)

14Then Jesus called the people to Him again. "Listen to me, all of you," He said, "and understand.

15There is nothing outside a man which entering him can make him unclean; but it is the things which come out of a man that make him unclean." 16

17After He had left the crowd and gone indoors, His disciples began to ask Him about this figure of speech. 18"Have you also so little understanding?" He replied; "do you not understand that anything whatever that enters a man from outside cannot make him unclean, 19because it does not go into his heart, but into his stomach, and passes away ejected from him?" By these words Jesus pronounced all kinds of food clean. 20"What comes out of a man," He added, "that it is which makes him unclean.

21For from within, out of men's hearts, their evil purposes proceed—fornication, theft, murder, adultery, 22covetousness, wickedness, deceit, licentiousness, envy, reviling, pride, reckless folly: 23all these wicked things come out from within and make a man unclean."

The Faith of the Gentile Woman

(Matthew 15:21–28)

24Then He rose and left that place and went into the neighbourhood of Tyre and Sidon. Here He entered a house and wished no one to know it, but He could not escape observation. 25Forthwith a woman whose little daughter was possessed by a foul spirit heard of Him, and came and flung herself at His feet. 26She was a Gentile woman, a Syro-phoenician by nation: and again and again she begged Him to expel the demon from her daughter. 27"Let the children first eat all they want," He said; "it is not right to take the children's bread and throw it to the dogs." 28"True, Sir," she replied, "and yet the dogs under the table eat the children's scraps." 29"For those words of yours, go home," He replied; "the demon has gone out of your daughter." 30So she went home, and found the child lying on the bed, and the demon gone.

The Deaf and Mute Man

(Matthew 9:27–34)

31Returning from the neighbourhood of Tyre, He came by way of Sidon to the Lake of Galilee, passing through the district of the Ten Towns. 32Here they brought to Him a deaf man that stammered, on whom they begged Him to lay His hands. 33So Jesus taking him aside, apart from the crowd, put His fingers into his ears, and spat, and moistened his tongue; 34and looking up to Heaven He sighed, and said to him, "Ephphatha!" (that is, "Open!") 35And the man's ears were opened, and his tongue became untied, and he began to speak perfectly. 36Then Jesus charged them to tell no one; but the more He charged them, all the more did they spread the news far and wide. 37The amazement was extreme. "He succeeds in everything he attempts," they exclaimed; "he even makes deaf men hear and dumb men speak!"

The Feeding of the Four Thousand

(2 Kings 4:42–44; Matthew 15:29–39)

1About that time there was again an immense crowd, and they found themselves with nothing to eat. So He called His disciples to Him.

2"My heart yearns over the people," He said; "for this is now the third day they have remained with me, and they have nothing to eat. 3If I were to send them home hungry, they would faint on the way, some of them having come a great distance." 4"Where can we possibly get bread here in this remote place to satisfy such a crowd?" answered His disciples. 5"How many loaves have you?" He asked. "Seven," they said. 6So He passed the word to the people to sit down on the ground. Then taking the seven loaves He blessed them, and broke them into portions and proceeded to give them to His disciples for them to distribute, and they distributed them to the people. 7They had also a few small fish. He blessed them, and He told His disciples to distribute these also. 8So the people ate an abundant meal; and what remained over they picked up and carried away—seven hampers of broken pieces. 9The number fed were about 4,000. Then He sent them away, 10and at once going on board with His disciples He came into the district of Dalmanutha.

The Demand for a Sign

(Matthew 16:1–4; Luke 12:54–56)

11The Pharisees followed Him and began to dispute with Him, asking Him for a sign in the sky, to make trial of Him. 12Heaving a deep and troubled sigh, He said, "Why do the men of to-day ask for a sign? In solemn truth I tell you that no sign will be given to the men of to-day." 13So He left them, went on board again, and came away to the other side.

The Leaven of the Pharisees and of Herod

(Matthew 16:5–12; Luke 12:1–3)

14Now they had forgotten to take bread, nor had they more than a single loaf with them in the boat;

15and when He admonished them, "See to it, be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees and the yeast of Herod," 16they explained His words to one another by saying, "We have no bread!"

17He perceived what they were saying, and He said to them, "What is this discussion of yours about having no bread? Do you not yet see and understand? Are your minds so dull of comprehension? 18You have eyes! can you not see? You have ears! can you not hear? and have you no memory? 19When I broke up the five loaves for the 5,000 men, how many baskets did you carry away full of broken portions?" "Twelve," they said. 20"And when the seven for the 4,000, how many hampers full of portions did you take away?" "Seven," they answered. 21"Do you not yet understand?" He said.

The Blind Man at Bethsaida

22And they came to Bethsaida. And a blind man was brought to Jesus and they entreated Him to touch him. 23So He took the blind man by the arm and brought him out of the village, and spitting into his eyes He put His hands on him and asked him, "Can you see anything?" 24He looked up and said, "I can see the people: I see them like trees—only walking." 25Then for the second time He put His hands on the man's eyes, and the man, looking steadily, recovered his sight and saw everything distinctly. 26So He sent him home, and added, "Do not even go into the village."

Peter's Confession of Christ

(Matthew 16:13–20; Luke 9:18–20; John 6:67–71)

27From that place Jesus and His disciples went to the villages belonging to Caesarea Philippi. On the way He began to ask His disciples, "Who do people say that I am?" 28"John the Baptist," they replied, "but others say Elijah, and others, that it is one of the Prophets." 29Then He asked them pointedly, "But you yourselves, who do you say that I am?" "You are the Christ," answered Peter. 30And He strictly forbade them to tell this about Him to any one.

Christ's Passion Foretold

(Matthew 16:21–23; Luke 9:21–22)

31And now for the first time He told them, "The Son of Man must endure much suffering, and be rejected by the Elders and the High Priests and the Scribes, and be put to death, and after two days rise to life." 32This He told them plainly; whereupon Peter took Him and began to remonstrate with Him. 33But turning round and seeing His disciples, He rebuked Peter. "Get behind me, Adversary," He said, "for your thoughts are not God's thoughts, but men's."

Take Up Your Cross

(Matthew 16:24–28; Luke 9:23–27)

34Then calling to Him the crowd and also His disciples, He said to them, "If any one is desirous of following me, let him ignore self and take up his cross, and so be my follower. 35For whoever is bent on securing his life will lose it, but he who loses his life for my sake, and for the sake of the Good News, will secure it. 36Why, what does it benefit a man to gain the whole world and forfeit his life? 37For what could a man give to buy back his life? 38Every one, however, who has been ashamed of me and of my teachings in this faithless and sinful age, of him the Son of Man also will be ashamed when He comes in His Father's glory with the holy angels."

Mark 9

The Transfiguration

(Matthew 17:1–13; Luke 9:28–36; 2 Peter 1:16–21)

¹He went on to say, "In solemn truth I tell you that some of those who are standing here will certainly not taste death till they have seen the Kingdom of God already come in power."

²Six days later, Jesus took with Him Peter, James, and John, and brought them alone, apart from the rest, up a high mountain; and in their presence His appearance underwent a change. ³His garments also became dazzling with brilliant whiteness—such whiteness as no bleaching on earth could give. ⁴Moreover there appeared to them Elijah accompanied by Moses; and the two were conversing with Jesus, ⁵when Peter said to Jesus, "Rabbi, we are thankful to you that we are here. Let us put up three tents—one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah." ⁶For he knew not what to say: they were filled with such awe. ⁷Then there came a cloud spreading over them, and a voice issued from the cloud, "This is my Son, dearly loved: listen to Him." ⁸Instantly they looked round, and now they could no longer see any one, but themselves and Jesus.

⁹As they were coming down from the mountain, He very strictly forbade them to tell any one what they had seen "until after the Son of Man has risen from among the dead." ¹⁰So they kept the matter to themselves, although frequently asking one another what was meant by the rising from the dead. ¹¹They also asked Him, "How is it that the Scribes say that Elijah must first come?" ¹²"Elijah," He replied, "does indeed come first and reforms everything; but how is it that it is written of the Son of Man that He will endure much suffering and be held in contempt? ¹³Yet I tell you that not only has Elijah come, but they have also done to him whatever they chose, as the Scriptures say about him."

The Boy with an Evil Spirit

(Matthew 17:14–18; Luke 9:37–42)

¹⁴As they came to rejoin the disciples, they saw an immense crowd surrounding them and a party of Scribes disputing with them. ¹⁵Immediately the whole multitude on beholding Him were astonished and awe-struck, and yet they ran forward and greeted Him. ¹⁶"What is the subject you are discussing?" He asked them. ¹⁷"Rabbi," answered one of the crowd, "I have brought you my son. He has a dumb spirit in him; ¹⁸and wherever it comes upon him, it dashes him to the ground, and he foams at the mouth and grinds his teeth, and he is pining away. I begged your disciples to expel it, but they had not the power." ¹⁹"O unbelieving generation!" replied Jesus; "how long must I be with you? how long must I have patience with you? Bring the boy to me." ²⁰So they brought him to Jesus. And the spirit, when he saw Jesus, immediately threw the youth into convulsions, so that he fell on the ground and rolled about, foaming at the mouth. ²¹Then Jesus asked the father, "How long has he been like this?" "From early childhood," he said; ²²"and often it has thrown him into the fire or into pools of water to destroy him. But, if you possibly can, have pity on us and help us." ²³"If I possibly can!" replied Jesus; "why, everything is possible to him who believes." ²⁴Immediately the father cried out, "I do believe: strengthen my weak faith." ²⁵Then Jesus, seeing that an increasing crowd was running towards Him, rebuked the foul spirit, and said to it, "Dumb and deaf spirit, I command you, come out of him and never enter into him again." ²⁶So with a loud cry he threw the boy into fit after fit, and came out. The boy looked as if he were dead, so that most of them said he was dead; ²⁷but Jesus took his hand and raised him up, and he stood on his feet. ²⁸After the return of Jesus to the house His disciples asked Him privately, "How is it that we could not expel the spirit?" ²⁹"An evil spirit of this kind," He answered, "can only be driven out by prayer."

The Second Prediction of the Passion

(Matthew 17:22–23; Luke 9:43–45)

30Departing thence they passed through Galilee, and He was unwilling that any one should know it; 31for He was teaching His disciples, and telling them, “The Son of Man is to be betrayed into the hands of men, and they will put Him to death; and after being put to death, in three days He will rise to life again.” 32They, however, did not understand what He meant, and were afraid to question Him.

The Greatest in the Kingdom

(Matthew 18:1–5; Luke 9:46–50)

33So they came to Capernaum; and when in the house He asked them, “What were you arguing about on the way?” 34But they remained silent; for on the way they had debated with one another who was the chief of them. 35Then sitting down He called the Twelve, and said to them, “If any one wishes to be first, he must be last of all and servant of all.” 36And taking a young child He made him stand in their midst, then threw His arms round him and said,

37“Whoever for my sake receives one such young child as this, receives me; and whoever receives me, receives not so much me as Him who sent me.”

38“Rabbi,” said John to Him, “we saw a man making use of your name to expel demons, and we tried to hinder him, on the ground that he did not follow us.” 39“You should not have tried to hinder him,” replied Jesus, “for there is no one who will use my name to perform a miracle and be able the next minute to speak evil of me. 40He who is not against us is for us; 41and whoever gives you a cup of water to drink because you belong to Christ, I solemnly tell you that he will certainly not lose his reward.

Temptations and Trespasses

(Matthew 18:6–9; Luke 17:1–4)

42“And whoever shall occasion the fall of one of these little ones who believe, he would be better off if, with a millstone round his neck, he were lying at the bottom of the sea. 43If your hand should cause you to sin, cut it off: it would be better for you to enter into Life maimed, than remain in possession of both your hands and go away into Gehenna, into the fire which cannot be put out. 44 45Or if your foot should cause you to sin, cut it off: it would be better for you to enter into Life crippled, than remain in possession of both your feet and be thrown into Gehenna. 46 47Or if your eye should cause you to sin, tear it out. It would be better for you to enter into the Kingdom of God half-blind than remain in possession of two eyes and be thrown into Gehenna, 48where their worm does not die and the fire does not go out.

Good Salt

(Matthew 5:13–16; Luke 14:34–35)

49Every one, however, will be salted with fire. 50Salt is a good thing, but if the salt should become tasteless, what will you use to give it saltiness? Have salt within you and live at peace with one another.”

Teachings about Divorce

(Matthew 19:1–12)

1 Soon on His feet once more, He enters the district of Judaea and crosses the Jordan: again the people flock to Him, and ere long, as was usual with Him, He was teaching them once more.

2 Presently a party of Pharisees come to Him with the question—seeking to entrap Him, “May a man divorce his wife?” 3 “What rule did Moses lay down for you?” He answered. 4 “Moses,” they said, “permitted a man to draw up a written notice of divorce, and to send his wife away.” 5 “It was in consideration of your stubborn hearts,” said Jesus, “that Moses enacted this law for you; 6 but from the beginning of the creation the rule was, ‘Male and female did God make them. 7 For this reason a man shall leave his father and his mother, and shall cling to his wife, 8 and the two shall be one’; so that they are two no longer, but ‘one.’ 9 What, therefore, God has joined together let not man separate.”

10 Indoors the disciples began questioning Jesus again on the same subject. 11 He replied, “Whoever divorces his wife and marries another woman, commits adultery against the first wife; 12 and if a woman puts away her husband and marries another man, she commits adultery.”

Jesus Blesses the Children

(Matthew 19:13–15; Luke 18:15–17)

13 One day people were bringing young children to Jesus for Him to touch them, but the disciples interfered. 14 Jesus, however, on seeing this, was moved to indignation, and said to them, “Let the little children come to me: do not hinder them; for to those who are childlike the Kingdom of God belongs. 15 In solemn truth I tell you that no one who does not receive the Kingdom of God like a little child will by any possibility enter it.” 16 Then He took them in His arms and blessed them lovingly, one by one, laying His hands upon them.

The Rich Young Man

(Matthew 19:16–30; Luke 18:18–30)

17 As He went out to resume His journey, there came a man running up to Him, who knelt at His feet and asked, “Good Rabbi, what am I to do in order to inherit the Life of the Ages?” 18 “Why do you call me good?” asked Jesus in reply; “there is no one truly good except One—that is, God. 19 You know the Commandments—‘Do not murder;’ ‘Do not commit adultery;’ ‘Do not steal;’ ‘Do not lie in giving evidence;’ ‘Do not defraud;’ ‘Honour thy father and thy mother.’” 20 “Rabbi,” he replied, “all these Commandments I have carefully obeyed from my youth.” 21 Then Jesus looked at him and loved him, and said, “One thing is lacking in you: go, sell all you possess and give the proceeds to the poor, and you shall have riches in Heaven; and come and be a follower of mine.” 22 At these words his brow darkened, and he went away sad; for he was possessed of great wealth.

23 Then looking round on His disciples Jesus said, “With how hard a struggle will the possessors of riches enter the Kingdom of God!” 24 The disciples were amazed at His words. Jesus, however, said again, “Children, how hard a struggle is it for those who trust in riches to enter the Kingdom of God! 25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God.” 26 They were astonished beyond measure, and said to one another, “Who then can be saved?” 27 Jesus looking on them said, “With men it is impossible, but not with God; for everything is possible with God.”

28“Remember,” said Peter to Him, “that we forsook everything and have become your followers.” 29“In solemn truth I tell you,” replied Jesus, “that there is no one who has forsaken house or brothers or sisters, or mother or father, or children or lands, for my sake and for the sake of the Good News, 30but will receive a hundred times as much now in this present life—houses, brothers, sisters, mothers, children, lands—and persecution with them—and in the coming age the Life of the Ages. 31But many who are now first will be last, and the last, first.”

The Third Prediction of the Passion

(Matthew 20:17–19; Luke 18:31–34)

32They were still on the road going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus was walking ahead of them; they were full of wonder, and some, though they followed, did so with fear. Then, once more calling to Him the Twelve, He began to tell them what was about to happen to Him. 33“See,” He said, “we are going up to Jerusalem, where the Son of Man will be betrayed to the High Priests and the Scribes. They will condemn Him to death, and will hand Him over to the Gentiles; 34they will insult Him in cruel sport, spit on Him, scourge Him, and put Him to death; but on the third day He will rise to life again.”

The Request of James and John

(Matthew 20:20–28)

35Then James and John, the sons of Zabdi, came up to Him and said, “Rabbi, we wish you would grant us whatever request we make of you.” 36“What would you have me do for you?” He asked. 37“Allow us,” they replied, “to sit one at your right hand and the other at your left hand, in your glory.” 38“You know not,” said He, “what you are asking. Are you able to drink out of the cup from which I am to drink, or to be baptized with the baptism with which I am to be baptized?” 39“We are able,” they replied. “Out of the cup,” said Jesus, “from which I am to drink you shall drink, and with the baptism with which I am to be baptized you shall be baptized; 40*but as to sitting at my right hand or at my left, that is not mine to give: it will be for those for whom it is reserved.*”

41The other ten, hearing of it, were at first highly indignant with James and John. 42Jesus, however, called them to Him and said to them, “You are aware how those who are deemed rulers among the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great men make them feel their authority; 43but it is not to be so among you. No, whoever desires to be great among you must be your servant; 44and whoever desires to be first among you must be the bondservant of all. 45For the Son of Man also did not come to be waited upon, but to wait on others, and to give His life as the redemption-price for a multitude of people.”

Jesus Heals Bartimaeus

(Matthew 20:29–34; Luke 18:35–43)

46They came to Jericho; and as He was leaving that town—Himself and His disciples and a great crowd—Bartimaeus (the son of Timaeus) 47Hearing that it was Jesus the Nazarene, he began to cry out, “Son of David, Jesus, have pity on me.” 48Many angrily told him to leave off shouting; but he only cried out all the louder, “Son of David, have pity on me.” 49Then Jesus stood still. “Call him,” He said. So they called the blind man. “Cheer up,” they said; “rise, he is calling you.” 50The man flung away his outer garment, sprang to his feet, and came to Jesus. 51“What shall I do for you?” said Jesus. “Rabboni,” replied the blind man, “let me recover my sight.” 52“Go,” said Jesus, “your faith has cured you.” Instantly he regained his sight, and followed Him along the road.

The Triumphal Entry

(Zechariah 9:9–13; Matthew 21:1–11; Luke 19:28–40; John 12:12–19)

1When they were getting near Jerusalem and had arrived at Bethphage and Bethany, on the Mount of Olives, Jesus sent two of his disciples on in front, with these instructions. 2“Go,” He said, “to the village facing you, and immediately on entering it you will find an ass’s foal tied up which no one has ever yet ridden: untie him and bring him here. 3And if any one asks you, ‘Why are you doing that?’ say, ‘The Master needs it, and will send it back here without delay.’” 4So they went and found a young ass tied up at the front door of a house. They were untying it, 5when some of the bystanders called out, “What are you doing, untying the foal?” 6But on their giving the answer that Jesus had bidden them give, they let them take it. 7So they brought the foal to Jesus, and threw their outer garments over him; and Jesus mounted. 8Then many spread their outer garments to carpet the road, and others leafy branches which they had cut down in the fields;

9while those who led the way and those who followed kept shouting “God save Him!” Blessed be He who comes in the Lord’s name.

10Blessings on the coming Kingdom of our forefather David! God in the highest Heavens save Him!”

11So He came into Jerusalem and into the Temple; and after looking round upon everything there, the hour being now late He went out to Bethany with the Twelve.

Jesus Curses the Fig Tree

(Matthew 21:18–22; Mark 11:20–25)

12The next day, after they had left Bethany, He was hungry. 13But in the distance He saw a fig-tree in full leaf, and went to see whether perhaps He could find some figs on it. When however He came to it, He found nothing but leaves (for it was not fig time) 14and He said to the tree, “Let no one ever again eat fruit from thee!” And His disciples heard this.

Jesus Cleanses the Temple

(Matthew 21:12–17; Luke 19:45–48; John 2:12–25)

15They reached Jerusalem, and entering the Temple He began to drive out the buyers and sellers, and upset the money-changers’ tables and the stools of the pigeon-dealers, 16and would not allow any one to carry anything through the Temple. 17And He remonstrated with them. “Is it not written,” He said, “My House shall be called The House of Prayer for all the nations?’ But you have made it what it now is—a robbers’ cave.” 18This the High Priests and Scribes heard, and they began to devise means to destroy Him. For they were afraid of Him, because of the deep impression produced on all the people by His teaching.

19When evening came on, Jesus and His disciples used to leave the city.

The Withered Fig Tree

(Matthew 21:18–22; Mark 11:12–14)

20In the early morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig-tree withered to the roots; 21and Peter, recollecting, said to Him, "Look, Rabbi, the fig-tree which you cursed is withered up." 22Jesus said to them, "Have faith in God.

23In solemn truth I tell you that if any one shall say to this mountain, 'Remove, and hurl thyself into the sea,' and has no doubt about it in his heart, but stedfastly believes that what he says will happen, it shall be granted him. 24That is why I tell you, as to whatever you pray and make request for, if you believe that you have received it it shall be yours. 25But whenever you stand praying, if you have a grievance against any one, forgive it, so that your Father in Heaven may also forgive you your offences." 26

Jesus' Authority Challenged

(Matthew 21:23–27; Luke 20:1–8)

27They came again to Jerusalem; and as He was walking in the Temple, the High Priests, Scribes and Elders came to Him 28and asked, "By what authority are you doing these things? and who gave you authority to do them?" 29"And I will put a question to you," replied Jesus; "answer me, and then I will tell you by what authority I do these things. 30John's Baptism—was it of Heavenly or of human origin? Answer me." 31So they debated the matter with one another. "Suppose we say, 'Heavenly,'" they argued, "he will ask, 'Why then did you not believe him?'" 32Or should we say, 'human?'" They were afraid of the people; for all agreed in holding John to have been really a Prophet. 33So they answered Jesus, "We do not know." "Nor do I tell you," said Jesus, "by what authority I do these things."

The Parable of the Wicked Tenants

(Matthew 21:33–46; Luke 20:9–18)

1Then He began to speak to them in figurative language. "There was once a man," He said, "who planted a vineyard, fenced it round, dug a pit for the wine-tank, and built a strong lodge. Then he let the place to vine-dressers and went abroad. 2At vintage-time he sent one of his servants to receive from the vine-dressers a share of the grapes. 3But they seized him, beat him cruelly and sent him away empty-handed. 4Again he sent to them another servant: and as for him, they wounded him in the head and treated him shamefully. 5Yet a third he sent, and him they killed. And he sent many besides, and them also they ill-treated, beating some and killing others. 6He had still one left whom he could send, a dearly-loved son: him last of all he sent, saying, "They will treat my son with respect." 7"But those men—the vine-dressers—said to one another, "Here is the heir: come, let us kill him, and then the property will one day be ours." 8"So they took him and killed him, and flung his body outside the vineyard. 9What, therefore, will the owner of the vineyard do?" "He will come and put the vine-dressers to death," they said; "and will give the vineyard to others."

10"Have you not read even this passage," He added, "The stone which the builders rejected has become the Cornerstone:

11this Cornerstone came from the Lord, and is wonderful in our esteem?"

12And they kept looking out for an opportunity to seize Him, but were afraid of the people; for they saw that in this parable He had referred to them. So they left Him and went away.

Paying Taxes to Caesar

(Matthew 22:15–22; Luke 20:19–26)

13Their next step was to send to Him some of the Pharisees and of Herod's partisans to entrap Him in conversation. 14So they came to Him. "Rabbi," they said, "we know that you are a truthful man and you do not fear any one; for you do not recognize human distinctions, but teach God's way truly. Is it allowable to pay poll-tax to Caesar, or not? 15Shall we pay, or shall we refuse to pay?" But He, knowing their hypocrisy, replied, "Why try to ensnare me? Bring me a shilling for me to look at." 16They brought one; and He asked them, "Whose is this likeness and this inscription?" "Caesar's," they replied. 17"What is Caesar's," replied Jesus, "pay to Caesar—and what is God's, pay to God." And they wondered exceedingly at Him.

The Sadducees and the Resurrection

(Matthew 22:23–33; Luke 20:27–40)

18Then came to Him a party of Sadducees, a sect which denies that there is any Resurrection; and they proceeded to question Him. 19"Rabbi," they said, "Moses made it a law for us: 'If a man's brother should die and leave a wife, but no child, the man shall marry the widow and raise up a family for his brother.' 20There were once seven brothers, the eldest of whom married a wife, but at his death left no family. 21The second married her, and died, leaving no family; and the third did the same. 22And so did the rest of the seven, all dying childless. Finally the woman also died. 23At the Resurrection whose wife will she be? For they all seven married her." 24"Is not this the cause of your error," replied Jesus—"your ignorance alike of the Scriptures and of the power of God? 25For when they have risen from among the dead, men do not marry and women are not given in marriage, but they are as angels are in Heaven. 26But as to the dead, that they rise to life, have you never read in the Book of Moses, in the passage about the Bush, how God said to him, 'I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?' 27He is not the God of dead, but of living men. You are in grave error."

The Greatest Commandment

(Deuteronomy 6:1–19; Matthew 22:34–40)

28Then one of the Scribes, who had heard them disputing and well knew that Jesus had given them an answer to the point, and a forcible one, came forward and asked Him, "Which is the chief of all the Commandments?" 29"The chief Commandment," replied Jesus, "is this: 'Hear, O Israel! The Lord our God is one Lord; 30and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, thy whole soul, thy whole mind, and thy whole strength.' 31"The second is this: 'Thou shalt love thy fellow man as thou lovest thyself.' "Other Commandment greater than these there is none." 32So the Scribe said to Him, "Rightly, in very truth, Rabbi, have you said that He stands alone, and there is none but He; 33and to love Him with all one's heart, with all one's understanding, and with all one's strength, and to love one's fellow man no less than oneself, is far better than all our whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices." 34Perceiving that the Scribe had answered wisely Jesus said to him, "You are not far from the Kingdom of God." No one from that time forward ventured to put any question to Him.

Whose Son Is the Christ?

(Matthew 22:41–46; Luke 20:41–44)

35But, while teaching in the Temple, Jesus asked, “How is it the Scribes say that the Christ is a son of David?”

36David himself said, taught by the Holy Spirit, “The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at My right hand, until I have made thy foes a footstool under thy feet.”

37“David himself calls Him ‘Lord:’ how then can He be his son?” And the mass of people found pleasure in listening to Jesus.

Beware of the Scribes

(Luke 20:45–47)

38Moreover in the course of His teaching He said, “Be on your guard against the Scribes who like to walk about in long robes and to be bowed to in places of public resort, 39and to occupy the best seats in the synagogues and at dinner parties, 40and who swallow up the property of widows and then mask their wickedness by making long prayers: these men will receive far heavier punishment.”

The Widow’s Offering

(Luke 21:1–4)

41Having taken a seat opposite the Treasury, He observed how the people were dropping money into the Treasury, and that many of the wealthy threw in large sums. 42But there came one poor widow and dropped in two farthings, equal in value to a halfpenny. 43So He called His disciples to Him and said, “In solemn truth I tell you that this widow, poor as she is, has thrown in more than all the other contributors to the Treasury; 44for they have all contributed out of what they could well spare, but she out of her need has thrown in all she possessed—all she had to live on.”

Temple Destruction and Other Signs

(Matthew 24:1–8; Luke 21:5–9)

1As He was leaving the Temple, one of His disciples exclaimed, “Look, Rabbi, what wonderful stones! what wonderful buildings!” 2“You see all these great buildings?” Jesus replied; “not one stone will be left here upon another—not thrown down.”

3He was sitting on the Mount of Olives opposite to the Temple, when Peter, James, John, and Andrew, apart from the others asked Him, 4“Tell us, When will these things be? and what will be the sign when all these predictions are on the point of being fulfilled?” 5So Jesus began to say to them: “Take care that no one misleads you. 6Many will come assuming my name and saying, ‘I am He;’ and they will mislead many. 7But when you hear of wars and rumours of wars, do not be alarmed: come they must, but the End is not yet. 8For nation will rise in arms against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes in various places; there will be famines. These miseries are but like the early pains of childbirth.

Witnessing to All Nations

(Matthew 24:9–14; Luke 21:10–19)

9“You yourselves must be on your guard. They will deliver you up to Sanhedrins; you will be brought into synagogues and cruelly beaten; and you will stand before governors and kings for my sake, to be witnesses to them for me.

10But the proclamation of the Good News must be carried to all the Gentiles before the End comes.

11When however they are marching you along under arrest, do not be anxious beforehand about what you are to say, but speak what is given you when the time comes; for it will not be you who speak, but the Holy Spirit. 12“Brother will betray brother to be killed, and fathers will betray children; and children will rise against their parents and have them put to death. 13You will be objects of universal hatred because you are called by my name, but those who stand firm to the End will be saved.

The Abomination of Desolation

(Matthew 24:15–25; Luke 21:20–24)

14“As soon, however, as you see the Abomination of Desolation standing where he ought not”—let the reader observe these words—“then let those in Judaea escape to the hills; 15let him who is on the roof not come down and enter the house to fetch anything out of it; 16and let not him who is in the field turn back to pick up his outer garment. 17And alas for the women who at that time are with child or have infants! 18“But pray that it may not come in the winter. 19For those will be times of suffering the like of which has never been from the first creation of God’s world until now, and assuredly never will be again; 20and but for the fact that the Lord has cut short those days, no one would escape; but for the sake of His own People whom He has chosen for Himself He has cut short the days. 21“At that time if any one says to you, ‘See, here is the Christ!’ or ‘See, He is there!’ do not believe it. 22For there will rise up false Christs and false prophets, displaying signs and prodigies with a view to lead astray—if indeed that were possible—even God’s own People. 23But as for yourselves, be on your guard: I have forewarned you of everything.

The Return of the Son of Man

(Matthew 24:26–31; Luke 21:25–28)

24“At that time, however, after that distress, the sun will be darkened and the moon will not shed her light; 25the stars will be seen falling from the firmament, and the forces which are in the heavens will be disordered and disturbed. 26And then will they see the Son of Man coming in clouds with great power and glory. 27Then He will send forth the angels and gather together His chosen People from north, south, east and west, from the remotest parts of the earth and the sky.

The Lesson of the Fig Tree

(Matthew 24:32–35; Luke 21:29–33)

28“Learn from the fig-tree the lesson it teaches. As soon as its branch has become soft and it is bursting into leaf, you know that summer is near. 29So also do you, when you see these things happening, be sure that He is near, at your very door. 30I tell you in solemn truth that the present generation will certainly not pass away without all these things having first taken place. 31Earth and sky will pass away, but it is certain that my words will not pass away.

Readiness at Any Hour

(Matthew 24:36–51; Luke 12:35–48)

32“But as to that day or the exact time no one knows—not even the angels in Heaven, nor the Son, but the Father alone.

33Take care, be on the alert, and pray; for you do not know when it will happen. 34It is like a man living abroad who has left his house, and given the management to his servants—to each one his special duty—and has ordered the porter to keep awake. 35Be wakeful therefore, for you know not when the master of the house is coming—in the evening, at midnight, at cock-crow, or at dawn. 36Beware lest He should arrive unexpectedly and find you asleep. 37Moreover, what I say to you I say to all—Be wakeful!”

The Plot to Kill Jesus

(Matthew 26:1–5; Luke 22:1–2; John 11:45–57)

1It was now two days before the Passover and the feast of Unleavened Bread, and the High Priests and Scribes were bent on finding how to seize Him by stratagem and put Him to death. 2But they said, “Not on the Festival-day, for fear there should be a riot among the people.”

Jesus Anointed at Bethany

(Matthew 26:6–13; Luke 7:36–50; John 12:1–8)

3Now when He was at Bethany, in the house of Simon the Leper, while He was at table, there came a woman with a jar of pure, sweet-scented ointment very costly: she broke the jar and poured the ointment over His head. 4But there were some who said indignantly among themselves, “Why has the ointment been thus wasted? 5For that ointment might have been sold for fifteen pounds or more, and the money have been given to the poor.” And they were exceedingly angry with her. 6But Jesus said, “Leave her alone: why are you troubling her? She has done a most gracious act towards me. 7For you always have the poor among you, and whenever you choose you can do acts of kindness to them; but me you have not always. 8What she could she did: she has perfumed my body in preparation for my burial. 9And I solemnly tell you that wherever in the whole world the Good News shall be proclaimed, this which she has done shall also be told in remembrance of her.”

Judas Agrees to Betray Jesus

(Matthew 26:14–16; Luke 22:3–6)

10But Judas Iscariot, already mentioned as one of the Twelve, went to the High Priests to betray Jesus to them. 11They gladly listened to his proposal, and promised to give him a sum of money. So he looked out for an opportunity to betray Him.

Preparing the Passover

(Matthew 26:17–19; Luke 22:7–13)

12On the first day of the feast of Unleavened Bread—the day for killing the Passover lamb—His disciples asked Him, “Where shall we go and prepare for you to eat the Passover?” 13So He sent two of His disciples with instructions, saying, “Go into the city, and you will meet a man carrying a pitcher of water: follow him, 14and whatever house he enters, tell the master of the house, ‘The Rabbi asks, Where is my room where I can eat the Passover with my disciples?’ 15Then he will himself show you a large room upstairs, ready furnished: there make preparation for us.” 16So the disciples went out and came to the city, and found everything just as He had told them; and they got the Passover ready.

The Last Supper

(Matthew 26:20–30; Luke 22:14–23; 1 Corinthians 11:17–34)

17When it was evening, He came with the Twelve. 18And while they were at table Jesus said, “I solemnly tell you that one of you will betray me—one who is eating with me.” 19They were filled with sorrow, and began asking Him, one by one, “Not I, is it?” 20“It is one of the Twelve,” He replied; “he who is dipping his fingers in the dish with me. 21For the Son of Man is going His way as it is written about Him; but alas for the man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It had been a happy thing for that man, had he never been born.”

22Also during the meal He took a Passover biscuit, blessed it, and broke it. He then gave it to them, saying, “Take this, it is my body.” 23Then He took the cup, gave thanks, and handed it to them, and they all of them drank from it. 24“This is my blood,” He said, “which is to be poured out on behalf of many—the blood which makes the Covenant sure. 25I solemnly tell you that never again will I taste the produce of the vine till I shall drink the new wine in the Kingdom of God.”

26After singing a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

Jesus Predicts Peter’s Denial

(Zechariah 13:7–9; Matthew 26:31–35; Luke 22:31–38; John 13:36–38)

27Then said Jesus to them, “All of you are about to stumble and fall, for it is written, ‘I will strike down the Shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered in all directions.’ 28But after I have risen to life again I will go before you into Galilee.” 29“All may stumble and fall,” said Peter, “yet I never will.” 30“I solemnly tell you,” replied Jesus, “that to-day—this night—before the cock crows twice, you yourself will three times disown me.” 31“Even if I must die with you,” declared Peter again and again, “I will never disown you.” In like manner protested also all the disciples.

Jesus Prays at Gethsemane

32So they came to a place called Gethsemane. There He said to His disciples, “Sit down here till I have prayed.” 33Then He took with Him Peter and James and John, and began to be full of terror and distress, 34and He said to them, “My heart is oppressed with anguish to the very point of death: wait here and keep awake.” 35Going forward a short distance He threw Himself upon His face and prayed repeatedly that, if it was possible, He might be spared that time of agony;

36and He said, “Abba! my Father! all things are possible for Thee: take this cup of suffering away from me: and yet not what I desire, but what Thou desirest.” 37Then He came and found them asleep, and He said to Peter, “Simon, are you asleep? Had you not strength to keep awake a single hour? 38Be wakeful, all of you, and keep on praying, that you may not come into temptation: the spirit is right willing, but the body is frail.” 39He again went away and prayed, using the very same words. ⁴⁰When He returned He again found them asleep, for they were very tired; and they knew not how to answer Him. ⁴¹A third time He came, and then He said, "Sleep on and rest. Enough! the hour has come. Even now they are betraying the Son of Man into the hands of sinful men. ⁴²Rouse yourselves, let us be going: my betrayer is close at hand."

The Betrayal of Jesus

(Matthew 26:47–56; Luke 22:47–53; John 18:1–14)

⁴³Immediately, while He was still speaking, Judas, one of the Twelve, came and with him a crowd of men armed with swords and cudgels, sent by the High Priests and Scribes and Elders. ⁴⁴Now the betrayer had arranged a signal with them. "The one I kiss," he said, "is the man: lay hold of him, and take him safely away." ⁴⁵So he came, and going straight to Jesus he said, "Rabbi!" and kissed Him with seeming affection; ⁴⁶whereupon they laid hands on Him and held Him firmly. ⁴⁷But one of those who stood by drew his sword and struck a blow at the High Priest's servant, cutting off his ear. ⁴⁸"Have you come out," said Jesus, "with swords and cudgels to arrest me, as if you had to fight with a robber? ⁴⁹Day after day I used to be among you in the Temple teaching, and you never seized me. But this is happening in order that the Scriptures may be fulfilled.' ⁵⁰Then His friends all forsook Him and fled.

⁵¹One youth indeed did follow Him, wearing only a linen cloth round his bare body. Of him they laid hold, ⁵²but he left the linen cloth in their hands and fled without it.

Jesus before the Sanhedrin

(Matthew 26:57–68; Luke 22:66–71; John 18:19–24)

⁵³So they led Jesus away to the High Priest, and with him there assembled all the High Priests, Elders, and Scribes. ⁵⁴Peter followed Jesus at a distance, as far as the outer court of the High Priest's palace. But there he remained sitting among the officers, and warming himself by the fire. ⁵⁵Meanwhile the High Priests and the entire Sanhedrin were endeavouring to get evidence against Jesus in order to put Him to death, but could find none; ⁵⁶for though many gave false testimony against Him, their statements did not tally. ⁵⁷Then some came forward as witnesses and falsely declared, ⁵⁸"We have heard him say, 'I will pull down this Sanctuary built by human hands, and three days afterwards I will erect another built without hands.'" ⁵⁹But not even in this shape was their testimony consistent. ⁶⁰At last the High Priest stood up, and advancing into the midst of them all, asked Jesus, "Have you no answer to make? What is the meaning of all this that these witnesses allege against you?" ⁶¹But He remained silent, and gave no reply. A second time the High Priest questioned Him. "Are you the Christ, the Son of the Blessed One?" he said. ⁶²"I am," replied Jesus, "and you and others will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of the divine Power, and coming amid the clouds of the sky." ⁶³Rending his garments the High Priest exclaimed, "What need have we of witnesses after that? ⁶⁴You all heard his impious words. What is your judgement?" Then with one voice they condemned Him as deserving of death. ⁶⁵Thereupon some began to spit on Him, and to blindfold Him, while striking Him with their fists and crying, "Prove that you are a prophet." The officers too struck Him with open hands as they took Him in charge.

Peter Denies Jesus

(Matthew 26:69–75; Luke 22:54–62; John 18:15–18)

⁶⁶Now while Peter was below in the quadrangle, one of the High Priest's maidservants came, ⁶⁷and seeing Peter warming himself she looked at him and said, "You also were with Jesus, the Nazarene." ⁶⁸But he denied it, and said, "I don't know—I don't understand—What do you mean?" And then he went out into the outer court. Just then a cock crowed. ⁶⁹Again the maidservant saw him, and again began to say to the people standing by, "He is one of them." ⁷⁰A second time he repeatedly denied it. Soon afterwards the bystanders again accused Peter, saying, "You are surely one of them, for you too are a Galilaeen." ⁷¹But he broke out into curses and oaths, declaring, "I know nothing of the man you are talking about." ⁷²No sooner had he spoken than a cock crowed for the second time, and Peter recollected the words of Jesus, "Before the cock crows twice, you will three times disown me." And as he thought of it, he wept aloud.

Jesus Delivered to Pilate

(Matthew 27:1–2)

¹At earliest dawn, after the High Priests had held a consultation with the Elders and Scribes, they and the entire Sanhedrin bound Jesus and took Him away and handed Him over to Pilate. ²So Pilate questioned Him. "Are you the King of the Jews?" he asked. "I am," replied Jesus. ³Then, as the High Priests went on heaping accusations on Him, ⁴Pilate again and again asked Him, "Do you make no reply? Listen to the many charges they are bringing against you." ⁵But Jesus made no further answer: so that Pilate wondered.

The Crowd Chooses Barabbas

(Matthew 27:15–23; Luke 23:13–25)

⁶Now at the Festival it was customary for Pilate to release to the Jews any one prisoner whom they might beg off from punishment; ⁷and at this time a man named Barabbas was in prison among the insurgents—persons who in the insurrection had committed murder. ⁸So the people came crowding up, asking Pilate to grant them the usual favour. ⁹"Shall I release for you the King of the Jews?" answered Pilate. ¹⁰For he could see that it was out of sheer spite that the High Priests had handed Him over. ¹¹But the High Priests urged on the crowd to obtain Barabbas's release in preference;

Pilate Delivers Up Jesus

(Matthew 27:24–26)

¹²and when Pilate again asked them, "What then shall I do to the man you call King of the Jews?" ¹³they once more shouted out, "Crucify Him!" ¹⁴"Why, what crime has he committed?" asked Pilate. But they vehemently shouted, "Crucify Him!" ¹⁵So Pilate, wishing to satisfy the mob, released Barabbas for them, and after scourging Jesus handed Him over for crucifixion.

The Soldiers Mock Jesus

(Isaiah 50:4–11; Matthew 27:27–31; Luke 22:63–65; John 19:1–15)

¹⁶Then the soldiers led Him away into the court of the Palace (the Praetorium) ¹⁷they arrayed Him in crimson, placed on His head a wreath of thorny twigs which they had twisted, ¹⁸and went on to salute Him with shouts of "Long live the King of the Jews." ¹⁹Then they began to beat Him on the head with a cane, to spit on Him, and to do Him homage on bended knees. ²⁰At last, having finished their sport, they took the robe off Him, put His own clothes on Him, and led Him out to crucify Him.

The Crucifixion

(Psalm 22:1–31; Matthew 27:32–44; Luke 23:26–43; John 19:16–27)

21One Simon, a Cyrenaeen, the father of Alexander and Rufus, was passing along, coming from the country: him they compelled to carry His cross.

22So they brought Him to the place called Golgotha, which, being translated, means 'Skull-ground.'

23Here they offered Him wine mixed with myrrh; but He refused it. 24Then they crucified Him. This done, they divided His garments among them, drawing lots to decide what each should take. 25It was nine o'clock in the morning when they crucified Him. 26Over His head was the notice in writing of the charge against Him: THE KING OF THE JEWS.

27And together with Jesus they crucified two robbers, one at His right hand and one at His left. 28

29And all the passers-by reviled Him. They shook their heads at Him and said, "Ah! you who were for destroying the Sanctuary and building a new one in three days, 30come down from the cross and save yourself." 31In the same way the High Priests also, as well as the Scribes, kept on scoffing at Him, saying to one another, "He has saved others: himself he cannot save! 32This Christ, the King of Israel, let him come down now from the cross, that we may see and believe." Even the men who were being crucified with Him heaped insults on Him.

The Death of Jesus

(Psalm 22:1–31; Matthew 27:45–56; Luke 23:44–49; John 19:28–30)

33At noon there came a darkness over the whole land, lasting till three o'clock in the afternoon. 34But at three o'clock Jesus cried out with a loud voice, "Elohi, Elohi, lama sabachthani?" which means, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" 35Some of the bystanders, hearing Him, said, "Listen, he is calling for Elijah!" 36Then a man ran to fill a sponge with sour wine, and he put it on the end of a cane and placed it to His lips, saying at the same time, "Wait! let us see whether Elijah will come and take him down." 37But Jesus uttered a loud cry and yielded up His spirit. 38And the curtain in the Sanctuary was torn in two, from top to bottom. 39And when the Centurion who stood in front of the cross saw that He was dead, he exclaimed, "This man was indeed God's Son."

40There were also a party of women looking on from a distance; among them being both Mary of Magdala and Mary the mother of James the Little and of Joses, and Salome— 41all of whom in the Galilaean days had habitually been with Him and cared for Him, as well as many other women who had come up to Jerusalem with Him.

The Burial of Jesus

(Isaiah 53:9–12; Matthew 27:57–61; Luke 23:50–56; John 19:38–42)

42Towards sunset, as it was the Preparation—that is, the day preceding the Sabbath— 43Joseph of Arimathaea came, a highly respected member of the Council, who himself also was living in expectation of the Kingdom of God. He summoned up courage to go in to see Pilate and beg for the body of Jesus.

44But Pilate could hardly believe that He was already dead. He called, however, for the Centurion and inquired whether He had been long dead; 45and having ascertained the fact he granted the body to Joseph. 46He, having bought a sheet of linen, took Him down, wrapped Him in the sheet and laid Him in a tomb hewn in the rock; after which he rolled a stone against the entrance to the tomb. 47Mary of Magdala and Mary the mother of Joses were looking on to see where He was put.

The Resurrection

(Matthew 28:1–10; Luke 24:1–12; John 20:1–9)

1When the Sabbath was over, Mary of Magdala, Mary the mother of James, and Salome, bought spices, in order to come and anoint His body. 2So, very soon after sunrise on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb; 3and they were saying to one another, "Who will roll away the stone for us from the entrance to the tomb?" 4But then, looking up, they saw that the stone was already rolled back: for it was of immense size. 5Upon entering the tomb, they saw a young man sitting at their right hand, clothed in a long white robe. They were astonished and terrified. 6But he said to them, "Do not be terrified. It is Jesus you are looking for—the Nazarene who has been crucified. He has come back to life: He is not here: this is the place where they laid Him. 7But go and tell His disciples and Peter that He is going before you into Galilee: and that there you will see Him, as He told you." 8So they came out, and fled from the tomb, for they were greatly agitated and surprised; and they said not a word to any one, for they were afraid.

Jesus Appears to Mary Magdalene

(John 20:10–18)

9But He rose to life early on the first day of the week, and appeared first to Mary of Magdala from whom He had expelled seven demons. 10She went and brought the tidings to those who had been with Him, as they were mourning and weeping. 11But they, when they were told that He was alive and that she had seen Him, could not believe it.

Jesus Appears to Two Disciples

(Luke 24:13–35)

12Afterwards He showed Himself in another form to two of them as they were walking, on their way into the country. 13These, again, went and told the news to the rest; but not even them did they believe.

The Great Commission

(Matthew 28:16–20)

14Later still He showed Himself to the Eleven themselves whilst they were at table, and He upbraided them with their unbelief and obstinacy in not having believed those who had seen Him alive. 15Then He said to them, "Go the whole world over, and proclaim the Good News to all mankind. 16He who believes and is baptized shall be saved, but he who disbelieves will be condemned. 17And signs shall attend those who believe, even such as these. By making use of my name they shall expel demons. They shall speak new languages. 18They shall take up venomous snakes, and if they drink any deadly poison it shall do them no harm whatever. They shall lay their hands on the sick, and the sick shall recover."

The Ascension

(Luke 24:50–53; Acts 1:6–11)

19So the Lord Jesus after having thus spoken to them was taken up into Heaven, and sat down at the right hand of God. 20But they went out and made proclamation everywhere, the Lord working with them and confirming their Message by the signs which accompanied it.

Dedication to Theophilus

(Acts 1:1–3)

1Seeing that many have attempted to draw up a narrative of the facts which are received with full assurance among us 2on the authority of those who were from the beginning eye-witnesses and were devoted to the service of the divine Message, 3it has seemed right to me also, after careful investigation of the facts from their commencement, to write for you, most noble Theophilus, a connected account, 4that you may fully know the truth of the things which you have been taught by word of mouth.

Gabriel Foretells John's Birth

5There was in the time of Herod, the king of Judaea, a priest of the name of Zechariah, belonging to the class of Abijah. He had a wife who was a descendant of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth. 6They were both of them upright before God, blamelessly obeying all the Lord's precepts and ordinances. 7But they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren; and both of them were far advanced in life.

8Now while he was doing priestly duty before God in the prescribed course of his class, 9it fell to his lot—according to the custom of the priesthood—to go into the Sanctuary of the Lord and burn the incense; 10and the whole multitude of the people were outside praying, at the hour of incense. 11Then there appeared to him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense; 12and Zechariah on seeing him was agitated and terrified. 13But the angel said to him, "Do not be afraid, Zechariah, for your petition has been heard: and your wife Elizabeth will bear you a son, and you are to call his name John. 14Gladness and exultant joy shall be yours, and many will rejoice over his birth. 15For he will be great in the sight of the Lord; no wine or fermented drink shall he ever drink; but he will be filled with the Holy Spirit from the very hour of his birth. 16Many of the descendants of Israel will he turn to the Lord their God; 17and he will be His forerunner in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn fathers' hearts to the children, and cause the rebellious to walk in the wisdom of the upright, to make a people perfectly ready for the lord."

18"By what proof," asked Zechariah, "shall I know this? For I am an old man, and my wife is far advanced in years." 19"I am Gabriel, who stand in the presence of God," answered the angel, "and I have been sent to talk with you and tell you this good news. 20And now you will be dumb and unable to speak until the day when this has taken place; because you did not believe my words—words which will be fulfilled at their appointed time."

21Meanwhile the people were waiting for Zechariah, and were surprised that he stayed so long in the Sanctuary. 22When, however, he came out, he was unable to speak to them; and they knew that he must have seen a vision in the Sanctuary; but he kept making signs to them and continued dumb. ²³When his days of service were at an end, he went to his home;

²⁴and in course of time his wife Elizabeth conceived, and kept herself secluded five months. ²⁵“Thus has the Lord dealt with me,” she said, “now that He has graciously taken away my reproach among men.”

Gabriel Foretells Jesus’ Birth

²⁶Now in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God to a town in Galilee called Nazareth, ²⁷to a maiden betrothed to a man of the name of Joseph, a descendant of David. The maiden’s name was Mary. ²⁸So Gabriel went into the house and said to her, “Joy be to you, favoured one! the Lord is with you.” ²⁹She was greatly agitated at his words, and wondered what such a greeting meant. ³⁰But the angel said, “Do not be frightened, Mary, for you have found favour with God. ³¹You will conceive in your womb and bear a son; and you are to call His name JESUS. ³²He will be great and He will be called ‘Son of the Most High.’ And the Lord God will give Him the throne of His forefather David; ³³and He will be King over the House of Jacob for the Ages, and of His Kingdom there will be no end.” ³⁴“How can this be,” Mary replied, “seeing that I have no husband?” ³⁵The angel answered, “The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you; and for this reason your holy offspring will be called ‘the Son of God.’ ³⁶And see, your relative Elizabeth—she also has conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her who was called barren. ³⁷For no promise from God will be impossible of fulfilment.” ³⁸“I am the Lord’s maidservant,” Mary replied; “may it be with me in accordance with your words!” And then the angel left her.

Mary Visits Elizabeth

³⁹Not long after this, Mary rose up and went in haste into the hill country to a town in Judah. ⁴⁰Here she came to the house of Zechariah and greeted Elizabeth; ⁴¹and as soon as Elizabeth heard Mary’s greeting, the babe leapt within her. And Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit, ⁴²and uttered a loud cry of joy. “Blest among women are you,” she said, “and the offspring of your body is blest! ⁴³But why is this honour done me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? ⁴⁴For, the moment your greeting reached my ears, the babe within me leapt for joy. ⁴⁵And blessed is she who has believed, for the word spoken to her from the Lord shall be fulfilled.”

Mary’s Song

(1 Samuel 2:1–11)

⁴⁶Then Mary said: “My soul extols the Lord,

⁴⁷And my spirit triumphs in God my Saviour;

⁴⁸Because He has not turned from His maidservant in her lowly position; For from this time forward all generations will account me happy,

⁴⁹Because the mighty One has done great things for me—Holy is His name!—

⁵⁰And His compassion is, generation after generation, Upon those who fear Him.

⁵¹He has manifested His supreme strength. He has scattered those who were haughty in the thoughts of their hearts.

52He has cast monarchs down from their thrones, And exalted men of low estate.

53The hungry He has satisfied with choice gifts, But the rich He has sent empty-handed away.

54His servant Israel He has helped, Remembering His compassion—

55In fulfillment of His promises to our forefathers—For Abraham and his posterity for ever.”

56So Mary stayed with Elizabeth about three months, and then returned home.

The Birth of John the Baptist

57Now when Elizabeth’s full time was come, she gave birth to a son; 58and her neighbours and relatives heard how the Lord had had great compassion on her; and they rejoiced with her.

59And on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child, and were going to call him Zechariah, after his father. 60His mother, however, said, “No, he is to be called John.” 61“There is not one of your family,” they said, “who has that name.” 62They asked his father by signs what he wished him to be called. 63So he asked for a writing-tablet, and wrote, “His name is John.” And they all wondered.

64Instantly his mouth and his tongue were set free, and he began to speak and bless God. 65And all who lived round about them were filled with awe, and throughout the hill country of Judaea reports of all these things were spread abroad. 66All who heard the story treasured it in their memories. “What then will this child be?” they said. For the lord’s hand was indeed with him.

Zechariah’s Song

67And Zechariah his father was filled with the Holy Spirit, and spoke in a rapture of praise.

68“Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel,” he said, “Because He has not forgotten His people but has effected redemption for them,

69And has raised up a mighty Deliverer for us In the house of David His servant—

70As He has spoken from all time by the lips of His holy Prophets—

71To deliver us from our foes and from the power of all who hate us.

72He dealt pitifully with our forefathers, And remembered His holy covenant,

73The oath which He swore to Abraham our forefather,

74To grant us to be rescued from the power of our foes And so render worship to Him free from fear,

75In piety and uprightness before Him all our days.

76And you moreover, O child, shall be called Prophet of the Most High; For you shall go on in front before the Lord to prepare the way for Him,

77To give to His People a knowledge of salvation In the forgiveness of their sins,

78Through the tender compassion of our God, Through which the daybreak from on high will come to us,

79Dawning on those who now dwell in the darkness and shadow of death—To direct our feet into the path of peace.”

80And the child grew and became strong in character, and lived in the Desert till the time came for him to appear publicly to Israel.

The Birth of Jesus

(Matthew 1:18–25)

1Just at this time an edict was issued by Caesar Augustus for the registration of the whole Empire. 2It was the first registration made during the governorship of Quirinius in Syria; 3and all went to be registered—every one to the town to which he belonged. 4So Joseph went up from Galilee, from the town of Nazareth, to Judaea, to David’s town of Bethlehem, because he was of the house and lineage of David, 5to have himself registered together with Mary, who was betrothed to him and was with child. 6But while they were there, her full time came, 7and she gave birth to her first-born son, and wrapped Him round, and laid Him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

The Shepherds and the Angels

8Now there were shepherds in the same part of the country, keeping watch over their sheep by night in the open fields, 9when suddenly an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone round them; and they were filled with terror. 10But the angel said to them, “Put away all fear; for I am bringing you good news of great joy—joy for all the People. 11For a Saviour who is the Anointed Lord is born to you to-day, in the town of David. 12And this is the token for you: you will find a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger.” 13And immediately there was with the angel a multitude of the army of Heaven praising God and saying,

14“Glory be to God in the highest Heavens, And on earth peace among men who please Him!”

15Then, as soon as the angels had left them and returned to Heaven, the shepherds said to one another, “Let us now go over as far as Bethlehem and see this that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us.” 16So they made haste and came and found Mary and Joseph, with the babe lying in the manger. 17And when they saw the child, they told what had been said to them about Him; 18and all who listened were astonished at what the shepherds told them. 19But Mary treasured up all these things, often dwelling on them in her mind. 20And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all that they had heard and seen in accordance with the announcement made to them.

Jesus Presented at the Temple

21When eight days had passed and the time for circumcising Him had come, He was called JESUS, the name given Him by the angel before His conception in the womb.

22And when the days for their purification appointed by the Law of Moses had passed, they took Him up to Jerusalem to present Him to the Lord— 23as it is written in the Law of the Lord: “Every first-born male shall be called holy to the Lord.” 24And they also offered a sacrifice as commanded in the Law of the Lord, “a pair of turtle doves or two young pigeons.”

The Prophecy of Simeon

25Now there was a man in Jerusalem of the name of Symeon, an upright and God-fearing man, who was waiting for the consolation of Israel, and the Holy Spirit was upon him. 26To him it had been revealed by the Holy Spirit that he should not see death until he had seen the Lord’s Anointed One. 27Led by the Spirit he came to the Temple; and when the parents brought in the child Jesus to do with regard to Him according to the custom of the Law, 28he took Him up in his arms and blessed God and said,

29“Now, O Sovereign Lord, Thou dost send Thy servant away in peace, in fulfilment of Thy word,

30Because mine eyes have seen Thy salvation,

31Which Thou hast made ready in the sight of all nations—

32A light to shine upon the Gentiles, And the glory of Thy people Israel.”

33And while the child’s father and mother were wondering at the words of Symeon concerning Him, 34Symeon blessed them and said to Mary the mother, “This child is appointed for the falling and the uprising of many in Israel and for a token to be spoken against; 35and a sword will pierce through your own soul also; that the reasonings in many hearts may be revealed.”

The Prophecy of Anna

36There was also Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, belonging to the tribe of Asher. She was of a very great age, having had after her maidenhood seven years of married life, 37and then being a widow of eighty-four years. She was never absent from the Temple, but worshipped, by day and by night, with fasting and prayer. 38And coming up just at that moment, she gave thanks to God, and spoke about the child to all who were expecting the deliverance of Jerusalem.

The Return to Nazareth

(Matthew 2:19–23)

39Then, as soon as they had accomplished all that the Law required, they returned to Galilee to their own town of Nazareth. 40And the child grew and became strong and full of wisdom, and the favour of God rested upon Him.

The Boy Jesus at the Temple

41Now His parents used to go up year by year to Jerusalem at the Feast of the Passover. 42And when He was twelve years old they went up as was customary at the time of the Feast, and, 43after staying the full number of days, when they started back home the boy Jesus remained behind in Jerusalem. His parents did not discover this, 44but supposing Him to be in the travelling company, they proceeded a day’s journey. Then they searched up and down for Him among their relatives and acquaintances; 45but being unable to find Him they returned to Jerusalem, making anxious inquiry for Him. 46On the third day they found Him in the Temple sitting among the Rabbis, both listening to them and asking them questions, ⁴⁷while all who heard Him were astonished at His intelligence and at the answers He gave. ⁴⁸When they saw Him, they were smitten with amazement, and His mother said to Him, "My child, why have you behaved thus to us? Your father and I have been searching for you in anguish." ⁴⁹"Why is it that you have been searching for me?" He replied; "did you not know that it is my duty to be engaged upon my Father's business?" ⁵⁰But they did not understand the significance of these words. ⁵¹Then He went down with them and came to Nazareth, and was always obedient to them; but His mother carefully treasured up all these incidents in her memory.

⁵²And as Jesus grew older He gained in both wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.

The Mission of John the Baptist

(Isaiah 40:1-5; Matthew 3:1-12; Mark 1:1-8; John 1:19-28)

¹Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being Governor of Judaea, Herod Tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip Tetrarch of Ituraea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias Tetrarch of Abilene, ²during the High-priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, a message from God came to John, the son of Zechariah, in the Desert. ³John went into all the district about the Jordan proclaiming a baptism of the penitent for the forgiveness of sins;

⁴as it is written in the book of the prophet Isaiah, "The voice of one crying aloud! 'In the Desert prepare ye a road for the Lord: make His highway straight.

⁵Every ravine shall be filled up, and every mountain and hill levelled down, the crooked places shall be turned into straight roads, and the rugged ways into smooth;

⁶and then shall all mankind see God's salvation."

⁷Accordingly John used to say to the crowds who came out to be baptized by him, "O vipers' brood, who has warned you to flee from the coming wrath? ⁸Live lives which shall prove your change of heart; and do not begin to say to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our forefather,' for I tell you that God can raise up descendants for Abraham from these stones. ⁹And even now the axe is lying at the root of the trees, so that every tree which fails to yield good fruit will quickly be hewn down and thrown into the fire."

¹⁰The crowds repeatedly asked him, "What then are we to do?" ¹¹"Let the man who has two coats," he answered, "give one to the man who has none; and let the man who has food share it with others."

¹²There came also a party of tax-gatherers to be baptized, and they asked him, "Rabbi, what are we to do?" ¹³"Do not exact more than the legal amount," he replied. ¹⁴The soldiers also once and again inquired of him, "And we, what are we to do?" His answer was, "Neither intimidate any one nor lay false charges; and be content with your pay."

¹⁵And while the people were in suspense and all were debating in their minds whether John might possibly be the Anointed One, ¹⁶he answered the question by saying to them all, "As for me, I am baptizing you with water, but One mightier than I is coming, whose very sandal-strap I am not worthy to unfasten: He will baptize you in the Holy Spirit and with fire. ¹⁷His winnowing-shovel is in His hand to clear out His threshing-floor, and to gather the wheat into His storehouse; but the chaff He will burn up in fire unquenchable.”

¹⁸With many exhortations besides these he declared the Good News to the people. ¹⁹But Herod the Tetrarch, being repeatedly rebuked by him about Herodias his brother’s wife, and about all the wicked deeds that he had done, ²⁰now added this to crown all the rest, that he threw John into prison.

The Baptism of Jesus

(Matthew 3:13–17; Mark 1:9–11; John 1:29–34)

²¹Now when all the people had been baptized, and Jesus also had been baptized and was praying, the sky opened, ²²and the Holy Spirit came down in bodily shape, like a dove, upon Him, and a voice came from Heaven, which said, “Thou art My Son, dearly loved: in Thee is My delight.”

The Genealogy of Jesus

(Ruth 4:18–22; Matthew 1:1–17)

²³And He—Jesus—when He began His ministry, was about thirty years old. He was the son (it was supposed) ²⁴son of Matthat, son of Levi, son of Melchi, son of Jannai, son of Joseph, ²⁵son of Mattathias, son of Amos, son of Nahum, son of Esli, son of Naggai, ²⁶son of Mahath, son of Mattathias, son of Semein, son of Josech, son of Joda, ²⁷son of Johanan, son of Resa, son of Zerubbabel, son of Shealtiel, son of Neri, ²⁸son of Melchi, son of Addi, son of Cosam, son of Elmadam, son of Er, ²⁹son of Joshua, son of Eliezar, son of Jorim, son of Matthat, son of Levi, ³⁰son of Symeon, son of Judah, son of Joseph, son of Jonam, son of Eliakim, son of ³¹Melea, son of Menna, son of Mattatha, son of Nathan, son of David, ³²son of Jesse, son of Obed, son of Boaz, son of Salmon, son of Nahshon, ³³son of Amminadab, son of Admin, son of Arni, son of Hezron, son of Perez, son of Judah, ³⁴son of Jacob, son of Isaac, son of Abraham, son of Terah, son of Nahor, ³⁵son of Serug, son of Reu, son of Peleg, son of Eber, son of Shelah, ³⁶son of Cainan, son of Arpachshad, son of Shem, son of Noah, son of Lamech, ³⁷son of Methuselah, son of Enoch, son of Jared, son of Mahalalel, son of Kenan, ³⁸son of Enosh, son of Seth, son of Adam, son of God.

The Temptation of Jesus

(Matthew 4:1–11; Mark 1:12–13)

¹Then Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan, and was led about by the Spirit in the Desert for forty days, ²tempted all the while by the Devil. During those days He ate nothing, and at the close of them He suffered from hunger. ³Then the Devil said to Him, “If you are God’s Son, tell this stone to become bread.” ⁴“It is written,” replied Jesus, “It is not on bread alone that a man shall live.”

⁵The Devil next led Him up and caused Him to see at a glance all the kingdoms of the world. ⁶And the Devil said to Him, “To you will I give all this authority and this splendour; for it has been handed over to me, and on whomsoever I will I bestow it. ⁷If therefore you do homage to me, it shall all be yours.’

8 Jesus answered him, "It is written, 'To the Lord thy God thou shalt do homage, and to Him alone shalt thou render worship.'"

9 Then he brought Him to Jerusalem and caused Him to stand on the roof of the Temple, and said to Him, "If you are God's Son, throw yourself down from here; for it is written,

10 He will give orders to His angels concerning thee, to guard thee safely;'

11 and 'On their hands they shall bear thee up, Lest at any moment thou shouldst strike thy foot against a stone.'"

12 The reply of Jesus was, "It is said, 'Thou shalt not put the Lord thy God to the proof.'"

13 So the Devil, having fully tried every kind of temptation on Him, left Him for a time.

Jesus Begins His Ministry

(Isaiah 9:1-7; Matthew 4:12-17; Mark 1:14-15)

14 Then Jesus returned in the Spirit's power to Galilee; and His fame spread through all the adjacent districts. 15 And He proceeded to teach in their synagogues, winning praise from all.

The Rejection at Nazareth

(Isaiah 61:1-11; Matthew 13:53-58; Mark 6:1-6)

16 He came to Nazareth also, where He had been brought up; and, as was His custom, He went to the synagogue on the Sabbath, and stood up to read. 17 And there was handed to Him the book of the Prophet Isaiah, and, opening the book, He found the place where it was written,

18 "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He has anointed me to proclaim Good News to the poor; He has sent me to announce release to the prisoners of war and recovery of sight to the blind: to send away free those whom tyranny has crushed, 19 to proclaim the year of acceptance with the Lord." 20 And rolling up the book, He returned it to the attendant, and sat down—to speak. And the eyes of all in the synagogue were fixed on Him. 21 Then He proceeded to say to them, "To-day is this Scripture fulfilled in your hearing." 22 And they all spoke well of Him, wondering at the sweet words of kindness which fell from His lips, while they asked one another, "Is not this Joseph's son?" 23 "Doubtless," said He, "you will quote to me the proverb, 'Physician, cure yourself: all that we hear that you have done at Capernaum, do here also in your native place.'" 24 "I tell you in solemn truth," He added, "that no Prophet is welcomed among his own people. 25 But I tell you in truth that there was many a widow in Israel in the time of Elijah, when there was no rain for three years and six months and there came a severe famine over all the land; 26 and yet to not one of them was Elijah sent: he was only sent to a widow at Zarephath in the Sidonian country. 27 And there was also many a leper in Israel in the time of the Prophet Elisha, and yet not one of them was cleansed, but Naaman the Syrian was." 28 Then all in the synagogue, while listening to these words, were filled with fury. 29 They rose, hurried Him outside the town, and brought Him to the brow of the hill on which their town was built, to throw Him down the cliff; 30 but He passed through the midst of them and went His way.

Jesus Expels an Unclean Spirit

(Mark 1:21-28)

31So He came down to Capernaum, a town in Galilee, where He frequently taught the people on the Sabbath days. 32And they were greatly impressed by His teaching, because He spoke with the language of authority. 33But in the synagogue there was a man possessed by the spirit of a foul demon. In a loud voice he cried out, 34“Ha! Jesus the Nazarene, what have you to do with us? I know who you are—God’s Holy One!” 35But Jesus rebuked the demon. “Silence!” He exclaimed; “come out of him.” Upon this, the demon hurled the man into the midst of them, and came out of him without doing him any harm. 36All were astonished and awe-struck; and they asked one another, “What sort of language is this? For with authority and real power He gives orders to the foul spirits and they come out.” 37And the talk about Him spread into every part of the neighbouring country.

Jesus Heals at Peter’s House

(Matthew 8:14–17; Mark 1:29–34)

38Now when He rose and left the synagogue He went to Simon’s house. Simon’s mother-in-law was suffering from an acute attack of fever; and they consulted Him about her. 39Then standing over her He rebuked the fever, and it left her; and she at once rose and waited on them.

40At sunset all who had friends suffering from any illness brought them to Him, and He laid His hands on them all, one by one, and cured them. 41Demons also came out of many, loudly calling out, “You are the Son of God.” But He rebuked them and forbade them to speak, because they knew Him to be the Christ.

Jesus Preaches in Judea

(Mark 1:35–39)

42Next morning, at daybreak, He left the town and went away to a solitary place; but the people flocked out to find Him, and, coming to the place where He was, they endeavoured to detain Him that He might not leave them. 43But He said to them, “I have to tell the Good News of the Kingdom of God to the other towns also, because for this purpose I was sent.”

44And for some time He preached in the synagogues in Galilee.

The First Disciples

(Matthew 4:18–22; Mark 1:16–20; John 1:35–42)

1On one occasion the crowd was pressing on Him and listening to God’s Message, while He was standing by the Lake of Gennesaret. 2He, however, saw two fishing-boats drawn up on the beach (for the men had gone away from them and were washing the nets) 3and going on board one of them, which was Simon’s He asked him to push out a little from land. Then He sat down and taught the crowd of people from the boat. 4When He had finished speaking, He said to Simon, “Push out into deep water, and let down your nets for a haul.” 5“Rabbi,” replied Peter, “all night long we have worked hard and caught nothing; but at your command I will let down the nets.” 6This they did, and enclosed a vast number of fish; and their nets began to break. 7So they signalled to their partners in the other boat to come and help them; they came, and they filled both the boats so that they almost sank.

8When Simon Peter saw this, he fell down at the knees of Jesus, and exclaimed, "Master, leave my boat, for I am a sinful man." 9 10and so were Simon's partners James and John, the sons of Zabdi.) 11Then, after bringing their boats to land, they left everything and followed Him.

The Leper's Prayer

(Leviticus 14:1–32; Matthew 8:1–4; Mark 1:40–45)

12On another occasion, when He was in one of the towns, there was a man there covered with leprosy, who, seeing Jesus, threw himself at His feet and implored Him, saying, "Sir, if only you are willing, you are able to make me clean." 13Reaching out His hand and touching him, Jesus said, "I am willing; be cleansed!" And instantly the leprosy left him. 14He ordered him to tell no one. "But go," He said, "show yourself to the Priest, and make the offering for your purification which Moses appointed, as evidence for them." 15But all the more the report about Him spread abroad, and great multitudes crowded to hear Him and to be cured of their diseases; 16but Jesus Himself constantly withdrew into the Desert and there prayed.

Jesus Heals a Paralytic

(Matthew 9:1–8; Mark 2:1–12)

17One day He was teaching, and there were Pharisees and teachers of the Law sitting there who had come from every village in Galilee and Judaea and from Jerusalem. And the power of the Lord was present for Him to cure people. 18And a party of men came carrying a palsied man on a bed, and they endeavoured to bring him in and lay him before Jesus. 19But when they could find no way of doing so because of the crowd, they went up on the roof and let him down through the tiling—bed and all—into the midst, in front of Jesus. 20He saw their faith and said to him, "Friend, your sins are forgiven." 21Then the Scribes and Pharisees began to cavil, asking, "Who is this, uttering blasphemies? Who but God alone can forgive sins?" 22Well aware of their reasonings, Jesus answered their questions by asking in turn, "What is this that you are debating in your hearts? 23Which is easier?—to say, 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Rise and walk'? 24But to prove to you that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins"—Turning to the paralytic He said, "I bid you, Rise, take up your bed, and go home." 25Instantly he stood up in their presence, took up the mattress on which he had been lying, and went away to his home, giving glory to God. 26Amazement seized them all. "Glory to God!" was the abiding feeling. Yet fear flashed through their minds and they said, "We have seen strange things to-day."

Jesus Calls Levi

(Matthew 9:9–13; Mark 2:13–17)

27After this He went out and noticed a tax-gatherer, Levi by name, sitting at the Toll office; and He said to him, "Follow me." 28He rose, left everything, and followed Him.

29Levi also gave a great entertainment at his house in honour of Jesus, and there was a large party of tax-gatherers and others at table with them. 30This led the Pharisees and Scribes of their party to expostulate with His disciples and ask, "Why are you eating and drinking with these tax-gatherers and notorious sinners?" 31But Jesus replied to them, "It is not men in good health who require a physician, but the sick. 32I have not come to call the righteous to repentance, but sinners."

Questions about Fasting

(Matthew 9:14–15; Mark 2:18–20)

33 Again they said to Him, "John's disciples fast often and pray, as do also those of the pharisees; but yours eat and drink." 34 "Can you compel the bridal party to fast," replied Jesus, "so long as they have the bridegroom among them? 35 But a time for this will come, when the Bridegroom has been taken away from them: then, at that time, they will fast."

The Patches and the Wineskins

(Matthew 9:16–17; Mark 2:21–22)

36 He also spoke in figurative language to them. "No one," He said, "tears a piece from a new garment to mend an old one. Otherwise he would not only spoil the new, but the patch from the new would not match the old. 37 Nor does any one pour new wine into old wine-skins. Otherwise the new wine would burst the skins, the wine itself would be spilt, and the skins be destroyed. 38 But new wine must be put into fresh wineskins. 39 Nor does any one after drinking old wine wish for new; for he says, 'The old is better.'"

The Lord of the Sabbath

(1 Samuel 21:1–7; Matthew 12:1–8; Mark 2:23–28)

1 Now on the second-first Sabbath while He was passing through the wheatfields, His disciples were plucking the ears and rubbing them with their hands to eat the grain. 2 And some of the Pharisees asked, "Why are you doing what the Law forbids on the Sabbath?" 3 "Have you never read so much as this," answered Jesus—"what David did when he and his followers were hungry; 4 how he entered the house of God and took and ate the Presented Loaves and gave some to his followers—loaves which none but the Priests are allowed to eat?" 5 "The Son of Man," He added, "is Lord of the Sabbath also."

Jesus Heals on the Sabbath

(Matthew 12:9–14; Mark 3:1–6)

6 On another Sabbath He had gone to the synagogue and was teaching there; and in the congregation was a man whose right arm was withered. 7 The Scribes and the Pharisees were on the watch to see whether He would cure him on the Sabbath that they might be able to bring an accusation against Him. 8 He knew their thoughts, and said to the man with the withered arm, "Rise, and stand there in the middle." And he rose and stood there. 9 Then Jesus said to them, "I put it to you all whether we are allowed to do good on the Sabbath, or to do evil; to save a life, or to destroy it." 10 And looking round upon them all He said to the man, "Stretch out your arm." He did so, and the arm was restored. 11 But they were filled with madness, and began to discuss with one another what they should do to Jesus.

The Twelve Apostles

(Matthew 10:1–4; Mark 3:13–19)

12 About that time He went out on one occasion into the hill country to pray; and He remained all night in prayer to God. 13 When it was day, He called His disciples; and He selected from among them twelve, whom He also named Apostles. 14 These were Simon, to whom also He had given the name of Peter, and Andrew his brother; James and John; Philip and Bartholomew; 15Matthew and Thomas; James the son of Alphaeus and Simon called the Zealot; 16James's relative Judas, and Judas Iscariot who proved to be a traitor.

Jesus Heals the Multitudes

(Matthew 4:23–25; Mark 3:7–12)

17With these He came down till He reached a level place, where there was a great crowd of His disciples, and a multitude of people from every part of Judaea, from Jerusalem, and from the sea-side district of Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear Him and to be cured of their diseases; 18and those who were tormented by foul spirits were cured. 19The whole crowd were eager to touch Him, because power went forth from him and cured every one.

The Beatitudes

(Psalm 1:1–6; Matthew 5:3–12)

20Then fixing His eyes upon His disciples, Jesus said to them, "Blessed are you poor, because the Kingdom of God is yours. 21"Blessed are you who hunger now, because your hunger shall be satisfied. "Blessed are you who now weep aloud, because you shall laugh. 22"Blessed are you when men shall hate you and exclude you from their society and insult you, and spurn your very names as evil things, for the Son of Man's sake. 23"Be glad at such a time, and dance for joy; for your reward is great in Heaven; for that is just the way their forefathers behaved to the Prophets!

Woes to the Satisfied

(Amos 6:1–7)

24"But alas for you rich men, because you already have your consolation! 25"Alas for you who now have plenty to eat, because you will be hungry! "Alas for you who laugh now, because you will mourn and weep aloud! 26"Alas for you when men shall all have spoken well of you; for that is just the way their forefathers behaved to the false Prophets!

Love Your Enemies

(Matthew 5:38–48)

27"But to you who are listening to me I say, Love your enemies; seek the welfare of those who hate you; 28bless those who curse you; pray for those who revile you. 29To him who gives you a blow on one side of the face offer the other side also; and to him who is robbing you of your outer garment refuse not the under one also. 30To every one who asks, give; and from him who takes away your property, do not demand it back. 31And behave to your fellow men just as you would have them behave to you. 32"If you love those who love you, what credit is it to you? Why, even bad men love those who love them. 33And if you are kind to those who are kind to you, what credit is it to you? Even bad men act thus. 34And if you lend to those from whom you hope to receive, what credit is it to you? Even bad men lend to their fellows so as to receive back an equal amount. 35Nevertheless love your enemies, be beneficent; and lend without hoping for any repayment. Then your recompense shall be great, and you will be sons of the Most High; for He is kind to the ungrateful and wicked. 36Be compassionate just as your Father is compassionate.

Judging Others

(Matthew 7:1–6; Romans 14:1–12)

37“Judge not, and you shall not be judged; condemn not, and you shall not be condemned; pardon, and you shall be pardoned; 38give, and gifts shall be bestowed on you. Full measure, pressed, shaken down, and running over, shall they pour into your laps; for with the same measure that you use they shall measure to you in return.”

39He also spoke to them in figurative language. “Can a blind man lead a blind man?” He asked; “would not both fall into the ditch? 40There is no disciple who is superior to his teacher; but every one whose instruction is complete will be like his teacher. 41“And why look at the splinter in your brother’s eye instead of giving careful attention to the beam in your own? 42How can you say to your brother, ‘Brother, let me take that splinter out of your eye,’ when all the while you yourself do not see the beam in your own eye? Vain pretender! take the beam out of your own eye first, and then you will see clearly to take the splinter out of your brother’s eye.

A Tree and Its Fruit

(Matthew 7:15–23; Matthew 12:33–37)

43“There is no good tree that yields unsound fruit, nor again any unsound tree that yields good fruit. 44Every tree is known by its own fruit. It is not from thorns that men gather figs, nor from the bramble that they can get a bunch of grapes. 45A good man from the good stored up in his heart brings out what is good; and an evil man from the evil stored up brings out what is evil; for from the overflow of his heart his mouth speaks.

The House on the Rock

(Matthew 7:24–27)

46“And why do you all call me ‘Master, Master’ and yet not do what I tell you? 47Every one who comes to me and listens to my words and puts them in practice, I will show you whom he is like. 48He is like a man building a house, who digs and goes deep, and lays the foundation on the rock; and when a flood comes, the torrent bursts upon that house, but is unable to shake it, because it is securely built. 49But he who has heard and not practised is like a man who has built a house upon the soft soil without a foundation, against which the torrent bursts, and immediately it collapses, and terrible is the wreck and ruin of that house.”

The Faith of the Centurion

(Matthew 8:5–13; John 4:43–54)

1After He had finished teaching all these things in the hearing of the people, He went into Capernaum.

2Here the servant of a certain Captain, a man dear to his master, was ill and at the point of death; 3and the Captain, hearing about Jesus, sent to Him some of the Jewish Elders, begging Him to come and restore his servant to health. 4And they, when they came to Jesus, earnestly entreated Him, pleading, “He deserves to have this favour granted him, 5for he loves our nation, and at his own expense he built our synagogue for us.” 6Then Jesus went with them. But when He was not far from the house, the Captain sent friends to Him with the message: “Sir, do not trouble to come. I am not worthy of having you come under my roof; ⁷and therefore I did not deem myself worthy to come to you. Only speak the word, and let my young man be cured. ⁸For I too am a man obedient to authority, and have soldiers under me; and I say to one, 'Go,' and he goes; to another, 'Come,' and he comes; and to my slave, 'Do this or that,' and he does it." ⁹Jesus listened to the Captain's message and was astonished at him, and He turned and said to the crowd that followed Him, "I tell you that not even in Israel have I found faith like that." ¹⁰And the friends who had been sent, on returning to the house, found the servant in perfect health.

Jesus Raises a Widow's Son

¹¹Shortly afterwards He went to a town called Nain, attended by His disciples and a great crowd of people. ¹²And just as He reached the gate of the town, they happened to be bringing out for burial a dead man who was his mother's only son; and she was a widow; and a great number of the townspeople were with her. ¹³The Lord saw her, was moved with pity for her, and said to her, "Do not weep." ¹⁴Then He went close and touched the bier, and the bearers halted. "Young man," He said, "I command you, wake!" ¹⁵The dead man sat up and began to speak; and He restored him to his mother. ¹⁶All were awe-struck, and they gave glory to God—some saying, "A Prophet, a great Prophet, has risen up among us." Others said, "God has not forgotten His People." ¹⁷And the report of what Jesus had done spread through the whole of Judaea and in all the surrounding districts.

John's Inquiry

(Matthew 11:1–6)

¹⁸John's disciples brought him an account of all these things; ¹⁹so John called two of his disciples and sent them to the Lord. "Are you the Coming One?" he asked, "or is there another that we are to expect?" ²⁰The men came to Jesus and said, "John the Baptist has sent us to you with this question: 'Are you the Coming One, or is there another that we are to expect?'" ²¹He immediately cured many of diseases, severe pain, and evil spirits, and to many who were blind He gave the gift of sight. ²²Then He answered the messengers, "Go and report to John what you have seen and heard. Blind men receive sight, the lame walk, lepers are purified, deaf persons hear, the dead are raised to life, the poor have the Good News proclaimed to them. ²³And blessed is every one who does not stumble and fall because of my claims."

Jesus Testifies about John

(Malachi 3:1–5; Matthew 11:7–19)

²⁴When John's messengers were gone, He proceeded to say to the multitude concerning John, "What did you go out into the Desert to gaze at? A reed waving in the wind? ²⁵But what did you go out to see? A man wearing luxurious clothes? People who are gorgeously dressed and live in luxury are found in palaces. ²⁶But what did you go out to see? A Prophet? Aye, I tell you, and far more than a Prophet.

²⁷John is the man about whom it is written, 'See, I am sending My messenger before thy face, and he shall make ready thy way before thee.'

²⁸"I tell you that among all of women born there is not one greater than John. Yet one who is of lower rank in the Kingdom of God is greater than he. ²⁹And all the people, including the tax-gatherers, when they listened to him upheld the righteousness of God, by being baptized with John's baptism. ³⁰But the Pharisees and expounders of the Law have frustrated God's purpose as to their own lives, by refusing to be baptized.

31“To what then shall I compare the men of the present generation, and what do they resemble?
32They are like children sitting in the public square and calling out to one another, ‘We have played the flute to you, and you have not danced: we have sung dirges, and you have not shown sorrow.’
33For John the Baptist has come eating no bread and drinking no wine, and you say, ‘He has a demon!’
34The Son of Man has come eating and drinking, and you say, ‘Look, there is a man who is overfond of eating and drinking—he is a friend of tax-gatherers and notorious sinners!’ 35But wisdom is justified by all who are truly wise.”

A Sinful Woman Anoints Jesus

(Matthew 26:6–13; Mark 14:3–9; John 12:1–8)

36Now one of the Pharisees repeatedly invited Him to a meal at his house; so He entered the house and reclined at the table. 37And there was a woman in the town who was a notorious sinner. Having learnt that Jesus was at table in the Pharisee’s house she brought a flask of perfume, 38and, standing behind close to His feet, weeping, began to wet His feet with her tears; and with her hair she wiped the tears away again, while she lovingly kissed His feet and poured the perfume over them. 39Noticing this, the Pharisee, His host, said to himself, “This man, if he were really a Prophet, would know who and what sort of person this woman is who is touching him—and would know that she is an immoral woman.”

40In answer to his thoughts Jesus said to him, “Simon, I have a word to say to you.” “Rabbi, say on,” he replied. 41“There were once two men in debt to one money-lender,” said Jesus; “one owed him five hundred shillings and the other fifty. 42But neither of them could pay anything; so he freely forgave them both. Tell me, then, which of them will love him most?” 43“I suppose,” replied Simon, “the one to whom he forgave most.” “You have judged rightly,” Jesus rejoined. 44Then turning towards the woman He said to Simon, “Do you see this woman? I came into your house: you gave me no water for my feet; but she has made my feet wet with her tears, and then wiped the tears away with her hair. 45No kiss did you give me; but she from the moment I came in has not left off tenderly kissing my feet. 46No oil did you pour even on my head; but she has poured perfume upon my feet. 47This is the reason why I tell you that her sins, her many sins, are forgiven—because she has loved much; but he who is forgiven little, loves little.” 48And He said to her, “Your sins are forgiven.” 49Then the other guests began to say to themselves, “Who can this man be who even forgives sins?” 50But He said to the woman, “Your faith has cured you: go, and be at peace.”

Women Minister to Jesus

1Shortly after this He visited town after town, and village after village, proclaiming His Message and telling the Good News of the Kingdom of God. The Twelve were with Him, 2and certain women whom He had delivered from evil spirits and various diseases—Mary of Magdala, out of whom seven demons had come, 3and Joanna the wife of Chuza, Herod’s steward, and Susanna, and many other women, all of whom contributed to the support of Jesus and His Apostles.

The Parable of the Sower

(Matthew 13:1–23; Mark 4:1–20)

⁴And when a great crowd was assembling, and was receiving additions from one town after another, He spoke a parable to them.

⁹The disciples proceeded to ask Him what this parable meant. ¹⁰"To you," He replied, "it is granted to know the secrets of the Kingdom of God; but all others are taught by parables, in order that they may see and yet not see, and may hear and yet not understand.

¹¹The meaning of the parable is as follows. The seed is God's Message. ¹²Those by the way-side are those who have heard, and then the Devil comes and carries away the Message from their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved. ¹³Those on the rock are the people who on hearing the Message receive it joyfully; but they have no root: for a time they believe, but when trial comes they fall away. ¹⁴That which fell among the thorns means those who have heard, but as they go on their way, the Message is stifled by the anxieties, wealth and gaieties of time, and they yield nothing in perfection. ¹⁵But as for that in the good ground, it means those who, having listened to the Message with open minds and in a right spirit, hold it fast, and patiently yield a return.

The Lesson of the Lamp

(Mark 4:21–25)

¹⁶"When any one lights a lamp, he does not cover it with a vessel or hide it under a couch; he puts it on a lampstand, that people who enter the room may see the light. ¹⁷There is nothing hidden, which shall not be openly seen; nor anything secret, which shall not be known and come into the light of day. ¹⁸Be careful, therefore, how you hear; for whoever has anything, to him more shall be given, and whoever has nothing, even that which he thinks he has shall be taken away from him."

Jesus' Mother and Brothers

(Matthew 12:46–50; Mark 3:31–35)

¹⁹Then came to Him His mother and His brothers, but could not get near Him for the crowd. ²⁰But He was told, "Your mother and brothers are standing on the edge of the crowd, and want to see you." ²¹"My mother and my brothers," He replied, "are these who hear God's Message and obey it."

Jesus Calms the Storm

(Psalm 107:1–43; Matthew 8:23–27; Mark 4:35–41)

²²One day He went on board a boat—both He and his disciples; and He said to them, "Let us cross over to the other side of the Lake." So they set sail. ²³During the passage He fell asleep, and there came down a squall of wind on the Lake, so that the boat began to fill and they were in deadly peril. ²⁴So they came and woke Him, crying, "Rabbi, Rabbi, we are drowning." Then He roused Himself and rebuked the wind and the surging of the water, and they ceased and there was a calm.

²⁵"Where is your faith?" He asked them. But they were filled with terror and amazement, and said to one another, "Who then is this? for He gives orders both to wind and waves, and they obey Him."

The Demons and the Pigs

(Matthew 8:28–34; Mark 5:1–20)

26Then they put in to shore in the country of the Gerasenes, which lies opposite to Galilee. 27Here, on landing, He was met by one of the townsmen who was possessed by demons—for a long time he had not put on any garment, nor did he live in a house, but in the tombs. 28When he saw Jesus, he cried out and fell down before Him, and said in a loud voice, “What have you to do with me, Jesus, Son of God Most High? Do not torture me, I beseech you.” 29For already He had been commanding the foul spirit to come out of the man. For many a time it had seized and held him, and they had repeatedly put him in chains and fetters and kept guard over him, but he used to break the chains to pieces, and, impelled by the demon, to escape into the Desert. 30“What is your name?” Jesus asked him. “Legion,” he replied—because a great number of demons had entered into him; 31and they besought Him not to command them to be gone into the Bottomless Pit.

32Now there was a great herd of swine there feeding on the hill-side; and the demons begged Him to give them leave to go into them, and He gave them leave. 33The demons came out of the man and left him, and entered into the swine; and the herd rushed violently over the cliff into the Lake and were drowned.

34The swineherds, seeing what had happened, fled and reported it both in town and country; 35whereupon the people came out to see what had happened. They came to Jesus, and they found the man from whom the demons had gone out sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed and in his right mind; and they were terrified. 36And those who had seen it told them how the demoniac was cured. 37Then the whole population of the Gerasenes and of the adjacent districts begged Him to depart from them; for their terror was great. So He went on board and returned. 38But the man from whom the demons had gone out earnestly asked permission to go with Him; but He sent him away.

39“Return home,” He said, “and tell there all that God has done for you.” So he went and published through the whole town all that Jesus had done for him.

The Healing Touch of Jesus

(Matthew 9:18–26; Mark 5:21–43)

40Now when Jesus was returning, the people gave Him a warm welcome; for they had all been looking out for Him. 41Just then there came a man named Jair, a Warden of the Synagogue, who threw himself at the feet of Jesus, and entreated Him to come to his house; 42for he had an only daughter, about twelve years old, and she was dying. And as He went, the dense throng crowded on Him.

43And a woman who for twelve years had been afflicted with haemorrhage—and had spent on doctors all she had, but none of them had been able to cure her— 44came close behind Him and touched the tassel of His robe; and instantly her flow of blood stopped. 45“Who is it touched me?” Jesus asked. And when all denied having done so, Peter and the rest said, “Rabbi, the crowds are hemming you in and pressing on you.” 46“Some one has touched me,” Jesus replied, “for I feel that power has gone out from me.” 47Then the woman, perceiving that she had not escaped notice, came trembling, and throwing herself down at His feet she stated before all the people the reason why she had touched Him and how she was instantly cured. 48“Daughter,” said He, “your faith has cured you; go, and be at peace.”

⁴⁹While He was still speaking, some one came to the Warden of the Synagogue from his house and said, "Your daughter is dead; trouble the Rabbi no further." ⁵⁰Jesus heard the words and said to him, "Have no fear. Only believe, and she shall be restored to life." ⁵¹So He came to the house, but allowed no one to go in with Him but Peter and John and James and the girl's father and mother. ⁵²The people were all weeping aloud and beating their breasts for her; but He said, "Leave off wailing; for she is not dead, but asleep." ⁵³And they jeered at Him, knowing that she was dead. ⁵⁴He, however, took her by the hand and called aloud, "Child, awake!" ⁵⁵And her spirit returned, and instantly she stood up; and He directed them to give her some food. ⁵⁶Her parents were astounded; but He forbade them to mention the matter to any one.

The Ministry of the Twelve

(Matthew 10:5-15; Mark 6:7-13)

¹Then calling the Twelve together He conferred on them power and authority over all the demons and to cure diseases; ²and sent them out to proclaim the Kingdom of God and to cure the sick.

³And He commanded them, "Take nothing for your journey; neither stick nor bag nor bread nor money; and do not have an extra under garment. ⁴Whatever house you enter, make that your home, and from it start afresh. ⁵Wherever they refuse to receive you, as you leave that town shake off the very dust from your feet as a protest against them." ⁶So they departed and visited village after village, spreading the Good News and performing cures everywhere.

Herod Tries to See Jesus

(Matthew 14:1-12; Mark 6:14-29)

⁷Now Herod the Tetrarch heard of all that was going on; and he was bewildered because of its being said by some that John had come back to life, ⁸by others that Elijah had appeared, and by others that some one of the ancient Prophets had come back to life. ⁹And Herod said, "John I have beheaded; but who is this, of whom I hear such reports?" And he sought for an opportunity of seeing Jesus.

The Feeding of the Five Thousand

(Matthew 14:13-21; Mark 6:30-44; John 6:1-15)

¹⁰The Apostles, on their return, related to Jesus all they had done. Then He took them and withdrew to a quiet retreat, to a town called Bethsaida. ¹¹But the immense crowd, aware of this, followed Him; and receiving them kindly He proceeded to speak to them of the Kingdom of God, and those who needed to be restored to health, He cured.

¹²Now when the day began to decline, the Twelve came to Him and said, "Send the people away, that they may go to the villages and farms round about and find lodging and a supply of food; because here we are in an uninhabited district." ¹³"You yourselves," He said, "must give them food." "We have nothing," they replied, "but five loaves and a couple of fish, unless indeed we were to go and buy provisions for all this host of people." ¹⁴But He said to His disciples, "Make them sit down in parties of about fifty each." ¹⁵They did so, making them all, without exception, sit down. ¹⁶Then He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to Heaven He blessed them and broke them into portions which He gave to the disciples to distribute to the people. ¹⁷So they ate and were fully satisfied, all of them; and what they had remaining over was gathered up, twelve baskets of fragments.

Peter's Confession of Christ

(Matthew 16:13–20; Mark 8:27–30; John 6:67–71)

¹⁸One day when He was praying by Himself the disciples were present; and He asked them, "Who do the people say that I am?" ¹⁹"John the Baptist," they replied; "but others say Elijah; and others that some one of the ancient Prophets has come back to life." ²⁰"But you," He asked, "who do you say that I am?" "God's Anointed One," replied Peter.

Christ's Passion Foretold

(Matthew 16:21–23; Mark 8:31–33)

²¹And Jesus strictly forbade them to tell this to any one;

²²and He said, "The Son of Man must suffer much cruelty, be rejected by the Elders and High Priests and Scribes, and be put to death, and on the third day be raised to life again."

Take Up Your Cross

(Matthew 16:24–28; Mark 8:34–38)

²³And He said to all, "If any one is desirous of following me, let him ignore self and take up his cross day by day, and so be my follower. ²⁴For whoever desires to save his life shall lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake shall save it. ²⁵Why, what benefit is it to a man to have gained the whole world, but to have lost or forfeited his own self. ²⁶For whoever shall have been ashamed of me and my teachings, of him the Son of Man will be ashamed when He comes in His own and the Father's glory and in that of the holy angels. ²⁷I tell you truly that there are some of those who stand here who will certainly not taste death till they have seen the Kingdom of God."

The Transfiguration

(Matthew 17:1–13; Mark 9:1–13; 2 Peter 1:16–21)

²⁸It was about eight days after this that Jesus, taking with Him Peter, John, and James, went up the mountain to pray. ²⁹And while He was praying the appearance of His face underwent a change, and His clothing became white and radiant. ³⁰And suddenly there were two men conversing with Him, who were Moses and Elijah. ³¹They came in glory, and kept speaking about His death, which He was so soon to undergo in Jerusalem. ³²Now Peter and the others were weighed down with sleep; but, keeping themselves awake all through, they saw His glory, and the two men standing with Him. ³³And when they were preparing to depart from Him, Peter said to Jesus, "Rabbi, we are thankful to you that we are here. Let us put up three tents—one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah." He did not know what he was saying. ³⁴But while he was thus speaking, there came a cloud which spread over them; and they were awe-struck when they had entered into the cloud. ³⁵Then there came a voice from within the cloud: "This is My Son, My Chosen One: listen to Him." ³⁶After this voice had spoken, Jesus was found alone. They kept it to themselves, and said not a word to any one at that time about what they had seen.

The Boy with an Evil Spirit

(Matthew 17:14–18; Mark 9:14–29)

37On the following day, when they were come down from the mountain, a great crowd came to meet Him; 38and a man from the crowd called out, "Rabbi, I beg you to pity my son, for he is my only child. 39At times a spirit seizes him and he suddenly cries out. It convulses him, and makes him foam at the mouth, and does not leave him till it has well-nigh covered him with bruises. 40I entreated your disciples to expel the spirit, but they could not." 41"O unbelieving and perverse generation!" replied Jesus; "how long shall I be with you and bear with you? Bring your son here to me." 42Now while the youth was coming, the spirit dashed him to the ground and cruelly convulsed him. But Jesus rebuked the foul spirit, and cured the youth and gave him back to his father.

The Second Prediction of the Passion

(Matthew 17:22–23; Mark 9:30–32)

43And all were awe-struck at the mighty power of God. And while every one was expressing wonder at all that He was doing, He said to his disciples,

44"As for you, store these my sayings in your memory; for, before long, the Son of Man will be betrayed into the hands of men." 45But they did not understand His meaning: it was veiled from them that they might not perceive it, and they were afraid to ask Him about it.

The Greatest in the Kingdom

(Matthew 18:1–5; Mark 9:33–41)

46Now there arose a dispute among them, which of them was to be the greatest. 47And Jesus, knowing the reasoning that was in their hearts, took a young child and made him stand by His side 48and said to them, "Whoever for my sake receives this little child, receives me; and whoever receives me, receives Him who sent me. For the lowliest among you all—he is the greatest."

49"Rabbi," replied John, "we have seen a man making use of your name to expel demons; and we forbad him, because he does not come with us." 50"Do not forbid him," said Jesus, "for he who is not against you is on your side."

The Samaritans Reject Jesus

51Now when the time drew near for Him to be received up again into Heaven, He proceeded with fixed purpose towards Jerusalem, and sent messengers before Him. 52They went and entered a village of the Samaritans to make ready for Him. 53But the people there would not receive Him, because He was evidently going to Jerusalem. 54When the disciples James and John saw this, they said, "Master, do you wish us to order fire to come down from Heaven and consume them?" 55But He turned and rebuked them. 56And they went to another village.

The Cost of Discipleship

(Matthew 8:18–22; Luke 14:25–33; John 6:59–66)

57And, as they proceeded on their way, a man came to Him and said, "I will follow you wherever you go." 58"The foxes have holes," said Jesus, "and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay His head." 59"Follow me," He said to another. "Master," the man replied, "allow me first to go and bury my father." 60"Leave the dead," Jesus rejoined, "to bury their own dead; but you must go and announce far and wide the coming of the Kingdom of God." 61"Master," said yet another, "I will follow you; but allow me first to go and say good-bye to my friends at home." 62Jesus answered him, "No one who has put his hand to the plough, and then looks behind him, is fit for the Kingdom of God.

Jesus Sends the Seventy-Two

(Matthew 9:35–38)

1After this the Lord appointed seventy others, and sent them before Him, by twos, to go to every town or place which He Himself intended to visit. 2And He addressed them thus: "The harvest is abundant, but the reapers are few: therefore entreat the Owner of the harvest to send out more reapers into His fields. And now go. 3Remember that I am sending you out as lambs into the midst of wolves. 4Carry no purse, bag, nor change of shoes; and salute no one on your way." 5"Whatever house you enter, first say, 'Peace be to this house!' 6And if there is a lover of peace there, your peace shall rest upon it; otherwise come back upon you. 7And in that same house stay, eating and drinking at their table; for the labourer deserves his wages. Do not move from one house to another. 8"And whatever town you come to and they receive you, eat what they put before you. 9Cure the sick in that town, and tell them, "The Kingdom of God is now at your door.' 10"But whatever town you come to and they will not receive you, go out into the broader streets and say, 11"The very dust of your town that hangs about us we wipe off as a protest. Only be sure of this, that the Kingdom of God is close at hand.' 12"I tell you that it will be more endurable for Sodom on the great day than for that town.

Woe to the Unrepentant

(Matthew 11:20–24)

13"Alas for thee, Chorazin! Alas for thee, Bethsaida! For had the miracles been performed in Tyre and Sidon which have been performed in you, long ere now they would have repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. 14However, for Tyre and Sidon it will be more endurable at the Judgement than for you. 15And thou, Capernaum, shalt thou be lifted high as Heaven? Thou shalt be driven down as low as Hades.

16"He who listens to you listens to me; and he who disregards you disregards me, and he who disregards me disregards Him who sent me."

The Joyful Return

17When the Seventy returned, they exclaimed joyfully, "Master, even the demons submit to us when we utter your name." 18"I saw Satan fall like a lightning-flash out of Heaven," He replied. 19"I have given you power to tread serpents and scorpions underfoot, and to trample on all the power of the Enemy; and in no case shall anything do you harm. 20Nevertheless rejoice not at this, that the spirits submit to you; but rejoice that your names are registered in Heaven."

Jesus' Prayer of Thanksgiving

(Matthew 11:25–30)

21On that same occasion Jesus was filled by the Holy Spirit with rapturous joy. "I give Thee fervent thanks," He exclaimed, "O Father, Lord of Heaven and earth, that Thou hast hidden these things from sages and men of understanding, and hast revealed them to babes. Yes, Father, for such has been Thy gracious will. 22All things are delivered to me by my Father; and no one knows who the Son is but the Father, nor who the Father is but the Son, and he to whom the Son may choose to reveal Him."

23And He turned towards His disciples and said to them apart, "Blessed are the eyes which see what you see! 24For I tell you that many Prophets and kings have desired to see the things you see, and have not seen them, and to hear the things you hear, and have not heard them."

The Parable of the Good Samaritan

25Then an expounder of the Law stood up to test Him with a question. "Rabbi," he asked, "what shall I do to inherit the Life of the Ages?" 26"Go to the Law," said Jesus; "what is written there? how does it read?" 27"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God," he replied, "with thy whole heart, thy whole soul, thy whole strength, and thy whole mind; and thy fellow man as much as thyself." 28"A right answer," said Jesus; "do that, and you shall live." 29But he, desiring to justify himself, said, "But what is meant by my 'fellow man'?"

30Jesus replied, "A man was once on his way down from Jerusalem to Jericho when he fell among robbers, who after both stripping and beating him went away, leaving him half dead. 31Now a priest happened to be going down that way, and on seeing him passed by on the other side. 32In like manner a Levite also came to the place, and seeing him passed by on the other side. 33But a certain Samaritan, being on a journey, came where he lay, and seeing him was moved with pity. 34He went to him, and dressed his wounds with oil and wine and bound them up. Then placing him on his own mule he brought him to an inn, where he bestowed every care on him. 35The next day he took out two shillings and gave them to the innkeeper. "Take care of him," he said, "and whatever further expense you are put to, I will repay it you at my next visit." 36"Which of those three seems to you to have acted like a fellow man to him who fell among the robbers?" 37"The one who showed him pity," he replied. "Go," said Jesus, "and act in the same way."

Martha and Mary

38As they pursued their journey He came to a certain village, where a woman named Martha welcomed Him to her house. 39She had a sister called Mary, who seated herself at the Lord's feet and listened to His teaching. 40Martha meanwhile was busy and distracted in waiting at table, and she came and said, "Master, do you not care that my sister is leaving me to do all the waiting? Tell her to assist me." 41"Martha, Martha," replied Jesus, "you are anxious and worried about a multitude of things; 42and yet only one thing is really necessary. Mary has chosen the good portion and she shall not be deprived of it."

The Lord's Prayer
(Matthew 6:5–15)

1At one place where He was praying, when He rose from His knees one of His disciples said to Him, "Master, teach us to pray, just as John taught his disciples."

2So He said to them, "When you pray, say, 'Father may Thy name be kept holy; let Thy Kingdom come;

3give us day after day our bread for the day;

4and forgive us our sins, for we ourselves also forgive every one who fails in his duty to us; and bring us not into temptation.'"

Ask, Seek, Knock

(Matthew 7:7–12)

5And He said to them, "Which of you shall have a friend and shall go to him in the middle of the night and say, 'Friend, lend me three loaves of bread; 6for a friend of mine has just come to my house from a distance, and I have nothing for him to eat?' 7"And he from indoors shall answer, "Do not pester me. The door is now barred, and I am here in bed with my children. I cannot get up and give you bread.' 8"I tell you that even if he will not rise and give him the loaves because he is his friend, at any rate because of his persistency he will rouse himself and give him as many as he requires.

9"So I say to you, 'Ask, and what you ask for shall be given to you; seek, and you shall find; knock, and the door shall be opened to you.' 10For every one who asks, receives; and he who seeks, finds; and to him who knocks, the door shall be opened. 11And what father is there among you, who, if his son asks for a slice of bread, will offer him a stone? or if he asks for a fish, will instead of a fish offer him a snake? 12or if he asks for an egg, will offer him a scorpion? 13If you then, with all your human frailty, know how to give your children gifts that are good for them, how much more certainly will your Father who is in Heaven give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him!"

A House Divided

(Matthew 12:22–30; Mark 3:20–27)

14On once occasion He was expelling a dumb demon; and when the demon was gone out the dumb man could speak, and the people were astonished. 15But some among them said, "It is by the power of Baal-zebul, the Prince of the demons, that he expels the demons." 16Others, to put Him to the test, asked Him for a sign in the sky. 17And, knowing their thoughts, He said to them, "Every kingdom in which civil war rages goes to ruin: family attacks family and is overthrown. 18And if Satan really has engaged in fierce conflict with himself, how shall his kingdom stand?—because you say that I expel demons by the power of Baal-zebul. 19And if it is by the power of Baal-zebul that I expel the demons, by whom do your disciples expel them? They therefore shall be your judges. 20But if it is by the power of God that I drive out the demons, it is evident that the Kingdom of God has come upon you. 21"Whenever a strong man, fully armed and equipped, is guarding his own castle, he enjoys peaceful possession of his property; 22but as soon as another stronger than he attacks him and overcomes him, he takes away that complete armour of his in which he trusted, and distributes the plunder he has collected. 23Whoever is not with me is against me, and whoever is not gathering with me is scattering abroad.

An Unclean Spirit Returns

(Matthew 12:43–45)

24“When a foul spirit has left a man, it roams about in the Desert, seeking a resting-place; but, unable to find any, it says, ‘I will return to the house I have left;’” 25and when it comes, it finds the house swept clean and in good order. 26Then it goes and brings with it seven other spirits more malignant than itself, and they enter and dwell there; and in the end that man’s condition becomes worse than it was at first.

True Blessedness

27As He thus spoke a woman in the crowd called out in a loud voice, “Blessed is the mother who carried you, and the breasts that you have sucked.” 28“Nay rather,” He replied, “they are blessed who hear God’s Message and carefully keep it.”

The Sign of Jonah

(Jonah 3:1–10; Matthew 12:38–42)

29Now when the crowds came thronging upon Him, He proceeded to say, “The present generation is a wicked generation: it requires some sign, but no sign shall be given to it except that of Jonah. 30For just as Jonah became a sign to the men of Nineveh, so the Son of Man will be a token to the present generation. 31The Queen of the South will awake at the Judgement together with the men of the present generation, and will condemn them; because she came from the extremity of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; but mark! One greater than Solomon is here. 32There will stand up men of Nineveh at the Judgement together with the present generation, and will condemn it; because they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and mark! One greater than Jonah is here.

The Lamp of the Body

(Matthew 6:22–24)

33“When any one lights a lamp, he never puts it in the cellar or under the bushel, but on the lampstand, that people who come in may see the light. 34The lamp of the body is the eye. When your eyesight is good, your whole body also is lighted up; but when it is defective, your body is darkened. 35Consider therefore whether the light that is in you is anything but mere darkness. 36If, however, your whole body is penetrated with light, and has no part dark, it will be so lighted, all of it, as when the lamp with its bright shining gives you light.”

Woes to Pharisees and Experts in the Law

(Matthew 23:1–36)

37When He had thus spoken, a Pharisee invited Him to breakfast at his house; so He entered and took His place at table. 38Now the Pharisee saw to his surprise that He did not wash His hands before breakfasting. 39The Master however said to him, “Here we see how you Pharisees clean the outside of the cup or plate, while your secret hearts are full of greed and selfishness. 40Foolish men! Did not He who made the outside make the inside also? 41But as to what is within, give alms, and instantly all is clean in you.

42“But alas for you Pharisees! for you pay tithes on your mint and rue and every kind of garden vegetable, and are indifferent to justice and the love of God. These are the things you ought to have attended to, while not neglecting the others. 43Alas for you Pharisees! for you love the best seats in the synagogues, and you like to be bowed to in places of public resort. 44Alas for you! for you are like the tombs which lie hidden, and the people who walk over them are not aware of their existence.”

⁴⁵Hereupon one of the expounders of the Law exclaimed, "Rabbi, in saying such things you reproach us also." ⁴⁶"Alas too for you expounders of the Law!" replied Jesus, "for you load men with cumbrous burdens which you yourselves will not touch with one of your fingers. ⁴⁷Alas for you! for you repair the tombs of the Prophets, whom your forefathers killed. ⁴⁸It follows that you bear testimony to the actions of your forefathers and that you fully approve thereof. They slew, you build. ⁴⁹"For this reason also the Wisdom of God has said, 'I will send Prophets and Apostles to them, of whom they will kill some and persecute others,' ⁵⁰so that the blood of all the Prophets, that is being shed from the creation of the world onwards, may be required from the present generation. ⁵¹Yes, I tell you that, from the blood of Abel down to the blood of Zechariah who perished between the altar and the House, it shall all be required from the present generation. ⁵²"Alas for you expounders of the Law! for you have taken away the key of knowledge: you yourselves have not entered, and those who wanted to enter you have hindered."

⁵³After He had left the house, the Scribes and Pharisees commenced a vehement attempt to entangle Him and make Him give off-hand answers on numerous points, ⁵⁴lying in wait to catch some unguarded expression from His lips.

The Leaven of the Pharisees

(Matthew 16:5–12; Mark 8:14–21)

¹Meanwhile the people had come streaming towards Him by tens of thousands, so that they were trampling one another under foot. And now He proceeded to say to His disciples first, "Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees, that is to say, beware of hypocrisy. ²There is nothing that is covered up which will not be uncovered, nor hidden which will not become known. ³Whatever therefore you have said in the dark, will be heard in the light; and what you have whispered within closed doors will be proclaimed from the house-tops.

Fear God Alone

(Matthew 10:26–31)

⁴"But to you who are my friends I say, "Be not afraid of those who kill the body and after that can do nothing further. ⁵I will warn you whom to fear: fear him who after killing has power to throw into Gehenna: yes, I say to you, fear him. ⁶Are not five sparrows sold for a penny? and yet not one of them is a thing forgotten in God's sight. ⁷But the very hairs on your heads are all counted. Away with fear: you are more precious than a multitude of sparrows.'

Confessing Christ

(Matthew 10:32–33)

⁸"And I tell you that every man who shall have acknowledged me before men, the Son of Man will also acknowledge before the angels of God. ⁹But he who disowns me before men will be disowned before the angels of God. ¹⁰Moreover every one who shall speak against the Son of Man, may obtain forgiveness; but he who blasphemes the Holy Spirit will never obtain forgiveness. ¹¹And when they are bringing you before synagogues and magistrates and governors, do not anxiously ponder the manner or matter of your defence, nor what you are to say; ¹²for the Holy Spirit shall teach you at that very moment what you must say."

The Parable of the Rich Fool

¹³Just then a man in the crowd appealed to Him. "Rabbi," he said, "tell my brother to give me a share of the inheritance." ¹⁴"Man," He replied, "who has constituted me a judge or arbitrator over you?" ¹⁵And to the people He said, "Take care, be on your guard against all covetousness, for no one's life consists in the superabundance of his possessions." ¹⁶And He spoke a parable to them. "A certain rich man's lands," He said, "yielded abundant crops, ¹⁷and he debated within himself, saying, "What am I to do? for I have no place in which to store my crops.' ¹⁸"And he said to himself, "This is what I will do: I will pull down my barns and build larger ones, and in them I will store up all my harvest and my wealth; ¹⁹and I will say to my life, "Life, you have ample possessions laid up for many years to come: take your ease, eat, drink, enjoy yourself.' ²⁰"But God said to him, "Foolish man, this night your life is demanded from you; and these preparations—for whom shall they be?' ²¹"So is it with him who amasses treasure for himself, but has no riches in God."

Do Not Worry

(Matthew 6:25–34)

²²Then turning to His disciples He said, "For this reason I say to you, 'Dismiss all anxious care for your lives, inquiring what you are to eat, and for your bodies, what you are to put on.' ²³For life is a greater gift than food, and the body is a greater gift than clothing. ²⁴Observe the ravens. They neither sow nor reap, and have neither store-chamber nor barn. And yet God feeds them. How far more precious are you than the birds! ²⁵And which of you is able by anxious thought to add a moment to his life? ²⁶If then you are unable to do even a very little thing, why be over-anxious about other matters? ²⁷Observe the lilies, how they grow. They neither labour nor spin. And yet I tell you that not even Solomon in all his splendour was as beautifully dressed as one of these. ²⁸But if God so clothes the vegetation in the fields, that blooms to-day and to-morrow will be thrown into the oven, how much more certainly will He clothe you, you men of feeble faith! ²⁹"Therefore, do not be asking what you are to eat nor what you are to drink; and do not waver between hope and fear. ³⁰For though the nations of the world pursue these things, as for you, your Father knows that you need them. ³¹But make His Kingdom the object of your pursuit, and these things shall be given you in addition.

Treasures in Heaven

(Matthew 6:19–21)

³²"Dismiss your fears, little flock: your Father finds a pleasure in giving you the Kingdom.

³³Sell your possessions and give alms. Provide yourselves with purses that will never wear out, a treasure inexhaustible in Heaven, where no thief can come nor moth consume. ³⁴For where your wealth is stored, there also will your heart be.

Readiness at Any Hour

(Matthew 24:36–51; Mark 13:32–37)

³⁵"Have your girdles on, and let your lamps be alight; ³⁶and be yourselves like men waiting for their master—on the look-out till he shall return from the wedding feast—that, when he comes and knocks, they may open the door instantly. ³⁷Blessed are those servants, whom their Master when He comes shall find on the watch. I tell you in solemn truth, that He will tie an apron round Him, and will bid them recline at table while He comes and waits on them. ³⁸And whether it be in the second watch or in the third that He comes and finds them so, blessed are they.

³⁹Of this be sure, that if the master of the house had known what time the robber was coming, he would have kept awake and not have allowed his house to be broken into. ⁴⁰Be you also ready, for at an hour when you are not expecting Him the Son of Man will come."

⁴¹"Master," said Peter, "are you addressing this parable to us, or to all alike?" ⁴²"Who, then," replied the Lord, "is the faithful and intelligent steward whom his Master will put in charge of His household to serve out their rations at the proper times? ⁴³Blessed is that servant whom his Master when He comes shall find so doing. ⁴⁴I tell you truly that He will put him in authority over all His possessions. ⁴⁵But if that servant should say in his heart, 'My Master is a long time in coming,' and should begin to beat the menservants and the maids, and to eat and drink, drinking even to excess; ⁴⁶that servant's Master will come on a day when he is not expecting Him and at an hour that he knows not of, and will punish him severely, and make him share the lot of the unfaithful. ⁴⁷And that servant who has been told his Master's will and yet made no preparation and did not obey His will, will receive many lashes. ⁴⁸But he who had not been told it and yet did what deserved the scourge, will receive but few lashes. To whomsoever much has been given, from him much will be required; and to whom much has been entrusted, of him a larger amount will be demanded.

Not Peace but Division

(Micah 7:1-6; Matthew 10:34-39)

⁴⁹"I came to throw fire upon the earth, and what is my desire? Oh that it were even now kindled! ⁵⁰But I have a baptism to undergo; and how am I pent up till it is accomplished! ⁵¹Do you suppose that I came to give peace on earth? No, I tell you that I came to bring dissension. ⁵²For from this time there will be in one house five persons split into parties. Three will form a party against two and two will form a party against three; ⁵³father against son and son against father; mother attacking daughter and daughter her mother, mother-in-law her daughter-in-law, and daughter-in-law her mother-in-law."

Interpreting the Present Time

(Matthew 16:1-4; Mark 8:11-13)

⁵⁴Then He said to the people also, "When you see a cloud rising in the west, you immediately say, 'There is to be a shower;' and it comes to pass. ⁵⁵And when you see a south wind blowing, you say, 'It will be burning hot;' and it comes to pass. ⁵⁶Vain pretenders! You know how to read the aspect of earth and sky. How is it you cannot read this present time?"

Reconciling with an Adversary

(Matthew 5:21-26)

⁵⁷"Why, too, do you not of yourselves arrive at just conclusions? ⁵⁸For when, with your opponent, you are going before the magistrate, on the way take pains to get out of his power; for fear that, if he should drag you before the judge, the judge may hand you over to the officer of the court, and the officer lodge you in prison. ⁵⁹Never, I tell you, will you get free till you have paid the last farthing."

A Call to Repentance

(Joel 1:13–20; Amos 5:4–15; Zephaniah 2:1–3)

1Just at that time people came to tell Him about the Galilaeans whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. 2“Do you suppose,” He asked in reply, “that those Galilaeans were worse sinners than the mass of the Galilaeans, because this happened to them? 3I tell you, certainly not. On the contrary, if you are not penitent you will all perish as they did. 4Or those eighteen on whom the tower at Siloam fell, do you suppose they had failed in their duty more than all the rest of the people who live in Jerusalem? 5I tell you, certainly not. On the contrary, if you do not repent you will all perish just as they did.”

The Parable of the Barren Fig Tree

(Isaiah 5:1–7)

6And He gave them the following parable. “A man,” He said, “who had a fig-tree growing in his garden came to look for fruit on it and could find none. 7So he said to the gardener, “See, this is the third year I have come to look for fruit on this fig-tree and cannot find any. Cut it down. Why should so much ground be actually wasted?’ 8“But the gardener pleaded, “Leave it, Sir, this year also, till I have dug round it and manured it. 9If after that it bears fruit, well and good; if it does not, then you shall cut it down.””

Jesus Heals a Disabled Woman

10Once He was teaching on the Sabbath in one of the synagogues 11where a woman was present who for eighteen years had been a confirmed invalid: she was bent double, and was unable to lift herself to her full height. 12But Jesus saw her, and calling to her, He said to her, “Woman, you are free from your weakness.” 13And He put His hands on her, and she immediately stood upright and began to give glory to God. 14Then the Warden of the Synagogue, indignant that Jesus had cured her on a Sabbath, said to the crowd, “There are six days in the week on which people ought to work. On those days therefore come and get yourselves cured, and not on the Sabbath day.” 15But the Lord’s reply to him was, “Hypocrites, does not each of you on the Sabbath untie his bullock or his ass from the stall and lead him to water? 16And this woman, daughter of Abraham as she is, whom Satan had bound for no less than eighteen years, was she not to be loosed from this chain because it is the Sabbath day?” 17When He had said this, all His opponents were ashamed, while the whole multitude was delighted at the many glorious things continually done by Him.

The Parable of the Mustard Seed

(Matthew 13:31–32; Mark 4:30–34)

18This prompted Him to say, “What is the Kingdom of God like? and to what shall I compare it? 19It is like a mustard seed which a man drops into the soil in his garden, and it grows and becomes a tree in whose branches the birds roost.”

The Parable of the Leaven

(Matthew 13:33)

20And again He said, “To what shall I compare the Kingdom of God? 21It is like yeast which a woman takes and buries in a bushel of flour, to work there till the whole is leavened.”

The Narrow Door

(Matthew 7:13–14)

22He was passing through town after town and village after village, steadily proceeding towards Jerusalem, 23when some one asked Him, "Sir, are there but few who are to be saved?"

24"Strain every nerve to force your way in through the narrow gate," He answered; "for multitudes, I tell you, will endeavour to find a way in and will not succeed. 25As soon as the Master of the house shall have risen and shut the door, and you have begun to stand outside and knock at the door and say, "Sir, open the door for us"—"I do not know you," He answers; "you are no friends of mine."

26"Then you will plead, "We have eaten and drunk in your company and you have taught in our streets." 27"But He will reply, "I tell you that you are no friends of mine. Begone from me, all of you, wrongdoers that you are." 28"There will be the weeping and gnashing of teeth, when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the Prophets in the Kingdom of God, and yourselves being driven far away. 29They will come from east and west, from north and south, and will sit down at the banquet in the Kingdom of God. 30And I tell you that some now last will then be first, and some now first will then be last."

Lament over Jerusalem

(Matthew 23:37–39)

31Just at that time there came some Pharisees who warned Him, saying, "Leave this place and continue your journey; Herod means to kill you." 32"Go," He replied, "and take this message to that fox: "See, to-day and to-morrow I am driving out demons and effecting cures, and on the third day I finish my course." 33"Yet I must continue my journey to-day and to-morrow and the day following; for it is not conceivable that a Prophet should perish outside of Jerusalem. 34O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou who murderest the Prophets and stonest those who have been sent to thee, how often have I desired to gather thy children just as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, and you would not come! 35See, your house is left to you. But I tell you that you will never see me again until you say, 'Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord!'"

Luke 14

Jesus Heals a Man with Dropsy

1One day—it was a Sabbath—He was taking a meal at the house of one of the Rulers of the Pharisee party, while they were closely watching Him. 2In front of Him was a man suffering from dropsy. 3This led Jesus to ask the lawyers and Pharisees, "Is it allowable to cure people on the Sabbath?" 4They gave Him no answer; so He took hold of the man, cured him, and sent him away. 5Then He turned to them and said, "Which of you shall have a child or an ox fall into a well on the Sabbath day, and will not immediately lift him out?" 6To this they could make no reply.

The Parable of the Guests

7Then, when He noticed that the invited guests chose the best seats, He used this as an illustration and said to them,

8“When any one invites you to a wedding banquet, do not take the best seat, lest perhaps some more honoured guest than you may have been asked, 9and the man who invited you both will come and will say to you, ‘Make room for this guest,’ and then you, ashamed, will move to the lowest place. 10On the contrary, when you are invited go and take the lowest place, that when your host comes round he may say to you, ‘My friend, come up higher.’ This will be doing you honour in the presence of all the other guests. 11For whoever uplifts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be uplifted.

12Also to His host, who had invited Him, He said, “When you give a breakfast or a dinner, do not invite your friends or brothers or relatives or rich neighbours, lest perhaps they should invite you in return and a requital be made you. 13But when you entertain, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, and the blind; 14and you will be blessed, because they have no means of requiting you, but there will be requital for you at the Resurrection of the righteous.”

The Parable of the Banquet

(Matthew 22:1–14)

15After listening to this teaching, one of His fellow guests said to Him, “Blessed is he who shall feast in God’s Kingdom.”

16“A man once gave a great dinner,” replied Jesus, “to which he invited a large number of guests. 17At dinner-time he sent his servant to announce to those who had been invited, “Come, for things are now ready.’ 18“But they all without exception began to excuse themselves. The first told him, “I have purchased a piece of land, and must of necessity go and look at it. Pray hold me excused.’ 19“A second pleaded, “I have bought five yoke of oxen, and am on my way to try them. Pray hold me excused.’ 20“Another said, “I am just married. It is impossible for me to come.’ 21“So the servant came and brought these answers to his master, and they stirred his anger. “Go out quickly,’ he said, ‘into the streets of the city—the wide ones and the narrow. You will see poor men, and crippled, blind, lame: fetch them all in here.’ 22“Soon the servant reported the result, saying, “Sir, what you ordered is done, and there is room still.’ 23“Go out,’ replied the master, ‘to the high roads and hedge-rows, and compel the people to come in, so that my house may be filled. 24For I tell you that not one of those who were invited shall taste my dinner.”

The Cost of Discipleship

(Matthew 8:18–22; Luke 9:57–62; John 6:59–66)

25On His journey vast crowds attended Him, towards whom He turned and said,

26“If any one is coming to me who does not hate his father and mother, wife and children, brothers and sisters, yes and his own life also, he cannot be a disciple of mine. 27No one who does not carry his own cross and come after me can be a disciple of mine. 28“Which of you, desiring to build a tower, does not sit down first and calculate the cost, asking if he has the means to finish it?— 29lest perhaps, when he has laid the foundation and is unable to finish, all who see it shall begin to jeer at him, 30saying, ‘This man began to build, but could not finish.’ 31Or what king, marching to encounter another king in war, does not first sit down and deliberate whether he is able with ten thousand men to meet the one who is advancing against him with twenty thousand? 32If not, while the other is still a long way off, he sends messengers and sues for peace. 33Just as no one of you who does not detach himself from all that belongs to him can be a disciple of mine.

Good Salt

(Matthew 5:13–16; Mark 9:49–50)

34“Salt is good: but if even the salt has become tasteless, what will you use to season it? 35Neither for land nor dunghill is it of any use; they throw it away. Listen, every one who has ears to listen with!”

The Parable of the Lost Sheep

(Matthew 18:10–14)

1Now the tax-gatherers and the notorious sinners were everywhere in the habit of coming close to Him to listen to Him; 2and this led the Pharisees and the Scribes indignantly to complain, saying, “He gives a welcome to notorious sinners, and joins them at their meals!”

3So in figurative language He asked them,

4“Which of you men, if he has a hundred sheep and has lost one of them, does not leave the ninety-nine in their pasture and go in search of the lost one till he finds it? 5And when he has found it, he lifts it on his shoulder, glad at heart. 6Then coming home he calls his friends and neighbours together, and says, ‘Congratulate me, for I have found my sheep—the one I had lost.’ 7I tell you that in the same way there will be rejoicing in Heaven over one repentant sinner—more rejoicing than over ninety-nine blameless persons who have no need of repentance.

The Parable of the Lost Coin

8“Or what woman who has ten silver coins, if she loses one of them, does not light a lamp and sweep the house and search carefully till she finds it? 9And when she has found it, she calls together her friends and neighbours, and says, ‘Congratulate me, for I have found the coin which I had lost.’ 10“I tell you that in the same way there is rejoicing in the presence of the angels of God over one repentant sinner.”

The Parable of the Prodigal Son

(Deuteronomy 21:18–21)

off, his father saw him and pitied him, and ran and threw his arms round his neck and kissed him tenderly. ²¹“Father,” cried the son, “I have sinned against Heaven and before you: no longer do I deserve to be called a son of yours.” ²²But the father said to his servants, “Fetch a good coat quickly—the best one—and put it on him; and bring a ring for his finger and shoes for his feet. ²³Fetch the fat calf and kill it, and let us feast and enjoy ourselves; ²⁴for my son here was dead and has come to life again: he was lost and has been found.” And they began to be merry.

²⁵Now his elder son was out on the farm; and when he returned and came near home, he heard music and dancing. ²⁶Then he called one of the lads to him and asked what all this meant. ²⁷“Your brother has come,” he replied; “and your father has had the fat calf killed, because he has got him home safe and sound.” ²⁸Then he was angry and would not go in. But his father came out and entreated him. ²⁹“All these years,” replied the son, “I have been slaving for you, and I have never at any time disobeyed any of your orders, and yet you have never given me so much as a kid, for me to enjoy myself with my friends; ³⁰but now that this son of yours is come who has eaten up your property among his bad women, you have killed the fat calf for him.” ³¹“You my dear son,” said the father, “are always with me, and all that is mine is also yours. ³²We are bound to make merry and rejoice, for this brother of yours was dead and has come back to life, he was lost and has been found.”

The Parable of the Shrewd Manager

¹He said also to His disciples: “There was a rich man who had a steward, about whom a report was brought to him, that he was wasting his property. ²He called him and said, “What is this I hear about you? Render an account of your stewardship, for I cannot let you hold it any longer.” ³Then the steward said within himself, “What am I to do? For my master is taking away the stewardship from me. I am not strong enough for field labour: to beg, I should be ashamed. ⁴I see what to do, in order that when I am discharged from the stewardship they may give me a home in their own houses.” ⁵So he called all his master’s debtors, one by one, and asked the first, “How much are you in debt to my master?” ⁶“A hundred firkins of oil,” he replied. “Here is your account,” said the steward: “sit down quickly and change it into fifty firkins.” ⁷To a second he said, “And how much do you owe?” “A hundred quarters of wheat,” was the answer. “Here is your account,” said he: “change it into eighty quarters.” ⁸And the master praised the dishonest steward for his shrewdness; for, in relation to their own contemporaries, the men of this age are shrewder than the sons of Light. ⁹But I charge you, so to use the wealth which is ever tempting to dishonesty as to win friends who, when it fails, shall welcome you to the tents that never perish.

¹⁰The man who is honest in a very small matter is honest in a great one also; and he who is dishonest in a very small matter is dishonest in a great one also. ¹¹If therefore you have not proved yourselves faithful in dealing with the wealth that is tainted with fraud, who will entrust to you the true good? ¹²And if you have not been faithful in dealing with that which is not your own, who will give you that which is your own? ¹³No servant can be in bondage to two masters. For either he will hate one and love the other, or else he will cling fast to one and scorn the other. You cannot be bondservants both of God and of gold.”

The Law and the Prophets

14To all this the Pharisees listened, bitterly jeering at Him; for they were lovers of money. 15"You are they," He said to them, "who boast of their own goodness before men, but God sees your hearts; for that which holds a proud position among men is detestable in God's sight.

16The Law and the Prophets continued until John came: from that time the Good News of the Kingdom of God has been spreading, and all classes have been forcing their way into it. 17But it is easier for earth and sky to pass away than for one smallest detail of the Law to fall to the ground.

18Every man who divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery; and he who marries her when so divorced from her husband commits adultery.

The Rich Man and Lazarus

(John 5:39–47)

19"There was once a rich man who habitually arrayed himself in purple and fine linen, and enjoyed a splendid banquet every day, 20while at his outer door there lay a beggar, Lazarus by name, 21covered with sores and longing to make a full meal off the scraps flung on the floor from the rich man's table. Nay, the dogs, too, used to come and lick his sores. 22"But in course of time the beggar died; and he was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom. The rich man also died, and had a funeral. 23And in Hades, being in torment, he looked and saw Abraham in the far distance, and Lazarus resting in his arms. 24So he cried aloud, and said, "Father Abraham, take pity on me and send Lazarus to dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am in agony in this flame." 25"Remember, my child," said Abraham, "that you had all your good things during your lifetime, and that Lazarus in like manner had his bad things. But, now and here, he is receiving consolation and you are in agony. 26And, besides all this, a vast chasm is immovably fixed between us and you, put there in order that those who desire to cross from this side to you may not be able, nor any be able to cross over from your side to us." 27"I entreat you then, father," said he, "to send him to my father's house. 28For I have five brothers. Let him earnestly warn them, lest they also come to this place of torment." 29"They have Moses and the Prophets," replied Abraham; "let them hear them." 30"No, father Abraham," he pleaded; "but if some one goes to them from the dead, they will repent." 31"If they are deaf to Moses and the Prophets," replied Abraham, "they would not be led to believe even if some one should rise from the dead."

Temptations and Trespasses

(Matthew 18:6–9; Mark 9:42–48)

1Jesus said to His disciples, "It is inevitable that causes of stumbling should come; but alas for him through whom they come! 2It would be well for him if, with a millstone round his neck, he were lying at the bottom of the sea, rather than that he should cause even one of these little ones to fall. 3Be on your guard. "If your brother acts wrongly, reprove him; and if he is sorry, forgive him; 4and if seven times in a day he acts wrongly towards you, and seven times turns again to you and says, 'I am sorry,' you must forgive him."

The Power of Faith

(Matthew 17:19–20)

⁵And the Apostles said to the Lord, "Give us faith." ⁶"If your faith," replied the Lord, "is like a mustard seed, you might command this black-mulberry-tree, 'Tear up your roots and plant yourself in the sea,' and instantly it would obey you.

⁷But which of you who has a servant ploughing, or tending sheep, will say to him when he comes in from the farm, 'Come at once and take your place at table,' ⁸and will not rather say to him, 'Get my dinner ready, make yourself tidy, and wait upon me till I have finished my dinner, and then you shall have yours'? ⁹Does he thank the servant for obeying his orders? ¹⁰So you also, when you have obeyed all the orders given you, must say, "There is no merit in our service: what we have done is only what we were in duty bound to do."

The Ten Lepers

(2 Kings 5:1–14)

¹¹As they pursued their journey to Jerusalem, He passed through Samaria and Galilee. ¹²And as He entered a certain village, ten men met Him who were lepers and stood at a distance. ¹³In loud voices they cried out, "Jesus, Rabbi, take pity on us." ¹⁴Perceiving this, He said to them, "Go and show yourselves to the Priests." And while on their way to do this they were made clean. ¹⁵One of them, seeing that he was cured, came back, adoring and praising God in a loud voice, ¹⁶and he threw himself at the feet of Jesus, thanking Him. He was a Samaritan. ¹⁷"Were not all ten made clean?" Jesus asked; "but where are the nine? ¹⁸Have none been found to come back and give glory to God except this foreigner?" ¹⁹And He said to him, "Rise and go: your faith has cured you."

The Coming of the Kingdom

(Genesis 19:24–29)

²⁰Being asked by the Pharisees when the Kingdom of God was coming, He answered, "The Kingdom of God does not so come that you can stealthily watch for it. ²¹Nor will they say, 'See here!' or 'See there!'—for the Kingdom of God is within you."

²²Then, turning to His disciples, He said, "There will come a time when you will wish you could see a single one of the days of the Son of Man, but will not see one. ²³And they will say to you, 'See there!' 'See here!' Do not start off and go in pursuit. ²⁴For just as the lightning, when it flashes, shines from one part of the horizon to the opposite part, so will the Son of Man be on His day. ²⁵But first He must endure much suffering, and be rejected by the present generation. ²⁶"And as it was in the time of Noah, so will it also be in the time of the Son of Man. ²⁷Men were eating and drinking, taking wives and giving wives, up to the very day on which Noah entered the Ark, and the Deluge came and destroyed them all. ²⁸The same was true in the time of Lot: they were eating and drinking, buying and selling, planting and building; ²⁹but on the day that Lot left Sodom, God rained fire and brimstone from the sky and destroyed them all. ³⁰Exactly so will it be on the day that the veil is lifted from the Son of Man. ³¹"On that day, if a man is on the roof and his property indoors, let him not go down to fetch it; and, in the same way, he who is in the field, let him not turn back. ³²Remember Lot's wife. ³³Any man who makes it his object to keep his own life safe, will lose it; but whoever loses his life will preserve it. ³⁴On that night, I tell you, there will be two men in one bed: one will be taken away and the other left behind. ³⁵There will be two women turning the mill together: one will be taken away and the other left behind." ³⁶ ³⁷"Where, Master?" they inquired. "Where the dead body is," He replied, "there also will the vultures flock together."

The Parable of the Persistent Widow

1He also taught them by a parable that they must always pray and never lose heart.

2"In a certain town," He said, "there was a judge who had no fear of God and no respect for man. 3And in the same town was a widow who repeatedly came and entreated him, saying, "Give me justice and stop my oppressor.' 4"For a time he would not, but afterwards he said to himself, "Though I have neither reverence for God nor respect for man, 5yet because she annoys me I will give her justice, to prevent her from constantly coming to pester me.'" 6And the Lord said, "Hear those words of the unjust judge. 7And will not God avenge the wrongs of His own People who cry aloud to Him day and night, although He seems slow in taking action on their behalf? 8Yes, He will soon avenge their wrongs. Yet, when the Son of Man comes, will He find faith on earth?"

The Pharisee and the Tax Collector

9And to some who relied on themselves as being righteous men, and looked down upon all others, He addressed this parable.

10"Two men went up to the Temple to pray," He said; "one being a Pharisee and the other a tax-gatherer. 11The Pharisee, standing erect, prayed as follows by himself: "O God, I thank Thee that I am not like other people—I am not a thief nor a cheat nor an adulterer, nor do I even resemble this tax-gatherer. 12I fast twice a week. I pay the tithe on all my gains.' 13"But the tax-gatherer, standing far back, would not so much as lift his eyes to Heaven, but kept beating his breast and saying, "O God, be reconciled to me, sinner that I am.' 14"I tell you that this man went home more thoroughly absolved from guilt than the other; for every one who uplifts himself will be humbled, but he who humbles himself will be uplifted."

Jesus Blesses the Children

(Matthew 19:13–15; Mark 10:13–16)

15On one occasion people also brought with them their infants, for Him to touch them; but the disciples, noticing this, proceeded to find fault with them. 16Jesus however called the infants to Him. "Let the little children come to me," He said; "do not hinder them; for it is to those who are childlike that the Kingdom of God belongs. 17I tell you in solemn truth that, whoever does not receive the Kingdom of God like a little child will certainly not enter it."

The Rich Young Ruler

(Matthew 19:16–30; Mark 10:17–31)

18The question was put to Him by a Ruler: "Good Rabbi, what shall I do to inherit the Life of the Ages?" 19"Why do you call me good?" replied Jesus; "there is no one good but One, namely God. 20You know the Commandments: 'Do not commit adultery;' 'Do not murder;' 'Do not steal;' 'Do not lie in giving evidence;' 'Honour thy father and thy mother.'" 21"All of those," he replied, "I have kept from my youth." 22On receiving this answer Jesus said to him, "There is still one thing wanting in you. Sell everything you possess and give the money to the poor, and you shall have wealth in Heaven; and then come, follow me." 23But on hearing these words he was deeply sorrowful, for he was exceedingly rich. ²⁴Jesus saw his sorrow, and said, "With how hard a struggle do the possessors of riches ever enter the Kingdom of God! ²⁵Why, it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God." ²⁶"Who then can be saved?" exclaimed the hearers. ²⁷"Things impossible with man," He replied, "are possible with God."

²⁸Then Peter said, "See, we have given up our homes and have followed you." ²⁹"I solemnly tell you," replied Jesus, "that there is no one who has left house or wife, or brothers or parents or children, for the sake of God's Kingdom, ³⁰who shall not certainly receive many times as much in this life, and in the age that is coming the Life of the Ages."

The Third Prediction of the Passion

(Matthew 20:17–19; Mark 10:32–34)

³¹Then He drew the Twelve to Him and said, "See, we are going up to Jerusalem, and everything written in the Prophets which refers to the Son of Man will be fulfilled. ³²For He will be given up to the Gentiles, and be mocked, outraged and spit upon. ³³They will scourge Him and put Him to death, and on the third day He will rise to life again." ³⁴Nothing of this did they understand. The words were a mystery to them, nor could they see what He meant.

Jesus Heals a Blind Beggar

(Matthew 20:29–34; Mark 10:46–52)

³⁵As Jesus came near to Jericho, there was a blind man sitting by the way-side begging. ³⁶He heard a crowd of people going past, and inquired what it all meant. ³⁷"Jesus the Nazarene is passing by," they told him. ³⁸Then, at the top of his voice, he cried out, "Jesus, son of David, take pity on me." ³⁹Those in front reproved him and tried to silence him; but he continued shouting, louder than ever, "Son of David, take pity on me." ⁴⁰At length Jesus stopped and desired them to bring the man to Him; and when he had come close to Him He asked him,

⁴¹"What shall I do for you?" "Sir," he replied, "let me recover my sight." ⁴²"Recover your sight," said Jesus: "your faith has cured you." ⁴³No sooner were the words spoken than the man regained his sight and followed Jesus, giving glory to God; and all the people, seeing it, gave praise to God.

Jesus and Zacchaeus

(Numbers 5:5–10)

¹So He entered Jericho and was passing through the town. ²There was a man there called Zacchaeus, who was the local surveyor of taxes, and was wealthy. ³He was anxious to see what sort of man Jesus was; but he could not because of the crowd, for he was short in stature. ⁴So he ran on in front and climbed up a mulberry tree to see Him; for He was about to pass that way. ⁵As soon as Jesus came to the place, He looked up and said to him, "Zacchaeus, come down quickly, for I must stay at your house to-day." ⁶So he came down in haste, and welcomed Him joyfully. ⁷When they all saw this, they began to complain with indignation. "He has gone in to be the guest of a notorious sinner!" they said. ⁸Zacchaeus however stood up, and addressing the Lord said, "Here and now, Master, I give half my property to the poor, and if I have unjustly exacted money from any man, I pledge myself to repay to him four times the amount." ⁹Turning towards him, Jesus replied, "To-day salvation has come to this house, seeing that he too is a son of Abraham. ¹⁰For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost."

The Parable of the Ten Minas

(Matthew 25:14–30)

¹¹As they were listening to His words, He went on to teach them by a parable, because He was near to Jerusalem and they supposed that the Kingdom of God was going to appear immediately. ¹²So He said to them, "A man of noble family travelled to a distant country to obtain the rank of king, and to return. ¹³And he called ten of his servants and gave each of them a pound, instructing them to trade with the money during his absence. ¹⁴Now his countrymen hated him, and sent a deputation after him to say, 'We are not willing that he should become our king.' ¹⁵And upon his return, after he had obtained the sovereignty, he ordered those servants to whom he had given the money to be summoned before him, that he might learn their success in trading. ¹⁶So the first came and said, "Sir, your pound has produced ten pounds more.' ¹⁷"Well done, good servant,' he replied; 'because you have been faithful in a very small matter, be in authority over ten towns.' ¹⁸"The second came, and said, "Your pound, Sir, has produced five pounds.' ¹⁹So he said to this one also, "And you, be the governor of five towns.' ²⁰"The next came. "Sir,' he said, 'here is your pound, which I have kept wrapt up in a cloth. ²¹For I was afraid of you, because you are a severe man: you take up what you did not lay down, and you reap what you did not sow.' ²²"By your own words,' he replied, 'I will judge you, you bad servant. You knew me to be a severe man, taking up what I did not lay down, and reaping what I did not sow: ²³why then did you not put my money into a bank, that when I came I might have received it back with interest? ²⁴And he said to those who stood by, "Take the pound from him and give it to him who has the ten pounds.' ²⁵ ²⁶"I tell you that to every one who has anything, more shall be given; and from him who has not anything, even what he has shall be taken away. ²⁷But as for those enemies of mine who were unwilling that I should become their king, bring them here, and cut them to pieces in my presence.'"

The Triumphal Entry

(Zechariah 9:9–13; Matthew 21:1–11; Mark 11:1–11; John 12:12–19)

²⁸After thus speaking, He journeyed onward, proceeding up to Jerusalem.

²⁹And when he was come near Bethphage and Bethany, at the Mount called the Oliveyard, He sent two of the disciples on in front, ³⁰saying to them, "Go into the village facing you. On entering it you will find an ass's foal tied up which no one has ever yet ridden: untie it, and bring it here. ³¹And if any one asks you, 'Why are you untying the colt?' simply say, 'The Master needs it.'" ³²So those who were sent went and found things as He had told them. ³³And while they were untying the colt the owners called out, "Why are you untying the colt?" ³⁴and they replied, "The Master needs it." ³⁵Then they brought it to Jesus, and after throwing their outer garments on the colt they placed Jesus on it. ³⁶So He rode on, while they carpeted the road with their garments. ³⁷And when He was now getting near Jerusalem, and descending the Mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began in their joy to praise God in loud voices for all the mighty deeds they had witnessed.

³⁸"Blessed is the King," they cried, "who comes in the name of the Lord: in Heaven peace, and glory in the highest realms."

39Thereupon some of the Pharisees in the crowd appealed to Him, saying, "Rabbi, reprove your disciples." 40"I tell you," He replied, "that if they became silent, the very stones would cry out."

Jesus Weeps over Jerusalem

(Isaiah 29:1–16)

41When He came into full view of the city, He wept aloud over it, and exclaimed, 42"O that at this time thou hadst known—yes even thou—what makes peace possible! But now it is hid from thine eyes. 43For the time is coming upon thee when thy foes will throw up around thee earthworks and a wall, investing thee and hemming thee in on every side. 44And they will dash thee to the ground and thy children within thee, and will not leave one stone upon another within thee; because thou hast not recognized the time of thy visitation."

Jesus Cleanses the Temple

(Matthew 21:12–17; Mark 11:15–19; John 2:12–25)

45Then Jesus entered the Temple and proceeded to drive out the dealers. 46"It is written," He said, "And My house shall be the House of Prayer,' but you have made it a robbers' cave."

47And day after day He taught in the Temple, while the High Priests and the Scribes were devising some means of destroying Him, as were also the leading men of the people. 48But they could not find any way of doing it, for the people all hung upon His lips.

Jesus' Authority Challenged

(Matthew 21:23–27; Mark 11:27–33)

1On one of those days while He was teaching the people in the Temple and proclaiming the Good News, the High Priests came upon Him, and the Scribes, 2together with the Elders, and they asked Him, "Tell us, By what authority are you doing these things? And who is it that gave you this authority?" 3"I also will put a question to you," He said; 4"was John's baptism of Heavenly or of human origin?" 5So they debated the matter with one another. "If we say 'Heavenly,'" they argued, "he will say, 'Why did you not believe him?'" 6And if we say, 'human,' the people will all stone us; for they are thoroughly convinced that John was a Prophet." 7And they answered that they did not know the origin of it. 8"Nor will I tell you," said Jesus, "by what authority I do these things."

The Parable of the Wicked Tenants

9Then He proceeded to speak a parable to the people. "There was a man," He said, "who planted a vineyard, let it out to vine-dressers, and went abroad for a considerable time. 10At vintage-time he sent a servant to the vine-dressers, for them to give him a share of the crop; but the vine-dressers beat him cruelly and sent him away empty-handed. 11Then he sent a second servant; and him too they beat and ill treated and sent away empty-handed. 12Then again he sent a third; and this one also they wounded and drove away. 13Then the owner of the vineyard said, "What am I to do? I will send my son—my dearly-loved son: they will probably respect him.’ ¹⁴“But when the vine-dressers saw him, they discussed the matter with one another, and said, “This is the heir: let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.’ ¹⁵“So they turned him out of the vineyard and murdered him. What then will the owner of the vineyard do to them? ¹⁶He will come and put these vine-dressers to death, and give the vineyard to others.” “God forbid!” exclaimed the hearers.

¹⁷He looked at them and said, “What then does that mean which is written, “The Stone which the builders rejected has been made the cornerstone”?

¹⁸Every one who falls on that stone will be severely hurt, but on whomsoever it falls, he will be utterly crushed.”

Paying Taxes to Caesar

(Matthew 22:15–22; Mark 12:13–17)

¹⁹At this the Scribes and the High Priests wanted to lay hands on Him, then and there; only they were afraid of the people. For they saw that in this parable He had referred to them. ²⁰So, after impatiently watching their opportunity, they sent spies who were to act the part of good and honest men, that they might fasten on some expression of His, so as to hand Him over to the ruling power and the Governor’s authority. ²¹So they put a question to Him. “Rabbi,” they said, “we know that you say and teach what is right and that you make no distinctions between one man and another, but teach God’s way truly. ²²Is it allowable to pay a tax to Caesar, or not?” ²³But He saw through their knavery and replied, ²⁴“Show me a shilling; whose likeness and inscription does it bear?” “Caesar’s,” they said. ²⁵“Pay therefore,” He replied, “what is Caesar’s to Caesar—and what is God’s to God.” ²⁶There was nothing here that they could lay hold of before the people, and marvelling at His answer they said no more.

The Sadducees and the Resurrection

(Matthew 22:23–33; Mark 12:18–27)

²⁷Next some of the Sadducees came forward (who deny that there is a Resurrection) ²⁸“Rabbi, Moses made it a law for us that if a man’s brother should die, leaving a wife but no children, the man shall marry the widow and raise up a family for his brother. ²⁹Now there were seven brothers. The first of them took a wife and died childless. ³⁰The second and the third also took her; ³¹and all seven, having done the same, left no children when they died. ³²Finally the woman also died. ³³The woman, then—at the Resurrection—whose wife shall she be? for they all seven married her.”

³⁴“The men of this age,” replied Jesus, “marry, and the women are given in marriage. ³⁵But as for those who shall have been deemed worthy to find a place in that other age and in the Resurrection from among the dead, the men do not marry and the women are not given in marriage. ³⁶For indeed they cannot die again; they are like angels, and are sons of God through being sons of the Resurrection. ³⁷But that the dead rise to life even Moses clearly implies in the passage about the Bush, where he calls the Lord ‘The God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.’ ³⁸He is not a God of dead, but of living men, for to Him are all living.” ³⁹Then some of the Scribes replied, “Rabbi, you have spoken well.” ⁴⁰From that time, however, no one ventured to challenge Him with a single question.

Whose Son Is the Christ?

(Matthew 22:41–46; Mark 12:35–37)

41 But He asked them, "How is it they say that the Christ is a son of David?"

42 Why, David himself says in the Book of Psalms, "The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at My right hand

43 Until I have made thy foes a footstool under thy feet.' 44 "David himself therefore calls Him Lord, and how can He be his son?"

Beware of the Scribes

(Mark 12:38–40)

45 Then, in the hearing of all the people, He said to the disciples,

46 "Beware of the Scribes, who like to walk about in long robes, and love to be bowed to in places of public resort and to occupy the best seats in the synagogues or at a dinner party; 47 who swallow up the property of widows and mask their wickedness by making long prayers. They will be punished far more severely than others."

The Poor Widow's Offering

(Mark 12:41–44)

1 Looking up He saw the people throwing their gifts into the Treasury—the rich people. 2 He also saw a poor widow dropping in two farthings, 3 and He said, "In truth I tell you that this widow, so poor, has thrown in more than any of them. 4 For from what they could well spare they have all of them contributed to the offerings, but she in her need has thrown in all she had to live on."

Temple Destruction and Other Signs

(Matthew 24:1–8; Mark 13:1–8)

5 When some were remarking about the Temple, how it was embellished with beautiful stones and dedicated gifts, He said,

6 "As to these things which you now admire, the time is coming when there will not be one stone left here upon another which will not be pulled down."

7 "Rabbi, when will this be?" they asked Him, "and what will be the token given when these things are about to take place?" 8 "See to it," He replied, "that you are not misled; for many will come assuming my name and professing, 'I am He,' or saying, 'The time is close at hand.' Do not go and follow them. 9 But when you hear of wars and turmoils, be not afraid; for these things must happen first, but the end does not come immediately."

Witnessing to All Nations

(Matthew 24:9–14; Mark 13:9–13)

10Then He said to them, "Nation will rise in arms against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. 11And there will be great earthquakes, and in places famines and pestilence; and there will be terrible sights and wonderful tokens from Heaven.

12"But before all these things happen they will lay hands on you and persecute you. They will deliver you up to synagogues and to prison, and you will be brought before kings and governors for my sake.

13In the end all this will be evidence of your fidelity. 14"Make up your minds, however, not to prepare a defence beforehand, 15for I will give you utterance and wisdom which none of your opponents will be able to withstand or reply to. 16You will be betrayed even by parents, brothers, relatives, friends; and some of you they will put to death. 17You will be the objects of universal hatred because you are called by my name; 18and yet not a hair of your heads shall perish. 19By your patient endurance you will purchase your lives.

The Destruction of Jerusalem

(Matthew 24:15–25; Mark 13:14–23)

20"But when you see Jerusalem with armies encamping round her on every side, then be certain that her overthrow is close at hand. 21Then let those who shall be in Judaea escape to the hills; let those who are in the city leave it, and those who are in the country not enter in. 22For those are the days of vengeance and of fulfilling all that is written. 23"Alas for the women who at that time are with child or who have infants; for there will be great distress in the land, and anger towards this People. 24They will fall by the sword, or be carried off into slavery among all the Gentiles. And Jerusalem will be trampled under foot by the Gentiles, till the appointed times of the Gentiles have expired.

The Return of the Son of Man

(Matthew 24:26–31; Mark 13:24–27)

25"There will be signs in sun, moon, and stars; and on earth anguish among the nations in their bewilderment at the roaring of the sea and its billows; 26while men's hearts are fainting for fear, and for anxious expectation of what is coming on the world. For the forces which control the heavens will be disordered and disturbed. 27And then will they see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with great power and glory. 28But when all this is beginning to take place, grieve no longer. Lift up your heads, because your deliverance is drawing near."

The Lesson of the Fig Tree

(Matthew 24:32–35; Mark 13:28–31)

29And He spoke a parable to them. "See," He said, "the fig-tree and all the trees. 30As soon as they have shot out their leaves, you know at a glance that summer is now near. 31So also, when you see these things happening, you may be sure that the Kingdom of God is near. 32I tell you in solemn truth that the present generation will certainly not pass away without all these things having first taken place. 33Earth and sky will pass away, but it is certain that my words will not pass away.

Be Watchful for the Day

34"But take heed to yourselves, lest your souls be weighed down with self-indulgence and drunkenness or the anxieties of this life, and that day come upon you, suddenly, like a falling trap; 35for it will come on all dwellers on the face of the whole earth. 36But beware of slumbering; and every moment pray that you may be fully strengthened to escape from all these coming evils, and to take your stand in the presence of the Son of Man."

37His habit at this time was to teach in the Temple by day, but to go out and spend the night on the Mount called the Oliveyard. 38And all the people came to Him in the Temple, early in the morning, to listen to Him.

The Plot to Kill Jesus

(Matthew 26:1–5; Mark 14:1–2; John 11:45–57)

1Meanwhile the Festival of the Unleavened Bread, called the Passover, was approaching, 2and the High Priests and the Scribes were contriving how to destroy Him. But they feared the people.

Judas Agrees to Betray Jesus

(Matthew 26:14–16; Mark 14:10–11)

3Satan, however, entered into Judas (the man called Iscariot) 4He went and conferred with the High Priests and Commanders as to how he should deliver Him up to them. 5This gave them great pleasure, and they agreed to pay him. 6He accepted their offer, and then looked out for an opportunity to betray Him when the people were not there.

Preparing the Passover

(Matthew 26:17–19; Mark 14:12–16)

7When the day of the Unleavened Bread came—the day for the Passover lamb to be sacrificed— 8Jesus sent Peter and John with instructions. “Go,” He said, “and prepare the Passover for us, that we may eat it.” 9“Where shall we prepare it?” they asked. 10“You will no sooner have entered the city,” He replied, “than you will meet a man carrying a pitcher of water. Follow him into the house to which he goes, 11and say to the master of the house, “The Rabbi asks you, Where is the room where I can eat the Passover with my disciples?’ 12“And he will show you a large furnished room upstairs. There make your preparations.” 13So they went and found all as He had told them; and they got the Passover ready.

The Last Supper

(Matthew 26:20–30; Mark 14:17–26; 1 Corinthians 11:17–34)

14When the time was come, and He had taken His place at table, and the Apostles with Him, 15He said to them, “Earnestly have I longed to eat this Passover with you before I suffer; 16for I tell you that I certainly shall not eat one again till its full meaning has been brought out in the Kingdom of God.” 17Then, having received the cup and given thanks, He said, “Take this and share it among yourselves; 18for I tell you that from this time I will never drink the produce of the vine till the Kingdom of God has come.” 19Then, taking a Passover biscuit, He gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, “This is my body which is being given on your behalf: this do in remembrance of me.” 20He gave them the cup in like manner, when the meal was over. “This cup,” He said, “is the new Covenant ratified by my blood which is to be poured out on your behalf. 21Yet the hand of him who is betraying me is at the table with me. 22For indeed the Son of Man goes on His way—His pre-destined way; yet alas for that man who is betraying Him!" ²³Thereupon they began to discuss with one another which of them it could possibly be who was about to do this.

Who Is the Greatest?

²⁴There arose also a dispute among them which of them should be regarded as greatest. ²⁵But He said to them, "The kings of the Gentiles are their masters, and those who exercise authority over them are called Benefactors. ²⁶With you it is not so; but let the greatest among you be as the younger, and the leader be like him who serves. ²⁷For which is the greater—he who sits at table, or he who waits on him? Is it not he who sits at table? But my position among you is that of one who waits on others.

²⁸You however have remained with me amid my trials; ²⁹and I covenant to give you, as my Father has covenanted to give me, a Kingdom— ³⁰so that you shall eat and drink at my table in my Kingdom, and sit on thrones as judges over the twelve tribes of Israel.

Jesus Predicts Peter's Denial

(Matthew 26:31–35; Mark 14:27–31; John 13:36–38)

³¹"Simon, Simon, I tell you that Satan has obtained permission to have all of you to sift as wheat is sifted. ³²But I have prayed for you that your faith may not fail, and you, when at last you have come back to your true self, must strengthen your brethren." ³³"Master," replied Peter, "with you I am ready to go both to prison and to death." ³⁴"I tell you, Peter," said Jesus, "that the cock will not crow to-day till you have three times denied that you know me."

³⁵Then He asked them, "When I sent you out without purse or bag or shoes, was there anything you needed?" "No, nothing," they replied. ³⁶"But now," said He, "let the one who has a purse take it, and he who has a bag must do the same. And let him who has no sword sell his outer garment and buy one. ³⁷For I tell you that those words of Scripture must yet find their fulfilment in me: 'And He was reckoned among the lawless'; for indeed that saying about me has its accomplishment." ³⁸"Master, here are two swords," they exclaimed. "That is enough," He replied.

Jesus Prays on the Mount of Olives

(Matthew 26:36–46; Mark 14:32–42)

³⁹On going out, He proceeded as usual to the Mount of Olives, and His disciples followed Him. ⁴⁰But when He arrived at the place, He said to them, "Pray that you may not come into temptation." ⁴¹But He Himself withdrew from them about a stone's throw, and knelt down and prayed repeatedly, saying, ⁴²"Father, if it be Thy will, take this cup away from me; yet not my will but Thine be done!" ⁴³And there appeared to Him an angel from Heaven, strengthening Him; ⁴⁴while He—an agony of distress having come upon Him—prayed all the more with intense earnestness, and His sweat became like clots of blood dropping on the ground. ⁴⁵When He rose from his prayer and came to His disciples, He found them sleeping for sorrow.

⁴⁶"Why are you sleeping?" He said; "stand up; and pray that you may not come into temptation."

The Betrayal of Jesus

(Matthew 26:47–56; Mark 14:43–52; John 18:1–14)

⁴⁷While He was still speaking there came a crowd with Judas, already mentioned as one of the Twelve, at their head. He went up to Jesus to kiss Him. ⁴⁸"Judas," said Jesus, "are you betraying the Son of Man with a kiss?" ⁴⁹Those who were about Him, seeing what was likely to happen, asked Him, "Master, shall we strike with the sword?" ⁵⁰And one of them struck a blow at the High Priest's servant and cut off his right ear. ⁵¹"Permit me thus far," said Jesus. And He touched the ear and healed it. ⁵²Then Jesus said to the High Priests and Commanders of the Temple and Elders, who had come to arrest Him, "Have you come out as if to fight with a robber, with swords and cudgels? ⁵³While day after day I was with you in the Temple, you did not lay hands upon me; but to you belongs this hour—and the power of darkness."

Peter Denies Jesus

(Matthew 26:69–75; Mark 14:66–72; John 18:15–18)

⁵⁴And they arrested Him and led Him away, and brought Him to the High Priest's house, while Peter followed a good way behind. ⁵⁵And when they had lighted a fire in the middle of the court and had seated themselves in a group round it, Peter was sitting among them, ⁵⁶when a maidservant saw him sitting by the fire, and, looking fixedly at him, she said, "This man also was with him." ⁵⁷But he denied it, and declared, "Woman, I do not know him." ⁵⁸Shortly afterwards a man saw him and said, "You, too, are one of them." "No, man, I am not," said Peter. ⁵⁹After an interval of about an hour some one else stoutly maintained: "Certainly this fellow also was with him, for in fact he is a Galilaeen." ⁶⁰"Man, I don't know what you mean," replied Peter. No sooner had he spoken than a cock crowed. ⁶¹The Master turned and looked on Peter; and Peter recollected the Master's words, how He had said to him, "This very day, before the cock crows, you will disown me three times." ⁶²And he went out and wept aloud bitterly.

The Soldiers Mock Jesus

(Isaiah 50:4–11; Matthew 27:27–31; Mark 15:16–20; John 19:1–15)

⁶³Meanwhile the men who held Jesus in custody repeatedly beat Him in cruel sport, ⁶⁴or blindfolded Him, and then challenged Him. "Prove to us," they said, "that you are a prophet, by telling us who it was that struck you." ⁶⁵And they said many other insulting things to Him.

Jesus before the Sanhedrin

(Matthew 26:57–68; Mark 14:53–65; John 18:19–24)

⁶⁶As soon as it was day, the whole body of the Elders, both High Priests and Scribes, assembled. Then He was brought into their Sanhedrin, and they asked Him, ⁶⁷"Are you the Christ? Tell us." "If I tell you," He replied, "you will certainly not believe; ⁶⁸and if I ask you questions, you will certainly not answer. ⁶⁹But from this time forward the Son of Man will be seated at the right hand of God's omnipotence." ⁷⁰Thereupon they cried out with one voice, "You, then, are the Son of God?" "It is as you say," He answered; "I am He." ⁷¹"What need have we of further evidence?" they said; "for we ourselves have heard it from his own lips."

Luke 23

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

Jesus before Pilate

(Matthew 27:11–14; John 18:28–40)

1Then the whole assembly rose and brought Him to Pilate, and began to accuse Him. 2"We have found this man," they said, "an agitator among our nation, forbidding the payment of tribute to Caesar, and claiming to be himself an anointed king." 3Then Pilate asked Him, "You, then, are the King of the Jews?" "It is as you say," He replied. 4Pilate said to the High Priests and to the crowd, "I can find no crime in this man." 5But they violently insisted. "He stirs up the people," they said, "throughout all Judaea with His teaching—even from Galilee (where He first started)

Jesus before Herod

6On hearing this, Pilate inquired, "Is this man a Galilaean?"

7And learning that He belonged to Herod's jurisdiction he sent Him to Herod, for he too was in Jerusalem at that time.

8To Herod the sight of Jesus was a great gratification, for, for a long time, he had been wanting to see Him, because he had heard so much about Him. He hoped also to see some miracle performed by Him.

9So he put a number of questions to Him, but Jesus gave him no reply. 10Meanwhile the High Priests and the Scribes were standing there and vehemently accusing Him. 11Then, laughing to scorn the claims of Jesus, Herod (and his soldiers with him) 12And on that very day Herod and Pilate became friends again, for they had been for some time at enmity.

The Crowd Chooses Barabbas

(Matthew 27:15–23; Mark 15:6–11)

13Then calling together the High Priests and the Rulers and the people, Pilate said, 14"You have brought this man to me on a charge of corrupting the loyalty of the people. But, you see, I have examined him in your presence and have discovered in the man no ground for the accusations which you bring against him. 15No, nor does Herod; for he has sent him back to us; and, you see, there is nothing he has done that deserves death. 16I will therefore give him a light punishment and release him." 17

18Then the whole multitude burst out into a shout. "Away with this man," they said, "and release Barabbas to us" 19 20But Pilate once more addressed them, wishing to set Jesus free. 21They, however, persistently shouted, "Crucify, crucify him!" 22A third time he appealed to them: "Why, what crime has the man committed? I have discovered in him nothing that deserves death. I will therefore give him a light punishment and release him." 23But they urgently insisted, demanding with frantic outcries that He should be crucified; and their clamour prevailed. 24So Pilate gave judgement, yielding to their demand. 25The man who was lying in prison charged with riot and murder and for whom they clamoured he set free, but Jesus he gave up to be dealt with as they desired.

The Crucifixion

(Psalm 22:1–31; Matthew 27:32–44; Mark 15:21–32; John 19:16–27)

26As soon as they led Him away, they laid hold on one Simon, a Cyrenaeen, who was coming in from the country, and on his shoulders they put the cross, for him to carry it behind Jesus.

27A vast crowd of the people also followed Him, and of women who were beating their breasts and wailing for Him. 28But Jesus turned towards them and said, "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children. 29For a time is coming when they will say, 'Blessed are the women who never bore children, and the breasts which have never given nourishment.' 30Then will they begin to say to the mountains, 'Fall on us;' and to the hills, 'Cover us.' ³¹For if they are doing these things in the case of the green tree, what will be done in that of the dry?"

³²They brought also two others, criminals, to put them to death with Him.

³³When they reached the place called 'The Skull,' there they nailed Him to the cross, and the criminals also, one at His right hand and one at His left. ³⁴Jesus prayed, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they are doing." And they divided His garments among them, drawing lots for them; ³⁵and the people stood looking on. The Rulers, too, repeatedly uttered their bitter taunts. "This fellow," they said, "saved others: let him save himself, if he is God's Anointed, the Chosen One." ³⁶And the soldiers also made sport of Him, coming and offering Him sour wine and saying, ³⁷"Are you the King of the Jews? Save yourself, then!" ³⁸There was moreover a writing over His head: THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

³⁹Now one of the criminals who had been crucified insulted Him, saying, "Are not you the Christ? Save yourself and us." ⁴⁰But the other, answering, reproved him. "Do you also not fear God," he said, "when you are actually suffering the same punishment? ⁴¹And we indeed are suffering justly, for we are receiving due requital for what we have done. But He has done nothing amiss." ⁴²And he said, "Jesus, remember me when you come in your Kingdom." ⁴³"I tell you in solemn truth," replied Jesus, "that this very day you shall be with me in Paradise."

The Death of Jesus

(Psalm 31:1–24; Matthew 27:45–56; Mark 15:33–41; John 19:28–30)

⁴⁴It was now about noon, and a darkness came over the whole country till three o'clock in the afternoon. ⁴⁵The sun was darkened, and the curtain of the Sanctuary was torn down the middle, ⁴⁶and Jesus cried out in a loud voice, and said, "Father, to Thy hands I entrust my spirit." And after uttering these words He yielded up His spirit. ⁴⁷The Captain, seeing what had happened, gave glory to God, saying, "Beyond question this man was innocent." ⁴⁸And all the crowds that had come together to this sight, after seeing all that had occurred, returned to the city beating their breasts. ⁴⁹But all His acquaintances, and the women who had been His followers after leaving Galilee, continued standing at a distance and looking on.

The Burial of Jesus

(Isaiah 53:9–12; Matthew 27:57–61; Mark 15:42–47; John 19:38–42)

⁵⁰There was a member of the Council of the name of Joseph, a kind-hearted and upright man, ⁵¹who came from the Jewish town of Arimathaea and was awaiting the coming of the Kingdom of God. He had not concurred in the design or action of the Council, ⁵²and now he went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. ⁵³Then, taking it down, he wrapped it in a linen sheet and laid it in a tomb in the rock, where no one else had yet been put. ⁵⁴It was the Preparation Day, and the Sabbath was near at hand. ⁵⁵The women—those who had come with Jesus from Galilee—followed close behind, and saw the tomb and how His body was placed. ⁵⁶Then they returned, and prepared spices and perfumes. On the Sabbath they rested in obedience to the Commandment.

Luke 24

The Resurrection

(Matthew 28:1–10; Mark 16:1–8; John 20:1–9)

1And, on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they came to the tomb bringing the spices they had prepared. 2But they found the stone rolled back from the tomb, 3and on entering they found that the body of the Lord Jesus was not there. 4At this they were in great perplexity, when suddenly there stood by them two men whose raiment flashed like lightning. 5The women were terrified; but, as they stood with their faces bowed to the ground, the men said to them, "Why do you search among the dead for Him who is living? 6He is not here. He has come back to life. Remember how He spoke to you while He was still in Galilee, 7when He told you that the Son of Man must be betrayed into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and on the third day rise again." 8Then they remembered His words, 9and returning from the tomb they reported all this to the Eleven and to all the rest. 10The women were Mary of Magdala, Joanna, and Mary the mother of James; and they and the rest of the women related all this to the Apostles. 11But the whole story seemed to them an idle tale; they could not believe the women. 12Peter, however, rose and ran to the tomb. Stooping and looking in, he saw nothing but the linen cloths: so he went away to his own home, wondering at what had happened.

The Road to Emmaus

(Mark 16:12–13)

13On that same day two of the disciples were walking to Emmaus, a village seven or eight miles from Jerusalem, 14and were conversing about all these recent events; 15and, in the midst of their conversation and discussion, Jesus Himself came and joined them, 16though they were prevented from recognizing Him. 17"What is the subject," He asked them, "on which you are talking so earnestly, as you walk?" And they stood still, looking full of sorrow. 18Then one of them, named Cleopas, answered, "Are you a stranger lodging alone in Jerusalem, that you have known nothing of the things that have lately happened in the city?" 19"What things?" He asked. "The things about Jesus the Nazarene," they said, "who was a Prophet powerful in work and word before God and all the people; 20and how our High Priests and Rulers delivered Him up to be sentenced to death, and crucified Him. 21But we were hoping that it was He who was about to ransom Israel. Yes, and moreover it was the day before yesterday that these things happened. 22And, besides, some of the women of our company have amazed us. They went to the tomb at daybreak, 23and, finding that His body was not there, they came and declared to us that they had also seen a vision of angels who said that He was alive. 24Thereupon some of our party went to the tomb and found things just as the women had said; but Jesus Himself they did not see."

25"O dull-witted men," He replied, "with minds so slow to believe all that the Prophets have spoken! 26Was there not a necessity for the Christ thus to suffer, and then enter into His glory?" 27And, beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, He explained to them the passages in Scripture which refer to Himself.

28When they had come near the village to which they were going, He appeared to be going further. 29But they pressed Him to remain with them. "Because," said they, "it is getting towards evening, and the day is nearly over." So He went in to stay with them. 30But as soon as He had sat down with them, and had taken the bread and had blessed and broken it, and was handing it to them, 31their eyes were opened and they recognized Him. But He vanished from them. 32"Were not our hearts," they said to one another, "burning within us while He talked to us on the way and explained the Scriptures to us?" 33So they rose and without an hour's delay returned to Jerusalem, and found the Eleven and the rest met together, who said to them, 34"Yes, it is true: the Master has come back to life. He has been seen by Simon.” ³⁵Then they related what had happened on the way, and how He had been recognized by them in the breaking of the bread.

Jesus Appears to the Disciples

(John 20:19–23; 1 John 1:1–4)

³⁶While they were thus talking, He Himself stood in their midst and said, “Peace be to you!” ³⁷Startled, and in the utmost alarm, they thought they were looking at a spirit; ³⁸but He said to them, “Why such alarm? And why are there such questionings in your minds? ³⁹See my hands and my feet—it is my very self. Feel me and see, for a spirit has not flesh and bones as you see I have.” ⁴⁰And then He showed them His hands and His feet. ⁴¹But, while they still could not believe it for joy and were full of astonishment, He asked them, “Have you any food here?” ⁴²And they gave Him a piece of roasted fish, ⁴³and He took it and ate it in their presence.

⁴⁴And He said to them, “This is what I told you while I was still with you—that everything must be fulfilled that is written in the Law of Moses and in the Prophets and the Psalms concerning me.” ⁴⁵Then He opened their minds to understand the Scriptures, ⁴⁶and He said, “Thus it is written that the Christ would suffer and on the third day rise again from among the dead; ⁴⁷and that proclamation would be made, in His name, of repentance and forgiveness of sins to all the nations, beginning in Jerusalem. ⁴⁸You are witnesses as to these things. ⁴⁹And remember that I am about to send out my Father’s promised gift to rest upon you. But, as for you, wait patiently in the city until you are clothed with power from on high.”

The Ascension

(Mark 16:19–20; Acts 1:6–11)

⁵⁰And He brought them out to within view of Bethany, and then lifted up His hands and blessed them. ⁵¹And while He was blessing them, He parted from them and was carried up into Heaven. ⁵²They worshipped Him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy. ⁵³Afterwards they were continually in attendance at the Temple, blessing God.

The Beginning

(Genesis 1:1–2; Hebrews 11:1–3)

¹In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. ²He was in the beginning with God. ³All things came into being through Him, and apart from Him nothing that exists came into being. ⁴In Him was Life, and that Life was the Light of men. ⁵The Light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overpowered it.

The Witness of John

⁶There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. ⁷He came as a witness, in order that he might give testimony concerning the Light—so that all might believe through him. ⁸He was not the Light, but he existed that he might give testimony concerning the Light.

⁹The true Light was that which illumines every man by its coming into the world. ¹⁰He was in the world, and the world came into existence through Him, and the world did not recognize Him. ¹¹He came to the things that were His own, and His own people gave Him no welcome. ¹²But all who have received Him, to them—that is, to those who trust in His name—He has given the privilege of becoming children of God; ¹³who were begotten as such not by human descent, nor through an impulse of their own nature, nor through the will of a human father, but from God.

The Word Became Flesh

(Psalm 84:1–12)

¹⁴And the Word came in the flesh, and lived for a time in our midst, so that we saw His glory—the glory as of the Father’s only Son, sent from His presence. He was full of grace and truth. ¹⁵John gave testimony concerning Him and cried aloud, saying, “This is He of whom I said, ‘He who is coming after me has been put before me,’ for He was before me.” ¹⁶For He it is from whose fulness we have all received, and grace upon grace. ¹⁷For the Law was given through Moses; grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. ¹⁸No human eye has ever seen God: the only Son, who is in the Father’s bosom—He has made Him known.

The Mission of John the Baptist

(Isaiah 40:1–5; Matthew 3:1–12; Mark 1:1–8; Luke 3:1–20)

¹⁹This also is John’s testimony, when the Jews sent to him a deputation of Priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him who he was. ²⁰He avowed—he did not conceal the truth, but avowed, “I am not the Christ.” ²¹“What then?” they inquired; “are you Elijah?” “I am not,” he said. “Are you the Prophet?” “No,” he answered. ²²So they pressed the question. “Who are you?” they said—“that we may take an answer to those who sent us. What account do you give of yourself?” ²³“I am the voice,” he replied, “of one crying aloud, ‘Make straight the Lord’s way in the Desert,’ fulfilling the words of the Prophet Isaiah.”

²⁴They were Pharisees who had been sent. ²⁵Again they questioned him. “Why then do you baptize,” they said, “if you are neither the Christ nor Elijah nor the Prophet?” ²⁶“I baptize in water only,” John answered, “but in your midst stands One whom you do not know— ²⁷He who is to come after me, and whose sandal-strap I am not worthy to unfasten.” ²⁸This conversation took place at Bethany beyond the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

Jesus the Lamb of God

(Matthew 3:13–17; Mark 1:9–11; Luke 3:21–22)

²⁹The next day John saw Jesus coming towards him and exclaimed, “Look, that is the Lamb of God who is to take away the sin of the world! ³⁰This is He about whom I said, ‘After me is to come One who has been put before me, because He was before me.’ ³¹I did not yet know Him; but that He may be openly shown to Israel is the reason why I have come baptizing in water.” ³²John also gave testimony by stating: “I have seen the Spirit coming down like a dove out of Heaven; and it remained upon Him. ³³I did not yet know Him, but He who sent me to baptize in water said to me, ‘The One on whom you see the Spirit coming down, and remaining, He it is who baptizes in the Holy Spirit.' ³⁴"This I have seen, and I have become a witness that He is the Son of God."

The First Disciples

(Matthew 4:18–22; Mark 1:16–20; Luke 5:1–11)

³⁵Again the next day John was standing with two of his disciples, ³⁶when he saw Jesus passing by, and said, "Look! that is the Lamb of God!" ³⁷The two disciples heard his exclamation, and they followed Jesus. ³⁸Then Jesus turned round, and seeing them following He asked them, "What is your wish?" "Rabbi," they replied—"Rabbi" means "Teacher"—"where are you staying?" ³⁹"Come and you shall see," He said. So they went and saw where He was staying, and they remained and spent that day with Him. It was then about ten o'clock in the morning. ⁴⁰Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, was one of the two who heard John's exclamation and followed Jesus. ⁴¹He first found his own brother Simon, and said to him, "We have found the Messiah!"—that is to say, the Anointed One. ⁴²He brought him to Jesus. Jesus looked at him and said, "You are Simon, son of John: you shall be called Cephas"—that is to say, Peter (or 'Rock')

Jesus Calls Philip and Nathanael

⁴³The next day, having decided to leave Bethany and go into Galilee, Jesus found Philip, and invited him to follow Him. ⁴⁴ ⁴⁵Then Philip found Nathanael, and said to him, "We have found him about whom Moses in the Law wrote, as well as the Prophets—Jesus, the son of Joseph, a man of Nazareth." ⁴⁶"Can anything good come out of Nazareth?" replied Nathanael. "Come and see," said Philip. ⁴⁷Jesus saw Nathanael approaching, and said of him, "Look! here is a true Israelite, in whom there is no deceitfulness!" ⁴⁸"How do you know me?" Nathanael asked. "Before Philip called you," said Jesus, "when you were under the fig-tree I saw you." ⁴⁹"Rabbi," cried Nathanael, "you are the Son of God, you are Israel's King!" ⁵⁰"Because I said to you, 'I saw you under the fig-tree,'" replied Jesus, "do you believe? You shall see greater things than that." ⁵¹"I tell you all in most solemn truth," He added, "that you shall see Heaven opened wide, and God's angels going up, and coming down to the Son of Man."

The Wedding at Cana

¹Two days later there was a wedding at Cana in Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there, ²and Jesus also was invited and His disciples. ³Now the wine ran short; whereupon the mother of Jesus said to Him, "They have no wine." ⁴"Leave the matter in my hands," He replied; "the time for me to act has not yet come." ⁵His mother said to the attendants, "Whatever he tells you to do, do it." ⁶Now there were six stone jars standing there (in accordance with the Jewish regulations for purification) ⁷Jesus said to the attendants, "Fill the jars with water." And they filled them to the brim. ⁸Then He said, "Now, take some out, and carry it to the President of the feast." ⁹So they carried some to him. And no sooner had the President tasted the water now turned into wine, than—not knowing where it came from, though the attendants who had drawn the water knew—he called to the bridegroom ¹⁰and said to him, "It is usual to put on the good wine first, and when people have drunk freely, then that which is inferior. But you have kept the good wine till now." ¹¹This, the first of His miracles, Jesus performed at Cana in Galilee, and thus displayed His glorious power; and His disciples believed in Him.

Jesus Cleanses the Temple

(Matthew 21:12–17; Mark 11:15–19; Luke 19:45–48)

12Afterwards He went down to Capernaum—He, and His mother, and His brothers, and His disciples; and they made a short stay there.

13But the Jewish Passover was approaching, and for this Jesus went up to Jerusalem. 14And He found in the Temple the dealers in cattle and sheep and in pigeons, and the money-changers sitting there. 15So He plaited a whip of rushes, and drove all—both sheep and bullocks—out of the Temple. The small coin of the brokers He upset on the ground and overturned their tables. 16And to the pigeon-dealers He said, “Take these things away. Do not turn my Father’s house into a market.” 17This recalled to His disciples the words of Scripture, “My zeal for Thy House will consume me.” 18So the Jews asked Him, “What proof of your authority do you exhibit to us, seeing that you do these things?” 19“Demolish this Sanctuary,” said Jesus, “and in three days I will rebuild it.” 20“It has taken forty-six years,” replied the Jews, “to build this Sanctuary, and will you rebuild it in three days?” 21But He was speaking of the Sanctuary of His body. 22When however He had risen from among the dead, His disciples recollected that He had said this; and they believed the Scripture and the teaching which Jesus had given them.

23Now when He was in Jerusalem, at the Festival of the Passover, many became believers in Him through watching the miracles He performed. 24But for His part, Jesus did not trust Himself to them, because He knew them all, 25and did not need any one’s testimony concerning a man, for He of Himself knew what was in the man.

Jesus and Nicodemus

(Genesis 22:1–10; Romans 5:6–11)

1Now there was one of the Pharisees whose name was Nicodemus—a ruler among the Jews. 2He came to Jesus by night and said, “Rabbi, we know that you are a teacher from God; for no one can do these miracles which you are doing, unless God is with him. 3“In most solemn truth I tell you,” answered Jesus, “that unless a man is born anew he cannot see the Kingdom of God.”

4“How is it possible,” Nicodemus asked, “for a man to be born when he is old? Can he a second time enter his mother’s womb and be born?” 5“In most solemn truth I tell you,” replied Jesus, “that unless a man is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the Kingdom of God. 6Whatever has been born of the flesh is flesh, and whatever has been born of the Spirit is spirit. 7Do not be astonished at my telling you, ‘You must all be born anew.’ 8The wind blows where it chooses, and you hear its sound, but you do not know where it comes from or where it is going. So is it with every one who has been born of the Spirit.”

9“How is all this possible?” asked Nicodemus. 10“Are you,” replied Jesus, “‘the Teacher of Israel,’ and yet do you not understand these things? 11In most solemn truth I tell you that we speak what we know, and give testimony of that of which we were eye-witnesses, and yet you all reject our testimony. 12If I have told you earthly things and none of you believe me, how will you believe me if I tell you of things in Heaven? 13There is no one who has gone up to Heaven, but there is One who has come down from Heaven, namely the Son of Man whose home is in Heaven. ¹⁴And just as Moses lifted high the serpent in the Desert, so must the Son of Man be lifted up, ¹⁵in order that every one who trusts in Him may have the Life of the Ages.”

¹⁶For so greatly did God love the world that He gave His only Son, that every one who trusts in Him may not perish but may have the Life of Ages. ¹⁷For God did not send His Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world might be saved through Him. ¹⁸He who trusts in Him does not come up for judgement. He who does not trust has already received sentence, because he has not his trust resting on the name of God’s only Son. ¹⁹And this is the test by which men are judged—the Light has come into the world, and men loved the darkness more than they loved the Light, because their deeds were wicked. ²⁰For every wrongdoer hates the light, and does not come to the light, for fear his actions should be exposed and condemned. ²¹But he who does what is honest and right comes to the light, in order that his actions may be plainly shown to have been done in God.

John’s Testimony about Jesus

²²After this Jesus and His disciples went into Judaea; and there He made a stay in company with them and baptized. ²³And John too was baptizing at Aenon, near Salim, because there were many pools of water there; and people came and received baptism. ²⁴

²⁵As the result, a discussion having arisen on the part of John’s disciples with a Jew about purification, ²⁶they came to John and reported to him, “Rabbi, he who was with you on the other side of the Jordan and to whom you bore testimony is now baptizing, and great numbers of people are resorting to him.” ²⁷“A man cannot obtain anything,” replied John, “unless it has been granted to him from Heaven. ²⁸You yourselves can bear witness to my having said, ‘I am not the Christ,’ but ‘I am His appointed forerunner.’ ²⁹He who has the bride is the bridegroom; and the bridegroom’s friend who stands by his side and listens to him, rejoices heartily on account of the bridegroom’s happiness. Therefore this joy of mine is now complete. ³⁰He must grow greater, but I must grow less.

³¹He who comes from above is above all. He whose origin is from the earth is not only himself from the earth, his teaching also is from the earth. He who comes from Heaven is above all. ³²What He has seen and heard, to that He bears witness; but His testimony no one receives. ³³Any man who has received His testimony has solemnly declared that God is true. ³⁴For He whom God has sent speaks God’s words; for God does not give the Spirit with limitations.” ³⁵The Father loves the Son and has entrusted everything to His hands. ³⁶He who believes in the Son has the Life of the Ages; he who disobeys the Son will not enter into Life, but God’s anger remains upon him.

Jesus and the Samaritan Woman

¹Now as soon as the Master was aware that the Pharisees had heard it said, “Jesus is gaining and baptizing more disciples than John”— ²though Jesus Himself did not baptize them, but His disciples did— ³He left Judaea and returned to Galilee. ⁴His road lay through Samaria, ⁵and so He came to Sychar, a town in Samaria near the piece of land that Jacob gave to his son Joseph. ⁶Jacob’s Well was there: and accordingly Jesus, tired out with His journey, sat down by the well to rest. It was about six o'clock in the evening.

7Presently there came a woman of Samaria to draw water. Jesus asked her to give Him some water; 8for His disciples were gone to the town to buy provisions. 9"How is it," replied the woman, "that a Jew like you asks me, who am a woman and a Samaritan, for water?" (For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans.) 10"If you had known God's free gift," replied Jesus, "and who it is that said to you, 'Give me some water,' you would have asked Him, and He would have given you living water." 11"Sir," she said, "you have nothing to draw with, and the well is deep; so where can you get the living water from? 12Are you greater than our forefather Jacob, who gave us the well, and himself drank from it, as did also his sons and his cattle?" 13"Every one," replied Jesus, "who drinks any of this water will be thirsty again; 14but whoever drinks any of the water that I shall give him will never, never thirst. But the water that I shall give him will become a fountain within him of water springing up for the Life of the Ages."

15"Sir," said the woman, "give me that water, that I may never be thirsty, nor continually come all the way here to draw from the well." 16"Go and call your husband," said Jesus; "and come back." 17"I have no husband," she replied. "You rightly say that you have no husband," said Jesus; 18"for you have had five husbands, and the man you have at present is not your husband. You have spoken the truth in saying that." 19"Sir," replied the woman, "I see that you are a Prophet. 20Our forefathers worshipped on this mountain, but you Jews say that the place where people must worship is in Jerusalem." 21"Believe me," said Jesus, "the time is coming when you will worship the Father neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem. 22You worship One of whom you know nothing. We worship One whom we know; for salvation comes from the Jews. 23But a time is coming—nay, has already come—when the true worshippers will worship the Father with true spiritual worship; for indeed the Father desires such worshippers. 24God is Spirit; and those who worship Him must bring Him true spiritual worship." 25"I know," replied the woman, "that Messiah is coming—the Christ,' as He is called. When He has come, He will tell us everything." 26"I am He," said Jesus—"I who am now talking to you."

The Disciples Return and Marvel

27Just then His disciples came, and were surprised to find Him talking with a woman. Yet not one of them asked Him, "What is your wish?" or "Why are you talking with her?" 28The woman however, leaving her pitcher, went away to the town, and called the people. 29"Come," she said, "and see a man who has told me everything I have ever done. Can this be the Christ, do you think?" 30They left the town and set out to go to Him.

31Meanwhile the disciples were urging Jesus. "Rabbi," they said, "eat something." 32"I have food to eat," He replied, "of which you do not know." 33So the disciples began questioning one another. "Can it be," they said, "that some one has brought Him something to eat?" 34"My food," said Jesus, "is to be obedient to Him who sent me, and fully to accomplish His work. 35Do you not say, 'It wants four months yet to the harvest? But look round, I tell you, and observe these plains—they are already ripe for the sickle. 36The reaper gets pay and gathers in a crop in preparation for the Life of the Ages, that so the sower and the reapers may rejoice together. 37For it is in this that you see the real meaning of the saying, 'The sower is one person, and the reaper is another.' 38I sent you to reap a harvest which is not the result of your own labours. Others have laboured, and you are getting benefit from their labours."

Many Samaritans Believe

³⁹Of the Samaritan population of that town a good many believed in Him because of the woman's statement when she declared, "He has told me all that I have ever done." ⁴⁰When however the Samaritans came to Him, they asked Him on all sides to stay with them; and He stayed there two days. ⁴¹Then a far larger number of people believed because of His own words, ⁴²and they said to the woman, "We no longer believe in Him simply because of your statements; for we have now heard for ourselves, and we know that this man really is the Saviour of the world."

Jesus Heals the Official's Son

(Matthew 8:5-13; Luke 7:1-10)

⁴³After the two days He departed, and went into Galilee; ⁴⁴though Jesus Himself declared that a Prophet has no honour in his own country. ⁴⁵When however He reached Galilee, the Galileans welcomed Him eagerly, having been eye-witnesses of all that He had done in Jerusalem at the Festival; for they also had been to the Festival.

⁴⁶So He came once more to Cana in Galilee, where He had made the water into wine. Now there was a certain officer of the King's court whose son was ill at Capernaum. ⁴⁷Having heard that Jesus had come from Judaea to Galilee, he came to Him and begged Him to go down and cure his son; for he was at the point of death. ⁴⁸"Unless you and others see miracles and marvels," said Jesus, "nothing will induce you to believe." ⁴⁹"Sir," pleaded the officer, "come down before my child dies." ⁵⁰"You may return home," replied Jesus; "your son has recovered." He believed the words of Jesus, and started back home; ⁵¹and he was already on his way down when his servants met him and told him that his son was alive and well. ⁵²So he inquired of them at what hour he had shown improvement. "Yesterday, about seven o'clock," they replied, "the fever left him." ⁵³Then the father recollected that that was the time at which Jesus had said to him, "Your son has recovered," and he and his whole household became believers. ⁵⁴This is the second miracle that Jesus performed, after coming from Judaea into Galilee.

The Pool of Bethesda

¹After this there was a Festival of the Jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

²Now there is in Jerusalem near the Sheep Gate a pool, called in Hebrew 'Bethesda.' It has five arcades.

³In these there used to lie a great number of sick persons, and of people who were blind or lame or paralyzed. ⁴ ⁵And there was one man there who had been an invalid for thirty-eight years. ⁶Jesus saw him lying there, and knowing that he had been a long time in that condition, He asked him, "Do you wish to have health and strength?" ⁷"Sir," replied the sufferer, "I have no one to put me into the pool when the water is moved; but while I am coming some one else steps down before me." ⁸"Rise," said Jesus, "take up your mat and walk." ⁹Instantly the man was restored to perfect health, and he took up his mat and began to walk. ¹⁰That day was a Sabbath. So the Jews said to the man who had been cured, "It is the Sabbath: you must not carry your mat." ¹¹"He who cured me," he replied, "said to me, 'Take up your mat and walk.'" ¹²"Who is it," they asked, "that said to you, 'Take up your mat and walk?'" ¹³But the man who had been cured did not know who it was; for Jesus had passed out unnoticed, there being a crowd in the place. ¹⁴Afterwards Jesus found him in the Temple and said to him, "You are now restored to health. Do not sin any more, or a worse thing may befall you." ¹⁵The man went and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had restored him to health;

The Father and the Son

¹⁶and on this account the Jews began to persecute Jesus—because He did these things on the Sabbath.

¹⁷His reply to their accusation was, "My Father works unceasingly, and so do I."

¹⁸On this account then the Jews were all the more eager to put Him to death—because He not only broke the Sabbath, but also spoke of God as being in a special sense His Father, thus putting Himself on a level with God.

¹⁹"In most solemn truth I tell you," replied Jesus, "that the Son can do nothing of Himself—He can only do what He sees the Father doing; for whatever He does, that the Son does in like manner. ²⁰For the Father loves the Son and reveals to Him all that He Himself is doing. And greater deeds than these will He reveal to Him, in order that you may wonder. ²¹For just as the Father awakens the dead and gives them life, so the Son also gives life to whom He wills. ²²The Father indeed does not judge any one, but He has entrusted all judgement to the Son, ²³that all may honour the Son even as they honour the Father. The man who withholds honour from the Son withholds honour from the Father who sent Him.

²⁴"In most solemn truth I tell you that he who listens to my teaching and believes Him who sent me, has the Life of the Ages, and does not come under judgement, but has passed over out of death into Life.

²⁵"In most solemn truth I tell you that a time is coming—nay, has already come—when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear it will live. ²⁶For just as the Father has life in Himself, so He has also given to the Son to have life in Himself. ²⁷And He has conferred on Him authority to act as Judge, because He is the Son of Man. ²⁸Wonder not at this. For a time is coming when all who are in the graves will hear His voice and will come forth— ²⁹they who have done what is right to the resurrection of Life, and they whose actions have been evil to the resurrection of judgement.

³⁰"I can of my own self do nothing. As I am bidden, so I judge; and mine is a just judgement, because it is not my own will that guides me, but the will of Him who sent me.

Testimonies about Jesus

³¹"If I give testimony concerning myself, my testimony cannot be accepted. ³²There is Another who gives testimony concerning me, and I know that the testimony is true which He offers concerning me.

³³"You sent to John, and he both was and still is a witness to the truth. ³⁴But the testimony on my behalf which I accept is not from man; though I say all this in order that you may be saved. ³⁵He was the lamp that burned and shone, and for a time you were willing to be gladdened by his light.

³⁶"But the testimony which I have is weightier than that of John; for the work the Father has assigned to me for me to bring it to completion—the very work which I am doing—affords testimony concerning me that the Father has sent me.

37 And the Father who sent me, He has given testimony concerning me. None of you have ever either heard His voice or seen what He is like. 38 Nor have you His word dwelling within you, for you refuse to believe Him whom He has sent.

The Witness of Scripture

(Luke 16:19–31)

39 “You search the Scriptures, because you suppose that in them you will find the Life of the Ages; and it is those Scriptures that yield testimony concerning me; 40 and yet you are unwilling to come to me that you may have Life. 41 “I do not accept glory from man, 42 but I know you well, and I know that in your hearts you do not really love God. 43 I have come as my Father’s representative, and you do not receive me. If some one else comes representing only himself, him you will receive. 44 How is it possible for you to believe, while you receive glory from one another and have no desire for the glory that comes from the only God? 45 “Do not suppose that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one who accuses you, namely Moses, on whom your hope rests. 46 For if you believe Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote about me. 47 But if you disbelieve his writings, how are you to believe my words?”

The Feeding of the Five Thousand

(Matthew 14:13–21; Mark 6:30–44; Luke 9:10–17)

1 After this Jesus went away across the Lake of Galilee (that is, the Lake of Tiberias) 2 A vast multitude followed Him, because they witnessed the miracles on the sick which He was constantly performing. 3 Then Jesus went up the hill, and sat there with His disciples. 4 The Jewish Festival, the Passover, was at hand. 5 And when He looked round and saw an immense crowd coming towards Him, He said to Philip, “Where shall we buy bread for all these people to eat?” 6 He said this to put Philip to the test, for He Himself knew what He was going to do. 7 “Seven pounds’ worth of bread,” replied Philip, “is not enough for them all to get even a scanty meal.” 8 One of His disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter’s brother, said to Him, 9 “There is a boy here with five barley loaves and a couple of fish: but what is that among so many?” 10 “Make the people sit down,” said Jesus. The ground was covered with thick grass; so they sat down, the adult men numbering about 5,000. 11 Then Jesus took the loaves, and after giving thanks He distributed them to those who were resting on the ground; and also the fish in like manner—as much as they desired. 12 When all were fully satisfied, He said to His disciples, “Gather up the broken portions that remain over, so that nothing be lost.” 13 Accordingly they gathered them up; and with the fragments of the five barley loaves—the broken portions that remained over after they had done eating—they filled twelve baskets. 14 Thereupon the people, having seen the miracle He had performed, said, “This is indeed the Prophet who was to come into the world.”

15 Perceiving, however, that they were about to come and carry Him off by force to make Him a king, Jesus withdrew again up the hill alone by Himself.

Jesus Walks on Water

(Matthew 14:22–33; Mark 6:45–52)

16When evening came on, His disciples went down to the Lake. 17There they got on board a boat, and pushed off to cross the Lake to Capernaum. By this time it had become dark, and Jesus had not yet joined them. 18The Lake also was getting rough, because a strong wind was blowing. 19When, however, they had rowed three or four miles, they saw Jesus walking on the water and coming near the boat. 20They were terrified; but He called to them. "It is I," He said, "do not be afraid." 21Then they were willing to take Him on board; and in a moment the boat reached the shore at the point to which they were going.

Jesus the Bread of Life

22Next morning the crowd who were still standing about on the other side of the Lake found that there had been but one small boat there, and they had seen that Jesus did not go on board with His disciples, but that His disciples went away without Him. 23Yet a number of small boats came from Tiberias to the neighbourhood of the place where they had eaten the bread after the Lord had given thanks. 24When however the crowd saw that neither Jesus nor His disciples were there, they themselves also took boats and came to Capernaum to look for Jesus. 25So when they had crossed the Lake and had found Him, they asked Him, "Rabbi, when did you come here?"

26"In most solemn truth I tell you," replied Jesus, "that you are searching for me not because you have seen miracles, but because you ate the loaves and had a hearty meal. 27Bestow your pains not on the food which perishes, but on the food that remains unto the Life of the Ages—that food which will be the Son of Man's gift to you; for on Him the Father, God, has set His seal." 28"What are we to do," they asked, "in order to carry out the things that God requires?" 29"This," replied Jesus, "is above all the thing that God requires—that you should be believers in Him whom He has sent." 30"What miracle then," they asked, "do you perform for us to see and become believers in you? What do you do?" 31Our forefathers ate the manna in the Desert, as it is written, 'He gave them bread out of Heaven to eat'." 32"In most solemn truth I tell you," replied Jesus, "that Moses did not give you the bread out of Heaven, but my Father is giving you the bread—the true bread—out of Heaven. 33For God's bread is that which comes down out of Heaven and gives Life to the world." 34"Sir," they said, "always give us that bread."

35"I am the bread of Life," replied Jesus; "he who comes to me shall never hunger, and he who believes in me shall never, never thirst. 36But it is as I have said to you: you have seen me and yet you do not believe. 37Every one whom the Father gives me will come to me, and him who comes to me I will never on any account drive away. 38For I have left Heaven and have come down to earth not to seek my own pleasure, but to do the will of Him who sent me. 39And this is the will of Him who sent me, that of all that He has given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it to life on the last day. 40For this is my Father's will, that every one who fixes his gaze on the Son of God and believes in Him should have the Life of the Ages, and I will raise him to life on the last day."

41Now the Jews began to find fault about Him because of His claiming to be the bread which came down out of Heaven. 42They kept asking, "Is not this man Joseph's son? Is he not Jesus, whose father and mother we know? What does he mean by now saying, 'I have come down out of Heaven'?" 43"Do not thus find fault among yourselves," replied Jesus;

44"no one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him; then I will raise him to life on the last day. 45It stands written in the Prophets, 'And they shall all of them be taught by God'. Every one who listens to the Father and learns from Him comes to me. 46No one has ever seen the Father—except Him who is from God. He has seen the Father. 47"In most solemn truth I tell you that he who believes has the Life of the Ages. ⁴⁸I am the bread of Life. ⁴⁹Your forefathers ate the manna in the Desert, and they died. ⁵⁰Here is the bread that comes down out of Heaven that a man may eat it and not die. ⁵¹I am the living bread come down out of Heaven. If a man eats this bread, he shall live for ever. Moreover the bread which I will give is my flesh given for the life of the world."

⁵²This led to an angry debate among the Jews. "How can this man," they argued, "give us his flesh to eat?" ⁵³"In most solemn truth I tell you," said Jesus, "that unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you have no Life in you. ⁵⁴He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has the Life of the Ages, and I will raise him up on the last day. ⁵⁵For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink. ⁵⁶He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in union with me, and I remain in union with him. ⁵⁷As the ever-living Father has sent me, and I live because of the Father, so also he who eats me will live because of me. ⁵⁸This is the bread which came down out of Heaven; it is unlike that which your forefathers ate—for they ate and yet died. He who eats this bread shall live for ever."

Many Disciples Turn Back

(Matthew 8:18–22; Luke 9:57–62; Luke 14:25–33)

⁵⁹Jesus said all this in the synagogue while teaching at Capernaum.

⁶⁰Many therefore of His disciples, when they heard it, said, "This is hard to accept. Who can listen to such teaching?" ⁶¹But, knowing in Himself that His disciples were dissatisfied about it, Jesus asked them, ⁶²"Does this seem incredible to you? What then if you were to see the Son of Man ascending again where He was before? ⁶³It is the spirit which gives Life. The flesh confers no benefit whatever. The words I have spoken to you are spirit and are Life. ⁶⁴But there are some of you who do not believe." For Jesus knew from the beginning who those were that did not believe, and who it was that would betray Him. ⁶⁵So He added, "That is why I told you that no one can come to me unless it be granted him by the Father."

⁶⁶Thereupon many of His disciples left Him and went away, and no longer associated with Him.

Peter's Confession of Faith

(Matthew 16:13–20; Mark 8:27–30; Luke 9:18–20)

⁶⁷Jesus therefore appealed to the Twelve. "Will you go also?" He asked. ⁶⁸"Master," replied Simon Peter, "to whom shall we go? Your teachings tell us of the Life of the Ages. ⁶⁹And we have come to believe and know that you are indeed the Holy One of God." ⁷⁰"Did not I choose you—the Twelve?" said Jesus, "and even of you one is a devil." ⁷¹He alluded to Judas, the son of Simon the Iscariot. For he it was who, though one of the Twelve, was afterwards to betray Him.

Jesus Teaches at the Feast

¹After this Jesus moved from place to place in Galilee. He would not go about in Judaea, because the Jews were seeking an opportunity to kill Him. ²But the Jewish Festival of the Tent-Pitching was approaching. ³So His brothers said to Him, "Leave these parts and go into Judaea, that not only we but your disciples also may witness the miracles which you perform. ⁴For no one acts in secret, desiring all the while to be himself known publicly. Since you are doing these things, show yourself openly to the world." ⁵For even His brothers were not believers in Him. ⁶"My time," replied Jesus, "has not yet come, but for you any time is suitable. ⁷It is impossible for the world to hate you; but me it does hate, because I give testimony concerning it that its conduct is evil. ⁸As for you, go up to the Festival. I do not now go up to this Festival, because my time is not yet fully come." ⁹Such was His answer, and He remained in Galilee.

¹⁰When however His brothers had gone up to the Festival, then He also went up, not openly, but as it were privately. ¹¹Meanwhile the Jews at the Festival were looking for Him and were inquiring, "Where is he?" ¹²Among the mass of the people there was much muttered debate about Him. Some said, "He is a good man." Others said, "Not so: he is imposing on the people." ¹³Yet for fear of the Jews no one spoke out boldly about Him.

¹⁴But when the Festival was already half over, Jesus went up to the Temple and commenced teaching. ¹⁵The Jews were astonished. "How does this man know anything of books," they said, "although he has never been at any of the schools?" ¹⁶Jesus answered their question by saying, "My teaching does not belong to me, but comes from Him who sent me. ¹⁷If any one is willing to do His will, he shall know about the teaching, whether it is from God or originates with me. ¹⁸The man whose teaching originates with himself aims at his own glory. He who aims at the glory of Him who sent him teaches the truth, and there is no deception in him.

¹⁹Did not Moses give you the Law? And yet not a man of you obeys the Law. Why do you want to kill me?" ²⁰"You are possessed by a demon," replied the crowd; "no one wants to kill you." ²¹"One deed I have done," replied Jesus, "and you are all full of wonder. ²²Consider therefore. Moses gave you the rite of circumcision (not that it began with Moses, but with your earlier forefathers) ²³If a child is circumcised even on a Sabbath day, are you bitter against me because I have restored a man to perfect health on a Sabbath day? ²⁴Do not form superficial judgements, but form the judgements that are just."

Is Jesus the Christ?

²⁵Some however of the people of Jerusalem said, "Is not this the man they are wanting to kill? ²⁶But here he is, speaking openly and boldly, and they say nothing to him! Can the Rulers really have ascertained that this man is the Christ? ²⁷And yet we know this man, and we know where he is from; but as for the Christ, when He comes, no one can tell where He is from." ²⁸Jesus therefore, while teaching in the Temple, cried aloud, and said, "Yes, you know me, and you know where I am from. And yet I have not come of my own accord; but there is One who has sent me, an Authority indeed, of whom you have no knowledge. ²⁹I know Him, because I came from Him, and He sent me." ³⁰On hearing this they wanted to arrest Him; yet not a hand was laid on Him, because His time had not yet come. ³¹But from among the crowd a large number believed in Him. "When the Christ comes," they said, "will He perform more miracles than this teacher has performed?"

³²The Pharisees heard the people thus expressing their various doubts about Him, and the High Priests and the Pharisees sent some officers to apprehend Him. ³³So Jesus said, "Still for a short time I am with you, and then I go my way to Him who sent me. ³⁴You will look for me and will not find me, and where I am you cannot come." ³⁵The Jews therefore said to one another, "Where is he about to betake himself, so that we shall not find him? Will he betake himself to the Dispersion among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles? ³⁶What do those words of his mean, 'You will look for me, but will not find me, and where I am you cannot come?'"

Living Water

37On the last day of the Festival—the great day—Jesus stood up and cried aloud. “Whoever is thirsty,” He said, “let him come to me and drink. 38He who believes in me, from within him—as the Scripture has said—rivers of living water shall flow.” 39He referred to the Spirit which those who believed in Him were to receive; for the Spirit was not bestowed as yet, because Jesus had not yet been glorified.

Division over Jesus

40After listening to these discourses, some of the crowd began to say, “This is beyond doubt the Prophet.” 41Others said, “He is the Christ.” But others again, “Not so, for is the Christ to come from Galilee? 42Has not the Scripture declared that the Christ is to come of the family of David and from Bethlehem, David’s village?” 43So there was a violent dissension among the people on His account. 44Some of them wanted at once to arrest Him, but no one laid hands upon Him.

The Unbelief of the Jewish Leaders

45Meanwhile the officers returned to the High Priests and Pharisees, who asked them, “Why have you not brought him?” 46“No mere man has ever spoken as this man speaks,” said the officers. 47“Are you deluded too?” replied the Pharisees; 48“has any one of the Rulers or of the Pharisees believed in him? 49But this rabble who understand nothing about the Law are accursed!” 50Nicodemus interposed—he who had formerly gone to Jesus, being himself one of them. 51“Does our Law,” he asked, “judge a man without first hearing what he has to say and ascertaining what his conduct is?” 52“Do you also come from Galilee?” they asked in reply. “Search and see for yourself that no Prophet is of Galilaeen origin.” 53So they went away to their several homes;

The Woman Caught in Adultery

1but Jesus went to the Mount of Olives. 2At break of day however He returned to the Temple, and there the people came to Him in crowds. He seated Himself; 3and was teaching them when the Scribes and the Pharisees brought to Him a woman who had been found committing adultery. They made her stand in the centre of the court, and they put the case to Him. 4“Rabbi,” they said, “this woman has been found in the very act of committing adultery. 5Now, in the Law, Moses has ordered us to stone such women to death. But what do you say?” 6They asked this in order to put Him to the test, so that they might have some charge to bring against Him. But Jesus leant forward and began to write with His finger on the ground. 7When however they persisted with their question, He raised His head and said to them, “Let the sinless man among you be the first to throw a stone at her.” 8Then He leant forward again, and again began to write on the ground. 9They listened to Him, and then, beginning with the eldest, took their departure, one by one, till all were gone. And Jesus was left behind alone—and the woman in the centre of the court. 10Then, raising His head, Jesus said to her, “Where are they? Has no one condemned you?” 11“No one, Sir,” she replied. “And I do not condemn you either,” said Jesus; “go, and from this time do not sin any more.”

Jesus the Light of the World

(1 John 1:5–10)

12Once more Jesus addressed them. "I am the Light of the world," He said; "the man who follows me shall certainly not walk in the dark, but shall have the light of Life." 13"You are giving testimony about yourself," said the Pharisees; "your testimony is not true." 14"Even if I am giving testimony about myself," replied Jesus, "my testimony is true; for I know where I came from and where I am going, but you know neither of these two things. 15You judge according to appearances: I am judging no one. 16And even if I do judge, my judgement is just; for I am not alone, but the Father who sent me is with me. 17In your own Law, too, it is written that the testimony of two men is true. 18I am one giving testimony about myself, and the Father who sent me gives testimony about me." 19"Where is your Father?" they asked. "You know my Father as little as you know me." He replied; "if you knew me, you would know my Father also." 20These sayings He uttered in the Treasury, while teaching in the Temple; yet no one arrested Him, because His time had not yet come.

21Again He said to them, "I am going away. Then you will try to find me, but you will die in your sins. Where I am going, it is impossible for you to come." 22The Jews began to ask one another, "Is he going to kill himself, do you think, that he says, 'Where I am going, it is impossible for you to come?'" 23"You," He continued, "are from below, I am from above: you are of this present world, I am not of this present world. 24That is why I told you that you will die in your sins; for, unless you believe that I am He, that is what will happen." 25"You—who are you?" they asked. "How is it that I am speaking to you at all?" replied Jesus.

26"Many things I have to speak and to judge concerning you. But He who sent me is true, and the things which I have heard from Him are those which I have come into the world to speak." 27They did not perceive that He was speaking to them of the Father. 28So Jesus added, "When you have lifted up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am He. Of myself I do nothing; but as the Father has taught me, so I speak. 29And He who sent me is with me. He has not left me alone: for I do always what is pleasing to Him."

The Truth Will Set You Free

(2 John 1:4–6)

30As He thus spoke, many became believers in Him.

31Jesus therefore said to those of the Jews who had now believed in Him, "As for you, if you hold fast to my teaching, then you are truly my disciples; 32and you shall know the Truth, and the Truth will make you free." 33"We are descendants of Abraham," they answered, "and have never at any time been in slavery to any one. What do those words of yours mean, 'You shall become free?'"

34"In most solemn truth I tell you," replied Jesus, "that every one who commits sin is the slave of sin. 35Now a slave does not remain permanently in his master's house, but a son does. 36If then the Son shall make you free, you will be free indeed. 37You are descendants of Abraham, I know; but you want to kill me, because my teaching gains no ground within you. 38The words I speak are those I have learnt in the presence of the Father. Therefore you also should do what you have heard from your father."

39"Our father is Abraham," they said. "If you were Abraham's children," replied Jesus, "it is Abraham's deeds that you would be doing. 40But, in fact, you are longing to kill me, a man who has spoken to you the truth which I have heard from God. Abraham did not do that. ⁴¹You are doing the deeds of your father." "We," they replied, "are not illegitimate children. We have one Father, namely God."

⁴²"If God were your Father," said Jesus, "you would love me; for it is from God that I came and I am now here. I have not come of myself, but He sent me. ⁴³How is it you do not understand me when I speak? It is because you cannot bear to listen to my words. ⁴⁴The father whose sons you are is the Devil; and you desire to do what gives him pleasure. He was a murderer from the beginning, and does not stand firm in the truth—for there is no truth in him. Whenever he utters his lie, he utters it out of his own store; for he is a liar, and the father of lies. ⁴⁵But because I speak the truth, you do not believe me. ⁴⁶Which of you convicts me of sin? If I speak the truth, why do you not believe me? ⁴⁷He who is a child of God listens to God's words. You do not listen to them: and why? It is because you are not God's children."

Before Abraham Was Born, I Am

⁴⁸"Are we not right," answered the Jews, "in saying that you are a Samaritan and are possessed by a demon?" ⁴⁹"I am not possessed by a demon," replied Jesus. "On the contrary I honour my Father, and you dishonour me. ⁵⁰I, however, am not aiming at glory for myself: there is One who aims at glory for me—and who judges. ⁵¹In most solemn truth I tell you that if any one shall have obeyed my teaching he shall in no case ever see death." ⁵²"Now," exclaimed the Jews, "we know that you are possessed by a demon. Abraham died, and so did the Prophets, and yet you say, 'If any one shall have obeyed my teaching, he shall in no case ever taste death.' ⁵³Are you really greater than our forefather Abraham? For he died. And the prophets died. Who do you make yourself out to be?" ⁵⁴"Were I to glorify myself," answered Jesus, "I should have no real glory. There is One who glorifies me—namely my Father, who you say is your God. ⁵⁵You do not know Him, but I know Him perfectly; and were I to deny my knowledge of Him, I should resemble you, and be a liar. On the contrary I do know Him, and I obey His commands. ⁵⁶Abraham your forefather exulted in the hope of seeing my day: and he saw it, and was glad." ⁵⁷"You are not yet fifty years old," cried the Jews, "and have you seen Abraham?" ⁵⁸"In most solemn truth," answered Jesus, "I tell you that before Abraham came into existence, I am." ⁵⁹Thereupon they took up stones with which to stone Him, but He hid Himself and went away out of the Temple.

Jesus Heals the Man Born Blind

¹As He passed by, He saw a man who had been blind from his birth. ²So His disciples asked Him, "Rabbi, who sinned—this man or his parents—that he was born blind?" ³"Neither he nor his parents sinned," answered Jesus, "but he was born blind in order that God's mercy might be openly shown in him. ⁴We must do the works of Him who sent me while there is daylight. Night is coming on, when no one can work. ⁵When I am in the world, I am the Light of the world." ⁶After thus speaking, He spat on the ground, and then, kneading the dust and spittle into clay, He smeared the clay over the man's eyes and said to him, ⁷"Go and wash in the pool of Siloam"—the name means 'Sent.' So he went and washed his eyes, and returned able to see. ⁸His neighbours, therefore, and the other people to whom he had been a familiar object because he was a beggar, began asking, "Is not this the man who used to sit and beg?" ⁹"Yes it is," replied some of them. "No it is not," said others, "but he is like him." His own statement was, "I am the man." ¹⁰"How then were your eyes opened?" they asked. ¹¹"He whose name is Jesus," he answered, "made clay and smeared my eyes with it, and then told me to go to Siloam and wash. So I went and washed and obtained sight." ¹²"Where is he?" they inquired, but the man did not know.

The Pharisees Investigate the Healing

¹³They brought him to the Pharisees—the man who had been blind. ¹⁴Now the day on which Jesus made the clay and opened the man's eyes was the Sabbath. ¹⁵So the Pharisees renewed their questioning as to how he had obtained his sight. "He put clay on my eyes," he replied, "and I washed, and now I can see." ¹⁶This led some of the Pharisees to say, "That man has not come from God, for he does not keep the Sabbath." "How is it possible for a bad man to do such miracles?" argued others. ¹⁷And there was a division among them. So again they asked the once blind man, "What is your account of him?—for he opened your eyes." "He is a Prophet," he replied.

¹⁸The Jews, however, did not believe the statement concerning him—that he had been blind and had obtained his sight—until they called his parents and asked them, ¹⁹"Is this your son, who you say was born blind? How is it then that he can now see?" ²⁰"We know," replied the parents, "that this is our son and that he was born blind; ²¹but how it is that he can now see or who has opened his eyes we do not know. Ask him himself; he is of full age; he himself will give his own account of it." ²²Such was their answer, because they were afraid of the Jews; for the Jews had already settled among themselves that if any one should acknowledge Jesus as the Christ, he should be excluded from the synagogue. ²³That was why his parents said, "He is of full age: ask him himself."

²⁴A second time therefore they called the man who had been blind, and said, "Give God the praise: we know that that man is a sinner." ²⁵"Whether he is a sinner or not, I do not know," he replied; "one thing I know—that I was once blind and that now I can see." ²⁶"What did he do to you?" they asked; "how did he open your eyes?" ²⁷"I have told you already," he replied, "and you did not listen to me. Why do you want to hear it again? Do you also mean to be disciples of his?" ²⁸Then they railed at him, and said, "You are that man's disciple, but we are disciples of Moses. ²⁹We know that God spoke to Moses; but as for this fellow we do not know where he comes from." ³⁰"Why, this is marvellous!" the man replied; "you do not know where he comes from, and yet he has opened my eyes! ³¹We know that God does not listen to bad people, but that if any one is a God-fearing man and obeys Him, to him He listens. ³²From the beginning of the world such a thing was never heard of as that any one should open the eyes of a man blind from his birth. ³³Had that man not come from God, he could have done nothing." ³⁴"You," they replied, "were wholly begotten and born in sin, and do you teach us?" And they put him out of the synagogue.

Spiritual Blindness

³⁵Jesus heard that they had done this. So having found him, He asked him, "Do you believe in the Son of God?" ³⁶"Who is He, Sir?" replied the man. "Tell me, so that I may believe in Him." ³⁷"You have seen Him," said Jesus; "and not only so: He is now speaking to you." ³⁸"I believe, Sir," he said. And he threw himself at His feet. ³⁹"I came into this world," said Jesus, "to judge men, that those who do not see may see, and that those who do see may become blind." ⁴⁰These words were heard by those of the Pharisees who were present, and they asked Him, "Are we also blind?" ⁴¹"If you were blind," answered Jesus, "you would have no sin; but as a matter of fact you boast that you see. So your sin remains!"

Jesus the Good Shepherd

(Psalm 23:1–6; Ezekiel 34:11–24)

1“In most solemn truth I tell you that the man who does not enter the sheepfold by the door, but climbs over some other way, is a thief and a robber. 2But he who enters by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. 3To him the porter opens the door, and the sheep hear his voice; and he calls his own sheep by their names and leads them out. 4When he has brought out his own sheep—all of them—he walks at the head of them; and the sheep follow him, because they know his voice. 5But a stranger they will by no means follow, but will run away from him, because they do not know the voice of strangers.” 6Jesus spoke to them in this figurative language, but they did not understand what He meant.

7Again therefore Jesus said to them, “In most solemn truth I tell you that I am the Door of the sheep. 8All who have come before me are thieves and robbers; but the sheep would not listen to them. 9I am the Door. If any one enters by me, he will find safety, and will go in and out and find pasture. 10The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy: I have come that they may have Life, and may have it in abundance.

11“I am the Good Shepherd. A good shepherd lays down his very life for the sheep. 12The hired servant—one who is not a shepherd and does not own the sheep—no sooner sees the wolf coming than he leaves the sheep and runs away; and the wolf worries and scatters them. 13For he is only a hired servant and cares nothing for the sheep. 14“I am the Good Shepherd. And I know my sheep and my sheep know me, 15just as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I am laying down my life for the sheep. 16I have also other sheep—which do not belong to this fold. Those also I must bring, and they will listen to my voice; and they shall become one flock under one Shepherd. 17For this reason my Father loves me, because I am laying down my life in order to receive it back again. 18No one is taking it away from me, but I myself am laying it down. I am authorized to lay it down, and I am authorized to receive it back again. This is the command I received from my Father.”

19Again there arose a division among the Jews because of these words. 20Many of them said, “He is possessed by a demon and is mad. Why do you listen to him?” 21Others argued, “That is not the language of a demoniac: and can a demon open blind men’s eyes?”

Jesus at the Feast of Dedication

22The Dedication Festival came on in Jerusalem. It was winter, 23and Jesus was walking in the Temple in Solomon’s Portico, 24when the Jews gathered round Him and kept asking Him, “How long do you mean to keep us in suspense? If you are the Christ, tell us so plainly.” 25“I have told you,” answered Jesus, “and you do not believe. The deeds that I do in my Father’s name—they give testimony about me. 26But you do not believe, because you are not my sheep. 27My sheep listen to my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. 28I give them the Life of the Ages, and they shall never, never perish, nor shall any one wrest them from my hand. 29What my Father has given me is more precious than all besides; and no one is able to wrest anything from my Father’s hand. 30I and the Father are one.”

31 Again the Jews brought stones with which to stone Him. 32 Jesus remonstrated with them. "Many good deeds," He said, "have I shown you as coming from the Father; for which of them are you going to stone me?" 33 "For no good deed," the Jews replied, "are we going to stone you, but for blasphemy, and because you, who are only a man, are making yourself out to be God." 34 "Does it not stand written in your Law," replied Jesus, "I said, you are gods?" 35 If those to whom God's word was addressed are called gods (and the Scripture cannot be annulled) 36 how is it that you say to one whom the Father consecrated and sent into the world, 'You are blaspheming,' because I said, 'I am God's Son'? 37 If the deeds I do are not my Father's deeds, do not believe me. 38 But if they are, then even if you do not believe me, at least believe the deeds, that you may know and see clearly that the Father is in me, and that I am in the Father." 39 This made them once more try to arrest Him, but He withdrew out of their power.

John's Testimony Confirmed

40 Then He went away again to the other side of the Jordan, to the place where John had been baptizing at first; and there He stayed. 41 Large numbers of people also came to Him. Their report was, "John did not work any miracle, but all that John said about this Teacher was true." 42 And many became believers in Him there.

The Death of Lazarus

1 Now a certain man, named Lazarus, of Bethany, was lying ill—Bethany being the village of Mary and her sister Martha. 2 3 So the sisters sent to Him to say, "Master, he whom you hold dear is ill." 4 Jesus received the message and said, "This illness is not to end in death, but is to promote the glory of God, in order that the Son of God may be glorified by it." 5 Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. 6 When, however, He heard that Lazarus was ill, He still remained two days in that same place. 7 Then, after that, He said to the disciples, "Let us return to Judaea." 8 "Rabbi," exclaimed the disciples, "the Jews have just been trying to stone you, and do you think of going back there again?" 9 "Are there not twelve hours in the day?" replied Jesus. "If any one walks in the daytime, he does not stumble—because he sees the light of this world. 10 But if a man walks by night, he does stumble, because the light is not in him." 11 He said this, and afterwards He added, "Our friend Lazarus is sleeping, but I will go and wake him." 12 "Master," said the disciples, "if he is asleep he will recover." 13 Now Jesus had spoken of his death, but they thought He referred to the rest taken in ordinary sleep. 14 So then He told them plainly, 15 "Lazarus is dead; and for your sakes I am glad I was not there, in order that you may believe. But let us go to him." 16 "Let us go also," Thomas, the Twin, said to his fellow disciples, "that we may die with him."

Jesus Comforts Martha and Mary

17 On His arrival Jesus found that Lazarus had already been three days in the tomb. 18 Bethany was near Jerusalem, the distance being a little less than two miles; 19 and a considerable number of the Jews were with Martha and Mary, having come to express sympathy with them on the death of their brother. 20 Martha, however, as soon as she heard the tidings, "Jesus is coming," went to meet Him; but Mary remained sitting in the house. 21 So Martha came and spoke to Jesus. "Master, if you had been here," she said, "my brother would not have died. ²²And even now I know that whatever you ask God for, God will give you." ²³"Your brother shall rise again," replied Jesus. ²⁴"I know," said Martha, "that he will rise again at the resurrection, on the last day." ²⁵"I am the Resurrection and the Life," said Jesus; "he who believes in me, even if he has died, he shall live; ²⁶and every one who is living and is a believer in me shall never, never die. Do you believe this?" ²⁷"Yes, Master," she replied; "I thoroughly believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who was to come into the world."

²⁸After saying this, she went and called her sister Mary privately, telling her, "The Rabbi is here and is asking for you." ²⁹So she, on hearing that, rose up quickly to go to Him.

³⁰Now Jesus was not yet come into the village, but was still at the place where Martha had met Him. ³¹So the Jews who were with Mary in the house sympathizing with her, when they saw that she had risen hastily and had gone out, followed her, supposing that she was going to the tomb to weep aloud there. ³²Mary then, when she came to Jesus and saw Him, fell at His feet and exclaimed, "Master, if you had been here, my brother would not have died." ³³Seeing her weeping aloud, and the Jews in like manner weeping who had come with her, Jesus, curbing the strong emotion of His spirit,

³⁴though deeply troubled, asked them, "Where have you laid him?" "Master, come and see," was their reply. ³⁵Jesus wept. ³⁶"See how dear he held him," said the Jews. ³⁷But others of them asked, "Was this man who opened the blind man's eyes unable to prevent this man from dying?"

Jesus Raises Lazarus

(Acts 9:36–43)

³⁸Jesus, however, again restraining His strong feeling, came to the tomb. It was a cave, and a stone had been laid against the mouth of it.

³⁹"Take away the stone," said Jesus. Martha, the sister of the dead man, exclaimed, "Master, by this time there is a foul smell; for it is three days since he died." ⁴⁰"Did I not promise you," replied Jesus, "that if you believe, you shall see the glory of God?" ⁴¹So they removed the stone. Then Jesus lifted up His eyes and said, "Father, I thank Thee that Thou hast heard me. ⁴²I know that Thou always hearest me; but for the sake of the crowd standing round I have said this—that they may believe that Thou didst send me." ⁴³After speaking thus, He called out in a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out." ⁴⁴The dead man came out, his hands and feet wrapped in cloths, and his face wrapped round with a towel. "Untie him," said Jesus, "and let him go free."

The Plot to Kill Jesus

(Matthew 26:1–5; Mark 14:1–2; Luke 22:1–2)

⁴⁵Thereupon a considerable number of the Jews—namely those who had come to Mary and had witnessed His deeds—became believers in Him; ⁴⁶though some of them went off to the Pharisees and told them what He had done.

⁴⁷Therefore the High Priests and the Pharisees held a meeting of the Sanhedrin. "What steps are we taking?" they asked one another; "for this man is performing a great number of miracles. ⁴⁸If we leave him alone in this way, everybody will believe in him, and the Romans will come and blot out both our city and our nation." ⁴⁹But one of them, named Caiaphas, being High Priest that year, said, "You know nothing about it. ⁵⁰You do not reflect that it is to your interest that one man should die for the people rather than the whole nation perish." ⁵¹It was not as a mere man that he thus spoke. But being High Priest that year he was inspired to declare that Jesus was to die for the nation, ⁵²and not for the nation only, but in order to unite into one body all the far-scattered children of God. ⁵³So from that day forward they planned and schemed in order to put Him to death.

⁵⁴Therefore Jesus no longer went about openly among the Jews, but He left that neighbourhood and went into the district near the Desert, to a town called Ephraim, and remained there with the disciples.

⁵⁵The Jewish Passover was coming near, and many from that district went up to Jerusalem before the Passover, to purify themselves. ⁵⁶They therefore looked out for Jesus, and asked one another as they stood in the Temple, "What do you think?—will he come to the Festival at all?" ⁵⁷Now the High Priests and the Pharisees had issued orders that if any one knew where He was, he should give information, so that they might arrest Him.

Mary Anoints Jesus

(Matthew 26:6–13; Mark 14:3–9; Luke 7:36–50)

¹Jesus, however, six days before the Passover, came to Bethany, where Lazarus was whom He had raised from the dead. ²So they gave a dinner there in honour of Jesus, at which Martha waited at table, but Lazarus was one of the guests who were with Him. ³Availing herself of the opportunity, Mary took a pound weight of pure spikenard, very costly, and poured it over His feet, and wiped His feet with her hair, so that the house was filled with the fragrance of the perfume. ⁴Then said Judas (the Iscariot, one of the Twelve—the one who afterwards betrayed Jesus) ⁵"Why was not that perfume sold for 300 shillings and the money given to the poor?" ⁶The reason he said this was not that he cared for the poor, but that he was a thief, and that being in charge of the money-box, he used to steal what was put into it. ⁷But Jesus interposed. "Do not blame her," He said, "allow her to have kept it for the time of my preparation for burial. ⁸For the poor you always have with you, but you have not me always."

The Plot to Kill Lazarus

⁹Now it became widely known among the Jews that Jesus was there; but they came not only on His account, but also in order to see Lazarus whom He had brought back to life. ¹⁰The High Priests, however, consulted together to put Lazarus also to death, ¹¹for because of him many of the Jews left them and became believers in Jesus.

The Triumphal Entry

(Zechariah 9:9–13; Matthew 21:1–11; Mark 11:1–11; Luke 19:28–40)

¹²The next day a great crowd of those who had come to the Festival, hearing that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, ¹³took branches of the palm trees and went out to meet Him, shouting as they went, "God save him! Blessings on him who comes in the name of the Lord—even on the King of Israel!" ¹⁴And Jesus, having procured a young ass, sat upon it, just as the Scripture says, ¹⁵"Fear not, Daughter of Zion! See, thy King is coming riding on an ass's colt." ¹⁶The meaning of this His disciples did not understand at the time; but after Jesus was glorified they recollected that this was written about Him, and that they had done this to Him. ¹⁷The large number of people, however, who had been present when He called Lazarus out of the tomb and brought him back to life, related what they had witnessed.

18This was also why the crowd came to meet Him, because they had heard of His having performed that miracle. 19The result was that the Pharisees said among themselves, "Observe how idle all your efforts are! The world is gone after him!"

Jesus Predicts His Death

20Now some of those who used to come up to worship at the Festival were Greeks. 21They came to Philip, of Bethsaida in Galilee, with the request, "Sir, we wish to see Jesus." 22Philip came and told Andrew: Andrew and Philip told Jesus. 23His answer was, "The time has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. 24In most solemn truth I tell you that unless the grain of wheat falls into the ground and dies, it remains what it was—a single grain; but that if it dies, it yields a rich harvest. 25He who holds his life dear, is destroying it; and he who makes his life of no account in this world shall keep it to the Life of the Ages. 26If a man wishes to be my servant, let him follow me; and where I am, there too shall my servant be. If a man wishes to be my servant, the Father will honour him.

27Now is my soul full of trouble; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour. But for this purpose I have come to this hour. 28Father, glorify Thy name." Thereupon there came a voice from the sky, "I have glorified it and will also glorify it again." 29The crowd that stood by and heard it, said that there had been thunder. Others said, "An angel spoke to him." 30"It is not for my sake," said Jesus, "that that voice came, but for your sakes. 31Now is a judgement of this world: now will the Prince of this world be driven out. 32And I—if I am lifted up from the earth—will draw all men to me." 33He said this to indicate the kind of death He would die. 34The crowd answered Him, "We have heard out of the Law that the Christ remains for ever. In what sense do you say that the Son of Man must be lifted up? Who is that Son of Man?" 35"Yet a little while," He replied, "the light is among you. Be faithful to the light that you have, for fear darkness should overtake you; for a man who walks in the dark does not know where he is going. 36In the degree that you have light, believe in the Light, so that you may become sons of Light." Jesus said this, and went away and hid Himself from them.

Belief and Unbelief

37But though He had performed such great miracles in their presence, they did not believe in Him—38in order that the words of Isaiah the Prophet might be fulfilled, "Lord, who has believed our preaching? And the arm of the Lord—to whom has it been unveiled?" 39For this reason they were unable to believe—because Isaiah said again, 40"He has blinded their eyes and made their minds callous, lest they should see with their eyes and perceive with their minds, and should turn, and I should heal them." 41Isaiah uttered these words because he saw His glory; and he spoke of Him.

42Nevertheless even from among the Rulers many believed in Him. But because of the Pharisees they did not avow their belief, for fear they should be shut out from the synagogue. 43For they loved the glory that comes from men rather than the glory that comes from God.

44But Jesus cried aloud, "He who believes in me, believes not so much in me, as in Him who sent me; 45and he who sees me sees Him who sent me. 46I have come like light into the world, in order that no one who believes in me may remain in the dark. 47And if any one hears my teachings and regards them not, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world, but to save the world. 48He who sets me at naught and does not receive my teachings is not left without a judge: the Message which I have spoken will judge him on the last day. 49Because I have not spoken on my own authority; but the Father who sent me, Himself gave me a command what to say and in what words to speak. 50And

I know that His command is the Life of the Ages. What therefore I speak, I speak just as the Father has bidden me.”

Jesus Washes His Disciples' Feet

¹Now just before the Feast of the Passover this incident took place. Jesus knew that the time had come for Him to leave this world and go to the Father; and having loved His own who were in the world, He loved them to the end. ²While supper was proceeding, the Devil having by this time suggested to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon, the thought of betraying Him, Jesus, ³although He knew that the Father had put everything into His hands, and that He had come forth from God and was now going to God, ⁴rose from the table, threw off His upper garments, and took a towel and tied it round Him.

⁵Then He poured water into a basin, and proceeded to wash the feet of the disciples and to wipe them with the towel which He had put round Him. ⁶When He came to Simon Peter, Peter objected. “Master,” he said, “are you going to wash my feet?” ⁷“What I am doing,” answered Jesus, “for the present you do not know, but afterwards you shall know.” ⁸“Never, while the world lasts,” said Peter, “shall you wash my feet.” “If I do not wash you,” replied Jesus, “you have no share with me.” ⁹“Master,” said Peter, “wash not only my feet, but also my hands and my head.” ¹⁰“Any one who has lately bathed,” said Jesus, “does not need to wash more than his feet, but is clean all over. And you my disciples are clean, and yet this is not true of all of you.” ¹¹For He knew who was betraying Him, and that was why He said, “You are not all of you clean.”

¹²So after He had washed their feet, put on His garments again, and returned to the table, He said to them, “Do you understand what I have done to you? ¹³You call me ‘The Rabbi’ and ‘The Master,’ and rightly so, for such I am. ¹⁴If I then, your Master and Rabbi, have washed your feet, it is also your duty to wash one another’s feet. ¹⁵For I have set you an example in order that you may do what I have done to you. ¹⁶In most solemn truth I tell you that a servant is not superior to his master, nor is a messenger superior to him who sent him. ¹⁷If you know all this, blessed are you if you act accordingly.

Jesus Predicts His Betrayal

(Psalm 41:1–13)

¹⁸I am not speaking of all of you. I know whom I have chosen, but things are as they are in order that the Scripture may be fulfilled, which says, ‘He who eats my bread has lifted up his heel against me.’ ¹⁹From this time forward I tell you things before they happen, in order that when they do happen you may believe that I am He. ²⁰In most solemn truth I tell you that he who receives whoever I send receives me, and that he who receives me receives Him who sent me.”

²¹After speaking thus Jesus was troubled in spirit and said with deep earnestness, “In most solemn truth I tell you that one of you will betray me.” ²²The disciples began looking at one another, at a loss to know to which of them He was referring. ²³There was at table one of His disciples—the one Jesus loved—reclining with his head on Jesus’s bosom. ²⁴Making a sign therefore to him, Simon Peter said, “Tell us to whom he is referring.” ²⁵So he, having his head on Jesus’s bosom, leaned back and asked, “Master, who is it?” ²⁶“It is the one,” answered Jesus, “for whom I shall dip this piece of bread and to whom I shall give it." Accordingly He dipped the piece of bread, and took it and gave it to Judas, the son of the Iscariot Simon. ²⁷Then, after Judas had received the piece of bread, Satan entered into him. "Lose no time about it," said Jesus to him. ²⁸But why He said this no one else at the table understood. ²⁹Some, however, supposed that because Judas had the money-box Jesus meant, "Buy what we require for the Festival," or that he should give something to the poor. ³⁰So Judas took the piece of bread and immediately went out. And it was night.

Love One Another

(Romans 12:9–13; 1 John 3:11–24)

³¹So when he was gone out, Jesus said, "Now is the Son of Man glorified, and God is glorified in Him. ³²Moreover God will glorify Him in Himself, and will glorify Him without delay. ³³Dear children, I am still with you a little longer. You will seek me, but, as I said to the Jews, 'Where I am going you cannot come,' so for the present I say to you. ³⁴A new commandment I give you, to love one another; that as I have loved you, you also may love one another. ³⁵It is by this that every one will know that you are my disciples—if you love one another."

Jesus Predicts Peter's Denial

(Matthew 26:31–35; Mark 14:27–31; Luke 22:31–38)

³⁶"Master," inquired Simon Peter, "where are you going?" "Where I am going," replied Jesus, "you cannot be my follower now, but you shall be later." ³⁷"Master," asked Peter again, "why cannot I follow you now? I will lay down my life on your behalf. ³⁸"You say you will lay down your life on my behalf!" said Jesus; "in most solemn truth I tell you that the cock will not crow before you have three times disowned me."

In My Father's House Are Many Rooms

¹"Let not your hearts be troubled. Trust in God: trust in me also. ²In my Father's house there are many resting-places. Were it otherwise, I would have told you; for I am going to make ready a place for you. ³And if I go and make ready a place for you, I will return and take you to be with me, that where I am you also may be. ⁴And where I am going, you all know the way."

The Way, the Truth, and the Life

⁵"Master," said Thomas, "we do not know where you are going. In what sense do we know the way?" ⁶"I am the Way," replied Jesus, "and the Truth and the Life. No one comes to the Father except through me.

⁷If you—all of you—knew me, you would fully know my Father also. From this time forward you know Him and have seen Him."

⁸"Master," said Philip, "cause us to see the Father: that is all we need." ⁹"Have I been so long among you," Jesus answered, "and yet you, Philip, do not know me? He who has seen me has seen the Father.

How can you ask me, 'Cause us to see the Father'? 10Do you not believe that I am in the Father and that the Father is in me? The things that I tell you all I do not speak on my own authority: but the Father dwelling within me carries on His own work. 11Believe me, all of you, that I am in the Father and that the Father is in me; or at any rate, believe me because of what I do. 12In most solemn truth I tell you that he who trusts in me—the things which I do he shall do also; and greater things than these he shall do, because I am going to the Father. 13And whatever any of you ask in my name, I will do, in order that the Father may be glorified in the Son. 14If you make any request of me in my name, I will do it.

Jesus Promises the Holy Spirit

(John 16:5–16)

15"If you love me, you will obey my commandments.

16And I will ask the Father, and He will give you another Advocate to be for ever with you—the Spirit of truth. 17That Spirit the world cannot receive, because it does not see Him or know Him. You know Him, because He remains by your side and is in you.

18I will not leave you bereaved: I am coming to you. 19Yet a little while and the world will see me no more, but you will see me: because I live, you also shall live. 20At that time you will know that I am in my Father, and that you are in me, and that I am in you. 21He who has my commandments and obeys them—he it is who loves me. And he who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and will clearly reveal myself to him." 22Judas (not the Iscariot) 23"If any one loves me," replied Jesus, "he will obey my teaching; and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. 24He who has no love for me does not obey my teaching; and yet the teaching to which you are listening is not mine, but is the teaching of the Father who sent me.

25"All this I have spoken to you while still with you. 26But the Advocate, the Holy Spirit whom the Father will send at my request, will teach you everything, and will bring to your memories all that I have said to you.

Peace I Leave with You

27Peace I leave with you: my own peace I give to you. It is not as the world gives its greetings that I give you peace. Let not your hearts be troubled or dismayed. 28"You heard me say to you, 'I am going away, and yet I am coming to you.' If you loved me, you would have rejoiced because I am going to the Father; for the Father is greater than I am. 29I have now told you before it comes to pass, that when it has come to pass you may believe. 30In future I shall not talk much with you, for the Prince of this world is coming. And yet in me he has nothing; 31but it is in order that the world may know that I love the Father, and that it is in obedience to the command which the Father gave me that I thus act. Rise, let us be going."

Jesus the True Vine

(Isaiah 27:1–13)

1“I am the Vine—the True Vine, and my Father is the vine-dresser. 2Every branch in me—if it bears no fruit, He takes away; and every branch that bears fruit He prunes, that it may bear more fruit. 3Already you are cleansed—through the teaching which I have given you. 4Continue in me, and let me continue in you. Just as the branch cannot bear fruit of itself—that is, if it does not continue in the vine—so neither can you if you do not continue in me. 5I am the Vine, you are the branches. He who continues in me and in whom I continue bears abundant fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. 6If any one does not continue in me, he is like the unfruitful branch which is at once thrown away and then withers up. Such branches they gather up and throw into the fire and they are burned. 7“If you continue in me and my sayings continue in you, ask what you will and it shall be done for you. 8By this is God glorified—by your bearing abundant fruit and thus being true disciples of mine.

No Greater Love

9As the Father has loved me, I have also loved you: continue in my love. 10If you obey my commands, you will continue in my love, as I have obeyed my Father’s commands and continue in His love. 11“These things I have spoken to you in order that I may have joy in you, and that your joy may become perfect.

12This is my commandment to you, to love one another as I have loved you.

13No one has greater love than this—a man laying down his life for his friends. 14You are my friends, if you do what I command you. 15No longer do I call you servants, because a servant does not know what his master is doing; but I have called you friends, because all that I have heard from the Father I have made known to you. 16It is not you who chose me, but it is I who chose you and appointed you that you might go and be fruitful and that your fruit might remain; so that whatever petition you present to the Father in my name He may give you. 17“Thus I command you to love one another.

The Hatred of the World

18If the world hates you, remember that it has first had me as the fixed object of its hatred. 19If you belonged to the world, the world would love its own property. But because you do not belong to the world, and I have chosen you out of the world—for that reason the world hates you. 20Bear in mind what I said to you, ‘A servant is not superior to his master.’ If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you: if they have obeyed my teaching, they will obey yours also. 21But they will inflict all this suffering upon you on account of your bearing my name—because they do not know Him who sent me. 22“If I had not come and spoken to them, they would have had no sin; but as the case stands they are without excuse for their sin. 23He who hates me hates my Father also. 24If I had not done among them, as I have, such miracles as no one else ever did, they would have had no sin; but they have in fact seen and also hated both me and my Father. 25But this has been so, in order that the saying may be fulfilled which stands written in their Law, ‘They have hated me without any reason.’

26“When the Advocate is come whom I will send to you from the Father’s presence—the Spirit of Truth who comes forth from the Father’s presence—He will be a witness concerning me. 27And you also are witnesses, because you have been with me from the first.

John 16

Persecution Foretold

(Acts 23:12–22)

¹“These things I have spoken to you in order to clear stumbling-blocks out of your path. ²You will be excluded from the synagogues; nay more, the time is coming when any one who has murdered one of you will suppose he is offering service to God. ³And they will do these things because they have failed to recognize the Father and to discover who I am. ⁴But I have spoken these things to you in order that when the time for their accomplishment comes you may remember them, and may recollect that I told you. I did not, however, tell you all this at first, because I was still with you.

The Promise of the Holy Spirit

(John 14:15–26)

⁵But now I am returning to Him who sent me; and not one of you asks me where I am going. ⁶But grief has filled your hearts because I have said all this to you. ⁷“Yet it is the truth that I am telling you—it is to your advantage that I go away. For unless I go away, the Advocate will not come to you; but if I go, I will send Him to you. ⁸And He, when He comes, will convict the world in respect of sin, of righteousness, and of judgement;— ⁹of sin, because they do not believe in me; ¹⁰of righteousness, because I am going to the Father, and you will no longer see me; ¹¹of judgement, because the Prince of this world is under sentence.

¹²“I have much more to say to you, but you are unable at present to bear the burden of it. ¹³But when He has come—the Spirit of Truth—He will guide you into all the truth. For He will not speak as Himself originating what He says, but all that He hears He will speak, and He will make known the future to you. ¹⁴He will glorify me, because He will take of what is mine and will make it known to you. ¹⁵Everything that the Father has is mine; that is why I said that the Spirit of Truth takes of what is mine and will make it known to you.

¹⁶“A little while and you see me no more, and again a little while and you shall see me.”

Grief Will Turn to Joy

¹⁷Some of His disciples therefore said to one another, “What does this mean which He is telling us, ‘A little while and you do not see me, and again a little while and you shall see me,’ and ‘Because I am going to the Father?’” ¹⁸So they asked one another repeatedly, “What can that ‘little while’ mean which He speaks of? We do not understand His words.” ¹⁹Jesus perceived that they wanted to ask Him, and He said, “Is this what you are questioning one another about—my saying, ‘A little while and you do not see me, and again a little while and you shall see me’? ²⁰In most solemn truth I tell you that you will weep aloud and lament, but the world will be glad. You will mourn, but your grief will be turned into gladness. ²¹A woman, when she is in labour, has sorrow, because her time has come. But when she has given birth to the babe, she no longer remembers the pain, because of her joy at a child being born into the world. ²²So you also now have sorrow; but I shall see you again, and your hearts will be glad, and your gladness no one will take away from you.

Ask in My Name

(Matthew 18:19–20)

²³You will put no questions to me then. “In most solemn truth I tell you that whatever you ask the Father for in my name He will give you. ²⁴As yet you have not asked for anything in my name: ask, and you shall receive, that your hearts may be filled with gladness.

25“All this I have spoken to you in veiled language. The time is coming when I shall no longer speak to you in veiled language, but will tell you about the Father in plain words. 26At that time you will make your requests in my name; and I do not promise to ask the Father on your behalf, 27for the Father Himself holds you dear, because you have held me dear and have believed that I came from the Father’s presence. 28I came from the Father and have come into the world. Again I am leaving the world and am going to the Father.”

29“Ah, now you are using plain language,” said His disciples, “and are uttering no figure of speech! 30Now we know that you have all knowledge, and do not need to be pressed with questions. Through this we believe that you came from God.” 31“Do you at last believe?” replied Jesus.

32“Remember that the time is coming, nay, has already come, for you all to be dispersed each to his own home and to leave me alone. And yet I am not alone, for the Father is with me. 33“I have spoken all this to you in order that in me you may have peace. In the world you have affliction. But keep up your courage: I have won the victory over the world.”

Prayer for the Son

1When Jesus had thus spoken, He raised his eyes towards Heaven and said, “Father, the hour has come. Glorify Thy Son that the Son may glorify Thee; 2even as Thou hast given Him authority over all mankind, so that on all whom Thou hast given Him He may bestow the Life of the Ages. 3And in this consists the Life of the Ages—in knowing Thee the only true God and Jesus Christ whom Thou hast sent. 4I have glorified Thee on earth, having done perfectly the work which by Thine appointment has been mine to do. 5And now, Father, do Thou glorify me in Thine own presence, with the glory that I had in Thy presence before the world existed.

Prayer for the Disciples

6“I have revealed Thy perfections to the men whom Thou gavest me out of the world. Thine they were, and Thou gavest them to me, and they have obeyed Thy message. 7Now they know that whatever Thou hast given me is from Thee. 8For the truths which Thou didst teach me I have taught them. And they have received them, and have known for certain that I came out from Thy presence, and have believed that Thou didst send me. 9“I am making request for them: for the world I do not make any request, but for those whom Thou hast given me. Because they are Thine, 10and everything that is mine is Thine, and everything that is Thine is mine; and I am crowned with glory in them. 11I am now no longer in the world, but they are in the world and I am coming to Thee. “Holy Father, keep them true to Thy name—the name which Thou hast given me to bear—that they may be one, even as we are. 12While I was with them, I kept them true to Thy name—the name Thou hast given me to bear—and I kept watch over them, and not one of them is lost but only he who is doomed to destruction—that the Scripture may be fulfilled.

13“But now I am coming to Thee, and I speak these words while I am in the world, in order that they may have my gladness within them filling their hearts. 14I have given them Thy Message, and the world has hated them, because they do not belong to the world, just as I do not belong to the world. 15I do not ask that Thou wilt remove them out of the world, but that Thou wilt protect them from the Evil one. ¹⁶They do not belong to the world, just as I do not belong to the world. ¹⁷Make them holy in the truth: Thy Message is truth. ¹⁸Just as Thou didst send me into the world, I also have sent them; ¹⁹and on their behalf I consecrate myself, in order that they may become perfectly consecrated in truth.

Prayer for All Believers

²⁰“Nor is it for them alone that I make request. It is also for those who trust in me through their teaching; ²¹that they may all be one, even as Thou art in me, O Father, and I am in Thee; that they also may be in us; that the world may believe that Thou didst send me.

²²And the glory which Thou hast given me I have given them, that they may be one, just as we are one: ²³I in them and Thou in me; that they may stand perfected in one; that the world may come to understand that Thou didst send me and hast loved them with the same love as that with which Thou hast loved me. ²⁴“Father, those whom Thou hast given me—I desire that where I am they also may be with me, that they may see the glory—my glory—my gift from Thee, which Thou hast given me because Thou didst love me before the creation of the world.

²⁵And, righteous Father, though the world has failed to recognize Thee, I have known Thee, and these have perceived that Thou didst send me. ²⁶And I have made known Thy name to them and will make it known, that the love with which Thou hast loved me may be in them, and that I may be in them.”

The Betrayal of Jesus

(Matthew 26:47–56; Mark 14:43–52; Luke 22:47–53)

¹After offering this prayer Jesus went out with His disciples to a place on the further side of the Ravine of the Cedars, where there was a garden which He entered—Himself and His disciples. ²Now Judas also, who at that very time was betraying Him, knew the place, for Jesus had often resorted there with His disciples. ³So Judas, followed by the battalion and by a detachment of the Temple police sent by the High Priests and Pharisees, came there with torches and lamps and weapons. ⁴Jesus therefore, knowing all that was about to befall Him, went out to meet them. “Who are you looking for?” He asked them. ⁵“For Jesus the Nazarene,” was the answer. “I am he,” He replied. (Now Judas who was betraying Him was also standing with them.) ⁶As soon then as He said to them, “I am he,” they went backwards and fell to the ground. ⁷Again therefore He asked them, “Who are you looking for?” “For Jesus the Nazarene,” they said. ⁸“I have told you,” replied Jesus, “that I am he. If therefore you are looking for me, let these my disciples go their way.” ⁹He made this request in order that the words He had spoken might be fulfilled, “As for those whom Thou hast given me, I have not lost one.” ¹⁰Simon Peter, however, having a sword, drew it, and, aiming at the High Priest’s servant, cut off his right ear. The servant’s name was Malchus. ¹¹Jesus therefore said to Peter, “Put back your sword. Shall I refuse to drink the cup of sorrow which the Father has given me to drink?”

¹²So the battalion and their tribune and the Jewish police closed in, and took Jesus and bound Him. ¹³They then brought Him to Annas first; for Annas was the father-in-law of Caiaphas who was High Priest that year. ¹⁴

Peter's First Denial

(Matthew 26:69–70; Mark 14:66–68; Luke 22:54–57)

15 Meanwhile Simon Peter was following Jesus, and so also was another disciple. The latter was known to the High Priest, and went in with Jesus into the court of the High Priest's palace. 16 But Peter remained standing outside the door, till the disciple who was acquainted with the High Priest came out and induced the portress to let Peter in. 17 This led the girl, the portress, to ask Peter, "Are you also one of this man's disciples?" "No, I am not," he replied. 18 Now because it was cold the servants and the police had lighted a charcoal fire, and were standing and warming themselves; and Peter too remained with them, standing and warming himself.

Jesus before the High Priest

(Matthew 26:57–68; Mark 14:53–65; Luke 22:66–71)

19 So the High Priest questioned Jesus about His disciples and His teaching. 20 "As for me," replied Jesus, "I have spoken openly to the world. I have continually taught in some synagogue or in the Temple where all the Jews are wont to assemble, and I have said nothing in secret. 21 Why do you question me? Question those who heard what it was I said to them: these witnesses here know what I said." 22 Upon His saying this, one of the officers standing by struck Him with his open hand, asking Him as he did so, "Is that the way you answer the High Priest?" 23 "If I have spoken wrongly," replied Jesus, "bear witness to it as wrong; but if rightly, why that blow?" 24 So Annas sent Him bound to Caiaphas the High Priest.

Peter's Second and Third Denials

(Matthew 26:71–75; Mark 14:69–72; Luke 22:58–62)

25 But Simon Peter remained standing and warming himself, and this led to their asking him, "Are you also one of his disciples?" He denied it, and said, "No, I am not." 26 One of the High Priest's servants, a relative of the man whose ear Peter had cut off, said, "Did I not see you in the garden with him?" 27 Once more Peter denied it, and immediately a cock crowed.

Jesus before Pilate

(Matthew 27:11–14; Luke 23:1–5)

28 So they brought Jesus from Caiaphas's house to the Praetorium. It was the early morning, and they would not enter the Praetorium themselves for fear of defilement, and in order that they might be able to eat the Passover. 29 Accordingly Pilate came out to them and inquired, "What accusation have you to bring against this man?" 30 "If the man were not a criminal," they replied, "we would not have handed him over to you." 31 "Take him yourselves," said Pilate, "and judge him by your Law." "We have no power," replied the Jews, "to put any man to death." 32 They said this that the words might be fulfilled in which Jesus predicted the kind of death He was to die.

33 Re-entering the Praetorium, therefore, Pilate called Jesus and asked Him, "Are you the King of the Jews?" 34 "Do you say this of yourself, or have others told it you about me?" replied Jesus. 35 "Am I a Jew?" exclaimed Pilate; "it is your own nation and the High Priests who have handed you over to me. What have you done?" 36 "My kingdom," replied Jesus, "does not belong to this world. If my kingdom did belong to this world, my subjects would have resolutely fought to save me from being delivered up to the Jews. But, as a matter of fact, my kingdom has not this origin." 37 "So then you are a king!" rejoined Pilate. "Yes," said Jesus, "you say truly that I am a king. For this purpose I was born, and for this purpose I have come into the world—to give testimony for the truth. Every one who is a friend of the truth listens to my voice.” ³⁸“What is truth?” said Pilate. But no sooner had he spoken the words than he went out again to the Jews and told them, “I find no crime in him. ³⁹But you have a custom that I should release one prisoner to you at the Passover. So shall I release to you the King of the Jews?” ⁴⁰With a roar of voices they again cried out, saying, “Not this man, but Barabbas!” Now Barabbas was a robber.

The Soldiers Mock Jesus

(Isaiah 50:4–11; Matthew 27:27–31; Mark 15:16–20; Luke 22:63–65)

¹Then Pilate took Jesus and scourged Him. ²And the soldiers, twisting twigs of thorn into a wreath, put it on His head, and threw round Him a crimson cloak. ³Then they began to march up to Him, saying in a mocking voice, “Hail King of the Jews!” And they struck Him with the palms of their hands. ⁴Once more Pilate came out and said to the Jews, “See, I am bringing him out to you to let you clearly understand that I find no crime in him.” ⁵So Jesus came out, wearing the wreath of thorns and the crimson cloak. And Pilate said to them, “See, there is the man.” ⁶As soon then as the High Priests and the officers saw Him, they shouted “To the cross! To the cross!” “Take him yourselves and crucify him,” said Pilate; “for I, at any rate, find no crime in him.” ⁷“We,” replied the Jews, “have a Law, and in accordance with that Law he ought to die, for having claimed to be the Son of God.”

⁸More alarmed than ever, Pilate no sooner heard these words than he re-entered the Praetorium and began to question Jesus. ⁹“What is your origin?” he asked. But Jesus gave him no answer. ¹⁰“Do you refuse to speak even to me?” asked Pilate; “do you not know that I have it in my power either to release you or to crucify you?” ¹¹“You would have had no power whatever over me,” replied Jesus, “had it not been granted you from above. On that account he who has delivered me up to you is more guilty than you are.” ¹²Upon receiving this answer, Pilate was for releasing Him. But the Jews kept shouting, “If you release this man, you are no friend of Caesar’s. Every one who sets himself up as king declares himself a rebel against Caesar.”

¹³On hearing this, Pilate brought Jesus out, and sat down on the judge’s seat in a place called the Pavement—or in Hebrew, Gabbatha. ¹⁴It was the day of Preparation for the Passover, about six o’clock in the morning. Then he said to the Jews, “There is your king!” ¹⁵This caused a storm of outcries, “Away with him! Away with him! Crucify him!” “Am I to crucify your king?” Pilate asked. “We have no king, except Caesar,” answered the High Priests.

The Crucifixion

(Psalm 22:1–31; Matthew 27:32–44; Mark 15:21–32; Luke 23:26–43)

¹⁶Then Pilate gave Him up to them to be crucified. Accordingly they took Jesus;

¹⁷and He went out carrying His own cross, to the place called Skull-place—or, in Hebrew, Golgotha—¹⁸where they nailed Him to a cross, and two others at the same time, one on each side and Jesus in the middle. ¹⁹And Pilate wrote a notice and had it fastened to the top of the cross. It ran thus: JESUS THE NAZARENE, THE KING OF THE JEWS. ²⁰Many of the Jews read this notice, for the place where Jesus was crucified near the city, and the notice was in three languages—Hebrew, Latin, and Greek. 21This led the Jewish High Priests to remonstrate with Pilate. "You should not write 'The King of the Jews,'" they said, "but that he claimed to be King of the Jews." 22"What I have written I have written," was Pilate's answer.

23So the soldiers, as soon as they had crucified Jesus, took His garments, including His tunic, and divided them into four parts—one part for each soldier. The tunic was without seam, woven from the top in one piece. 24So they said to one another, "Do not let us tear it. Let us draw lots for it." This happened that the Scripture might be fulfilled which says, "They shared my garments among them, and drew lots for my clothing." That was just what the soldiers did. 25Now standing close to the cross of Jesus were His mother and His mother's sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary of Magdala. 26So Jesus, seeing His mother, and seeing the disciple whom He loved standing near, said to His mother, "Behold, your son!" 27Then He said to the disciple, "Behold, your mother!" And from that time the disciple received her into his own home.

The Death of Jesus

(Psalm 22:1–31; Matthew 27:45–56; Mark 15:33–41; Luke 23:44–49)

28After this, Jesus, knowing that everything was now brought to an end, said—that the Scripture might be fulfilled, "I am thirsty." 29There was a jar of wine standing there. With this wine they filled a sponge, put it on the end of a stalk of hyssop, and lifted it to His mouth. 30As soon as Jesus had taken the wine, He said, "It is finished." And then, bowing His head, He yielded up His spirit.

Jesus' Side Is Pierced

(Zechariah 12:10–14)

31Meanwhile the Jews, because it was the day of Preparation for the Passover, and in order that the bodies might not remain on the crosses during the Sabbath (for that Sabbath was one of special solemnity) 32Accordingly the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first man and also of the other who had been crucified with Jesus. 33Then they came to Jesus Himself: but when they saw that He was already dead, they refrained from breaking His legs. 34One of the soldiers, however, made a thrust at His side with a lance, and immediately blood and water flowed out. 35This statement is the testimony of an eye-witness, and it is true. He knows that he is telling the truth—in order that you also may believe. 36For all this took place that the Scripture might be fulfilled which declares, "Not one of His bones shall be broken." 37And again another Scripture says, "They shall look on Him whom they have pierced."

The Burial of Jesus

(Isaiah 53:9–12; Matthew 27:57–61; Mark 15:42–47; Luke 23:50–56)

38After this, Joseph of Arimathea, who was a disciple of Jesus, but for fear of the Jews a secret disciple, asked Pilate's permission to carry away the body of Jesus; and Pilate gave him leave. So he came and removed the body. 39Nicodemus too—he who at first had visited Jesus by night—came bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, in weight about seventy or eighty pounds. 40Taking down the body they wrapped it in linen cloths along with the spices, in accordance with the Jewish mode of preparing for burial. 41There was a garden at the place where Jesus had been crucified, and in the garden a new tomb, in which no one had yet been buried. 42Therefore, because it was the day of Preparation for the Jewish Passover, and the tomb was close at hand, they put Jesus there.

The Resurrection

(Matthew 28:1–10; Mark 16:1–8; Luke 24:1–12)

1On the first day of the week, very early, while it was still dark, Mary of Magdala came to the tomb and saw that the stone had been removed from it. 2So she ran, as fast as she could, to find Simon Peter and the other disciple—the one who was dear to Jesus—and to tell them, “They have taken the Master out of the tomb, and we do not know where they have put Him.” 3Peter and the other disciple started at once to go to the tomb, both of them running, 4but the other disciple ran faster than Peter and reached it before he did. 5Stooping and looking in, he saw the linen cloths lying there on the ground, but he did not go in. 6Simon Peter, however, also came, following him, and entered the tomb. There on the ground he saw the cloths; 7and the towel, which had been placed over the face of Jesus, not lying with the cloths, but folded up and put by itself. 8Then the other disciple, who had been the first to come to the tomb, also went in and saw and was convinced. 9For until now they had not understood the inspired teaching, that He must rise again from among the dead.

Jesus Appears to Mary Magdalene

(Mark 16:9–11)

10Then they went away and returned home.

11Meanwhile Mary remained standing near the tomb, weeping aloud. She did not enter the tomb, but as she wept she stooped and looked in, 12and saw two angels clothed in white raiment, sitting one at the head and one at the feet where the body of Jesus had been. 13They spoke to her. “Why are you weeping?” they asked. “Because,” she replied, “they have taken away my Lord, and I do not know where they have put him.” 14While she was speaking, she turned round and saw Jesus standing there, but did not recognize Him. 15“Why are you weeping?” He asked; “who are you looking for?” She, supposing that He was the gardener, replied, “Sir, if you have carried him away, tell me where you have put him and I will remove him.” 16“Mary!” said Jesus. She turned to Him. “Rabboni!” she cried in Hebrew: the word means ‘Teacher!’ 17“Do not cling to me,” said Jesus, “for I have not yet ascended to the Father. But take this message to my brethren: ‘I am ascending to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God.’” 18Mary of Magdala came and brought word to the disciples. “I have seen the Master,” she said. And she told them that He had said these things to her.

Jesus Appears to the Disciples

(Luke 24:36–49; 1 John 1:1–4)

19On that same first day of the week, when it was evening and, for fear of the Jews, the doors of the house where the disciples were, were locked, Jesus came and stood in their midst, and said to them, “Peace be to you!” 20Having said this He showed them His hands and also His side; and the disciples were filled with joy at seeing the Master. 21A second time, therefore, He said to them, “Peace be to you! As the Father sent me, I also now send you.” 22Having said this He breathed upon them and said, “Receive the Holy Spirit. 23If you remit the sins of any persons, they remain remitted to them. If you bind fast the sins of any, they remain bound.”

Jesus Appears to Thomas

24Thomas, one of the twelve—surnamed ‘the Twin’—was not among them when Jesus came. 25So the rest of the disciples told him, “We have seen the Master!” His reply was, “Unless I see in his hands the wound made by the nails and put my finger into the wound, and put my hand into his side, I will never believe it.”

26A week later the disciples were again in the house, and Thomas was with them, when Jesus came—though the doors were locked—and stood in their midst, and said, “Peace be to you.” 27Then He said to Thomas, “Bring your finger here and feel my hands; bring you hand and put it into my side; and do not be ready to disbelieve but to believe.” 28“My Lord and my God!” replied Thomas. 29“Because you have seen me,” replied Jesus, “you have believed. Blessed are those who have not seen and yet have believed.”

The Purpose of John’s Book

30There were also a great number of other signs which Jesus performed in the presence of the disciples, which are not recorded in this book. 31But these have been recorded in order that you may believe that He is the Christ, the Son of God, and that, through believing, you may have Life through His name.

Jesus Appears by the Sea of Tiberias

1After this, Jesus again showed Himself to the disciples. It was at the Lake of Tiberias. The circumstances were as follows. 2Simon Peter was with Thomas, called the Twin, Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, the sons of Zabdi, and two others of the Master’s disciples. 3Simon Peter said to them, “I am going fishing.” “We will go too,” said they. So they set out and went on board their boat; but they caught nothing that night.

4When, however, day was now dawning, Jesus stood on the beach, though the disciples did not know that it was Jesus. 5He called to them. “Children,” He said, “have you any food there?” “No,” they answered. 6“Throw the net in on the right hand side,” He said, “and you will find fish.” So they threw the net in, and now they could scarcely drag it along for the quantity of fish. 7This made the disciple whom Jesus loved say to Peter, “It is the Master.” Simon Peter therefore, when he heard the words, “It is the Master,” drew on his fisherman’s shirt—for he had not been wearing it—put on his girdle, and sprang into the water. 8But the rest of the disciples came in the small boat (for they were not far from land—only about a hundred yards off)

9As soon as they landed, they saw a charcoal fire burning there, with fish broiling on it, and bread close by. 10Jesus told them to fetch some of the fish which they had just caught. 11So Simon Peter went on board the boat and drew the net ashore full of large fish, 153 in number; and yet, although there were so many, the net had not broken.

12“Come this way and have breakfast,” said Jesus. But not one of the disciples ventured to question Him as to who He was, for they felt sure that it was the Master. 13Then Jesus came and took the bread and gave them some, and the fish in the same way. ¹⁴This was now the third occasion on which Jesus showed Himself to the disciples after He had risen from among the dead.

Jesus and Peter

¹⁵When they had finished breakfast, Jesus asked Simon Peter, "Simon, son of John, do you love me more than these others do?" "Yes, Master," was his answer; "you know that you are dear to me." "Then feed my lambs," replied Jesus. ¹⁶Again a second time He asked him, "Simon, son of John, do you love me?" "Yes, Master," he said, "you know that you are dear to me." "Then be a shepherd to my sheep," He said. ¹⁷A third time Jesus put the question: "Simon, son of John, am I dear to you?" It grieved Peter that Jesus asked him the third time, "Am I dear to you?" "Master," he replied, "you know everything, you can see that you are dear to me." "Then feed my much-loved sheep," said Jesus.

¹⁸"In most solemn truth I tell you that whereas, when you were young, you used to put on your girdle and walk whichever way you chose, when you have grown old you will stretch out your arms and some one else will put a girdle round you and carry you where you have no wish to go." ¹⁹This He said to indicate the kind of death by which that disciple would bring glory to God; and after speaking thus He said to him, "Follow me."

Jesus and the Beloved Disciple

²⁰Peter turned round and noticed the disciple whom Jesus loved following—the one who at the supper had leaned back on His breast and had asked, "Master, who is it that is betraying you?" ²¹On seeing him, Peter asked Jesus, "And, Master, what about him?" ²²"If I desire him to remain till I come," replied Jesus, "what concern is that of yours? You, yourself, must follow me." ²³Hence the report spread among the brethren that that disciple would never die. Yet Jesus did not say, "He is not to die," but, "If I desire him to remain till I come, what concern is that of yours?"

²⁴That is the disciple who gives his testimony as to these matters, and has written this history; and we know that his testimony is true.

²⁵But there are also many other things which Jesus did—so vast a number indeed that if they were all described in detail, I suppose that the world itself could not contain the books that would have to be written.

Acts 1

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

Prologue

(Luke 1:1–4)

¹My former narrative, Theophilus, dealt with all that Jesus did and taught as a beginning, down to the day on which, ²after giving instruction through the Holy Spirit to the Apostles whom He had chosen, He was taken up to Heaven. ³He had also, after He suffered, shown Himself alive to them with many sure proofs, appearing to them at intervals during forty days, and speaking of the Kingdom of God.

⁴And while in their company He charged them not to leave Jerusalem, but to wait for the Father's promised gift. "This you have heard of," He said, "from me. ⁵For John indeed baptized with water, but before many days have passed you shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit."

The Ascension

(Mark 16:19–20; Luke 24:50–53)

⁶Once when they were with Him, they asked Him, "Master, is this the time at which you are about to restore the kingdom of Israel?" ⁷"It is not for you," He replied, "to know times or epochs which the Father has reserved within His own authority; ⁸and yet you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you, and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judaea and Samaria and to the remotest parts of the earth."

⁹When He had said this, and while they were looking at Him, He was carried up, and a cloud closing beneath Him hid Him from their sight. ¹⁰But, while they stood intently gazing into the sky as He went, suddenly there were two men in white garments standing by them, ¹¹who said, "Galileans, why stand looking into the sky? This same Jesus who has been taken up from you into Heaven will come in just the same way as you have seen Him going into Heaven."

Matthias Replaces Judas

¹²Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mountain called the Oliveyard, which is near Jerusalem, about a mile off. ¹³They entered the city, and they went up to the upper room which was now their fixed place for meeting. Their names were Peter and John, James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, Simon the Zealot, and Judas the brother of James. ¹⁴All of these with one mind continued earnest in prayer, together with some women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and His brothers.

¹⁵It was on one of these days that Peter stood up in the midst of the brethren—the entire number of persons present being about 120—and said, ¹⁶"Brethren, it was necessary that the Scripture should be fulfilled—the prediction, I mean, which the Holy Spirit uttered by the lips of David, about Judas, who acted as guide to those who arrested Jesus. ¹⁷For Judas was reckoned as one of our number, and a share in this ministry was allotted to him." ¹⁸(Now having bought a piece of ground with the money paid for his wickedness he fell there with his face downwards, and, his body bursting open, he became disembowelled. ¹⁹This fact became widely known to the people of Jerusalem, so that the place received the name, in their language, of Achel-damach, which means 'The Field of Blood.')

²⁰"For it is written in the Book of Psalms, "'Let his encampment be desolate: let there be no one to dwell there'; and "'His work let another take up.'

²¹"It is necessary, therefore, that of the men who have been with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us— ²²beginning from His baptism by John down to the day on which He was taken up again from us into Heaven—one should be appointed to become a witness with us as to His resurrection." ²³So two names were proposed, Joseph called Bar-sabbas—and surnamed Justus—and Matthias. ²⁴And the brethren prayed, saying, "Thou, Lord, who knowest the hearts of all, show clearly which of these two Thou hast chosen ²⁵to occupy the place in this ministry and Apostleship from which Judas through transgression fell, in order to go to his own place." ²⁶Then they drew lots between them. The lot fell on Matthias, and a place among the eleven Apostles was voted to him.

Acts 2

The Holy Spirit at Pentecost

(Genesis 11:1–9; Leviticus 23:15–22)

1At length, on the day of the Harvest Festival, they had all met in one place; 2when suddenly there came from the sky a sound as of a strong rushing blast of wind. This filled the whole house where they were sitting; 3and they saw tongues of what looked like fire distributing themselves over the assembly, and on the head of each person a tongue alighted. 4They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak in foreign languages according as the Spirit gave them words to utter.

5Now there were Jews residing in Jerusalem, devout men from every part of the world. 6So when this noise was heard, they came crowding together, and were amazed because everyone heard his own language spoken. 7They were beside themselves with wonder, and exclaimed, "Are not all these speakers Galilaeans? 8How then does each of us hear his own native language spoken by them? 9Some of us are Parthians, Medes, Elamites. Some are inhabitants of Mesopotamia, of Judaea or Cappadocia, of Pontus or the Asian Province, of Phrygia or Pamphylia, 10of Egypt or of the parts of Africa towards Cyrene. Others are visitors from Rome—being either Jews or converts from heathenism—and others are Cretans or Arabians. 11Yet we all alike hear these Galilaeans speaking in our own language about the wonderful things which God has done." 12They were all astounded and bewildered, and asked one another, "What can this mean?" 13But others, scornfully jeering, said, "They are brim-full of sweet wine."

Peter Addresses the Crowd

(Psalm 16:1–11; Joel 2:28–32)

14Peter however, together with the Eleven, stood up and addressed them in a loud voice. "Men of Judaea, and all you inhabitants of Jerusalem," he said, "be in no uncertainty about this matter but pay attention to what I say. 15For this is not intoxication, as you suppose, it being only the third hour of the day. 16But that which was predicted through the Prophet Joel has happened:

17"And it shall come to pass in the last days, God says, that I will pour out My Spirit upon all mankind; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall have dreams;

18and even upon My bondservants, both men and women, at that time, I will pour out My Spirit, and they shall prophesy.

19I will display marvels in the sky above, and signs on the earth below, blood and fire, and pillars of smoke.

20The sun shall be turned into darkness and the moon into blood, to usher in the day of the Lord—that great and illustrious day;

21and every one who calls on the name of the Lord shall be saved.'

22"Listen, Israelites, to what I say. Jesus, the Nazarene, a man accredited to you from God by miracles and marvels and signs which God did among you through Him, as you yourselves know, Him—

23 delivered up through God's settled purpose and foreknowledge—you by the hands of Gentiles have nailed to a cross and have put to death. 24 But God has raised Him to life, having terminated the throes of death, for in fact it was not possible for Him to be held fast by death.

25 For David says in reference to Him, "I constantly fixed my eyes upon the Lord, because He is at my right hand in order that I may continue unshaken.

26 For this reason my heart is glad and my tongue exults. My body also shall rest in hope.

27 For Thou wilt not leave me in the Unseen World forsaken, nor give up Thy holy One to undergo decay.

28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of Life: Thou wilt fill me with gladness in Thy presence.'

29 "As to the patriarch David, I need hardly remind you, brethren, that he died and was buried, and that we still have his tomb among us. 30 Being a Prophet, however, and knowing that God had solemnly sworn to him to seat a descendant of his upon his throne, 31 with prophetic foresight he spoke of the resurrection of the Christ, to the effect that He was not left forsaken in the Unseen World, nor did His body undergo decay. 32 This Jesus, God has raised to life—a fact to which all of us testify. 33 "Being therefore lifted high by the mighty hand of God, He has received from the Father the promised Holy Spirit and has poured out this which you see and hear.

34 For David did not ascend into Heaven, but he says himself, "The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at My right hand

35 until I make thy foes a footstool under thy feet.' 36 "Therefore let the whole House of Israel know beyond all doubt that God has made Him both LORD and CHRIST—this Jesus whom you crucified."

Three Thousand Believe

37 Stung to the heart by these words, they said to Peter and the rest of the Apostles, "Brethren, what are we to do?" 38 "Repent," replied Peter, "and be baptized, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ, with a view to the remission of your sins, and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. 39 For to you belongs the promise, and to your children, and to all who are far off, whoever the Lord our God may call." 40 And with many more appeals he solemnly warned and entreated them, saying, "Escape from this crooked generation." 41 Those, therefore, who joyfully welcomed his Message were baptized; and on that one day about three thousand persons were added to them;

The Fellowship of Believers

(Acts 4:32–37)

42 and they were constant in listening to the teaching of the Apostles and in their attendance at the Communion, that is, the Breaking of the Bread, and at prayer.

43 Fear came upon every one, and many marvels and signs were done by the Apostles. 44 And all the believers kept together, and had everything in common. 45 They sold their lands and other property, and distributed the proceeds among all, according to every one's necessities. 46 And, day by day, attending constantly in the Temple with one accord, and breaking bread in private houses, they took their meals with great happiness and single-heartedness, 47 praising God and being regarded with favour by all the people. Also, day by day, the Lord added to their number those whom He was saving.

Acts 3

WEY [Online]

A Lame Man Walks

¹One day Peter and John were going up to the Temple for the hour of prayer—the ninth hour—and, just then, ²some men were carrying there one who had been lame from birth, whom they were wont to place every day close to the Beautiful Gate (as it was called) ³Seeing Peter and John about to go into the Temple, he asked them for alms. ⁴Peter fixing his eyes on him, as John did also, said, “Look at us.” ⁵So he looked and waited, expecting to receive something from them. ⁶“I have no silver or gold,” Peter said, “but what I have, I give you. In the name of Jesus Christ, the Nazarene—walk!” ⁷Then taking his hand Peter lifted him up, and immediately his feet and ankles were strengthened. ⁸Leaping up, he stood upright and began to walk, and went into the Temple with them, walking, leaping, and praising God. ⁹All the people saw him walking and praising God; ¹⁰and recognizing him as the man who used to sit at the Beautiful Gate of the Temple asking for alms, they were filled with awe and amazement at what had happened to him.

Peter Speaks in Solomon’s Colonnade

(Deuteronomy 18:15–22)

¹¹While he still clung to Peter and John, the people, awe-struck, ran up crowding round them in what was known as Solomon’s Portico. ¹²Peter, seeing this, spoke to the people. “Israelites,” he said, “why do you wonder at this man? Or why gaze at us, as though by any power or piety of our own we had enabled him to walk? ¹³The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God of our forefathers, has conferred this honour on His Servant Jesus, whom you delivered up and disowned in the presence of Pilate, when he had decided to let Him go. ¹⁴Yes, you disowned the holy and righteous One, and asked as a favour the release of a murderer. ¹⁵The Prince of Life you put to death; but God has raised Him from the dead, and we are witnesses as to that. ¹⁶It is His name—faith in that name being the condition—which has strengthened this man whom you behold and know; and the faith which He has given has made this man sound and strong again, as you can all see.

¹⁷“And now, brethren, I know that it was in ignorance that you did it, as was the case with your rulers also. ¹⁸But in this way God has fulfilled the declarations He made through all the Prophets, that His Christ would suffer. ¹⁹Repent, therefore, and reform your lives, so that the record of your sins may be cancelled, and that there may come seasons of revival from the Lord, ²⁰and that He may send the Christ appointed beforehand for you—even Jesus. ²¹Heaven must receive Him until those times of which God has spoken from the earliest ages through the lips of His holy Prophets—the times of the reconstitution of all things. ²²Moses declared, “The Lord your God will raise up a Prophet for you from among your brethren as He has raised me. In all that He says to you, you must listen to Him. ²³And every one, without exception, who refuses to listen to that Prophet shall be utterly destroyed from among the People.’ ²⁴Yes, and all the Prophets, from Samuel onwards—all who have spoken—have also announced the coming of this present time. ²⁵“You are the heirs of the Prophets, and of the Covenant which God made with your forefathers when He said to Abraham, ‘And through your posterity all the families of the world shall be blessed.’ ²⁶It is to you first that God, after raising His Servant from the grave, has sent Him to bless you, by causing every one of you to turn from your wickedness.”

Peter and John before the Sanhedrin

1While they were saying this to the people, the Priests, the Commander of the Temple Guard, and the Sadducees came upon them, 2highly incensed at their teaching the people and proclaiming in the case of Jesus the Resurrection from among the dead. 3They arrested the two Apostles and lodged them in custody till the next day; for it was already evening. 4But many of those who had listened to their preaching believed; and the number of the adult men had now grown to be about 5,000.

5The next day a meeting was held in Jerusalem of their Rulers, Elders, and Scribes, 6with Annas the High Priest, Caiaphas, John, Alexander, and the other members of the high-priestly family. 7So they made the Apostles stand in the centre, and demanded of them, "By what power or in what name have you done this?" 8Then Peter was filled with the Holy Spirit, and he replied, "Rulers and Elders of the people, 9if we to-day are under examination concerning the benefit conferred on a man helplessly lame, as to how this man has been cured; 10be it known to you all, and to all the people of Israel, that through the name of Jesus the Anointed, the Nazarene, whom you crucified, but whom God has raised from among the dead—through that name this man stands here before you in perfect health. 11This Jesus is the Stone treated with contempt by you the builders, but it has been made the Cornerstone. 12And in no other is the great salvation to be found; for, in fact, there is no second name under Heaven that has been given among men through which we are to be saved."

The Name Forbidden

13As they looked on Peter and John so fearlessly outspoken—and also discovered that they were illiterate persons, untrained in the schools—they were surprised; and now they recognized them as having been with Jesus. 14And seeing the man standing with them—the man who had been cured—they had no reply to make. 15So they ordered them to withdraw from the Sanhedrin while they conferred among themselves. 16"What are we to do with these men?" they asked one another; for the fact that a remarkable miracle has been performed by them is well known to every one in Jerusalem, and we cannot deny it. 17But to prevent the matter spreading any further among the people, let us stop them by threats from speaking in the future in this name to any one whatever." 18So they recalled the Apostles, and ordered them altogether to give up speaking or teaching in the name of Jesus. 19But Peter and John replied, "Judge whether it is right in God's sight to listen to you instead of listening to God. 20As for us, what we have seen and heard we cannot help speaking about." 21The Court added further threats and then let them go, being quite unable to find any way of punishing them on account of the people, because all gave God the glory for the thing that had happened. 22For the man was over forty years of age on whom this miracle of restoration to health had been performed.

The Believers' Prayer

(Psalm 2:1–12)

23After their release the two Apostles went to their friends, and told them all that the High Priests and Elders had said. 24And they, upon hearing the story, all lifted up their voices to God and said, "O Sovereign Lord, it is Thou who didst make Heaven and earth and sea, and all that is in them,

25and didst say through the Holy Spirit by the lips of our forefather David Thy servant, "Why have the nations stamped and raged, and the peoples formed futile plans?"

26The kings of the earth came near, and the rulers assembled together against the Lord and against His Anointed.”

27“They did indeed assemble in this city in hostility to Thy holy Servant Jesus whom Thou hadst anointed—Herod and Pontius Pilate with the Gentiles and also the tribes of Israel— 28to do all that Thy power and Thy will had predetermined should be done. 29And now, Lord, listen to their threats, and enable Thy servants to proclaim Thy Message with fearless courage, 30whilst Thou stretchest out Thine arm to cure men, and to give signs and marvels through the name of Thy holy Servant Jesus.” 31When they had prayed, the place in which they were assembled shook, and they were, one and all, filled with the Holy Spirit, and proceeded to tell God’s Message with boldness.

Sharing among Believers

(Acts 2:42–47)

32Among all those who had embraced the faith there was but one heart and soul, so that none of them claimed any of his possessions as his own, but everything they had was common property; 33while the Apostles with great force of conviction delivered their testimony as to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus; and great grace was upon them all. 34And, in fact, there was not a needy man among them, for all who were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the money which they realised, 35and gave it to the Apostles, and distribution was made to every one according to his wants.

36In this way Joseph, whom the Apostles gave the name of Bar-nabas—signifying ‘Son of Encouragement’—a Levite, a native of Cyprus, 37sold a farm which he had, and brought the money and gave it to the Apostles.

Ananias and Sapphira

1There was a man of the name of Ananias who, with his wife Sapphira, sold some property but, 2with her full knowledge and consent, dishonestly kept back part of the price which he received for it, though he brought the rest and gave it to the Apostles. 3“Ananias,” said Peter, “why has Satan taken possession of your heart, that you should try to deceive the Holy Spirit and dishonestly keep back part of the price paid you for this land? 4While it remained unsold, was not the land your own? And when sold, was it not at your own disposal? How is it that you have cherished this design in your heart? It is not to men you have told this lie, but to God.” 5Upon hearing these words Ananias fell down dead, and all who heard the words were awe-struck. 6The younger men, however, rose, and wrapping the body up, carried it out and buried it.

7About three hours had passed, when his wife came in, knowing nothing of what had happened. 8Peter at once questioned her. “Tell me,” he said, “whether you sold the land for so much.” “Yes,” she replied, “for so much.” 9“How was it,” replied Peter, “that you two agreed to try an experiment upon the Spirit of the Lord? The men who have buried your husband are already at the door, and they will carry you out.” 10Instantly she fell down dead at his feet, and the young men came in and found her dead. So they carried her out and buried her by her husband’s side. 11This incident struck terror into the whole Church, and into the hearts of all who heard of it.

The Apostles Heal Many

12 Many signs and marvels continued to be done among the people by the Apostles; and by common consent they all met in Solomon's Portico. 13 But none of the others dared to attach themselves to them. Yet the people held them in high honour— 14 and more and more believers in the Lord joined them, including great numbers both of men and women— 15 so that they would even bring out their sick friends into the streets and lay them on light couches or mats, in order that when Peter came by, at least his shadow might fall on one or other of them. 16 The inhabitants, too, of the towns in the neighbourhood of Jerusalem came in crowds, bringing sick persons and some who were harassed by foul spirits, and they were cured, one and all.

The Apostles Arrested and Freed

17 This roused the High Priest. He and all his party—the sect of the Sadducees—were filled with angry jealousy 18 and laid hands upon the Apostles, and put them into the public jail. 19 But during the night an angel of the Lord opened the prison doors and brought them out, and said, 20 "Go and stand in the Temple, and go on proclaiming to the people all this Message of Life." 21 Having received that command they went into the Temple, just before daybreak, and began to teach: So when the High Priest and his party came, and had called together the Sanhedrin as well as all the Elders of the descendants of Israel, they sent to the jail to fetch the Apostles. 22 But the officers went and could not find them in the prison. So they came back and brought word, 23 saying, "The jail we found quite safely locked, and the warders were on guard at the doors, but upon going in we found no one there."

The Apostles before the Sanhedrin

24 When the Commander of the Temple Guards and the High Priests heard this statement, they were utterly at a loss with regard to it, wondering what would happen next. 25 And some one came and brought them word, saying, "The men you put in prison are actually in the Temple, standing there, teaching the people." 26 Upon this the Commander went with the officers, and brought the Apostles; but without using violence; for they were afraid of being stoned by the people.

27 So they brought them and made them stand in front of the Sanhedrin. And then the High Priest questioned them. 28 "We strictly forbid you to teach in that name—did we not?" he said. "And see, you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and are trying to make us responsible for that man's death!" 29 Peter and the other Apostles replied, "We must obey God rather than man. 30 The God of our forefathers has raised Jesus to life, whom you crucified and put to death. 31 God has exalted Him to His right hand as Chief Leader and as Saviour, to give Israel repentance and forgiveness of sins. 32 And we—and the Holy Spirit whom God has given to those who obey Him—are witnesses as to these things."

Gamaliel's Advice

33 Infuriated at getting this answer, they were disposed to kill the Apostles. 34 But a Pharisee of the name of Gamaliel, a teacher of the Law, held in honour by all the people, rose from his seat and requested that they should be sent outside the court for a few minutes. 35 "Israelites," he said, "be careful what you are about to do in dealing with these men. 36 Years ago Theudas appeared, professing to be a person of importance, and a body of men, some four hundred in number, joined him. He was killed, and all his followers were dispersed and annihilated. 37 After him, at the time of the Census, came Judas, the Galilaean, and was the leader in a revolt. He too perished, and all his followers were scattered. 38 And now I tell you to hold aloof from these men and leave them alone—for if this scheme or work is of human origin, it will come to nothing. ³⁹But if it is really from God, you will be powerless to put them down—lest perhaps you find yourselves to be actually fighting against God.”

⁴⁰His advice carried conviction. So they called the Apostles in, and—after flogging them—ordered them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and then let them go. ⁴¹They, therefore, left the Sanhedrin and went their way, rejoicing that they had been deemed worthy to suffer disgrace on behalf of the NAME. ⁴²But they did not desist from teaching every day, in the Temple or in private houses, and telling the Good News about Jesus, the Christ.

The Choosing of the Seven

(1 Timothy 3:8–13)

¹About this time, as the number of disciples was increasing, complaints were made by the Greek-speaking Jews against the Hebrews because their widows were habitually overlooked in the daily ministrations. ²So the Twelve called together the general body of the disciples and said, “It does not seem fitting that we Apostles should neglect the delivery of God’s Message and minister at tables. ³Therefore, brethren, pick out from among yourselves seven men of good repute, full of the Spirit and of wisdom, and we will appoint them to undertake this duty. ⁴But, as for us, we will devote ourselves to prayer and to the delivery of the Message.” ⁵The suggestion met with general approval, and they selected Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolas, a proselyte of Antioch. ⁶These men they brought to the Apostles, and, after prayer, they laid their hands upon them.

⁷Meanwhile God’s Message continued to spread, and the number of the disciples in Jerusalem very greatly increased, and very many priests obeyed the faith.

The Arrest of Stephen

⁸And Stephen, full of grace and power, performed great marvels and signs among the people. ⁹But some members of the so-called ‘Synagogue of the Freed-men,’ together with some Cyrenaeans, Alexandrians, Cilicians and men from Roman Asia, were roused to encounter Stephen in debate. ¹⁰They were quite unable, however, to resist the wisdom and the Spirit with which he spoke. ¹¹Then they privately put forward men who declared, “We have heard him speak blasphemous things against Moses and against God.” ¹²In this way they excited the people, the Elders, and the Scribes. At length they came upon him, seized him with violence, and took him before the Sanhedrin. ¹³Here they brought forward false witnesses who declared, “This fellow is incessantly speaking against the Holy Place and the Law. ¹⁴For we have heard him say that Jesus, the Nazarene, will pull this place down to the ground and will change the customs which Moses handed down to us.” ¹⁵At once the eyes of all who were sitting in the Sanhedrin were fastened on him, and they saw his face looking just like the face of an angel.

Acts 7

Stephen's Address: The Call of Abraham

(Genesis 12:1–9)

1Then the High Priest asked him, "Are these statements true?"

2The reply of Stephen was, "Sirs—brethren and fathers—listen to me. God Most Glorious appeared to our forefather Abraham when he was living in Mesopotamia, before he settled in Haran, 3and said to him, "Leave your country and your relatives, and go into whatever land I point out to you.' 4"Thereupon he left Chaldaea and settled in Haran till after the death of his father, when God caused him to remove into this country where you now live. 5But he gave him no inheritance in it, no, not a single square yard of ground. And yet He promised to bestow the land as a permanent possession on him and his posterity after him—and promised this at a time when Abraham was childless. 6And God declared that Abraham's posterity should for four hundred years make their home in a country not their own, and be reduced to slavery and be oppressed. 7"And the nation, whichever it is, that enslaves them, I will judge,' said God; 'and afterwards they shall come out, and they shall worship Me in this place.' 8"Then He gave him the Covenant of circumcision, and under this Covenant he became the father of Isaac—whom he circumcised on the eighth day. Isaac became the father of Jacob, and Jacob became the father of the twelve Patriarchs.

Joseph Sold into Egypt

(Genesis 37:12–30)

9"The Patriarchs were jealous of Joseph and sold him into slavery in Egypt. But God was with him 10and delivered him from all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom when he stood before Pharaoh, king of Egypt, who appointed him governor over Egypt and all the royal household.

11But there came a famine throughout the whole of Egypt and Canaan—and great distress—so that our forefathers could find no food. 12When, however, Jacob heard that there was wheat to be had, he sent our forefathers into Egypt; that was the first time. 13On their second visit Joseph made himself known to his brothers, and Pharaoh was informed of Joseph's parentage. 14Then Joseph sent and invited his father Jacob and all his family, numbering seventy-five persons, to come to him,

Israel Oppressed in Egypt

(Exodus 1:8–22)

15and Jacob went down into Egypt. There he died, and so did our forefathers, 16and they were taken to Shechem and were laid in the tomb which Abraham had bought from the sons of Hamor at Shechem for a sum of money paid in silver.

17"But as the time drew near for the fulfilment of the promise which God had made to Abraham, the people became many times more numerous in Egypt, 18until there arose a foreign king over Egypt who knew nothing of Joseph. 19He adopted a crafty policy towards our race, and oppressed our forefathers, making them cast out their infants so that they might not be permitted to live.

The Birth and Adoption of Moses

(Exodus 2:1–10; Hebrews 11:23–29)

20At this time Moses was born—a wonderfully beautiful child; and for three months he was cared for in his father's house. 21At length he was cast out, but Pharaoh's daughter adopted him, and brought him up as her own son. ²²So Moses was educated in all the learning of the Egyptians, and possessed great influence through his eloquence and his achievements.

The Rejection and Flight of Moses

(Exodus 2:11–22)

²³“And when he was just forty years old, it occurred to him to visit his brethren the descendants of Israel. ²⁴Seeing one of them wrongfully treated he took his part, and secured justice for the ill-treated man by striking down the Egyptian. ²⁵He supposed his brethren to be aware that by him God was sending them deliverance; this, however, they did not understand. ²⁶The next day, also, he came and found two of them fighting, and he endeavoured to make peace between them. “Sirs,’ he said, ‘you are brothers. Why are you wronging one another?’ ²⁷“But the man who was doing the wrong resented his interference, and asked, “‘Who appointed you magistrate and judge over us? ²⁸Do you mean to kill me as you killed the Egyptian yesterday?’ ²⁹“Alarmed at this question, Moses fled from the country and went to live in the land of Midian. There he became the father of two sons.

The Call of Moses

³⁰“But at the end of forty years there appeared to him in the Desert of Mount Sinai an angel in the middle of a flame of fire in a bush. ³¹When Moses saw this he wondered at the sight; but on his going up to look further, the voice of the Lord was heard, saying, ³²“I am the God of your forefathers, the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob.’ “Quaking with fear Moses did not dare gaze. ³³“Take off your shoes,’ said the Lord, ‘for the spot on which you are standing is holy ground. ³⁴I have seen, yes, I have seen the oppression of My people who are in Egypt and have heard their groans, and I have come down to deliver them. And now I will send you to Egypt.’

³⁵“The Moses whom they rejected, asking him, ‘Who appointed you magistrate and judge?’—that same Moses we find God sending as a magistrate and a deliverer by the help of the angel who appeared to him in the bush. ³⁶This was he who brought them out, after performing marvels and signs in Egypt and at the Red Sea, and in the Desert for forty years. ³⁷This is the Moses who said to the descendants of Israel, “‘God will raise up a Prophet for you, from among your brethren, just as He raised me up.’ ³⁸This is he who was among the Congregation in the Desert, together with the angel who spoke to him on Mount Sinai and with our forefathers, who received ever-living utterances to hand on to us.

The Rebellion of Israel

(Exodus 32:1–35; Deuteronomy 9:7–29; Amos 5:16–27)

³⁹“Our forefathers, however, would not submit to him, but spurned his authority and in their hearts turned back to Egypt. ⁴⁰They said to Aaron, “‘Make gods for us, to march in front of us; for as for this Moses who brought us out of the land of Egypt, we do not know what has become of him.’ ⁴¹“Moreover they made a calf at that time, and offered a sacrifice to the idol and kept rejoicing in the gods which their own hands had made. ⁴²So God turned from them and gave them up to the worship of the Host of Heaven, as it is written in the Book of the Prophets, “‘Were they victims and sacrifices which you offered Me, forty years in the Desert, O House of Israel? ⁴³Yes, you lifted up Moloch’s tent and the Star of the God Rephan—the images which you made in order to worship them; and I will remove you beyond Babylon.’

The Tabernacle of the Testimony

(Exodus 40:1–33; Hebrews 9:1–10)

44“Our forefathers had the Tent of the Testimony in the Desert, built as He who spoke to Moses had instructed him to make it in imitation of the model which he had seen. 45That Tent was bequeathed to the next generation of our forefathers. Under Joshua they brought it with them when they were taking possession of the land of the Gentile nations, whom God drove out before them. So it continued till David’s time. 46David obtained favour with God, and asked leave to provide a dwelling-place for the God of Jacob. 47But it was Solomon who built a house for Him. 48Yet the Most High does not dwell in buildings erected by men’s hands. But, as the Prophet declares, 49“The sky is My throne, and earth is the footstool for My feet. What kind of house will you build for Me, says the Lord, or what resting place shall I have?

50Did not My hand form this universe.’

51“O stiff-necked men, uncircumcised in heart and ears, you also are continually at strife with the Holy Spirit—just as your forefathers were. 52Which of the Prophets did not your forefathers persecute? Yes, they killed those who announced beforehand the advent of the righteous One, whose betrayers and murderers you have now become— 53you who received the Law given through angels, and yet have not obeyed it.”

The Stoning of Stephen

54As they listened to these words, they became infuriated and gnashed their teeth at him. 55But, full of the Holy Spirit and looking up to Heaven, Stephen saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing at God’s right hand. 56“I can see Heaven wide open,” he said, “and the Son of Man standing at God’s right hand.” 57Upon this, with a loud outcry they stopped their ears, rushed upon Stephen in a body, 58dragged him out of the city, and stoned him, the witnesses throwing off their outer garments and giving them into the care of a young man called Saul. 59So they stoned Stephen, while he prayed, “Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.” 60Then, rising on his knees, he cried aloud, “Lord, do not reckon this sin against them.” And with these words he fell asleep.

Saul Persecutes the Church

1And Saul fully approved of his murder. At this time a great persecution broke out against the Church in Jerusalem, and all except the Apostles were scattered throughout Judaea and Samaria. 2A party of devout men, however, buried Stephen, and made loud lamentation over him. 3But Saul cruelly harassed the Church. He went into house after house, and, dragging off both men and women, threw them into prison.

Philip in Samaria

4Those, however, who were scattered abroad went from place to place spreading the Good News of God’s Message; 5while Philip went down to the city of Samaria and proclaimed Christ there. 6Crowds of people, with one accord, gave attention to what they heard from him, listening, and witnessing the signs which he did. ⁷For, with a loud cry, foul spirits came out of many possessed by them, and many paralytics and lame persons were restored to health. ⁸And there was great joy in that city.

Simon the Sorcerer

(Deuteronomy 18:9–14)

⁹Now for some time past there had been a man named Simon living there, who had been practising magic and astonishing the Samaritans, pretending that he was more than human. ¹⁰To him people of all classes paid attention, declaring, "This man is the Power of God, known as the great Power." ¹¹His influence over them arose from their having been, for a long time, bewildered by his sorceries. ¹²But when Philip began to tell the Good News about the Kingdom of God and about the Name of Jesus Christ, and they embraced the faith, they were baptized, men and women alike. ¹³Simon himself also believed, and after being baptized remained in close attendance on Philip, and was full of amazement at seeing such signs and such great miracles performed.

¹⁴When the Apostles in Jerusalem heard that the Samaritans had accepted God's Message, they sent Peter and John to visit them. ¹⁵They, when they came down, prayed for them that they might receive the Holy Spirit: ¹⁶for He had not as yet fallen upon any of them. They had only been baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. ¹⁷Then the Apostles placed their hands upon them, and they received the Holy Spirit. ¹⁸When, however, Simon saw that it was through the laying on of the Apostles' hands that the Spirit was bestowed, he offered them money. ¹⁹"Give me too," he said, "that power, so that every one on whom I place my hands will receive the Holy Spirit." ²⁰"Perish your money and yourself," replied Peter, "because you have imagined that you can obtain God's free gift with money! ²¹No part or lot have you in this matter, for your heart is not right in God's sight. ²²Repent, therefore, of this wickedness of yours, and pray to the Lord, in the hope that the purpose which is in your heart may perhaps be forgiven you. ²³For I perceive that you have fallen into the bitterest bondage of unrighteousness." ²⁴"Pray, both of you, to the Lord for me," answered Simon, "that nothing of what you have said may come upon me."

²⁵So the Apostles, after giving a solemn charge and delivering the Lord's Message, travelled back to Jerusalem, making known the Good News also in many of the Samaritan villages.

Philip and the Ethiopian

(Isaiah 53:1–8)

²⁶And an angel of the Lord said to Philip, "Rise and proceed south to the road that runs down from Jerusalem to Gaza, crossing the Desert." ²⁷Upon this he rose and went. Now, as it happened, an Ethiopian eunuch who was in a position of high authority with Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, as her treasurer, had visited Jerusalem to worship there, ²⁸and was now on his way home; and as he sat in his chariot he was reading the Prophet Isaiah. ²⁹Then the Spirit said to Philip, "Go and enter that chariot." ³⁰So Philip ran up and heard the eunuch reading the Prophet Isaiah. "Do you understand what you are reading?" he asked. ³¹"Why, how can I," replied the eunuch, "unless some one explains it to me?" And he earnestly invited Philip to come up and sit with him.

³²The passage of Scripture which he was reading was this: "Like a sheep He was led to slaughter, and just as a lamb before its shearer is dumb so He opened not His mouth.

³³In His humiliation justice was denied Him. Who will make known His posterity? For He is destroyed from among men."

34“Pray, of whom is the Prophet speaking?” inquired the eunuch; “of himself or of some one else?”
35Then Philip began to speak, and, commencing with that same portion of Scripture, told him the Good News about Jesus. 36So they proceeded on their way till they came to some water; and the eunuch exclaimed, “See, here is water; what is there to prevent my being baptized?” 37 38So he stopped the chariot; and both of them—Philip and the eunuch—went down into the water, and Philip baptized him.
39But no sooner had they come up out of the water than the Spirit of the Lord caught Philip away, and the eunuch did not see him again. With a glad heart he resumed his journey; 40but Philip found himself at Ashdod. Then visiting town after town he everywhere made known the Good News until he reached Caesarea.

The Road to Damascus

(Acts 22:1–21; Acts 26:1–23)

1Now Saul, whose every breath was a threat of destruction for the disciples of the Lord, 2went to the High Priest and begged from him letters addressed to the synagogues in Damascus, in order that if he found any believers there, either men or women, he might bring them in chains to Jerusalem. 3But on the journey, as he was getting near Damascus, suddenly there flashed round him a light from Heaven; 4and falling to the ground he heard a voice which said to him, “Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me?” 5“Who art thou, Lord?” he asked. “I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting,” was the reply.

6“But rise and go to the city, and you will be told what you are to do. 7Meanwhile the men who travelled with Saul were standing dumb with amazement, hearing a sound, but seeing no one. 8Then he rose from the ground, but when he had opened his eyes, he could not see, and they led him by the arm and brought him to Damascus. 9And for two days he remained without sight, and did not eat or drink anything.

Ananias Baptizes Saul

10Now in Damascus there was a disciple of the name of Ananias. The Lord spoke to him in a vision, saying, “Ananias!” “I am here, Lord,” he answered. 11“Rise,” said the Lord, “and go to Straight Street, and inquire at the house of Judas for a man called Saul, from Tarsus, for he is actually praying. 12He has seen a man called Ananias come and lay his hands upon him so that he may recover his sight.” 13“Lord,” answered Ananias, “I have heard about that man from many, and I have heard of the great mischief he has done to Thy people in Jerusalem; 14and here he is authorized by the High Priests to arrest all who call upon Thy name.” 15“Go,” replied the Lord; “he is a chosen instrument of Mine to carry My name to the Gentiles and to kings and to the descendants of Israel. 16For I will let him know the great sufferings which he must pass through for My sake.” 17So Ananias went and entered the house; and, laying his two hands upon Saul, said, “Saul, brother, the Lord—even Jesus who appeared to you on your journey—has sent me, that you may recover your sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit.” 18Instantly there dropped from his eyes what seemed to be scales, and he could see once more. Upon this he rose and received baptism; 19after which he took food and regained his strength. Then he remained some little time with the disciples in Damascus.

Saul Preaches at Damascus

20And in the synagogues he began at once to proclaim Jesus as the Son of God; 21and his hearers were all amazed, and began to ask one another, "Is not this the man who in Jerusalem tried to exterminate those who called upon that Name, and came here on purpose to carry them off in chains to the High Priests?" 22Saul, however, gained more and more influence, and as for the Jews living in Damascus, he bewildered them with his proofs that Jesus is the Christ.

The Escape from Damascus

23At length the Jews plotted to kill Saul; 24but information of their intention was given to him. They even watched the gates, day and night, in order to murder him; 25but his disciples took him by night and let him down through the wall, lowering him in a hamper.

Saul in Jerusalem

26So he came to Jerusalem and made several attempts to associate with the disciples, but they were all afraid of him, being in doubt as to whether he himself was a disciple. 27Barnabas, however, came to his assistance. He brought Saul to the Apostles, and related to them how, on his journey, he had seen the Lord, and that the Lord had spoken to him, and how in Damascus he had fearlessly taught in the name of Jesus. 28Henceforth Saul was one of them, going in and out of the city, 29and speaking fearlessly in the name of the Lord. And he often talked with the Hellenists and had discussions with them. 30But they kept trying to take his life. On learning this, the brethren brought him down to Caesarea, and then sent him by sea to Tarsus.

The Healing of Aeneas

31The Church, however, throughout the whole of Judaea, Galilee and Samaria, had peace and was spiritually built up; and grew in numbers, living in the fear of the Lord and receiving encouragement from the Holy Spirit.

32Now Peter, as he went to town after town, came down also to God's people at Lud. 33There he found a man of the name of Aeneas, who for eight years had kept his bed, through being paralysed. 34Peter said to him, "Aeneas, Jesus Christ cures you. Rise and make your own bed." He at once rose to his feet. 35And all the people of Lud and Sharon saw him; and they turned to the Lord.

The Raising of Tabitha

(John 11:38-44)

36Among the disciples at Jaffa was a woman called Tabitha, or, as the name may be translated, 'Dorcas.' Her life was wholly devoted to the good and charitable actions which she was constantly doing. 37But, as it happened, just at that time she was taken ill and died. After washing her body they laid it out in a room upstairs. 38Lud, however, being near Jaffa, the disciples, who had heard that Peter was at Lud, sent two men to him with an urgent request that he would come across to them without delay. 39So Peter rose and went with them. On his arrival they took him upstairs, and the widow women all came and stood by his side, weeping and showing him the underclothing and cloaks and garments of all kinds which Dorcas used to make while she was still with them. 40Peter, however, putting every one out of the room, knelt down and prayed, and then turning to the body, he said, "Tabitha, rise." Dorcas at once opened her eyes, and seeing Peter, sat up. 41Then, giving her his hand, he raised her to her feet and, calling to him God's people and the widows, he gave her back to them alive. 42This incident became known throughout Jaffa, and many believed in the Lord; 43and Peter remained for a considerable time at Jaffa, staying at the house of a man called Simon, a tanner.

Acts 10

Cornelius Sends for Peter

1Now a Captain of the Italian Regiment, named Cornelius, was quartered at Caesarea. 2He was religious and God-fearing—and so was every member of his household. He was also liberal in his charities to the people, and continually offered prayer to God. 3About three o'clock one afternoon he had a vision, and distinctly saw an angel of God enter his house, who called him by name, saying, "Cornelius!" 4Looking steadily at him, and being much alarmed, he said, "What do you want, Sir?" "Your prayers and charities," he replied, "have gone up and have been recorded before God. 5And now send to Jaffa and fetch Simon, surnamed Peter. 6He is staying as a guest with Simon, a tanner, who has a house close to the sea." 7So when the angel who had been speaking to him was gone, Cornelius called two of his servants and a God-fearing soldier who was in constant attendance on him, 8and, after telling them everything, he sent them to Jaffa.

Peter's Vision

(Leviticus 11:1–47; Deuteronomy 14:1–21)

9The next day, while they were still on their journey and were getting near the town, about noon Peter went up on the house-top to pray. 10He had become unusually hungry and wished for food; but, while they were preparing it, he fell into a trance. 11The sky had opened to his view, and what seemed to be an enormous sail was descending, being let down to the earth by ropes at the four corners. 12In it were all kinds of quadrupeds, reptiles and birds, 13and a voice came to him which said, "Rise, Peter, kill and eat." 14"On no account, Lord," he replied; "for I have never yet eaten anything unholy and impure." 15Again a second time a voice was heard which said, "What God has purified, you must not regard as unholy." 16This was said three times, and immediately the sail was drawn up out of sight.

Peter Called to Caesarea

17While Peter was greatly perplexed as to the meaning of the vision which he had seen, just then the men sent by Cornelius, having by inquiry found out Simon's house, 18had come to the door and had called the servant, and were asking, "Is Simon, surnamed Peter, staying here?" 19And Peter was still earnestly thinking over the vision, when the Spirit said to him, "Three men are now inquiring for you. 20Rise, go down, and go with them without any misgivings; for it is I who have sent them to you." 21So Peter went down and said to the men, "I am the Simon you are inquiring for. What is the reason of your coming?" 22Their reply was, "Cornelius, a Captain, an upright and God-fearing man, of whom the whole Jewish nation speaks well, has been divinely instructed by a holy angel to send for you to come to his house and listen to what you have to say." 23Upon hearing this, Peter invited them in, and gave them a lodging. The next day he set out with them, some of the brethren from Jaffa going with him,

Peter Visits Cornelius

24and the day after that they reached Caesarea. There Cornelius was awaiting their arrival, and had invited all his relatives and intimate friends to be present. 25When Peter entered the house, Cornelius met him, and threw himself at his feet to do him homage. 26But Peter lifted him up. "Stand up," he said; "I myself also am but a man." ²⁷So Peter went in and conversed with him, and found a large company assembled. ²⁸He said to them, "You know better than most that a Jew is strictly forbidden to associate with a Gentile or visit him; but God has taught me to call no one unholy or unclean. ²⁹So for this reason, when sent for, I came without raising any objection. I therefore ask why you sent for me."

³⁰"Just at this hour, three days ago," replied Cornelius, "I was offering afternoon prayer in my house, when suddenly a man in shining raiment stood in front of me, ³¹who said, "Cornelius, your prayer has been heard, and your charities have been put on record before God. ³²Send therefore to Jaffa, and invite Simon, surnamed Peter, to come here. He is staying as a guest in the house of Simon, a tanner, close to the sea.' ³³"Immediately, therefore, I sent to you, and I thank you heartily for having come. That is why all of us are now assembled here in God's presence, to listen to what the Lord has commanded you to say."

Good News for the Gentiles

³⁴Then Peter began to speak. "I clearly see," he said, "that God makes no distinctions between one man and another; ³⁵but that in every nation those who fear Him and live good lives are acceptable to Him. ³⁶The Message which He sent to the descendants of Israel, when He announced the Good News of peace through Jesus Christ—He is Lord of all—that Message you cannot but know; ³⁷the story, I mean, which has spread through the length and breadth of Judaea, beginning in Galilee after the baptism which John proclaimed. ³⁸It tells how God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and with power, so that He went about everywhere doing acts of kindness, and curing all who were being continually oppressed by the Devil—for God was with Jesus. ³⁹"And we are witnesses as to all that He did both in the country of the Jews and in Jerusalem. But they even put Him to death, by crucifixion. ⁴⁰That same Jesus God raised to life on the third day, and permitted Him to appear unmistakably, ⁴¹not to all the people, but to witnesses—men previously chosen by God—namely, to us, who ate and drank with Him after He rose from the dead. ⁴²And He has commanded us to preach to the people and solemnly declare that this is He who has been appointed by God to be the Judge of the living and the dead. ⁴³To Him all the Prophets bear witness, and testify that through His name all who believe in Him receive the forgiveness of their sins."

The Gentiles Receive the Holy Spirit

(Acts 19:1–7)

⁴⁴While Peter was speaking these words, the Holy Spirit fell on all who were listening to the Message. ⁴⁵And all the Jewish believers who had come with Peter were astonished that on the Gentiles also the gift of the Holy Spirit was poured out. ⁴⁶For they heard them speaking in tongues and extolling the majesty of God. Then Peter said, ⁴⁷"Can any one forbid the use of water, and object to these persons being baptized—men who have received the Holy Spirit just as we did?" ⁴⁸And he directed that they should be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. Then they begged him to remain with them for a time.

Peter's Report at Jerusalem

1Now the Apostles, and the brethren in various parts of Judaea, heard that the Gentiles also had received God's Message; 2and, when Peter returned to Jerusalem, the champions of circumcision found fault with him. 3"You went into the houses of men who are not Jews," they said, "and you ate with them." 4Peter, however, explained the whole matter to them from the beginning. 5"While I was in the town of Jaffa, offering prayer," he said, "in a trance I saw a vision. There descended what seemed to be an enormous sail, being let down from the sky by ropes at the four corners, and it came close to me. 6Fixing my eyes on it, I examined it closely, and saw various kinds of quadrupeds, wild beasts, reptiles and birds. 7I also heard a voice saying to me, 'Rise, Peter, kill and eat.' 8"On no account, Lord,' I replied, 'for nothing unholy or impure has ever gone into my mouth.' 9"But a voice answered, speaking a second time from the sky, "What God has purified, you must not regard as unholy.' 10"This was said three times, and then everything was drawn up again out of sight. 11"Now at that very moment three men came to the house where we were, having been sent from Caesarea to find me. 12And the Spirit told me to accompany them without any misgivings. There also went with me these six brethren who are now present, and we reached the Centurion's house. 13Then he described to us how he had seen the angel come and enter his house and say, "Send to Jaffa and fetch Simon, surnamed Peter. 14He will teach you truths by which you and all your family will be saved.'" 15"And," said Peter, "no sooner had I begun to speak than the Holy Spirit fell upon them, just as He fell upon us at the first. 16Then I remembered the Lord's words, how He used to say, "John baptized with water, but you shall be baptized in the Holy Spirit.' 17"If therefore God gave them the same gift as He gave us when we first believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, why, who was I to be able to thwart God?" 18This statement of Peter's silenced his opponents. They extolled the goodness of God, and said, "So, then, to the Gentiles also God has given the repentance which leads to Life."

The Church at Antioch

19Those, however, who had been driven in various directions by the persecution which broke out on account of Stephen made their way to Phoenicia, Cyprus and Antioch, delivering the Message to none but Jews. 20But some of them were Cyprians and Cyrenaeans, who, on coming to Antioch, spoke to the Greeks also and told them the Good News concerning the Lord Jesus. 21The power of the Lord was with them, and there were a vast number who believed and turned to the Lord. 22When tidings of this reached the ears of the Church in Jerusalem, they sent Barnabas as far as Antioch. 23On getting there he was delighted to see the grace which God had bestowed; and he encouraged them all to remain, with fixed resolve, faithful to the Lord. 24For he was a good man, and was full of the Holy Spirit and of faith; and the number of believers in the Lord greatly increased. 25Then Barnabas paid a visit to Tarsus to try to find Saul. 26He succeeded, and brought him to Antioch; and for a whole year they attended the meetings of the Church, and taught a large number of people. And it was in Antioch that the disciples first received the name of 'Christians.'

27At that time certain Prophets came down from Jerusalem to Antioch, 28one of whom, named Agabus, being instructed by the Spirit, publicly predicted the speedy coming of a great famine throughout the world. (It came in the reign of Claudius.) 29So the disciples decided to send relief, every one in proportion to his means, to the brethren living in Judaea. 30This they did, forwarding their contributions to the Elders by Barnabas and Saul.

Acts 12

James Killed, Peter Imprisoned

1Now, about that time, King Herod arrested certain members of the Church, in order to ill-treat them; 2and James, John's brother, he beheaded. 3Finding that this gratified the Jews, he proceeded to seize Peter also; these being the days of Unleavened Bread. 4He had him arrested and lodged in jail, handing him over to the care of sixteen soldiers; and intended after the Passover to bring him out again to the people.

The Rescue of Peter

5So Peter was kept in prison; but long and fervent prayer was offered to God by the Church on his behalf.

6Now when Herod was on the point of taking him out of prison, that very night Peter was asleep between two soldiers, bound with two chains, and guards were on duty outside the door. 7Suddenly an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shone in the cell; and, striking Peter on the side, he woke him and said, "Rise quickly." Instantly the chains dropped off his wrists. 8"Fasten your girdle," said the angel, "and tie on your sandals." He did so. Then the angel said, "Throw your cloak round you, and follow me." 9So Peter went out, following him, yet could not believe that what the angel was doing was real, but supposed that he saw a vision. 10And passing through the first ward and the second, they came to the iron gate leading into the city. This opened to them of itself; and, going out, they passed on through one of the streets, and then suddenly the angel left him. 11Peter coming to himself said, "Now I know for certain that the Lord has sent His angel and has rescued me from the power of Herod and from all that the Jewish people were anticipating." 12So, after thinking things over, he went to the house of Mary, the mother of John surnamed Mark, where a large number of people were assembled, praying. 13When he knocked at the wicket in the door, a maidservant named Rhoda came to answer the knock; 14and recognizing Peter's voice, for very joy she did not open the door, but ran in and told them that Peter was standing there. 15"You are mad," they said. But she strenuously maintained that it was true. "It is his guardian angel," they said. 16Meanwhile Peter went on knocking, until at last they opened the door and saw that it was really he, and were filled with amazement. 17But he motioned with his hand for silence, and then described to them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. "Tell all this to James and the brethren," he added. Then he left them, and went to another place.

18When morning came, there was no little commotion among the soldiers, as to what could possibly have become of Peter. 19And when Herod had had him searched for and could not find him, after sharply questioning the guards he ordered them away to execution. He then went down from Judaea to Caesarea and remained there.

The Death of Herod

20Now the people of Tyre and Sidon had incurred Herod's violent displeasure. So they sent a large deputation to wait on him; and having secured the good will of Blastus, his treasurer, they begged the king to be friendly with them again, because their country was dependent on his for its food supply. 21So, on an appointed day, Herod, having arrayed himself in royal robes, took his seat on the tribunal, and was haranguing them; 22and the assembled people kept shouting, "It is the voice of a god, and not of a man!" 23Instantly an angel of the Lord struck him, because he had not given the glory to God, and being eaten up by worms, he died.

24But God's Message prospered, and converts were multiplied.

25And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, having discharged their mission, and they brought with them John, surnamed Mark.

Acts 13

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

Paul's First Missionary Journey Begins

(Acts 15:36–41; Acts 18:23–28)

1Now there were in Antioch, in the Church there—as Prophets and teachers—barnabas, Symeon surnamed 'the black,' Lucius the Cyrenaeon, Manaen (who was Herod the Tetrarch's foster-brother)

2While they were worshipping the Lord and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, "Set apart for Me, now at once, Barnabas and Saul, for the work to which I have called them." 3So, after fasting and prayer and the laying on of hands, they let them go.

On Cyprus

4They therefore, being thus sent out by the Holy Spirit, went down to Seleuceia, and from there sailed to Cyprus. 5Having reached Salamis, they began to announce God's Message in the synagogues of the Jews. And they had John as their assistant. 6When they had gone through the whole length of the island as far as Paphos, they there met with a Jewish magician and false prophet, Bar-Jesus by name, 7who was a friend of the Proconsul Sergius Paulus. The Proconsul was a man of keen intelligence. He sent for Barnabas and Saul, and asked to be told God's Message. 8But Elymas (or 'the Magician,' for such is the meaning of the name) 9Then Saul, who is also called Paul, was filled with the Holy Spirit, and, fixing his eyes on Elymas, 10said, "You who are full of every kind of craftiness and unscrupulous cunning—you son of the Devil and foe to all that is right—will you never cease to misrepresent the straight paths of the Lord? 11The Lord's hand is now upon you, and you will be blind for a time and unable to see the light of day." Instantly there fell upon him a mist and a darkness, and, as he walked about, he begged people to lead him by the hand. 12Then the Proconsul, seeing what had happened, believed, being struck with amazement at the teaching of the Lord.

In Pisidian Antioch

13From Paphos, Paul and his party put out to sea and sailed to Perga in Pamphylia. John, however, left them and returned to Jerusalem. 14But they themselves, passing through from Perga, came to Antioch in Pisidia. Here, on the Sabbath day, they went into the synagogue and sat down. 15After the reading of the Law and the Prophets, the Wardens of the synagogue sent word to them. "Brethren," they said, "if you have anything encouraging to say to the people, speak." 16So Paul rose, and motioning with his hand for silence, said, "Israelites, and you others who fear God, pay attention to me. 17The God of this people of Israel chose our forefathers, and made the people great during their stay in Egypt, until with wondrous power He brought them out from that land. 18For a period of about forty years, He fed them, like a nurse, in the Desert. 19Then, after overthrowing seven nations in the land of Canaan, He divided that country among them as their inheritance for about four hundred and fifty years; 20and afterwards He gave them judges down to the time of the Prophet Samuel. 21Next they asked for a king, and God gave them Saul the son of Kish, a Benjamite, who reigned forty years. 22After removing him, He raised up David to be their king, to whom He also bore witness when He said, "I have found David the son of Jesse, a man I love, who will obey all My commands." ²³"It is from among David's descendants that God, in fulfilment of His promise, has raised up a Saviour for Israel, even Jesus. ²⁴Before the coming of Jesus, John had proclaimed to all the people of Israel a baptism of repentance. ²⁵But John, towards the end of his career, repeatedly asked the people, "What do you suppose me to be? I am not the Christ. But there is One coming after me whose sandal I am not worthy to unfasten."

²⁶"Brethren, descendants of the family of Abraham, and all among you who fear God, to us has this Message of salvation been sent. ²⁷For the people of Jerusalem and their rulers, by the judgement they pronounced on Jesus, have actually fulfilled the predictions of the Prophets which are read Sabbath after Sabbath, through ignorance of those predictions and of Him. ²⁸Without having found Him guilty of any capital offence they urged Pilate to have Him put to death; ²⁹and when they had carried out everything which had been written about Him, they took Him down from the cross and laid Him in a tomb. ³⁰"But God raised Him from the dead. ³¹And, after a few days, He appeared to the people who had gone up with Him from Galilee to Jerusalem and are now witnesses concerning Him to the Jews. ³²And we bring you the Good News about the promise made to our forefathers, ³³that God has amply fulfilled it to our children in raising up Jesus; as it is also written in the second Psalm, 'Thou art My Son: to-day I have become Thy Father.' ³⁴And as to His having raised Him from among the dead, never again to be in the position of one soon to return to decay, He speaks thus: 'I will give you the holy and trustworthy promises made to David.' ³⁵Because in another Psalm also He says, 'Thou wilt not give up Thy Holy One to undergo decay.' ³⁶For David, after having been useful to his own generation in accordance with God's purpose, did fall asleep, was gathered to his forefathers, and did undergo decay. ³⁷But He whom God raised to life underwent no decay. ³⁸"Understand therefore, brethren, that through this Jesus forgiveness of sins is announced to you; ³⁹and in Him every believer is absolved from all offences, from which you could not be absolved under the Law of Moses. ⁴⁰Beware, then, lest what is spoken in the Prophets should come true of you:

⁴¹Behold, you despisers, be astonished and perish, because I am carrying on a work in your time—a work which you will utterly refuse to believe, though it be fully declared to you."

A Light for the Gentiles

(Isaiah 49:1–6)

⁴²As Paul and Barnabas were leaving the synagogue, the people earnestly begged to have all this repeated to them on the following Sabbath. ⁴³And, when the congregation had broken up, many of the Jews and of the devout converts from heathenism continued with Paul and Barnabas, who talked to them and urged them to hold fast to the grace of God.

⁴⁴On the next Sabbath almost the whole population of the city came together to hear the Lord's Message. ⁴⁵Seeing the crowds, the Jews, filled with angry jealousy, opposed Paul's statements and abused him. ⁴⁶Then, throwing off all reserve, Paul and Barnabas said, "We were bound to proclaim God's Message to you first. But since you spurn it and judge yourselves to be unworthy of the Life of the Ages—well, we turn to the Gentiles.

⁴⁷For such is the Lord's command to us. "I have placed Thee,' He says of Christ, 'as a light to the Gentiles, in order that Thou mayest be a Saviour as far as the remotest parts of the earth.'"

⁴⁸The Gentiles listened with delight and extolled the Lord's Message; and all who were pre-destined to the Life of the Ages believed. ⁴⁹So the Lord's Message spread through the whole district. ⁵⁰But the Jews influenced the gentlewomen of rank who worshipped with them, and also the leading men in the city, and stirred up persecution against Paul and Barnabas and drove them out of the district. ⁵¹But they shook off the dust from their feet as a protest against them and came to Iconium; ⁵²and as for the disciples, they were more and more filled with joy and with the Holy Spirit.

Acts 14

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

Paul and Barnabas at Iconium

¹At Iconium the Apostles went together to the Jewish synagogue and preached, with the result that a great number both of Jews and Greeks believed. ²But the Jews who had refused obedience stirred up the Gentiles and embittered their minds against the brethren. ³Yet Paul and Barnabas remained there for a considerable time, speaking freely and relying on the Lord, while He bore witness to the Message of His grace by permitting signs and marvels to be done by them. ⁴At length the people of the city split into parties, some siding with the Jews and some with the Apostles. ⁵And when a hostile movement was made by both Gentiles and Jews, with the sanction of their magistrates, to maltreat and stone them, ⁶the Apostles, having become aware of it, made their escape into the Lycaonian towns of Lystra and Derbe, and the neighbouring country. ⁷And there they continued to tell the Good News.

The Visit to Lystra and Derbe

⁸Now a man who had no power in his feet used to sit in the streets of Lystra. He had been lame from his birth and had never walked. ⁹After this man had listened to one of Paul's sermons, the Apostle, looking steadily at him and perceiving that he had faith to be cured, ¹⁰said in a loud voice, "Stand upright upon your feet!" ¹¹So he sprang up and began to walk about. Then the crowds, seeing what Paul had done, rent the air with their shouts in the Lycaonian language, saying, "The gods have assumed human form and have come down to us." ¹²They called Barnabas 'Zeus,' and Paul, as being the principal speaker, 'Hermes.' ¹³And the priest of Zeus—the temple of Zeus being at the entrance to the city—brought bullocks and garlands to the gates, and in company with the crowd was intending to offer sacrifices to them. ¹⁴But the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it; and tearing their clothes they rushed out into the middle of the crowd, exclaiming, "Sirs, why are you doing all this? ¹⁵We also are but men, with natures kindred to your own; and we bring you the Good News that you are to turn from these unreal things, to worship the ever-living God, the Creator of earth and sky and sea and of everything that is in them. ¹⁶In times gone by He allowed all the nations to go their own ways; ¹⁷and yet by His beneficence He has not left His existence unattested—His beneficence, I mean, in sending you rain from Heaven and fruitful seasons, satisfying your hearts with food and joyfulness." ¹⁸Even with words like these they had difficulty in preventing the thronging crowd from offering sacrifices to them.

¹⁹But now a party of Jews came from Antioch and Iconium, and, having won over the crowd, they stoned Paul and dragged him out of the town, believing him to be dead. ²⁰When, however, the disciples had collected round him, he rose and went back into the town. The next day he went with Barnabas to Derbe;

Strengthening the Disciples

21and, after proclaiming the Good News to the people there and gaining a large number of converts, they retraced their steps to Lystra, Iconium, and Antioch. 22Everywhere they strengthened the disciples by encouraging them to hold fast to the faith, and warned them saying, "It is through many afflictions that we must make our way into the Kingdom of God." 23And in every Church, after prayer and fasting, they selected Elders by show of hands, and commended them to the Lord on whom their faith rested.

24Then passing through Pisidia they came into Pamphylia; 25and after telling the Message at Perga they came down to Attaleia.

26Thence they sailed to Antioch, where they had previously been commended to the grace of God in connexion with the work which they had now completed. 27Upon their arrival they called the Church together and proceeded to report in detail all that God, working with them, had done, and how He had opened for the Gentiles the door of faith. 28And they remained a considerable time in Antioch with the disciples.

Acts 15

The Dispute over Circumcision

1But certain persons who had come down from Judaea tried to convince the brethren, saying, "Unless you are circumcised in accordance with the Mosaic custom, you cannot be saved." 2Between these new comers and Paul and Barnabas there was no little disagreement and controversy, until at last it was decided that Paul and Barnabas and some other brethren should go up to consult the Apostles and Elders in Jerusalem on this matter. 3So they set out, being accompanied for a short distance by some other members of the Church; and as they passed through Phoenicia and Samaria, they told the whole story of the conversion of the Gentiles and inspired all the brethren with great joy. 4Upon their arrival in Jerusalem they were cordially received by the Church, the Apostles, and the Elders; and they reported in detail all that God, working with them, had done.

The Council at Jerusalem

(Amos 9:11–15; Galatians 2:1–10)

5But certain men who had belonged to the sect of the Pharisees but were now believers, stood up in the assembly, and said, "Yes, Gentile believers ought to be circumcised and be ordered to keep the Law of Moses."

6Then the Apostles and Elders met to consider the matter; 7and after there had been a long discussion Peter rose to his feet. "It is within your own knowledge," he said, "that God originally made choice among you that from my lips the Gentiles were to hear the Message of the Good News, and believe. 8And God, who knows all hearts, gave His testimony in their favour by bestowing the Holy Spirit on them just as He did on us; 9and He made no difference between us and them, in that He cleansed their hearts by their faith. 10Now, therefore, why try an experiment upon God, by laying on the necks of these disciples a yoke which neither our forefathers nor we have been able to bear? 11On the contrary, we believe that it is by the grace of the Lord Jesus that we, as well as they, shall be saved."

12Then the whole assembly remained silent while they listened to the statement made by Paul and Barnabas as to all the signs and marvels that God had done among the Gentiles through their instrumentality.

13When they had finished speaking, James said, "Brethren, listen to me. 14Symeon has related how God first looked graciously on the Gentiles to take from among them a People to be called by His name.

15And this is in harmony with the language of the Prophets, which says:

16"Afterwards I will return, and will rebuild David's fallen tent. Its ruins I will rebuild, and I will set it up again;

17In order that the rest of mankind may earnestly seek the Lord—even all the nations which are called by My name," 18Says the Lord, who has been making these things known from ages long past.' 19"My judgement, therefore, is against inflicting unexpected annoyance on those of the Gentiles who are turning to God.

20Yet let us send them written instructions to abstain from things polluted by connexion with idolatry, from fornication, from meat killed by strangling, and from blood. 21For Moses from the earliest times has had his preachers in every town, being read, as he is, Sabbath after Sabbath, in the various synagogues."

The Letter to the Gentile Believers

22Thereupon it was decided by the Apostles and Elders, with the approval of the whole Church, to choose suitable persons from among themselves and send them to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas. Judas, called Bar-sabbas, and Silas, leading men among the brethren, were selected, 23and they took with them the following letter: "The Apostles and the elder brethren send greeting to the Gentile brethren throughout Antioch, Syria and Cilicia. 24As we have been informed that certain persons who have gone out from among us have disturbed you by their teaching and have unsettled your minds, without having received any such instructions from us; 25we have unanimously decided to select certain men and send them to you in company with our dear friends Barnabas and Paul, 26who have endangered their very lives for the sake of our Lord Jesus Christ. 27We have therefore sent Judas and Silas, who are themselves bringing you the same message by word of mouth. 28For it has seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us to lay upon you no burden heavier than these necessary requirements— 29You must abstain from things sacrificed to idols, from blood, from things strangled, and from fornication. Keep yourselves clear of these things, and it will be well with you. Farewell."

The Believers at Antioch Rejoice

30They, therefore, having been solemnly sent, came down to Antioch, where they called together the whole assembly and delivered the letter. 31The people read it, and were delighted with the comfort it brought them. 32And Judas and Silas, being themselves also Prophets, gave them a long and encouraging talk, and strengthened them in the faith. 33After spending some time there they received an affectionate farewell from the brethren to return to those who had sent them. 34 35But Paul and Barnabas remained in Antioch, teaching and, in company with many others, telling the Good News of the Lord's Message.

Paul's Second Missionary Journey Begins

(Acts 13:1-3; Acts 18:23-28)

36After a while Paul said to Barnabas, "Suppose we now revisit the brethren in the various towns in which we have made known the Lord's Message—to see whether they are prospering!" 37Barnabas, however, was bent on taking with them John, whose other name was Mark, 38while Paul deemed it undesirable to have as their companion one who had deserted them in Pamphylia and had not gone on with them to the work. 39So there arose a serious disagreement between them, which resulted in their parting from one another, Barnabas taking Mark and setting sail for Cyprus.

40But Paul chose Silas as his travelling companion; and set out, after being commended by the brethren to the grace of the Lord; 41and he passed through Syria and Cilicia, strengthening the Churches.

Timothy Joins Paul and Silas

1He also came to Derbe and to Lystra. At Lystra he found a disciple, Timothy by name—the son of a Christian Jewess, though he had a Greek father. 2Timothy was well spoken of by the brethren at Lystra and Iconium, 3and Paul desiring that he should accompany him on his journey, took him and circumcised him on account of the Jews in those parts, for they all knew that his father was a Greek. 4As they journeyed on from town to town, they handed to the brethren for their observance the decisions which had been arrived at by the Apostles and Elders in Jerusalem. 5So the Churches went on gaining a stronger faith and growing in numbers from day to day.

Paul's Vision of the Macedonian

6Then Paul and his companions passed through Phrygia and Galatia, having been forbidden by the Holy Spirit to proclaim the Message in the province of Asia. 7When they reached the frontier of Mysia, they were about to enter Bithynia, but the Spirit of Jesus would not permit this. 8So, passing along Mysia, they came to Troas. 9Here, one night, Paul saw a vision. There was a Macedonian who was standing, entreating him and saying, "Come over into Macedonia and help us." 10So when he had seen the vision, we immediately looked out for an opportunity of passing on into Macedonia, confidently inferring that God had called us to proclaim the Good News to the people there.

Lydia's Conversion in Philippi

(Revelation 2:18–29)

11Accordingly we put out to sea from Troas, and ran a straight course to Samothrace. The next day we came to Neapolis, 12and thence to Philippi, which is a city in Macedonia, the first in its district, a Roman colony. And there we stayed some little time. 13On the Sabbath we went beyond the city gate to the riverside, where we had reason to believe that there was a place for prayer; and sitting down we talked with the women who had come together.

14Among our hearers was one named Lydia, a dealer in purple goods. She belonged to the city of Thyateira, and was a worshipper of the true God. The Lord opened her heart, so that she gave attention to what Paul was saying. 15When she and her household had been baptized, she urged us, saying, "If in your judgement I am a believer in the Lord, come and stay at my house." And she made us go there.

Paul and Silas Imprisoned

16One day, as we were on our way to the place of prayer, a slave girl met us who claimed to be inspired and was accustomed to bring her owners large profits by telling fortunes. 17She kept following close behind Paul and the rest of us, crying aloud, "These men are the bondservants of the Most High God, and are proclaiming to you the way of salvation." 18This she persisted in for a considerable time, until Paul, wearied out, turned round and said to the spirit, "I command you in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her." And it came out immediately.

19But when her owners saw that their hopes of gain were gone, they seized Paul and Silas and dragged them off to the magistrates in the public square. 20Then they brought them before the praetors. "These men," they said, "are creating a great disturbance in our city. 21They are Jews, and are teaching customs which we, as Romans, are not permitted to adopt or practise."

22The crowd, too, joined in the outcry against them, till at length the praetors ordered them to be stripped and beaten with rods; 23and, after severely flogging them, they threw them into jail and bade the jailer keep them safely. 24He, having received an order like that, lodged them in the inner prison, and secured their feet in the stocks.

The Conversion of the Jailer

25About midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God, and the prisoners were listening to them, 26when suddenly there was such a violent shock of earthquake that the prison shook to its foundations. Instantly the doors all flew open, and the chains fell off from every prisoner. 27Starting up from sleep and seeing the doors of the jail wide open, the jailer drew his sword and was on the point of killing himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. 28But Paul shouted loudly to him, saying, "Do yourself no injury: we are all here. 29Then, calling for lights, he sprang in and fell trembling at the feet of Paul and Silas; 30and, bringing them out of the prison, he exclaimed, "O sirs, what must I do to be saved?"

31"Believe on the Lord Jesus," they replied, "and both you and your household will be saved." 32And they told the Lord's Message to him as well as to all who were in his house. 33Then he took them, even at that time of night, washed their wounds, and he and all his household were immediately baptized; 34and bringing the Apostles up into his house, he spread a meal for them, and was filled with gladness, with his whole household, his faith resting on God.

An Official Apology

35In the morning the praetors sent their lictors with the order, "Release those men." 36So the jailer brought Paul word, saying, "The praetors have sent orders for you to be released. Now therefore you can go, and proceed on your way in peace." 37But Paul said to them, "After cruelly beating us in public, without trial, Roman citizens though we are, they have thrown us into prison, and are they now going to send us away privately? No, indeed! Let them come in person and fetch us out." 38This answer the lictors took back to the praetors, who were alarmed when they were told that Paul and Silas were Roman citizens. 39Accordingly they came and apologized to them; and, bringing them out, asked them to leave the city. 40Then Paul and Silas, having come out of the prison, went to Lydia's house; and, after seeing the brethren and encouraging them, they left Philippi.

The Uproar in Thessalonica

1Then, passing through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they went to Thessalonica. Here there was a synagogue of the Jews. 2Paul—following his usual custom—betook himself to it, and for three successive Sabbaths reasoned with them from the Scriptures, 3which he clearly explained, pointing out that it had been necessary for the Christ to suffer and rise again from the dead, and insisting, “The Jesus whom I am announcing to you is the Christ.” 4Some of the people were won over, and attached themselves to Paul and Silas, including many God-fearing Greeks and not a few gentlewomen of high rank.

The Character of the Bereans

10The brethren at once sent Paul and Silas away by night to Berea, and they, on their arrival, went to the synagogue of the Jews. 11The Jews at Berea were of a nobler disposition than those in Thessalonica, for they very readily received the Message, and day after day searched the Scriptures to see whether it was as Paul stated. 12As the result many of them became believers, and so did not a few of the Greeks—gentlewomen of good position, and men. 13As soon, however, as the Jews of Thessalonica learnt that God’s Message had been proclaimed by Paul at Berea, they came there also, and incited the mob to a riot. 14Then the brethren promptly sent Paul down to the sea-coast, but Silas and Timothy remained behind. 15Those who were caring for Paul’s safety went with him as far as Athens, and then left him, taking a message from him to Silas and Timothy, asking them to join him as speedily as possible.

Paul in Athens

16While Paul was waiting for them in Athens, his spirit was stirred within him when he noticed that the city was full of idols. 17So he had discussions in the synagogue with the Jews and the other worshippers, and in the market place, day after day, with those whom he happened to meet. 18A few of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers also encountered him. Some of them asked, “What has this beggarly babbler to say?” “His business,” said others, “seems to be to cry up some foreign gods.” This was because he had been telling the Good News of Jesus and the Resurrection. 19Then they took him and brought him up to the Areopagus, asking him, “May we be told what this new teaching of yours is?” 20For the things you are saying sound strange to us. We should therefore like to be told exactly what they mean.” 21

Paul’s Address in the Areopagus

22So Paul, taking his stand in the centre of the Areopagus, spoke as follows: "Men of Athens, I perceive that you are in every respect remarkably religious. 23For as I passed along and observed the things you worship, I found also an altar bearing the inscription, 'TO AN UNKNOWN GOD.' "The Being, therefore, whom you, without knowing Him, revere, Him I now proclaim to you. 24GOD who made the universe and everything in it—He, being Lord of Heaven and earth, does not dwell in sanctuaries built by men. 25Nor is He ministered to by human hands, as though He needed anything—but He Himself gives to all men life and breath and all things. 26He caused to spring from one forefather people of every race, for them to live on the whole surface of the earth, and marked out for them an appointed span of life and the boundaries of their homes; 27that they might seek God, if perhaps they could grope for Him and find Him. Yes, though He is not far from any one of us. 28For it is in closest union with Him that we live and move and have our being; as in fact some of the poets in repute among yourselves have said, 'For we are also His offspring.' 29Since then we are God's offspring, we ought not to imagine that His nature resembles gold or silver or marble, or anything sculptured by the art and inventive faculty of man. 30Those times of ignorance God viewed with indulgence. But now He commands all men everywhere to repent, 31seeing that He has appointed a day on which, before long, He will judge the world in righteousness, through the instrumentality of a man whom He has pre-destined to this work, and has made the fact certain to every one by raising Him from the dead."

32When they heard Paul speak of a resurrection of dead men, some began to scoff. But others said, "We will hear you again on that subject." 33So Paul went away from them. 34A few, however, attached themselves to him and believed, among them being Dionysius a member of the Council, a gentlewoman named Damaris, and some others.

Paul Ministers in Corinth

(1 Corinthians 1:1–3; 2 Corinthians 1:1–2)

1After this he left Athens and came to Corinth. 2Here he found a Jew, a native of Pontus, of the name of Aquila. He and his wife Priscilla had recently come from Italy because of Claudius's edict expelling all the Jews from Rome. So Paul paid them a visit; 3and because he was of the same trade—that of tent-maker—he lodged with them and worked with them. 4But, Sabbath after Sabbath, he preached in the synagogue and tried to win over both Jews and Greeks.

5Now at the time when Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul was preaching fervently and was solemnly telling the Jews that Jesus is the Christ. 6But upon their opposing him with abusive language, he shook his clothes by way of protest, and said to them, "Your ruin will be upon your own heads. I am not responsible: in future I will go among the Gentiles." 7So he left the place and went to the house of a person called Titius Justus, a worshipper of the true God. His house was next door to the synagogue. 8And Crispus, the Warden of the synagogue, believed in the Lord, and so did all his household; and from time to time many of the Corinthians who heard Paul believed and received baptism. 9And, in a vision by night, the Lord said to Paul, "Dismiss your fears: go on speaking, and do not give up. 10I am with you, and no one shall attack you to injure you; for I have very many people in this city." 11So Paul remained in Corinth for a year and six months, teaching among them the Message of God.

Paul before Gallio

12But when Gallio became Proconsul of Greece, the Jews with one accord made a dead set at Paul, and brought him before the court. 13“This man,” they said, “is inducing people to offer unlawful worship to God.” 14But, when Paul was about to begin his defence, Gallio said to the Jews, “If it had been some wrongful act or piece of cunning knavery I might reasonably have listened to you Jews. 15But since these are questions about words and names and your Law, you yourselves must see to them. I refuse to be a judge in such matters.” 16So he ordered them out of court. 17Then the people all set upon Sosthenes, the Warden of the synagogue, and beat him severely in front of the court. Gallio did not concern himself in the least about this.

Paul Returns to Antioch

18After remaining a considerable time longer in Corinth, Paul took leave of the brethren and set sail for Syria; and Priscilla and Aquila were with him. He had shaved his head at Cenchreae, because he was bound by a vow. 19They put in at Ephesus, and there Paul left his companions behind. As for himself, he went to the synagogue and had a discussion with the Jews. 20When they asked him to remain longer he did not consent, 21but took leave of them with the promise, “I will return to you, God willing.” So he set sail from Ephesus.

22Landing at Caesarea, he went up to Jerusalem and inquired after the welfare of the Church, and then went down to Antioch.

Paul’s Third Missionary Journey Begins

(Acts 13:1–3; Acts 15:36–41)

23After spending some time in Antioch, Paul set out on a tour, visiting the whole of Galatia and Phrygia in order, and strengthening all the disciples.

24Meanwhile a Jew named Apollos came to Ephesus. He was a native of Alexandria, a man of great learning and well versed in the Scriptures. 25He had been instructed by word of mouth in the way of the Lord, and, being full of burning zeal, he used to speak and teach accurately the facts about Jesus, though he knew of no baptism but John’s. 26He began to speak boldly in the synagogue, and Priscilla and Aquila, after hearing him, took him home and explained God’s way to him more accurately. 27Then, as he had made up his mind to cross over into Greece, the brethren wrote to the disciples in Corinth begging them to give him a kindly welcome. Upon his arrival he rendered valuable help to those who through grace had believed; 28for he powerfully and in public overcame the Jews in argument, proving to them from the Scriptures that Jesus is the Christ.

The Holy Spirit Received at Ephesus

(Acts 10:44–48)

1During the stay of Apollos in Corinth, Paul, after passing through the inland districts, came to Ephesus, where he found a few disciples. 2“Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you first believed?” he asked them. "No," they replied, "we did not even hear that there is a Holy Spirit." ³"Into what then were you baptized?" he asked. "Into John's baptism," they replied. ⁴"John," he said, "administered a baptism of repentance, bidding the people believe on One who was to come after him; namely, on Jesus." ⁵On hearing this, they were baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus; ⁶and when Paul laid his hands upon them, the Holy Spirit came on them, and they began to speak in tongues and to prophesy. ⁷They numbered in all about twelve men.

Paul Ministers in Ephesus

(Ephesians 1:1–2; Revelation 2:1–7)

⁸Afterwards he went into the synagogue. There for three months he continued to preach fearlessly, explaining in words which carried conviction the truths which concern the Kingdom of God. ⁹But some grew obstinate in unbelief and spoke evil of the new faith before all the congregation. So Paul left them, and, taking with him those who were disciples, held discussions daily in Tyrannus's lecture-hall. ¹⁰This went on for two years, so that all the inhabitants of the province of Asia, Jews as well as Greeks, heard the Lord's Message.

¹¹God also brought about extraordinary miracles through Paul's instrumentality. ¹²Towels or aprons, for instance, which Paul had handled used to be carried to the sick, and they recovered from their ailments, or the evil spirits left them.

Seven Sons of Sceva

¹³But there were also some wandering Jewish exorcists who undertook to invoke the name of Jesus over those who had the evil spirits, saying, "I command you by that Jesus whom Paul preaches."

¹⁴There were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew of high-priestly family, who were doing this. ¹⁵"Jesus I know," the evil spirit answered, "and Paul I have heard of, but who are you?" ¹⁶And the man in whom the evil spirit was sprang on two of them, over-mastered them both, and treated them with such violence, that they fled from the house stripped of their clothes and wounded. ¹⁷All the people of Ephesus, Jews as well as Greeks, came to know of this. There was widespread terror, and they began to hold the name of the Lord Jesus in high honour. ¹⁸Many also of those who believed came confessing without reserve what their conduct had been, ¹⁹and not a few of those who had practised magical arts brought their books together and burnt them in the presence of all. The total value was reckoned and found to be 50,000 silver coins. ²⁰Thus mightily did the Lord's Message spread and triumph!

The Riot in Ephesus

²¹When matters had reached this point, Paul decided in his own mind to travel through Macedonia and Greece, and go to Jerusalem. "After that," he said, "I must also see Rome." ²²But he sent two of his assistants, Timothy and Erastus, to Macedonia, while he himself remained for a while in Roman Asia.

²³Now just at that time there arose no small commotion about the new faith. ²⁴There was a certain Demetrius, a silversmith, who made miniature silver sanctuaries of Diana, a business which brought great gain to the mechanics in his employ. ²⁵He called his workmen together, and others who were engaged in similar trades, and said to them, "You men well know that our prosperity depends on this business of ours; ²⁶and you see and hear that, not in Ephesus only but throughout almost the whole province of Asia, this fellow Paul has led away a vast number of people by inducing them to believe that they are not gods at all that are made by men's hands. ²⁷There is danger, therefore, not only that this our trade will become of no account, but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana will fall into utter disrepute, and that before long she will be actually deposed from her majestic rank—she who is now worshipped by the whole province of Asia; nay, by the whole world.”

28After listening to this harangue, they became furiously angry and kept calling out, “Great is the Ephesian Diana!” 29The riot and uproar spread through the whole city, till at last with one accord they rushed into the Theatre, dragging with them Gaius and Aristarchus, two Macedonians who were fellow travellers with Paul. 30Then Paul would have liked to go in and address the people, but the disciples would not let him do so. 31A few of the public officials, too, who were friendly to him, sent repeated messages entreating him not to venture into the Theatre. 32The people, meanwhile, kept shouting, some one thing and some another; for the assembly was all uproar and confusion, and the greater part had no idea why they had come together. 33Then some of the people crowded round Alexander, whom the Jews had pushed forward; and Alexander, motioning with his hand to get silence, was prepared to make a defence to the people. 34No sooner, however, did they see that he was a Jew, than there arose from them all one roar of shouting, lasting about two hours. “Great is the Ephesian Diana,” they said. 35At length the Recorder quieted them down. “Men of Ephesus,” he said, “who is there of all mankind that needs to be told that the city of Ephesus is the guardian of the temple of the great Diana and of the image which fell down from Zeus? 36These facts, then, being unquestioned, it becomes you to maintain your self-control and not act recklessly. 37For you have brought these men here, who are neither robbers of temples nor blasphemers of our goddess. 38If, however, Demetrius and the mechanics who support his contention have a grievance against any one, there are Assize-days and there are Proconsuls: let the persons interested accuse one another. 39But if you desire anything further, it will have to be settled in the regular assembly. 40For in connexion with to-day’s proceedings there is danger of our being charged with attempted insurrection, there having been no real reason for this riot; nor shall we be able to justify the behaviour of this disorderly mob.” 41With these words he dismissed the assembly.

Paul in Macedonia and Greece

1When the uproar had ceased, Paul sent for the disciples; and, after speaking words of encouragement to them, he took his leave, and started for Macedonia. 2Passing through those districts he encouraged the disciples in frequent addresses, and then came into Greece, and spent three months there. 3The Jews having planned to waylay him whenever he might be on the point of taking ship for Syria, he decided to travel back by way of Macedonia. 4He was accompanied as far as the province of Asia by Sopater the Berean, the son of Pyrrhus; by the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus; by Gaius of Derbe, and Timothy; and by the Asians, Tychicus and Trophimus. 5These brethren had gone on and were waiting for us in the Troad. 6But we ourselves sailed from Philippi after the days of Unleavened Bread, and five days later joined them in the Troad, where we remained for a week.

Eutychus Revived at Troas

(2 Kings 4:18–37)

7On the first day of the week, when we had met to break bread, Paul, who was going away the next morning, was preaching to them, and prolonged his discourse till midnight. 8Now there were a good many lamps in the room upstairs where we all were, 9and a youth of the name of Eutychus was sitting at the window. This lad, gradually sinking into deep sleep while Paul preached at unusual length, overcome at last by sleep, fell from the second floor and was taken up dead. 10Paul, however, went down, threw himself upon him, and folding him in his arms said, "Do not be alarmed; his life is still in him." 11Then he went upstairs again, broke bread, and took some food; and after a long conversation which was continued till daybreak, at last he parted from them. 12They had taken the lad home alive, and were greatly comforted.

From Troas to Miletus

13The rest of us had already gone on board a ship, and now we set sail for Assos, intending to take Paul on board there; for so he had arranged, he himself intending to go by land. 14Accordingly, when he met us at Assos, we took him on board and came to Mitylene. 15Sailing from there, we arrived the next day off Chios. On the next we touched at Samos; and on the day following reached Miletus. 16For Paul's plan was to sail past Ephesus, so as not to spend much time in the province of Asia; since he was very desirous of being in Jerusalem, if possible, on the day of the Harvest Festival.

Paul's Farewell to the Ephesians

17From Miletus he sent to Ephesus for the Elders of the Church to come to him. 18Upon their arrival he said to them, "You Elders well know, from the first day of my setting foot in the province of Asia, the kind of life I lived among you the whole time, 19serving the Lord in all humility, and with tears, and amid trials which came upon me through the plotting of the Jews— 20and that I never shrank from declaring to you anything that was profitable, or from teaching you in public and in your homes, 21and urging upon both Jews and Greeks the necessity of turning to God and of believing in Jesus our Lord. 22"And now, impelled by a sense of duty, I am on my way to Jerusalem, not knowing what will happen to me there, 23except that the Holy Spirit, at town after town, testifies to me that imprisonment and suffering are awaiting me. 24But even the sacrifice of my life I count as nothing, if only I may perfect my earthly course, and be faithful to the duty which the Lord Jesus has entrusted to me of proclaiming, as of supreme importance, the Good News of God's grace.

25"And now, I know that none of you among whom I have gone in and out proclaiming the coming of the Kingdom will any longer see my face. 26Therefore I protest to you to-day that I am not responsible for the ruin of any one of you. 27For I have not shrunk from declaring to you God's whole truth. 28"Take heed to yourselves and to all the flock among which the Holy Spirit has placed you to take the oversight for Him and act as shepherds to the Church of God, which He has bought with His own blood. 29I know that, when I am gone, cruel wolves will come among you and will not spare the flock; 30and that from among your own selves men will rise up who will seek with their perverse talk to draw away the disciples after them. 31Therefore be on the alert; and remember that, night and day, for three years, I never ceased admonishing every one, even with tears. 32"And now I commend you to God and to the word of His grace. He is able to build you up and to give you your inheritance among His people. 33No one's silver or gold or clothing have I coveted. 34You yourselves know that these hands of mine have provided for my own necessities and for the people with me. 35In all things I have set you an example, showing you that, by working as I do, you ought to help the weak, and to bear in mind the words of the Lord Jesus, how He Himself said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

36Having spoken thus, Paul knelt down and prayed with them all; 37and with loud lamentation they all threw their arms round his neck, and kissed him lovingly, 38grieved above all things at his having told them that after that day they were no longer to see his face. And they went with him to the ship.

Acts 21

Paul's Journey to Jerusalem

1When, at last, we had torn ourselves away and had set sail, we ran in a straight course to Cos; the next day to Rhodes, and from there to Patara. 2Finding a ship bound for Phoenicia, we went on board and put to sea. 3After sighting Cyprus and leaving that island on our left, we continued our voyage to Syria and put in at Tyre; for there the ship was to unload her cargo. 4Having searched for the disciples and found them, we stayed at Tyre for seven days; and, taught by the Spirit, they repeatedly urged Paul not to proceed to Jerusalem. 5When, however, our time was up, we left and went on our way, all the disciples and their wives and children coming to see us off. Then, after kneeling down on the beach and praying, 6we took leave of one another; and we went on board, while they returned home.

7As for us, our voyage was over when having sailed from Tyre we reached Ptolemais. here we inquired after the welfare of the brethren, and remained a day with them.

Paul Visits Philip the Evangelist

8On the morrow we left Ptolemais and went on to Caesarea, where we came to the house of Philip the Evangelist, who was one of the seven, and stayed with him. 9Now Philip had four unmarried daughters who were prophetesses; 10and during our somewhat lengthy stay a Prophet of the name of Agabus came down from Judaea. 11When he arrived he took Paul's loincloth, and bound his own feet and arms with it, and said, "Thus says the Holy Spirit, 'So will the Jews in Jerusalem bind the owner of this loincloth, and will hand him over to the Gentiles.'" 12As soon as we heard these words, both we and the brethren at Caesarea entreated Paul not to go up to Jerusalem. 13His reply was, "What can you mean by thus breaking my heart with your grief? Why, as for me, I am ready not only to go to Jerusalem and be put in chains, but even to die there for the sake of the Lord Jesus." 14So when he was not to be dissuaded, we ceased remonstrating with him and said, "The Lord's will be done!"

15A few days afterwards we loaded our baggage-cattle and continued our journey to Jerusalem. 16Some of the disciples from Caesarea also joined our party, and brought with them Mnason, a Cyprian, one of the early disciples, at whose house we were to lodge.

Paul's Arrival at Jerusalem

17At length we reached Jerusalem, and there the brethren gave us a hearty welcome. 18On the following day we went with Paul to call on James, and all the Elders of the Church came also. 19After exchanging friendly greetings, Paul told in detail all that God had done among the Gentiles through his instrumentality. 20And they, when they had heard his statement, gave the glory to God. Then they said, "You see, brother, how many tens of thousands of Jews there are among those who have accepted the faith, and they are all zealous upholders of the Law. 21Now what they have been repeatedly told about you is that you teach all the Jews among the Gentiles to abandon Moses, and that you forbid them to circumcise their children or observe old-established customs. 22What then ought you to do? They are sure to hear that you have come to Jerusalem; 23so do this which we now tell you. We have four men here who have a vow resting on them. 24Associate with these men and purify yourself with them, and pay their expenses so that they can shave their heads. Then everybody will know that there is no truth in these stories about you, but that in your own actions you yourself scrupulously obey the Law. ²⁵But as for the Gentiles who have accepted the faith, we have communicated to them our decision that they are carefully to abstain from anything sacrificed to an idol, from blood, from what is strangled, and from fornication.” ²⁶So Paul associated with the men; and the next day, having purified himself with them, he went into the Temple, giving every one to understand that the days of their purification were finished, and there he remained until the sacrifice for each of them was offered.

Paul Seized at the Temple

²⁷But, when the seven days were nearly over, the Jews from the province of Asia, having seen Paul in the Temple, set about rousing the fury of all the people against him. ²⁸They laid hands on him, crying out, “Men of Israel, help! help! This is the man who goes everywhere preaching to everybody against the Jewish people and the Law and this place. And besides, he has even brought Gentiles into the Temple and has desecrated this holy place.” ²⁹ ³⁰The excitement spread through the whole city, and the people rushed in crowds to the Temple, and there laid hold of Paul and began to drag him out; and the Temple gates were immediately closed. ³¹But while they were trying to kill Paul, word was taken up to the Tribune in command of the battalion, that all Jerusalem was in a ferment. ³²He instantly sent for a few soldiers and their officers, and came down among the people with all speed. At the sight of the Tribune and the troops they ceased beating Paul. ³³Then the Tribune, making his way to him, arrested him, and, having ordered him to be secured with two chains, proceeded to ask who he was and what he had been doing. ³⁴Some of the crowd shouted one accusation against Paul and some another, until, as the uproar made it impossible for the truth to be ascertained with certainty, the Tribune ordered him to be brought into the barracks. ³⁵When Paul was going up the steps, he had to be carried by the soldiers because of the violence of the mob; ³⁶for the whole mass of the people pressed on in the rear, shouting, “Away with him!”

Paul Addresses the Crowd

³⁷When he was about to be taken into the barracks, Paul said to the Tribune, “May I speak to you?” “Do you know Greek?” the Tribune asked. ³⁸“Are you not the Egyptian who some years ago excited the riot of the 4,000 cut-throats, and led them out into the Desert?” ³⁹“I am a Jew,” replied Paul, “belonging to Tarsus in Cilicia, and am a citizen of no unimportant city. Give me leave, I pray you, to speak to the people.” ⁴⁰So with his permission Paul stood on the steps and motioned with his hand to the people to be quiet; and when there was perfect silence he addressed them in Hebrew.

Paul’s Defense to the Crowd

(Acts 9:1–19; Acts 26:1–23)

¹“Brethren and fathers,” he said, “listen to my defence which I now make before you.”

²And on hearing him address them in Hebrew, they kept all the more quiet; and he said,

³“I am a Jew, born at Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought up in this city. I was carefully trained at the feet of Gamaliel in the Law of our forefathers, and, like all of you to-day, was zealous for God. ⁴I persecuted to death this new faith, continually binding both men and women and throwing them into prison; ⁵as the High Priest also and all the Elders can bear me witness. It was, too, from them that I received letters to the brethren in Damascus, and I was already on my way to Damascus, intending to bring those also who had fled there, in chains to Jerusalem, to be punished.

⁶“But on my way, when I was now not far from Damascus, about noon a sudden blaze of light from Heaven shone round me. ⁷I fell to the ground and heard a voice say to me, “Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me?’ ⁸“Who art thou, Lord?’ I asked. “I am Jesus, the Nazarene,’ He replied, ‘whom you are persecuting.’ ⁹“Now the men who were with me, though they saw the light, did not hear the words of Him who spoke to me. ¹⁰And I asked, “What am I to do, Lord?’ “And the Lord said to me, “Rise, and go into Damascus. There you shall be told of all that has been appointed for you to do.’ ¹¹“And as I could not see because the light had been so dazzling, those who were with me had to lead me by the arm, and so I came to Damascus.

¹²“And a certain Ananias, a pious man who obeyed the Law and bore a good character with all the Jews of the city, ¹³came to me and standing at my side said, “Brother Saul, recover your sight.’ “I instantly regained my sight and looked up at him. ¹⁴Then he said, ‘The God of our forefathers has appointed you to know His will, and to see the righteous One and hear Him speak. ¹⁵For you shall be a witness for Him, to all men, of what you have seen and heard. ¹⁶And now why delay? Rise, get yourself baptized, and wash off your sins, calling upon His name.’

¹⁷“After my return to Jerusalem, and while praying in the Temple, I fell into a trance. ¹⁸I saw Jesus, and He said to me, “Make haste and leave Jerusalem quickly, because they will not accept your testimony about Me.’ ¹⁹“Lord,’ I replied, ‘they themselves well know how active I was in imprisoning, and in flogging in synagogue after synagogue those who believe in Thee; ²⁰and when they were shedding the blood of Stephen, Thy witness, I was standing by, fully approving of it, and I held the clothes of those who were killing him.’ ²¹“Go,’ He replied; ‘I will send you as an Apostle to nations far away.’”

Paul the Roman Citizen

²²Until they heard this last statement the people listened to Paul, but now with a roar of disapproval they cried out, “Away with such a fellow from the earth! He ought not to be allowed to live.” ²³And when they continued their furious shouts, throwing their clothes into the air and flinging dust about, ²⁴the Tribune ordered him to be brought into the barracks, and be examined by flogging, in order to ascertain the reason why they thus cried out against him. ²⁵But, when they had tied him up with the straps, Paul said to the Captain who stood by, “Does the Law permit you to flog a Roman citizen—and one too who is uncondemned?” ²⁶On hearing this question, the Captain went to report the matter to the Tribune. “What are you intending to do?” he said. “This man is a Roman citizen.” ²⁷So the Tribune came to Paul and asked him, “Tell me, are you a Roman citizen?” “Yes,” he said. ²⁸“I paid a large sum for my citizenship,” said the Tribune. “But I was born free,” said Paul. ²⁹So the men who had been on the point of putting him under torture immediately left him. And the Tribune, too, was frightened when he learnt that Paul was a Roman citizen, for he had had him bound.

³⁰The next day, wishing to know exactly what charge was being brought against him by the Jews, the Tribune ordered his chains to be removed; and, having sent word to the High Priests and all the Sanhedrin to assemble, he brought Paul down and made him stand before them.

Paul before the Sanhedrin

1Then Paul, fixing a steady gaze on the Sanhedrin, said, "Brethren, it is with a perfectly clear conscience that I have discharged my duties before God up to this day." 2On hearing this the High Priest Ananias ordered those who were standing near Paul to strike him on the mouth. 3"Before long," exclaimed Paul, "God will strike you, you white-washed wall! Are you sitting there to judge me in accordance with the Law, and do you yourself actually break the Law by ordering me to be struck?" 4"Do you rail at God's High Priest?" cried the men who stood by him. 5"I did not know, brethren," replied Paul, "that he was the High Priest; for it is written, 'Thou shalt not speak evil of a ruler of Thy people.'"

6Noticing, however, that the Sanhedrin consisted partly of Sadducees and partly of Pharisees, he called out loudly among them, "Brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of Pharisees. It is because of my hope of a resurrection of the dead that I am on my trial." 7These words of his caused an angry dispute between the Pharisees and the Sadducees, and the assembly took different sides. 8For the Sadducees maintain that there is no resurrection, and neither angel nor spirit; but the Pharisees acknowledge the existence of both. 9So there arose a great uproar; and some of the Scribes belonging to the sect of the Pharisees sprang to their feet and fiercely contended, saying, "We find no harm in the man. What if a spirit has spoken to him, or an angel——!" 10But when the struggle was becoming violent, the Tribune, fearing that Paul would be torn to pieces by the people, ordered the troops to go down and take him from among them by force and bring him into the barracks.

11The following night the Lord came and stood at Paul's side, and said, "Be of good courage, for as you have borne faithful witness about me in Jerusalem, so you must also bear witness in Rome."

The Plot to Kill Paul

(John 16:1-4)

12Now, when daylight came, the Jews formed a conspiracy and solemnly swore not to eat or drink till they had killed Paul. 13There were more than forty of them who bound themselves by this oath. 14They went to the High Priests and Elders and said to them, "We have bound ourselves under a heavy curse to take no food till we have killed Paul. 15Now therefore you and the Sanhedrin should make representations to the Tribune for him to bring him down to you, under the impression that you intend to inquire more minutely about him; and we are prepared to assassinate him before he comes near the place."

16But Paul's sister's son heard of the intended attack upon him. So he came and went into the barracks and told Paul about it; 17and Paul called one of the Captains and said, "Take this young man to the Tribune, for he has information to give him." 18So he took him and brought him to the Tribune, and said, "Paul, the prisoner, called me to him and begged me to bring this youth to you, because he has something to say to you." 19Then the Tribune, taking him by the arm, withdrew out of the hearing of others and asked him, "What have you to tell me?" 20"The Jews," he replied, "have agreed to request you to bring Paul down to the Sanhedrin to-morrow for the purpose of making yourself more accurately acquainted with the case. 21I beg you not to comply; for more than forty men among them are lying in wait for him, who have solemnly vowed that they will neither eat nor drink till they have assassinated him; and even now they are ready, in anticipation of receiving that promise of you." 22So the Tribune sent the youth home, cautioning him. "Do not let any one know that you have given me this information," he said.

Paul Sent to Felix

23Then, calling to him two of the Captains, he gave his orders. "Get ready two hundred men," he said, "to march to Caesarea, with seventy cavalry and two hundred light infantry, starting at nine o'clock to-night." 24He further told them to provide horses to mount Paul on, so as to bring him safely to Felix the Governor. 25He also wrote a letter of which these were the contents:

26"Claudius Lysias to his Excellency, Felix the Governor: all good wishes.

27This man Paul had been seized by the Jews, and they were on the point of killing him, when I came upon them with the troops and rescued him, for I had been informed that he was a Roman citizen. 28And, wishing to know with certainty the offense of which they were accusing him, I brought him down into their Sanhedrin, 29and I discovered that the charge had to do with questions of their Law, but that he was accused of nothing for which he deserves death or imprisonment.

30But now that I have received information of an intended attack upon him, I immediately send him to you, directing his accusers also to state before you the case they have against him." 31So, in obedience to their orders, the soldiers took Paul and brought him by night as far as Antipatris. 32The next day the infantry returned to the barracks, leaving the cavalry to proceed with him; 33and, the cavalry having reached Caesarea and delivered the letter to the Governor, they brought Paul also to him. 34Felix, after reading the letter, inquired from what province he was; and being told "from Cilicia," 35he said, "I will hear all you have to say, when your accusers also have come." And he ordered him to be detained in custody in Herod's Palace.

Tertullus Prosecutes Paul

1Five days after this, Ananias the High Priest came down to Caesarea with a number of Elders and a pleader called Tertullus. They stated to the Governor the case against Paul. 2So Paul was sent for, and Tertullus began to impeach him as follows: "Indebted as we are," he said, "to you, most noble Felix, for the perfect peace which we enjoy, and for reforms which your wisdom has introduced to this nation, 3in every instance and in every place we accept them with profound gratitude. 4But—not to detain you too long—I beg you in your forbearance to listen to a brief statement from us. 5For we have found this man Paul a source of mischief and a disturber of the peace among all the Jews throughout the Empire, and a ringleader in the heresy of the Nazarenes. 6He even attempted to profane the Temple, but we arrested him. 7 8You, however, by examining him, will yourself be able to learn the truth as to all this which we allege against him." 9The Jews also joined in the charge, maintaining that these were facts.

Paul's Defense to Felix

10Then, at a sign from the Governor, Paul answered, "Knowing, Sir, that for many years you have administered justice to this nation, I cheerfully make my defence. 11For you have it in your power to ascertain that it is not more than twelve days ago that I went up to worship in Jerusalem; ¹²and that neither in the Temple nor in the synagogues, nor anywhere in the city, did they find me disputing with any opponent or collecting a crowd about me. ¹³Nor can they prove the charges which they are now bringing against me. ¹⁴But this I confess to you—that in the way which they style a heresy, I worship the God of our forefathers, believing everything that is taught in the Law or is written in the Prophets, ¹⁵and having a hope directed towards God, which my accusers themselves also entertain, that before long there will be a resurrection both of the righteous and the unrighteous. ¹⁶This too is my own earnest endeavour—always to have a clear conscience in relation to God and man. ¹⁷Now after an interval of several years I came to bring alms to my nation, and to offer sacrifices. ¹⁸While I was busy about these, they found me in the Temple purified, with no crowd around me and no uproar; but there were certain Jews from the province of Asia. ¹⁹They ought to have been here before you, and to have been my prosecutors, if they have any charge to bring against me. ²⁰Or let these men themselves say what misdemeanour they found me guilty of when I stood before the Sanhedrin, ²¹unless it was in that one expression which I made use of when I shouted out as I stood among them, “The resurrection of the dead is the thing about which I am on my trial before you to-day.”

The Verdict Postponed

²²At this point Felix, who was fairly well informed about the new faith, adjourned the trial, saying to the Jews, “When the Tribune Lysias comes down, I will enter carefully into the matter.” ²³And he gave orders to the Captain that Paul was to be kept in custody, but be treated with indulgence, and that his personal friends were not to be prevented from showing him kindness.

²⁴Not long after this, Felix came with Drusilla his wife, a Jewess, and sending for Paul, listened to him as he spoke about faith in Christ Jesus. ²⁵But when he dealt with the subjects of justice, self-control, and the judgement which was soon to come, Felix became alarmed and said, “For the present leave me, and when I can find a convenient opportunity I will send for you.” ²⁶At the same time he hoped that Paul would give him money; and for this reason he sent for him the oftener to converse with him. ²⁷But after the lapse of fully two years Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus; and being desirous of gratifying the Jews, Felix left Paul still in prison.

Paul’s Trial before Festus

¹Festus, having entered on his duties as governor of the province, two days later went up from Caesarea to Jerusalem. ²The High Priests and the leading men among the Jews immediately made representations to him against Paul, and begged him— ³asking it as a favour, to Paul’s prejudice—to have him brought to Jerusalem. They were planning an ambush to kill him on the way. ⁴Festus, however, replied that Paul was in custody in Caesarea, and that he was himself going there very soon. ⁵“Therefore let those of you,” he said, “who can come, go down with me, and impeach the man, if there is anything amiss in him.”

⁶After a stay of eight or ten days in Jerusalem—not more—he went down to Caesarea; and the next day, taking his seat on the tribunal, he ordered Paul to be brought in. ⁷Upon Paul’s arrival, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem stood round him, and brought many grave charges against him which they were unable to substantiate. ⁸But, in reply, Paul said, "Neither against the Jewish Law, nor against the Temple, nor against Caesar, have I committed any offence whatever." ⁹Then Festus, being anxious to gratify the Jews, asked Paul, "Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem, and there stand your trial before me on these charges?"

Paul Appeals to Caesar

¹⁰"I am standing before Caesar's tribunal," replied Paul, "where alone I ought to be tried. The Jews have no real ground of complaint against me, as in fact you yourself are beginning to see more clearly. ¹¹If, however, I have done wrong and have committed any offence for which I deserve to die, I do not ask to be excused that penalty. But if there is no truth in what these men allege against me, no one has the right to give me up to them as a favour. I appeal to Caesar." ¹²Then, after conferring with the Council, Festus replied, "To Caesar you have appealed: to Caesar you shall go."

Festus Consults Agrippa

¹³A short time after this, Agrippa the king and Bernice came to Caesarea to pay a complimentary visit to Festus; ¹⁴and, during their rather long stay, Festus laid Paul's case before the king. "There is a man here," he said, "whom Felix left a prisoner, ¹⁵about whom, when I went to Jerusalem, the High Priests and the Elders of the Jews made representations to me, begging that sentence might be pronounced against him. ¹⁶My reply was that it is not the custom among the Romans to give up any one for punishment before the accused has had his accusers face to face, and has had an opportunity of defending himself against the charge which has been brought against him. ¹⁷"When, therefore, a number of them came here, the next day I took my seat on the tribunal, without any loss of time, and ordered the man to be brought in. ¹⁸But, when his accusers stood up, they did not charge him with the misdemeanours of which I had been suspecting him. ¹⁹But they quarrelled with him about certain matters connected with their own religion, and about one Jesus who had died, but—so Paul persistently maintained—is now alive. ²⁰I was at a loss how to investigate such questions, and asked Paul whether he would care to go to Jerusalem and there stand his trial on these matters. ²¹But when Paul appealed to have his case kept for the Emperor's decision, I ordered him to be kept in prison until I could send him up to Caesar." ²²"I should like to hear the man myself," said Agrippa. "to-morrow," replied Festus, "you shall." Accordingly, the next day, Agrippa and Bernice came in state

Paul before Agrippa and Bernice

²³and took their seats in the Judgement Hall, attended by the Tribunes and the men of high rank in the city; and, at the command of Festus, Paul was brought in. ²⁴Then Festus said, "King Agrippa and all who are present with us, you see here the man about whom the whole nation of the Jews made suit to me, both in Jerusalem and here, crying out that he ought not to live any longer. ²⁵I could not discover that he had done anything for which he deserved to die; but as he has himself appealed to the Emperor, I have decided to send him to Rome. ²⁶I have nothing very definite, however, to tell our Sovereign about him. So I have brought the man before you all—and especially before you, King Agrippa—that after he has been examined I may find something which I can put into writing. ²⁷For, when sending a prisoner to Rome, it seems to me to be absurd not to state the charges against him."

Acts 26

Paul's Testimony to Agrippa

(Acts 9:1–19; Acts 22:1–21)

1Then Agrippa said to Paul, "You have permission to speak about yourself." So Paul, with outstretched arm, proceeded to make his defence.

2"As regards all the accusations brought against me by the Jews," he said, "I think myself fortunate, King Agrippa, in being about to defend myself to-day before you, 3who are so familiar with all the customs and speculations that prevail among the Jews; and for this reason, I pray you, give me a patient hearing.

4"The kind of life I have lived from my youth upwards, as exemplified in my early days among my nation and in Jerusalem, is known to all the Jews. 5For they all know me of old—if they would but testify to the fact—how, being an adherent of the strictest sect of our religion, my life was that of a Pharisee. 6And now I stand here impeached because of my hope in the fulfilment of the promise made by God to our forefathers— 7the promise which our twelve tribes, worshipping day and night with intense devotedness, hope to have made good to them. It is on the subject of this hope, Sir, that I am accused by the Jews. 8Why is it deemed with all of you a thing past belief if God raises the dead to life?

9"I myself, however, thought it a duty to do many things in hostility to the name of Jesus, the Nazarene.

10And that was how I acted in Jerusalem. Armed with authority received from the High Priests I shut up many of God's people in various prisons, and when they were about to be put to death I gave my vote against them. 11In all the synagogues also I punished them many a time, and tried to make them blaspheme; and in my wild fury I chased them even to foreign towns.

12"While thus engaged, I was travelling one day to Damascus armed with authority and a commission from the High Priests, 13and on the journey, at noon, Sir, I saw a light from Heaven—brighter than the brightness of the sun—shining around me and around those who were travelling with me. 14We all fell to the ground; and I heard a voice which said to me in Hebrew, "Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me? You are finding it painful to kick against the ox-goad." 15"Who art Thou, Lord?" I asked. "I am Jesus whom you are persecuting," the Lord replied.

16But rise, and stand on your feet; for I have appeared to you for the very purpose of appointing you My servant and My witness both as to the things you have already seen and as to those in which I will appear to you. 17I will save you from the Jewish people and from the Gentiles, to whom I send you to open their eyes, 18that they may turn from darkness to light and from the obedience to Satan to God, in order to receive forgiveness of sins and an inheritance among those who are sanctified through faith in Me.'

19"Therefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision; 20but I proceeded to preach first to the people in Damascus, and then to those in Jerusalem and in all Judaea, and to the Gentiles, that they must repent and turn to God, and live lives consistent with such repentance. 21"It was on this account that the Jews seized me in the Temple and tried to kill me. 22Having, however, obtained the help which is from God, I have stood firm until now, and have solemnly exhorted rich and poor alike, saying nothing except what the Prophets and Moses predicted as soon to happen, 23since the Christ was to be a suffering Christ, and by coming back from the dead was then to be the first to proclaim a message of light both to the Jewish people and to the Gentiles."

Festus Interrupts Paul's Defense

24As Paul thus made his defence, Festus exclaimed in a loud voice, "You are raving mad, Paul; and great learning is driving you mad." 25"I am not mad, most noble Festus," replied Paul; "I am speaking words of sober truth. 26For the King, to whom I speak freely, knows about these matters. I am not to be persuaded that any detail of them has escaped his notice; for these things have not been done in a corner. 27King Agrippa, do you believe the Prophets? I know that you believe them." 28Agrippa answered, "In brief, you are doing your best to persuade me to become a Christian." 29"My prayer to God, whether briefly or at length," replied Paul, "would be that not only you but all who are my hearers to-day, might become such as I am—except these chains."

30So the King rose, and the Governor, and Bernice, and those who were sitting with them; 31and, having withdrawn, they talked to one another and said, "This man is doing nothing for which he deserves death or imprisonment." 32And Agrippa said to Festus, "He might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed to Caesar."

Paul Sails for Rome

1Now when it was decided that we should sail for Italy, they handed over Paul and a few other prisoners into the custody of Julius, a Captain of the Augustan battalion; 2and going on board a ship of Adramyttium which was about to sail to the ports of the province of Asia, we put to sea; Aristarchus, the Macedonian, from Thessalonica, forming one of our party. 3The next day we put in at Sidon. There Julius treated Paul with thoughtful kindness and allowed him to visit his friends and profit by their generous care. 4Putting to sea again, we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were against us; 5and, sailing the whole length of the sea that lies off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we reached Myra in Lycia. 6There Julius found an Alexandrian ship bound for Italy, and put us on board of her. 7It took several days of slow sailing for us to come with difficulty off Cnidus; from which point, as the wind did not allow us to get on in the direct course, we ran under the lee of Crete by Salmone. 8Then, coasting along with difficulty, we reached a place called 'Fair Havens,' near the town of Lasea.

9Our voyage thus far had occupied a considerable time, and the navigation being now unsafe and the Fast also already over, Paul warned them. 10"Sirs," he said, "I perceive that before long the voyage will be attended with danger and heavy loss, not only to the cargo and the ship but to our own lives also." 11But Julius let himself be persuaded by the pilot and by the owner rather than by Paul's arguments; 12and as the harbour was inconvenient for wintering in, the majority were in favour of putting out to sea, to try whether they could get to Phoenix—a harbour on the coast of Crete facing north-east and south-east—to winter there.

The Storm at Sea

(Jonah 1:4–10)

13And a light breeze from the south sprang up, so that they supposed they were now sure of their purpose. So weighing anchor they ran along the coast of Crete, hugging the shore.

14But it was not long before a furious north-east wind, coming down from the mountains, burst upon us and carried the ship out of her course. 15She was unable to make headway against the gale; so we gave up and let her drive. 16Then we ran under the lee of a little island called Cauda, where we managed with great difficulty to secure the boat; 17and, after hoisting it on board, they used frapping-cables to undergird the ship, and, as they were afraid of being driven on the Syrtis quicksands, they lowered the gear and lay to. 18But, as the storm was still violent, the next day they began to lighten the ship; 19and, on the third day, with their own hands they threw the ship's spare gear overboard. 20Then, when for several days neither sun nor stars were seen and the terrific gale still harassed us, the last ray of hope was now vanishing.

21When for a long time they had taken but little food, Paul, standing up among them, said, "Sirs, you ought to have listened to me and not have sailed from Crete. You would then have escaped this suffering and loss. 22But now take courage, for there will be no destruction of life among you, but of the ship only. 23For there stood by my side, last night, an angel of the God to whom I belong, and whom also I worship, 24and he said, "Dismiss all fear, Paul, for you must stand before Caesar; and God has granted you the lives of all who are sailing with you.' 25"Therefore, Sirs, take courage; for I believe God, and am convinced that things will happen exactly as I have been told. 26But we are to be stranded on a certain island."

The Shipwreck

27It was now the fourteenth night, and we were drifting through the Sea of Adria, when, about midnight, the sailors suspected that land was close at hand. 28So they hove the lead and found twenty fathoms of water; and after a short time they hove again and found fifteen fathoms. 29Then for fear of possibly running on rocks, they threw out four anchors from the stern and waited impatiently for daylight. 30The sailors, however, wanted to make their escape from the ship, and had lowered the boat into the sea, pretending that they were going to lay out anchors from the bow. 31But Paul, addressing Julius and the soldiers, said, "Your lives will be sacrificed, unless these men remain on board." 32Then the soldiers cut the ropes of the ship's boat and let her fall off.

33And continually, up till daybreak, Paul kept urging all on board to take some food. "This is the fourteenth day," he said, "that you have been anxiously waiting for the storm to cease, and have fasted, eating little or nothing. 34I therefore strongly advise you to take some food. This is essential for your safety. For not a hair will perish from the head of any one of you." 35Having said this he took some bread, and, after giving thanks to God for it before them all, he broke it in pieces and began to eat it. 36This raised the spirits of all, and they too took food. 37There were 276 of us, crew and passengers, all told. 38After eating a hearty meal they lightened the ship by throwing the wheat overboard.

39When daylight came, they tried in vain to recognise the coast. But an inlet with a sandy beach attracted their attention, and now their object was, if possible, to run the ship aground in this inlet. 40So they cut away the anchors and left them in the sea, unloosing at the same time the bands which secured the paddle-rudders. Then, hoisting the foresail to the wind, they made for the beach. 41But coming to a place where two seas met, they stranded the ship, and her bow sticking fast remained immovable, while the stern began to go to pieces under the heavy hammering of the sea. 42Now the soldiers recommended that the prisoners should be killed, for fear some one of them might swim ashore and effect his escape. 43But their Captain, bent on securing Paul's safety, kept them from their purpose and gave orders that those who could swim should first jump overboard and get to land; 44and that the rest should follow, some on planks, and others on various things from the ship. In this way they all got safely to land.

Ashore on Malta

1Our lives having been thus preserved, we discovered that the island was called Malta. 2The strange-speaking natives showed us remarkable kindness, for they lighted a fire and made us all welcome because of the pelting rain and the cold. 3Now, when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks and had thrown them on the fire, a viper, driven by the heat, came out and fastened itself on his hand. 4When the natives saw the creature hanging to his hand, they said to one another, "Beyond doubt this man is a murderer, for, though saved from the sea, unerring Justice does not permit him to live." 5He, however, shook the reptile off into the fire and was unhurt. 6They expected him soon to swell with inflammation or suddenly fall down dead; but, after waiting a long time and seeing no harm come to him, they changed their minds and said that he was a god.

7Now in the same part of the island there were estates belonging to the Governor, whose name was Publius. He welcomed us to his house, and for three days generously made us his guests. 8It happened, however, that his father was lying ill of dysentery aggravated by attacks of fever; so Paul went to see him, and, after praying, laid his hands on him and cured him. 9After this, all the other sick people in the island came and were cured. 10They also loaded us with honours, and when at last we sailed they put supplies on board for us.

Paul Arrives in Italy

11Three months passed before we set sail in an Alexandrian vessel, called the 'Twin Brothers,' which had wintered at the island. 12At Syracuse we put in and stayed for two days. 13From there we came round and reached Rhegium; and a day later, a south wind sprang up which brought us by the evening of the next day to Puteoli. 14Here we found brethren, who invited us to remain with them for a week; and so we reached Rome. 15Meanwhile the brethren there, hearing of our movements, came as far as the Market of Appius and the Three Huts to meet us; and when Paul saw them he thanked God and felt encouraged.

Paul Preaches at Rome

(Isaiah 6:1-13)

16Upon our arrival in Rome, Paul received permission to live by himself, guarded by a soldier.

17After one complete day he invited the leading men among the Jews to meet him; and, when they were come together, he said to them, "As for me, brethren, although I had done nothing prejudicial to our people or contrary to the customs of our forefathers, I was handed over as a prisoner from Jerusalem into the power of the Romans. 18They, after they had sharply questioned me, were willing to set me at liberty, because they found no offence in me for which I deserve to die. 19But, at last, the opposition of the Jews compelled me to appeal to Caesar; not however that I had any charge to bring against my nation. 20For these reasons, then, I have invited you here, that I might see you and speak to you; for it is for the sake of Him who is the hope of Israel that this chain hangs upon me.” ²¹“For our part,” they replied, “we have not received any letters from Judaea about you, nor have any of our countrymen come here and reported or stated anything to your disadvantage. ²²But we should be glad to hear from you what it is that you believe; for as for this sect all we know is that it is everywhere spoken against.”

²³So they arranged a day with him and came to him in considerable numbers at the house of the friends who were entertaining him. And then, with solemn earnestness, he explained to them the subject of the Kingdom of God, endeavouring from morning till evening to convince them about Jesus, both from the Law of Moses and from the Prophets. ²⁴Some were convinced; others refused to believe. ²⁵Unable to agree among themselves, they at last left him, but not before Paul had spoken a parting word to them, saying, “Right well did the Holy Spirit say to your forefathers through the Prophet Isaiah:

²⁶“Go to this people and tell them, you will hear and hear, and by no means understand; and will look and look, and by no means see.

²⁷For this people’s mind has grown callous, their hearing has become dull, and their eyes they have closed; to prevent their ever seeing with their eyes, or hearing with their ears, or understanding with their minds, and turning back, so that I might cure them.’

²⁸“Be fully assured, therefore, that this salvation—God’s salvation—has now been sent to the Gentiles, and that they, at any rate, will give heed.” ²⁹

³⁰After this Paul lived for fully two years in a hired house of his own, receiving all who came to see him. ³¹He announced the coming of the Kingdom of God, and taught concerning the Lord Jesus Christ without let or hindrance.

Paul Greet the Saints in Rome

¹Paul, a bondservant of Jesus Christ, called to be an Apostle, set apart to proclaim God’s Good News, ²which God had already promised through His Prophets in Holy Writ, concerning His Son, ³who, as regards His human descent, belonged to the posterity of David, ⁴but as regards the holiness of His Spirit was decisively proved by His Resurrection to be the Son of God—I mean concerning Jesus Christ our Lord, ⁵through whom we have received grace and Apostleship in His service in order to win men to obedience to the faith, among all Gentile peoples, ⁶among whom you also, called, as you have been, to belong to Jesus Christ, are numbered:

⁷To all God’s loved ones who are in Rome, called to be saints. May grace and peace be granted to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Unashamed of the Gospel

8First of all, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for what He has done for all of you; for the report of your faith is spreading through the whole world. 9I call God to witness—to whom I render priestly and spiritual service by telling the Good News about His Son—how unceasingly I make mention of you in His presence, 10always in my prayers entreating that now, at length, if such be His will, the way may by some means be made clear for me to come to you. 11For I am longing to see you, in order to convey to you some spiritual help, so that you may be strengthened; 12in other words that while I am among you we may be mutually encouraged by one another's faith, yours and mine. 13And I desire you to know, brethren, that I have many a time intended to come to you—though until now I have been disappointed—in order that among you also I might gather some fruit from my labours, as I have already done among the rest of the Gentile nations. 14I am already under obligations alike to Greek-speaking races and to others, to cultured and to uncultured people: 15so that for my part I am willing and eager to proclaim the Good News to you also who are in Rome.

16For I am not ashamed of the Good News. It is God's power which is at work for the salvation of every one who believes—the Jew first, and then the Gentile. 17For in the Good News a righteousness which comes from God is being revealed, depending on faith and tending to produce faith; as the Scripture has it, "The righteous man shall live by faith."

God's Wrath against Sin

18For God's anger is being revealed from Heaven against all impiety and against the iniquity of men who through iniquity suppress the truth. God is angry: 19because what may be known about Him is plain to their inmost consciousness; for He Himself has made it plain to them. 20For, from the very creation of the world, His invisible perfections—namely His eternal power and divine nature—have been rendered intelligible and clearly visible by His works, so that these men are without excuse. 21For when they had come to know God, they did not give Him glory as God nor render Him thanks, but they became absorbed in useless discussions, and their senseless minds were darkened. 22While boasting of their wisdom they became utter fools, 23and, instead of worshipping the imperishable God, they worshipped images resembling perishable man or resembling birds or beasts or reptiles.

26This then is the reason why God gave them up to vile passions. For not only did the women among them exchange the natural use of their bodies for one which is contrary to nature, but the men also, 27in just the same way—neglecting that for which nature intends women—burned with passion towards one another, men practising shameful vice with men, and receiving in their own selves the reward which necessarily followed their misconduct.

28And just as they had refused to continue to have a full knowledge of God, so it was to utterly worthless minds that God gave them up, for them to do things which should not be done. 29Their hearts overflowed with all sorts of dishonesty, mischief, greed, malice. They were full of envy and murder, and were quarrelsome, crafty, and spiteful. 30They were secret backbiters, open slanderers; hateful to God, insolent, haughty, boastful; inventors of new forms of sin, disobedient to parents, destitute of common sense, 31faithless to their promises, without natural affection, without human pity. 32In short, though knowing full well the sentence which God pronounces against actions such as theirs, as things which deserve death, they not only practise them, but even encourage and applaud others who do them.

God's Righteous Judgment

(Psalm 75:1–10)

1You are therefore without excuse, O man, whoever you are who sit in judgement upon others. For when you pass judgement on your fellow man, you condemn yourself; for you who sit in judgement upon others are guilty of the same misdeeds; 2and we know that God's judgement against those who commit such sins is in accordance with the truth. 3And you who pronounce judgement upon those who do such things although your own conduct is the same as theirs—do you imagine that you yourself will escape unpunished when God judges? 4Or is it that you think slightly of His infinite goodness, forbearance and patience, unaware that the goodness of God is gently drawing you to repentance? 5The fact is that in the stubbornness of your impenitent heart you are treasuring up against yourself anger on the day of Anger—the day when the righteousness of God's judgements will stand revealed. 6To each man He will make an award corresponding to his actions; 7to those on the one hand who, by lives of persistent right-doing, are striving for glory, honour and immortality, the Life of the Ages; 8while on the other hand upon the self-willed who disobey the truth and obey unrighteousness will fall anger and fury, affliction and awful distress, 9coming upon the soul of every man and woman who deliberately does wrong—upon the Jew first, and then upon the Gentile; 10whereas glory, honour and peace will be given to every one who does what is good and right—to the Jew first and then to the Gentile. 11For God pays no attention to this world's distinctions.

12For all who have sinned apart from the Law will also perish apart from the Law, and all who have sinned whilst living under the Law, will be judged by the Law. 13It is not those that merely hear the Law read who are righteous in the sight of God, but it is those that obey the Law who will be pronounced righteous. 14For when Gentiles who have no Law obey by natural instinct the commands of the Law, they, without having a Law, are a Law to themselves; 15since they exhibit proof that a knowledge of the conduct which the Law requires is engraven on their hearts, while their consciences also bear witness to the Law, and their thoughts, as if in mutual discussion, accuse them or perhaps maintain their innocence— 16on the day when God will judge the secrets of men's lives by Jesus Christ, as declared in the Good News as I have taught it.

The Jews and the Law

17And since you claim the name of Jew, and find rest and satisfaction in the Law, and make your boast in God, 18and know the supreme will, and can test things that differ—being a man who receives instruction from the Law— 19and have persuaded yourself that, as for you, you are a guide to the blind, a light to those who are in darkness, 20a schoolmaster for the dull and ignorant, a teacher of the young, because in the Law you possess an outline of real knowledge and an outline of the truth: 21you then who teach your fellow man, do you refuse to teach yourself? You who cry out against stealing, are you yourself a thief? 22You who forbid adultery, do you commit adultery? You who loathe idols, do you plunder their temples? 23You who make your boast in the Law, do you offend against its commands and so dishonour God? ²⁴For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentile nations because of you, as Holy Writ declares.

²⁵Circumcision does indeed profit, if you obey the Law; but if you are a Law-breaker, the fact that you have been circumcised counts for nothing. ²⁶In the same way if an uncircumcised man pays attention to the just requirements of the Law, shall not his lack of circumcision be overlooked, and, ²⁷although he is a Gentile by birth, if he scrupulously obeys the Law, shall he not sit in judgement upon you who, possessing, as you do, a written Law and circumcision, are yet a Law-breaker? ²⁸For the true Jew is not the man who is simply a Jew outwardly, and true circumcision is not that which is outward and bodily. ²⁹But the true Jew is one inwardly, and true circumcision is heart-circumcision—not literal, but spiritual; and such people receive praise not from men, but from God.

Romans 3

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

God Remains Faithful

¹What special privilege, then, has a Jew? Or what benefit is to be derived from circumcision? ²The privilege is great from every point of view. First of all, because the Jews were entrusted with God's truth. ³For what if some Jews have proved unfaithful? Shall their faithlessness render God's faithfulness worthless?

⁴No, indeed; let us hold God to be true, though every man should prove to be false. As it stands written, "That Thou mayest be shown to be just in the sentence Thou pronoucest, and gain Thy cause when Thou contendest."

⁵But if our unrighteousness sets God's righteousness in a clearer light, what shall we say? (Is God unrighteous—I speak in our everyday language—when He inflicts punishment? ⁶No indeed; for in that case how shall He judge all mankind?) ⁷If, for instance, a falsehood of mine has made God's truthfulness more conspicuous, redounding to His glory, why am I judged all the same as a sinner? ⁸And why should we not say—for so they wickedly misrepresent us, and so some charge us with arguing—"Let us do evil that good may come"? The condemnation of those who would so argue is just.

There Is No One Righteous

(Psalm 14:1–7; Psalm 53:1–6; Isaiah 59:1–17)

⁹What then? Are we Jews more highly estimated than they? Not in the least; for we have already charged all Jews and Gentiles alike with being in thralldom to sin.

¹⁰Thus it stands written, "There is not one righteous man.

¹¹There is not one who is really wise, nor one who is a diligent seeker after God.

¹²All have turned aside from the right path; they have every one of them become corrupt. There is no one who does what is right—no, not so much as one."

13“Their throats resemble an opened grave; with their tongues they have been talking deceitfully.”
“The venom of vipers lies hidden behind their lips.”

14“Their mouths are full of cursing and bitterness.”

15“Their feet move swiftly to shed blood.

16Ruin and misery mark their path;

17and the way to peace they have not known.”

18“There is no fear of God before their eyes.”

19But it cannot be denied that all that the Law says is addressed to those who are living under the Law, in order that every mouth may be stopped, and that the whole world may await sentence from God. 20For on the ground of obedience to Law no man living will be declared righteous before Him. Law simply brings a sure knowledge of sin.

Righteousness through Faith in Christ

(Philippians 3:1–11)

21But now a righteousness coming from God has been brought to light apart from any Law, both Law and Prophets bearing witness to it— 22a righteousness coming from God, which depends on faith in Jesus Christ and extends to all who believe. No distinction is made; 23for all alike have sinned, and all consciously come short of the glory of God, 24gaining acquittal from guilt by His free unpurchased grace through the deliverance which is found in Christ Jesus. 25He it is whom God put forward as a Mercy-seat, rendered efficacious through faith in His blood, in order to demonstrate His righteousness— because of the passing over, in God’s forbearance, of the sins previously committed— 26with a view to demonstrating, at the present time, His righteousness, that He may be shown to be righteous Himself, and the giver of righteousness to those who believe in Jesus.

27Where then is there room for your boasting? It is for ever shut out. On what principle? On the ground of merit? No, but on the ground of faith. 28For we maintain that it is as the result of faith that a man is held to be righteous, apart from actions done in obedience to Law. 29Is God simply the God of the Jews, and not of the Gentiles also? He is certainly the God of the Gentiles also, 30unless you can deny that it is one and the same God who will pronounce the circumcised to be acquitted on the ground of faith, and the uncircumcised to be acquitted through the same faith.

31Do we then by means of this faith abolish the Law? No, indeed; we give the Law a firmer footing.

Abraham Justified by Faith

(Genesis 15:1–7; Psalm 32:1–11; Hebrews 11:8–19)

1What then shall we say that Abraham, our earthly forefather, has gained? 2For if he was held to be righteous on the ground of his actions, he has something to boast of; but not in the presence of God. 3For what says the Scripture? "And Abraham believed God, and this was placed to his credit as righteousness." 4But in the case of a man who works, pay is not reckoned a favour but a debt; 5whereas in the case of a man who pleads no actions of his own, but simply believes in Him who declares the ungodly free from guilt, his faith is placed to his credit as righteousness. 6In this way David also tells of the blessedness of the man to whose credit God places righteousness, apart from his actions.

7"Blessed," he says, "are those whose iniquities have been forgiven, and whose sins have been covered over.

8Blessed is the man of whose sin the Lord will not take account."

9This declaration of blessedness, then, does it come simply to the circumcised, or to the uncircumcised as well? For Abraham's faith—so we affirm—was placed to his credit as righteousness. 10What then were the circumstances under which this took place? Was it after he had been circumcised, or before? 11Before, not after. And he received circumcision as a sign, a mark attesting the reality of the faith-righteousness which was his while still uncircumcised, that he might be the forefather of all those who believe even though they are uncircumcised—in order that this righteousness might be placed to their credit; 12and the forefather of the circumcised, namely of those who not merely are circumcised, but also walk in the steps of the faith which our forefather Abraham had while he was as yet uncircumcised.

Abraham Receives the Promise

(Genesis 15:8–21)

13Again, the promise that he should inherit the world did not come to Abraham or his posterity conditioned by Law, but by faith-righteousness. 14For if it is the righteous through Law who are heirs, then faith is useless and the promise counts for nothing. 15For the Law inflicts punishment; but where no Law exists, there can be no violation of Law.

16All depends on faith, and for this reason—that acceptance with God might be an act of pure grace, 17so that the promise should be made sure to all Abraham's true descendants; not merely to those who are righteous through the Law, but to those who are righteous through a faith like that of Abraham. Thus in the sight of God in whom he believed, who gives life to the dead and makes reference to things that do not exist, as though they did, Abraham is the forefather of all of us. As it is written, "I have appointed you to be the forefather of many nations." 18Under utterly hopeless circumstances he hopefully believed, so that he might become the forefather of many nations, in agreement with the words "Equally numerous shall your posterity be." 19And, without growing weak in faith, he could contemplate his own vital powers which had now decayed—for he was nearly 100 years old—and Sarah's barrenness. 20Nor did he in unbelief stagger at God's promise, but became mighty in faith, giving glory to God, 21and being absolutely certain that whatever promise He is bound by He is able also to make good. 22For this reason also his faith was placed to his credit as righteousness. 23Nor was the fact of its being placed to his credit put on record for his sake only; 24it was for our sakes too. Faith, before long, will be placed to the credit of us also who are believers in Him who raised Jesus, our Lord, from the dead, 25who was surrendered to death because of the offences we had committed, and was raised to life because of the acquittal secured for us.

Romans 5

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

The Triumph of Faith

1Standing then acquitted as the result of faith, let us enjoy peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, 2through whom also, as the result of faith, we have obtained an introduction into that state of favour with God in which we stand, and we exult in hope of some day sharing in God's glory. 3And not only so: we also exult in our sufferings, knowing as we do, that suffering produces fortitude; 4fortitude, ripeness of character; and ripeness of character, hope; 5and that this hope never disappoints, because God's love for us floods our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us.

Christ's Sacrifice for the Ungodly

(John 3:1-21)

6For already, while we were still helpless, Christ at the right moment died for the ungodly. 7Why, it is scarcely conceivable that any one would die for a simply just man, although for a good and lovable man perhaps some one, here and there, will have the courage even to lay down his life. 8But God gives proof of His love to us in Christ's dying for us while we were still sinners. 9If therefore we have now been pronounced free from guilt through His blood, much more shall we be delivered from God's anger through Him. 10For if while we were hostile to God we were reconciled to Him through the death of His Son, it is still more certain that now that we are reconciled, we shall obtain salvation through Christ's life. 11And not only so, but we also exult in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now obtained that reconciliation.

Death in Adam, Life in Christ

(Genesis 3:1-7)

12What follows? This comparison. Through one man sin entered into the world, and through sin death, and so death passed to all mankind in turn, in that all sinned. 13For prior to the Law sin was already in the world; only it is not entered in the account against us when no Law exists. 14Yet Death reigned as king from Adam to Moses even over those who had not sinned, as Adam did, against Law. And in Adam we have a type of Him whose coming was still future.

15But God's free gift immeasurably outweighs the transgression. For if through the transgression of the one individual the mass of mankind have died, infinitely greater is the generosity with which God's grace, and the gift given in His grace which found expression in the one man Jesus Christ, have been bestowed on the mass of mankind. 16And it is not with the gift as it was with the results of one individual's sin; for the judgement which one individual provoked resulted in condemnation, whereas the free gift after a multitude of transgressions results in acquittal. 17For if, through the transgression of the one individual, Death made use of the one individual to seize the sovereignty, all the more shall those who receive God's overflowing grace and gift of righteousness reign as kings in Life through the one individual, Jesus Christ.

18It follows then that just as the result of a single transgression is a condemnation which extends to the whole race, so also the result of a single decree of righteousness is a life-giving acquittal which extends to the whole race. 19For as through the disobedience of the one individual the mass of mankind were constituted sinners, so also through the obedience of the One the mass of mankind will be constituted righteous. 20Now Law was brought in later on, so that transgression might increase. But where sin increased, grace has overflowed; 21in order that as sin has exercised kingly sway in inflicting death, so grace, too, may exercise kingly sway in bestowing a righteousness which results in the Life of the Ages through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Dead to Sin, Alive to God

(2 Corinthians 4:7–18)

1To what conclusion, then, shall we come? Are we to persist in sinning in order that the grace extended to us may be the greater? 2No, indeed; how shall we who have died to sin, live in it any longer? 3And do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into His death? 4Well, then, we by our baptism were buried with Him in death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from among the dead by the Father's glorious power, we also should live an entirely new life. 5For since we have become one with Him by sharing in His death, we shall also be one with Him by sharing in His resurrection. 6This we know—that our old self was nailed to the cross with Him, in order that our sinful nature might be deprived of its power, so that we should no longer be the slaves of sin; 7for he who has paid the penalty of death stands absolved from his sin.

8But, seeing that we have died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with Him; 9because we know that Christ, having come back to life, is no longer liable to die. 10Death has no longer any power over Him. For by the death which He died He became, once for all, dead in relation to sin; but by the life which He now lives He is alive in relation to God. 11In the same way you also must regard yourselves as dead in relation to sin, but as alive in relation to God, because you are in Christ Jesus.

12Let not Sin therefore reign as king in your mortal bodies, causing you to be in subjection to their cravings; 13and no longer lend your faculties as unrighteous weapons for Sin to use. On the contrary surrender your very selves to God as living men who have risen from the dead, and surrender your several faculties to God, to be used as weapons to maintain the right. 14For Sin shall not be lord over you, since you are subjects not of Law, but of grace.

The Wages of Sin

15Are we therefore to sin because we are no longer under the authority of Law, but under grace? No, indeed! 16Do you not know that if you surrender yourselves as bondservants to obey any one, you become the bondservants of him whom you obey, whether the bondservants of Sin (with death as the result) 17But thanks be to God that though you were once in thralldom to Sin, you have now yielded a hearty obedience to that system of truth in which you have been instructed. 18You were set free from the tyranny of Sin, and became the bondservants of Righteousness— 19your human infirmity leads me to employ these familiar figures—and just as you once surrendered your faculties into bondage to Impurity and ever-increasing disregard of Law, so you must now surrender them into bondage to Righteousness ever advancing towards perfect holiness.

20For when you were the bondservants of sin, you were under no sort of subjection to Righteousness.

21At that time, then, what benefit did you get from conduct which you now regard with shame? Why, such things finally result in death. 22But now that you have been set free from the tyranny of Sin, and have become the bondservants of God, you have your reward in being made holy, and you have the Life of the Ages as the final result. ²³For the wages paid by Sin are death; but God's free gift is the Life of the Ages bestowed upon us in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Release from the Law

¹Brethren, do you not know—for I am writing to people acquainted with the Law—that it is during our lifetime that we are subject to the Law? ²A wife, for instance, whose husband is living is bound to him by the Law; but if her husband dies the law that bound her to him has now no hold over her. ³This accounts for the fact that if during her husband's life she lives with another man, she will be stigmatized as an adulteress; but that if her husband is dead she is no longer under the old prohibition, and even though she marries again, she is not an adulteress.

⁴So, my brethren, to you also the Law died through the incarnation of Christ, that you might be wedded to Another, namely to Him who rose from the dead in order that we might yield fruit to God. ⁵For whilst we were under the thralldom of our earthly natures, sinful passions—made sinful by the Law—were always being aroused to action in our bodily faculties that they might yield fruit to death. ⁶But seeing that we have died to that which once held us in bondage, the Law has now no hold over us, so that we render a service which, instead of being old and formal, is new and spiritual.

God's Law Is Holy

⁷What follows? Is the Law itself a sinful thing? No, indeed; on the contrary, unless I had been taught by the Law, I should have known nothing of sin as sin. For instance, I should not have known what covetousness is, if the Law had not repeatedly said, "Thou shalt not covet." ⁸Sin took advantage of this, and by means of the Commandment stirred up within me every kind of coveting; for apart from Law sin would be dead. ⁹Once, apart from Law, I was alive, but when the Commandment came, sin sprang into life, and I died; ¹⁰and, as it turned out, the very Commandment which was to bring me life, brought me death. ¹¹For sin seized the advantage, and by means of the Commandment it completely deceived me, and also put me to death. ¹²So that the Law itself is holy, and the Commandment is holy, just and good.

Struggling with Sin

¹³Did then a thing which is good become death to me? No, indeed, but sin did; so that through its bringing about death by means of what was good, it might be seen in its true light as sin, in order that by means of the Commandment the unspeakable sinfulness of sin might be plainly shown.

¹⁴For we know that the Law is a spiritual thing; but I am unspiritual—the slave, bought and sold, of sin. ¹⁵For what I do, I do not recognize as my own action. What I desire to do is not what I do, but what I am averse to is what I do. ¹⁶But if I do that which I do not desire to do, I admit the excellence of the Law, ¹⁷and now it is no longer I that do these things, but the sin which has its home within me does them. ¹⁸For I know that in me, that is, in my lower self, nothing good has its home; for while the will to do right is present with me, the power to carry it out is not. 19For what I do is not the good thing that I desire to do; but the evil thing that I desire not to do, is what I constantly do. 20But if I do that which I desire not to do, it can no longer be said that it is I who do it, but the sin which has its home within me does it.

21I find therefore the law of my nature to be that when I desire to do what is right, evil is lying in ambush for me. 22For in my inmost self all my sympathy is with the Law of God; 23but I discover within me a different Law at war with the Law of my understanding, and leading me captive to the Law which is everywhere at work in my body—the Law of sin. 24 25Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord!)

Walking by the Spirit

(Ezekiel 36:16–38; Galatians 5:16–26)

1There is therefore now no condemnation to those who are in Christ Jesus; 2for the Spirit's Law—telling of Life in Christ Jesus—has set me free from the Law that deals only with sin and death. 3For what was impossible to the Law—powerless as it was because it acted through frail humanity—God effected. Sending His own Son in a body like that of sinful human nature and as a sacrifice for sin, He pronounced sentence upon sin in human nature; 4in order that in our case the requirements of the Law might be fully met. For our lives are regulated not by our earthly, but by our spiritual natures. 5For if men are controlled by their earthly natures, they give their minds to earthly things. If they are controlled by their spiritual natures, they give their minds to spiritual things. 6Because for the mind to be given up to earthly things means death; but for it to be given up to spiritual things means Life and peace. 7Abandonment to earthly things is a state of enmity to God. Such a mind does not submit to God's Law, and indeed cannot do so. 8And those whose hearts are absorbed in earthly things cannot please God.

9You, however, are not devoted to earthly, but to spiritual things, if the Spirit of God is really dwelling in you; whereas if any man has not the Spirit of Christ, such a one does not belong to Him. 10But if Christ is in you, though your body must die because of sin, yet your spirit has Life because of righteousness. 11And if the Spirit of Him who raised up Jesus from the dead is dwelling in you, He who raised up Christ from the dead will give Life also to your mortal bodies because of His Spirit who dwells in you.

Heirs with Christ

12Therefore, brethren, it is not to our lower natures that we are under obligation that we should live by their rule. 13For if you so live, death is near; but if, through being under the sway of the spirit, you are putting your old bodily habits to death, you will live. 14For those who are led by God's Spirit are, all of them, God's sons. 15You have not for the second time acquired the consciousness of being—a consciousness which fills you with terror. But you have acquired a deep inward conviction of having been adopted as sons—a conviction which prompts us to cry aloud, "Abba! our Father!" 16The Spirit Himself bears witness, along with our own spirits, to the fact that we are children of God; 17and if children, then heirs too—heirs of God and co-heirs with Christ; if indeed we are sharers in Christ's sufferings, in order that we may also be sharers in His glory.

Future Glory

(2 Corinthians 5:1–10)

18Why, what we now suffer I count as nothing in comparison with the glory which is soon to be manifested in us. 19For all creation, gazing eagerly as if with outstretched neck, is waiting and longing to see the manifestation of the sons of God. 20For the Creation fell into subjection to failure and unreality (not of its own choice, but by the will of Him who so subjected it) 21Yet there was always the hope that at last the Creation itself would also be set free from the thralldom of decay so as to enjoy the liberty that will attend the glory of the children of God. 22For we know that the whole of Creation is groaning together in the pains of childbirth until this hour. 23And more than that, we ourselves, though we possess the Spirit as a foretaste and pledge of the glorious future, yet we ourselves inwardly sigh, as we wait and long for open recognition as sons through the deliverance of our bodies. 24It is in hope that we have been saved. But an object of hope is such no longer when it is present to view; for when a man has a thing before his eyes, how can he be said to hope for it? 25But if we hope for something which we do not see, then we eagerly and patiently wait for it.

26In the same way the Spirit also helps us in our weakness; for we do not know what prayers to offer nor in what way to offer them. But the Spirit Himself pleads for us in yearnings that can find no words, 27and the Searcher of hearts knows what the Spirit's meaning is, because His intercessions for God's people are in harmony with God's will.

God Works in All Things

(Ephesians 1:3–14)

28Now we know that for those who love God all things are working together for good—for those, I mean, whom with deliberate purpose He has called. 29For those whom He has known beforehand He has also pre-destined to bear the likeness of His Son, that He might be the Eldest in a vast family of brothers; 30and those whom He has pre-destined He also has called; and those whom He has called He has also declared free from guilt; and those whom He has declared free from guilt He has also crowned with glory.

31What then shall we say to this? If God is on our side, who is there to appear against us? 32He who did not withhold even His own Son, but gave Him up for all of us, will He not also with Him freely give us all things? 33Who shall impeach those whom God has chosen? God declares them free from guilt. 34Who is there to condemn them? Christ Jesus died, or rather has risen to life again. He is also at the right hand of God, and is interceding for us.

More than Conquerors

(Psalm 44:1–26)

35Who shall separate us from Christ's love? Shall affliction or distress, persecution or hunger, nakedness or danger or the sword?

36As it stands written in the Scripture, "For Thy sake they are, all day long, trying to kill us. We have been looked upon as sheep destined for slaughter."

37 Yet amid all these things we are more than conquerors through Him who has loved us. 38 For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither the lower ranks of evil angels nor the higher, neither things present nor things future, nor the forces of nature, 39 nor height nor depth, nor any other created thing, will be able to separate us from the love of God which rests upon us in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Paul's Concern for the Jews

1 I am telling you the truth as a Christian man—it is no falsehood, for my conscience enlightened, as it is, by the Holy Spirit adds its testimony to mine— 2 when I declare that I have deep grief and unceasing anguish of heart. 3 For I could pray to be accursed from Christ on behalf of my brethren, my human kinsfolk—for such the Israelites are. 4 To them belongs recognition as God's sons, and they have His glorious Presence and the Covenants, and the giving of the Law, and the Temple service, and the ancient Promises. 5 To them the Patriarchs belong, and from them in respect of His human lineage came the Christ, who is exalted above all, God blessed throughout the Ages. Amen.

God's Sovereign Choice

(Genesis 25:19–28; Malachi 1:1–5)

6 Not however that God's word has failed; for all who have sprung from Israel do not count as Israel, 7 nor because they are Abraham's true children. But the promise was "Through Isaac shall your posterity be reckoned." 8 In other words, it is not the children by natural descent who count as God's children, but the children made such by the promise are regarded as Abraham's posterity. 9 For the words are the language of promise and run thus, "About this time next year I will come, and Sarah shall have a son." 10 Nor is that all: later on there was Rebecca too. She was soon to bear two children to her husband, our forefather Isaac— 11 and even then, though they were not then born and had not done anything either good or evil, yet in order that God's electing purpose might not be frustrated, based, as it was, not on their actions but on the will of Him who called them, she was told, 12 "The elder of them will be bondservant to the younger." 13 This agrees with the other Scripture which says, "Jacob I have loved, but Esau I have hated."

14 What then are we to infer? That there is injustice in God? 15 No, indeed; the solution is found in His words to Moses, "Wherever I show mercy it shall be nothing but mercy, and wherever I show compassion it shall be simply compassion." 16 And from this we learn that everything is dependent not on man's will or endeavour, but upon God who has mercy. For the Scripture said to Pharaoh, 17 "It is for this very purpose that I have lifted you so high—that I may make manifest in you My power, and that My name may be proclaimed far and wide in all the earth." 18 This is a proof that wherever He chooses He shows mercy, and wherever he chooses He hardens the heart.

19 "Why then does God still find fault?" you will ask; "for who is resisting His will?" 20 Nay, but who are you, a mere man, that you should cavil against GOD? Shall the thing moulded say to him who moulded it, "Why have you made me thus?" 21 Or has not the potter rightful power over the clay to make out of the same lump one vessel for more honourable and another for less honourable uses? 22 And what if God, while choosing to make manifest the terrors of His anger and to show what is possible with Him, has yet borne with long-forbearing patience with the subjects of His anger who stand ready for destruction, ²³in order to make known His infinite goodness towards the subjects of His mercy whom He has prepared beforehand for glory, ²⁴even towards us whom He has called not only from among the Jews but also from among the Gentiles?

²⁵So also in Hosea He says, "I will call that nation My People which was not My People, and I will call her beloved who was not beloved.

²⁶And in the place where it was said to them, 'No people of Mine are you,' there shall they be called sons of the everliving God."

²⁷And Isaiah cries aloud concerning Israel, "Though the number of the sons of Israel be like the sands of the sea, only a remnant of them shall be saved; ²⁸for the Lord will hold a reckoning upon the earth, making it efficacious and brief."

²⁹Even as Isaiah says in an earlier place, "Were it not that the Lord, the God of Hosts, had left us some few descendants, we should have become like Sodom, and have come to resemble Gomorrah."

Israel's Unbelief

³⁰To what conclusion does this bring us? Why, that the Gentiles, who were not in pursuit of righteousness, have overtaken it—a righteousness, however, which arises from faith; ³¹while the descendants of Israel, who were in pursuit of a Law that could give righteousness, have not arrived at one. ³²And why? Because they were pursuing a righteousness which should arise not from faith, but from what they regarded as merit. They stuck their foot against the stone which lay in their way;

³³in agreement with the statement of Scripture, "See, I am placing on Mount Zion a stone for people to stumble at, and a rock for them to trip over, and yet he whose faith rests upon it shall never have reason to feel ashamed."

The Word Brings Salvation

(Isaiah 65:1–16)

¹Brethren, the longing of my heart, and my prayer to God, on behalf of my countrymen is for their salvation. ²For I bear witness that they possess an enthusiasm for God, but it is an unenlightened enthusiasm. ³Ignorant of the righteousness which God provides and building their hopes upon a righteousness of their own, they have refused submission to God's righteousness. ⁴For as a means of righteousness Christ is the termination of Law to every believer.

⁵Moses says that he whose actions conform to the righteousness required by the Law shall live by that righteousness. ⁶But the righteousness which is based on faith speaks in a different tone. "Say not in your heart," it declares, "Who shall ascend to Heaven?"—that is, to bring Christ down; ⁷"nor 'Who shall go down into the abyss?'—that is, to bring Christ up again from the grave. ⁸But what does it say? "The Message is close to you, in your mouth and in your heart;" that is, the Message which we are publishing about the faith— ⁹that if with your mouth you confess Jesus as Lord and in your heart believe that God brought Him back to life, you shall be saved. 10For with the heart men believe and obtain righteousness, and with the mouth they make confession and obtain salvation. 11The Scripture says, "No one who believes in Him shall have reason to feel ashamed." 12Jew and Gentile are on precisely the same footing; for the same Lord is Lord over all, and is infinitely kind to all who call upon Him for deliverance. 13For "every one, without exception, who calls on the name of the Lord shall be saved."

14But how are they to call on One in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in One whose voice they have never heard? And how are they to hear without a preacher? 15And how are men to preach unless they have been sent to do so? As it is written, "How beautiful are the feet of those who bring glad tidings of good!"

16But, some will say, they have not all hearkened to the Good News. No, for Isaiah asks, "Lord, who has believed the Message they have heard from us?" 17And this proves that faith comes from a Message heard, and that the Message comes through its having been spoken by Christ.

18But, I ask, have they not heard? Yes, indeed: "To the whole world the preachers' voices have sounded forth, and their words to the remotest parts of the earth."

19But again, did Israel fail to understand? Listen to Moses first. He says, "I will fire you with jealousy against a nation which is no nation, and with fury against a nation devoid of understanding."

20And Isaiah, with strange boldness, exclaims, "I have been found by those who were not looking for Me, I have revealed Myself to those who were not inquiring of Me."

21While as to Israel he says, "All day long I have stretched out My arms to a self-willed and fault-finding people."

Romans 11

A Remnant Chosen by Grace

1I ask then, Has God cast off His People? No, indeed. Why, I myself am an Israelite, of the posterity of Abraham and of the tribe of Benjamin. 2God has not cast off His People whom He knew beforehand. Or are you ignorant of what Scripture says in speaking of Elijah—how he pleaded with God against Israel, saying, 3"Lord, they have put Thy Prophets to death, and have overthrown Thy altars; and, now that I alone remain, they are thirsting for my blood"? 4But what did God say to him in reply? "I have reserved for Myself 7,000 men who have never bent the knee to Baal." 5In the same way also at the present time there has come to be a remnant whom God in His grace has selected. 6But if it is in His grace that He has selected them, then His choice is no longer determined by human actions. Otherwise grace would be grace no longer.

7How then does the matter stand? It stands thus. That which Israel are in earnest pursuit of, they have not obtained; but God's chosen servants have obtained it, and the rest have become hardened.

⁸And so Scripture says, "God has given them a spirit of drowsiness—eyes to see nothing with and ears to hear nothing with—even until now."

⁹And David says, "Let their very food become a snare and a trap to them, a stumbling-block and a retribution.

¹⁰Let darkness come over their eyes that they may be unable to see, and make Thou their backs continually to stoop."

The Ingrafting of the Gentiles

¹¹I ask, however, "Have they stumbled so as to be finally ruined?" No, indeed; but by their lapse salvation has come to the Gentiles in order to arouse the jealousy of the descendants of Israel; ¹²and if their lapse is the enriching of the world, and their overthrow the enriching of the Gentiles, will not still greater good follow their restoration? ¹³But to you Gentiles I say that, since I am an Apostle specially sent to the Gentiles, I take pride in my ministry, ¹⁴trying whether I can succeed in rousing my own countrymen to jealousy and thus save some of them. ¹⁵For if their having been cast aside has carried with it the reconciliation of the world, what will their being accepted again be but Life out of death? ¹⁶Now if the firstfruits of the dough are holy, so also is the whole mass; and if the root of a tree is holy, so also are the branches.

¹⁷And if some of the branches have been pruned away, and you, although you were but a wild olive, have been grafted in among them and have become a sharer with others in the rich sap of the root of the olive tree, ¹⁸beware of glorying over the natural branches. Or if you are so glorying, do not forget that it is not you who uphold the root: the root upholds you. ¹⁹"Branches have been lopped off," you will say, "for the sake of my being grafted in." ²⁰This is true; yet it was their unbelief that cut them off, and you only stand through your faith. ²¹Do not be puffed up with pride. Tremble rather—for if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will He spare you. ²²Notice therefore God's kindness and God's severity. On those who have fallen His severity has descended, but upon you His kindness has come, provided that you do not cease to respond to that kindness. Otherwise you will be cut off also. ²³Moreover, if they turn from their unbelief, they too will be grafted in. For God is powerful enough to graft them in again; ²⁴and if you were cut from that which by nature is a wild olive and contrary to nature were grafted into the good olive tree, how much more certainly will these natural branches be grafted on their own olive tree?

All Israel Will Be Saved

²⁵For there is a truth, brethren, not revealed hitherto, of which I do not wish to leave you in ignorance, for fear you should attribute superior wisdom to yourselves—the truth, I mean, that partial blindness has fallen upon Israel until the great mass of the Gentiles have come in;

²⁶and so all Israel will be saved. As is declared in Scripture, "From Mount Zion a Deliverer will come: He will remove all ungodliness from Jacob;

²⁷and this shall be My Covenant with them; when I have taken away their sins."

²⁸In relation to the Good News, the Jews are God's enemies for your sakes; but in relation to God's choice they are dearly loved for the sake of their forefathers. ²⁹For God does not repent of His free gifts nor of His call; ³⁰but just as you were formerly disobedient to Him, but now have received mercy at a time when they are disobedient, ³¹so now they also have been disobedient at a time when you are receiving mercy; so that to them too there may now be mercy. ³²For God has locked up all in the prison of unbelief, that upon all alike He may have mercy.

A Hymn of Praise

(Isaiah 40:9–31)

³³Oh, how inexhaustible are God's resources and God's wisdom and God's knowledge! How impossible it is to search into His decrees or trace His footsteps! ³⁴"Who has ever known the mind of the Lord, or shared His counsels?" ³⁵"Who has first given God anything, so as to receive payment in return?" ³⁶For the universe owes its origin to Him, was created by Him, and has its aim and purpose in Him. To Him be the glory throughout the Ages! Amen.

Living Sacrifices

(1 Corinthians 3:16–23; 1 Corinthians 6:18–20)

¹I plead with you therefore, brethren, by the compassion of God, to present all your faculties to Him as a living and holy sacrifice acceptable to Him. This with you will be an act of reasonable worship.

²And do not follow the customs of the present age, but be transformed by the entire renewal of your minds, so that you may learn by experience what God's will is—that will which is good and beautiful and perfect.

³For through the authority graciously given to me I warn every individual among you not to value himself unduly, but to cultivate sobriety of judgement in accordance with the amount of faith which God has allotted to each one. ⁴For just as there are in the one human body many parts, and these parts have not all the same function; ⁵so collectively we form one body in Christ, while individually we are linked to one another as its members. ⁶But since we have special gifts which differ in accordance with the diversified work graciously entrusted to us, if it is prophecy, let the prophet speak in exact proportion to his faith; ⁷if it is the gift of administration, let the administrator exercise a sound judgement in his duties. ⁸The teacher must do the same in his teaching; and he who exhorts others, in his exhortation. He who gives should be liberal; he who is in authority should be energetic and alert; and he who succours the afflicted should do it cheerfully.

Love, Zeal, Hope, Hospitality

(John 13:31–35; 1 John 3:11–24)

⁹Let your love be perfectly sincere. Regard with horror what is evil; cling to what is right. ¹⁰As for brotherly love, be affectionate to one another; in matters of worldly honour, yield to one another. ¹¹Do not be indolent when zeal is required. Be thoroughly warm-hearted, the Lord's own servants, ¹²full of joyful hope, patient under persecution, earnest and persistent in prayer. ¹³Relieve the necessities of God's people; always practise hospitality.

Forgiveness

(Matthew 18:21–35)

14 Invoke blessings on your persecutors—blessings, not curses. 15 Rejoice with those who rejoice; weep with those who weep. 16 Have full sympathy with one another. Do not give your mind to high things, but let humble ways content you. Do not be wise in your own conceits. 17 Pay back to no man evil for evil. Take thought for what is right and seemly in every one's esteem. 18 If you can, so far as it depends on you, live at peace with all the world. 19 Do not be revengeful, my dear friends, but give way before anger; for it is written, "Revenge belongs to Me: I will pay back," says the Lord." 20 On the contrary, therefore, if your enemy is hungry, give him food; if he is thirsty, quench his thirst. For by doing this you will be heaping burning coals upon his head. 21 Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome the evil with goodness.

Romans 13

Submission to Authorities

(1 Peter 2:13–20)

1 Let every individual be obedient to those who rule over him; for no one is a ruler except by God's permission, and our present rulers have had their rank and power assigned to them by Him. 2 Therefore the man who rebels against his ruler is resisting God's will; and those who thus resist will bring punishment upon themselves. 3 For judges and magistrates are to be feared not by right-doers but by wrong-doers. You desire—do you not?—to have no reason to fear your ruler. Well, do the thing that is right, and then he will commend you. 4 For he is God's servant for your benefit. But if you do what is wrong, be afraid. He does not wear the sword to no purpose: he is God's servant—an administrator to inflict punishment upon evil-doers. 5 We must obey therefore, not only in order to escape punishment, but also for conscience' sake. 6 Why, this is really the reason you pay taxes; for tax-gatherers are ministers of God, devoting their energies to this very work. 7 Pay promptly to all men what is due to them: taxes to those to whom taxes are due, toll to those to whom toll is due, respect to those to whom respect is due, honour to those to whom honour is due.

Love Fulfills the Law

(Leviticus 19:9–18)

8 Owe nothing to any one except mutual love; for he who loves his fellow man has satisfied the demands of Law. 9 For the precepts, "Thou shalt not commit adultery," "Thou shalt do no murder," "Thou shalt not steal," "Thou shalt not covet," and all other precepts, are summed up in this one command, "Thou shalt love thy fellow man as much as thou lovest thyself." 10 Love avoids doing any wrong to one's fellow man, and is therefore complete obedience to Law.

The Day Is Near

11 Carry out these injunctions because you know the critical period at which we are living, and that it is now high time, to rouse yourselves from sleep; for salvation is now nearer to us than when we first became believers. 12 The night is far advanced, and day is about to dawn. We must therefore lay aside the deeds of darkness, and clothe ourselves with the armour of Light. 13 Living as we do in broad daylight, let us conduct ourselves becomingly, not indulging in revelry and drunkenness, nor in lust and debauchery, nor in quarrelling and jealousy. 14 On the contrary, clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for gratifying your earthly cravings.

Romans 14

WEY [Online]

The Law of Liberty

(Matthew 7:1–6; Luke 6:37–42)

1I now pass to another subject. Receive as a friend a man whose faith is weak, but not for the purpose of deciding mere matters of opinion. 2One man's faith allows him to eat anything, while a man of weaker faith eats nothing but vegetables. 3Let not him who eats certain food look down upon him who abstains from it, nor him who abstains from it find fault with him who eats it; for God has received both of them. 4Who are you that you should find fault with the servant of another? Whether he stands or falls is a matter which concerns his own master. But stand he will; for the Master can give him power to stand.

5One man esteems one day more highly than another; another esteems all days alike. Let every one be thoroughly convinced in his own mind. 6He who regards the day as sacred, so regards it for the Master's sake; and he who eats certain food eats it for the Master's sake, for he gives thanks to God; and he who refrains from eating it refrains for the Master's sake, and he also gives thanks to God. 7For not one of us lives to himself, and not one dies to himself. 8If we live, we live to the Lord: if we die, we die to the Lord. So whether we live or die, we belong to the Lord. 9For this was the purpose of Christ's dying and coming to life—namely that He might be Lord both of the dead and the living.

10But you, why do you find fault with your brother? Or you, why do you look down upon your brother? We shall all stand before God to be judged;

11for it is written, "As I live," says the Lord, "to Me every knee shall bow, and every tongue shall make confession to God."

12So we see that every one of us will give account of himself to God.

The Law of Love

(Ezekiel 14:1–11; 1 Corinthians 8:1–13)

13Therefore let us no longer judge one another; but, instead of that, you should come to this judgement—that we must not put a stumbling-block in our brother's path, nor anything to trip him up.

14As one who lives in union with the Lord Jesus, I know and am certain that in its own nature no food is 'impure'; but if people regard any food as impure, to them it is. 15If your brother is pained by the food you are eating, your conduct is no longer controlled by love. Take care lest, by the food you eat, you lead to ruin a man for whom Christ died. 16Therefore do not let the boon which is yours in common be exposed to reproach. 17For the Kingdom of God does not consist of eating and drinking, but of right conduct, peace and joy, through the Holy Spirit; 18and whoever in this way devotedly serves Christ, God takes pleasure in him, and men highly commend him. 19Therefore let us aim at whatever makes for peace and mutual upbuilding of character. 20Do not for food's sake be throwing down God's work. All food is pure; but a man is in the wrong if his food is a snare to others. 21The right course is to forego eating meat or drinking wine or doing anything that tends to your brother's fall. 22As for you and your faith, keep your faith to yourself in the presence of God. The man is to be congratulated who does not pronounce judgement on himself in what his actions sanction. 23But he who has misgivings and yet eats meat is condemned already, because his conduct is not based on faith; for all conduct not based on faith is sinful.

Accept One Another

¹As for us who are strong, our duty is to bear with the weaknesses of those who are not strong, and not seek our own pleasure. ²Let each of us endeavour to please his fellow Christian, aiming at a blessing calculated to build him up. ³For even the Christ did not seek His own pleasure. His principle was, "The reproaches which they addressed to Thee have fallen on me." ⁴For all that was written of old has been written for our instruction, so that we may always have hope through the power of endurance and the encouragement which the Scriptures afford. ⁵And may God, the giver of power of endurance and of that encouragement, grant you to be in full sympathy with one another in accordance with the example of Christ Jesus, ⁶so that with oneness both of heart and voice you may glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Christ the Servant of Jews and Gentiles

⁷Habitually therefore give one another a friendly reception, just as Christ also has received you, and thus promote the glory of God.

⁸My meaning is that Christ has become a servant to the people of Israel in vindication of God's truthfulness—in showing how sure are the promises made to our forefathers—

⁹and that the Gentiles also have glorified God in acknowledgment of His mercy. So it is written, "For this reason I will praise Thee among the Gentiles, and sing psalms in honour of Thy name."

¹⁰And again the Psalmist says, "Be glad, ye Gentiles, in company with His People."

¹¹And again, "Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles, and let all the people extol Him."

¹²And again Isaiah says, "There shall be the Root of Jesse and One who rises up to rule the Gentiles. On Him shall the Gentiles build their hopes."

¹³May God, the giver of hope, fill you with continual joy and peace because you trust in Him—so that you may have abundant hope through the power of the Holy Spirit.

Paul the Minister to the Gentiles

¹⁴But as to you, brethren, I am convinced—yes, I Paul am convinced—that, even apart from my teaching, you are already full of goodness of heart, and enriched with complete Christian knowledge, and are also competent to instruct one another. ¹⁵But I write to you the more boldly—partly as reminding you of what you already know—because of the authority graciously entrusted to me by God, ¹⁶that I should be a minister of Christ Jesus among the Gentiles, doing priestly duties in connexion with God's Good News so that the sacrifice—namely the Gentiles—may be acceptable to Him, being

(as it is) ¹⁷I can therefore glory in Christ Jesus concerning the work for God in which I am engaged. ¹⁸For I will not presume to mention any of the results that Christ has brought about by other agency than mine in securing the obedience of the Gentiles by word or deed, ¹⁹with power manifested in signs and marvels, and through the power of the Holy Spirit. But—to speak simply of my own labours—beginning in Jerusalem and the outlying districts, I have proclaimed without reserve, even as far as Illyricum, the Good News of the Christ; ²⁰making it my ambition, however, not to tell the Good News where Christ’s name was already known, for fear I should be building on another man’s foundation.

²¹But, as Scripture says, “Those shall see, to whom no report about Him has hitherto come, and those who until now have not heard shall understand.”

²²And it is really this which has again and again prevented my coming to you.

Paul’s Travel Plans

(1 Corinthians 16:5–9)

²³But now, as there is no more unoccupied ground in this part of the world, and I have for years past been eager to pay you a visit, ²⁴I hope, as soon as ever I extend my travels into Spain, to see you on my way and be helped forward by you on my journey, when I have first enjoyed being with you for a time. ²⁵But at present I am going to Jerusalem to serve God’s people, ²⁶for Macedonia and Greece have kindly contributed a certain sum in relief of the poor among God’s people, in Jerusalem. ²⁷Yes, they have kindly done this, and, in fact, it was a debt they owed them. For seeing that the Gentiles have been admitted in to partnership with the Jews in their spiritual blessings, they in turn are under an obligation to render sacred service to the Jews in temporal things. ²⁸So after discharging this duty, and making sure that these kind gifts reach those for whom they are intended, I shall start for Spain, passing through Rome on my way there; ²⁹and I know that when I come to you it will be with a vast amount of blessing from Christ.

³⁰But I entreat you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ and by the love which His Spirit inspires, to help me by wrestling in prayer to God on my behalf, ³¹asking that I may escape unhurt from those in Judaea who are disobedient, and that the service which I am going to Jerusalem to render may be well received by the Church there, ³²in order that if God be willing I may come to you with a glad heart, and may enjoy a time of rest with you. ³³May God, who gives peace be with you all! Amen.

Personal Greetings and Love

¹Herewith I introduce our sister Phoebe to you, who is a servant of the Church at Cenchreae, ²that you may receive her as a fellow Christian in a manner worthy of God’s people, and may assist her in any matter in which she may need help. For she has indeed been a kind friend to many, including myself.

³Greetings to Prisca and Aquila my fellow labourers in the work of Christ Jesus— ⁴friends who have endangered their own lives for mine. I am grateful to them, and not I alone, but all the Gentile Churches also. ⁵Greetings, too, to the Church that meets at their house. Greetings to my dear Epaphroditus, who was the earliest convert to Christ in the province of Asia; ⁶to Mary who has laboured strenuously among you; ⁷and to Andronicus and Junia, my countrymen, who once shared my imprisonment. They are of note among the Apostles, and are Christians of longer standing than myself. ⁸Greetings to Ampliatus, dear to me in the Lord; ⁹to Urban, our fellow labourer in Christ, and to my dear Stachys. ¹⁰Greetings to Apella, that veteran believer; and to the members of the household of Aristobulus. ¹¹Greetings to my countryman, Herodion; and to the believing members of the household of Narcissus. ¹²Greetings to those Christian workers, Tryphaena and Tryphosa; also to dear Persis, who has laboured strenuously in the Lord's work. ¹³Greetings to Rufus, who is one of the Lord's chosen people; and to his mother, who has also been a mother to me. ¹⁴Greetings to Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and to the brethren associated with them; ¹⁵to Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister and Olympas, and to all God's people associated with them. ¹⁶Salute one another with a holy kiss. All the Churches of Christ send greetings to you.

Avoid Divisions

(Titus 3:9–11)

¹⁷But I beseech you, brethren, to keep a watch on those who are causing the divisions among you, and are leading others into sin, in defiance of the instruction which you have received; and habitually to shun them. ¹⁸For men of that stamp are not bondservants of Christ our Lord, but are slaves to their own appetites; and by their plausible words and their flattery they utterly deceive the minds of the simple. ¹⁹Your fidelity to the truth is everywhere known. I rejoice over you, therefore, but I wish you to be wise as to what is good, and simple-minded as to what is evil. ²⁰And before long, God the giver of peace will crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you!

Greetings from Paul's Fellow Workers

(Colossians 4:7–14)

²¹Timothy, my fellow worker, sends you greetings, and so do my countrymen Lucius, Jason and Sosipater.

²²I, Tertius, who write this letter, send you Christian greetings.

²³Gaius, my host, who is also the host of the whole Church, greets you. So do Erastus, the treasurer of the city, and Quartus our brother. ²⁴

Doxology

(Jude 1:24–25)

²⁵To Him who has it in His power to make you strong, as declared in the Good News which I am spreading, and the proclamation concerning Jesus Christ, in harmony with the unveiling of the Truth which in the periods of past Ages remained unuttered, ²⁶but has now been brought fully to light, and by the command of the God of the Ages has been made known by the writings of the Prophets among all the Gentiles to win them to obedience to the faith— ²⁷to God, the only wise, through Jesus Christ, even to Him be the glory through all the Ages! Amen.

Greetings from Paul and Sosthenes

(Acts 18:1–11; 2 Corinthians 1:1–2)

1Paul, called to be an Apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God—and our brother Sosthenes:

2To the Church of God in Corinth, men and women consecrated in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all in every place who call on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ—their Lord as well as ours.

3May grace and peace be granted to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Thanksgiving

(Philippians 1:3–11; Colossians 1:3–14)

4I thank my God continually on your behalf for the grace of God bestowed on you in Christ Jesus—
5that you have been so richly blessed in Him, with readiness of speech and fulness of knowledge.
6Thus my testimony as to the Christ has been confirmed in your experience, 7so that there is no gift of God in which you consciously come short while patiently waiting for the reappearing of our Lord Jesus Christ, 8who will also keep you steadfast to the very End, so that you will be free from reproach on the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. 9God is ever true to His promises, and it was by Him that you were, one and all, called into fellowship with his Son Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Unity in the Church

(Psalm 133:1–3; Ephesians 4:1–16)

10Now I entreat you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to cultivate a spirit of harmony—all of you—and that there be no divisions among you, but rather a perfect union through your having one mind and one judgement. 11For I have been distinctly informed, my brethren, about you by Chloe's people, that there are dissensions among you. 12What I mean is that each of you is a partisan. One man says "I belong to Paul;" another "I belong to Apollos;" a third "I belong to Peter;" a fourth "I belong to Christ." 13Is the Christ in fragments? Is it Paul who was crucified on your behalf? Or were you baptized to be Paul's adherents? 14I thank God that I did not baptize any of you except Crispus and Gaius—15for fear people should say that you were baptized to be my adherents. 16I did, however, baptize Stephanas' household also: but I do not think that I baptized any one else. 17Christ did not send me to baptize, but to proclaim the Good News; and not in merely wise words—lest the Cross of Christ should be deprived of its power.

The Message of the Cross

18For the Message of the Cross is foolishness to those who are on the way to perdition, but it is the power of God to those whom He is saving.

19For so it stands written, "I will exhibit the nothingness of the wisdom of the wise, and the intelligence of the intelligent I will bring to nought."

20Where is your wise man? Where your expounder of the Law? Where your investigator of the questions of this present age? Has not God shown the world's wisdom to be utter foolishness? 21For after the world by its wisdom—as God in His wisdom had ordained—had failed to gain the knowledge of God, God was pleased, by the apparent foolishness of the Message which we preach, to save those who accepted it. 22Seeing that Jews demand miracles, and Greeks go in search of wisdom, 23while we proclaim a Christ who has been crucified—to the Jews a stumbling-block, to Gentiles foolishness, 24but to those who have received the Call, whether Jews or Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God.

25Because that which the world deems foolish in God is wiser than men's wisdom, and that which it deems feeble in God is mightier than men's might.

Wisdom from God

26For consider, brethren, God's call to you. Not many who are wise with merely human wisdom, not many of position and influence, not many of noble birth have been called. 27But God has chosen the things which the world regards as foolish, in order to put its wise men to shame; and God has chosen the things which the world regards as destitute of influence, in order to put its powerful things to shame; 28and the things which the world regards as base, and those which it sets utterly at nought—things that have no existence—God has chosen in order to reduce to nothing things that do exist; 29to prevent any mortal man from boasting in the presence of God. 30But you—and it is all God's doing—are in Christ Jesus: He has become for us a wisdom which is from God, consisting of righteousness and sanctification and deliverance; 31in order that it may be as Scripture says, "He who boasts—let his boast be in the Lord."

Paul's Message by the Spirit's Power

1And as for myself, brethren, when I came to you, it was not with surpassing power of eloquence or earthly wisdom that I came, announcing to you that which God had commanded me to bear witness to. 2For I determined to be utterly ignorant, when among you, of everything except of Jesus Christ, and of Him as having been crucified. 3And so far as I myself was concerned, I came to you in conscious feebleness and in fear and in deep anxiety. 4And my language and the Message that I proclaimed were not adorned with persuasive words of earthly wisdom, but depended upon truths which the Spirit taught and mightily carried home; 5so that your trust might rest not on the wisdom of man but on the power of God.

Spiritual Wisdom (Ephesians 1:15–23)

6Yet when we are among mature believers we do speak words of wisdom; a wisdom not belonging, however, to the present age nor to the leaders of the present age who are soon to pass away. 7But in dealing with truths hitherto kept secret we speak of God's wisdom—that hidden wisdom which, before the world began, God pre-destined, so that it should result in glory to us; 8a wisdom which not one of the leaders of the present age possess, for if they had possessed it, they would never have crucified the Lord of glory.

⁹But—to use the words of Scripture—we speak of things which eye has not seen nor ear heard, and which have never entered the heart of man: all that God has in readiness for them that love Him.

¹⁰For us, however, God has drawn aside the veil through the teaching of the Spirit; for the Spirit searches everything, including the depths of the divine nature. ¹¹For, among human beings, who knows a man's inner thoughts except the man's own spirit within him? In the same way, also, only God's Spirit is acquainted with God's inner thoughts. ¹²But we have not received the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which comes forth from God, that we may know the blessings that have been so freely given to us by God. ¹³Of these we speak—not in language which man's wisdom teaches us, but in that which the Spirit teaches—adapting, as we do, spiritual words to spiritual truths.

¹⁴The unspiritual man rejects the things of the Spirit of God, and cannot attain to the knowledge of them, because they are spiritually judged. ¹⁵But the spiritual man judges of everything, although he is himself judged by no one. ¹⁶For who has penetrated the mind of the Lord, and will instruct Him? But we have the mind of Christ.

God's Fellow Workers

(Hebrews 5:11–14)

¹And as for myself, brethren, I found it impossible to speak to you as spiritual men. It had to be as to worldlings—mere babes in Christ. ²I fed you with milk and not with solid food, since for this you were not yet strong enough. And even now you are not strong enough: ³you are still unspiritual. For so long as jealousy and strife continue among you, can it be denied that you are unspiritual and are living and acting like mere men of the world? ⁴For when some one says, "I belong to Paul," and another says, "I belong to Apollos," is not this the way men of the world speak?

⁵What then is Apollos? And what is Paul? They are just God's servants, through whose efforts, and as the Lord granted power to each, you accepted the faith. ⁶I planted and Apollos watered; but it was God who was, all the time, giving the increase. ⁷So that neither the planter nor the waterer is of any importance. God who gives the increase is all in all. ⁸Now in aim and purpose the planter and the waterer are one; and yet each will receive his own special reward, answering to his own special work. ⁹Apollos and I are simply fellow workers for and with God, and you are God's field—God's building.

Christ Our Foundation

(Isaiah 28:14–22; Ephesians 2:19–22; 1 Peter 2:1–8)

¹⁰In discharge of the task which God graciously entrusted to me, I—like a competent master-builder—have laid a foundation, and others are building upon it. But let every one be careful how and what he builds. ¹¹For no one can lay any other foundation in addition to that which is already laid, namely Jesus Christ. ¹²And whether the building which any one is erecting on that foundation be of gold or silver or costly stones, of timber or hay or straw— ¹³the true character of each individual's work will become manifest. For the day of Christ will disclose it, because that day is soon to come upon us clothed in fire, and as for the quality of every one's work—the fire is the thing which will test it. ¹⁴If any one's work—the building which he has erected—stands the test, he will be rewarded. ¹⁵If any one's work is burnt up, he will suffer the loss of it; yet he will himself be rescued, but only, as it were, by passing through the fire.

God's Temple and God's Wisdom

(Romans 12:1–8; 1 Corinthians 6:18–20)

¹⁶Do you not know that you are God's Sanctuary, and that the Spirit of God has His home within you?

¹⁷If any one is marring the Sanctuary of God, him will God mar; for the Sanctuary of God is holy, which you all are.

¹⁸Let no one deceive himself. If any man imagines that he is wise, compared with the rest of you, with the wisdom of the present age, let him become "foolish" so that he may be wise.

¹⁹This world's wisdom is "foolishness" in God's sight; for it is written, "He snares the wise with their own cunning." ²⁰And again, "The Lord takes knowledge of the reasonings of the wise—how useless they are." ²¹Therefore let no one boast about his human teachers. ²²For everything belongs to you—be it Paul or Apollos or Peter, the world or life or death, things present or future—everything belongs to you; ²³and you belong to Christ, and Christ belongs to God.

1 Corinthians 4

Servants of Christ

¹As for us Apostles, let any one take this view of us—we are Christ's officers, and stewards of God's secret truths. ²This being so, it follows that fidelity is what is required in stewards. ³I however am very little concerned at undergoing your scrutiny, or that of other men; in fact I do not even scrutinize myself. ⁴Though I am not conscious of having been in any way unfaithful, yet I do not for that reason stand acquitted; but He whose scrutiny I must undergo is the Lord. ⁵Therefore form no premature judgements, but wait until the Lord returns. He will both bring to light the secrets of darkness and will openly disclose the motives that have been in people's hearts; and then the praise which each man deserves will come to him from God.

⁶In writing this much, brethren, with special reference to Apollos and myself, I have done so for your sakes, in order to teach you by our example what those words mean, which say, "Nothing beyond what is written!"—so that you may cease to take sides in boastful rivalry, for one teacher against another. ⁷Why, who gives you your superiority, my brother? Or what have you that you did not receive? And if you really did receive it, why boast as if this were not so?

⁸Every one of you already has all that heart can desire; already you have grown rich; without waiting for us, you have ascended your thrones! Yes indeed, would to God that you had ascended your thrones, that we also might reign with you! ⁹God, it seems to me, has exhibited us Apostles last of all, as men condemned to death; for we have come to be a spectacle to all creation—alike to angels and to men. ¹⁰We, for Christ's sake, are labeled as "foolish"; you, as Christians, are men of shrewd intelligence. We are mere weaklings: you are strong. You are in high repute: we are outcasts. 11To this very moment we endure both hunger and thirst, with scanty clothing and many a blow. 12Homes we have none. Wearily we toil, working with our own hands. When reviled, we bless; when persecuted, we bear it patiently; 13when slandered, we try to conciliate. We have come to be regarded as the mere dirt and filth of the world—the refuse of the universe, even to this hour.

Paul's Fatherly Warning

14I am not writing all this to shame you, but I am offering you advice as my dearly-loved children. 15For even if you were to have ten thousand spiritual instructors—for all that you could not have several fathers. It is I who in Christ Jesus became your father through the Good News. 16I entreat you therefore to become like me. 17For this reason I have sent Timothy to you. Spiritually he is my dearly-loved and faithful child. He will remind you of my habits as a Christian teacher—the manner in which I teach everywhere in every Church. 18But some of you have been puffed up through getting the idea that I am not coming to Corinth. 19But, if the Lord is willing, I shall come to you without delay; and then I shall know not the fine speeches of these conceited people, but their power. 20For Apostolic authority is not a thing of words, but of power. 21Which shall it be? Shall I come to you with a rod, or in a loving and tender spirit?

Immorality Rebuked

(Leviticus 20:10–21; Proverbs 5:1–23)

1It is actually reported that there is fornication among you, and of a kind unheard of even among the Gentiles—a man has his father's wife! 2And you, instead of mourning and removing from among you the man who has done this deed of shame, are filled with self-complacency!

3I for my part, present with you in spirit although absent in body, have already, as though I were present, judged him who has so acted. 4In the name of our Lord Jesus, when you are all assembled and my spirit is with you, together with the power of our Lord Jesus, 5I have handed over such a man to Satan for the destruction of his body, that his spirit may be saved on the day of the Lord Jesus.

6It is no good thing—this which you make the ground of your boasting. Do you not know that a little yeast corrupts the whole of the dough? 7Get rid of the old yeast so that you may be dough of a new kind; for in fact you are free from corruption. For our Passover Lamb has already been offered in sacrifice—even Christ. 8Therefore let us keep our festival not with old yeast nor with the yeast of what is evil and mischievous, but with bread free from yeast—the bread of transparent sincerity and of truth.

Expel the Immoral Brother

9I wrote to you in that letter that you were not to associate with fornicators; 10not that in this world you are to keep wholly aloof from such as they, any more than from people who are avaricious and greedy of gain, or from worshippers of idols. For that would mean that you would be compelled to go out of the world altogether. 11But what I meant was that you were not to associate with any one bearing the name of "brother," if he was addicted to fornication or avarice or idol-worship or abusive language or hard-drinking or greed of gain. With such a man you ought not even to eat. 12For what business of mine is it to judge outsiders? Is it not for you to judge those who are within the Church 13while you leave to God's judgement those who are outside? Remove the wicked man from among you.

1 Corinthians 6

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

Lawsuits among Believers

1If one of you has a grievance against an opponent, does he dare to go to law before irreligious men and not before God's people? 2Do you not know that God's people will sit in judgement upon the world? And if you are the court before which the world is to be judged, are you unfit to deal with these petty matters? 3Do you not know that we are to sit in judgement upon angels—to say nothing of things belonging to this life? 4If therefore you have things belonging to this life which need to be decided, is it men who are absolutely nothing in the Church—is it they whom you make your judges? 5I say this to put you to shame. Has it come to this, that there does not exist among you a single wise man competent to decide between a man and his brother, 6but brother goes to law with brother, and that before unbelievers?

7To say no more, then, it is altogether a defect in you that you have law-suits with one another. Why not rather endure injustice? Why not rather submit to being defrauded? 8On the contrary you yourselves inflict injustice and fraud, and upon brethren too.

Members of Christ

9Do you not know that unrighteous men will not inherit God's Kingdom? Cherish no delusion here. Neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor any who are guilty of unnatural crime, 10nor thieves, nor avaricious people, nor any who are addicted to hard drinking, to abusive language or to greed of gain, will inherit God's Kingdom. 11And all this describes what some of you were. But now you have had every stain washed off: now you have been set apart as holy: now you have been pronounced free from guilt; in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ and through the Spirit of our God.

12Everything is allowable to me, but not everything is profitable. Everything is allowable to me, but to nothing will I become a slave. 13Food of all kinds is meant for the stomach, and the stomach is meant for food, and God will cause both of them to perish. Yet the body does not exist for the purpose of fornication, but for the Master's service, and the Master exists for the body; 14and as God by His power raised the Master to life, so He will also raise us up. 15Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I then take away the members of Christ and make them the members of a prostitute? No, indeed. 16Or do you not know that a man who has to do with a prostitute is one with her in body? For God says, "The two shall become one." 17But he who is in union with the Master is one with Him in spirit.

The Temple of the Holy Spirit

(Romans 12:1–8; 1 Corinthians 3:16–23)

18Flee from fornication. Any other sin that a human being commits lies outside the body; but he who commits fornication sins against his own body. 19Or do you not know that your bodies are a sanctuary of the Holy Spirit who is within you—the Spirit whom you have from God? 20And you are not your own, for you have been redeemed at infinite cost. Therefore glorify God in your bodies.

Principles of Marriage

1I now deal with the subjects mentioned in your letter. It is well for a man to abstain altogether from marriage. 2But because there is so much fornication every man should have a wife of his own, and every woman should have a husband. 3Let a man pay his wife her due, and let a woman also pay her husband his. 4A married woman is not mistress of her own person: her husband has certain rights. In the same way a married man is not master of his own person: his wife has certain rights. 5Do not refuse one another, unless perhaps it is just for a time and by mutual consent, so that you may devote yourselves to prayer and may then associate again; lest the Adversary begin to tempt you because of your deficiency in self-control. 6Thus much in the way of concession, not of command. 7Yet I would that everybody lived as I do; but each of us has his own special gift from God—one in one direction and one in another.

8But I tell the unmarried, and women who are widows, that it is well for them to remain as I am. 9If, however, they cannot maintain self-control, by all means let them marry; for marriage is better than the fever of passion.

10But to those already married my instructions are—yet not mine, but the Lord's—that a wife is not to leave her husband; 11or if she has already left him, let her either remain as she is or be reconciled to him; and that a husband is not to send away his wife.

12To the rest it is I who speak—not the Lord. If a brother has a wife who is an unbeliever, and she consents to live with him, let him not send her away. 13And a woman who has an unbelieving husband—if he consents to live with her, let her not separate from him. 14For, in such cases, the unbelieving husband has become—and is—holy through union with a Christian woman, and the unbelieving wife is holy through union with a Christian brother. Otherwise your children would be unholy, but in reality they have a place among God's people. 15If, however, the unbeliever is determined to leave, let him or her do so. Under such circumstances the Christian man or woman is no slave; God has called us to live lives of peace. 16For what assurance have you, O woman, as to whether you will save your husband? Or what assurance have you, O man, as to whether you will save your wife?

Live Your Calling

17Only, whatever be the condition in life which the Lord has assigned to each individual—and whatever the condition in which he was living when God called him—in that let him continue. 18This is what I command in all the Churches. Was any one already circumcised when called? Let him not have recourse to the surgeons. Was any one uncircumcised when called? Let him remain uncircumcised. 19Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing: obedience to God's commandments is everything. ²⁰Whatever be the condition in life in which a man was, when he was called, in that let him continue.

²¹Were you a slave when God called you? Let not that weigh on your mind. And yet if you can get your freedom, take advantage of the opportunity. ²²For a Christian, if he was a slave when called, is the Lord's freed man, and in the same way a free man, if called, becomes the slave of Christ. ²³You have all been redeemed at infinite cost: do not become slaves to men. ²⁴Where each one stood when he was called, there, brethren, let him still stand—close to God.

The Unmarried and Widowed

²⁵Concerning unmarried women I have no command to give you from the Lord; but I offer you my opinion, which is that of a man who, through the Lord's mercy, is deserving of your confidence. ²⁶I think then that, taking into consideration the distress which is now upon us, it is well for a man to remain as he is. ²⁷Are you bound to a wife? Do not seek to get free. Are you free from the marriage bond? Do not seek for a wife. ²⁸Yet if you marry, you have not sinned; and if a maiden marries, she has not sinned. Such people, however, will have outward trouble. But I am for sparing you. ²⁹Yet of this I warn you, brethren: the time has been shortened—so that henceforth those who have wives should be as though they had none, ³⁰those who weep as though they did not weep, those who rejoice as though they did not rejoice, those who buy as though they did not possess, ³¹and those who use the world as not using it to the full. For the world as it now exists is passing away.

³²And I would have you free from worldly anxiety. An unmarried man concerns himself with the Lord's business—how he shall please the Lord; ³³but a married man concerns himself with the business of the world—how he shall please his wife. ³⁴There is a difference too between a married and an unmarried woman. She who is unmarried concerns herself with the Lord's business—that she may be holy both in body and spirit; but the married woman concerns herself with the business of the world—how she shall please her husband. ³⁵Thus much I say in your own interest; not to lay a trap for you, but to help towards what is becoming, and enable you to wait on the Lord without distraction.

³⁶If, however, a father thinks he is acting unbecomingly towards his still unmarried daughter if she be past the bloom of her youth, and so the matter is urgent, let him do what she desires; he commits no sin; she and her suitor should be allowed to marry. ³⁷But if a father stands firm in his resolve, being free from all external constraint and having a legal right to act as he pleases, and in his own mind has come to the decision to keep his daughter unmarried, he will do well. ³⁸So that he who gives his daughter in marriage does well, and yet he who does not give her in marriage will do better.

³⁹A woman is bound to her husband during the whole period that he lives; but if her husband dies, she is at liberty to marry whom she will, provided that he is a Christian. ⁴⁰But in my judgement, her state is a more enviable one if she remains as she is; and I also think that I have the Spirit of God.

Food Sacrificed to Idols

(Ezekiel 14:1–11; Romans 14:13–23)

¹Now as to things which have been sacrificed to idols. This is a subject which we already understand—because we all have knowledge of it. Knowledge, however, tends to make people conceited; it is love that builds us up. ²If any one imagines that he already possesses any true knowledge, he has as yet attained to no knowledge of the kind to which he ought to have attained; ³but if any one loves God, that man is known by God.

⁴As to eating things which have been sacrificed to idols, we are fully aware that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is no God but One. ⁵For if so-called gods do exist, either in Heaven or on earth—and in fact there are many such gods and many such lords— ⁶yet we have but one God, the Father, who is the source of all things and for whose service we exist, and but one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom we and all things exist.

⁷But all believers do not recognize these facts. Some, from force of habit in relation to the idol, even now eat idol sacrifices as such, and their consciences, being but weak, are polluted. ⁸It is true that a particular kind of food will not bring us into God's presence; we are neither inferior to others if we abstain from it, nor superior to them if we eat it. ⁹But take care lest this liberty of yours should prove a hindrance to the progress of weak believers. ¹⁰For if any one were to see you, who know the real truth of this matter, reclining at table in an idol's temple, would not his conscience (supposing him to be a weak believer) ¹¹Why, your knowledge becomes the ruin of the weak believer—your brother, for whom Christ died! ¹²Moreover when you thus sin against the brethren and wound their weak consciences, you are, in reality, sinning against Christ. ¹³Therefore if what I eat causes my brother to fall, never again to the end of my days will I touch any kind of animal food, for fear I should cause my brother to fall.

The Rights of an Apostle

(Deuteronomy 18:1–8)

¹Am I not free? Am I not an Apostle? Can it be denied that I have seen Jesus, our Lord? Are not you yourselves my work in the Lord? ²If to other men I am not an Apostle, yet at any rate I am one to you; for your very existence as a Christian Church is the seal of my Apostleship.

³That is how I vindicate myself to those who criticize me. ⁴Have we not a right to claim food and drink? ⁵Have we not a right to take with us on our journeys a Christian sister as our wife, as the rest of the Apostles do—and the Lord's brothers and Peter? ⁶Or again, is it only Barnabas and myself who are not at liberty to give up working with our hands? ⁷What soldier ever serves at his own cost? Who plants a vineyard and yet does not eat any of the grapes? Or who tends a herd of cattle and yet does not taste their milk?

⁸Am I making use of merely worldly illustrations? Does not the Law speak in the same tone? ⁹For in the Law of Moses it is written, "Thou shalt not muzzle an ox while it is treading out the grain." ¹⁰Is God simply thinking about the oxen? Or is it really in our interest that He speaks? Of course, it was written in our interest, because it is His will that when a plough-man ploughs, and a thresher threshes, it should be in the hope of sharing that which comes as the result. ¹¹If it is we who sowed the spiritual grain in you, is it a great thing that we should reap a temporal harvest from you? ¹²If other teachers possess that right over you, do not we possess it much more? Yet we have not availed ourselves of the right, but we patiently endure all things rather than hinder in the least degree the progress of the Good News of the Christ. 13Do you not know that those who perform the sacred rites have their food from the sacred place, and that those who serve at the altar all alike share with the altar? 14In the same way the Lord also directed those who proclaim the Good News to maintain themselves by the Good News.

15But I, for my part, have not used, and do not use, my full rights in any of these things. Nor do I now write with that object so far as I myself am concerned, for I would rather die than have anybody make this boast of mine an empty one. 16If I go on preaching the Good News, that is nothing for me to boast of; for the necessity is imposed upon me; and alas for me, if I fail to preach it! 17And if I preach willingly, I receive my wages; but if against my will, a stewardship has nevertheless been entrusted to me. 18What are my wages then? The very fact that the Good News which I preach will cost my hearers nothing, so that I cannot be charged with abuse of my privileges as a Christian preacher.

Paul the Servant to All

19Though free from all human control, I have made myself the slave of all in the hope of winning as many converts as possible. 20To the Jews I have become like a Jew in order to win Jews; to men under the Law as if I were under the Law—although I am not—in order to win those who are under the Law; 21to men without Law as if I were without Law—although I am not without Law in relation to God but am abiding in Christ's Law—in order to win those who are without Law. 22To the weak I have become weak, so as to gain the weak. To all men I have become all things, in the hope that in every one of these ways I may save some. 23And I do everything for the sake of the Good News, that I may share with my hearers in its benefits.

Run Your Race to Win

24Do you not know that in the foot-race the runners all run, but that only one gets the prize? You must run like him, in order to win with certainty. 25But every competitor in an athletic contest practices abstemiousness in all directions. They indeed do this for the sake of securing a perishable wreath, but we for the sake of securing one that will not perish. 26That is how I run, not being in any doubt as to my goal. I am a boxer who does not inflict blows on the air, 27but I hit hard and straight at my own body and lead it off into slavery, lest possibly, after I have been a herald to others, I should myself be rejected.

Warnings from Israel's Past

(Numbers 16:41–50; Numbers 25:1–5)

1For I would have you remember, brethren, how our forefathers were all of them sheltered by the cloud, and all got safely through the Red Sea. 2All were baptized in the cloud and in the sea to be followers of Moses. 3All ate the same spiritual food, 4and all drank the same spiritual drink; for they long drank the water that flowed from the spiritual rock that went with them—and that rock was the Christ. 5But with most of them God was not well pleased; for they were laid low in the Desert.

⁶And in this they became a warning to us, to teach us not to be eager, as they were eager, in pursuit of what is evil. ⁷And you must not be worshippers of idols, as some of them were. For it is written, "The People sat down to eat and drink, and stood up to dance." ⁸Nor may we be fornicators, like some of them who committed fornication and on a single day 23,000 of them fell dead. ⁹And do not let us test the Lord too far, as some of them tested Him and were destroyed by the serpents. ¹⁰And do not be discontented, as some of them were, and they were destroyed by the Destroyer. ¹¹All this kept happening to them with a figurative meaning; but it was put on record by way of admonition to us upon whom the ends of the Ages have come. ¹²So then let him who thinks he is standing securely beware of falling. ¹³No temptation has you in its power but such as is common to human nature; and God is faithful and will not allow you to be tempted beyond your strength. But, when the temptation comes, He will also provide the way of escape; so that you may be able to bear it.

Flee from Idolatry

(Exodus 20:22–26)

¹⁴Therefore, my dear friends, avoid all connection with the worship of idols. ¹⁵I speak as to men of sense: judge for yourselves of what I say. ¹⁶The cup of blessing, which we bless, does it not mean a joint-participation in the blood of Christ? The loaf of bread which we break, does it not mean a joint-participation in the body of Christ? ¹⁷Since there is one loaf, we who are many are one body; we, all of us, share in that one loaf. ¹⁸Look at the Israelites—the nation and their ritual. Are not those who eat the sacrifices joint-partakers in the altar? ¹⁹Do I mean that a thing sacrificed to an idol is what it claims to be, or that an idol is a real thing? ²⁰No, but that which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to demons, not to God; and I would not have you have fellowship with one another through the demons. ²¹You cannot drink the Lord's cup and the cup of demons: you cannot be joint-partakers both in the table of the Lord and in the table of demons. ²²Or are we actually arousing the Lord to jealousy. Are we stronger than He is?

All to God's Glory

(1 Peter 4:1–11)

²³Everything is allowable, but not everything is profitable. Everything is allowable, but everything does not build others up. ²⁴Let no one be for ever seeking his own good, but let each seek that of his fellow man. ²⁵Anything that is for sale in the meat market, eat, and ask no questions for conscience' sake; ²⁶for the earth is the Lord's, and all that it contains. ²⁷If an unbeliever gives you an invitation and you are disposed to accept it, eat whatever is put before you, and ask no questions for conscience' sake. ²⁸But if any one tells you, "This food has been offered in sacrifice;" abstain from eating it—out of respect for him who warned you, and, as before, for conscience' sake. ²⁹But now I mean his conscience, not your own. "Why, on what ground," you may object, "is the question of my liberty of action to be decided by a conscience not my own?" ³⁰If, so far as I am concerned, I partake with a grateful heart, why am I to be found fault with in regard to a thing for which I give thanks?"

³¹Whether, then, you are eating or drinking, or whatever you are doing, let everything be done to the glory of God. ³²Do not be causes of stumbling either to Jews or to Gentiles, nor to the Church of God. ³³That is the way that I also seek in everything the approval of all men, not aiming at my own profit, but at that of the many, in the hope that they may be saved.

1 Corinthians 11

Roles in Worship

1Be imitators of me, in so far as I in turn am an imitator of Christ.

2Now I commend you for remembering me in everything, and because you hold fast truths and practices precisely as I have taught them to you. 3I would have you know, however, that of every man, Christ is the Head, that of a woman her husband is the Head, and that God is Christ's Head. 4A man who wears a veil when praying or prophesying dishonors his Head; 5but a woman who prays or prophesies with her head uncovered dishonors her Head, for it is exactly the same as if she had her hair cut short. 6If a woman will not wear a veil, let her also cut off her hair. But since it is a dishonor to a woman to have her hair cut off or her head shaved, let her wear a veil. 7For a man ought not to have a veil on his head, since he is the image and glory of God; while woman is the glory of man. 8Man does not take his origin from woman, but woman takes hers from man. 9For man was not created for woman's sake, but woman for man's. 10That is why a woman ought to have on her head a symbol of subjection, because of the angels. 11Yet, in the Lord, woman is not independent of man nor man independent of woman. 12For just as woman originates from man, so also man comes into existence through woman, but everything springs originally from God. 13Judge of this for your own selves: is it seemly for a woman to pray to God when she is unveiled? 14Does not Nature itself teach you that if a man has long hair it is a dishonor to him, 15but that if a woman has long hair it is her glory, because her hair was given her for a covering? 16But if any one is inclined to be contentious on the point, we have no such custom, nor have the Churches of God.

Sharing in the Lord's Supper

(Matthew 26:20–30; Mark 14:17–26; Luke 22:14–23)

17But while giving you these instructions, there is one thing I cannot praise—your meeting together, with bad rather than good results. 18for, in the first place, when you meet as a Church, there are divisions among you. This is what I am told, and I believe that there is some truth in it. 19For there must of necessity be differences of opinion among you, in order that it may be plainly seen who are the men of sterling worth among you. 20When, however, you meet in one place, there is no eating the Supper of the Lord; 21for it is his own supper of which each of you is in a hurry to partake, and one eats like a hungry man, while another has already drunk to excess. 22Why, have you no homes in which to eat and drink? Or do you wish to show your contempt for the Church of God and make those who have no homes feel ashamed? What shall I say to you? Shall I praise you? In this matter I certainly do not praise you.

23For it was from the Lord that I received the facts which, in turn, I handed on to you; how that the Lord Jesus, on the night He was to be betrayed, took some bread, 24and after giving thanks He broke it and said, "This is my body which is about to be broken for you. Do this in memory of me." 25In the same way, when the meal was over, He also took the cup. "This cup," He said, "is the new Covenant of which my blood is the pledge. Do this, every time that you drink it, in memory of me." 26For every time that you eat this bread and drink from the cup, you are proclaiming the Lord's death—until He returns.

27Whoever, therefore, in an unworthy manner, eats the bread or drinks from the cup of the Lord sins against the body and blood of the Lord. 28But let a man examine himself, and, having done that, then let him eat the bread and drink from the cup. 29For any one who eats and drinks, eats and drinks judgement to himself, if he fails to estimate the body aright. ³⁰That is why many among you are sickly and out of health, and why not a few die. ³¹If, however, we estimated ourselves aright, we should not be judged. ³²But when we are judged by the Lord, chastisement follows, to save us from being condemned along with the world.

³³Therefore, brethren, when you come together for this meal, wait for one another. ³⁴If any one is hungry, let him eat at home; so that your coming together may not lead to judgement. The other matters I will deal with whenever I come.

Spiritual Gifts

¹It is important, brethren, that you should have clear knowledge on the subject of spiritual gifts. ²You know that when you were heathens you went astray after dumb idols, wherever you happened to be led. ³For this reason I would have you understand that no one speaking under the influence of The Spirit of God ever says, "Jesus is accursed," and that no one is able to say, "Jesus is Lord," except under the influence of the Holy Spirit.

⁴Now there are various kinds of gifts, but there is one and the same Spirit; ⁵various forms of official service, and yet one and the same Lord; ⁶diversities in work, and yet one and the same God—He who in each person brings about the whole result. ⁷But to each of us a manifestation of the Spirit has been granted for the common good. ⁸To one the utterance of wisdom has been granted through the Spirit; to another the utterance of knowledge in accordance with the will of the same Spirit; ⁹to a third man, by means of the same Spirit, special faith; to another various gifts of healing, by means of the one Spirit; ¹⁰to another the exercise of miraculous powers; to another the gift of prophecy; to another the power of discriminating between prophetic utterances; to another varieties of the gift of 'tongues;' to another the interpretation of tongues. ¹¹But these results are all brought about by one and the same Spirit, who bestows His gifts upon each of us in accordance with His own will.

The Body of Christ

¹²For just as the human body is one and yet has many parts, and all its parts, many as they are, constitute but one body, so it is with the Church of Christ. ¹³For, in fact, in one Spirit all of us—whether we are Jews or Gentiles, slaves or free men—were baptized to form but one body; and we were all nourished by that one Spirit.

¹⁴For the human body does not consist of one part, but of many. ¹⁵Were the foot to say, "Because I am not a hand I am not a part of the body," that would not make it any the less a part of the body. ¹⁶Or were the ear to say, "Because I am not an eye, I am not a part of the body," that would not make it any the less a part of the body. ¹⁷If the whole body were an eye, where would the hearing be? If the whole body were an ear, where would the nostrils be? ¹⁸But, as a matter of fact, God has arranged the parts in the body—every one of them—as He has seen fit. ¹⁹If they were all one part, where would the body be? ²⁰But, as a matter of fact, there are many parts and but one body. ²¹It is also impossible for the eye to say to the hand, "I do not need you;" or again for the head to say to the feet, "I do not need you." ²²No, it is quite otherwise. Even those parts of the body which are apparently somewhat feeble are yet indispensable; ²³and those which we deem less honorable we clothe with more abundant honor; and so our ungraceful parts come to have a more abundant grace, while our graceful parts have everything they need. ²⁴But it was God who built up the body, and bestowed more abundant honor on the part that felt the need, ²⁵that there might be no disunion in the body, but that all the members might entertain the same anxious care for one another's welfare. ²⁶And if one part is suffering, every other part suffers with it; or if one part is receiving special honor, every other part shares in the joy.

The Greater Gifts

²⁷As for you, you are the body of Christ, and individually you are members of it.

²⁸And by God's appointment there are in the Church—first Apostles, secondly Prophets, thirdly teachers. Then come miraculous powers, and then ability to cure diseases or render loving service, or powers of organization, or varieties of the gift of 'tongues.' ²⁹Are all Apostles? Are all Prophets? Are all teachers? ³⁰Have all miraculous powers? Have all ability to cure diseases? Do all speak in 'tongues'? Do all interpret? ³¹But always seek to excel in the greater gifts. And now I will point out to you a way of life which transcends all others.

1 Corinthians 13

Love

¹If I can speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but am destitute of Love, I have but become a loud-sounding trumpet or a clanging cymbal. ²If I possess the gift of prophecy and am versed in all mysteries and all knowledge, and have such absolute faith that I can remove mountains, but am destitute of Love, I am nothing. ³And if I distribute all my possessions to the poor, and give up my body to be burned, but am destitute of Love, it profits me nothing.

⁴Love is patient and kind. Love knows neither envy nor jealousy. Love is not forward and self-assertive, nor boastful and conceited. ⁵She does not behave unbecomingly, nor seek to aggrandize herself, nor blaze out in passionate anger, nor brood over wrongs. ⁶She finds no pleasure in injustice done to others, but joyfully sides with the truth. ⁷She knows how to be silent. She is full of trust, full of hope, full of patient endurance.

⁸Love never fails. But if there are prophecies, they will be done away with; if there are languages, they will cease; if there is knowledge, it will be brought to an end. ⁹For our knowledge is imperfect, and so is our prophesying; ¹⁰but when the perfect state of things is come, all that is imperfect will be brought to an end. ¹¹When I was a child, I talked like a child, felt like a child, reasoned like a child: when I became a man, I put from me childish ways. ¹²For the present we see things as if in a mirror, and are puzzled; but then we shall see them face to face. For the present the knowledge I gain is imperfect; but then I shall know fully, even as I am fully known. ¹³And so there remain Faith, Hope, Love—these three; and of these the greatest is Love.

1 Corinthians 14

Prophecy and Tongues

1Be eager in your pursuit of this Love, and be earnestly ambitious for spiritual gifts, but let it be chiefly so in order that you may prophesy. 2For he who speaks in an unknown tongue is not speaking to men, but to God; for no one understands him. Yet in the Spirit he is speaking secret truths. 3But he who prophesies speaks to men words of edification, encouragement and comfort. 4He who speaks in an unknown tongue does good to himself, but he who prophesies does good to the Church. 5I should be right glad were you all to speak in 'tongues,' but yet more glad were you all to prophesy. And, in fact, the man who prophesies is superior to him who speaks in 'tongues,' except when the latter can interpret in order that the Church may get a blessing.

6But, brethren, as things are, if I come to you speaking in 'tongues,' what benefit shall I confer on you, if the utterance is neither in the form of a revelation nor of additional knowledge nor of prophecy nor of teaching? 7Even inanimate things—flutes or harps, for instance—when yielding a sound, if they make no distinction in the notes, how shall the tune which is played on the flute or the harp be known? 8If the bugle—to take another example—gives an uncertain sound, who will prepare for battle? 9And so with you; if with the living voice you fail to utter intelligible words, how will people know what you are saying? You will be talking to the winds. 10There are, we will suppose, a great number of languages in the world, and no creature is without a language. 11If, however, I do not know the meaning of the particular language, I shall seem to the speaker of it, and he to me, to be merely talking some foreign tongue. 12Therefore, seeing that you are ambitious for spiritual gifts, seek to excel in them so as to benefit the Church.

13Therefore let a man who has the gift of tongues pray for the power of interpreting them. 14For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prays, but my understanding is barren. 15How then does the matter stand? I will pray in spirit, and I will pray with my understanding also. I will praise God in spirit, and I will praise Him with my understanding also. 16Otherwise, if you bless God in spirit only, how shall he who is in the position of an ungifted man say the 'Amen' to your giving of thanks, when he does not know what your words mean? 17Rightly enough you are giving thanks, and yet your neighbor is not benefited. 18I speak in a tongue, thank God, more than all of you; 19but in the Church I would rather speak five words with my understanding—so as to instruct others also—than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

20Brethren, do not prove yourselves to be children in your minds. As regards evil, indeed, be utter babes, but as regards your minds prove yourselves to be men of ripe years. 21In the Law it stands written, "By men of unknown tongues and by the lips of an unknown nation will I speak to this People, but even then they will not listen to Me," says the Lord." 22This shows that the gift of tongues is intended as a sign not to those who believe but to unbelievers, but prophecy is intended not for unbelievers but for those who believe. 23Accordingly if the whole Church has assembled and all are speaking in 'tongues,' and there come in ungifted men, or unbelievers, will they not say that you are all mad? 24If, on the other hand, every one is prophesying and an unbeliever or an ungifted man comes in, he is convicted by all and closely examined by all, 25and the hidden evils of his heart are brought to light. And, as the result, he will fall on his face and worship God, and will report to others that of a truth God is among you.

Orderly Worship

26What then, brethren? Whenever you assemble, there is not one of you who is not ready either with a song of praise, a sermon, a revelation, a 'tongue,' or an interpretation. Let everything be done with a view to the building up of faith and character. 27If there is speaking in an unknown tongue, only two or at the most three should speak, and they should do so one at a time, and one should interpret; 28or if there is no interpreter, let the man with the gift be silent in the Church, speaking to himself and to God. 29But if there are Prophets, let two or three speak and let the rest judge. 30And if anything is revealed to some one else who is seated there, let the first be silent. 31For you can all prophesy one by one, so that all may learn and all be encouraged: 32and the spirits of Prophets yield submission to Prophets. 33For God is not a God of disorder, but of peace, as He is in all the Churches of His people.

34Let married women be silent in the Churches, for they are not permitted to speak. They must be content with a subordinate place, as the Law also says; 35and if they wish to ask questions, they should ask their own husbands at home. For it is disgraceful for a married woman to speak at a Church assembly. 36Was it from you that God's Message first went forth, or is it to you only that it has come?

37If any one deems himself to be a Prophet or a man with spiritual gifts, let him recognize as the Lord's command all that I am now writing to you. 38But if any one is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39The conclusion, my brethren, is this. Be earnestly ambitious to prophesy, and do not check speaking with tongues; 40only let everything be done in a becoming and orderly manner.

The Resurrection of Christ

1But let me recall to you, brethren, the Good News which I brought you, which you accepted, and on which you are standing, 2through which also you are obtaining salvation, if you bear in mind the words in which I proclaimed it—unless indeed your faith has been unreal from the very first.

3For I repeated to you the all-important fact which also I had been taught, that Christ died for our sins in accordance with the Scriptures; 4that He was buried; that He rose to life again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures, 5and was seen by Peter, and then by the Twelve. 6Afterwards He was seen by more than five hundred brethren at once, most of whom are still alive, although some of them have now fallen asleep. 7Afterwards He was seen by James, and then by all the Apostles. 8And last of all, as to one of untimely birth, He appeared to me also. 9For I am the least of the Apostles, and am not fit to be called an Apostle—because I persecuted the Church of God. 10But what I am I am by the grace of God, and His grace bestowed upon me did not prove ineffectual. But I labored more strenuously than all the rest—yet it was not I, but God's grace working with me. 11But whether it is I or they, this is the way we preach and the way that you came to believe.

The Resurrection of the Dead

12But if Christ is preached as having risen from the dead, how is it that some of you say that there is no such thing as a resurrection of the dead? 13If there is no such thing as a resurrection of the dead, then Christ Himself has not risen to life. 14And if Christ has not risen, it follows that what we preach is a delusion, and that your faith also is a delusion. 15Nay more, we are actually being discovered to be bearing false witness about God, because we have testified that God raised Christ to life, whom He did not raise, if in reality none of the dead are raised. 16For if none of the dead are raised to life, then Christ has not risen; 17and if Christ has not risen, your faith is a vain thing—you are still in your sins. 18It follows also that those who have fallen asleep in Christ have perished. 19If in this present life we have a hope resting on Christ, and nothing more, we are more to be pitied than all the rest of the world.

The Order of Resurrection

20But, in reality, Christ has risen from among the dead, being the first to do so of those who are asleep. 21For seeing that death came through man, through man comes also the resurrection of the dead. 22For just as through Adam all die, so also through Christ all will be made alive again. 23But this will happen to each in the right order—Christ having been the first to rise, and afterwards Christ's people rising at His return. 24Later on, comes the End, when He is to surrender the Kingship to God, the Father, when He shall have overthrown all other government and all other authority and power. 25For He must continue King until He shall have put all His enemies under His feet. 26The last enemy that is to be overthrown is Death; 27for He will have put all things in subjection under His feet. And when He shall have declared that "All things are in subjection," it will be with the manifest exception of Him who has reduced them all to subjection to Him. 28But when the whole universe has been made subject to Him, then the Son Himself will also become subject to Him who has made the universe subject to Him, in order that GOD may be all in all.

29Otherwise what will become of those who got themselves baptized for the dead? If the dead do not rise at all, why are these baptized for them? 30Why also do we Apostles expose ourselves to danger every hour? 31I protest, brethren, as surely as I glory over you—which I may justly do in Christ Jesus our Lord—that I die day by day. 32If from merely human motives I have fought with wild beasts in Ephesus, what profit is it to me? If the dead do not rise, let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we are to die. 33Do not deceive yourselves: "Evil companionships corrupt good morals." 34Wake from this drunken fit; live righteous lives, and cease to sin; for some have no knowledge of God: I speak thus in order to move you to shame.

The Resurrection Body

35But some one will say, "How can the dead rise? And with what kind of body do they come back?" 36Foolish man! the seed you yourself sow has no life given to it unless it first dies; 37and as for what you sow, it is not the plant which is to be that you are sowing, but a bare grain, of wheat (it may be) 38and to each kind of seed a body of its own. 39All flesh is not the same: there is human flesh, and flesh of cattle, of birds, and of fishes. 40There are bodies which are celestial and there are bodies which are earthly, but the glory of the celestial ones is one thing, and that of the earthly ones is another. 41There is one glory of the sun, another of the moon, and another of the stars; for star differs from star in glory.

42It is the same with the resurrection of the dead. The body is sown in a state of decay, it is raised free from decay; 43it is sown in dishonor, it is raised in glory; it is sown in weakness, it is raised in power; 44an animal body is sown, a spiritual body is raised. As surely as there is an animal body, so there is also a spiritual body. 45In the same way also it is written, "The first man Adam became a living animal"; the last Adam is a life-giving Spirit. 46Nevertheless, it is not what is spiritual that came first, but what is animal; what is spiritual came afterwards. 47The first man is a man of earth, earthy; the second man is from Heaven. 48What the earthy one is, that also are those who are earthy; and what the heavenly One is, that also are those who are heavenly. ⁴⁹And as we have borne a resemblance to the earthy one, let us see to it that we also bear a resemblance to the heavenly One.

Where, O Death, Is Your Victory?

(Hosea 13:9–14)

⁵⁰But this I tell you, brethren: our mortal bodies cannot inherit the Kingdom of God, nor will what is perishable inherit what is imperishable. ⁵¹I tell you a truth hitherto kept secret: we shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, ⁵²in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the sounding of the last trumpet; for the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised incapable of decay, and we shall be changed. ⁵³For so it must be: this perishable nature must clothe itself with what is imperishable, and this mortality must clothe itself with immortality. ⁵⁴But when this perishable nature has put on what is imperishable, and this mortality has put on immortality, then will the words of Scripture be fulfilled, "Death has been swallowed up in victory." ⁵⁵"Where, O death, is thy victory? Where, O death, is thy sting?" ⁵⁶Now sin is the sting of death, and sin derives its power from the Law; ⁵⁷but God be thanked who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ!

⁵⁸Therefore, my dear brethren, be firm, unmovable, busily occupied at all times in the Lord's work, knowing that your toil is not fruitless in the Lord.

The Collection for the Saints

(2 Corinthians 9:1–15)

¹As to the collection for God's people, what I have directed the Churches of Galatia to do, you must do also. ²On the first day of every week let each of you put on one side and store up at his home whatever gain has been granted to him; so that whenever I come, there may then be no collections going on. ³And when I am with you, whatever brethren you accredit by letter I will send to carry your kind gift to Jerusalem. ⁴And if it is worth while for me also to make the journey, they shall go as my companions.

Paul's Travel Plans

(Romans 15:23–33)

⁵I shall come to you after passing through Macedonia; for my plan will be to pass through Macedonia; ⁶and I shall make some stay with you perhaps, or even spend the winter with you, in order that you may help me forward, whichever way I travel. ⁷For I do not wish to see you on this occasion merely in passing; but if the Lord permits, I hope to remain some time with you. ⁸I shall remain in Ephesus, however, until the time of the Harvest Festival, ⁹for a wide door stands open before me which demands great efforts, and we have many opponents.

Timothy and Apollos

(Philippians 2:19–30)

10If Timothy pays you a visit, see that he is free from fear in his relations with you; for he is engaged in the Master's work just as I am. 11Therefore let no one slight him, but all of you should help him forward in peace to join me; for I am waiting for him and others of the brethren.

12As for our brother Apollos, I have repeatedly urged him to accompany the brethren who are coming to you: but he is quite resolved not to do so at present. He will come, however, when he has a good opportunity.

Concluding Exhortations

13Be on the alert; stand firm in the faith; acquit yourselves like men; be strong. 14Let all that you do be done from motives of love.

15And I beseech you, brethren—you know the household of Stephanas, how they were the earliest Greek converts to Christ, and have devoted themselves to the service of God's people— 16I beseech you, on your part, to show deference to such men, and to every one who participates in their work and toils hard. 17It is a joy to me that Stephanas, Fortunatus and Achaicus have now arrived, because what was wanting so far as you are concerned they have supplied. 18They have refreshed my spirit, and yours. Acknowledge such men as these.

Signature and Final Greetings

(Colossians 4:15–18; 2 Thessalonians 3:16–18)

19The Churches in the province of Asia send you greetings; and Aquila and Prisca, in hearty Christian love, do the same, together with the Church which meets at their house. 20The brethren all send greetings to you. Greet one another with a holy kiss.

21The final greeting of me—Paul—with my own hand. 22If any one is destitute of love to the Lord, let him be accursed. OUR LORD IS COMING. 23The grace of the Lord Jesus be with you. 24My love in Christ Jesus be with you all.

Paul Greets the Corinthians

(Acts 18:1–11; 1 Corinthians 1:1–3)

1Paul, an Apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God—and our brother Timothy: To the Church of God in Corinth, with all God's people throughout Greece.

2May grace and peace be granted to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

The God of All Comfort

³Heartfelt thanks be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ—the Father who is full of compassion and the God who gives all comfort. ⁴He comforts us in our every affliction so that we may be able to comfort those who are in any kind of affliction by means of the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God. ⁵For just as we have more than our share of suffering for the Christ, so also through the Christ we have more than our share of comfort. ⁶But if, on the one hand, we are enduring affliction, it is for your comfort and salvation; and if, on the other hand, we are receiving comfort, it is for your comfort which is produced within you through your patient fortitude under the same sufferings as those which we also are enduring. ⁷And our hope for you is steadfast; for we know that as you are partners with us in the sufferings, so you are also partners in the comfort.

⁸For as for our troubles which came upon us in the province of Asia, we would have you know, brethren, that we were exceedingly weighed down, and felt overwhelmed, so that we renounced all hope even of life. ⁹Nay, we had, as we still have, the sentence of death within our own selves, in order that our confidence may repose, not on ourselves, but on God who raised the dead to life. ¹⁰He it is who rescued us from so imminent a death, and will do so again; and we have a firm hope in Him that He will also rescue us in all the future, ¹¹while you on your part lend us your aid in entreaty for us, so that from many lips thanksgivings may rise on our behalf for the boon granted to us at the intercession of many.

Paul's Change of Plans

¹²For the reason for our boasting is this—the testimony of our own conscience that it was in holiness and with pure motives before God, and in reliance not on worldly wisdom but on the gracious help of God, that we have conducted ourselves in the world, and above all in our relations with you. ¹³For we are writing to you nothing different from what we have written before, or from what indeed you already recognize as truth and will, I trust, recognize as such to the very end; ¹⁴just as some few of you have recognized us as your reason for boasting, even as you will be ours, on the day of Jesus our Lord.

¹⁵It was because I entertained this confidence that I intended to visit you before going elsewhere—so that you might receive a twofold proof of God's favour— ¹⁶and to pass by way of Corinth into Macedonia. Then my plan was to return from Macedonia to you, and be helped forward by you to Judaea. ¹⁷Did I display any vacillation or caprice in this? Or the purposes which I form—do I form them on worldly principles, now crying "Yes, yes," and now "No, no"? ¹⁸As certainly as God is faithful, our language to you is not now "Yes" and now "No." ¹⁹For Jesus Christ the Son of God—He who was proclaimed among you by us, that is by Silas and Timothy and myself—did not show Himself a waverer between "Yes" and "No." But it was and always is "Yes" with Him. ²⁰For all the promises of God, whatever their number, have their confirmation in Him; and for this reason through Him also our "Amen" acknowledges their truth and promotes the glory of God through our faith. ²¹But He who is making us as well as you steadfast through union with the Anointed One, and has anointed us, is God, ²²and He has also set His seal upon us, and has put His Spirit into our hearts as a pledge and foretaste of future blessing.

²³But as for me, as my soul shall answer for it, I appeal to God as my witness, that it was to spare you pain that I gave up my visit to Corinth. ²⁴Not that we want to lord it over you in respect of your faith—we do, however, desire to help your joy—for in the matter of your faith you are standing firm.

2 Corinthians 2

Reaffirm Your Love

¹But, so far as I am concerned, I have resolved not to have a painful visit the next time I come to see you. ²For if I of all men give you pain, who then is there to gladden my heart, but the very persons to whom I give pain? ³And I write this to you in order that when I come I may not receive pain from those who ought to give me joy, confident as I am as to all of you that my joy is the joy of you all. ⁴For with many tears I write to you, and in deep suffering and depression of spirit, not in order to grieve you, but in the hope of showing you how brimful my heart is with love for you.

⁵Now if any one has caused sorrow, it has been caused not so much to me, as in some degree—for I have no wish to exaggerate—to all of you. ⁶In the case of such a person the punishment which was inflicted by the majority of you is enough. ⁷So that you may now take the opposite course, and forgive him rather and comfort him, for fear he should perhaps be driven to despair by his excess of grief. ⁸I beg you therefore fully to reinstate him in your love. ⁹For in writing to you I have also this object in view—to discover by experience whether you are prepared to be obedient in every respect. ¹⁰When you forgive a man an offence I also forgive it; for in fact what I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, has always been for your sakes in the presence of Christ, ¹¹for fear Satan should gain an advantage over us. For we are not ignorant of his devices.

Triumph in Christ

¹²Now when I came into the Troad to spread there the Good News about the Christ, even though in the Lord's providence a door stood open before me, ¹³yet, obtaining no relief for my spirit because I did not find our brother Titus, I bade them farewell and went on into Macedonia.

¹⁴But to God be the thanks who in Christ ever heads our triumphal procession, and by our hands waves in every place that sweet incense, the knowledge of Him. ¹⁵For we are a fragrance of Christ grateful to God in those whom He is saving and in those who are perishing; ¹⁶to the last-named an odor of death predictive of death, and to the others an odor of life predictive of life. And for such service as this who is competent? ¹⁷We are; for, unlike most teachers, we are not fraudulent hucksters of God's Message; but with transparent motives, as commissioned by God, in God's presence and in communion with Christ, so we speak.

2 Corinthians 3

Ministers of a New Covenant

¹Do you say that this is self-recommendation once more? Or do we need, as some do, letters of recommendation to you or from you? ²Our letter of recommendation is yourselves—a letter written on our hearts and everywhere known and read. ³For all can see that you are a letter of Christ entrusted to our care, and written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the ever-living God—and not on tablets of stone, but on human hearts as tablets.

⁴Such is the confidence which we have through Christ in the presence of God; ⁵not that of ourselves we are competent to decide anything by our own reasonings, but our competency comes from God.

⁶It is He also who has made us competent to serve Him in connexion with a new Covenant, which is not a written code but a Spirit; for the written code inflicts death, but the Spirit gives Life.

The Glory of the New Covenant

(Exodus 34:10–35)

⁷If, however, the service that proclaims death—its code being engraved in writing upon stones—came with glory, so that the children of Israel could not look steadily on the face of Moses because of the brightness of his face—a vanishing brightness; ⁸will not the service of the Spirit be far more glorious? ⁹For if the service which pronounces doom had glory, far more glorious still is the service which tells of righteousness. ¹⁰For, in fact, that which was once resplendent in glory has no glory at all in this respect, that it pales before the glory which surpasses it. ¹¹For if that which was to be abolished came with glory, much more is that which is permanent arrayed in glory.

¹²Therefore, cherishing a hope like this, we speak without reserve, and we do not imitate Moses, ¹³who used to throw a veil over his face to hide from the gaze of the children of Israel the passing away of what was but transitory. ¹⁴Nay, their minds were made dull; for to this very day during the reading of the book of the ancient Covenant, the same veil remains unlifted, because it is only in Christ that it is to be abolished. ¹⁵Yes, to this day, whenever Moses is read, a veil lies upon their hearts. ¹⁶But whenever the heart of the nation shall have returned to the Lord, the veil will be withdrawn. ¹⁷Now by “the Lord” is meant the Spirit; and where the Spirit of the Lord is, freedom is enjoyed. ¹⁸And all of us, with unveiled faces, reflecting like bright mirrors the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same likeness, from one degree of radiant holiness to another, even as derived from the Lord the Spirit.

The Light of the Gospel

¹Therefore, being engaged in this service and being mindful of the mercy which has been shown us, we are not cowards. ²Nay, we have renounced the secrecy which marks a feeling of shame. We practice no cunning tricks, nor do we adulterate God’s Message. But by a full clear statement of the truth we strive to commend ourselves in the presence of God to every human conscience. ³If, however, the meaning of our Good News has been veiled, the veil has been on the hearts of those who are on the way to perdition, ⁴in whom the god of this present age has blinded their unbelieving minds so as to shut out the sunshine of the Good News of the glory of the Christ, who is the image of God. ⁵ ⁶For God who said, “Out of darkness let light shine,” is He who has shone in our hearts to give us the light of the knowledge of God’s glory, which is radiant on the face of Christ.

Treasure in Jars of Clay

(Romans 6:1–14)

⁷But we have this treasure in a fragile vase of clay, in order that the surpassing greatness of the power may be seen to belong to God, and not to originate in us. ⁸We are hard pressed, yet never in absolute distress; perplexed, yet never utterly baffled; ⁹pursued, yet never left unsuccoured; struck to the ground, yet never slain; ¹⁰always, wherever we go, carrying with us in our bodies the putting to death of Jesus, so that in our bodies it may also be clearly shown that Jesus lives. ¹¹For we, alive though we are, are continually surrendering ourselves to death for the sake of Jesus, so that in this mortal nature of ours it may also be clearly shown that Jesus lives. 12 Thus we are constantly dying, while you are in full enjoyment of Life.

13 But possessing the same Spirit of faith as he who wrote, "I believed, and therefore I have spoken," we also believe, and therefore we speak. 14 For we know that He who raised the Lord Jesus from the dead will raise us also to be with Jesus, and will cause both us and you to stand in His own presence. 15 For everything is for your sakes, in order that grace, being more richly bestowed because of the thanksgivings of the increased number, may more and more promote the glory of God.

16 Therefore we are not cowards. Nay, even though our outward man is wasting away, yet our inward man is being renewed day by day. 17 For this our light and transitory burden of suffering is achieving for us a preponderating, yes, a vastly preponderating, and eternal weight of glory; 18 while we look not at things seen, but things unseen; for things seen are temporary, but things unseen are eternal.

2 Corinthians 5

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

Our Eternal Dwelling

(Romans 8:18–27)

1 For we know that if this poor tent, our earthly house, is taken down, we have in Heaven a building which God has provided, a house not built by human hands, but eternal. 2 For in this one we sigh, because we long to put on over it our dwelling which comes from Heaven— 3 if indeed having really put on a robe we shall not be found to be unclothed. 4 Yes, we who are in this tent certainly do sigh under our burdens, for we do not wish to lay aside that with which we are now clothed, but to put on more, so that our mortality may be absorbed in Life. 5 And He who formed us with this very end in view is God, who has given us His Spirit as a pledge and foretaste of that bliss.

6 We have therefore a cheerful confidence. We know that while we are at home in the body we are banished from the Lord; 7 for we are living a life of faith, and not one of sight. 8 So we have a cheerful confidence, and we anticipate with greater delight being banished from the body and going home to the Lord. 9 And for this reason also we make it our ambition, whether at home or in exile, to please Him perfectly. 10 For we must all of us appear before Christ's judgement-seat in our true characters, in order that each may then receive an award for his actions in this life, in accordance with what he has done, whether it be good or whether it be worthless.

Ambassadors for Christ

11 Therefore, because we realize how greatly the Lord is to be feared, we are endeavouring to win men over, and God recognizes what our motives are, and I hope that you, in your hearts, recognize them too. 12 We are not again commending ourselves to your favour, but are furnishing you with a ground of boasting on our behalf, so that you may have a reply ready for those with whom superficial appearances are everything and sincerity of heart counts for nothing. 13 For if we have been beside ourselves, it has been for God's glory; or if we are now in our right senses, it is in order to be of service to you. 14 For the love of Christ overmasters us, the conclusion at which we have arrived being this—that One having died for all, His death was their death, 15and that He died for all in order that the living may no longer live to themselves, but to Him who died for them and rose again.

16Therefore for the future we know no one simply as a man. Even if we have known Christ as a man, yet now we do so no longer. 17So that if any one is in Christ, he is a new creature: the old state of things has passed away; a new state of things has come into existence. 18And all this is from God, who has reconciled us to Himself through Christ, and has appointed us to serve in the ministry of reconciliation. 19We are to tell how God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself, not charging men's transgressions to their account, and that He has entrusted to us the Message of this reconciliation.

20On Christ's behalf therefore we come as ambassadors, God, as it were, making entreaty through our lips: we, on Christ's behalf, beseech men to be reconciled to God. 21He has made Him who knew nothing of sin to be sin for us, in order that in Him we may become the righteousness of God.

Paul's Hardships and God's Grace

1And you also we, as God's fellow workers, entreat not to be found to have received His grace to no purpose.

2For He says, "At a time of welcome I have listened to you, and on a day of salvation I have succoured you." Now is the time of loving welcome! Now is the day of salvation!

3We endeavour to give people no cause for stumbling in anything, lest the work we are doing should fall into discredit. 4On the contrary, as God's servants, we seek their full approval—by unwearied endurance, by afflictions, by distress, by helplessness; 5by floggings, by imprisonments; by facing riots, by toil, by sleepless watching, by hunger and thirst; 6by purity of life, by knowledge, by patience, by kindness, by the Holy Spirit, by sincere love; 7by the proclamation of the truth, by the power of God; by the weapons of righteousness, wielded in both hands; 8through honour and ignominy, through calumny and praise. We are looked upon as impostors and yet are true men; 9as obscure persons, and yet are well known; as on the point of death, and yet, strange to tell, we live; as under God's discipline, and yet we are not deprived of life; 10as sad, but we are always joyful; as poor, but we bestow wealth on many; as having nothing, and yet we securely possess all things.

11O Corinthians, our lips are unsealed to you: our heart is expanded. 12There is no narrowness in our love to you: the narrowness is in your own feelings. 13And in just requital—I speak as to my children—let your hearts expand also.

Do Not Be Unequally Yoked

14Do not come into close association with unbelievers, like oxen yoked with asses. For what is there in common between righteousness and lawlessness? Or what partnership has light with darkness? 15Where can harmony between Christ and Belial be found? Or what participation has a believer with an unbeliever?

16And what compact has the Temple of God with idols? For we are the Temple of the ever-living God; as God has said, "I will dwell among them, and walk about among them; and will be their God, and it is they who shall be My people."

17Therefore, "Come out from among them and separate yourselves," says the Lord, "and touch nothing impure; and I will receive you, and will be a Father to you,

18and you shall be My sons and daughters," says the Lord the Ruler of all."

Paul's Joy in the Corinthians

1Having therefore these promises, beloved friends, let us purify ourselves from all defilement of body and of spirit, and secure perfect holiness through the fear of God.

2Make room for us in your hearts. There is not one of you whom we have wronged, not one to whom we have done harm, not one over whom we have gained any selfish advantage. 3I do not say this to imply blame, for, as I have already said, you have such a place in our hearts that we would die with you or live with you. 4I have great confidence in you: very loudly do I boast of you. I am filled with comfort: my heart overflows with joy amid all our affliction.

5For even after our arrival in Macedonia we could get no relief such as human nature craves. We were greatly harassed; there were conflicts without and fears within. 6But He who comforts the depressed—even God—comforted us by the coming of Titus, and not by his coming only, 7but also by the fact that he had felt comforted on your account, and by the report which he brought of your eager affection, of your grief, and of your jealousy on my behalf, so that I rejoiced more than ever. 8For if I gave you pain by that letter, I do not regret it, though I did regret it then. I see that that letter, even though for a time it gave you pain, had a salutary effect. 9Now I rejoice, not in your grief, but because the grief led to repentance; for you sorrowed with a godly sorrow, which prevented you from receiving injury from us in any respect. 10For godly sorrow produces repentance leading to salvation, a repentance not to be regretted; but the sorrow of the world finally produces death. 11For mark the effects of this very thing—your having sorrowed with a godly sorrow—what earnestness it has called forth in you, what eagerness to clear yourselves, what indignation, what alarm, what longing affection, what jealousy, what meting out of justice! You have completely wiped away reproach from yourselves in the matter. 12Therefore, though I wrote to you, it was not to punish the offender, nor to secure justice for him who had suffered the wrong, but it was chiefly in order that your earnest feeling on our behalf might become manifest to yourselves in the sight of God. 13For this reason we feel comforted; and—in addition to this our comfort—we have been filled with all the deeper joy at Titus's joy, because his spirit has been set at rest by you all. 14For however I may have boasted to him about you, I have no reason to feel ashamed; but as we have in all respects spoken the truth to you, so also our boasting to Titus about you has turned out to be the truth. 15And his strong and tender affection is all the more drawn out towards you when he recalls to mind the obedience which all of you manifested by the timidity and nervous anxiety with which you welcomed him. 16I rejoice that I have absolute confidence in you.

Generosity Commended

(Philippians 4:10–20)

7Yes, just as you are already very rich in faith, readiness of speech, knowledge, unwearied zeal, and in the love that is in you, implanted by us, see to it that this grace of liberal giving also flourishes in you. 8I am not saying this by way of command, but to test by the standard of other men's earnestness the genuineness of your love also.

9For you know the condescending goodness of our Lord Jesus Christ—how for your sakes He became poor, though He was rich, in order that you through His poverty might grow rich. 10But in this matter I give you an opinion; for my doing this helps forward your own intentions, seeing that not only have you begun operations, but a year ago you already had the desire to do so. 11And now complete the doing also, in order that, just as there was then the eagerness in desiring, there may now be the accomplishment in proportion to your means. 12For, assuming the earnest willingness, the gift is acceptable according to whatever a man has, and not according to what he has not. 13I do not urge you to give in order that others may have relief while you are unduly pressed, 14but that, by equalization of burdens, your superfluity having in the present emergency supplied their deficiency, their superfluity may in turn be a supply for your deficiency later on, so that there may be equalization of burdens. 15Even as it is written, "He who gathered much had not too much, and he who gathered little had not too little."

Titus Commended

(Titus 1:1–4)

16But thanks be to God that He inspires the heart of Titus with the same deep interest in you; 17for Titus welcomed our request, and, being thoroughly in earnest, comes to you of his own free will. 18And we send with him the brother whose praises for his earnestness in proclaiming the Good News are heard throughout all the Churches. 19And more than that, he is the one who was chosen by the vote of the Churches to travel with us, sharing our commission in the administration of this generous gift to promote the Lord's glory and gratify our own strong desire. 20For against one thing we are on our guard—I mean against blame being thrown upon us in respect to these large and liberal contributions which are under our charge. 21For we seek not only God's approval of our integrity, but man's also. 22And we send with them our brother, of whose zeal we have had frequent proof in many matters, and who is now more zealous than ever through the strong confidence which he has in you. 23As for

Titus, remember that he is a partner with me, and is my comrade in my labours for you. And as for our brethren, remember that they are delegates from the Churches, and are men in whom Christ is glorified. ²⁴Exhibit therefore to the Churches a proof of your love, and a justification of our boasting to these brethren about you.

God Loves a Cheerful Giver

(1 Corinthians 16:1–4)

¹As to the services which are being rendered to God's people, it is really unnecessary for me to write to you. ²For I know your earnest willingness, on account of which I habitually boast of you to the Macedonians, pointing out to them that for a whole year you in Greece have been ready; and the greater number of them have been spurred on by your ardour. ³Still I send the brethren in order that in this matter our boast about you may not turn out to have been an idle one; so that, as I have said, you may be ready; ⁴for fear that, if any Macedonians come with me and find you unprepared, we—not to say you yourselves—should be put to the blush in respect to this confidence. ⁵I have thought it absolutely necessary therefore to request these brethren to visit you before I myself come, and to make sure beforehand that the gift of love which you have already promised may be ready as a gift of love, and may not seem to have been something which I have extorted from you.

⁹As it is written, "He has scattered abroad, he has given to the poor, his almsgiving remains for ever."

¹⁰And God who continually supplies seed for the sower and bread for eating, will supply you with seed and multiply it, and will cause your almsgiving to yield a plentiful harvest. ¹¹May you be abundantly enriched so as to show all liberality, such as through our instrumentality brings thanksgiving to God. ¹²For the service rendered in this sacred gift not only helps to relieve the wants of God's people, but it is also rich in its results and awakens a chorus of thanksgiving to God. ¹³For, by the practical proof of it which you exhibit in this service, you cause God to be extolled for your fidelity to your professed adherence to the Good News of the Christ, and for the liberality of your contributions for them and for all who are in need, ¹⁴while they themselves also in supplications on your behalf pour out their longing love towards you because of God's surpassing grace which is resting upon you. ¹⁵Thanks be to God for His unspeakably precious gift!

Paul's Apostolic Authority

1But as for me Paul, I entreat you by the gentleness and self-forgetfulness of Christ—I who when among you have not an imposing personal presence, but when absent am fearlessly outspoken in dealing with you. 2I beseech you not to compel me when present to make a bold display of the confidence with which I reckon I shall show my ‘courage’ against some who reckon that we are guided by worldly principles. 3For, though we are still living in the world, it is no worldly warfare that we are waging. 4The weapons with which we fight are not human weapons, but are mighty for God in overthrowing strong fortresses. 5For we overthrow arrogant ‘reckonings,’ and every stronghold that towers high in defiance of the knowledge of God, and we carry off every thought as if into slavery—into subjection to Christ; 6while we hold ourselves in readiness to punish every act of disobedience, as soon as ever you as a Church have fully shown your obedience.

7Is it outward appearances you look to? If any man is confident as regards himself that he specially belongs to Christ, let him consider again and reflect that just as he belongs to Christ, so also do we. 8If, however, I were to boast more loudly of our Apostolic authority, which the Lord has given us that we may build you up, not pull you down, I should have no reason to feel ashamed. 9Let it not seem as if I wanted to frighten you by my letters. 10For they say “His letters are authoritative and forcible, but his personal presence is unimpressive, and as for eloquence, he has none.” 11Let such people take this into their reckoning, that whatever we are in word by our letters when absent, the same are we also in act when present.

12For we have not the ‘courage’ to rank ourselves among, or compare ourselves with, certain persons distinguished by their self-commendation. Yet they are not wise, measuring themselves, as they do, by one another and comparing themselves with one another. 13We, however, will not exceed due limits in our boasting, but will keep within the limits of the sphere which God has assigned to us as a limit, which reaches even to you. 14For there is no undue stretch of authority on our part, as though it did not extend to you. We pressed on even to Corinth, and were the first to proclaim to you the Good News of the Christ. 15We do not exceed our due limits, and take credit for other men’s labours; but we entertain the hope that, as your faith grows, we shall gain promotion among you—still keeping within our own sphere—promotion to a larger field of labour, 16and shall tell the Good News in the districts beyond you, not boasting in another man’s sphere about work already done by him. 17But “whoever boasts, let his boast be in the Lord.” 18For it is not the man that commends himself who is really approved, but he whom the Lord commends.

Paul and the False Apostles

1I wish you could have borne with a little foolish boasting on my part. Nay, do bear with me. 2I am jealous over you with God’s own jealousy. For I have betrothed you to Christ to present you to Him like a faithful bride to her one husband. 3But I am afraid that, as the serpent in his craftiness deceived Eve, so your minds may be led astray from their single-heartedness and their fidelity to Christ. 4If indeed some visitor is proclaiming among you another Jesus whom we did not proclaim, or if you are receiving a Spirit different from the One you have already received or a Good News different from that which you have already welcomed, your toleration is admirable! 5Why, I reckon myself in no respect inferior to those superlatively great Apostles. 6And if in the matter of speech I am no orator, yet in knowledge I am not deficient. Nay, we have in every way made that fully evident to you.

7Is it a sin that I abased myself in order for you to be exalted, in that I proclaimed God's Good News to you without fee or reward? 8Other Churches I robbed, receiving pay from them in order to do you service. 9And when I was with you and my resources failed, there was no one to whom I became a burden—for the brethren when they came from Macedonia fully supplied my wants—and I kept myself from being in the least a burden to you, and will do so still. 10Christ knows that it is true when I say that I will not be stopped from boasting of this anywhere in Greece. 11And why? Because I do not love you? God knows that I do.

12But I will persist in the same line of conduct in order to cut the ground from under the feet of those who desire an opportunity of getting themselves recognized as being on a level with us in the matters about which they boast. 13For men of this stamp are sham apostles, dishonest workmen, assuming the garb of Apostles of Christ. 14And no wonder. Satan, their master, can disguise himself as an angel of light. 15It is therefore no great thing for his servants also to disguise themselves as servants of righteousness. Their end will be in accordance with their actions.

Paul's Suffering and Service

(Colossians 1:24–29)

16To return to what I was saying. Let no one suppose that I am foolish. Or if you must, at any rate make allowance for me as being foolish, in order that I, as well as they, may boast a little. 17What I am now saying, I do not say by the Lord's command, but as a fool in his folly might, in this reckless boasting. 18Since many boast for merely human reasons, I too will boast. 19Wise as you yourselves are, you find pleasure in tolerating fools. 20For you tolerate it, if any one enslaves you, lives at your expense, makes off with your property, gives himself airs, or strikes you on the face. 21I use the language of self-disparagement, as though I were admitting our own feebleness. Yet for whatever reason any one is 'courageous'—I speak in mere folly—I also am courageous. 22Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they descendants of Abraham? So am I. 23Are they servants of Christ? (I speak as if I were out of my mind.) 24From the Jews I five times have received forty lashes all but one. 25Three times I have been beaten with Roman rods, once I have been stoned, three times I have been shipwrecked, once for full four and twenty hours I was floating on the open sea. 26I have served Him by frequent travelling, amid dangers in crossing rivers, dangers from robbers; dangers from my own countrymen, dangers from the Gentiles; dangers in the city, dangers in the Desert, dangers by sea, dangers from spies in our midst; 27with labour and toil, with many a sleepless night, in hunger and thirst, in frequent fastings, in cold, and with insufficient clothing. 28And besides other things, which I pass over, there is that which presses on me daily—my anxiety for all the Churches. 29Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is led astray into sin, and I am not aflame with indignation?

30If boast I must, it shall be of things which display my weakness. 31The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ—He who is blessed throughout the Ages—knows that I am speaking the truth. 32In Damascus the governor under King Aretas kept guards at the gates of the city in order to apprehend me, 33but through an opening in the wall I was let down in a basket, and so escaped his hands.

Paul's Revelation

1I am compelled to boast. It is not a profitable employment, but I will proceed to visions and revelations granted me by the Lord. 2I know a Christian man who fourteen years ago—whether in the body I do not know, or out of the body I do not know; God knows—was caught up (this man of whom I am speaking) 3And I know that this man—whether in the body or apart from the body I do not know; 4God knows—was caught up into Paradise and heard unspeakable things which no human being is permitted to repeat.

Paul's Thorn and God's Grace

5Of such a one I will boast; but of myself I will not boast, except in my weaknesses. 6If however I should choose to boast, I should not be a fool for so doing, for I should be speaking the truth. But I forbear, lest any one should be led to estimate me more highly than what his own eyes attest, or more highly than what he hears from my lips.

7And judging by the stupendous grandeur of the revelations—therefore lest I should be over-elated there has been sent to me, like the agony of impalement, Satan's angel dealing blow after blow, lest I should be over-elated. 8As for this, three times have I besought the Lord to rid me of him; 9but His reply has been, "My grace suffices for you, for power matures in weakness." Most gladly therefore will I boast of my infirmities rather than complain of them—in order that Christ's power may overshadow me. 10In fact I take pleasure in infirmities, in the bearing of insults, in distress, in persecutions, in grievous difficulties—for Christ's sake; for when I am weak, then I am strong.

Paul's Concern for the Corinthians

11It is foolish of me to write all this, but you have compelled me to do so. Why, you ought to have been my vindicators; for in no respect have I been inferior to these superlatively great Apostles, even though in myself I am nothing. 12The signs that characterize the true Apostle have been done among you, accompanied by unwearied fortitude, and by tokens and marvels and displays of power. 13In what respect, therefore, have you been worse dealt with than other Churches, except that I myself never hung as a dead weight upon you? Forgive the injustice I thus did you!

14See, I am now for the third time prepared to visit you, but I will not be a dead weight to you. I desire not your money, but yourselves; for children ought not to put by for their parents, but parents for their children. 15And as for me, most gladly will I spend all I have and be utterly spent for your salvation. 16If I love you so intensely, am I the less to be loved? Be that as it may: I was not a burden to you. But being by no means scrupulous, I entrapped you, they say! 17Have I gained any selfish advantage over you through any one of the messengers I have sent to you? 18I begged Titus to visit you, and sent our other brother with him. Did Titus gain any selfish advantage over you? Were not he and I guided by one and the same Spirit, and did we not walk in the same steps?

19You are imagining, all this time, that we are making our defense at your bar. In reality it is as in God's presence and in communion with Christ that we speak; but, dear friends, it is all with a view to your progress in goodness. 20For I am afraid that perhaps when I come I may not find you to be what I desire, and that you may find me to be what you do not desire; that perhaps there may be contention, jealousy, bitter feeling, party spirit, ill-natured talk, backbiting, undue eulogy, unrest; 21and that upon re-visiting you I may be humbled by my God in your presence, and may have to mourn over many whose hearts still cling to their old sins, and who have not repented of the impurity, fornication, and gross sensuality, of which they have been guilty.

Examine Yourselves

¹This intended visit of mine is my third visit to you. “On the evidence of two or three witnesses every charge shall be sustained.” ²Those who cling to their old sins, and indeed all of you, I have forewarned and still forewarn (as I did on my second visit when present, so I do now, though absent) ³since you want a practical proof of the fact that Christ speaks by my lips—He who is not feeble towards you, but powerful among you. ⁴For though it is true that He was crucified through weakness, yet He now lives through the power of God. We also are weak, sharing His weakness, but with Him we shall be full of life to deal with you through the power of God.

⁵Test yourselves to discover whether you are true believers: put your own selves under examination. Or do you not know that Jesus Christ is within you, unless you are insincere? ⁶But I trust that you will recognize that we are not insincere. ⁷And our prayer to God is that you may do nothing wrong; not in order that our sincerity may be demonstrated, but that you may do what is right, even though our sincerity may seem to be doubtful. ⁸For we have no power against the truth, but only for the furtherance of the truth; ⁹and it is a joy to us when we are powerless, but you are strong. This we also pray for—the perfecting of your characters. ¹⁰For this reason I write thus while absent, that when present I may not have to act severely in the exercise of the authority which the Lord has given me for building up, and not for pulling down.

Benediction and Farewell

¹¹Finally, brethren, be joyful, secure perfection of character, take courage, be of one mind, live in peace. And then God who gives love and peace will be with you. ¹²Salute one another with a holy kiss. ¹³All God’s people here send greetings to you.

¹⁴May the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, be with you all.

Paul’s Greeting to the Galatians

¹Paul, an Apostle sent not from men nor by any man, but by Jesus Christ and by God the Father, who raised Jesus from among the dead— ²and all the brethren who are with me: To the Churches of Galatia.

³May grace and peace be granted to you from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ, ⁴who gave Himself to suffer for our sins in order to rescue us from the present wicked age in accordance with the will of our God and Father. ⁵To Him be the glory to the Ages of the Ages! Amen.

No Other Gospel

6I marvel that you are so readily leaving Him who called you by the grace of Christ, and are adhering to a different Good News. 7For other “Good News” there is none; but there are some persons who are troubling you, and are seeking to distort the Good News concerning Christ. 8But if even we or an angel from Heaven should bring you a Good News different from that which we have already brought you, let him be accursed. 9What I have just said I repeat—if any one is preaching to you a Good News other than that which you originally received, let him be accursed.

Paul Preaches the Gospel

10For is it man’s favour or God’s that I aspire to? Or am I seeking to please men? If I were still a man-pleaser, I should not be Christ’s bondservant.

11For I must tell you, brethren, that the Good News which was proclaimed by me is not such as man approves of. 12For, in fact, it was not from man that I received or learnt it, but by a revelation from Jesus Christ.

13For you have heard of my early career in Judaism—how I furiously persecuted the Church of God, and made havoc of it; 14and how in devotion to Judaism I outstripped many men of my own age among my people, being far more zealous than they on behalf of the traditions of my forefathers. 15But when He who set me apart even from my birth, and called me by His grace, 16saw fit to reveal His Son within me in order that I might tell among the Gentiles the Good News concerning Him, at once I did not confer with any human being, 17nor did I go up to Jerusalem to those who were my seniors in the Apostleship, but I went away into Arabia, and afterwards came back to Damascus.

18Then, three years later, I went up to Jerusalem to inquire for Peter, and I spent a fortnight with him. 19I saw none of the other Apostles, except James, the Lord’s brother. 20In making these assertions I am speaking the truth, as in the sight of God. 21Afterwards I visited Syria and Cilicia. 22But to the Christian Churches in Judaea I was personally unknown. 23They only heard it said, “He who was once our persecutor is now telling the Good News of the faith of which he formerly made havoc.” 24And they gave glory to God on my account.

The Council at Jerusalem

(Acts 15:5–21)

1Later still, after an interval of fourteen years, I again went up to Jerusalem in company with Barnabas, taking Titus also with me. 2I went up in obedience to a revelation of God’s will; and I explained to them the Good News which I proclaim among the Gentiles. To the leaders of the Church this explanation was made in private, lest by any means I should be running, or should already have run, in vain. 3But although my companion Titus was a Greek they did not insist upon even his being circumcised. 4Yet there was danger of this through the false brethren secretly introduced into the Church, who had stolen in to spy out the freedom which is ours in Christ Jesus, in order to rob us of it. 5But not for an hour did we give way and submit to them; in order that the Good News might continue with you in its integrity. ⁶From those leaders I gained nothing new. Whether they were men of importance or not, matters nothing to me—God recognizes no external distinctions. To me, at any rate, the leaders imparted nothing new. ⁷Indeed, when they saw that I was entrusted with the preaching of the Good News to the Gentiles as Peter had been with that to the Jews— ⁸for He who had been at work within Peter with a view to his Apostleship to the Jews had also been at work within me with a view to my Apostleship to the Gentiles— ⁹and when they perceived the mission which was graciously entrusted to me, they (that is to say, James, Peter, and John, who were considered to be the pillars of the Church) ¹⁰Only they urged that we should remember their poor—a thing which was uppermost in my own mind.

Paul Confronts Cephas

¹¹Now when Peter visited Antioch, I remonstrated with him to his face, because he had incurred just censure. ¹²For until certain persons came from James he had been accustomed to eat with Gentiles; but as soon as these persons came, he withdrew and separated himself for fear of the Circumcision party. ¹³And along with him the other Jews also concealed their real opinions, so that even Barnabas was carried away by their lack of straightforwardness. ¹⁴As soon as I saw that they were not walking uprightly in the spirit of the Good News, I said to Peter, before them all, "If you, though you are a Jew, live as a Gentile does, and not as a Jew, how can you make the Gentiles follow Jewish customs?"

¹⁵You and I, though we are Jews by birth and not Gentile sinners, ¹⁶know that it is not through obedience to Law that a man can be declared free from guilt, but only through faith in Jesus Christ. We have therefore believed in Christ Jesus, for the purpose of being declared free from guilt, through faith in Christ and not through obedience to Law. For through obedience to Law no human being shall be declared free from guilt. ¹⁷But if while we are seeking in Christ acquittal from guilt we ourselves are convicted of sin, Christ then encourages us to sin! No, indeed. ¹⁸Why, if I am now rebuilding that structure of sin which I had demolished, I am thereby constituting myself a transgressor; ¹⁹for it is by the Law that I have died to the Law, in order that I may live to God. ²⁰I have been crucified with Christ, and it is no longer I that live, but Christ that lives in me; and the life which I now live in the body I live through faith in the Son of God who loved me and gave Himself up to death on my behalf. ²¹I do not nullify the grace of God; for if acquittal from guilt is obtainable through the Law, then Christ has died in vain."

Faith and Belief

(James 2:14–26)

¹You foolish Galatians! Whose sophistry has bewitched you—you to whom Jesus Christ has been vividly portrayed as on the Cross? ²Answer me this one question, "Is it on the ground of your obedience to the Law that you received the Spirit, or is it because, when you heard, you believed?" ³Are you so foolish? Having begun by the Spirit, are you now going to reach perfection through what is external? ⁴Have you endured such sufferings to no purpose—if indeed it has been to no purpose? ⁵He who gives you His Spirit and works miracles among you—does He do so on the ground of your obedience to the Law, or is it the result of your having heard and believed:

⁶even as Abraham believed God, and his faith was placed to his account as righteousness? ⁷Notice therefore that those who possess faith are true sons of Abraham. ⁸And the Scripture, foreseeing that in consequence of faith God would declare the nations to be free from guilt, sent beforehand the Good News to Abraham, saying, "In you all the nations shall be blessed." ⁹So we see that it is those who possess faith that are blessed with believing Abraham.

Christ Has Redeemed Us

¹⁰All who are depending upon their own obedience to the Law are under a curse, for it is written, "Cursed is every one who does not remain faithful to all the precepts of the Law, and practise them."

¹¹It is evident, too, that no one can find acceptance with God simply by obeying the Law, because "the righteous shall live by faith," ¹²and the Law has nothing to do with faith. It teaches that "he who does these things shall live by doing them." ¹³Christ has purchased our freedom from the curse of the Law by becoming accursed for us—because "Cursed is every one who is hanged upon a tree." ¹⁴Our freedom has been thus purchased in order that in Christ Jesus the blessing belonging to Abraham may come upon the nations, so that through faith we may receive the promised Spirit.

The Purpose of the Law

(Romans 7:1–6)

¹⁵Brethren, even a covenant made by a man—to borrow an illustration from daily life—when once formally sanctioned is not liable to be set aside or added to. ¹⁶(Now the promises were given to Abraham and to his seed. God did not say 'and to seeds,' as if speaking of many, but 'and to your seed,' since He spoke of only one—and this is Christ.) ¹⁷I mean that the Covenant which God had already formally made is not abrogated by the Law which was given four hundred and thirty years later—so as to annul the promise. ¹⁸For if the inheritance comes through obedience to Law, it no longer comes because of a promise. But, as a matter of fact, God has granted it to Abraham in fulfilment of a promise.

¹⁹Why then was the Law given? It was imposed later on for the sake of defining sin, until the seed should come to whom God had made the promise; and its details were laid down by a mediator with the help of angels. ²⁰But there cannot be a mediator where only one individual is concerned. ²¹God, however, is only one. Is the Law then opposed to the promises of God? No, indeed; for if a Law had been given which could have conferred Life, righteousness would certainly have come by the Law. ²²But Scripture has shown that all mankind are the prisoners of sin, in order that the promised blessing, which depends on faith in Jesus Christ, may be given to those who believe.

²³Before this faith came, we Jews were perpetual prisoners under the Law, living under restraints and limitations in preparation for the faith which was soon to be revealed. ²⁴So that the Law has acted the part of a tutor-slave to lead us to Christ, in order that through faith we may be declared to be free from guilt. ²⁵But now that this faith has come, we are no longer under a tutor-slave.

Sons through Faith in Christ

²⁶You are all sons of God through faith in Christ Jesus; ²⁷for all of you who have been baptized into Christ, have clothed yourselves with Christ. ²⁸In Him the distinctions between Jew and Gentile, slave and free man, male and female, disappear; you are all one in Christ Jesus. ²⁹And if you belong to Christ, then you are indeed true descendants of Abraham, and are heirs in fulfilment of the promise.

Galatians 4

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

Sons and Heirs

1Now I say that so long as an heir is a child, he in no respect differs from a slave, although he is the owner of everything, 2but he is under the control of guardians and trustees until the time his father has appointed. 3So we also, when spiritually we were children, were subject to the world's rudimentary notions, and were enslaved. 4But, when the time was fully come, God sent forth His Son, born of a woman, born subject to Law, 5in order to purchase the freedom of all who were subject to Law, so that we might receive recognition as sons. 6And because you are sons, God has sent out the Spirit of His Son to enter your hearts and cry "Abba! our Father!" 7Therefore you are no longer a slave, but a son; and if a son, then an heir also through God's own act.

Paul's Concern for the Galatians

8But at one time, you Gentiles, having no knowledge of God, were slaves to gods which in reality do not exist. 9Now, however, having come to know God—or rather to be known by Him—how is it you are again turning back to weak and worthless rudimentary notions to which you are once more willing to be enslaved? 10You scrupulously observe days and months, special seasons, and years. 11I am alarmed about you, and am afraid that I have perhaps bestowed labour upon you to no purpose.

12Brethren, become as I am, I beseech you; for I have also become like you. In no respect did you behave badly to me. 13And you know that in those early days it was on account of bodily infirmity that I proclaimed the Good News to you, 14and yet the bodily infirmity which was such a trial to you, you did not regard with contempt or loathing, but you received me as if I had been an angel of God or Christ Jesus Himself! 15I ask you, then, what has become of your self-congratulations? For I bear you witness that had it been possible you would have torn out your own eyes and have given them to me. 16Can it be that I have become your enemy through speaking the truth to you? 17These men pay court to you, but not with honourable motives. They want to exclude you, so that you may pay court to them. 18It is always an honourable thing to be courted in an honourable cause; always, and not only when I am with you, my children— 19you for whom I am again, as it were, undergoing the pains of childbirth, until Christ is fully formed within you. 20Would that I were with you and could change my tone, for I am perplexed about you.

Hagar and Sarah

(Genesis 21:9–21)

21Tell me—you who want to continue to be subject to Law—will you not listen to the Law? 22For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by the slave-girl and one by the free woman. 23But we see that the child of the slave-girl was born in the common course of nature; but the child of the free woman in fulfilment of the promise. 24All this is allegorical; for the women represent two Covenants. One has its origin on Mount Sinai, and bears children destined for slavery. 25This is Hagar; for the name Hagar stands for Mount Sinai in Arabia, and corresponds to the present Jerusalem, which is in bondage together with her children. 26But the Jerusalem which is above is free, and she is our mother.

27For it is written, "Rejoice, thou barren woman that bearest not, break forth into a joyful cry, thou that dost not travail with child. For the desolate woman has many children—more indeed than she who has the husband."

28But you, brethren, like Isaac, are children born in fulfilment of a promise. 29Yet just as, at that time, the child born in the common course of nature persecuted the one whose birth was due to the power of the Spirit, so it is now.

30But what says the Scripture? "Send away the slave-girl and her son, for never shall the slave-girl's son share the inheritance with the son of the free woman."

31Therefore, brethren, since we are not the children of a slave-girl, but of the free woman—

Galatians 5

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

Freedom in Christ

1Christ having made us gloriously free—stand fast and do not again be hampered with the yoke of slavery.

2Remember that it is I Paul who tell you that if you receive circumcision Christ will avail you nothing.

3I once more protest to every man who receives circumcision that he is under obligation to obey the whole Law of Moses. 4Christ has become nothing to any of you who are seeking acceptance with God through the Law: you have fallen away from grace. 5We* have not, for through the Spirit we wait with longing hope for an acceptance with God which is to come through faith. 6For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision is of any importance; but only faith working through love.

7You were running the race nobly! Who has interfered and caused you to swerve from the truth? 8No such teaching ever proceeded from Him who is calling you. 9A little yeast corrupts the whole of the dough. 10For my part I have strong confidence in you in the Lord that you will adopt my view of the matter. But the man—be he who he may—who is troubling you, will have to bear the full weight of the judgement to be pronounced on him. 11As for me, brethren, if I am still a preacher of circumcision, how is it that I am still suffering persecution? In that case the Cross has ceased to be a stumbling-block! 12Would to God that those who are unsettling your faith would even mutilate themselves.

13You however, brethren, were called to freedom. Only do not turn your freedom into an excuse for giving way to your lower natures; but become bondservants to one another in a spirit of love. 14For the entire Law has been obeyed when you have kept the single precept, which says, "You are to love your fellow man equally with yourself." 15But if you are perpetually snarling and snapping at one another, beware lest you are destroyed by one another.

Walking by the Spirit

(Ezekiel 36:16–38; Romans 8:9–11)

16This then is what I mean. Let your lives be guided by the Spirit, and then you will certainly not indulge the cravings of your lower natures. 17For the cravings of the lower nature are opposed to those of the Spirit, and the cravings of the Spirit are opposed to those of the lower nature; because these are antagonistic to each other, so that you cannot do everything to which you are inclined. 18But if the Spirit is leading you, you are not subject to Law. 19Now you know full well the doings of our lower natures. Fornication, impurity, indecency, idol-worship, sorcery; 20enmity, strife, jealousy, outbursts of passion, intrigues, dissensions, factions, envyings; 21hard drinking, riotous feasting, and the like. And as to these I forewarn you, as I have already forewarned you, that those who are guilty of such things will have no share in the Kingdom of God. 22The Spirit, on the other hand, brings a harvest of love, joy, peace; patience towards others, kindness, benevolence; 23good faith, meekness, self-restraint. 24Against such things as these there is no law. Now those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified their lower nature with its passions and appetites.

25If we are living by the Spirit's power, let our conduct also be governed by the Spirit's power. 26Let us not become vain-glorious, challenging one another, envying one another.

Galatians 6

Carry One Another's Burdens

1Brethren, if anybody be detected in any misconduct, you who are spiritual should restore such a one in a spirit of meekness. And let each of you keep watch over himself, lest he also fall into temptation.

2Always carry one another's burdens, and so obey the whole of Christ's Law. 3For if there is any one who thinks himself to be somebody when he is nobody, he is deluding himself. 4But let every man scrutinize his own conduct, and then he will find out, not with reference to another but with reference to himself, what he has to boast of. 5For every man will have to carry his own load.

6But let those who receive instruction in Christian truth share with their instructors all temporal blessings. 7Do not deceive yourselves. God is not to be scoffed at. For whatever a man sows, that he will also reap. 8He who sows in the field of his lower nature, will from that nature reap destruction; but he who sows to serve the Spirit will from the Spirit reap the Life of the Ages. 9Let us not abate our courage in doing what is right; for in due time we shall reap a reward, if we do not faint. 10So then, as we have opportunity, let us labour for the good of all, and especially of those who belong to the household of the faith.

Final Warnings and Blessings

11See in what large letters I am writing to you with my own hand. 12All who desire to display their zeal for external observances try to compel you to receive circumcision, but their real object is simply to escape being persecuted for the Cross of Christ. 13For these very men do not really keep the Law of Moses, but they would have you receive circumcision in order that they may glory in your bodies. 14But as for me, God forbid that I should glory in anything except the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, upon which the world is crucified to me, and I am crucified to the world. 15For neither circumcision nor uncircumcision is of any importance; but only a renewed nature.

16And all who shall regulate their lives by this principle—may peace and mercy be given to them—and to the true Israel of God.

17From this time onward let no one trouble me; for, as for me, I bear, branded on my body, the scars of Jesus as my Master.

18May the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirits, brethren. Amen.

1Paul, an Apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God: To God's people who are in Ephesus—believers in Christ Jesus. 2May grace and peace be granted to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Spiritual Blessings

(Romans 8:28–34)

3Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has crowned us with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly realms in Christ; 4even as, in His love, He chose us as His own in Christ before the creation of the world, that we might be holy and without blemish in His presence. 5For He predestined us to be adopted by Himself as sons through Jesus Christ—such being His gracious will and pleasure— 6to the praise of the splendour of His grace with which He has enriched us in the beloved One. 7It is in Him, and through the shedding of His blood, that we have our deliverance—the forgiveness of our offences—so abundant was God's grace, 8the grace which He, the possessor of all wisdom and understanding, lavished upon us, 9when He made known to us the secret of His will. And this is in harmony with God's merciful purpose 10for the government of the world when the times are ripe for it—the purpose which He has cherished in His own mind of restoring the whole creation to find its one Head in Christ; yes, things in Heaven and things on earth, to find their one Head in Him. 11In Him we Jews have been made heirs, having been chosen beforehand in accordance with the intention of Him whose might carries out in everything the design of His own will, 12so that we should be devoted to the extolling of His glorious attributes—we who were the first to fix our hopes on Christ. 13And in Him you Gentiles also, after listening to the Message of the truth, the Good News of your salvation—having believed in Him—were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit; 14that Spirit being a pledge and foretaste of our inheritance, in anticipation of its full redemption—the inheritance which He has purchased to be specially His for the extolling of His glory.

Spiritual Wisdom

(1 Corinthians 2:6–16)

15For this reason I too, having heard of the faith in the Lord Jesus which prevails among you, and of your love for all God's people, 16offer never ceasing thanks on your behalf while I make mention of you in my prayers. 17For I always beseech the God of our Lord Jesus Christ—the Father most glorious—to give you a spirit of wisdom and penetration through an intimate knowledge of Him, 18the eyes of your understanding being enlightened so that you may know what is the hope which His call to you inspires, what the wealth of the glory of His inheritance in God's people, 19and what the transcendent greatness of His power in us believers as seen in the working of His infinite might ²⁰when He displayed it in Christ by raising Him from the dead and seating Him at His own right hand in the heavenly realms, ²¹high above all other government and authority and power and dominion, and every title of sovereignty used either in this Age or in the Age to come. ²²God has put all things under His feet, and has appointed Him universal and supreme Head of the Church, which is His Body, ²³the completeness of Him who everywhere fills the universe with Himself.

Alive with Christ

(Colossians 2:6–23)

¹To you Gentiles also, who were dead through your offences and sins, ²which were once habitual to you while you walked in the ways of this world and obeyed the Prince of the powers of the air, the spirits that are now at work in the hearts of the sons of disobedience—to you God has given Life. ³Among them all of us also formerly passed our lives, governed by the inclinations of our lower natures, indulging the cravings of those natures and of our own thoughts, and were in our original state deserving of anger like all others. ⁴But God, being rich in mercy, because of the intense love which He bestowed on us, ⁵caused us, dead though we were through our offences, to live with Christ—it is by grace that you have been saved— ⁶raised us with Him from the dead, and enthroned us with Him in the heavenly realms as being in Christ Jesus, ⁷in order that, by His goodness to us in Christ Jesus, He might display in the Ages to come the transcendent riches of His grace. ⁸For it is by grace that you have been saved through faith; and that not of yourselves. It is God’s gift, and is not on the ground of merit— ⁹so that it may be impossible for any one to boast. ¹⁰For we are God’s own handiwork, created in Christ Jesus for good works which He has pre-destined us to practise.

One in Christ

(Philippians 2:1–4)

¹¹Therefore, do not forget that formerly you were Gentiles as to your bodily condition. You were called the Uncircumcision by those who style themselves the Circumcised—their circumcision being one which the knife has effected. ¹²At that time you were living apart from Christ, estranged from the Commonwealth of Israel, with no share by birth in the Covenants which are based on the Promises, and you had no hope and no God, in all the world. ¹³But now in Christ Jesus you who once were so far away have been brought near through the death of Christ. ¹⁴For He is our peace—He who has made Jews and Gentiles one, and in His own human nature has broken down the hostile dividing wall, ¹⁵by setting aside the Law with its commandments, expressed, as they were, in definite decrees. His design was to unite the two sections of humanity in Himself so as to form one new man, ¹⁶thus effecting peace, and to reconcile Jews and Gentiles in one body to God, by means of His cross—slaying by it their mutual enmity. ¹⁷So He came and proclaimed good news of peace to you who were so far away, and peace to those who were near; ¹⁸because it is through Him that Jews and Gentiles alike have access through one Spirit to the Father.

Christ Our Cornerstone

(Isaiah 28:14–22; 1 Corinthians 3:10–15; 1 Peter 2:1–8)

19You are therefore no longer mere foreigners or persons excluded from civil rights. On the contrary you share citizenship with God's people and are members of His family. 20You are a building which has been reared on the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, the cornerstone being Christ Jesus Himself, 21in union with whom the whole fabric, fitted and closely joined together, is growing so as to form a holy sanctuary in the Lord; 22in whom you also are being built up together to become a fixed abode for God through the Spirit.

The Mystery of the Gospel

1For this reason I Paul, the prisoner of Christ Jesus on behalf of you Gentiles— 2if, that is, you have heard of the work which God has graciously entrusted to me for your benefit, 3and that by a revelation the truth hitherto kept secret was made known to me as I have already briefly explained it to you. 4By means of that explanation, as you read it, you can judge of my insight into the truth of Christ 5which in earlier ages was not made known to the human race, as it has now been revealed to His holy Apostles and Prophets through the Spirit— 6I mean the truth that the Gentiles are joint heirs with us Jews, and that they form one body with us, and have the same interest as we have in the promise which has been made good in Christ Jesus through the Good News, 7in which I have been appointed to serve, in virtue of the work which God, in the exercise of His power within me, has graciously entrusted to me. 8To me who am less than the least of all God's people has this work been graciously entrusted—to proclaim to the Gentiles the Good News of the exhaustless wealth of Christ, 9and to show all men in a clear light what my stewardship is. It is the stewardship of the truth which from all the Ages lay concealed in the mind of God, the Creator of all things— 10concealed in order that the Church might now be used to display to the powers and authorities in the heavenly realms the innumerable aspects of God's wisdom. 11Such was the eternal purpose which He had formed in Christ Jesus our Lord, 12in whom we have this bold and confident access through our faith in Him. 13Therefore I entreat you not to lose heart in the midst of my sufferings on your behalf, for they bring you honour.

Paul's Prayer for the Ephesians

14For this reason, on bended knee I beseech the Father, 15from whom the whole family in Heaven and on earth derives its name, 16to grant you—in accordance with the wealth of His glorious perfections—to be strengthened by His Spirit with power penetrating to your inmost being. 17I pray that Christ may make His home in your hearts through your faith; so that having your roots deep and your foundations strong, in love, you may become mighty to grasp the idea, 18as it is grasped by all God's people, of the breadth and length, the height and depth— 19yes, to attain to a knowledge of the knowledge-surpassing love of Christ, so that you may be made complete in accordance with God's own standard of completeness.

20Now to Him who, in exercise of His power that is at work within us, is able to do infinitely beyond all our highest prayers or thoughts— 21to Him be the glory in the Church and in Christ Jesus to all generations, world without end! Amen.

Unity in the Body

(Psalm 133:1–3; 1 Corinthians 1:10–17)

1I, then, the prisoner for the Master's sake, entreat you to live and act as becomes those who have received the call that you have received— 2with all lowliness of mind and unselfishness, and with patience, bearing with one another lovingly, and earnestly striving to maintain, 3in the uniting bond of peace, the unity given by the Spirit. 4There is but one body and but one Spirit, as also when you were called you had one and the same hope held out to you. 5There is but one Lord, one faith, one baptism, 6and one God and Father of all, who rules over all, acts through all, and dwells in all.

7Yet to each of us individually grace was given, measured out with the munificence of Christ.

8For this reason Scripture says: "He re-ascended on high, He led captive a host of captives, and gave gifts to men."

9 10He who descended is the same as He who ascended again far above all the Heavens in order to fill the universe.) 11And He Himself appointed some to be Apostles, some to be Prophets, some to be evangelists, some to be pastors and teachers, 12in order fully to equip His people for the work of serving—for the building up of Christ's body— 13till we all of us arrive at oneness in faith and in the knowledge of the Son of God, and at mature manhood and the stature of full-grown men in Christ. 14So we shall no longer be babes nor shall we resemble mariners tossed on the waves and carried about with every changing wind of doctrine according to men's cleverness and unscrupulous cunning, making use of every shifting device to mislead. 15But we shall lovingly hold to the truth, and shall in all respects grow up into union with Him who is our Head, even Christ. 16Dependent on Him, the whole body—its various parts closely fitting and firmly adhering to one another—grows by the aid of every contributory link, with power proportioned to the need of each individual part, so as to build itself up in a spirit of love.

New Life in Christ

(Colossians 3:1–17)

17Therefore I warn you, and I implore you in the name of the Master, no longer to live as the Gentiles in their perverseness live, 18with darkened understandings, having by reason of the ignorance which is deep-seated in them and the insensibility of their moral nature, no share in the Life which God gives. 19Such men being past feeling have abandoned themselves to impurity, greedily indulging in every kind of profligacy. 20But these are not the lessons which you have learned from Christ; 21if at least you have heard His voice and in Him have been taught—and this is true Christian teaching— 22to put away, in regard to your former mode of life, your original evil nature which is doomed to perish as befits its misleading impulses, 23and to get yourselves renewed in the temper of your minds and clothe yourselves 24with that new and better self which has been created to resemble God in the righteousness and holiness which come from the truth.

25For this reason, laying aside falsehood, every one of you should speak the truth to his fellow man; for we are, as it were, parts of one another. 26If angry, beware of sinning. Let not your irritation last until the sun goes down; 27and do not leave room for the Devil. 28He who has been a thief must steal no more, but, instead of that, should work with his own hands in honest industry, so that he may have something of which he can give the needy a share. 29Let no unwholesome words ever pass your lips, but let all your words be good for benefiting others according to the need of the moment, so that they may be a means of blessing to the hearers. 30And beware of grieving the Holy Spirit of God, in whom you have been sealed in preparation for the day of Redemption. 31Let all bitterness and all passionate feeling, all anger and loud insulting language, be unknown among you—and also every kind of malice. 32On the contrary learn to be kind to one another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, just as God in Christ has also forgiven you.

Ephesians 5

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

Imitators of God

1Therefore be imitators of God, as His dear children. 2And live and act lovingly, as Christ also loved you and gave Himself up to death on our behalf as an offering and sacrifice to God, yielding a fragrant odor.

3But fornication and every kind of impurity, or covetousness, let them not even be mentioned among you, for they ought not to be named among God's people. 4Avoid shameful and foolish talk and low jesting—they are all alike discreditable—and in place of these give thanks. 5For be well assured that no fornicator or immoral person and no money-grubber—or in other words idol-worshipper—has any share awaiting him in the Kingdom of Christ and of God.

6Let no one deceive you with empty words, for it is on account of these very sins that God's anger is coming upon the disobedient. 7Therefore do not become sharers with them.

Children of Light

8There was a time when you were nothing but darkness. Now, as Christians, you are Light itself. 9Live and act as sons of Light—for the effect of the Light is seen in every kind of goodness, uprightness and truth— 10and learn in your own experiences what is fully pleasing to the Lord. 11Have nothing to do with the barren unprofitable deeds of darkness, but, instead of that, set your faces against them; 12for the things which are done by these people in secret it is disgraceful even to speak of. 13But everything can be tested by the light and thus be shown in its true colors; for whatever shines of itself is light.

14For this reason it is said, "Rise, sleeper; rise from among the dead, and Christ will shed light upon you."

15Therefore be very careful how you live and act. Let it not be as unwise men, but as wise. 16Buy up your opportunities, for these are evil times. 17On this account do not prove yourselves wanting in sense, but try to understand what the Lord's will is. 18Do not over-indulge in wine—a thing in which excess is so easy— 19but drink deeply of God's Spirit. Speak to one another with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs. Sing and offer praise in your hearts to the Lord. 20Always and for everything let your thanks to God the Father be presented in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ;

Wives and Husbands

(Song of Solomon 1:1–17; 1 Peter 3:1–7)

21and submit to one another out of reverence for Christ.

22Married women, submit to your own husbands as if to the Lord; 23because a husband is the Head of his wife as Christ also is the Head of the Church, being indeed the Saviour of this His Body. 24And just as the Church submits to Christ, so also married women should be entirely submissive to their husbands.

25Married men, love your wives, as Christ also loved the Church and gave Himself up to death for her; 26in order to make her holy, cleansing her with the baptismal water by the word, 27that He might present the Church to Himself a glorious bride, without spot or wrinkle or any other defect, but to be holy and unblemished. 28So too married men ought to love their wives as much as they love themselves. He who loves his wife loves himself. 29For never yet has a man hated his own body. On the contrary he feeds and cherishes it, just as Christ feeds and cherishes the Church; 30because we are, as it were, parts of His Body. 31“For this reason a man is to leave his father and his mother and be united to his wife, and the two shall be as one.” 32That is a great truth hitherto kept secret: I mean the truth concerning Christ and the Church. 33Yet I insist that among you also, each man is to love his own wife as much as he loves himself, and let a married woman see to it that she treats her husband with respect.

Children and Parents

(Colossians 3:18–21)

1Children, be obedient to your parents as a Christian duty, for it is a duty. 2“Honour your father and your mother”—this is the first Commandment which has a promise added to it— 3“so that it may be well with you, and that you may live long on the earth.”

4And you, fathers, do not irritate your children, but bring them up tenderly with true Christian training and advice.

Serving with Honor

(Colossians 3:22–25; 1 Timothy 6:1–2)

5Slaves, be obedient to your earthly masters, with respect and eager anxiety to please and with simplicity of motive as if you were obeying Christ. 6Let it not be in acts of eye-service as if you had but to please men, but as Christ’s bondservants who are doing God’s will from the heart. 7With right good will, be faithful to your duty as service rendered to the Lord and not to man. 8You well know that whatever right thing any one does, he will receive a requital for it from the Lord, whether he is a slave or a free man.

9And you masters, act towards your slaves on the same principles, and refrain from threats. For you know that in Heaven there is One who is your Master as well as theirs, and that merely earthly distinctions there are none with Him.

The Full Armor of God

10In conclusion, strengthen yourselves in the Lord and in the power which His supreme might imparts. 11Put on the complete armour of God, so as to be able to stand firm against all the stratagems of the Devil. 12For ours is not a conflict with mere flesh and blood, but with the despotisms, the empires, the forces that control and govern this dark world—the spiritual hosts of evil arrayed against us in the heavenly warfare. 13Therefore put on the complete armour of God, so that you may be able to stand your ground on the day of battle, and, having fought to the end, to remain victors on the field. 14Stand therefore, first fastening round you the girdle of truth and putting on the breastplate of uprightness 15as well as the shoes of the Good News of peace—a firm foundation for your feet. 16And besides all these take the great shield of faith, on which you will be able to quench all the flaming darts of the Wicked one; 17and take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit which is the word of God.

18Pray with unceasing prayer and entreaty on every fitting occasion in the Spirit, and be always on the alert to seize opportunities for doing so, with unwearied persistence and entreaty on behalf of all God's people, 19and ask on my behalf that words may be given to me so that, outspoken and fearless, I may make known the truths (hitherto kept secret) 20to spread which I am an ambassador in chains—so that when telling them I may speak out boldly as I ought.

Final Greetings

(Philippians 4:21–23; 2 Timothy 4:19–22)

21But in order that you also may know how I am doing, Tychicus our dearly-loved brother and faithful helper in the Lord's service will tell you everything. 22I have sent him to you for the very purpose—that you may know about us and that he may encourage you.

23Peace be to the brethren, and love combined with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 24May grace be with all who love our Lord Jesus Christ with perfect sincerity.

Greetings from Paul and Timothy

(Colossians 1:1–2; Philemon 1:1–3)

1Paul and Timothy, bondservants of Christ Jesus: To all God's people in Christ Jesus who are at Philippi, with the ministers of the Church and their assistants. 2May grace and peace be granted to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Thanksgiving and Prayer

(1 Corinthians 1:4–9; Colossians 1:3–14)

3I thank my God at my every remembrance of you— 4always when offering any prayer on behalf of you all, finding a joy in offering it. 5I thank my God, I say, for your cooperation in spreading the Good News, from the time it first came to you even until now. 6For of this I am confident, that He who has begun a good work within you will go on to perfect it in preparation for the day of Jesus Christ. 7And I am justified in having this confidence about you all, because, both during my imprisonment and when

I stand up in defence of the Good News or to confirm its truth, I have you in my heart, sharers as you all are in the same grace as myself. ⁸For God is my witness how I yearn over all of you with tender Christian affection. ⁹And it is my prayer that your love may be more and more accompanied by clear knowledge and keen perception, for testing things that differ, ¹⁰so that you may be men of transparent character, and may be blameless, in preparation for the day of Christ, ¹¹being filled with these fruits of righteousness which come through Jesus Christ—to the glory and praise of God.

Paul's Trials Advance the Gospel

(James 1:2–12)

¹²Now I would have you know, brethren, that what I have gone through has turned out to the furtherance of the Good News rather than otherwise. ¹³And thus it has become notorious among all the Imperial Guards, and everywhere, that it is for the sake of Christ that I am a prisoner; ¹⁴and the greater part of the brethren, made confident in the Lord through my imprisonment, now speak of God's Message without fear, more boldly than ever. ¹⁵Some indeed actually preach Christ out of envy and contentiousness but there are also others who do it from good will. ¹⁶These latter preach Him from love to me, knowing that I am here for the defence of the Good News; ¹⁷while the others proclaim Him from motives of rivalry, and insincerely, supposing that by this they are embittering my imprisonment. ¹⁸What does it matter, however? In any case Christ is preached—either perversely or in honest truth; and in that I rejoice, yes, and will rejoice. ¹⁹For I know that it will result in my salvation through your prayers and a bountiful supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ, ²⁰in fulfilment of my eager expectation and hope that I shall never have reason to feel ashamed, but that by my perfect freedom of speech Christ will be glorified in me, now as always, either by my life or by my death.

To Live Is Christ

²¹For, with me, to live is Christ and to die is gain. ²²But since to live means a longer stay on earth, that implies more labour for me—and not unsuccessful labour; and which I am to choose I cannot tell. ²³I am in a dilemma, my earnest desire being to depart and be with Christ, for that is far, far better. ²⁴But for your sakes it is more important that I should still remain in the body. ²⁵I am convinced of this, and I know that I shall remain, and shall go on working side by side with you all, to promote your progress and joy in the faith; ²⁶so that, as Christians, you may have additional reason for glorying about me as the result of my being with you again.

Worthy of the Gospel

²⁷Only let the lives you live be worthy of the Good News of the Christ, in order that, whether I come and see you or, being absent, only hear of you, I may know that you are standing fast in one spirit and with one mind, fighting shoulder to shoulder for the faith of the Good News. ²⁸Never for a moment quail before your antagonists. Your fearlessness will be to them a sure token of impending destruction, but to you it will be a sure token of your salvation—a token coming from God. ²⁹For you have had the privilege granted you on behalf of Christ—not only to believe in Him, but also to suffer on His behalf; ³⁰maintaining, as you do, the same kind of conflict that you once saw in me and which you still hear that I am engaged in.

Philippians 2

One in Christ

(Ephesians 2:11–18)

1If then I can appeal to you as the followers of Christ, if there is any persuasive power in love and any common sharing of the Spirit, or if you have any tender-heartedness and compassion, make my joy complete by being of one mind, 2united by mutual love, with harmony of feeling giving your minds to one and the same object. 3Do nothing in a spirit of factiousness or of vainglory, but, with true humility, let every one regard the rest as being of more account than himself; 4each fixing his attention, not simply on his own interests, but on those of others also.

The Mind of Christ

(Isaiah 52:13–15)

5Let the same disposition be in you which was in Christ Jesus. 6Although from the beginning He had the nature of God He did not reckon His equality with God a treasure to be tightly grasped. 7Nay, He stripped Himself of His glory, and took on Him the nature of a bondservant by becoming a man like other men. 8And being recognized as truly human, He humbled Himself and even stooped to die; yes, to die on a cross. 9It is in consequence of this that God has also so highly exalted Him, and has conferred on Him the Name which is supreme above every other, 10in order that in the Name of JESUS every knee should bow, of beings in Heaven, of those on the earth, and of those in the underworld, 11and that every tongue should confess that JESUS CHRIST is LORD, to the glory of God the Father.

Lights in the World

(Matthew 5:13–16)

12Therefore, my dearly-loved friends, as I have always found you obedient, labour earnestly with fear and trembling—not merely as though I were present with you, but much more now since I am absent from you—labour earnestly, I say, to make sure of your own salvation. 13For it is God Himself whose power creates within you the desire to do His gracious will and also brings about the accomplishment of the desire.

14Be ever on your guard against a grudging and contentious spirit, 15so that you may always prove yourselves to be blameless and spotless—irreproachable children of God in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom you are seen as heavenly lights in the world, 16holding out to them a Message of Life. It will then be my glory on the day of Christ that I did not run my race in vain nor toil in vain. 17Nay, even if my life is to be poured as a libation upon the sacrificial offering of your faith, I rejoice, and I congratulate you all. 18And I bid you also share my gladness, and congratulate me.

Timothy and Epaphroditus

(1 Corinthians 16:10–12)

19But, if the Lord permits it, I hope before long to send Timothy to you, that I, in turn, may be cheered by getting news of you. 20For I have no one likeminded with him, who will cherish a genuine care for you. 21Everybody concerns himself about his own interests, not about those of Jesus Christ. 22But you know Timothy's approved worth—how, like a child working with his father, he has served with me in furtherance of the Good News. 23So it is he that I hope to send as soon as ever I see how things go with me; 24but trusting, as I do, in the Lord, I believe that I shall myself also come to you before long.

25Yet I deem it important to send Epaphroditus to you now—he is my brother and comrade both in labour and in arms, and is your messenger who has ministered to my needs. 26I send him because he is longing to see you all and is distressed at your having heard of his illness. ²⁷For it is true that he has been ill, and was apparently at the point of death; but God had pity on him, and not only on him, but also on me, to save me from having sorrow upon sorrow. ²⁸I am therefore all the more eager to send him, in the hope that when you see him again you may be glad and I may have the less sorrow. ²⁹Receive him therefore with heartfelt Christian joy, and hold in honour men like him; ³⁰because it was for the sake of Christ's work that he came so near death, hazarding, as he did, his very life in endeavouring to make good any deficiency that there might be in your gifts to me.

Righteousness through Faith in Christ

(Romans 3:21–31)

¹In conclusion, my brethren, be joyful in the Lord. For me to give you the same warnings as before is not irksome to me, while so far as you are concerned it is a safe precaution.

²Beware of 'the dogs,' the bad workmen, the self-mutilators. ³For we are the true circumcision—we who render to God a spiritual worship and make our boast in Christ Jesus and have no confidence in outward ceremonies: ⁴although I myself might have some excuse for confidence in outward ceremonies. If any one else claims a right to trust in them, far more may I: ⁵circumcised, as I was, on the eighth day, a member of the race of Israel and of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew sprung from Hebrews; as to the Law a Pharisee; ⁶as to zeal, a persecutor of the Church; as to the righteousness which comes through Law, blameless.

⁷Yet all that was gain to me—for Christ's sake I have reckoned it loss. ⁸Nay, I even reckon all things as pure loss because of the priceless privilege of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. And for His sake I have suffered the loss of everything, and reckon it all as mere refuse, in order that I may win Christ and be found in union with Him, ⁹not having a righteousness of my own, derived from the Law, but that which arises from faith in Christ—the righteousness which comes from God through faith. ¹⁰I long to know Christ and the power which is in His resurrection, and to share in His sufferings and die even as He died; ¹¹in the hope that I may attain to the resurrection from among the dead.

Pressing on toward the Goal

¹²I do not say that I have already won the race or have already reached perfection. But I am pressing on, striving to lay hold of the prize for which also Christ has laid hold of me. ¹³Brethren, I do not imagine that I have yet laid hold of it. But this one thing I do—forgetting everything which is past and stretching forward to what lies in front of me, ¹⁴with my eyes fixed on the goal I push on to secure the prize of God's heavenward call in Christ Jesus. ¹⁵Therefore let all of us who are mature believers cherish these thoughts; and if in any respect you think differently, that also God will make clear to you. ¹⁶But whatever be the point that we have already reached, let us persevere in the same course.

Citizenship in Heaven

¹⁷Brethren, vie with one another in imitating me, and carefully observe those who follow the example which we have set you. ¹⁸For there are many whom I have often described to you, and I now even with tears describe them, as being enemies to the Cross of Christ. 19Their end is destruction, their bellies are their God, their glory is in their shame, and their minds are devoted to earthly things. 20We, however, are free citizens of Heaven, and we are waiting with longing expectation for the coming from Heaven of a Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ, 21who, in the exercise of the power which He has even to subject all things to Himself, will transform this body of our humiliation until it resembles His own glorious body.

Rejoice in the Lord

1Therefore, my brethren, dearly loved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand firm in the Lord, my dearly-loved ones.

2I entreat Euodia, and I entreat Syntyche, to be of one mind, as sisters in Christ. 3Yes, and I beg you also, my faithful yoke-fellow, to help these women who have shared my toil in connection with the Good News, together with Clement and the rest of my fellow labourers, whose names are recorded in the Book of Life.

4Always be glad in the Lord: I will repeat it, be glad. 5Let your forbearing spirit be known to every one—the Lord is near. 6Do not be over-anxious about anything, but by prayer and earnest pleading, together with thanksgiving, let your request be unreservedly made known in the presence of God. 7And then the peace of God, which transcends all our powers of thought, will be a garrison to guard your hearts and minds in union with Christ Jesus.

8Finally, brethren, whatever is true, whatever wins respect, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovable, whatever is of good repute—if there is any virtue or anything deemed worthy of praise—cherish the thought of these things. 9The doctrines and the line of conduct which I taught you—both what you heard and what you saw in me—hold fast to them; and God who gives peace will be with you.

The Generosity of the Philippians

(2 Corinthians 8:1–15)

10But I rejoice with a deep and holy joy that now at length you have revived your thoughtfulness for my welfare. Indeed you have always been thoughtful for me, although opportunity failed you. 11I do not refer to this through fear of privation, for (for my part) 12I know both how to live in humble circumstances and how to live amid abundance. I am fully initiated into all the mysteries both of fulness and of hunger, of abundance and of want. 13I have strength for anything through Him who gives me power. 14Yet I thank you for taking your share in my troubles.

15And you men and women of Philippi also know that at the first preaching of the Good News, when I had left Macedonia, no other Church except yourselves held communication with me about giving and receiving; 16because even in Thessalonica you sent several times to minister to my needs. 17Not that I crave for gifts from you, but I do want to see abundant fruit bring you honour. 18I have enough of everything—and more than enough. My wants are fully satisfied now that I have received from the hands of Epaphroditus the generous gifts which you sent me—they are a fragrant odor, an acceptable sacrifice, truly pleasing to God. 19But my God—so great is His wealth of glory in Christ Jesus—will fully supply every need of yours. 20And to our God and Father be the glory throughout the Ages of the Ages! Amen.

Final Greetings

(Ephesians 6:21–24; 2 Timothy 4:19–22)

21My Christian greetings to every one of God’s people. The brethren who are with me send their greetings. 22All God’s people here greet you—especially the members of Caesar’s household.

Thanksgiving and Prayer

(1 Corinthians 1:4–9; Philippians 1:3–11)

3We give thanks to God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, constantly praying for you as we do, 4because we have heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and of the love which you cherish towards all God’s people, 5on account of the hope treasured up for you in Heaven. Of this hope you have already heard in the Message of the truth of the Good News. 6For it has reached you, and remains with you, just as it has also spread through the whole world, yielding fruit there and increasing, as it has done among you from the day when first you heard it and came really to know the grace of God, 7as you learned it from Epaphras our dearly-loved fellow servant. He is to you a faithful minister of Christ in our stead, 8and moreover he has informed us of your love, which is inspired by the Spirit.

9For this reason we also, from the day we first received these tidings, have never ceased to pray for you and to entreat that you may be filled with a clear knowledge of His will accompanied by thorough wisdom and discernment in spiritual things; 10so that your lives may be worthy of the Lord and perfectly pleasing to Him, while you exhibit the results of right action of every sort and grow into a fuller knowledge of God. 11Since His power is so glorious, may you be strengthened with strength of every kind, and be prepared for cheerfully enduring all things with patience and long-suffering; 12and give thanks to the Father who has made us fit to receive our share of the inheritance of God’s people in Light.

13It is God who has delivered us out of the dominion of darkness, and has transferred us into the Kingdom of His dearly-loved Son, 14in whom we have our redemption—the forgiveness of our sins.

The Supremacy of the Son

(Hebrews 1:1–14)

15Christ is the visible representation of the invisible God, the Firstborn and Lord of all creation. 16For in Him was created the universe of things in heaven and on earth, things seen and things unseen, thrones, dominions, principedoms, powers—all were created, and exist through and for Him. 17And HE IS before all things and in and through Him the universe is a harmonious whole. 18Moreover He is the Head of His Body, the Church. He is the Beginning, the Firstborn from among the dead, in order that He Himself may in all things occupy the foremost place. 19For it was the Father’s gracious will that the whole of the divine perfections should dwell in Him. 20And God purposed through Him to reconcile the universe to Himself, making peace through His blood, which was shed upon the Cross—to reconcile to Himself through Him, I say, things on earth and things in Heaven.

21And you, estranged as you once were and even hostile in your minds, amidst your evil deeds, 22He has now, in His human body, reconciled to God by His death, to bring you, holy and faultless and irreproachable, into His presence; 23if, indeed, you are still firmly holding to faith as your foundation, without ever shifting from your hope that rests on the Good News that you have heard, which has been proclaimed in the whole creation under Heaven, and in which I Paul have been appointed to serve.

Paul’s Suffering for the Church

(2 Corinthians 11:16–33)

24Now I can find joy amid my sufferings for you, and I fill up in my own person whatever is lacking in Christ’s afflictions on behalf of His Body, the Church. 25I have been appointed to serve the Church in the position of responsibility entrusted to me by God for your benefit, so that I may fully deliver God’s Message— 26the truth which has been kept secret from all ages and generations, but has now been revealed to His people, 27to whom it was His will to make known how vast a wealth of glory for the Gentile world is implied in this truth—the truth that ‘Christ is in you, the hope of glory.’ 28Him we preach, admonishing every one and instructing every one, with all possible wisdom, so that we may bring every one into God’s presence, made perfect through Christ. 29To this end, like an earnest wrestler, I exert all my strength in reliance upon the power of Him who is mightily at work within me.

Absent in Body, Present in Spirit

(Revelation 3:14–22)

1For I would have you know in how severe a struggle I am engaged on behalf of you and the brethren in Laodicea and of all who have not known me personally, 2in order that their hearts may be cheered, they themselves being welded together in love and enjoying all the advantages of a reasonable certainty, till at last they attain the full knowledge of God’s truth, which is Christ Himself. 3In Him all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge are stored up, hidden from view. 4I say this to prevent your being misled by any one’s plausible sophistry. 5For although, as you say, I am absent from you in body, yet in spirit I am present with you and am delighted to witness your good discipline and the solid front presented by your faith in Christ.

Alive with Christ

(Ephesians 2:1–10)

6As therefore you have received the Christ, even Jesus our Lord, live and act in vital union with Him; 7having the roots of your being firmly planted in Him, and continually building yourselves up in Him, and always being increasingly confirmed in the faith as you were taught it, and abounding in it with thanksgiving.

8Take care lest there be some one who leads you away as prisoners by means of his philosophy and idle fancies, following human traditions and the world's crude notions instead of following Christ. 9For it is in Christ that the fulness of God's nature dwells embodied, and in Him you are made complete, 10and He is the Lord of all princes and rulers. 11In Him also you were circumcised with a circumcision not performed by hand, when you threw off your sinful nature in true Christian circumcision; 12having been buried with Him in your baptism, in which you were also raised with Him through faith produced within you by God who raised Him from among the dead. 13And to you—dead as you once were in your transgressions and in the uncircumcision of your natural state—He has nevertheless given Life with Himself, having forgiven us all our transgressions. 14The bond, with its requirements, which was in force against us and was hostile to us, He cancelled, and cleared it out of the way, nailing it to His Cross. 15And the hostile princes and rulers He shook off from Himself, and boldly displayed them as His conquests, when by the Cross He triumphed over them.

16Therefore suffer no one to sit in judgement on you as to eating or drinking or with regard to a festival, a new moon or a sabbath. 17These were a shadow of things that were soon to come, but the substance belongs to Christ. 18Let no one defraud you of your prize, priding himself on his humility and on his worship of the angels, and taking his stand on the visions he has seen, and idly puffed up with his unspiritual thoughts. 19Such a one does not keep his hold upon Christ, the Head, from whom the Body, in all its parts nourished and strengthened by its points of contact and its connections, grows with a divine growth.

20If you have died with Christ and have escaped from the world's rudimentary notions, why, as though your life still belonged to the world, do you submit to such precepts as 21"Do not handle this;" "Do not taste that;" "Do not touch that other thing"— 22referring to things which are all intended to be used up and perish—in obedience to mere human injunctions and teachings? 23These rules have indeed an appearance of wisdom where self-imposed worship exists, and an affectation of humility and an ascetic severity. But not one of them is of any value in combating the indulgence of our lower natures.

Put On the New Self

(Ephesians 4:17–32)

1If however you have risen with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, enthroned at God's right hand. 2Give your minds to the things that are above, not to the things that are on the earth.

3For you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. 4When Christ appears—He is our true Life—then you also will appear with Him in glory.

5Therefore put to death your earthward inclinations—fornication, impurity, sensual passion, unholy desire, and all greed, for that is a form of idolatry. 6It is on account of these very sins that God’s anger is coming, 7and you also were once addicted to them, while you were living under their power. 8But now you must rid yourselves of every kind of sin—angry and passionate outbreaks, ill-will, evil speaking, foul-mouthed abuse—so that these may never soil your lips. 9Do not speak falsehoods to one another, for you have stripped off the old self with its doings, 10and have clothed yourselves with the new self which is being remoulded into full knowledge so as to become like Him who created it. 11In that new creation there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, barbarian, Scythian, slave nor free man, but Christ is everything and is in all of us.

12Clothe yourselves therefore, as God’s own people holy and dearly loved, with tender-heartedness, kindness, lowliness of mind, meekness, long-suffering; 13bearing with one another and readily forgiving each other, if any one has a grievance against another. Just as the Lord has forgiven you, you also must forgive. 14And over all these put on love, which is the perfect bond of union; 15and let the peace which Christ gives settle all questionings in your hearts, to which peace indeed you were called as belonging to His one Body; and be thankful. 16Let the teaching concerning Christ remain as a rich treasure in your hearts. In all wisdom teach and admonish one another with psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs, and sing with grace in your hearts to God. 17And whatever you do, in word or in deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, and let it be through Him that you give thanks to God the Father.

Christian Households

(Ephesians 6:1–4)

18Married women, be submissive to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord. 19Married men, be affectionate to your wives, and do not treat them harshly. 20Children be obedient to your parents in everything; for that is right for Christians. 21Fathers, do not fret and harass your children, or you may make them sullen and morose.

Serving with Honor

(Ephesians 6:5–9; 1 Timothy 6:1–2)

22Slaves, be obedient in everything to your earthly masters; not in acts of eye service, as aiming only to please men, but with simplicity of purpose, because you fear the Lord. 23Whatever you are doing, let your hearts be in your work, as a thing done for the Lord and not for men. 24For you know that it is from the Lord you will receive the inheritance as your reward. Christ is the Master whose bondservants you are. 25The man who perpetrates a wrong will find the wrong repaid to him; and with God there are no merely earthly distinctions.

Prayerful Speech and Actions

1Masters, deal justly and equitably with your slaves, knowing that you too have a Master in Heaven.

2Be earnest and unwearied in prayer, being on the alert in it and in your giving of thanks. 3And pray at the same time for us also, that God may open for us a door for preaching, for us to tell the truth concerning Christ for the sake of which I am even a prisoner. 4Then I shall proclaim it fully, as it is my duty to do.

5Behave wisely in relation to the outside world, buying up your opportunities. 6Let your language be always seasoned with the salt of grace, so that you may know how to give every man a fitting answer.

Greetings from Paul's Fellow Workers

(Romans 16:21–23)

7Tychicus, our much-loved brother, a trusty assistant and fellow servant with us in the Lord's work, will give you every information about me. 8And for this very purpose I send him to you that you may know how we are faring; and that he may cheer your hearts. 9And with him I send our dear and trusty brother Onesimus, who is one of yourselves. They will inform you of everything here.

10Aristarchus my fellow prisoner sends greeting to you, and so does Barnabas's cousin Mark. You have received instructions as to him; if he comes to you, give him a welcome. 11Jesus, called Justus, also sends greeting. These three are Hebrew converts. They alone among such have worked loyally with me for the Kingdom of God—they are men who have been a comfort to me. 12Epaphras, who is one of yourselves, a bondservant of Jesus Christ, sends greetings to you, always wrestling on your behalf in his prayers, that you may stand firm—Christians of ripe character and of clear conviction as to everything which is God's will. 13For I can bear witness to the deep interest he takes in you and in the brethren at Laodicea and in those at Hierapolis. 14Luke, the dearly-loved physician, salutes you, and so does Demas.

Signature and Final Instructions

(1 Corinthians 16:19–24; 2 Thessalonians 3:16–18)

15Christian greetings to the brethren at Laodicea, especially to Nymphas, and to the Church that meets at their house.

16And when this Letter has been read among you, let it be read also in the Church of the Laodiceans, and you in turn must read the one I am sending to Laodicea. 17And tell Archippus to discharge carefully the duties devolving upon him as a servant of the Lord.

18I Paul add with my own hand this final greeting. Be mindful of me in my imprisonment. Grace be with you.

Greetings to the Thessalonians

(2 Thessalonians 1:1–4)

1Paul, Silas, and Timothy: To the Church of the Thessalonians which is in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. May grace and peace be granted to you.

2We continually give thanks to God because of you all, while we make mention of you in our prayers.

3For we never fail to remember your works of faith and labours of love and your persistent and unwavering hope in our Lord Jesus Christ in the presence of our God and Father; 4knowing as we do, brethren, that you are beloved by God and that He has chosen you. 5The Good News that we brought you did not come to you in words only, but also with power and with the Holy Spirit and with much certainty, for you know the sort of men we became among you, as examples for your sakes. 6And you followed the pattern set you by us and by the Master, after you had received the Message amid severe persecution, and yet with the joy which the Holy Spirit gives, 7so that you became a pattern to all the believers throughout Macedonia and Greece. 8For it was not only from you that the Master's Message sounded forth throughout Macedonia and Greece; but everywhere your faith in God has become known, so that it is unnecessary for us to say anything about it. 9For when others speak of us they report the reception we had from you, and how you turned from your idols to God, to be bondservants of the true and ever-living God, 10and to await the return from Heaven of His Son, whom He raised from among the dead—even Jesus, our Deliverer from God's coming anger.

Paul's Ministry

1For you yourselves, brethren, know that our visit to you did not fail of its purpose. 2But, as you will remember, after we had already met with suffering and outrage at Philippi, we summoned up boldness, by the help of our God, to tell you God's Good News amid much opposition. 3For our preaching was not grounded on a delusion, nor prompted by mingled motives, nor was there fraud in it. 4But as God tested and approved us before entrusting us with His Good News, so in what we say we are seeking not to please men but to please God, who tests and approves our motives. 5For, as you are well aware, we have never used the language of flattery nor have we found pretexts for enriching ourselves—God is our witness; 6nor did we seek glory either from you or from any other mere men, although we might have stood on our dignity as Christ's Apostles. 7On the contrary, in our relations to you we showed ourselves as gentle as a mother is when she tenderly nurses her own children. 8Seeing that we were thus drawn affectionately towards you, it would have been a joy to us to have imparted to you not only God's Good News, but to have given our very lives also, because you had become very dear to us.

9For you remember, brethren, our labour and toil: how, working night and day so as not to become a burden to any one of you, we came and proclaimed among you God's Good News. 10You yourselves are witnesses—and God is witness—how holy and upright and blameless our dealings with you believers were. 11For you know that we acted towards every one of you as a father does towards his own children, encouraging and cheering you, 12and imploring you to live lives worthy of fellowship with God who is inviting you to share His own Kingship and glory.

13And for this further reason we render unceasing thanks to God, that when you received God's Message from our lips, it was as no mere message from men that you embraced it, but as—what it really is—God's Message, which also does its work in the hearts of you who believe. 14For you, brethren, followed the example of the Churches of God in Christ Jesus which are in Judaea; seeing that you endured the same ill-treatment at the hands of your countrymen, as they did at the hands of the Jews. 15Those Jewish persecutors killed both the Lord Jesus and the Prophets, and drove us out of their midst. They are displeasing to God, and are the enemies of all mankind; 16for they still try to prevent our preaching to the Gentiles so that they may find salvation. They thus continually fill up the measure of their own sins, and God's anger in its severest form has overtaken them.

Paul's Longing to Visit

17But we, brethren, having been for a short time separated from you in bodily presence, though not in heart, endeavoured all the more earnestly, with intense longing, to see you face to face. 18On this account we wanted to come to you—at least I Paul wanted again and again to do so—but Satan hindered us. 19For what is our hope or joy, or the crown of which we boast? Is it not you yourselves in the presence of our Lord Jesus at His Coming? 20Yes, you are our glory and our joy.

1 Thessalonians 3

Timothy's Visit

1So when we could endure it no longer, we decided to remain behind in Athens alone; 2and sent Timothy our brother and God's minister in the service of Christ's Good News, that he might help you spiritually and encourage you in your faith; 3that none of you might be unnerved by your present trials: for you yourselves know that they are our appointed lot. 4For even when we were with you, we forewarned you, saying, "We are soon to suffer affliction;" and this actually happened, as you well know. 5For this reason I also, when I could no longer endure the uncertainty, sent to know the condition of your faith, lest perchance the Tempter might have tempted you and our labour have been lost.

Timothy's Encouraging Report

6But now that Timothy has recently come back to us from you, and has brought us the happy tidings of your faith and love, and has told us how you still cherish a constant and affectionate recollection of us, and are longing to see us as we also long to see you— 7for this reason in our distress and trouble we have been comforted about you, brethren, by your faith. 8For now life is for us life indeed, since you are standing fast in the Lord. 9For what thanksgiving on your behalf can we possibly offer to God in return for all the joy which fills our souls before our God for you, 10while night and day, with intense earnestness, we pray that we may see your faces, and may bring to perfection whatever may be still lacking in your faith?

11But may our God and Father Himself—and our Lord Jesus—guide us on our way to you; 12and as for you, may the Lord teach you to love one another and all men, with a growing and a glowing love, resembling our love for you. 13Thus He will build up your characters, so that you will be faultlessly holy in the presence of our God and Father at the Coming of our Lord Jesus with all His holy ones.

Living to Please God

1Moreover, brethren, as you learnt from our lips the lives which you ought to live, and do live, so as to please God, we beg and exhort you in the name of the Lord Jesus to live them more and more truly. 2For you know the commands which we laid upon you by the authority of the Lord Jesus. 3For this is God's will—your purity of life, that you abstain from fornication; 4that each man among you shall know how to procure a wife who shall be his own in purity and honour; 5that you be not overmastered by lustful cravings, like the Gentiles who have no knowledge of God; 6and that in this matter there be no encroaching on the rights of a brother Christian and no overreaching him. For the Lord is an avenger in all such cases, as we have already taught you and solemnly warned you. 7God has not called us to an unclean life, but to one of purity. 8Therefore a defiant spirit in such a case provokes not man but God, who puts His Holy Spirit into your hearts.

9But on the subject of love for the brotherhood it is unnecessary for me to write to you, for you yourselves have been taught by God to love one another; 10and indeed you do love all the brethren throughout Macedonia. And we exhort you to do so more and more, 11and to vie with one another in eagerness for peace, every one minding his own business and working with his hands, as we ordered you to do: 12so as to live worthy lives in relation to outsiders, and not be a burden to any one.

The Return of the Lord

13Now, concerning those who from time to time pass away, we would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, lest you should mourn as others do who have no hope. 14For if we believe that Jesus has died and risen again, we also believe that, through Jesus, God will bring with Him those who shall have passed away. 15For this we declare to you on the Lord's own authority—that we who are alive and continue on earth until the Coming of the Lord, shall certainly not forestall those who shall have previously passed away. 16For the Lord Himself will come down from Heaven with a loud word of command, and with an archangel's voice and the trumpet of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. 17Afterwards we who are alive and are still on earth will be caught up in their company amid clouds to meet the Lord in the air. 18And so we shall be with the Lord for ever. Therefore encourage one another with these words.

The Day of the Lord

(Zephaniah 1:7–18; Malachi 4:1–6; 2 Peter 3:8–13)

1But as to times and dates it is unnecessary that anything be written to you. 2For you yourselves know perfectly well that the day of the Lord comes like a thief in the night. 3While they are saying "Peace and safety!" then in a moment destruction falls upon them, like birth-pains on a woman who is with child; and escape there is none. 4But you, brethren, are not in darkness, that daylight should surprise you like a thief; 5for all of you are sons of Light and sons of the day. We belong neither to the night nor to darkness. 6So then let us not sleep, like the rest of the world, but let us keep awake and be sober. 7For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who drink freely, drink at night. 8But let us, belonging—as we do—to the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet the hope of salvation. 9For God has not pre-destined us to meet His anger, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ; 10who died on our behalf, so that whether we are awake or are sleeping we may share His Life. 11Therefore encourage one another, and let each one help to strengthen his friend, as in fact you do.

Christian Living

12Now we beg you, brethren, to show respect for those who labour among you and are your leaders in Christian work, and are your advisers; 13and to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. Be at peace among yourselves. 14And we exhort you, brethren, admonish the unruly, comfort the timid, sustain the weak, and be patient towards all. 15See to it that no one ever repays another with evil for evil; but always seek opportunities of doing good both to one another and to all the world. 16Be always joyful. 17Be unceasing in prayer. 18In every circumstance of life be thankful; for this is God's will in Christ Jesus respecting you. 19Do not quench the Spirit. 20Do not think meanly of utterances of prophecy; 21but test all such, and retain hold of the good. 22Hold yourselves aloof from every form of evil.

Final Blessings and Instructions

23And may God Himself who gives peace, make you entirely holy; and may your spirits, souls and bodies be preserved complete and be found blameless at the Coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. 24Faithful is He who calls you, and He will also perfect His work.

25Brethren, pray for us.

Greetings to the Thessalonians

(1 Thessalonians 1:1–10)

1Paul, Silas, and Timothy: To the Church of the Thessalonians which is in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 2May grace and peace be granted to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3Unceasing thanks are due from us to God on your behalf, brethren. They are appropriate because your faith is growing greatly, and the love of every one of you for all the others goes on increasing. 4It so increases that we ourselves make honourable mention of you among the Churches of God because of your patience and faith amid all your persecutions and amid the afflictions which you are enduring.

Christ's Coming

⁵For these are a plain token of God's righteous judgement, which has in view your being deemed worthy of admission to God's Kingdom, for the sake of which, indeed, you are sufferers. ⁶A plain token of God's righteous judgement, I say, since it is a righteous thing for Him to requite with affliction those who are now afflicting you; ⁷and to requite with rest you who are suffering affliction now—rest with us at the re-appearing of the Lord Jesus from Heaven, attended by His mighty angels. ⁸He will come in flames of fire to take vengeance on those who have no knowledge of God, and do not obey the Good News as to Jesus, our Lord. ⁹They will pay the penalty of eternal destruction, being banished from the presence of the Lord and from His glorious majesty, ¹⁰when He comes on that day to be glorified in His people and to be wondered at among all who have believed, including you—because you believed the testimony which we brought for your acceptance. ¹¹It is with this view also that we continually pray to our God for you, asking that He will count you worthy of His call, and by His mighty power fully gratify your every desire for what is truly good and make your work of faith complete; ¹²in order that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and that you may be glorified in Him—so wonderful is the grace of our God and of the Lord Jesus Christ!

The Man of Lawlessness

¹But with respect to the Coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our being gathered to meet Him, we entreat you, brethren, ²not readily to become unsettled in mind or troubled—either by any pretended spiritual revelation or by any message or letter claiming to have been sent by us—through fancying that the day of the Lord is now here. ³Let no one in any way deceive you, for that day cannot come without the coming of the apostasy first, and the appearing of the man of sin, the son of perdition, who sets himself against, ⁴and exalts himself above, every so-called 'god' or object of worship, and goes the length of taking his seat in the very temple of God, giving it out that he himself is God. ⁵Do you not remember that while I was still with you I used to tell you all this? ⁶And now you know what restrains him, in order that his true character may be revealed at his appointed time. ⁷For lawlessness is already at work in secret; but only until the man who is now exercising a restraining influence is removed, ⁸and then the Lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will sweep away with the tempest of His anger, and utterly overwhelm by the awful splendour of His Coming. ⁹The appearing of the Lawless one will be attended by various miracles and tokens and delusive marvels—for so Satan works— ¹⁰and by every kind of wicked deception for those who are on the way to perdition because they did not welcome into their hearts the love of the truth, so that they might be saved. ¹¹And for this reason God sends them a misleading influence that they may believe the lie; ¹²in order that all may come under judgement who have refused to believe the truth and have taken pleasure in unrighteousness.

Stand Firm

¹³And from us thanks are always due to God on your behalf—brethren whom the Lord loves—because God from the beginning has chosen you for salvation through the Spirit's sanctifying influence and your belief in the truth. ¹⁴To this blessing God has called you by our Good News, so that you may have a share in the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. ¹⁵So then, brethren, stand your ground, and hold fast to the teachings which you have received from us, whether by word of mouth or by letter.

16And may our Lord Jesus Christ Himself—and God our Father who has loved us and has given us in His grace eternal consolation and a bright hope— 17comfort your hearts and make you steadfast in every good work and word.

Request for Prayer

1Finally, brethren, pray for us, asking that the Lord's Message may be spread rapidly and its glory be displayed, as it was displayed among you; 2and that we may be delivered from wrong-headed and wicked men; for it is not everybody who has faith. 3But the Lord is faithful, and He will make you steadfast and will guard you from the Evil one. 4And we have confidence in the Lord in regard to you that you are doing, and will do, what we command. 5And may the Lord guide your hearts into the love of God and into the patience of Christ.

A Warning against Idleness

6But, by the authority of the Lord, we command you, brethren, to stand aloof from every brother whose life is disorderly and not in accordance with the teaching which all received from us. 7For you yourselves know that it is your duty to follow our example. There was no disorder in our lives among you, 8nor did we eat any one's bread without paying for it, but we laboured and toiled, working hard night and day in order not to be a burden to any of you. 9This was not because we had not a claim upon you, but it arose from a desire to set you an example—for you to imitate us. 10For even when we were with you, we laid down this rule for you: "If a man does not choose to work, neither shall he eat." 11For we hear that there are some of you who live disorderly lives and are mere idle busybodies. 12To persons of that sort our injunction—and our command by the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ—is that they are to work quietly and eat their own honestly-earned bread. 13But you, brethren, must not grow weary in the path of duty;

14and if any one refuses to obey these our written instructions, mark that man and hold no communication with him—so that he may be made to feel ashamed. 15And yet do not regard him as an enemy, but caution him as a brother.

Correcting False Teachers

(Titus 1:10–16)

3When I was on my journey to Macedonia I begged you to remain on in Ephesus that you might remonstrate with certain persons because of their erroneous teaching 4and the attention they bestow on mere fables and endless pedigrees, such as lead to controversy rather than to a true stewardship for God, which only exists where there is faith. And I make the same request now. 5But the end sought to be secured by exhortation is the love which springs from a pure heart, a clear conscience and a sincere faith. 6From these some have drifted away, and have wandered into empty words. 7They are ambitious to be teachers of the Law, although they do not understand either their own words or what the things are about which they make such confident assertions.

8Now we know that the Law is good, if a man uses it in the way it should be used, 9and remembers that a law is not enacted to control a righteous man, but for the lawless and rebellious, the irreligious and sinful, the godless and profane—for those who strike their fathers or their mothers, for murderers, 10fornicators, sodomites, slave-dealers, liars and false witnesses; and for whatever else is opposed to wholesome teaching 11and is not in accordance with the Good News of the blessed God with which I have been entrusted.

God's Grace to Paul

12I am thankful to Him who made me strong—even Christ Jesus our Lord—because He has judged me to be faithful and has put me into His service, 13though I was previously a blasphemer and a persecutor and had been insolent in outrage. Yet mercy was shown me, because I had acted ignorantly, not having as yet believed; 14and the grace of our Lord came to me in overflowing fulness, conferring faith on me and the love which is in Christ Jesus. 15Faithful is the saying, and deserving of universal acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; among whom I stand foremost. 16But mercy was shown me in order that in me as the foremost of sinners Christ Jesus might display the fulness of His long-suffering patience as an example to encourage those who would afterwards be resting their faith on Him with a view to the Life of the Ages. 17Now to the immortal and invisible King of the Ages, who alone is God, be honour and glory to the Ages of the Ages! Amen.

18This is the charge which I entrust to you, my son Timothy, in accordance with the inspired instructions concerning you which were given me long ago, that being equipped with them as your armour you may be continually fighting the good fight, 19holding fast to faith and a clear conscience, which some have cast aside and have made shipwreck of their faith. 20Among these are Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I have delivered to Satan so that they may be taught not to blaspheme.

A Call to Prayer

¹I exhort then, first of all, that supplications, prayers, intercessions and thanksgivings be offered on behalf of all men; ²including kings and all who are in high station, in order that we may live peaceful and tranquil lives with all godliness and gravity. ³This is right, and is pleasing in the sight of God our Saviour, ⁴who is willing for all mankind to be saved and come to a full knowledge of the truth. ⁵For there is but one God and but one Mediator between God and men—Christ Jesus, Himself man; ⁶who gave Himself as the redemption price for all—a fact testified to at its own appointed time, ⁷and of which I have been appointed a herald and an Apostle (I am speaking the truth: it is not a fiction)

⁸So then I would have the men everywhere pray, lifting to God holy hands which are unstained with anger or strife;

Instructions to Women

⁹and I would have the women dress becomingly, with modesty and self-control, not with plaited hair or gold or pearls or costly clothes, ¹⁰but—as befits women making a claim to godliness—with the ornament of good works. ¹¹A woman should quietly learn from others with entire submissiveness. ¹²I do not permit a woman to teach, nor have authority over a man, but she must remain silent. ¹³For Adam was formed first, and then Eve; ¹⁴and Adam was not deceived, but his wife was thoroughly deceived, and so became involved in transgression. ¹⁵Yet a woman will be brought safely through childbirth if she and her husband continue to live in faith and love and growing holiness, with habitual self-restraint.

Qualifications for Overseers

(Titus 1:5–9; 1 Peter 5:1–4)

¹Faithful is the saying, “If any one is eager to have the oversight of a Church, he desires a noble work.”

²A minister then must be a man of irreproachable character, true to his one wife, temperate, sober-minded, well-behaved, hospitable to strangers, and with a gift for teaching; ³not a hard drinker nor given to blows; not selfish or quarrelsome or covetous; ⁴but ruling his own household wisely and well, with children kept under control with true dignity. ⁵ ⁶He ought not to be a new convert, for fear he should be blinded with pride and come under the same condemnation as the Devil. ⁷It is needful also that he bear a good character with people outside the Church, lest he fall into reproach or a snare of the Devil.

Qualifications for Deacons

(Acts 6:1–7)

8Deacons, in the same way, must be men of serious demeanour, not double-tongued, nor addicted to much wine, nor greedy of base gain, 9but holding the secret truths of the faith with a clear conscience. 10And they must also be well-trying men, and when found to be of unblemished character then let them serve as deacons. 11Deaconesses, in the same way, must be sober-minded women, not slanderers, but in every way temperate and trustworthy. 12A deacon must be true to his one wife, and rule his children and his own household wisely and well. 13For those who have filled the deacon's office wisely and well, are already gaining for themselves an honourable standing, and are acquiring great freedom of speech in proclaiming the faith which rests on Christ Jesus.

The Mystery of Godliness

14All this I write to you, though I am hoping before long to come to see you. 15But, for fear I may be hindered, I now write, so that you may have rules to guide you in dealing with God's household. For this is what the Church of the ever-living God is, and it is the pillar and foundation-stone of the truth.

16And, beyond controversy, great is the mystery of our religion—that Christ appeared in human form, and His claims justified by the Spirit, was seen by angels and proclaimed among Gentile nations, was believed on in the world, and received up again into glory.

1 Timothy 4

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

A Warning against Apostasy

1Now the Spirit expressly declares that in later times some will fall away from the faith, giving heed to deceiving spirits and the teachings of demons; 2through the hypocrisy of men who teach falsely and have their own consciences seared as with a hot iron; 3forbidding people to marry, and insisting on abstinence from foods which God has created to be partaken of, with thankfulness, by those who believe and have a clear knowledge of the truth. 4For everything that God has created is good, and nothing is to be cast aside, if only it is received with thanksgiving. 5For it is made holy by the word of God and by prayer.

A Good Servant of Jesus Christ

6If you warn the brethren of these dangers you will be a good and faithful servant of Christ Jesus, inwardly feeding on the lessons of the faith and of the sound teaching of which you have been, and are, so close a follower. 7But worldly stories, fit only for credulous old women, have nothing to do with. 8Train yourself in godliness. Exercise for the body is not useless, but godliness is useful in every respect, possessing, as it does, the promise of Life now and of the Life which is soon coming. 9Faithful is this saying and deserving of universal acceptance: 10and here is the motive of our toiling and wrestling, because we have our hopes fixed on the ever-living God, who is the Saviour of all mankind, and especially of believers.

11Command this and teach this. 12Let no one think slightly of you because you are a young man; but in speech, conduct, love, faith and purity, be an example for your fellow Christians to imitate. 13Till I come, bestow your attention on reading, exhortation and teaching. 14Do not be careless about the gifts with which you are endowed, which were conferred on you through a divine revelation when the hands of the elders were placed upon you. 15Habitually practise these duties, and be absorbed in them; so that your growing proficiency in them may be evident to all. 16Be on your guard as to yourself and your teaching. Persevere in these things; for by doing this you will make certain your own salvation and that of your hearers.

1 Timothy 5

Reproof and Respect

1Never administer a sharp reprimand to a man older than yourself; but entreat him as if he were your father, and the younger men as brothers; 2the elder women too as mothers, and the younger women as sisters, with perfect modesty.

Honoring True Widows

(Ruth 1:1–5)

3Honour widows who are really in need. 4But if a widow has children or grandchildren, let these learn first to show piety towards their own homes and to prove their gratitude to their parents; for this is well pleasing in the sight of God. 5A widow who is really in need, friendless and desolate, has her hopes fixed on God, and continues at her supplications and prayers, night and day; 6but a pleasure-loving widow is dead even while still alive. 7Press these facts upon them, so that they may live lives free from reproach. 8But if a man makes no provision for those dependent on him, and especially for his own family, he has disowned the faith and is behaving worse than an unbeliever.

9No widow is to be put on the roll who is under sixty years of age. 10She must have been true to her one husband, and well reported of for good deeds, as having brought up children, received strangers hospitably, washed the feet of God's people, given relief to the distressed, and devoted herself to good works of every kind. 11But the younger widows you must not enrol; for as soon as they begin to chafe against the yoke of Christ, they want to marry, 12and they incur disapproval for having broken their original vow. 13And at the same time they also learn to be idle as they go round from house to house; and they are not only idle, but are gossips also and busybodies, speaking of things that ought not to be spoken of. 14I would therefore have the younger women marry, bear children, rule in domestic matters, and furnish the Adversary with no excuse for slander. 15For already some of them have gone astray, following Satan. 16If a believing woman has widows dependent on her, she should relieve their wants, and save the Church from being burdened—so that the Church may relieve the widows who are really in need.

Honoring Elders

17Let the Elders who perform their duties wisely and well be held worthy of double honour, especially those who labour in preaching and teaching. 18For the Scripture says, "You are not to muzzle the ox while it is treading out the grain;" and the workman deserves his pay. 19Never entertain an accusation against an Elder except on the evidence of two or three witnesses. 20Those who persist in sin reprove in the presence of all, so that it may also be a warning to the rest.

A Charge to Timothy

21I solemnly call upon you, in the presence of God and of Christ Jesus and of the elect angels, to carry out these instructions of mine without prejudice, and to do nothing from partiality. 22Do not ordain any one hastily; and do not be a partaker in the sins of others; keep yourself pure.

23

24The sins of some men are evident to the world, leading the way to your estimate of their characters, but the sins of others lag behind. 25So also the right actions of some are evident to the world, and those that are not cannot remain for ever out of sight.

1 Timothy 6

Serving with Honor

(Ephesians 6:5–9; Colossians 3:22–25)

1Let all who are under the yoke of slavery hold their own masters to be deserving of honour, so that the name of God and the Christian teaching may not be spoken against. 2And those who have believing masters should not be wanting in respect towards them because they are their brethren, but should serve them all the more willingly because those who profit by the faithful service rendered are believers and are friends.

Reject False Doctrines

3So teach and exhort. If any one is a teacher of any other kind of doctrine, and refuses assent to wholesome instructions—those of our Lord Jesus Christ—and the teaching that harmonizes with true godliness, 4he is puffed up with pride and has no true knowledge, but is crazy over discussions and controversies about words which give rise to envy, quarrelling, revilings, ill-natured suspicions, 5and persistent wranglings on the part of people whose intellects are disordered and they themselves blinded to all knowledge of the truth; who imagine that godliness means gain.

Godliness with Contentment

6And godliness is gain, when associated with contentment; 7for we brought nothing into the world, nor can we carry anything out of it; 8and if we have food and clothing, with these we will be satisfied. 9But people who are determined to be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many unwise and pernicious ways which sink mankind in destruction and ruin. 10For from love of money all sorts of evils arise; and some have so hankered after money as to be led astray from the faith and be pierced through with countless sorrows.

Fight the Good Fight

11But you, O man of God, must flee from these things; and strive for uprightness, godliness, good faith, love, fortitude, and a forgiving temper. 12Exert all your strength in the honourable struggle for the faith; lay hold of the Life of the Ages, to which you were called, when you made your noble profession of faith before many witnesses. 13I charge you—as in the presence of God who gives life to all creatures, and of Christ Jesus who at the bar of Pontius Pilate made a noble profession of faith—

14that you keep God's commandments stainlessly and without reproach till the Appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ. 15For, as its appointed time, this will be brought about by the blessed and only Sovereign, the King of kings and Lord of lords, 16who alone possesses immortality, dwelling in unapproachable light, and whom no man has seen or can see. To Him be eternal honour and power! Amen.

A Charge to the Rich

(Proverbs 23:1–5; James 5:1–6)

17Impress on those who are rich in the present age that they must not be haughty nor set their hopes on riches—that unstable foundation—but on God who provides us richly with all things for our enjoyment. 18They must be beneficent, rich in noble deeds, open-handed and liberal; 19storing up for themselves that which shall be a solid foundation for the future, that they may lay hold of the Life which is life indeed.

Guard the Faith

20O Timothy, guard the truths entrusted to you, shunning irreligious and frivolous talk, and controversy with what is falsely called 'knowledge'; 21of which some have spoken boastfully in connexion with the true faith, and have erred. Grace be with you all.

Paul's Greeting to Timothy

(1 Timothy 1:1–2)

1Paul, an Apostle of Christ Jesus, by the will of God, for proclaiming the promise of the Life which is in Christ Jesus:

2To Timothy my dearly-loved child. May grace, mercy and peace be granted to you from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

Faithfulness under Persecution

(Matthew 10:16–25)

3I thank God, whom I serve with a pure conscience—as my forefathers did—that night and day I unceasingly remember you in my prayers, 4being always mindful of your tears, and longing to see you that I may be filled with joy. 5For I recall the sincere faith which is in your heart—a faith which dwelt first in your grandmother Lois and then in your mother Eunice, and, I am fully convinced, now dwells in you also.

6For this reason let me remind you to rekindle God's gift which is yours through the laying on of my hands. 7For the Spirit which God has given us is not a spirit of cowardice, but one of power and of love and of sound judgement.

8Do not be ashamed then to bear witness for our Lord and for me His prisoner; but rather share suffering with me in the service of the Good News, strengthened by the power of God. 9For He saved us and called us with a holy call, not in accordance with our desserts, but in accordance with His own purpose and the free grace which He bestowed on us in Christ Jesus before the commencement of the Ages, 10but which has now been plainly revealed through the Appearing of our Saviour, Christ Jesus. He has put an end to death and has brought Life and Immortality to light through the Good News, 11of which I have been appointed a preacher, Apostle and teacher, to the Gentiles. 12That indeed is the reason why I suffer as I do. But I am not ashamed, for I know in whom my trust reposes, and I am confident that He has it in His power to keep what I have entrusted to Him safe until that day.

Holding to Sound Teaching

13Provide yourself with an outline of the sound teaching which you have heard from my lips, and be true to the faith and love which are in Christ Jesus. 14That precious treasure which is in your charge, guard through the Holy Spirit who has His home in our hearts.

15Of this you are aware, that all the Christians in Roman Asia have deserted me: and among them Phygelus and Hermogenes. 16May the Lord show mercy to the household of Onesiphorus; for many a time he cheered me and he was not ashamed of my chain. 17Nay, when he was here in Rome, he took great pains to inquire where I was living, and at last he found me. 18And you yourself well know all the services which he rendered me in Ephesus.

2 Timothy 2

WEY [Online]

Grace and Perseverance

(Hebrews 12:1–3)

1You then, my child, must be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. 2All that you have been taught by me in the hearing of many witnesses, you must hand on to trusty men who shall themselves, in turn, be competent to instruct others also. 3As a good soldier of Christ Jesus accept your share of suffering. 4Every one who serves as a soldier keeps himself from becoming entangled in the world's business—so that he may satisfy the officer who enlisted him. 5And if any one takes part in an athletic contest, he gets no prize unless he obeys the rules. 6The harvestman who labours in the field must be the first to get a share of the crop. 7Mark well what I am saying: the Lord will give you discernment in everything.

8Never forget that Jesus Christ has risen from among the dead and is a descendant of David, as is declared in the Good News which I preach. 9For preaching the Good News I suffer, and am even put in chains, as if I were a criminal: yet the word of God is not imprisoned. 10For this reason I endure all things for the sake of God's own people; so that they also may obtain salvation—even the salvation which is in Christ Jesus—and with it eternal glory.

11Faithful is the saying: "If we died with Him, we shall also live with Him;

12"If we patiently endure pain, we shall also share His Kingship; "If we disown Him, He will also disown us;

13“And even if our faith fails, He remains true—He cannot prove false to Himself.”

The Lord’s Approved Workman

14Bring all this to men’s remembrances, solemnly charging them in the presence of God not to waste time in wrangling about mere words, a course which is altogether unprofitable and tends only to the ruin of the hearers. 15Earnestly seek to commend yourself to God as a servant who, because of his straightforward dealing with the word of truth, has no reason to feel any shame. 16But from irreligious and frivolous talk hold aloof, for those who indulge in it will proceed from bad to worse in impiety, 17and their teaching will spread like a running sore. Hymenaeus and Philetus are men of that stamp. 18In the matter of the truth they have gone astray, saying that the Resurrection is already past, and so they are overthrowing the faith of some. 19Yet God’s solid foundation stands unmoved, bearing this inscription, “The Lord knows those who really belong to Him.” And this also, “Let every one who names the Name of the Lord renounce all wickedness.”

20Now in a great house there are not only articles of gold and silver, but also others of wood and of earthenware; and some are for specially honourable, and others for common use. 21If therefore a man keeps himself clear of these latter, he himself will be for specially honourable use, consecrated, fit for the Master’s service, and fully equipped for every good work. 22Keep a strong curb, however, on your youthful cravings; and strive for integrity, good faith, love, peace, in company with all who pray to the Lord with pure hearts. 23But avoid foolish discussions with ignorant men, knowing—as you do—that these lead to quarrels; 24and a bondservant of the Lord must not quarrel, but must be inoffensive towards all men, a skilful teacher, and patient under wrongs. 25He must speak in a gentle tone when correcting the errors of opponents, in the hope that God will at last give them repentance, for them to come to a full knowledge of the truth 26and recover sober-mindedness and freedom from the Devil’s snare, though they are now entrapped by him to do his will.

2 Timothy 3

Evil in the Last Days

1But of this be assured: in the last days grievous times will set in. 2For men will be lovers of self, lovers of money, boastful, haughty, profane. They will be disobedient to parents, thankless, irreligious, 3destitute of natural affection, unforgiving, slanderers. They will have no self-control, but will be brutal, opposed to goodness, 4treacherous, headstrong, self-important. They will love pleasure instead of loving God, 5and will keep up a make-believe of piety and yet live in defiance of its power. Turn away from people of this sort. 6Among them are included the men who make their way into private houses and carry off weak women as their prisoners—women who, weighed down by the burden of their sins, are led by ever-changing caprice, 7and are always learning something new, and yet are never able to arrive at real knowledge of the truth. 8And just as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so also these false teachers withstand the truth—being, as they are, men of debased intellects, and of no real worth so far as faith is concerned. 9But they will have no further success; for their folly will be as clearly manifest to all men, as that of the opponents of Moses came to be.

All Scripture Is God-Breathed

(Hebrews 4:12–16)

10But you have intimately known my teaching, life, aims, faith, patience, love, resignation, 11and the persecutions and sufferings which I have endured; the things which happened to me in Antioch, Iconium and Lystra. You know the persecutions I endured, and how the Lord delivered me out of them all. 12And indeed every one who is determined to live a godly life as a follower of Christ Jesus will be persecuted. 13But bad men and impostors will go on from bad to worse, misleading and being misled. 14But you must cling to the things which you have learnt and have been taught to believe, knowing who your teachers were, 15and that from infancy you have known the sacred writings which are able to make you wise to obtain salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. 16Every Scripture is inspired by God and is useful for teaching, for convincing, for correction of error, and for instruction in right doing; 17so that the man of God may himself be complete and may be perfectly equipped for every good work.

Preach the Word

1I solemnly implore you, in the presence of God and of Christ Jesus who is about to judge the living and the dead, and by His Appearing and His Kingship: 2proclaim God's message, be zealous in season and out of season; convince, rebuke, encourage, with the utmost patience as a teacher. 3For a time is coming when they will not tolerate wholesome instruction, but, wanting to have their ears tickled, they will find a multitude of teachers to satisfy their own fancies; 4and will turn away from listening to the truth and will turn aside to fables. 5But as for you, you must exercise habitual self-control, and not live a self-indulgent life, but do the duty of an evangelist and fully discharge the obligations of your office.

6I for my part am like a drink-offering which is already being poured out; and the time for my departure is now close at hand. 7I have gone through the glorious contest; I have run the race; I have guarded the faith. 8From this time onward there is reserved for me the crown of righteousness which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will award to me on that day, and not only to me, but also to all who love the thought of His Appearing.

Personal Concerns

9Make an effort to come to me speedily. 10For Demas has deserted me—loving, as he does, the present age—and has gone to Thessalonica; Crescens has gone to Galatia, and Titus to Dalmatia. 11Luke is the only friend I now have with me. Call for Mark on your way and bring him with you, for he is a great help to me in my ministry. 12Tychicus I have sent to Ephesus. 13When you come, bring with you the cloak which I left behind at Troas at the house of Carpus, and the books, but especially the parchments. 14Alexander the metal-worker showed bitter hostility towards me: the Lord will requite him according to his doings. 15You also should beware of him; for he has violently opposed our preaching.

The Lord Remains Faithful

16At my first defence I had no one at my side, but all deserted me. May it not be laid to their charge. 17The Lord, however, stood by me and filled me with inward strength, that through me the Message might be fully proclaimed and that all the Gentiles might hear it; and I was rescued from the lion's jaws. 18The Lord will deliver me from every cruel attack and will keep me safe in preparation for His heavenly Kingdom. To Him be the glory until the Ages of the Ages! Amen.

Final Greetings

(Ephesians 6:21–24; Philippians 4:21–23)

19Greet Prisca and Aquila, and the household of Onesiphorus. 20Erastus stayed in Corinth; Trophimus I left behind me at Miletus, ill. 21Make an effort to come before winter. Eubulus greets you, and so do Pudens, Linus, Claudia, and all the brethren.

22The Lord be with your spirit. Grace be with you all.

Paul's Greeting to Titus

(2 Corinthians 8:16–24)

1Paul, a bondservant of God and an Apostle of Jesus Christ for building up the faith of God's own people and spreading a full knowledge of the truths of religion, 2in hope of the Life of the Ages which God, who is never false to His word, promised before the commencement of the Ages. 3And at the appointed time He clearly made known His Message in the preaching with which I was entrusted by the command of God our Saviour:

4To Titus my own true child in our common faith. May grace and peace be granted to you from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Saviour.

Appointing Elders on Crete

(1 Timothy 3:1–7; 1 Peter 5:1–4)

5I have left you behind in Crete in order that you may set right the things which still require attention, and appoint Elders in every town, as I directed you to do; 6wherever there is a man of blameless life, true to his one wife, having children who are themselves believers and are free from every reproach of profligacy or of stubborn self-will. 7For, as God's steward, a minister must be of blameless life, not over-fond of having his own way, not a man of a passionate temper nor a hard drinker, not given to blows nor greedy of gain, 8but hospitable to strangers, a lover of goodness, sober-minded, upright, saintly, self-controlled; 9holding fast to the faithful Message which he has received, so that he may be well qualified both to encourage others with sound teaching and to reply successfully to opponents.

Correcting False Teachers

(1 Timothy 1:3–11)

10For there are many that spurn authority—idle, talkative and deceitful persons, who, for the most part, are adherents of the Circumcision. 11You must stop the mouths of such men, for they overthrow the faith of whole families, teaching what they ought not, just for the sake of making money. 12One of their own number—a Prophet who is a countryman of theirs—has said, "Cretans are always liars, dangerous animals, idle gluttons." 13This testimony is true. Therefore sternly denounce them, that they may be robust in their faith, 14and not give attention to Jewish legends and the maxims of men who turn their backs on the truth. 15To the pure everything is pure; but to the polluted and unbelieving nothing is pure, but on the contrary their very minds and consciences are polluted. 16They profess to know God; but in their actions they disown Him, and are detestable and disobedient men, and for any good work are utterly useless.

Teaching Sound Doctrine

1But as for you, you must speak in a manner that befits wholesome teaching. 2Exhort aged men to be temperate, grave, sober-minded, robust in their faith, their love and their patience.

3In the same way exhort aged women to let their conduct be such as becomes consecrated persons. They must not be slanderers nor enslaved to wine-drinking. They must be teachers of what is right.

4They should school the young women to be affectionate to their husbands and to their children, to be sober-minded, pure in their lives, 5industrious in their homes, kind, submissive to their husbands, so that the Christian teaching may not be exposed to reproach.

6In the same way exhort the younger men to be discreet, 7and above all make your own life a pattern of right conduct, having in your teaching no taint of insincerity, but a serious tone, 8and healthy language which no one can censure, so that our opponents may feel ashamed at having nothing evil to say against us.

9Exhort slaves to be always obedient to their owners, and to give them satisfaction in everything, not contradicting and not pilfering, 10but manifesting perfect fidelity and kind feeling, in order to bring honour to the teaching of our Saviour, God, in all things.

God's Grace Brings Salvation

11For the grace of God has displayed itself with healing power to all mankind, 12training us to renounce ungodliness and all the pleasures of this world, and to live sober, upright, and pious lives at the present time, 13in expectation of the fulfilment of our blessed hope—the Appearing in glory of our great God and Saviour Jesus Christ; 14who gave Himself for us to purchase our freedom from all iniquity, and purify for Himself a people who should be specially His own, zealous for doing good works.

15Thus speak, exhort, reprove, with all impressiveness. Let no one make light of your authority.

Heirs of Grace

¹Remind people that they must submit to the rulers who are in authority over them; that they must obey the magistrates, be prepared for every right action, ²not speak evil of any one, nor be contentious, but yield unselfishly to others and constantly manifest a forgiving spirit towards all men.

³For there was a time when we also were deficient in understanding, obstinate, deluded, the slaves of various cravings and pleasures, spending our lives in malice and envy, hateful ourselves and hating one another. ⁴But when the goodness of God our Saviour, and His love to man, dawned upon us, not in consequence of things which we, ⁵as righteous men, had done, but as the result of His own mercy He saved us by means of the bath of regeneration and the renewal of our natures by the Holy Spirit, ⁶which He poured out on us richly through Jesus Christ our Saviour; ⁷in order that having been declared righteous through His grace we might become heirs to the Life of the Ages in fulfilment of our hopes. ⁸This is a faithful saying, and on these various points I would have you insist strenuously, in order that those who have their faith fixed on God may be careful to set an example of good actions. For these are not only good in themselves, but are also useful to mankind.

Avoid Divisions

(Romans 16:17–20)

⁹But hold yourself aloof from foolish controversies and pedigrees and discussions and wrangling about the Law, for they are useless and vain. ¹⁰After a first and second admonition, have nothing further to do with any one who will not be taught; ¹¹for, as you know, a man of that description has turned aside from the right path and is a sinner self-condemned.

Final Remarks and Greetings

¹²After I have sent Artemas or Tychicus to you, lose no time in joining me at Nicopolis; for I have decided to pass the winter there. ¹³Help Zenas the lawyer forward on his journey with special care, and Apollos, so that they may have all they require. ¹⁴And let our people too learn to set a good example in following honest occupations for the supply of their necessities, so that they may not live useless lives.

¹⁵Every one here sends you greeting. Greet the believers who hold us dear. May grace be with you all.

Greetings from Paul and Timothy

(Philippians 1:1–2; Colossians 1:1–2)

¹Paul, a prisoner for Christ Jesus, and Timothy our brother: To Philemon our dearly-loved fellow labourer— ²and to our sister Apphia and our comrade Archippus—as well as to the Church in your house. ³May grace be granted to you all, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Philemon's Faith and Love

⁴I give continual thanks to my God while making mention of you, my brother, in my prayers, ⁵because I hear of your love and of the faith which you have towards the Lord Jesus and which you manifest towards all God's people; ⁶praying as I do, that their participation in your faith may result in others fully recognizing all the right affection that is in us toward Christ. ⁷For I have found great joy and comfort in your love, because the hearts of God's people have been, and are, refreshed through you, my brother.

Paul's Appeal for Onesimus

⁸Therefore, though I might with Christ's authority speak very freely and order you to do what is fitting, ⁹it is for love's sake that—instead of that—although I am none other than Paul the aged, and am now also a prisoner for Christ Jesus,

¹⁰I entreat you on behalf of my own child whose father I have become while in my chains—I mean Onesimus. ¹¹Formerly he was useless to you, but now—true to his name—he is of great use to you and to me. ¹²I am sending him back to you, though in so doing I send part of myself. ¹³It was my wish to keep him at my side for him to attend to my wants, as your representative, during my imprisonment for the Good News. ¹⁴Only I wished to do nothing without your consent, so that his kind action of yours might not be done under pressure, but might be a voluntary one. ¹⁵For perhaps it was for this reason he was parted from you for a time, that you might receive him back wholly and for ever yours; ¹⁶no longer as a slave, but as something better than a slave—a brother peculiarly dear to me, and even dearer to you, both as a servant and as a fellow Christian.

¹⁷If therefore you regard me as a comrade, receive him as if he were I myself. ¹⁸And if he was ever dishonest or is in your debt, debit me with the amount. ¹⁹I Paul write this with my own hand—I will pay you in full. (I say nothing of the fact that you owe me even your own self.) ²⁰Yes, brother, do me this favour for the Lord's sake. Refresh my heart in Christ.

²¹I write to you in the full confidence that you will meet my wishes, for I know you will do even more than I say.

²²And at the same time provide accommodation for me; for I hope that through your prayers I shall be permitted to come to you.

Additional Greetings

²³Greetings to you, my brother, from Epaphras my fellow prisoner for the sake of Christ Jesus; ²⁴and from Mark, Aristarchus, Demas, and Luke, my fellow workers.

²⁵May the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with the spirit of every one of you.

Hebrews 1

The Supremacy of the Son

(Colossians 1:15–23)

1God, who in ancient days spoke to our forefathers in many distinct messages and by various methods through the Prophets, 2has at the end of these days spoken to us through a Son, who is the predestined Lord of the universe, and through whom He made the Ages. 3He brightly reflects God's glory and is the exact representation of His being, and upholds the universe by His all-powerful word. After securing man's purification from sin He took His seat at the right hand of the Majesty on high, 4having become as far superior to the angels as the Name He possesses by inheritance is more excellent than theirs.

5For to which of the angels did God ever say, "My Son art Thou: I have this day become Thy Father;" and again, "I will be a Father to Him, and He shall be My Son"?

6But speaking of the time when He once more brings His Firstborn into the world, He says, "And let all God's angels worship Him."

7Moreover of the angels He says, "He changes His angels into winds, and His ministering servants into a flame of fire."

8But of His Son, He says, "Thy throne, O God, is for ever and for ever, and the sceptre of Thy Kingdom is a sceptre of absolute justice.

9Thou hast loved righteousness and hated lawlessness; therefore God, Thy God, has anointed Thee with the oil of gladness beyond Thy companions."

10It is also of His Son that God says, "Thou, O Lord, in the beginning didst lay the foundations of the earth, and the heavens are the work of Thy hands.

11The heavens will perish, but Thou remainest; and they will all grow old like a garment,

12and, as though they were a mantle Thou wilt roll them up; yes, like a garment, and they will undergo change. But Thou art the same, and Thy years will never come to an end."

13To which of the angels has He ever said, "Sit at My right hand till I make Thy foes a footstool for Thy feet"?

14Are not all angels spirits that serve Him—whom He sends out to render service for the benefit of those who, before long, will inherit salvation?

Hebrews 2

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

Salvation Confirmed

1For this reason we ought to pay the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, for fear we should drift away from them. 2For if the message delivered through angels proved to be true, and every transgression and act of disobedience met with just retribution, ³how shall we escape if we are indifferent to a salvation as great as that now offered to us? This, after having first of all been announced by the Lord Himself, had its truth made sure to us by those who heard Him, ⁴while God corroborated their testimony by signs and marvels and various miracles, and by gifts of the Holy Spirit distributed in accordance with His own will.

Jesus like His Brothers

⁵It is not to angels that God has assigned the sovereignty of that coming world, of which we speak.

⁶But, as we know, a writer has solemnly said, "How poor a creature is man, and yet Thou dost remember him, and a son of man, and yet Thou dost come to him!"

⁷Thou hast made him only a little inferior to the angels; with glory and honour Thou hast crowned him, and hast set him to govern the works of Thy hands.

⁸Thou hast put everything in subjection under his feet." For this subjecting of the universe to man implies the leaving nothing not subject to him. But we do not as yet see the universe subject to him.

⁹But Jesus—who was made a little inferior to the angels in order that through God's grace He might taste death for every human being—we already see wearing a crown of glory and honour because of His having suffered death.

¹⁰For it was fitting that He for whom, and through whom, all things exist, after He had brought many sons to glory, should perfect by suffering the Prince Leader who had saved them. ¹¹For both He who sanctifies and those whom He is sanctifying have all one Father; and for this reason He is not ashamed to speak of them as His brothers;

¹²as when He says: "I will proclaim Thy name to My brothers: in the midst of the congregation I will hymn Thy praises;"

¹³and again, "As for Me, I will be one whose trust reposes in God;" and again, "Here am I, and here are the children God has given Me."

¹⁴Since then the children referred to are all alike sharers in perishable human nature, He Himself also, in the same way, took on Him a share of it, in order that through death He might render powerless him who had authority over death, that is, the Devil, ¹⁵and might set at liberty all those who through fear of death had been subject to lifelong slavery. ¹⁶For assuredly it is not to angels that He is continually reaching a helping hand, but it is to the descendants of Abraham. ¹⁷And for this purpose it was necessary that in all respects He should be made to resemble His brothers, so that He might become a compassionate and faithful High Priest in things relating to God, in order to atone for the sins of the people. ¹⁸For inasmuch as He has Himself felt the pain of temptation and trial, He is also able instantly to help those who are tempted and tried.

Hebrews 3

Jesus Our Apostle and High Priest

¹Therefore, holy brethren, sharers with others in a heavenly invitation, fix your thoughts on Jesus, the Apostle and High Priest whose followers we profess to be. ²How faithful He was to Him who appointed Him, just as Moses also was faithful in all God's house! ³For Jesus has been counted worthy of greater glory than Moses, in so far as he who has built a house has higher honour than the house itself. ⁴For every house has had a builder, and the builder of all things is God. ⁵Moreover, Moses was faithful in all God's house as a servant in delivering the message given him to speak; ⁶but Christ was faithful as a Son having authority over God's house, and we are that house, if we hold firm to the End the boldness and the hope which we boast of as ours.

Do Not Harden Your Hearts

(Psalm 95:1–11)

⁷For this reason—as the Holy Spirit warns us, "To-day, if you hear His voice,

⁸do not harden your hearts as your forefathers did in the time of the provocation on the day of the temptation in the Desert,

⁹where your forefathers so sorely tried My patience and saw all that I did during forty years.

¹⁰Therefore I was greatly grieved with that generation, and I said, 'They are ever going astray in heart, and have not learnt to know My paths.'

¹¹As I swore in My anger, they shall not be admitted to My rest"—

The Peril of Unbelief

¹²see to it, brethren, that there is never in any one of you—as perhaps there may be—a sinful and unbelieving heart, manifesting itself in revolt from the ever-living God. ¹³On the contrary encourage one another, day after day, so long as To-day lasts, so that not one of you may be hardened through the deceitful character of sin. ¹⁴For we have, all alike, become sharers with Christ, if we really hold our first confidence firm to the End;

¹⁵seeing that the warning still comes to us, "To-day, if you hear His voice, do not harden your hearts as your forefathers did in the time of the provocation."

¹⁶For who were they that heard, and yet provoked God? Was it not the whole of the people who had come out of Egypt under the leadership of Moses? ¹⁷And with whom was God so greatly grieved for forty years? Was it not with those who had sinned, and whose dead bodies fell in the Desert? ¹⁸And to whom did He swear that they should not be admitted to His rest, if it was not to those who were disobedient? ¹⁹And so we see that it was owing to lack of faith that they could not be admitted.

Hebrews 4

The Sabbath Rest

(Genesis 2:1–3; Exodus 16:22–30)

1Therefore let us be on our guard lest perhaps, while He still leaves us a promise of being admitted to His rest, some one of you should be found to have fallen short of it. 2For Good News has been brought to us as truly as to them; but the message they heard failed to benefit them, because they were not one in faith with those who gave heed to it.

3We who have believed are soon to be admitted to the true rest; as He has said, "As I swore in My anger, they shall not be admitted to My rest," although God's works had been going on ever since the creation of the world.

4For, as we know, when speaking of the seventh day He has used the words, "And God rested on the seventh day from all His works;" 5and He has also declared, "They shall not be admitted to My rest."
6Since, then, it is still true that some will be admitted to that rest, and that because of disobedience those who formerly had Good News proclaimed to them were not admitted,

7He again definitely mentions a certain day, "To-day," saying long afterwards, by David's lips, in the words already quoted, "To-day, if you hear His voice, do not harden your hearts."

8For if Joshua had given them the true rest, we should not afterwards hear God speaking of another still future day. 9It follows that there still remains a sabbath rest for the people of God. 10For He who has been admitted to His rest, has rested from His works as God did from His. 11Let it then be our earnest endeavour to be admitted to that rest, so that no one may perish through following the same example of unbelief.

The Living Word

(2 Timothy 3:10–17)

12For God's Message is full of life and power, and is keener than the sharpest two-edged sword. It pierces even to the severance of soul from spirit, and penetrates between the joints and the marrow, and it can discern the secret thoughts and purposes of the heart. 13And no created thing is able to escape its scrutiny; but everything lies bare and completely exposed before the eyes of Him with whom we have to do.

14Inasmuch, then, as we have in Jesus, the Son of God, a great High Priest who has passed into Heaven itself, let us hold firmly to our profession of faith. 15For we have not a High Priest who is unable to feel for us in our weaknesses, but one who was tempted in every respect just as we are tempted, and yet did not sin. 16Therefore let us come boldly to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our times of need.

Hebrews 5

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

The Perfect High Priest

(Psalm 110:1–7)

¹For every High Priest is chosen from among men, and is appointed to act on behalf of men in matters relating to God, in order to offer both gifts and sin-offerings, ²and must be one who is able to bear patiently with the ignorant and erring, because he himself also is beset with infirmity. ³And for this reason he is required to offer sin-offerings not only for the people but also for himself. ⁴And no one takes this honourable office upon himself, but only accepts it when called to it by God, as Aaron was.

⁵So Christ also did not claim for Himself the honour of being made High Priest, but was appointed to it by Him who said to Him, "My Son art Thou: I have to-day become Thy Father;"

⁶as also in another passage He says, "Thou art a priest for ever, belonging to the order of Melchizedek."

⁷For Jesus during his earthly life offered up prayers and entreaties, crying aloud and weeping as He pleaded with Him who was able to bring Him in safety out of death, and He was delivered from the terror from which He shrank. ⁸Although He was God's Son, yet He learned obedience from the sufferings which He endured; ⁹and so, having been made perfect, He became to all who obey Him the source and giver of eternal salvation. ¹⁰For God Himself addresses Him as a High Priest for ever, belonging to the order of Melchizedek.

Milk and Solid Food

(1 Corinthians 3:1–9)

¹¹Concerning Him we have much to say, and much that it would be difficult to make clear to you, since you have become so dull of apprehension. ¹²For although, considering the long time you have been believers, you ought now to be teachers of others, you really need some one to teach you over again the very rudiments of the truths of God, and you have come to require milk instead of solid food. ¹³By people who live on milk I mean those who are imperfectly acquainted with the teaching concerning righteousness. ¹⁴Such persons are mere babes. But solid food is for adults—that is, for those who through constant practice have their spiritual faculties carefully trained to distinguish good from evil.

Hebrews 6

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

A Call to Maturity

¹Therefore leaving elementary instruction about the Christ, let us advance to mature manhood and not be continually re-laying a foundation of repentance from lifeless works and of faith in God, ²or of teaching about ceremonial washings, the laying on of hands, the resurrection of the dead, and the last judgement. ³And advance we will, if God permits us to do so. ⁴For it is impossible, in the case of those who have once for all been enlightened, and have tasted the sweetness of the heavenly gift, and have been made partakers of the Holy Spirit, ⁵and have realized how good the word of God is and how mighty are the powers of the coming Age, and then fell away— ⁶it is impossible, I say, to keep bringing them back to a new repentance, for, to their own undoing, they are repeatedly crucifying the Son of God afresh and exposing Him to open shame. ⁷For land which has drunk in the rain that often falls upon it, and brings forth vegetation useful to those for whose sakes, indeed, it is tilled, has a share in God's blessing. ⁸But if it only yields a mass of thorns and briers, it is considered worthless, and is in danger of being cursed, and in the end will be destroyed by fire.

God's Unchangeable Promise

¹³For when God gave the promise to Abraham, since He had no one greater to swear by, He swore by Himself, ¹⁴saying, "Assuredly I will bless you and bless you, I will increase you and increase you." ¹⁵And so, as the result of patient waiting, our forefather obtained what God had promised. ¹⁶For men swear by what is greater than themselves; and with them an oath in confirmation of a statement always puts an end to a dispute. ¹⁷In the same way, since it was God's desire to display more convincingly to the heirs of the promise how unchangeable His purpose was, ¹⁸He added an oath, in order that, through two unchangeable things, in which it is impossible for Him to prove false, we may possess mighty encouragement—we who, for safety, have hastened to lay hold of the hope set before us. ¹⁹That hope we have as an anchor of the soul—an anchor that can neither break nor drag. It passes in behind the veil, ²⁰where Jesus has entered as a forerunner on our behalf, having become, like Melchizedek, a High Priest for ever.

Hebrews 7

WEY [Online]

Melchizedek and Abraham

(Genesis 14:17–24)

¹For this man, Melchizedek, King of Salem and priest of the Most High God—he who when Abraham was returning after defeating the kings met him and pronounced a blessing on him—²to whom also Abraham presented a tenth part of all—being first, as his name signifies, King of righteousness, and secondly King of Salem, that is, King of peace: ³with no father or mother, and no record of ancestry: having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made a type of the Son of God—this man Melchizedek remains a priest for ever.

A Superior Priesthood

11 Now if the crowning blessing was attainable by means of the Levitical priesthood—for as resting on this foundation the people received the Law, to which they are still subject—what further need was there for a Priest of a different kind to be raised up belonging to the order of Melchizedek instead of being said to belong to the order of Aaron? 12 For when the priesthood changes, a change of Law also of necessity takes place. 13 He, however, to whom that prophecy refers is associated with a different tribe, not one member of which has anything to do with the altar. 14 For it is undeniable that our Lord sprang from Judah, a tribe of which Moses said nothing in connection with priests. 15 And this is still more abundantly clear when we read that it is as belonging to the order of Melchizedek that a priest of a different kind is to arise, 16 and hold His office not in obedience to any temporary Law, but by virtue of an indestructible Life.

17 For the words are in evidence, “Thou art a priest for ever, belonging to the order of Melchizedek.”

18 On the one hand we have here the abrogation of an earlier code because it was weak and ineffective— 19 for the Law brought no perfect blessing—but on the other hand we have the bringing in of a new and better hope by means of which we draw near to God. 20 And since it was not without an oath being taken—

21 for these men hold office without any oath having been taken, but He holds it attested by an oath from Him who said to Him, “The Lord has sworn and will not recall His words, Thou art a Priest for ever”—

22 so much the more also is the Covenant of which Jesus has become the guarantor, a better covenant.

23 And they have been appointed priests many in number, because death prevents their continuance in office: 24 but He, because He continues for ever, has a priesthood which does not pass to any successor. 25 Hence too He is able to save to the uttermost those who come to God through Him, seeing that He ever lives to plead for them.

26 Moreover we needed just such a High Priest as this—holy, guileless, undefiled, far removed from sinful men and exalted above the heavens; 27 who, unlike other High Priests, is not under the necessity of offering up sacrifices day after day, first for His own sins, and afterwards for those of the people; for this latter thing He did once for all when He offered up Himself. 28 For the Law constitutes men High Priests—men with all their infirmity—but the utterance of the oath, which came later than the Law, constitutes High Priest a Son who has been made for ever perfect.

Hebrews 8

WEY [Online]

Christ's Eternal Priesthood

1 Now in connexion with what we have been saying the chief point is that we have a High Priest who has taken His seat at the right hand of the throne of God's Majesty in the heavens, 2 and ministers in the Holy place and in the true tabernacle which not man, but the Lord pitched. 3 Every High Priest, however, is appointed to offer both bloodless gifts and sacrifices. Therefore this High Priest also must have some offering to present. 4 If then He were still on earth, He would not be a priest at all, since here there are already those who present the offerings in obedience to the Law, 5 and serve a copy and type of the heavenly things, just as Moses was divinely instructed when about to build the tabernacle. For God said, "See that you make everything in imitation of the pattern shown you on the mountain."

The New Covenant

(Jeremiah 31:26–40)

6But, as a matter of fact, the ministry which Christ has obtained is all the nobler a ministry, in that He is at the same time the negotiator of a sublimer covenant, based upon sublimer promises.

7For if that first Covenant had been free from imperfection, there would have been no attempt to introduce another.

8For, being dissatisfied with His people, God says, "There are days coming," says the Lord, "When I will establish with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah a new Covenant—

9a Covenant unlike the one which I made with their forefathers on the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out from the land of Egypt; for they would not remain faithful to that.' "So I turned from them," says the Lord.

10But this is the Covenant that I will covenant with the house of Israel after those days,' says the Lord: I will put My laws into their minds and will write them upon their hearts. And I will indeed be their God and they shall be My People.

11And there shall be no need for them to teach each one his fellow citizen and each one his brother, saying, Know the Lord. For all will know Me from the least of them to the greatest;

12Because I will be merciful to their wrongdoings, and their sins I will remember no longer.'"

13By using the words, "a new Covenant," He has made the first one obsolete; but whatever is decaying and showing signs of old age is not far from disappearing altogether.

Hebrews 9

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

The Earthly Tabernacle

(Exodus 40:1–33; Acts 7:44–47)

1Now even the first Covenant had regulations for divine worship, and had also its sanctuary—a sanctuary belonging to this world. 2For a sacred tent was constructed—the outer one, in which were the lamp and the table and the presented loaves; and this is called the Holy place. 3And behind the second veil was a sacred tent called the Holy of holies. 4This had a censer of gold, and the ark of the Covenant lined with gold and completely covered with gold, and in it were a gold vase which held the manna, and Aaron's rod which budded and the tables of the Covenant. 5And above the ark were the Cherubim denoting God's glorious presence and overshadowing the Mercy-seat. But I cannot now speak about all these in detail.

⁶These arrangements having long been completed, the priests, when conducting the divine services, continually enter the outer tent. ⁷But into the second, the High Priest goes only on one day of the year, and goes alone, taking with him blood, which he offers on his own behalf and on account of the sins which the people have ignorantly committed. ⁸And the lesson which the Holy Spirit teaches is this—that the way into the true Holy place is not yet open so long as the outer tent still remains in existence. ⁹And this is a figure—for the time now present—answering to which both gifts and sacrifices are offered, unable though they are to give complete freedom from sin to him who ministers. ¹⁰For their efficacy depends only on meats and drinks and various washings, ceremonies pertaining to the body and imposed until a time of reformation.

Redemption through His Blood

¹¹But Christ appeared as a High Priest of the blessings that are soon to come by means of the greater and more perfect Tent of worship, a tent which has not been built with hands—that is to say does not belong to this material creation— ¹²and once for all entered the Holy place, taking with Him not the blood of goats and calves, but His own blood, and thus procuring eternal redemption for us. ¹³For if the blood of goats and bulls and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling those who have contracted defilement make them holy so as to bring about ceremonial purity, ¹⁴how much more certainly shall the blood of Christ, who strengthened by the eternal Spirit offered Himself to God, free from blemish, purify your consciences from lifeless works for you to serve the ever-living God?

¹⁵And because of this He is the negotiator of a new Covenant, in order that, since a life has been given in atonement for the offences committed under the first Covenant, those who have been called may receive the eternal inheritance which has been promised to them. ¹⁶For where there is a legal 'will,' there must also be a death brought forward in evidence—the death of him who made it. ¹⁷And a will is only of force in the case of a deceased person, being never of any avail so long as he who made it lives. ¹⁸Accordingly we find that the first Covenant was not inaugurated without blood. ¹⁹For when Moses had proclaimed to all the people every commandment contained in the Law, he took the blood of the calves and of the goats and with them water, scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people, ²⁰saying, "This is the blood which confirms the Covenant that God has made binding upon you." ²¹And in the same way he also sprinkled blood upon the Tent of worship and upon all the vessels used in the ministry. ²²Indeed we may almost say that in obedience to the Law everything is sprinkled with blood, and that apart from the outpouring of blood there is no remission of sins.

²³It was needful therefore that the copies of the things in Heaven should be cleansed in this way, but that the heavenly things themselves should be cleansed with more costly sacrifices. ²⁴For not into a Holy place built by men's hands—a mere copy of the reality—did Christ enter, but He entered Heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God on our behalf. ²⁵Nor did He enter for the purpose of many times offering Himself in sacrifice, just as the High Priest enters the Holy place, year after year, taking with him blood not his own. ²⁶In that case Christ would have needed to suffer many times, from the creation of the world onwards; but as a matter of fact He has appeared once for all, at the Close of the Ages, in order to do away with sin by the sacrifice of Himself. ²⁷And since it is reserved for all mankind once to die, and afterwards to be judged; ²⁸so the Christ also, having been once offered in sacrifice in order that He might bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, separated from sin, to those who are eagerly expecting Him, to make their salvation complete.

Hebrews 10

WEY [Online]

Christ's Perfect Sacrifice

(Psalm 40:1–17)

1For, since the Law exhibits only an outline of the blessings to come and not a perfect representation of the things themselves, the priests can never, by repeating the same sacrifices which they continually offer year after year, give complete freedom from sin to those who draw near. 2For then would not the sacrifices have ceased to be offered, because the consciences of the worshippers—who in that case would now have been cleansed once for all—would no longer be burdened with sins? 3But in those sacrifices sins are recalled to memory year after year. 4For it is impossible for the blood of bulls and goats to take away sins.

5That is why, when He comes into the world, He says, "Sacrifice and offering Thou hast not desired, but a body Thou hast prepared for Me.

6In whole burnt-offerings and in sin-offerings Thou hast taken no pleasure.

7Then I said, 'I have come—in the roll of the book it is written concerning Me—to do Thy will, O God.'"

8After saying the words I have just quoted, "Sacrifices and offerings or whole burnt-offerings and sin-offerings Thou hast not desired or taken pleasure in"—all such being offered in obedience to the Law—

9He then adds, "I have come to do Thy will." He does away with the first in order to establish the second. 10It is through that divine will that we have been set free from sin, through the offering of Jesus Christ as our sacrifice once for all.

11And while every priest stands ministering, day after day, and constantly offering the same sacrifices—though such can never rid us of our sins— 12this Priest, on the contrary, after offering for sins a single sacrifice of perpetual efficacy, took His seat at God's right hand, 13waiting from that time onward until His enemies be put as a footstool under His feet. 14For by a single offering He has for ever completed the blessing for those whom He is setting free from sin. 15And the Holy Spirit also gives us His testimony; for when He had said,

16"This is the Covenant that I will make with them after those days,' says the Lord: 'I will put My laws upon their hearts and will write them on their minds;'"

17He adds, "And their sins and offences I will remember no longer."

18But where these have been forgiven no further offering for sin is required.

A Call to Persevere

(Jude 1:17–23)

19Since then, brethren, we have free access to the Holy place through the blood of Jesus, 20by the new and ever-living way which He opened up for us through the rending of the veil—that is to say, of His earthly nature— 21and since we have a great Priest who has authority over the house of God, 22let us draw near with sincerity and unflinching faith, having had our hearts sprinkled, once for all, from consciences oppressed with sin, and our bodies bathed in pure water. 23Let us hold firmly to an unflinching avowal of our hope, for He is faithful who gave us the promises. ²⁴And let us bestow thought on one another with a view to arousing one another to brotherly love and right conduct; ²⁵not neglecting—as some habitually do—to meet together, but encouraging one another, and doing this all the more since you can see the day of Christ approaching.

²⁶For if we wilfully persist in sin after having received the full knowledge of the truth, there no longer remains in reserve any other sacrifice for sins. ²⁷There remains nothing but a certain awful expectation of judgement, and the fury of a fire which before long will devour the enemies of the truth. ²⁸Any one who bids defiance to the Law of Moses is put to death without mercy on the testimony of two or three witnesses. ²⁹How much severer punishment, think you, will he be held to deserve who has trampled under foot the Son of God, has not regarded as holy that Covenant-blood with which he was set free from sin, and has insulted the Spirit from whom comes grace? ³⁰For we know who it is that has said, "Vengeance belongs to Me: I will pay back;" and again, "The Lord will be His people's judge." ³¹It is an awful thing to fall into the hands of the ever-living God.

³²But continually recall to mind the days now past, when on being first enlightened you went through a great conflict and many sufferings. ³³This was partly through allowing yourselves to be made a public spectacle amid reproaches and persecutions, and partly through coming forward to share the sufferings of those who were thus treated. ³⁴For you not only showed sympathy with those who were imprisoned, but you even submitted with joy when your property was taken from you, being well aware that you have in your own selves a more valuable possession and one which will remain. ³⁵Therefore do not cast from you your confident hope, for it will receive a vast reward. ³⁶For you stand in need of patient endurance, so that, as the result of having done the will of God, you may receive the promised blessing.

³⁷For there is still but a short time and then "The coming One will come and will not delay.

³⁸But it is by faith that My righteous servant shall live; and if he shrinks back, My soul takes no pleasure in him."

³⁹But we are not people who shrink back and perish, but are among those who believe and gain possession of their souls.

Faith and Assurance

(Genesis 1:1–2; John 1:1–5)

¹Now faith is a well-grounded assurance of that for which we hope, and a conviction of the reality of things which we do not see. ²For by it the saints of old won God's approval.

³Through faith we understand that the worlds came into being, and still exist, at the command of God, so that what is seen does not owe its existence to that which is visible.

The Faith of Abel, Enoch, Noah

(Genesis 4–9)

4Through faith Abel offered to God a more acceptable sacrifice than Cain did, and through this faith he obtained testimony that he was righteous, God giving the testimony by accepting his gifts; and through it, though he is dead, he still speaks. 5Through faith Enoch was taken from the earth so that he did not see death, and he could not be found, because God had taken him; for before he was taken we have evidence that he truly pleased God. 6But where there is no faith it is impossible truly to please Him; for the man who draws near to God must believe that there is a God and that He proves Himself a rewarder of those who earnestly try to find Him. 7Through faith Noah, being divinely taught about things as yet unseen, reverently gave heed and built an ark for the safety of his family, and by this act he condemned the world, and became an heir of the righteousness which depends on faith.

The Faith of Abraham and Sarah

(Genesis 15–22; Romans 4:1–12)

8Through faith Abraham, upon being called to leave home and go into a land which he was soon to receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing where he was going to. 9Through faith he came and made his home for a time in a land which had been promised to him, as if in a foreign country, living in tents together with Isaac and Jacob, sharers with him in the same promise; 10for he continually looked forward to the city which has the foundations, whose architect and builder is God. 11Through faith even Sarah herself received strength to become a mother—although she was past the time of life for this—because she judged Him faithful who had given the promise. 12And thus there sprang from one man, and him practically dead, a nation like the stars of the sky in number, and like the sands on the sea shore which cannot be counted.

13All these died in the possession of faith. They had not received the promised blessings, but had seen them from a distance and had greeted them, and had acknowledged themselves to be foreigners and strangers here on earth; 14for men who acknowledge this make it manifest that they are seeking elsewhere a country of their own. 15And if they had cherished the remembrance of the country they had left, they would have found an opportunity to return; 16but, as it is, we see them eager for a better land, that is to say, a heavenly one. For this reason God is not ashamed to be called their God, for He has now prepared a city for them.

17Through faith Abraham, as soon as God put him to the test, offered up Isaac. Yes, he who had joyfully welcomed the promises was on the point of sacrificing his only son 18with regard to whom he had been told, “It is through Isaac that your posterity shall be traced.” 19For he reckoned that God is even able to raise a man up from among the dead, and, figuratively speaking, it was from among the dead that he received Isaac again.

The Faith of Isaac, Jacob, and Joseph

(Genesis 27–50)

20Through faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, even in connexion with things soon to come. 21Through faith Jacob, when dying, blessed each of Joseph’s sons, and, leaning on the top of his staff, worshipped God. 22Through faith Joseph, when he was near his end, made mention of the departure of the descendants of Israel, and gave orders about his own body.

The Faith of Moses

(Exodus 2–15; Acts 7:20–22)

23Through faith the child Moses was hid for three months by his parents, because they saw his rare beauty; and the king's edict had no terror for them. 24Through faith Moses, when he grew to manhood, refused to be known as Pharaoh's daughter's son, 25having determined to endure ill-treatment along with the people of God rather than enjoy the short-lived pleasures of sin; 26because he deemed the reproaches which he might meet with in the service of the Christ to be greater riches than all the treasures of Egypt; for he fixed his gaze on the coming reward. 27Through faith he left Egypt, not being frightened by the king's anger; for he held on his course as seeing the unseen One. 28Through faith he instituted the Passover, and the sprinkling with blood so that the destroyer of the firstborn might not touch the Israelites. 29Through faith they passed through the Red Sea as though they were passing over dry land, but the Egyptians, when they tried to do the same, were swallowed up.

The Faith of Many

(Joshua–Malachi)

30Through faith the walls of Jericho fell to the ground after being surrounded for seven days.

31Through faith the notorious sinner Rahab did not perish along with the disobedient, for she had welcomed the spies and had sheltered them.

32And why need I say more? For time will fail me if I tell the story of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, and of David and Samuel and the Prophets; 33men who, as the result of faith, conquered whole kingdoms, brought about true justice, obtained promises from God, stopped lions' mouths, 34deprived fire of its power, escaped being killed by the sword, out of weakness were made strong, became mighty in war, put to flight foreign armies. 35Women received back their dear ones alive from the dead; and others were put to death with torture, refusing the deliverance offered to them—that they might secure a better resurrection. 36Others again were tested by cruel mockery and by scourging; yes, and by chains and imprisonment. 37They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, they were tried by temptation, they were killed with the sword. They went from place to place in sheepskins or goatskins, enduring want, oppression and cruelty. 38They wandered across deserts and mountains, or hid themselves in caves and in holes in the ground.

39And although by their faith all these people won God's approval, none of them received the fulfilment of His great promise; 40for God had provided for them and us something better, so that apart from us they were not to attain to full blessedness.

A Call to Endurance

(2 Timothy 2:1–13)

1Therefore, surrounded as we are by such a vast cloud of witnesses, let us fling aside every encumbrance and the sin that so readily entangles our feet. And let us run with patient endurance the race that lies before us, 2simply fixing our gaze upon Jesus, our Prince Leader in the faith, who will also award us the prize. He, for the sake of the joy which lay before Him, patiently endured the cross, looking with contempt upon its shame, and afterwards seated Himself—where He still sits—at the right hand of the throne of God.

3Therefore, if you would escape becoming weary and faint-hearted, compare your own sufferings with those of Him who endured such hostility directed against Him by sinners.

God Disciplines His Sons

4In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted so as to endanger your lives;

5and you have quite forgotten the encouraging words which are addressed to you as sons, and which say, "My son, do not think lightly of the Lord's discipline, and do not faint when He corrects you;

6for those whom the Lord loves He disciplines: and He scourges every son whom He acknowledges."

7The sufferings that you are enduring are for your discipline. God is dealing with you as sons; for what son is there whom his father does not discipline? 8And if you are left without discipline, of which every true son has had a share, that shows that you are bastards, and not true sons. 9Besides this, our earthly fathers used to discipline us and we treated them with respect, and shall we not be still more submissive to the Father of our spirits, and live? 10It is true that they disciplined us for a few years according as they thought fit; but He does it for our certain good, in order that we may become sharers in His own holy character. 11Now, at the time, discipline seems to be a matter not for joy, but for grief; yet it afterwards yields to those who have passed through its training a result full of peace—namely, righteousness.

12Therefore strengthen the drooping hands and paralysed knees, 13and make straight paths for your feet, so that what is lame may not be put entirely out of joint

A Call to Holiness

(1 Peter 1:13–21)

14but may rather be restored. Persistently strive for peace with all men, and for that growth in holiness apart from which no one will see the Lord. 15Be carefully on your guard lest there be any one who falls back from the grace of God; lest any root bearing bitter fruit spring up and cause trouble among you, and through it the whole brotherhood be defiled; 16lest there be a fornicator, or an ungodly person like Esau, who, in return for a single meal, parted with the birthright which belonged to him. 17For you know that even afterwards, when he wished to secure the blessing, he was rejected; for he found no opportunity for undoing what he had done, though he sought the blessing earnestly with tears.

An Unshakable Kingdom

(Exodus 20:18–21; Deuteronomy 5:22–33)

18For you have not come to a material object all ablaze with fire, and to gloom and darkness and storm and trumpet-blast and the sound of words— 19a sound of such a kind that those who heard it entreated that no more should be added. 20For they could not endure the order which had been given, "Even a wild beast, if it touches the mountain, shall be stoned to death;" 21and so terrible was the scene that Moses said, "I tremble with fear." 22On the contrary you have come to Mount Zion, and to the city of the ever-living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, to countless hosts of angels, 23to the great festal gathering and Church of the first-born, whose names are recorded in Heaven, and to a Judge who is God of all, and to the spirits of righteous men made perfect, 24and to Jesus the negotiator of a new Covenant, and to the sprinkled blood which speaks in more gracious tones than that of Abel.

25Be careful not to refuse to listen to Him who is speaking to you. For if they of old did not escape unpunished when they refused to listen to him who spoke on earth, much less shall we escape who turn a deaf ear to Him who now speaks from Heaven. 26His voice then shook the earth, but now we have His promise, "Yet again I will, once for all, cause not only the earth to tremble, but Heaven also." 27Here the words "Yet again, once for all" denote the removal of the things which can be shaken—created things—in order that the things which cannot be shaken may remain. 28Therefore, receiving, as we now do, a kingdom which cannot be shaken, let us cherish thankfulness so that we may ever offer to God an acceptable service, with godly reverence and awe. 29For our God is also a consuming fire.

Hebrews 13

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

Brotherly Love

1Let brotherly love always continue. 2Do not neglect to show kindness to strangers; for, in this way, some, without knowing it, have had angels as their guests. 3Remember prisoners, as if you were in prison with them; and remember those suffering ill-treatment, for you yourselves also are still in the body. 4Let marriage be held in honour among all, and let the marriage bed be unpolluted; for fornicators and adulterers God will judge.

Christ's Unchanging Nature

5Your lives should be untainted by love for money. Be content with what you have; for God Himself has said, "I will never, never let go your hand: I will never never forsake you."

6So that we fearlessly say, "The Lord is my helper; I will not be afraid: what can man do to me?"

7Remember your former leaders—it was they who brought you God's Message. Bear in mind how they ended their lives, and imitate their faith. 8Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and to-day—yes, and to the ages to come. 9Do not be drawn aside by all sorts of strange teaching; for it is well to have the heart made steadfast through God's grace, and not by special kinds of food, from which those who scrupulously attend to them have derived no benefit. 10We Christians have an altar from which the ministers of the Jewish Tent have no right to eat. 11For the bodies of those animals of which the blood is carried by the High Priest into the Holy place as an offering for sin, are burned outside the camp. 12And for this reason Jesus also, in order, by His own blood, to set the people free from sin, suffered outside the gate. 13Therefore let us go to Him outside the camp, sharing the insults directed against Him. 14For we have no permanent city here, but we are longing for the city which is soon to be ours.

Sacrifice, Obedience, and Prayer

15Through Him, then, let us continually lay on the altar a sacrifice of praise to God, namely, the utterance of lips that give thanks to His Name. 16And do not forget to be kind and liberal; for with sacrifices of that sort God is greatly pleased.

17Obey your leaders and be submissive to them. For they are keeping watch over your souls as those who will have to give account; that they may do this with joy and not with lamentation. For that would be of no advantage to you.

18Keep on praying for us; for we are sure that we have clear consciences, and we desire to live nobly in every respect. 19I specially urge this upon you in order that I may be the more speedily restored to you.

Benediction and Farewell

20Now may God who gives peace, and brought Jesus, our Lord, up again from among the dead—even Him who, by virtue of the blood of the eternal Covenant, is the great Shepherd of the sheep— 21fully equip you with every grace that you may need for the doing of His will, producing in us that which will truly please Him through Jesus Christ. To Him be the glory to the Ages of the Ages! Amen.

22Bear with me, brethren, when I thus exhort you; for, in fact, it is but a short letter that I have written to you. 23You will rejoice to hear that our brother Timothy has been set at liberty. If he comes soon, I will see you with him. 24Greet all your leaders and all God's people. The brethren from Italy send you greetings.

25Grace be with you all! Amen.

A Greeting from James

(Jude 1:1–2)

1James, a bondservant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ: to the twelve tribes who are scattered over the world. All good wishes.

Rejoicing in Trials

(Philippians 1:12–20)

2Reckon it nothing but joy, my brethren, whenever you find yourselves hedged in by various trials. 3Be assured that the testing of your faith leads to power of endurance. 4Only let endurance have perfect results so that you may become perfect and complete, deficient in nothing.

5And if any one of you is deficient in wisdom, let him ask God for it, who gives with open hand to all men, and without upbraiding; and it will be given him. 6But let him ask in faith and have no doubts; for he who has doubts is like the surge of the sea, driven by the wind and tossed into spray. 7A person of that sort must not expect to receive anything from the Lord— 8such a one is a man of two minds, undecided in every step he takes.

⁹Let a brother in humble life rejoice when raised to a higher position; ¹⁰but a rich man should rejoice in being brought low, for like flowers among the herbage rich men will pass away. ¹¹The sun rises with his scorching heat and dries up the herbage, so that its flowers drop off and the beauty of its appearance perishes, and in the same way rich men with all their prosperity will fade away.

¹²Blessed is he who patiently endures trials; for when he has stood the test, he will gain the victor's crown—even the crown of Life—which the Lord has promised to those who love Him.

Good and Perfect Gifts

¹³Let no one say when passing through trial, "My temptation is from God;" for God is incapable of being tempted to do evil, and He Himself tempts no one. ¹⁴But when a man is tempted, it is his own passions that carry him away and serve as a bait. ¹⁵Then the passion conceives, and becomes the parent of sin; and sin, when fully matured, gives birth to death. ¹⁶Do not be deceived, my dearly-loved brethren. ¹⁷Every gift which is good, and every perfect boon, is from above, and comes down from the Father, who is the source of all Light. In Him there is no variation nor the slightest suggestion of change. ¹⁸In accordance with His will He made us His children through the Message of the truth, so that we might, in a sense, be the Firstfruits of the things which He has created.

Hearing and Doing

¹⁹You know this, my dearly-loved brethren. But let every one be quick to hear, slow to speak, and slow to be angry. ²⁰For a man's anger does not lead to action which God regards as righteous. ²¹Ridding yourselves, therefore, of all that is vile and of the evil influences which prevail around you, welcome in a humble spirit the Message implanted within you, which is able to save your souls. ²²But prove yourselves obedient to the Message, and do not be mere hearers of it, imposing a delusion upon yourselves. ²³For if any one listens but does not obey, he is like a man who carefully looks at his own face in a mirror. ²⁴Although he has looked carefully at himself, he goes away, and has immediately forgotten the sort of man he is. ²⁵But he who looks closely into the perfect Law—the Law of freedom—and continues looking, he, being not a hearer who forgets, but an obedient doer, will as the result of his obedience be blessed.

²⁶If a man thinks that he is scrupulously religious, although he is not curbing his tongue but is deceiving himself, his religious service is worthless. ²⁷The religious service which is pure and stainless in the sight of our God and Father is to visit fatherless children and widowed women in their time of trouble, and to keep one's own self unspotted from the world.

James 2

WEY [Online]

A Warning against Favoritism

¹My brethren, you must not make distinctions between one man and another while you are striving to maintain faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, who is our glory. ²For suppose a man comes into one of your meetings wearing gold rings and fine clothes, and there also comes in a poor man wearing shabby clothes, ³and you pay court to the one who wears the fine clothes, and say, "Sit here; this is a good place;" while to the poor man you say, "Stand there, or sit on the floor at my feet;" ⁴is it not plain that in your hearts you have little faith, seeing that you have become judges full of wrong thoughts? ⁵Listen, my dearly-loved brethren. Has not God chosen those whom the world regards as poor to be rich in faith and heirs of the Kingdom which He has promised to those that love Him? ⁶But you have put dishonour upon the poor man. Yet is it not the rich who grind you down? Are not they the very people who drag you into the Law courts?— ⁷and the very people who speak evil of the noble Name by which you are called?

⁸If, however, you are keeping the Law as supreme, in obedience to the Commandment which says “You are to love your fellow man just as you love yourself,” you are acting rightly. ⁹But if you are making distinctions between one man and another, you are guilty of sin, and are convicted by the Law as offenders. ¹⁰A man who has kept the Law as a whole, but has failed to keep some one command, has become guilty of violating all. ¹¹For He who said, “Do not commit adultery,” also said, “Do not commit murder,” and if you are a murderer, although not an adulterer, you have become an offender against the Law. ¹²Speak and act as those should who are expecting to be judged by the Law of freedom. ¹³For he who shows no mercy will have judgement given against him without mercy; but mercy triumphs over judgement.

Faith and Works

¹⁴What good is it, my brethren, if a man professes to have faith, and yet his actions do not correspond? Can such faith save him? ¹⁵Suppose a Christian brother or sister is poorly clad or lacks daily food, ¹⁶and one of you says to them, “I wish you well; keep yourselves warm and well fed,” and yet you do not give them what they need; what is the use of that? ¹⁷So also faith, if it is unaccompanied by obedience, has no life in it—so long as it stands alone.

¹⁸Nay, some one will say, “You have faith, I have actions: prove to me your faith apart from corresponding actions and I will prove mine to you by my actions. ¹⁹You believe that God is one, and you are quite right: evil spirits also believe this, and shudder.” ²⁰But, idle boaster, are you willing to be taught how it is that faith apart from obedience is worthless? Take the case of Abraham our forefather. ²¹Was it, or was it not, because of his actions that he was declared to be righteous as the result of his having offered up his son Isaac upon the altar? ²²You notice that his faith was co-operating with his actions, and that by his actions his faith was perfected; ²³and the Scripture was fulfilled which says, “And Abraham believed God, and his faith was placed to his credit as righteousness,” and he received the name of ‘God’s friend.’ ²⁴You all see that it is because of actions that a man is pronounced righteous, and not simply because of faith. ²⁵In the same way also was not the notorious sinner Rahab declared to be righteous because of her actions when she welcomed the spies and hurriedly helped them to escape another way? ²⁶For just as a human body without a spirit is lifeless, so also faith is lifeless if it is unaccompanied by obedience.

Taming the Tongue

(Psalm 64:1–10)

1Do not be eager, my brethren, for many among you to become teachers; for you know that we teachers shall undergo severer judgement. 2For we often stumble and fall, all of us. If there is any one who never stumbles in speech, that man has reached maturity of character and is able to curb his whole nature. 3Remember that we put the horses' bit into their mouths to make them obey us, and so we turn their whole bodies round. 4So too with ships, great as they are, and often driven along by strong gales, yet they can be steered with a very small rudder in whichever direction the caprice of the man at the helm chooses. 5In the same way the tongue is an insignificant part of the body, but it is immensely boastful. Remember how a mere spark may set a vast forest in flames. 6And the tongue is a fire. That world of iniquity, the tongue, is placed within us spotting and soiling our whole nature, and setting the whole round of our lives on fire, being itself set on fire by Gehenna. 7For brute nature under all its forms—beasts and birds, reptiles and fishes—can be subjected and kept in subjection by human nature. 8But the tongue no man or woman is able to tame. It is an ever-busy mischief, and is full of deadly poison. 9With it we bless the Lord and Father, and with it we curse men, who are made in God's likeness. 10Out of the same mouth there proceed blessing and cursing. My brethren, this ought not to be. 11In a fountain, are fresh water and bitter sent forth from the same opening? 12Can a fig-tree, my brethren, yield olives, or a vine yield figs? No; and neither can salt water yield sweet.

The Wisdom from Above

13Which of you is a wise and well-instructed man? Let him prove it by a right life with conduct guided by a wisely teachable spirit. 14But if in your hearts you have bitter feelings of envy and rivalry, do not speak boastfully and falsely, in defiance of the truth. 15That is not the wisdom which comes down from above: it belongs to earth, to the unspiritual nature, and to evil spirits. 16For where envy and rivalry are, there also are unrest and every vile deed. 17The wisdom from above is first of all pure, then peaceful, courteous, not self-willed, full of compassion and kind actions, free from favouritism and from all insincerity. 18And peace, for those who strive for peace, is the seed of which the harvest is righteousness.

James 4

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

A Warning against Pride

1What causes wars and contentions among you? Is it not the cravings which are ever at war within you for various pleasures? 2You covet things and yet cannot get them; you commit murder; you have passionate desires and yet cannot gain your end; you begin to fight and make war. You have not, because you do not pray; 3or you pray and yet do not receive, because you pray wrongly, your object being to waste what you get on some pleasure or another. 4You unfaithful women, do you not know that friendship with the world means enmity to God? Therefore whoever is bent on being friendly with the world makes himself an enemy to God. 5Or do you suppose that it is to no purpose that the Scripture says, "The Spirit which He has caused to dwell in our hearts yearns jealously over us"? 6But He gives more abundant grace, as is implied in His saying, "God sets Himself against the haughty, but to the lowly He gives grace."

Drawing Near to God

⁷Submit therefore to God: resist the Devil, and he will flee from you. ⁸Draw near to God, and He will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners, and make your hearts pure, you who are half-hearted towards God. ⁹Afflict yourselves and mourn and weep aloud; let your laughter be turned into grief, and your gladness into shame. ¹⁰Humble yourselves in the presence of the Lord, and He will exalt you.

¹¹Do not speak evil of one another, brethren. The man who speaks evil of a brother-man or judges his brother-man speaks evil of the Law and judges the Law. But if you judge the Law, you are no longer one who obeys the Law, but one who judges it. ¹²The only real Lawgiver and Judge is He who is able to save or to destroy. Who are you to sit in judgement on your fellow man?

Do Not Boast about Tomorrow

(Proverbs 27:1)

¹³Come, you who say, "To-day or to-morrow we will go to this or that city, and spend a year there and carry on a successful business," ¹⁴when, all the while, you do not even know what will happen tomorrow. For what is the nature of your life? Why, it is but a mist, which appears for a short time and then is seen no more. ¹⁵Instead of that you ought to say, "If it is the Lord's will, we shall live and do this or that." ¹⁶But, as the case stands, it is in mere self-confidence that you boast: all such boasting is evil. ¹⁷If, however, a man knows what it is right to do and yet does not do it, he commits a sin.

James 5

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

A Warning to the Rich

(Proverbs 23:1–5; 1 Timothy 6:17–19)

¹Come, you rich men, weep aloud and howl for your sorrows which will soon be upon you. ²Your treasures have rotted, and your piles of clothing are moth-eaten; ³your gold and your silver have become covered with rust, and the rust on them will give evidence against you, and will eat your flesh like fire. You have hoarded up wealth in these last days. ⁴I tell you that the pay of the labourers who have gathered in your crops—pay which you are keeping back—is calling out against you; and the outcries of those who have been your reapers have entered into the ears of the Lord of the armies of Heaven. ⁵Here on earth you have lived self-indulgent and profligate lives. You have stupefied yourselves with gross feeding; but a day of slaughter has come. ⁶You have condemned—you have murdered—the righteous man: he offers no resistance.

Patience in Suffering

(Job 1:1–5)

⁷Be patient therefore, brethren, until the Coming of the Lord. Notice how eagerly a farmer waits for a valuable crop! He is patient over it till it has received the early and the later rain. ⁸So you also must be patient: keeping up your courage; for the Coming of the Lord is now close at hand. ⁹Do not cry out in condemnation of one another, brethren, lest you come under judgement. I tell you that the Judge is standing at the door. ¹⁰In illustration, brethren, of persecution patiently endured take the Prophets who have spoken as messengers from the Lord. ¹¹Remember that we call those blessed who endured what they did. You have also heard of Job's patient endurance, and have seen the issue of the Lord's dealings with him—how full of tenderness and pity the Lord is.

12But above all things, my brethren, do not swear, either by Heaven or by the earth, or with any other oath. Let your 'yes' be simply 'yes,' and your 'no' be simply 'no;' that you may not come under condemnation.

The Prayer of Faith

13Is one of you suffering? Let him pray. Is any one in good spirits? Let him sing a psalm. 14Is any one ill? Let him send for the Elders of the Church, and let them pray over him, after anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord. 15And the prayer of faith will restore the sick man, and the Lord will raise him up to health; and if he has committed sins, they shall be forgiven. 16Therefore confess your sins to one another, and pray for one another, so that you may be cured. The heartfelt supplication of a righteous man exerts a mighty influence. 17Elijah was a man with a nature similar to ours, and he earnestly prayed that there might be no rain: and no rain fell on the land for three years and six months. 18Again he prayed, and the sky gave rain and the land yielded its crops.

Restoring a Sinner

19My brethren, if one of you strays from the truth and some one brings him back, 20let him know that he who brings a sinner back from his evil ways will save the man's soul from death and throw a veil over a multitude of sins.

A Greeting from Peter

(2 Peter 1:1-2)

1Peter, an Apostle of Jesus Christ: To God's own people scattered over the earth, who are living as foreigners in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Roman Asia, and Bithynia, 2chosen in accordance with the foreknowledge of God the Father, through the sanctifying work of the Spirit, with a view to their obedience and to their being sprinkled with the blood of Jesus Christ. May more and more grace and peace be granted to you.

A Living Hope

3Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who in His great mercy has begotten us anew to an ever-living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, 4to an inheritance imperishable, undefiled and unfading, which has been reserved in Heaven for you, 5whom God in His power is guarding through faith for a salvation that even now stands ready for unveiling at the End of the Age. 6Rejoice triumphantly in the prospect of this, even if now, for a short time, you are compelled to sorrow amid various trials. 7The sorrow comes in order that the testing of your faith—being more precious than that of gold, which perishes and yet is proved by fire—may be found to result in praise and glory and honour at the re-appearing of Jesus Christ. ⁸Him you love, though your eyes have never looked on Him. In Him, though at present you cannot see Him, you nevertheless trust, and triumph with a joy which is unspeakable and is crowned with glory, ⁹while you are securing as the outcome of your faith the salvation of your souls.

¹⁰There were Prophets who earnestly inquired about that salvation, and closely searched into it—even those who spoke beforehand of the grace which was to come to you. ¹¹They were eager to know the time which the Spirit of Christ within them kept indicating, or the characteristics of that time, when they solemnly made known beforehand the sufferings that were to come upon Christ and the glories which would follow. ¹²To them it was revealed that they were serving not themselves but you, when they foretold the very things which have now been openly declared to you by those who, having been taught by the Holy Spirit which had been sent from Heaven, brought you the Good News. Angels long to stoop and look into these things.

A Call to Holiness

(Hebrews 12:14–17)

¹³Therefore gird up your minds and fix your hopes calmly and unfalteringly upon the boon that is soon to be yours, at the re-appearing of Jesus Christ. ¹⁴And, since you delight in obedience, do not shape your lives by the cravings which used to dominate you in the time of your ignorance, ¹⁵but—in imitation of the holy One who has called you—you also must be holy in all your habits of life. ¹⁶Because it stands written, “You are to be holy, because I am holy.”

¹⁷And if you address as your Father Him who judges impartially in accordance with each man’s actions, then spend in fear the time of your stay here on earth, ¹⁸knowing, as you do, that it was not with a ransom of perishable wealth, such as silver or gold, that you were set free from your frivolous habits of life which had been handed down to you from your forefathers, ¹⁹but with the precious blood of Christ—as of an unblemished and spotless lamb. ²⁰He was pre-destined indeed to this work, even before the creation of the world, but has been plainly manifested in these last days for the sake of you who, through Him, ²¹are faithful to God, who raised Him from among the dead and gave Him glory, so that your faith and hope are resting upon God.

The Enduring Word

(Isaiah 40:6–8)

²²Now that, through your obedience to the truth, you have purified your souls for cherishing sincere brotherly love, you must love another heartily and fervently. ²³For you have been begotten again by God’s ever-living and enduring word from a germ not of perishable, but of imperishable life.

²⁴“All mankind resemble the herbage, and all their beauty is like its flowers. The herbage dries up, and its flowers drop off; ²⁵But the word of the Lord remains for ever.” And that means the Message which has been proclaimed among you in the Good News.

1 Peter 2

The Living Stone and Chosen People

(Isaiah 28:14–22; 1 Corinthians 3:10–15; Ephesians 2:19–22)

1Rid yourselves therefore of all ill-will and all deceitfulness, of insincerity and envy, and of all evil speaking. 2Thirst, like newly-born infants, for pure milk for the soul, that by it you may grow up to salvation; 3if you have had any experience of the goodness of the Lord.

4Come to Him, the ever-living Stone, rejected indeed by men as worthless, but in God's esteem chosen and held in honour. 5And be yourselves also like living stones that are being built up into a spiritual house, to become a holy priesthood to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.

6For it is contained in Scripture, "See, I am placing on Mount Zion a Cornerstone, chosen, and held in honour, and he whose faith rests on Him shall never have reason to feel ashamed."

7To you believers, therefore, that honour belongs; but for unbelievers—"A Stone which the builders rejected has been made the Cornerstone,"

8and "a Stone for the foot to strike against, and a Rock to stumble over." Their foot strikes against it because they are disobedient to God's Message, and to this they were appointed.

9But you are a chosen race, a priesthood of kingly lineage, a holy nation, a people belonging specially to God, that you may make known the perfections of Him who called you out of darkness into His marvellous light. 10Once you were not a people, but now you are the people of God. Once you had not found mercy, but now you have.

11Dear friends, I entreat you as pilgrims and foreigners not to indulge the cravings of your lower natures: for all such cravings wage war upon the soul. 12Live honourable lives among the Gentiles, in order that, although they now speak against you as evil-doers, they may yet witness your good conduct, and may glorify God on the day of reward and retribution.

Submission to Authorities

(Romans 13:1–7)

13Submit, for the Lord's sake, to every authority set up by man, whether it be to the Emperor as supreme ruler, 14or to provincial Governors as sent by him for the punishment of evil-doers and the encouragement of those who do what is right. 15For it is God's will that by doing what is right you should thus silence the ignorant talk of foolish persons. 16Be free men, and yet do not make your freedom an excuse for base conduct, but be God's bondservants. 17Honour every one. Love the brotherhood, fear God, honour the Emperor.

18Household servants, be submissive to your masters, and show them the utmost respect—not only if they are kind and thoughtful, but also if they are unreasonable. 19For it is an acceptable thing with God, if, from a sense of duty to Him, a man patiently submits to wrong, when treated unjustly. 20If you do wrong and receive a blow for it, what credit is there in your bearing it patiently? But if when you do right and suffer for it you bear it patiently, this is an acceptable thing with God.

Christ's Example of Suffering

(Isaiah 53:1–8)

21And it is to this you were called; because Christ also suffered on your behalf, leaving you an example so that you should follow in His steps. 22He never sinned, and no deceitful language was ever heard from His mouth. 23When He was reviled, He did not answer with reviling; when He suffered He uttered no threats, but left His wrongs in the hands of the righteous Judge. 24The burden of our sins He Himself carried in His own body to the Cross and bore it there, so that we, having died so far as our sins are concerned, may live righteous lives. By His wounds yours have been healed. 25For you were straying like lost sheep, but now you have come back to the Shepherd and Protector of your souls.

Wives and Husbands

(Song of Solomon 1:1–17; Ephesians 5:22–33)

1Married women, in the same way, be submissive to your husbands, so that even if some of them disbelieve the Message, they may, apart from the Message, be won over by the daily life of their wives, after watching your daily life— 2so full of reverence, and so blameless! 3Your adornment ought not to be a merely outward thing—one of plaiting the hair, putting on jewelry, or wearing beautiful dresses. 4Instead of that, it should be a new nature within—the imperishable ornament of a gentle and peaceful spirit, which is indeed precious in the sight of God. 5For in ancient times also this was the way the holy women who set their hopes upon God used to adorn themselves, being submissive to their husbands. 6Thus, for instance, Sarah obeyed Abraham, acknowledging his authority over her. And you have become Sarah’s children if you do what is right and permit nothing whatever to terrify you.

7Married men, in the same way, live with your wives with a clear recognition of the fact that they are weaker than you. Yet, since you are heirs with them of God’s free gift of Life, treat them with honour; so that your prayers may not be hindered.

Turning from Evil

8In conclusion, all of you should be of one mind, quick to sympathize, kind to the brethren, tenderhearted, lowly-minded, 9not requiting evil with evil nor abuse with abuse, but, on the contrary, giving a blessing in return, because a blessing is what you have been called by God to inherit.

10For “He who wishes to be well-satisfied with life and see happy days—let him restrain his tongue from evil, and his lips from deceitful words;

11Let him turn from evil, and do good; Let him inquire for peace and go in pursuit of it.

12For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and His ears are open to their supplication; but the face of the Lord is set against evil-doers.”

13And who will be able to harm you, if you show yourselves zealous for that which is good?

Suffering for Righteousness

14But even if you suffer for righteousness' sake, you are to be envied. So do not be alarmed by their threats, nor troubled; 15but in your hearts consecrate Christ as Lord, being always ready to make your defence to any one who asks from you a reason for the hope which you cherish. 16Yet argue modestly and cautiously, keeping your consciences free from guilt, so that, when you are spoken against, those who slander your good Christian lives may be put to shame. 17For it is better that you should suffer for doing right, if such be God's will, than for doing evil; 18because Christ also once for all died for sins, the innocent One for the guilty many, in order to bring us to God. He was put to death in the flesh, but made alive in the spirit, 19in which He also went and proclaimed His Message to the spirits that were in prison, 20who in ancient times had been disobedient, while God's longsuffering was patiently waiting in the days of Noah during the building of the Ark, in which a few persons—eight in number—were brought safely through the water. 21And, corresponding to that figure, the water of baptism now saves you—not the washing off of material defilement, but the craving of a good conscience after God—through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, 22who is at God's right hand, having gone into Heaven, angels and authorities and powers having been made subject to Him.

Living for God's Glory

(1 Corinthians 10:23–33)

1Since, then, Christ has suffered in the flesh, you also must arm yourselves with a determination to do the same—because he who has suffered in the flesh has done with sin— 2that in future you may spend the rest of your earthly lives, governed not by human passions, but by the will of God. 3For you have given time enough in the past to the doing of the things which the Gentiles delight in—pursuing, as you did, a course of habitual licence, debauchery, hard drinking, noisy revelry, drunkenness and unholy image-worship. 4At this they are astonished—that you do not run into the same excess of profligacy as they do; and they speak abusively of you. 5But they will have to give account to Him who stands ready to pronounce judgement on the living and the dead. 6For it is with this end in view that the Good News was proclaimed even to some who were dead, that they may be judged, as all mankind will be judged, in the body, but may be living a godly life in the spirit.

7But the end of all things is now close at hand: therefore be sober-minded and temperate, so that you may give yourselves to prayer. 8Above all continue to love one another fervently, for love throws a veil over a multitude of faults. 9Extend ungrudging hospitality towards one another. 10Whatever be the gifts which each has received, you must use them for one another's benefit, as good stewards of God's many-sided kindness. 11If any one preaches, let it be as uttering God's truth; if any one renders a service to others, let it be in the strength which God supplies; so that in everything glory may be given to God in the name of Jesus Christ, to whom belong the glory and the might to the Ages of the Ages. Amen.

Suffering as Christians

12Dear friends, do not be surprised at finding that that scorching flame of persecution is raging among you to put you to the test—as though some surprising thing were accidentally happening to you. 13On the contrary, in the degree that you share in the sufferings of the Christ, rejoice, so that at the unveiling of His glory you may also rejoice with triumphant gladness. 14You are to be envied, if you are being reproached for bearing the name of Christ; for in that case the Spirit of glory—even the Spirit of God—is resting upon you. 15But let not one of you suffer as a murderer or a thief or an evil-doer, or as a spy upon other people’s business. 16If, however, any one suffers because he is a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God for being permitted to bear that name. 17For the time has come for judgement to begin, and to begin at the house of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the end of those who reject God’s Good News? 18And if it is difficult even for a righteous man to be saved, what will become of irreligious men and sinners? 19Therefore also, let those who are suffering in accordance with the will of God entrust their souls in well-doing to a faithful Creator.

Instructions to Elders

(1 Timothy 3:1–7; Titus 1:5–9)

1So I exhort the Elders among you—I who am their fellow Elder and have been an eye-witness of the sufferings of the Christ, and am also a sharer in the glory which is soon to be revealed. 2Be shepherds of God’s flock which is among you. Exercise the oversight not reluctantly but eagerly, in accordance with the will of God; not for base gain but with cheerful minds; 3not lording it over your Churches but proving yourselves patterns for the flock to imitate. 4And then, when the chief Shepherd appears, you will receive the never-withering wreath of glory.

Cast Your Cares on Him

5In the same way you younger men must submit to your elders; and all of you must gird yourselves with humility towards one another, for God sets Himself against the proud, but gives grace to the humble.

6Humble yourselves therefore beneath the mighty hand of God, so that at the right time He may set you on high. 7Throw the whole of your anxiety upon Him, because He Himself cares for you. 8Curb every passion, and be on the alert. Your great accuser, the Devil, is going about like a roaring lion to see whom he can devour. 9Withstand him, firm in your faith; knowing that your brethren in other parts of the world are passing through just the same experiences.

Benediction and Farewell

10And God, the giver of all grace, who has called you to share His eternal glory, through Christ, after you have suffered for a short time, will Himself make you perfect, firm, and strong. 11To Him be all power unto the Ages of the Ages! Amen.

12I send this short letter by Silas, our faithful brother—for such I regard him—in order to encourage you, and to bear witness that what I have told you is the true grace of God. In it stand fast. 13The Church in Babylon, chosen like yourselves by God, sends greetings, and so does Mark my son. 14Greet one another with a kiss of love. Peace be with all of you who are in Christ.

A Greeting from Peter

(1 Peter 1:1–2)

1 Simon Peter, a bondservant and Apostle of Jesus Christ: To those to whom there has been allotted the same precious faith as that which is ours through the righteousness of our God and of our Saviour Jesus Christ. 2 May more and more grace and peace be granted to you in a full knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord,

Partakers of the Divine Nature

3 seeing that His divine power has given us all things that are needful for life and godliness, through our knowledge of Him who has appealed to us by His own glorious perfections. 4 It is by means of these that He has granted us His precious and wondrous promises, in order that through them you may, one and all, become sharers in the very nature of God, having completely escaped the corruption which exists in the world through earthly cravings. 5 But for this very reason—adding, on your part, all earnestness—along with your faith, manifest also a noble character: along with a noble character, knowledge; 6 along with knowledge, self-control; along with self-control, power of endurance; 7 along with power of endurance, godliness; along with godliness, brotherly affection; and along with brotherly affection, love. 8 If these things exist in you, and continually increase, they prevent your being either idle or unfruitful in advancing towards a full knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. 9 For the man in whom they are lacking is blind and cannot see distant objects, in that he has forgotten that he has been cleansed from his old sins. 10 For this reason, brethren, be all the more in earnest to make sure that God has called you and chosen you; for it is certain that so long as you practise these things, you will never stumble. 11 And so a triumphant admission into the eternal Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ will be freely granted to you.

12 For this reason I shall always persist in reminding you of these things, although you know them and are steadfast believers in truth which you already possess. 13 But I think it right, so long as I remain in the body, my present dwelling-place, to arouse you by such reminders. 14 For I know that the time for me to lay aside my body is now rapidly drawing near, even as our Lord Jesus Christ has revealed to me. 15 So on every possible occasion I will also do my best to enable you to recall these things after my departure.

Eyewitnesses of His Majesty

(Matthew 17:1–13; Mark 9:1–13; Luke 9:28–36)

16 For when we made known to you the power and Coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, we were not eagerly following cleverly devised legends, but we had been eye-witnesses of His majesty. 17 He received honour and glory from God the Father, and out of the wondrous glory words such as these were spoken to Him, "This is My dearly-loved Son, in whom I take delight." 18 And we ourselves heard these words come from Heaven, when we were with Him on the holy mountain.

19 And in the written word of prophecy we have something more permanent; to which you do well to pay attention—as to a lamp shining in a dimly-lighted place—until day dawns and the morning star risers in your hearts. 20But, above all, remember that no prophecy in Scripture will be found to have come from the prophet's own prompting; 21for never did any prophecy come by human will, but men sent by God spoke as they were impelled by the Holy Spirit.

Deliverance from False Prophets

(Jude 1:3–16)

1But there were also false prophets among the people, as there will be teachers of falsehood among you also, who will cunningly introduce fatal divisions, disowning even the Sovereign Lord who has redeemed them, and bringing on themselves swift destruction. 2And in their immoral ways they will have many eager disciples, through whom religion will be brought into disrepute. 3Thirsting for riches, they will trade on you with their canting talk. From of old their judgement has been working itself out, and their destruction has not been slumbering.

4For God did not spare angels when they had sinned, but hurling them down to Tartarus consigned them to caves of darkness, keeping them in readiness for judgement. 5And He did not spare the ancient world, although He preserved Noah, a herald of righteousness, with seven others, when He brought a deluge on the world of the ungodly. 6He reduced to ashes the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, and condemned them to overthrow, making them an example to people who might in future be living godless lives.

7But when righteous Lot was sore distressed by the gross misconduct of immoral men He rescued him. 8 9Since all this is so, the Lord knows how to rescue godly men from temptation, and on the other hand how to keep the unrighteous under punishment in readiness for the Day of Judgement, 10and especially those who are abandoned to sensuality—craving, as they do, for polluted things, and scorning control. Fool-hardy and self-willed, they do not tremble when speaking evil of glorious beings; 11while angels, though greater than they in might and power, do not bring any insulting accusation against such in the presence of the Lord. 12But these men, like brute beasts, created (with their natural instincts) 13being doomed to receive a requital for their guilt. They reckon it pleasure to feast daintily in broad daylight. They are spots and blemishes, while feeding luxuriously at their love-feasts, and banqueting with you. 14Their very eyes are full of adultery—being eyes which never cease from sin. These men set traps to catch unstedfast souls, their own hearts being well trained in greed. They are fore-doomed to God's curse! 15Forsaking the straight road, they have gone astray, having eagerly followed in the steps of Balaam, the son of Beor, who was bent on securing the wages of unrighteousness. 16But he was rebuked for his transgression: a dumb ass spoke with a human voice and checked the madness of the Prophet.

17These people are wells without water, mists driven along by a storm, men for whom the dense darkness has been reserved. 18For, while they pour out their frivolous and arrogant talk, they use earthly cravings—every kind of immorality—as a bait to entrap men who are just escaping from the influence of those who live in error. 19And they promise them freedom, although they are themselves the slaves of what is corrupt. For a man is the slave of any one by whom he has been worsted in fight. 20For if, after escaping from the pollutions of the world through a full knowledge of our Lord and

Saviour Jesus Christ, people are once more entangled in these pollutions and are overcome, their last state has become worse than their first. ²¹For it would have been better for them not to have fully known the way of righteousness, than, after knowing it, to turn back from the holy commandments in which they were instructed. ²²Their case is that described in the true proverb, "A dog returns to what he has vomited," and also in the other proverb, "The sow has washed itself and now goes back to roll in its filth."

The Coming Judgment

(Genesis 7:1–24; Jude 1:17–23)

¹This letter which I am now writing to you, dear friends, is my second letter. In both my letters I seek to revive in your honest minds the memory of certain things, ²so that you may recall the words spoken long ago by the holy Prophets, and the commandments of our Lord and Saviour given you through your Apostles.

³But, above all, remember that, in the last days, men will come who make a mock at everything—men governed only by their own passions, ⁴and, asking, "What has become of His promised Return? For from the time our forefathers fell asleep all things continue as they have been ever since the creation of the world." ⁵For they are wilfully blind to the fact that there were heavens which existed of old, and an earth, the latter arising out of water and extending continuously through water, by the command of God; ⁶and that, by means of these, the then existing race of men was overwhelmed with water and perished. ⁷But the present heavens and the present earth are, by the command of the same God, kept stored up, reserved for fire in preparation for a day of judgement and of destruction for the ungodly.

The Day of the Lord

(Zephaniah 1:7–18; Malachi 4:1–6; 1 Thessalonians 5:1–11)

⁸But there is one thing, dear friends, which you must not forget. With the Lord one day resembles a thousand years and a thousand years resemble one day. ⁹The Lord is not slow in fulfilling His promise, in the sense in which some men speak of slowness. But He bears patiently with you, His desire being that no one should perish but that all should come to repentance.

¹⁰The day of the Lord will come like a thief—it will be a day on which the heavens will pass away with a rushing noise, the elements be destroyed in the fierce heat, and the earth and all the works of man be utterly burnt up.

¹¹Since all these things are thus pre-destined to dissolution, what sort of men ought you to be found to be in all holy living and godly conduct, ¹²eagerly looking forward to the coming of the day of God, by reason of which the heavens, all ablaze, will be destroyed, and the elements will melt in the fierce heat? ¹³But in accordance with His promise we are expecting new heavens and a new earth, in which righteousness will dwell.

Final Exhortations

14Therefore, dear friends, since you have these expectations, earnestly seek to be found in His presence, free from blemish or reproach, in peace. 15And always regard the patient forbearance of our Lord as salvation, as our dear brother Paul also has written to you in virtue of the wisdom granted to him. 16That is what he says in all his letters, when speaking in them of these things. In those letters there are some statements hard to understand, which ill-taught and unprincipled people pervert, just as they do the rest of the Scriptures, to their own ruin. 17You, therefore, dear friends, having been warned beforehand, must continually be on your guard so as not to be led astray by the false teaching of immoral men nor fall from your own steadfastness. 18But be always growing in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To Him be all glory, both now and to the day of Eternity!

The Word of Life

(Luke 24:36–49; John 20:19–23)

1That which was from the beginning, which we have listened to, which we have seen with our own eyes, and our own hands have handled concerning the Word of Life— 2the Life was manifested, and we have seen and bear witness, and we declare unto you the Life of the Ages which was with the Father and was manifested to us— 3that which we have seen and listened to we now announce to you also, in order that you also may have fellowship in it with us, and this fellowship with us is fellowship with the Father and with His Son Jesus Christ. 4And we write these things in order that our joy may be made complete.

Walking in the Light

(John 8:12–29)

5This is the Message which we have heard from the Lord Jesus and now deliver to you—God is Light, and in Him there is no darkness. 6If, while we are living in darkness, we profess to have fellowship with Him, we speak falsely and are not adhering to the truth. 7But if we live in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus, His Son, cleanses us from all sin. 8If we claim to be already free from sin, we lead ourselves astray and the truth has no place in our hearts. 9If we confess our sins, He is so faithful and just that He forgives us our sins and cleanses us from all unrighteousness. 10If we deny that we have sinned, we make Him a liar, and His Message has no place in our hearts.

1 John 2

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

Jesus Our Advocate

1Dear children, I write thus to you in order that you may not sin. If any one sins, we have an Advocate with the Father—Jesus Christ the righteous; 2and He is an atoning sacrifice for our sins, and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

3And by this we may know that we know Him—if we obey His commands. 4He who professes to know Him, and yet does not obey His commands, is a liar, and the truth has no place in his heart. 5But whoever obeys His Message, in him love for God has in very deed reached perfection. By this we can know that we are in Him. 6The man who professes to be continuing in Him is himself also bound to live as He lived.

A New Commandment

7My dearly-loved friends, it is no new command that I am now giving you, but an old command which you have had from the very beginning. By the old command I mean the teaching which you have already received. 8And yet I am giving you a new command, for such it really is, so far as both He and you are concerned: because the darkness is now passing away and the light, the true light, is already beginning to shine. 9Any one who professes to be in the light and yet hates his brother man is still in darkness. 10He who loves his brother man continues in the light, and his life puts no stumbling-block in the way of others. 11But he who hates his brother man is in darkness and is walking in darkness; and he does not know where he is going—because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

12I am writing to you, dear children, because for His sake your sins are forgiven you. 13I am writing to you, fathers, because you know Him who has existed from the very beginning. I am writing to you, young men, because you have overcome the Evil one. I have written to you, children, because you know the Father. 14I have written to you, fathers, because you know Him who has existed from the very beginning. I have written to you, young men, because you are strong and God's Message still has a place in your hearts, and you have overcome the Evil one.

Do Not Love the World

15Do not love the world, nor the things in the world. If any one loves the world, there is no love in his heart for the Father. 16For the things in the world—the cravings of the earthly nature, the cravings of the eyes, the show and pride of life—they all come, not from the Father, but from the world. 17And the world, with its cravings, is passing away, but he who does God's will continues for ever.

Beware of Antichrists

18Dear children, the last hour has come; and as you once heard that there was to be an anti-Christ, so even now many anti-Christ's have appeared. By this we may know that the last hour has come. 19They have gone forth from our midst, but they did not really belong to us; for had they belonged to us, they would have remained with us. But they left us that it might be manifest that professed believers do not all belong to us. 20As for you, you have an anointing from the holy One and have perfect knowledge. 21I have written to you, not because you are ignorant of the truth, but because you know it, and you know that nothing false comes from the truth. 22Who is a liar compared with him who denies that Jesus is the Christ? He who disowns the Father and the Son is the anti-Christ. 23No one who disowns the Son has the Father. He who acknowledges the Son has also the Father.

Remain in Christ

24As for you, let the teaching which you have received from the very beginning continue in your hearts. If that teaching does continue in your hearts, you also will continue to be in union with the Son and with the Father.

25And this is the promise which He Himself has given us—the Life of the Ages.

26I have thus written to you concerning those who are leading you astray. 27And as for you, the anointing which you received from Him remains within you, and there is no need for any one to teach you. But since His anointing gives you instruction in all things—and is true and is no falsehood—you are continuing in union with Him even as it has taught you to do.

28And now, dear children, continue in union with Him; so that, if He re-appears, we may have perfect confidence, and may not shrink away in shame from His presence at His Coming. 29Since you know that He is righteous, be assured also that the man who habitually acts righteously is a child of His.

Children of God

1See what marvellous love the Father has bestowed upon us—that we should be called God’s children: and that is what we are. For this reason the world does not recognize us—because it has not known Him. 2Dear friends, we are now God’s children, but what we are to be in the future has not yet been fully revealed. We know that if Christ reappears we shall be like Him, because we shall see Him as He is. 3And every man who has this hope fixed on Him, purifies himself so as to be as pure as He is.

4Every one who is guilty of sin is also guilty of violating Law; for sin is the violation of Law. 5And you know that He appeared in order to take away sins; and in Him there is no sin. 6No one who continues in union with Him lives in sin: no one who lives in sin has seen Him or knows Him. 7Dear children, let no one lead you astray. The man who acts righteously is righteous, just as He is righteous. 8He who is habitually guilty of sin is a child of the Devil, because the Devil has been a sinner from the very beginning. The Son of God appeared for the purpose of undoing the work of the Devil. 9No one who is a child of God is habitually guilty of sin. A God-given germ of life remains in him, and he cannot habitually sin—because he is a child of God. 10By this we can distinguish God’s children and the Devil’s children: no one who fails to act righteously is a child of God, nor he who does not love his brother man.

Love One Another

(John 13:31–35; Romans 12:9–13)

11For this is the Message you have heard from the beginning—that we are to love one another. 12We are not to resemble Cain, who was a child of the Evil one and killed his own brother. And why did he kill him? Because his own actions were wicked and his brother’s actions righteous.

13Do not be surprised, brethren, if the world hates you. 14As for us, we know that we have already passed out of death into Life—because we love our brother men. He who is destitute of love continues dead. 15Every one who hates his brother man is a murderer; and you know that no murderer has the Life of the Ages continuing in him. 16We know what love is—through Christ’s having laid down His life on our behalf; and in the same way we ought to lay down our lives for our brother men. 17But if any one has this world’s wealth and sees that his brother man is in need, and yet hardens his heart against him—how can such a one continue to love God? 18Dear children, let us not love in words only nor with the lips, but in deed and in truth. 19And in this way we shall come to know that we are loyal to the truth, and shall satisfy our consciences in His presence 20in whatever matters our hearts condemn us—because God is greater than our hearts and knows everything. 21Dear friends, if our hearts do not condemn us, we have perfect confidence towards God; 22and whatever we ask for we obtain from Him, because we obey His commands and do the things which are pleasing in His sight.

23And this is His command—that we are to believe in His Son Jesus Christ and love one another, just as He has commanded us to do. 24The man who obeys His commands continues in union with God, and God continues in union with him; and through His Spirit whom He has given us we can know that He continues in union with us.

Testing the Spirits

1Dear friends, do not believe every spirit, but put the spirits to the test to see whether they are from God; for many false teachers have gone out into the world. 2The test by which you may recognize the Spirit of God is that every spirit which acknowledges that Jesus Christ has come as man is from God, 3and that no spirit is from God which does not acknowledge this about Jesus. Such is the spirit of the anti-Christ; of whose coming you have heard, and it is already in the world. 4As for you, dear children, you are God’s children, and have successfully resisted them; for greater is He who is in you than he who is in the world. 5They are the world’s children, and so their language is that of the world, and the world listens to them. We are God’s children. 6The man who is beginning to know God listens to us, but he who is not a child of God does not listen to us. By this test we can distinguish the Spirit of truth from the spirit of error.

Love Comes from God

7Dear friends, let us love one another; for love has its origin in God, and every one who loves has become a child of God and is beginning to know God. 8He who is destitute of love has never had any knowledge of God; because God is love. 9God’s love for us has been manifested in that He has sent His only Son into the world so that we may have Life through Him. 10This is love indeed—we did not love God, but He loved us and sent His Son to be an atoning sacrifice for our sins. 11Dear friends, if God has so loved us, we also ought to love one another. 12No one has ever yet seen God. If we love one another, God continues in union with us, and His love in all its perfection is in our hearts. 13We can know that we are continuing in union with Him and that He is continuing in union with us, by the fact that He has given us a portion of His Spirit. 14And we have seen and bear witness that the Father has sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15Whoever acknowledges that Jesus is the Son of God—God continues in union with him, and he continues in union with God. 16And, as for us, we know the love which God has for us, and we confide in it. God is love, and he who continues to love continues in union with God, and God continues in union with him. ¹⁷Our love will be manifested in all its perfection by our having complete confidence on the day of the Judgement; because just what He is, we also are in the world. ¹⁸Love has in it no element of fear; but perfect love drives away fear, because fear involves pain, and if a man gives way to fear, there is something imperfect in his love. ¹⁹We love because God first loved us. ²⁰If any one says that he loves God, while he hates his brother man, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother man whom he has seen, cannot love God whom he has not seen. ²¹And the command which we have from Him is that he who loves God must love his brother man also.

Overcoming the World

¹Every one who believes that Jesus is the Christ is a child of God; and every one who loves the Father loves also Him who is the Father's Child. ²The fact that we love God Himself, and obey His commands, is a proof that we love God's children. ³Love for God means obedience to His commands; and His commands are not irksome. ⁴For every child of God overcomes the world; and the victorious principle which has overcome the world is our faith.

⁵Who but the man that believes that Jesus is the Son of God overcomes the world? ⁶Jesus Christ is He who came with water and blood; not with the water only, but with the water and with the blood. And it is the Spirit who gives testimony—because the Spirit is the Truth. ⁷For there are three that give testimony—the Spirit, the water, and the blood; ⁸and there is complete agreement between these three.

God's Testimony about His Son

⁹If we accept the testimony of men, God's testimony is greater: for God's testimony consists of the things which He has testified about His Son. ¹⁰He who believes in the Son of God has the testimony in his own heart: he who does not believe God has made Him a liar, in that he has refused to accept the testimony which God has given about His Son. ¹¹And that testimony is to the effect that God has given us the Life of the Ages, and that this Life is in His Son. ¹²He who has the Son has the Life: he who has not the Son of God has not the Life.

Effective Prayer

¹³I write all this to you in order that you who believe in the Son of God may know for certain that you already have the Life of the Ages. ¹⁴And we have an assured confidence that whenever we ask anything in accordance with His will, He listens to us. ¹⁵And since we know that He listens to us, then whatever we ask, we know that we have the things which we have asked from Him.

¹⁶If any one sees a brother man committing a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask and God shall give him life—for those who do not sin unto death. There is such a thing as sin unto death; for that I do not bid him make request. ¹⁷Any kind of wrongdoing is sin; but there is sin which is not unto death.

The True God

18We know that no one who is a child of God lives in sin, but He who is God's Child keeps him, and the Evil one cannot touch him. 19We know that we are children of God, and that the whole world lies in the power of the Evil one. 20And we know that the Son of God has come, and has given us understanding so that we know the true One, and are in union with the true One—that is, we are in union with His Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and the Life of the Ages.

21Dear children, guard yourselves from idols.

A Greeting from the Elder

(3 John 1:1–4)

1The Elder to the elect lady and her children. Truly I love you all, and not I alone, but also all who know the truth, 2for the sake of the truth which is continually in our hearts and will be with us for ever. 3Grace, mercy and peace will be with us from God the Father, and from Jesus Christ the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

Walking in the Truth

(John 8:30–47)

4It is an intense joy to me to have found some of your children living true Christian lives, in obedience to the command which we have received from the Father. 5And now, dear lady, I pray you—writing to you, as I do, not a new command, but the one which we have had from the very beginning—let us love one another. 6The love of which I am speaking consists in our living in obedience to God's commands. God's command is that you should live in obedience to what you all heard from the very beginning.

Beware of Deceivers

7For many deceivers have gone out into the world—men who do not acknowledge Jesus as Christ who has come in human nature. Such a one is 'the deceiver' and 'the anti-Christ.' 8Keep guard over yourselves, so that you may not lose the results of your good deeds, but may receive back a full reward. 9No one has God, who instead of remaining true to the teaching of Christ, presses on in advance: but he who remains true to that teaching has both the Father and the Son. 10If any one who comes to you does not bring this teaching, do not receive him under your roof nor bid him Farewell. 11He who bids him Farewell is a sharer in his evil deeds.

Conclusion

(3 John 1:13–14)

12I have a great deal to say to you all, but will not write it with paper and ink. Yet I hope to come to see you and speak face to face, so that your happiness may be complete.

13The children of your elect sister send greetings to you.

A Greeting from the Elder

(2 John 1:1–3)

1The Elder to his dear friend Gaius. Truly I love you.

2My dear friend, I pray that you may in all respects prosper and enjoy good health, just as your soul already prospers. 3For it is an intense joy to me when brethren come and bear witness to your fidelity to the truth—that you live in obedience to the truth. 4I have no greater joy than to hear that my children are living in obedience to the truth.

Gaius Commended for Hospitality

5My dear friend, you are acting faithfully in all your behaviour towards the brethren, even when they are strangers to you. 6They have testified, in the presence of the Church, to your love; and you will do well to help them on their journey in a manner worthy of your fellowship with God. 7For it is for Christ that they have gone forth, accepting nothing from the Gentiles. 8It is therefore our duty to show hospitality to such men, so that we may be fellow workers in promoting the truth.

Diotrephes and Demetrius

9I wrote to the Church, but Diotrephes, who loves to have the first place among them, refuses to listen to us. 10For this reason, if I come, I shall not forget his conduct, nor his idle and mischievous talk against us. And he does not stop there: he not only will not receive the brethren, but those who desire to do this he hinders, and excludes them from the Church.

11My dear friend, do not follow wrong examples, but right ones. He who habitually does what is right is a child of God: he who habitually does what is wrong has not seen God. 12The character of Demetrius has the approval of all men, and of the truth itself. We also express our approval of it, and you know that we only give our approval to that which is true.

Conclusion

(2 John 1:12–13)

13I have a great deal to say to you, but I do not wish to go on writing it with ink and pen.

14But I hope to see you very soon, and then we will speak face to face. Peace be with you. Our friends send greetings to you. Greet our friends individually.

Jude 1

WEY [Online]

A Greeting from Jude

(James 1:1)

1Jude, a bondservant of Jesus Christ and a brother of James: To those who are in God the Father, enfolded in His love, and kept for Jesus Christ, and called. 2May mercy, peace and love be abundantly granted to you.

God's Judgment on the Ungodly

(2 Peter 3:1-7)

3Dear friends, since I am eager to begin a letter to you on the subject of our common salvation, I find myself constrained to write and cheer you on to the vigorous defense of the faith delivered once for all to God's people. 4For certain persons have crept in unnoticed—men spoken of in ancient writings as pre-destined to this condemnation—ungodly men, who pervert the grace of our God into an excuse for immorality, and disown Jesus Christ, our only Sovereign and Lord.

5I desire to remind you—although the whole matter is already familiar to you—that the Lord saved a people out of the land of Egypt, but afterwards destroyed those who had no faith. 6And angels—those who did not keep the position originally assigned to them, but deserted their own proper abode—He reserves in everlasting bonds, in darkness, in preparation for the judgement of the great day. 7So also Sodom and Gomorrah—and the neighboring towns in the same manner—having been guilty of gross fornication and having gone astray in pursuit of unnatural vice, are now before us as a specimen of the fire of the Ages in the punishment which they are undergoing.

8Yet in just the same way these dreamers also pollute the body, while they set authority at naught and speak evil of dignities. 9But Michael the Archangel, when contending with the Devil and arguing with him about the body of Moses, did not dare to pronounce judgement on him in abusive terms, but simply said, "The Lord rebuke you." 10Yet these men are abusive in matters of which they know nothing, and in things which, like the brutes, they understand instinctively—in all these they corrupt themselves. 11Alas for them; for they have followed in the steps of Cain; for the sake of gain they have rushed on headlong in the evil ways of Balaam; and have perished in rebellion like that of Korah! 12These men—sunken rocks!—are those who share the pleasure of your love-feasts, unrestrained by fear while caring only for themselves; clouds without water, driven away by the winds; trees that cast their fruit, barren, doubly dead, uprooted; 13wild waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, for whom is reserved dense darkness of age-long duration.

14It was also about these that Enoch, who belonged to the seventh generation from Adam, prophesied, saying, "The Lord has come, attended by myriads of His people, to execute judgement upon all, 15and to convict all the ungodly of all the ungodly deeds which in their ungodliness they have committed, and of all the hard words which they, ungodly sinners as they are, have spoken against Him." 16These men are murmurers, ever bemoaning their lot. Their lives are guided by their evil passions, and their mouths are full of big, boastful words, while they treat individual men with admiring reverence for the sake of the advantage they can gain.

A Call to Persevere

(Hebrews 10:19–39; 2 Peter 3:1–7)

17But as for you, my dearly-loved friends, remember the words that before now were spoken by the Apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ— 18how they declared to you, “In the last times there shall be scoffers, obeying only their own ungodly passions.” 19These are those who cause divisions. They are men of the world, wholly unspiritual. 20But you, my dearly-loved friends, building yourselves up on the basis of your most holy faith and praying in the Holy Spirit, 21must keep yourselves safe in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ which will result in the Life of the Ages. 22Some, when they argue with you, you must endeavor to convince; 23others you must try to save, as brands plucked from the flames; and on others look with pity mingled with fear, while you hate every trace of their sin.

Doxology

(Romans 16:25–27)

24But to Him who is able to keep you safe from stumbling, and cause you to stand in the presence of His glory free from blemish and full of exultant joy— 25to the only God our Saviour—through Jesus Christ our Lord, be ascribed glory, majesty, might, and authority, as it was before all time, is now, and shall be to all the Ages! Amen.

Prologue

(Daniel 12:1–13)

1The revelation given by Jesus Christ, which God granted Him, that He might make known to His servants certain events which must shortly come to pass: and He sent His angel and communicated it to His servant John. 2This is the John who taught the truth concerning the Word of God and the truth told us by Jesus Christ—a faithful account of what he had seen. 3Blessed is he who reads and blessed are those who listen to the words of this prophecy and lay to heart what is written in it; for the time for its fulfillment is now close at hand.

John Greets the Seven Churches

4John sends greetings to the seven Churches in the province of Asia. May grace be granted to you, and peace, from Him who is and was and evermore will be; and from the seven Spirits which are before His throne; 5and from Jesus Christ, the truthful witness, the first of the dead to be born to Life, and the Ruler of the kings of the earth. To Him who loves us and has freed us from our sins with His own blood, 6and has formed us into a Kingdom, to be priests to God, His Father—to Him be ascribed the glory and the power until the Ages of the Ages. Amen. 7He is coming in the clouds, and every eye will see Him, and so will those who pierced Him; and all the nations of the earth will gaze on Him and mourn. Even so. Amen.

8“I am the Alpha and the Omega,” says the Lord God, “He who is and was and evermore will be—the Ruler of all.”

John’s Vision on Patmos

9I John, your brother, and a sharer with you in the sorrows and Kingship and patient endurance of Jesus, found myself in the island of Patmos, on account of the Word of God and the truth told us by Jesus. 10In the Spirit I found myself present on the day of the Lord, and I heard behind me a loud voice which resembled the blast of a trumpet. 11It said, “Write forthwith in a roll an account of what you see, and send it to the seven Churches—to Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyateira, Sardis, Philadelphia and Laodicea.”

12I turned to see who it was that was speaking to me; and then I saw seven golden lampstands, 13and in the center of the lampstands some One resembling the Son of Man, clothed in a robe which reached to His feet, and with a girdle of gold across His breast. 14His head and His hair were white, like white wool—as white as snow; and His eyes resembled a flame of fire. 15His feet were like silver-bronze, when it is white-hot in a furnace; and His voice resembled the sound of many waters. 16In His right hand He held seven stars, and a sharp, two-edged sword was seen coming from His mouth; and His glance resembled the sun when it is shining with its full strength.

17When I saw Him, I fell at His feet as if I were dead. But He laid His right hand upon me and said, “Do not be afraid: I am the First and the Last, and the ever-living One. 18I died; but I am now alive until the Ages of the Ages, and I have the keys of the gates of Death and of Hades! 19Write down therefore the things you have just seen, and those which are now taking place, and those which are soon to follow: 20the secret meaning of the seven stars which you have seen in My right hand, and of the seven lampstands of gold. The seven stars are the ministers of the seven Churches, and the seven lampstands are the seven Churches.

To the Church in Ephesus

(Acts 19:8–12; Ephesians 1:1–2)

1“To the minister of the Church in Ephesus write as follows: “This is what He who holds the seven stars in the grasp of His right hand says—He who walks to and fro among the seven lampstands of gold.

2I know your doings and your toil and patient suffering. And I know that you cannot tolerate wicked men, but have put to the test those who say that they themselves are Apostles but are not, and you have found them to be liars. 3And you endure patiently and have borne burdens for My sake and have never grown weary. 4Yet I have this against you—that you no longer love Me as you did at first. 5Be mindful, therefore, of the height from which you have fallen. Repent at once, and act as you did at first, or else I will surely come and remove your lampstand out of its place—unless you repent. 6Yet this you have in your favor: you hate the doings of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. 7“Let all who have ears give heed to what the Spirit is saying to the Churches. To him who overcomes I will give the privilege of eating the fruit of the Tree of Life, which is in the Paradise of God.’

To the Church in Smyrna

8“To the minister of the Church at Smyrna write as follows: “This is what the First and the Last says—He who died and has returned to life.

9Your sufferings I know, and your poverty—but you are rich—and the evil name given you by those who say that they themselves are Jews, and are not, but are Satan’s synagogue. 10Dismiss your fears concerning all that you are about to suffer. I tell you that the Devil is about to throw some of you into prison that you may be put to the test, and for ten days you will have to endure persecution. Be faithful to the End, even if you have to die, and then I will give you the victor’s Wreath of Life. 11“Let all who have ears give heed to what the Spirit is saying to the Churches. He who overcomes shall be in no way hurt by the Second Death.’

To the Church in Pergamum

12“To the minister of the Church at Pergamum write as follows: “This is what He who has the sharp, two-edged sword says. I know where you dwell.

13Satan’s throne is there; and yet you are true to Me, and did not deny your faith in Me, even in the days of Antipas My witness and faithful friend, who was put to death among you, in the place where Satan dwells. 14Yet I have a few things against you, because you have with you some that cling to the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to put a stumbling-block in the way of the descendants of Israel—to eat what had been sacrificed to idols, and commit fornication. 15So even you have some that cling in the same way to the teaching of the Nicolaitans. 16Repent, at once; or else I will come to you quickly, and will make war upon them with the sword which is in My mouth. 17“Let all who have ears give heed to what the Spirit is saying to the Churches. He who overcomes—to him I will give some of the hidden Manna, and a white stone; and—written upon the stone and known only to him who receives it—a new name.’

To the Church in Thyatira

(Acts 16:11–15)

18“To the minister of the Church at Thyateira write as follows: “This is what the Son of God says—He who has eyes like a flame of fire, and feet resembling silver-bronze.

19I know your doings, your love, your faith, your service, and your patient endurance; and that of late you have toiled harder than you did at first. 20Yet I have this against you, that you tolerate the woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and by her teaching leads astray My servants, so that they commit fornication and eat what has been sacrificed to idols. 21I have given her time to repent, but she is determined not to repent of her fornication. 22I tell you that I am about to cast her upon a bed of sickness, and I will severely afflict those who commit adultery with her, unless they repent of conduct such as hers. 23Her children too shall surely die; and all the Churches shall come to know that I am He who searches into men’s inmost thoughts; and to each of you I will give a requital which shall be in accordance with what your conduct has been. 24But to you, the rest of you in Thyateira, all who do not hold this teaching and are not the people who have learnt the “deep things,” as they call them (the deep things of Satan!) 25Only that which you already possess, cling to until I come. 26“And to him who overcomes and obeys My commands to the very end, I will give authority over the nations of the earth. 27And he shall be their shepherd, ruling them with a rod of iron, just as earthenware jars are broken to pieces; and his power over them shall be like that which I Myself have received from My Continually lay them to heart, and repent. If, however, you fail to rouse yourself and keep awake, I shall come upon you suddenly like a thief, and you will certainly not know the hour at which I shall come to judge you. ⁴Yet you have in Sardis a few who have not soiled their garments; and they shall walk with Me in white; for they are worthy. ⁵"In this way he who overcomes shall be clothed in white garments; and I will certainly not blot out his name from the Book of Life, but will acknowledge him in the presence of My Father and His angels. ⁶Let all who have ears give heed to what the Spirit is saying to the Churches.'

that if there is a wretched creature it is you—pitiable, poor, blind, naked. 18Therefore I counsel you to buy of Me gold refined in the fire that you may become rich, and white robes to put on, so as to hide your shameful nakedness, and eye-salve to anoint your eyes with, so that you may be able to see. 19All whom I hold dear, I reprove and chastise; therefore be in earnest and repent. 20I am now standing at the door and am knocking. If any one listens to My voice and opens the door, I will go in to be with him and will feast with him, and he shall feast with Me. 21“To him who overcomes I will give the privilege of sitting down with Me on My throne, as I also have overcome and have sat down with My Father on His throne. 22Let all who have ears give heed to what the Spirit is saying to the Churches.”

The Throne in Heaven

1After all this I looked and saw a door in Heaven standing open, and the voice that I had previously heard, which resembled the blast of a trumpet, again spoke to me and said, “Come up here, and I will show you things which are to happen in the future.” 2Immediately I found myself in the Spirit, and saw a throne in Heaven, and some One sitting on the throne. 3The appearance of Him who sat there was like jasper or sard; and encircling the throne was a rainbow, in appearance like an emerald. 4Surrounding the throne there were also twenty-four other thrones, on which sat twenty-four Elders clothed in white robes, with victors’ wreaths of gold upon their heads.

Worship of the Creator

5Out from the throne there came flashes of lightning, and voices, and peals of thunder, while in front of the throne seven blazing lamps were burning, which are the seven Spirits of God. 6And in front of the throne there seemed to be a sea of glass, resembling crystal. And midway between the throne and the Elders, and surrounding the throne, were four living creatures, full of eyes in front and behind. 7The first living creature resembled a lion, the second an ox, the third had a face like that of a man, and the fourth resembled an eagle flying. 8And each of the four living creatures had six wings, and in every direction, and within, are full of eyes; and day after day, and night after night, they never cease saying, “Holy, holy, holy, Lord God, the Ruler of all, who wast and art and evermore shalt be.” 9And whenever the living creatures give glory and honor and thanks to Him who is seated on the throne, and lives until the Ages of the Ages, 10the twenty-four Elders fall down before Him who sits on the throne and worship Him who lives until the Ages of the Ages, and they cast their wreaths down in front of the throne, 11saying, “It is fitting, O our Lord and God, That we should ascribe unto Thee the glory and the honor and the power; For Thou didst create all things, And because it was Thy will they came into existence, and were created.”

The Lamb Takes the Scroll

¹And I saw lying in the right hand of Him who sat on the throne a book written on both sides and closely sealed with seven seals. ²And I saw a mighty angel who was exclaiming in a loud voice, "Who is worthy to open the book and break its seals?" ³But no one in Heaven, or on earth, or under the earth, was able to open the book or look into it. ⁴And while I was weeping bitterly, because no one was found worthy to open the book or look into it,

⁵one of the Elders said to me, "Do not weep. The Lion which belongs to the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has triumphed, and will open the book and break its seven seals."

⁶Then, midway between the throne and the four living creatures, I saw a Lamb standing among the Elders. He looked as if He had been offered in sacrifice, and He had seven horns and seven eyes. The last-named are the seven Spirits of God, and have been sent far and wide into all the earth. ⁷So He comes, and now He has taken the book out of the right hand of Him who is seated on the throne. ⁸And when He had taken the book, the four living creatures and the twenty-four Elders fell down before the Lamb, having each of them a harp and bringing golden bowls full of incense, which represent the prayers of God's people. ⁹And now they sing a new song. "It is fitting," they say, "that Thou shouldst be the One to take the book And break its seals; Because Thou hast been offered in sacrifice, And hast purchased for God with Thine own blood Some out of every tribe and language and people and nation, ¹⁰And hast formed them into a Kingdom to be priests to our God, And they reign over the earth."

The Lamb Exalted

¹¹And I looked, and heard what seemed to be the voices of countless angels on every side of the throne, and of the living creatures and the Elders. Their number was myriads of myriads and thousands of thousands, ¹²and in loud voices they were singing, "It is fitting that the Lamb which has been offered in sacrifice should receive all power and riches and wisdom and might and honor and glory and blessing." ¹³And as for every created thing in Heaven and on earth and under the earth and on the sea, and everything that was in any of these, I heard them say, "To Him who is seated on the throne, And to the Lamb, Be ascribed all blessing and honor And glory and might, Until the Ages of the Ages!" ¹⁴Then the four living creatures said "Amen," and the Elders fell down and worshipped.

The First Seal: The White Horse

¹And when the Lamb broke one of the seven seals I saw it, and I heard one of the four living creatures say, as if in a voice of thunder, "Come." ²And I looked and a white horse appeared, and its rider carried a bow; and a victor's wreath was given to him; and he went out conquering and in order to conquer.

The Second Seal: War

³And when the Lamb broke the second seal, I heard the second living creature say, "Come." ⁴And another horse came out—a fiery-red one; and power was given to its rider to take peace from the earth, and to cause men to kill one another; and a great sword was given to him.

The Third Seal: Famine

⁵When the Lamb broke the third seal, I heard the third living creature say, "Come." I looked, and a black horse appeared, its rider carrying a balance in his hand. ⁶And I heard what seemed to be a voice speaking in the midst of the four living creatures, and saying, "A quart of wheat for a shilling, and three quarts of barley for a shilling; but do not injure either the oil or the wine."

The Fourth Seal: Death

⁷When the Lamb broke the fourth seal I heard the voice of the fourth living creature say, "Come." ⁸I looked and a pale-colored horse appeared. Its rider's name was Death, and Hades came close behind him; and authority was given to them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with the sword or with famine or pestilence or by means of the wild beasts of the earth.

The Fifth Seal: The Martyrs

⁹When the Lamb broke the fifth seal, I saw at the foot of the altar the souls of those whose lives had been sacrificed because of the word of God and of the testimony which they had given. ¹⁰And now in loud voices they cried out, saying, "How long, O Sovereign Lord, the holy One and the true, dost Thou delay judgment and the taking of vengeance upon the inhabitants of the earth for our blood?" ¹¹And there was given to each of them a long white robe, and they were bidden to wait patiently for a short time longer, until the full number of their fellow bondservants should also complete—namely of their brethren who were soon to be killed just as they had been.

The Sixth Seal: Terror

¹²When the Lamb broke the sixth seal I looked, and there was a great earthquake, and the sun became as dark as sackcloth, and the whole disc of the moon became like blood. ¹³The stars in the sky also fell to the earth, as when a fig-tree, upon being shaken by a gale of wind, casts its unripe figs to the ground. ¹⁴The sky too passed away, as if a scroll were being rolled up, and every mountain and island was removed from its place. ¹⁵The kings of the earth and the great men, the military chiefs, the wealthy and the powerful—all, whether slaves or free men—hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains, ¹⁶while they called to the mountains and the rocks, saying, "Fall on us and hide us from the presence of Him who sits on the throne and from the anger of the Lamb; ¹⁷for the day of His anger—that great day—has come, and who is able to stand?"

144,000 Sealed

¹After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, and holding back the four winds of the earth so that no wind should blow over the earth or the sea or upon any tree. ²And I saw another angel coming from the east and carrying a seal belonging to the ever-living God. He called in a loud voice to the four angels whose work it was to injure the earth and the sea. ³"Injure neither land nor sea nor trees," he said, "until we have sealed the bondservants of our God upon their foreheads."

⁴When the sealing was finished, I heard how many were sealed out of the tribes of the descendants of Israel. They were 144,000.

⁵Of the tribe of Judah, 12,000 were sealed; Of the tribe of Reuben, 12,000; Of the tribe of Gad, 12,000; ⁶Of the tribe of Asher, 12,000; Of the tribe of Naphtali, 12,000; Of the tribe of Manasseh, 12,000; ⁷Of the tribe of Symeon, 12,000; Of the tribe of Levi, 12,000; Of the tribe of Issachar, 12,000; ⁸Of the tribe of Zebulun, 12,000; Of the tribe of Joseph, 12,000; Of the tribe of Benjamin, 12,000.

Praise from the Great Multitude

⁹After this I looked, and a vast host appeared which it was impossible for anyone to count, gathered out of every nation and from all tribes and peoples and languages, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, clothed in long white robes, and carrying palm-branches in their hands. ¹⁰In loud voices they were exclaiming, "It is to our God who is seated on the throne, and to the Lamb, that we owe our salvation!" ¹¹All the angels were standing in a circle round the throne and round the Elders and the four living creatures, and they fell on their faces in front of the throne and worshipped God. ¹²"Even so!" they cried: "The blessing and the glory and the wisdom and the thanks and the honor and the power and the might are to be ascribed to our God, until the Ages of the Ages! Even so!"

¹³Then, addressing me, one of the Elders said, "Who are these people clothed in the long white robes? And where have they come from?" ¹⁴"My lord, you know," I replied. "They are those," he said, "who have just passed through the great distress, and have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. ¹⁵For this reason they stand before the very throne of God, and render Him service, day after day and night after night, in His sanctuary, and He who is sitting upon the throne will shelter them in His tent. ¹⁶They will never again be hungry or thirsty, and never again will the sun or any scorching heat trouble them. ¹⁷For the Lamb who is in front of the throne will be their Shepherd, and will guide them to watersprings of Life, and God will wipe every tear from their eyes."

The Seventh Seal

¹When the Lamb broke the seventh seal, there was silence in Heaven for about half an hour. ²Then I saw the seven angels who are in the presence of God, and seven trumpets were given to them.

³And another angel came and stood close to the altar, carrying a censer of gold; and abundance of incense was given to him that he might place it with the prayers of all God's people upon the golden altar which was in front of the throne. ⁴And the smoke of the incense rose into the presence of God from the angel's hand, and mingled with the prayers of His people. ⁵So the angel took the censer and filled it with fire from the altar and flung it to the earth; and there followed peals of thunder, and voices, and flashes of lightning, and an earthquake.

The First Four Trumpets

⁶Then the seven angels who had the seven trumpets made preparations for blowing them.

⁷The first blew his trumpet; and there came hail and fire, mixed with blood, falling upon the earth; and a third part of the earth was burnt up, and a third part of the trees and all the green grass.

8The second angel blew his trumpet; and what seemed to be a great mountain, all ablaze with fire, was hurled into the sea; and a third part of the sea was turned into blood. 9And a third part of the creatures that were in the sea—those that had life—died; and a third part of the ships were destroyed.

10The third angel blew his trumpet; and there fell from Heaven a great star, which was on fire like a torch. It fell upon a third part of the rivers and upon the springs of water. 11The name of the star is 'Wormwood;' and a third part of the waters were turned into wormwood, and vast numbers of the people died from drinking the water, because it had become bitter.

12Then the fourth angel blew his trumpet; and a curse fell upon a third part of the sun, a third part of the moon, and a third part of the stars, so that a third part of them were darkened and for a third of the day, and also of the night, there was no light.

13Then I looked, and I heard a solitary eagle crying in a loud voice, as it flew across the sky, "Alas, alas, alas, for the inhabitants of the earth, because of the significance of the remaining trumpets which the three angels are about to blow!"

The Fifth Trumpet

1The fifth angel blew his trumpet; and I saw a Star which had fallen from Heaven to the earth; and to him was given the key of the depths of the bottomless pit, 2and he opened the depths of the bottomless pit. And smoke came up out of the pit resembling the smoke of a vast furnace, so that the sun was darkened, and the air also, by reason of the smoke of the pit. 3And from the midst of the smoke there came locusts on to the earth, and power was given to them resembling the power which earthly scorpions possess. 4And they were forbidden to injure the herbage of the earth, or any green thing, or any tree. They were only to injure human beings—those who have not the seal of God on their foreheads. 5Their mission was not to kill, but to cause awful agony for five months; and this agony was like that which a scorpion inflicts when it stings a man. 6And at that time people will seek death, but will by no possibility find it, and will long to die, but death evades them.

7The appearance of the locusts was like that of horses equipped for war. On their heads they had wreaths which looked like gold. 8Their faces seemed human and they had hair like women's hair, but their teeth resembled those of lions. 9They had breast-plates which seemed to be made of steel; and the noise caused by their wings was like that of a vast number of horses and chariots hurrying into battle. 10They had tails like those of scorpions, and also stings; and in their tails lay their power of injuring mankind for five months. 11The locusts had a king over them—the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in Hebrew is 'Abaddon,' while in the Greek he is called 'Apollyon.'

12The first woe is past; two other woes have still to come.

The Sixth Trumpet

13The sixth angel blew his trumpet; and I heard a single voice speaking from among the horns of the golden incense altar which is in the presence of God. 14It said to the sixth angel—the angel who had the trumpet, "Set at liberty the four angels who are prisoners near the great river Euphrates." 15And the four angels who had been kept in readiness for that hour, day, month, and year, were set at liberty, so that they might kill a third part of mankind. 16The number of the cavalry was two hundred millions; I heard their number. 17And this was the appearance of the horses which I saw in my vision—and of their riders. The body-armour of the riders was red, blue and yellow; and the horses' heads were shaped like the heads of lions, while from their mouths there came fire and smoke and sulphur. 18By these three plagues a third part of mankind were destroyed—by the fire and the smoke, and by the sulphur which came from their mouths. 19For the power of the horses is in their mouths and in their tails; their tails being like serpents, and having heads, and it is with them that they inflict injury.

20But the rest of mankind who were not killed by these plagues, did not even then repent and leave the things they had made, so as to cease worshipping the demons, and the idols of gold and silver, bronze, stone, and wood, which can neither see nor hear, nor move. 21Nor did they repent of their murders, their practice of magic, their fornication, or their thefts.

The Angel and the Small Scroll

(Ezekiel 3:1–15)

1Then I saw another strong angel coming down from Heaven. He was robed in a cloud, and over his head was the rainbow. His face was like the sun, and his feet resembled pillars of fire. 2In his hand he held a small scroll unrolled; and, planting his right foot on the sea and his left foot on the land, 3he cried out in a loud voice which resembled the roar of a lion. And when he had cried out, each of the seven peals of thunder uttered its own message. 4And when the seven peals of thunder had spoken, I was about to write down what they had said; but I heard a voice from Heaven which told me to keep secret all that the seven peals of thunder had said, and not write it down. 5Then the angel that I saw standing on the sea and on the land, lifted his right hand toward Heaven. 6And in the name of Him who lives until the Ages of the Ages, the Creator of Heaven and all that is in it, of the earth and all that is in it, and of the sea and all that is in it, he solemnly declared, 7"There shall be no further delay; but in the days when the seventh angel blows his trumpet—when he begins to do so—then the secret purposes of God are realized, in accordance with the good news which He gave to His servants the Prophets."

8Then the voice which I had heard speaking from Heaven once more addressed me. It said, "Go and take the little book which lies open in the hand of the angel who is standing on the sea and on the land." 9So I went to the angel and asked him to give me the little book. "Take it," he said, "and eat the whole of it. You will find it bitter when you have eaten it, although in your mouth it will taste as sweet as honey." 10So I took the roll out of the angel's hand and ate the whole of it; and in my mouth it was as sweet as honey, but when I had eaten it I found it very bitter. 11And a voice said to me, "You must prophesy yet further concerning peoples, nations, languages, and many kings."

The Two Witnesses

1Then a reed was given me to serve as a measuring rod; and a voice said, "Rise, and measure God's sanctuary—and the altar—and count the worshipers who are in it. 2But as for the court which is outside the sanctuary, pass it over. Do not measure it; for it has been given to the Gentiles, and for forty-two months they will trample the holy city under foot. 3And I will authorize My two witnesses to prophesy for 1,260 days, clothed in sackcloth. 4"These witnesses are the two olive-trees, and they are the two lamps which stand in the presence of the Lord of the earth. 5And if any one seeks to injure them—fire comes from their mouths and devours their enemies; and if any one seeks to injure them, he will in this way certainly be killed. 6They have power given to them to seal up the sky, so that no rain may fall so long as they continue to prophesy; and power over the waters to turn them into blood, and to smite the earth with various plagues whenever they choose to do so.

The Witnesses Killed and Raised

7"And when they have fully delivered their testimony, the Wild Beast which is to rise out of the bottomless pit will make war upon them and overcome them and kill them. 8And their dead bodies are to lie in the broad street of the great city which spiritually is designated 'Sodom' and 'Egypt,' where indeed their Lord was crucified. 9And men belonging to all peoples, tribes, languages and nations gaze at their dead bodies for three days and a half, but they refuse to let them be laid in a tomb. 10The inhabitants of the earth rejoice over them and are glad and will send gifts to one another; for these two Prophets had greatly troubled the inhabitants of the earth."

11But at the end of the three days and a half the breath of life from God entered into them, and they rose to their feet; and all who saw them were terrified. 12Then they heard a loud voice calling to them out of Heaven, and bidding them come up; and they went up to Heaven in the cloud, and their enemies saw them go. 13And just as that time there was a great earthquake, and a tenth part of the city was overthrown. 7,000 people were killed in the earthquake, and the rest were terrified and gave glory to the God of Heaven.

14The second Woe is past; the third Woe will soon be here.

The Seventh Trumpet

15The seventh angel blew his trumpet; and there followed loud voices in Heaven which said, "The sovereignty of the world now belongs to our Lord and His Christ; and He will be King until the Ages of the Ages." 16Then the twenty-four Elders, who sit on thrones in the presence of God, fell on their faces and worshipped God, 17saying, "We give thee thanks, O Lord God, the Ruler of all, Who art and wast, because Thou hast exerted Thy power, Thy great power, and hast become King. 18The nations grew angry, and Thine anger has come, and the time for the dead to be judged, and the time for Thee to give their reward to Thy servants the Prophets and to Thy people, and to those who fear Thee, the small and the great, and to destroy those who destroy the earth."

19Then the doors of God's sanctuary in Heaven were opened, and the Ark, in which His Covenant was, was seen in His sanctuary; and there came flashes of lightning, and voices, and peals of thunder, and an earthquake, and heavy hail.

The Woman and the Dragon

¹And a great marvel was seen in Heaven—a woman who was robed with the sun and had the moon under her feet, and had also a wreath of stars round her head, was with child, ²and she was crying out in the pains and agony of childbirth.

³And another marvel was seen in Heaven—a great fiery-red Dragon, with seven heads and ten horns; and on his heads were seven kingly crowns. ⁴His tail was drawing after it a third part of the stars of Heaven, and it dashed them to the ground. And in front of the woman who was about to become a mother, the Dragon was standing in order to devour the child as soon as it was born.

⁵She gave birth to a son—a male child, destined before long to rule all nations with an iron scepter. But her child was caught up to God and His throne, ⁶and the woman fled into the Desert, there to be cared for, for 1,260 days, in a place which God had prepared for her.

The War in Heaven

⁷And war broke out in Heaven, Michael and his angels engaging in battle with the Dragon. ⁸The Dragon fought and so did his angels; but they were defeated, and there was no longer any room found for them in Heaven. ⁹The great Dragon, the ancient serpent, he who is called 'the Devil' and 'the Adversary' and leads the whole earth astray, was hurled down: he was hurled down to the earth, and his angels were hurled down with him. ¹⁰Then I heard a loud voice speaking in Heaven. It said, "The salvation and the power and the Kingdom of our God have now come, and the sovereignty of His Christ; for the accuser of our brethren has been hurled down—he who, day after day and night after night, was wont to accuse them in the presence of God. ¹¹But they have gained the victory over him because of the blood of the Lamb and of the testimony which they have borne, and because they held their lives cheap and did not shrink even from death. ¹²For this reason be glad, O Heaven, and you who live in Heaven! Alas for the earth and the sea! For the Devil has come down to you; full of fierce anger, because he knows that his appointed time is short."

The Woman Persecuted

¹³And when the Dragon saw that he was hurled down to the earth, he went in pursuit of the woman who had given birth to the male child. ¹⁴Then, the two wings of a great eagle were given to the woman to enable her to fly away into the Desert to the place assigned her, there to be cared for, for a period of time, two periods of time, and half a period of time, beyond the reach of the serpent. ¹⁵And the serpent poured water from his mouth—a very river it seemed—after the woman, in the hope that she would be carried away by its flood. ¹⁶But the earth came to the woman's help: it opened its mouth and drank up the river which the Dragon had poured from his mouth. ¹⁷This made the Dragon furiously angry with the woman, and he went elsewhere to make war upon her other children—those who keep God's commandments and hold fast to the testimony of Jesus.

The Beast from the Sea

(Daniel 7:1–8)

1And he took up a position upon the sands of the sea-shore. Then I saw a Wild Beast coming up out of the sea, and he had ten horns and seven heads. On his horns were ten kingly crowns, and inscribed on his heads were names full of blasphemy. 2The Wild Beast which I saw resembled a leopard, and had feet like the feet of a bear, and his mouth was like the mouth of a lion; and it was to the Dragon that he owed his power and his throne and his wide dominion. 3I saw that one of his heads seemed to have been mortally wounded; but his mortal wound was healed, and the whole world was amazed and followed him. 4And they offered worship to the Dragon, because it was to him that the Wild Beast owed his dominion; and they also offered worship to the Wild Beast, and said, “Who is there like him? And who is able to engage in battle with him?” 5And there was given him a mouth full of boastful and blasphemous words; and liberty of action was granted him for forty-two months. 6And he opened his mouth to utter blasphemies against God, to speak evil of His name and of His dwelling-place—that is to say, of those who dwell in Heaven.

7And permission was given him to make war upon God’s people and conquer them; and power was given him over every tribe, people, language and nation. 8And all the inhabitants of the earth will be found to be worshipping him: every one whose name is not recorded in the Book of Life—the Book of the Lamb who has been offered in sacrifice ever since the creation of the world. 9Let all who have ears give heed. 10If any one is eager to lead others into captivity, he must himself go into captivity. If any one is bent on killing with the sword, he must himself be killed by the sword. Here is an opportunity for endurance, and for the exercise of faith, on the part of God’s people.

The Beast from the Earth

11Then I saw another Wild Beast, coming up out of the earth. He had two horns like those of a lamb, but he spoke like a dragon. 12And the authority of the first Wild Beast—the whole of that authority—he exercises in his presence, and he causes the earth and its inhabitants to worship the first Wild Beast, whose mortal wound had been healed. 13He also works great miracles, so as even to make fire come down from Heaven to earth in the presence of human beings. 14And his power of leading astray the inhabitants of the earth is due to the marvels which he has been permitted to work in the presence of the Wild Beast. And he told the inhabitants of the earth to erect a statue to the Wild Beast who had received the sword-stroke and yet had recovered. 15And power was granted him to give breath to the statue of the Wild Beast, so that the statue of the Wild Beast could even speak and cause all who refuse to worship it to be put to death.

The Mark of the Beast

16And he causes all, small and great, rich and poor, free men and slaves, to have stamped upon them a mark on their right hands or on their foreheads, 17in order that no one should be allowed to buy or sell unless he had the mark—either the name of the Wild Beast or the number which his name represents. 18Here is scope for ingenuity. Let people of shrewd intelligence calculate the number of the Wild Beast; for it indicates a certain man, and his number is 666.

Revelation 14

The Lamb and the 144,000

1Then I looked, and I saw the Lamb standing upon Mount Zion, and with Him 144,000 people, having His name and His Father's name written on their foreheads. 2And I heard music from Heaven which resembled the sound of many waters and the roar of loud thunder; and the music which I heard was like that of harpists playing upon their harps. 3And they were singing what seemed to be a new song, in front of the throne and in the presence of the four living creatures and the Elders; and no one was able to learn that song except the 144,000 people who had been redeemed out of the world. 4These are those who had not defiled themselves with women: they are as pure as virgins. They follow the Lamb wherever He goes. They have been redeemed from among men, as firstfruits to God and to the Lamb. 5And no lie has ever been found upon their lips: they are faultless.

The Three Angels and Babylon's Fall

6And I saw another angel flying across the sky, carrying the Good News of the Ages to tell to every nation, tribe, language and people, among those who live on the earth. 7He said in a loud voice, "Fear God and give Him glory, because the time of His judgment has come; and worship Him who made sky and earth, the sea and the water-springs."

8And another, a second angel, followed, exclaiming, "Great Babylon has fallen, has fallen—she who made all the nations drink the wine of the anger provoked by her fornication."

9And another, a third angel, followed them, exclaiming in a loud voice, "If any one worships the Wild Beast and his statue, and receives a mark on his forehead or on his hand, 10he shall drink the wine of God's anger which stands ready, undiluted, in the cup of His fury, and he shall be tormented with fire and sulphur in the presence of the holy angels and of the Lamb. 11And the smoke of their torment goes up until the Ages of the Ages; and the worshipers of the Wild Beast and his statue have no rest day or night, nor has any one who receives the mark of his name. 12Here is an opportunity for endurance on the part of God's people, who carefully keep His commandments and the faith of Jesus!"

13And I heard a voice speaking from Heaven. It said, "Write as follows: "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from this time onward. Yes, says the Spirit, let them rest from their sorrowful labours; for what they have done goes with them.""

The Harvest of the Earth

14Then I looked, and a white cloud appeared, and sitting on the cloud was some One resembling the Son of Man, having a wreath of gold upon His head and in His hand a sharp sickle. 15And another, an angel, came out of the sanctuary, calling in a loud voice to Him who sat on the cloud, and saying, "Use your sickle and reap the harvest, for the hour for reaping it has come: the harvest of the earth is over-ripe." 16Then He who sat on the cloud flung His sickle on the earth, and the earth had its harvest reaped.

17And another angel came out from the sanctuary in Heaven, and he too carried a sharp sickle. 18And another angel came out from the altar—he who had power over fire—and he spoke in a loud voice to him who had the sharp sickle, saying, "Use your sharp sickle, and gather the bunches from the vine of the earth, for its grapes are now quite ripe." 19And the angel flung his sickle down to the earth, and reaped the vine of the earth and threw the grapes into the great winepress of God's anger. 20And the winepress was trodden outside the city, and out of it came blood reaching the horses' bridles for a distance of 200 miles.

The Song of Moses and the Lamb

(Deuteronomy 32:1–47)

1Then I saw another marvel in Heaven, great and wonderful—there were seven angels bringing seven plagues. These are the last plagues, because in them God’s anger has found full expression.

2And I saw what seemed to be a sea of glass mingled with fire, and those who had gained the victory over the Wild Beast and over his statue and the number of his name, standing by the sea of glass and having harps which belonged to God.

3And they were singing the song of Moses, God’s servant, and the song of the Lamb. Their words were, “Great and wonderful are Thy works, O Lord God, the Ruler of all. Righteous and true are Thy ways, O King of the nations.

4Who shall not be afraid, O Lord, and glorify Thy name? For Thou alone art holy. All nations shall come and shall worship Thee, because the righteousness of all that Thou hast done has been made manifest.”

Preparation for Judgment

5After this, when the doors of the sanctuary of the tent of witness in Heaven were opened, I looked; 6and there came out of the sanctuary the seven angels who were bringing the seven plagues. The angels were clad in pure, bright linen, and had girdles of gold across their breasts. 7And one of the four living creatures gave the seven angels seven bowls of gold, full of the anger of God who lives until the Ages of the Ages. 8And the sanctuary was filled with smoke from the glory of God and from His power; and no one could enter the sanctuary till the seven plagues brought by the seven angels were at an end.

The First Six Bowls of Wrath

1Then I heard a loud voice from the sanctuary say to the seven angels, “Go and pour on to the earth the seven bowls of the anger of God.”

2So the first angel went away and poured his bowl on to the earth; and it brought a bad and painful sore upon the men who had on them the mark of the Wild Beast and worshipped his statue.

3The second angel poured his bowl into the sea, and it became blood, like a dead man’s blood, and every living creature in the sea died.

4The third angel poured his bowl into the rivers and springs of water, and they became blood. 5And I heard the angel of the waters say, "Righteous art Thou, who art and wast, the holy One, because Thou hast thus taken vengeance. 6For they poured out the blood of Thy people and of the Prophets, and in return Thou hast given them blood to drink. And this they deserved." 7And I heard a voice from the altar say, "Even so, O Lord God, the Ruler of all, true and righteous are Thy judgments."

8Then the fourth angel poured his bowl on to the sun, and power was given to it to scorch men with fire. 9And the men were severely burned; and yet they spoke evil of God who had power over the plagues, and they did not repent so as to give Him glory.

10The fifth angel poured his bowl on to the throne of the Wild Beast; and his kingdom became darkened. People gnawed their tongues because of the pain, 11and they spoke evil of the God in Heaven because of their pains and their sores, and did not repent of their misconduct.

12The sixth angel poured his bowl into that great river, the Euphrates; and its stream was dried up in order to clear the way for the kings who are to come from the east.

13Then I saw three foul spirits, resembling frogs, issue from the mouth of the Dragon, from the mouth of the Wild Beast, and from the mouth of the false Prophet. 14For they are the spirits of demons working marvels—spirits that go out to control the kings of the whole earth, to assemble them for the battle which is to take place on the great day of God, the Ruler of all. 15 16And assemble them they did at the place called in Hebrew 'Har-Magedon.'

The Seventh Bowl of Wrath

17Then the seventh angel poured his bowl into the air; and a loud voice came out of the sanctuary from the throne, saying, "Everything is now ready." 18Flashes of lightning followed, and voices, and peals of thunder, and an earthquake more dreadful than there had ever been since there was a man upon the earth—so terrible was it, and so great! 19The great city was split into three parts; the cities of the nations fell; and great Babylon came into remembrance before God, for Him to make her drink from the wine-cup of His fierce anger. 20Every island fled away, and there was not a mountain anywhere to be seen. 21And heavy hail, that seemed to be a talent in weight, fell from the sky upon the people; and they spoke evil of God on account of the plague of the hail—because the plague of it was exceedingly severe.

The Woman on the Beast

1Then one of the seven angels who were carrying the seven bowls came and spoke to me. "Come with me," he said, "and I will show you the doom of the great Harlot who sits upon many waters. 2The kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication." 3So he carried me away in the Spirit into a desert, and there I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet-colored Wild Beast which was covered with names of blasphemy and had seven heads and ten horns. 4The woman was clothed in purple and scarlet, and was brilliantly attired with gold and jewels and pearls. She held in her hand a cup of gold, full of abominations, and she gave filthy indications of her fornication. ⁵And on her forehead was a name written: "I am a symbol of great Babylon, the mother of the harlots and of the abominations of the earth."

The Mystery Explained

⁶And I saw the woman drinking herself drunk with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the witnesses of Jesus. And when I saw her I was filled with utter astonishment.

⁷Then the angel said to me, "Why are you so astonished? I will explain to you the secret meaning of the woman and of the seven-headed, ten-horned Wild Beast which carries her.

⁸"The Wild Beast which you have seen was, and is not, and yet is destined to re-ascend, before long, out of the bottomless pit and go his way into perdition. And the inhabitants of the earth will be filled with amazement—all whose names are not in the Book of Life, having been recorded there ever since the creation of the world—when they see the Wild Beast: because he was, and is not, and yet is to come. ⁹Here is scope for the exercise of a mind that has wisdom! The seven heads are the seven hills on which the woman sits. ¹⁰And they are seven kings: five of them have fallen, and the one is still reigning. The seventh has not yet come, but when he comes he must continue for a short time. ¹¹And the Wild Beast which once existed but does not now exist—he is an eighth king and yet is one of the seven and he goes his way into perdition. ¹²"And the ten horns which you have seen are ten kings who have not yet come to the throne, but for a single hour they are to receive authority as kings along with the Wild Beast. ¹³They have one common policy, and they are to give their power and authority to the Wild Beast.

The Victory of the Lamb

¹⁴They will make war upon the Lamb, and the Lamb will triumph over them; for He is Lord of lords and King of kings. And those who accompany Him—called, as they are, and chosen, and faithful—shall share in the victory."

¹⁵He also said to me, "The waters which you have seen, on which the Harlot sits, are peoples and multitudes, nations and languages. ¹⁶And the ten horns that you have seen—and the Wild Beast—these will hate the Harlot, and they will cause her to be laid waste and will strip her bare. They will eat her flesh, and burn her up with fire. ¹⁷For God has put it into their hearts to carry out His purpose, and to carry out a common purpose and to give their kingdom to the Wild Beast until God's words have come to pass. ¹⁸And the woman whom you have seen is the great city which has kingly power over the kings of the earth."

Babylon Is Fallen

(Isaiah 21:1–10)

¹After these things I saw another angel coming down from Heaven, armed with great power. The earth shone with his splendor, ²and with a mighty voice he cried out, saying, "Great Babylon has fallen, has fallen, and has become a home for demons and a stronghold for every kind of foul spirit and for every kind of foul and hateful bird. ³For all the nations have drunk the wine of the anger provoked by her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth have grown rich through her excessive luxury.”

⁴Then I heard another voice from Heaven, which said, “Come out of her, My people, that you may not become partakers in her sins, nor receive a share of her plagues. ⁵For her sins are piled up to the sky, and God has called to mind her unrighteous deeds. ⁶Give back to her as she has given; repay her in accordance with her doings, twice as much; in the bowl that she has mixed, mix twice as much for her. ⁷She has freely glorified herself and revelled in luxury; equally freely administer torment to her, and woe. For in her heart she boasts, saying, ‘I sit enthroned as Queen: no widow am I: I shall never know sorrow.’ ⁸“For this reason calamities shall come thick upon her on a single day—death and sorrow and famine—and she shall be burned to the ground. For strong is the Lord God who has judged her.

Lament over Babylon

⁹The kings of the earth who have committed fornication with her, and have revelled in luxury, shall weep aloud and lament over her when they see the smoke of her burning, ¹⁰while they stand afar off because of their terror at her heavy punishment, and say, ‘Alas, alas, thou great city, O Babylon, the mighty city! For in one short hour thy doom has come!’

¹¹And the merchants of the earth weep aloud and lament over her, because now there is no sale for their cargoes— ¹²cargoes of gold and silver, of jewels and pearls, of fine linen, purple and silk, and of scarlet stuff; all kinds of rare woods, and all kinds of goods in ivory and in very costly wood, in bronze, steel and marble. ¹³Also cinnamon and amomum; odors to burn as incense or for perfume; frankincense, wine, oil; fine flour, wheat, cattle and sheep; horses and carriages and slaves; and the lives of men. ¹⁴The dainties that thy soul longed for are gone from thee, and all thine elegance and splendor have perished, and never again shall they be found. ¹⁵Those who traded in these things, who grew wealthy through her, will stand afar off, struck with terror at her punishment, ¹⁶weeping aloud and sorrowing, and saying, ‘Alas, alas, for this great city, which was brilliantly arrayed in fine linen, and purple and scarlet stuff, and beautified with gold, jewels and pearls; ¹⁷because in one short hour all this great wealth has been laid waste!’ And every shipmaster and every passenger by sea and the crews and all who ply their trade on the sea, ¹⁸stood afar off, and cried aloud when they saw the smoke of her burning. And they said, ‘What city is like this great city?’ ¹⁹And they threw dust upon their heads, and cried out, weeping aloud and sorrowing. ‘Alas, alas,’ they said, ‘for this great city, in which, through her vast wealth, the owners of all the ships on the sea have grown rich; because in one short hour she has been laid waste!’

²⁰Rejoice over her, O Heaven, and you saints and Apostles and Prophets; for God has taken vengeance upon her because of you.”

The Doom of Babylon

²¹Then a single angel of great strength took a stone which resembled a huge millstone, and hurled it into the sea, saying, “So shall Babylon, that great city, be violently hurled down and never again be found. ²²No harp or song, no flute or trumpet, shall ever again be heard in thee; no craftsman of any kind shall ever again be found in thee; nor shall the grinding of the mill ever again be heard in thee. ²³Never again shall the light of a lamp shine in thee, and never again shall the voice of a bridegroom or of a bride be heard in thee. For thy merchants were the great men of the earth, and with the magic which thou didst practise all nations were led astray. ²⁴And in her was found the blood of Prophets and of God's people and of all who had been put to death on the earth."

Rejoicing in Heaven

¹After this I seemed to hear the far-echoing voices of a great multitude in Heaven, who said, "Hallelujah! The salvation and the glory and the power belong to our God. ²True and just are His judgments, because He has judged the great Harlot who was corrupting the whole earth with her fornication, and He has taken vengeance for the blood of His bondservants which her hands have shed." ³And a second time they said, "Hallelujah! For her smoke ascends until the Ages of the Ages." ⁴And the twenty-four Elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshipped God who sits upon the throne. "Even so," they said; "Hallelujah!" ⁵And from the throne there came a voice which said, "Praise our God, all you His bondservants—you who fear Him, both the small and the great."

The Marriage of the Lamb

⁶And I seemed to hear the voices of a great multitude and the sound of many waters and of loud peals of thunder, which said, "Hallelujah! Because the Lord our God, the Ruler of all, has become King.

⁷Let us rejoice and triumph and give Him the glory; for the time for the marriage of the Lamb has come, and His Bride has made herself ready." ⁸And she was permitted to array herself in fine linen, shining and spotless; the fine linen being the righteous actions of God's people.

⁹And he said to me, "Write as follows: 'Blessed are those who receive an invitation to the Marriage Supper of the Lamb.'" And he added, still addressing me, "These are truly the words of God." ¹⁰Then I fell at his feet to worship him. But he exclaimed, "Oh, do not do that. I am a fellow bondservant of yours and a fellow bondservant of your brethren who have borne testimony to Jesus. Worship God." Testimony to Jesus is the spirit which underlies Prophecy.

The Rider on the White Horse

¹¹Then I saw a door open in Heaven, and a white horse appeared. Its rider was named "Faithful and True"—being One who in righteousness acts as Judge, and makes war. ¹²His eyes were like a flame of fire, and on His head were many kingly crowns; and He has a name written upon Him which no one but He Himself knows. ¹³The outer garment in which He is clad has been dipped in blood and His name is THE WORD OF GOD. ¹⁴The armies in Heaven followed Him—mounted on white horses and clothed in fine linen, white and spotless. ¹⁵From His mouth there comes a sharp sword with which He will smite the nations; and He will Himself be their Shepherd, ruling them with a scepter of iron; and it is His work to tread the winepress of the fierce anger of God, the Ruler of all. ¹⁶And on His outer garment and on His thigh He has a name written, KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS.

Defeat of the Beast and False Prophet

17And I saw a single angel standing in the full light of the sun, who cried in a loud voice to all the birds that flew across the sky, "Come and be present at God's great supper, 18that you may feast on the flesh of kings and the flesh of generals and the flesh of mighty men, on the flesh of horses and their riders, and on the flesh of all mankind, whether they are free men or slaves, great men or small."

19And I saw the Wild Beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, all assembled to make war, once for all, against the Rider upon the horse and against His army. And the Wild Beast was captured, and with him the false Prophet 20who had done the miracles in his presence with which he had led astray those who had received the mark of the Wild Beast, and those who worshipped his statue. Both of them were thrown alive into the Lake of fire that was all ablaze with sulphur. 21But the rest were killed with the sword that came from the mouth of the Rider on the horse. And the birds all fed ravenously upon their flesh.

Satan Bound

1Then I saw an angel coming down from Heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit, and upon his arm he carried a great chain. 2He laid hold of the Dragon—the ancient serpent—who is the Devil and the Adversary, and bound him for a thousand years, and hurled him into the bottomless pit. 3He closed the entrance and put a seal upon him in order that he might be unable to lead the nations astray any more until the thousand years were at an end. Afterwards he is to be set at liberty for a short time.

4And I saw thrones, and some who were seated on them, to whom judgment was entrusted. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded on account of the testimony that they had borne to Jesus and on account of God's Message, and also the souls of those who had not worshipped the Wild Beast or his statue, nor received his mark on their foreheads or on their hands; and they came to Life and were kings with Christ for a thousand years. 5No one else who was dead rose to Life until the thousand years were at an end. This is the First Resurrection. 6Blessed and holy are those who share in the First Resurrection. The Second Death has no power over them, but they shall be priests to God and to Christ, and shall be kings with Christ for the thousand years.

Satan Cast into the Lake of Fire

7But when the thousand years are at an end, the Adversary will be released from his imprisonment, 8and will go out to lead astray the nations in all the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, and assemble them for war, and they are like the sands on the seashore in number. 9And they went up over the whole breadth of the earth and surrounded the encampment of God's people and the beloved city. But fire came down from Heaven and consumed them; 10and the Devil, who had been leading them astray, was thrown into the Lake of fire and sulphur where the Wild Beast and the false Prophet were, and day and night they will suffer torture until the Ages of the Ages.

Judgment before the Great White Throne

11Then I saw a great white throne and One who was seated on it, from whose presence earth and sky fled away, and no place was found for them. 12And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing in front of the throne. And books were opened; and so was another book—namely, the Book of Life; and the dead were judged by the things recorded in the books in accordance with what their conduct had been. 13Then the sea yielded up the dead who were in it, Death and Hades yielded up the dead who were in them, and each man was judged in accordance with what his conduct had been. 14Then Death and Hades were thrown into the Lake of fire; this is the Second Death—the Lake of fire. 15And if any one's name was not found recorded in the Book of Life he was thrown into the Lake of fire.

A New Heaven and a New Earth

(Isaiah 65:17–25)

1And I saw a new Heaven and a new earth; for the first Heaven and the first earth were gone, and the sea no longer exists. 2And I saw the holy city, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of Heaven from God and made ready like a bride attired to meet her husband. 3And I heard a loud voice, which came from the throne, say, "God's dwelling place is among men and He will dwell among them and they shall be His peoples. Yes, God Himself will be among them. 4He will wipe every tear from their eyes. Death shall be no more; nor sorrow, nor wail of woe, nor pain; for the first things have passed away."

5Then He who was seated on the throne said, "I am re-creating all things." And He added, "Write down these words, for they are trustworthy and true." 6He also said, "They have now been fulfilled. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. To those who are thirsty I will give the privilege of drinking from the well of the Water of Life without payment. 7All this shall be the heritage of him who overcomes, and I will be his God and he shall be one of My sons. 8But as for cowards and the unfaithful, and the polluted, and murderers, fornicators, and those who practise magic or worship idols, and all liars—the portion allotted to them shall be in the Lake which burns with fire and sulphur. This is the Second Death."

The New Jerusalem

9Then there came one of the seven angels who were carrying the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues. "Come with me," he said, "and I will show you the Bride, the Lamb's wife."

10So in the Spirit he carried me to the top of a vast, lofty mountain, and showed me the holy city, Jerusalem, coming down out of Heaven from God, 11and bringing with it the glory of God. It shone with a radiance like that of a very precious stone—such as a jasper, bright and transparent. 12It has a wall, massive and high, with twelve large gates, and in charge of the gates were twelve angels. And overhead, above the gates, names were inscribed which are those of the twelve tribes of the descendants of Israel. 13There were three gates on the east, three on the north, three on the south, and three on the west. 14The wall of the city had twelve foundation stones, and engraved upon them were twelve names—the names of the twelve Apostles of the Lamb.

15Now he who was speaking to me had a measuring-rod of gold, with which to measure the city and its gates and its wall. 16The plan of the city is a square, the length being the same as the breadth; and he measured the city furlong by furlong, with his measuring rod—it is twelve hundred miles long, and the length and the breadth and the height of it are equal. 17And he measured the wall of it—a wall of a hundred and forty-four cubits, according to human measure, which was also that of the angel. 18The solid fabric of the wall was jasper; and the city itself was made of gold, resembling transparent glass. 19As for the foundation-stones of the city wall, which were beautified with various kinds of precious stones, the first was jasper, the second sapphire, the third chalcedony, the fourth emerald, the fifth sardonyx, the sixth sardius, 20the seventh chrysolite, the eighth beryl, the ninth topaz, the tenth chrysoprase, the eleventh jacinth, the twelfth amethyst. 21And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; each of them consisting of a single pearl. And the main street of the city was made of pure gold, resembling transparent glass.

22I saw no sanctuary in the city, for the Lord God, the Ruler of all, is its Sanctuary, and so is the Lamb. 23Nor has the city any need of the sun or of the moon, to give it light; for the glory of God has shone upon it and its lamp is the Lamb. 24The nations will live their lives by its light; and the kings of the earth are to bring their glory into it. 25And in the daytime (for there will be no night there) 26and the glory and honor of the nations shall be brought into it. 27And no unclean thing shall ever enter it, nor any one who is guilty of base conduct or tells lies, but only they whose names stand recorded in the Lamb's Book of Life.

Revelation 22

WEY [\[Online\]](#)

The River of Life

1Then he showed me the river of the Water of Life, bright as crystal, issuing from the throne of God and of the Lamb. 2On either side of the river, midway between it and the main street of the city, was the Tree of Life. It produced twelve kinds of fruit, yielding a fresh crop month by month, and the leaves of the tree served as medicine for the nations. 3"In future there will be no curse," he said, "but the throne of God and of the Lamb will be in that city. And His servants will render Him holy service and will see His face, 4and His name will be on their foreheads. 5And there will be no night there; and they have no need of lamplight or sunlight, for the Lord God will shine upon them, and they will be kings until the Ages of the Ages."

Jesus Is Coming

6And he said to me, "These words are trustworthy and true; and the Lord, the God of the spirits of the Prophets, sent His angel to make known to His servants the things which must soon happen.

7"I am coming quickly.' Blessed is he who is mindful of the predictions contained in this book."

8I John heard and saw these things; and when I had heard and seen them, I fell at the feet of the angel who was showing me them—to worship him. 9But he said to me, "Oh, do not do that. I am a fellow bondservant of yours, and a fellow bondservant of your brethren the Prophets and of those who are mindful of the teachings of this book. Worship God."

10"Make no secret," he added, "of the meaning of the predictions contained in this book; for the time for their fulfillment is now close at hand. 11Let the dishonest man act dishonestly still; let the filthy make himself filthy still; let the righteous practise righteousness still; and let the holy be made holy still.”

12“I am coming quickly; and My reward is with Me, that I may requite every man in accordance with what his conduct has been. 13I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End.

14Blessed are those who wash their robes clean, that they may have a right to the Tree of Life, and may go through the gates into the city. 15The unclean are shut out, and so are all who practise magic, all fornicators, all murderers, and those who worship idols, and every one who loves falsehood and tells lies.

16“I Jesus have sent My angel for him solemnly to declare these things to you among the Churches. I am the Root and the offspring of David, the bright Morning Star.

17The Spirit and the Bride say, ‘Come;’ and whoever hears, let him say, ‘Come;’ and let those who are thirsty come. Whoever will, let him take the Water of Life, without payment.

Nothing May Be Added or Removed

18“I solemnly declare to every one who hears the words of the prophecy contained in this book, that if any one adds to those words, God will add to him the plagues spoken of in this book; 19and that if any one takes away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God will take from him his share in the Tree of Life and in the holy city—the things described in this book.

20“He who solemnly declares all this says, “Yes, I am coming quickly.” Amen. Come, Lord Jesus.

21The grace of the Lord Jesus be with God’s people.
